Bond Feels Acholic Senators Be Ousted, Too

'Powell Not Charged With Anything,' Talks in Bimini

Rep. Julian Bond, Georgia legislator, was in Des Moines Friday and Saturday.

Bond, outspoken young man who was ousted but finally seated for his remarks on Viet Nam, said in a press conference Friday afternoon that he would like to see no army at all. He also said that the military should be restricted to shooting to killing.

"Jobs like kitchenwork, personnel, paper work should be left to civilians," Bond said.

Killed

"Out of every nine eligible men for the Armed services, one is a Negro. Out of every nine men in the Army, two are Negro; out of every nine men killed, three are Negro.

He gave no praise for the explanation that the reason so many Negroes died on the battlefield was due to their bravery and volunteer work on front lines.

On Adam Clayton Powell, he said that "Powell was the father of non violent demonstrations. "When King was two years old, Powell was marching in the streets."

Formation

On the third party formation, Bond said that he and other backers of the proposed party had gone to Bimini to ask the Harlem preacher to join them.

Bond's explanation of the party was that Negroes in government could be united on their various stands and actions on issues.

On Powell's expulsion, Bond questioned the Congress's tactics in retaining alcoholic senators, and the congressmen in their underwear in London who chased women around their apartments.

Bond, who also spoke Friday evening at the YWCA, participated in a series of discussions with Col. Glenn R. Bowles, director of the selective service concerning the draft.

Julian Bond, State Representative from Georgia, will appear on "Profile," WHO TV 7:30 p.m., Monday, Apr. 10 or Apr. 17.

Whitmer

Mayor George Whitmer headed the group meeting Bond at Des Moines' Municipal Airport and presented him the key to the City.

Among others present were Perry Hooks, director of the Human Rights Commission, James Thomas, Director of the Iowa Civil Rights Commission, Rep. William Hill, and a number of Women's International League for Peace and Freedom members.

Dinner

Among Iowans present at the dinner at the YWCA, Friday, were Judge and Mrs. Luther T. Glanton, James Thomas, Rep. June Franklin, William Hill, Harry Beardsley, John Tapscott, William Palmer, Thomas Renda, Charles Glenn, Dan Johnston and Russell Pounds, former Director of Iowa Manpower and now professor at Iowa State University.

Explains Housing Inspection Code

In response to the reaction, sometimes angry, over the housing inspection program, Udell Cason, administrative assistant, said: "There wasn't any specific region that needed the inspection more than any other, but these areas were first designated to bring the home up to the minimum code."

He said that if homes are at least up to the code, the home would not need vital repairs.

Code

Under the 1959 Des Moines Minimum Housing Code, bathrooms must have a flush toilet, a bathtub or shower, washbasin with hot and cold running water, a floor that is reasonably impervious to water and is kept in a clean and sanitary condition.

Kitchens must have a sink with taps connected to both hot and cold running water, a floor that is reasonably impervious to water and is kept in a clean and sanitary condition.

Soul Sister Will Sing On Academy Awards

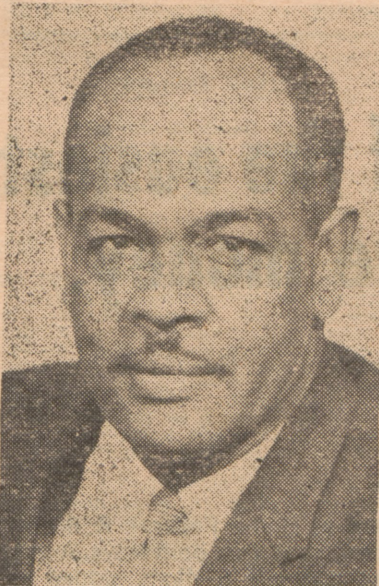

Appearing on the 39th Annual Awards Presentation of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences will be Miss Dionne Warwick.

Miss Warwick, whose songs include "Message to Michael," and "Walk on By," will sing the title song from "Alfie," written by Hal David and Burt Bacharach.

History Bill In Iowa House Monday

A bill was introduced in the Iowa House requiring that Iowa school teach their pupils about the "history of the Negro race and other minorities."

School textbooks would also be selected according to their degree of Negro contributions cited in them.

REP. REED

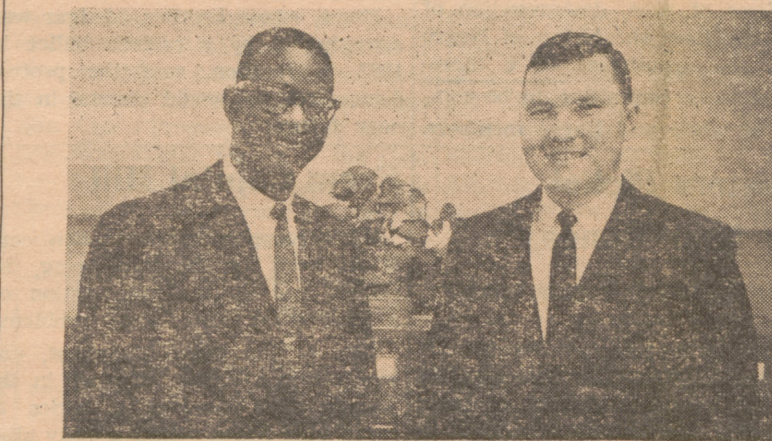

The bill is sponsored by Rep. Cecil Reed, Rep. Cedar Rapids, who has been extremely active in incorporating a Negro history series in his town, and William Cannon, Dem., of Mingo.

Humphrey

Washington, D. C. — Vice President Humphrey asked Americans to help close an educational "gap" by including accomplishments of the Negro in the nation's history.

The Vice President said "the shared pride in Negro history and achievement is a solid foundation upon which to build a new and healthy climate of mutual respect and un-

Trains in Internal Revenue School

Waterloo, Ia. — Shown here are James Allen Hutchins, Jr., and Lester Kavan, of the Internal Revenue Service.

Hutchins, newest employee, is attending a training course at Milwaukee and is presently serving as a member on the Waterloo Human Rights Commission.

