The Decline and Fall of Long Distance Runner

Atlanta, Ga. — What has happened to SNCC (Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee)?

According to the Southern Patriot Newspaper, federal, state and local courts here appear to be making a concerted effort to destroy the organization.

SNCC money has been in a hassle for the last month in three separate situations which required lawsuits. Stokely Carmichael can lay claim to one of those lawsuits, when he and others were arrested in Selma, Ala., last summer.

More were arraigned on federal charges resulting from the draft protest. If convicted, many may face five years in prison, with $1,000 fines.

Apparently fines such as these and bail commitments are taking their toll.

Could it be that the long distance runner has touched the last wire?

Citizens Express Feelings On Tactics Used by Urban Officials In Appraisals

Oakridge residents appeared before the City Council Monday to air complaints in methods and techniques of the Urban Renewal procedure. The meeting grew out of a letter sent to the Council by Rozenting Hardaway, president of the Center Street Improvement Association, in which he pointed out the tardiness in condemnation, the unfair appraisals

Attorneys for the residents, W. Lawrence Oliver and Brad Morris, said that the City Council should provide better housing for the people who were to be displaced, so that they wouldn't move into another ghetto.

"All you have to do is drive up Forest and down University (avenues) and you can see the same people from Center and Crocker streets," Morris said.

"This is a planned program of segregated housing," he went on. There was a failure to execute leadership and avoid de facto segregation in schools, he said.

Appraisal

The attorneys relayed feelings that the urban renewal officials created suspicion in being secretive about appraisals.

In the frustration of appraisals, specifically named businesses were Crescent Beauty Shop, 1407 Center, Wells Billiard Parlor and Hardaway's Tensorial Parlor. Atty. Oliver pointed out that due to rezoning, the Beauty Shop's appraisal went down from $31,000 to $21,000.

He compared Hardaway's shop, which was appraised at $20,000, with a boarded up gas station at 17th and University, which was to be bought for $36,000 and deplored the differential in that the station was in an area for rehabilitation and the shop was not.

Trotters

A. P. Trotter, one of the speakers, wanted to know about a person who had worked and struggled to buy a house and lived there 40 years, only to, in Urban Renewal, have to pull up his roots and accept a price which would not let him buy another such dwelling comparable to the first.

Speaker J. Taylor was more concerned about the older people and their problems in relocating. "It would be a lot more human if you took them out and shot them."

Mrs. Gladys Reeves, of 944 14th street place was disconcerted by the failure of officials to contact her. "I called them up and he gave me an appraisal." She said the gentleman had given her two days to think about it.

William Wells, of Wells Billiard Parlor, asked about the future of the businessman. "You can't put all of us on University." He also recommended that houses should be condemned and torn down by the block. A house often was left by itself while on each side are large holes where former homes stood did not present

In his keynote address, Mr. Goode, a vice chairman of the NAACP's Life Membership Committee, told the delegates representing Louisiana, Oklahoma, Texas, New Mexico and Arkansas "the challenge to change the climate of America is yours and mine. Once you guarantee freedom and equality to the least minority in your community, you thereby assure freedom and equality for everyone."

Johnson Presented With Special Award At White House Friday

Washington, D. C. — President Lyndon B. Johnson was given a special citation for his "courage in the pursuit of justice and freedom for all men" by the officers and directors of the National Newspaper Publishers Association in a ceremony Friday in the Cabinet Room of the White House.

Frank L. Stanley of the Louisville Defender, NNPA head, called upon Howard B. Woods of Sengstacke Publication to read the citation to the President and make the formal presentation.

President Johnson thanked the Negro newspaper publishers for their confidence and trust in him and reaffirmed his commitment to equality of opportunity in American society.

Wilkins Receives Freedom Award Thurs.

New York — Roy Wilkins, executive director of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, will receive the 1967 Freedom Award for "courageous and responsible leadership" March 29 at a Hotel Waldorf-Astoria dinner.

Wilkins, became executive director of the NAACP in 1955 upon the death of Walter White.

He joined the national staff in 1931 as assistant secretary and, while filling that position, was also editor of THE CRISIS, the official organ of the NAACP.

