THE EDITOR'S OBSERVATIONS

(By John L. Thompson.)

We arrived in the Gate City of Iowa Wednesday morning and found everything along nicely in this little dam city. Here lives fully 2,000 colored people and nearly everyone owns their own homes. Many are succeeding in their business. It does seem at the present time there is more sickness here than usual. Mr. John D. Bland, who is a partner with Mr. Handy, the undertaker in Des Moines, has been dangerously sick for several months, is improving, which will be good news to his many friends in both Keokuk and Des Moines. Dr. T. H. Phillips, our great race leader in Iowa and Missouri, has taken suddenly sick and was operated on Wednesday. Mrs. Jennie Dandridge is also sick. Mrs. W. H. Jones has been sick for several weeks. The churches here are four in number and are all alive and doing well. The St. Mary's Episcopal is still pastored by a white minister; the Seventh Street Baptist is now located on Seventeenth and Main streets. It is pastored by Rev. W. H. Clark, formerly of Colfax. He is meeting with good success. The A. M. E. Church is pastored by Rev. C. B. Waters, who reports a successful year's work. Rev. Waters has a big following of young and old people. The Pilgrim Rest Baptist Church is pastored by our good friend, Rev. J. Sterling Moore, who is one of the ablest ministers in Iowa. He and his valuable helpmate, Mrs. Moore are doing a great work in the life of Keokuk people. The U. B. F. and Masonic lodges here are doing good work, each adding new material to their lodge. We have about three restaurants and lunch rooms combined and one ice cream parlor, four colored barber shops. Mr. W. H. Jones has moved his shop off of Main street to Fifth street. Mr. Burton is still working at the Swift's packing house. He is one of the old and reliable men here. G. W. Bland is still in the blacksmith shop on Johnson street doing well. Mr. A. J. Fields has quit the mercantile business because of war conditions and in the ice business, but will again enter the store business this fall. W. W. Gross is still on the U. S. mail force as a carrier where he has been for many years. His only daughter is a recent graduate from the Iowa State University. Mrs. Selby Johnson's beautiful home on High St. caught fire while she was away in St. Joseph, Mo., and done considerable damage. She is remodeling it now. Mrs. Johnson has accepted the agency and correspondent for the Bystander for this year and the people hear from Keokuk. F. D. Holmes is still in the ice business, doing a big business. W. H. Taylor is still running his pool hall and barber shop on Main street. Samuel Johnson is still drawing his express wagon, doing well. Miss Clemens is living at the same place. Mrs. Clemens is real sick and has been ill for several weeks. She is quite old. They are fine people to meet. Miss Mary Smith, our former agent, had to resign on account of her high school work. Mrs. Adelia Wilson's daughter will enter the Iowa State University this fall. Mr. W. Russ, who moved here from the country has recently married. He is a retired farmer. Mrs. Jennie Toomes is doing well as is also Mrs. M. Saunders. Mr. E. Fields, 1813 Bank street is doing well. He owns a beautiful modern stucco building. Mr. R. South has bought a beautiful home on Eighteenth and Exchange. Rev. W. H. Starks, a retired A. M. E. minister, lives here in his own pleasant home enjoying life. They wish to be remembered to all of their friends. The Young Women's Christian Industrial Mission founded and superintended by Miss Sidney J. Davis is indeed making great progress. They have enlarged the scope of their work until they now control the two story building at Twenty-first and Twenty-third, North Fourth street. Ye editor went all through this building and can say that they are doing a good and much needed work for our race. They support a free reading room, bureau of information and find employment for all worthy girls seeking work. See their advertisement elsewhere. John R. Waters is a gardener, who lives out of the city. C. Buckney and C. Turner are hustling young men. C. D. Bland is still in the bill posting business doing well. We next went to Quincy, Ill., one of the old towns of this great state. Here lives about 50,000 people of which fully 3,000 are colored. They have separate high schools only as in the graded schools they all go together. Prof. A. R. Roberts is the principal, a fine scholar and a man of experience. The A. M. E. Church is doing well under the leadership of Rev. W. H. Boyie. The Eighth and Elm street Baptist Church is at present without a pastor. The Quincy Religious Informer is the name of a new Negro journal just launched by Rev. R. M. Dehoney as editor. We wish him success. W. W. Fields is still operating his grocery store and has a fine trade. He has been made captain of the home guards company that composed the famous Eighth Illinois regiment, a great honor for a Keokuk, Iowa, boy. Mrs. M. E. Young is still here. Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Munday are some of the leading and loyal race people here. Edward Duncan is again in the hotel game. He got his old build-back from Emanuel Lobbins. L. E. Brown is doing well. She is running a rooming house and serves good meals. Mrs. R. J. Woodson is working at the Virginia hall. Mr. and Mrs. H. Webb is one of our well to do and highly respected citizens. They own some valuable property. Mrs. F. P. Monroe is living here. She is the worthy grand matron of the grand chapter of O. E. S. of Illinois. J. H. Richardson is doing well. He was a playmate with Harry Seymour of Des Moines. Marion Hall is doing well. Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Bass is still running the barber shop. They have a good trade. L. Murray is doing well as is also Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Williams.