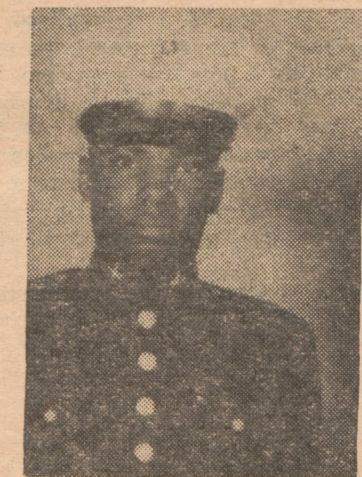

An East High graduate in 1956, Hutchins later received a BA degree from State College of Iowa, Cedar Falls, in January, 1967.

He is married to the former Janice Mae Austin. They have three children.

Kavan has a degree in accounting from the University of Southern Mississippi in Hattiesburg, Miss., and previously was employed by the U.S. department of Agriculture from 1962-1967 when he joined the IRS.

weeks of individual combat training and then, after leave at home, will report to his first Marine Corps assignment.

The intensified Marine recruit training emphasizes rigid physical conditioning and survival techniques, both at sea and ashore, to develop self-confidence and endurance. Marksmanship with the M-14 rifle and 45-calibre pistol and equally stressed, and close order drill instills the traditions of Marine Corps teamwork.

A thorough study of basic military subjects; hygiene; first aid and sanitation; and the customs, courtesies, history and mission of the Marine Corps serve to polish the new Marines.

Understanding among all elements of society."

"Lacking an awareness of where the Negro fits in American society, generations of Negro children have grown up with a warped attitude toward themselves, their parents, and grandparents," the Vice President said.

Calling this lack "a great American tragedy," the Vice President said "there is no way of knowing how many Negro youths have become frustrated, discouraged and bitter over their feeling of 'nobodiness.'"

To solve the problem, Vice President Humphrey suggested all children, Negro and white should learn the complete history of our country.

USS Capricornus — Radioman Third Class Gary L. Baring, USN, son of Mrs. Deloris Davis of 1552 W. 18th St., is helping the U. S. Atlantic Fleet Amphibious Force (PHIBLANT) celebrate its 25th anniversary this month, while serving aboard the attack cargo ship USS Capricornus (AKA-57).

Established in February of 1942, the force is now 20,000 men strong, and operates 60 ships of different types.

Units of PHIBLANT successfully spearheaded every major allied amphibious invasion in North Africa and Europe during World War II.

The Force's 25 years in existence reflect a history of military preparedness and humanitarian relief in many lands bordering on the Atlantic Ocean and the Caribbean and Mediterranean Seas. It has won praise time and time again for contributions to peace and its important part in proving that the Amphibious is indeed a "Vanguard in Peace and a Spearhead in War."

Set NAACP Conference At St. Joseph, Mo., Three Delegates

The Fourth Regional Leadership Training Conference will be held in St. Joseph, Mo. Apr. 21-23.

Two board members will attend the conference, Mrs. Georgine C. Morris and the Rev. Fred Swett. State president, Robert C. Wright will attend as a delegate for the State. (Iowa State Conference of Branches).

Speakers

Main speaker at the conference will be Mal Goode, first Negro newsmen in network television.

Among Conference workshops will be on Housing, Membership, Employment and convene at the Hotel Robitroux.

Region Four includes Colorado, Iowa, Kansas, Minnesota, Missouri, Montana, Nebraska, North Dakota, South Dakota and Wyoming.

The Des Moines branch is in the process of preparation for its 1967 Membership campaign. Campaign workers will be needed.

Regularly monthly meeting will be held Tuesday, Apr. 24.

NEWS In A Nutshell

East St. Louis, Mo. — Miss Mahila Jackson appeared at a benefit concert at the Senior High School here, sponsored by a group of citizens who had endorsed Miss Fannie G. Jones for East St. Louis Park Commissioner in the coming election.

Northfield, Minn. — Reigning king and queen of the Carleton college here are Printice Gary and Miss Cynthia Darling, over the 1967 Carleton College Winter Carnival. It is the first time in the school's history that a Negro is King. Queen is white.

Washington, D.C. — The U.S. Civil Service Commission Monday announced a nationwide examination for Correctional Officers in the Federal Prison Service.

New York, N.Y. — Roy Wilkins announced this week that the NAACP will conduct its 1967 Summer Project in Missouri, with particular emphasis on the "Boot-Heel" area of southeast Missouri, which has the state's largest concentration of Negro citizens outside the metropolitan areas of St. Louis and Kansas City.

Greensboro, N.C. — Miss Janet Jenkins, senior home economics major of Camden, N. J., has been chosen today to reign over May Day festivities at Bennett College on May 6, according to campus-wide election returns just tabulated.

Washington, D.C. — Dr. John Mitchell, of Oakland, Calif. Red Cross Chapter water safety chairman, presented Certificates of Merit to three counselors who saved a man from drowning at a Parks Job Corps center.

Provide Retarded Childrens Work Center

The Work Activity Center of the Polk County Association for Retarded Children will hold its first Open House on Wednesday, Apr. 5, 7-9 p.m.

This project of the PCARC was established in October, 1966, and the young people participating were formerly in the Slinker School Program which was operated by the Polk County Association until it was assumed by the Des Moines Public Schools. Slinker School now provides classes for trainable mentally retarded from ages 5-21.

The Work Activity Center is designed to provide for the transition from school to other types of productive activity, such as sheltered workshops or employment in private industry. The present Center is a pilot project to demonstrate this need.

At The Art Center

The announcement of two appointments to the Des Moines Art Center education staff was made by Thomas S. Tibbs, director of the Art Center. The two are John Gordon, artist in residence, and Edwin Harris, ceramist in residence. Mr. Tibbs said that the Art Center takes pride in appointing two such talented and recognized artists to the teaching faculty.

Turned Down Again; Life Dream of Firefighter Is Shattered by Commission

Two young men rejected by the Civil Service Commission's Fire Department will continue their efforts to be firemen.

Mulford Fonza, 22, of 188 12th street, and Walter Williams, 24, of 619 S.E. 5th were notified Tuesday morning that they had been turned down by the Department.

"The first I had heard about it was in Monday's Tribune," said Fonza. "Tuesday morning I got a letter which said 'thank you for your troubles, but your name was not among those selected.'"

