Johnson has returned from Boone,

Iowa.

Thompson spent Sunday visiting his son-in-law, at Clive.

Mrs. Williams spent decoration day

at her home in Okaloosa.

This week has been very cold; there has been frost several nights this week.

Rumor says that there will soon be two ridings in our city; the parties are well known, except one young lady.

Miss Cora Smith, who has been staying at Grinnell, Iowa, has been home visiting her mother, Mrs. A. O. Smith; she expects to return to Grinnell, Friday.

Mrs. Wm. Straughter, who has been sick, is improving a little at this time. They live on Day-st.

Mrs. Thomas Stevenson, of Liberty, Mo.,

is working at the carpenter trade;

she is stopping with her son-in-law, Wm.

Sh.

Mrs. Lizzie Palmer is spending several days visiting with her sister in Burlington. She will remain there until after the Crocker Woods Park, week of June 7th, Alexander Plantation

Minstrels

Mrs. Lizzie Palmer left last

Saturday for an extended visit with relatives and friends in Burlington, the scenes of her girlhood.

Mr. Wm. Mash has commenced building him a house on his lot; also Mr. A.

Wilburn has a lot adjoining his, and may build on it this fall. Mr. Mash has a colored carpenter as foreman in the person of Mr. Thomas Stevenson, of Liberty,

Mo., who arrived here Monday, and took charge of the building. That is the way to help your race; get property and employ colored laborers.

Mr. Will Williams left Wednesday evening for his home in Huntsville, Mo. He has been visiting his father, Mr. T. Williams for about two months. Mr. Williams has made many friends while in the city. He reports having a nice time and will return soon.

This month's Review of Reviews will be full of interesting reading. The subject of "Corporation and Money in Politics,"

also "The Past and Future change in Sugar Industry," by Herbert Myrick; and

"Advance of Modern Science." It will be worth your time; secure it this month.

There are two colored minstrels

in our city now, each has a band,

one is playing at the Bijou theater and the other is playing at the Roof Garden. Each are having good crowds.

Subscribers in Knoxville, Albia, and Ottumwa, please be ready to pay up your back dues.

Alexander's colored minstrels

will play next week at Crocker

Woods Park. All are invited.

Mrs. Emma Walker, Rev. Stewart's daughter arrived here from

Kansas city, Thursday, to live with her parents at 785 Ninth-st.

The Reverend's wife who has been quite sick is much better.

Mrs. McClinton, of Piqua, Ohio,

is expected to arrive in our city,

soon, to visit her only daughter,

Mrs. Frank Blagburn, on Eleventh street.

The special song service at A.

M. E. church Sunday will be very interesting to lovers of music. The hotel waiters will attend in a body and reserved seats will be kept for them. Mr. Douglass Miller, of the Savery will lead his nineteen men; Wm. Wilson will lead his delegation of fifteen men, and

Will Gill will bring his nine men.

Dr. F. H. Lawther, who came from Chicago about a year ago,

has been appointed coal doctor

by the White Breast coal company at Keb. The Dr. should feel highly complimented, as he is the first colored doctor in the state to receive an appointment by any company. Success to him.

Song Service at St. Paul A. M.

E. Church.

On next Sunday evening will occur the monthly song services of this choir. As singers they stand second to no church choir in the west. They have made for themselves a name that any singer should be proud to have. They will endeavor to equip all former efforts on this occasion.

Miss Laird and Mr. Barrett, (white) who made themselves famous as singers in the leading churches will each sing a solo.

Those that desire a good seat should come early. Services begin at 8 o'clock.

Morton's Drum Corps at Mitchellville.

On last Saturday a special car took quite a crowd down to observe memorial day. The Morton's drum corps enlivened the air with martial music, and was highly complimented by the large crowd.

Those who compose the corps were, Master, J. R. Weeks, Rollen Weeks, Ed. E.

Morton, Miles Taylor, Oscar Watts, Mose

Strothers and N. E. Morton. Miss Maple

Morton was especially invited to visit the village and take part in the exercises.

She played instrumental solo. Mr. Oscar

Watts rendered a vocal solo, both excellent, and the people were well pleased.

The drum corps furnished all the music.

The band visited the Reform school and was escorted through all the different departments by the superintendent.

lation of the officers will take place on St. John's day, June 24th.

