Gov. Calls for Housing Ordinance in Each City

Addresses 3,000 at Crises Conference

Persons from all over the city and state, some 3,000 estimated, listened in classrooms, the cafeteria and standing room only in the North High School auditorium as the Governor of Iowa and religious leaders discussed the state's social evils Sunday night.

The Crisis conference, sponsored by Iowa's religious leaders, the first of its kind, was a success in that it proved that Iowans were duly concerned about minority problems and possible "smoke darkening the skies of our cities," according to Dr. Robert French.

Battle Between Mayor Jebons and Wright Continues to Boil

Davenport, Ia.—The president of the Iowa State Conference of Branches for NAACP sharply chided Davenport Mayor John Jebons Wednesday.

"There are many examples which could be cited of the 'numerous' grievances of minority group citizens that exist in Davenport, and have been brought to your attention by . . . civil rights organizations . . . We note your failure to favorable response to your commission's urgent request that it be given a full time executive director."

Robert Wright, president, quoted that Jebons stated that "it might be creating a job to give someone a free ride at taxpayers expense." Jebons was further quoted as saying that he "will not become involved in these minor, superficial issues when there are much deeper ones that confront the city." In reality open housing is one of the major problems in the area of civil rights in the United States, Wright wrote.

Position

"The NAACP, the CIC, and other organizations, including your own Human Rights Commission, have cited the lack of accomplishments by the commission. The Messenger stated that your position in regard to grievances is that ' . . . you do not think that the commission should actively seek complaints of discrimination but should wait for the complaints to be brought to it . . .'"

The letter was in regard to an earlier discourse made by Jebons Jan. 19, in which Jebons said he was not aware of "numerous grievances" that have been brought to this office."

Problems Arise for Master Builders to Find Negro Students

The Master Builders of Iowa, Inc., have begun an active program to recruit Negro apprentices, although the eight who last year signed up have, with the exception of two, abandoned the project.

Richard Toons, of Master Builders, said Tuesday that Tom Williams, who earlier had been dismissed for lack of attendance, later came back, and is now "doing quite well at Youngblood Construction in Washburne."

Another pleaded that he had to go to Council Bluffs, from the Storm Lake open shop school, and never returned. The third stayed until August, then quit because he "wanted to work at the post office," another Slate C.A.C. Conference At North High Sat.

Sherwin Markman, a former Des Moines attorney who now is an assistant to President Johnson, will be the keynote speaker at a conference on economic opportunity here on Jan. 27.

The day-long conference, sponsored by the Polk County Community Action Council (C.A.C.), will be devoted to planning community action for 1968.

Mayor

Mayor Thomas Urban will summarize the conference and discuss the Model Cities planning project here, according to the C.A.C. conference committee.

Seven workshop subjects have been chosen for discussion, a committee spokesman said. They are health, education, social services, employment, recreation, housing and police-community relations.

The workshops will be from 10:30 to 11:45 a.m. and repeated from 1:15 to 2:30 p.m. Markman is scheduled to speak at 9:30 a.m. and Urban at 2:30 p.m.

NW Bell Telephone Opens Branch Office

Eleanora Tate Northwest Bell Telephone Company will soon open an employment branch at 1701 University.

Reported to be the first of its kind, the branch will reach all persons who may have the needed potential required for the hundreds of job openings.

Another reason for the branch in the area, said J. E. Trabert, personnel relations supervisor, is to notify persons of the employment opportunities at Northwestern Bell, to fill their own employment gap.

Staff of Four

The branch, which officially opens Monday, will be staffed by Mrs. Fran DeVine, employment manager, Mrs. Betty McAliley, employment supervisor, Mrs. Leora Snyder, clerk and also in charge of testing; and Everett Mays, personnel assistant.

Transportation for application and testing will be furnished on request, and Mays will also visit with prospective applicants, to recruit and help to direct them.

Hundreds

Trabert said he wanted to build a pool of hundreds of qualified applicants so they could begin training right away. There are no requirements, except on age: women should be at least 16, men 18.

Hours are Monday through Friday, 9-5 p.m. and Saturdays, 8-1 p.m. In testing persons at the branch, it is hoped that its pleasant atmosphere may be a factor in helping persons to do better.

young man entered the Navy. The fifth did graduate, but upon request of Toons to come to his office, stayed away ten days without contacting Toons, and as far as Toons knew, "was not in bricklaying."

The sixth was dismissed because he didn't want to work.

