King Calls for Nat. Op. Breadbasket

Atlanta, Ga. — One hundred and fifty key Negro churchmen from 30 cities throughout the country met at the Chicago Theological Seminary, July 10-12, to launch a nationwide campaign aimed at better employment opportunities for Negroes. Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. called for immediate expansion of "Operation Breadbasket" from the local to national level.

Aspects

The conference is exploring the sociological, economic, and political aspects of the Negro within the basic structure of American society. Main topics of discussion will include: the Negro in the national economy, political potential of the Negro in the nations' cities, and the great problems of housing, education, jobs, poverty, and segregation in the ghetto. The speakers include: Dr. King, SCLC officers Rev. Ralph Abernathy and Hosea Williams, State Representative Carl Stokes, Negro candidate for mayor of Cleveland, and Archie Hargraves of the Urban Training Center. The climax of the conference is the organization of a national program of "Operation Breadbasket."

NEWS In A Nutshell

Washington, D.C. — More than 44,500 employees were added to those already covered under Title VII of the Civil Rights Act beginning July 2. Until now some 88,000 companies have been under the jurisdiction of the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission, which administers Title VII and receives complaints of alleged discrimination in hiring, promotion, and all other aspects of employment.

Washington, D.C. — American Negroes "could well be considered a handicapped group," said Arthur A. Chapin said "perhaps a new dimension should be added to our beliefs about the concept of the handicapped."

Bricks and Bottles Follow The Failure of Jobs to Materialize As Promised

Waterloo, Ia. — Hundreds of Negroes from the 6,000 estimated, of this city, broke loose Sunday night in a four hour spree of throwing bricks, tossing firebombs, overturning vehicles, and shooting.

Immediate causes for the Negroes' actions are not known, but all during the week picketers had placed themselves in front of the On the Job Training Office, which was recently moved from Jesse Cosby Center.

Why

The signs read "Why did you move from a rent-free office" and "Do you really know what you are doing?" The pickets included Dr. Warren Nash, Waterloo NAACP president, representatives from Equal Opportunity council, East Side Citizens Committee and other organizations.

It was felt that young men who applied for jobs at the office were told there was nothing available while witnesses could swear that folders on the desk of Randy Dunbar, director of OJT, contained applications for jobs.

Friday

On Friday night a crowd gathered when officers attempted to arrest a man suspected of stealing car hubcaps. He had to be forcibly taken to police headquarters, police say.

Sixteen persons were arrested Saturday night when police dispersed a crowd which had appeared when a Negro was accused of attacking a white man.

Sunday

Sunday night's wild, rock throwing and club beatings climaxed the weekend incidents. 35 policemen, nine state highway patrolmen and seven deputy sheriffs moved in to disperse the people who did $5,000 damage.

Police Chief Robert S. Wright said the trouble was caused by "about 100 young hoods," but admitted that several hundred men, women and children were on the scene at one time, including Dr. Nash and other Negro leaders.

Nash said they had asked police to stay out of the area which ironically is about eight blocks from City Hall, and later, called, did not come until things had gotten out of control.

Negro leaders said the rioting was not triggered by any single incident, but was caused by a "lot of general things such as employment, housing and the rest of the problems that face the Negro."

City Concuers

Cedar Rapids, Ia.—Prior to the last weekend's riot, a suit charging that the city of Waterloo was practicing racial discrimination in "law enforcement," housing code violations, hiring practicing of fire, police, building and street department, was dismissed Thursday, July 6, by U.S. District Judge Edward McManus.

Further, Mary Sallis, widow of Eddie Sallis who was found hanging in his jail cell, had sought "$200,000 for deprivation of civil rights to her husband, Eddie, which "allegedly led to death by suicide while confined in jail."

However, Judge McManus ruled that the court was "without jurisdiction of such subject matter . . . in the complaint" . . . the U.S. District Codes, McManus said, did not include individual wrongs of private citizens not perpetuated under the color of state laws.

"Plaintiffs allege that widespread racial residential segregation exists in Waterloo but have not alleged that (the city) has participated or gave official support to alleged discriminatory acts."

On alleged discriminatory practices, such as hiring, McManus said that the councilmen and city police

Sen. Edward Brooke To Address NIA Conv.

Chicago, Ill. — Senator Edward W. Brooke of Massachusetts, only Negro elected to the U.S. Senate in this century will address the National Insurance Association Convention in New Orleans in mid-July, H. H. Southall, association president, announced. He will speak at a banquet July 19, honoring presidents of the 46 Negro managed companies that comprise the association. The convention will be in session July 17-20. Southall, president of Southern Aid Life Insurance Co., Richmond, Va., oldest of all Negro owned insurance firms in America, said the meeting will examine the service mission of the companies.

