Operation Breadbasket Win; Chicago

Jewel Co. Signs for Shelf Space, Jobs

Chicago, Ill. — A unique five-point agreement for new jobs and economic development in the Negro community was signed today by ministers of Operation Breadbasket, a program of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, and top officials of Jewel Companies, Inc., a major grocery chain.

It was the third, the largest and most far-reaching victory negotiated in Chicago between Operation Breadbasket and major food chains during the last half year.

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., SCLC president, joined the Chicago ministers and Donald S. Perkins, president of Jewel, in signing the agreement.

As a result of negotiations, the program assures not only new upward positions for Negro employees, but also a hiring and training center to serve the Negro community and several features to stimulate Negro business — including contractors, food firms, banks, and sanitary and other services.

Agreements

Among agreements were: opening new and better-paying jobs for Negroes, and an additional 150 part-time jobs for Negro youths, guarantee shelf space for Negro suppliers and Negro products in Jewel stores, and set up a marketing advisory service for Negro businesses, assure new and expanding Jewel service accounts in two Negro banks thus

Human Relations To Hold Annual Meeting; Theme Rights Future

Cedar Rapids, Ia. — The Council on Human Relations will hold its annual meeting Tuesday, May 16, at the YWCA, 7:45 p.m.

The theme of the meeting will be "Where do we go from here?" Much progress has been made in civil rights in equal opportunities since the Council was formed 6 years ago.

Have all the problems been solved? Do the recent civil rights laws in any way change our concern? If so, how? What should our relationship be to other civil rights organizations in the community? To the Mayor's Commission? To the N.A.A.C.P.? What should our relationship be to the state Commission on Human Rights? How can we best serve our community's needs? What should be next year's goals and activities?

These are some of the questions the Council hopes to answer.

To Address School Seminar Program

Guest speaker for the Leadership Seminar session will be Mrs. Willie Glanton, who will speak at the Seminar's final meeting at Callanan Junior School, Friday, 3 p.m. in the auditorium. Nearly finished with training in bricklaying at Storm Lake are second, Eugene T. Woods and Bennie E. Spain, of Waterloo, the first of their race, probably, to be training in a bricklayer apprentice class in Iowa.

Jack Weideman, projects director of Iowa Manpower Development Council said that although the school in Storm Lake is nonunion, they should have no trouble being received in a union.

"After four years of apprenticeship (with a firm), they receive a journeyman's card, which automatically makes them eligible to get into the union," said Weideman.

He agreed that the controversy surrounding the bricklayer's program had been exaggerated, since the job itself is mainly blue collar, although it is well-paying.

Not All

Although not all of the Negroes have been placed with major construction companies, Weideman said, he was sure they would be placed. He said the delay was in finding large companies, not "two-spade" contractors, or small firms, in which to put the men.

The trainees have nearly spent seven weeks at the school. After contracts with prospective companies have been signed, the apprentices will spend four weeks of on-the-job training with the contracting company where, Weideman said, the young man would probably kept on permanently.

Use

"When the contractors hire them, they have only one thing in mind," the director explained, "to keep him. They wouldn't take him unless they could use him."

The Manpower Council had earlier planned to finance a union school, now in progress in Des Moines, but pulled out because only one Negro, Edward Holt, was chosen among the fifteen trainees.

Morehouse Leads In Swimming Over Negro Schools In Conference

Atlanta, Ga.—Atlanta's Morehouse College, alma mater of Martin Luther King and other prominent graduates, now has another star to brag about—its swimming team. With eight conference titles in 10 years and 24 consecutive wins over a two-year period, Morehouse College leads the pack among predominantly Negro schools.

Tigersharks

Although the Tigersharks (the team's nickname) were formed in 1958, it wasn't until last year when the team racked up 10 wins without a defeat that enthusiasm began to build. This year the undefeated string has been extended to 24 wins.

Plan Reunion Day For Former Ball Players

A dinner is being planned for former colored ball players of the city who played in the 1920's and 1930's. Arranging the affair are Clark Yeager, who played on several semipro teams, Jessie Frazier and Ralph Jones. A meeting will be held with Mr. Frazier, 1344 Jefferson, Sunday, May 21, 3:30 p.m.

Members of the Omaha Goblins who traveled extensively in the early part of this century were Albert Rhodes, Harry Crump (deceased), Grady Hudson, Clark Yeager and and includes the recent Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Conference championships in which Morehouse took an easy 152-78 victory from runner-up Tuskegee.

