Door to Door Voter Drive in Davenport

Pressing Questions Asked Candidates

Davenport, Ia. — The Davenport branch NAACP last week began door to door distribution of the "Know the Candidates" pamphlet, in an effort to gain more voter participation, according to Mrs. William C. Boon, chairman of the Political Action Committee.

Most of the candidates for office in the Nov. 7 city election responded to the questionnaire circulated by the Branch Oct. 1, with five questions asked of each candidate.

Questions

Candidates were asked questions on open occupancy, how they would propose that the city council deal with the situations with "rats" (which) threaten to overrun large segments of the city" concerning the police force, urban renewal, and ways to enable the Davenport Human Relations Commission to become an "effective agency".

Some Did Not

Although both candidates for mayor replied to the majority of questions, various aldermen did not reply.

The pamphlet containing the questionnaire pointed out that the NAACP neither endorsed nor rejected the views of any candidate quoted, and did not assure responsibility for the contents of any candidate's reply or of his motivation in making same in the five page pamphlet.

Marshall Chosen Because Cared For Masses, Says LBJ

Meridian, Miss. — President Johnson's motivation in naming Thurgood Marshall a Justice of the United States Supreme Court was revealed here by Clarence Mitchell, director of the Washington Bureau of the

MARSHALL

National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, in an address before the local NAACP branch.

Conference

Speaking to an NAACP branch rally here, Oct. 22, Mr. Mitchell reported on a recent conference he had had with President Johnson in the White House. "The President", he said, "told me that he made his decision to appoint Mr. Justice Marshall not only because his brilliant legal work made him the best lawyer available, but also because he (Mr. Marshall) had maintained a deep and compassionate regard for the masses of the people through contained contact with them and their problem."

Theodore Roosevelt Award To Roy Wilkins

Washington, D.C. — The Theodore Roosevelt Distinguished Service Medal has been conferred upon Roy Wilkins, executive director of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. Presentation of the award was made here, Oct. 27, in connection with the ceremony dedicating the Theodore Roosevelt Memorial.

Wilkins was cited for "distinguished service in the advancement of social justice." Also receiving the award at this ceremony were Dr. Arthur Kantrowitz, the distinguished physicist, and Dr. William B. Walsh, who was cited for "distinguished public service by a private citizen."

Others

Previous recipients of the award include Dr. George Washington Carver and Dr. Ralph J. Bunche.

Bishop Thomas Will Consecrate Building

Bishop James S. Thomas will be at Ames Nov. 7 to consecrate the new office building for the Methodist Ministers Service Credit Union.

The finished building will be 36 by 50 feet and include offices, counseling rooms, storage space, vaults and space for growth and expansion. A residence for the credit union manager is also included.

Brothers Saved From Six Year Rape Rap

Anderson Files Suit With Minn. Woman

LeRoy Anderson, 1437 DeWolf street, has filed a $35,000 personal injury suit in Polk County District Court against Mrs. Juanita Lovlyn, formerly of the city, but now living in St. Paul Minn. Anderson charged he was injured while riding with Mrs. Lovlyn when her car hit a curb.

United Campaign Surpasses Its Goal

The Greater Des Moines United Campaign surpassed its goal on schedule when pledges totalign $2,222,451 or 101 per cent of goal was announced Oct. 26 by James E. Olson, general campaign chairman.

Most campaign divisions still have contacts to be made, Olson said. By a wrap-up meeting planned for Thurs., Nov. 2, Olson anticipates the pledges may be $40,000 above the goal which was $2,200,000.

Landmark

He pointed out that the President had been present to witness the swearing-in ceremony for Mr. Marshall whose ascent to the High Court "is a landmark showing how far we have come. In an equal sense the plight of colored citizens in Milwaukee is a landmark showing how far we must go."

Deploing the separatist philosophy now being espoused by some Negroes, Mr. Mitchell warned "we dare not and shall not become a racist island in our own country."

