Bullet Hits Cab Window; Passengers Unharmd

Pane Falls in Cab; Women Scared to Death from Shot

Two women were riding in a cab about 2:40 a.m. Saturday morning when a bullet smashed through the right back window of their taxi.

They were Mrs. Johnnie Jones, 52, of 1251 11th street and Naomi Flynn, 59, of 913 Laurel street.

Account

Mrs. Jones gave this account: "We were riding back from Washington street from a little get-together with some girls. Then we let a lady out on Garland Court and turned around to go to my home, traveling east on Carpenter, when something hit the car. At first I thought he'd run over something when the cab driver said: 'someone is shooting at us.' I turned around and the whole window had splattered."

Mrs. Jones said her face and hands were burning, as were Mrs. Flynn's. "The cab was calling the police and he speeded up, took us to the fire station on University where the police were waiting for us."

"I heard the next day that it had been a bullet. But we hadn't seen anyone with a gun or anything."

"The police wanted to take us to the hospital for a check up, but we weren't hurt. Just scared," said Mrs. Naomi Flynn.

Check Up

"The squad car took us home. It's possible that the glass could work its way in, but so far it hasn't."

Mrs. Flynn had been sitting on the middle seat, or stool, when the incident occurred. "There was no sign of anyone or any cars behind us."

Mrs. Jones escaped injury, but Mrs. Flynn suffered a cut on the right leg. "There was just a little trickle of blood on my leg, and for three or four minutes my face stung. I wiped my hand across my face, but I didn't find any blood. There was a welt on my right cheek, though."

Driver of the Yellow Cab Co. taxi, Dale Weesner of 704 53rd street, reported that his neck was stinging and burning.

"The whole window fell into the cab," said Mrs. Flynn. "I don't know how it (bullet) missed me, but I'm sure glad it did."

Mrs. Lemme Attends Iowa Education Conf.

Mrs. Helen Lemme, of Iowa City, was among those attending the Iowa service Conference held at Hotel Fort Des Moines, Wednesday, Jan. 25.

Subject for the Conference was "How Iowa Can Take Advantage of the Fund of Higher Education Act, of 1965."

Mrs. Lemme, member of the Social Service committee, said "The state of Iowa has been provided with $160,000 for the 1967 fiscal year. The meeting was called to develop a plan for using the funds."

Director was Dr. Robert Ray, Dean of the Extensive Service at State University of Iowa.

NAACP Protests Jim Crow at Atomic Site

Chicago, Ill. — Sydney Finley, NAACP Quad-State field director, charges that equal housing and employment do not exist in DuPage County and the Weston area of Illinois which has been selected by the Atomic Energy Commission as the site of a new $375,000,000 installation.

Finley says, "To believe that such equal opportunity can exist in housing without the necessity of local ordinances and a strong state law indicates the height of fairyland belief."

He believes that the location of the world's largest atom smasher in the Weston area will be a hardship for its employees who are members of minority racial groups unless measures are taken to insure open occupancy.

Mr. Finley says that NAACP officials will take their complaint to AEC headquarters in Washington to discuss the matter, since their efforts to meet with Illinois Governor Otto Kerner have been fruitless.

J. Singleton Graduates With Highest Fitness Score; Excellence Award

San Diego, Calif.—Marine Private James W. Singleton, son of Mrs. Betty J. Singleton, of 1235 13th St., Des Moines, was graduated from

Training

The intensified Marine recruit training emphasizes rigid physical conditioning and survival techniques, both at sea and ashore, to develop self-confidence and endurance. Marksmanship with the M-14 rifle and 45-calibre pistol are equally stressed, and close order drill instills the traditions of Marine Corps teamwork.

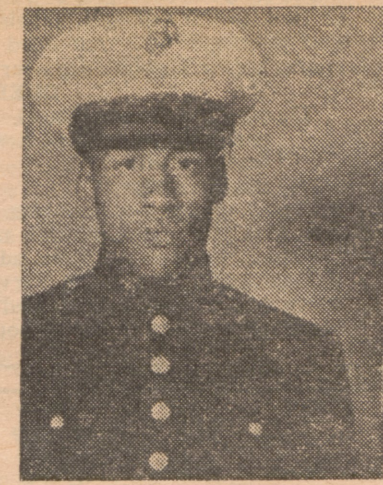

A thorough study of basic military subjects; hygiene; first aid and sanitation; and the customs, courtesies, history and mission of the Marine Corps serve to polish the new Marine's recruit education and prepare him to join Marine Combat forces.