Madam Cecil Smith-Watts, of the Georgian Minstral company

will sing a solo at the A M E

church Sunday night.

Ladies Afternoon Social club met with Mrs. Ben Holmes, and was called to order by President

Mrs. Wm Mash. The ladies spent a pleasant afternoon. At 5 o'clock an elegant lunch was served. The club adjourned to meet with Mrs.

Della Abbey, June 10.

It has been said that "music has power to charm," and those that were at the home of Mr and Mrs

G I Holt on Thursday evening

can certainly say that it does.

The Georgia University minstrel

who have been singing at the Roof

Garden this week, accepted an in-itation to spend part of the evening at the home of Mr and Mrs

Holt. The Renix Bros. mandolin club which is one of the best in the northwest (considering the number of pieces they have) were also present and rendered some of their classical selections. A Spanish waltz with variations was one of their best productions. The ladies quartet sang the Swane River,

and Mrs Watts the prima donna

rendered the "Last Rose of Summer" in a very pleasant manner.

The messrs Hughes, Rogers and Holt, each sang a solo and responded to an enchoire, an Elmenia

waltz by the mandolin club closed

the musical program, after which refreshments were served.

'Alexander's Colored Minstrels'

played to a fair house Wednesday evening; several church entertainments being against them. This colored troupe is the best that has struck Wayne in a long time. Its band is a "peach" and all its actors right up to date. As a whole,

no more gentlemanly company

ever came to town.—Wayne Demo-tertainment at the hall Tuesday evening was well attended and

PHYSICIANS BAFLED.

Prof. R. S. Bowman, Instructor of Natural Science in Hartsville College, Cured of a Severe Illness by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People After Physicians Failed.

From the Republican, Columbus, Ind.

Prof. R. S. Bowman, the able instructor of natural science in the famous Hartsville College, Ind., in well and favorably known, not only as an educator, but also as a minister of the gospel, for a number of years he was pastor of the United Brethren church at Charlotte, Mich., before coming to Hartsville.

PROF. R. S. BOWMAN.

Some time ago he had a severe illness which was cured almost miraculously. A reporter hearing of this interviewed him regarding his experience. Prof. Bowman was in the midst of his work when the reporter called, but he cheerfully gave him a hearing.

"A year ago last fall," said the professor, "I broke down with nervous exhaustion, and was unable to properly attend to my duties. I tried different physicians but with no relief, and also used many different proprietary medicines, spending almost fifty dollars for these medicines alone. I then succumbed to a siege of the grip in the middle of winter, and was left in a much worse condition. My kidneys were fearfully deranged, and my digestion became very poor. I was indeed in a bad condition."

"A minister in conference learning of my condition advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. I had heard much about the wonderful curative powers of this medicine, but it was with reluctance that I was finally persuaded to try it, as it seemed that nothing could do me any good. However, I procured three boxes of pills and took them strictly according to directions. By the time the last dose was taken I was almost cured, and in better health than I had been for years. I continued using the pills a while longer and was entirely cured. I can cheerfully recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People."

Such was Professor Bowman's wonderful story which was further endorsed by the following affidavit:

HARTSVILLE, Ind., March 16, 1907. I affirm that the above accords with the facts in my case.

THE GRAIN-O LAW SUIT.
Cochester, N. Y., May 10, 1897.—The $50,000 damage suit instituted by Michigan cereal company against the Messrs Pure Food Company is at an end. They settled it and took it out of court for the ridiculously small sum of $500, and, as a practical result, Grain-O is in greater demand than ever. The new plant, only just completed, is to be duplicated, so that not only the old friends of the delicious food drink, which completely takes the place of coffee, but the new friends it is making every day can be supplied. The beverage which the children, as well as the adult, may drink with benefit will be furnished in unlimited quantities.

Suits may come and suits may go, but Grain-O goes on forever.—N. Y. Mail and Express.

TENNESSEE CENTENNIAL.
The Lowest Rates Ever Made to an Exposition in This Country.

The Exposition in commemoration of the hundredth anniversary of the admission of Tennessee into the Union is not a local affair by any means. It far surpasses in extent of buildings, beauty of grounds, interesting exhibits and number of both foreign and home attractions any exhibition ever held in this country, with the possible exception of the Columbian of 1893.