Shriver Presenting Check To Shrine Order

Sargent Shriver (center), director of the Office of Economic Opportunity, participates in the second annual Schenley Industries, Inc. contribution to the student aid fund of the Ancient Egyptian Shrine Order Nobles Mystic Shrine of North and South America at the organization's 74th annual convention in Cleveland recently. Leon Puryear (right), national sales representative for Schenley, presents his company's check for $1,000 to Imperial Potentate Roscoe C. Washington (left). Shriver was the principal speaker at the convention where Imperial Potentate Washington presented Schenley with a plaque for being the first major company to help launch another Shrine's charity program. The student aid fund was established to help college students with limited funds to remain in school.

First Negro Teens To Keokuk Catholic School This Year

Keokuk, Ia. — Cheryl, Stephanie and Paul Galbreath, and Ellen Holton have become the first Negro students to be enrolled in the Cardinal Stritch Roman Catholic High School.

Although there has been a Roman Catholic High School in the city one hundred years, few Negroes have attended. The students report they are very happy in the transfer from public to parochial school.

"Hello Dolly" Show With Pearl Bailey Being Criticized

Hollywood, Calif. — Producer David Merrick is having some non-headline headaches and meetings with militant civil rights advocates regarding his Pearl Bailey-Cab Calloway version of "Hello, Dolly!", according to columnist Walter Burrell. It seems that some people—black and white—think the all-Negro show is a throwback to the Cotton Club-type shows of the thirties and has set the civil rights movement back 30 years.

Few Surprised That City Is Listed as Riot Prone

Officials and heads of organizations around the city agree that Des Moines should have been listed in the upper 50 cities as being "riot prone."

Des Moines was listed number 35 of 85 cities around the country whose factors were "most clearly associated with riots" in a survey by Northwestern University. Items included were high suburban population, high metropolitan population, high Negro population, high central city population, money spent per capita on police, high rates of murder, rape, general crime, suicide, auto deaths and unemployment.

Davenport was listed as fifty-fifth. Robert Wright, state president of the NAACP, said where Negroes are systematically excluded from job and educational opportunities, and police insensitivity, there is potentially a threat of racial violence. "We have previously brought this to the attention of the city founders, but there has been no attempt to eliminate the conditions," he said.

Violent

Wright also said that there are definite persons in the community at the root of the violent approach, but he said he must also admit there "are a very large number of persons who feel that the power structure has failed to resolve the problems of make an effort to resolve it."

Polk County Representative A. June Franklin expressed amazement that Davenport had not been listed 35th instead of Des Moines. She said there was complete lack of activity on the power structure to problems in housing in that city.

Donald McKenzie, director of the Polk County Community Action Council, stated that the survey hit him with as much seriousness as anything that had happened. He said that in order to curb the possibility of a "riot" next summer, the key factor lay with the Negroes themselves, who "never have gained any self-determination or experienced success." McKenzie also noted the growing tide of the vocal voice among younger Negroes, who are beginning to understand the business of collective action.

John M. Estes, Jr., city NAACP president, called any "riot" that this city of about 11,000 Negroes might have, would be termed a "giant disturbance", but never a full-scale riot. There was reason to put Des Moines on the list of "riot-prone" cities, said James Thomas, executive director of the Iowa State Civil Rights Commission. He said that the city definitely had its share of troubles.

Heading the list were New York, Chicago, Los Angeles, and Detroit.

NEWS In A Nutshell

New York — The United Presbyterian Board of National Missions, Oct. 27, endorsed a call made earlier for the establishment of a one million dollar "urban crisis" fund. The call, issued in September by the Rev. Dr. Kenneth G. Neigh, the board's general secretary, cited the necessity for denominational commitment of both money and ideas to help answer "the aching urban questions shattering our culture."

Chicago, Ill. — Government statistics on the petroleum industry provide a shockingly poor picture of job availability for Negroes, the Department of Employment Service of the National Catholic Conference for Interracial Justice declared Oct. 24 in a special report. Among the 15 firms, the Negro percentage of total employment ranged from 0.9 per cent to a high of 7.2 per cent was the highest Negro representation in this category in any firm.

P. N. Brownstein, Assistant Secretary of the Department of Housing and Urban Development, today told Federal Housing Administration insuring office directors they must attach "the highest possible priority" to home programs for the inner city. He said they should enter into a crusade—"to see that our programs are used to the fullest possible extent to improve housing conditions for the low and moderate income families and to revive the inner city."