Ala. Schools Ordered Fully Open to all Children

Montgomery, Ala.—Alabama last week became the first southern state ordered by a federal court to desegregate all its public school districts. The court ordered 99 school districts to end segregation by next fall.

This unprecedented action of the three judge federal court came in response to four years of litigation by attorneys of the NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund, Inc.

Alabama Gov. Lurleen B. Wallace, State School Superintendent Ernest Stone and 10 other state officials were directed by the U.S. District Court in Montgomery to "take affirmative action to dis-establish all state-enforced or encouraged public segregation."

They were also told to "eliminate the effects of past . . . discrimination."

Evasion

LDF Director Counsel Jack Greenberg called the decision, "an important step pin closing the doors to evasion of the Constitution and the desegregation guidelines of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

"We plan to follow this up in those hard core states where massive resistance remains the order of the day, particularly Mississippi, Louisiana and S.W. Georgia," he said.

This injunction marks the first time since the Supreme Court's desegregation ruling of 1954 that an entire state has been placed under a single injunction to end school segregation, Mr. Greenberg added.

Wallace

The Court ruled that Gov. Wallace and other state officials have "through their control and influence over local school boards flouted every effort to make the 14th amendment a meaningful reality to Negro school children in Alabama."

The Federal Court said that Gov. Wallace and other state officials had used two chief means of encouraging local Alabama school boards to resist integration.

She has complete clerical responsibility for the sightseeing materials which are being inventoried in this office for distribution throughout the state.

Jazz Box

Cannonball Adderly Quintet can spring it so clean in his album "Mercy, Mercy Mercy". When he goes into his monologue before they break out, you can just visualize him standing on the platform with his bad instrument, his goat-tee sitting under his lip all prim as Mr. Adderly talks about "adversity. We never know when adversity will hit us."

"Bag o' Woe" sounds sweet, too. It's just good time music. Get the album.

Lou Rawls has another out. Lou baby, by the way, received a Gold Record award from the Record Industry Association of America for his "Lou Rawls Live" album.

New single is "Dead End Street." He talks through most of it, but he could be singing, for his rhythmic voice sort of sways in that Mr. bad background.

"Pucker Up Buttercup" is on last year's "RoadRunner" album by Mr. Jr. Walker and the All Stars. So is "Money" and, of course, "Road-Runner." See what you're missing? You go out and pay $1 for two songs when you could have ten or twelve, all sounding so sweet, for about $2 or $3.

For those of you who might like to see Ray Charles here, he has "The All New Ray Charles Show," featuring the Raellets and two additional acts. In concert, unfortunately, but I suppose that's the only way guards are able to handle you people when you hear Charles' music. The dancing would be too much for you to take.

Mr. Charles will be available for a concert appearance here almost anytime in June, early July, almost all of August. The concert will last at least two and one half hours. Could you see it?

The last time he was here, I hear, he had them crying in the aisles and all that good stuff.

"One hurt Deserves Another," by the Raellets, will be a sure song.

Headstart Project Needs Volunteers

Waterloo, Ia. — Black Hawk County now has its Head Start plans and application in the Kansas City Regional Office of Economic Opportunity for review and possible approval.

Co-ordinator, Wayne Mooers, of Exceptional Persons, Inc., has announced that volunteer help in the way of teacher aides, for secretarial or filling help, taking pictures, making playground equipment is needed.

Talents

"Forget about listing your talents," Mores said. "If you want to help in the fight against poverty or in the care of small children, let us worry about how."

Project Head Start Child Development Center is provided by the Federal government, in order to help urban and rural communities mobilize their resources to combat poverty.

Police Blotter

Sa. Louis, Mo. — A sixteen year-old baby sitter is being held by Police pending an investigation into the death of a six-year-old girl. It was reported that the 16-year-old youth appealed to neighbors telling them that "Frida fainted," but he was later quoted as saying that he had beaten the girl with a belt for misbehavior.

Rosa Brown, 44, pleaded innocent to breaking into the W. B. Huhchinson home, 1223 68th street, Windsor Heights, Jan. 16, and taking $85 and a radio. She is on $2,000 bond.

