POWELL-HIS CLOSET SKELETON RATTLED:

Congress Clipped Powell's Wings Opposed to Segregated Grant Site

Mrs. McKinnis Takes Stand on Head Start Program

Waterloo, Ia. — Mrs. Ruth B. McKinnis, Director of the Black Hawk County Department of Social Welfare and member of the Board of Directors of the CAP agency here, has called the Head Start Program a "false start."

She supports her claim to his appellation due to the controversy surrounding the Grant School being chosen as the site for Head Start, with the traditional school boundaries being used. Grant School is in the predominantly Negro Section.

Mrs. McKinnis says: "If Head Start is held at Grant School as a site, and the traditional school boundaries are used, only Negro children will attend this site. The same thing happens in other settings. We have a very deprived section in Riverview and Maywood. If traditional school boundaries are used, only poor whites will attend these sites."

Letter

In a letter, Mrs. McKinnis went on to say that she was concerned with the "poorwhite" children, too. "At this point," Mrs. McKinnis went on, "we are involved where some groups are taking the position that rather than eliminate Grant school children (the question is not on the children but the site) they would prefer a segregated site. To me, this is the same old, second best position to which we have always been forced to resort. "Personally, I am unalterably opposed to taking such a stand and if Grant School is to be operated as a segregated site, I would prefer that there be no Head Start there at all. I am opposed to any artificial setting."

Alberta Williams Wins in "Cash Call"

Mrs. Alberta Williams, of 715 S.E. 7th street, last week became $160 richer.

In a telephone conversation early one morning, she answered correctly the amount of money offered in a "Cash Call," from a local radio station.

"It took me off my feet," Mrs. Williams said. "I have a whole lot of use for it."

Grant Through with Combat Training

Camp Pendleton, Calif. — Marine Private Robert D. Grant, son of Mrs. Mary Manue of 1500 1/2 Maple street, has completed four weeks of individual combat training at this Marine Corps Base.

During his more than 200 hours of training, he learned about weapons and combat techniques from combat veteran instructors. They taught him how to conduct combat patrols, detect and remove mines and booby traps and use the standard Marine Corps infantry weapons.

He will now receive at least four weeks of specialist training before being assigned to his first permanent unit. Marines going to combat units will get detailed training in the particular combat skill they are designated for. Those who are going into technical fields will receive their advanced training at one of a variety of technical schools throughout the country.

Julian Bond Seated In Georgia House

Atlanta, Ga. — Democrat Julian Bond, once ousted from his seat in the Georgia House, Monday took his seat, after a 12 months battle.

In being sworn in, Bond testified that he was not a member of the Communist party, as did all the others.

Bond had been refused his seat earlier because of statements he made against the U.S. policy in Viet Nam.

"I don't want to be associated with a man who doesn't know whether or not he will commit treason," said James Floyd of Trion, who took his oath later with another group. Bond was seated under a U.S. Su-

Family Hassle Over Public School Tuition

Albany, N. Y. — The Commissioners of Education was asked by the Legal Defense Fund to permit an Alabama Negro teenager, now ward of a white family in Port Washington, to attend public schools there without payment of tuition.

Mary Elizabeth Moore, the youngest of five children of a Birmingham widow now living on social security, was placed in the Port Washington home of Richard and Margery Rosen.

This was done through the Student Transfer Education Program (STEP), an affiliate of the Urban League.

Gave her up

The Rosens, argued attorneys of the NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund, Inc. (LDF), have an affidavit from the girl's mother, Mrs. Maxine Moore. In this, they pointed out, Mrs. Moore "voluntarily relinquished full parental care" and authorized the Rosens to "make all decisions concerning her care, education, and maintenance."

Mr. Rosen, an architect and city planner educated at Carnegie Tech and Harvard, is in charge of Community Planning for Levitt and Sons, Inc., the largest builder of private homes in the country.

"Certainly," Jack Greenberg, LDF director-counsel, continued, "the Board allows other children cared for in family homes located in its district to attend its public schools without the payment of tuition."

"Why should Mary be treated differently?" he asked.

Friends Help Minister By Donating Cars

Within one week after an arson gutted two cars, their owner became the recipient of two more station wagons.

Rev. Orzellia Roberson, director of the Friendship City, 925 9th street was given a 1959 white Mercury station wagon Jan. 6 before the Polk County Court House. Donor was Major professor Donald F. Fryauf, of 4221 69th street, here in Des Moines. Prof. Fryauf heads the ROTC department at Drake University. The other, a 1958 green Ford station wagon, was given by an anonymous donor.

Fryauf

"He (Fryauf) called me up after seeing me on television. He was touched and concerned," said the Rev. "It has a red leather interior and is aid-conditioned. Everything is automatic. I didn't expect to own a car like that."

"I've been grateful for what we've had," she went on.

"Since the fire, people have brought food and boxes of clothing."