"I really don't know what is wrong with honest work," Toons said. He said in recruiting applicants, he called and wrote to the major heads of minority organizations, who could not locate a qualified applicant. The reason given was that in this case the applicant was to go to carpentry school in Iowa City, but the location was too far.

For information, see page 2 about Master Builders apprenticeship and training schools.

VD Still A Problem

Despite the fact that our county-wide program efforts have produced a reduction of 119 V.D. cases for the year 1967, V.D. is still a very serious problem in Des Moines-Polk County and the nation, according to Dr. Julius S. Conner, city-county health director. Health department statistics released for 1967 shows 852 reported cases of venereal disease, compared to 971 for 1966—down 119 cases.

Hails School Decision

Berkeley, Calif. — The School Board's unanimous vote Jan. 17 has approved a plan for the total integration of the Berkeley Unified School District. Last September the local board committed itself to total desegregation by September, 1968 and set up committees to work out feasible plans for the implementation of the decision.

Miami Methods to Fight Crime Called Brutality

Miami, Fla.—A former president of Miami for his stand on fighting has sharply criticized Chief of Police of Miami for their stand on fighting crime.

In a letter to Walter Headley, Charles Mims, now a TSgt. in the Air Force, wrote that Headley abandoned his community relations program because "community relations and all that sort of thing has failed. We have done everything we could, sending speakers out and meeting Negro leaders. But it has amounted to nothing," stated Headley in Mims letter.

Brown

Mims charged that the days of 'white superiority' were over. "Do you know why we have people like the Stokely Carmichaels and the Rapp Browns and the many others?"

if you and your force "don't mind being accused of police brutality," then why should we heed your warning?"

Criminals

Mims, serving in Viet Nam, stated that he appreciated Headley's concern about criminals, that he wanted to let the chief know that he was with his for declaring war on criminals, but not with him in his ignorance to label criminals by race. Mims mentioned that "we are fighting in Vietnam now, but as soon as this mess is over, we will be increasing our endeavors back there. Perhaps you and your men would like to come over here and unleash some of the bias and hate against the Viet Cong that you have waged against the Negro for many many years."

With the chief of police in Miami, the mayor had, in December, issued a proclamation saying that the city would not tolerate violence, declaring a war on crime. The officials declared they would shoot violators on sight.

The letter was also sent to Dr. George Simpson, president of the Miami NAACP branch.

Model Cities

Over four million people lived in the target areas of the 63 cities and counties selected to receive the first planning grants under the Model Cities Program of the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development. Nearly a third of the four million families had annual incomes of less than $3,000, and one-fourth of these families occupied substandard housing. Unemployment in the target areas was double that of the nation as a whole. One-third of the adults had dropped out of school before reaching high school.

"Suffers Heart Attack," Reports Dr. Hatchitt; Services Were Wednesday

Funeral services were held Wednesday at Bethel A.M.E. Church for

Des Moines first Negro accident fatality of the 1968 year, Clarence E. Jackson, who died of a coronary attack at the wheel of his car, Saturday, about 7:25 a.m.

According to police reports, Jackson, 32, of 1651 Walker street, had been traveling east of University avenue, when his car crossed the dividing line into westbound traffic, struck a curb and then sliced off an Iowa Power and Light pole on the west corner. The pole was sheared off at the ground level. The car, which suffered $375 damage, then skidded to the west and north and came to rest in an alley way.

Coronary

Dr. Hatchitt, assistant Polk County Medical coroner said that Jackson died of a coronary attack, not by the accident, during which the victim suffered chest injuries when he hit the steering wheel. The attack took place, according to Hatchitt, prior to the accident, shortly before impact. The right fender of the car then struck the southwest corner house at 1111 University avenue, reported to be currently vacant.

Alcohol

Officers did receive an unofficial witness report that Jackson got out of the car, staggered around in the street and staggered about ninety feet before falling down, striking his head against the curb, suffering an apparent skull fracture. The report also said officers detected a faint odor of alcohol.

Jackson was dead on arrival at Broadlawn Polk County Hospital.

Jackson, born in the city, was a construction worker, and a member of the Seventh Day Adventist Church. Survivors include his mother, Mrs. M. May, a brother, David, both of Des Moines; two half brothers, Clifford and William of Des Moines; three sisters, Mrs. S. Green of Minneapolis, Minn. and Dorothy and D. M. May, of the city; and grandfather, David Mash of Des Moines.

"Businessmen Upset by Urban Renewal Should Speak Out," Says Harless

An official of the Presbyterian Inter-Racial Council Wednesday afternoon called for blacks to break with their former alliances of city, state and county political arenas and form their own parties to meet their aims.