Honor

Singleton graduated with the highest physical fitness score of his four-platoon series of some 300 men.

With the honor goes an engraved identification bracelet presented by the La Jolla Chapter of the Military Order of World Wars.

The Physical Excellence Award is based on strength, stamina, and determination. He scored a 490 out of a possible 500 points in a physical fitness test which is 240 points above the average.

Singleton

eight weeks of recruit training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot here.

He will now undergo about three weeks of individual combat training and then, after leave at home, will report to his first Marine Corps assignment.

New Rape Trial for Young Virginian

Lynchburg, Va.—Public opinion is rising against continuing efforts by the state of Virginia to execute 22-year-old Thomas Wansley for rape.

Corporation Court Judge Raymond O. Cundiff has set March 14 for Wansley's retrial on a charge of raping a white woman in 1962.

His retrial on a related robbery charge and a second rape charge are set for the same date. However, Cundiff has a motion under study to dismiss the second rape charge, on the grounds that it was not heard in four successive terms of court.

Death Row

Wansley, a Negro, has been in jail and prison more than four years, including 18 months on death row awaiting a date with the electric chair. He was sentenced to die twice in 1963, on charges of raping Miss Annie Lee Carter, then 59, and a woman of Japanese descent, Mrs. Kyoko Flesman. He was also given a 20-year prison term for the robbery charge.

The Virginia Supreme Court overturned the convictions and ordered new trials in 1964. His lawyers have been unable to have the cases removed to a federal court for retrial.

Auditorium Beating Involved Only a Few; Others Gathered Around

A Carlisle man and his two sons were said to have been beaten by a crowd of 40 young Negroes Friday night, after the All-Iowa Golden Gloves finals, according to reports.

However, according to reliable sources, Donald Wyckoff and his sons, Ronald and Donald, Jr., were in a scrap with 5-6 Negroes.

Wyckoff, Sr., suffered head cuts and bruises and Ronald, severe face bruises. They were treated at Veterans Hospital and released. Donald, Jr., refused medical treatment for body bruises.

Crowd

The fight began after Wyckoff men moved a crowd of young Negroes 15-18 years old. An argument started, then the fighting started. At one point, the agitators ran away, then renewed arguing broke out. As one of the Wyckoffs lay on the ground, the report said, the "crowd" of Negroes gathered around.

"Not all of the youths were fighting," said Captain Jim Thompson. "No one was arrested."

The same night, about 12:05 a.m., Kenneth Thomas, 42, was beaten at 8th and Center streets. He told police he was attacked by eight to ten young Negroes who fled after two men driving by saw the incident and stopped to give help.

Thomas suffered facial lacerations.

UAH Pres. Asks For Sympathy to Negro

Sacramento, Calif.—Rabbi Maurice N. Eisendrath, N.Y.C., President of the Union of American Hebrew Congregations, termed the condition of the American Negro economically and socially relatively worse today than it was ten years ago.

Addressing the banquet session of the Northern California Council at the El-Rancho Hotel, the leader of American Reform Judaism told the assembled laymen and rabbis that white people in this nation must, therefore, assume a "sympathetic attitude" towards the plight of the Negro and the "blank wall of despair which rises before him."

NEWS In A Nutshell

Fairfield Air Force Base, Calif.—Mrs. Juanita Allen Hysen has been deemed the Major of the Year by Las Amigos for her long contribution to dietetics food services and the moral of U.S. Air Force patients under her direction. Major Hysen is the only Negro female in the USAF holding her rank and title Chief of Food Services.

Memphis, Tenn.—The Roger Williams Hall of Women college was nearly destroyed by fire last week, leaving more than 17 students and four adults homeless. The three alarm fire did more than $500,000 damage.

Annapolis, Maryland — Becoming the youngest senator in State Senate history is Clarence M. Mitchell, II, 27; Mitchell is the son of the nationally known civil rights legislative leader, Clarence M. Mitchell, Jr., Director of the Washington Bureau NAACP.