One of the most touching contributions, Mrs. Roberson said, came from Elmer Behn, of 213 Walnut, a pensioner, who had read about Friendship City's plight in the newspaper.

"He was touched by our work at Friendship City. We worked with people whom no one else wanted to have anything to do with," she explained.

"His initial pledge was $10, and he said he would come back every month and give that much or more. 'I want you to know that I'm in your corner,' Mr. Behn told me."

In regard to the arson, Rev. Roberson said she received calls from Omaha, Neb. from the same man who had threatened her earlier.

"Qualified librarians are much needed," said Miss Ernestine Graf-ton, Director of the Iowa State Traveling Library, as she urged interested persons to learn more about the scholarships available under the Library Services and Construction Act.

NEWS In A Nutshell

St. Louis, Mo. — Harvey James Simms, distributor and columnist of the St. Louis Argus in Webster Groves, Mo. died Dec. 30. Final rites were Monday, Jan. 2. Mr. Simms had been known as 'professor', having been a teacher and principal in the Webster Groves public schools.

Hattiesburg, Miss. — 125 year old Sylvester Magee has filed for divorce because it is not "nice for a man to run around with other while he was a wife." Magee's wife is in Poughkeepsie, N.Y. They separated in 1953.

Charleston, W. Va. — Police arrested 35 persons at a roller skating rink here Friday during a demonstration protesting the rink's segregation policy. Two persons were injured — reportedly when police used tear gas to disperse the group.

Wilmington, Del. — The Du Pont Company's program of aid to education for 1967 lists grants of more than $61,000 to 13 predominantly Negro colleges. In addition, the company is granting a total of $53,000 to two educational institutions and one technical society to conduct programs in the field of interracial education. Awards to predominantly Negro colleges include a capital grant of $15,000 to Dillard University, New Orleans, toward new wings on the science building. Iowa State University was among recipients.

Washington, D.C. — Vivian A. Ferrin has been appointed Agent-in-Charge of a new Passport Agency created by the U. S. Department of State and scheduled to open next month in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. The new Agency will process the ever-increasing number of applications for passports from the Pennsylvania, New Jersey, and Delaware area. The first Negro to be appointed to head a State Department Passport Agency, Mr. Ferrin will supervise up to 15 permanent employees.

Indianapolis, Ind. — As a direct result of the efforts of the Indianapolis NAACP Metropolitan Council, a Negro has been appointed an inspector in the Indianapolis Police Department for the first time in its history. Two days after Mayor John J. Barton announced the appointment of Capt. Spurgeon D. Davenport to the new post, he announced the dismissal of Police Chief Noel A. Jones. William Hardy, NAACP regional youth director, says, "we don't really know why Chief Jones was fired, but we've heard that it was because of the charges of discrimination which were included in a statement by the local NAACP to the Mayor."

Scholarships for study toward the Masters degree in Library Science are awarded by the Iowa State Traveling Library. Two candidates will be awarded study grants of at least $2,000, to attend library schools accredited by the American Library Association. Studying now under this program are Donna Chadwick, Rose Lechay and Susan Vaughn. Applications should be received by March 5, 1967, at the Iowa State Traveling Library.

Harlem Preacher Dropped By Committee; Voted Out of Seat on Tuesday

Washington, D.C. — Representative Adam Clayton Powell Tuesday was denied his seat in Congress until an investigation is conducted to decide upon his fitness to serve.

Powell lost his right to sit in the House Tuesday after Democrats stripped him of his chairmanship of the House Labor and Education Committee.

The vote to bar Powell was 364-64, but the true test vote came earlier on a House leadership motion to seat Powell and investigate him afterward. That was voted down 305-126.

The action was not an expulsion but an exclusion. An expulsion would amount to declaring the seat vacant and would lead to a special election.

Charges

The basic charges against him are that he fraudulently misused funds of his committee and that he has defied court judgments against him in the New York slander case involving Mrs. Esther James.

"There is no one in this House who doesn't have skeletons in his closet," Powell whispered. "I know them by name."

"Someone can offer the same resolution against any of you," he warned. "My conscience is clean. All I hope is you have a good sleep tonight."

Tuesday's house action marked only the third time that a member has been denied his seat on grounds that he was unqualified. The other cases involved a Mormon polygamist and a socialist convicted of sedition.

The Democratic leadership urged that Powell should not be denied his seat prior to a full hearing into the issues.

Southerners

But the Republican minority, joined by almost all southern Democrats and a smattering of northern Democrats, wanted Powell barred immediately.

Udall, Democratic Majority Leader Carl Albert and others who argued for Powell's temporary seating, all said that he was guilty of serious wrongdoings and probably should in the end be denied his seat.

Both Albert and Republican Leader Gerald Ford stressed that there were no racial overtones to action against Powell, which Powell has claimed.

