Close Mental Hearing On Girl Married to Negro

A bazaar case of insanity of an 18-year-old white girl married to a Negro was closed last Thursday.

Carla Woods, wife of Terrell Woods, had been sent to Broadlawn Polk County Hospital, Nov. 10 after her mother, Mrs. Bonnie Osborne, filed an insanity petition on her daughter for examination of mental disorder. The girl was then taken from her home and placed at Broadlawn.

Vague

Lawyer for Mrs. Woods then filed a writ of habeas corpus and during the subsequent hearing Nov. 17 in Judge Wheeler's court, argued

Ask Police Improve Training In Ghetto

Washington, D. C. — Police training in community relations in major urban areas must be improved in order to prevent and control civil disorder, experts in this field have told the National Advisory Commission on Civil Disorders.

The recommendations, ranging from suggested reorganization of police systems "to serve poor black people," to "a reversal of many attitudes with respect to civil disorders," were given at closed hearings Sept. 21-22.

Testimony

Witnesses, excerpts of whose testimony were released recently included Roger Wilkins, Director of the Community Relations Service of the U.S. Justice Department; William H. T. Smith, Director of the Inspection Division, Department of Housing and Urban Development; Albert Reiss, Director of the Center for Research on Social Organization at the University of Michigan.

Two Are Injured In Car Accident Sunday

John Nelson, 25, of 1230 8th street, and George Clark, 24, of 1300 8th street, were injured Sunday when the car in which they were riding missed a curve and rammed a tree.

Nelson was taken to Mercy Hospital with throat lacerations and possible chest and leg injuries, and Clark suffered minor bruises.

Nelson, driver of the car, was charged with failing to have his vehicle under control.

In outlining his reasons for resigning, Ray, 39, acknowledged that he has been urged to seek the Republican nomination for governor.

State Conference Of Branches To Meet Sat.

The Iowa State Conference of Branches will hold its State Board meeting Saturday, Dec. 9, 1 p.m. at the YMCA, 101 Locust street. The meeting will be conducted in the Hobby Room, with delegates and board members from all over the state.

President is Robert A. Wright, and publicity chairman is Mrs. Guy E. Greene.

Williams Hearing Set For December 12

Hearing has been set for next Tuesday for Marion Williams, owner of Williams Pharmacy, who was arrested Monday night on a charge of interfering with the duties of a police officer.

Snatched

A money order taken from a woman whose purse was snatched was found at the Williams Pharmacy, and Williams said he gave police the money order, they looked at it and returned it.

However, about an hour later, the druggist said police returned and "the guy got to thinking that he would need it for evidence."

Williams then refused to surrender the money order, saying if it was evidence, police would need a search warrant to secure it.

Warrant

Police then arrested him, obtained a search warrant and took the money order.

Involved in the purse snatching was Mrs. Rose Butler, 33, of 1445 10th street who said she had been attacked and beaten by two men and two women. She said they took her purse containing $16 in cash and blank money orders for various amounts.

NEWS In A Nutshell

Edwards, Miss.—The board of the Southern Conference Educational Fund (SCEF) has voted to support the Mississippi Freedom Democratic Party (MFDP) in its efforts to win seats at the Democratic National Convention in 1968.

Leaders of the MFDP attended the semi-annual meeting of SCEF, an interracial civil-rights group based in Louisville, Ky.

Paramus, N. J. — Appointment of Richard Carter, 28, as New York-New Jersey dealer zone manager for Rayco Auto Service, a division of The B. F. Goodrich Company, is announced by Joseph Garfinkel, division general manager. Carter, formerly manager of the Rayco store at 589-91 East Fordham road, The Bronx, for the past three years, will supervise merchandising Rayco products in the division's 22 New York and New Jersey outlets.

Washington — Nearly 5,000 disadvantaged persons — mostly Negroes — have been trained and placed in jobs through a "self-help" program launched almost 4 years ago by a Philadelphia minister. The program is the Opportunities Industrialization Centers (OIC) now operating in 9 major areas across the Nation and the founder is the Rev. Leon Sullivan.

New York City, N.Y.—"American Catholics: Two Types of Social Change," a "Survey of Aboriginal Employment and Labor Conditions in the Northern Territory of Australia," "The Urban Negro: The Social Demography of Greater Kansas City," and "Protective Discrimination in India" — are among more than 720 research studies described in a unique human relations survey published this week for the Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith, under a grant from the Ford Foundation.