Russell Crawford, Jr., 20, of 1302 10th street is on $1,000 bond after being charged with larceny of two dresses from Mrs. Albert Franklin's car Jan. 23. The car was parked at 9th and High streets.

King at Pella; Weary Man

By Eleanor Tate

Pella, Ia. — For a man of his stature, you would have expected a voice of the same magnitude.

However, that voice held a crowd of 1,300 last Wednesday night, as its short owner retold his told of woe: "Man's inhumanity to man; the Southerner's pleasure is favorite phrase is not 'attend the church of your choice'—burn the church of your choice."

The man, of course, was the Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., as he addressed the audience at Central College.

Speech

We all know his speeches, his worries, his cares for civil rights.

At Art Center

The Des Moines Art Center scheduled a ten-week series of performing puppet classes for children beginning Wednesday, Mar. 29. According to the education director, L. G. Hoffman. This kind of study offers children an unequalled field of expression, fantasy, visual poetry, and dramatic interpretation.

The performing puppet theatre meetings are on Wednesdays, after school, from 4-5:15 p.m. A studio fee of $10 which includes all materials is required. All registrations should be made in advance.

Perils of Powell

A comprehensive study entitled "The Adam Clayton Powell Case: A Test for Christian Ethics," has been approved by the Presbytery of New York City.

Drafted by a six-member committee, the eight-page paper discusses the case in the light of personal morality versus social ethics, the procedures followed in the judgment against Powell, and what the Powell case says about the present status of race relations and its portents for the future.

Washington, D. C. Rep. Emanuel Celler (Dem. N. Y.) predicted that Powell will be seated if he wins in the special election slated Apr. 11. The House will reverse itself and would be more expedient for Powell. Celler is chairman of House which condemned Adam earlier.

Service is as important as the product you buy.

Save money by making sure . . . before you buy . . . that reliable repair service is available locally.

Six rules of buying a product that will need maintenance or repair:

1. Expect good sales service. If you don't get it you're likely to have trouble when you need repairs.
2. A guarantee is only as good as the organization behind it. Read it carefully.
3. Think of the product in terms of need for maintenance and availability of parts and service.
4. A good product name is essential but not enough if facilities for service are lacking.
5. Utility companies may be able to tell you where to obtain good service.
6. A dealer with adequate service facilities may have to charge a slightly higher price for the product.

You save in the long run with those who have facilities for good service.

SWEET POTATO TREAT

Your friends will talk for weeks about this toothsome dish once you give them a taste. A delicacy we owe to the Southland, Sweet Potato Treat is so easy to make you'll want to use it as a standard companion piece for your favorite ham recipes.

6 medium sweet potatoes
2 bottles Dr. Pepper
2 tablespoons butter
1/4 teaspoon cinnamon
1 box marshmallows

Pare and slice sweet potatoes lengthwise into half-inch strips, filling casserole which has been well buttered. Pour Dr. Pepper over sweet potatoes and dot with butter. Dust with cinnamon, top with 8 or 10 marshmallows, and bake one hour in 300 degree oven.

Life Imprisonment
In Rape Charge; In Death Row Four Mo.

Lynchburg, Va. — An all white jury deliberated for two hours and 40 minutes before declaring Thomas Wansley guilty of rape and robbery, and sentencing him to life imprisonment on each charge.

Wansley's lawyers, who had claimed that he could not get a fair trial in this Southside Virginia town, said they plan to appeal.

The 22-year-old Negro has already been in jail and prison for more than four years, including 18 months on death row. He was sentenced to death twice in early 1963 for the rape of Miss Annie Lee Carter, an elderly white woman, and Mrs. Kyoko Fishman, a Japanese.

Overturned
These verdicts were overturned by Virginia's Supreme Court in 1964 because of procedural errors, and trials were ordered. The Carter case retrial began Mar. 14.

It lasted five days, sparking mass demonstrations here and protests in other cities. Stokely Carmichael of SNCC spoke at a mass rally. Sympathizers from Chicago, Boston, New York, and a number of Southern cities attended the trials. More than 200 high school pupils cut classes to go to court.

