DR. GEORGE E. HAYNES
Brought Here By Board of Education
City Forum

Dr. Haynes Will Conduct Institute

Although he was brought here from New York City by the board of education to deliver a six weeks' course of lectures in the City Adult Forum, Dr. Geo. E. Haynes, executive secretary of the department of Race Relations, Federal Council of Churches, has been released to the Des Moines Interracial commission for the purpose of conducting a two day institute on race relations. Other nearby cities will probably send representatives.

The institute will open with a public mass meeting at the Wesley M. E. church, East Eleventh and Des Moines streets on Sunday, March 16, at 3 p. m. and will be continued on Monday at the Central Y. W. C. A., Ninth and High streets. The second day's conference will begin at 10 o'clock a. m. and will close with a dinner meeting at 5:30 p. m. A more detailed announcement of the program will be given next week.

Exotic Director Charms Dancers

MARGARET TULL, GILBERT
ANDERSON, WIN CONTEST

By Everett Wadsworth
Staff Writer

Exotic! Charming! Alluring! Such were some of the words heard the next morning as Des Moines attempted to describe beautiful Miss Anna Mae Winburn, director of the Cotton Club boys of Omaha, Nebraska, who played for the dance at the Pla-Lan Monday night. Sweet and modest as a high school miss the young maestro showed some tricks in personality ala 1936.

The damsel with the "velvety olive skin," entertained with several vocal offerings of the hotecha variety. A popular request return engagement is booked for a gala dance on March 16, according to T. L. (Speck) Howard, dance promoter.

Paul E. (Red) Rivers, formerly of the Paramount-Public circuit of New York, presented his original "Rhapsody in Rhythm," dance act, a perfect demonstration of big-time "Trunkin" and steps of the "Get off Stuff" kind. He has been playing the midwest with Miss Winburn's band for one month and has traveled the Pacific coast for eighteen months. He formerly teamed with Slim Davis, Des Moines' own floor artist, and Leonard Dixon, Harlem's tap dancer, again recently here with Red Perkins Ramblers.

Margaret Tull and Gilbert Anderson were declared winners of the waltz contest. More than twenty-five couples competed. With the spring-like atmosphere the largest crowd of the season packed the ballroom.

Expect Vital Step In African Crisis

ENGLAND IS PREPARING FOR NEW WAR

Geneva, March 6.—In a swift and sensational manner, the League of Nations emerged from its slumber to call for immediate cessation of hostilities in East Africa. The committee of thirteen quickly set the machinery in motion for the much-talked of oil embargo.

This sudden decision for the application of sterner measures against Italy if Mussolini refused to halt his campaign of aggression in Ethiopia was initiated by Britain's uncompromising foreign secretary, the youthful and elegant Capt. Anthony Eden. Many of the members of the League were taken by surprise for the preliminary discussions gave no indication whatsoever that such a move was in the offing.

The League of Nations' sudden dramatic move to alter Benito Mussolini's dream of complete domination of Ethiopia is regarded as well informed circles as a distinct diplomatic victory for Haile Selassie and his fearless warriors. Great Britain is now ready for full and immediate prosecution of the provisions contained in Article XVI of the Covenant of the League.

SENATE LYNCHING PROBE
DEADLOCKED IN COMMITTEE

Washington, March 6.—The resolution providing for a senate investigation of the lynchings in 1935, which took place after May 1, is held in the senate committee on audit by a deadlock vote—it became known here this week. The resolution already has been reported favorably by the judiciary committee, which recommended that the sum of $7,500 be allotted for the investigation. The audit committee has to approve this amount.

There is a strong undercurrent in Washington trying to discourage all controversial subjects in this election year, so as to permit early adjournment of congress and no embarrassment during the campaign.

Ministers' Meeting
Sunday at Wesley M. E.

All the ministers will meet at Wesley M. E. church, East Eleventh and Des Moines streets, Sunday, March 15th, at 5:00 p. m., with three laymen, also Dr. George E. Haynes, one of the forum leaders in the city.

Joe Louis' Trainer Faces Trial For Death of Enoch Houser

COUNSEL FOR JOE'S

TRAINER MAP DEFENSE

Chicago.—Whether Jack Blackburn, 52, veteran "maker of champions" and trainer of Joe Louis, will be pushed out of the prize ring profession in disgrace and lodged in a penitentiary cell will depend on action of the jury which was being picked in the criminal court of Judge Robert C. O'Connell on Tuesday morning.

The veteran trainer and two co-defendants, John Bowman, 24, of 365 E. Fifty-seventh street, and William Parnell, 50, of 5355 Calumet avenue, a friend of Blackburn, were in court Wednesday to face trial on a charge of manslaughter in connection with the fatal shooting on October 20th of Enoch Houser, 69, Tuskegee graduate, 329 E. Fifty-eighth street, and Lucy Cannon, 11, schoolgirl, who was wounded in the skirmish in which Houser was shot.

EVANGELIST ALLISON TO BEGIN SERMONS MARCH 13

Evangelist T. H. Allison, of St. Louis, Missouri, will begin his series of sermons at 1150 13th street, Friday, March 13, "Ethiopia's Promise of God's Help?" "Are You Playing 666 In The Game?" "Social Equality for All But You?" and "Why Were You Born?" are some of the subjects which will be discussed.

The classes of homecraft, public speaking, sight singing, Bible, and music are being conducted as usual during the revival.

NAACP Program Set for March 13

The annual Lincoln-Douglas program sponsored by the Des Moines branch N.A.A.C.P., which was to be held Feb. 14, will be held Friday evening, March 13, at Burns M. E. church according to an announcement made recently.

John Connolly, Jr., will speak on Frederick Douglass and J. G. Browne on Lincoln. Musical numbers will be furnished by Mrs. Corrine Jackson and Dorothy Wheeler, vice president of Junior N.A.A.C.P., will read Lincoln's Gettysburg address. Members and friends of the organization are urged to come out and help make this a good meeting.

Bigger and Better Displays Ready for Cooking School

FREE ADMISSION, FREE
BASKETS TO EVERYONE

Everything is FREE at the By-stander Cooking School which will be at Bilikien Hall March 18, 19 and 20. Instructive information will be given and recipes and dishes will be prepared in full view of the audience by Mrs. Clara Johnson, culinary expert. Four sessions will be conducted showing a full course dinner.

Both exhibits in home craft will be shown, souvenir samples of the national brands of foods will be given, style show, and home improvement and health talks are some of the other improvements planned.

The Great Atlantic and Pacific Food Stores, Peter Pan Stores, Clark's Fish Market, Tones Bros, coffee and spice importers are cooperating in advertising and display. Several out-of-town people will attend the school this year. Plans are made to accommodate large crowds.

N. Y. COTTON CLUB
CLOSES FOR SEASON

New York, Feb. 28.—The famous Cotton Club, known through radio and press as "The Aristocrat of Harlem," closed its doors last Saturday, marking the first time the place has been shut since its opening years ago. Starke, manager of the place, says the closing is only temporary and adds that "the club will open in April, a bigger and better Cotton club."

Speculation has been along the rialto for some time that the place would have to be shut down, but up until the day of closing the management denied this.

The Ubanji, owned by the same people who run the Cotton club, has been doing all the big time business in Harlem, while Connie's Inn on Broadway has kept the big shots from Broadway from coming to Harlem in search of amusement by Negro performers.

Window Washer Plunges 18 Feet

DON PLATTER IS RECOVERING AT HOSPITAL

Don Platter of 1145 Enos Avenue, who was seriously injured Tuesday afternoon, when he plunged 18 feet to the sidewalk from a second story window ledge of the S. & L. building, Fifth and Walnut street, is recovering at the Mercy hospital.

Platter received a broken right leg, deep head lacerations and bruises. He has been in the window washing business ten years and this is his first fall. Whether his safety belt broke or he slipped he was unable to say.

HUBBARD APPOINTED
DEPUTY BAILIFF

Herschel Hubbard was recently appointed deputy bailiff of the municipal court by Ed Brooks. He has recently been a professional bondsman and a special police officer. He is married and lives at 1408 Center.

Mr. Hubbard, son of Rev. H. B. Hubbard, was born and graduated from the public schools in Chandler, Oklahoma. He graduated from the George R. Smith college, a Methodist school in Sedalia, Missouri, and later taught school in Oklahoma for five years.

Liberty League Platform Endorsed

J. W. SHEPHERD HEADS
NEW POLITICAL GROUP

At a recent meeting of the Negro Voters League of the 33rd precinct of which W. J. Shepherd is president and Mrs. Zoe Hudson is secretary, the following resolutions were adopted:

1. We are concerned about our jobs and our business and want reasonable assurance of their continuance. We want them to pay us better.

2. We believe that we and other American citizens will have jobs and that our jobs will become better ones only as businesses which employ us prosper and that our businesses or other occupations will improve in proportion as all businesses prosper.