Failure

Both had applied last year, but Fonza failed the physical examination with me then after I failed the physical, but he couldn't find anything."

The examination proceedings are still pending with the Human Rights Commission.

Perry Hooks, executive director of the Human Rights Commission, said he planned a public hearing to look into the second rejection of the two Negro applicants.

"And I think the people will wake up to the (facts)," said Fonza. "We'll find out whether the community wants Negroes on their fire department."

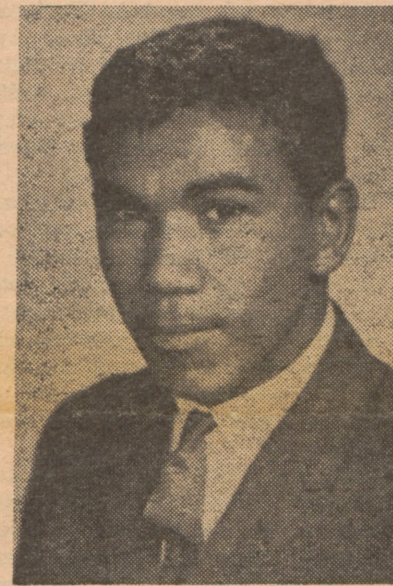

Letter

Hooks said a letter to the Civil Service Commission to have been delivered Tuesday, asked the Civil Commission to open its records regarding the case.

The resignation of Leo J. Danzinger, chairman of the Civil Service Commission, said Mulford, might directly affect the applications. "There might not be so much prejudice."

He said when he went before the board he found them hostile, particularly Mr. Seymour. "You could just tell. They were trying to find out all the bad things, giving false accusations. They said we had bad police records."

Rights Hearing to Start In California

Washington, D.C.—The U.S. Commission on Civil Rights announced today that it will hold a public hearing in the San Francisco-Oakland, Calif. Bay Area, beginning May 1.

The purpose of the hearing will be to collect information concerning civil rights problems in the Bay Area counties of San Francisco, Contra Costa, Alameda, San Mateo, Marin, Sonoma, Napa, Santa Clara, and Solano. The hearing also will appraise the laws and policies of the Federal Government with respect to denials of equal protection of the laws in housing, employment.

All Minorities

"The Bay Area hearing will be concerned with civil rights problems of Spanish-speaking persons, including Mexican-Americans, as well as Negroes," said William L. Taylor, Staff Director of the Commission. "The hearing will concentrate on issues related to housing and employment in several cities and suburban communities within the metropolitan areas of San Francisco and Oakland."

Recordings

Recordings of former President John F. Kennedy and president Lyndon B. Johnson (then vice-president) addressing the sorority's Golden Anniversary meeting were also presented to the oral history archives of both Kennedy and Johnson Libraries.

Dr. Charles H. Wesley, executive director of the Association for the Study of Negro Life and History, accepted Delta's 1967 grant of $500 and the support of its 307 chapters in developing broader community understanding of the contribution Negro Americans have made to the nation.

The fund for the Delta Theta Collection of books on Negro life and history, located in the Omaha Public Library, now totals $4,300, said Dr. Woods, in presenting the latest grant to Mrs. Alice Davis of Washington, D.C., who accepted the check in behalf of the Mayor of Omaha.

Jazz Box

by e. tate

Talking to a soul sister the other night, she was complaining that there was no place for her (and myself) to have fun during the summer; Wilkie House is in big O J high kids; all the clubs are for the older sweetmeats. Where do we come in?

It would be sweet to get all the responsible young people in D.M. to organize into one club with reliable sponsoring, so that once a month the club could pull in some big-time group. I'm serious about this. Not all our soul sweets want to spend their money on fire crackers and guns and switch blades so they can terrorize old people and chained dogs. They would be more than happy to save their money so they could buy some rags to see for instance, the Four Tops.

(By the way, I've written to Mo-Town to get the official word on whether the Tops are coming, and settle this rumor.)

If we could get about 20 young souls who were really interested in having good, clean fun (I don't mean bringing in some hip huggers like the Rajah Men or gimmick group) and I don't mean to sponsor a dance where fifteen year old girls come in with dresses meant for strippers and I don't mean dances where thirteen year olds have gin bottles in their vests; I mean a type of evening in which promoters for big-time singers would want their people to return. And so if I'm square if I'd like to go to a dance where I or any other girl could be safe from being insulted by some unruly drunk who might be forty years old.

Let's do something different than last summer. Let's be clean, cool and respectable. There's nothin' wrong at all with that. We're still young, let's have fun.

According to Nick Zale, big-time man who's very coo-pub, he says that Lowell Fulson was supposed to be here Thursday, March 16.

Please inform. Where was he? Or did some hoodlum scare him away? The Supremes' new coo-pub, unfortunately, disqualifies them from rhythm and blues.

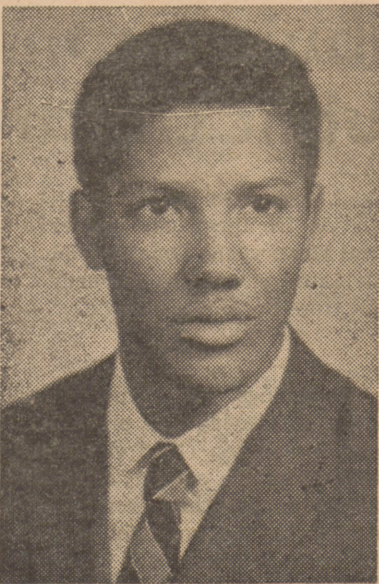

Laugh of the week: Arthur Conley (Sweet Soul Music) is said to be almost as good as the "Fabulous Flippers." Hold your sides on that one.

WILLIAMS

Both young men have had encounters with the police—Milford for traffic court and juvenile misdeamors and Williams for misdeamors; both, however, have been in the Army. Both have been married. Fonza has been married fifteen months, Williams divorced.

Both are natives of Des Moines—Milford is the son of the late Hallie and Blossom Fonza. Walter is the son of Mrs. J. Walter Thompson.