What the City Can Do To De Facto Schools

This is the concluding article concerning de facto segregation in the nation's schools, written by John M. Estes, Jr., and Dr. Eddie Easley, members of the Des Moines branch National Association for the Advancement of Colored People: Remedies

What can we do about racial isolation in the schools? What is being done about it in other cities? One thing seems to be clear that there is no simple and easy solution workable for all areas of the country. The Civil Rights Commission's report cites some of the things being done in other cities:

"In Xenia, Ohio, an all-Negro elementary school was closed in 1964 and converted into a demonstration school. The school is supported by a $250,000 grant which enables it to employ new educational techniques . . . a cross-section of children in the community attending the school. The school has become the city's prestige school.

Hartford

"Hartford, Conn., which has a metropolitan area population of 500,000, of which 30,000 are negroes, bused 267 Negro school children from predominantly Negro schools in the city to 33 schools in five surrounding suburban communities starting in September, 1966. The bused group included 88 per cent Negro, ten per cent Puerto Rican, and two per cent white. The children were assigned on a vacant seat basis, but with a limit of three Hartford students to a class. This plan shows some promise although the program effects very small numbers of Negro children.

The Princeton Plan involves the combining of two schools areas to create racially-mixed schools. If two adjacent areas have a majority or near Negro school enrollment and the other a majority white, the paring of grades may create better racial balance. For example, one school may include all the kindergarten through third grades, and the other all the fourth through sixth grade children."

Des Moines

The Des Moines NAACP along with the League of Women Voters recently asked the School Board to study the problem of racial imbalance in the school toward arriving at a workable solution. It may be that no one of the above cited plans is appropriate for our city; but some other plans or a combination of plans may serve better our situation. At least the request has been. Let's give some attention toward solutions. The Des Moines School Board recently announced that it will appoint a committee of citizens to explore the alternative possibilities of solving segregated education by race and class. This is at least the first step!

America's First Negro Astronaut

El Segundo, Calif.—Robert H. Lawrence, a Chicago, native, was named last Saturday along with a white Mississippian and two others for the Air Forces Manned Orbiting Laboratory Program.

The four will join 12 others in the training program.

Asked if he felt his appointment was step forward for Negroes, Lawrence replied, "This is nothing dramatic. It's just a normal progression. I've been very fortunate."

Pass Anti-Riot Bill

Washington, D.C. A controversial bill which would make it a federal crime to cross state lines to incite a riot was quickly passed by the House Rules Committee Tuesday.

Supporters of the bill felt the passage was primarily to halt Stokely Carmichael.

Newport Jazz Fest Has Double Meaning

Neyport, R.I. — The 14th annual Newport Jazz Festival (June 30-July 3) gathered in great numbers from all over the world, with bands Count Bassia, Lionel Hampton and singers Joe Williams and Nina Simone.

African flavor was very apparent with Michael Olatunji of Nigeria with his company of 12 drum beaters and odd instrument shakers. Earl Fatha Hines and Ruby Braff made mad music with their pieces, past greats James P. Johnson, Jelly Roll Morton and Fats Waller were momentarily honored.

Miss Simone's rendition of "Mr. Backlash," written by the last late Langston Hughes, was twofold: "Mr. Backlash, I'm gonna teach you the blues . . . I'm gonna leave you with the blues."

He is the first member of his race to become a principle in a New York Stock Exchange member firm. At Carter, Berlind and Weill, Jones will work in investment banking and brokerage areas, and will also have legal responsibilities.

Jones was the principal founder, two years ago, of Intrametric Life Corporation and its subsidiary, Intrametric Life Insurance Co. of New York. Lawyers Ask Halt to 61 Executions of Prisoners

San Francisco — A halt to the execution of 61 San Quentin prisoners sentenced to die for capital crimes was sought here last week in Federal District Court by the NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund, Inc. and private attorneys.

The action represents three death row petitioners all those prisoners under sentence of death at the California State Prison.

Attorney Leroy Clark represented the LDF.

Only once before in American jurisprudence have such petitioners represented other death row prisoners, and that was when LDF attorneys won a similar suit Apr. 13 in Federal Court, Jacksonville, Fla.

Pointing to the urgency to the action, LDF attorneys said that four defendants are slated to be executed at San Quentin in July.

The LDF action lists three petitioners on the state's death row. They are Frederick Staterfield, whose execution is set for July 20; Joshua Hill, presently set to die in San Quentin on Aug. 29; and Robert Page Anderson, whose execution date has not yet been named.