Mo. Community Hit by Tornado

Kinloch, Mo.—Clarence Lee, mayor of this tornado stricken city said that emergency provisions are being made for the thirty families hit by Tuesday night's tornado in the county areas. Mayor Lee stated that the Regional Office of the Public Housing Authority has permitted Kinloch to use present public housing and the new Charles Fowell Housing for emergency accommodations. Builders are presently in the process of finishing the new project. Mayor Lee also commended Human Development Corporation Neighborhood Youth Corps workers, the city of Berkeley, Red Cross and other agencies for help in clearing the debris.

NAACP

The St. Louis NAACP Chapter is soliciting contributions of food and clothing for the thirty displaced Kinloch families. Director of Housing for St. Louis is reported to have offered emergency housing for the Kinloch tornado victims. The offer was turned down when other provisions were made.

Poverty

Ninety-eight percent of the families are at poverty level; almost 65 percent of the adults have eighth-grade educations or less; and more than 20 percent of the work force is unemployed, according to a report of the mayor.

Kinloch is a community of 6,500 in the St. Louis metropolitan area; an all-Negro community where half of the families have incomes under $3,000. An additional one-third of the families in town live on less than $2,000, and the remaining 15 percent exist on family incomes of less than $1,000 a year.

"Magnificent Idea" Says Judge Glanton; $75-100 Rents Gov't Financed

Low rent housing has another chance, for the Des Moines Area Council of Churches Monday night voted 151-9 to sponsor 250-300 units here in Des Moines.

"I think it's a magnificent idea," said municipal Judge Luther T. Glanton. "It shows that the churches are now prepared to give more than lip service."

Lenhart

Dr. James Lenhart, pastor of Plymouth Congregational Church and the 1966 council president who presided during the housing debate, said:

"I believe that you (delegates) have underscored the sense of relevance of all churches in the Des Moines Area Council."

The project, to be built in the Oakridge Urban Renewal Area northwest of the downtown area, will be 100 per cent financed by the federal government. A non-profit corporation set up by the council will manage the housing project.

Rents

Although rents will vary from $75-$100 per month, the "government is prepared to provide up to 75 per cent of the fees," said Judge Glanton.

Stressing the fact that the project is not public housing was the Rev. Henderson Davis, pastor of St. Paul A.M.E. Church: "I take what the chairman of the meeting, Dr. Lenhart said. His reaction before the motion was that this wasn't really voted on by the people, so it isn't public. It is private, a non-profit organization. The people of Des Moines who turned down the public housing plan are in favor of private planning."

Vote

The favorable vote came after a short flurry of debate, in which some critics questioned whether the council was getting beyond its original purpose.

This came before Dr. Lenhart's comment that "The federal government won't accept that kind of sponsorship. The hard-headed government officials have faith in the sense of mission of churches and councils of churches."

Rights Commission Cover: Ousted by Mayor Whitmer; Plan Contest

The Mayor's objection to a cover has launched a student contest to design a new cover for the Des Moines Human Rights Commission annual report.

Sol M. Davidson, Human Rights Commission Chairman said that last year's color report was objected to by Mayor Whitmer. He did not disclose the mayor's reasons.

Davidson said the contest had a double purpose. "In order to make a serious cover, the student will have to think about the subject. It is a way of getting across to the youngster."

All contest entries must be completed by March 1 and the selection of a winner will be made March 15. Each student submitting a cover will receive a certificate of entry from the commission.

Judges

Named as judges for the competition are John M. Estes, Jr., NAACP

The Rev. N. R. Olphin, who also participated in the meeting, expressed his appreciation for Lenhart's leadership in bringing the matter before the Council. Rev. Olphin said that "he was representing not only his church, Corinthian Baptist, but also his people."

Cabinet

In approving the housing proposal, the delegate assembly instructed the administrative cabinet to seek acceptance by Federal Housing Administration officials for council sponsorship of the housing project.

Once sponsor acceptance is obtained, the cabinet will form a separate, non-profit corporation to apply for the FHA loan, build the project and manage it after completion.

Little, if any, local money, is needed. The FHA is authorized to grant 100 per cent loans, at low interest, to finance construction, and can lend an additional 2 per cent of the total project cost for initial operating capital.

