Negro Worker Killed, Question Authorities

Construction Worker Beaten to Death; Was County Jail Prisoner

Tuskegee, Ala. — The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People has called upon state and Federal law enforcement officers to investigate and bring to justice the killer or killers of James Earl Motley, 26-year-old Negro construction worker, who was beaten to death while in jail in nearby Wetumpka, on Nov. 20.

In identical telegrams to Alabama Attorney General Richard Flowers; John Doar, chief of the civil rights division of the U.S. Department of Justice; Dillard Howell, FBI regional director; and Elmore County Sheriff Lester Holley, the Rev. Kenneth L. Buford urged them to do everything within their power "to see to it that the person or persons who committed this dastardly crime be immediately brought to justice."

Meanwhile, the Alabama State NAACP and the Elmore County (Wetumpka) NAACP Branch, headed by C. W. George, has initiated an investigation into the crime.

Mr. Motley was arrested, accused of drunkenness, taken from an automobile in which he was riding with his companions, and beaten when he protested and questioned the authority of the deputy sheriff to arrest him, according to witnesses. He was taken to jail and the next morning his blood stained-body was turned over to a Negro funeral home.

In the presence of witnesses, before being taken to jail, he was beaten by the white deputy as two state troopers held him.

Shriver Warns: that Changes Will Have Triple Blow to OEO

Washington, D. C. — Sargent Shriver, Director of the Office of Economic Opportunity last Wednesday warned that three significant changes in anti-poverty legislation will have a "great and grave impact" on the War on Poverty across the country.

"In effect," Shriver said, "a triple blow has been struck at our ability to extend the War on Poverty to the poor of urban and rural America."

Hardships

He said that "The result of these three actions taken in combination will cause extreme hardship on community action agencies throughout the nation. The impact will be especially harsh on those cities which were able to organize themselves early and which now have successful on-going programs."

Shriver said that as a result of the earmarking and the cuts in appropriation, OEO "will have $168 million less in unearmarked Community Action funds than the minimum need expressed in our budget request. And $66 million less than the communities actually spent in 1966."

He said the War on Poverty would be forced to retreat on several fronts: "There would be no money for summer programs; Teen-age programs will be curtailed; and 8,000 young men will be kept out of Job Corps centers."

$500,000 sent by United Negro Fund

New York, N. Y. — The United Negro College Fund recently distributed $500,000 to its 33 member colleges and universities, it was announced by Dr. Stephen J. Wright, the Fund's President.

The money will be used by the Fund's member institutions to bolster scholarship aid to more than

Shot in Leg Friday, Is at Broadlawn

John Oakley, 26, of 1613 Gillette street, is reported in fair condition at Broadlawn Polk County Hospital with a gunshot wound in his right leg.

He was seen stretched out on the sidewalk at 1314 14th street by cruising police, but refused to tell them what had happened.

Job for Dropouts Over Draft Hassle

Washington — Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz has declared that neither a military draft lottery nor a deferment system is as "serious an affront to American principle" as the "bingo" game a dropout has to play in seeking a job.

Calling for "a rational, equitable and effective" policy for youth, Mr. Wirtz suggested establishment of community "Opportunity Boards" where youths would register on reaching age 18 or quitting school.

Gets Shot in Hand, Louis Busch is Held

An argument between two men ended with one man having a gunshot wound in his right hand.

35 year old Irving Tompkins, of 1155 9th street was taken to Broadlawn Polk County Hospital shortly before midnight last Thursday, and Louis O. Busch, 33, who gave his address as 1183 12th street, was accused of shooting him, and was jailed for parole violation.

Woman

The argument was reportedly over a woman, Detective Lt. Jack Beardsley explained, who said that three shots were fired with a .22 caliber pistol during a fracas in the 800 block of 16th street.

Busch had been serving a term for burglary at the State Penitentiary in Fort Madison. He was charged with assault with a deadly weapon and then released on $600 bond.

Negro Ambassador In Syrian Troubles

The U.S. ambassador to hostile Syria — "probably the most anti-American government with whom we maintain diplomatic relations" — is winning friends for the United States by taking to the streets like a politician on the campaign trail," reveals Ebony magazine in its December issue.

"In this situation, there are two ways of operating. You either stay very occupied or you're totally isolated and do nothing," said Ambassador High H. Smythe.