Prejudice

But Albert and Udall cautioned that the House should proceed with utmost fairness because 20 million Negroes will believe that racial prejudice was involved.

Powell said to his supporters outside the Capitol, "This nation belongs to black people as well as white people. We're going to walk across this land and no one is going to turn us around."

Wright said the NAACP would assist and support civil rights and legislation which might be proposed by the Governor.

In closing, spokesmen for the NAACP said that they felt the problems discussed with Hughes should be given immediate attention.

Those meeting with the governor, besides Wright, included these persons, all of Des Moines:

John Estes, jr., president of the Des Moines Branch of N.A.A.C.P.; J. B. Morris, sr., and J. B. Morris, jr., state N.A.A.C.P. officials; James A. Thomas, State Civil Rights Commission director; Sol Davidson chairman, and Perry Hooks, executive director, of the Des Moines Human Rights Commission; Frank Robinson, jr., and Kermit Dunahoo, both of the Manpower Development Council.

THE BIG, HAPPY, BEATING HEART OF THE DETROIT SOUND

November 27, 1966
by Richard R. Lingeman

Those who think of "Detroit sound" as referring to the din of the auto assembly line intermingled with the muted wail of manufacturers announcing price increases on their 1967 models may be surprised to learn that in the pop record business the Detroit sound means the kind of music made by Motown Records, a relatively small company which sells more singles than any other company in the country.

What is more, Motown is a Negro-owned business, with mostly Negro performers and composers, whose musical style stems from what is called rhythm-and-blues music — in the past, a trade euphemism for a kind of music performed by Negroes and sold mainly to a Negro market. Due in a great degree to the popularity of a Motown singing group called the Supremes, Motown's records have attained national, as opposed to racial, best-sellerdom; and the company has become sort of the compact giant of rock 'n' roll, standing in relation to the real giants as George Romney's Rambler once did to the Big Three.

Why am I going to the Ford Auditorium? Why, damn it, I am going to the Soul Show, starring "Moms" Mabley and also a rhythm-and-blues group called Smokey Robinson and Miracles, which happens to be the very first of many such groups.

formed by Motown and has been with the company ever since it was founded in the late fifties by a young Negro auto worker and part-time song writer named Berry Gordy, Jr.

A word about "soul," a vogue word among Negroes having had a number of transmutations these days. Soul can mean a mild manifesting of race pride and social solidarity—"our thing" a shared emotional bond of unity and good feeling. In the early sixties there was a "soul music" movement among Negro jazz musicians, most of them conservatory-trained, advocating a return to the roots of Negro music for inspiration, a return to field hand chants, work songs, funky blues and gospel rhythms in what was a rejection of sophistication in favor of strong feeling. Some even felt compelled to eat "soul food"—deep South and ghetto dishes like ham hocks and collard greens, pigs' feets, pigs' knuckles and chitterlings.

A fraternal term, "soul brother," has had recent ominous manifestations, as in the Watts riots when Negro businessmen chalked it on their stores so the anti-white rioters would pass them by. It also operates as a commercial thing, as when New York's WWRL calls itself "soul brother radio" and gives its predominantly Negro audience a steady diet of rhythm-and-blues music an elemental, emotional kind of popular music with a strong, pounding beat, right down to an R and B version of the Pepsi singing commercial.

Now, in the pop music field, "soul" has entered the vocabulary as a loose description of the kind of music made by invariably Negro performers, many of whom record for Motown—Otis Redding, and the Supremes, who are Motown's star vocal group and probably the leading girl's vocal group in the world, based on their record sale and international appeal.

Inside the austere appointed auditorium, the Soul Show opens. Next come the Miracles, four cat-like young men attired in bright red shirts with flowing sleeves. Robinson does the solo, singing in a near-falsetto voice, and the other three back him while performing intricate whirling figures of choreography. At one point, a buttery Pearl

Southern Liberals Are 'Communist' Dupes

Washington, D. C. — Two hundred civil-rights activists have asked Congress to stop the House Un-American Activities Committee (HUAC) "from carrying out its plan to investigate uprisings in the black ghettos in this country."

The petitioners included top leaders and members of civil-rights groups operating in the South. They were joined by many other persons who have worked in the rights movement in recent years, as well as native Southerners now living outside the South.

Their petition was presented to the House of Representatives on the eve of the opening of the 90th Congress. Initiators of the petition said that signatures are still coming in.

Communists

The group told Congress that "For 28 years, Southerners working for political and economic democracy have been labeled Communists or Communist dupes by the Committee (HUAC). It has always proposed legislation to repress activists rather than to remedy social injustice."

"Therefore, we feel it is our responsibility to warn the rest of the country about the danger of this committee. We see no reason why its investigation into urban disturbances would have different results."