3. We deplore any attempt to create class distinction because American citizens, regardless of position in business or industry, should co-operate rather than antagonize each other. We desire there shall be continued to our people opportunities to do mental and physical work, to our homes, to enter professions, or engage in business, and that rewards shall be ours as we respond to incentives to possess those rewards.

4. The Constitution of the United States of America is of very great significance to the Negro race, because of liberties guaranteed to all citizens, especially in the 13th, 14th and 15th Amendments to that immortal document. We believe if the effect of the Constitution upon the lives of citizens is to be changed materially from what it has heretofore been, or if the Constitution is to be changed in any material degree, such change should be effected only in accordance with the provisions for amendment made in Article 5.

5. It is our understanding that these statements of our belief in important fundamentals of American life and government are to a large degree identical with those of the American Liberty League. We therefore subscribe to their policies in furtherance of those fundamentals.

6. Furthermore, we urge all others—poor and rich, unemployed and employed—regardless of color, race or religious creed—to take action similar to that represented by this meeting.

This is the first organization in the city to endorse the program of the Liberty League.

Oklahoma Man Satisfied With Life Imprisonment

TELLS N. A. A. C. P. NOT TO SEEK FOURTH TRIAL

Oklmulgee, Okla.—Jess Hollins, convicted at his third trial of criminal assault upon a white woman and sentenced to life imprisonment, has executed a signed statement instructing the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People not to appeal his case.

Hollins states that he prefers to serve the life sentence, not because he is guilty, but because he is afraid that if a new trial is granted him after an appeal, he will be given a death sentence and be sent to the electric chair.

His statement declares "that he has lived in the death house at the state penitentiary at McAlester for about four years and has actually had his head shaved in preparation for his electrocution, and that he is not disposed to live through such another trying ordeal if it could be prevented."

The Oklahoma branches of the N. A. A. C. P., under the direction of Roscoe Dunjee, who have been fighting for Hollins since August, 1932, have no choice but to abide by the wishes of the prisoner.

N. A. A. C. P. WILL CONTINUE TO PRESS HOLLINS CASE

New York, March 6.—The fight for the freedom of Jess Hollins, convicted a third time in Oklahoma on a charge of criminal assault, will be continued by Oklahoma attorneys acting for the N. A. A. C. P., it was announced here today. The legal battle will be continued despite the fact that Hollins has signed a sworn statement saying that he is content to serve a life sentence because he fears that a new trial might result in the death verdict.

Cecil E. P. Robertson of Muskogee, Okla., the colored attorney who has associated with two white attorneys in defending Hollins, has written the national office here that the verdict of life imprisonment is unconstitutional under Oklahoma law, because of the assumption by the jury of powers which it does not have under the constitution.

Texas Centennial Plans Completed

SEVEN NEGRO LEADERS TO PREPARE LONE STAR EXHIBIT

Dallas, Texas.—Eugene Kinckle Jones, adviser on Negro affairs, Washington, D. C., has been appointed advisory committee chairman on Negro affairs at the Texas Centennial Exposition, World's Fair of 1936, opening in Dallas on June 6th and closing November 29th. The appointment was made by Dr. John W. Studebaker, United States commissioner of education, Washington.

W. R. Banks, principal of the Prairie View State college of Prairie View, Texas, was named by Dr. Studebaker as the Texas member of the committee of seven Negro nation-

3 Schools Honor Late Educator

MOREHOUSE STUDENTS PAY
IMPRESSIVE TRIBUTE TO
PRESIDENT JOHN HOPE

Atlanta, Georgia, March 6.—(Special)—At a simple morning service in the chapel where successive generations of college men had listened to his teachings, the students of Morehouse college February 26th paid tribute to Dr. John Hope, who for thirty-eight years worked for the upbuilding of the institution. Gathered with the Morehouse men were the students of Spelman college and Atlanta university and the family of the president.

At the close of the service the gathering filed to the grave of Dr. Hope on the nearby Atlanta university campus, where a wreath was laid and a pledge taken by the men of Morehouse to hold sacred and dear the ideals of the college as conceived and taught by their beloved leader.

The memorial exercises, arranged and conducted entirely by students, are to be repeated each year on the 20th of February, the anniversary of President Hope's death. To the end that this custom shall be perpetuated, the president of the student body charged the present junior class to carry on the ceremony next year and to pass the charge along to succeeding classes.

Brotherhood Talk Is Prattle-Harvey

NEGRO PRESIDENT OF CHRIS-TIAN YOUTH COUNCIL SCORES
Lynchings and Wars

Rochester, N. Y., March 5.—(CNA) Martin L. Harvey, the young Negro president of the Christian Youth Council of North America told the fifty white delegates to the Youth Conference in session here this week that the youth must lead the struggle for a new and better society.

"Christians have prattled too long about brotherhood, but have failed to be specified," he stated. "They are complacent about preparations for future mass murder and are unconcerned about child labor, lynching, racial segregation and the liquor traffic."

Mr. Harvey addressed several mass meetings in Des Moines last July.

The federal government has appropriated $100,000 toward the exhibit, half of which has been set aside for the building and the other $50,000 to be spent in assembling the exhibit. The Negro exhibit is being prepared in Washington. It will depict the progress made by the race, both educationally and industrially.

Bishop Gregg Succeeds The Late Rt. Rev. Parks

Kansas City, Mo., Feb. 28.—(ANP)—Chief development of the annual Bishops' council, which drew A. M. E. dignitaries February 20th here from all over the United States and from Africa, Canada and the West Indies, was the appointment of Bishop J. A. Gregg as acting bishop of the Fourth Episcopal district to succeed Bishop H. B. Parks, who died recently in California, and the selection of the address to be delivered to the forthcoming session of the general conference, which will be held in New York City in May.

Bishop Gregg will act as bishop until the May conference, at which time a permanent appointment will be made. The Fifth district, over which Bishop Gregg now presides, comprises Missouri, Kansas, Nebraska, Colorado, Utah, New Mexico and Arizona. The Fourth district consists of Minnesota, Iowa, Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Wisconsin and Ontario, Canada.

Wanda Goes Round & Round

Dorothy Wheels

Beings as how 'variety is the spice of life,' this column will have a little change this week with Mr. Fred Morrow, (just a gigolo) being M. M. M. (My Man Monday) writing this column, y'know 'guest columnist.' All fan mail will be greatly appreciated by Mr. Morrow.

Yors, WALDA.

Here it is March, the ole month of blowing wind, and once again this column rambles on. If you hear someone singing "Here's To the Man Who Wears the D," it will probably be Larry Redrick who has his letter won after being in two meets, my, my, such a star.—Mike Ogleston or better known as L. T. was secretly pleased about all his publicity—we always aim to please, L. T. so please don't offer thanks.—Speaking about being pleased, I'll bet Wanda is sure pleased to have such nice gobs of fan mail coming in, especially that letter from Ottumwa that mentioned my name, thanks Ottumwa, first break I received in a long while.

The story goes that "Pap John" Lomas, the heel racking rascal, never seems to tire from his story, of the time he threw a feather across the Mississippi river on George Washington's birthday. My pal George has been dubbed "Lightning" by the Drake track squad. I'm waiting to see him use some of it on those quarter miles.—Just wondering why "Runt" had to borrow Jack's girl two weeks ago, what happened to all your gals, Bob?—Who is the Public Enemy Number 1?—The suggestion from across the river gives proof that it is the same person whose name is always in this column—Oscar G. Where is all this prestige you had across the stream, H. Robinson?

Give me Hammett's or Trotter's for good music—this is free advertising. Boy O' boy just received from a chick at Michigan U. a few photos taken from the Nacirena Show of 1935 and I really know some of the ladies. If I can get four more guys, I'll make that ready cash the Bus Company was telling me about, on two Bus loads going Detroitish this summer.

Saw two "Y Stars" chiseling last evening—Heard on the phone: Is Joe or Gay there?—Or any of the Hardy boys.

Tad, but no Junior proms until April or maybe May. Bobbie and I were hoping all our pals' girl friends like them like Hatter's girl likes him, instead of being secretly in love with someone else like our gals are. In memory of, Archie (Hoss) Lucas, who was the heart throb of many a lassie and has now retired from sight, you can't be a hermit my boy! Saw cars belonging to Hatter's in front of Hyde's house Sunday evening. Don't let him get you down pal, we gotta stick together to protect the home boys first, "How about it Gang!"—Fredric Oliver Morrow.

Mrs. Ann Wellington left last week for New York City, where she will visit for four weeks with her daughter, Mrs. I. T. Donaldson. Mrs. Donaldson is the former Natalie Franklin of this city.

OBITUARY.

Leanna Jackson was born March 16, 1889, at Keytesville, Missouri, and died February 29, 1936, after a long illness. She was a member of the St. James A. M. E. church of St. Paul. Her mother, brother and two sisters survive. Funeral services in charge of Wilson Funeral Home, V. L. Jones, manager, were held Monday at the Wilson Funeral Home, with Rev. J. A. Alexander and Rev. Grant Page officiating. Interment at Glendale.