Inducements

Morehouse gives only academic scholarships and never uses any of the athletic inducements common to other colleges. Nonetheless, through timely recruitment and salesmanship, Morehouse has managed to grab a number of prize highschool swimmers. The best of these is a 19-year old Puerto Rican from New York named Juan Lloa who holds conference records in the 200-yard butterfly and the 100-yard freestyle, says Ebony Magazine.

Waterloo Nears First Fireman; Commission Plans Status Survey

Waterloo, Ia. — A city which has neither Negro firemen nor presently any Negro policemen may now have citizens in both.

Eddie L. Denton, of Waterloo, passed the police test and Bill Perkins the fire test. Both will be interviewed by the city's Civil Service Commission.

Leading the fight to open the doors of the departments is the Waterloo Commission on Human Rights, which is investigating two cases of alleged job discrimination here.

Perkins was the only Negro to take the fire test, and Denton is a former employee of the Rath Packing Co., where he was chairman of the Human Rights Committee.

Teachers

The commission also will seek to find if teachers have evaluated their attitudes toward minority groups, and the number of minority group children in the vocational training program.

The commission's committee on police and education reported that it feels the commission could "act as a liaison group to establish contacts between the police force and schools and other community groups."

The commission which is planning a city-wide survey on the status of Negroes.

When I first heard of Doug Clark and the Hot Notes (for discretion's sake), I wasn't too thrilled about them, having heard only "rumors," which included 'indecent exposure, handicapped members and plastic raincoats'.

Mr. Clark, head man of the rock and roll-jazz group, denied those 'rumors,' wanting to know how such tales had started. I frankly don't know, since I've never seen them entertain.

There are eight men in the group whose performances range from rock to jazz, both of which may or may not contain "blue" jokes, to which Mr. Clark does admit.

Back in Chapel Hill, N.C., in 1955, the guys formerly called themselves Doug Clark and the Tops, but Clark's favorite song prompted persons to endow the group with their present title.

Four, including Clark, are college graduates; 30 year-old Clark majored in business administration. The guys circulate frequently in the Midwest, but will be back at their hometown next week.

If one is to criticize Mr. Clark's entertainment, Rusty Warren, Red Fox and Moms Mabley should be included. However, I don't approve of these persons entertaining on college campuses either, as the Hot Notes do. It would be interesting to know the opinions of you out there on "blue" jokes being put on records, etc. Let's kick it around.

Out of the kindness of Mary Campbell, I discovered the other side of the popular R and B record. Try Goodness Gracious by James and Bobby Purify; Show Me, Joe Tex—both sides are "groovy" (eh, Linda?); Since you Been Gone, Four Tops.

My girl Aretha Franklin is in bad shape, but let's hope she's back to belting the mout real soon. See front page for details.

There's something out called the Jungle Funky (?) and a calypso, I hear.

boosting investment funds needed for economic development of Negro neighborhoods, and utilize Negro scavenger services in garbage collection and Negro firms specializing in pest and insect control.

The precedent-setting agreement with Jewel brings the total number of jobs opened by SCLC's Chicago Breadbasket program to more than 1,500. Income from these jobs now will soar past $10 million each year for Negro families. The pact now will enable the Negro community to obtain millions more by increasing earning powers of Negro owned and operated businesses.

SCLC Leaders Are Jailed, Louisville Still Closed

Louisville, Ky. — Leaders of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) and the Southern Conference Educational Fund (SCEF) are among seven people serving jail sentences in connection with open housing demonstrations here.

They were charged with contempt and sentenced to 30 hours in prison and a $30 fine each, after open housing supporters ignored an injunction limiting demonstrations.

Sentences

They began serving their sentences May 1. The state of appeals had refused to overturn the convictions and a federal court declined to take the case away from the circuit court.

The seven are among plaintiffs in a class suit which challenges the constitutionality of the injunction and of state and city laws under which the demonstrators are being charged. A local newspaper calculated recently that more than 600 people have been arrested since the fight to open housing began.

Limit

The injunction limits marches to daylight hours, except for rush hours and less than 150 participants. The marches began after open housing advocates had tried for seven months to get local officials to pass an open housing ordinance.

It was issued after marches into all-white sections of the city were met with violence by crowds of white hecklers, often numbering more than 1,000. Members of the American Nazi Party from Chicago came to Louisville to join the hecklers.

"Negro College Has No Future"—Pres.

Greensboro, N.C. — A and T College has no future as an exclusive Negro college and does not intend to continue as such.

That was the opinion expressed last week by Dr. Lewis C. Dowdy, A and T president. He made the statement, along with others in a television interview on the thirty-minute, "Newsmaker Program," a weekly feature of the Greensboro WFTV-TV. He appeared as guest during the A and T observance of its Diamond Anniversary.