Full Hearing

The attorneys explained that they have filed an action which could affect all death row prisoners but will assure Negro prisoners, who show up on death row in disproportionate numbers, of adequate constitutional safeguards.

The action filed in Federal District Court lists the three petitioners, Hill, Staterfield, and Anderson, and "all other similarly situated petitioners."

It asks the court to enjoin San Quentin's warden, Louis E. Nelson, from all executions until a full hearing can be held on the petitioners' claims.

As 1st Negro Named Pres. To NEA, Report Charges Inferior Schools to Ala.

Minneapolis, Minn. — Strong charges against school officials in Wilcox County, Ala., for unfair dismissal of Negro teachers and for "inferior" schools for Negro children were made here last Wednesday by the National Education Association.

The charges are in a report of a special study by the NEA's Commission on Professional Rights and Responsibilities (PR&R) made at the request of the Wilcox County Teachers Association.

The Alabama State Department of Education was scored along with county officials for disregard of tenure laws and for failure to shoulder fiscal responsibility for providing adequate public education in Wilcox County. Through its equalization program of school support, the State of Alabama is responsible for 95 percent of the Wilcox County School District's budget.

Other conclusions drawn by the special study criticized Wilcox County for failing to utilize its full were not persons as such within the meaning of one of the District Court Codes. And could not be applied since a public office "may be described as a party by his official title rather than by name."

Named

Therefore the suits brought by Mrs. Sallis should have been brought against city officials personally, by name.

Police

Donald S. Frey, Evanston, Ill., attorney, had filed the suit on behalf of Mrs. Sallis and other Waterloo Negroes. He said that one section of the complaint as now "moot" because of the open housing bill's passage, since the suit has accused the city of failure to enact a "freedom of resident ordinance."

As of June 1, James W. Cook, 1134 North Barclay, was appointed policeman and is now on duty. William Perkins, 817 Sumner street, was certified as a fireman. There are six other persons certified, Perkins said. All are waiting for vacancy.

Arrested during the hours of the disturbances were Glen Phillips, James Lee Tillman, Albert Parkam, James P. Barber, Roosevelt Green, Willie Cole, Lavern Phillips, Wiley Y. Lodge, Jessie J. Jones, Byron S. Washington, James Mills, James L. Boyd, Carol J. Vick, Darryl E. Reed, Daniel J. Flockhart, Sheryl K. Silshusen, Kenneth R. Boyd, George E. Palfrey, Chauncey B. Carr, and Herbert L. Banker Seeks FHA Insurance For Home Loans In The Ghetto

Minneapolis, Minn.—A nation-wide campaign to obtain federal government insured, long-term, fairly rated loans for residents of "discriminated against areas," notably the predominantly Negro urban areas is the goal of Harold W. Greenwood, Jr., of Minneapolis.

Greenwood, young president of Midwest Federal Savings & Loan Association which operates in the Twin Cities of Minnesota, is working to get the Federal Housing Administration (FHA) rules amended to allow the federal agency to guarantee such loans made by private lending agencies.

Answer To "High Risk" Claim

Because of the "high risk" involved in the "discriminated against" areas private lending agencies tend not to make loans in these areas, if it can be avoided.

Mr. Greenwood defines the "discriminated against" areas as "where lenders refuse to lend money for the purchase of homes and home repairs to Negroes."

taxing capacity for schools, for refusal to comply with the 1964 Civil Rights Act, thus cutting off federal funds that could improve conditions, and for unequal expenditures for white and Negro children (average amount of local funds annually spent per white child was more than five times greater than that spent per Negro child).

Meanwhile, Elizabeth D. Koontz of Salisbury, N.C., a Negro teacher unopposed for the presidency of the million-member National Education Association, had some solid training in what the job will entail when she served last year as head of the NEA's biggest unit—the Department of Classroom Teachers (DST).

When the election results are announced on the last day (Friday, July 7) of the NEA's 105th Convention here, Mrs. Koontz, a teacher of retarded children in Salisbury, N.C., will be named president-elect to assume the top job in July, 1968, succeeding Braulio Alonso of Tampa, Fla., and will become the first member of her race to head the nation's largest professional organization of teachers.

Questions and Answers

Q—My wife and I both work. Can I claim her exemption for income tax withholding purposes?

A—Yes you can if she does not also claim her exemption. The law does not permit two taxpayers to claim the same exemption.

To make a change in the number of exemptions claimed, file a new withholding certificate, Form W-4, with your employer. If you decide to take your wife's exemption, she must file a Form W-4 to drop her exemption with her employer.

