$1 Million by Ford for Rights Organization

Ford to Set Up Legal Offices for Poor

New York — The Ford Foundation today announced a $1 million grant to establish a National Office for the Indigent — an independent national legal organization that will test cases likely to establish basic precedents in guaranteeing the rights of the poor.

Litigation

The new organization will be set up with the assistance of the NAACP's Legal Defense and Educational Fund, Inc., to civil-rights litigation to the new organization, N.O.R.I. will have a much broader mandate. It will deal with key cases involving the rights of the poor regardless of race — in welfare benefits, public housing, landlord-tenant and creditor-debtor law, for example — that are too complex for individual lawyers or existing organizations.

At the same time the Foundation announced a $600,000 grant to the Lawyers' Committee for Civil Rights Under Law, an organization.

Public Housing

The National Office for the Rights of the Indigent, which is now being set up, will be mainly concerned with the systematic testing of cases before courts and administrative agencies. Based on its own research and contacts with local offices providing legal services for the poor, N.O.R.I. will take up cases likely to set national precedents in such fields as welfare benefits, public housing, landlord-tenant and creditor-debtor law.

The Lawyers' Committee for Civil Rights Under Law will use its grant to continue its three ongoing projects — its law office in Jackson, Miss. for legal representation of Negroes in civil and criminal cases; its police community-relations program in Atlanta, Detroit, and Seattle; and its educational program to help state and local bar associations to educate their members in civil-rights law.

The committee, which was established at President Kennedy's request and whose work is supported by President Johnson, is directed by distinguished members of the bar, and is supported by foundations and business companies.

Harlem VISTA Workers Lauded by P. Kennedy

New York, N. Y. — Forty-six VISTA Volunteers, members of the first graduating class of the Harlem Teams for Self Help, Inc., received praise and congratulatory messages here Saturday night from Claude Brown, author of "Manchild in the Promised Land"; Congressman Adam Clayton Powell, "father" of the Domestic Peace Corps, and Patrick Kennedy, Acting Director.

Mr. Kennedy told the class that the billions of dollars requested by A. Philip Randolph and Bayard Rustin are needed in the war to eliminate poverty forever in America.

Money

"But money alone won't do the job," he said. "The key weapon in the war is people. Not people who just talk about the problems of poverty. Not people who just sympathize with the problems of the poor."

"It's going to take people who have the conviction that something can be done about poverty — and who have the determination to do it themselves."

Richard Allen Chorus in "Tribute in Three Faiths"

The third annual "Tribute in Three Faiths," a memorial to the late President Kennedy, will be presented Sunday, Nov. 27, from 4-5 p.m. in Fellowship Hall of the Central Presbyterian Church, 3829 Grand avenue.

The program, sponsored by the John F. Kennedy Club, will be in a choral Tribute rendered by the Richard Allen Chorus of St. Paul A.M.E. Church with Irvin White as the narrator.

Negro Santa: Not To be in Parade

Bloomington, Ill. — Last year, the Bloomington-Normal chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People entered a float in the annual Christmas parade. It carried a Negro Santa Claus.

This year, the Downtown Council of the Bloomington Association of Commerce gave out rules limiting one Santa Claus in the parade.

Still, the NAACP is determined to put a Negro Santa Claus in this year's parade.

"It will be a simple float, just a cardboard sleigh," explained NAACP spokesman Carrol Cox.

Mayor Robert McGraw had this to say: "The Downtown Council gave me the money to put on the program. They want only one Santa Claus. They set the policy for how many Santa Clauses there's going to be."

"I don't know what the Negroes are trying to start, there's only one Santa Claus."

"If they try to get in the parade the police will take proper action."

Yes, Virginia, there's only one Santa Claus (officially) in Bloomington this year. Color him white.

Bishop Morris Dies After Heart Attack

Memphis, Tenn. — Bishop Wm. Morris of Los Angeles, Calif., who preached on Friday night at the churches of God in Christ Convocations, died of a heart attack Monday morning.

Bishop Morris was under the care of a physician and was scheduled to be hospitalized upon return from the Convocation. He was a widely known Evangelist and was serving a church in Shreveport, La. The body was returned to Los Angeles for final arrangements. Memorial services were held at the Mother Church of God in Christ in Memphis.

Dr. King Minimizes The White Backlash

Washington, D. C. — Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. last week minimized the effect of the white backlash on the recent elections, declaring that the only real backlash has been that which the nation has applied to civil rights for centuries.

Dr. King's remarks came during the seventh annual Gandhi Memorial Lecture before some 3300 persons at Howard University's 103th anniversary observance.