He said the predominant Negro college must continue to strengthen its program so that its offerings and its "respectability" will be unquestioned by any group, anywhere.

"The future of this institution, like any institution, now rests entirely on quality," said Dowdy.

MARJORIE E. W. SMITH, please be my guest! (Listen everybody!) It's Sunday: "At 3:45 I boarded the bus for Drake's Lounge to Delta Sigma Theta's 'Adventures in Education'." I planned boarding another bus at 4:45 to attend the dance recital of Linda Griffin's Willkie House class, and then to Corinthian Baptist's "Inspirational Chorus Spring Festival." Fate decreed otherwise: Arriving at the Lounge, I found a huge crowd, some of them Delta Sigma Thetas some not, both in the Lounge and spilling over into the foyer. Drake had scheduled the dedication of the Cowles Library addition as an outside feature but when it rained they all piled into the Old Main and thus by accommodating Delta Sigma Theta was treated to a splendid address by John Ciardi, Poetry Editor of the Saturday Review.

"At about 5 p.m. the Delta Sigma Theta Youth Panel began its program. From the Junior High School Division were Frank and Karen Sue Blunk; from the Senior High were Mark Haynes and Marc Fahler. College Division spokesmen were Rosalie Robinson and Betty Fletcher. Adult Panel members were Miss Anna Jung, Frank B. Robinson, Jr., Dean Alfred Schwartz, and Rev. Duane Weiland. As you can see, the whole thing was set up beautifully. In the beginning there was background piano music by Mrs. Barbara Williams. Edward E. Bayles sang, accompanied by Mrs. Loretta Reeves. Mrs. Ruth Turner, Chairman of the May Week Committee, gave the keynote address. Mrs. Mabel Spencer gave a five-point history of Delta Sigma Theta. Pat Ferrone served as moderator. Awards were presented to Karen Sue Blunk, Marc Fahler (who happens to be a visiting student from Finland) and to Rosalie Robinson. The committee responsible for this program were Mrs. Turner, Mrs. Eleanor Archer, Miss Carol Bowers (Iowa City) and Mrs. Ruth Davis. This was really a very, very worthwhile project and could be repeated time and time again. Very serious and deep. Everything I ever hear or see that Delta Sigma Theta does impresses me immensely. By the way, one of the Adult Panelists, who is a marriage counselor, had a paper all prepared, but did not give it. So anyone who wants a good program I bet would find her all ready!

"Now you've guessed it. I did not get to Willkie House. Just hope Linda will be teaching a class there next year! A friend called me at 10:30 especially to tell me how beautifully Linda dances and what a wonderful program it was. White cakes and pink and white mints.

Since I left Drake early, just in time to get the 6:45 bus and thence by taxi to Corinthian Baptist Church, I missed the first processional and "Give Me Your Tired, Your Poor." "The program was based on the theme of the Bible featuring gospel songs, hymns, spirituals, and secular numbers. There was a small sprinkling of Caucasian in the audience that filled to capacity the main floor plus a little more. Maybe someday we will have the whole balcony filled, and at least half white! What do you think? (I agree, Marjorie!)" "Oh Yes! The program was outstanding in every way. A great variety and smoothly developed." Love, MEWS.

SO THERE YOU ARE, FOLKS, if you wanted to know what happened in Des Moines last Sunday. Isn't Miss Smith delightful?

A DESERVED RECOGNITION;
LABOR SECRETARY DUCKS

In a statement last week, Secretary of Labor Willard Wirtz deplored the slow progress that has been made in an effort to secure equal opportunity in employment for minorities. While much has been done in some areas, the overall picture is not good.

He said that much of the cause is attributable to lack of education and training. And there are "other causes" also, he said. It is unfortunate that he did not explain the "other causes." He knows they are the main causes "racial discrimination."

There was a time in the south when Negroes did most of the skilled work: bricklayers, plasterers, steam fitters, etc. and on the trains the fireman, brakeman and flagmen were Negroes. This is no longer true, south or north, for the labor unions, aided by the federal government, have devised tricks and rules which have kept them from getting the training or the job where some have managed to qualify.

Last week, the Iowa Personnel and Guidance Association, meeting in Des Moines, awarded Everett Mays, counselor with the Northwestern Bell Telephone Co. a plaque for the work he had done in counselling minority groups. This was an outstanding recognition, for in years gone many of this same group used their position to block just what he is doing. Many companies represented by the members of this organization did not employ Negroes years ago but now are numbered among the "equal opportunity employer" group.