CARD OF THANKS

We thank the friends for the kindness during the illness and at the passing of our loved one, Leanna Jackson, and the Revs. Alexander and Page for their inspiring remarks. Mrs. Millie Jackson, Des Moines, mother; Walter Jackson, Pasadena, California, brother; Fannie Lyles, Seattle, Washington, sister; and Isabelle Dacus, Des Moines, sister.

WILKINSON OF ADEL ON REPUBLICAN TICKET

M. G. Wilkinson of Adel, Dallas county, seeks the nomination on the Republican ticket for congressman from the Sixth district, which consists of Story, Polk, Marion, Warren, Madison and Dallas counties.

BLUE TRIANGLE NEWS

The members of the T. M. T. M. club of the Y. W. C. A. were addressed at their meeting on February 24th by Mrs. Helen Beshears on "Courtesy and Conduct." Discussion and refreshments followed.

The Laugh, Love and Lift Girl Reserve sponsored a leap year dance Saturday, March 1st. Proceeds will be used to send representatives to an Area Girl Reserve conference at Newton, Iowa. The girls are also looking forward to the National Girl Reserve conference, which will be held this summer at Grinnell, Iowa.

What Others Say

CORRECTION

The secretary of the Blue Triangle Branch Y. W. C. A. wishes to correct a statement given to one of the staff writers that appeared in last week's issue of the Bystander.

Mrs. Maud Woods was the first branch member to be elected to the board of directors of the Des Moines Y. W. C. A. The unexpired term of Mrs. Woods was filled with the appointment of Mrs. J. G. Browne by the board.

There are other associations having branch members on the boards of directors.

The Reverend Wilkinson has spent more than twenty years holding pastorates in Polk and Dallas counties.

Mr. Wilkinson is conscious of the fact that "The Ship of State" needs more than a "rubber stamp" compass to direct its destiny, and "multiple-federal-patronage" as its motive power.

STREETS CHIEF KING

TO SEEK RE-ELECTION

Streets Commissioner George King announced he will seek re-election. King believes, he said, that his record and the performance of his department during his administration justify a second term.

"One of the chief reasons I ask re-election is so that my organization and myself may follow to completion the projects started with federal aid, I favor carrying them on without issuance of more bonds or increased tax levies.

With twenty-one projects going, we are holding supervision expense to less than 3 per cent of the total expenditure. We are holding our allotment of funds from the WPA bond issue to a figure lower than we estimated. On these twenty-one WPA projects the streets department is supervising the work of more than 3,000 men, whose daily payroll is between $10,000 and $11,000.

Nearly two and one-half million dollars worth of projects prepared by the streets department have not been started. They are set up to provide more than 2,000 additional men with one year's work.

JOE PICKENS, JUDGE

CANDIDATE, LIVED HERE FOR THIRTEEN YEARS

"Qualification of a candidate for office should be the only basis of selection. If we desire to preserve local self-government of high quality, patriotism demands that we select able, well qualified men for office. Candidates live in our midst. Every voter can and should find out what a candidate has stood for in our community for the last ten, fifteen or twenty years. If he is of the right character and properly trained for the office, then he is entitled to your vote."

The foregoing is a quotation from a speech delivered by Joe Pickens at McCree's hall Tuesday. Joe Pickens has been engaged in the general practice of law in Des Moines since 1913 and is known to many Negroes. He feels well qualified by training; experience and in every way to be a judge in the municipal court.

C. C. PUTNAM, JR., IS A CANDIDATE FOR MUNICIPAL JUDGE

Clyde C. Putnam, Jr., son of C. C. Putnam, Des Moines attorney, is a candidate for the municipal bench on this platform: "I pledge myself to a judicial, careful and conscientious administration of the law."

In electing Putnam to the bench the voters could be assured of a judge who had no political axes to grind and was not tied to the apron strings of a political machine.

JAMES O'BRIEN BELIEVES IN IOWA CIVIL RIGHTS LAW

James E. O'Brien, who is seeking election as one of the municipal judges, is well known to the Negro members of the bar, his long term of service as deputy clerk of the district court and his many years of private practice.

Mr. O'Brien has always taken a definite stand on the Iowa civil rights statutes. "All men, by nature, are free and equal, and have certain inalienable rights" applied to Negroes, and that no distinction can be made in its application.

He also deplores the attitude taken by some judges and officials in their adroit evasion of their duty to enforce the civil rights statutes against certain persistent violators.

FOUR COURSE SERVING TO BE TAUGHT THIS YEAR

How to prepare and serve a four-course dinner is to be demonstrated at The Bystander Cooking School and Homemaker's Institute at the Billiken Hall, March 18, 19 and 20, Mrs. Clara Johnson, domestic science expert, announced this week.

A style show, health talks, household hints, prize baskets of groceries to the lucky winners and a grand award on the final night are some of the features this year.

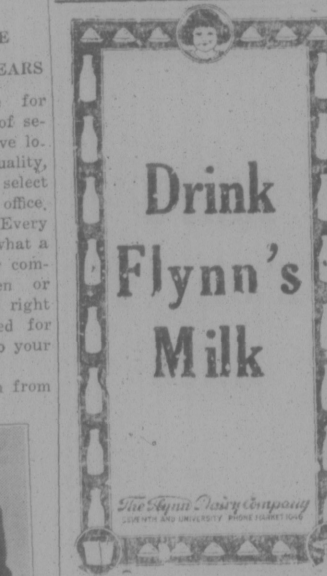

"Housewives cannot afford to miss a single session; the first course begins at the opening night and throughout the completion of the four different sessions," she said.

Mosque of the Roses
In Constantinople, or Istanbul, as it is called today, is an exquisite little church known as Gul Djami (Mosque of the Roses), probably built in the Tenth century, when the city was a Christian one. Here, in the middle of the Fifteenth century, on the night before the Turks took the city, the Christian emperor and his patriarch passed the night praying before the final dawn, and when the Turks entered they found the church still garlanded with roses, and so it has been called ever since.

Stanley Falls on Congo River
The Stanley Falls on the Congo river mark the termination of the Upper Congo's northward flow, and change the course in a 60-mile curve to the westward. The falls are not of great height—the total fall is about 200 feet—but they effectively prevent navigation between the waters above and those below except by canoe. The first five cataracts are close together, there being only nine miles between them. The sixth fall is 22 miles down stream, and the last 25 miles beyond.

Dove and Pigeon
The words "dove" and "pigeon" are practically synonymous, but in ordinary usage "pigeon" is a somewhat broader term and is applied to all birds belonging to the family columbidae. Both terms are applicable to the domestic pigeon and to various wild species, but some of the smaller species of the family are specifically called doves, such as turtle doves, mourning doves, ground doves, to distinguish them from the larger species more commonly called pigeons.

City of Long Winters
Magallanes, in Chile, and the surrounding country is, by ordinary standards, a barren land. Its hillsides yield sufficient pasture for great flocks of sheep, but little agriculture is possible. The few trees which decorate the neat little plaza of the city are cherished and carefully guarded for their rarity. The winters are nearly nine months long. The bitter climate has made of the natives a long-suffering, sturdy lot, independent, thrifty and hard-working.

Ancient Flint Implements
Many old flint implements which have been found in the British museum are preserved in the British museum. With them are some of the picks—fashioned from the antlers of deer—which the old flint-miners used. A lump of clay is still sticking to one of these primitive picks, and on it is the thumbprint of the Stone age miner who used it. Scotland Yard's finger print collection, extensive though it is, has nothing to equal this, for the print is at least 4,000 years old!—An Magazine.

Society and Clubs—Churches, News, Features

MISS DOROTHY WHEELS Society Editor

NOTICE TO OUR FRIENDS

Often times, club reports, society news and items of social interest are phoned, mailed or brought in omitting several important facts. Please see that these principles are followed before you turn in a story: WHAT, WHO, WHERE, WHEN, HOW, WHY.

Many times the day or date of an event is left out forcing the copy desk to guess or spend much time trying to check correct information. GET YOUR NEWS IN ON TIME. Society Editor.

City Enjoys Torrid Temperatures

With this city of Des Moines having torrid temperatures last week, a record breaking crowd attended the social events in every instance. Nearly every one that had a tie in his pocket or could take it out of some one else's pocket, tied himself off to the jolly old Dixie to dance to the tunes of Anna Mae Winburn's syncretized orchestra. With all your folks round here getting engaged and married, this little city of certainties is rocking in big-time rhythm. My, my, my, my.

Boy Scouts Hold Meeting Monday

The monthly meeting of the committee of Boy Scout troop, No. 99, was held at the Community Center on Monday evening. Everett Newcomb is scoutmaster and W. V. Windsor is assistant scoutmaster. The other members of the committee are: R. T. Dacus, chairman; Adam Johnson, secretary; Paris Skanes, O. V. Baker, Dr. C. R. Bradford and Atty. James B. Morris.

