CSC Certifies Fonza As Fireman Wright Named to NAACP National Board

Reveals He is Turk But Not Against Roy

State President of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, Robert A. Wright and branch delegates, Mrs. James B. Morris, Sr., the Rev. Fred Swett, Mrs. Clifford Bayles, attended the Annual Convention (at their own expense) in Boston, Mass., July 10-15.

Wright, who was named to the Board of Directors, is one of 60 members which will meet and give instruction to the executive director, Roy Wilkins. He said the Board of Directors determine the policy of the Administration.

Also attending were Mrs. E. T. Hicks and family of Burlington, Mr. and Mrs. John Griggs, president of the Cedar Rapids Branch and Mrs. Lewis, of Ft. Madison. Accompanying Mr. Wright were his wife, Bernice, son, Bob, Jr., and daughter, Charmayne.

In Charge

Wright was in charge of a housing workshop on Friday, July 14, in which he recommended three important changes in housing achievements and problems: To have the regional and state branches to take more time to point out laws concerning open occupancy, to establish a national housing officer as a member of the administration, and to encourage persons to make use of every type of open occupancy law so that there will be full compliance with existing housing laws.

Go Back

He said that the keynote of the convention was the attempt to go back "if it (NAACP) had ever been there, to the Negro in the ghetto, to find the problem and redress

Applications Show Needs of the Slums

Washington, D.C. — The needs of people living in America's hard core urban slums are reflected in the applications to the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development for Model Cities planning grants.

Secretary Robert C. Weaver disclosed recently that an analysis of the 193 applications submitted by the May 1 deadline shows a much higher incidence of substandard housing, poverty, unemployment, and educational difficulties in the target areas than the national averages for American cities generally.

Selective

Under the Model Cities Program, a selected number of cities, including Des Moines, will receive special aid for carrying out concentrated programs of social, economic, and physical improvement in specific neighborhoods. Neighborhoods proposed for such treatment by cities must be blighted sections with a high percentage of poor housing, joblessness, disease, crime, and delinquency, and lacking in basic community facilities.

Reed Now Serves On Employment Comm.

J. W. Jansen has been elected chairman of the Iowa Employment Security Commission for the coming fiscal year, the Iowa Employment Security Commission announced today. Janssen, a Hardin County Democrat, is the employer representative on the Commission.

Serving with him on the three-man commission are Henry E. Carter, labor representative and Des Moines County Democrat, and Cecil Reed, public representative and Linn County Republican. Reed who replaced Ross M. Carrell July 1 as public representative served in the House of Representatives during the 1967 General Assembly.

Philly NAACP Pres. Suspended On Counts

Boston — Acting on charges that controversial lawyer Cecil B. Moore is causing the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People harm, Roy Wilkins has ordered the Philadelphia NAACP branch president suspended.

The suspension was ordered Friday, July 14, after five members of the Association's Northwest Philadelphia branch appealed to Mr. Wilkins to suspend and ultimately expel Mr. Moore from the organization.

They charged Mr. Moore with "using the Philadelphia NAACP office for his personal gain" and "using vile, abusive, threatening and profane language . . . toward the public generally."

Foed

Moore's troubles with the NAACP, the nation's oldest and largest civil rights organization, started when the Association's national board of directors ordered Mr. Moore's branch split into five units as has been done in other major cities throughout the country. Mr. Moore rejected the plan and went to court with an appeal. He lost the court battle in Philadelphia and later sought and received an injunction from the New York courts.

Advance Is Made For The Nonwhite Adult

Washington — Nonwhite women and men have made significant progress in raising their level of educational development over the past quarter of a century according to figures released by the Labor Department's Women's Bureau.

The average years of school completed by nonwhite women and men 25 year of age and over in March 1966 were 9.6 year and 8.8 years, respectively. The average in April 1940 were 6.1 and 5.4 years.

Attend Purdue U. Seminar Of Church Women

Mrs. Rose Johnson and Mrs. Jeanie Morris were two among several Des Moines women who attended, along with Mrs. Cecil Cooper of Davenport, the Ecumenical Assembly of Church Women United at Purdue University, Lafayette, Ind.

The assembly, which convened July 13-16, brought more than 2000 Protestants, Catholics and Eastern Orthodox church women from 53 nations. Key topic for discussion was legislation which would benefit the migrant, aid public education, and work for bettering housing. Also resolved were peace building efforts around the world, to project quality school and education for all, academic freedom for teachers, and an appeal to listen to the "voice of youth" and to do something about it.

