Regiment Ask For Negro Colonel

Demand Election Inquiry

National Association for the Advancement of Colored People Asks For Federal Investigation.

New York City, N. Y., Dec. 6.—A demand for a federal investigation of the race riots and election frauds in Florida and other southern states is being made by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. Walter F. White, assistant secretary of the association, who has just returned to New York from Jacksonville, Ocoee, Orlando and other parts of Orange county, Fla., where he had been making an investigation of the race riots which took place on election day and during the week following, reports that upward of 4,000 affidavits will be collected and handed to the Department of Justice, showing violations of both state and federal election laws.

The work of the mob in Ocoee on November 3, he charges, has been minimized and suppressed. On going over the scene of the riots he found many houses, churches, school houses and a lodge hall burned, and none of the reports places the number of Negro men and women who were burned, lynched or shot at less than 32.

"Negro Ponzi" Guilty

Chicago Operator Was to Pay When He Won $10,000,000 Suit.

Chicago, Dec. 2.—Dr. J. Elbert Robinson, a Negro, described as "Chicago's colored Ponzi," was found guilty by a jury today of operating a confidence game. Dr. Robinson, testimony showed, claimed the American Car and Foundry company owed him $10,000,000 for infringement of patents for a "hard iron wheel" and that he had suits pending to collect the money.

To raise money for the alleged prosecution of these suits he sold his notes, for from ten to twenty-five times the amount he received from the buyer, the difference constituting the purchaser's profit when, and if, the courts decided in his favor. Testimony showed that hundreds of people, white and colored, had "invested" in Robinson's notes. During the trial Robinson rode to and from the court building in an imported racing car driven by a liveried chauffeur. The conviction carries a sentence of from one to ten years in prison. Bail was set at $10,000.

North Carolina Mob Seeks Five Negroes

One Man is Shot in Attack on Court House to Get Men Being Tried for Murder.

Goldsboro, N. C.—Excitement prevailed tonight in the vicinity of the county Court House here, where five Negroes were placed on trial for murder late today. Heavy firing was in progress at 9 o'clock and one man was reported seriously wounded. The Court House was guarded by deputized citizens, and after the exchange of shots the mob dispersed.

State troops were reported on their way here on a special train, but no further attempt to reach the prisoners had been made at 10 o'clock.

The prisoners have been kept in the state prison at Raleigh since their arrest ten days ago, following the murder of Hermann Jones, a grocer of this city. The sheriff, in bringing them here for trial, evaded a mob that awaited the party at the station by getting off the train and spending last night in the woods with his prisoners. He flagged a train later, and went back to Raleigh, reporting to Judge Deven of the Supreme court that troops would be necessary if a trial was to be held.

The court, however, sent the five prisoners back to Goldsboro later in custody of county officers from Raleigh, and the trial began today. A party of several hundred Goldsboro citizens had been deputized to guard them.

HAITIANS PROTEST CLOSING OF INQUIRY

Say They Have More Witnesses for Naval Board—Daniels Orders Investigation.

Washington, Dec. 2.—Citizens of Haiti have protested to Secretary Daniels against the departure from their country of the Naval Board of Inquiry until additional witnesses have been heard in the investigation into the conduct of the marines force occupying the island republic. Upon receipt of the telegram the Naval Secretary immediately instructed Rear Admiral Knapp, who represents both the state and navy departments in Haiti, to conduct an informal hearing at which witnesses who did not appear before the Mayo board might testify. Should this testimony warrant such action the secretary said that he would order the Mayo board back to Haiti or convene a new board.

PLAN ALLIED MEMORIAL DAY

Paris Conference Urge an Annual Celebration on May 30.

Paris, Nov. 29.—Recommendation that the veteran organizations of all the allied countries observe May 30 as "International Memorial Day" was one of the first acts of the International Council binding together the war veterans association of the allied nations, which was organized yesterday by delegations representing the allied countries.

The officers elected by the council were: President, Charles Bertrand, France; Vice Presidents, Cabot Ward, United States, and Colonel Crossfields, Great Britain; Treasurer, Signor Battoni, Italy.

Campaign Against Social Diseases

Washington, D. C., Dec. 4.—Plans for a three year continuous campaign against social diseases in North and South America was considered at the all-American conference which opened here Sunday. It was the first of a series of regional conferences suggested by the international health conference held at Cannes, France, under supervision of the League of Red Cross Societies.

The conference also considered problems relating to medical investigation, education as a means of controlling the diseases, law enforcement, and protective social influences. Efforts that will be made to formulate a program for a three year trial based on the contention that any short period is inadequate to demonstrate the efficiency of methods either curative or preventive.

It was the hope of some of the conferees that the endorsement of such a program would carry the suggestion that the treatment may be made compulsory and conducted under government control.

Census Shows Rush of Negroes Towards the North

Census Returns for Dayton, Peoria and Other Cities.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 29.—(Special)—Figures announced by the census bureau regarding white and Negro population for Peoria, Ill., show that the Negro population of the city constituted only 2.3 per cent of the total population, a gain of nearly one-half of one per cent since 1910.

The population of Peoria was given as 76,121 for 1920 of which 73,977 are white, 2,131 Negro and 13 others. Chicago, Japanese and Indians. In 1910 there were 1,569 Negroes and 65,361 whites.

The white population constituted 97.72 per cent of the total population in 1920 and 97.6 per cent in 1910.

For Fort Wayne, Ind., figures showed a total population of 86,549, and that of them 85,051 are white, 1,476 Negroes and 22 of other races. In 1910 the figures were: White 83,340; Negro 572; Negro population of Fort Wayne now is 1.7 per cent of the total, a gain of seven-tenths of one per cent since 1910.

Pickens a Noted Orator

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 30.—William Pickens, the noted Negro scholar and orator, is addressing large mixed audiences in this section of the country and incidentally taking note of the social and economic problems which are holding the special interest of people all along the Pacific coast line. He has been accorded a hearty reception wherever he has appeared and his opinions on public questions have been eagerly sought.

In a recent interview he has this to say on the "Japanese Question" as it appears to him:

"You must have noticed that when one is prejudiced against you, your very virtues become vices in his sight. As an outsider I have been interested to note the 'accusations' which the white man of the Pacific coast naively makes against the Japanese."

"I have heard them complain, as I rode with them on the trains, that the 'Japs have all the business in such-and-such a little coast town,'—that they cater in some other places,—that their restaurants sell more food for the same money than any white restaurant (think how a white restaurant would be praised if this could be said of them), that they show a disposition to thrive where the white man fails."

"Just think of a race being 'accused' of all this crime! More than that, I saw one great San Francisco daily complaining against the Japanese high birth rate and the child-bearing superiority of the Nippon women. It was contemptuously said that one out of every thirteen babies born in California last year was a 'Japlet,' which is far above the proportion of the Japanese population. It seems, too, that while less than ten per cent of California's white women bore children, more than twenty-eight per cent of the Japanese women bore children."

"How in the world are Japanese men to blame for this? Is it not a relic of the savage that causes us to curse in another race the qualities which we would praise in our own? It reminds me that in South Carolina for generations the Negro has been 'accused' of wanting to wear good clothes, to live in fine houses, to eat the best food, to vote to hold office, to go to college, to enter the professions, to get more pay for his work (of course they put it the other way about; to do less work for his pay) and in general 'to be like white folks.'"

"May Allah and Odin and the God of the Christians save all the colored races from the 'viruses' which the medieval haters of the white race would like to see other races endowed with."

Mr. Pickens will be in California for several weeks and will make a number of addresses in many of the large cities in the central section of the state.

Ask For A Negro Colonel.

Fifteenth Regiment Guardsman Want One of Their Race to Command.

New York City, N. Y., Dec. 3.—A petition signed by 10,000 Negro ex-servicemen and business men was sent to Governor Smith yesterday asking that a Negro veteran who has seen service with the A. E. F., be appointed colonel of the Fifteenth infantry, N. Y. N. G., the New York regiment.

The regiment has been without a commander since the resignation of Col. William J. Schieffelin a year ago. During the war the regiment served in France as the 369th infantry, under Col. William B. Hayward, who was mustered out of service on his return to this country.

Sergeant K. D. Cook, who has been active in securing signatures to the petition, said last night that the 600 members of the regiment were firm in their determination to have a Negro commander and that there would be great dissatisfaction if Governor Smith should refuse their request. Sergeant Cook said the majority were in favor of the selection of Captain Napoleon B. Marshall, who served in France and returned with more decorations than other member of the regiment.

Delta Sigma Theta

Iowa City, Iowa.—The following officers have been elected in the Du Bois Literary society for the ensuing year: President, Mr. Clement Scott; Vice President, Miss Naomi Harper; Secretary, Miss Mildred Griffin; Assistant Secretary, Miss Viola Pendleton; Treasurer, Miss Hazel Shaw; Parliamentarian, Mr. William Taylor; Critic, Miss Imogene Wilson; Journalist, Mr. Fred Slater.

