App't of Mayor May Bring Political Storm

Says Skeptics Are Bitter About Walt

Washington, D.C. (Special) — President Lyndon B. Johnson was hailed by both parties Wednesday when he announced the appointment of Walter E. Washington, 52-year-old housing expert, as the head of the recently reorganized city government of Washington, D.C.

When confirmed by the Senate, Washington will become the first Negro to serve in the capacity of "Mayor" of a major American city.

Walter Washington was born in Dawson, Ga., and was graduated by Howard University college and law school. For 25 years he worked in public housing and resigned his post as head of the National Capital Housing Authority last November to take a similar post in New York City. His new post in Washington pays $28,500.

Washington, D.C.—The appointment of a Negro to head the District of Columbia is stirring up a political storm, according to a story in the Christian Science Monitor.

"... white conservatives of either party—look upon the White House with more than a trace of bitterness. To some of these critics, the fact that the new commissioner is a Negro is enough to disqualify him. They cannot conceive of the nation's capital as 'ruled' by a nonwhite."

The article says that Johnson's appointment of Walter E. Washington, Housing Specialist was a political move, geared to get the Negro vote in Washington, but pointed out that "district residents cannot vote anyway in any election except that of president and vice-president."

Mayor

President Johnson's appointment of Washington as Mayor comes at a time when Negroes are making a serious bid for Mayoralty posts in political contests across the country. Richard Hatcher in Gary, Ind., Carl Stokes in Cleveland, Ohio, and A. W. Willis in Memphis, Tenn., are the best known contenders among the Negroes seeking top municipal posts this year. All of them are important leaders in the Democratic Party.

President Johnson also announced the appointment of the vice-commissioner for the District of Columbia Wednesday, Thomas W. Fletcher, a forty-three-year old housing official who was city manager of San Diego, Calif., before joining the federal government.

The President said that he would submit his nominations for the new nine-man council by the time Congress returns from its Labor Day recess. According to newspaper speculation several prominent Negro citizens will be chosen by the President for the council. The population of Washington has become 60 per cent Negro and leaders of both parties in the Senate are expected to agree to confirm Negro nominees without great difficulty.

Washington's wife, Benneta Bullock Washington is director of the Women's Job Corps for the Office of Economic Opportunity.

Dr. Robert Johnson Has Sued for Divorce

Dr. Robert M. Johnson has sued his wife, Mrs. Nancy L. for divorce in Polk County District Court. Johnson's petition accused his wife of cruel and inhuman treatment and asked the court to set the amount of child support he should pay for the two children under age living with Mrs. Johnson.

The Johnsons live at 3838 40th street, were married in 1941 in Cedar Rapids and have four children.

Dr. Robert Schoop: Career With Va. Adm.

Knoxville, Ia. — Some men's special area of interest show in the succession of assignments of their work, as does Dr. Robert C. Schoop, Chief of Staff of Veterans Hospital in Knoxville.

Dr. Schoop, a graduate of Howard University in 1952, College of Medicine became affiliated with the Veterans Administration in January, 1958 and his interest with this field prompted him to join the faculty of the Chicago Medical School in 1959. While in Chicago, he was assistant Chief of the Administration Division in Chicago, and Chief of Staff Trainee at Hines VA Hospital, Hines, Ill.

Schoop's internship took place at Freedmen's Hospital, Washington, D.C., and his residency in Internal Medicine was gotten at Provident VA Hospital in Chicago. Upon resigning from that position, he assumed his position of Chief of Staff at Knoxville's Veterans Hospital, Aug. 28, of last year.

52 years old, he is married and has four children.

Robbers Get Loot From Carwash, Family

Two robberies this netted $500 in money and property from Des Moines residents this week.

Mr. and Mrs. William Spivey of 831 26th street, reported to police that a thief escaped with a television set, electric can opener, camera, drinking glasses, two clocks, a razor, record player and record.

Mr. Spivey said he heard someone prowling about around 4:35 Monday morning, and when he went to investigate, a Negro, about 23 or 24 years old, 5 feet 8 or 9 inches tall fled out the back door.

Robo Carwash, at 1500 University, lost between $300-$500 Saturday night. Thieves apparently came in through an unlocked door.

A group of Negroes, according to a couple parked in a lot by Griegs Food Market pulled the man's wife out of the car and beat him up when he went to aid her.

H. Randle Talks On City Employee's Strike

As the strike of city employees continue, workmen gathered at the City Council Monday to discuss grievances.

Horace Randle, constructor, says he is being paid $2.96 an hour for an eight hour day, an hour for lunch. He said he wouldn't go to work until he received $3.05 an hour, or a $0.09 raise.

When asked what he would do if the city hired persons to take his job, he replied that no one else would work for the present salary, either. Randle said he didn't expect to be off the job more than a week, although he wasn't being supplemented by funds other than his past salary.