Signers of the petition included the Rev. Ralph Abernathy, vice-president and treasurer, Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC); Julian Bond, member, Georgia House of Representatives; Stokely Carmichael, chairman, Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee (SNCC); Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., president, SCLC; Floyd B. McKissock, national director, Congress of Racial Equality (CORE).

Petition

The petition further said: "For 28 years, Southerners working for political and economic democracy have been labeled Communists or Communist dupes by the Committee. It has always proposed legislation to repress activists rather than to remedy social injustice. The Committee insinuates that ideas and movements concerned with ending the problems of racial injustice in our society are treasonous. This attitude has resulted in an atmosphere in which unknown numbers of Southerners have hidden their desire to end racism because the feared harassment at loss of their jobs or their lives."

"Two Southern segregationists on this Committee will be in charge of overseeing the preliminary investigation. One of them, Representative John Buchanan of Alabama, recently called the use of civil disobedience by the civil-rights movement a cause of outbreaks in the urban ghettos."

To climax the evening, Harris said he will pass out cash gifts to members of his family.

Bailey voice wafts down from the balcony: "When you get done singing, Smoke, you come on up here."

"Moms" Mabley closes the show with some wry jokes about crime in the streets—to borrow Mr. Goldwater's phrase — encountered while walking down "Saint Ann'twine" (St. Antoine) street in Detroit, and tells of the poor beggar who came up to her and said in a pitiful voice: "Moms, Moms, I aint got any money. I ain't got any friends. I ain't got any warm clothes. I ain't got nuthin'" — her voice shifts into menace — "cept this gun!" She closed with a pitch for brotherhood to the tune of "Together": If we do the right thing together/We'll bring peace together/No more black and white/Only wrong and right."

And so on. Such is the current state of soul, baby.

Shooting Legislation Comes in Congress Soon

A major segment of the nation's Act would clarify the distinct difference between purely military armament, useless in any sportsense, and those fore-arms commonly and properly used by this nation's sportsmen in their hunting and target shooting," he said.

The 102-member Foundation of the National Shooting Sports represents not only the major manufacturers of sporting arms and ammunition, but also the manufacturers of shooting accessories, hunting clothes and publishers in the outdoor field.

Unlawful

"The Hruska-type bill would make it unlawful for any licensed dealer or manufacturer to transport firearms in interstate commerce where it would be in contravention of state laws," Dick explained. "These procedures would provide the framework for state and local authorities to restrict the shipment of firearms to juvenile delinquents, the mentally unbalanced, addicts and the criminality inclined."

"It puts complete control over mortars, bazookas, cannons and similar military left-overs where it belongs, under the National Firearms Act of 1934 which provides for registration and heavy transfer tax on each sale. This act now covers machine guns and saved-off shotguns and is the logical Act to control heavy military weapons."

Job and Training

FRANK ROBINSON, JR.
MANPOWER COUNCIL

The participation of minority group persons in pre-apprenticeship or apprenticeship programs within the State of Iowa have been for all practical purposes non-existent. It now appears, however, that federal government's enforcement of Executive Order 11246 and Title VII of the 1964 Civil Rights Act will insure equal opportunities for training and employment for all individuals regardless of race. For these reasons minority groups should be alerted to and take advantage of pre-apprenticeship and apprenticeship training programs that will operate within the state.

Following is a brief description of what pre-apprenticeship and apprenticeship training is and how one may go about taking advantage of the opportunities that are available in these areas.

Pre-apprenticeship training is the preparation for entry into an apprenticeship program. The individual who possesses the interest and potential skill for a apprenticeable trade may qualify for this training. This training usually lasts from six to eight weeks with an on-going evaluation being made to determine the individual's suitability for an apprenticeship program. The standards for admission to a pre-apprenticeship program are not as rigid as those for an apprentice program — this enables one to demonstrate his interest in, and ability for, the particular craft while in the training program rather than being included or excluded entirely upon test results. Although a high school diploma is preferred, many pre-apprenticeship programs will accept individuals who have satisfactorily passed the General Education Development Test (GED) and have in their possession the High School Equivalency Certificate.

Apprenticeship is training for those occupations known as the skilled crafts, and requires a wide and diverse range of skills and knowledge as well as maturity and independence of judgement.

To be continued next week.

The Iowa State Manpower Development Council, at Des Moines, will supervise the statewide project, arranging with employers to give up to 26 weeks of training in a variety of occupations. Employers may be reimbursed for their instruction costs, and will pay wages to the employees while in training.

Service Center

A Manpower Services Center designed to provide comprehensive and individualized employment assistance to any individual who needs it has been put into operation in Des Moines, the Iowa Employment Security Commission announced. Part of a nationwide program to develop manpower resources, the new Manpower Services Center will supplement the services now offered by the local office of the Iowa State Employment Service and the Youth Opportunity Center.

On-Job-Training

On-the job training for 662 Iowa workers, a majority of whom are "hard-core" unemployed, will be provided under a Manpower Development and Training Act program, announced Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz.