HEALTH FOR ALL

It's very nice to be a warm human being and all that, but nobody has to carry the thing to a point where it gets ridiculous. Or unhealthy, either—like the warmth that's expressed by a temperature of 104 degrees, for example. Or even 102.

When you get that warmly human you are obviously on the feverish side and are apt to be a sick man, woman, boy or girl, as the case may be and usually is.

Not that a touch of fever is necessarily cause for alarm. While it usually reflects illness, it also indicates that your body's defenses are in there fighting. It's the outward micromelodrama going on inside, with an army of white blood cells rallying to the invasion alarm, rushing to the scene of battle, flinging itself on the enemy like so many Liberty Boys of '76.

Unless your general level of health is poor, the invading organism is a virulent one against which you have no immunity, you're a clear favorite for victory in this miniwar.

Most fevers indicate an infection whose nature is easily identified. Now and then doctors encounter a more baffling kind, which they list as "F. U. O."—fever of unexplained origin. But usually the culprit is a bug, and the fever will persist until

The most common fever-reducing drug is aspirin. It should not be used indiscriminately, but taken only in doses established by a doctor as safe for the individual. Habitual overdosing with aspirin can prove serious, even fatal.

Just what constitutes fever? Your Christmas Seal association suggests this simple guide: A temperature of up to one point above the normal 98.6 degrees Fahrenheit is seldom important. But a temperature of 100 or more in an adult, or 101 or more in a child, means illness, and a doctor should be consulted.

the Camera Guild

With the stereo camera you actually take two pictures—just as each of your eyes looks at the scene. Nature lets our eyes automatically bring the two pictures into one, but in photography you have to use the viewer in order to do this.

Stereo—the Newest Thing in Photography

If someone were to ask, "What is the newest thing in photography?" we'd probably answer "stereo." Of course, actually stereo isn't new. It has been around a hundred years or so. We're sure you've heard about the stereopticon slide viewers that occupied a place of honor beside the plush-covered family album in Victorian parlors. Viewing scenes of distant places through these was one of the popular pastimes of the day.

The thing that is new about stereo is that now we take our own stereo pictures. The scenes viewed through stereo viewers today are our own personally important pictures—they are the same pictures we snap with ordinary cameras for our family albums, or photograph on 35mm slides to project.

In stereo pictures, all the objects show up their natural relationship to each other. Thus, the beautiful scenic view, which tends to come out disappointingly flat in other pictures, will have all the qualities that made us want to photograph it. This is because such scenes most always owe their charm to depth—or perspective—both very difficult to capture in our snapshots. But with stereo, the scene will be just as you saw it.

Stereo pictures are not difficult to take. You just shoot color pictures—but view your subjects in all their natural three dimensional charm when you look at them through the stereo viewer.

LAURA MILLER'S READING of Paul Laurence Dunbar's 'Temptation' at Union Baptist Church is said to have been magnificent! She is Mrs. William Miller.

EUGENE BURK, DRAKE STUDENT AND DAVID PHEARS OF GRAND VIEW went to New York City for Easter vacation and found nine inches of snow; whereas it was 82 degrees here.

THIS TO ME WAS FOOD FOR THOUGHT: "Now I lay me down to sleep, I pray the Lord my soul to keep. If I should die before I wake, I pray the Lord my soul to take!" prayed a soldier in Viet Nam. This was his daily prayer he told his mother upon his return. Reading it over, was there more that he could ask?

She agreed and found herself biting into raw bacon. Astounded, she stared at her friend. Noting this, the girl asked "You like, no?" "Raw bacon!" exclaimed Nellie. Shrug the girl explained that in concentration camp one learned to eat raw bacon and like it.

Promoted To Assit.

Buyer At Younkers

Mrs. Mornetta Skipper in the eleventh year of her career as a Younkers Brothers employee has been promoted to assistant buyer in the hand bag department. Her first position was that of detail girl in the silver ware department for a period of three years. From here she entered the jewelry department and remained one year. At this point she was made supervisor of the hand bag department, a position she has held for six years. As of January of this year she was made assistant buyer. The hand bag department carries, too, small leather goods and umbrellas.