Petrothals and Marriages Take Place During Week

The engagement of Miss Geraldine Bates to Elmer Turner was announced by the couple at a party at the home of Miss Thelma Graves on Friday evening. As yet no wedding date has been set. Miss Bates is a former North High student and resides at 1009 Eleventh street. Mr. Turner is the son of Mrs. Blanche Turner and is employed at the Fort Des Moines hotel.

Newcomers To City

Mrs. Randall and her son, Horace, moved to Des Moines to make her home at Centerville, Iowa, has recently home at 1118 Crocker street.

Former Society Editor in City

Mrs. May Pidge of Chicago, former resident of Des Moines and society editor of The Iowa Bystander, is in the city on a business trip. She is house guest of Mrs. J. Q. Evans at 1029 Thirteenth street.

Honored At Birthday Party

A surprise party was given for Mrs. Yates on her 72nd birthday Sunday by her daughter, Mrs. Jaunita Meeks. Those sharing the courtesy with Mrs. Yates were: Mrs. Lillian Smart, Mrs. A. J. Moore, Mrs. Ediebell Pleasant and Glenn Hayes.

Sings For G. A. R.'s

Miss Roberta L. Maupin sang a group of vocal numbers Tuesday afternoon at the afternoon session of the state G. A. R. convention in the Fort Des Moines hotel ballroom. Miss Maupin was accompanied by Mrs. Joburness Kelso.

Deluxe Club Officers Elected

The Deluxe club met Thursday with Della Grant as hostess. Officers were elected as follows: Mercedes Pittman, president; Blossom Brewton, vice president; Margaret Tull, secretary; Della Grant, assistant secretary; Mae Mays, treasurer; Thelma Duncan, reporter; and Deagour Terrell, sergeant-at-arms.

The next meeting will be March 6th at the home of Mrs. Edna Allan, with Mildred Williams and Margaret Tull as hostesses, at which time committees will be chosen.

The Creswe kids, dancers, and the Wee Sisters, trio, entertained at the Hotel Fort Des Moines last week. The Wee Sisters will sing at Still college soon.

L. W. Strothers of Colfax was in the city Wednesday on business.

BIG MARCH PARTY TO BE HELD SOON

Everyone whose birthday comes in March can be honored at a party to be given soon at the Community Center. Mrs. Lillian Edmunds, director of the Center, asks that all those who have birthdays in this month please call her at the Community Center, 3-4634, so further plans can be made for the party.

OTTUMWA YOUTHS SEEK NAVY SERVICE

Two Ottumwa youths, Walter Brown and Clarence Adams, grandson of Rev. J. W. Wiley of that city, were in Des Moines Thursday seeking enlistment as mess attendants in the U. S. navy. While here they were the guests of Attorney Brown.

Club Meetings Held During Past Week

The T. O. B. club met February 21, with Miss Octavia Roane as hostess. Mrs. Iva Hayes won the first prize in the bridge games.

The Mary B. Talbert club will meet with the president, Mrs. Mabel Crowder, Wednesday. Mrs. Lillian Edmunds, state president, will address the club.

The Three Purpose club met at Mrs. Stanley Proctor's, 1100 Eleventh street, recently. Plans were discussed for their annual style show to be held after Easter. The next meeting will be at Mrs. Lloyd Shelton's.

The Royal Eight club met at Mrs. Lila Harris on Wednesday. The Regal Contract Bridge club met recently with Mrs. Mae Clay, 1606 Seventeenth street.

The Larks Sewing club met with Mrs. Lenna Smith, 1308 Key Way on Wednesday. Mrs. Adelaide Brinker, 1116 Eleventh street, was hostess to the club this week.

The Modernistic club met Tuesday with Mary Ritchey.

The East Side Choral club gave several numbers at the political meeting at Anjos Hiatt on Thursday evening. The Fant Brothers quartet also gave several numbers on the same program.

The Rosebud club of Union Baptist church sponsored a dinner at the church Saturday.

The W. S. Brooks Missionary society of St. Paul A. M. E. church met with Mrs. R. D. Claybrook on Tuesday. Mrs. Lenna Smith gave a talk. Mrs. Smith and son, Donald, were the guests of the club.

Show Practice Sunday at Hall

The Ambassadors will rehearse at the Billiken hall, Twelfth and Center streets, Sunday at 7:30 p. m. Try outs are still open to every one who wishes to participate.

Student Attended Hope Funeral

Thomas Frazier, Jr., formerly of Des Moines and now attending Morris Brown college in Atlanta, Georgia, attended the funeral of Dr. John Hope, educator, according to word received here by Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Frazier, Sr., this week.

Injuries and Illness Prevalent in City

William Young of 800 S. E. Eleventh street, who was injured in a cave recently, is improving.

Mrs. Flora Carter, who has been ill at her home for over two years at 1042 Fourth street place, is recovering and is able to be up again.

Mrs. Beulah Neff of 722 S. E. Twenty-fourth street, who has had a long period of illness, is recovering. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Bush of 846 Fourteenth street are the parents of a seven pound baby girl, born at Iowa City hospital.

Mrs. Alena Homes, who underwent an operation Saturday at the Des Moines General hospital, is improving at her home.

The Rev. S. M. Riley, Jr., was a dinner guest of Mr. and Mrs. Jessie Estelle of 908 Fourteenth street place Monday and the Tuesday dinner guest of Mr. and Mrs. James Hodge of 1221 McCormick street.

Dr. George E. Haynes, forum lecturer in the city, spent the week-end in Chicago and Gary, Indiana. He returned to the city Monday morning.

Mrs. May Bell, formerly of Des Moines, was married to McKinley Field in Chicago on February 27th.

Walda Goes Round & Round

Dorothy Wheels

Beings as how 'variety is the spice of life,' this column will have a little change this week with Mr. Fred Morrow, (Just a gigolo) being M. M. M. (My Man Monday) writing this column, y'know "guest columnist." All fan mail will be greatly appreciated by Mr. Morrow.

Yors, WALDA.

Here it is March, the ole month of blowing wind, and once again this column rambles on. If you hear someone singing "Here's To the Man Who Wears the D," it will probably be Larry Redrick who has his letter won after being in two meets, my, my, such a star—Mike Ogleson or better known as L. T. so please don't offer thanks. Speaking about being pleased, I'll bet Walda is sure pleased to have such nice gobs of fan mail coming in, especially that letter from Ottumwa that mentioned my name, thanks Ottumwa, first break I received in a long while.

The story goes that "Pap John" Lomas, the heel racking rascal, never seems to tire from his story, of the time he threw a feather across the Mississippi river on George Washington's birthday. My pal George has been dubbed "Lightning" by the Drake track squad. I'm waiting to see him use some of it on those quarter miles. Just wondering why "Runt" had to borrow Jack's girl two weeks ago, what happened to all your gals, Bob? Who is the Public Enemy Number 1?—The suggestion from across the river gives proof that it is the same person whose name is always in this column—Oscar G. Where is all this prestige you had across the stream, H. Robinson?

Give me Hammett's or Trotter's for good music—this is free advertising. Boy O' boy just received from a chick at Michigan U. a few photos taken from the Nacirema Show of 1935 and I really know some of the ladies. If I can get four more guys, I'll make that ready cash the Bus Company was telling me about, on two Bus loads going Detroitish this summer.

Saw two "Y Stars" chiseling last evening—Heard on the phone: is Joe or Gay there? Or any of the Hardy boys.

Tis sad, but no Junior proms until April or maybe May. Bobbie and I were hoping all our pals' girl friends like them like Hatter's girl likes him, instead of being secretly in love with someone else like our gals are. In memory of Archie (Hoss) Lucas, who was the heart throb of many a lassie and has now retired from sight, you can't be a hermit my boy! Saw cars belonging to Hatter's and this guy from Cedar Rapids in front of Hyde's house Sunday evening. Don't let him get you down pal, we gotta stick together to protect the home boys first, "How about it Gang?" Fredric Oliver Morrow.

Mrs. Ann Wellington left last week for New York City, where she will visit for four weeks with her daughter, Mrs. I. T. Donaldson. Mrs. Donaldson is the former Natalie Franklin of this city.

OBITUARY

Leanna Jackson was born March 16, 1889, at Keytesville, Missouri, and died February 29, 1936, after a long illness. She was a member of the St. James A. M. E. church of St. Paul. Her mother, brother and two sisters survive. Funeral services in charge of Wilson Funeral Home, V. L. Jones, manager, were held Monday, at the Wilson Funeral Home, with Rev. J. A. Alexander and Rev. Grant Page officiating. Interment at Glendale.

CARD OF THANKS

We thank the friends for the kindness during the illness and at the passing of our loved one, Leanna Jackson, and the Revs. Alexander and Page for their inspiring remarks. Mrs. Millie Jackson, Des Moines, mother; Walter Jackson, Pasadena, California, brother; Fannie Lyles, Seattle, Washington, sister; and Isabelle Dacus, Des Moines, sister.