Census Bureau To Survey Childhood Diseases Sept. 18

Information about the extent to which children are immunized against smallpox, polio, measles, diphtheria, whooping cough, tetanus and mumps will be obtained in a survey here the week of Sept. 18, Director Guy A. Lutz of the Census Bureau Regional Office in St. Paul announced.

Local residents will also be asked about the medical care received by children under 13 who have not been immunized against all of these diseases. The information will be used in research by the U. S. Public Health Service.

Report Criticized for "Outdated" Material

A year old report on discriminatory practices in Iowa, which was used by Gov. Harold Hughes in questioning the racial practices in this state, would seem to be outdated.

Martin Jensen, administrative assistant to the Governor, said Friday that many of the criticisms in the report have already been resolved.

The June, 1966 report discussed MDTA courses: "In Des Moines, there was a low number of nonwhite trainees in MDTA courses despite the fact that the applications of a number of Negro applicants indicate a need for and interest in MDTA training." However, in MDTA brick-laying courses, Negroes were accepted, although there have been reports that "all of them had fizzled out except one."

Jensen said that the information "was out of date," and could not be referred for present use.

Mental Jobs

The report went on "In all three cities, Cedar Rapids, Davenport, and Des Moines, minority group and Civil Rights leaders expressed strong opinions that the local offices had failed to work affirmatively with the minority group community, that they have not taken initiative in promoting equal employment opportunities, and that they try to get Negro applicants into day work, car washing, and other menial jobs despite their experience, education and desires. These leaders say that as a result minority group applicants do not utilize the offices to the extent they otherwise would, their organizations are forced to get into the employment business because the local offices do not do an adequate job, and substantial placement opportunities are lost by the local offices."

June Franklin to NYC for Planning Session; NCNEO

by E. Tate

New York City, N.Y.—Plans for the National Conference of Negro Elected Officials went into its second stage last week when executive secretary, A. June Franklin, Polk County Democratic Representative; California Sen. Mervyn Dymally, Borough Pres. Percy E. Sutton of Manhattan, N.Y.; and Vernon Jordan of the Southern Regional Conference met here.

In this next to last session the officials discussed tentative speakers and workshop areas. Speakers will be Dr. Kenneth Clark, whose theme will be "The Role of the Negro Elected Official in the Changing Scene". Dr. Vivian Henderson of Clark College, Atlanta, Ga., Sen. Edward Brooke of Mass. and LeRone Bennette of Ebony Magazine. The

White Mob Attack on 16 Negro Students

Ridgeville, S.C.—The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People has called for a swift and thorough investigation by state and Federal officials of the attack by some 150 fist-swinging whites on a handful of Negro students at a football game held at the newly-integrated Harleyville-Ridgeville High School.

About 16 Negroes, including children, were assaulted by the white mob when the Negroes walked toward their automobiles at the end of the game, Aug. 31.

Children

"Grown white men set upon and beat Negro children. . . . The children included some as young as six years old," the Rev. I. DeQuincy Newman, NAACP state field director, said in telegrams to Gov. Robert McNair and U.S. Attorney General Ramsey Clark.

Hospital

Rev. Newman said that several of the Negro teen-agers had received hospital treatment for injuries. He also reported that parents of Negro children involved would swear out

NEWS In A Nutshell

Washington, D. C. — NAACP has filed complaints with the U. S. Equal Employment Opportunity Commission, charging that four major Memphis, Tenn., companies are guilty of racial discrimination against Negroes. Herbert Hill, NAACP director for labor program, filed the complaints here Aug. 31 with EEOC Commissioner Samuel Jackson, under Title VII of the 1964 Civil Rights Law which prohibits discrimination in employment on the basis of race or color.

Kansas City, Mo.—A new form for reporting changes in welfare and pension plans to the U. S. Department of Labor is now available from the Department's offices in Kansas City. John C. Jackson, area director of the Office of Labor-Management and Welfare-Pension Reports, explained that the new Form D-1A provides for the first time a simple, uniform way of reporting amendments to plan descriptions on file with the Department.

Montgomery, Ala.—The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People has urged Vice President Humphrey to help defeat a proposal that would require all private groups seeking poverty funds in Alabama to gain the approval of local authorities before submitting applications to Washington.

St. Louis, Mo.—Some folks may cut a fancy figure, but this time it was a statue. The figurine which sits out on a lawn had been black, and was a typical example of the shuffling Negro servant until city officials ordered it painted green. Some persons are asking for the statue's removal altogether.

Washington, D. C.—The unrest in U. S. cities can be relieved only if all citizens share fully in American life, Assistant Secretary of Labor Thomas R. Donahue said. " . . . a terrible cry for help can be heard amidst the broken shop windows and the flames of those cities . . . a cry which seeks to wipe out destitution and squalor . . ."

Housing Complaint To Be Aired Thursday

The first formal hearing of a complaint of discrimination in housing will be aired today, unless postponed.

The act of discrimination, which took place in Bettendorf, will be heard Thursday, 10:30 a.m. at the YMCA.