"I believe you've got to get out with the masses and engage in people-to-people diplomacy." Smythe is the U. S. Negro ambassador to serve in the Middle East.

The former Brooklyn College sociology professor and long-time expert on international affairs took over the diplomatic hot spot in Syria in October, 1965 — and is working with the third Syrian government since that time.

"This job is nothing but crises," he said.

The ambassador has visited all 12 Syrian states, "talking to people in villages, factories, schools and other institutions," and he has become a familiar figure on the streets of Damascus.

Police—Nutshell

Denver, Colo. — Oscar Armstead Jr., 33, was convicted last Thursday evening of kidnapping and raping a 20 year old North Denver woman last Sept. 11. The jury acquitted Armstead of assault with a deadly weapon.

Marshall Fogel and Jim DeRose, deputy district attorneys, produced seven witnesses to establish this chain of events.

The victim and her boyfriend had been to Stapleton International Airport.

Memphis, Tenn. — "She was down on her knees hollering," said J. D. Simmons. "She was praying for someone to get her baby. I called the Fire department."

The baby was Sandra King, 1, who burned to death as her mother stood outside their one-story frame duplex and screamed for help.

Police said the fire, at 2421 Golden, was started about 1:15 p.m. by the child's 5-year-old brother, Curtis King, who was playing with matches. The victim was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam King.

Her younger brother, 3-month-old Samuel King, received second and third degree burns on his right

Wilkins and Meredith Feud Widens in Columbus

James Meredith and Roy Wilkins have a personal conflict between them for more than two years, and it cropped up again in connection with Meredith's scheduled talk in Columbus, Ohio.

Wilkins, executive secretary of the National Association of the Advancement of Colored People ordered the Columbus branch, President, the Rev. Ward Parham, to cancel the speech, Meredith said that the methods of the civil rights organization "can no longer produce anything of significance."

Criticism

It was this criticism of the chapters and of Negro leadership which has led Meredith and Wilkins to friction.

In a recent article to the Saturday Evening Post, Mr. Meredith said: "The people are tired of the way every American President used the NAACP national office as the 20th century house Negro and the way the NAACP bows to play that role."

To the civil rights organization, this was the unkindest cut of all. The feeling against Meredith was intensified when the national office learned that he was to receive a $500 honorarium for his Ohio speech. It had been expected that Meredith would help the NAACP's fund raising efforts. Meredith clashed often with leaders and set up his own educational fund named after himself.

Mrs. Daye Charged In Hit and Run Sun.

Jailed overnight in lieu of a $1,100 bond Sunday was Mrs. Rita Fay Daye, 29, of 1519 Center street, charged with failure to give aid and information to the injured plus failure to stop at a boulevard after she plowed her car with another auto Saturday.

Mrs. Daye apparently ran a stop sign at Tenth street and Keosauqua way, running broadside into the car driven by Mrs. Mary E. Risolvato, 43, of 3018 Mann avenue.

Pursued

Robert E. Taylor, 19, Mrs. Daye's friend, after seeing what happened, chased her car north on 12th street until she ran her car into the St. Paul A.M.E. Church, where police arrested her.

Fire Causes $1000 Damages at Home Here

A vacant house at 1119 13th street was damaged Friday about 5:30 p.m. Fire Department Capt. Floyd Hartzler said the fire, causing about $10,000 damage, was completely burned out in the three upstairs rooms.

The two-story frame house is owned by Iva Hayes of Los Angeles, Calif., who has been trying to rent it. Authorities believe children playing in the house might have started the fire.

Selma, Ala. — Stokely Carmichael, leader of SNCC has been fined $100 and sentenced to 60 days in jail for hard labor.

Carmichael, who spoke in California recently, pleaded his own case, since his own lawyer had been denied to plead a case in the court, not being licensed in Alabama.

Green Power for Negroes White Accounts Pledge Transfer to Soul Banks

Atlanta, Ga. — The Southern Christian Leadership Conference has won an unprecedented and historic victory in boosting Negro business income and providing more and better jobs for Negroes.

Dr. Luther King, Jr., president of the Civil Rights organization, said today that a little-noticed development in Chicago "portends dramatic new strides toward economic freedom for America's black people."

He referred to a pioneer agreement between the Chicago Freedom Movement and a large grocery chain. Chain store executives accepted demands that they sell products manufactured by Negro companies and put money spent by Negroes in Negro banks.