New York — The president of Ford Motor Company today urged adoption of a "negative income tax" to help solve the nation's poverty problem. In a speech before the National Industrial Conference Board (at the Waldorf Astoria Hotel), Arjay Miller said that of all the country's social problems demanding attention, the most basic is the elimination of poverty.

Albany, N. Y. — The New York City Supreme Court has ruled that an Alabama Negro teenager, now a ward of a white family in Port Washington, Long Island, may attend public schools there without payment of tuition.

The state's highest court reaffirmed a prior ruling by Commissioner of Education James E. Allen.

Named Head of Force

Washington, D.C. — Dr. Vivian W. Henderson, president of Clark College, Atlanta, Ga., has been named chairman of a special task force formed to assess the need for expanding training in private industry and to recommend ways that the Federal Government can promote and assist in the development of such training programs.

Secretary of Labor Willard Wirtz and Secretary of Commerce Alexander B. Trowbridge jointly announced Dr. Henderson's appointment and establishment of the task force.

Supreme Court to Decide On Realtor's Refusal of St. Louis Lot to Couple

Washington — An interracial couple's appeal to the United States Supreme Court on suburban developer bias has led the Court to decide on the controversial issue.

The Court announced Monday that it would decide whether this discrimination violates the Constitution and an 1866 Federal Rights Law prohibiting "discriminatory refusal" by a realtor to sell to Negroes.

Exclusion

The Justice Department had urged the court to settle the issue, saying the exclusion of Negroes from "experience of integrated living" and the denial of "decent living conditions" is perhaps the most fundamental cause of racial tensions.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph L. Jones, plaintiff, a black bail bondsman and white wife, contend that a developer in the St. Louis area refused to sell them a house and lot.

Refusal

The Justice Department, in making its charge, said "a single, isolated refusal" to sell a house to a Negro when comparable housing in the same area is readily available may be beyond the reach of the constitution and federal law.

Non-discriminatory

However, a private developer who is permitted by the state to perform such public functions as laying out streets assumes the state's constitutional obligation not to practice racial discrimination, according to the Department, and exclusion of Negroes from an entire community does violate this.

The general policy of not selling to Negroes was in the Paddock Woods Development in North St. Louis County, Mo., and the U.S. Circuit Court there ruled against the Jones family.

Attends Big Beauty Trade Show In Chicago

Beauty Shop. Accompanying the delegation were Dr. and Mrs. Lewis James, who attended the show on Sunday and Monday.

Clayton

Mrs. Lincoln and Mrs. Humphrey attended the teacher's workshop. Morris Clayton, former Crescent Beauty school student, won second prize in the styling contest whose entrants were from all over the United States and foreign countries. Mr. Clayton has recently opened a booth shop in Chicago.

Many courtesies were extended the Cosmetists delegates by manufacturers and cosmetic companies for whom Mrs. Humphrey is the distributor.

BREWTON

Brewton, Sr., field representative, is making sure they will be reached.

Need

Brewton, working out of the office at 2302 S.W. 9th, said that there are one and one half million black alcoholics in the United States who aren't being helped.

A person in need, Brewton said, could call the Center on 9th street.

Report Reveals Parts of Logan Area 90 Per Cent Sub-Standard Housing

The Polk County Community Action Council has released a report which shows that 90.7 per cent of all housing units in the Logan Area B community is substandard.

The report according to the Census Tract Map also shows that 19.4 per cent of all housing units in Forest Hills Area A are sub standard; 49.1 in the Walnut Hill area E and 40.2 per cent in Oakridge area F.

Negro population in the Forest Hills area is related to be 2,252; Logan, 2,311; Walnut, 1,777; Oakridge, 1,410; and Woodland, area G, 1,091.

Population

Total Negro population in the nine "target" areas of the city was listed at 10,875. The other areas include the Chesterfield Area C, Roadside Area D, Delaware Area H and West Des Moines Area I.

Less than 153 families in the Forest Hills area make $1,000 or less, while Logan has 53; Walnut Hills, 60; Oakridge, 97; and Woodland, 47.

