EDITORIALS.

The annual message sent from the president to the opening session of Congress, which convened in Washington, D. C., last Monday, was read Tuesday. The document is of the usual length as is generally necessary in order to acquaint the American Congress with things which need their immediate attention. There was 26,000 words in the message dealing in a clear and comprehensive manner with the current questions and problems of the day. We agree with him in most of the questions he discussed and especially do we agree with him on the position he took in the Japan and San Francisco school question, and the position he took in condemning lynching in this country. It is a very strong appeal to law and order and true manhood. It is published elsewhere and will speak for itself. While we have censured President Roosevelt for the treatment of the colored battalion in Texas, yet we are always willing to commend the good he does. If any man or ruler makes a mistake thinking he is right, with an honest intent, we ought to be reasonable and broadminded enough to forgive, for man is not perfect nor his acts. This is the first message that the president has ever mentioned the race problem, and we hope that both races will be benefitted by what he says.

TWO FORMER IOWANS DEAD.

We are indeed very sorry to read the death of Mr. J. L. Neal of Minneapolis, Minn. In the last week issue of the Bystander we had the pleasure of knowing Mr. Neal. He is one of the race's best progressive business men in the entire northwest, an active church man. Several times he represented the Iowa conference in the general A. M. E. church conference. He was a great Masonic lodge worker, at one time a member of the Iowa jurisdiction, past grand master of Minnesota, a very successful business man, a real estate agent. He owns some beautiful and valuable property in the Twin City. Truly our race has lost in him a great and useful citizen. The other is young LeRoy Roberts, the oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Roberts, an exceptionally bright young man, who no doubt if he had lived would have made a great and useful man to the race and country. To each of these bereaved families we extend our condolence and sorrows.

An Odd Cure.

Are you a sufferer from indigestion? Here is a curious remedy. Rev. John Spencer of Duluth has brought back with him from Ceylon one of the most curious presents in the world. "Riding on an elephant," he said the other day, "behind a native prince on a hunting expedition, the conversation chanced to turn on indigestion, to which I said I was subject. The prince at once pulled out a black leather bottle kind of thing, which he was wearing on a string round his neck, under his clothes. 'What's that?' said I. 'A hyena's snout,' was the startling reply. 'What for?' To cure indigestion. 'How can it do this?' 'It is very simple. A hyena gets its living by digging up and crunching old bones. Now, it possesses in its snout this peculiar virtue, that when its nose approaches anything hard, such as bones, those tough substances instantly grow soft, and enable the animal to eat them with comfort and benefit. So you will find if you keep this charm hanging round your neck the proximity of the hyena's nose, though dried up and lifeless, will soften your food, however indigestible, to such an extent that you will never again suffer from indigestion.'"

Educating Newsboys.

Boston has an association of newsboys which has begun to establish a fund for educating at Harvard one or more among them, and has raised already $2,000 toward the necessary amount. This lively association, says Celler's Weekly, has already been addressed by President Eliot more than once, and its latest step shows how full of high ambition these boys are. There could be, we gratefully believe, no more sterling proof of opportunity and of character in America than these self-supporting youths now give. In what other nation would a boy born in poverty, earning each day his food and bed, set out cheerfully to pass the examinations of a great seat of learning, and, once in, to master to the full its manifold weapons for adding to the conquests of his life? Criticize it how we will, and should, we may well glow always for our land of the free. Now, as ever, since the pioneer's ax fought its battle with the wilderness, is it the home of Opportunity and of her daughter, Hope.

An ambassador of a well-known European monarch was riding in the streets of Constantinople when one of the sultan's carriages rolled by. Seeing it was guarded, his curiosity got the better of him, and when the carriage reached him he was daring enough to peer in at the passenger. He was surprised and pained to receive a blow in the face from an attendant in charge. Mad with rage, he demanded audience of the sultan. The sultan listened attentively, and for a moment appeared lost in thought. At last he spoke: "My dear one, I have gone carefully into the case, and see exactly how it stands. You are, of course, a gentleman, therefore you would never have committed such a breach of good manners as you allege to have taken place. Therefore no attendant could possibly have struck you. The whole affair seems to be a product of your fancy. Let us dismiss it."

An engineer from Sunderland was spending a few days in London with a friend, and after a busy morning sight-seeing the Londoner chose a large restaurant for luncheon, thinking it would be a novel experience for the man from the north. The visitor appeared to enjoy his luncheon, but kept looking in the direction of the door. "What are you watching?" asked his friend, rather annoyed. "Well," was the quiet reply, "A' keepin' an eye on ma topcoat." "Oh, don't bother about that," said the other, "you don't see me watching mine." "No," observed the guileless engineer, "there has no call to it's ten minutes sin' thine went."