A Talk With Julian Bond Plan Natchez Protests After City Backs Down

By Eleanora Tate

Background

In public he gives you the feeling that he is cocky, self assured, that he knows your question before you ask it, and gives you the what's and why-for's to prove it.

But alone, he presents a different side of himself, if it is only in a conversation of a few minutes.

This is the impression I got from Julian Bond, Georgia Legislator who was in Des Moines Friday and Saturday to speak on conscription.

Powell

Bond, a slender, sun-glassed 27-year-old, discussed Adam Clayton Powell, who he visited with last Saturday.

"Powell believes in social theology; that man is involved with man here on earth." But he said, in view of Powell's wrongdoings, that ministers weren't any worse than any other man.

And the kind of congregation Powell has?

"They are young married couples and older people. Middle class."

He said he didn't know if Powell carried the traditional Baptist Negro sermon with the God Almighty, shouting, screaming accompanying it.

Anti-Trust Suit Over Negro Realtor

Pittsburgh, Pa. — The powerful Greater Pittsburgh Multilist, Inc.—a group of approximately 35 local realtors whose dollar volume exceeded eight million dollars last year, was charged Wednesday, Apr. 5, with violation of the Sherman Anti Trust Act.

Attorneys of the NAACP Legal Defense and Education Fund, Inc. (LDF) asked the U.S. District Court here to permanently enjoin Multilist from excluding Negro real estate man Robert R. Lavelle and others "similarly situated."

Lavelle, through his lawyers, maintains that the "combination and conspiracy" of Multilist55 constitutes a violation of the Pennsylvania common law prohibiting combinations and conspiracies in restraint of trade.

The Greater Pittsburgh Multilist, Inc. is a membership corporation organized under Pennsylvania state laws.

Attorneys told the Court that "Multilist consolidates and distributes to its members all the real property (land, apartments, and houses) listings of other members.

Licensed

"The realtor who, as an agent, sells the property," the Court was told, "shares the commission with the realtor who secured the listing."

The LDF complaint stated that Multilist is the dominant multiple-listing organization in Pittsburgh.

"During 1966, Multilist's dollar volume exceeded eight million dollars," the Court was told.

LDF attorneys pointed out that "all the officers and members of Multilist are white" while "none of the 11 licensed Negro real estate brokers and 24 licensed Negro salesmen" in the city is a member of Multilist.

Bond's background includes not only working as publicity manager for the Student Non-Violent coordinating committee but also on the staff on the Atlantic Inquirer and the Atlanta Voice, both of which are weeklies.

Many good things could be said about weekly newspapers, he said. "They perform services of the neighborhood which the dailies pass over."

As publicity manager for SNCC, he said he "would brief the reporters beforehand on what SNCC planned to do."

Bond, a supporter of Powell, said they were punishing Powell on account of his wife who had been on the congressman's payroll.

He also mentioned that no other charge had been made against the Harlem preacher.

In comparing Atlanta with Des Moines in Negro business, Bond said: "Not knowing Des Moines, I can only tell you about Atlanta. It has more Negro millionaires than any other city in the country. Negroes own banks, restaurants and real estate. This was forced by segregation. In Des Moines, a Negro can buy from one business as easily as another."

Miss Myrtle Miller

Guest At Bethel AME

The Missionary Society of Bethel A. M. E. Church will have as guest speaker on Sunday, Apr. 2, Miss Myrtle Mae Miller, of Gary Ind.

Miss Miller is chairman of Christian Social Relations of the Fourth District, secretary and program chairman of the Fourth U District Union of Evangelists of the A. M. E. Church. She is on the Board of Directors of the Northwest Indiana Council of Churches.

Time of the engagement are at 11 a.m. and 3 p.m. services.

Rape Case to Supreme Court; 20 yr. Sentence

Washington—The U. S. Supreme Court was asked Thursday, Mar. 30, by the NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund, Inc. (LDF) to reverse a 20-year rape sentence based on the repetition of five words, uttered eight months earlier.

Sixteen-year-old Archie Nathaniel Biggers of Nashville, Tennessee, was arrested on Aug. 17, 1965 and allegedly identified by a woman as the man who attempted to rape her the night before.

Yet, young Biggers was never tried on this charge.

Later, the same day, another woman, Mrs. Margaret Beamer, was brought to police headquarters to "look at a suspect."

Natchez, Miss. — Civil rights leader Charles Evers has announced plans to resume protest demonstrations in this racially-torn Southeast Mississippi city following charges that city officials reneged on their pledge to appoint a Negro to the school board.

Evers, Mississippi state field director of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, said the promise to appoint a Negro to the school board was contained in an agreement reached with Natchez Mayor John J. Nasser. To date no Negro has been appointed.

On Dec. 3, 1965, Mayor Nasser and Evers jointly announced an agreement, unprecedented in this deep South area, aimed at correcting injustices suffered by Negro citizens.

The settlement, which ended a three-month boycott of downtown stores by Negroes, pledged jobs, equality of courtesy among citizens regardless of race, desegregation of public facilities, the hiring of Negro police, the appointment of a three-man advisory committee to be composed of white and Negro members.

Ministers Picket

City Hall Monday Over Urban Renewal

A group of ministers, headed by the Rev. Seymour S. Gaines, picketed City Council Monday morning to protest the procedures used in Urban Renewal.

Rev. Gaines, pastor of Union Baptist Church, said if nothing was done to correct the tactics, they would return in larger numbers next week.

He said Negroes had not been advised of all of their rights, such as going to condemnation court if they did not wish to accept an appraisal.

Among the group were Norman Oakly, chief cook at the Cloud Room, who said that he didn't think the housing situation is going to get better; Henry Boyd, carrying a placard which read "unfair Negro Removal", said Negroes had nowhere to go after moving; Rev. H. R. Fields, Rev. Joseph Gaines and Eugene Wilson.

Last Rites For Tommy Tomson; Broadlawns

Services were held 10 a.m. Monday, Glendale Cemetery, for 56-year-old Tommy Tomson, who died Thursday at Broadlawns Polk County Hospital.

Tomson, who lived at the Oxford Hotel, was born in Knoxville, Tenn., and had lived here eight years. He was a dishwasher at Hotel Savery.

There are no survivors.