Rev. Roger Harless, executive secretary of PIC, St. Louis, Mo., stated that "in political philosophy it may be necessary to be up tight; if it is necessary to get this, they should segregate themselves altogether."

The pastor, who also spoke Wednesday night at Cottage Grove Presbyterian Church, says he endorses black power, the constructive and destructive aspects, because it "causes them to stand up, stand together."

Apathetic

"The country (in regard to civil rights, is still in a mood of ignorance; by ignorance, I mean some have guilt feelings, some desire to help on their own (white man's) terms, to patronize." His aim, Harless said, was to try to get through to the middle-class, church-going public who were apathetic to the situations.

"There will be revolutions, with respect to Des Moines and other cities, unless there is a drastic change in thinking, including the people, such as businessmen, professionals, to let them become leaders and take part," meaning Negro businessmen upset by urban renewal in the United States who have not spoken out against renewal measures.

Bussing

Along with the Des Moines Chapter PIC, he supports bussing students, although "The Des Moines School Board has never admitted that the schools are segregated. They should all resign en masse and turn the schools over to the parents."

The Presbyterian Inter-Racial Council, he said, urges in regard to Negro freedom, that whites will "have to follow, have to set about the task of taking over white institutions to supply research to the black community, so they can do their job. They will have to do a larger job of helping to interpret black power, with the community prepared to take on the bigoted reason that will manifest the white community; to take on in a militant fashion to either neutralize or distract them."

It has been reported that a Congress of Racial Equality organization has been started in the city. Persons wishing more information should contact Billy White, 288-1689, or Rick Williams, 282-4186.

King Calls for Massive Drive of Poor in Wash.

Atlanta, Ga.—Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., Jan. 16 announced that staff members of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) are moving into 15 major cities and rural areas to mobilize for a massive poor people's jobs-or-income drive in Washington, D.C., next spring.

Demonstrations

The poor people's campaign, Dr. King said, will begin with militant nonviolent demonstrations by about 3,000 persons demanding "jobs or income" for the poor. This initial group will be recruited in the 15 cities and rural areas, trained in nonviolent action, and organized for the Washington demonstrations starting in April. Additional waves of people may be called into Washington later if the government fails to take significant action against poverty.

Racism

The poor people's campaign seeks decent jobs or income for all Americans, Dr. King said, "and we are going to Washington for a dramatic confrontation with the government until our nation responds to the terrible conditions of poverty and racism in America."

The SCLC president said a special committee of experts will advise the organization on specific demands for economic reforms by the government.

Reforms

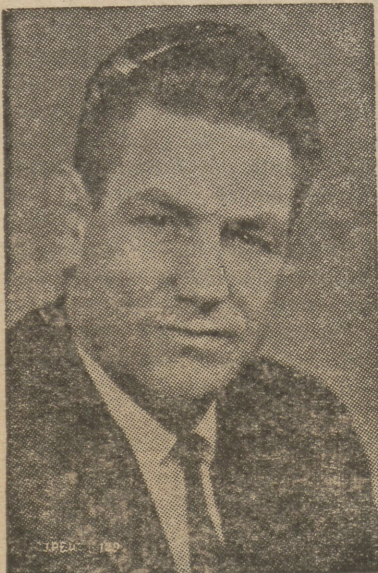

Dr. King observed that the nation in the past has not taken progressive steps in human rights until challenged by massive, nonviolent protest, such as the civil rights movements in Birmingham and Selma, Alabama, which led directly to the civil rights laws of the 1960s. "We are now demanding economic reforms by the national government in Washington," he said, "and once again SCLC will use aggressive non violent action in the fight to abolish poverty and racial injustice."

Hughes

SEE FRONT PAGE Worse

French said that Iowa faced crises, crises between the races, "threatening to get worse before its gets better . . . Time is short, the need for action is now."

"This is a life and death crisis for our society," said Governor Harold Hughes before the packed crowd. "If you don't believe in a society of equality and justice for all . . . then you no longer can quote the Gettysburg address or the bill of rights . . ."

Not by Potomac

The candidate for the United States Senate said that the problems of housing, unemployment, the double stand of law enforcement, "poverty cultural and spiritual," and the failure to communicate between the races "are problems not solved on the banks of the Potomac. They are solved in the hearts of men and women in the cities and state."

Fear Julia B. Mayer Cntr. May Close Down

Fear for the Julia B. Mayer Center's continuation has been expressed by Lou Williams the center's director.