The Kappa Alpha Psi entertained the Delta Sigma Theta and friends to a formal Thanksgiving dinner. Mr. Windsor acted as toastmaster. Mr. Taylor spoke in behalf of the Kappa Alpha Psi fraternity; Miss Crutcher in behalf of the Delta Sigma Theta sorority; and Dr. W. H. Harper of Keokuk represented the visitors.

This Thanksgiving as all in the part will long be remembered by the followers of old gold.

The out of town guests attending the Thanksgiving banquet were: Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Harper, Keokuk; the Misses Elizabeth Redd and Marie Whaley, Washington.

Miss Naomi Harper entertained at a formal breakfast Thanksgiving morning the sorority and friends in honor of her brother and sister, Dr. and Mrs. Harper.

Miss Imogene Wilson organized a tent of the maids and pages of honor in Cedar Rapids last month.

A Christmas musical and tree will be held at Bethel Sunday school Sunday evening at 7:30. Everyone is cordially invited.

Mrs. Bullock Recommends Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

"Last winter when my children were sick with colds and were coughing a good deal I gave them Chamberlain's Cough Remedy," writes Mrs. C. M. Bullock, Gorham, N. Y. "It relieved them at once and under this treatment all symptoms of the cold gradually disappeared. My experience with this medicine warrants my recommending it to others."—Adv.

How To Be Healthy.

If you would enjoy good health keep your bowels regular and your stomach and liver in good working order. This is easily done by taking Chamberlain's Tablets. These tablets strengthen the stomach and regulate the liver and bowels. They are easy to take and mild and gentle in effect. They only cost a quarter.—Adv.

Good Advice.

Take Chamberlain's Tablets as soon as you have finished your supper and they will produce a gentle movement and they will produce a gentle movement of the bowels on the following morning. They will also improve your digestion and make you feel better in every way.—Adv.

Instruments on an Airplane.

The instruments on an airplane usually include an altimeter, for indicating the height; clock; compass; revolution indicator, showing the speed of the engine; speedometer, indicating the air speed of the airplane; and petrol and oil gauges, indicating the amount of fuel in the tanks.

MR. PHILLIP MURRAY, whose likeness appears above, is now vice president of the International Union, U. M. W. A., and is up for re-election, on December 14, 1920.

MR. MURRAY comes before the miners of the country with a clean record, and many years of experience, having entered the coal mines at 10 years of age, and has worked in, and around the mines, and for the organization for nearly 30 years. Having served as international board member, and president of District Five, better known as the Pittsburgh district, from which position he was appointed vice president by International President John L. Lewis.

MR. MURRAY has spent nearly all of his time as vice president in the anthracite controversy; and by his shrewd tact and ability, the anthracite wage contract has been reopened, and the anthracite miners bid fair to receive the same advances in their wage scale as was received by the bituminous miners.

The miners of Iowa would do well to support MR. PHILLIP MURRAY for vice president.

Race Man Dies

John C. Dansey, prominent Negro orator and race man died at his home, 2139 L street, Washington, D. C. Mr. Dansey was appointed recorder of deeds by President McKinley and held that office during the administration of Theodore Roosevelt. It is said that he was a very close friend of both McKinley and Roosevelt. He also served in the capacity of port collector at Wilmington, Del., for a long time. He was elected by the general A. M. E. Zion conference as the secretary of publicity the position that he held up to his death.

It is also said that he was active in the last campaign that put the Republican party in the lead.

In interviewing Mr. Frank Blagburn of this city, he said that Mr. Dansey was the man who appointed him clerk in the recorders office and afterwards through Mr. Dansey's influence he was made cashier of the same department.

Mr. Dansey leaves considerable property in Washington. He also leaves a wife and other relatives. The whole man.

Des Moines businessmen temporarily organized Thursday, Dec. 9. About 40 business people were present. A permanent organization will be organized second Thursday in January.

For That Dull Feeling After Eating.

"I have used Chamberlain's Tablets for some time, and can testify that they have done me more good than any tablets I have ever used. My trouble was a heavy dull feeling after eating."—David Freeman, Kempt, Nova Scotia. These tablets strengthen the stomach and improve the digestion. They also regulate the liver and bowels. They are far superior to pills but cost no more.—Adv.

WIND'S PARTY.

"Well," said Mr. Wind, "do you want to come along and join my party?"

"Are You All Ready?"

"Indeed we are," said the Breeze Brothers. "Everyone come along," said Mr. Wind, "who belongs to my family. Come, little winds and big winds, come, everything that is a relation of the wind."

So everything that was a relation of the wind came along and as they were going towards the city Mr. Wind said: "We're going to the city because we can have more fun there and as I go along I will explain to you the rules of the game of ball we will play today."

"We felt just like a party today," said the Breeze Brothers.

"Good," said Mr. Wind. "That's the way I like to hear folks and creatures and things talk when they're going off to a party."

"Now I will tell you. I'm not bothering to bring any balls along with me. I don't know how to carry them very well and they would be a nuisance."

"I don't believe in going off on parties all laden down with things you have to carry."

"For those who like carrying baskets of food and games and all of that, well and good, but not for Mr. Wind."

"He isn't patient enough for that. He either wants to be sound asleep, or lazily blowing or having a real time."

"But, of course, it is mostly because I don't care for such things that I don't do them. I wouldn't like to carry baskets of food because they would be a nuisance and because I wouldn't even care about having the food."

"What would Mr. Wind do, for example, with a tomato sandwich? He might blow it about, but he wouldn't eat it. And what would he do with ginger ale? Blow over the bottle, but never drink it."

"So when he goes off on parties he doesn't bother about the food."

"That's sensible," said the Breeze Brothers. "We feel just the same way about it as you do. We, too, feel that it would be useless to tire ourselves all out carrying heavy baskets of food when we haven't real arms and hands to carry them and when we got them anywhere we wouldn't want to eat anything that was inside."

"And so," continued Mr. Wind, "instead of taking along balls to play with, the balls will be all there."

"We will find in the city that the men wear hats, nice straw hats which we'll blow this way and that, back and forth we'll blow a hat and throw it and catch it and have the most glorious of games. The hats will be our balls."

"And there will be enough hats for all of us. Of course, we won't take off everyone's hats, but we will take off a good many. Sometimes, too, we'll take off a lady's hat who hasn't bothered to put a hat pin in."

"And maybe we'll take a hat off of a little girl who hasn't her elastic band to keep it on."

"We'll see great omnibuses in this city with folks riding on the top and we'll take off some of their hats and blow them about and they'll have to get off, or someone from a bus following will pick up the hat and everyone will laugh and it will be great fun."

"Gracious," said Mr. Wind, "I can scarcely stop for breath now. Everyone will chase each other's hats and try to get their own and also try to keep them from blowing too far. But sometimes when they're going to pick up their hats one of us will be there at the hat and will send it flying off again."

"Oh, we'll have a fine time," said the Breeze Brothers, "and how sensible of you, dear Mr. Wind, to use the hats of people for balls to save us the trouble of taking our own games along. You're a good, thoughtful Mr. Wind."

"Perhaps the people won't say so today," said Mr. Wind with a wink. Oh, what a party they had, but Mr. Wind and the Breeze Brothers enjoyed it far, far more than the people who said they had hardly ever known such a windy spring day!

A Hat Off.

It also brought together two cousins and comrades of the Civil War, Guss Williams of La Harpe and Geo. T. Morgan of the S. S. Home of Quincy, Ill.

Last but not least Nov. 25 was the birthday of the bride, Mrs. Earnest Washington.

BURLINGTON ITEMS.

Don't ask the agent why the writup did not appear in the Bystander last week, because she don't know. She sent them in, in plenty of time.

Rev. M. R. Rhononee continues to draw large crowds at the A. M. E. church, both morning and evening. Rev. Rhononee has organized enough clubs in the church to give every woman and man something to do. The income from the clubs is a little over $50 per week. The Thanksgiving dinner given by the stewardess board was a grand success. $60 was cleared.

The Rev. J. H. Reynolds, a member of the Iowa Baptist association, has been sent here to pastor the Union Baptist church, until the board convenes here Dec. 14.

Mrs. Alice Newton Galloway went to Chicago, Ill., to spend Thanksgiving with her sister, Mrs. Ida Palmer Burris. Mrs. Galloway will continue her visit for a week or two longer before returning home.

Mrs. Fred Gresham of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, stopped over in the city between train time last Monday. Mrs. Gresham was en route from Ft. Dodge, Iowa, and was accompanied by her aunt, Mrs. Delia Lockman of Ft. Dodge, Iowa, who will visit at the home of Mrs. Gresham for an indefinite time.

Mrs. Ida Cole went to Ft. Madison last Monday to attend the funeral of Miss Henrietta Arnold.