Q—Do I have to keep track of the value of our wedding gifts for tax purposes?

A—No, these gifts won't be taxable to you.

O—Are there any booklets that explain the federal tax on trucks?

A—The highway use tax on motor vehicles is explained in Publication No. 349, Federal Use Tax on Trucks, Truck Tractors, and Buses. Send a post card to your district office for a free copy.

Those liable for this tax must file Form 2290, Federal Use Tax Return on Highway Motor Vehicle, by August 31 to cover the tax period beginning July 1.

Q—Is a foreign exchange student taxed on income earned in the U.S.?

A—Money earned in this country will most likely be taxable. Details on what U.S. taxes a foreign student may be liable for are contained in the booklet, Document No. 5588, "Tax Advice for Foreign Scholars and Visitors on Official Educational and Cultural Exchange Programs," available at IRS district offices.

Q—I moved my business to a new location last spring but I'm still getting tax forms showing my old address. How can I get this changed?

A—When you file your next return use the pre-addressed form, but draw through your old address and write the new one in its place. This will enable us to identify the mailing information we have for you in our files and to bring it p to date.

Q—My girl friend told me that I have to pay Social Security tax on any tips I make waiting tables this summer. Is that right?

A—Tips have always been considered taxable income, but until last year they did not count for Social Security purposes. Congress changed the law on tips and starting January 1, 1966, tips have had to be reported to the employer for withholding purposes when they are $20 or more a month.

Based on these monthly reports, income tax and Social Security tax on tips are withheld from the employee's regular wages. You will find details on his in Document No. 5640, "Reporting Your Tips for Federal Tax Purposes."

AMERICAN BUILDER, leading magazine for builders, recently disclosed a fool-proof method of boring holes in thin material. the Camera Guild

With the stereo camera you actually take two pictures—just as each of your eyes looks at the scene. Nature lets our eyes automatically bring the two pictures into one, but in photography you have to use the viewer in order to do this.

Stereo—the Newest Thing in Photography

If someone were to ask, "What is the newest thing in photography?" we'd probably answer "stereo." Of course, actually stereo isn't new. It has been around a hundred years or so. We're sure you've heard about the stereoscopic slide viewers that occupied a place of honor beside the plush-covered family album in Victorian parlors. Viewing scenes of distant places through these was one of the popular pastimes of the day.

The thing that is new about stereo is that now we take our own stereo pictures. The scenes viewed through stereo viewers today are our own personally important pictures—they are the same pictures we snap with ordinary cameras for our family albums, or photograph on 35mm slides to project. In stereo pictures, all the objects show up their natural relationship to each other. Thus, the beautiful scenic view, which tends to come out disappointingly flat in other pictures, will have all the qualities that made us want to photograph it. This is because such scenes most always owe their charm to depth—or perspective—both very difficult to capture in our snapshots. But with stereo, the scene will be just as you saw it. Stereo pictures are not difficult to take. You just shoot color pictures—but view your subjects in all their natural three dimensional charm when you look at them through the stereo viewer. —John Van Guilder

Watch the T.V. guide section of the big paper's Sunday edition on Negro radio stations. Okay. The Drifters . . . only play to packed houses, says Chuck Cobart, manager. Currently touring the country, started from Hollywood, and on to Texas, Oklahoma. Said luckily the tour had been without any incidents.

"This is the first trip to Iowa for the Drifters," Cobart said. "After their tour they go back to Hollywood for a rest and then to Europe, starting with England."

He agreed that they hadn't had a "big" record in a long time, probably due to the fact that they have changed from being strictly rock and roll to an entertainment group, doing dance and comedy. He reminded me that Clyde McPhatter used to be with the guys, then B. B. King.

"Roosevelt Miles is quite a marksman" with a gun. He can shoot out candles with a bullet . . .

Cobart said he couldn't quite understand why some groups charged such high prices for their entertainment for the least amount of time. When the Drifters come out for an audience, as at the 5-0-5 Club, they play from 9-10 p.m., then again at about from 12-1 or 11-12 p.m.

Iowa Branches Cited in NAACP'S Annual Report

Boston — The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, the nation's largest and oldest civil rights organization—showed a slight increase in membership and a more substantial income gain in 1966 despite diversionary activity on the part of some forces which had formerly given support to the Fight for Freedom.

Iowa

"Because all the hopes of 1963-65 had not been fully realized, there were those — partially among the newcomers to the movement—whose chagrin nurtured frustration and defeatism and generated a hazy belief that the movement was headed toward disintegration," stated the NAACP's annual report which was released here in New York City. The 88-page report, released by NAACP Executive Director Roy Wilkins on the eve of the Association's 58th annual convention held here July 10-15, noted that in the face of this defeatism many of the young white students" who had participated valiantly in the tedious work in the Deep South found a new outlet for their talents, energies and devotion in the peace movement."