Advancement

The food chain also agreed to hire 183 Negroes at its stores in Negro neighborhoods of Chicago and to guarantee prompt advancement of present Negro employees to better-paying jobs.

Dr. King declared that a drive for similar gains at other companies will be intensified, as part of SCLC's economic development program.

The Chicago agreement was the most stunning success yet for "Operation Breadbasket," the jobs-and-income branch of SCLC.

This program on many occasions has won hundreds of new jobs and promotions for Negroes in Chicago and the South.

In the latest agreement, Rev. Jesse Jackson, Chicago Director of Operation Breadbasket, led a group of ministers in bargaining with High-Low Foods, Inc., a food chain with 50 outlets in Chicago, including 14 in Negro districts.

The High-Low covenant "is a most significant victory," Dr. King explained, "because it shows that a large white-dominated company now understands that money spent by its Negro customers should remain in the Negro community."

One traditional pattern of economic injustice has been the draining of Negro expenditures from the Negro community into the pockets of white bankers and white job-holders. Another pattern is the exclusion of Negro products from the competitive market by the giants of the nation's tightly controlled white commerce and industry.

Agreement

High-Low agreed with SCLC to: 1) Integrate all levels of the company's business operations and start training programs to fill new openings for Negroes.

It is a common practice for large companies operating in Negro neighborhoods to hire Negroes only for menial work, or hire one or two Negroes as a means of visual "token integration."

2) Transfer bank accounts of its stores in Negro communities from powerful downtown financial institutions to local Negro-owned banks.

In the past, big deposits which help finance economic growth have not been available to Negro banks because the biggest companies put their millions into the vaults of the powerful white Establishment banks.

3) Place on High-Low shelves products made by six Negro businesses.

Typically, their products have been kept out of big chain stores, SEE PAGE TWO

by e. tate

I got a definition of "soul" this weekend by Rudy Johnson, one of the 3 INCORPORATES, out of Columbus, Ohio.

"Soul," he said softly. "To play swinging jazz depends on the soul in the person. Bo Diddley plays soulful rock. Take Jimmy Smith, Ramsey Lewis—they're soulful."

"Did you hear about riot in Kansas City, after the James Brown concert?" I asked him. He hadn't heard about it, so I told him.

"What is obscene dancing anyway? If the soul brothers and sisters do it, it's something wrong."

"Peacebreaking music does that—dancing should be used to release steam. To subdue dancing results in something else."

"Back in pagan times there was dancing to the gods."

The 3 INCORPORATES consist of Hershal Davis, 27, single, percussion; Rudy Johnson, the old man at 29, married four years to Sylvia; and Robert Pierce, 24, at the organ.

Said they didn't have any favorite tunes. "It depends on the mood. I Not like Buck Owens, really. I like Debussey. We feel along with the audience, more or less, to play to make people happy. Music must be satisfying or the whole effort is wasted."

Rudy told me about a program he saw on television not long ago about the Blackstone Rangers, a gang in Chicago.

"These guys were playing it cool one Sunday and went to Church. Turned their weapons in at the door, went in and sat down — the cops raided the place, told the minister to get them out, putting all the blame on these guys, when they hadn't done anything."

"They've back where they started from."

He said that his trio began performing about a year ago. After Christmas, plans call for releasing some of the tapes they've made.

"We really like to do concert, rather than (be guest artists at) dances. There we have to do clowning sort of thing and play the same type of music."

With a concert, you have a listening audience."

Mort L. Nasatir, President of MGM Records, has announced the signing of Arthur Prysock to a long-term contract on Verve Records. All of Prysock's recordings for Verve will be personally supervised by Hy Weiss, veteran disc man and owner of the Old Town label on which Prysock appeared before his second disc on Verve, "Art & Soul." His first with Count Basie was a solid seller.

In commenting on the signing, Nasatir noted the excellent sales track record Prysock has had on Old Town and also reflected on his importance to Verve. "Arthur," Nasatir said, "is a unique talent and we are most proud to have him with us. He fills a particular need in our expansion plans for Verve Records, and we are concentrating our promotion and advertising plans on his "Art & Soul" album and two more upcoming releases in January."

"Simulated" Sex Act Breaks K.C. Dance, Ends in Brawl Fri.