Boston Convention In Electronic Age: Closed Circuit TV

Boston — The first so-called electronic meet of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People here, July 10-15, was facilitated through the courtesy of special closed circuit live television coverage of the key sessions in 1200 hotel rooms for delegates. Other sets were positioned at strategic spots in halls and meeting rooms so that the more than 2,000 persons attending the sessions were always up-to-the-minute on both the plenary sessions' developments and many of the workshop sessions.

Unemployment Rate Stands Still in June

Washington, D.C. — The nonwhite unemployment rate was 7.8 percent in June, unchanged from May and June 1966, according to figures released by the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

Up

The national unemployment rate moved up to 4.0 percent in June, reaching that level for the first time since the closing months of 1965. A higher unemployment rate for women was an important factor in the June increase; however, the slow rise in jobless rates for adult continued.

First in Over Fifty Years; But Williams File Closed; NAACP Asks Full Details

After over a year's hassle between the Civil Service Commission, the Des Moines Human Rights Commission, the Civil Rights Commission, Milford Fonza, 22, was accepted and certified as a fireman.

On Monday the Civil Rights Commission released a statement which said "as a result of the complaints filed with our office by Milford R. Fonza and Walter Carl Williams, 24, the Des Moines Civil Services Commission was contacted and requested to meet with our staff. The Des both cases were combined for convenient usage. A request was then given by the respondents and conciliation team (of the Rights Commission made up of Father Donald Bowles, Thomas and Julian Garrett, legal assistant). This hearing was delayed until its resumption on June 27, which was also postponed for the same reasons.

The last hearing was on July 17, when the cases were closed.

Statement

However, in the light that Walt Williams has not been certified the Des Moines branch NAACP issued this statement Wednesday: "We welcome the certification of Milford Fonza by the Civil Service Commission and acceptance by the City Council.

"But we are unable to comprehend what has happened to the Williams case. The Iowa Civil Rights Commission has not made public any findings of discrimination or nondiscrimination. And we feel it is obligated to do so. The fact that the Civil Service Commission has certified Fonza does not exonerate it as regards to Williams."

Absurd

James Thomas, executive director of the Rights Commission, said repeatedly that he was unable to give out information concerning the Williams case or the conciliation discussion, being bound by the laws of the Commission. He did say that the task of the Commission was to find compliance with the law. He said that the phrase "no probable cause" does not mean that discrimination has not existed, but that it was not the major factor in a situation.

Absurd was his reaction to the possibility that the two men had been set up as tests to challenge the Civil Service.

Neighbors Ask For Investigation Of Resident's Home

The City Council agreed upon a full report asked by a petition calling for the removal of a disorderly house Monday night.

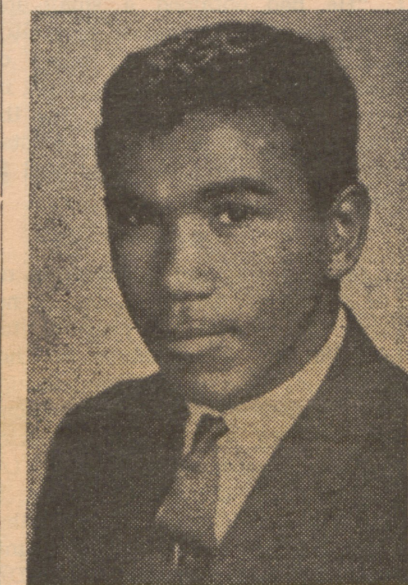

David Pickett, president of the Walnut Hills Improvement Association, presented the petition which said that the residents in the area "fear for the peace and quiet of the general area . . . fear a repeat of last summer when a vast number of young persons congregated around" the home of Mrs. Rozetta Lee, 1420 University. The petition said that no attempted had been made by those in the authority in the house to alleviate the conditions.

Signed

21 persons signed the petition. Also enclosed was a report by Sgt. Scott Crowley, who visited Mrs. Lee's home on July 6, noting the high weeds and a wrecked car in the yard.

Pickett said various residents talked with Mrs. Lee to no avail, that earlier disturbances this year and last year in the general area was due to the young people who congregated in Mrs. Lee's yard.

With Pickett were Mrs. Rose Johnson and Mr. and Mrs. Frank McCraven.

FONZA

Moines Civil Service Commission gave us their full cooperation and made their records available to us.

None

"There are no findings of discrimination as to color or race involving the Civil Service Commission's processing of the applications of Fonza and Williams. The Civil Service Commission has reiterated its position that color, race, religion and creed are of no consideration in its examination of applicants for civil service positions.