Williams said last week that due to harassment and physical abuse of the white staff workers by a dozen or so young Negro adults may lead to the Center's temporary closing to re-evaluate the situation.

"Quite a bit of a planned something is going on at the Center. It's going on every minute. The problem is on the increase," Williams said. "Two of the staff members are leaving."

Dangerous

The Director stated that some of the clubs are being segregated by youths who do not wish whites to use facilities of the Center, who do not want to be supervised by whites. Williams also said that Negro youth clubs were being formed by three young men at the Center whom he considered to be "dangerous."

A group worker agreed that the violence is being initiated by a small number, but that the actions seem to be contagious. "Actually," the worker said, "the kids are pretty level headed." He, too, advocated temporarily closing the center if this would put it back to its good standing.

Banned

The group worker, a Negro, said that he could hold his own with the teenagers, but that those who were causing the trouble should be banned from activities.

St. Louis Couple's Suit Is Gaining Support From All Over the Country

Washington—The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, jointly with three other organizations, has called upon the United States Supreme Court to validate the right of Negroes to purchase property on the same terms as other citizens under an 1866 Federal statute.

Jones Family

The National Committee Against Discrimination in Housing, the Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith and the American Jewish Congress joined the NAACP in filing a friend-of-the-court brief, Jan. 17, with the Supreme Court in support of a suit by Joseph Lee Jones and his wife who, solely on racial grounds, had been turned down when they sought to purchase a home in a huge, private housing development in suburban St. Louis in 1965.

The Supreme Court agreed to review the case last Dec. 4. It is expected to hear argument during the March term.

Senator Brooke on Tour Through Afr. Countries Friday

Washington, D.C.—On Friday, Jan. 12, Sen. Edward W. Brooke (R-Mass.) left on a 26-day inspection and fact-finding tour of sub-Saharan Africa in connection with his duties as a member of the Senate Banking and Currency Committee.

The junior Senator from Massachusetts is traveling to 12 African countries including such prominent black African states as: Senegal, Guinea, Nigeria and Tanzania.

Leaders

Sen. Brooke decided last spring to undertake this trip so that he might study first-hand, some of the "swift and revolutionary changes" that are occurring in Africa, while our attention has been focused on Southeast Asia. "I want," said Senator Brooke, "to examine the resources and potential of the new nations of Africa, to discuss with African leaders the needs of their countries, to explore the private and public investment opportunities and the incentives which they could offer and the possibilities for regional cooperation."

Perry Hooks Will Speak for Youth Day

National Youth Day will be observed at Corinthian Baptist Church, with Perry Hooks, executive Director of the Des Moines Human Rights Commission scheduled to speak at 11 a.m. The youth will be in charge of devotion.

PERRY W. HOOKS

Hooks is expected to comment on some of the unacceptable "social behavior that we witness. Basically youth are good. They have a responsible role to play in society. As adults we haven't set an example for youth of today. They won't accept old patterns without questioning them." He will also touch on some of the ways in which Christians should assume responsibility of the community. Hooks said within the structure of the Negro Church, toward the closing the gap in integration, they would run into "resentment from the Negro Church."

Let's play politics—where would the world be today if it hadn't been for c.p. time? Why, history would be in chaos!

Take the case of the hare and the tortoise race way back then. If the rabbit had been on time, he would have won! See, the race was set for noon, but ole Harvey didn't want to come directly at noon because he would probably be the only one there; couldn't come at 12:30 because he would be late. So he hipped it over there at 12:15, but the tortoise had gotten there at 12:10 and had beat a path on out of there.

And Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Smartmelon, you remember them, Mr. Smartmelon was running for president of the United States, the first Negro to do so. If it hadn't been for C.P. time, he would have won, but Smartmelon, like Harvey, didn't want to start his campaign too early, so he started it two weeks before election. Well, he lost, of course, but if he had been on time, it would have been a first and history would have certainly been in chaos.

And that Revere fellow—everyone knows he was Negro anyway. Well, if he hadn't been on C.P. time, he could have walked around town telling about the Redcoat souls on their way. No, he was in a dilemma about what to wear and who he would see on the way—cat realized he was late, had to use his horse. Hadn't been for c.p. time he could have saved the poor horse a lot of horse-shoe wear!

About this policeman at each school thing—no, babe. You want to get arrested for indecent exposure in case you fix your stocking in the hall?

From STAN'S—Heard last week Sam and Dave's I Thank You, believe it is, and Otis Redding's Sitting on the Dock by the Bay. Redding's release, along with his album "History of Otis Redding", should be two to add to your file on the soul man.