Mrs. Myrtle Madison of Palmyra, Mo., is visiting at the home of her sister, Mrs. Anderson Hall.

Messrs. Major Bender and Hartly Johnson, who are employed in Oskaloosa for a while, were week end visitors at their home.

Mrs. Mary Johnson of Chicago, Ill., was a Thanksgiving visitor at the home of her mother, Mrs. Rosa Cowder. Mrs. Johnson returned to her home last Monday.

Miss Minnie Linel of Monmouth, Ill., was a visitor at the home of her cousin, Mrs. James Brooks, last week and attended the ball Nov. 24.

Mr. Geo. Slaughter was a Monmouth, Ill., visitor last Sunday.

Mrs. Hazel Allen of Decatur, Ill., was a visitor at the home of her uncle and aunt, Mr. Charley Pierce and Mrs. Valley Woods. Mrs. Allen will visit in Mt. Pleasant and Fairfield before returning to her home.

Mrs. Matilda Williams of Mt. Pleasant, who has been confined in the Burlington hospital for some time has recovered enough to return to her home.

Mrs. Clara Martin of Chicago, Ill., stopped over for a short visit with her mother, Mrs. Victoria Leslie. Mrs. Martin was en route from Des Moines, Iowa where she has been visiting other relatives.

Mrs. Clara Kipper of Chicago, Ill., was a week end visitor at the home of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Ashby.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Thompson entertained with a dinner party Thanksgiving day.

Mrs. Lola Cox Henry of Chicago, Ill.

is visiting at the home of her aunt, Mrs. E. Green.

Mrs. Mattie Slaughter entertained with a dinner party for her cousin, Mrs. Lola Henry.

Mr. James Jones and Mrs. Edith King were united in marriage last Saturday. And will be at home to their friends on Higbee avenue. They have the congratulations and best wishes of a host of friends.

Mr. Arthur Johnson, chef at the Union depot had the misfortune to cut his hand to the bone. His many friends trust that no complications will set in, and that he will soon be able to return to his work.

Mrs. Arthur Martin is confined to her home by sickness.

The game supper and dance that was given Nov. 24 by Messrs. "Teddy" Saunders and Clifford Cowden was an enjoyable affair. There were many out of town visitors from Galesburg, Ill., Monmouth, Ill., Mt. Pleasant, Ft. Madison and Keokuk, Iowa. Mr. Emanuel Graham of Burlington and Miss Nellie Wallace of Monmouth, Ill., won the first prize for waltzing. And Mr. H. Boston and Miss Lola Brooks of Burlington won second prize. Ed Payne's popular orchestra of Monmouth, Ill., furnished the music.

On Thanksgiving day the Delta Sigma Theta National Sorority was blessed with the acquisition of two new chapters. These chapters were established in two of the big universities of the east. One is at Cornell university where the Alpha chapter of Alpha Phi Alpha National fraternity stands, while the other is set up at the University of Syracuse.

The grand chapter of the of the sorority will hold its annual convention with Beta chapter, Wilberforce university, Wilberforce, Ohio, Dec. 28, 29, 30, '06.

WILBERFORCE, OHIO.

Monday evening quarterly conference was held. Excellent reports were given showing the church to be in a flourishing condition, both spiritually and financially.

The Allen Christian Endeavor is progressing rapidly. Several members have been added to the league. An interesting paper on "Service," by Presiding Elder A. W. Hackley, was a feature of the program. WHO'S WHO
IN DES MOINES LOCALS

Mr. R. N. Hyde went to Knoxville Monday on a hunting trip.

The Marchal Neal Art club met last week at the home of Mrs. Addie Anderson, 831 Small street. A dainty repast was served by the hostess. The club will meet this week at the home of Mrs. Washington, 924 Twelfth street.

The Callahan Industrial club will meet Wednesday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. R. N. Hyde, 821 Thirteenth street.

Miss Gertrude Hyde left Thursday for St. Louis, Mo., and other points in Missouri in the interest of her work.

Mrs. Anna Cabbell of 114 Ridge street spent Thanksgiving in Oskaloosa visiting at the parental home of A. Ford, 417 North Sixth street. En route home she visited friends in Grinnell.

Mrs. A. J. Thompson of Birmingham, Ala., is visiting relatives and friends in Des Moines. Mrs. Thompson came north for her health which is greatly improved.

Mrs. S. Joe Brown, member of the provisional board of the local Y. W. C. A. Center was called into New York City last Tuesday to attend a conference of twenty-five prominent Y. W. C. A. laywomen from various sections of the country with Miss Eva Bowles, senior secretary and the colored work committee of the international Y. W. C. A. board.

The object of the conference is to plan for enlarging and standardizing the "Y" work among colored women and girls.

Mrs. Lloyd R. Walker and little daughter, Shirley, left Saturday evening for their home in Minneapolis, Minn., after a pleasant visit here. They were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Walker of 1320 Day street and Mr. and Mrs. Elbert R. Hall of 1212 McCormick avenue.

Miss Agnes M. Mason, who is soliciting through the state of Iowa for a dormitory for colored girls under the auspices of the Florence Crittenton Mission was in Ames, Boone and Perry last week. Miss Mason is working for a worthy cause and should receive assistance from all with whom she comes in contact. She will be in Ft. Dodge next Sunday.

Mrs. Thornton Adams and brother, Jacob Humbard, returned Sunday night from a three day's trip to St. Joe, Mo., where they attended the funeral of their nephew, Robert Dorsey. Mr. Dorsey died Nov. 26 in Chicago, Ill., and his remains were shipped to St. Joe for burial.

The Music Lovers' club will meet Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock at Community Center. This will be the last program until after the holidays. Mrs. Washington of St. Paul's A. M. E. choir will sing, together with other splendid numbers. Don't miss this treat. Everybody welcome.

Mr. B. J. Hack and Mr. H. B. Burroughs spent Sunday in the city with their families. They are employed by W. I. Gothard of Marshalltown, Iowa, one of the race's best plastering contractors, on a large consolidated school house at Randall, Iowa. Mr. Gothard, also has another large school house at Laurel, Iowa, where he has gone to begin work, leaving H. B. Burroughs in charge of the one at Randall.

Lincoln Post No. 126, American Legion held its regular meeting at the Community Center, Thirteenth and Crocker streets on Tuesday evening, Dec. 7. Eight new members were added to the post. The rolls show a continued increase in the active members. There is no reason why every ex-service man in Des Moines should not belong to the Legion. Reports showed that some men had been placed in positions during the past two weeks.

A dance will be given by the post at Gibson hall on Monday, Dec. 20 to which all are cordially invited.

(Special to the Bystander.)

Race girl employed to represent the largest mail order embroidery house in the country.

It is with great pleasure that we introduce to the public in a business way one of our most intelligent and highly cultured and talented young women, in the person of Mrs. Lulu Vaughn-Mitchell, who from her dramatic ability as well as keen business insight has been selected from a list of many applicants by the famous Schweizer Importing house of Lucerne, Switzerland and New York as their local representative. She being the only colored representative in the entire northwest.

The House of Schweizer carries the latest importations of velours, serges, English tweeds, French silks, Swiss novelties, shirtings, white goods and imported robes, gingham and draperies.

As for the quality and exclusiveness of designs it is patronized by European royalty. This young woman is helping to put our race on a higher standing in the business world. Let Des Moines race people stand by this young woman by giving her your orders who are helping the race.—Mrs. A. C. Carson, 943 Twenty-third street.

The Home Makers League met Tuesday afternoon Nov. 30th at the Protection Home. The Traveler's Aid, Mrs. Anna Payton, gave a splendid report of her work at the station. Mrs. Manning, the president also reported the missionary accomplished by the society. Rev. G. W. Robinson introduced Rev. W. H. Griffin of St. Paul's A. M. E. church to the league, after which the Rev. Griffin made an inspiring talk to the members. Mr. Ernest Robinson of the Y. M. C. A. was present and also spoke. The league will meet the last Tuesday in this month, Dec. 28th.

My Very Dear Friend—
The $50.00 has just been received, and I am writing to thank the Charles Young Auxiliary of the American Red Cross through you for this gift. We do need the money so much on the Notes. I am bringing out the first issue. You know I was ill all summer and have just returned from Battle Creek and am trying to do my work slowly.
Mrs. Booker T. Washington

Mrs. Mayme Dickey Miles won the prize for having on the most comical costume at the dance given by the musicians club at the auditorium, Fourth and Chestnut streets on Dec. 6. Mrs. Miles has won the prizes during the gay Halloween festivities as an original dresser. Mrs. Miles is an expert when it comes to masquerade costumes. She won all prizes without any effort to dance. We must congratulate Mrs. Miles.

Get For Christmas

The Only Great Colored Child Book "First Steps and Nursery Rhymes."

Put this book in your child's hands and watch your child grow up true to all the noblest principles of life. No book has ever been written before that teaches the colored child so much of goodness holding out to its child mind the true way to a life of usefulness.