"In view of the information received during conciliation, our office has closed its files on these two cases and the complainants have been advised of our position and decision."

Reading the statement at Monday's public hearing was Mrs. Merle Full, of Iowa City and chairman of the Commission.

Outline

Fonza and Williams separately filed complaints after they were turned down, with the Civil Rights Commission last fall. On May 22 the first public hearing was held, when

Payton Explains Role of Negro Church in Seminar

"A basic change is needed, and rapidly, for the Viet Nam (Negro) veterans who return to this country," said Dr. Benjamin Payton, executive Director, Department of Social Justice of the National Council of Churches, who was at Drake University's Medbury Hall all day Thursday for a one day institute on race relations in the city of the future.

These soldiers, Payton first said, say they fought over there for this country and if necessary will die over here, implying that Negro ex-GI's participated in the riots which swept the United States. He explained that they would not be the ones to fight in their own neighborhood—they would go "uptown."

In the afternoon seminar, sponsored by the Divinity School, Dr. Payton spoke expansively of the Negro Church when asked of its role in the Negro community: "The Negro church has been the mainstay in the Negro community for reasons quite different than that of the (American) immigrant. The . . . church was only the place where a Negro man could feel like a man . . . The Negro ministry shows a story not told." He said that the Negro church was grossly misunderstood in fiction whether told by Negro authors or their white counterparts.

Step

"An important step is being taken by the Negro Churchmen to improve the church, which has been under attack in the 20th Century," said Dr. Payton.

The Department of which Dr. Payton is executive Director includes committees on Religion and Race, Church Economic Life, Social Welfare, Religious and Civil Liberties. He wove economic life into the discussion of the schools, ghetto and upper middle class; he talked with high school teachers whose pupils were in the $45,000 bracket, but as the teachers told him, whose lives were a mixture of alcohol, narcotics and delinquency, not far removed from that of the ghetto school, which is inferior in everything. He said that the ghetto student could notice this inferiority through the teacher's communication.

In naming some of the historic achievements of the Negro, he reminded those attending that it has been only since the 1940's that any major achievements have been listed, such as the integration of the Negro in the Armed Forces, the 1954 Supreme Court Decision, and the separation of racist social and political science and that of biological science. He said that up until the 1940's the white adult had been trained to believe that non-whites were genetically inferior.

Dr. Payton, who left Friday, will speak later this month at Purdue University.

Poverty Example is Shown by Freeman

Washington, D.C. — Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman, who toured the South recently, testified before the House Committee on Education and Labor on July 10.

In part of his findings, he gave a poignant example of a Southern Negro:

"Charles Hamlin was a poor Negro farmer in Mississippi. He was trying to feed, clothe, shelter, and educate eight children on a small cotton farm that brought him a dollar . . . a day. This, plus $500 or $600 he and his family earned doing odd jobs in the community, was the total income of the Hamlin family."

Loan

"He had obtained a small loan from the Department of Agriculture for subsistence and day-to-day operating expenses. But he could not qualify for a larger loan—a loan that would have enabled him to substantially improve his farm and his income."

Need

"I cited this case three years ago to illustrate the need for a new type of program, a program tailored to the circumstances of thousands of Charlie Hamlins throughout rural America. The Economic Opportunity Act of 1964 authorized such a program under Title III (A)."

The rural loans program for individuals and cooperatives authorized by the Economic Opportunity Act and administered by USDA's Farmers Home Administration is proving particularly successful. This is the program which is helping Charlie Hamlin."

Damage

"The chronic or regular use of such preparations introduces both Codeine and Alcohol into the body. This alone can have the usual addictive and toxic effects of the drugs as if taken by themselves. In addition, there are other substances in the medical syrup which act upon a variety of tissues—such as the mucous membranes of the trachea and lungs, the blood vessels and the nervous system. In time, large amounts can injure these tissues and interfere with respiratory function, cough reflex, circulation, liver function and brain function. This can therefore lead to a variety of disabilities and certainly lowers the resistance of the body to the effects of incidental infections or injuries."