There are few things certain in this world, and one of them is that no woman is wearing shoes too large for her.

Drive-in banking was invented so cars could go in and see their real owners...

"My advice, sir," said the mechanic to the car owner, "is that you keep the oil and change the car."

He didn't want to marry her for her money, but he didn't know any other way to get it.

Anybody who says invention of the wheel was a boon to mankind has never played roulette!

HEALTH FOR ALL

Instead of a White Christmas, millions of people not so long ago had the White Plague. The White Plague was TB.

To combat this devastating illness, the National Tuberculosis Association was formed in this country at the turn of the century. In the same year—1904—the first Christmas Seal was created by a Danish postal clerk. Why not, he thought, urge people to buy a special stamp while their holiday spirit was soaring? The Danish postmaster liked the idea, and the King of Denmark asked his people to use the stamps on their Christmas cards and packages. The generous Danes responded with tremendous enthusiasm. Soon there was enough money to construct a children's tuberculosis hospital.

That was the beginning. The Seals came across the sea to people in America. The American Red Cross sponsored the first campaigns, and the Christmas Seal sported a single red cross. In 1910 the NTA joined forces with the Red Cross. A decade later, the TB Association had grown so that it could carry on the crusade alone. The Seal became a bright red double-barred cross. Soon it was a familiar part of the Christmas scene as well as a honored American tradition.

Germ

Today, a half-century later, the crusade goes on. The work of Christmas Seals through the years has helped to reduce TB drastically. But the crusade isn't over. About 30 million Americans are infected with TB germs, and nearly 100,000 persons have known, active TB. Christmas Seals still play a part in the struggle. But today they support more than the campaign against the White Plague. Contributions help sponsor the struggle against respiratory disease and the special noxious effects of air pollution and smoking. The National Tuberculosis Association slogan sums up the struggle: "It's a Matter of Life and Breath."

ROSALIE ROBINSON appeared in Drake University's Friday night Black Poetry Program in her reading of selections from Marie Evans: "The Rebel," "The Emancipation of George Hector," and "A Colored Turtle." Dolph Pulliam read two sections from "Montague of A Dream Deferred" by Langston Hughes: "One in Harlem," and "The Same in Blue." Don Peterson read "Middle Passage" by Robert Hayden. Irvin White read some of LeRoi Jones' poetry and in describing the various readings to this columnist, called the affair "pretty tremendous." He also stated that Dr. Ed Mayo, Director of Drake's poetry readings, felt that Irv's rendition of Jones' "Preface to a 20 Volume Suicide Note" "should be pretty smooth sailing" and was just that. Whereas, Irv's reading of "The New Sheriff, The Turncoat" had been anticipated as "very difficult and a lot will depend upon how you read it." Dr. Mayo's appreciative conclusion was "You have given me a different interpretation of it and it makes a lot of sense!" Phyllis Griffin found the program "enjoyable and exceptionally good for Des Moines".

DAVID WALKER, who on Saturday appeared in Chicago Civic Opera House's presentation of Lucia Di Lammermoor has been gone from Des Moines two years as of September, 1967. Irv White who as "Crook-finger Jake" appeared with Walker, "Mack the Knife", in Drama Workshop's 1964 production of Three Penny Opera says of him "He is a fine performer a sensitive, accomplished artist, and I like him as a person". We have been friends for a long time. We were the first staff members of KFMG (FM Radio) when it opened. It is always good to hear from him." Chicago's FM Station WMB's publicity material states that "the collegiate looking Walker, 29, is an accomplished bass singer and has performed in a solo capacity at the Northwestern University Opera Workshop and with the Rockefeller Chapel Chorus of the Apollo Opera Company. He has also managed to work into his busy schedule a current voice-teaching program, a part of Winnetkato New Trier High School's music department." Chicago's Sunday Times Nov. 11, 1967, speaks of Walker as "a first rate announcer who tapes an entire week's schedule in just a few hours, including commentary and commercials."

PAM AND LOUIE SUDHEIMER just returned from a week of skiing in Salt Lake City, Utah. Describing 86 inches of snow, Pam exclaimed "We have pictures but the cameras can't capture the beauty of it all. Des Moines thinks it has snow but it snows a foot there every night." They skied at Little Cottonwood, a very narrow valley; the approach is very narrow and the ski area like a plateau—very wide. They saw a couple of avalanches! They can be very narrow or very wide and appear to be big slabs of snow. Too steep to remain on the mountainside, they slither down to rest on a flat portion of the valley. Ski patrols rise early each a.m., ski out to the already mounted guns, and fire them into the air. The sounds force avalanches to complete descents. Thereby making skiing possible and a little safer. Any large sounds or movements can start the descent of an avalanche. What appears to be a big, flat blanket of snow may in reality be an untapped avalanche! Pam says this to the girls, for skiing preconditioning leg muscles helps a lot!