Our Chance to Change The Filibuster Rule

"Within this week, the fight to change the filibuster rule will be joined on the Senate floor," said Arnold Aronson, secretary of the Leadership Council on Civil Rights. When the 90th Congress convened on Jan. 10, the first order of business will be the adoption of its rules. And that is when our chance to modify Rule XXII occurs.

"The Leadership Conference, as our last few memos and messages attest, has been working to mobilize support for a change that will make it easier to end filibusters. At this moment the prospects for a change look good. They will look even better if we can have your help in these last few days.

A Majority Should Prevail

Our canvasses of the members of the new Senate indicate a majority is ready to modify Rule XXII and ease the strangle-hold of unlimited debate. What needs to be established is that at the opening of a new Congress a majority can adopt and change the rules and not two-thirds of those present and voting.

A bipartisan group of six Senators has already argued this view in a round robin letter to all Senate members. They affirm the position advanced by Vice President Nixon in a 1957 advisory opinion that "when the membership of the Senate changes . . . the majority of the new existing membership . . . under the Constitution, has the power to determine the rules under which the Senate will proceed." You Can Make Meringue Cookies

By Betty Barclay

"MAKE 'EM Yourself!" You can. These glamorous meringue cookies that you used to have to buy from a fancy bakery, you can now make yourself in less than half an hour! Three dozen of them, too; enough to serve with elegance at an evening card party.

1 cup chocolate chips; 3 egg whites; 2 cups sifted confectioners' sugar; 1/4 cup saltine cracker crumbs; 1/2 cup chopped pecans; 1 teaspoon vanilla. Melt chocolate over hot water. Cool. Beat egg whites until stiff. Add sugar gradually, beating after each addition until blended. Then fold in cracker crumbs, nuts, vanilla, and melted chips. Drop from teaspoon on lightly greased baking sheet and spread slightly. Bake in moderate oven, (375°F) about 10 minutes. Makes about 3 dozen 2-inch cookies. Store in tightly covered container.

HEALTH FOR ALL

Is it true what they say about non-smoking? What happens when a heavy smoker quits? Can he really reap quick and important health dividends?

If you happen to have a personal stake in those questions (millions do), these are thought-provoking answers for you in a couple of reports from the science front.

One is in the form of a statement by Drs. Ernest L. Wynder and Payson Fairchild, Jr., researchers at the Sloan-Kettering Institute. In the American Review of Respiratory Disease, published by the National Tuberculosis Association, they tell about their studies in the connection between cigarette smoking, coughing, and certain lung ailments. Studies of ex-smokers, they report, show that "persistent cough disappears rapidly the letter were Senators Joseph S. Clark (D., Pa.) and Clifford P. Case (R., N.J.), joined by Philip A. Hart (D., Mich.), Jacob K. Javits (R., N.Y.), William Proxmire (D., Wis.), and Thomas H. Kuchel (R., Calif.).

"The Post declares 'the time has come to sweep away this irrational handicap.' And we agree with that."

when people stop smoking, indicating that at least some of the pathologic alterations leading to cough are reversible."

In everyday language, "pathologic alterations" means physical damage. "Reversible" means capable of being corrected. In short, the article answers a familiar question: "If I've been smoking and smoking, coughing and coughing, isn't it too late to benefit by quitting?" The answer is, in most cases, no.

In the other report, Dr. Gene M. Smith of Harvard Medical School studied personality traits of nearly 1,500 students to see whether different characteristics showed up between smokers and non-smokers. He found the smokers more "disagreeable, more demanding, less good-natured, less responsible, with poorer manners. He assured smokers (after all, they include some of his friends) that the difference isn't universal. But it follows a distinct pattern.

Got the message? If you want at least a good chance to get rid of that lingering cough, stop smoking. On the other hand, if you want to go along with the implications of Dr. Smith's research, get over on

TO DEPUTY SHERIFF AND MRS. G. B. TUCKER a bouquet of roses and congratulations on their 25th Wedding Anniversary New Year's Weekend! (We wish you continued health and happiness.)

CECIL H. NEWMAN'S MINNEAPOLIS SPOKESMAN AND ST. PAUL RECORDER PLANT was number one on Mary Hyde's Twin Cities' Tour for me. I first met Louise Davis, who is in charge of Classification and Circulation, Next Harriet Jones, Social and Personal News writer. Harriet, leading the tour, introduced Curtis Chivers, Advertising Manager and James Sisson, Advertising. We then viewed plant machinery. The building is attractive, spacious and fully equipped, making one realize the foresight, sound management and hard work which have gone into the steering of this establishment. (Personally, I took especial notice of the ladies' lounge and liked what I saw!) The Editor and Publisher returned at this time and graciously shared interesting facts concerning the new building. Most of you know that he is the husband of Des Moines' Launa Quincey Newman.