NEWS In A Nutshell

Philadelphia, Pa. — The all-white Girard College has been directed to begin admitting Negroes. U.S. District Court Judge Joseph S. Lord III said the school, founded under the will of Revolutionary War-era banker Stephen Girard, came under the state's public accommodations laws.

Memphis, Tenn. — Phony $20 have been in circulation, Secret Service agents said, especially in Negro parts of town. "At least 15 of these bills have been reported to my office," said agent Maurice Miller, "since Nov. 1."

Washington, D. C. — James R. Jones, 36, of Granite Quarry, N.C., Robert E. Scoggin, 43, Spartanburg, S. C. and Calvin Red Craig, 37, of Atlanta, Ga., state grand dragons of the United Klans of America, pleaded guilty last Friday to contempt of Congress charges, with the understanding that they will be sentenced only if the conviction of another klansman is upheld.

Jackson, Tenn. — A fire gutted the freshmen men's dorm at Lane College Nov. 11, pouring 117 students out of the building. The fire apparently started shortly before 4 a.m. in Hamlett Hall's attic and quickly spread down a stairway to the second floor.

Detroit, Mich. — A bullet smashed the front window of Anthony Liuzzo, whose wife Viola was murdered near Selma, Ala., on a civil rights mission.

Police and the FBI were notified, but said Liuzzo had not complained about threats and there was no apparent connection with Mrs. Liuzzo's slayings.

Mrs. Liuzzo was killed by gunfire March 25, 1965, as she was driving down an Alabama highway after the march.

Richmond, Va. — Beatrice Marie Wynn has been chosen queen of the Richmond Professional Institute's Harvest Ball.

Miss Wynn, of Crewe, was chosen from among 14 candidates sponsored by various campus organizations. She is a sophomore transfer student from Hampton Institute, a Negro college.

New York, N. Y. — A capacity congregation filled Representative Adam Clayton Powell's Harlem Church Sunday, but their pastor failed to show up.

The New York Democratic congressman had promised a week earlier when he was in the pulpit of his Abyssinian Baptist Church that he would return Sunday "the lord willing and the judges not preventing."

Further, they remind that Ruby, seen by millions of television fans witness Oswald's death, is still having trials and appeals.

Recently a school of thought brought up a picture which was reported to show a man (other than Oswald) holding a gun.

Perhaps the nation will never know, with only history to tell.

Mason City NAACP Pres. Claims Was Turned Down Because 'I am a Negro'

For the second time a Negro family has filed complaint against mobile home operators for refusal to rent space to them.

Mr. and Mrs. Willie Haddix, of 2904 North Carolina, Mason City, claim that on Sept. 28, they were told by telephone that two spaces in the court were available.

However, when the Haddixes arrived, Mrs. Ruth Wilson, owner of Oak Hill Mobile Home Park, 3140 Indianola, refused to rent, saying the spaces had been taken.

Haddix is president of the Mason City-Manly chapter of the NAACP.

Mrs. Haddix said she and her husband bought the 8-by-23-foot mobile home in September for their daughter, a graduate of the Institute of Minnesota in Minneapolis.

Taken

"She (Mrs. Wilson) told us one space had just been taken and somebody from Indiana had called so they were holding the other space," this by Mrs. Haddix, concerning the conversation when the couple arrived in the court.

First case was with S/Sgt. Wallace Mims, who was put on 7-8 waiting lists for space, after looking for 16 months.

The sergeant, his wife and three children came to Des Moines, June 3, 1965 for a reservation at Grayson Army Post Trailer Park, but that operator said the trailer was too big.

In Thursday's hearing with the Civil Rights Commission's first case, Mrs. Wilson said the complaint was untrue and expressed "a deep respect for colored people."

She said she refused to give Haddix a space because she felt, after asking him questions, that "she didn't trust him," and that he was uncertain about the kind and size of trailer he owned.

She said that Haddix told her at first there were just two in the family and then changed it to three.

An employee of the rights unit, Donald W. Burger of Waukegan, said he had served a space at Oak Hill and left a $6 check after Haddix had been turned down.

Mrs. Wilson later admitted that she had not cashed the check and tried to return it, since her husband wanted the space.

Civil Rights Commission director, James Thomas, said he sent Burger to the Oak Hill court after receiving the complaint.

Conflicting

Thomas said the Wilsons gave "conflicting" statements concerning the availability of rental.

"Mr. Wilson suggested that he had use for that space," said Thomas.

Mrs. Wilson testified she had told Haddix to try numerous other Courts. At one point, she mismatched days and dates.

She said Thomas said "I should rent the space to Mr. Haddix because he was a fine man and he had a nice family." She said that she agreed with the Haddix compliment because she had noticed his "hat was clean and his shoes were shined."

"No one in this state of Iowa has a deeper respect or treated colored people more kindly than I have . . . I was raised that way . . . but I said to Mr. Thomas . . . my estimation has gone down just like that."