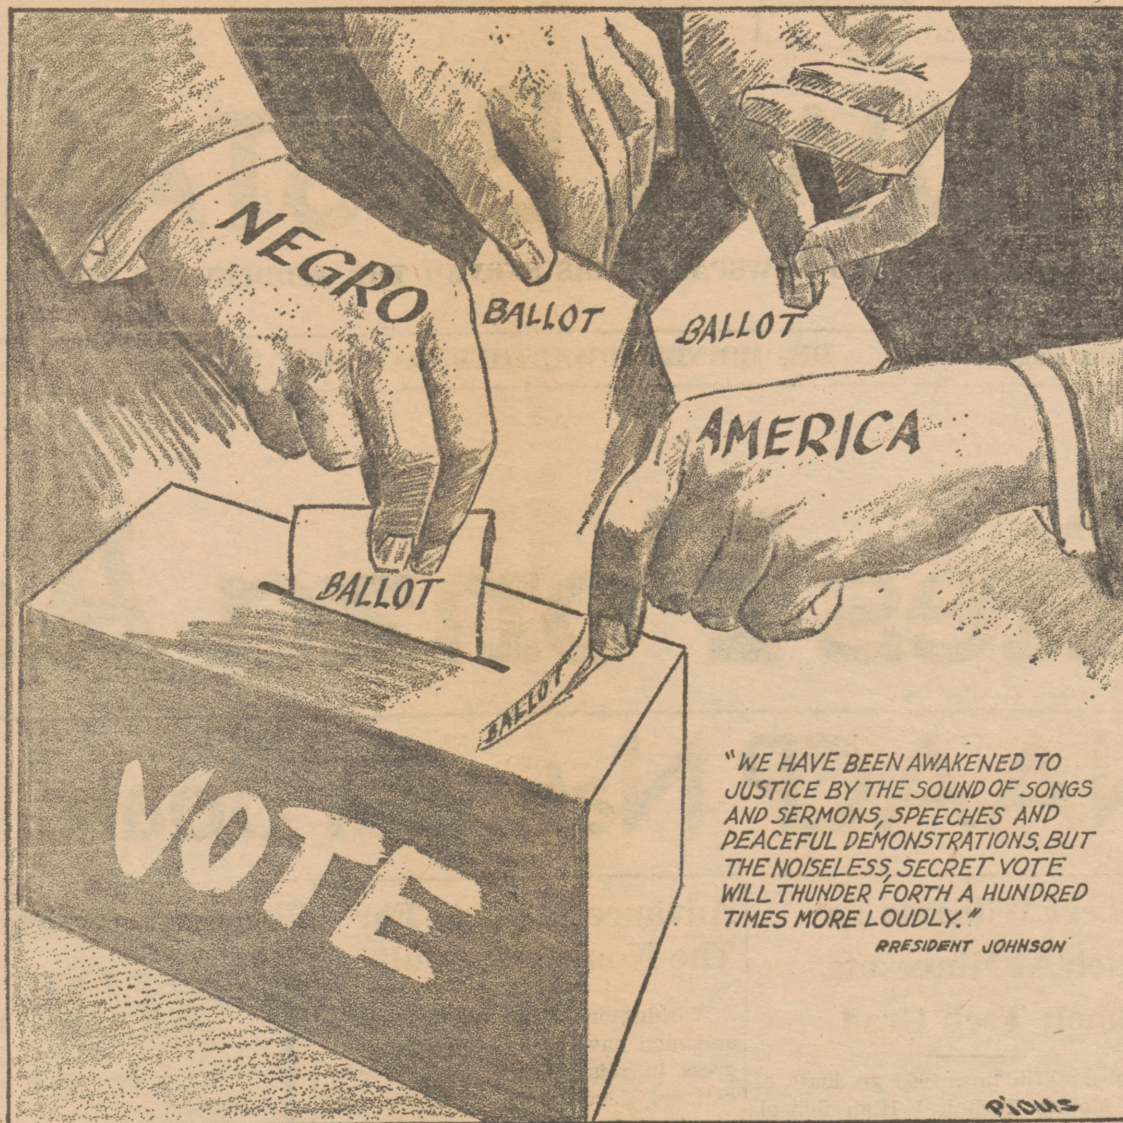

Increased

Dr. Julius Connors, Polk County director of Health, said there appeared to be an increased reported incidence of illegal drug sales in the Negro community, and the problem of illegal alcohol sales and cough syrup use appears to be increasing at an alarming rate.

McKenzie Tells Version Of Sunday's Mass Arrest

Another version of Sunday morning's disturbance in which 17 Negroes were arrested is given by Donald McKenzie, Polk County Community Action Director, who was hit on the head during the rock-throwing spree:

"As I understand, about 1:30 a.m. Sunday just before the dance at the Brotherhood ended, a car got stalled out in front, and there was a big traffic jam created with cars parked on either side of the street. A policeman was sent out to direct the traffic. Then, about the time the dance ended, more patrol cars arrived, and as persons left the dance, congregated (to see the reasons for all the police cars). The patrol started ordering the kids to go up the street, herding them. And they didn't like the treatment for these were generally good kids who go home in a group."