Agents are reaping a harvest selling "First Steps and Nursery Rhymes." The students of a college in the southwest have ordered ten thousand copies and are selling them to the mothers and fathers of colored children.

We have requests for the exclusive agencies in several of the southern states this is because it is the best selling book ever put in the hands of colored agents.

Hurry and order your book for Christmas to some dear little girl or boy. Price $1.00.

NEGRO ADVANCEMENT.

The United States Department of the Interior in its 1917 report has the following to say on the subject: "No other racial group in the country shows a better adjustment in relations with the white native than the more than ten million Negroes. In fifty years of freedom illiteracy has decreased from 90 to 30 per cent. One million Negroes are now farmers either as renters or owners, and a fourth of them own more than 20,000,000 acres. There are 50,000 Negroes in the south in business or professional pursuits as bankers, lawyers, physicians and other lines than farming. They own more than a hundred banks." Today throughout the nation Negroes own 700,000 homes. There are five hundred colleges and higher institutions of learning worth in equipment and endowment $22,000,000. There are 1,800,000 Negroes in public schools. There are 45,000 churches with a value of $90,000,000 and a total membership of 4,500,000. In one Georgia county there are three times as many Negroes owning farms as whites, and this is not exceptional. In North Carolina alone the 1919 tax lists show Negro property worth $51,000,000. Throughout the war Negroes bought $225,000,000 worth of Liberty bonds. The race in its half century of freedom has produced orators, writers, painters, sculptors, poets, lawyers, physicians, scientists, bankers and all manner of professional and occupational geniuses in a country where the highest remuneration return is available.

SALE OF CAMP DODGE.

Nobody can suggest in an emergency just what could be done with Camp Dodge. And yet everybody feels that some use ought to be made of a city built with all the modern conveniences to harbor 40,000 people.

There are paved streets, model sewers, a water plant for a big city, a theater, community center, everything that goes to make ideal community life. The only well-paved road in the state leads to it, and it occupies one of the most beautiful locations.

To tear this all down and try to put the land back into farm cultivation will be an enormous expense, and the camp will be a total loss.

Just what to do with it in a community way nobody seems quite to know.

It would seem that the state or the city ought to be able to do something with a city made to hand, rather than let it be torn down. Some wonderful social experiments could be tried out at Camp Dodge if we had the imagination and the venturesomeness to inaugurate them.—Register.

THE ART OF READING.

How perfectly balanced people there are in the world. Take the matter of reading for instance. There are many who swallow without question whatever they see in print; many others are scornful of everything which does not coincide with their own preconceived opinions. As with all things wisdom takes the safe and sane middle ground.

At a recent convention where things agricultural were discussed a speaker declared that few farmers know how to read intelligently. This is a serious indictment if true, but still more important is for each individual to ask himself if he happens to belong to this class.

To read without prejudice or whim; to spot the true and false when you see it; to get at the true inwardness of a proposition in spite of the motive behind it; to glean from your reading the kernels of thought which will inform and inspire—all this is akin to genius, yet a genius all may possess by clear thinking and moral courage.

When we remember that according to Emerson "a man can gain a liberal education by reading fifteen minutes every day," we see how big an opportunity we have for self-culture without going to a university. But we must first learn to read without being glib or skeptical, and the main lesson is "Discrimination"—to select the genuine and to reject the counterfeit.

HOW TO KEEP WELL.

J. Alvin Jefferson.

The food after having been thoroughly mixed with the juices of the stomach is ready to pass the gate-keeper or pyloric opening. It consists of a soft mass called chyme. From the stomach it passes into the small intestines.

This portion of the food tube is twenty feet long, one and one-half inches wide and is said to be the most delicately constructed portion of the tract. In the small intestines the food is thoroughly incorporated by the pancreatic, bile and intestinal juices. The churning motion that we met with in the stomach is continued in the small intestines but to a less vigorous degree. Here the food is changed from chyme to a milk like substance called chyle.

In the mucous membrane of the intestines there are thousands of little vessels to the square inch known as lacteals and villi. These are the intestinal absorptive agents whose duty it is to select much material as can be used by the blood.

In the normal tract this whole process goes on without disturbing the individual in the least; but it may be a painful process to those who have constantly sinned against their stomach. The old saying, "Eat now and chew later" is practiced by those who eat rapidly. Rapid eaters usually drink much water during meal hours causing their food to be washed down too quickly. Ice cold drinks reduce the temperature of the stomach and thereby delay digestion.

Food that enters the stomach unprepared must leave it in a like manner. From what we know of the intestines, we may judge of the havoc wrought in that portion of the tube by unprepared and poisonous foods.

Intestinal colic, diarrhea, dysentery and cholera morbus are caused by errors in diet. Even acute appendicitis and peritonitis may get their origin from an inflammatory condition of the intestines.

It usually pays to take pains in the selection, preparation and mastication of foods. If grazing animals find it necessary to select a proper diet and masticate it thoroughly surely human animals ought to find it more profitable.

The sluggard was advised at one time to consult the ant for wisdom. Since constipation is known only to civilized human animals, we too might be benefited by consulting the animals that graze upon the prairies. We shall say more about the evil effects of constipation later.

NOTICE IN PROBATE.

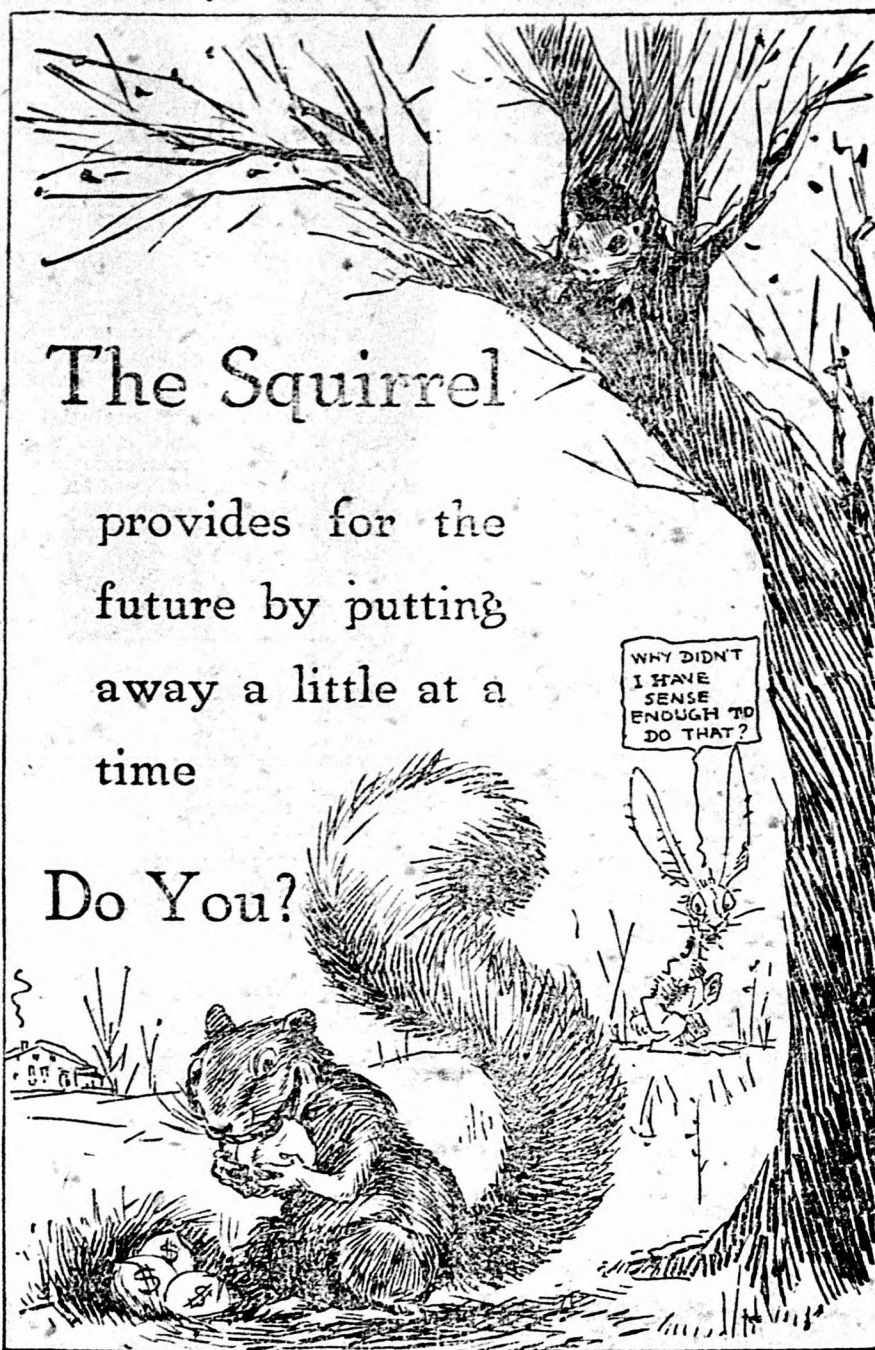

To Whom it May Concern:

You are hereby notified to appear at the Court House in Polk county, Iowa, on the 21st day of December A. Hang the Expense!