In Friday's hearing, Mrs. Wilson testified that she had never had a Negro before in her court and the first time she had ever been approached by one was by Haddix.

Mrs. Wilson, who calls herself a Mobile Home Park operator, said that mobile home owners paid a high education tax.

Friday's testimony centered around the issue of whether a mobile trailer park was a private or public housing accommodation.

"Each trailer is solidly affixed," Mrs. Wilson replied to the question concerning foundations, "they are 'temporary' permanently attached . . . connected to the sewers and electricity, but they (trailers) can be taken down."

"Absolutely not," was her answer to whether Mr. Haddix had phoned her of his intent to visit the court. "There is a pay phone booth, but I didn't hear the telephone ring. Absolutely not."

"At first I thought I heard some-

Purse-snatcher is Clumsy; Hits Dust

A 16 year-old Negro youth was said to have snatched the purse of a 19 year-old Des Moines woman Sunday.

She said that he grabbed it from her right arm as she was trying to take groceries out of the car on the 2800 block on High street.

She said she was grabbed from behind, and when she dropped the groceries the kid grabbed the purse, but lost his balance. He got up and ran east on High street.

He was described as 5 feet 8 inches tall, 140 pounds, and was wearing a dark knee-length jacket.

Said Attacked by Negroes, $27 Taken

Two men described as Negroes, 18-25 years old, were said to have hit Eddy Yoder, 18, of 1305 Pleasant street, on the head, kicked him in the ribs and took his wallet containing $27.

Yoder told police he was truck from behind with a metal object as he was about to enter his car.

He said the attack occurred about 12:15 a.m. Saturday at 4th street and Keosauqua way. He was treated at Broadlawn Polk County Hospital.

Goodwill Is Given Grant of 122 Grand

A fund matching grant of $122,432 has been awarded non-profit Goodwill Industries of Des Moines, Inc., by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

The grant will be used to help finance the construction of a new 50,000 square foot building to house the sheltered workshops, offices and warehouse space of the United Campaign rehabilitation affiliate.

The new one-story building will be erected at East 26th Street and Euclid Avenue.

Pledges

Combined with this grant will be cash and pledges obtained through a Goodwill fund-raising campaign, and an $84,000 allotment for equipment for equipment from the Iowa Division of Vocational Rehabilitation and a $27,000 allocation from the South Iowa Methodist Conference for the construction of the Goodwill chapel.

The estimated cost of the new Goodwill structure is $439,000.

Construction bids on the new Goodwill project will be taken immediately, and ground-breaking ceremonies are expected to be held within the month.

Jazz Box

by e. tate

The word "jazz" comes from the Creole, meaning, to "speed up", according to Funk and Wagnell's account.

"... only a musician with a feeling for jazz can play the composition properly..."

"... the effects are achieved by extending the conventional technique and expressive range of instruments that many tones of human speech and song are rendered in the timbre of the instruments."

Okay.

"The first major jazz musicians developed in New Orleans—cornetist and trumpeters Buddy Bolden, Joseph "King" Oliver and Daniel Louis "Satchmo" Armstrong and pianist Ferdinand "Jelly Roll" Morton.

Satchmo

"White musicians... Leon Beiderbeck, Lawrence "Bud" Freeman and drummer Gene Krupa and Benny Goodman learned how to play jazz from Armstrong, King Oliver and their bands" among others.

"One of the most popular pieces played by the Chicago musicians was the clarinet solo 'High Society', improvised originally by Creole Negro jazz clarinetist Alphonse Picou."

one knocking at the door, then I opened it and there he was. No, I didn't invite him in. We did all our talking with him outside."

She did invite Burger in after a short conversation at the door of her office trailer.

Service

Key question was if Mrs. Wilson's business in real estate or in selling services.

"I don't give services to people, not at all."

Second to testify was truck-driving husband, Clyde Wilson, a stocky, short haired man with a florid face.

He told the Commission that he had never seen Mr. Haddix or his daughter and that he had nothing to do with his wife's business.

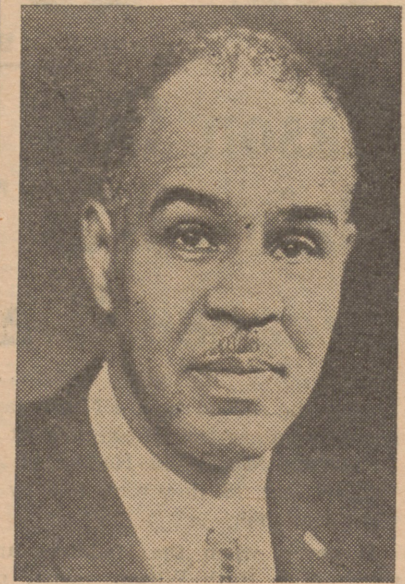

"I did tell her not to rent the space because I needed it to put my truck there."