Kansas City, Mo. — Thirteen persons were hurt in a knife-stabbing, bottle throwing fight that broke out the rock 'n' roll show at the Kansas City Municipal Auditorium last Thursday night and early Friday.

The outbreak apparently blew up over which couple had won a $150 prize in a 'drop-out dance contest.'

Sex Act

Only two couples were left in the contest when one began what police termed 'a simulated sex act.' Officials called the contest a tie.

In minutes, police said, the situation was out of hand. More than 65 officers had to be summoned.

Bottles

Eight persons were treated for cuts, bruises and a stab wound, and five policemen were hit by flying liquor bottles.

This was not a racial riot," said Chief Kelley. "One guy bumps another, then they slug each other, and it breaks out."

According to police, this was the largest disturbance of its kind that he was aware of in Kansas City history.

Twenty-seven adults were arrested. Three persons fired blanks, but caused no damage.

Guest artists on the show included James Brown and the Famous Flames, Bobbie Byrd and the Jelly Beans.

San Francisco, Calif. — According to police, Willie Kent, 47, was walking on the south side of Fulton St. Close to Webster St. where two men and a woman, standing approximately 25 or 30 feet from the corner, were involved in a heated argument.

When Kent drew about even with the trio, one of the men drew a gun from his pocket, shouted, "God damn all of you," and fired in the direction of the other two.

The bullet ploughed into Kent's abdomen.

St. Louis, Mo. — A man and his sister-in-law were found dead in the back seat of an auto in the garage of his home Tuesday.

Police said the dead man's wife found the bodies. She identified the man as being Alvin Woolfolk, 30, and the woman was Mrs. Glendora Johnson, 27.

The police report said the pair were found dead clad in their undergarments. Carbon monoxide asphyxiation was given as the cause of their deaths.

Questions & Answers About Your Taxes

Q — My wife and I are both college students who are supported by our parents. Each of us earned less than $600 last summer and think we should get a refund of the withheld income tax. Can we file for a refund without endangering the exemption our parents take for us?

A — Yes. Both of you can file your return to get your refund. Your parents can still claim exemptions for you and your wife if they provided more than half the support for each of you.

Q — I owe some taxes for last year. When I was called into your office about this, they said they would attach my salary unless I agreed to settle up. Could you really attach my salary?

A — Under the law, IRS may attach salaries and other property when it is necessary to protect the revenue. These measures are taken only when a taxpayer refuses or neglects to satisfy a tax liability.

Q — I came into a small inheritance. Do I have to declare that as income when I file my federal income tax return?

A — No. There is no federal income tax on inheritances. There is a federal estate tax, however, which is levied on the total inheritance before it is distributed to the beneficiaries. Income from your inherited property is taxable income.

Q — How soon will the new tax forms be ready? I want to get my refund as soon as I can.

A — Tax forms will be available at IRS offices as well as at many post offices and banks the first of the year. Most taxpayers will receive either a 1040 or 1040A tax package in the mail.

Q — Every Christmas I help one of our local charities with their fund-raising drive. Can I take a deduction for the time I devote to this?

A — No, the value of your time or services is not deductible. Any out of pocket expenses you incur as a result of the charitable work may be deducted as a charitable contribution.

Baby Fats, Slum Child, Has an I.Q. Above 190

Detroit, Mich. — Baby Fats, a 10-year-old victim of Detroit's inner-city slums, was a monumental trial to the public schools until he found a teacher with whom he could shoot craps to learn mathematical probability.

A small squadron of poverty warriors tested Baby Fats, found that his intelligence quotient was so high it could only be estimated at "above 190," and placed him in an unusual pilot program for gifted children.

Sources at the Office of Economic Opportunity in Washington the anti-poverty agency believe that the program which will soon begin on a regular basis with about 120 extremely brilliant youngsters may be the only one of its kind in the nation.

The Detroit project involves children in the fifth — eight grades and is envisioned as a year-long endeavor. Further, it is strictly limited to those with I.Q.'s of more than 130 and most participants are above the 140 level.

You Can Make Meringue Cookies

By Betty Barclay

"MAKE 'EM YOURSELF!" You can. These glamorous meringue cookies that you used to have to buy from a fancy bakery, you can now make yourself in less than half an hour! Three dozen of them — 100¢ worth — enough to serve with elegance at an evening card party.