As George folded the fair young creature to his heart a dull, cracking sound smote his ear. "Ah! It's good-bye to those cigars in my vest pocket," he said grimly; "but hang the expense at a moment like this."

Cured His Rupture

I was badly ruptured while lifting a trunk several years ago. Doctors said my only hope of cure was an operation. Trusses did me no good. Finally I got hold of something that quickly and completely cured me. Years have passed and the rupture has never returned, although I am doing hard work as a carpenter. There was no operation, no lost time, no trouble. I have nothing to sell, but will give full information about how you may find a complete cure without operation. If you write to me, Eugene M. Pullen, Carpenter, 10700 Marcellus avenue, Manassas, N. J. Better cut out this notice and show it to any others who are ruptured—you may save a life or at least stop the misery of rupture and the worry and danger of an operation.

Brammar at 1085 West Forty-fourth street last Thursday afternoon, all of which numbers were well received and highly commended by those present.

Miss Adah Hyde was hostess to the members of the Mary Church Terrell club Monday evening at her home, 821 Thirteenth street. Mrs. Pearl Thompson conducted the lesson on interior decorating which took up the subject of rugs. The next meeting will be Monday, Dec. 13 at the home of Mrs. Colleen Jones, 700 Grandview street.

Last chance to see who's who. Get your tickets early and be in your seat at 8:15. You will be pleasantly surprised.

Ladies who desire a rehearsal please meet at St. Paul's A. M. E. church Monday evening—Mrs. J. E. Ousley.

The Mary B. Talbert club met at the home of Mrs. S. Joe Brown on the 21st of November and perfected plans for a study of the political questions as they affect women today. After some discussion they decided to use Miss Rossmore's "The Hand Book of Citizenship" as it was the most condensed therefore the most practical book offered to club women for citizenship study. Leader of classes as they knew she was well informed upon this subject. The next meeting will be on Wednesday, Dec. 15 and not on Tuesday evening as all members are going to "Who's Who." The club meets at the home of Mrs. W. B. Cottons, 960 Twenty-second street Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock, Dec. 15.

The recently elected officers of the Des Moines Branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People assumed their duties last Monday evening, following a meeting of the retiring members of the Executive Board. Reports of the officers and chairmen of the various standing committees showed a splendid work done during the past year when more than 200 members were enrolled making the local chapter, with approximately 600 members, one of the largest in the country. Dr. J. A. Jefferson, the new president, made a brief speech following his induction into office. He pledged his very best efforts to the association during the year and urged the co-operation of all members and friends of the society. The resignation of secretary-elect C. W. Harding was accepted and his successor will be chosen at the next meeting of the board. Plans were instituted for a big membership drive and the meetings committee was instructed to arrange an Emancipation program for Jan. 1.

The officers for the year are: President, Dr. A. J. Jefferson; Vice President, Mrs. Elbert B. Hall; Assistant Secretary, Mr. Carroll E. Curtley; Treasurer, Atty. J. B. Morris. The following committees were named for the year: Membership; Mrs. S. Bates, chairman, Mrs. Clara James and Harrison Gould; Finance; The President, the Treasurer, and R. N. Hyde; Meetings; Mrs. W. H. Lowry, chairman; Mrs. S. Joe Brown and Jid Crews; Press; Hon. Harvey Ingham, chairman. Mrs. E. R. Hall and Carroll E. Curtley; Legal Redress and Legislature; Atty. S. Joe Brown, chairman, Gertrude E. Rush and George H. Woodson; Grievance; Dr. W. H. Lowry, chairman, A. A. Alexander and Mrs. H. P. Graves; Educational and Amusement, Elbert R. Hall, chairman, with the power to name the other members of the committee.

Mrs. Clara James was present and gave a talk relative to the condition at East High school as it affects colored children.

Miss Hawes of New York City, National Y. W. C. A. worker, was introduced. She told of the splendid work being done throughout the country by the N. A. A. C. P.

HANDICRAFT FOR BOYS

By A. NEELY HALL

(Copyright by A. Neely Hall.)
A PUSHMOBILE.

The pushmobile in Fig. 1 is one of the simplest.

If you don't own any wheels, perhaps you can buy some cheaply at a second-hand store, or find a boy with whom you can make a trade for exactly what you want. Get the iron axles, rods, and nuts and washers that belong to the wheels, if possible. In case an axle is missing, or is too short, go to a blacksmith or machinist and get him to thread a piece of rod of the right length.

Figure 5 shows the completed chassis, and Figs. 2, 3 and 4 show details of its construction. Rails A and connecting cross-pieces B and C (Fig. 2) are pieces of 2-by-4. The length of rails A will be determined by whatever length you wish to have the car, while that of the cross-pieces will be fixed by the length of the wheel axles.

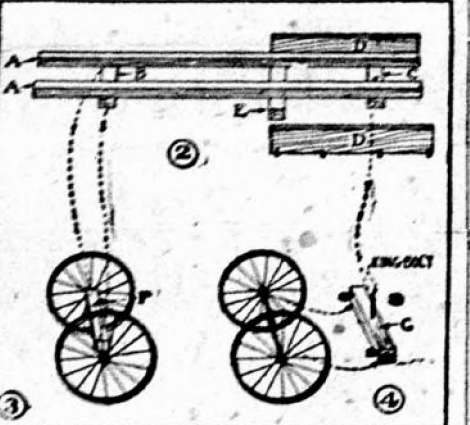

Boards D, nailed to the side of rails A, support the hood framework, and cross-piece E, is a footrest.

If the front and rear wheels are of equal diameter, wooden axles F and G (Figs. 3 and 4) can be of equal thickness; use pieces of 2-by-4. Fasten the iron axles to the wooden axles either with staples or bent-over nails. Buy a carriage-bolt long enough to extend through wooden axle G and through cross-piece C (Figs. 2 and 4), for a king-bolt, and with this pivot the front wheels to the front of the chassis.

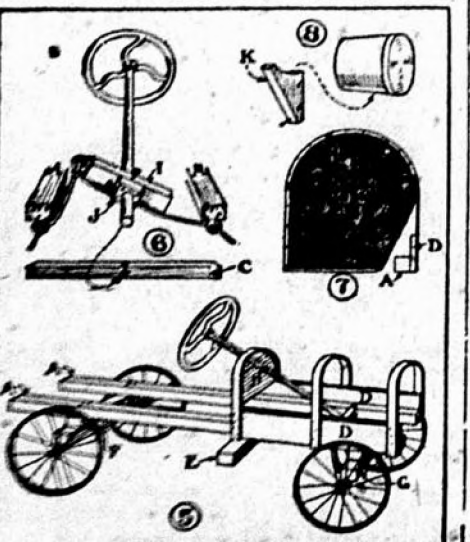

The hood framework is made of barrel-hoops (Fig. 5); nail the ends of the hoops to side boards D, as shown.

A sewing-machine wheel or wagon wheel may be used for the steering wheel, and a piece of a broom-handle or curtain-pole may be used for the shaft (Figs. 5 and 6). Bore a hole in the inner edge of cross-piece C (Fig. 6) for a pocket for the end of the shaft to fit in; fasten a board in the inner end of the hood framework (H, Fig. 5), and notch its upper edge to support the upper end of the shaft.

Figure 6 shows the method for connecting the steering wheel shaft with the wheels. Cut cross-piece I a trifle shorter than the distance between rails A, and bore a hole through its center for the end of the shaft to fit in; then bore a hole of equal size through a block (J), and nail this block to strip I so the two holes are over one another (Fig. 6). By driving a screw through an edge of strip I, and another through an edge of block strip I will be fastened securely to the shaft. Screw a screw into one end of strip I, and another into the under side of each of the two rails A (Fig. 4); then attach a rope or chain at the center of its length, to the screw in I, pass the ends through the screweyes in rails A, and tie to screweyes screwed into axle G near the ends (Fig. 4). The lengths of the rope or chain ends must be such that when cross-piece I is turned to the position shown in Fig. 6, the left fore wheel will turn in, and when turned halfway around the other way, the right fore wheel will turn in.

The hood may be covered with tin, stovepipe, canvas or cardboard. Cover the radiator front with screen wire, and tack narrow strips of tin around the edge of the wire for a binding (Fig. 7).

Good headlights are made from lamp bells (Fig. 8). Nail a pair of brackets like K, to the hood, and nail the bells to them.

When you have completed your pushmobile give it a couple of coats of paint; putty nail holes, cracks, and joints before you apply the second coat of paint.

HANDY THINGS FOR SCHOOL.