Of that community of females 14 and over in the civilian labor force (40,128 total), an over-all study of unemployed put the number at two per cent.

Fatal Beating Ends In 8 Yr. Sentence

Ft. Dodge, Ia. — A former Des Moines man was sentenced to eight years in the Iowa penitentiary at Ft. Madison for manslaughter.

Harlan P. Thomas, 36, was convicted in the death of 73-year-old Fred N. Williams, Sr. According to testimony, Thomas allegedly fought with Williams about change from the purchase of beer.

Charge SCEF Behind Nashville Riots

Lexington, Ky.—Attorneys for the Southern Conference Educational Fund (SCEF) summoned top staff members of a U. S. Senate subcommittee to a hearing here Dec. 5, to demand that records of the subcommittee be produced in court.

Alan and Margaret McSurely, who were in Des Moines recently, organizers for SCEF, and Joseph Mulloy of the Appalachian Volunteers were charged with sedition after raids on their mountain homes last August. The three-judge court killed the state sedition law but documents seized in the raids were held pending final

Y.M.C.A. Asks Self: How to Check Poverty

Over 60 guests were served Saturday, Dec. 2, at the annual laymen's Conference of the Young Men's Christian Association.

Guest speaker for the occasion was Bruce Cole of the Metropolitan Chicago Y.M.C.A. on loan to the U.S. Employment Service, helping to develop the "Jobs Now" concept for that federal agency in 19 major cities and two rural areas.

After the luncheon, the laymen were divided in several discussion groups on what the YMCA could do to help combat poverty in Des Moines.

Discussion

In two discussion groups, moderators of which were the Rev. James Shopshire, pastor of Burnes Methodist Church, and Robert Jorden, the three most outstanding factors observed were that the Y was commonly associated with the middleclass whites, and not to the Negro; that transportation to the Y was inadequate, not only for regular activity, but also concerning the Inner City Youth Council busing of children after school; and that needed expansion for recreation are limited.

Participating in the discussion groups included Perry Hooks, Rev. Shopshire, A. P. Trotter and Eleanor E. Tate.

Ask More Negritude For Berea College

Berea, Ky. — A group called the Black Students of Berea College have charged that the college is not living up to its long reputation as a champion of racial justice.

These students have organized to bring changes which they say will make the college's claims fit reality. They recently published a half-page article in the college newspaper, The Pinnacle, charging the hiring of black instructors, entertainers and history.

Fear Of Integration Places On Poll

Participants in the National Seminar in an opinion poll conducted in advance of the Seminar by a leading firm, top problems facing the schools included public fear that integrated schools will provide poorer quality of education than segregated schools and also create serious social problems.

Another response was the difficulty of urban schools in maintaining education status of suburban and private schools.

This information was related in the December edition of Education News issued by the Polk County Board of Education.

Tries To Link Powell With Labor Leader, Jimmy R. Hoffa Ring

Washington—Adam Clayton Powell's co-leader testified here recently before a U.S. District Court grand jury investigating the Harlem Congressman's alleged misuse of government funds.

The nature of Lillian Upshur, part co-ordinator for Powell's Alfred E. Isaacs Democratic Club, was not ascertainable. According to earlier reports, the Federal probers took testimony from some witnesses summoned from Florida which purported to establish a connection between Powell and convicted labor leader James R. Hoffa as a result of occasional fishing trips together.

Appeal Prison Reading Restrictions; Allow Negro Publications

New Orleans, La.—NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund, Inc. (LDF) attorneys Nov. 24 asked the U. S. Court of Appeals here to permit Negro Florida prison inmates "to receive Negro newspapers and magazines."

LDF attorneys argue that "denial of Negro publications to Negro prisoners while white prisoners are permitted to receive white publications violates the 14th Amendment."

Help Needy Families At Christmas Time

The Des Moines area Christmas Clearing Bureau is operating again this year to make certain as many needy families as possible receive Christmas food and gifts.

The bureau, a service of the Information and Referral Center of the UCS Community Planning Council, maintains a file of families scheduled to receive food and gifts. In order to avoid duplication, individuals and groups planning to provide holiday aid are urged to clear names of recipient families.

Located in the lobby of the Hawley Welfare Building, 700 Sixth Avenue, the Information and Referral Center is open Monday through Friday from 8-5 p.m. Call 244-8646.