Nichols

"They got up to Keo, where a patrol car sat but some kid(s) broke some windows. About then Capt. Wendell Nichols drove in among the kids, after which he got a brick thrown at his window."

McKenzie said that 10-14th street on University had been blocked off, officers were standing in a line with their helmets on and sticks.

He said that at about 2:30 a.m., Capt. Nichols called him, but the director added that he felt he (McKenzie) shouldn't have gone on.

"Cool"

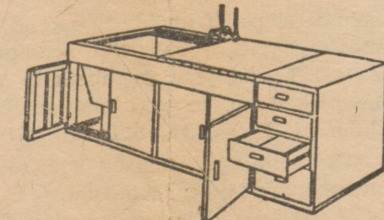

McKenzie said he got into the Police Chief's car and drove west on University where they met about twenty kids, twelve of whom were Night Hawks (persons paid by OEO and Manpower Project to "keep the summer cool"). When he got out of the car, he was hit by a brick.

Enclose Laundry Tubs

STORAGE is a "must" in the laundry, but oftentimes it is makeshift and unsatisfactory. Wise homemakers can readily make a combination linen chest and laundry supply cabinet which will serve also to hide unsightly stationary tubs.

As shown in the illustration, the handyman can enclose the tubs, construct a chest of drawers next to them, and create a handy clothes sorting table on top. To do the best job from the standpoints of cost, appearance and long life, he should build a framework of 2 by 2-inch lumber and cover it with smooth Masonite Tempered Presdwood, one-quarter inch thick.

Drawer construction can be simple. Just form the framework of lumber and attach a bottom of Presdwood. Wooden slides attached to the cabinet and sides of the drawers complete that part of the project.

The lumber framework for the enclosures should be no farther than 16" apart. Swinging doors to enclose the tubs may be made, too, as illustrated, or sliding doors of Tempered Presdwood unframed may be made. They will slide in grooves cut into the cabinet floor and upper framework.

Prime and paint the installation for the best appearance.

Your professional beautician knows the answer...

Can your hair be damaged from brushing, alone?

All hair becomes damaged from exposure to sun and natural elements. Certain greasy compounds and many chemicals, improperly used, also take their toll . . . not to mention simple attempts at beautifying the hair with any brush not made of natural bristles. The results are brittleness, breakage, dry and dull looking hair.

Your professional beautician knows how artificial bristles actually brush away a great deal of the "lubricants" of the hair that give it body, lustre and protection. And trained beauticians claim that nothing beats Clairol® condition® Beauty Pack Treatment for overcoming brittleness, dryness and breakage . . . leaving hair lively and easy to manage. condition® is an easy-to-work-with creme which can even be applied during a chemical straightening retouch to prevent drying of hair that has been previously relaxed. condition® is the ultimate in repairing deep-down damage. And, when time is a factor for their customers, hairdressers turn to new Clairol® Hair Dew®—the lotion conditioner that penetrates so fast many think of it as an instant conditioner. When applied regularly by your beautician, Clairol Hair Dew adds body, softens and gives a glowing new look to your hair that many friends will notice and admire.

Damage can come from using brushes with artificial bristles. But damage to every woman's hair comes from so many other causes that all human hair (including wigs) needs to be revitalized periodically. Visit your professional beautician and ask this expert to check the condition of your hair.

Only your professional beautician knows the answer for sure.

Tube Rack Keeps Gardening Hose Safe This Winter

Careful for your gardening equipment during the winter will keep it in tip-top shape, ready for use next spring. To store garden hoses, try this simple rack that keeps them neatly coiled, off the floor and out of the way.

Cut a 12" length of 2x4 to make the main support. Lay out the holes for the 1" Do-It-Yourself tubing and bore the holes at a slight (about 5°) angle to keep hose from sliding off. Drill 3/16" holes for the two screws that hold the 2x4 to the wall.

Cut four 8" lengths of the 1" tubing and force tubes into the bored holes. Drill holes from top edge of 2x4 into each tube end and drive in lock nail.

Screw the 2x4 to the wall with two #10x2 1/2" screws. To keep dirt from getting into the tubes, snap 1" aluminum tubing end plugs into the outer ends of tubing hangers.