Bill Wright is a country storekeeper in Pennsylvania, and went to Philadelphia to purchase a stock of goods. The goods were shipped immediately and reached home before he did. When the boxes of goods were delivered at his store by the drayman his wife happened to look at the largest; she uttered a loud cry and called for a hammer. A neighbor, hearing her screams, rushed to her assistance, asking the cause of the trouble. The wife, pale and faint, pointed to an inscription on the box which read as follows: "Bill inside."

Gertrude and Agnes Lynch, twins and telegraphers at Omaha, are a great puzzle to all with whom they come in contact in connection with the business of the Western Union Telegraph company, by which both are employed. One of them tells that their mother one day lost her distinguishing mark, adding: "She puzzled over it for a long time and finally shut her eyes and grabbed up the first one she touched and tied the pink ribbon on. So you see I really do not know whether I am Agnes or Gertrude."

The bugle which sounded the charge at Balaklava was offered for sale by auction in London, but was withdrawn, the highest bid being $5,200, and the reserve price $7,500. Two Balaklava bugles, previously sold, realized respectively 750 guineas and $500.

In Massachusetts the illegal sale of street railway tickets is made punishable by a fine not exceeding $50 or imprisonment for not more than 20 days.

IOWA STATE NEWS

Events of Recent Occurrence Throughout the Commonwealth.

AMES SCHOOL FIRST.

Iowa Agricultural College Wins on Steer or Heifer at Chicago.

Chicago.—Iowa Agricultural college was awarded first prize in the live stock show for either steer or heifer born between Jan. 1, 1905, and Sept. 1, 1905, the second prize going to Purdue university, and the third to Kansas State college.

Defender, a Hereford steer, carried away the grand championship honors of the exposition, and is now the center of interest at the stock yards. His owner is F. A. Nye of Attica, Ind.

There were only six or seven real rivals for the championship, and Defender easily distanced them. In the opinion of the judges, Arthur P. Turner of England, one of the distinguished foreign judges who is passing on the points of the thousands of cattle at the exposition.

Prof. C. F. Curtis of Ames, Ia., decided that King Edward's of England shire horse Tom was not so good as a big Percheron entered from the stables of Armour & Co. Chicagoans called the decision with pleasure. Morris & Co.'s Clydesdale, Drew, was awarded third place by Professor Curtis.

The students' judging team of the Ames, Iowa, Agricultural college was awarded second prize in the judging contest for all animals combined. The Ontario college was first, Ohio third, Kansas fourth.

In the contest of horse judging for the McGuffin Brothers prize, Iowa was first, Texas second, Ohio third, Ontario fourth, Michigan fifth, and Kansas sixth.

Chicago.—Iowa Agricultural College has the honor of owning the grand champion steer of the international live stock show, the blue ribbon animal being a baby Hereford, Peerless Wilton Thirty-ninth's Defender. But two Illinois and Indiana may lay claim to the victory as the champion steer in Illinois and was raised by Frank Nave of Attica, Ind.

Just prior to the opening of the show the animal was bought from Mr. Nave by Prof. C. F. Curtis of Iowa college, who realized that it possessed championship quality, and with the intention of fitting it for the contest in 1907. Previously Prof. Skinner of Indiana college had made a bid for the animal, but the same object in view. The Iowa college won a similar honor in 1902.

HELD FOR MURDER.

Creston Youth is Bound Over Without Bond.

Creston.—Deserted by everyone save his faithful mother, who mortgaged her property to provide means for his son's defense, Robert McFeeley, charged with the murder of his father, was bound over to the grand jury without bail. He was immediately placed in the county jail to await his indictment.

A sensational feature of the testimony was the introduction of evidence to show that a sister of the prisoner is a cripple at home unable to leave the house, her injuries due, it is claimed, to an assault made by young McFeeley before the death of his father.

The evidence is so strong that the boy is responsible for his father's death that attorneys for the defense stated that a plea of insanity will be introduced and an effort made to have him sent to Clarinda. Some time ago at the request of his parents, McFeeley was committed to the county hospital, and was pronounced sane. Anger over the filing of such charges is said to have troubled about a motive for the patricide.

PAID TO BE RID OF WIFE.

Ida County Farmer Released From Marital Entanglements.

Ida Grove.—"I will settle for $34,000," said William Vickery to his wife, who was suing for legal separation and a large sum of alimony. "I will pay you $28,000 in cash and the balance in March."

This offer was made in the office of a local attorney in this town and was accepted by the wife. The cash payment was to be made at once, and accompanied by the attorney. Vickery drove to his farm instead of arriving at the house. Vickery brought out from his hiding place an old shoe box, and counted out $28,000 in cash, which was paid over to the attorney representing the wife.

Mrs. Vickery and the children will make their home in town for the present.

Dog's Bite May Be Fatal.