Located as it is on the main line of Louisville & Nashville Railroad it is the direct line of travel between the North and South, and the visitor en route with only a few minutes' ride. The extremely low rates that have been established make it cheaper to go a little out of your way, than to take the direct route, while its own attractions will well repay a special visit. Write Mr. C. P. Atmore, General Passenger Agent, Louisville, Ky., for matter concerning it.

SISTER ELIZABETH.

Nothing is more mortifying to a person, especially if that individual is a maiden lady of thirty-five, than the consciousness that others begin to think her too old for the society of young people.

"It is a laying on the shelf," that is by no means agreeable.

At least such was my feeling as I glanced at the invitations to a little moonlight excursion on the lake which were handed in by John while we were seated at our cosy breakfast-table in Snow Cottage, one lovely morning in June. The note was directed to Miss Lottie and Miss Cornie Whitaker; not addressed, as previous envelopes had been, to the Misses Whitaker, which would of course include Elizabeth.

Whittaker, spinster. The last word I announced almost audibly, with a bitter smile, which attracted the attention of my pet, Cornie, who said, tenderly, "Sister Elizabeth, does your head ache this morning?"

How my heart yearned over that favorite sister of mine, the very image of her lost father. We were now laying aside the sable robes worn for three years in token of our loss, but it seemed to me that I should always wear the calm, sober tints of second mourning, and in my inmost soul the memory of that idolized parent would be enshrined.

My own mother I cannot remember; she drooped and faded when I was an infant; and my step-mother, kind and indulgent as she ever was to me, was not one to call forth the ardent affection, which but few had power to awaken in my heart. Gentle, dignified and reserved, she had bequeathed these same characteristics to her eldest child, the golden-haired Lottie.

But Cornie was like our father, the same buoyant spirit, strong will and impulsive affection, the same dark, curling hair and eyes of laughing blue.

I thought of all this as I watched her fondly on that June morning, and recalled how I had been a second time orphaned when her mother was taken from us fifteen years ago. Since that time, when Cornie was four years old, she had been to me as much a daughter as a sister.

Lottie, who was five years her senior, had always been so self-reliant and womanly that I could never regard her as needing that loving watchfulness that our younger sister seemed to require, and the relations between us could never be so tender and affectionate.

As I reflected thus, long after we had left the breakfast-room and were seated in my little parlor, I reasoned with myself that it was but natural that I should be omitted in the plans for enjoyment formed by the young people of Caldwell. The mothers were not invited to the daughters. Why should I expect to go with Cornie, my sister-child?

These reflections made me more calm and content, and I could bid my sisters a smiling adieu when they left me early in the evening.

Cornie came back to give me a second kiss, and whispered, "I wish you were going, too, you old darling!"

"Old," I repeated to myself. "Yes, that is the word."

And that night I looked more attentively than was my wont into my mirror.

YOU OLD DARLING.
ror, and tried to realize that I deserved the epithet. But I saw no threads of silver in my dark, heavy braids, and but few lines of care on my fair, broad forehead. Anyhow, my heart felt young, and with a sigh I tried to realize that I must accept the position in which, of necessity, I was placed.

The next morning my sisters were eager in their remarks of the charming walk and the delightful sail by moonlight. There had been a pleasant company.

"Oh, Elizabeth," said Cornie. "Do you know we saw an old friend of yours? And he is coming to call on you to-day."

"An old friend of mine?" I queried.

"Yes," Lottie replied. "Mr. Loftus; he is visiting at the Arments, and has just returned from a long foreign tour."

"Will Loftus?" I exclaimed. "Is it possible?"

I felt the warm blood tingling in my cheeks as if I had been only fifteen, instead of five-and-thirty. Memory was busy recalling the long-vanished summer, and how often I used to see my boy-lover, whose lost sight of for many years. Ours had been one of those youthful attachments which but seldom ripen into first and only love.

They are often but "the prelude to the strain, before the song is sung." We were on the verge of an engagement when Will was suddenly recalled to his distant home, and I had seen him no more. Yes, foolish as it may have been, I had always kept one corner of my heart sacred to his name, and it was with a strange thrill that I heard he was again near me, and that I should see him.

That day he called with his friend, Harry Mills. He was a tall, fine-looking man, polished, refined and fascinating in his manner. I could scarcely identify him with the slender youth that I had once known; but he referred so gracefully to our former acquaintanceship, and expressed so much pleasure at renewing the intercourse so suddenly interrupted, that I felt perfectly at ease.