James Thomas, director of the State Civil Rights Commission, said that this would probably be the first of many complaints filed under the new Iowa Housing Fair Law, since students pouring into college campuses, may have trouble finding a place to stay, and should "bring up something."

warrants for the arrest of the assailants. Rev. Newman called for the arrest and conviction of those who attacked the students.

There were no Negro athletes on either of the teams playing the first football game of the season at the predominantly-white high school in Dorchester County.

Flames Leap on Baby Away From Home; Dies Monday

An apparent explosion from a power mower has left a little, four-year-old girl dead from extensive burns.

She was Frances Mae Wesley Martin, foster daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Martin, of 1170 8th street, who died Monday night at University Hospitals in Iowa City after suffering first, second and third degree burns over her body.

Explosion

Frances was injured Aug. 18, about 2 p.m. after a neighbor boy, Jack Graves, about 11, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Graves, of 1162 8th street, was refueling a power mower. According to police, the gasoline apparently touched the hot motor, running over, and the liquid exploded.

Police said the accident was a common situation.

Services

Frances was taken to Broadlawn Polk County Hospital and immediately transferred to Iowa City.

Services will be Friday, 10 a.m. at Fowler and Son Funeral Home, with burial at Glendale Cemetery.

Survivors include a half sister, Juanita Brown, and her parents.

Mayne Criticizes Administration on Big City Rioting

Cherokee . . . 6th District Congressman Wiley Mayne called for all levels of government to join in an all out effort against organized crime and rioting. He charged the Johnson Administration has abandoned vigorous law enforcement programs initiated by president Eisenhower and Kennedy.

"President Johnson has failed even to support the recommendations of his own crime commission," Mayne stated. "The Justice Department drags its feet in the enforcement of existing laws and opposes new laws against rioters and other law violators. An example is the anti-riot bill which passed the house in June but is stalled in the Senate."

Falloff

At the same time there was a falloff of more than 50 per cent in Justice Department time spent investigating and prosecuting racketeers.

Tulsa, Okla.—The Tulsa NAACP rallied last month to support State Sen. E. Melvin Porter on voting rights and on labor unions.

Employment Surveys, Police Review Board Aim of Memphis NAACP

Mrs. Neonia Milam, executive board member of the Memphis, Tenn., National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, said last week that the Sherby Country Democratic Club was a driving force which worked hand in hand with the NAACP in endorsing political candidates for the city.

Pressure

The Club, she said, screened each candidate with a list of questions, including the controversial open housing plan which should be a factor in an upcoming election Oct. 5. Since a candidate is committed to answer honestly, his reply could either put him into office or out of it. Mrs. Milam explained that the Sherby Country Democratic Club used a great deal of pressure and that candidates endorsed by the Club were usually voted in.

Also running in the October election will be second term State Negro Legislator A. W. Willis, Jr.

Employment

One of the recent projects of the Memphis NAACP is that of surveying white companies. In questionnaires, businessmen are asked how many employees are Negro and how many are to be hired in the future. Complete returns, she said are not yet in.

Apparently Memphis has a great deal of respect for that branch, since, Mrs. Milam said, "We stand firm and are committed to our cause. They've never set the dogs on us or used the fire hoses."

One, when night marches were being used and such a demonstration had been scheduled, rumors began to fly that a race riot was eminent. Finally branch president, Jesse Turner, called off the march. This, she said, was the only time a major march had been cancelled.

Another project is the fight against police brutality. The board member said that NAACP was not actually fighting the police but some of the methods in handling persons accused of crimes.

Not long ago, she said, two Negro teenagers were suspected of robbing a store, and were being pursued by two policemen, one white, one Negro. The white policeman chased one boy, cornered him on a lawn and shot him to death.

"We are pushing for a police review board," Mrs. Milam explained. "We want to get these cases aired publicly."

Mrs. Milam, who was visiting her ill father, the Rev. A. C. Crawford, of 1200 11th street, left Friday.

lic Instruction, has received a promotion from her area of vocational work study program to accountant, inventory specialist, in the Manpower Development Training Administration. Mrs. Blakely had been employed at her earlier job twenty months. Mrs. Blakely, who has three children, resides at 1300 DeWolf.

Also promoted was Mrs. Raymond Kennerly, formerly employed as elevator operator in the Davidson Building, where the Department of Public Instruction is located. She now is multithread operator, beginning Sept. 5. Mrs. Kennerly resides at 706 26th street.

Returns From Vacation In California Cities

Mrs. Chrystal Kennerly has concluded a month's visit in California, as guest of her daughter Mrs. Frank Davis, Jr. of Berkeley.

She was honored on several sight-seeing tours in San Francisco, Berkeley and Oakland, home of her son, Harold. Mrs. Kennerly and Mrs. Frank Davis, Sr. were guests of their children, Carole and Frank Davis, Jr., for breakfast at the Pancake House, was entertained at a luncheon by Mrs. Davis, Sr., attended South Berkeley Community Church; and enjoyed a dinner party hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Wise Allen.