Four Negroes, two of whom were participants in the Foreign Affairs Scholars Program, were shown into the 81st Class of the Foreign Service in the Department of State on Oct. 20. They were George Moose, James Smith, Miss Tommy Mallory and Alfred Neal.

Women Meet On Crises In Black Community

Washington, D.C. — The National Council of Negro Women will meet in annual convention here next week. Miss Dorothy I. Height, National President, said that this year's NCNW meeting, responding to the spirit of unrest and problems of the cities, has selected as its theme: "Women—The Crisis in the Black Community—Direction and Decision."

Dr. Robert C. Weaver, Secretary of Housing and Urban Development, will address the convention, Thursday evening, Nov. 9. Dr. Weaver recently announced the launching of an innovative approach to home ownership for poor families. Other convention speakers will include the well-known economist Dr. Vivian Henderson, President of Clark College.

Ellison, Edwin Berry, Washington, King, Mays Awarded Hon. Degrees

Birmingham, Ala. — Only hours after he left Grinnell, Iowa, where he received an honorary degree, Dr. Martin Luther King began his trip to this city for a five day jail term. King's appeal to the Supreme Court was knocked down recently after he and several followers ignored Alabama's injunction on marches.

Grinnell, Ia. — The 39-year-old Nobel Peace Prize winner Sunday addressed a special audience at Grinnell College, closing a special three-day convocation of "The Liberal Arts College in a World of Change".

King was introduced by Dr. Benjamin E. Mays, president emeritus of Morehouse College. Mays has been particularly active in the World Council of Churches and the United Negro College Fund.

In the speech, King said that a bootstrap philosophy for the Negro didn't hold. He said that the Negro came to this country not of his free will and was brought up as a slave.

The pastor lived up to the enormity of the Nobel Peace Prize conferred upon him in 1964 when he signed a petition circulated by Grinnell students calling for an end to the Viet Nam war.

Panel

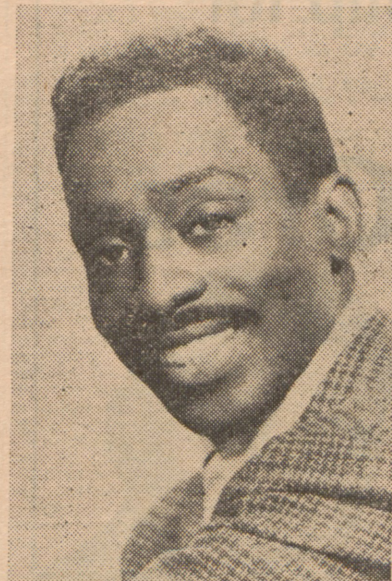

The convocation began Friday, Oct. 27, including a panel on Urban Culture and the Negro, with panelists Ralph W. Ellison, author of the book, Invisible Man, deemed the most distinguished American novel published.

He is the author of numerous papers and article on race relations; in 1945 he became the first executive of the Portland Urban League, performing in what was then a serious trouble spot in race relations; and Walter E. Washington, first Negro commissioner of the District of Columbia.

All were given honorary degrees. King's plane was delayed Sunday, and he immediately left after receiving his honorary degree.

Franklin Suggests Negro Counselors

by Eleanor E. Tate

A Polk County representative has called for Negro counselors for Negro students in Des Moines public schools.

A. June Franklin Monday said that there were no Negro counselors that she knew of in the elementary and secondary schools, and white counselors "couldn't talk with Negro students."

MRS. A. JUNE FRANKLIN

"Negro students have a unique problem that white people don't have," she said. "Even the poor white child's problem is not similar to the Negro's."

Black Skin

How could a white counselor discuss problems with the student, when he has never been discriminated against, doesn't have black skin, has never been put into the caste system? she asked.

"There is a caste system in the schools of America," Mrs. Franklin said. "Negroes have been put into it since Reconstruction."

Marine Privts. Spears And Quynnton Coleman Use Hand Grenades

Camp Pendleton, Calif. (FTNC) — Marine Privates Quynnton Coleman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Coleman of 1138 Ninth street, and Eula Spears, 1433 2nd street, have completed two weeks of training under simulated combat conditions in the fundamentals of day and night patrolling, employment of infantry weapons, survival methods and assault tactics at this Marine Corps base.