Burnside.—Bitten by a pet dog, which since believed to have been mad, Alfred Taylor lies in a dangerous condition with a swelling limb and increasing signs of rabies. The animal was a pet about the house. It suddenly attacked him, and in the struggle its owner killed it. Taylor soon exhibited symptoms of rabies, and it has been necessary to keep him carefully guarded. Chicago specialists are hurrying to his bedside.

Badly Hurt in Fall Off Wagon.

Atchison.—Howard Anderson was seriously injured and may die as a result of an accident while riding a corn husker for Fred Nichols in Bear Grove township. He fell from the machine in such a manner as to fracture one of the vertebrae of his back and is now lying in a helpless condition, with grave fears for his recovery.

Says He Assailed Attorney.

Burlington.—Gus Dorellus, a saloon-keeper involved in the assault upon Attorney Price of Albia when the latter came here to prosecute some of the saloon cases, has been indicted by the grand jury. He was released after arrest on $500 bonds.

"Bob" Cousins Made Chairman.

Washington, D. C.—Speaker Cannon announced the promotion of Representative Robert G. Cousins to the chairmanship of the house committee on foreign affairs, made vacant by the death of Representative Robert R. Hitt of Illinois.

ASKS CHANGE IN LAW.

Polk County Jurist Urges Change in Juvenile Law.

Grinnell.—At the ninth session of the Iowa state conference of Charities and Corrections Judge James A. Howe, of Des Moines, spoke on "The Juvenile Court." He said in substance:

While the Iowa juvenile court law is defective in some respects, and better adapted to the rural communities and towns than to the large cities, it might with a few amendments be made to meet the requirements of the entire state.

The legislature, when it enacted the law, thought it would be enforced through the voluntary efforts and contributions of the friends of the juvenile work. Experience has proved that this is true in some communities where the work is light, and that it is not true in the large cities and congested centers of population where the work is heavy.

Children under the age of 16 years cannot, under the present law, be committed to jail, but some place must be provided for them in cities where many of them are taken into custody. The law should, therefore, be amended so as to provide a detention home or school at public expense for such children in the large cities.

In a city like Des Moines, where the work is extensive and system and organization are required for its successful execution, regular probation officers are necessary, and the law should be so amended as to provide for them in the large cities.

DOCTORS MAKE BIG BET.

One Wagers $10,000 He Can Cure Consumption.

Fort Dodge.—Iowa physicians are watching with unusual interest a controversy between Dr. Kime of Fort Dodge and Dr. Lindley of Cedar Rapids. The controversy involves a forfeit of $10,000 besides the interesting and much-debated question of whether consumption can or cannot be cured with drugs.

Dr. Kime is a well known authority in this state on consumption. He is a member of the state board of health and has issued a number of bulletins on consumption. Dr. Kime maintains that no drug will cure the disease and recently offered $10,000 for proof that there is a drug that will cure tuberculosis. The offer is the result of a warm argument among physicians over the state. Dr. Kime takes the stand that there is no cure in drugs and is equally emphatic that there is no climate, system of feeding, plan of exercise or amount of rest which will cure the white plague.

Dr. Lindley has accepted the challenge of Dr. Kime and the medical profession of the state is wondering just how the novel wager will be settled. The Cedar Rapids doctor asks that three physicians be named as judges. He will name one, Dr. Kime one, and the state board of control or the board of health the third. It is expected that the state medical association will take up the matter of the wager between the two physicians.

CHEER OVER GIRL'S FREEDOM.

Women Go Wild in Murder Case at Council Bluffs.

Council Bluffs.—The jury in the Emma Ripke murder trial reached a verdict of acquittal after being out twenty-five minutes. There was a remarkable demonstration in the court room when the verdict was announced, the defendant weeping and clapping her hands in hysterical joy. There were nearly fifty women present, all of whom cheered and clapped their hands and all embraced and kissed the girl as soon as they could reach her side. It was fully ten minutes before order could be restored and the verdict entered. Emma says she will remain here and will seek employment. The informal ballot taken by the jury stood unanimous for acquittal. The first formal ballot found one jury voting for conviction the third ballot settling the matter.

HOTEL BURNS TO GROUND.

Fire at New Hampton Destroys Building and Contents.

New Hampton.—Fire started by the night clerk, who tried to fill a lamp after the electric lights had gone out, destroyed the Lutz hotel here, causing a loss of $12,000.

The building belonged to the Lund Land company of Minneapolis and was valued at about $8,000. It was insured to the amount of $5,150. It was operated by F. A. Williams, whose loss will approximate $4,000, with insurance of $2,000.

Arthur Swartzell of Dubuque was painfully burned, and had his ankle sprained by jumping from the building.

P. H. Murphy was burned about the hands while saving the hotel guests. There were no fatalities.

Sleeping Infant Fatally Burned.