He testified that occasionally he helped the attendants, but that they were to know that if they needed

African Leader Meets Roy Wilkins, T. Brown

New York. — At a conference held here, Nov. 17, President Kenneth D. Kaunda of Zambia received the unqualified support of 28 distinguished Negro American representatives of national organizations to assist the Zambian government in its efforts to bring about a multi-racial society in that country and to terminate immediately the illegal regime of Ian Smith in Rhodesia.

Mr. Kaunda conferred informally, at the Zambian Mission to the United Nations here, with these representatives assembled by the American Negro Leadership Conference on Africa of which Roy Wilkins is chairman of the conference call committee and Theodore E. Brown, executive director.

Force

The president said Britain must use force to oust the illegal rebel regime in Rhodesia. "It has become apparent to any casual observer," he declared, "that sanctions have not restrained the Ian Smith regime, and Britain must use force."

"Zambia," he said, "is dedicated to the maintenance of a non-racial society despite the fact that Zambians in the past were persecuted by white racialists."

help, they were to have professional servicemen take care of their problems.

JAMES THOMAS

In the spring or fall he "graveled the road, painted a little, and if my wife wasn't around, talked with people who wanted to rent space."

"A lot of people might think I own it — I don't."

Mr. and Mrs. Haddix were unavailable for testimony.

By Nov. 28, the defendant's council were have filed a written brief or statement, with the plaintiff to have ten days to make a reply.

Rev. William Burnette, Jr., vice-president of the Inter-denominational Ministerial Alliance, present at Friday's hearing, said the Alliance would probably look into the case later.

The Negro leaders expressed their intention of urging the United States Government to support Zambia as the outstanding experiment of inter-racialism on the African continent.

They will also urge the U. S. Government to support vigorously an oil embargo and to press Britain to use force in the Rhodesian crises.

Negro Americans will be urged to assist African nations by sending teachers, technicians, farmers and community workers in a people to people program as one project when the third biennial national leadership conference of the American Negro Leadership Conference on Africa meets in Washington, Jan. 26-29, 1967.

Veto on Head Start Bombed by Shriver

Sargent Shriver, Director of the Office of Economic Opportunity, Wednesday, Nov. 16, notified Gov. Paul B. Johnson that he was overruling the Governor's veto of a $713,300 Head Start grant to Southwest Mississippi Opportunity, Inc. This marks the second time the OEO Director has exercised his right to over-turn a governor's veto. This past summer, Shriver overrode a veto by Gov. George Wallace of Alabama for a summer Head Start program in St. Clair County.

Objection

In his veto statement, the Governor objected to the fact that the members of the Council were formerly involved in the controversial CDGM Head Start program which has been denied refunding by OEO. Shriver had stated that the retention of former CDGM Council members and the use of many CDGM Head Start centers would go far to preserve participation by grass-root poor in the counties served.

Control

Shriver said, "There is no evidence that CDGM is exercising any control over this body. Since CDGM had a large number of low-income people in the areas involved in our program, it is only reasonable to assume that many of them would become associated with the new Head Start program designed to serve that target area population. If they cooperate in a program administered through a broadly-based community action agency, this would constitute significant progress for local community action."

Union Ordered to Take Grievances

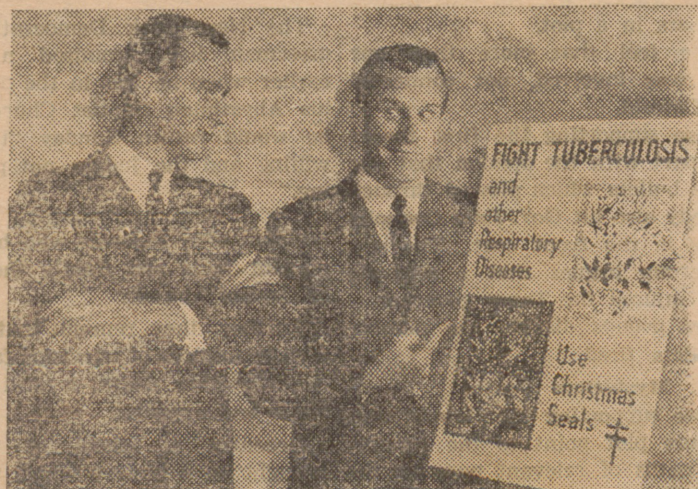

New York. — An order handed down by the U. S. Court of Appeals sitting in New Orleans requiring a local union to process racial discrimination grievances of Negro members has been hailed as "an historic advance in the struggle for economic equality," by Robert L. Carter, general counsel of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

The Court's decision stems from a complaint filed in Oct., 1962, with the National Labor Relations Board by NAACP attorneys on behalf of eight Negro members of Local 12 of the United Rubber Workers at the Gadsden, Ala., plant of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company. The union, the Negro members charged, refused to process their grievances alleging racial discrimination in hiring, promotion and use of company facilities.