This individual combat training is given every Marine after his graduation from recruit training. Taught by combat experienced non-commissioned officers of the infantry training regiment here, it prepares the young Leatherneck to become part of the Marine air-ground combat team.

Grenades

While in the field they were taught how to use hand grenades, a compass and the principles of map reading and land navigation. They learned how to detect and disarm mines and booby traps and, while being exposed to live machine gun fire, they learned to advance safely from one point to another.

From this course, each is scheduled to go on to more advanced training before being assigned to his permanent unit.

The Board of Directors of the League of Women Voters of Des Moines has accepted the resignation of Mrs. Dwight Jensen.

Construction On School Stopped Due To "Dual" System

Macon, Ga. — A Federal District judge in Georgia this week ordered the Bibb County Board of Education not to construct a proposed high school on a particular site because this school would result in further segregation.

This is the first time that a Federal District Court in a school desegregation case has issued such an order.

Acting in behalf of the residents of Pleasant Hill, a predominantly Negro residential area in the city of Macon, the LDF attorneys charged the Bibb county Board of Education, of planning to build a Negro school in further support of the "dual system."

Segregated

In support of their charge that the proposed high school would further result in segregation, the LDF attorneys pointed out that the school was being built in a Negro community, next to a Negro elementary school, and was being named after a Negro educator.

These factors, according to the LDF attorneys have in the past denied such schools as a Negro school, and have "contributed substantially in perpetuating segregation."

Fall Student Capsule

School has been in session for a month now, and already teens are making their presence felt at the city's schools, including the new Hoover High School. Here is a quick rundown.

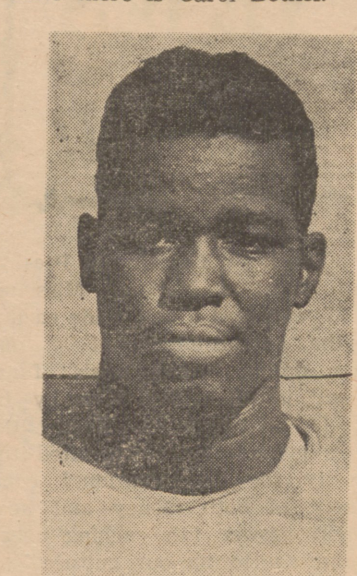

There are currently 6 Negroes attending Hoover out of 839: sophomores Charlene La Mar and Pam Wallace; juniors Linda Smart, Donna Florence, Blanche Johnson and Mike Morrow.

Making themselves known for football skills at North are

Rick Ramsey, Victor Coleman, Walter Jackson, David Lewis. Ramsey is also a member of the Judiciary Board in the Student Council, while Vonderlyre

Watkins, recently in the Elk Oratorical Contest, is president of her junior year homeroom, and is a representative on the Student Council, as is Gail Bowman, sophomore, and alternate for the inner city Student Council. Cheerleader there is Carol Bethel.

McGUIRE

Although it is hard to single out only a few of East's thriving teens in their activities, Manny McGuire, of course, deserves much credit along with Jim Jewett and Billy Turner, who have done much to keep East football rolling, along with the help of cheerleader Chrystal Jackson.

Suspended Students Re-instated In W. Va.

Bluefield, W. Va. — Ten students — eight Negro and two white — were reinstated in Bluefield State College here, Oct. 27, by President Wendell C. Hardaway. The students had been suspended earlier this month for participation in a demonstration in protest against alleged discriminatory practices by the college administration.

Dr. Hardaway lifted the suspensions before U. S. District Judge Sidney L. Christie acted on a complaint filed by NAACP lawyers seeking a temporary injunction requiring immediate reinstatement of the students.

HEALTH FOR ALL

Last spring, for the 30th consecutive year, many eager young school journalists were gladdened and encouraged by the bestowal of national recognition on their work.

The recognition came in the form of proficiency awards made by a non-profit enterprise called the School Press Project, which seeks to promote higher standards of school journalism in certain areas of public health. The Project, jointly conducted by the Columbia School Press Association and the National Tuberculosis Association with the approval of the National Association of Secondary School Principals, awards certificates of merit to outstanding examples of journalistic activity on the subject of tuberculosis, other respiratory diseases, and health careers in general.