In the annual report, the Des Moines branch was listed as having filed a complaint with the Manpower Development Training Program for exclusion of Negroes from a pre-apprenticeship training course for bricklayers. Funds were held up until Negroes were found and included in the program.

For the total branch membership in the regional distribution of NAACP branches for the year 1966 were, in which Iowa is included, 19,758.

State

The Iowa conference's resolutions urging the State Legislature to enact effective fair housing laws was also included. Branches in Region IV were especially active in dealing with the problems of Negro servicemen, the report went on. "The Davenport, Ia., branch campaigned to improve housing conditions and then enforce the building code. Thereafter, the city recognized the need for low-cost public housing and an urban renewal program."

Can your hair be damaged from brushing, alone?

All hair becomes damaged from exposure to sun and natural elements. Certain greasy compounds and many chemicals, improperly used, also take their toll . . . not to mention simple attempts at beautifying the hair with any brush not made of natural bristles. The results are brittleness, breakage, dry and dull looking hair.

Your professional beautician knows how artificial bristles actually brush away a great deal of the "lubricants" of the hair that give it body, lustre and protection. And trained beauticians claim that nothing beats Clairol® condition* Beauty Pack Treatment for overcoming brittleness, dryness and breakage . . . leaving hair lively and easy to manage. condition* is an easy-to-work-with creme which can even be applied during a chemical straightening retouch to prevent drying of hair that has been previously relaxed. condition* is the ultimate in repairing deep-down damage. And, when time is a factor for their customers, hairdressers turn to new Clairol® Hair Dew*—the lotion conditioner that penetrates so fast many think of it as an instant conditioner. When applied regularly by your beautician, Clairol Hair Dew adds body, softens and gives a glowing new look to your hair that many friends will notice and admire.

Damage can come from using brushes with artificial bristles. But damage to every woman's hair comes from so many other causes that all human hair (including wigs) needs to be revitalized periodically. Visit your professional beautician and ask this expert to check the condition of your hair.

HEALTH FOR ALL

"Didn't sleep a wink last night!"

This familiar complaint is often varied by an even sadder one: "Haven't closed my eyes in days!"

You can take it from Dr. Dale G. Friend, of Harvard Medical School, that both versions are almost always vastly exaggerated. But not intentionally.

Individuals who tell such stories, he wrote recently in Medical Tribune, "certainly believe what they are saying—that they have not had a bit of sleep for weeks." Nevertheless, he points out, these people usually are in good health and show no sign of a serious loss of sleep.

The explanation? "It is quite likely they are light sleepers who flicker in and out of sleep hundreds of times during the night. They are easily roused and easily go back to sleep. What they have done is connect all their periods of consciousness to what seems to them a continuous pattern of consciousness."

According to Dr. Dale, it's quite possible to get half to three-quarters of a normal night's sleep in this off again-on again fashion.

Mrs. Sophia M. Murphy's Stay In Des Moines Highlighted By Tours in State's Capitol

Mrs. Sophia M. Murphy, a World War II WAC, was the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. James D. Newsome, 1315 Laurel street.

Upon her return to civilian life, her need to continue performing services reflected on her previous positions: professional Girl Scouts, for which she was trained at Stanford University, executive director, Fannie Walls Children, Home and Day Nursery, Oakland, Calif., and Social worker for County Welfare Departments in Vallejo and San Francisco, Calif.

During her visit she met Colonel Ted Mikesch, head of the State Highway Patrol and also received educational material from the Department of Public Safety.

The Newsomes escorted Mrs. Murphy to Ft. Des Moines where she recalled her experiences as a member there, tours of the Capitol and other State buildings and the central shopping areas of the city.

Mr. and Mrs. Adam B. Jackson, parents of deceased daughter Lacy with whom Mrs. Murphy were members of the same company of the WAC Division, honored Mrs. Murphy with tours of the Historical Memorial and Art Building and the city's Art Center. Material received from these sources will be utilized as teaching apparatus for the coming school year. She was later taken to dinner in the Gold Room of the Winterset Lodge. Climax of the entertainment by the Jacksons was slides shown of their visit to Knott's Berry Farm, Anchorage, Calif., movies of their trips to Africa, Thailand, Japan, Egypt, and Hawaii and other states.

Monarch Picnic At Birdland Shelter

The Monarch Club's 48th annual picnic will be Sunday, July 23, 3:30 p.m. at the Birdland Shelterhouse. Games, prizes and dinner will be presented for the club members and their families.