W. T. Johnson, 1967 vice-president of the council, made the motion to approve the housing sponsorship proposal. It was seconded by Judge Glanton, 1965 council president.

Realtors

Unlike the public housing referendum defeated twice in the last five years, the church plan was endorsed by Paul O. Grodt, president of the Greater Des Moines Board of Realtors and Howard E. Taylor, president of the Home Builders Association of Greater Des Moines.

The Rev. John Donovan, executive secretary of the Des Moines Area Council of Churches, said construction of the project may not start until the spring of 1968.

Income limits for those wishing apartments in the development would range from $7500 a year for one person to $10,600 for a family of seven or more.

president, Irvin White, member of the Drama Workshop, Robb B. Kelly, chairman of Brotherhood week of 1967 and past president of the Greater Des Moines Chamber of Commerce, Donald M. Halley, Jr., assistant director of the Des Moines Art Center and Dr. Theodore Stroud, president of English at Drake University.

Supremes

Offstage, the Supremes are friendly, rather ordinary girls with a bouncing sense of humor; their conversation is studded with little jokes about one another based on what someone had written about them. Diana seems a trifle more mature than the others, displaying an earnest, serious manner and a cool professionalism. She is almost achingly thin (size 5) with fine, large eyes set in a feline face and she speaks in a hoarse June Allyson voice. Mary is small and nicely proportioned, demure in a tan suit and frilly blouse. In conjunction with the others she tends to fade into the background, which is deceptive because she has a distinctively droll sense of humor; when she smiles, her eyes crinkle into two horizontal crescents.

Florence is earthier. She is usually known as "the quiet one," but she can be outspoken in an abrupt, flaunting way if the spirit moves her.

(Berry) Gordy speaks about them in a bemused, detached manner. . . . "We had some trouble with them at first. . . . They started spending their money extravagantly. . . . After a year, they saw their mistakes and came to appreciate our handling of their affairs." The Supremes' money, as is the case with many Motown artists, is invested for them in a variety of business interests, stocks and bonds. Though their yearly income nowadays is in five figures—record royalties are divided equally—they have been put on an allowance of $50 a week.

" . . . They were growing up, demanding to live their own lives, so I loosened up on them. Now they're more sensible and they seek and appreciate advice. . . . But now they're less mixed up, more relaxed about their love lives. They take more interest in learning about the world."

Back to Motown, I say good-bye to Gordy. We are standing on the sidewalk, the knots of producers, writers and performers are gathered as usual. Gordy answers a question about the white HITSVILLE, USA building and explains that he used to live there. The company's grown a lot since then and is planning to build a new office building in Detroit.

Gordy worries about things like a shortage of executive talent, and outgrowing the present staff. "Now, of course, we've got—we've got—" He is stumped. "How many buildings do we have now?" So Berry Gordy, Jr. pokes out a finger and begins counting the number of buildings at present making up his Motown record corporation.

Police Blotter

San Francisco, Calif.—Booked on suspicion of four counts of rape and two of robbery was a 15 year old youth who gained entry to the home of a 21 year old mother, when he awakened her, armed with a club. After the woman read the note he had given her, he ordered her to take off her pajamas and lie on the bed, threatening to kill her baby if she did not comply.

Philadelphia, Pa.—Seven persons were held in a total of $19,000 bail recently in what police describe as the biggest LSD raid in the city's history.

Des Moines, Ia.—Norman Blagburn, 68, of 1501 University, was bound over to the Polk County Grand Jury Monday after a hearing before Municipal Judge Luther Glanton, Jr., on a charge of assault with intent to commit murder on Ronald Lewis Felder, 28, of 1715 9th street.

Atlanta, Ga.—The wife of an Atlanta Negro minister was mysteriously shot to death in her home early Sunday, only hours after an attempt to set fire to her husband's church.

Police said Mrs. Lillian Corine Briley, 53, was fatally wounded by a shotgun blast at close range shortly after midnight.

Officers said the Rev. George Briley, 53, told them he, his wife and a 3-year-old grandson were in bed asleep when his wife was roused by the doorbell.

He said he heard the gun blast a few minutes later and found his wife just inside the door, bleeding from a chest wound. She died en route to the hospital.