ANITA TURNER AND HELIAN-THE M. SILOS joined our group. Anita had stopped by to permit Helianthe, her cousin, to visit the new plant and meet its staff while vacationing here from Balamarbo, capital of Surinam. (Surinam? It is a part of Queen Juliana's Kingdom of The Netherlands. Surinam is an equal partner in that government, is self-governing but has not outside affairs; Holland takes care of foreign affairs.) Mrs. Silos is Director of Home Economics. Her son, Humphrey Balamen, is a Central High Senior.

SPENCER ELLISTON appeared in Mr. Newman's interesting collection of pictures we next saw. Mr. Elliston was in a Meeting of The Publishers Association in 1940 and held at Kansas City, Missouri. Others pointed out to me were C. C. De-Jole of New Orleans; Roscoe Dungee of Oklahoma City; Carter Wesley, Houston; Wm. Walker of Cleveland and Milton Bledsoe. These men have friends here!

GORDON PARKS' likeness was also another big name pictured here. He's much heard about as a novelist and Life Photographer.

HARRIET JONES, Society Columnist, inquired about our Celeste Jones. It seems her mother, Mrs. Margaret Jones and Mrs. Adele Howe, a friend as members of A.M.E. Church's Northwest Conference always stopped with Mrs. Jones. She is credited with "making things so pleasant."

REV. AND MRS. HENDERSON DAVIS, newly arrived pastor and wife team at St. Paul A. M. E. Church were remembered by Harriet as she sent greetings from The Tom Joneses.

"JOEY", an eight month old, part Angora, male cat is one of my favorite pets. His coat blends with the decor of the Arthur Sidners' apartment in that he is all white with beige markings. Joey has been the ruler of the household but is graciously relinquishing a bit of his authority to 4 week old "Aaron", the Sidners' first born. Joey tears about the house sounding like six horsemen. When Joey demands a playmate and you're his choice, you either play or run for shelter! There's but the one alternative! His favorite game is with his owner

Luther Glantons Have Sister, Parents

Enjoying the holidays with Judge and Mrs. Luther Glanton and son, Luther III, of 818 - 15th street were her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Stevenson, from Hot Springs, Ark., and Mrs. Myrtle G. Lord, Judge Glanton's sister, from Murfreesboro, Tenn.

They enjoyed courtesies from Mr. and Mrs. James B. Morris, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Henry T. McKnight, Mr. and Mrs. Bonnie Herndon, Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Trotter, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Mitchell and Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Lewis.

"Arthur Sidner" — the name of the game is "Let's Kill Arthur" — and believe me he nicks his master but good! One evening after a rough-house session of "Let's Kill Arthur", Arthur went to bed. We suddenly heard a yell. Yes, it was Arthur. Joey had climbed atop the bedding, searched for a big toe and bitten! Just one thing more — Joey is fastidious about his person! As does any well-bred child, he rushes in from out-of-doors to his bathroom. Promptly returns out-of-doors and resumes playing.

Tech Time

by Rita Edwards

What goes on around here at Tech? We have basketball games, of course. We had a game Saturday night against Lincoln and we came out on top with 65-57.

We have after-game parties which last 'til about 12. When you come to one, there is always a band, like the Berries.

We have a juke box with the top hits—the Four Tops, the Temptations. Most of us do the Booga Loo.

There's a snack bar where we can buy soda, candy and doughnuts, and there's also an apple machine, but we don't throw the apples . . .

We haven't been any fights yet, but the worst one I saw, one girl pulled the wig off the other. It only lasted 5-10 minutes.

Among student council members here are Cecilia Thompson and Sandra Lawrence.

(Rita, a sophomore, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Ed-

The Mod's For Peanut Cookies

Like peanuts? Mad for peanut butter? Love peanut candy? Then you'll adore these peanut cookies, for they combine all three. One basic cookie dough is used to create both Peanut Cookie-wiches and Peanut Fancy Fingers. Filling and "tip dip" are melted candy bars and the polka dot toppers are hard peanut candies.

For the Peanut People Bars prepare your favorite brownie recipe or mix, then stir a cupful of chopped salted peanuts into the batter. Form the stick people on top by lightly pressing peanut halves into the batter before baking; you'll need about one-half cup peanuts per recipe. Pipe the edges with stiff confectioner's sugar frosting, if desired.

BASIC PEANUT BUTTER COOKIE DOUGH

1 cup peanut butter	1 teaspoon vanilla
½ cup soft butter or margarine	2½ cups sifted enriched flour
1 cup granulated sugar	2 teaspoons soda
1 cup brown sugar, firmly packed	½ teaspoon salt
2 eggs	4 small (ten cent size) milk chocolate bars
¼ cup frozen orange juice concentrate, thawed	1 cup hard candy-coated peanuts

Blend peanut butter, butter or margarine, sugars, eggs, orange juice concentrate and vanilla. Beat. Sift together flour, soda and salt. Add gradually, stirring until blended. Chill dough until stiff. Form into Peanut Cookie-wiches and Peanut Fancy Fingers (see below). Bake on ungreased cookie sheets in moderate oven (350° F.) 7 to 12 minutes, or until lightly browned. Remove from sheets and cool. Meanwhile, melt chocolate bars over hot water and stir until smooth. Use on baked cookies as directed.