Sunday's the day for a "picnic morning" breakfast in your back yard. This is one of the easiest picnics to hostess, so invite some friends and neighbors to join you.

The "picnic morning" menu features toast, a favorite stand-by every morning, but for this breakfast it's toasted over a charcoal fire and there's a variety of unusual spreads to complement the flavor. Scrambled eggs are cooked on the outdoor grill, too. Have a large pitcher of fruit juice and some fresh fruit to eat out of hand, while the food is cooking.

For outdoor cooking, whether making coffee or scrambling eggs, use the same good utensils used on the kitchen range. Too many outdoor chefs use old, discarded, pots and pans for cooking over charcoal and the results are most disappointing. There's little can be done to regulate the temperature of charcoal and so it becomes most important to rely on good utensils for best results. Use an aluminum skillet to cook the eggs; aluminum will distribute the heat evenly so the eggs cook properly without burning in spots. To keep cooking utensils from getting black over a charcoal fire, rub the outside of the pan with a mild bar soap to cover all of the surfaces. Non-stick coated interiors on aluminum utensils eliminate scrubbing and scouring food remnants. After the cooking is over they are easily cleaned in hot, soapy water. Preparation is minimal for the breakfast picnic; the menu is simply a combination of tried and true favorites with the emphasis on flavor. Here are some suggestions:

WHIPPED CINNAMON BUTTER FOR TOAST

1 (8-ounce) carton whipped butter 1 1/2 teaspoons cinnamon 12 slices bakers bread, toasted

1/2 cup verifine sugar

Remove butter from carton and stir in sugar and cinnamon. Return to carton to store and serve. Spread on hot toast. Makes enough spread for 12 slices of toast.

MARMALADE BACON SPREAD

4 slices bacon 1/2 cup orange marmalade

1/2 cup butter, softened

Dice bacon and cook until crisp. Drain on paper towel. Beat softened butter and orange marmalade together. Fold in bacon. Pack into 1 pint lidded paper container. Makes 1 1/4 cups.

MUSHROOM SCRAMBLED EGGS

1 can (10 1/2 ounces) condensed cream of mushroom soup 8 eggs, slightly beaten 2 tablespoons butter

Stir soup until smooth in a large bowl. Blend in the slightly beaten eggs. In an aluminum skillet, melt butter; pour in egg mixture. Stir eggs occasionally during cooking. Cook on charcoal grill until eggs are firm and set. Serves 4 to 6.

SECRETARY FREEMAN BOWS TO SOUTHERN BIGOTS

Secretary of Agriculture Freeman is visiting farm areas in an effort to placate farmers who are dissatisfied the administration for its farm policy. Many claim that it is working against securing a fair share of the retail sale value of farm products; that the small farmer is not getting the benefits of the large subsidies the government is putting out—the big farmers are getting richer, the little farmers, poorer.

Many of these farm programs are run by local farmers most of which excluded Negroes in the South. They had protested to the secretary and sought audience with him as he traveled in some southern communities. Influential members of Congress from those areas saw to it that his itinerary was so planned to prevent it. He made no move to change it.

Groups of farmers in Mississippi almost forcibly got an audience with the secretary which, while giving them a chance to air their complaints, got little consolation from the secretary. Certainly, if there are any farmers who need help they are the poor sharecroppers and little ones of the delta area who have never enjoyed the help the government has given other farmers.

Secretary Freeman, while laboring under the guise of a friend to the poor and downtrodden, failed miserably in the face of narrow segregationist politicians who are interested in the status quo—keeping the poor folks down.

GOV. REAGAN CLOUDS BAD FOR REPUBLICAN HARMONY

Gov. Ronald Reagan of California seems to have made a hit with young Republicans at their convention in Omaha. When we realize the conservative line the young Republicans have followed in recent years, it is not particularly surprising.

The governor is young and glamorous. He is an actor and knows how to captivate audiences. However, he has little experience in business and government other than he follows the right wing line.

The Republicans made a tremendous comeback last fall much as a protest to the Democratic administration. A Republican president could have been elected at that time.

But clouds are appearing on the horizon in the form of conservatives who are attempting to revive the Goldwater movement of 1964.

Some people never learn or reason with facts before them. In short, if Gov. Reagan or one of his thinking gets the Republican nomination, it will divide the party and invite another ignominious defeat.

The affront and goal of the conservative regime must be matched by a liberal group which will be able to secure the support of those liberal people who will not support a conservative.