An NLRB ruling sustained the NAACP complaint. The union subsequently appealed the Board's ruling to the U. S. Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals which upheld the Board's ruling.

Giant Step

"Negroes will have access to the free services of the Board rather than the costly and more tedious procedures of the courts."

The Court's decision establishes the rights of Negro employees in a plant to be treated fairly by labor unions. The NAACP reports that although it had previously won discrimination cases against unions, they were on behalf of non-union members. In this case, the issue of "fair treatment" is placed squarely on the basis of race rather than mere non-membership.

Relations Conference Slated December 13

Washington, D.C. — John W. Gardner, Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, will make the keynote address at the Third Annual College Relations Conference to be held here on Dec. 13-14.

The conference is intended to bring about better understanding between business and officials of predominantly Negro colleges. During the two-day session, the college officials will explain to businessmen how they might help develop colleges, and businessmen will explain to the college officials what their graduates need to qualify for the increasing number of jobs available in industry.

The conference will be held in the Washington Hilton Hotel. It will be sponsored by Plans for Progress, a national voluntary program by some 350 major American corporations to provide leadership in achieving equal employment opportunities for minorities.

Leslie Uggams Pens Teen Beauty Book

Leslie Uggams, popular singer, actress and night club entertainer, feels that teens should take advantage of their youth and "make-down" rather than "make-up."

"It's oversophistication as well as neglected beauty and grooming habits that can destroy a girl's natural good looks," says Leslie. The Teen years very definitely do call for experimenting with makeup and hairdos. . . .

Leslie shares her professional beauty secrets, while telling each teen how to experiment and take advantage of her own special type of beauty. As she says, "Unlike other girls at fifteen and sixteen, I was able to work with the top people in the beauty and fashion fields. Each time I discovered something new with makeup or haircare and saw how it improved my appearance, I always wanted to spread the word to other girls — and now I have the

Conclusion

3. Need to acquire good work habits

4. Lack skills needed in today's economy

The Youth Work Training program primarily has two functions: the out-of-school program which can give the youth work experience up to 32 hours a week and the in-school program which can give the youth work experience up to 15 hours a week. The hourly for these two programs is $1.25 per hour.

In-School enrollees may remain in the the Neighborhood Youth Corps until they have completed high school. Out-of-school enrollees will be enrolled for up to six months unless the requirements of the work experience are such that a longer period is necessary.

The staff of the Neighborhood Youth Corps recently sent out follow-up questionnaires to youth previously enrolled in NYC. Here is an example or comments on one youth's personal feeling toward the program. ("I find my being in the NYC was very helpful. I work 3 hours a day and go to school in the mornings. It wouldn't have been possible for me to be in the NYC, otherwise. I will never forget what the NYC and their staff have done for me. I just don't know how to thank them enough.")

The NYC Program is an attack upon the root causes of poverty. For further information contact your school counselor; Youth Opportunity Center, 300 Court avenue; or Neighborhood Youth Corps office located at E. 14th and Washington, Whittier School.

Supermarket WorksWashington, D.C. — "Most low-income families do their marketing in small quantities at small grocery stores," said Joseph D. Tydings, senator from Maryland last week.
"They generally pay higher prices for goods than do suburbanites who mark at large, low-overhead supermarkets and who buy goods in "economy size" quantities."Apparently large chains have been reluctant to establish branches in the slum neighborhoods because of expected pilferage and vandalism.
But a recent Washington Post article indicates that a supermarket can be an economic success in low income neighborhoods and that imaginative and resourceful management can reduce vandalism."A new Giant Foot Store here used neighborhood youngsters to care for the shrubbery around this store and 'there hasn't been so much as a twig broken,' reports the manager. As for pilferage, the new store's record compares very favorably with the chain's best records."Child Development

Church of God in Christ Record Convocation Disrupted by Bishops

Memphis, Tenn. — The 59th Annual Holy Convocation of the Church of God in Christ carried the largest delegation ever recorded in its history. There were near 11,000 members present from the United States and 35 foreign countries.

The Light Touch

When all is said and done, much more is said than done . . .

Friend of ours living in New York says there are 15 psychiatrists nearby. You might say he has a mental block . . .

He writes there is a little old lady there who is trying to get Medicare to pay her way in to see "Dr. Zhivago."

He is so rich he even bought book ends for his bankbooks.