The strap and handle in Fig. 1 requires a strip of canvas 3 inches wide and 24 inches long, folded in half lengthwise, and sewed along the side edges. Get a belt-buckle and sew one end of the strap to it. Finish off the other end of the strap, and punch holes one-half inch apart for a distance of 8 or 10 inches to stick the buckle pin through. The handle is a parcel handle (Fig. 2), one of which you will probably find about the house. Fasten it to the strap with pieces of tape passed around the hooks and the strap, and sewed.

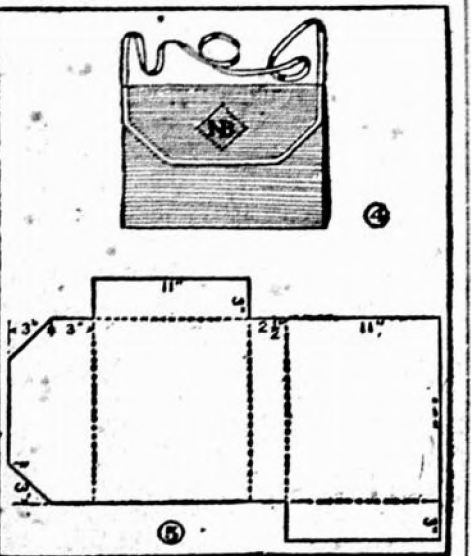

Denim, burisap, cretonne and canvas are good materials to use for book bags. You can make your bag of whatever proportions you want. However, the bag illustrated in Fig. 4 is of standard proportions—14 inches wide and 11 inches deep, and you will want yours of this size, I believe. Fig. 5 is a pattern for cutting, with every necessary measurement marked upon it. After marking out the piece, cutting it out, and folding where indicated by dotted lines, sew the edges with strong linen thread. Then turn the bag inside out to bring the seams inside. Bind the edges of the flap with braid, and make a shoulder strap of two thicknesses of the same material, sewing together strap along edges.

Fig. 6 shows a unique pencil case made in the form of a pennant. Prepare two pennants 5 inches long and 5 inches wide, using flannel of your school colors, with the initials of your school cut out of flannel and sewed to one face of one pennant. Place the pair of pennants together, and sew along the two long edges. Then with chalk mark off six parallel lines 1/2 inch apart, along the center of each face of the sewed together pennants, to locate pencil and penholder pockets, and stitch along these lines. The triangular pocket that is left at each side of the pen and pencil pockets form holder for eraser.

A good pencil box can be made out of a candy box covered with cretonne or other material (Fig. 7). Punch a hole through both the cover and box at one end (Fig. 8), before putting on the cretonne covering. This opening provides a handy means for slipping pencils and penholders into the box without removing the cover.

A sandpaper block like that in Fig. 9 is handy for quickly rubbing down a pencil point to the desired degree of sharpness. You can cut the holder out of cardboard. If the cardboard that you have is not heavy enough, cut two pieces of the shape shown, and glue them together. Punch a hole near the end of the handle, to provide for hanging up the sandpaper block.

Mock Crab Toast.—Melt two tablespoons of butter in a double boiler; add half a pound of cheese and a tablespoonful of anchovy paste, half a teaspoonful of mustard, the same of salt; stir constantly until the cheese is melted, then add the beaten yolks of two eggs diluted with half a cupful of cream; continue stirring until the mixture becomes smooth and thick. Serve on toast or toasted crackers.

Modes for Formal Evening Wear

THERE is no getting away from the fact that there is an all-pervading glitter in the displays of dresses for formal evening wear. It is a much bespangled mode and the only thing that saves it from being tawdry is the discrimination that designers use in choosing color according to the amount of spangled surface in the dress, and in toning down colors with black. Only in all white, all black or combinations of the two, they allow themselves fancies entirely covered with sequins. But when colored sequins are used they appear in panels or irregular borders with black, as sapphire blue sequins with black satin and lace, or senna sequins with dark brown net or satin. Beads also help out in this frosty sparkle that has settled on winter apparel—and they have made their appearance even on street clothes.

In the midst of so many dazzling glazes an evening gown that is quite without sparkle is likely to achieve much distinction. There are to be found among the displays, beautiful silks or metal tissue dresses, veiled with black or brown or grey net. The nets are embroidered with narrow ribbon flowers or little festoons of silk floss. Then there are beautiful black chintilly dresses unadorned except for girldes of artificial flowers or a corsage of them. Keeping them company, there are handsome velvet gowns mostly in black, dark brown or dark blue. A magnificent example of the velvet gown appears in the picture at the left. A few beads pick out the lines of the embroidery on the bodice, but silk floss gives sufficient brightness to the embroidery that covers the back and reappears on the front of the skirt.

Ribbon and velvet in a contrasting color make the odd decoration on the velvet frock at the right. This is a simple but very original design, in which narrow ribbon fringe and narrow ribbon, outlining and joining the curious leaf motifs present something entirely new. It has a low-neck bodice with a pretty chemise of georgette and is made in bright blue velvet.

and the slices into half-inch cubes. Sprinkle a layer of these cubes in a salad bowl and cover with French dressing, using three tablespoonfuls of oil to one of vinegar; add very thin slices of Spanish onion, ripe tomatoes, and cucumbers; pour on more dressing, add some shredded red peppers and another layer of bread cubes and vegetables. Finish with cubes of bread over the top.

Molded Custard.—Soften one-fourth of a package of gelatine in one-fourth of a cupful of cold milk. Make a soft custard with three egg yolks, one-third of a cupful of sugar and half a teaspoonful of salt. Add the softened gelatine, stir until dissolved and let cool; add half a teaspoonful of vanilla extract and strain into a mold.

Caramel Marshmallow Parfait.—Cut twenty marshmallows into four pieces each; add one-third of a cupful of maraschino cherries cut into thin slices; pour over them four tablespoonfuls of maraschino sirup and let stand an hour or longer. Cook two-thirds of a cupful of sugar to a caramel. Add two-thirds of a cupful of water, cover and cook until a sirup is formed; uncover and cook until reduced to one cupful; add two tablespoonfuls of sugar, and when dissolved pour the whole in a fine stream, beating constantly meanwhile, on the white of a stiffly beaten egg; beat occasionally until cold; fold in the marshmallows and cherries and one and one-half cupfuls of cream beaten stiff. Turn into a three-pint melon mold; cover with paper and press the cover in place over the paper, which should extend on all sides. Pack in ice and salt, equal measures, and let stand three hours.

Woven Furs Outrival Pelts

"WOVEN FURS" is the new name given to those lovely wool or silk fabrics that the looms turn out so amazingly like the pelts they imitate. We have known them for several years, and under almost as many names as there are varieties in the fabrics, but they have arrived at a new point in their development. Their manufacturers, having made a place for them by wonderful imitations of natural furs, are beginning to work independently of these and are getting into new paths. Besides their eye-baffling imitations of skins they are making exquisite furry cloths that are unlike the furs we know or the fur fabrics we have seen, or else they appear to be an improvement on the natural fur that inspired them.

In these new materials and in those made in close imitation of pelts there are very handsome coats this season. Often they are trimmed with rich natural furs and displayed along with coats of fur without suffering by comparison. Even the practiced eye has difficulty in telling which is which except by close inspection. For warmth and durability the odds often lie in the direction of the woven furs and there is nothing handsomer in coats, as may be gathered from the two examples pictured. One of these, at the left, is an imitation of moleskin trimmed with actual Australian opossum, and the other is the familiar seal in woven fur with high collar and deep cuffs of chinchilla. They are high-priced, but not expensive garments, since they wear for years. It is not unlikely that the day will come when women will prefer these fabrics to pelts, as a sentiment in the direction of sparing wild animals is growing among them.

Good Work Is Our Specialty

Difficult Achievement.

"My young friends," said a member of the board of trustees, who was addressing the school, "let me urge upon you the necessity of not only reading good books, but also of owning them, so that you may have access to them at all times. Why, when I was a young man I used frequently to work all night to earn money to buy books, and then get up before daylight and read them."

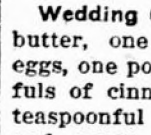

Fat.

"I admit that it is much of an effort to keep your spirit from growing fat as to keep your body from growing fat," says Margaret Deland in the Woman's Home Companion. "It means making sacrifices; you will give up potatoes to keep your body light; you will have to give up faultfinding and gossip to keep your heart light. But the effort pays."

A Worth-While Habit.

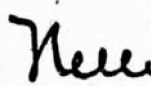

"It is worth a thousand pounds a year to have the habit of looking on the bright side of things."—Samuel Johnson.