Chocolate Meringue Cookies
1 cup chocolate chips; 3 egg whites; 2 cups sifted confectioners' sugar; 1/2 cup saltine cracker crumbs; 1/2 cup chopped pecans; 1 teaspoon vanilla. Melt chocolate over hot water. Cool. Beat egg whites until stiff. Add sugar gradually, beating after each addition until blended. Then fold in cracker crumbs, nuts, vanilla, and melted chips. Drop from teaspoon on lightly greased baking sheet and spread slightly. Bake in moderate oven (375°F.) about 10 minutes. Makes about 3 dozen 2-inch cookies. Store in tightly covered container.

Show

Earlier this fall Mr. Piggee presented his own fashion show featuring Murio Boggs, Mary Hobb, Karen Piggee, Minnette Copeland and Jody Brown of Aladden Court of Charm School and Penny Springs.

The commentary was presented by Gloria Miller and organist was Alice Marlynn Boyd for a capacity crowd at the Knights of Columbus Hall, 24th and Woodland.

He also toured with Vogue Esquire models, directed by Carlton M. Hamilton of Chicago.

"It was a wonderful experience," says James.

All club sets are alerted for Mr. Piggee's '67 fashion show to feature the "10 Best Dressed Women of Des Moines". These will be chosen from all Des Moines clubs.

Opportunity Conf. To be Held Dec. 29

Des Moines area college seniors and juniors attending schools throughout the state and country will be given a close look at what central Iowa has to offer, career-wise, on Thursday, Dec. 29.

On that day, the first Greater Des Moines Career Opportunities Conference will be conducted by the Manufacturers and Wholesalers Bureau of the Greater Des Moines Chamber of Commerce.

Robert Elde, chairman of the Conference, said the one-day program is designed to acquaint central Iowa college students — mainly juniors and seniors — with the wide variety of career opportunities offered by businesses and industries in the area.

The Conference will be held on the Drake University campus. Employer-student interview sessions will be conducted in the Drake fieldhouse, where individual booths will be provided for all participating firms.

Registration

Registration will begin at 9 A.M., with the morning interviews lasting until noon. A luncheon for all students will be held in the Drake dining hall at noon, followed by a full afternoon of interviews, ending at 5 P.M.

Any student or parent of a student, wishing to make pre-registration arrangements for the Career Opportunities Conference may do so by contacting the Chamber of Commerce office, Eighth and High.

The pact with High-Low will open job opportunities and guarantee promotions for Negroes, thereby establishing and increasing Negro salaries. Money in Negro banks will generate new funds for development of Negro income and enterprise. And when High-Low contracts for Negro-made products, it benefits the Negro manufacturers and their employees.

"This agreement," Rev. Jackson declared, "means green power for Negroes in their own communities." Dr. King stated: "We intend, through Operation Breadbasket, to escalate and broaden our drive for similar economic achievements, both in Chicago and in the South."

Opening

Rev. Jackson announced the opening of negotiations on the same basic points with another grocery chain which has stores in the Chicago ghetto. "We want more than 350 new jobs for Negroes in this corporation, and new business for Negro banks and products," he said.

"And that is not all. We will soon be moving on to other large food chains which can and should provide even greater gains."

Service is as important as the product you buy.

Save money by making sure... before you buy... that reliable repair service is available locally.

Six rules of buying a product that will need maintenance or repair:

1. Expect good sales service. If you don't get it you're likely to have trouble when you need repairs.

2. A guarantee is only as good as the organization behind it. Read it carefully.

3. Think of the product in terms of need for maintenance and availability of parts and service.

4. A good product name is essential but not enough if facilities for service are lacking.

5. Utility companies may be able to tell you where to obtain good service.

6. A dealer with adequate service facilities may have to charge a slightly higher price for the product.

You save in the long run with those who have facilities for good service.

AUTOMOTIVE

AVOID costly Transmission repairs; special overhaul includes ALL labor and E-Kit Parts, only $59.50. Easy Terms. Lifetime Transmission, 1304 Locust, 288-6707.

Estes Funeral Home In Renewal Sweep

Estes and Son Funeral have only two more years to decide before urban Renewal begins.

"We've been on 14th street since 1938," said Mr. Estes, Jr. "I don't have the slightest idea where we'll be relocated. We've been trying to find out which business area will be developed in the Urban Renewal."