HEALTH FOR ALL

"A Test in Time Saves Eight". That heading on a recent news story spotlights the dramatic health-guarding aspect of tuberculin testing.

The story reported the news that a six-year-old boy, a first grader in a West coast school, and one of a family of eight, was found to have tuberculosis germs in his body. A routine tuberculin test of his class had uncovered the infection.

Drama and suspense: Positive tuberculin reaction — as this was — in young people often indicate active, contagious TB in the family.

Free

The boy's family — mother, father, and five brothers and sisters — were tested immediately. And found free of infection. What's more, the boy's infection was uncovered early enough to be halted by medication. Now he's unlikely to get active TB in the future, and even less likely to infect the seven others in his family.

This story has a quick and happy been Director of Operation Breadbasket, the job-producing branch of the Chicago Freedom Movement, which is co-sponsored by SCLC and the Co-ordinating Council of Community Organizations.

ending. Our hero didn't even have to stay out of school. The source of his infection was found to be outside his family.

More often, a positive reaction in a youngster is traced back to one of the other members of the family, most often an adult. The happy ending comes some time later, after lengthy treatment.

The moral, though, remains: Find TB germs in one's body before any harm has been done.

Testng

The value of routine tuberculin testing is being increasingly recognized. Many school boards provide this test to school enterers and 7th graders; a few states even require it for school beginners, along with a small-pox vaccination. And everywhere the Department of Public Health and TB associations heartily recommend it. If your child is lucky enough to attend a school which offers tuberculin testing, be sure to give your permission.

And every year, why not have it included in his pre-school medical check-up?

REV. ORZEALYEA M. ROBERSON, organizer and director of FRIENDSHIP CITY, all but lost her famed aplomb the other night. Leaving the Bystander Office she suddenly stopped, swooped up a tiny magazine and shrieked "The Liberator!" That's our name. Publisher Morris just as swiftly reached for and opened a small reference book — it seems "The Liberator" title had long been worn by another organization's printed piece. The copy she held read Volume 6 Number 11 — whereas I well remember the launching of her magazine some twelve years ago. It was a laughter-filled incident.

Marietta Hotel in Path of Urban Renewal

The Marietta Hotel at 1410-12 Center, which once guested such notables as the "Porgie and Bess" cast, Duke Ellington and the "Green Pastures" troupe stands in the path of the Oakridge Urban Renewal project.

Owner of the Hotel, Mrs. Nellie Esters and the late Arthur Esters, bought the Marietta in 1925, the oldest continuous advertisers in the Bystander. They also bought the complementing building at 1423 Center.

"In the 30's," said Mrs. Margaret Cothorn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Esters, "Negroes couldn't stay in the hotels downtown, and they needed somewhere to go."

"Some (passing through) had to be in private homes."

"The other building was once a Stille College dormitory. About three years ago an Ohio doctor brought his wife here to show her where he once lived as a student. He pointed out the name R. E. Davis written on the basement wall, originally a barber shop."

After the open occupancy bills were passed, Mrs. Cothorn explained that there was no more need for the Negro hotel and was converted into apartments.

President is Mrs. McCurn.

Obesity Does Run in The Family, 80%

Iowa City — "The child born of two obese parents stands an 80 per cent chance of growing to be an obese adult himself," dietitians were told at a recent diet therapy conference at The University of Iowa.

"If only one parent is obese, the possibility of the child becoming an obese adult is reduced to 40 per cent, while the child with non-obese parents only stands an eight or nine per cent chance of becoming obese," said Dr. Charlotte Young, professor of medical nutrition at Cornell University, Ithaca, N.Y.

Not Necessary
She added that while obesity does tend to be genetically determined in many cases, that does not mean it must be allowed to happen.

Speakers on the program from the U of I included Dr. Willard Krehl, professor of internal medicine; Dr. George L. Baker, assistant professor of pediatrics; and Miss Eleanor Good, clinical research dietitian. Dr. Loraine Frost, an Iowa City pediatrician, was also on the program.

Dietitians and physicians often hear, but planned, meals rather than three large ones.

"This is cultural problem," said Dr. Frost. "No mother or father enjoys getting up in the middle of the night to feed the baby."

WE ARE THANKFUL,
EVEN WITH PROBLEMS

Thanksgiving day presents various emotions. Naturally, the mind goes back to early settlers in New England who first dreamed of such an observance, or the hardship they endured and their differences to a higher force which helped them overcome their obstacles.

These have been spectacular years for this generation, for the advances in science have developed far beyond any dreams we might have had a hundred years ago. The space age, new discoveries in medicine, new gadgets that make life more fascinating.