The Des Moines resident was guest of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Baker and children of Oakland, former home-makers of Des Moines, and Mrs. Kennerly was guest of her brother, John B. Florence of Palo Alto.

Minneapolis Guests With Mrs. Kennerly

Mrs. Katherine Morrett and family of Minneapolis, Minn., were house-guests of Mrs. Chrystal Kennerly, 1129 12th street, over the Labor Day week-end. Mrs. Morrett and Mrs. Kennerly are cousins.

Mrs. Allen Jones of Minneapolis, Minn., was house guest this past week in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Forrester, Sr., of 1332 E. 15th street.

Gentry, Burnette Lose in Election

Two candidates were victorious in the Des Moines School Board election Monday. They are Ora Nefeniger and Mrs. Jack Spevak. Running third was lawyer, Nolden Gentry, and fifth was the Rev. William Burnette.

Mrs. Spevak won by 6,676 and Niffenegger 6,891. Sources say Niffenegger said he won due to his stand against the busing proposal which would have transported students from a low income neighborhood around Bird elementary school to Cowles, middle-class neighborhood.

Votes

Gentry, in the unofficial tally, received at various Negro precincts 67 at Callanan Junior High School; 72 at Washington Irving Junior High; 116 at Willkie House; 12 at Bird School; 89 at Corinthian Baptist Church; 12 at Roadside Settlement; 110 at Amos Hiat Junior High; 17 at East High; with a total of 5,355. Burnette received at 2000 Forest; 3; 1 at Callanan; 35 at Washington Irving; 55 at Willkie House; 1 at Bird; 34 at Corinthian; 9 at Roadside; 48 at Amos Hiat; and 4 at East, with a total of 928 votes.

Criticism was leveled at various Negro precincts which showed lack of votes cast.

Waterloo is Asked for Fair Housing Ordinance

Waterloo—Waterloo, the city beset with racial troubles this summer, with residents complaining of housing problems, de facto segregation in the schools and other grievances, has been asked to set up a fair housing ordinance.

Business

A national study of housing, according to various sources, puts Waterloo among the most racially segregated cities, with most of the Negroes on the eastside and the whites on the west.

As a result, sources say some business activity has fallen off nearly 50 per cent such as a bakery, because "the whites are afraid to go to the eastside to buy from it."

Deteriorated

The suggestion for a fair housing ordinance came up at a joint meeting of the state commission and the Waterloo Commission on Human Rights.

According to reports, 47 per cent of Negroes' homes are deteriorated or dilapidated compared to 14 per cent of some whites' homes.

If you want to be a "soul man", you got to get your education by a "boot strap", and "know how to love before you can eat", say Sam and Dave on their New Stax record. Stanley James proved my point about knowing how to play Monopoly and Negroes being in business. Said she got wiped out in ten minutes by a businesswoman. That was worse than Harvey.

Shuffling

Some persons are criticizing the pastime of many D. M. youngsters: dancing. "Just keep them dancing, all they do, don't want to study, etc." You know? Perhaps for some kids this is true, but I think that most of these skeptics are looking at one aspect of entertainment for Afro-Am. kids. Sure, we (okay, you—I can't dance) like to dance. To put it in Freudian terms, as the Establishment too often does, dancing is an expression of fulfillment, of competition, a throwback from your African ancestry (in an effort to rub you the wrong way); you can maintain superiority over less capable persons.

Professional

But don't forget that we can go beyond this "crude, r and r" dancing. We enjoy other types of recreation like horse back riding, hay rides, racing, class classical music, Candy Striping, walking, eating, seeing, sleep.

Okay, get my point? But we still like to dance, and to prove it, why can't some of you get together and form a dance team (not like the Stepp Brothers) like the choreography of Smokey Robinson and the Miracles, or the Tops. Then, if you get professional and make it big, you can look back and laugh at those who talked about the poverty center dances or terrible, terrible street dances. Blue lemons, my friend, is behind you. But one thing: some of you guys can take off your hats when you're dancing inside of a building. Ain't right, mini-souls.

Handy Quintet
Columbia Records has released

"The New John Handy Quintet" album for you Handy fans. Handy has himself in a new thing these days—Tears of Ole Miss (anatomy of a riot), was thought up back in 1963 after he attended the civil rights march in Washington, D.C. It was put to horn in San Francisco. This song takes up one side of the album, so it has a lot to tell you. Don't forget, Mrs. Curd.

? of the week: why isn't there a Miss Tan Contest or Miss Photogenic, as there was in Omaha, New York, Watts, etc? I know there are several and a half of you feline mini-souls who would make very nice photographing, such as Veronica Brown, if her nose is all right now. Too bad, Ronnie. Should have hit him back, they say.

Take it slow, mini-souls.

Your professional beautician knows the answer...

Why does some hair break off when combing?