WILKINSON OF ADEL ON REPUBLICAN TICKET

M. G. Wilkinson of Adel, Dallas county, seeks the nomination on the Republican ticket for congressman from the Sixth district, which consists of Story, Polk, Marion, Warren, Madison and Dallas counties.

BLUE TRIANGLE NEWS

The members of the T. M. T. M. club of the Y. W. C. A. were addressed at their meeting on February 24th by Mrs. Helen Beshears on "Courtesy and Conduct." Discussion and refreshments followed.

The Laugh, Love and Lift Girl Reserves sponsored a leap year dance Saturday, March 1st. Proceeds will be used to send representatives to an Area Girl Reserve conference at Newton, Iowa. The girls are also looking forward to the National Girl Reserve conference, which will be held this summer at Grinnell, Iowa.

What Others Say

CORRECTION

The secretary of the Blue Triangle Branch Y. W. C. A. wishes to correct a statement given to one of the staff writers that appeared in last week's issue of the Bystander.

Mrs. Maud Woods was the first branch member to be elected to the board of directors of the Des Moines Y. W. C. A. The unexpired term of Mrs. Woods was filled with the appointment of Mrs. J. G. Browne by the board.

There are other associations having branch members on the boards of directors.

The Reverend Wilkinson has spent more than twenty years holding pastorates in Polk and Dallas counties.

Mr. Wilkinson is conscious of the fact that "The Ship of State" needs more than a "rubber stamp" compass to direct its destiny, and "multiple-federal-patronage" as its motive power.

STREETS CHIEF KING

TO SEEK RE-ELECTION

Streets Commissioner George King announced he will seek re-election. King believes, he said, that his record and the performance of his department during his administration justify a second term.

"One of the chief reasons I ask re-election is so that my organization and myself may follow to completion the projects started with federal aid. I favor carrying them on without issuance of more bonds or increased tax levies.

With twenty-one projects going, we are holding supervision expense to less than 3 per cent of the total expenditure. We are holding our allotment of funds from the WPA bond issue to a figure lower than we estimated. On these twenty-one WPA projects the streets department is supervising the work of more than 3,000 men, whose daily payroll is between $10,000 and $11,000.

Nearly two and one-half million dollars worth of projects prepared by the streets department have not been started. They are set up to provide more than 2,000 additional men with one year's work.

CANDIDATE, LIVED HERE

FOR THIRTEEN YEARS

"Qualification of a candidate for office should be the only basis of selection. If we desire to preserve local self-government of high quality, patriotism demands that we select able, well qualified men for office. Candidates live in our midst. Every veteran can and should find out what a candidate has stood for in our community for the last ten, fifteen or twenty years. If he is of the right character and properly trained for the office, then he is entitled to your vote."

The foregoing is a quotation from a speech delivered by Joe Pickens at McCree's hall Tuesday. Joe Pickens has been engaged in the general practice of law in Des Moines since 1913 and is known to many Negroes. He feels well qualified by training, experience and in every way to be a judge in the municipal court.

C. C. PUTNAM, JR., IS A CANDIDATE FOR MUNICIPAL JUDGE Clyde C. Putnam, Jr., son of C. C. Putnam, Des Moines attorney, is a candidate for the municipal bench on this platform: "I pledge myself to a judicial, careful and conscientious administration of the law."

In electing Putnam to the bench the voters could be assured of a judge who had no political axes to grind and was not tied to the apron strings of a political machine.

JAMES O'BRIEN BELIEVES IN IOWA CIVIL RIGHTS LAW

James E. O'Brien, who is seeking election as one of the municipal judges, is well known to the Negro members of the bar, his long term of service as deputy clerk of the district court and his many years of private practice.

Mr. O'Brien has always taken a definite stand on the Iowa civil rights statutes. "All men, by nature, are free and equal, and have certain inalienable rights . . ." applied to Negroes, and that no distinction can be made in its application.

He also deplores the attitude taken by some judges and officials in their evasive of their duty to enforce the civil rights statutes against certain persistent violators.

FOUR COURSE SERVING TO BE TAUGHT THIS YEAR

How to prepare and serve a four-course dinner is to be demonstrated at The Bystander Cooking School and Homemaker's Institute at the Billiken Hall, March 18, 19 and 20, Mrs. Clara Johnson, domestic science expert announced this week.

A style show, health talks, household hints, prize baskets of groceries to the lucky winners and a grand award on the final night are some of the features this year.

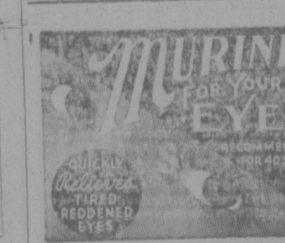

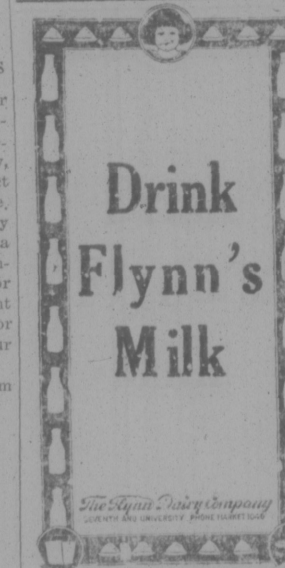

"Housewives cannot afford to miss a single session; the first course begins at the opening night and throughout the completion of the four different sessions," she said.

Mosque of the Roses
In Constantinople, or Istanbul, as it is called today, is an exquisite little church known as Gul Djami (Mosque of the Roses), probably built in the Tenth century, when the city was a Christian one. Here, in the middle of the Fifteenth century, on the night before the Turks took the city, the Christian emperor and his patriarch passed the night praying before the final dawn, and when the Turks entered they found the church still garlanded with roses, and so it has been called ever since.

Stanley Falls on Congo River
The Stanley Falls on the Congo river mark the termination of the Upper Congo's northward flow, and change the course in a 60-mile curve to the westward. The falls are not of great height—the total fall is about 200 feet—but they effectively prevent navigation between the waters above and those below except by canoe. The first five cataracts are close together, there being only nine miles between them. The sixth fall is 22 miles down stream, and the last 26 miles beyond.

The words "dove" and "pigeon" are practically synonymous, but in ordinary usage "pigeon" is a somewhat broader term and is applied to all birds belonging to the family columbidae. Century Plant Believed to Be Oddest Ice House

The magney or century plant is used in making ice at Durango City, Mexico, and is said to be the only icehouse of the kind in the world, notes a writer in the Indianapolis News.

When the century plant is about eight years old the leaves, from which the pulque has been taken, are spread out on straw in the plaza, in the public gardens and other open spaces, with the concave sides of the leaves uppermost. Then about two quarts of water is poured into each leaf and while freezing is unknown in the city, under any other natural conditions, the water freezes in the magney leaves and in the morning hundreds of chunks of ice are gathered and put in adobe ice-holders, each about 20 feet deep and 20 feet square. The supply usually lasts until the middle of July or the first of August and is large enough to be a commercial factor in the ice market of the region of more than 30,000 persons.

Durango City is about 6,000 feet above sea level and at this altitude there is rapid cooling, after evaporation, to which the water is exposed by the broad, shallow surface of the leaves. This is believed to be the scientific explanation of the odd ice plant. There is a legend that the method was learned in the Seventeenth century by Father Jose Lopez, an elderly priest, who also was a scientist.

Measurement of Time Is as Old as Time Itself

Time's measurement goes back to the beginning of time itself. As for modern time measurement, its beginnings are considered to be tangled up in the mysticism, superstition and sun worship of the Chaldeans, says the Philadelphia Inquirer. This ancient people originated the week of seven days from the sun and moon and the five planets: Venus, Mars, Mercury, Jupiter and Saturn. These were their gods and they worshiped them. So they set aside one day each week for the worship of the sun, another for the moon and so on. The sun was their most important god and its day of worship was called sun day and the day after was called moon day or Monday.

The Chaldeans divided the time required for the sun to traverse its path through the belt of the ecliptic into the 12 constellations of the Zodiac. In this way they evolved the 12 months of the year. They also divided the day into 12 hours and then the hour into smaller units.

The Junior League

The Junior league originated among a small group of young women in New York city who in 1900 sent a large number of roses from a party to a hospital. Later they and others banded together "for mutual benefit and the good of the community." From giving entertainments for the benefit of a college settlement they extended their activities to many other forms of social aid. Similar organizations of young women were formed in other cities out of which grew a national association of leagues, each interested in its particular ways in the educational, cultural and civic conditions of its community and in volunteer charitable and other service.