New Novel Has Civil Rights Guessing

New York—Civil rights workers in New York are absorbed in the intriguing game of trying to identify the real life pototypes of the characters in FIVE SMOOTH STONES, Ann Fairbairn's powerful new novel on the current fight for freedom.

Published Dec. 27, by Crown Publishers, Inc., the 756-page novel is the story of a young New Orleans Negro, David Champlain, of his background and training, of his romance with a white college classmate, of the temptation to seek the good things of life for himself, and finally of his selfless commitment to and involvement in the civil rights struggle in his native South and of his tragic end.

Leaders

The civil rights organizations, their leaders and martyrs are mentioned by name—the NAACP, CORE, Roy Wilkins, Martin Luther King, Medgar Evers and others. But the organizational vehicle of the hero, David Champlain, is the fictional American League for Equal Citizenship (ALIEC), with headquarters in Boston.

In literary and civil rights circles in New York City people are trying to guess who provided the pattern for Champlain, for his grandfather who reared him, for his Negro and white college friends, his law partner the frontline of the civil rights in Boston, and for his associates on struggle in the Deep South.

Charges Authorities Not Enough Protection for Negro Com.

Atlanta, Ga. — Dr. Ralph David Abernathy of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference today warned that civil rights workers and the Negro community there are not given adequate protection by federal, state and local authorities.

The warning came in the wake of a fire Sunday night at the Bell Flower Baptist Church, which provided an office for the SCLC staff in Grenada. The blaze destroyed or badly damaged much of the church's roof, interior, furnishings, records, and heating facilities.

The record of brutality in Grenada has been tragic. Last summer, police assaulted a peaceful demonstration by Negroes. Sheriff's deputies attacked a civil rights fund-raising dance with tear gas. Hundreds of Negroes were jailed. When public schools were integrated in September, white men used ax handles, lead pipes and chains to beat Negro children attending the schools. This violence subsided briefly when it was exposed to the world.

Cameras

But when reporters and TV cameras left Grenada, the lawlessness resumed. Inside and outside the integrated schools, Negro pupils endured harassment, taunts, profanities and threats from white students, teachers, school officials, local police and State troopers. In October when Negroes protested beatings and abuse of the children, more than 250 demonstrators were arrested and jailed. In jail, seven staff members were beaten severely, and local Negroes were mistreated. At the schools, the pattern of cruelty against Negroes continued.

A. Randolph Asks Help for Africa

Washington, D.C. — Civil rights leader A. Philip Randolph has warned that seething unrest in South Africa could erupt at any time into a "catastrophic race war between black and white Africans." Randolph said in an address prepared for delivery at The American Negro Leadership Conference on Africa at its opening session here Jan. 26.

"The danger of armed conflict between black and white Africa was escalated and became more acute when the Rhodesian government, representing 220,000 whites, rejected British terms for ending a year-old dispute over Rhodesia's unilateral declaration of independence without regard to the wishes and interests of four million black Africans," Randolph said.

Catalyst

The veteran civil rights and labor leader urged the Negro American community to serve as a catalyst for mobilizing public opinion in support of the cause of black Southern Rhodesia in particular, and black Africa in general.

A Quick-Easy School Luncheon

MAKE THIS DELICIOUS QUICK-EASY RECIPE for your hungry youngsters at lunch time. So simple to make too, when you use packaged pre-cooked rice. Take the time required for the rice to set, to cook the sausages. Top the rice with tangy grated cheese and serve with the sausages, garnished with parsley. This rice treat is also delicious with scalloped tomatoes and crisp bacon. Your young'uns will gobble-up every last morsel.

CHEESE RICE

1 1/2 cups (5-ounce package) packaged pre-cooked rice
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1 1/2 cups boiling water
3/4 cup grated Cheddar cheese or 1 cup grated processed American cheese
Add packaged pre-cooked rice, salt, and pepper to boiling water in saucepan. Mix just to moisten all rice. Cover and remove from heat. Let stand 13 minutes. Then add 1/2 cup of the cheese to the rice, mixing lightly with a fork. Serve remainder of cheese on top of rice. Serve with stewed or scalloped tomatoes or tomato sauce and crisp bacon or sausage. Makes about 3 1/2 cups, or 4 servings. (ANS)

While infectious hepatitis strikes people of all ages, its most common victims are children and young adults. Epidemics of the disease occur each year in a number of schools or other institutions for young people.