But in spite of all the great accomplishments, man seems powerless to devise a means to settle differences between each other by peaceful methods. A war goes on somewhere year in and year out, among the enlightened and backward nations which proves that open warfare—the destruction of human beings—is resorted to but settles nothing and perpetuates wars.

We in this country have contributed our share of putting down wars mostly for the help of other nations. We have been fortunate that they have been fought on other shores. We have contributed men and material which, in the end, has made us a stronger nation.

In spite of our involvement, in spite of the entanglements in fighting by several forces within we continue to move forward, not always perfect but with a purpose to accord all men a place in the sun. And we are thankful.

PLAYING CARELESS WITH CIVIL RIGHTS LAWS

Again the Iowa State Civil Rights Commission has been called upon to deal with the refusal by the owner of a trailer site to rent facilities to Negroes.

Last year an operator refused to honor a reservation made by Sgt. Mims of the United States Army. He brought suit in the district court for breach of contract. The defendants attempted to settle this case before the commission, but it was finally disposed of by payment of damages for breach of contract.

In this instance, Mr. Haddix was refused space by several operators but he finally filed a complaint against only one.

The Bystander makes no conclusions here of what the outcome should or would be. Suffice to say that the commission has followed through with a complaint.

Whatever the outcome, we become more and more convinced that the commission law is weak, cumbersome and takes too long to bring the case to issue and bring the case a final disposition. Had the complainant in this instance been an out of state transient he would have had no time to stand around waiting for the respondent to cease and desist. Conciliation and persuasion help but it takes power and direction to put out these brush fires.

Then, too, every case must be peculiarly fitted to the law for cease and desist won't apply to the concern next door which is carrying on the same type of racial discrimination.

Congress, legislatures and city councils have passed most of the civil rights laws we need. What is needed most now is more honest enforcement and the cooperation of both the whites and Negroes to obey them.

Much is being said about the breakdown of law and order. J. Edgar Hoover writes an excellent article on the subject sound in goff against mob violence in the streets—meaning Negroes. With this we fully agree. But like Iowa, which has civil rights law on the statute books for more than fifty years little effort has been made to force or observe them. Mr. Hoover carefully refrains from saying anything about mob violence of labor unions such as we have had at Harlan, Iowa recently. All are a disgrace to the nation and yet laws against such acts have been on the statute books for years.

This brings us to emphasize that a disrespect for civil rights laws creates disrespect for all laws and this foolish rioting by Negroes is only a part of the disrespect for law and order by all groups in the nation.

THE IOWA UNIVERSITY season is over and everyone is glad. The less said about that last game the better. The boys knew what they were in for after that terrific battle against OHIO STATE, so we were not surprised.

Now we can wait for next year. That game between the IOWA U and IOWA STATE teams must have been pretty good. Looks like the CYCLONES have more freshmen help than the UNIVERSITY does. Oh, well, the CYCLONES need it.

DRAKE FINISHED a fine season with a 8-2 record.

The big game has come and gone and nobody won. Most NEGROES we saw were pulled for MICHIGAN STATE because of all those NEGROES. We were a NOTRE DAME rooster for reasons that go back to 1929, which you should read about some day. Did you ever try to watch the most important football game of the year and play a game of billiards? Don't. We tried it and we just could not get the two games to blend. We must say that was the hardest hitting game we ever saw.

The ALL-STATE HIGH SCHOOL football team had quite a few NEGROES, on the whole. That was the biggest all-state team we ever saw. But even so, we thought JIM KIRBY of NORTH would make KEN WHITNEY of ROOSEVELT and JOCK JOHNSON of EAST ran just about as we expected, WHITNEY on team No. 2 and JOHNSON on team No. 3.

The cage season gets under way with ROOSEVELT, we fear, being However, NORTH and EAST could surprise the RIDERS. Both teams feature height and speed and they are due to crack down on somebody.

SOMEDAY we should tell you about our old time cage teams in a game when it was legal to block not a shot but a player.

Baker and Wyatt Selected for First Team,
Whitney, Robey, Tisdale—Second

Larry Baker and Pat Wyatt, of Cedar Rapids Jefferson, have been named to the first string of the All-State football team.

Baker, a 6-7, 215 Senior from Cedar Rapids Jefferson, caught seven touchdown passes. Wyatt, 6-4, 19 year old Senior, ran for 1042 yards and 11 touchdowns. He was last year's top fullback selection by the Iowa Football Coaches Association.

D. M. Roosevelt's Ken Whitney placed on the second team, packing away 12 touchdowns on 140 rushes. Obert Tisdale and end Mike Robey were also selected.

Tenn. A&I Star to Be First Negro Pro Q.B.

New York. — "Eldridge Dickey can definitely make it as a quarterback in the pros," says Houston Oilers general manager Don Klosterman of Tennessee A&I's fine Negro field general.