Agreement

Parts of the agreement, which have already been met by officials, Mr. Evers said, also included a stipulation stating that:

"In view of the fact that more than 50 per cent of the pupils attending the local public schools are members of the Negro race, it is considered fair and equitable that this majority be represented by a qualified Negro on the board."

Bombings

George Metcalf, NAACP Branch pres., narrowly escaped death when a bomb was planted in his car outside the Armstrong Rubber Company plant where he worked. He was crippled for life.

Wharlest Jackson, an Armstrong employee, was killed last Feb. 27, when a bomb exploded under the hood of his pickup truck. He had just been upgraded to a job not previously held by a Negro. He was former treasurer of the Natchez NAACP Branch.

Evers, whose brother, Medgar was assassinated by a racist's bullet in 1963 in Jackson, said the protest demonstrations would resume in the near future.

From Capital Hill

With reapportionment taken care of, at least for the time being, the Senate and House began action on a number of other state problems.

One of the more important, and controversial, issues came up in the Senate. This involved a series of seven bills which would greatly alter the state's present court system from the justice of peace courts to the district court.

In the House, with strong Republican support, a proposed constitutional amendment was passed which would call for the governor and lieutenant governor to be elected to four-year terms.

The proposal now must go back to the Senate because of a House amendment. The original form which had passed both houses in the last session and the Senate earlier this year had called for the four-year terms and for the governor and lieutenant governor to run as a "team".

The House removed the "team" section on the basis of an attorney general's opinion which said it was illegal to have two subjects included in one amendment.

Under the new proposal, if the four-year provision is passed by the Senate this session it could be approved again by both houses in 1969 and go to a vote of the people in a special election that year.

In this way, if it is approved by the people, the four-year term provision could go into operation for the 1970 elections. This is desirable so that Iowa's election of its top officials would not occur in a presidential election year. This would result in greater attention being focused on the gubernatorial election.

The solution to the reapportion-

Police Blotter

Jimmy (James Edward) Smith, Jr., 18, has pleaded innocent to stealing about $75 from a cash register at the J. C. Penney Co. store Jan. 10. Smith lives at 1241 Ure street, was released on $1000 bond.

St. Louis, Mo.—After taking $15 from a drugstore owner and emptying cash from the register, a youth-looking bandit took snatched eight half-pints of whiskey and fled.

Cicero, Ill.—Three white boys have escaped the death penalty after being charged with the bludgeoning slaying of Negro Jerome Huey, 17, who was beaten to death. Although the state had asked the death penalty, defense attorney said the boys had "acted unwisely" in pounding the boy with a baseball bat.

Larry Carter, 29, was accused of shooting at Mrs. Rose Marasco.

Larry, who gave his address as 909 E. Seventeenth st., was indicted on a charge of assault with intent to commit murder, but was found guilty by the jury on the lesser charge.

Mrs. Madge Gaiters, of 1135 Tenth st., owner of an apartment house at 1157 10th st., said juveniles apparently entered the third floor by going up the rear stairs and breaking in a door. A 14-year-old girl, a runaway from Davenport, was arrested after a fire badly damaged the third floor.

Mary Louise Meyer, 25, of 1138 12th street pleaded innocent to charges of leading the "life of a prostitute." Hearing is on Apr. 14, 1:30 p.m. Mary Louise Allen, 49, of 915 25th street, pleaded innocent to keeping a house of ill repute. Bond was $500. Barbara Jean Luck-ment question came on a series of House and Senate votes right after the Easter recess. The various bills and resolutions did this:

—establish a 10-member state commission to recommend single member districts in those counties electing more than one senator and representative. The commission must submit its findings to the legislature, which will then make the final determination of the districts. The state chairman of each political party will select five members to the commission.

—give final legislative approval to a permanent reapportionment constitutional amendment. This plan, which was passed by both houses in the 1965 session, now goes to the voters for approval in the 1968 elections. The proposal, if approved, would require the 1969 session to reduce the size of the House to 100 members and the Senate to 50 to take effect in the 1970 elections.

—give first legislative approval to a proposed constitutional amendment to require that every senator and representative be elected from a single-member district. This mandatory subdistricting proposal must be approved by both houses in the 1969 legislature and approved by a vote of the people. Contained in the compromise plan was a pledge that both parties would support the proposal in the 1969 session and urge its passage at a special election in 1969.

ett, 32, also of 915 25th, pleaded innocent to selling beer without a permit. The women were arrested Friday after a "police vice squad" purchased beer at Barbara's Place, 783 11th street.

Kenneth Downs, who lost a collection of records and a portable television to vandals, recently became the victim of a wig snatcher. A bag containing 6 wigs estimated at $710, was stolen from his home, 1123 9th street last Friday.

James Edward Christopher and Paul Johnson pleaded innocent to charges of assault and battery and injuring and tampering with a motor vehicle, and disturbing the peace, respectively. They were arrested after Christopher was said to have broken out a car window and Gilbertson grabbed the female occupant by the hair.

Republican Program Slated At U. of Iowa

There's still time for leaders from Iowa campuses to sign up for the "Opportunities, Unlimited" program Saturday at the University of Iowa, Iowa City, Republican State Chairman Robert Ray said Wednesday.

The day-long "Opportunities, Unlimited" program will include addresses by Republican National Chairman Ray Bliss, New Mexico Governor David F. Cargo, and Congressmen Robert V. Denney of Nebraska and John B. Anderson of Illinois.

Much of the day will be devoted to discussions of these kinds of careers by Iowans who are actually engaged in them. Question and answer periods are included. The program is scheduled to end at 3:30 p.m.

and Memoriams

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to thank all my friends for their cards and prayers while I was in the Hospital. I want to thank the Senior Usher Board of Bethel A.M.E. Church. The Corinthian Missionary Circle, St. Mary's Christian Home Society, the Mothers, Stewardess and Deaconess Council and the Excelsior Club and the Eastside Union Mission Society, and Rev. N. R. Olphin and Rev. Seymour Gaines for their lovely and uplifting prayers. Thanks again to all.