In a typical year nearly 43,000 cases are reported; but many doctors believe that for every known case there may be as many as 30, of various degrees of mildness, that go unrecognized.

Although the rate of hepatitis cases started declining a few years ago, it is the belief of Dr. James W. Mosley, the U.S. Public Health Service's chief authority on the subject, that this merely reflected the ebbing of a seven-year cycle. He expects a resurgence of the disease to reach a peak in 1968. In 1961 the total number of cases was 2,000.

Chocolate Meringue Cookies

By Betty Barclay

"MAKE 'EM Yourself!" You can. These glamorous meringue cookies that you used to have to buy from a fancy bakery, you can now make yourself in less than half an hour! Three dozen of them, too; enough to serve with elegance at an evening card party.

Chocolate Meringue Cookies

1 cup chocolate chips; 3 egg whites; 2 cups sifted confectioners' sugar; ¼ cup saltine cracker crumbs; ¼ cup chopped pecans; 1 teaspoon vanilla.

Melt chocolate over hot water. Cool. Beat egg whites until stiff. Add sugar gradually, beating after each addition until blended. Then fold in cracker crumbs, nuts, vanilla, and melted chips. Drop from teaspoon on lightly greased baking sheet and spread slightly. Bake in moderate oven (375° F.) about 10 minutes. Makes about 3 dozen 2-inch cookies. Store in tightly covered container.

ST. JOSEPH ACADEMY

by Jonesy Camp

A day in the life of an Academy Freshman girl:

The day for me usually begins at 6:30 a.m. The preparations are rather simple. The freshmen and sophomore girls wear a blue uniform blazer and skirt; for juniors and seniors, they are grey.

The bell for class rings at 8:15, thus begins the school day.

If you were to enter the building on Grand, you would find yourself in the old building which contains the chapel, the clothing lab, the art room, typing class and the gym. By way of the overpass you reach the new building which contains all the homerooms and all classes except those named in the old building.

On the upper floor of the building is the junior and senior division. On the next floor the freshmen and sophomore. In the basement are the labs and lecture hall.

The Academy is a school that strives for scholastic abilities, no matter what your race or financial status. If you have the ability and the will to get ahead they will help and encourage you.

The school also places high value on poise, dignity and self allowance.

My day consists of eight periods—Algebra, English, study hall, lunch, religion, clothing and world history.

The Academy is by no means a prison nor is it a breeze. You have to work hard to be in. And I am proud to be an Academy girl.

(Muriel—Jonesy—is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry H. Camp, of 1159 18th street.)

LUCILLE SPRIGGS, former Des Moines Veterans Administration Social Worker and now a member of the St. Paul VA Day Hospital Staff invited me to visit that facility on my recent trip to Minneapolis. I spent an enjoyable half day there. An added pleasure was an introduction to Dr. Edward Posey, the Day Hospital's Psychiatrist.

DAGNE HOUGSTAD, a Staff Social Worker, and Lucille and I shared a coffee break. Lucille had to leave but I remained with Dagne, who had been late joining us. She told me this little story: Dagne and her sister live together and earlier this year were residing in a 50 year old house. In April the owner of their home advised them of her plan to sell. By May Dagne had found and bought a new location. Open House for the 50 year old house was held on a Friday, resulting in its sale the very next day. The former owner of Dagne's newly purchased home moved out June 13. Buyers of the 50 year old house moved in June 15. The unbelievable rapidity of these moves by all concerned caused Dagne to observe: "I took many, many weeks to decide to buy a car—waded through Consumers' Reports before buying the car—but bought a house in a month!"

This you have to hear! Dagne's new location was a 36 year old house which had been occupied by just two families in that period! Its builders were occupants the first two years, and Dagne's sellers the remaining 34 years! Father of the seller was a Dutch painter and had painted murals on all of the walls. Exception to this was the bathroom whose walls were so designed as to appear to be painted tiles—individual glazed Dutch scenes done in Delft Blue.

SHOW THE PUBLIC
WHAT GOES ON

Speaking on one of the telephone radio programs, a caller suggested that more pictures of Negroes should be included in news media so as to show that there is less exclusion from American life. It is improving.