This position she enjoys. Of particular pleasure is the detail of selecting merchandise. To do this one takes into consideration public demand, classic or high fashion, costs, profit. She selects for all of the branch stores.

An amusing side of her job is the practice of some teenagers to select leather bags and their mother's settling for those of plastic. The idea being that the teenagers' bags receive the greater wear.

The most exciting aspect of her position is the custom of flying to the various cities in which the branches are located.

Mrs. Skipper is the wife of John J. Skipper. They reside at 1636 Walker street.

Richard Bruces Are Avid Bowlers; L.A.

The Richard Bruces, formerly of Des Moines, and now residents of Los Angeles, Calif., are popular bowlers in that city. Mrs. Wanda Bruce, on one occasion was described as having bowled a 264-659 series. She was called by one writer a symbol of bowling, always smiling whether the game was good or bad, and right there encouraging her opponents as well as teammates. In the 850 Ladies Classic in the Sun Gabriel Valley League Wanda was outstanding. In this play-off Mrs. Bruce took over the hi series spot by shooting games of 264-659; 170-225 for an exciting series total, although her league average is 179. However, in the Mixed Scratch at Holiday Bowl she has the top average of 185 and tied in a series of 649 with Cleo Ah Sun.

Cherry Cream Cheese Pie Is a Spring Delight

SPRING MAY MEAN DAFFODILS AND SUNNY BLUE SKIES but it also means unexpected company weekends when friends and relations out for a drive decide to drop in on you generally just before dinner.

One familiar sight on the pantry shelf that comes in very handy at a time like this is a 15-ounce can of sweetened condensed milk. With it you can make a mouthwatering Cherry Cream Cheese pie in a wink because the filling requires no cooking at all. It is made by putting a layer of red cherries on the bottom of the pastry shell and then pouring in a fluffy filling made from sweetened condensed milk, lemon juice, cream cheese and 2 eggs. This luscious pie filling can also be combined with strawberries, raspberries, bananas or crushed pineapple for the sake of variety.

CHERRY CREAM CHEESE PIE

(Makes a 9-inch pie)

- | | |
|--|--|
| 1 baked 9-inch pastry shell, | 1 3-oz. package cream cheese cooled |
| 1 1/4 cups sweetened condensed milk (15 oz. can) | 2 egg yolks |
| 1/4 cup fresh lemon juice | 2 egg whites |
| | 1 1/2 cups (No. 2 can) cooked pitted sour red cherries, well drained |
- Put sweetened condensed milk and lemon juice into mixing bowl; stir until mixture thickens. Soften cheese at room temperature; beat with spoon until fluffy. Beat in one egg yolk at a time. Fold into sweetened condensed milk mixture. Beat egg whites until stiff enough to hold a peak; fold into milk-cheese mixture. Spread 1 cup cherries evenly on bottom of pastry shell. Top with milk-cheese mixture and decorate with remaining cherries. Chill. (ANS)

POOR EXAMPLES FOR COLLEGE STUDENTS

Around Easter time, schools let students out for spring vacation. Florida and possibly Louisiana have been the biggest assembly areas for college students because of climate and natural facilities for recreation.

The newspapers have given accounts in word and picture of some unwholesome gatherings where the participants have engaged in lawlessness and disregard for the other people.

Most of these youngsters come from good schools, from good homes. It costs money to take these vacations.

With opportunity, money and status, which should go a long way toward producing upstanding, normal youngsters with decorum and respect for others, it is difficult to see what makes them act like bands of gangsters. In fact, their conduct is worse than the poor alley kids who never had a chance.

Today, we are stressing education in order for youngsters to have a better future. But the old things which grandmother taught at home are disregarded or mentioned with apology.

But it only goes to show that the fellow born with "everything" at his command may turn out to be a tramp while one from down behind the track may turn out to be a jewel.

Last week, General Hershey, director of the selective service, appeared before a group at Howard University, Washington, D.C. to deliver a speech.