"First, God blessed Dickey with a great throwing arm," explains Klosterman. "Second, he possesses a fine mind. Third, he has quick feet. He's a wonderful scrambler, and he sets up fast in the pocket to throw. On top of that, he's been a winner wherever he's been. We like to see that."

Limited

The history of the Negro quarterback in pro football, according to the SPORT article, has been one of limited opportunity and changed positions. Defensive backs Willie Wood of the Packers and Jim Kearney, formerly of the Lions, were both quarterbacks in college. The Giants' -reus xis jo any jo wpp up quodds drafted Pete Hall of Marquette as a quarterback, but he eventually shifted to tight end.

In 1955, Charlie "Choo Choo" Brackins of Prairie View A&M received the longest test a Negro quarterback has ever been given by a major pro team in this country.

Prejudiced

"Now everybody is so interested in winning that they can't afford to be prejudiced. They'll accept anyone who can make them win."

Says Les Bingham, the former Lion star: "I don't think his race will be a problem for him. We look for football players that's all... if he couldn't make it as a quarterback, I'm sure he'd find a spot as a flanker or defensive back."

Fullback Willie Allen scored 12 touchdowns and Cal Spencer, Marshalltown halfback, 190 pound Senior helped make up the third team.

East Des Moines Jack Johnson, 6-1 collected over 900 yards and caught ten touchdowns to be on the fourth team.

Correction

The Des Moines Warriors did not go to St. Petersburg, Fla., last Saturday, as the Bystander stated, due to the players misunderstanding of advance payment of $7,000 for expenses.

Canceling last Wednesday, they were to have played the St. Petersburg Blazers.

Spat Upon, Player
Says; Not Worth It

"We found him crying in the locker room and he told us he had been the object of abusive words," said Coach Hayden Fry in relation to Jerry Levis, player on the Southern Methodist football team.

Jerry has been the object of hate letters and telephone calls.

"I will have my secretary screen his mail and I will either take out his telephone or get him an unlisted number," said the coach, and said that Levis told him that once an opposing player had spat in his face.

Levis, who plays split end on the S.M.U. team, is the first Negro to get an athletic scholarship in the Southwest Conference.

"He has told me that he didn't believe it was worth it. I told him he is a symbol of his race and if he quits he will handicap the program for the other people."

Fry said the boy was playing under a tremendous emotional strain. University officials were working on the matter.

Thanksgiving excerpt of "philosophy"

I've still two hands two feet two lungs and i can dream, so what my head is graying of its cap of moss?
my pulse is wide awake and i can smile, my senses are aware of what they pain to see to feel to sigh;
the gutter smell of cans and sodden twigs of rotty rags, they've welcome friends to me, and snow that rents in shoveled heaps against my house contains no spot of soot no rope of browngrey weed no footprints there.

the grass that weaves in squatter's rights between the cracks of cobblestones in early wild abandonment of spring is luscious green so green so green—the sodden twigs two hands two feet a pulse that's wide awake and I can smile.

Police Nutshell

Baltimore, Md. — Three officials who were found guilty of four charges in connection with a racial disturbance after a rally in July are Charles Lynch, Richard Norton and Joseph Carroll, of the National States Rights Party.

They were convicted of inciting a riot, conspiring to riot, disorderly conduct and disturbing the peace during three rallies held at an East Baltimore park. After the third rally white gangs roamed through Negro neighborhoods and a Negro boy was beaten.

New Haven, Conn. — Arthur J. Davis, found guilty Wednesday, Nov. 16, of slaying six persons in a shooting spree, has been sentenced to die in the electric chair.

Davis shot down his girl friend's family because none of them would tell where she had gone. Five were slain in the family apartment and the sixth died of her wounds eight days later.

Davis took the stand in his own defense, testifying that he had been drinking heavily and was unable to recall his actions on the day of the shooting.

The six counts of first degree murder came under Connecticut's split verdict system.

San Francisco, Calif. — Virgie Hunter, 26 and Erma Key were engaged in fighting, with Miss Hunter charged with assault after she bit Miss Key.

According to the provost marshal, Miss Key was entering her car when the suspect walked up and asked for a few words with her.

In defending herself, Miss Hunter bit the suspect.

The gunner of civil rights-involved James Meredith has pleaded innocent to charges of assault and battery with intent to kill and for pointing, aiming, and discharging a firearm.

Aubrey James Norvell, former hardware salesman from Memphis, Tenn., was arraigned Friday, Nov. 18.

Meredith, the first Negro enrolled at the University of Mississippi, was shot from ambush on the second day of his march in Mississippi, with Norvell arrested minutes after the shooting. Meredith's injuries were mostly skin punctures from bird shot.