Council Bluffs.—The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Benecoter was fatally burned in a fire which destroyed their home. The mother was at a neighbor's house when the fire was discovered and was unable to reach her home in time to save her baby. The little boy was asleep on the sofa in the room in which the fire evidently started and was not rescued until badly burned on the limbs and abdomen. The mother is in the hospital crazed with grief.

Shoots Father; Not the Chicken.

Missouri Valley.—While trying to shoot a chicken which his father was holding and the neck of which he was in the act of wringing, George Johnson, Jr., fired a bullet into the body of his father. The bullet entered the abdomen and traveling in a downward direction is supposed to have lodged in one of the hips. The father is lying at his home in a precarious condition and his life is despaired of.

SHORT SESSION BEGUN

OPENING DAY GIVEN UP TO PRELIMINARIES BY CONGRESS.

THROUGH IN GALLERIES

Senate Receives the President's Appearances but Waits for Message Before Confirming Them.

Washington.—The fifty-ninth congress began its last session at noon Monday. It took the senate 15 minutes to arrange its preliminaries and the house an hour. The senate received from President Roosevelt a long list of appointments for its confirmation, and in an executive session of 19 minutes decided, as the nominations had been received before the body had been organized formally, to make no confirmations until the president's annual message had been received and the session fairly started.

Senators Penrose of Pennsylvania and Foraker of Ohio came forward with resolutions of inquiry regarding the discharge of the negro troops of the twenty-fifth infantry. One was addressed to the president and the other to the secretary of war. After the ripple of surprise had passed and Vice President Fairbanks had suggested that it was unusual to transact any business until the president's message had been received, the resolutions "went over" by unanimous consent. Senator Dupont of Delaware took the oath of office.

The opening of the two houses was witnessed by an animated throng which filled the galleries to their capacity. Hundreds went away disappointed in not gaining admission to witness the session of either senate or house.

Seven cabinet changes and one appointment to the supreme court bench were sent to the senate by President Roosevelt, but they were not confirmed immediately in accordance with general customs concerning such important nominations. Heretofore, the committees have been polled on the floor of the senate in executive session on cabinet appointments and, out of courtesy to the president, immediately confirmed. The reason advanced for the change in the program is that no message of any character had been received from the president, and therefore it would not be proper to transact business.

Two More Messages Due.

Washington.—President Roosevelt's special message to congress on Porto Rico will be sent to congress on December 11. The president's views on the island and the legislation he favors are the direct outcome of his recent visit to Porto Rico.

The president's special message of Panama will be laid before congress on December 17. With only a bare reference to Panama in his regular message, Mr. Roosevelt reserved his observations and recommendations regarding isthmian affairs until he had completed his trip of inspection of the work in progress, which he will deal with in his special message.

The president's annual message was read to the senate and house Tuesday and was followed with the closest attention by both bodies. Scarcely any other business was transacted.

House Passes Banking Bill.

Washington.—The house Wednesday, waiting on the report of appropriation bills, began its legislative grind by passing three measures: Incorporating the National German American Alliance; authorizing the secretary of the treasury to duplicate gold certificates in lieu of ones lost or destroyed; and the bill amending national banking laws, permitting national banking associations to make loans on real estate as security and limiting the amount of such loans.

The brief session of the senate Wednesday resulted in the introduction of many bills, resolutions, petitions and memorials, and the receipt of a number of communications from the executive departments.

GILLETTE IS CONVICTED.

Found Guilty of Murdering His Sweetheart, Grace Brown.

Herkimer, N. Y.—The jury in the trial of Chester E. Gillette for the murder of his sweetheart, Grace Brown, at Big Moose lake, on July 11 last, Tuesday night returned a verdict of guilty in the first degree.

The jury, which had deliberated for five hours, sent word at 11 o'clock that a verdict had been reached. A moment later it filed into the court room and at 11:15 o'clock an officer who had been sent for Gillette, returned with the prisoner.

It was learned that the jury had some difficulty in reaching an agreement and six ballots were taken before the 12 men agreed. Up to that time the jury had stood 11 for conviction and one for acquittal.

ILLINOIS BANKS CLOSED

THREE INSTITUTIONS IN McDONOUGH COUNTY SUSPENDED.

All Conducted by C. V. Chandler—Notices Posted Say They Are Short of Ready Cash.

Peoria, Ill.—Three banking institutions in McDonough county, conducted by C. V. Chandler, of Macomb, closed their doors after posting notices to the effect that the banks were short of ready cash.

The banks are: The bank of Macomb, conducted by C. V. Chandler and capitalized at $50,000; the Chandler & Imes bank at Colchester, capitalized at $25,000, having a deposit of $200,000, and the Chandler & Smith bank at Bardolph, capitalized at $25,000 with $50,000 in deposits.

The money of the depositors in all three banks has been invested through Mr. Chandler, the senior member of the private banking firm in McDonough county real estate, and the immediate cause of suspension of the three institutions is given as a lack of ready cash. The Macomb bank stood good for the payment of the bonds of the Macomb and Western Illinois Electric railway, and when the bondholders made a demand for their money they absorbed all the ready cash of the three institutions.