from which he graduated four years later with the degree of B. S. Despite the fact that he pursued a strictly scientific course while in college which is considered the most difficult of collegiate courses, he was graduated with the degree with "Cum laude."

Dr. Harper entered Howard medical school in 1914 and was graduated with the degree of M. D. in 1918. Immediately upon graduating from medicine he took an examination for appointment in Freedmen's hospital Out of the large number of competitors Dr. Harper lead the list in his high average. Before entering the hospital Dr. Harper came to Des Moines where he successfully passed the Iowa state board of medical examiners for a license to practice medicine, surgery and obstetrics in this state.

Dr. Harper has received several invitations to practice in different cities in this state, but states that Keokuk is so far his preference, however, Sioux City and a couple of other cities still have his most serious consideration.

Dr. Harper was married to Miss Beatrice Curry, a school teacher in the Washington public schools last March. Incidentally it may be stated that Dr. Harper will continue as medical correspondent for the Bystander.

Dr. Harper

William H. Harper, B. S., M. D., will leave Freedmen's hospital, Washington, D. C., Oct. 1, 1919 to begin private practice of medicine and surgery in Iowa. Dr. Harper graduated from high school in Ft. Madison, Iowa, in the spring of 1908. Not being able to get all the courses that he desired in the four terms in high school he had the honor of being the first student in that school to take a term of postgraduate work. Following his post course in high school, he secured a position as cook in one of the largest hotels in Waterloo, Iowa, where he worked for some time over a year. In the fall of 1910 he entered the college department of Howard university,

THE PERISCOPE

"BUILD YE MORE—"

"Build Ye More Stately Mansions, O My Soul." These are days of genuine construction for our group. In the midst of the world's greatest period of unrest, the Negroes of America are "forgetting those things which are behind" and are building everywhere materially, with the highest spiritual sense of duty and responsibility. The Pythian Temple in New Orleans, the St. Luke's building in Richmond, the Home of Dr. Phillips, Keokuk, Ia.

The above picture is the beautiful sanitarium and palatial home of Dr. Thomas H. Phillips, who is a little past 87 years old. This home is located on the corner of Eighteenth and Palean street. It is stucco and on the porch is the picture of Dr. Phillips and his wife and young son, Thomas, Jr., a lad of about two years. We can only say that Dr. Phillips has accumulated all of this wealth in the past dozen years, as he has lost a small fortune during his long life and like all of the people of his age he gave 40 years of his best life to his slave master without pay. At his eighty-sixth anniversary the citizens of Keokuk both white and colored, met at the A. M. E. Church and celebrated his birthday and below we are printing an extract of the speech of the mayor, which is so historical and interesting we are printing a part of it.

To Dr. T. H. Phillips: I am rejoiced that I am one of those who can be present upon this occasion and join in the felicitations of the day. It goes without saying that all of your friends extend to you their sincere congratulations and best wishes upon your reaching the age of 86 years.

On that day when your eyes first opened to the beauties of the world, Andrew Jackson was president of the United States, and there were those who urged that our union was yet somewhat of an experiment and that it could not endure. Today the young state among the governments of the world has reached the proud station where it stands at the head of all the nations—powerful and puissant, just and free, the hope of the oppressed, the palladium of liberty.