State Prison. Jackson testified that "he would like to read Ebony, Sepia and the Pittsburgh Courier" because these publications contained articles which cannot be found in the literature which is now permitted to the prison population—one-half of which is Negro.

Mr. Jackson pleaded with prison officials to permit him this literature, but all his requests were denied.

He criticized the West Palm Beach newspaper which he was permitted to receive because "it never carried any news about Negroes except when arrested or when there was a riot."

Charge Chase Bank With Discrimination

New York, N.Y. — Fourteen Negroes charged the Chase National Bank with discrimination, according to the New York Amsterdam News.

The Negroes won a public hearing Dec. 11 before commissioners of the New York City Commission on Human Rights.

According to the Amsterdam, William Booth, commission chairman, said there was "probable cause to credit the allegations" of discrimination. Five of the 14 are continuing at Chase, while the other nine were lopped off the payroll at the main branch on June 26.

NEWS AROUND IOWA

BURLINGTON Cedar Rapids

Mrs. Velma L. Lewis
418 South Starr

Mrs. Elsie Drew has returned from Chicago, Ill., after spending Thanksgiving with her daughter, Mrs. Calleen Duncan and other relatives.

Mrs. Velma Lewis spent the Thanksgiving weekend in Des Moines as guest of her brother, William H. Thomas and son Doran. She attended the Saturday matinee of "Holiday on Ice" with her nephew and on Sunday was the dinner guest of her sister, Mrs. Evelyn Atkins and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Curtwright and niece Bertie Lee of Canton, Ill., Mr. and Mrs. Ed Chinn of Gulfport, Ill., Mr. and Mrs. James Bowls and Edward Williams were the Thanksgiving guests of Mrs. Verla Lewis, 407 South Starr avenue.

An open house for the 50th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Jake Nelson was held Nov. 25, 3-6 p.m. at the V.F.W. Hall. Their daughter, Mrs. Charlotte Weldon was hostess.

The couple received a money tree made up of one dollar bills. Granddaughter, Sherrie Buckner of Washington, D.C., flew home for the event.

HEALTH FOR ALL

Vitamins? Of course you need them; that's why Nature arranged for you to have them long before anybody thought of putting them in a bottle.

In other words, there is no particular reason to get your vitamins from pills or tablets if you're enjoying normal health. The foods most people eat regularly have all the vitamins required for proper nourishment and good health—assuming the daily diet is properly balanced.

Basics

What does "properly balanced" mean? Nutritionists agree that a balanced diet consists of four basic food groups, known as the "fundamental four":

(a) Milk and milk products—butter, cream, ice cream, cheese. These give you protein, vitamins, calcium and other minerals.

(b) Meat, poultry, fish, eggs. They provide you with proteins, the body's building blocks; also minerals and vitamins. There is protein in peas, beans, and nuts too; but the best protein comes from meat, poultry or fish.

(c) Vegetables and fruits—green vegetables, yellow vegetables, and fruits of all kinds, but especially citrus fruits—for vitamins and minerals.

(d) Bread and cereals—whole grain or enriched, for carbohydrates, the energy food; also for minerals and protein.

It isn't necessary to have some of each category at every meal. But in the course of a day, some food from each of the "fundamental four" should be eaten.

Don't take supplementary vitamins—the drug store kind—except on your doctor's recommendation. Your Christmas Seal organization, concerned with general health as well as the fight against TB and other you let the doctor decide.

Information Service of Polk County Tuberculosis Association.

Lincoln High events found her 10th Grade Home Room Student Council alternate, member of Future Teachers', French and Pep Clubs, and a Mermaid throughout her junior year. She was also elected Mermaids' Vice President last spring.

In September '67, she became Home Room Student Council Representative and Girls' Club Representative, Cheerleader, and was elected by the cheerleaders as captain of the wrestling and swimming cheer leading squads.

Equally at home on the civic affairs scene Charmayne served as NAACP Youth Council secretary 1964-1965; Union Baptist Choir 1964-1966. She has attended three Regional NAACP Youth and four NAACP National Youth sessions.

In 1965 Charmayne, now a Bette Bonn model, took part in the Taylor Fashion Show at Iowa State Fair. Over 1966 Easter vacation, Charmayne was elected along with 143 high school juniors to visit New York City and Washington, D. C. government sites.