C. V. Chandler has been in the banking business in Macomb for a quarter of a century, and in addition to his private holdings is treasurer of the Western Illinois State Normal School of Macomb and treasurer of the city of Macomb. It is not thought either the school or the city will lose by the failure of the banks. The state is protected by a trust company bond and the city's deposits in the bank are small at this time of the year.

Mr. Chandler made a statement setting forth in effect what was stated in the notices posted on the doors of the banks. The liabilities are upwards of $700,000, with uncollected real estate worth over $400,000. The mortgages are mostly on central Illinois farms and are considered gilt edge.

There was little show of excitement over the closing of the banks. The depositors have faith in the word of Mr. Chandler and expect the fulfillment of his promise. In Colchester the major part of the depositors are miners who made no demonstration when they read the notice on the doors of the bank.

Two bodies were recovered from the wreckage along Chase creek, but the number of deaths cannot be told. Joe Thom, who was rescued from the flood and whose wife was lost, was taken to the hospital in a serious condition, but will probably recover. Three men who were caught in the act of looting and who refused to surrender to officers, were shot and fatally wounded.

SHIFTS BLAME FOR WRECK.

Southern Railway Operator Declares Disaster Was Not His Fault.

Lynchburg, Va.—Operator G. D. Mattox, who is charged by officials of the Southern Railway company with being responsible for Thursday's wreck, ten miles below Lynchburg made the following statement Sunday:

"The statement of officials of the Southern railway that I have been missing since the wreck and could not be found, although detectives of the company were scouring the country for me, is without the slightest foundation. I have been at my boarding place practically all of the time since the accident."

"I am not to blame for the wreck. Operator L. Clemmer and a student operator were both in the office and heard the operator at Lawyers give me a clear track for No. 33 (the train to which President Spencer's car was attached). He gave me a clear block for No. 37 at 6:12, and the train passed the block at 6:14. I did not give No. 37 a clear track until the operator at Lawyers gave me authority and I can prove this by Operator Clemmer and by the student operator, who has been studying at the office for the past year. When No. 37 had entered the block Lawyers told me that No. 33 was by, and when I asked him the time so I could record, he opened his key and did not reply. No. 37 had gone then."

SHAW'S PLAN TO CHECK PANICS.

His Report Recommends a Restricted Credit Currency.

Washington.—In his report to congress, Leslie M. Shaw, secretary of the treasury, reiterates his recommendation of a restricted credit currency and suggests that if more power is granted the secretary panics can be prevented or their evil effects greatly reduced.

He points out the danger of the "central bank" plan, and urges his own methods to increase circulation when there is a stringency in the money market, and to contract the currency when money is redundant.

A taxed credit currency he considers the best method, supplemented by power granted the secretary to handle a $100,000,000 reserve fund, sending it into the market when needed and withdrawing it when not needed.

Uses of Masks. "Among the North American Indians the origin of the use of masks lay," says a writer, "in the desire to conceal the emotions. Thus should two warriors meet in combat, the mask conceals any expression, whether of sympathy, fear or other emotion. For instance, the knowledge that fear was depicted on one's face and that his antagonist knew it would very possibly insure the defeat of the one whose feelings were betrayed to the other."

TEN YEARS OF PAIN. Unable to Do Even Housework Because of Kidney Troubles.

LOW WAGES IN RUSSIA.

The extreme poverty and the low standard of living of peasants from whom the Russian agricultural laborers are recruited assure a low level of wages for agricultural labor. The average wages will appear almost creditably low from an American point of view, notwithstanding the general complaints of the estate holders concerning the unreasonable demands of the laborers.

According to an official investigation embracing a decade of 1882-1891, the average annual wages for a male agricultural worker in Russia were less than $32 and for a female worker less than $18. To this must be added the cost of subsistence, which is equally low, being on an average $24 for a male and $22 for a Permanent Anemia Cured by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills After Other Remedies Had Failed.

"When I began taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills," says Mrs. Nathaniel Field, of St. Albans, Vermont county, Maine, "I was the palest, most bloodless person you could imagine. My tongue and gums were colorless and my fingers and ears were like wax. I had two doctors who pronounced my trouble anemia, and said I could not live. I could not eat, in fact, did not dare to, I had such distress after eating. My stomach was filled with gas which caused me awful agony. The backache I suffered was at times almost unbearable and the least exertion made my heart beat so fast that I could hardly breathe. But the worst of all was the splitting neuralgia headache which never left me for seven weeks. About this time I had several numb spells. My hands would be cold and without any feeling and the most deadly sensations would come over me.