On that day, there was no such thing as Iowa, the state of which we are so proud, and whose fertile fields hold untold wealth. There was no Keokuk, and yet Keokuk, in the common phrase, is an old city. The city that we love so well was then the abode of the red man, here the savage beat his tom-tom, here the way open for our own superintendents, managers, foremen, clerks, stenographers, and general employees. We have made the other fellow rich; he has grown fat in his luxuries booted and laughed at us. He has received all our money and slammed the door of opportunity in our face. Now that we are on the upward way, let us continue to BUILD, BUILD, BUILD!—and then Build some more.—Associated Negro Press.

St. Louis with a great department store; Atlanta with a $500,000 hotel; Chicago with a million dollar Pythian building and wonderful prospective investments and constructive plans reported from every section of the country, involving amounts from $5,000 to more than $1,000,000, give forcible and impressive answer to the question: Are we downhearted?

More power and more life to this fine new spirit of unity of purpose. Let us pool our humble dollars more and more, and rise to industrial and commercial heights by the power of our concentrated efforts. Let us continue to make the Indian maid listened to the wooing of her warrior lover. All of this has passed and today here are the busy marts of trade, here the happy homes of a contented people.

Then the Morse telegraph was just blossoming in the mind of the inventor, the first American railway had only been in operation three years, the timbers of the first steamship to cross the Atlantic were still standing in their native forest. You have seen the passing of the stage-coach, the canal-boat, the sailing vessel. You have seen the advent of the telephone, the electric light, the automobile, and now at last the submarine and the airplane.

You were a man past the first youth when Lincoln signed the emancipation proclamation, and where our land was torn by civil strife. You have seen the death of slavery and the coming of the square deal for the black man.

During your life the gallant soldiers of our country have successfully fought the Mexican war, the civil war, the Spanish-American war, and others of minor importance, and now in these later days they have emerged victorious and triumphant from the great world war. Surely you have lived in great times.

You have not been a mere onlooker as these great events were transpiring, but in many of them you have borne an intimate part. Yours has been an active life, always striving onward and upward—not for yourself alone, but for your people. You have always been a champion of your race. Your brave heart has borne the fight when a less courageous man would have faltered. You have been on the firing line while others would have been content to remain in the rear—you have led where others would have followed.

Prosperity has rewarded your efforts; you have achieved success, but more than all else you have served your God and your fellowman. That is the best that can be said of any man, be he white or black.

Monmouth is congratulating herself on having with her on next Monday, the date of the big celebration of the fifty-seventh anniversary of the issuance of the proclamation of emancipation by President Lincoln, Mr. S. Joe Brown, a prominent attorney from Des Moines, who will deliver an address. The committee has arranged for him to stop at the home of Dr. G. W. Jones while in the city.

Crocker St. Branch Y. M. C. A. Makes
Third Quarterly Financial DriveBIG PUBLIC DEMONSTRATION
AT ST. PAUL'S A. M. E. CHURCH
MAYOR TOM FAIRWEATHER
TO SPEAK

The finance committee of the Crocker street branch of Y. M. C. A. has launched its third quarterly drive to collect funds for the erection of a building at the corner of Twelfth and Crocker streets. The movement was somewhat impeded owing to the findings of a suitable location, nevertheless more than eleven hundred dollars of the subscriptions were voluntarily paid by subscribers during this period. The present location is fine and the committee of management is to be complimented upon their selection.

Plans for the building are already being worked out by Messrs. A. A. Alexander and J. H. Spriggs. It is the purpose of the committee of management to have the building well under way before cold weather. The white citizens of Des Moines are watching this movement very closely and their help in the future depends mainly upon the present showing made by the Negro citizens. With the interest now manifested by the loyal Negro citizens of Des Moines it is only a matter of a short time before this corner will be graced with a more permanent building which will be a credit to the race and a pride of the city. The subscribers are urged to pay up their third installment in full in order to give the movement a substantial boost. The third quarter will close with a public demonstration at St. Paul's A. M. E. Sunday, Sept. 28 at 4 p. m. Mayor Tom Fairweather will be the principal speaker. A short program is being arranged.

Keeping Up With The New Re-Construction Period.