Makes 2 doz. Cookie-wiches and 2½ doz. Fingers.

To make Peanut Cookie-wiches: Roll out about ¾ of dough on floured board or cloth ¼-inch thick. Cut into fluted rounds. Into half the cookies, press a design of hard candy-coated peanuts. Bake. Spread bottoms of plain cookies with chocolate and sandwich with decorated cookies.

To make Peanut Fancy Fingers: Shape ¼ of dough into "fingers" about 3 x ½-inch, by rolling bits of dough under hands. Bake. Dip one end of each cookie into chocolate, twisting slightly. Place on rack to set, with frosted tips extending over edge.

PRESIDENT OFFERS HELP TO FIGHT CRIME

President Johnson delivered his state of the union message before Congress Tuesday night. Many will disagree with his domestic and foreign policies; many will agree with them.

Certainly, he left no doubt in our minds that America is in the war to stay and that many sacrifices will follow as it continues in 1967, 1968 and later, which he did not mention.

Most people will agree that his determination to help local communities deal with the alarming crime wave, particularly in the cities, is welcome.

His proposal calls for assistance to communities in securing and training better police officers, more pay and improved facilities for crime detection.

Recent figures show that the crime rate continues to rise and that young people are the greatest offenders.

Undoubtedly, the crime shows in the movies and on television have contributed the major share of the underlying causes of the increase in crime along with too much coddling of offenders.

True, we have had city and state crime commissions for years but nobody seems to know what should be done. Maybe they have no distinct lines to follow and thus simply mark time and fill space.

If some tangible plan comes out of the program suggested by the President which will reduce crime, it can become one of his major accomplishments.

GOV. HUGHES DEPLORES
INCREASE IN BACKLASH

In the state of the state message by Gov. Harold Hughes he warns of the backlash in this country which not only involves hate against races but also religion, capital, labor and neighbor.

Some communities felt the effect of backlash during the election last fall, particularly in large cities. It was certainly felt in the housing election in Des Moines last fall.

Today every group, trade or profession is organizing to get a greater share of everything for their members. Nurses, teachers, policemen and other public servants are striking to secure their demands—a situation we never expected would come.

With these segments of the population battling to get "theirs" come alignments against the other fellow whom he suspects of not giving him his due. In this way we create a large number of segments which feel called upon to hate and give battle to the "other" fellow which he feels stands in his way.

DANGER SIGNALS

Several months ago when some civil rights leaders were discussing the plight of minorities, they predicted dire consequences would follow if more civil rights laws were not passed or unless certain improvements were made in the lot of those people.

And true to their word, riots occurred in some cities and other undesirable situations resulted which made life miserable in those places.

Again these same threats are being heard as certain supporters find that Adam Clayton Powell's seat in the Congress is in jeopardy.

These threats are potential signals for irresponsible people to take the law in their own hands and who supposedly are attempting to help a cause when they actually hurt it. Nobody likes to be bullied into something even though they may believe in it. Far more progress can be had by preparing a good case and presenting it intelligently.

Well sir, the football season staggered and must end soon. The basketball season is in full swing and there are a few surprises. On the national scene, UCLA continues to maintain its pre-season number one rating. That is unusual. By now someone should have beaten them. National champs Texas Western are down, have their number two spot, but then those weren't rated very high last year, either.

There in our state we have a rather odd situation. DRAKE was supposed to have a very good ball club and they are having troubles. Pool room coaches say the Bulldogs aren't playing up to their potential.

IOWA and IOWA STATE were supposed to just so so, but they have outside chances to finish high in their conferences. With luck one of them could win.

And in our high schools it is a merry-go-round. NORTH whumped ROOSEVELT then went on to EAST and got set down by a team that wasn't supposed to be too hot. That clipped NORTH's eight game winning streak and put the city series title really up for grabs. About all TECH seems to have is this guy PETE STEWARD. Even when his team gets clobbered he rolls in twenty five points or more.

And then there is the indoor track season coming up and wrestling. We can't believe fellows are scrambling around trying to find fighters for the Golden Gloves meets. Maybe the war has hurt but we just think the guys just don't want to go through what it takes to be a winner. They want to box but don't want to pay the price. Oh, well. Maybe we will get a good meet.

And now they are really playing indoor tennis. Not many of our guys could afford the hourly rates but it is nice to know that this counts.