When asked if there was any particular reason Negroes went to Negro Funeral Directors rather than the closest one, he said that "Negroes don't get the extra service from white directors. It's tradition plus the services involved. They (white) make one or two calls and that's it. We put in more to the man-hour per case."

Free Lunch Program In Force Twenty Yrs.

The National School Lunch Program is now a well-recognized part of elementary and secondary school programs.

According to the U.S. Department of Agriculture, more than 71,000 public and non-profit private schools served lunches to some 18 million youngsters daily during the 1965-66 school term.

The School Lunch Program makes it possible for children to enjoy a complete and nutritious lunch for about 27 cents. Donations of food and cash by the USDA's Consumer and Marketing Service help keep child payments for lunch to a minimum.

Non-profit

To receive aid, schools must agree to the requirements of the National program. Cafeterias must be run on a non-profit basis, children must be served free or at a reduced price if they cannot afford to pay, and lunches must supply a half to a third of each child's daily nutrition needs. The program is opened to all children regardless of religious or racial background.

Mrs. Zales said that by Dec. 19, her committee expects to have from 300 to 500 new life Members enrolled in the National Council of Negro Women. This, she said, will yield from $30,000 to $50,000 toward a special fund to advance the council's programs in education, civil rights, housing as well as an energetic effort against juvenile delinquency.

TEENS COOK:

CHRISTMAS LEMON COOKIES
(Makes 4 Dozen)
½ cup butter or margarine
1 cup sugar
1 egg
2-½ cups sifted all purpose flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
¼ cup ReaLemon bottled lemon juice

Ornamental Icing
Cream together butter and sugar until smooth and sugar is completely dissolved; add egg and beat well.

Sift together dry ingredients—flour, baking powder, salt; add to creamed butter and sugar, alternating during the mixing of butter and sugar and other ingredients portions of ReaLemon, folding juice into mixture thoroughly. Chill several hours or overnight. Roll out ¼-inch thick; cut into festive shapes with cookie cutter. Place on greased cookie sheet or shallow baking pan (a sheet of aluminum foil can be substituted for cookie sheet) and bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees), 10 minutes. Cool. Decorate with fancy designs using a pastry tube filled with Ornamental Icing.

To Make Ornamental Icing: Blend (mix) 1 cup sifted confectioner's sugar; ¼ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon vanilla and enough cream to make an icing that will hold its shape, but can be pressed through a pastry tube. Add red or green food icing to the icing mixture for color and variety, if desired.

The Light Touch

There's one thing you can say for children: You never see them pulling out pictures of their grandparents.

Asked what he had done with all his money, he gave a winning smile and answered: "Part of it went for liquor and fast automobiles, and part of it went for women. The rest I spent foolishly."

Letter received by a congressman: "Please don't improve my lot in life any further. I can't afford it."

After all, it cost more nowadays to amuse the child than it did to educate the parent.

If you sit back quietly and watch the world go by—it will!

Don't just sit there when you need the proper medication to relieve that cold. Dash right over to Williams Pharmacy, 1103 University Ave., Phone 243-1253.

JUDGE LUTHER T. GLANTON'S admiring juror, Mrs. Edward Kasak, had this to say after recent jury service: "He is one of the finest gentlemen! And I mean that. In my jury duty, I think of all the judges, I enjoyed him most. He was the most considerate and he has a true sense of humor. I really do admire him. I already know Mrs. Glanton and I already like her, but I had not met him." During a court recess, Mrs. Kasak and two other women were searching for food machines, or better still, a canteen. Spying the Judge, she pointed out that the court should do better about food. He observed that there had been machines at one time. Suggesting the closest eating place, he then learned they were without a car. He was leaving the building and, being the gentleman the lady insists that he is, dropped them off. "Therefore," she continues, "I think you feel closer to him because he goes out of his way to make people feel good. Wherever I see him, I know he will be just the same."

JOSEPHINE JONES, representing the Catholic Youth Center at Drake University, attended the first fall meeting of the Recreational Unit of the Council of Social Agencies, held at the Hawley Building. One of the three high school students reporting on international youth conferences they attended was Gary Anderson of Valley High. He represented the YMCA and talked about Norway, showing slides of that country. The Monarch Club participated in sponsoring Gary, Mrs. Jones said.