One day last summer I received a splendidly written letter. I could not tell whether the writer was a colored woman or a white woman interested in work among the colored people," said Mrs. Z. L. Thornburg, as she stood in the beautifully appointed rooms of Mrs. Paul Jones at the initial meeting of the Parent-Teachers Association, "the writer of the letters asked for a committee appointment and a few days later they called at my residence. They told me of the humiliations and heartaches they had to endure, of the refusal in public places of even their children, of the sacrifice colored mothers made to educate their children and after having obtained their education there was nothing for them to do. Now these mothers said they were not concerned about "social equality" that equality of opportunity was of greater concern, and Mr. Thornburg says this organization of colored mothers was one of the greatest of things that could have happened, so they will meet in all of the schools to study child welfare and will co-operate with us.

This Parent-Teachers Association has for its purpose: Effective organization of the fathers, mothers and friends of the colored pupil, to establish friendly relations with the school authorities, to arrange for home tuition for the backward, to curb delinquency, to study child welfare and in short to fit the colored American child for the public school.

Enrollment of the colored pupils in the public schools are being taken and each group is to have an adult sponsor, the group to be named after noted men and women of our race and after the men and women of the white race who paved the way and made it possible for us to guide, protect and educate our children.

The association is known as the Du Bois Parent-Teachers Association and all mothers in every part of the city are eligible to membership and all are urged actively to join.

There will be a mass-meeting at one of the churches, and a musical program at which time the superintendent of schools and other educators will speak.

The outline study will be handed to the chairman of the program committee, and will be announced through the columns of the Bystander. The first meeting will be held Wednesday, October 8 at Crocker school. Mrs. Emerald Mash chairman of membership committee. The colored mothers were represented at the city library at the city council of mothers, Tuesday, Oct. 16, by Lillian Smith, president and Mrs. J. P. Hamilton, vice president.

NOBLE NEGRO WOMEN OF IOWA.

Too much cannot be said in praise of the Iowa Federation of Colored Women for the splendid work and success in securing the home for university girls at Iowa City.

The committee will meet soon and the amount raised will be reported. The beautiful home is now being fitted up.

The matron, Mrs. Mattie Dameron, moved into the home this week and will have everything in readiness by the opening of school.

Mrs. Helen Downey of Ottumwa, chairman of scholarship committee and who laid the plans and conducted the drive which resulted in purchase of home is still in Iowa City, looking after the property and assisting in furnishing the home.

Mrs. Martha White, president of the Iowa Federation spent several days in Iowa City looking after business matters.

The Best Advertisement.

The best advertisement any merchant can have is a satisfied customer. No greater recommendation can be given an article than the following by E. B. Milburn, Prop., Guion Drug Store, Guion, Ark. "We have sold Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for years and have always found that it gives perfect satisfaction."

WHAT'S THE ANSWER?

Dr. A. Wilberforce Williams, health editor of the Chicago Defender, just returned from France, remarked in an address at a banquet given in his honor by the staff at the Royal Gardens, Chicago; "France has great need for thousands of our young men of training and ability. I do not advise all to go, but many of you should go, and there you will not be hampered in the rise to success." And he continued: "There are also, hundreds of opportunities in South America and Mexico. I expect to shape up my business and go to South America."

President-elect King, of Liberia, tells us that there is need and opportunity for thousands and thousands in that fine little republic, and that is one of his missions in America, to get people of our group to embark for there. There are other colonies and nations calling for able bodied men of our group to "come over into Macedonia and help us." Assurances of freedom and justice are given.

Industrial leaders of the north are saying: "We cannot do without the colored men; with thousands of foreigners going back to their native land, the colored worker is our only resort." Numerous delegations from the south are touring the north, using every possible means and inducement to get the Negro workmen to return south, for lumber camp, cotton field, trades and general usefulness. The employment bureau of Richmond, Va., as well as many other southern communities, has sent out the S. O. S. for Negro help.

It is plain to be seen that our group is the MOST IMPORTANT ECONOMIC FACTOR IN THE INDUSTRIAL WORLD TODAY. What is the answer to the invitations to leave America? Shall we go or stay? Is it better to bear these ills that we have, then to fly to those we know not of? We are put to the test, and the greatest care of judgment must be exercised. The destiny of unborn generations, as well as our immediate "life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness," depends on the decisions now made. Whatever may be finally determined, will be for the purpose of having life, life more abundantly; the unhampered opportunity to grow to full manhood, and a feeling of security from the crowd and the mob.—Associated Press.