Your hair is precious and delicate... and none of us like to see it break off for any reason. Scientists tell us that excessive use of hot combs and over-processing of hair with chemicals often are major causes of brittleness resulting in hair breakage. But hair that is naturally curly and tangles easily frequently breaks off in everyday combing. Notice how irritated your scalp becomes when you comb in contrast to the way your beautician does?

Your professional beautician knows that curly hair mats and tangles so easily that it should be softened before combing. Otherwise, unnecessary irritation to the scalp and damage to the shaft and ends of the hair occurs. To achieve this needed softening and a temporary relaxing effect that prevents breakage on all human hair (including wigs), most beauticians rely on Clairol® Hair-So-New® spray-on creme rinse. For combing ease and for beautifying your hair in many other ways, trained beauticians stock a complete family of fine Clairol products for your specific needs.

Visit your expert hairdresser, who cares about your hair care and your comfort. Whatever the nature of your hair problems, only your professional beautician knows the answer for sure.

THE PRECLERICAL CLASSES being held at Logan, Forest Hills and Woodland Opportunity Centers are well worth our investigating! At all Centers high school equivalency and adult basic education programs are in progress. Let's not miss these either!

MBT LEONARD ALLEN of Kansas City, Mo. last week! A service manager of Modern Centers, Inc., a home and office furniture supply house, Leonard was here on a business assignment. He is a most interesting and well-informed gentleman. Most importantly, he's single, girls! Sure I'll introduce you!

MILES HENDRE is on coop with Maynard Printing Company. Miles is a Des Moines Tech High senior. This coop assignment is smart business and an early start on his career! He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Silas Ewing. Course, you know he is Manala's brother!

HOW ABOUT THIS? Judge and Mrs. Luther T. Glanton—on their trip to Hawaii—saw Evanette and David Luton. She is the daughter of Everett and Louise Mays. The Glantons saw too, Charlene and Chris Taylor; she is the former Charlene Bell, daughter of Rose and William Bell.

WE'VE OUR OWN JET SET! Rita Dixon and Brenda Bethel flew to Omaha this past weekend. They had a "real swinging time!" coos Brenda from her bubble bath! T'was their first flight.

HEARD BETTY TOWNSELL GRIFFIN has left town for California. She's a mighty fine person and we wish her and her brood the best!

HEARD THERE WAS A MELEE IN BROADLAWNS HOSPITAL WAITING ROOM when East met West (or was it North met South?); that is, when Des Moines youths invaded the Waiting Room in search of Kansas City youths who had taken an injured member of their party to be treated after an altercation at a local dance.

CRESCENT SCHOOL OF BEAUTY CULTURE'S youthful models brought the highest honors to their parents by graduating from their beauty class and by excellent mastery of the course as displayed by their Sunday performance at Oakridge Opportunity Center. Ramona and Roselyn are the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Robinson; Angela, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Robinson; Rayelle Moore, the daughter of Mrs. Donna Stanton and Ray Moore; and Mary Moore, the daughter of Mrs. Mary E. Moore and Frank Moore.

MRS. EVELYN DAVIS' great humor, personality and perseverance make her so right a person in the youth opportunity program. Her Sunday presentation of Crescent's team of young girls manned by Geraldine Allison was very high class, and informative. (Did you notice husband, Lawrence, and son, James, were put to work, too? Like the rest of the politicians!)

GERALDINE ALLISON has everything going for her in her chosen field of beauty culture. Like youth, good looks, personality, imagination. (Got a quarter, GA?) Oh! Oh! I almost forgot to pass along Geraldine's Crescent School gift to us all: a formula for a nail care solution—a cuticle softener. 2 tablespoons of Olive Oil; 2 tablespoons of Castor Oil and one teaspoonful of glycerine.

MRS. DORIS TUCKER'S OWN CREATION—a blue sail cloth frock with two rows of black lace at the hemline and black lace trimmed three quarter length sleeves. At the plain neckline she wore a triple strand jet and crystal necklace. Her shortie gloves were black as were her black patent leather pumps with large rhinestone buckles. Her hat had a black cloth crown with a wide black straw brim. Nice? Very!

MRS. PAULINE HUMPHREY just must be mentioned at this time! Geraldine Allison, already a wheeler-dealer, reminded us twice that Pauline is owner-operator of Crescent School of Beauty Culture. The pre-tension beauty course was an invaluable idea!

STANLEY JAMES' absence was keenly felt at Sunday's program. The girls were genuinely disappointed that her departure schedule conflicted with her plan to be with them! Good luck at Spellman College, Atlanta, Ga., Stanley! She is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Lewis James, you know.

I AM NOT TOO SURE THAT GIRL PHOTOGRAPHER CYNTHIA TURNER was truly a photographer or a South Side OEO Supervisor on the prowl Sunday seeing what Supervisor Evelyn Davis might be up to. Of course Evelyn claims she called for Cynthia. But I ain't sure!