Mrs. Capitola Jones

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to express my sincere gratitude to each one of the many friends for their cards, prayers, and courtesies extended during the illness and at the time of the recent passing away of my loved one, Mrs. Anna Price. And a very special thanks to Rev. O. M. Peavy and L. Fowler and Sun Funeral Home for their efficient service, sympathy and kindness shown.

May the divine love, matchless grace, plentiful enduring mercy, great peace, and rich blessings of God ever accompany your spirit. Amen and Amen!

HEALTH FOR ALL

Pills, pills, pills. Millions of people—those who need them and those who don't—take them all the time.

What about those who do need them and don't take them? When the illness is a serious one—for example, tuberculosis—some problems and some dangers arise.

Since the early 1950's, when effective drugs were developed against TB, prolonged hospitalization of patients has been decreasing. The majority of known TB sufferers today are clinic outpatients. Their treatment consists mainly of drugs (usually in large quantities) provided by the clinic and taken daily at home.

Unfortunately the system doesn't always work smoothly. A patient with TB in mild form can feel fine and start wondering why he has to go on taking those endless pills. The people at the clinic whose job is to help him get well may forget that they are dealing, in some cases, with a person unaccustomed to carrying out strict instructions or perhaps unable to grasp them fully. Sometimes an extra effort is needed on the part of the clinic worker to put himself in the patient's place and try to bridge a gap in understanding or emotional conditioning.

Various methods have been tried for surmounting this "communications gap." Some clinics have supplied medication dispensers, with each day's supply of pills in a dated compartment. Others have experimented with "pill calendars" with the day's dose physically attached to each date. Dr. Thomas Moulding, of the National Jewish Hospital at Denver, suggests the possibility of supervisory home visits by nurses or health workers. Writing in the National Tuberculosis Association Bulletin he acknowledges that this would be expensive but points out that it would help free some public funds now spent on TB hospitalization.

Any way you look at it, TB remains an important problem. Ask your Christmas Stal association for its free booklet, "Facts about TB and RD (Respiratory Disease).

IN DES MOINES ENROUTE FROM A DUAL TRACK MEET with the Air Force Academy, Colorado Springs, Colo., were Iowa State University's Steve Carson who won the 440 in 47.5 and the 220 in 22 flat; Richard Koelle, manager of the 24 member track team; David Lee, a two-miler who ran with the leader until the last lap and placed second; Rex Harvey, a quarter miler and pole vaulter, unsuccessful but had a good time—he observed that the thin air proved difficult. This we know is a reality.

MILTON MADISON, a former Omaha resident, heads the operation of AVIS Rent-a-Car Service weekends at the Des Moines Municipal Airport. Weekdays he operates his shine and barber shop—which to you is The Airport Barber Shop. After these business hours he is the Rufus Spates Combo pianist! If there were many such men, Iowa State Employment Service would be defunct.

CHARLES STAMPS, MADISON'S BUSINESS RIVAL is a Hertz Rent-a-Car jockey. This involves driving Pontiacs, Fords, Chevrolets, Camaros, Mustangs, and Plymouths. (While I type on a Royal only!)

JULIAN BOND, GEORGIA STATE LEGISLATOR, and Iowa's guest for a day, won many friends here. I shared with Lenore Subotnik the opportunity of being Mr. Bond's guests at Radio Station WHO Saturday night. His presentation displayed a vast fund of both historical and current events and statistics. His unerring tact, good judgment and fine humor were apparent at all times. Dale Ulmer, the interviewer, did a masterful job in keeping the question and answer period at the right temperature. His assistant at the controls was Steve Gibbons whose wholesome temperament makes him just the person for his job.

JAMES DUNN AND MEMBERS OF VISTA entertained Julian Bond after Saturday night's broadcast. Among those I met were Sharon Burns, Jane Garner, Carol Kuehne, Theresa Suleyman, Dennis Hall, David Burkett, Carol Vaughn, Gwen Griffin, Margaret McCollough and Patti Miller. The girls work out of Woodward seeking to promote acceptance of the mentally retarded. They attempt to assist former Woodward patients and pupil patients to return to the community, help them learn community life—after being institutionalized for as long as ten years. The young men assist Jim.

While here, Mr. Doughty attended Palm Sunday services at St. Paul AME Church and with Mrs. Frye, Mrs. Ethel Shank and Mrs. Margaret Sorrell went sightseeing.

Courtesies also included many friends and neighbors stopping in, visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Oliver at their home and enjoying a dinner party with Mrs. Essie Brewer, and Mr. and Mrs. Frye. Before returning home, he will visit his cousin, Mrs. Laura Watkins and husband Rowland, of Kirksville, Mo., and will see his sister in Chicago, Ill., Mrs. Mayne Gaites.

Your professional beautician knows the answer...

Should every woman be a blonde?

Blonde hair is beautiful for those women whose natural coloring it flatters. But not everyone should be a blonde.

Expert beauticians know that complexion and hair color must complement each other to glamorize and bring out all the natural beauty that was meant to be. They also know that very coarse and dark hair often is resistant to drastic color changes. However, there's no doubt about slightly lighter hair adding excitement to a woman's appearance. And hairdressers know there is no better product to add a whole new appeal to every woman's look than Miss Clairol® haircoloring—extra rich Creme Formula or new extra easy Shampoo Formula.

Both Miss Clairol products lighten and color at once, combining vibrant new color with the natural pigment of the hair. So even those shades that look blonde on white hair (as shown on most color selection charts) give a variety of flattering red-to-golden brown shades on women whose hair was black to begin with.

Beauty salons are equipped to answer questions and help with hair color selection. Depend on your hairdresser to have the professional skills and the total family of fine Clairol products to make every woman's experience with haircoloring completely personal and glamorous. Should you be a blonde? If you don't really know, ask your expert hairdresser.

Magic Cookies Are Easy Picnic Lunch Dessert

NO PICNIC MENU IS COMPLETE without plenty of cookies, not only for dessert at the picnic feast, but for nibbling afterward. You can make a big batch in a jiffy with sweetened condensed milk and peanut butter, plus one other ingredient, such as nuts or raisins. They are crunchy delights that everybody will like.

Be sure to use sweetened condensed milk, not evaporated. The rich, concentrated blend of fresh milk and sugar known as sweetened condensed milk is necessary to make this simple, failure-proof recipe work.