THE AMERICAN LEGION

(By G. U. Clowd.)

The American Legion is a body of men, who at the time of need offered their life as a sacrifice to hold the idea of American citizenship.

The basic principals of all true Americanism is that Right be Master of Might and that absolute and unswerving justice shall be given all people regardless of race, creed or station.

These are the things the legion stands for, and if you were in military service at any time during the war and your services were honorable you are entitled to a full membership in the legion.

Don't overlook your opportunity. If there is not a colored legion in your town write G. U. Clowd, 1100 Fleming building, Des Moines, Iowa.

FIND STEAMER LONG BURIED

Dredging Operations in the Mersey Disclose Remains of Vessel That Had Been Forgotten.

For some time past the Mersey docks and harbor board has been conducting dredging operations in the neighborhood of the Burbo bank, one of the huge accumulations of sand which impede the navigation of the Mersey entrance, and these have resulted in a "find" of remarkable interest.

It is the remains of a steamer which have evidently been embedded for generations. Her date is long anterior to that of iron shipbuilding. Of sound English oak were her timbers and framing, to which circumstances doubtless is due the fact that they still retain cohesion and shape, and have so wonderfully resisted the forces of decay as to supply an abundant quantity of material for the souvenir manufacturer. Her beams, in point of fact, are described as being as "hard as iron."

The machinery has practically perished, but the engine bed-plates and the funnel remain, and relics of pottery and other articles are plentiful. The vessel, cleared of superabundant sand, is not only visible, but accessible at low water, and has been visited and examined by many interested people.

The prevailing opinion is that she is the William Huskisson, a paddle steamer belonging to the City of Dublin company, and trading between Liverpool and the Irish capital, which on the 12th of January, 1840, was wrecked on her passage to the Mersey. She had 120 passengers on board, of whom 95 were rescued by the ship Huddersfield, and the remainder perished. Captain Clegg of the Huddersfield subsequently received handsome presentations from the citizens of Liverpool in recognition of his good work.—Manchester Guardian.

Ruth and friends on the fifth of this month and an elegant course lunch was served.

Miss Arlin of New York is visiting with her aunt and uncle, Rev. Terrill and family.

Mrs. Crank of Des Moines are spending a few days at the parental home.

Mrs. Lizzie Lucas left this morning for Des Moines to make her home with her son, Oscar Miller. Friends are very sorry to lose her from Colfax.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Beasley have moved into their cozy home which the recently purchased.

Mr. and Mrs. Jones from Buxton made this city a fine visit this week and were favorably impressed with the place and planning to return in the near future to locate.

NEW WAR CAMP COMMUNITY

WORKER HERE

Mrs. Alice Dickinson, the new girls director under the War Camp Community Service, arrived in our city Wednesday night to carry on the girls work. C., where she worked in co-operation with Mayor Ramsey, formerly of Tuskegee. She also gave excellent service at Camp Meade, where she was information secretary during the time the hostess house was open there, hence, if experience means anything, we are sure Miss Dickinson will carry Des Moines far over the top in welfare work. We welcome her to our community.

Wright, head of the Army Club No. 2, Ninth and Mulberry, returned Wednesday from attending the conference of war workers and club directors who held their conference in Denver, Colo., last week. Attorney Wright says that much good was derived from the conference and they enjoyed a most delightful time. He met many former Des Moines people while in Denver. Among whom were Mr. and Mrs. Lee Blagburn and Mr. Dan Strothers. All are doing fine.

Attorney Wright also says that efforts are being put forth to make Army Club No. 2 a more interesting social center for this community than it has been. He firmly states that the building will not be taken over by the school board, but will remain the social center for our people of Des Moines.

KEOKUK ITEMS.