Instead of ducking the issue as Secretary Werts did, the members of this group and the employers they represent are actually doing something tangible to bring about equality of opportunity for all.

WHY ENCOURAGE THOSE WHO DIVIDE THE COUNTRY

Former Gov. George Wallace of Alabama got a pretty uncomfortable reception when he appeared to speak at Dartmouth College. A group of students shouted and ranted so loud and long that he was unable to deliver his speech. He was just about chased to his waiting car where it was egged and stoned to the point that some feared for his safety.

Officials at Dartmouth sent the governor an apology for the manner in which he, a guest, was treated.

Academic freedom and free speech are rights guaranteed by the constitution. On the other hand, it is ridiculous to think that Gov. Wallace has any other message than to deny the Negro his rights.

It is interesting to hear that in his speeches and press conferences, he does not say that he is a segregationist or race hater but bases his platform on opposition to the supreme court and government by the federal government of purely local matters. And one of these, of course, is school integration.

It is unfortunate that business men and educators snipe at government through a man like Wallace whose program divides the people and creates confusion and dissension which hurt the country.

These people, who in the name of hearing both sides of questions, offer the faculties of their intentions to give such people, black or white, a platform to spread their rotten ideas, do the country a disservice. And in spite of the fact that these renegades violate no law, the constitution did not contemplate such conduct and utterances when it was written.

Walleye, Sauger And Northern Pike Spotty

Some walleye, sauger and northern pike anglers who braved cold, strong winds opening weekend on Iowa's natural lakes found red hot fishing spots, State Conservation Commission Fisheries Officials said. Falling temperatures and high winds reduced the number of fishermen who normally turn out for the opening.

The unfavorable weather conditions slowed bullhead fishing that had been above average during the brief warm spell earlier. Several local exceptions were reported where anglers enjoyed very good fishing.

"Silly System"

We were so wrapped up in the Drake Relays that a lot of sports news went right by us. For instance, there was the dethroning of heavyweight champ Cassius Clay by the various boxing boards. To us that is a rather silly way of getting even with the champ. We always thought athletic titles of any sort should be won or lost in competition. There wouldn't have been any fight in Havana between Jack Johnson and Jess Willard under the present setup. Johnson would have been relieved of his crown, and a couple of the boys he had already beaten would have fought for the thing. Ty Cobb would not have been the world's best baserunner for so long because he wasn't really a good example for ball players. Certainly Babe Ruth would never have been the home run king. Oh well, we could go on forever, but we believe we have made our point. Don't get us wrong. We are not defending Clay for refusing to be inducted, although that is his prerogative if he so chooses. But we are definitely warring with the silly system that lets a group of fellows take away a champion's record if they don't happen to like him.

Championship

But that isn't a new practice in American athletics. We can recall when the nation's best football team wasn't given the honor because they took advantage of a rule to get another timeout in order to win a game. Then in 1966 there wasn't any doubt as to the number-one football club. So some two-bit brain thought it would be wise to wait until the bowl games to decide the champ. They never repeated that mistake again and probably never will. You see, the season was actually over in 1966, and the bowl games were played in 1967. But there is one more classic example we must tell.

Way back before even our time there was a fellow named Jim Thorpe who won just about everything in the 1912 Olympic games but the King of Sweden's crown. Well, about a year later someone discovered that the fellow had taken a couple of dollars for playing a baseball game. The powers that govern those things took away the fellow's medals and told him that he was no longer the world's greatest all-around athlete and yet the guy's marks stood for twenty years before anybody got around to breaking.

Then just this year a fellow ran the world's fastest half mile. But he happened to belong to the wrong crowd and the National AAU won't allow the mark.

Mile

So although the man can run a half mile faster than anyone ever ran one before, he can't do it according to the governing athletic rules we have here. If we don't like the way things are run over here why don't we move to China? Can't talk Chinese, but we will bet if those guys ever come up with a best fighter, runner or anything else, he won't be denied the honor because someone doesn't like his politics or religion. They will change one or the other, the other meaning the athlete.

We know you track followers have seen what happened in the district track meets last Saturday. Hope the boys can come through in the big one. Understand East's Johnson wants to go to Iowa State. Must be a good student.

We have heard all along that North's Jim Kirby was a good student, but just being one isn't enough. You have to prove it in a classroom. Wonder where he is going to school? We really would like to see him go. Funny thing, very few of the fellows who graduate from Tech flunk out of the other colleges. Sometimes they quit for other reasons, but not because of their grades.

HEALTH FOR ALL

Is it a virus? Is it a germ? Where does it come from? What does it do, and to whom? What can be done about it?