"Nothing had helped me until I began taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, in fact, I had grown worse every day. After I had taken the pills a short time I could eat that they were benefiting me and one morning I awoke entirely free from pain. The distress after eating disappeared and in three weeks I could eat anything I wanted and suffer no inconvenience. I also slept soundly. I have taken several boxes of the pills and have gained in weight from 130 to 164 pounds and am perfectly well now."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cure anemia because they actually make new blood. For rheumatism, indigestion, nervous headaches and many forms of weakness they are recommended even if ordinary medicines have failed. PRESIDENT REFUSE?

MAY NOT RESPOND TO DEMAND FOR RECORD OF NEGRO CASE.

HIS WISHES ARE IGNORED

Propriety of Making Request On Roosevelt's Discharge of Negroes Long Discussed.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 7.—The senate yesterday adopted the Penrose resolution requesting the president to send it information regarding the discharge of the negro troops of the Twenty-fifth Infantry, and also the Foraker resolution directing the secretary of war to transmit all information in the possession of his department on the same subject. Both resolutions carried an identical amendment by Mr. Culberson asking specifically for the order to Major Penrose, commanding the troops, which directed him not to turn over to the Texas authorities certain of the troops demanded.

This action followed a debate of two hours and was taken without a roll call or opposing vote. The debate developed along two distinct lines, one as to the propriety of asking the president for the information or of directing the secretary of war to furnish it and the other an indulgence by a few senators in comment on the merits of the case.

During the debate, the report was current among senators that the president felt it would be a matter of courtesy if the resolution should be addressed to himself, and so strong, it is said, was this feeling on his part that he had intimated that unless this course was taken there would be no response.

Mr. Spooner, who opened the discussion, took the ground that in matters where congress had an absolute right to information in the possession of the executive, it had always been customary to direct a cabinet officer to furnish it. In matters where it had not this right and in which there was some doubt about the advisability of publicity, congress usually made a request upon the president if it desired the information, with the understanding that it should be furnished "if not incompatible with the public interest." This view was supported also by Mr. Foraker, while Mr. Lodge quoted precedents to the contrary.

To lay the foundation for a discussion of this point, Mr. Carter observed that "it had been alleged and not denied," that the troops in question had committed murder in Texas. This brought Mr. Foraker to his feet with an emphatic disclaimer. This allegation had been denied, he said, and much evidence adduced to support the denial.

"Well," continued Mr. Carter, "it has been alleged and not denied that there was a disturbance, participated in by troops."

"That," he has been denied," asserted Mr. Foraker.

"Well," again began Mr. Carter, "it has been alleged and not denied that there was a disturbance."

Mr. Tillman interrupted to say he had read in the morning papers "an alleged report" from the secretary of war in which the official "had alleged" there was a disturbance and that ten or twenty troops "had shot up the town of Brownsville, Texas."

Mr. Foraker here produced a printed copy of the testimony in the case which he had obtained at the war department, extracts of which he read to show, as he said, that it was "unsatisfactory, incomplete and of a flimsy character and not any jury in Christendom would convict under it."

Mr. Culberson took the opposite view of the testimony but both agreed that with the "unsatisfactory information" at hand it was useless to discuss the case.

Mr. Carter finally secured opportunity to finish his point which was in support of calling on the president for the information. This was emphasized by Mr. Penrose, who said he had introduced his resolutions in the interest of a large negro constituency in Pennsylvania and had addressed it to the president because the action had been by the president and he regarded it as a matter of courtesy to ask him for the information. He also stated that it had seemingly been agreed among senators that both resolutions should be adopted.

Mr. Foraker read at length the testimony furnished by the war department. He said it appeared that murder, misprision of felony and felony had been committed by some three or four of the troops, but that the majority of the troops were innocent and that the constitution secured to every man the right of trial before punishment. He did not regard it from the standpoint of race question. The right of the president to dismiss a man from the army was also involved. If he could dismiss a man he could dismiss a company, a regiment, a brigade, the whole army. Mr. Foraker admitted, at the suggestion of Mr. Warren that the president under the law had the right to increase or decrease the army within certain maximum and minimum limits.

DEFEAT PILOTAGE BILL

House Votes Down Measure Affecting Coasting Trade Vessels.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 7.—The house by a vote of 110 to 164 yesterday defeated the bill of Representative Littlefield of Maine, removing distinctions against American sailing vessels in the coasting trade. This bill, commonly known as the anti-compulsory pilotage bill, has been the subject of many hearings in the committee on merchant marine and fisheries and has excited great interest throughout the lake and ocean shipping regions of the country.

Gives Over $20,000 Damages.

Waterloo.—It has been learned here that the amount of damages received by Foreman Gould from the Illinois Central for damages is well over $20,000. The attorney for the railroad refused to give out the figure at which the case was compromised, but it is known here that the plaintiff's lawyers some time ago turned down an offer of $20,000, so that it is almost certain that they received a bigger sum. The case had already commenced before Judge Reed at Duquoin. Gould had sued for $40,000.