Des Moines Couple Return From European Tour; Celebrate 26th Anniversary In Rome

Mr. and Mrs. John Spencer, of 1152 17th street, have completed a memorable journey over the countryside of Europe, visiting England, France, Italy, Belgium, Luxembourg, the Netherlands, Switzerland, Liechtenstein and Austria.

After leaving the U.S. via New York, the Spencers, as members of the American Express European Tour landed in London, England, where they dined at a local "pub" and visited ancient landmarks such as the Tower of London, Westminster Abbey, and shows at the Paladium.

In Amsterdam, the Netherlands, Mrs. Spencer particularly enjoyed a trip to a diamond factory, where a fortune in those stones were gathered. She had the opportunity to wear, for a short time, a diamond worth $6,000. Then on to Brussels, Belgium, Luxembourg, and Germany. In a stop at Heidelberg, Germany, they shopped, and later drove through the Black Forest, named so by the scorched earth policy employed while Hitler was in power. Mrs. Spencer said, "I thought it would be black, but it was green!"

Drivers

In Switzerland, the Spencers dined by the picturesque Lake Lucerne, traveled by ski lift and clog train and enjoyed the innumerable traditions of the Swiss.

In reaching the next country, the group motored through the Austrian Alps, which Mrs. Spencer still remembers vividly, especially the narrow passes, and (even more vividly) the speeding drivers who sped them to their destination. In Vienna, city of canals, the Spencers were treated to a Gondola ride, and were traditionally serenaded by Italian singers. "The most exciting place," Mrs. Spencer said. "Everything conducted on canals."

A hand made leather evening purse was one of the many souvenirs Mrs. Spencer brought back from Florence, Italy, and a fond memory is that of the celebration given her and her husband July 26 on their 26th wedding anniversary at the Trivi Fountains in a party with champagne and cake. Other areas of interest were Roman art galleries and various landmarks depicting the Roman Empire; the coliseum, Padocca, and the Tower of Piza, at Piza, Italy.

Next stop was in Nice, France, by way of Geona, Italy. Mrs. Spencer was infatuated with the jet set style shows, featuring "Twiggy" and "Zivago" fashions.

Mr. and Mrs. Spencer then traveled to Monte Carlo, Monaco, home of Princess Grace, attended a dinner party, and explored the restaurant "Casino."

In Paris, capital of France, the Spencers thoroughly found France to be all they had expected. Before

Carole Kennerly-Frank Davis, Jr. Nuptials

Berkely, Calif. — Carole Kennerly became the bride of Frank Davis, Jr. on Saturday, Aug. 12, 2 p.m. in a double ring ceremony at South Berkeley Community Church. Rev. Dr. John Thompson officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Chrystal Kennerly of 1129 12 street, Des Moines, and was given away by her father Raymond Kennerly. Frank is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sr. of Berkeley.

The alter held white candelabras with five candles, each banked with a bouquet of white gladiolas and stalks. In front of the semi-circle formed by the candelabras and the flowers was the kneeling bench where the couple knelt. Miss Rosalyn Harrison was soloist and Mrs. N. Constance Beatty organist.

Bride

The bride was attired in an elegant off-white linen gown, floor-length sheath decorated with venise lace, rounded neckline. The back interest was high-lighted by a three-tiered panel down the back with venise lace decorating each panel. Her shoulder length veil had venise lace floral bouquet, enhanced with seeded pearls and crystals. She carried a bouquet of white miniature carnations and centered with a large white orchid.

Her attendant was Mrs. Wise Allen of Berkeley, wearing a blue, A-line dress, bell shaped sleeves and empire bodice, with blue veil and matching blue bouquet of carnations.

Best man was George R. Haryes of Chicago, Ill., cousin of the groom. Ushers were Wise E. Allen and James Vaughn, both of Berkeley.

leaving the city they were entertained in several night clubs, the Opera, saw Napoleon's Tomb and passed to and fro under the Arc d'Triumph.

Honored

A last gracious courtesy to the Spencers before they left was extended by the Amsterdam, the Netherlands Airline Service, honoring the Des Moines couple by wining and dining them all the way to New York as part of the "Royal" class Airline.

After returning to the States, the Spencers toured Philadelphia, Pa., and Indianapolis, Ind., where Mrs. Spencer visited with her mother, Mrs. Minnie Potter, and daughter-in-law, Diane Spencer, and grandchildren.

The reception followed the ceremony in the social hall adjoining the church. The table was beautifully decorated with a white lace table cloth on which sat the 16" beautiful three-tiered wedding cake. At its top stood the brown miniature bride and groom under two white lace bells. The cake was decorated with blue buds and a garland of white flowers. At the far side of the table the hostess Mrs. Harry Brown of Washington, D.C., a former classmate of the bride, served over the punch bowl, cut glass with matching cups. Immediately following the reception, the newlyweds left on their honeymoon in the Monterey Peninsula, in Carmel By-The-Sea.