MAGIC PICNIC COOKIES

1½ cups (15-oz. can) sweetened condensed milk
½ cup peanut butter

Any one of the six ingredients listed below:

2 cups raisins
2 cups corn flakes
3 cups shredded coconut
2 cups bran flakes
1 cup chopped nut meats
2 cups chopped dates

Mix sweetened condensed milk, peanut butter, and any one of the six ingredients listed above. Drop by teaspoonfuls onto well-greased baking sheet. Bake in moderate oven (375° F.) for 12 minutes or until brown. Remove from pan at once. Makes about 30 cookies. (ANS)

DISAPPOINTING RESULTS IN FIREMEN'S CIVIL SERVICE EXAMINATIONS

Des Moines continues to be jack asses by managing to block the appointment of any Negroes to the fire department.

In years gone by it has been the pension boards which have blocked any from being certified for appointment after having passed the written and oral tests. Now the oral tests blocked the two applicants who had passed the physical and pension board requirements last week.

The Bystander had some hope, after the appointment of some recent members of the civil service commission, that a breakthrough was in the making. However, from reports coming out of that office, how a man speaks has much to do with whether he can be a good fireman or not.

John Connors, president of the firefighters told the council that there were 13 vacancies in the department and yet only five men were certified by the council.

The battle over the acceptance of a Negro on the fire department indicates that they want one who has an M. A. degree as an acceptable candidate. That was just about true when the first Negro cab drivers were hired or when some ordinary clerks in county and state offices were being hired for the first time.

The Bystander is confident, and it speaks with experience of many years, that these jobs that are causing such furor could well be handled by an average high school student. That's about what we have on the fire department today. And this leads to the fair conclusion that the old lily white oligarchy which has handled things for years succeeds somehow.

The commission asked applicants whether they would be willing to take a lie detector test concerning the answers on their applications. This is silly for investigations during the probation period are made anyway and any falsifications will show up. The U. S. post office department does not require it. Why further intimidate these men who question the sincerity of the commissions anyway?

In years gone by, Negroes have served on the fire department with distinction. They became firemen before there was a civil service commission. None has passed since which, in itself, looks bad.

Today, Negroes are working on jobs including the post office which required a greater degree of skill than do firemen. Many of these held jobs as janitors, car washers and porters before because nothing else was available.

The Bystander is not arguing for letting down the bars for men simply because they are Negroes, but it does say that by all the rules of rhyme and reason, it is fantastic that none has passed the firemen's test for over forty years. And there are no men on the fire department today holding masters' degrees.

LEGISLATOR BOND IS IMPATIENT WITH SYSTEM

Last week, Des Moines, and through the courtesy of radio station WHO, Iowa got a close up of Julian Bond, member of the Georgia legislature.

And contrary to what has been written and said about him, he stuck a bit closer to reason and was less bombastic. He denied that the men who met with Adam Clayton Powell last week planned a third political party. On the other hand, they proposed to organize Negro officeholders of all parties and shades of opinion so as to exert more pressure for the things that should be done.

Bond is a young, brilliant chap. Like most youngsters in the field of social change, he insists that our whole system is wrong and needs to be changed. Just how was unclear.

He opposes the war in Vietnam and the draft. This, he has a right to do. However, he kept clear of saying anything which might be termed subversive. Most people hate the war but feel that we are committed to the people of that country and should stay until an honorable peace is had.

He favors a professional army rather than drafting men for service. We don't believe it will work.

By and large Bond handled himself well both before audiences and on the air. Time and experience will help him a lot.

Next week baseball will get under way and the pennant seekers will be off and running. Nobody expects the LA Dodgers to make it three straight and neither do we. We really think BALTIMORE ORIOLES will have trouble repeating in the American league with Minnesota Twins having a good chance to take it all. It has been over forty years since a team won the National League Pennant three years in a row and as closely matched as those teams are it could be another forty years before it happens again.

And now comes the newest in basketball around at the big man. No more dunking or stuffing shots. In fact your hand must not go above the basket rim even on tipping. But you can leap up so your hand is at least ten inches above the rim of the basket and drop the ball in. Anyone have any used wings? And how is an official to tell if a hand is eight or ten inches over the rim?

Milan

It seems to us that we saw someone before we saw big George Milan who was the Wilt Chamberlain of his day dunk the ball. Milan is credited with being the creator of the shot. But we saw a fellow on one of our good local amateur teams who used to leap up and dunk at least one a game. We can't recall his name but he played with a team called Southern Surety back in the early thirties. We think this guy used to take off down the floor like a kangaroo with big leaps. How he dribbled we never did know.

Then he would leap up and slam the ball through the hoop. And, oh yes, there was a fellow of Arkansas A.M. and N. College named Mark Robinson who used to dunk one or two a game. But it didn't excite the fans much. That was 1936. So now just who did start that shot? If we saw those guys there had to be some more somewhere else doing it. But no more. But no more until the boys turn pros.

We would like to have seen Coach Bill Russell of the Boston Celtics cage team climax his first year with a league title, but it looks rather bad for his chances as we write this. Then we can't help but wish a little luck for Chamberlain who for all his talent has never played on a championship team. But in this series between the 76'ers and the Celtics, the big fellow is really going all out. And if his team doesn't win it won't be his fault. If the guy played all season the way he played last Sunday his team might not have lost a game.

Clay

And now it is CLAY and PATTERSON again. Do you suppose the champ wants one more big pay day before he goes to the Army. Do you think Patterson has much of a chance? These questions will be answered come Apr. 25.

Cancer Program On
KDPS — Discuss Cures

There were 4,711 deaths from cancer in Iowa in 1965—435 of them in Polk county. Many of these cancers could have been prevented by avoiding their causes.

Current factual information about the causes, detection and treatment of malignant conditions will be discussed by a panel of physicians, who care for cancer patients in their daily practice, on the KDPS-TV program, Medical Forum of the Air, Thursday, Apr. 6, from 9-10 p.m. The panelists will attempt to answer questions pertinent to the subject which are telephoned into the station during the time of the telecast.