Many of you will remember John as Manager of Younkers Eastgate Camera Center.

DIMITAR KRUSTEV'S recent opening of The Moods of Europe paintings done during his Summer of 1966 travels through Europe was so absorbing. It was beautiful — it was one's very own summer in Europe. Within this room filled with pictures were the quiet times, the gay night times, the artists, dancers, singers you knew personally; a poet, children at play, lovely oldsters, and gay resorts. Thoughtfully circling the displays, meeting these people, seeing these places, one was there! The address was Grand Gallery, 4715 Grand Avenue, but the place was Europe.

BALLET was first seen Feb. 7, 1827, in New York City's Bowery Theatre showing of "The Deserter". The danseuse, Madame Francisquy Hutin, who first presented the modern ballet wore a dress of gauze, and "a sort of subdued expression of fear and terror simultaneously rose from the ladies present, and then . . . and then they fled from the theatre. (New York Clipper, Nov. 23, 1872).

STRIKES HURT THE WHOLE PEOPLE

There was a time when the public could not conceive of a strike by public school teachers and nurses. Today, they are occurring every week. Add to these strikes by public transportation and light and power employees and we get a situation where it becomes common place to inconvenience the public with impunity.

Prior to the rise in numbers and power of labor organizations in the early thirties, management had, on some occasion, used its power to control industry and many activities including government. That power was not always used wisely although it often paralyzed the ordinary course of things.

Since labor combined to demand and get their wishes, practically every other group has a union or association organized to do the same thing. And while every segment of the population is entitled to a fair share of the economy, we cannot condone strikes by public utility employees and nurses all of which have a peculiar place in our daily life.

Laws should be passed preventing such strikes with compulsory binding arbitration so as to prevent these strikes for not only do they injure the public but also the striker who is usually penalized, gets behind in his bills and never catches up.

Settlement of big strikes have become political with the government in on the deal up to its neck. Politicians shy away from legislation which would protect the public as was the case last summer when the airplane mechanics were on strike. As yet labor-management problems are dealt with as each situation arises when legislation dealing with so broad a problem should lay down definite guidelines leading to settlement of disputes.

LET JOHN KENNEDY REST

President John F. Kennedy was assassinated three years ago. President Johnson appointed a commission, headed by Chief Justice Warren, to determine the facts surrounding the murder including the responsible parties.

The commission made its findings, which added little new to what had been told in the news media. It should be final.

But smart people are cropping up daily, all of whom were mature at the time of the assassination, with new theories mostly to disprove the finding of the Warren Commission.

While Mr. Kennedy has no say as to what these people will come up with, it is certain that he would rather rest in peace since any new findings will not bring him back or involve anyone other than those who have been dealt with.

NOTHING GAINED BY REJECTING CHINA BID

The United Nations, by a vote of 57 to 46, has refused for the sixteenth time to seat Communist China in that body. It also turned down a proposal by Italy for a high level study of China's representation problem, also one to seat both nationalist China headed by Chiang Kaishek and the communist government at Peking.

As a practical matter, the world can gain little by keeping Communist China out of the U. N. As much as we dislike the Peking government and what it stands for, the Nationalist government will never take over the mainland. They make no move in that direction. To attempt it would involve this country in another almost hopeless struggle.

The nationalist government continues to boast that they can again take the mainland meaning of course with our help.

The vote for the Peking government continues to gain support, with two of our allies, France and England, favoring the proposal. Canada has joined the forces against our position also.

More can be done, if anything, with China in the U.N. and most countries are leaning that way, in the meantime, trying to keep in the good graces of America from whom they are receiving aid.

THE COLLEGE FOOTBALL SEASON is nearing its regular end. People are still arguing about whether NOTRE DAME or MICHIGAN STATE is the nation's number one team. The two polls that rate those things split with one voting for NOTRE DAME and the other for you-know-who.

The boys who give away an award to the NATIONAL CHAMPS decided to give it to both teams. And so it goes.

SUNDAY NIGHT there was a showing of one of the ALL AMERICA football teams and the number of NEGROES on both the offense and defensive teams as surprising. On the defensive team was a guy from WASHINGTON STATE, TOM GREENLEE, whose dad played football, basketball and ran on the VALLEY High Track team a long time ago. ARCHIE GREENLEE was also a key man on the really good WILLKIE HOUSE softball and basketball teams.