The Church of God and Saints will have their skating party Jan. 28, 7-10 p.m. at the Terrace Roller Rink. Look to see you there!

Service is as important as the product you buy.

Save money by making sure... before you buy... that reliable repair service is available locally.

Six rules of buying a product that will need maintenance or repair:

1. Expect good sales service. If you don't get it you're likely to have trouble when you need repairs.
2. A guarantee is only as good as the organization behind it. Read it carefully.
3. Think of the product in terms of need for maintenance and availability of parts and service.
4. A good product name is essential but not enough if facilities for service are lacking.
5. Utility companies may be able to tell you where to obtain good service.
6. A dealer with adequate service facilities may have to charge a slightly higher price for the product.

You save in the long run with those who have facilities for good service.

Beauty, Culture Class at Walnut Hills Encourages Girls

The Walnut Hills Beauty and Culture Class is in its third week of the spring session, and comments on the course have ranged from unique to excellent.

Mrs. Vera Morrow, supervisor of the project, said that seventeen girls were enrolled to learn techniques of personality development, confidence, and general beauty guidance procedures.

Return to School

The program, which ends in May, also aims at helping young women who have been forced to drop out of school to return; or to take the GED test for the equivalent of a high school diploma. Others, as in the winter class, were so interested in beauty care that two received scholarships to attend cosmetology school.

"We try to initiate good grooming into their lives," said Mrs. Morrow. "The class meets three nights a week, 4:30-10:30 p.m., Monday, Wednesday and Friday. Some girls have personal problems, we are helping to eliminate some of these problems."

Chesterfield

Under Mrs. Morrow's skillful guidance, the Chesterfield Opportunity Center has begun a similar project for adults.

Your professional beautician knows the answer...

Can your hair be damaged from brushing, alone?

All hair becomes damaged from exposure to sun and natural elements. Certain greasy compounds and many chemicals, improperly used, also take their toll... not to mention simple attempts at beautifying the hair with any brush not made of natural bristles. The results are brittleness, breakage, dry and dull looking hair.

Your professional beautician knows how artificial bristles actually brush away a great deal of the "lubricants" of the hair that give it body, lustre and protection. And trained beauticians claim that nothing beats Clairol® condition® Beauty Pack Treatment for overcoming brittleness, dryness and breakage... leaving hair lively and easy to manage. condition® is an easy-to-work-with creme which can even be applied during a chemical straightening retouch to prevent drying of hair that has been previously relaxed. condition® is the ultimate in repairing deep-down damage. And, when time is a factor for their customers, hairdressers turn to new Clairol® Hair Dew®—the lotion conditioner that penetrates so fast many think of it as an instant conditioner. When applied regularly by your beautician, Clairol Hair Dew adds body, softens and gives a glowing new look to your hair that many friends will notice and admire.

Damage can come from using brushes with artificial bristles. But damage to every woman's hair comes from so many other causes that all human hair (including wigs) needs to be revitalized periodically. Visit your professional beautician and ask this expert to check the condition of your hair.

Only your professional beautician knows the answer for sure.

WE CAN'T AGREE WITH EARTHA KITT

When guests are invited in by a hostess for an occasion, common courtesy requires that they conform to the program of the hostess. And of course it is the height of impropriety and lack of good breeding and manners to insult the hostess.

That is just what Eartha Kitt did when she attended a meeting at the White House as a guest of Mrs. Lyndon Johnson and took the occasion to insult and otherwise embarrass the first lady.

And of all people who do not merit such treatment, they are President and Mrs. Johnson for they have opened the facilities of the White House for more Negroes than any other President and first lady.

Maybe some of the things Miss Kitt said are true but this was not the place or occasion to say them.

Miss Kitt is a fine actress and yet she has been known to walk off stage during a performance only to leave her audience cold. And thus maybe she should not have been invited to the White House. But as an old rancher once said "You can't make a jackass whistle like a mocking bird."

Our apologies go to the hostess with the hope that inviting Negro women to the White House in the future, they will display culture rather than crudeness and bad taste.