In the fall, when the nuts are fresh and the thought turns toward the cool weather to come, when rich cakes are enjoyed, is the time when we look over our stores to see if all the ingredients are present; for a fruit cake well made and baked is a treasure like a bank account, always ready to be called upon in an emergency. In the following group, if you cannot find one which you will be urged to try, you will be hard to suit:

Wedding Cake.—Take one pound of butter, one pound of sugar, twelve eggs, one pound of flour, two teaspoonfuls of cinnamon, three-quarters of a teaspoonful each of nutmeg, allspice and mace, one-half teaspoonful of clove, three pounds of raisins, seeded and cut in pieces, one pound of currants, one pound of citron, thinly sliced and cut in strips, one pound of figs, finely chopped, three tablespoonfuls of vanilla, two tablespoonfuls of lemon juice. Cream the butter, add the sugar gradually and beat thoroughly. Separate the yolks from the whites of eggs, beat the yolks until thick and lemon colored, the whites until stiff and dry and add to the first mixture. Add flour (excepting one-third of a cupful, which is reserved to dredge the fruit), mixed and sifted with the spices, vanilla and lemon juice. Less vanilla may be used and any rich fruit substituted. Then add the fruit, except the citron, dredged with the reserved flour. Dredge the citron with flour and put it in layers between the cake mixture when putting in the pan. Steam three hours in deep buttered pans, well covered with greased paper, then bake one and one-half hours in a slow oven. Cake cooked this way is moist and keeps well without becoming dry or soggy.

Cakes, if to be frosted, should never have the frosting put on until the day before using. Fruit cake of this kind is much better six weeks or even months after baking, as the spices and flavors have then had time to flavor the whole mixture.

Nellie Maxwell

A Question.

Said the near cynic: "Judging from the time some of the young blood of this town arrive home in the morning, it's hard to tell whether to call them night owls or larks."

LET US MAKE FRUIT CAKE.

WITH THE FUNNY MEN

The Way of It.

"When my friend was traveling in England he met with a footpad, who ordered him to give up all the pounds he had about him."

"I suppose he handed them over with celerity."

"Not a bit of it. He handed them over with his fists."

Analyzing the Situation.

"I don't think Reginald is going to propose, mother, dear."

"But, Gladys, he is constantly buying you the most expensive presents."

"They are what convince me that he will never be able to rent a flat and pay the first installment on the furniture."

As Viewed in Perspective.

"What has become of the old-time political boss?"

"The type is obsolete," replied Senator Sorghum. "And his authority in political affairs never became broad enough to warrant the title. He was never a real boss. He was merely a profiteer."

Experience.

"If the applicant for a stenographer's position here is a married woman, I won't have her."

"What difference will that make if she is a good worker?"

"Don't matter what kind of a worker she is. Married women won't take dictation."

Long Sitter.

"There is one thing which that young lawyer fellow of Ella's ought to be proficient in when he comes to practice."

"What is that?"

"The art of securing a stay."

REFUTING A SLANDER

The Tourist: You have a good many earthquakes here, don't you?

The Native Son: Never an earthquake. That story was started by some Eastern prudes who were shocked when the earth did a shimmy now and then.

On Deck.

The boy upon the burning deck Expressed himself with vim;

"If I get out of this, by heck, You bet I'll learn to swim!"

Explained.

"I met a man I know this morning who has always been prosperous and now he is running to seed."

"What's the trouble?"

"No trouble. He's a farmer hurrying to do his late planting."

Fussy.

"Fussy, isn't he?"

"I'll say so. His wife's away and he has to get his own meals. He washes the dishes after each meal and actually makes up his bed before he leaves home in the morning."

A Little Mixed.

"What is an embargo, Bill?"

"It's what you put on ships to keep 'em from going out. Sam."

"It ain't, you fool. That's the anchor."

Her Job.

"The girl in the phonograph department isn't a bit stuck up."

"Of course not."

"Yet she is continually putting on airs."

"Consummation to Be Wished."

"There is one thing I would like to see at the peace table."

"What is that?"

"Somebody who knows how to carve Turkey."

He Knew.

Footpad—Hold up your hands!

Pedestrian (calmly)—I've been out shopping all day with my wife.

Footpad—Go! You can't have much.

—London Tit-Bits.

Quite the Truth.

"Why don't you have Madame Fluffies make your gowns?"

"If I went to that woman and she tried to make a gown to suit my figure, I'd have a fit!"

Natural Conclusion.

"What are you in here for?" inquired the visitor of the convict.

"For the simple reason," replied the convict, "that I can't get out."

Another Way of It.

"Well, I've got to go today and face the music."

"Why, are you in trouble?"

"No; I conduct a band."

A Distinction.

"What's your claim to distinction?"

"I never sent a friend a picture postal card with the 'wish you were here' gag on it."

Quickly Relieves Constipation

Don't take purgatives for Constipation—they act harshly—they overstrain the delicate membrane and leave the Bowels in a worse condition than before. If you are troubled with Constipation, Sick Headache, Indigestion, Sour Stomach, Dizziness, Biliousness, Nervousness, or Loss of Appetite—Don't hesitate—Get a bottle of CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS—take one after each meal and one at bedtime. A few days' treatment will put Stomach, Liver and Bowels in normal condition.

Until a New Jersey man tried to corner the potato crop of his neighborhood the mosquito was considered the most undesirable predatory insect produced in that section of the country.—Washington Star.

The Art of Kissing.

Don't kiss all over, as grasshoppers walk. Don't sit down to it. Stand up. You needn't be anxious to get into a crowd. Two persons are plenty to corner and catch a kiss. Stand firm. It won't hurt you after you're used to it. Don't be in a hurry. Providence will give you strength for the ordeal. Take good aim—the lips meet, the eyes close, the heart opens, heaven itself opens before you, and the art of kissing is learned.—Exchange.

THE ADVERTISING PROBLEMS

All advertisers are confronted with three big PROBLEMS. Briefly they are:

- (1) WHEN shall I advertise?
- (2) Where shall I advertise?
- (3) How shall I advertise?

The BYSTANDER, a paper that reaches thousands of colored people in Des Moines, thousands in Iowa, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Illinois, Mississippi, Nebraska and other states, is the mouth-piece through which they speak to YOU.

(1) Advertise when we get our money or the most of it, that is—about Saturday—let us know that you want our TRADE. Keep advertising in our paper THE BYSTANDER.

(2) Advertise in all the papers but don't forget we will investigate and buy when you advertise in THE BYSTANDER. Why? because, it lets us know you want our DOLLARS and are willing to spend something to get them. We buy good things as well as other people; we will buy from you, if you will advertise in our paper.

(3) First, advertise regularly, attractively and everything that is sellable to anyone, because you can't tell what or when we buy.

SUNDAY SCHOOL NOTES

Our school was well attended on the 5th. The primary children were full of merriment in anticipation of Christmas. But they were all well behaved. We were glad to note the presence of several visitors.

We delight in having our friends drop in, our doors are never closed. It is easy when you come to morning service after dismissal just come downstairs. We hold just one hour.

Keep in mind the Christmas tree on the 24th.

There will be something for all. Those who are on the program will be expected to be present early so that the program will be over by 9 p. m. sharp, as there will be those present who will have a long way to go home, and we are averse to keeping you all night.

The program committee is composed of the following persons: Mrs. R. E. Fatten, Mrs. G. G. Nichols, Miss Gertrude Parker, Miss Alice Bolden and Miss Bessie Graves.

Lesson XI, subject, "What the Kingdom of Heaven is Like," Matt. 13:44-58.

Golden text—The kingdom of God is not eating and drinking, but righteousness and peace and joy in the holy spirit. Romans 14:17.

Teachers meet every Friday evening at church, 7:30 to 8:30. Regular business meeting first Friday in each month. School from 1:30 to 2:30. Be prompt.

NOTES FROM THE MT.

OLIVE BAPTIST CHURCH

South East Fourth street, Rev. G. E. Sanders, pastor. Services were very good last Sunday both morning and evening. The pastor has been bothered with a cold for more than four weeks and has not been able to do very much preaching. Rev. S. Johnson and the Rev. Holmes worshipped with us last Sunday evening. Rev. Holmes preached at the 8 o'clock service. We regret very much the illness of Sisters Viola Carter, our Sunday school superintendent and an active worker in every department of our church. We pray that God will restore her to health soon. Others on the sick list are Sisters Reedy and Davis, her daughter. We pray for them a speedy recovery.

At the union missionary meeting to be held next Sunday at the Maple St. Baptist, the Mt. Olive Mission will be represented by Mrs. Lydia Lewis, who will read a paper.

And the Star Light Band will be represented with a solo by Miss Gladys Sanders. We wish to extend a hearty welcome to all who wish to attend our services and to the lost sheep of the House of Israel that are not connected with any Baptist church of the city. We say to you come and take up your cross and follow Jesus. Come where you are needed and can work.

Our services is as follows: Preaching Sunday, 11 a. m.; Sunday school, 1 p. m.; preaching, 7:30 p. m.; prayer meeting Wednesday, 7:30 p. m.; teachers meeting Friday, 7:30 p. m.