Charmayne has studied tap, ballet and toe dancing from about six to twelve years of age, and piano from the 5th-9th grade. She plays clarinet and flute but doesn't consider herself a professional. She has become an accomplished dressmaker and has worked in Younkers Tea Room. She continues to participate in the Fate of the Negro Doll: What Will Become of Her?

Elenora E. Tate

Nearly three dozen Afro-American dolls are on display now through Dec. 15 at the Central National Bank.

The dolls, along with over 200 other dolls, are part of the Dress-a-doll contest sponsored by Central National.

One of the prize winners was Mrs. Emma O'Dell of Des Moines who dressed a winning Afro-American doll in a yellow cordoroy coat dress with cowl neckline and four black buttons down the front. She wears white slippers, yellow fish-net hose, black purse and turtle-neck sweater, and a saucy yellow cap.

Distributed

The dolls were distributed throughout the community for the contest, and will be delivered to the Welfare Society.

This is the second year that Afro-American dolls were included in the contest, said George T. Nelson, assistant vice president to the public relations department. He said that he felt that the entire community should be represented in the contest.

Position

The question of whether the Negro doll really belongs in America is not a new one. Ever since they came on the market in limited quantities, there was much hesitation as to whether they would be bought.

John Ogrem, in charge of the Younkers Downtown Toyland, said many white people buy the dolls for collector's items. "It's not the colored people who buy them."

Sp/4 John Burrell Back To Viet Nam

Sp/4 John Burrell, jr., son of Mrs. Marzetta Burrell, of 915 17th street and John Burrell, Sr., of Minneapolis, Minn., left the city this month for his second hitch in Viet Nam.

Since returning from Viet Nam in December, 1966, he has been stationed at Ft. Eustis, Va.

Having been in the service seven years, his second tour of duty in Viet Nam may last two years.

While here, he motored to Minneapolis to visit relatives.

NEGRO DEMOCRATS MUST NOT HELP JOHNSON FOES

Democrats are jittery over the possible election of a Republican for President in 1968. There are those who blame President Johnson for the decline in confidence with which the party elected its ticket in 1964 by an overwhelming majority.

Last week, a group of concerned Democrats met in Chicago which while not admitting it, had for its purpose dumping President Johnson as the candidate for President.

There is division in both parties about what's best in Vietnam, but many are using these differences rather than say what they really mean.

President Johnson finds himself in the position of the late President Hoover who was elected by an enormous majority but who fell heir to problems that made him unpopular during his term.

Writing in the Des Moines Register Sunday, Roy Wilkins said that President Johnson had done more for Negroes than any other President with the exception of Lincoln. With this we fully agree. He has taken bold leadership in securing "these rights" for Negroes and gotten excellent results — leadership which our immediate past Presidents shied away from.

It was President Eisenhower who first used troops to enforce the law where Negroes were involved. And while the late President Kennedy said during the campaign that he would not follow this course, he found himself forced to do so.

Negroes did not favor President Johnson's nomination in 1960 but his record has proved this skepticism untrue. Negro Democrats played a part in his nomination and election in 1964. They should not join up with those who wish to dump President Johnson for he has justified their support.

And for this reason, in spite of the criticism of Mr. Johnson, Negro Democrats should use their influence to secure his renomination. To do otherwise would show ingratitude and make officials fear to risk their future by such support.

STATE DIRECTION WILL HURT ANTI-POVERTY PROGRAM

When the anti-poverty program was initiated, operation by those for whom the help was meant should be done by them was advocated.

Participation in the management by those helped in the anti-poverty program was desirable but opposition from political and business leaders has helped slow the work making it difficult to operate in some states.

As a result of this divided operation, new facilities have been set up which duplicate long standing projects.

The anti-poverty appropriation bill is before Congress. The house has insisted that the program be conducted by local officials rather than direct from Washington. The senate has taken an opposing position.

Undoubtedly, existing local programs might well be more efficient but the poor—as they are designated—would have less authority.

In some states, local direction is going to work against the very people for whom the program is designed. An excellent example of this is the agricultural administration. Here the program is handled by farm committees in the locality. In some southern states, Negroes have been bypassed by local groups. In this manner, they have not been a part of the management nor received the benefits paid to supplement their income.