SHERIFF'S SPECIAL
FORCE UNWANTED

A number of Iowa sheriffs in their desperation to prevent and control riots in the streets are planning a 300 man task force to meet the threat.

This force will consist of sheriffs, deputies and just plain citizens. The latter will be required to equip themselves and will undergo some training in riot control.

The urgency grows out of the riot on the Iowa University campus and by Negroes in the streets. They accuse the highway patrol of poor cooperation with other law enforcement officials which allowed the trouble to get out of hand at Iowa City.

Every good citizen should be anxious to control riots and other related criminal activities. But we just cannot survive without better law enforcement by the authorities and law and order by the public.

On the other hand, we are skeptical of Mr. ordinary citizen being allowed to buy his gun and club and to be clothed with authority to act the part of law enforcement officials.

Then, too, there have been other disturbances that have gotten out of hand which the sheriffs themselves have winked at. We had a bad situation in Harlan, Iowa last year; we have had rather nasty strikes in Des Moines. And while most union men have followed the rules as to just what pickets can do or have obeyed injunctions of the courts until the issues have been resolved, some men have gone beyond the agreed practice threatening some employers and injuring others.

Of course the new force will not meet this situation as most sheriffs have done in the past. They should treat law breakers all alike.

We believe the elected officers can take care of these situations if they act promptly and decisively. If it comes to worse, we are maintaining national guard units for these and other disturbances that get out of hand.

A NEW APPROACH TO RACIAL TROUBLES

The clergy in Des Moines has launched a program designed to call attention to racial injustices in Iowa. The first meeting was held in Des Moines Sunday and was addressed by Gov. Hughes who implored that the time for talking was over, that conditions of racial justice in Iowa were greater than most people thought and that action was of uppermost importance.

Similar meetings are being held in other parts of the state.

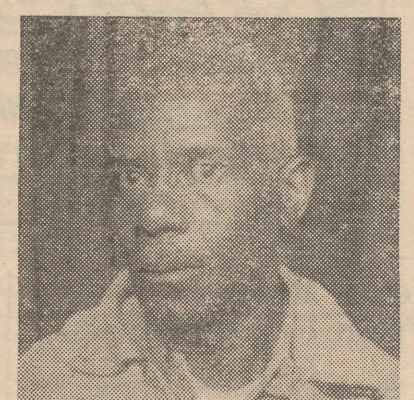

All these complaints have been made by those working in the field of human rights for years. The failure to take them seriously has brought us to the predicament we are in.

We are not unmindful that much progress has been made. However, the gap between what minorities received out of the whole gross national income is so great that many become impatient and resort to things they should not do.

Minorities have a great responsibility themselves to carry their share of the effort, of seizing every opportunity to better the situation and not use their complaints as a reason to lay down on the job.

The success of this program will depend upon just how well the races work together; that opportunities are created in all fields fully integrated and that jobs and opportunities not be Negro jobs simply but one among the many.

With Allen Ashby

The basketball game of the year has been played and it turned out about as we had it figured. A hair-line win for Houston over UCLA winner of over forty games. We thought Houston began preparing for this game at the end of the game last spring. And you work that hard, wrap up your whole season into one game, you'd better win it or your ball club can forget it for the rest of the season.

We would have to say this Elvin Hayes fellow of Houston is some player, a great pro prospect, although we never did understand why he wasn't challenged on those shots from the corner in the first half. That was the ball game. We would guess that the tremendous vocal support of the crowd got to UCLA more than a little. One has to experience that to really understand what it can do to your game until you finally shake it off, if you do. I had that experience two times and both times the effect was rather numbing to say the least. When one realizes that no team sport generates spectator emotions like basketball, not even football, one can see what we mean.

It must be said for the UCLA's big fellow Lew Alcindor, that he is a real champ. It seems to be the consensus of opinion that with two good eyes and in condition the thing might have been reversed by that one man.

But that is the mark of a champion. You know you are not up to par, but you go out and do your best and hope it is good enough, and if it isn't you accept the results without a murmur. Alcindor did just that.

Meanwhile here in Iowa, the Hawkeyes really sat on Minnesota, but Iowa State seems to have lost half of their teams through injuries and will have lost what might have been

Mays, Robinson to Play in Golf Tourney

San Diego, Calif. — Professional baseball and football superstars of today and yesterday headline an extraordinary assembly of talented athletes who will participate in the $30,000 American Airlines Astrojet Golf Classic February 16-18 at La Costa Country Club, near San Diego.