Reynolds Do-It-Yourself aluminum is available in local hardware and building supply stores.

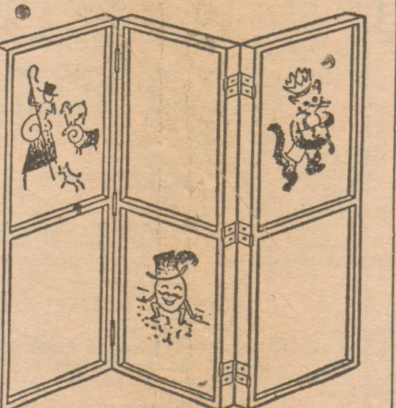

Screen for Nursery

A FOLDING screen is mighty handy to have in the nursery, where it can be used to keep drafts off the crib and as a shield against light, noise and activity.

Like the one in the illustration, the screen may be made in the home workshop and neatly decorated by means of decalcomanias or stencils. Panels without the nursery characters may be finished with blackboard slating material, so the pre-school child will have a place to draw.

Materials for this simple device may be obtained in any lumber yard—1 by 2-inch lumber for the framing and crossbars, Masonite

Tempered Duolux, a durable hard-board that's smooth on both sides, and the hardware. The panels, after being cut to size, are inserted in grooves which have been cut in the framing with a power saw.

The stick-on pictures are available at paint and hardware stores, which are sources also for stencils used in hand-painted work. Major paint companies make slate surfacing material, which simply is brushed on the Masonite Duolux with a brush after the panel has been prepared with two coats of clear sealer.

HEALTH FOR ALL

"People associated with treatment centers must come to know the person with tuberculosis and not just the condition of his lungs."

So said Dr. Albert L. Johnson, a Professor of Public Health and consultant to the National Tuberculosis Association.

He was giving voice to a trend of thought that has become evident on the part of many doctors and public health experts, particularly as regards the treatment of TB. Now that modern drug therapy has made hospitalization much less frequent and shifted the emphasis to outpatient treatment, there is an natural desire to see that clinics provide the best service possible.

Co-operate

One way of doing that, Dr. Johnson feels, is to improve the relationship between clinic staff and patient. Treatment will proceed more effectively if doctors and their co-workers take into consideration certain handicaps that beset many clinic patients.

These handicaps spring in many cases from an inadequate command of language on the patient's part, insufficient understanding of the nature of their disease, or perhaps a lack of experience in carrying out routine. Such difficulties can result in uncooperative behavior on the

To Extend Toggle Switch

If the toggle switch on a power tool is difficult to reach, American Builder, "bible" of the building industry, has a solution. Take a short section of stiff tubing and slip it tightly over the toggle switch handle. This lengthens the handle and brings it within reach. Use either plastic or stiff rubber tubing.

He credits the capabilities of the candidates for this unusual turn of affairs.

Enjoy Outdoor Dining Without Outdoor Cooking

An elegant patio party, whether in summer formal or Bermuda shorts, doesn't necessarily require the host or hostess to stand over a smoky brazier while guests remain politely — or protectively — upwind.

Just a little pre-planning will produce an outdoor menu that can be prepared easily right in the kitchen, kept at serving temperature and served when the guests are ready.

Recipes here for Herbed Meat Loaf and Noodles Elise are a good example of a tempting, heavy meal that comes from just two dishes made in three cooking utensils — a baking pan, saucepan and casserole. The casserole, in attractive color enameled aluminum, comes right to the table and doubles as a serving dish.

After-dinner cleanup is easy, too, if non-stick coated aluminum utensils are selected for the cooking job. Available in all types of top-of-the-range and baking ware, these utensils come clean in a snap with just

DEEP SEATED
CAUSES OF RIOTS

There are numerous explanations of the why of the riots in city after city. And numerous individuals had predicting these riots pointed out that lack of good housing, jobs and adequate recreation were the cause, all of which have some merit.

It would appear that in the light of these warnings and the record of past summers, some of the complaints might well have been dealt with before the riots occurred.

But regardless of the causes, there can be no excuse for destroying innocent people's property, for looting, for disregarding law and order, all of which are purely criminal acts and have nothing to do with civil rights. It is a sad commentary and tends to stall the civil rights movement in many ways.

The Bystander rather thinks most of these causes of riots do not hit the real deep reason for these troubles. They don't go deep enough.