TOBACCO FACTORIES BURNED

MOB APPLIES TORCH TO STEMMERIES AT PRINCETON, KY.

Marshal Is Disarmed—Opposition to Trust Believed to Be Cause of Incendiarism.

Princeton, Ky.,—Two big tobacco stemmeries were destroyed Saturday by fires set by a mob of 300 masked men. The mob held the town at bay until the flames were burning so furiously that they could not be extinguished.

One of the stemmeries was conducted by John Steger and the other by John C. Orr.

The Steger factory is controlled by the American Snuff company, Mr. Steger being the Princeton agent for that concern. Mr. Orr is the representative of the Imperial Tobacco company of New York.

There were about 150,000 pounds of tobacco in each warehouse and all of it was burned.

The mob took charge of the police station and the water works. Had the firemen responded to the alarm they would have been unable to obtain a supply of water.

The work of the mob is believed to be the result of the agitation by the tobacco raisers against the tobacco trust. The organization of farmers is known as the Dark Tobacco Growers' Protective association, but it is not known that any members of that organization were in the mob.

Several cottages in the vicinity of the factories were badly damaged, but nobody was hurt. The loss is estimated at $170,000.

A mob of 300 men entered Princeton, seized the night town marshal and disarmed him. They then went to the factories and quickly applied the torch. Masked men stood on guard permitting nobody to approach until the buildings were enveloped in flames and could not be saved.

OTTO YOUNG IS DEAD.

One of Chicago's Leading Capitalists Passes Away.

Chicago.—Otto Young, 62 years old, one of Chicago's leading capitalists and landowners, died at 1:30 o'clock Friday afternoon at his country home at Lake Geneva.

Not since the death of Marshall Field almost a year ago has there come such a shock to the Chicago business and financial world as this unexpected news caused. It now develops, however, that Mr. Young had suffered with tuberculosis of the lungs for five years. He was obliged to release his active hold on affairs five weeks ago, but it was not thought the attack would prove fatal. He was afflicted with diabetes also.

Mr. Young's business interests were valued at $17,000,000. His holdings of central business property in Chicago were exceeded only by those of Marshall Field and the Levi Z. Leiter estates. Up to the time of his death he had been planning the erection of a $10,000,000 hotel in Michigan avenue. The idea had become his hobby and he intended it to be the finest hotel in the world. It is believed he left some provision in his will for the carrying out of the project.

TAFT ON BROWNSVILLE AFFAIR.

Secretary's Report Defends Discharge of the Colored Troops.

Washington.—In his annual report Secretary Taft devotes considerable space to a defense and explanation of the course of the war department in connection with the discharge without honor from the military service of the battalion of the twenty-fifth infantry, which was stationed at Brownsville, Texas, last summer.

The secretary details the events of the night of August 13, involving the "shooting up of the town" of Brownsville by anywhere from nine to twenty members of this battalion. He is very severe in his condemnation of the non-commissioned officers of the battalion for failing to discover and report the perpetrators of the outrage and of the enlisted men of the battalion who, by maintaining silence when, as he says, they must have known the guilty parties, connived at the crime. He insists that no obligation of comradeship should prevent the men from telling the truth, but indicates that such of the men as are guiltless may be reenlisted.

BEATING THE AGENT

How Bert Sold His Wife a Sewing Machine.

"Bert," said his wife shortly after they were married, "I've got to have a sewing machine."

"Where's it coming from?" he asked, having in mind the savings deposit they were making to buy a home.

"I don't know about that," she said, "but my clothes and the clothes for, you know who, will cost ready made more than a machine would cost, and it's up to you to get the machine."

You can figure that out easily enough. She said she had to have it in one tone of voice, and she said he couldn't use the coin on hand in another tone of voice, and he balanced the two tones and found he had to think out a way of getting what she wanted.

"Get me a Blue Ribbon machine, Bert," she told him when he got up one afternoon earlier than his night work called for.

Then he went out on a tour of inspection which took in three local agents for the famous Blue Ribbon.

"I've got a customer for you," he said to each of the agents. "But the price has got to be the rock bottom. Tell me what you'll do."

In this way he found that there were prices for the Blue Ribbon ranging from an asking price of $60 to a rock bottom price of $40.

"But what commission will you give me?" he asked of the $40 man.

"I'll give you a five-spot," the agent replied, looking Bert squarely in the eye, when he saw that the least he could offer and still get the customer.

"It doesn't make any difference who the customer is, does it?" asked Bert.

"Not at all," said the agent, "you give me the customer, and at $40, and the five is yours."

"Well, come on with your machine, and I'll take you right there as soon as you can load it in your buggy," said Bert.

He had weeded out the excess commission, had raked out an extra five dollars, and was feeling pretty good. But when he introduced the agent to his wife, with an announcement of the price as $40, he saw trouble ahead in the way of the agent's jaw set.