Members of the panel are Wallace Rindkopf, M.D., a pathologist, and moderator of the panel, Jack Spevak, M.D., pediatricist, Alexander Matthews, M.D., surgeon, Ralph E. Hines, M.D., radiologist, and Norman L. Rinderknecht, M.D., gynecologist.

Prof. Photographer

A new examination for a professional photographer with the National Animal Disease Laboratory at Ames, Ia., has been announced by the Des Moines Interagency board of Civil Service Examiners. Positions with other federal agencies in the state of Iowa, except Scott and Pottawattamie Counties, may also be filled from this examination. Pay ranges from $4,776 to $6,915 per year starting salaries.

Emile Griffith, MW
Boxing Champ Elite

New York — Emile Griffith, the middleweight boxing champion of the world, doesn't think fighters have to be tough—outside the ring, that is. "You know what gets me," Griffith said, "is what people think fighters ought to be. Tough and mean like hoods and dumb."

"What a silly, stupid idea. If you don't act like that, they think something is the matter with you. I tell you, those tough boys, they are not so tough. I assure you."

Fight

Griffith, who is preparing for a title fight with Italy's Nino Benvenuti, is described as "a blood-stained lyric, a violent orchid. An applause-soaked hero whose companion is loneliness. A self-confessed party boy whose morality is tense and Puritanical. A passionate price bargainer to whom money is essentially worthless."

Why does the poetic Griffith fight? One reason is his family, mother, brother, sisters, nieces, cousins, whom he generously and philosophically maintains in Long Island, N.Y. The group sometimes numbers 17.

Goteborg, Sweden — "The Bear", Sonny Liston, knocked out Dave Bailey late in the first round of a 10 rounder last Thursday night.

Trout Stocking In Process; 180,000

The first of 800 plantings that will release a total of over 180,000 trout to Iowa's trout waters was completed Mar. 20 in Delaware County as part of the State Conservation Commission's spring trout stocking program. Most of the designated trout streams in Clayton, Delaware, Dubuque, Fayette and Jackson counties received a portion of their stocking quota of 9 to 14 inch fish by April 1.

Ia. Epilepsy Chapter
To Start Wednesday

Lay and professional persons will meet at the Iowa Employment Security Commission Wednesday, Apr. 5, 1:30 p.m. to form an Iowa volunteer chapter on epilepsy. The chapter will work with the national Epilepsy Foundation to develop a public information program to dispel the myth and superstition that has surrounded epilepsy for the past 40 years.

Another aim of the chapter will be to establish a coordinated program of patient services for the 2 per cent of the Iowa population who have epilepsy.

Chapters like the one planned for Iowa have already been started in many other states.

Any interested member of the community is invited to attend.

Burial Flags Issued

The VA provides a United States Flag for the burial service for eligible veterans. When the death occurs in a VA Hospital, the flag is given to the mortician when the remains are picked up. In other instances, the funeral director secures a flag through the local Postmaster. The two involved complete the required application and transmit it to the Veterans Administration. This system makes it possible to use the flag at the time of interment and to present it to the next of kin as a part of the graveside service.

Flags, therefore, cannot be issued by the VA after burial unless unusual circumstances made it impossible to secure the flag in time for the interment rites.

Send Yours Today

My Little Dark One

Don't bow your head in shame.
Just because Sam, Roosevelt, Lincoln is your name.
You with your patched pants, and dirty face.
Staring in wonderment at the human race.
What future does life hold for you?
You've had it hard enough
For the world has seen to it, it was rough.
You're apart of God as much as the moon and sun.

Don't cry now, my little dark one:
It's up to you to overcome.
Whatever fate that man may have in store.

You must never forget what you're here for.

Your little playmate with cheeks
Pink, hair shining as the sun,
With eyes blue and deep as the sea.
Don't watch him none too close,
For your way of live has to be the most.

Your background is one of strength,
And one in which to be proud
Where you can also say aloud
Work real hard, because you've got to be much better

Than your little friend, who to You looks sick.
Work fast and always think quick
For you there won't be much fun
So be real brave.

Tax Questions and Answers

Q—I think I'm liable for self-employment tax. Which form do I use?

A—Use Schedule C-3 to report this tax. Any tax due should be entered on your Form 1040, line 15 page 1, and paid with your income tax.

Copies of Schedule C-3 may be obtained from local IRS offices as well as some post offices and banks.

Q—I got married this January. Can I file a joint return with my wife for 1966?

A—For tax purposes, your marital status is determined by whether you were married or single on the last day of the taxable year for which the return is filed. From the information you provide, you must file a separate return since you were not married until after the close of your 1966 tax year.

Q—I heard a lot about changes in educational deductions last year. Can I still deduct courses required by an employer?

A—Yes, you can if the course is required by your employer to maintain your present job. The cost of educational courses may also be deducted if they are taken primarily to maintain or improve the skills required on your present job.

Q—Our baby had a bad skin rash last year and the doctor advised us to use a diaper service instead of doing them ourselves. Is the cost of the service a medical expense?

A—No. This is not a deductible medical expense.

Q—I have some income from the sale of a home to report. Where should I do this on my 1040?

A—Gains or losses from property sales should be reported on Schedule D and then entered on Page 2 of the Form 1040 on line 5, Part II. Copies of Schedule D may be obtained from local IRS offices as well as some banks and post offices.

Q—I've heard that you should identify your payments of tax to IRS to make sure they are credited to your account. How do you do this?

A—To identify your tax payment, put your Social Security number on the check or money order. If the payment is in response to a notice of payment due, please enclose the notice with your payment.

Q—My husband is stationed in South Viet Nam with the Marines. What do we do about our 1966 tax return?

A—Military personnel on active duty in a Combat Zone do not have to file tax returns while stationed there. You may therefore wait to file a joint 1966 tax return until 180 days after your husband leaves Viet Nam. This postponement does not apply to the filing of a separate return by the wife if she chooses to file one.

If you want to file your return for 1966 early because you have a refund coming, indicate in the space provided for your husband's signature that he is on military duty in Viet Nam.

Q—Do I have to report the interest on savings bonds I bought for my son?

A—It depends on how the bonds are registered. If the child is listed as co-owner on the bond, the purchaser is liable for tax on the interest. If the child is sole owner with the parent as beneficiary, the child assumes the tax liability.