Such celebrated present-day stars as Carl Yastrzemski, Willie Mays, Mickey Mantle and Al Kaline of baseball fame and Bart Starr, Johnny Unitas, Don Meredith and Daryle Lamonia from football will be among the players in the unique 54-hole tournament, according to F. J. (Jack) Mullins, senior vice president of the sponsoring airline.

Moreover, four members of baseball's Hall of Fame—Joe DiMaggio, Bob Feller, Jackie Robinson and Dizzy Dean—as well as football Hall of Famer Otto Graham will tee off in the Astrojet Classic.

The tournament teams a baseball personality with his football counterpart. Competition among the 30 participating teams is partner best ball on a net basis, using combined handicaps. First prize is $10,000, second $5,000 and third $4,000, with the partners splitting the money.

a good year for them. Drake gets things going again and we hope everybody passes their mid term exams.

In the high schools, the East-Roosevelt game must have been a real roughhouse. Never heard so many fouls called since we used to play. It looks very much as if those Riders can go all the way whether you like them or not.

East and North, along with Lincoln don't have bad teams, but this is a bad year for them in the city. We have been watching the high schools around the state and it doesn't look as if there are anymore outstanding players around than there are here on the Roosevelt and Ankeny teams. They meet next month and that should be a real jim dandy.

We pulled for our wrestlers to come through and wouldn't you know it, there was a Shade guy winning one title. This has to be the longest record for one family in the local high schools, possibly in the state. Just at a guess, we would say there has been a Shade wrestling for Tech for ten years, and all of them were champions in their own class. We would guess that one of the troubles of East high's Roger Cassell is big men to work out with so he can build up his strength and resistance. But the guy has potential and may be heard from yet.

Ladies' high individual averages are: Jane Brown, 585, 231, series and game; Lue Verda Martin, 571, 247, series and game; and Gwen Stubbs, 558, 237, series and game.

Mrs. Brown bowled a 507 high series Jan. 16, and Gwen Stubbs a 508. Barbara Henderson bowled a triplicate 129, also on Jan. 16, and Erma Carr picked up the 6-10-7 of the Big Four split.

Named 'Bowler of the Month for December' was Deloris Davis, representing the Tri-Hard League at Thunderbird Lanes.

The League bowls every Tuesday night at Capitol Lanes. Rose Tolson is president.

Houston, Tex. — The number one rated college basketball team in the country toppled Saturday night when they lost to Houston's Cougars, 71-69.

7 foot one inch center Lew Alcindor, hampered by an eye injury, was held to 15 points, while Elvin Hayes shot 39 points before the 52,000 plus Cougar partisan fans.

The victory was Houston's eighteenth straight and forty-ninth straight in the southern city. Houston Tuesday was number one on the polls.

Iowa City, Ia. — Minnesota was a surprised team here Saturday night when the Iowa Hawkeyes defeated them, 82-70. Sam Williams scored 19 points, and Huston Breedlove, 3.

Columbia, Mo. — Iowa State was wallowed Saturday afternoon when they ran into big Missouri. The Cyclones may have been hampered from the absence of Don Smith, who set out part of the first half, then left the game on personal with 12 minutes, 38 seconds remaining in the second.

Smith did wrap up 18 points, Bill Cain, 17 points. High for Missouri was Gene Jones with 25 points.

Kansas City, Mo. — Former North High sprintster, Clyde Duncan won the 60 yard dash in the N.A.I.A. Indoor track meet here Saturday night, being timed at 6.1 seconds.

Letters from Our Readers

A bit of prose... a line or two of poetry... a letter now and then to express thoughts in the minds of our many readers.

Send Yours Today

Send your letters today to the Post Exchange, 221 Locust. We welcome letters from servicemen in the United States and from all over the world: their thoughts as black men and as Americans.

To the Editor:

I thought that the President's "State of the Union" address gave "US" something to look forward to, right? I was recently in the Bahamas and I heard from the horse's mouth that Martin Luther King is going to run for President right after the big bash in D.C. in April. Have you ever thought of "Equal Opportunity" in this respect: there is such a demand for it you have to qualify for it?

Have you read this week's T.V. guide? It kind of sums up "OUR" lives regardless who we are and I quote, "Television feeds the frustrations and angers of the black masses by showing them a way of life they may never enjoy, a world from which they are forever barred." It also points out that regardless of how high "WE" get on the salary scale "WE" are left out of the mainstream of society, unable, because "Our" color, to actually belong. Which is kind of what everything that is going on is all about. We can face this fact or we can come up with something else as we always have. As I see it "WE" are invisible and nobody knows we're here.