In most large cities where a so-called ghetto exists, Negro residents inhabit a "street" where public officials permit some Negroes to carry on crime with their "blessings" as long as they stay to themselves and keep white people out. There the gamblers, sporting women and vultures of the profits congregate. They are the ruthless Negroes. Generally they are mean, daring and are willing to fight, cut and shoot without much provocation. These same classes are found among white people but instead of concentrating in one spot, men and women on one street, they scatter in many parts of the town. Their carrying ons are less noticeable.

The hangerons of these areas generally trigger the disturbances and the ignorant, unthoughtful follow.

Negroes are concentrated in the houses they can occupy because of the money they earn. Their children's education and training do not come up to that of white people because they have not had the money.

Take Des Moines as an example. They are excluded from all the good paying jobs (mostly union jobs) and find themselves as the janitor, porters, service women, as maid. Not that these jobs are dishonorably, but bogged down in them with no chance to rise places a stigma on those who are held back. And the combination of unions, management and government has winked their eyes at the situation and permitted it to grow and grow.

This creates enmity among Negroes because they are short changed. A youngster related that he went to the Rock Island station to change a ticket Monday. There he saw the strikers carrying cards. All belonged to unions which have gradually evicted all Negroes from their ranks. (At one time most firemen, all brakemen, flagmen and even porters were Negroes). His disgust rose recognizing that these fellows were asking the public for help in their cause for more wages and improved working conditions and yet they themselves stood in the way of a Negro securing these jobs. (Like it took forty years to get a Negro on the city fire department.)

Of course, there has been improvement. Many Negroes are making great headway in business, in labor, in education, in finance, in athletics, in the government. They are those who have refused to allow the obstacles thrown in their path to block them. And they have been helped by many a white person who insist on fair play and a chance for all.

It takes a long time for the benefits of life to trickle down to the masses and it is they who do the damage after the irresponsible criminal element has triggered the commotion.

GOT A MAN IN SERVICE?

Give him a subscription to the Bystander. Reading a weekly copy will be like letters from home. For further information call 288-1904 or write the Bystander, 221 Locust St.

The fellow walked into the pool hall. He was about five feet ten inches tall and just about as big around and wide as he was tall. He came over to us and said, "That was a lousy article you wrote about Kirby. In fact, I think it was downright ignorant." We were trying to recall just what we had written about the guy. So we said we were merely expressing our opinion and he was perfectly at liberty to do likewise about us. The fellow went on to tell us that we should recognize the fact that Jim was going to school, and we should encourage him, a fact with which we heartily agree. Well, by that time we were really at a loss as to what we had said about Kirby. So we asked the man what it was he didn't like. We couldn't make out his answer because he was on his way out the door, and his head was turned away from us. And as big and as mad as he was we thought better of asking him to come back and repeat it.

Good

The incident made us feel rather good, in spite of the fact that the caller was not on our side. He had read our column, and he had taken the time and trouble to come over and discuss it with us even if it wasn't good. And that is probably one of the reasons why this column has lasted as long as it has. People who don't like what we write have come up and told us about it. One guy took a punch at us for praising him. Then he found out what we had meant, and was two years apologizing for it. Oh, ever now and then somebody likes what we set down and lets us know that, two. But the bricks far outnumber the roses. We have always rather liked the big fellow, and that incident didn't change our feeling for him one bit. In fact, we rather liked it.

We have watched with interest the number of Negro officials in the various sports events around town. We recall when the only time a Negro got to officiate was when the rivalry between two white teams was so hot that neither team trusted the other, and they figured that a Negro wouldn't care who won. We recall that a fellow named Joe Wyatt was the first Negro umpire we ever saw, and that was when we were not yet in our teens. The two towns of Boon and Gowrie had bet a lot of money on the game and they wanted someone who would be absolutely fair. So they decided that Joe, being a Negro couldn't care less who won, just so he got paid for umpiring. But he was the last for a number of years. When we came along in our playing days, there just weren't any Negro officials. We recall that we were pressed into service to referee a game between two white teams because they reasoned we wouldn't cheat either team. We think we got a couple of dollars for our efforts, and that was a lot of money in those days. Now these fellows make pretty good money for their time, and are respected by most of the players. We hear that there are a few incidents, but these are soon taken care of.

We think Harold Carr was about the first Negro to break into the city league here, and now there must be at least half dozen of them. As we understand it, they have to go to school for a while, but it really pays off. Then we have heard any number of Negro players say it makes them feel good to see a Negro official out there. They don't want him to give them any special breaks, but it is good to know he is there.