A group of students appearing in the hall with placards, condemned the war in Viet Nam and the draft. They shouted and yelled, creating such a commotion that the general could not deliver his speech.

Officials hurried him out of a side door so as to prevent bodily harm to the guest.

This fracas was carried on by a few disgruntled students who, like those in other schools, choose to disrupt the orderly activities of the institution. On the other hand, these tactics are so offensive and are carried on to such an extent that some people charge them up to the whole student body.

Howard is a fine school, serving people without regard to race, color or origin. It has done so for a hundred years. The bulk of its income is derived from the federal government.

The incident was unfortunate. Rep. Gross of Iowa said it should be taken in consideration when Howard's budget was being passed. The Bystander feels that few will follow the suggestion of Mr. Gross, but it only goes to show how some people think.

WRONG APPROACH TO URBAN RENEWAL GRIPES

Last week, a committee directed a letter to and Monday appeared before the city council protesting the low valuations being placed on homes in the Urban Renewal area which has caused hardships on many people in an effort to find adequate housing. While the protests are to the point, they contain the same arguments that have been made in freeway and urban renewal projects since they began.

Many of the same people who protested their treatment last year later have closed their mouth and taken what the appraiser said their property was worth.

Unfortunately, the city has blundered along so long that some properties have deteriorated thus reducing their value. In some instances, the owners were told not to improve their property because the administration would not add the cost of new improvements to the price.

The administration has accomplished nothing providing adequate homes for the displaced homeowners as required by law.

The Bystander said in the beginning that the dissatisfied people should go to court for redress. It was the only remedy then; it is their only remedy now.

We don't need to ask basketball fans if they saw the NCAA final game on their screens last Saturday. The tournament proved a couple of things: one, that they are not a one-man team and that they might have made it to the finals without their big man LEW ALCINDOR. But in that case Huston would have probably won the thing.

This guy Alcindor is really valuable to the team as a player. He pulls up countless shots to pass off to the open man.

But when he did decide to score he simply went ahead and scored. We hope the guy stays in school and finishes what looks like a fabulous career.

Sportswriters

Now the sportswriters are talking about next season. They should be tougher with a whole team intact and a lot of help from a good freshman team. But conceding them another unbeaten year is just a little too far out. They could lose players through eligibility. Just plain dropping one and for any one of a dozen other reasons. Then everybody they play will out to beat them and somebody just might get the job done. But even so the guys could very well end up in the national meet finals again.

Track

Here at home we had another track meet and again our local hero was JIM KIRBY who won the 440, but was beaten in the fifty-yard dash. Now we know JIM can't wait to get that fellow outdone.

You must excuse us for not mentioning the boxing match last week. We thought it would have been news if CASSIUS CLAY had lost. But the nice guy made some money even if he did lose. (ZORA FOLLEY). Now it looks like the armed forces for our champion.

Do you realize that baseball is just around the corner? In just about eleven days from the time you read this the umpires will be holding play ball. Who do we pick? Well, in the National League we go with the Pittsburgh Pirates and in the American you can put about four teams in a hat and see which comes out. Because the ORIOLES are the defending champs, we will pick them, but we wouldn't be surprised if they don't. Who will beat them? We don't know.

Soft

Some guy argued with us about our statement of last week concerning college athletes. He said they had it too soft now. He didn't see why the school didn't just have some ball players. But they are still schools and we predict that in the near future a way will be found to lend athletes money for emergencies and worthy causes without making it cost a whole lot of people.

Baker, Nance, Whitney Tisdale On All -State Basketball Team Listings

Larry Baker, Kenneth Whitney, Jim Nance, Osbert Tisdale. What do they have in common?

They all were named to the big paper's all state basketball teams. Baker, Cedar Rapids Jefferson J-Hawks, was honored as member of the first team. Whitney, Des Moines Roosevelt senior, was placed in the second. Nance, a J-Hawk senior and Tisdale, East Waterloo Senior, were on the sixth team.