This incentive to produce work superior in quality and useful as public service calls forth each year a remarkable response from hundreds of dedicated young school press editors, reporters, feature writers, and artists. Aided and encouraged by health experts in the assigned fields of interest, the youngsters often come up with ingenious ideas for stories and features. Their technique in putting them into practice ranges from slightly picturesque to highly professional in calibre.

School

Health is everybody's business; so is education. A school newspaper or magazine is designed to benefit both the youthful staff that produces it and the student body that reads it. It can do that job better by taking one of its most important news subjects—health—out of the narrow sphere of the school building and relating it to the life of the whole community. That's what the School Press Project helps schools accomplish. It's open to elementary, junior and senior high schools. The local TB association has all the details.

IRV WHITE'S PERFORMANCE as judge in The Anatomy of a Murder is best described by Jack Stokesberry: "His slow, deliberate speech makes him a natural as the judge!" Joe Patrick and Burt Routman as attorneys were enjoyable. The show is a must and is on through Sunday night, Nov. 5 at the Des Moines Community Play House.

DR. DUNNER'S SATURDAY NIGHT FLIGHT WITH SATCHMO and his party of eleven on their Chicago to Grinnell trip was unusual and exciting. Seated with Armstrong's personal secretary, she heard much about the artist. Satchmo's New York, Chicago and Los Angeles bureaus do all of his publicity and organizational work. What a career! Dr. Dunner found Satchmo a very pleasant person and his voice as gravely as on the air. He does not look his age. Observing that he had been in Armstrong's employ for seven years the secretary produced his 100,000 file flight card, so Ada promptly presented hers! Having granted a stewardess' request for Satchmo's autographed photo, the secretary requested the same favor of the stewardess. She complied. Ada was amazed at her good luck—flying with Satchmo and his party.

PAM AND LOUIE SUDHEIMER had their first flight together recently, when Louie piloted them to Springfield, Mo. Their plane was a Cessna 172, the smallest of the Cessna's 4-place planes. The flight took 3 hours. Pam describes the weather as beautiful and the Ozark's autumn-nal colors as having many more reds than are seen in Iowa. The lucky pair got "weathered" and so enjoyed an extra day. Their host is a forest ranger in charge of the park's system. For a couple who has been married only a year and a half, this was something of a second honeymoon, wouldn't you say?

Your professional beautician knows the answer...

Should every woman be a blonde?

Blonde hair is beautiful for those women whose natural coloring it flatters. But not everyone should be a blonde.

Expert beauticians know that complexion and hair color must complement each other to glamorize and bring out all the natural beauty that was meant to be. They also know that very coarse and dark hair often is resistant to drastic color changes. However, there's no doubt about slightly lighter hair adding excitement to a woman's appearance. And hairdressers know there is no better product to add a whole new appeal to every woman's look than Miss Clairol® haircoloring—extra rich Creme Formula or new extra easy Shampoo Formula.

Both Miss Clairol products lighten and color at once, combining vibrant new color with the natural pigment of the hair. So even those shades that look blonde on white hair (as shown on most color selection charts) give a variety of flattering red-to-golden brown shades on women whose hair was black to begin with.

Beauty salons are equipped to answer questions and help with hair color selection. Depend on your hairdresser to have the professional skills and the total family of fine Clairol products to make every woman's experience with haircoloring completely personal and glamorous. Should you be a blonde? If you don't really know, ask your expert hairdresser.

DR. KING BRAVE
IN DEFEAT

Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. went to jail in Alabama Monday for violating a law forbidding picketing in Birmingham in 1963. The day before, he received an honorary degree of Doctor of Laws from Grinnell College.

Fortunately, Dr. King took his medicine like a man. He admitted violating the law and expected whatever penalty followed. The case went through the lower courts to the U.S. Supreme Court which let the Alabama Court Order stand.

In this, Dr. King has set an example for a lot of other groups who have violated the law but whose political pressure enabled them to get their case dismissed as a consideration for settling strikes and other mass action.

Or the whining of the president of the New York teachers' union who, when penalized by the judge for violating court orders, boasted and belated the action of the court as ignorant and unjust.