Appointment of Notary Public

A notary public is a public officer who takes acknowledgment of, or otherwise attests or certifies, deeds and other writings, or copies of them, usually under his official seal, to make them authentic, and takes affidavits, depositions, and protests of negotiable paper. In the United States appointments are made by the governors of the states. The oath is as follows: "I do solemnly swear that I will support the Constitution of the United States and the Constitution of the state of —, and that I will faithfully and impartially discharge the duty of notary public for — county, according to the best of my skill and ability; so help me God."

Names of Streets in Brussels

The names of the streets in Brussels speak of everyday life and everyday things. There are Fish street, Poultry street, Butter street and the Street of the Lost Bread. Another of Brussels' streets, that of the Six Young Men, tells of tragedy—of six youths who were out playing jokes one night and by accident smeared the face of an agent of the country's foreign ruler with tar. They were caught and hanged, and later the street in which they lived was named the Street of the Six Young Men in their memory.

Heresy in 1635

Roger Williams, founder of the Baptist Church in America, went on trial for heresy in Massachusetts Bay Colony in 1635 because he opposed persecution of Quakers. Four years before, Massachusetts had decreed that before anyone should be admitted to church membership, he was found guilty and banished, and the hanging or whipping of Quakers continued.

Twenty Years, Average Reign

A study of the lives of several hundred kings, emperors, czars and other monarchs who have ruled during the past 800 years reveals that their average reign was 20 years, an astonishingly long period considering the fact that the majority lived in constant danger and that about one third met violent deaths.—Collins's Weekly.

4-H Club an Educational Movement for Boys, Girls

The 4-H club is a rural educational movement for boys and girls between the ages of ten and twenty years, inclusive, each project of which is designed to stimulate interest in more home activities, whether it be raising a garden, raising pets, keeping personal accounts, making a dress, or refurbishing a room.

The movement had its origin in certain of the farmers' institutions and the public schools of Ohio, Illinois and Iowa in 1899, relates a writer in the Cleveland Plain Dealer, and is now a part of the co-operative extension system of the United States Department of Agriculture and state agricultural colleges. Dr. S. A. Knapp of the federal Department of Agriculture gave it impetus at the time of the coming of the boll weevil by stressing the demonstration work of boys and girls in the South as a means of improving rural home conditions, and teaching diversified agriculture to meet the problem brought about by this pest.

In 1914 increased funds from federal, state and county sources stimulated the movement, which spread rapidly into all the states.

The club work of the boys and girls is promoted by county agricultural agents, home demonstration agents, county club agents, and the agricultural and home economics extension specialists of the federal and state co-operative agricultural extension system. The club was named by O. H. Benson of Iowa, in 1904, who was at that time a county superintendent of schools.

Etiquet of Tea Drinking

In the strenuous life of modern Japan, it is not uncommon for young women to take lessons in the etiquet of tea drinking, according to an authority in the Washington Post. All Japanese women want to master the tea ceremonial and the art of flower arrangement.

The tea ceremony is unique in Japan. Once a secular pastime—it was originally introduced from China by Buddhist monks of the Zen sect—it has come to be a cult of esthetic entertainment. And no matter how westernized a Japanese woman may become, she still enjoys taking part in the tea ceremony—one of the most impressive traditional remnants in Japan.

In this connection the etiquet of the tea ceremony provides that certain subjects are taboo while it is being carried out. The party isn't supposed to talk about money, or politics or religion but may discuss philosophy and traditions.

Use of Word "Blizzard"

The word "blizzard" in connection with snowstorms first was used in Iowa, according to Sir William Craigie, editor of a dictionary of American slang. He said the word originally was used as descriptive of a sudden, sharp blow, a shot from a gun or a verbal tongue-lashing. "In April, 1871," he writes, "an Estherville, Iowa, editor used the word to describe a heavy, blinding snowstorm which blotted the landscape from view." Craigie said neighboring editors picked up the word, and then during the severe winter of 1880-1881, blizzard was cemented into the language in connection with snowstorms.

Sassafras Long in Use

Sassafras has a definite connection with New England's early history, according to Prof. William L. Doran at Massachusetts State college. It was probably the first plant product to be exported from New England. The sassafras was believed to have medicinal value and to be a plant of sovereign virtue. The tree was discovered by Bartholomew Gosnold, an English sailor, in 1602 on Cuttyhunk island, the westernmost of the Elizabeth islands. The tree sold for three shillings a pound in England, so he shipped several back. The native sassafras is a highly ornamental tree. It is not commonly planted, however, and it is injured by severe winters but is hardy at points near the sea.

Origin of Name "White House"

The name "White House" is supposed to have been given the Capitol after it was painted white to efface the blackened walls, the result of its partial destruction by the British in 1814. There is some controversy about this, however, one claim being that it was so named because Martha Custis was owner of "White House" when she and Washington first met. It was first popularly known as the President's House, but by the year 1835 the nickname "White House" had come to be widely used.

Legendary Power of Lough Neagh

According to an Irish tale, Lough Neagh fishermen have petrified legs, and when they want to sharpen their razors, they merely turn up their trousers and use their shins as hones. No child visits Ireland without firmly planting a stick in Lough Neagh and vowing to return in future years, when, like the legs of the fishermen, it will have turned to stone.

Paris Has Flea Market

In addition to its bird market, horse market, diamond market and dog market, Paris has several flea markets. These were so named because their main sales were originally old clothes and rags, but they are junkie sales. A tour of the markets is still considered one of the tourist thrills in Paris.

Codfish Distinguished by Five Prominent Fins

Although the papa codfish is in no wise admired for his beauty, he is distinguished by his five fins—three dorsal and two anal, plus a barbule which is found beneath his pugnacious chin. A barbule, by the way, is the fish equivalent of a whisker, notes a writer in the Boston Herald. Some times this device of the deep attains a weight of 100 pounds; but even in smaller size he is in demand for both the market and the table. The roe of the mama cod has been estimated to contain 4,000,000 to 6,000,000 eggs, thus indicating a reproductive power intended to provide a supply far in excess of our present-day needs.

The cod is found all over the north Atlantic and in Arctic seas, but he has never been known to wander into the Mediterranean or other semi-tropical waters. Rocky coasts, submarine ledges and sand-banks appeal to him and he seems to frequent them most. He also likes the cool green depths and the largest of his kind are found in 25 or 30 fathoms of water (150-300 feet, to land-lubbers).

Despite his sacredness, the cod has a very ungentlemanly voraciousness and lives only to eat. The more he eats the better he likes it, and small fish, soft-shelled sea delicacies and other tender morsels of the sea serve to satisfy his ravenous appetite.

Halley's Comet So Named for English Astronomer

Halley's comet was so named for Edmund Halley, English astronomer, notes the Indianapolis News. He discovered that the orbits of the comets of 1531 and 1697 were similar to that of 1682, which he himself observed, and thereupon concluded they were the same. He predicted the comet's return about 1758, and called upon posterity to record and verify his prediction. It arrived at perihelion on March 12, 1759.

Investigation showed many references to the periodic appearance throughout the Christian era. In 1535 it returned, and was next expected in 1910. While yet some 300,000 miles distant, it was photographed on September 11, 1909, by Professor Wolf of Heidelberg. For months afterward, it was invisible to the eye; later it developed rapidly and was a spectacular object when it reached its greatest brilliance in May, 1910.

Fame of Ferdinand de Lesseps

November 19, 1805, saw the birth of Ferdinand de Lesseps at Versailles, says Pearson's London Weekly. He was educated for the diplomatic service, in which he was engaged for many years. In 1854 he produced a scheme for a canal across the Isthmus of Suez. He obtained a concession, a company was formed, and in 1859 the work began. Nine years later the canal was completed, and de Lesseps became honored and famous.

But in 1888 he undertook the construction of a Panama canal. From the beginning everything went wrong. The funds were grossly mismanaged, while malaria and yellow fever killed off the workmen. In 1892 de Lesseps and the directors were brought to trial for betrayal of trust. De Lesseps was sentenced to five years' imprisonment, and though the sentence was soon quashed, he died, ruined and broken-hearted, on December 7, 1894.

Gold Discovery in Alaska

Gold was first discovered in Alaska in 1848 in the gravels of Kental river by P. P. Doroshin, a Russian mining engineer, who was then making an examination of the mineral resources of the district for the Russian-American company. In 1850 and 1851 Doroshin, with a working force of 14 men, prospected the gravels of two streams entering Kental river between Kental and Skikak lakes and those of a third stream tributary to the latter lake. Gold was found nearly everywhere in the gravels examined, but not in commercial quantities.

The Great Dismal Swamp

The Great Dismal swamp, a unique natural feature located near Portsmouth and Norfolk, is one of the attractive spots of Virginia. Once the rendezvous of pirates, highwaymen and runaway slaves, and later infested by moonshiners, the swamp has much of interest. One of its canals was dug by order of George Washington, who planned development of the area. It is a wild morass, the home of deer and bears, and there is virgin timber still standing.