The A. M. E. folks have a great day at the Biggs schoolhouse near Montrose. For several days the talk of all the folks was ye old time basket dinner and Sunday services in the country, so early Sunday morning from every direction came the hurrying people with baskets laden with everything imaginable in the eating line until four trucks had been filled, besides ten or twelve private autos and many carriages and other conveyances. This typical country school building was filled to overflowing for the 11 o'clock services. A choir of thirteen voices with Miss Ruth Johnson at the organ furnished the music. Rev. C. R. Waters, as usual, preached an excellent sermon. His text was "There is a Way That Seemeth Right to Men, but the End Thereof is the Ways of Death." Urov. 14-12, and all say of one accord "It was good to have been here. Congregational singing good, 150 persons ranging in ages from three months to 96 years from Keokuk, Montrose, Moar, Ft. Madison and vicinity enjoyed their dinner on the campus. Many exchanged greetings who had not met in years. The familiar ring of the old school bell ushered many into praise service. Revs. L. C. Love and Henry Armstrong and Rabbi Gaines aided in the services. Collection $30.

Rev. Dr. T. H. Phillips, who has been seriously ill since his return from the Tandy funeral, is gradually improving. The entertainment given by the Virgin Olive Temple on the lawn of Mr. and Mrs. George Mott was a splendid success.

Mesdames C. R. Waters and George W. Snoddy will leave for Chicago to spend two weeks attending the annual Mite Missionary meeting as well as the Iowa annual conference.

Mrs. Ida Byrd spent Sunday with her husband in Mt. Pleasant and reports that he will be home shortly.

The Selby Johnson homestead is undergoing the much needed repairs since the fire. With the already repairs, Mrs. Johnson has put on it, the place will be practically new.

The entertainment at the residence of Miss Kittie E. Owens for the benefit of the stewardess was well attended and a great success financially. Much credit is due the president, Mrs. Minnie Taylor and her co-workers of the board.

Through the strenuous efforts of the pastor, Rev. J. Sterling Moore and the untiring efforts of his wife, the members and friends of Pilgrim Rest Baptist Church, it has been overhauled to such an extent one is hardly able to recognize the interior of the building. Sunday marked the first of the series reopening week. Over 300 were present, twenty-four voices in the choir and the historian of the church as Pastor Moore has been styled, preached that usual Sunday night's excellent sermon. Subject, "Has the Church Lost Its Power?" He plead for regeneration, for the fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of man. He said the church is the light of the world and ultimately will be the church triumphant. Collection Ella Tarver and Mable G. Hill.

$29. On Monday night, Mrs. Elizabeth Ross, a woman of international reputation, made a splendid talk. She eulogized singing, told of her work among our people in the southland, and told of her son's present work in Africa. A silver offering of $8 was presented her and she will send it to Africa. Rev. Huell Warren, pastor of the First Christian Church, made a time as well as a splendid address for racial and industrial democracy. He showed clearly the duty of both races, plead for morality—a moral status individually to be established and showed that the field was at our doors and the harvest was ripe and plead for Christian laborers. A choir of twenty-one voices rendered songs not only of ante bellum days, but some of the most classical of this generation. Rev. Moore acted as master of ceremonies and graced the position nicely. Rev. W. H. Starks assisted.

The many friends of Mr. John Bland are glad to know he is improving.

Mrs. Jennie Freeman is somewhat indisposed but is improving.

The funeral of Mrs. Pool was conducted by Rev. Armstrong.

Thos. Jefferson sustained a painful injury when he fell down stairs but is much better.

The Bailey family have purchased a nice home on Palcan street, and are occupying it.

Mr. Taylor Robinson expects to return to his home in Montgomery City, Mo., next week after a two months stay with his children.

Rabbi Gaines of East Africa was at Bethel Church Monday night and pleased a good audience with his lecture and demonstrations.

The Standard of Furnace Value

The salesman who says "just as good as" pays what he knows to be the highest possible compliment to the thing he is trying to sell.

But unconsciously he gives still greater praise to the standard by which the substitute is gauged.

Wise shoppers know this to be true—no matter what they are about to buy.

GREEN COLONIAL FURNACE

Has Green's Dome Heat Intensifier

When you hear a furnace salesman say "just as good as the COLONIAL," you know he is advancing what he hopes will be his clinching argument.

But you also know that he gives the best of all reasons for NOT accepting the "Just as Good," and the best reason for your deciding in favor of the furnace whose reputation and performance have placed it where it becomes the natural standard of furnace value.

Furnaces are sold, from time to time, on the plea that they are "just as good as the COLONIAL."

The furnace YOU select should be the furnace whose service has made it yardstick and scales for the measurement of others.

That is the Green COLONIAL—the Standard of Furnace Value.

Established Since 1869.