PUBLIC OFFICIALS HELP MAINTAIN GHETTOS

When the riots were going on in Buffalo the mayor appeared on television explaining that hundreds of jobs and additional recreational facilities had been provided designed to satisfy those who were engaged in the disorders.

It is unfortunate that the mayor and those in control of the city waited until trouble arose, knowing that it would possibly arise, before the riots occurred.

This situation in Buffalo exists in most towns because unequal chances to live and grow have kept Negroes from enjoying a full life based on individual ability and character; many of the ghettos are the products of crime made possible by politicians who thrive on it and are willing to tolerate it as long as they are off to themselves.

Of course, there is no excuse for looting and pillaging other peoples property.

We shall never again give acclaim to anybody we want to see do well when we write this column. Last week we honored Jimmy Hines. So the guy gets out in the give International Meet last week and gets himself disqualified in the hundred meters run. Then comes back on Sunday and loses the two-hundred meter run by an eyelash to his arch rival, Tommy Smith. But could have happened regardless.

Anytime two fellows who run like those two can, get together picking the winner is no easy task, especially before the race. We think that when Hines left to hundred meters race some of the desire to win left Charles Green. Although that Long Jamaican gave a fine race.

Women

The British Commonwealth had almost as many Negroes as did the Americans and none of them did badly. And in the girls and womens events. Time was when no women competed in track but the Tennessee State and Tuskegee girls. Those two schools won the National AA meet so often they thought they owned it. But now things have been changed around. The British sent over a bunch of runners and jumpers from England, Ireland and Australia. And they gave our runners and jumpers a bad time. Not only that but they beat 'em!

But the Americans did come off with a surprise winner in the women's eight hundred meters run. And the girl could set a new mark in the next year.

Boston

If Ralph Boston stays around too long that high school boy is going to overtake him in the long jump. All the kid needs is more seasoning.

We were amused at the way a tie for first in the high jump was eliminated. It finally got down to the most passes and we wonder what would have happened if those passes had been equal.

We can't let things pass without saying that the fifteen hundred meter run was just about the damndest thing most of us ever saw. One guy analyzed the small crowd by saying this was no real rivalry there. Maybe he was right. That is except for Charles Green, Jimmy Hines and Tommy Smith.

Oh yes, then we sang the praises of the Cubs and talked about one city World Series. So the Sox blew a double header and the Cubs lost seven straight.

Me and my big mouth!

Correction On Price Quoted On Urban Re.

Trotter had earlier rejected $7,700 offered by the city and Mrs. Mitchell had refused $37,000" should be corrected as " . . . Mrs. Mitchell actually was offered a total of $48,200 for the property . . . and subsequently was awarded $53,280."

The Boxing World: Muhammed Ali Maybe Will Fight, A Bout Off Because of Knee, And Joe Frazier Thinks He Can Win

Sacramento, Calif.—He's back in the bag again, or the ring. Muhammed Ali, still a heavyweight champ in this state said he would defend his title in Oakland, "to help feed poor people—both black and white, in Alabama, Mississippi and Georgia."

Ali's cotender? The "bear" Sonny Liston, who, if approved, could meet Clay in a charity fight in late August or early September. And Leonis Martin in Philly, Pa., says a physician, injured his right knee in a fall, may take three-six weeks to heal.

Martin's cotender was to have been Jimmy Ellis, Aug. 5, along with Ernie Terrel and Thad Spencer, in an elimination tourney to determine a successor to Muhammed.

So Joe Frazier thinks he can beat everyone. Although the unbeaten 23 year old has won all 16 of his fights, he is No. 2 behind Germany and only 3 number in Ring Magazine's checkbook.

Like former heavyweight champ Muhammed Ali, Frazier does a lot of analyzing his competitors: he would bang the body of Ernie Terrel alot, and boasted that if Floyd Patterson waited too long to hit him, it would be too late for him (Patterson), implying that Frazier's punch would do the job.

extra-inning game of the 38-game series. Longest previous All-Star game was 14 innings in 1950.

There were no errors in Tuesday's game, but one came close when Hank Arron nearly missed a shoe-string catch in the fifth. Tony Oliva of Minnesota add some fun by having his bat fly, three times, out of his hand on wild swings.

ETHEL'S COOKERY

by Ethel Moore

Here's a combination of Ham and Baked Fruit Casserole, which go well together. The secret in the superb glaze for the ham is Karo syrup, which imparts a uniquely delicious flavor to foods. The secret in the Casserole is that it's a low calorie delight, made quickly from canned fruits right off your pantry shelf.