We Don't Know All

To assume the pose that we are above mistakes is absurd; better far admit most frankly it we occupy a prominent position before the public, that we make mistakes, many of them, and we expect to go on making them so long as we live. This will dispose of any claim to infallibility, but it will place us on much firmer ground, and help men to realize that we are just as human as they. This, in itself, does not alienate men, but rather draws them to us.

Early Transatlantic Travel

Early transatlantic fares did not include food at all but simply transportation and water. In those times passengers had to bring their own supplies, usually consisting of crackers, ham and similar nonperishables. In 1700, a 250-ton ship carrying 400 transatlantic passengers, only two kettles, each containing three gallons, comprised the total cooking equipment for passengers.

THE IOWA BYSTANDER

GETS GOVERNMENT POSITION AS VIRGINIA FIELD ENGINEER

Russell Jackson, 35, 1008 Day st., left Tuesday evening for Washington, D. C., to accept a position as field engineer, resettlement division of the U. S. government at Newport News, Virginia. He was member of the city engineering department in Des Moines since 1919 and was civil engineer for A. A. Alexander and Regass Construction Company in 1921 and 1922. Jackson, who was born and graduated from the public schools in Des Moines, attended the University of Iowa. He was active in local Republican organizations and was a member of the Young Men's Service Club, Young Negro Men's Civic Club, Committee of Eight, and attended St. Paul A. M. E. church.

NEW CRISIS CAUSES FRENCH GOVERNMENT TO CALL EMERGENCY COUNCIL

Paris, France, Feb. 28.—Looking upon the Ethiopian Egyptian, and the Syrian troubles as concerted attacks of white Christians against Moslems and all blacks, the natives of Algeria, Morocco and Tunis are stirred to frenzy. Native drums with their monotonous rhythmic beats have given their ominous signals for preparation for a holy war.

The French government has convoked a high Mediterranean committee session in anticipation of possible trouble in France's African colonies. The governor general of Algeria and the French resident governors of Tunis and Morocco are now in Paris working out plans to check the impending revolt and deport native leaders who are responsible for the present wave of dissatisfaction.

While military and colonial chiefs are meeting in Paris to devise ways and means of solving a very knotty colonial problem that has suddenly confronted the French government in North Africa, Egypt and Syria are pressing for their autonomy. Count Damien de Martel is kept at his post in Beirut by disturbances there.

ALICE SAYS KIP DIED OF BROKEN HEART

New York, Feb. 26.—(CNA)—Leonard Kip Rhinelander, whose marriage in 1924 to a colored girl shocked that high society that toll not, neither do they spin, died last Thursday at his father's Long Beach home. His father, Major Philip Rhinelander, and the doctors who attended Kip said lobar pneumonia killed him. But Alice Jones Rhinelander, the cab driver's daughter who was forced by his family to divorce, declared "Kip died of a broken heart."

Alice, a little heavier than she appeared during the celebrated divorce hearings which provided many thrills for the erotic, hinted strongly of a recent rendezvous at Atlantic City with her ex-husband. "Only last month I was at the Ritz-Carlton hotel in Atlantic City," she said. "My mother was with me. Kip was there, too."

Mrs. Rhinelander is still living at 703 Pelham road, New Rochelle, an address once a lover's precinct to Kip. It was there that she learned from reporters that her ex-husband had died at 6:30 Thursday morning.

ALABAMA STRIKES ANEW AT SCOTTSBORO BOYS AND DEFENSE

Decatur, Ala., Feb. 26.—(CNA)—Alabama officials last week tried to cover up their murderous attack on the life of Ozis Powell, Scottsboro boy, by submitting "evidence of an escape plot" to the Morgan county grand jury in a new attempt to frame two or more of the boys and their attorney.

Sheriff J. Street Sandlin, who shot Powell in the head, indicated that indictments will be sought charging Powell and Roy Wright with assault with intent to murder. Making the additional ridiculous charge that the boys, their hands manacled, held up pressing for their autonomy. Count Damien de Martel is kept at his post in Beirut by disturbances there.

Mrs. Robert Hickey, Roseville, Calif., writes: "My doctor prescribed Kruschen Salts for me—he said they wouldn't hurt me in the least. I've lost 17 lbs. in 6 weeks. Kruschen is worth its weight in gold."

Mrs. Hickey paid no attention to gossipers who said there was no safe way to reduce. She wisely followed her doctor's advice. Why don't YOU?

Get a jar of Kruschen to-day (lasts 4 weeks and costs but a trifle). Simply take half teaspoonful in cup of hot water every morning. All druggists.

LAUNCHES FIGHT FOR FULL EQUALITY

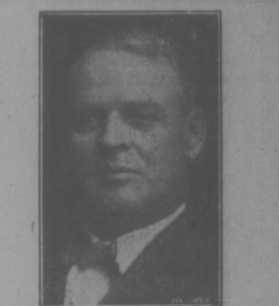

Chicago, Ill., Feb. 26.—A gigantic and inspiring step toward unity in the struggle for equal rights for the Negro people was taken here by the delegates, representing more than three million Negroes, to the National Negro Congress. The sessions of the Congress, held in the Eighth regiment armory on February 14, 15 and 16, were attended by more than 900 delegates from all parts of the country and hundreds of local visitors.

The Congress endorsed the united defense for the Scottsboro boys and Angelo Herndon and joined labor and liberal forces throughout the country in calling for the freedom of Tom

Negro Stars Rule in High Jump Victories

By Quentin R. Mease

Negroes supremacy in the high jump is of shorter duration than in the broad jump, but in recent years, they have been coming with a rush and at present are in full bloom. Cornelius Johnson of California and Edward Burke of Marquette recently established the present indoor mark of 6 feet 8 15-16 inches, and are less than a fraction of an inch from the existing outdoor mark of 6 feet 9 1/4 inches held by George Spitz, (white) who has been consistently beaten by colored jumpers during the current indoor season.

To these two brilliant performers may be added the names of Al Threadgill of Temple University, and a freshman at the University of Colorado, Gilbert Cruter, who vaulted into the limelight with an indoor jump of 6 feet 7 1/4 inches. Threadgill's work is all the more spectacular, since he is only 5 feet 9 inches tall and jumps without the aid of spikes.

Redrick Stars in Dual Meet. Lawrence Redrick made the best showing of the local entrants in the Drake-Grinnell dual meet last Friday night, when he tied for first place in the high jump and captured a second in the broad jump. George Robinson was ruled out for allegedly fouling in the quarter mile, while Warren Pemberton was on the losing mile relay team.

St. Paul A. M. E. Leads League.

With two of the main cogs in their machine absent, Corinthian Baptist bowed to the strong St. Paul team in their first meeting this season in the game to determine the first half leadership of the senior league. The Saints went on a scoring rampage that saw every member of the team break into the scoring column to register a 40 to 6 triumph. Rabbit Wilson led the scoring with 20 points. The Raiders stayed within striking distance of the leaders by trimming Burns M. E. 16 to 10. The Spiders had a field day at the expense of the "Y" Stars drubbing the latter 41 to 19. The Hawkeyes dusted the Cyclones 18 to 12 in a junior league game, and the Blackhawks administered a 28 to 14 pasting to the Pioneers in another prep affair.

The Erl-Kings were all set to break in their new satin suits last Wednesday with a victory over the Standard Oil team of Carlisle, but impassable roads made it impossible for the visitors to put in an appearance. The game has been definitely set for Wednesday, March 11.

Around the Sports Globe.

Lorenzo Pack, Jack Kearns' heavy-weight protegee, who is being groomed from the state of Alabama, whence hails Joe Louis, Jesse Owens and Eulace Peacock—Donald Gaines, who formerly resided in this city and was junior high broad jump champion while at West Junior High, was a track letter winner at Quincy (Ill.) High last spring, and recently won the championship in his division in the Golden Gloves tournament held in Quincy. Frazier, star guard of the Harlem Globe Trotters when they first appeared here four years ago, is now holding down the same position with Saperstein's Original Globe Trotters, best of the several aggregations using this name. Ozzie Simmons not only scintillates on the gridiron, but shines on the hardwood court as a member of his fraternity team. Ozzie also frequently warbles in Louis Armstrong's style over WSUI, Iowa City radio station. Buddy Glass, pole vaulter deluxe, and scrappy forward on the St. Paul A. M. E. team, is blushing relating the fact (?) that Harriet Hilliard, well-known radio star, who is appearing in "Follow the Fleet" at a local theatre this week, used to lullaby him to sleep when an infant.

"Underground Railroad"

Name Originated in Ohio
The incident that is credited with having led to the coining of the term "Underground Railroad" took place in Ohio in 1813. In that year, says a writer in the Cleveland Plain Dealer, a negro by the name of Tee Davis escaped from his plantation in Kentucky and was making his way toward Ohio.