"I'll take that five you promised me now," Bert said, as the agent was about to leave, after closing with Mrs. Reader on terms of a deposit and a trial of 60 days, at the expiration of which the remaining $35 was to be paid.

"O, we'll settle that at the office," the agent replied, in the midst of his remarks to Mrs. Reader.

"Well, I'll take that five now," said Bert, as they stepped into the office. The agent laughed.

"What do you want for?" he asked.

"That was your wife," he said.

"Sure, it was my wife that I sold the machine to," said Bert. "And that is the reason why I can stop the sale unless I get what you promised."

"Then she loses her five if she says 'no,'" replied the agent, easily.

"Man," said Bert, getting ugly, "the sale stops and you can keep the five, but I'll throw it down the back stairs, a long flight of back stairs leading to a hard cement walk!"

The agent thought a few moments.

"Do I get my five?" Bert asked, impatiently.

"I'll tell you what we'll do, Mr. Reader—we'll split the difference," the agent answered, taking out $2.50.

"Now, we don't split anything at all," said Bert.

"This is yours or nothing," the agent replied, holding out what he offered as commission.

"See here, I'm losing sleep talking to you, but I get my five out of you inside of an hour and a half in another way!" exclaimed Bert.

"I'd like to have you show me how you'll do that, my friend," said the agent. "It's $2.50 for you or nothing."

"All right! You're on; I'll just lose an hour or so of sleep to show you," Bert said as he went out.

All the way down town Bert revolved a plan in his head, and so he was ready to begin action as soon as he located the general manager of the Blue Ribbon Sewing Machine company.

"If I sell a machine for you at the price of $40 will you give me a commission of five dollars?" he asked the general manager.

"Sure!"

"Will it make any difference whether it is sold to Mrs. Jones of Mrs. Smith?"

"No difference at all," replied the manager, smiling.

"If you promise me five, you won't go back on your word, will you?"

"Most assuredly you'd get your five, young man," exclaimed the manager, virtuously. "That's the way this Blue Ribbon company does business, root and branch! Our word is as good as a bond!"

"Well, that's what I thought, but your Belmont avenue agent promised me a commission of five dollars for selling a machine at that price under the same conditions, and when he found it was my wife I was selling the machine to he balked on the commission—and here is a receipt for five dollars which I wish you would fix up for me now."

Bert laid the receipt before him, and the manager, after glancing it over, made him out a new one for ten dollars.

On his way home from town Bert stopped in at the Belmont office and showed the agent the ten-dollar receipt.—Chicago Tribune.

BOY'S HEAD ONE SOLID SORE.

Hair All Came Out—Under Doctor Three Months and No Better—Cuticura Works Wonders.

Mr. A. C. Barnett, proprietor of a general store in Avard, Oklahoma, tells in the following grateful letter how Cuticura cured his son of a terrible eczema. "My little boy had eczema. His head was one solid sore, all over his scalp. His hair all came out, and he suffered very much. I had a physician treat him, but at the end of three months he was no better. I remembered that the Cuticura Remedies had cured me, and after giving him two bottles of Cuticura Resolvent, according to directions, and using Cuticura Soap and Ointment on him daily, his eczema left him, his hair grew again, and he has never had any eczema since. We use the Cuticura Soap and Ointment, and they keep our skin soft and healthy. I cheerfully recommend the Cuticura Remedies for all cases of eczema. A. C. Barnett, Mar. 30, 1905."

Japan's Empress Popular. It is doubtful if any royal consort is more loved by her people than is the empress of Japan. Educated according to feudal ideas and skilled in all the accomplishments befitting one of her social eminence, her majesty strongly favors the broadness of new education for women, and from her private purse gives large sums toward the maintenance of women's schools and universities. During the war with Russia the empress visited the hospitals many times and every day passed hours making bandages. The effect of these bandages upon the wounded soldiers has been of deep interest to medical and scientific men, for the soldiers honored by them seemed to rally under a peculiar mental influence. All other bandages were destroyed after their first use; those made by the empress were sterilized and used again for the simple reason of their effect on the recovery of the soldiers.

MARSHALLTOWN NEWS.

Well it has been sometime since we wrote up anything. The fact is I am too busy to move around after news and others are in too much of a hurry to stop and tell you when they pass. So we will have to guess at it. It must be on the account of Tillman's speech in Chicago on the Education of the Negro—the precentage column of all our colored students went soaring skyward.

Well there was a good many nice dinners Thanksgiving, but we can't find out who was at all of them.

An entertainment was given Thanksgiving evening by the church and the Women's club. There was a good attendance and it was a financial success.

This old, reliable preparation has been in constant use for over ten years, and is considered a necessary toilet article in thousands of homes. It is guaranteed free from all injurious drugs or chemicals.