Quiz games have been high on the list of American folkways for umpty-odd years (some say even longer). Some quizzes are for fun, some are for prizes to the lucky or smart. But here's one where everybody wins—it brings you, if not instant health and happiness, at least an improved chance of gaining those sought-after commodities.

Heath

As a matter of fact, the subject of this particular quiz game is health—in an area where popular knowledge has always been long on fancy and short on fact.

robbery at the Mars service station, 845 Keosauqua way. Detective Pearl McVey, James Foster and Dan Kaulzlarich seized Christopher after receiving a tip from a person who said he knew a man resembling the composite picture police prepared of the bandit.

Denver, Colo. — Denver police last Thursday credited an official of the Clayton college for Boys with rescuing a 7-year-old girl from attack. The official also captured her 12-year-old assailant, who later admitted raping another girl, 11, police said.

Kansas City, Mo. — McCormick J. Holmes, the father of 12 children, was brutally shot and killed in a hold-up early Thursday and three young men have been arrested in connection with the killing.

Memphis, Tenn. — Sammie Barnes, 38, was held to the state in City Court on a charge of assault and battery on his two teenage daughters ages 13 and 14, after a complaint was filed by his wife.

Memphis, Tenn. — A young man was charged with assault after he threatened to kill a young woman because he disliked the "natural look" of her hair-do.

Eugene Johnson, 48, a service station employee and mechanic was arrested Sunday and charged with the Saturday night rape of a 15-year-old girl. He was released Tuesday on $5,000 bond.

Memphis, Tenn. — Eugene Johnson, 48, a service station employee and mechanic was arrested Sunday and charged with the Saturday night rape of a 15-year-old girl. He was released on $5,000 bond.

30 year old James E. Johnson, of 2011 Mondamin, pleaded guilty Monday to two traffic charges and was ordered to pay fines totaling $60 or serve five days in Polk County jail. Judge presiding was Municipal Judge Ray Harrison. Johnson was charged with reckless driving and illegal use of an operator's license.

Uric Aubrey Fountain, jr., 37, of 1440 Stewart street, pleaded innocent Monday before Judge Howard W. Brooks to a charge of breaking and entering after he and another man were arrested at the Pidgeon's Farm and Home store, 805 S.E. 30th street. The other man was referred to juvenile court.

A two by-three foot hole had been chopped through the wooden roof, and about $9 and a small amount of merchandise were found on the roof.

It's a quiz about tuberculosis—the disease whose disappearance is calmly assumed as an accomplished fact by large numbers of people, but not by the almost fifty thousand who come down with it each year.

Do you know how TB is caught? Who is most apt to get it? How anybody can tell whether he has it? How it can be stopped? How many people in the U.S. are directly affected by it right now?

Germ

At last count, tuberculosis germs had installed themselves in the bodies of some 30 million Americans, most of whom fortunately will never become actually sick with the disease. On the other hand, any of them could. TB remains a menace; its prevention, detection, treatment, and efforts to eradicate it, still cost America a billion dollars each year. Something worth finding out about. Ask your Christmas Seal organization for the new leaflet, "TB Quiz," published by the National Tuberculosis Association. It's free.

Induction Refused;
Muhammed Indicted

Houston, Tex.—Clay said he was not guilty Monday, May 8, to charges of refusing to be inducted into the armed forces.

Muhammed Ali, heavyweight champion who had stripped of his title for reasons yet to be explained, then posted bond of $5000, with $5000 in cash. According to procedures, he was photographed, fingerprinted and released.

Conviction

Conviction to the champion could bring a fine of $10,000 and jail sentence of up to five years, but Clay's attorneys say they are confident that he will win his fight for exemption from the draft because of being a Black Muslim minister.

Judges

Federal judges twice have turned down petitions asking that Selective Service officials grant Muhammed an exemption from military service, in that he spend 90 per cent of his hours being a minister.

Chicago, Ill.—Pete Brown—one of a handful of Negroes who belong to the Professional Golf Association—is the best bet to become the first Negro golfer to win the coveted National Open Tournament.

31 year old Brown didn't play his first round of golf until he was 15, later had trouble finding a sponsor when he hit the golf circuit. "Sponsors have traditionally been reluctant to 'pay the freight' for promising Negro golfers in their formative years."

Mother

A good mother's influence, a good mother's love
Are strong moral forces sent from above,

Uplifting the standard of any man's life,
Unfolding the joys which are darkened by strife,
When God gave man mother, God gave him much,

Tender and loving, how gentle her touch;
Thankful is man for a gift so rare
That brought him new hope, supplanting despair.