Nance and Baker, of course, were the super boys of the recent Boys state basketball tournament in which the J-Hawks caught the crown over Ames, 72-71. Whitney can lay claim to have scored in the 1964-1965 State when Roosevelt scaled St. Mary's and gained the championship Tisdale's East Waterloo participated in sub-state.

State Track Meet; Sprint Champ Upset

Kirby was back into things Saturday as he tied the state Class AA indoor 440-yard dash record.

Kirby, North high senior, was upset in another of the champ's favorite events, the 50 yard dash when Bill Cribbs of Central Davenport passed him.

In team scoring Des Moines Roosevelt placed fourth, North was sixth, Tech seventh.

UCLA NCAA Champ 79-64 Over Dayton

Louisville, Ky. — Scoring their thirtieth victory of the season were the UCLA and they rolled over Dayton, 79-64.

Key player for UCLA was, of course, Lew Alcindor, 7-foot 1-inch sophomore who scored 20 points.

This win puts UCLA in a unique position. There are only four such teams to have an undefeated record in the National College Athletics Association; it has tied a tournament record of 12 straight victories set by Kentucky teams in the past 20 years; it is the second only team to win three national championships in four years.

Youths Are Selected For Bricklayers

The all white Bricklayers Union Local 2, controversial in that it was all-white became the center of attention last week when a Negro was selected for training as apprenticeship.

However, because two Negroes were chosen of the thirty, and later eighteen applicants, John Ropes, director of the Iowa Manpower Development Council said he will withhold funds.

Bricklayer apprenticeship funds are financed by the federal government.

The Des Moines office of the Employment Service said thirteen youths, six of them Negroes, took the aptitude test required of bricklayer candidates since the program was announced a month ago.

Robert Farrell, executive secretary to the Des Moines Construction Council, said three Negroes were among those interviewed of the four candidates.

Waterloo, Ia. (Special)—Two Negroes have been recruited recently for training as non-union bricklayers; however, the non-union bricklayer apprenticeship training will be in a school in Storm Lake.

The Waterloo men were recruited by members of the Manpower Council staff.

Dixie Schools Told Get Negroes On Team

Atlanta, Ga. — No Negro has ever played in a single one of the present member of a certain 34-year old athletic conference.

It's a simple fact.

Racial barriers are falling all over the country, the schools in this conference have played other educational facilities with Negroes on their teams. But conference member teams have remained lily white.

Officials

Federal officials have gotten behind members of the Southeastern Conference to desegregate their athletic programs. No formal complaint had been made in the past to the schools, though all have Negro students.

Now the U. S. Officer of Education has warned them.

Skeptics feel the warning will not be effective, however, since the coaches plead that they "discriminate only on athletic ability and not on race."

Federal funds apparently can be withheld, according to the Title VI of the 1964 Civil Rights Act.

Auburn, Ala. — Dr. Harry M. Philpott, president of Auburn University has announced that they "are going to have a Negro on a athletic scholarship. We have no Negroes on athletic scholarships but we have Negroes in the University."

Chide Edward Brooke For Viet Views

Boston, Mass. — After returning to the States, Sen. Edward Brooke suggested a volunteer army should be established.

His suggestion has run the gamut of opinion. President Lyndon Johnson called him immediately upon Brooke's return to compliment him on his findings. Sargent Shriver upheld the Senator's views on the draft, which, he felt, "had operated unfairly at least since 1949."

However, many have called Brooke's statements and findings asinine, especially those who call up on radio telephone programs. They compare Brooke's call for a career army as the stepping stone to the fall of the United States, as was what happened to the Roman Empire.

Type

"You'd be amazed at the number of people who would volunteer for a career army," Brooke went on. Yes, and what type of person would volunteer? As goes the discussion. Again, in comparison, those who joined the Christian Crusade centuries back were vagabonds, those out for money, the perverts, the blood lusts, etc.

Disproportionate

Brooke said an army of career men "would have a disproportionate number of Negroes. It's relatively good life, better than a lot of Negroes in lower economic rungs unable to provide for themselves."

Various people were concerned with having so many Negroes, (following this vein of thought as to the type of person enlisting) fighting white people and fighting other colored peoples of the world.