How pleasant were the days that followed! We called each other "Will" and "Lottie" in the most friendly way, and Lottie and Cornie seemed already to regard him as a very intimate friend. We read, walked and talked together, and night after night his deep, rich voice would accompany those of my sisters, while I played the old familiar tunes upon the piano.

I fancied that my own voice might have lost a little of its early sweetness, and so did not attempt to join the others, whose melodies were so harmonious.

Several other invitations were sent as of yore to Misses Whitaker, and I was fast forgetting that I was an old maid, when, at an evening party I overheard the envious and ill-natured remark, "Just see that Elizabeth Whitaker. What youthful airs she does put on! Trying to catch Mr. Loftus, I dare say."

How those words rang in my ears after the lights, the music and the dancing were shut out, and I was alone in my own room. How I catechized myself, and tried to reason with my poor, foolish heart. Yes, I had been trying to look young, and had appropriated Will's attention as a matter of course.

What right had I to monopolize his time? Was it not far more likely that he would choose Lottie or Cornie—let indeed he were to pay court to any of us? Even this was by no means certain; he might go again as suddenly as he had come; and I was startled to find what a sad void his departure would make in our circle, and still more in my own heart.

ARE ON THE WARPATH.
Cheyenne Indians Kill Settlers and Soldiers in Montana.
HELENA, Mont., June 1.—The Cheyenne Indians have gone on the warpath and it is said have killed about a dozen men, including five United States soldiers. They have no reservation of their own, but roam over the southern part of the state near the Crow reservation. The white settlers are up in arms, and women and children are being sent to northern towns for safety. Hoover, a sheep herder, was recently shot while herding sheep, and it is proven the Indians did it. He was killed because he caught several Indians killing the sheep. This incensed the stockmen, who have armed themselves and will fight to protect their homes, help and stock. Two companies of colored cavalry are out from Fort Custer. Couriers have arrived from Lamander agency with the information that the Indians have killed the agency postmaster and Lou Anderson, a stockman; and also fired into the cavalry, killing five, and had sixty armed cowboys surrounded. The Fort Keough cavalry and company E of the infantry left for the scene. There are certainly grounds for fear. The Cheyennes are determined and are being reinforced by renegade Crows. The Rosebud ranchers have received a consignment of rifles and ammunition at this point and the settlers have moved all their families from near the reservation. The ranchmen and stockmen have organized at Cheyenne agency and demand the Indians who killed Hoover. The names of the Indians are known and they are protected by fifty bucks.

700 ON A STRIKE.
Convicts Object to Food and Refuse to Work.
SAN QUENTIN PRISON, Cal., May 30.—Seven hundred convicts, comprising the jute mill force, rebelled at the prison fare and refused to resume work unless an improvement in the menu was promised. The warden and prison director investigated the food question, and pronounced the complaint to be without cause. The prisoners still refuse to work, and the rebellious 700 were ordered placed in solitary confinement on bread and water until they agreed to conform to prison rules.

RACE WAR IN PROGRESS.
Whites and Negroes in Armed Conflict Near Atkins, Ark.
ATKINS, Ark., June 3.—A terrible race war is in progress in Lee township, Pope county, five miles south of Atkins, in which two or three men have already been killed or fatally wounded, and the community is in a state of great excitement, with a more serious outbreak liable to occur any moment. The killed or fatally injured, so far as can at present be ascertained are: Will Gaylord, colored, whipped to death by a white mob; Jesse Nickels, terribly cut with knives by negroes, will probably die; white man, name unknown, fatally shot by gang of negroes; Reason Edge, white, shot by deputy constable, extent of injuries not known; Constable C. E. Edgde, badly cut. The trouble began when a gang of three or four negroes attacked two white men, Jesse Nickels and J. R. Hodges, with knives and pistols. A terrible fight took place, in which young Nickels was cut by the negroes. An effort to arrest the negroes caused the war above mentioned.

In Eastern Cuba.
HAVANA, June 3.—A decree issued by Captain General Veyler at Saneti Spiritus, has been published in Havana. He announces the approaching commencement of military operations in the eastern part of the island of Cuba, and orders the re-enforcement of the provisions of his decree of January 30, in the provinces of Puerto Principe and Santiago de Cuba, the organization of cultivation zones, the closing of stores in unfortified towns, the concentration of the country people, and the destruction of all resources which are undefended, as was done in the other provinces.