Dr. King set a good example for men in high places by acknowledging that they are subject to the same laws and regulations as the fellow in the street.

PLAY YOUR PART;
YOU CAN GET HELP

Fonza, the first Negro admitted to serve on the fire department in Des Moines for fifty years tells some of his experienced with his fellow workers including instructors and high officials. He states that the latter have been helpful and encouraging both of which are essential to his success.

On the other hand, some firemen have been anything but friendly, refusing to speak to him or offer the ordinary courtesies of one gentleman toward another. Of course, they are the losers for their conduct shows the low calibre of men they are.

This is a reminder of Jackie Robinson when he broke into professional football. There were those that were helpful like "Pee wee Reese" he said. Some were low brow and spiteful. But Jackie went on to become great. The day has come when Negro players are a part of the backbone of all great baseball teams.

Often, the fellow who breaks the ice has tough going but if he determines to make good there are those who are willing to help.

HOUSING THE TEST OF CANDIDATES

Des Moines goes to the polls Nov. 7 to elect seven members of the city council. It will be a new council for the size and the base are much broader and diversified.

Two candidates are running for mayor, four at large and two in each ward which when sifted down elects a mayor and six councilmen.

As usual there are some excellent candidates; there are some not worth their salt. Some are opposed to low cost housing, rent supplements, and the social welfare program generally. Some have been leaders in the defeat of low cost housing and are among those generally who wish Des Moines to stand still and let other communities outstrip it.

The Bystander makes no endorsement of candidates, but it does endorse issues. Surely any untried candidate who opposes low cost housing and occupancy is not among those for whom we expect to vote.

Unfortunately issues have not gotten to the people well and thus there is lack of knowledge for the average voter to go by.

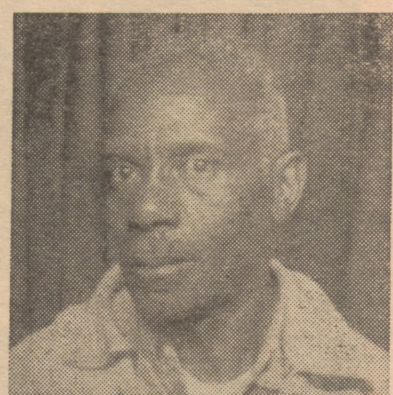

But in any event—vote.

Number One Will Meet
Number Three Sunday

The New York Jets make their first appearance in Kansas City in two years this Sunday, Nov. 5, when they meet the Kansas City Chiefs. The game will be televised nationally on NBC, 1:05 P.M.

The Jets, unbeaten in their last six games, lead the A.F.L.'s Eastern Division with a 5-1-1 record. The Chiefs were exploding for their highest point total of the season as they routed the Denver Broncos 52 to 9. Kansas City is in third place, 4 and 3.

SPORTS

With Allen Ashby

The people who went to the Iowa-Purdue game weren't expecting any miracles, but during the first half a large portion of them thought they might see one. True, Iowa was behind by eleven points but they had moved the ball well and there was no reason to believe they couldn't keep it up.

But the difference in the game was the presence of the fellow who is probably the best all around college football player today. You have read enough about this LeRoy Keyes so there isn't much we can add to that. But in our humble opinion the fellow is the best we have seen since George Talleferro played for Indiana back in the late forties. He drives hard and turns on the speed with the same rhythm of his legs. Simply lengths or shortens his stride but keeps his legs pumping. The guy busted off tackle, hugged a few yards to get into the clear then looked like a car shifting to passing gear.

Minutes

We think the other guy is a fine ball player at the other running back, but he just happens to be in the same backfield with the hero. Where was Keyes last year? He was a sixty minute man playing both ways while Purdue was trying to boost their all American quarterback.

Somebody has often said that one player doesn't make a team, but we'd hate to see Purdue without comes as near to being one as anybody can.

And now comes Minnesota. This is supposed to be the upset we called well, we shall see.

Iowa State

It seems that everytime Iowa State gets up for a game the other guys do, too, and the Cyclones are out another one. Don't know what they could do to improve their lot. They

Patterson Loses To Quarry After Two
Knockdowns; Judges Rule From 6-6 Score

Los Angeles, Calif. — Although most devastating damage, giving Floyd Patterson lunged his way to connect with Jerry Quarry's face, the two knockdowns he suffered were enough to make him leave the heavyweight boxing eliminations bout Saturday in the referee's split decision.