Seems that HAROLD CAW had received the news from the GREENLEE family with whom he has a real friendship. He called yours truly and alerted us.

When Magazine all star teams are picked, about the middle of the season, it is always interesting to see how they compare with the others.

WE JUST can't see ALABAMA UNIVERSITY rated as one of the top teams simply because they are kings in their own league. Let them play a scheduled game like those of the other ranking teams and see how they do then. We think they would have a good team but they wouldn't be unbeaten year after year.

Well, so much for that. The basketball season is upon us as usual and the number one team is U.C.L.A., who hasn't played a game yet, but has a seven foot sophomore who is to lead them to the promised land. The national champions seem to be as tough as they were last year, so that title should be around quite a while.

HERE AT HOME ROOSEVELT HIGH has a couple Negroes — veteran Ken Whitney and a sophomore Toby Huston, who makes baskets from above the rim. These fellows are expected to give the RIDERS a big lift toward the umpteenth City title and possibly another state CROWN. HUSTON could develop into a really fine player in three years.

EAST, TECH and NORTH hope to have strong clubs and maybe one will. NORTH seems pretty rough right now.

And now did you see the telecast of the CLAY — WILLIAMS fight last week? The critics were right. The Clay feller is fast can punch. You can say CLAY hasn't fought anybody, but no champion ever does, because he stands out in his class. Until the champ loses, no can match him or he wouldn't be champ.

5 Negro Stars Named to All Am. Team

New York — Five Negro college football stars were named Monday to the 22-man Look Magazine All America team selected by the Football Writers Association of America.

Those chosen were Charles "Bubba" Smith and George Webster, Michigan State; Alan Page, Notre Dame; Mel Farr, UCLA and Ray Pryor, Ohio State.

The All America squad is announced in the current issue of Look. For the first time in two decades, separate offensive and defensive units were chosen.

Smith, a 6-foot, 7-inch, 285-pound defensive end, is one of the biggest and fastest linemen in Spartan history. Webster is the rover back or "Okie Monster" in the MSU secondary.

Page, who was named to the other defensive end post on the honor team, anchored the powerful Fighting Irish line.

Breakaway

Running back Farr was cited for his breakaway ability, savage backing and game-making pass reception talent. Pryor, a pre-med student who centered for the Buckeyes on offense and filled in as middle guard on defense, was acclaimed for his versatility.

Lloyd Phillips, Arkansas' 241-pound defensive tackle, was named by the FWAA to receive the Outland Trophy as the best interior lineman in the country.

Florida quarterback Steve Spurrier is the only holdover from the 1965 Look All America team. To win the honor, Spurrier had to beat out marksmen like Gary Beban of UCLA and Bob Griese of Purdue.

College Preps Roll For Michigan

Michigan State's Jim Raye probably won't make it as a pro quarterback — but the stumbling block will be size, not color, says the December issue of Ebony.

Signal-callers are coming down, but there's no way for Raye to get around the fact that he weighs only 170 pounds and stands just 5 ft. 10.

Anyhow, the Michigan State star has another year to play and is "not thinking of pro ball at the moment."

And if Raye's pro prospects are nearly as slim as he is, two other Negro quarterbacks now playing big-time college ball could make the pros in the views of some professional scouts. They are Hank Washington of West Texas State and Roy Stephens of Minnesota.

95 Yards

Washington, a senior, stands 6 ft. 3, weighs 205, and going into the fifth game of the season had clicked on 61 of 119 passes for 889 yards. There are reports that he can "toss a football 95 yards on the fly." And his coach, Joe Kerbel, says, "I would choose Hank over any other quarterback in the nation."

Stephens — Sandy Stephens' kid brother — is rated a good prospect because of his size (6 ft. 4, and 212 pounds). But he is only a sophomore, and before he makes the pros he'll have to make Minnesota's first team. Right now he's backup man behind another Negro quarterback, Junior Curt Wilson.

"I've been asked how I feel about having two Negro quarterbacks on the team," says Minnesota coach Murray Warmath. "Well, I've never had any prejudice against boys because of their color, but I'm prejudiced as hell against boys who can't block or tackle."

As to Stephens' prospects, his coach says, "He's good. He's quick and fast and has a real strong arm. The only thing he needs is game experience."