It is unfortunate that a program must be geared in one direction for only a part of the population. But if local officials fail in their responsibility, the federal government should step in and do so.

The new Iowa tax law has created such a difference of opinion among people charged with its enforcement, that the legislature would do well to convene in special session to clarify it.

Demonstrations by some opponents of the Vietnam war seem to enjoy a special handling. Some things they do stack up well with city riots, but a lot of those calling for law and order never mention them.

SPORTS

With Allen Ashby

The football season is on its way out. Of course, it is still a pretty healthy corpse, but basketball is easing into the sports headlines. The bowl teams have been chosen, the All-Star teams picked and now we wait for the pro leagues to settle who's who. Just about every All-Star team or rather All-American team had Liggins of Oklahoma and our two fellows, LeRoy Keyes and O. J. Simpson. Of course, we were a bit disappointed at the selection of the Hiesman trophy winner, but we took heart in the fact that those two guys who ran second and third are juniors and if they can stay healthy next year will probably have a very good shot at the thing then.

Few

We would have to class as the upset of the year the Indiana victory over Purdue. But then it is just possible that the Boilermakers get themselves ready too early in the season and are often ripe to be taken later on.

The Notre Dame game has to be a high spot in Purdue's schedule and they have to go all out, win or lose. That must take some thing out of them.

There were not too many Negroes who came into national prominence, but there are probably a lot who will make the pro teams, and most of these we never heard of. A fellow asked why all the Negroes in the professional league's football, basketball and baseball were among the top stars. Our answer was that only the best Negroes make those leagues. So they come up stars.

Alcindor

And in basketball. Did you know the thing that wasn't supposed to happen almost did? Lew Alcindor and company nearly got beat on their first outing. Better stop reading your press clippings, fellahs.

Iowa, Drake and Iowa State seem to have better clubs than last year. So the two Drake Iowa scuffles should be dandies.

Nothing has happened here at home to change our mind about Roosevelt being the team to beat in our local high school race. In fact, if this guy Toby Houston got hot, the Riders could go all the way.

Did you see the fight last Saturday? Jimmy Ellis is a good, game fellow and so was Oscar Bonavena. But really, they should have been fighting to see who has to become champ, not who wants to. Ellis and the South American in the same ring would have trouble licking Clay if they did. Champions—ha!

Liggins, Keyes, Simpson Place on All-Am. Team

Strong collegiate football teams from the Far West and South, led by the Southern California and Alabama, have placed 16 players on the

LB - Leroy Keyes (6-3, 200) PURDUE
LB - G. Liggins (5-11, 216) OKLAHOMA

78th edition of the All-America team selected annually by the American Football Coaches Association and sponsored by Eastman Kodak Company.

Twenty-four players, including 12 each for offense and defense, were chosen for spots on the classic team in recognition of their standout play during the 1967 season. Four players from Southern Cal—two each on offense and defense—were named along with two men from Alabama—one each for offense and defense.

Ten players from southern schools were chosen along with six from the Far West. The 24-man squad is rounded out with choices of three players each from the Southwest and Midwest and two from the East.

The team is the successor to the first All-America squad picked by coach Walter Camp of Yale in 1889.

It included O. J. Simpson, LeRoy Keyes and Granville Liggins.

SIMPSON

Jimmie Ellis Drags Over Bonavena; to Meet the Winner of Spencer Bout

Louisville, Ky.—The hometown boy has won again.

Jimmy Ellis, who weighed a bloated (some said) 194 three fourths pounds, staggered his way to a victory over Argentine Oscar Bonavena Saturday in the 12 round semi-final bout to decide the heavy-weight championship.

Ellis who began the bout by his dancing about the ring, bounced Bonavena to the floor in the third round, but the dancing slowed to an almost standstill as the fight grew on.

Knockdown

Bonavena landed a series of lefts and rights to Ellis, making a gash over his eye, the most serious damage done. By the fifth round both Ellis and Bonavena seemed weighed down by exhaustion, but the Argentine champion came on strong during the next few rounds until seemingly from out of nowhere Ellis caught Bonavena running into his glove and again decked the 206 one half pound South American who tumbled into Ellis' arms and then to the ropes.

Ellis now goes to the final against the winner of the Thad Spencer-Jerry Quarry fight.

Your professional beautician knows the answer...