It was a return bout for the two. Earlier they had fought to a draw.

The first knockdown came late in the second round when Quarry sent a left and chopping right to Patterson, who slid down to the floor but bounced up again. He was given the mandatory eight count. In the fourth round, Quarry, whose troubles began with trying to stay out of the corner, fought his way out to knock Patterson down with a left hook.

Flurry

As the rounds rolled on, Patterson opened up with right leads with Quarry in the corner, and did his Keyes. If he isn't a whole team, he play good ball, make a few mistakes, but just don't seem to win.

Here at home, Dowling won the other big one. Now they could go all the way. Still gotta get by North, who always plays their best ball against Dowling.

East scored more points against Tech than they had scored all season put together while North came out of it with a surprise win over Lincoln. That makes the East-Roosevelt game the one for all the marbles this week end.

Pay Your Subscription
Promptly — Please

Each month we send bills to subscribers whose subscriptions expire the following month. And most people respond in the normal business fashion. However, there are some who abuse their credit and discommoded us by paying months after their subscriptions expire. Some are people whom we know can well afford to pay their subscriptions.

Why not pay as you do the big stores? Paying debts is a badge of responsibility which every citizen should strive to wear.

Patronize those merchants of goods and services who solicit your trade by advertising in The Bystander.

We sit and wonder at this heavyweight boxing tournament to determine a successor to champion Muhammad Ali. The four semi-finalists could all climb into the ring at once and they'd have a helluva time licking the champ who just might take them all. How can they have the nerve to call the winner champion?

At the last Cub Pack meeting, a kick-off party was given, with the theme "The Wild West". Cubs were dressed as Indians and cowboys, and the mothers baked the goodies. Den mothers present were Mrs. Ethel Anderson and Mrs. Jewell Evans. The boys received awards.

Patterson

The judges ruled that 22-year-old Jerry Quarry won the victory, although the scoring was 6-6.

High School Football

Des Moines Dowling, so far number three in the state, knocked off Des Moines Roosevelt, 30-0 Friday night. Dave Triplett thrilled the crowd at Valley stadium with the longest run of the night, 63 yards. Dowling is now 7-0.

East and Tech met Friday night, and East walked off with the honors, 47-0, giving Tech its sixth loss. East, now city series champion, hosted touchdowns by Jim Jewett on a 55 yard run, Reggie Buckner on a one yard and two yard run, Billy Turner on a twenty-eight yard run. The Scarlett meets the Roosevelt Roughriders Saturday for the title game.

North beat Lincoln in an upset Friday, 20-19, after Rick Ramsey received a 19 yard pass, Victor Colmena on a one yard run, and then again on an extra point run.

Quotable Quote

"We cannot tear everything down and start over," Housing and Urban Development Secretary Robert C. Weaver said. "We must find ways to restore and conserve the large part of our housing and neighborhoods in our cities for the needs of the people who already live in them."

Paper By A 9th Grade
Student At Amos Hiatt

Noble M. Tucker, 15-year-old ninth grader at Amos Hiatt Junior High School, recently turned in a paper based on various freedom themes and pictures from the news media. The result was a touching essay on the American Negro today:

Oh, freedom.
Oh, freedom.
Oh, freedom over me.
Before I be a slave,
I'll be buried in my grave,
And go home to my Lord

and be freed.

This is what the cover says, in stark black lettering on a dull white page. To even more give the symbolic contrast, Noble displayed a picture of a small dark Negro girl clutching an Anglo-Saxon doll with blond hair. The caption, "I love everybody, I love everybody, I love everybody in my heart . . ."

"Oh, mister state trooper, go get your big night stick . . .", the paper continues.

Noble's teacher was very impressed with the project. "It tells things how they really are", she commented.

Willkie House and Oakridge Center have requested book mobile service from the city Library, since many residents have expressed dissatisfaction about having to go downtown or out to the Franklin branch.

If the service is granted, it would mean books would be available within walking distance once a week. Those interested should write to Dan Williams, of the City Library, second and Walnut.