Mrs. Emanuel Davis: A Story of Success

Mrs. Ruth P. Davis' August graduation from Drake University is one of many goals which this exceptional young woman has achieved. Prior to her marriage to Dr. Emanuel Davis, III, she attended Butler Junior College and Texas College in Tyler, Tex. for approximately three years. At this point she began a course in mortuary science in Houston, and served her apprenticeship as funeral director at Wrights Funeral Home in Mineola, Tex.

Following this she was employed as manager and funeral director at Johnson's Funeral Home, Henderson, Tex.

Marriage

Her marriage to Dr. Davis took place at this time and thus ended her career as mortician. When the couple moved to Des Moines, Mrs. Davis entered the employ of Northwestern Bell Telephone Company as long distance operator. Coupling classes at Drake University with her employment, she eventually graduated, majoring in elementary education. She is now an instructor in special education at Moulton Elementary School.

In addition to her employment and school schedule, Mrs. Davis won a service award for meritorious service in behalf of mentally retarded children in May of 1966. This was presented by C. S. Hoffman, President of Pelk County Association for Retarded Children.

Mrs. Davis, thoroughly modern, finds great pleasure in homemaking, gardening, and in her hobby of collecting cups and saucers. She is a member of Delta Sigma Theta and of Burns Methodist Church.

STRIKING WORKERS

GET OUT OF HAND

If anyone suggested 25 years ago that school teachers, firemen and policemen would go on strike, no one would have believed it. When policemen in Boston struck during the time Calvin Coolidge was governor he put down the rebellion promptly.

But organized workers in many fields have thrown out obedience to law and order, put the squeeze on constitutional authority and discommodated anyone who stood between them and gouging the public.

Unfortunately, the sentiment is everywhere. Here in Iowa, the legislature passed a tax bill designed to broaden the base of collecting taxes from more people and relieving the burden that real property has carried for years.

With increased prices for what one buys others naturally feel they are entitled to an increase in wages to offset it. But unreasonable increases without regard to what the traffic will bear continue to shake the economy and in the end may drop us into another depression.

If the politicians had any idea that organized labor would make such unreasonable demands year after year, they would never have passed the legislation in the 1930's which gave them such power. Certainly, they did not contemplate that organized labor would be policemen, firemen and teachers.

Some reasonable legislation should be passed today to curb strikes against the public just as events have spurred politicians to pass laws dealing with riots and rioters. But we doubt if such a measure could get through Congress and in but few state legislatures. Most politicians are afraid of the labor vote.

The Bystander does not oppose fair labor relations as long as they stay fair. But when it gets out of hand, as is the case with teachers, policemen, firemen and others serving the public, then we refuse to go along with it just as we do against riots, pillage and burning, just as we do those unions which practice racial discrimination.

MILWAUKEE MOBSTERS

HURT THEIR CAUSE

The campaign being carried on in Milwaukee for an open housing ordinance by the local branch of the NAACP has just about reached the point of no return.

Roy Wilkins of the NAACP has made a contribution to help rebuild their bombed headquarters, but told the branch the NAACP is definitely opposed to the rioting.

It was not wrong to begin the marches in an orderly fashion. They have that right. But when a campaign reaches the point where officers are being taunted in order to pick a fight or when property—public and private—is being destroyed without cause, then the movement loses even its good supporters because they cannot and will not condone lawlessness.

Even though a housing ordinance is passed and a few Negroes locate in some of the so-called white neighborhoods, the strong sentiment against them fired up by riots, looting and pillaging would offset any good to be gained for fifty years.

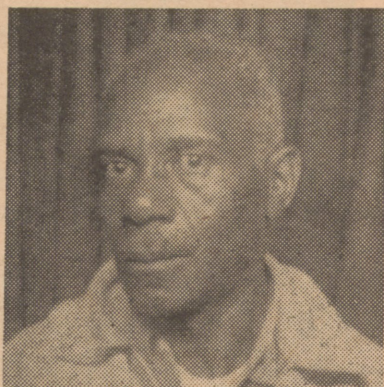

True, the teachers, policemen, firemen and others on strike now would do the same thing as the rioters if anything stood in their way to get their jobs back.

Unfortunately, the law stood back and allowed the rioters to go to extremes and court arrests for fear some would come up with the cry of police brutality.

Somehow, law enforcement has gotten out of hand in many places due in part to a subtle campaign made by some to undermine the Supreme Court decisions designed to protect the rights of citizens in criminal cases. The court simply outlawed the illegal practices that have been carried on in many instances that violate constitutional rights.

This rioting and pillaging must stop and it can if sane people, white and Negroes not just barely accord all citizens their legal rights, but complete enforcement of their rights in every area of endeavor; also honest enforcement of the law dealing with rioters, black or white.

The Sports Today

With Allen Ashby

We were more than interested in a news telecast last week end that played up the ills of American tennis. It isn't said that the fact that our best athletes are turning pros that hurts our tennis so much. The fellow pointed out that professional tennis players don't exactly starve. One of our leading international players has criticized the tennis fathers for being too cheap.