Missionary meetings in connection with prayer meetings. Take Scott St. car and get off at Fourth and Allen or Fourth and Scott streets.

Come, you are welcome.

CORINTHIAN CHURCH NOTES

Covenant meeting was enjoyed last Sunday morning.

At 3:30 the Lord's supper was served. In the evening the pastor preached a special sermon to the missionary sisters.

One of the greatest programs of its kind ever presented at the Corinthian church will be Christmas morning. A pageant will be given at the beginning. The choir which is the best in the city will put on some of its latest Christmas music. Don't fail to hear it.

On Sunday evening, Dec. 26 will be a Christmas musical recital by the famous Corinthian choir. Prof. H. R. Graves is sparing no pains to make this one of the greatest musicals ever presented in the church. Program starts promptly at 7 p. m.

The pastor will preach at both morning and evening services. Subject Sunday morning, "The Everlasting Father." In the evening "Anxious to See Jesus."

On last Sunday evening Madame Jerietta Morton appeared in a recital at the Corinthian church. Everyone who heard her was well pleased.

Let everyone begin now to prepare to hear the great William Monroe Trotter, a graduate of Harvard university. Hear him tell of his experience at the peace conference in Paris.

Will appear at Corinthian Baptist church Thursday, Jan. 13.

Rebecca Court, No. 3, Beautiful Light Court No. 4, North Star Lodge No. 3, Pythian Lodge No. 18 and Independent Lodge No. 4, local chapters of the Grand Order of Knights of Pythias are in charge of the big union meeting to be held next Thursday evening at Corinthian Baptist church, Fifteenth and Linden streets. Officers and members of the order are expected from nearly every city in the state. Addresses will be delivered by some of the prominent members: Geo. H. Woodson, Mrs. Eva Owens and Mr. L. W. Williams of Clarinda.

Corinthian church, Sept. 28.

Admission 25 cents.

One of the most elaborate affairs of the season was the afternoon company given by Mrs. A. A. Alexander Thursday, Dec. 2, honoring Miss Marguerite I. Roberts, whose marriage to Mr. John I. Roberts, of St. Louis, Mo., which took place in Kansas City, Aug. 25.

Forty guests participated in the affair. The hostess was assisted by Mesdames Colleen Jones, Harry Bertram and Harry Shaw.

The marriage of Miss Roberts came as a surprise to the many friends she has made during her seven years residence in Des Moines. Mr. and Mrs. Turner will be at home until January 1, at the residence of Mrs. Gus Nichols, after which time they will be located in one of Mrs. Turner's own homes.

Mrs. Robert Miles entertained a few friends Saturday night in honor of Miss Greta McDaniel, who is here from Omaha visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. McDaniel on Thirteenth and School streets.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES.

Last Sunday was another big day at the Crocker Street Y. M. C. A. hut. The meeting was opened at 4 p. m. by the secretary. Good song service preceded the main feature of the program. The speaker, Atty. S. Joe Brown was then introduced and for thirty minutes he held a group of forty boys and men spell bound by his talk. He spoke on the subject "The Law of the Family." He gave out information that would perhaps cause you trouble if you did not know and would cost you an attorney's fee, if you sought the information. If you were not there you missed a treat.

Rev. G. E. Green, pastor of Shiloh Baptist church will speak next Sunday at 4 p. m. Every man and boy should be there.

CHRISTMAS DECORATIONS

Order Early

Holly and Green Wreaths

Wreaths for decorations. Also wreaths of galax, magnolia, statice and red ruscus for memorial uses which will retain their appearance for months.

Holly, Green and Mistletoe

Selected Christmas Trees

The Christmas spirit is most enjoyed in homes where Holly, Mistletoe, Greens and Wreaths are used in artistic harmony. The Christmas tree is a delight to both young and old, and the expenditure enables you to add wonderfully to the joys of the holidays. We have selected our stocks this year as usual on the basis of quality, and we believe we can supply you better goods in this line than you can secure elsewhere.

Made to order any size or style. We also have them already made up in the plain green, green and holly, all holly, or arborvitae and red ruscus for memorial uses which will retain their appearance for months.

For interior decorations. Supply is limited this year and prices are likely to advance later. Early shoppers will find prices reasonable and a good selection may be made while stock is fresh and complete.

We have a splendid lot of fine Christmas trees. They are brought fresh from the northlands and should hold their fresh green needles for a long time. Place your order early while the selection is still very large.

The religious institute is still moving on with wonderful success. Two more nights are before you. Take advantage of this opportunity. Monday night, Dec. 13 Miss Laura McClary will speak on "The Girl and the Sunday School." Rev. T. J. Jones will close the session with a talk on the subject, "The Parables of Jesus." Come out and hear.

RED OAK NEWS.

Thos. G. Jones, Jr., and family and Mrs. Thos. G. Jones, Sr., and L. H. Brown all motored over to Clarinda Thanksgiving night to the program and supper at the church and also the dance given by Harry Johnson, returning home that night. A good program was heard. Mr. G. R. Martin of Stanton, Iowa is a Red Oak visitor for a few days. Mrs. Eddie Stuart was sick two days of last week.

Mr. Theodore Cooper has been sick with a cold for the last few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Cooper and family took dinner at the home of William Baker on East Market street Thanksgiving day.

Mr. Frank Dale has been sick with a cold for the past few days.

Mrs. Thos. G. Jones, Sr., who has been visiting her two sons in Omaha, Neb., for the past two months returned home last Tuesday on the noon train.

Mrs. Davis and Granddaughter, Evelyn of Los Angeles, Cal., who have been visiting for the past two months with her parents in Kansas and a sister, Mrs. Joe Jenkins of Shenandoah, Iowa, came through Red Oak last Tuesday on her way home and visited between trains at the home of Mrs. Thos. G. Jones, Jr. Mrs. L. H. Brown and two children, Albert and Francis left last Tuesday morning to spend Thanksgiving with her father and brothers in Centerville, Iowa. She expects to be gone two or three weeks.

Mrs. Gertrude Brooks of Omaha, Neb., spent Thanksgiving with her relatives. She expects to leave for her home Wednesday or Thursday.

Mr. Theodore and Walter Cooper, Mr. Calloway and Mrs. Gertrude Brooks all went to Clarinda to the dance Thanksgiving night.

A Worth-While Habit.

"It is worth a thousand pounds a year to have the habit of looking on the bright side of things."—Samuel Johnson.

"Now I Can Go to the Dance!"

"I did not feel like going anywhere when my complexion was so awfully bad. It almost disfigured me, and I was ashamed. But now, I have the bright, clear, smooth complexion that every woman ought to have and can have if she will only use the wonderful Palmer's "SKIN-SUCCESS" Ointment. It acts like magic."

For the woman who cares for her personal appearance, a good complexion is everything. Palmer's "SKIN-SUCCESS" Ointment will give it to you. Your druggist knows—ask him.

Many Candles Made.

Though candles are not so generally used as they were before the days of mineral illuminating oils, gas and electricity, they still constitute an important article of manufacture. The candle is an ancient form of lighting. The word comes from the Latin word "candere," which means to "glow."

Polish Aids Shoes.

Some women do not realize that a walking shoe wears better and appears well for a longer time if it is frequently polished. A new street shoe ought not to be worn much until it is polished once, for without the polish it is much more liable to be scratched than with a good polish. Especially is this true of the shoes.

STOPPED HER FITS

Mrs. Della Martin, a resident of Wurtzboro, N. Y., writes that she stopped her fits with a medicine that she read about in the paper. She says she has not had a fit since she took the first dose and that she wants every sufferer to know about this wonderful medicine and what it did for her. If you, a friend, or relative, suffer from these dreadful attacks, you are advised to send name and address at once to R. P. N. Lepso, 134 Island Ave., Milwaukee, Wis., who is generously offering to send a bottle of the same kind of medicine he gave Mrs. Martin, free to any sufferer who writes him.—Adv.

Nothing New Under Sun.

The strings of blue beads that the modern girl dons to ward off bronchitis are merely new versions of the strings of blue beads worn in Egypt 1600 years before Christ to keep diseases of the chest at bay, says a writer in the Philadelphia North American. The tiny sealed bottle of mercury which she carried to ward off rheumatism had its prototype in bottles of a strange elixir used in India 30 centuries and more ago.

A Question.

Said the near cynic: "Judging from the time some of the young blood of this town arrive home in the morning, it's hard to tell whether to call them night owls or larks."

Ready-Made Pie Crust!

Someone has invented a ready-made pie crust that will keep a year. By the Indian farmer, especially in the evidences that have been encountered. The Indian carried the cultivation of the corn, which was the basis of the American variety of corn, to an advanced state. His culture of tobacco for a long time with this object in view, on which was based a profitable view. We can guess now where some industry for the early colonies, had of these new composition shoe soles been developed to a high state of efficiency.—Providence Bulletin.