CURRANT GLAZED HAM

- 1 (6 pound) canned ready-to-eat ham
- 1/2 cup red currant jelly
- 1/2 cup Karo dark corn syrup
- 1 teaspoon vinegar
- 1/2 teaspoon powdered cloves

Trim and heat ham. Meanwhile, combine jelly, Karo syrup, vinegar and powdered cloves in saucepan and cook over medium-low heat, stirring constantly; until jelly is melted and mixture is smooth. Remove ham from oven, score diagonally across fat surface and stud with whole cloves, if desired. Pour part of glaze over ham. Bake in 325° (slow) oven about 45 minutes, basting frequently with remaining glaze, until ham is well coated and all glaze is used.

BAKED FRUIT CASSEROLE

- 1 can (1 pound) low calorie applesauce
- 1 cup low calorie gingerale
- 1 cinnamon sticks, broken into pieces
- 12 whole cloves
- 1 can (1 pound) low calorie kadota figs, undrained
- 1 can (1 pound) fruits for salad, undrained

Combine all ingredients in a two quart casserole. Bake uncovered in a preheated moderate oven (350) for 20 to 25 minutes or until bubbling hot. Makes 8 servings.

What The AFL Offers Football This Fall

OAKLAND RAIDERS

Training Site, Santa Rosa, Calif., coach: John Rauch, last seasons record: 8-5-1.

A Word From The Coach: "The trade in which we sent Tom Flores and Art Powell to Buffalo for Daryle Lamonica and Glenn Bass could slow our defense for a time, but we hope in the long run the trade will be more than justified."

Strength

Off to a slow 1966 start under rookie Rauch, the Raiders lost only two of their final 10 games while emphasizing an attribute that has become synonymous with Oakland teams — aggressiveness. The front four (ends Ben Davidson and Issac Lassiter and tackles Tom Keating and Dan Birdwell), while not as publicized as some others, was the key, along with the defensive backfield (Dave Grayson and Kent McCloughan at the corners and Warren Powers and Rodger Bird at the safety spots), to a defense that set an AFL record for least yards allowed passing. The offense proved strong on the ground, with half-back Clem Daniels the leader, and the offensive line (tackles Harry Schuh and Bob Svihus, guards Wayne Hawkins and Jim Harvey and perennial All-AFL center Jim Otto) showed improvement.

Needs

The major off-season trade, Flores and Powell for Lamonica and Bass, either created or filled the major need, depending on how it ultimately works out. The quarterback race now has five entries — holdovers Cotton Davidson and Charley Green, trade acquisitions Lamonica and Mickey Slaughter and rookie Rick Egloff of Wyoming. Fred Biletnikoff and Larry Todd are the holdover wide receivers, but there is a need for depth in that department. Both the offensive line and the linebacking also could use additional personnel.

New Faces

Besides the quarterbacks the three key additions may be split end Bass; James Ray Jackson, the fleet No. 4 draft choice from Oklahoma who could turn the wide receivers' battle into a four-way struggle, and Gene Upshaw, the No. 1 draft choice from Texas A&I, who could throw his weight around at either guard or tackle. Two other trade acquisitions, Dainard Paulson (new York) and Willie Brown (Denver), figure to strengthen the defensive backfield, and draft choices Bill Fairband (Colorado) and Duane Benson (Hamilton) could figure at linebacker.

SAN DIEGO CHARGERS

Training Site: Escondido, Calif., coach: Sid Gillman, last seasons record: 7-6-1.

Strength

The Charger's Hall of Fame backfield was extinguished with the trading of running back Keith Lincoln of Buffalo. But there still is striking power with Paul Lowe at halfback leading the ground forces and John Hadl firing passes to peerless flanker Lance Alworth and Gary Garrison, the youngster from San Diego State who made it big in his first year at split end. The offensive line (tackles Ron Mix and Ernie Wright, guards Walt Sweeney and Ed Mitchell and center Sam Gruneisen) is strong, and Ken Graham and Les Duncan are two standout defensive backs.

New Faces

Among the newcomers are three veterans who could play key roles in the revamping of the defense—Tom Day, Scott Appleton and Johnny Baker. Day, acquired in the Lincoln trade, will be in the battle for a defensive end berth with holdover Howard Kindig and Ron Billingsley, a 6-8, 270-pound No. 1 draft choice from Wyoming. Appleton, acquired with Baker from Houston for defensive back Miller Farr, will be trying for a tackle spot with George Gross, Steve DeLong and Jim Griffin, being switched over from end. Baker could challenge Rick Rerman for an outside linebacker's job to complete the trio that also includes Frank Buncom and Chuck Allen, whose loss last year seriously hurt the club. Ron McCall, a No. 2 draft choice from Weber State, also figures at linebacker.