Negroes?

But this fellow we heard last Saturday argued that most of our other professional experts have a high percentage of Negroes. But there is only one ranking Negro man player in all tennis. Thus the guy argued the best material isn't really being reached. Maybe it is. Maybe in our country clubs and exclusive racket clubs are the best tennis players in America. But the guy who just might make it big if he had a chance is that little Negro lad playing in the public park. He would try so hard and his pride would drive him as was the case with Althea Gibson.

No Negro

But maybe the tennis powers shudder at the thought of spending an all Negro team after the Davis cup or certainly a team that was half Negro.

So far as the U.S. Lawn Tennis Association is concerned, Negro tennis players outside of Ash just didn't exist. There is no program sponsored by the U.S.L.T.A. to promote tennis among anybody but the country club set. So the Negroes who want to make it big in tennis have to start out at the very bottom, win a city meet, then state meet and finally a fairly big district meet. The lucky player might get noticed by the tennis big shots.

No Change

We would guess that things in the U.S.L.T.A. haven't changed much since the early fifties. Our Hilltop Club was trying to get into that body in order to get our meet sanctioned. Well, two fellows, Harold Tillotson of Des Moines and Sterling Lord of Burlington battled all the way for us, but we finally ended up coming in the back door as a part of the Des Moines Tennis Club and a member of the Iowa Tennis Association.

Even though Arthur Ash plays the court the tennis fathers seem determined to see that no more make it, and remember on a public court there is a skinny little Negro youth who could become the world's greatest amateur tennis player if he got the chance soon enough.

Football

Our friend Frank Massey is mad. He says there should be crowds of ten thousand at the Des Moines Warriors home games. He argues they have a good crowd pleasing team and wonder why people don't come out to watch them.

Our high school season gets under way this week. The traditional East-North game used to be the big game of the year and was nearly always the last game. Now it is the first of the season. They are saying North has a guy so big he has to be dynamited to move him once he is set.

Summer Slowly Fades

As summer slowly fades and bids goodbye, to all who have enjoyed her quiet. No sign of what is yet to come, only the silence of birds as they journey south.

For they alone it seems, know that winter's cold hand be creeping in, to make all that which has blossomed thin.

Summer, already not gone for I see the sign of it lingering there, the

Warriors Win 33-7

Drake Opens Season

Against Ky. Sat.

Drake takes the lid from its 75th season of football Saturday when the Bulldogs face Louisville at Drake Stadium at 1:30 p.m. Plenty of tickets are available for the contest which launches the third season for Drake coach Jack Wallace.

Owner of a sparkling 14-6 record as helmsman of the Bulldogs, Wallace looks for another standout season this campaign as the Bulldogs return a half-dozen starters from each unit that powered to a brilliant 8-2 record last year.

Heading the Bulldog cast is Bobby Misner, the swift halfback from Belmond, who scored 11 touchdowns as a sophomore last year—a feat not even the great Johnny Bright accomplished.

Schedule

He is a junior college addition from Kansas who hauled in 1300 yards of receptions last season. He'll be at split end for the Bulldogs.

Louisville—blessed with a series of great quarterbacks since the great Johnny Unitas came on the scene—is still searching for a passer-field general. The Cards may run more and the attack could center around Herbie Phelps, rated one of the most explosive runners in prep history of the Blue Grass state.

Wallace feels he has one of the finest defensive units in Drake history with giant Ben Mayes (6-4, 270) at the center of the line.

The Louisville game is the first of four home affairs for Drake. Others are Oct. 14 against Northern Iowa U., Oct. 21, Omaha, and Nov. 11, South Dakota. Tickets for all games are on sale at the Bankers Trust Co., Bodin Van Dorn Stores and at the Drake Ticket office, 1418 27th street.

Peru State Will Get

Help From DM Players

Peru, Neb.—Two young athletes returning to Peru State College this fall are Mark Perry and Bobbie Dixon, who may give opposing athletes literally a "run" for their money.

Perry, freshman, 6-1, 225 pounds, a fullback from Tech High, will be one of the leading candidates for a starting position in the Bobcat football backfield. An all-city and all-state honorable mention man, Perry also did well in the shotput as well as participating in basketball and baseball. According to the coaches, he looks like one of the best newcomers to the Peru State team, and should see considerable varsity action as a plebe.

Dixon

Peru plays Drake Oct. 7. Bob Dixon, a sophomore, also from Tech, tried cross-country a year ago, and is a real threat to some of the older letter men. He has had an official 1:56.9 in the 880 and runs the 440 in 50. Bob is 6 feet, weighs 160 pounds.

stale scent of fading flowers fill the air.

People hurrying home for vacation, too, have come to an end, memories of happiness all with cheer, are ready to start life's routine for another year.

As I see Summer slowly fading out of sight, I pray a little more with all my might.

That I've been blessed and I could see, another beginning of what's important to me: Summer, a time for one to enjoy life and to know the meaning of love, and believe in that great above.