Much of this is due to the fact that they are not fully in the mainstream of American life. The armed service is doing much in this direction.

Prior to World War II and the integration in the armed services Negro service men were not seen in high functions including state affairs and funerals of high ranking people.

The funeral procession of the late President Kennedy and Hoover, and astronaut Gus Grissom at Arlington cemetery included some. In fact, they are seen wherever service men are stationed.

The photos of school activities should follow this course not only to show that all groups are participating but that integration is a fact—not just a name. This encourages the youngsters to push harder in his effort to make a desired goal.

Possibly the poorest showing is in some house organs of industries. They carry the slogan "an equal opportunity employer", but fail to upgrade employees and thus few Negro employees are shown.

Many of the pictures show who and what retired employees are doing. Since many have hired Negroes a short time, there are few that have reached the retirement age.

We do better when all groups are included in activities, not necessarily that some are Negro employees, but that all employees in the same situations are shown out to the public.

PROPOSE MEETING A LONG NEGLECT

The Des Moines Area Council of Churches has decided to sponsor a low cost housing project. The undertaking was voted by an overwhelming majority which indicates the interest in the project.

Des Moines has twice defeated federal low cost housing by a combination of professional real estate people and Mr. Average Citizen who would rather have no such if all races were to be included.

The ministers took this step because they are convinced that those people who said we needed no such project or that they would provide one, don't expect to do anything. They know that the need is great.

The project should succeed both in construction and operation. But it will require close attention and strict compliance with the rules governing tenancy.

Every assistance should be given the ministers by those who have supported low rent housing, for they have undertaken a job which too many of their members have long neglected or opposed.

VOTING AT 18 IS NOT A GOOD MOVE

Periodically, the question of lowering the voting age has come up. A bill is pending in the legislature to reduce the voting age to 18. We are opposed to such a measure.

Proponents argue that since 18 year olds are intelligent enough to fight wars, they should have a voice in starting and conducting them. Of course, younger men are taken because of their greater physical fitness over the older men.

Eighteen year old youngsters today know more than the eighteen year olds fifty years ago, some say.

This, of course, is true. But recent events in our colleges and other public places tab them as being less responsible and often maintain disregard for others.

There are many ways youngsters can participate in government and this serves as a training ground to be more responsible and aware of the responsibilities of citizenship.

This was a tough weekend. There was the usual Golden Gloves scramble with four of the brethren making the team for the nationals. But it wasn't really much of a meet. But for the novices the whole thing could have been held in one night. One boy made the team and never even pulled on a boxing glove. Another fellow might have made it if he hadn't run out of gas about the middle of the second round. Given real good conditioning the fellow could have licked the pants off the other guy, but there is no substitute for condition, as we have often argued. Maybe a lot of those white boys can't fight a lick in the road, but they came to fight three rounds and you can beat them all you want to. They will be in there three rounds unless you knock them out. Hope they have luck in the Nationals.

We were shocked to read of the death of Delmer Boldridge. We always had a lot of fun with the guy who was really a pretty good athlete. He was a pretty good softball pitcher who won a lot of games and one of the few players to win the pocket billiard and billiard titles at the pool hall.

We recall that he went to the Rose Bowl game, the last one IOWA played in. When he came back we invited him to write his experience in our column and he turned out a whale of a story. We often considered getting him to do others but we just never seemed to get together with the fellow. All of us on the street will really miss the cheerful little fellow.

Well, the cage season gets down to where each win or loss is really important. DRAKE seems to be going nowhere fast. Those guys have lost enough close games to have a nearly good record. We watched that on television Saturday and we were sure they had that one in the bag. Then there is IOWA STATE with an outside chance to win the BIG EIGHT game. But don't bet on it. IOWA UNIVERSITY gets back into action this week and they could fight in the BIG TEN scramble.

Here at home the local high schools get close to the showdown. We still stick to NORTH, but they have to get past EAST first. Then ROOSEVELT will be waiting for revenge. Looks like TOBY HUSTON is coming along. Maybe next year. PETE STEWARD is the only point maker TECH has. Would seem that two guys put on his shot must leave somebody open for shots. How come they don't make 'em?