However, we might have got with it in March or April. Chet Williamson and Bill Ashley would have probably played all winter.

We shall want to see how much more improved the local players are after a winter of tennis when they come out in June.

Cassius Clay in explaining his fights says he didn't ever expect to lose. Maybe he won't. We don't think TERRELL can do the job. But who is around who might have a chance?

Hot Off The Griddle--
Pimiento Crab
Roll-Ups

Cornmeal pancakes are news hot off the griddle when they get an inside scoop of delicate crab meat and bright red pimiento. Easy as 1-2-3, pimiento crab roll-ups deserve front page space in your favorite cook book.

Cornmeal Pancakes
1 cup cornmeal
1 cup flour
1 tablespoon baking powder
1 tablespoon sugar
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
2 cups milk
1 or 2 eggs
4 tablespoons melted margarine
1/4 to 1/2 cup canned pimientos, chopped

Sift together the first 5 ingredients. Combine the remaining ones, and mix all ingredients together lightly. Drop the batter on the griddle by 1/4 cupfuls.

Pimiento Crab Filling
3 tablespoons butter, melted
3 tablespoons flour
1 cup milk
1 cup crab meat
1 can or jar (4 oz.) whole pimientos, chopped
1/4 teaspoon oregano
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon prepared mustard

Make a sauce of the butter, flour and milk. When it is medium thick, mix in the remaining ingredients. Drop about 2 tablespoons of the pimiento crab mixture down the center of each pancake, roll up, and fasten the edges with a toothpick. Reheat, if necessary, in a 350° oven for about 5 minutes. Makes 6 servings of 2 pancakes each.

Toby Huston, Pete Steward
Battle of the "Giants"

Peter John Steward is 18 years old. He is 6' 8". He said he is through growing.

Toby Huston is 15 years and he's 6' 7". He is not through growing.

Pete, as he is called, a senior center at Tech High School, has gained much respect in his last year of high school basketball. Pumping in a record 55 points in one game helped it immensely.

Callanan

"I played neighborhood basketball up at Callanan (Junior High School) and up at Drake Park. I was in 9th grade then."

Then he was 6'-6" 2" tall.

"When I went to Bird (elementary school), kids used to call me Big Boy Pete and the Jolly Green Giant," he explained.

Pete says he plans to go to college, but that he'll have to wait until basketball season finishes, to see if he can get a scholarship. He'd like to attend a small four year college, maybe Upper Iowa to be a coach.

Injury

"I went out for a little football," said Pete, "but then I got tackled and injured my left shoulder. It's safer to play basketball. When you come down on the rebound, you can spread out your arms. You don't have time to think about the pain."

Toby, a sophomore at Roosevelt High School, said that pep assemblies helped to fire up the team, but really didn't make them over-confident.

He's from Pulaski, Tenn., and has lived there 14 years before moving up here.

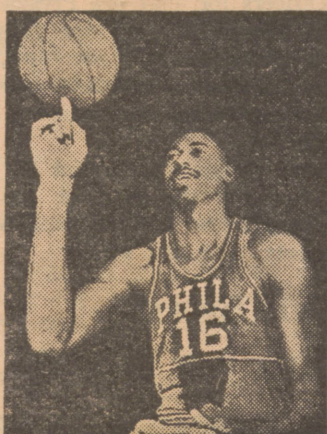

Some of his hobbies are collecting records, dancing and going to them.

Reminded that TRHS were the State Champs in 1965, he smiled. "Well, State's a long way off."

What Toby lacks in basketball, if anything, he will make up in track this spring.

He runs the 220 yard dash in 23.7.

Toby says of Pete Steward—"He's a good player."

Pete says of Toby Huston—"In a couple more years he'll be pretty good."

Besides having height in common, both these guys' heroes are high in the clouds: Toby's is Elgin Baylor and Pete's are Wilt Chamberlain and Lew Alcindor.

Last week Toby pumped in 12 points against Dowling while Pete, veteran, knocked in his customary 28 points.

Winter Sunset

The schoolboy kicks ice as he goes.
Playing road-hockey with cold toes
And thinking things none other knows.

In palest blue the long fields lie.

The world is empty as the sky
Without another passer-by.

The sun went where it had to go
And left nought storing, high or low,
Save one black roostward-flapping crow.

Iowa Paintings In
NWB 1967 Calendar

The 1967 Appointment Calendar of Northwestern Bell is available at the company's business offices and payment agencies or from any telephone serviceman. To meet the expected demand, 170,000 copies were printed for Iowa distribution.

Reproductions of paintings by three Iowa artists are featured. Paintings by artists from the other four states of the company's terri-toy are on the other monthly pages. It is the third year that artists of the company's area were invited to enter paintings of "people, places, events or activities—contemporary or historical" to illustrate the pages of the calendar. From the more than 1,000 entries, but 12 were selected—one for each calendar page.