Tariff First, Currency Next.
CHICAGO, June 3.—A special dispatch from Washington to the Times-Herald says: Before this congress adjourns it will authorize the appointment of a commission to investigate the currency and make a report at the next session. This has been decided on, and the joint resolution providing for such a commission will be put through both houses after the tariff bill is out of the way. The new tariff bill will be on the statutes by the 1st of August, and in the closing days of this special session the currency question will be taken up and a commission be provided for.

Hawaii and Japan.
SAN FRANCISCO, June 2.—The following Hawaiian advices were brought by the steamer Peru: The Hawaiian government, in its reply to Japan on May 24, refused to coincide with the views held by that country on the sending back of 523 Japanese immigrants, brought by the Kiniani, March 9. Official notice has been given Japan that the immigration laws of Hawaii are to be vigorously upheld. Japan thinks them a contravention of the treaty.

Sugar Trust Wins Again.
WASHINGTON, June 2.—In the case of John Searies, the sugar trust witness, Judge Bradley ordered the jury to return a verdict of acquittal, holding that the questions asked the witness by the senate committee were not pertinent, and if so were not with "misdirection of the committee."

Lawsuit by Telephone.
A novel suit at law was tried in the circuit court at Goshen, Ind., Monday. It was submitted by Elkhart attorneys over the telephone and witnesses examined in the same manner. Judge Warner deciding in favor of the plaintiff.

WIFE ADVISE TO HUSBANDS.

Those Who Have Ailing Wives Will do Well to Accept It.

Do not wrangle and quarrel, and finally rush into the courts and try to get a separation from your faithful wife; but just stop a moment and think. Your wife, who was even-tempered and amiable, and all that was lovely when you married her, has changed. Now she is peevish, irritable, jealous, discontented and miserable—in a word, she has uterine disorder of some kind.

Law is not the remedy for this condition, she needs medical treatment, her uterine system is at fault.

My advice to you is, sit down and write a letter to that friend of women, Mrs. Pinkham, of Lynn, Mass., state fully and freely the whole case to her and she will honestly advise you what to do. Give your wife that chance, good man!

If you do not wish to write about your wife, bring her a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, watch its effects, you will soon see the beginning of the improvement; then get her another and keep it up until she is restored to you, the same lovely woman you married years ago.

Following we relate the circumstances of a case of this nature. Mrs. MELVA ROUTON, of Cumby, Ind., says:

"I have used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and found it to be of great benefit to me. The doctors said I had womb trouble. I had the headache all the time, also a terrible backache, was nervous, cross and irritable. I looked so pale that people would ask me what was the matter. I suffered in this way for about four years, until one day about in despair my husband brought me a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I commenced its use, and much to every one's surprise, it cured me. It has completely changed my disposition for the better also. Several of my neighbors, knowing what the Pinkham medicine has done for me, are taking it, and are much pleased with the result."

Rev. J. Wesley Miller, Cured of a BAD COUGH.
He writes on May 11, 1897: "I have been troubled for years with a cough in the winter season and this last winter had a severe attack of bronchitis which led me to believe, that before long, after taking three boxes of Dr. Kay's Lung Balm, I had been completely cured. My wife has been troubled with CONSUMPTION FOR 10 OR 12 YEARS and at times has been so weak as to be unable to get out of bed without the help of a nurse, and has never found anything that has done her so much good as Dr. Kay's Lung Balm."

Dr. Kay's Renovator
She has taken four 25c boxes and while taking it, has been regular and has improved in her general health very much, and I take pleasure in recommending Dr. Kay's Renovator to those who are afflicted with "J. WESLEY MILLER, Pastor, N. E. Church, Grandview, Ill. Dr. Kay's Renovator has cured so many of the worst cases of DYSPPEPSIA that we consider it a specific for this disease and for proof we refer all to the testimonials of wonderful cures reported in our book. It has cured many bad cases of HEADACHE, and when caused by constipation or dyspepsia it is sure to cure them, before long, after taking three boxes of Dr. Kay's Lung Balm, I had been completely cured. My wife has been troubled with CONSUMPTION FOR 10 OR 12 YEARS and at times has been so weak as to be unable to get out of bed without the help of a nurse, and has never found anything that has done her so much good as Dr. Kay's Lung Balm."