Reaching the shore of the Ohio river, with his master in close pursuit, the fugitive knew that there was no other path for him but to jump in the water and strike out for the opposite side. After some time the master located a skiff and started out across the river in pursuit, all the while keeping his eyes on the escaping negro. Almost until he reached the Ohio shore the slave-master followed the fugitive with his eyes, but by the time he got out of the skiff and onto the land he lost track of the negro who had disappeared—somewhere.

The truth of the disappearance of that group of abolitionists in Ripley, seeing the negro swimming breathlessly toward the shore, gave him a hand and hurried him away over the hills of Brown county, and he was guided from one station to another until he reached northern Ohio. Near Sandusky he settled down to spend his days in freedom.

Finding no trace of the missing negro after a thorough search in the vicinity of Ripley, the master spurted: "That fellow must have gone off on an underground road."

This incident and the master's remark became popular among the abolitionists who soon adopted the term "Underground Railroad" for their system of helping runaway slaves.

First U. S. Machine-Made Paper Delaware Product
The great development of paper-making machinery and its introduction into the industry here dates back to the first quarter of the Nineteenth century. The first machine-made paper manufactured in the United States was made by Thomas Gilpin in 1817 on a cylinder machine in Brandywine, Del. The first Fourdrinier machine made in this country was made in 1829. In Europe machinery was utilized in the paper-making industry from about the year 1770.

King paper, which was known to the Chinese before the Christian era began, was introduced into Europe by the Saracens in the Eighth century, first through Spain, then France, Holland, Italy, Germany and England. The Saracens or Arabs are thought to have learned the art when they captured the Chinese city of Samarcand in 704 A. D.

There was little demand for paper at first in the American colonies, with few books printed, no newspapers for some time, and little personal correspondence. Parchment was still in use, while the paper that was required was imported from Europe. The first paper mill in this country was built in 1800 in Germantown, Pa.

Athens Stands in Great Cup
Modern Athens stands in a great cup with mountains on three sides and the sea on the fourth. It has grown out around Mt. Lykabettos, which rises sharply out of the cup, and the busy city makes a sharp contrast with its classic ruins, which look down serenely on it from the Acropolis. Athens is an outdoor city, where home is only the place to spend one's siesta or to sleep, and much of the buying and selling of its merchants is carried on in the streets. The Greeks are as fond of their siesta as the Spaniards are, and at noon all shops close until 3 p. m., staying open later at night to make up for lost time. Dinner is not served until 9, and 2 a. m. is no later to an Athenian than midnight is to an American.

First Ruler of Bavaria
Prince Luitpold, the first ruler of Bavaria, came to the throne of the German state on June 7, 1886. Ludwig II and Otto I, sons of Maximilian, the former ruler, were declared insane, and Luitpold was given the regency. Ludwig had ruled under another regency, but upon his deposition committed suicide. During the long rule of Luitpold Bavaria shared the common prosperity of Germany, but it was long before she forgot her traditional racial and religious antagonism toward Prussia. This feud in the German confederacy lasted until Ludwig III became king on November 5, 1913, upon his father's death.

Apple Pie an Old Standby
Apple pie has stood the taste test of appreciation for the last four centuries and is still the first choice of all pies. The greatest amount proportionally of the sixty million spent annually for baker's pies is spent for apple pie. There is no figure available on the number of pies made in homes and in the smaller restaurants and tearooms, but visits to different parts of our country show that apple pie is the favored one among pies everywhere. In the early building days of New England it was served as a breakfast dessert—a custom still in vogue in some homes of that section.

Value of Cod Liver Oil
Among other things, the cod has a very valuable liver which, when boiled down, yields that delectable cod liver oil. This, like spinach, is supposed to be of great benefit to babies, and child dwellers who see but very little of the sun. It is put up in glass or capsules and sold as "bottled sunshine."

Ground Sloth Numerous

Millions of Years Ago
Ground sloths, strange lumbering beasts that the first human inhabitants of this continent may have hunted, were immigrants like the men, but they came from the opposite direction. Human migration came from the north-west, from Asia; ground sloths came earlier, and from the southwest, from tropical America (where the strange race of beasts had their first home).

Sloths lived long in South America without appearing on the northern continent, because through millions of years of the earlier part of the Age of Mammals there was a wide area of sea between North and South America.

When this closed over, perhaps thirty million years ago, intermigration of animals began between the two continents, and the first sloths appeared in North America. These developed four distinct genera, which ranged in size from a six-month calf to a short-legged elephant. The last of them became extinct a relatively short time ago; the skeleton of one of them, found in New Mexico and now in the Yale museum, still has its ligaments and part of its skin.

In South America also the group survived until the coming of man. Far down in Patagonia, in a cave, there were found large pieces of skull of one of these animals, with its coating of hair still on it, together with the sloth's skull. The cave also yielded evidence of human occupation while the sloth was still alive.

Great Rocky Region Made Up of Oldest Known Rock

The great rocky region that extends all the way from northern Ontario into northern New York forms a single structural unit of the earth's crust and is made up of the oldest known rocks. Geologists do not pretend to place a particularly accurate estimate on its age in years, but one figure, based on the amount of radioactive materials in some of its minerals, is one and one-half billions of years, says Science Service.

This great rock mass, known to geologists as the "Laurentian Shield," contains some of the world's most valuable metal ore deposits—among others, the world's principal source of nickel, as well as much gold and silver. These as well as the predominantly granitic makeup of the rocks themselves, are evidences that the formation came into being by the slow solidification, far underground, of tremendous masses of volcanic magma, which were subsequently exposed to the light of day by the weathering away of the mountain ranges that once stood above them.

FINANCE COMMISSIONER WELCH SEEKING SECOND TERM OF OFFICE

Roy C. Welch, who has announced his candidacy for a second term as finance commissioner, has six full time-colored employees in his employment, one of them being in a responsible secretarial position.

Mr. Welch has reduced the interest rates on bonds from 5 to a new low of 2 per cent, reduced electric light rates, $58,000 in water rates, increased office receipts over one hundred thousand dollars per year and restored wages to 67½ cents per hour for the common laborer without any increase to taxpayers.

GEORGE F. BROOKS WOULD BE FAIR AND JUST JUDGE
"Administration of justice without fear, favor, partiality or prejudice, regardless of race, color, politics, religion or wealth" is the platform of George F. Brooks, candidate for municipal judge. His motto for his campaign is: "I seek the office on my merits, offering no criticism of other candidates."

Mr. Brooks has practiced law for twenty-three years at 401 S. & L. building, during which time he has always stood for fair play and equal rights to all, whether in the interest of a group or an individual, regardless of religion, nationality or station in life. This attitude has won him unanimous endorsement.

He has been a home owner and taxpayer at 1209 Jefferson for twenty years and is a member of the Masonic lodge, Hapac Grotto, M. O. V. P. L. K., Eastern Stars, Boy Scout work and is a member of the official board of Capitol Hill Church of Christ.

His record, his platform and his strict adherence to his campaign motto are gaining for him many supporters and friends.

E. L. KEYSER, PARKS ASPIRANT, IS FAIR TO ALL RACES
Well known to every man, woman and child of Des Moines is the name of E. Lee Keyser, owner of the Des Moines Ball club, who is running for parks commissioner. Lee Keyser has more friends among the colored population in the city of Des Moines than perhaps any one person. He has never drawn any distinction in regard to creed or color at the local ball park or at Kansas City, where he controls another club.

When he was in charge in Kansas City, he removed the sign which said, "This section reserved for colored people." If Lee Keyser is a member of the city council, the colored people will know that they have a friend at the council table.

LISTER, STREETS CANDIDATE, DEPLORES STREET CONDITIONS
George Lister, candidate for superintendent of streets at the coming election, is calling all voters and taxpayers to witness the deplorable condition of the streets. Mr. Lister says: "I do not blame the present incumbent in office so much for this deplorable waste, for I realize he had but little to do with it, but I do blame John MacVicar and some of his predecessors. The sad part of all this is the taxpayer and the property owners have been taxed to pay for it all, and have been gyped and fleeced and their hides hung on the asphalt political fence to dry."

The Lister plan which I will propose if you elect me to this post of superintendent of streets, will take care of this paving improvement without imposing an additional tax burden on the voter. It will also create a new field for labor and material which will bring in thousands of dollars into the legitimate trade channels of Des Moines, but I want it understood here and now that I will not recommend asphalt and composite mixtures, but will use brick and cement, which have proven to be the only long wearing and satisfactory paving material for all street surfacing.

JAS. O'BRIEN'S HAT IN RING FOR CITY JUDGE
The race for municipal judge in the forthcoming city elections was further complicated when James E. O'Brien recently announced his candidacy for one of the four benches. Mr. O'Brien has been active politically since serving a four year term in the county attorney's office from 1918 to 1922, as first assistant.

Entering private practice, Mr. O'Brien turned from criminal procedure to civil causes, and is now considered one of the most able lawyers in the city. He promises, if elected, to place his judicial duties above all others and to extend every effort to see that justice and fairness be administered to all.