Track and Ball

Now so much for that. The Pan American track meet games are coming up and we don't have our heaviest stuff in the competition, but we are expected to win big.

And oh, yes, the pennant races are tightening up all along the line. You can put about six teams in a hat in either league and try to pull out the winner. The Cubs have lost enough games to be in second division, and yet they are two games out of first at this writing. The White Sox are slipping, but don't count them out. We may yet have that one city world's series. Our preseason picks aren't doing so well. Who were they? We ain't tellin'.

Questions and Answers

Q—I still haven't received my refund. What could be holding it up?

A—Most returns calling for refunds have already been processed and the checks mailed out. By June IRS had processed a total of 45 million refund claims amounting to over $7 billion. The number of refund checks issued so far this year is 13 percent greater than for the comparable period last year.

The major delay in processing refund claims has been inaccurate or incomplete returns. Missing or erroneous Social Security numbers, failure to sign the return and missing W-2 Forms and other supporting schedules and documents are some of the taxpayers' errors that have held up their refunds. In these cases, the taxpayer has been notified and the missing information requested.

The IRS has thousands of refund checks for taxpayers it can't deliver because the taxpayer has moved and left no forwarding address.

If you are expecting a refund and move before it arrives, be sure to give your local postmaster your new address. This will avoid unnecessary delays in receiving your refund check.

Q—When do I have to pay Social Security tax for my maid?

A—The quarterly payment for the months of April, May and June is

Is House Number Legible?

IS YOUR house number doing its work? If it isn't visible, day or night, you're due for a change!

You can make a distinctive set of house numbers easily. The only materials needed are some Masonite Tempered Presdwood and a key-hole saw, which cuts curves.

First, design the letters so they are of the correct size in proportion to the house and entrance—but large enough to be visible from the street. Transfer the design to the tempered hardboard, 1/4" thick, and start cutting.

Sand down any rough edges. The numerals may be mounted directly on the siding, using waterproof glue or finishing nails, or placed on a piece of shaped hardboard.

Paint the Tempered Presdwood on both sides, for weatherproofing reasons, before putting the numbers up. For a reflective surface, obtain from your hardware dealer tiny glass beads or a special tape.

Some families, particularly in outlying areas, like to identify their homes with nameplates. These may be similarly made and mounted on a board, which is fastened to a tree out in front or hung from a post. An even easier method, suitable for the summer cottage, is painting the name directly on a piece of primed Tempered Presdwood, either free-hand or with stencils.

Still another method is to mount decalcomanias on hardboard, using individual letters or numerals. Two or three coats of waterproof varnish or shellac will safeguard the nameplate and number for years.

due July 31. Use Form 942, a self-mailer, to file and pay this tax.

Q—I'm being temporarily assigned to one of my firm's branch plants. If I'm not reimbursed for my expenses to come home weekends, can I deduct this on my income tax?

A—If the assignment is temporary, that is, you expect to end within a fixed and reasonable short time, the cost of returning home on weekends is deductible. However, you

Your professional beautician knows the answer...

Should every woman
be a blonde?

Blonde hair is beautiful for those women whose natural coloring it flatters. But not everyone should be a blonde.

Expert beauticians know that complexion and hair color must complement each other to glamorize and bring out all the natural beauty that was meant to be. They also know that very coarse and dark hair often is resistant to drastic color changes. However, there's no doubt about slightly lighter hair adding excitement to a woman's appearance. And hairdressers know there is no better product to add a whole new appeal to every woman's look than Miss Clairol® haircoloring—extra rich Creme Formula or new extra easy Shampoo Formula.

Both Miss Clairol products lighten and color at once, combining vibrant new color with the natural pigment of the hair. So even those shades that look blonde on white hair (as shown on most color selection charts) give a variety of flattering red-to-golden brown shades on women whose hair was black to begin with.

Beauty salons are equipped to answer questions and help with hair color selection. Depend on your hairdresser to have the professional skills and the total family of fine Clairol products to make every woman's experience with haircoloring completely personal and glamorous. Should you be a blonde? If you don't really know, ask your expert hairdresser.

Poised on a saddle-limb, or outward

To Lubricate a Lock

IF A LOCK becomes stiff and hard to operate, a temporary cure is available in any home in the form of a soft lead pencil.

Simply rub the key until it is heavily coated with the graphite, and then turn it in the lock a few times. This treatment should make the lock work like new. Of course, you can use powdered graphite, which is available in most hardware stores. This lubricant is blown into the lock through the keyhole by squeezing the tube.