Is peroxide needed to color unwanted gray hair?

Hair-care and beauty experts know that the first traces of gray hair—and even slight fading of natural color after chemical relaxing—can dull a woman's appearance and make her look older than she feels. While most women hate these premature aging effects, many are hesitant about using permanent peroxide haircoloring which may change the natural hair color while coloring gray.

Professionally-trained hairdressers know the importance of their customers' preferences when unwanted gray becomes a problem. These experts also know that Clairol created semi-permanent Loving Care® hair color lotion without peroxide... to color only the gray without changing the natural shade. They also find Loving Care blends back color faded by chemical processing. Because of its mildness, Loving Care maintains healthy-looking hair and lasts through a month of shampoos.

Whatever a woman's reason for wanting Loving Care for her hair, she is always wise to consult a professional beautician. Hairdressers are equipped with a family of fine Clairol products and the training to promise each patron the loveliest and most personalized haircoloring effects every time she visits her salon. If you dislike gray, and want no peroxide, why not ask your beautician to glamorize it with Loving Care?

Quotable Quote

Bishop James Thomas, Iowa Methodist Bishop:
"I have heard many able men talk about the helplessness of the church before such an intricately complex problem as Viet Nam. Others either do not discuss the riots, or, when they do, arrive at an amazingly simplistic outline of causes and cures. In a word, we are paralyzed at the very time when steps are needed. We are voiceless at the very time when a strong voice must be heard."

College Scores

Ames, Ia.—Don Smith and the Cyclones got a head start on defeat Friday night as they beat South Dakota 101-54.

99-75 was the score of Drake's opening game. Willie McCarter brought in 24 points to overcome Washburn college over the weekend.

In the lineup were Willie Wise, McCarter, Dolph Pulliam, Gary Odom and Don Draper.

Iowa City—The Hawkeyes came from behind Saturday night to beat Bowling Green 79-73. Sam Williams made 16 points, seven below his average.

In basketball Monday night, Iowa beat out Southern Illinois, 61-49. Williams hit for eighteen points. Houston Breedlove made eight points in rounding out the scoring charge.

Drake went 2-0 for the season when it conquered Minnesota, 82-63. The two Willie men, Wise and McCarter together scored 28 points—Wise 17, McCarter, 21. McCarter ended the game with three fouls on him.

High School Scores

Roosevelt hit the mark Friday night against Newton at Newton with a 60-42 win. Toby Houston, lone Negro on the Roosevelt squad who stands 6 feet eight inches, fouled out of the game.

On Saturday, however, Houston got rolling: he hit for 26 points against Ottumwa in an 88-54 Roosevelt victory.

Waterloo — East Waterloo paced Des Moines 63-44. Neither team fouled out.

North beat Hoover, 78-59. Tech lost to Dowling Saturday, 71-57. Tech managed only 17 field goals in 66 attempts.

Peru State Winning Four Straight; Head For Big Weekend

Peru, Nebr.—Peru State College could stretch their basketball victory string to six games, depending on the outcome of two games this week to be played at Peru.

The Bobcats face General Beadle State College of Madison, S.D., Friday night and then host the Northwest Missouri State Bearcats Saturday night. Both 7:30 p.m. clashes will be preceded by 5:30 p.m. junior varsity games in the Peru State Gymnasium. Pete Stewart thus far has racked up 9 points in four games.

Young McKnight Wins Early Bird Tournery

Henry T. McKnight, Jr., has become the winner of the Early Bird Regional Championship pingpong Tournament held in Omaha, Neb., Nov. 25.

McKnight, with partner Gary Babcock of Omaha, won over competitors from ten states, beating five teams during the tournament.

A sophomore at Grandview Junior College, McKnight has won numerous trophies from tournaments, including Iowa State champion for three years, Regional Doubles championship for 1966, 1967, and was quarter finalist in the national championship.

To Boycott Or Not To Boycott; That's The Question At Hand

New York — The Negro Athlete boycott of the Olympics continues to bring in dissent, with amateur and professionals choosing sides.

Fritz Pollard, all American at Brown University and one of the pro-footballers of note said that he disagreed with the mixing of sports with politics. He said that he believed that youngsters siding with the boycott were harming themselves "and destroying advances which have brought about by blood, sweat and tears."
