Pinpoints Housing as Nation's Top Problem

Jobs for 500,000 Unemployed Poor

Washington, D. C. (Special) — President Lyndon B. Johnson reaffirmed his vigorous stand on civil rights and called for action by the Congress in a Special Civil Rights Message to the Congress last Wednesday.

Points

The President said: "In this session, I appeal to the Congress to complete the task it has begun: To strengthen Federal criminal laws prohibiting violent interference with the exercise of civil rights. To give the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission the authority it needs to carry out its vital responsibilities. To assure the Federal and State juries are selected without discrimination. To make equal opportunity in housing a reality for all Americans."

On the issue of employment the President reiterated his request for Congress to appropriate $2.1 billion for a manpower program to help secure jobs for 500,000 hard-core unemployed in the major cities. A message on this subject was sent to the Congress earlier.

Segregation

Johnson told Congress: "Segregation in housing compounds the Nation's social and economic problems. When those who have the means to move out of the central city are denied the chance to do so, the result is a compression of population in the center. In that crowded ghetto, human tragedies — and crime — increase and multiply. Unemployment and educational problems are compounded — because isolation in the central city prevents minority groups from reaching schools and available jobs in other areas."

Housing Referendum in Flint Is Taken to Court

Flint, Mich. — The Flint Branch of the NAACP has gone into the Michigan courts in an effort to prevent this city of 200,000 from submitting to referendum on the city's Fair Housing Ordinance.

The City Commission here passed and approved its fair housing law on Oct. 30, 1967. It became effective on Nov. 10.

Submit

Subsequently, petitions were circulated in Flint to submit the new ordinance to a popular referendum. The city attorney submitted the following ballot title: "Do you approve Ordinance No. 2008 which prohibits discrimination in the sale or rental of housing and provides penalties for violation?" With the determination to submit the issue to popular referendum, the ordinance was suspended on December 5 at the time petitions were certified.

The City Commission set a special election date for Feb. 20. It is this election which the NAACP seeks to prevent.

In its show cause order, the Flint NAACP argues that the referendum violates the Fourteenth Amendment in that it constitutes state action which "permits encourages and authorizes discrimination in the sale or rental of housing, and as such would permit, authorize and encourage discrimination in the sale or rental of housing against plaintiffs who are

"We want to upgrade the police department all the way through," Spencer declared.

New York — If the American Negro is to escape the legacy of ghetto life, industrial management "will have to overcome its present state of inertia," according to Russell W. 16-Year-Old David Hicks Fatally Injured Friday

Ottumwa, Ia.—An Ottumwa youth was killed Friday night in a spectacular four car collision.

Fatally injured was David W. Hicks, 16, who died after a high speed chase ending in the 300 block of West Main. Hicks was transported to University Hospitals in Iowa City from Ottumwa Hospital shortly after the accident, but died there about 5 a.m. Saturday morning.

This was the second major traffic disaster of the month in this city.

The 16-year-old youth was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Hicks, of 709 Ash street. Well liked, he was an outstanding linebacker on the Ottumwa High football team, a junior.

Hicks was a passenger in a car driven by 17-year-old Gordon Bittle, Jr., reported in critical condition.

Nine persons were injured as a result of the accident. According to reports, the Bittle car struck a parked panel truck while the owner was shopping. The wife and five children were in the truck at the time of the mishap. They are reported in good condition.

Officers said the force knocked the panel truck into a parked car, which struck another car. Also injured and reported in fair condition are Kevin Shepard, 16, and Charles Masterson, 17, passengers in the Bittle car.

Services

Funeral services for David were Tuesday, 1:30 p.m. at the First Methodist Church with Rev. Marshall Smith officiating. Burial was in the Ottumwa Cemetery.

Defends President on Employment Programs

Eleanora E. Ttate

The Deputy Chairman of the Democratic National Committee Friday defended President Lyndon Johnson's Manpower programs on hand core unemployed, and said that every Negro can get the job he wanted if he had the opportunity.

Louis Martin, attending the "Victory '68" regional conference which met Jan. 26-27 at the Hotel Kirkwood, said that Johnson's 11 point document on civil rights issued last week would provide training for over 500,000 hard core unemployed persons.

Newspaper

"As long as he has the opportunity, the Negro can get the job," said Martin. "This is the first time in history that you can say that." The vice president of the Michigan Chronicle, a newspaper which Martin helped to organize in 1936 defended Johnson when asked about Roy Wilkins, executive director of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, who criticized the president for only briefly touching on the civil rights issue in his State of the Union message. Martin pointed out that the Union message itself was not to have been a civil rights report.

Rights

"Urban problems are a part of civil rights, he said," and it has to include economic rights." The program to train the unemployed, the "economic training is not old fashioned," Martin stated.

The ballot box the past year in such cities as Gary, Ind. and Cleveland, Ohio, are apt examples of power, the deputy chairman said, and economic power will provide an opportunity for black people to get power—"a black power. And we (Democrats) are getting it there."

Background

Mr. Martin, born in Savannah, Ga., attended the University of Michigan. He has also worked as a reporter for the Chicago Defender, and in 1959 spent a year in Nigeria to organize communications for that country toward its independence. In 1960, he campaigned for the late president John F. Kennedy, upon which he came national deputy.

Your professional beautician knows the answer...

Can your hair be damaged from brushing, alone?

All hair becomes damaged from exposure to sun and natural elements. Certain greasy compounds and many chemicals, improperly used, also take their toll... not to mention simple attempts at beautifying the hair with any brush not made of natural bristles. The results are brittleness, breakage, dry and dull looking hair.

Your professional beautician knows how artificial bristles actually brush away a great deal of the "lubricants" of the hair that give it body, lustre and protection. And trained beauticians claim that nothing beats Clairol® condition* Beauty Pack Treatment for overcoming brittleness, dryness and breakage... leaving hair lively and easy to manage. condition* is an easy-to-work-with creme which can even be applied during a chemical straightening retouch to prevent drying of hair that has been previously relaxed. condition* is the ultimate in repairing deep-down damage. And, when time is a factor for their customers, hairdressers turn to new Clairol® Hair Dew*—the lotion conditioner that penetrates so fast many think of it as an instant conditioner. When applied regularly by your beautician, Clairol Hair Dew adds body, softens and gives a glowing new look to your hair that many friends will notice and admire.

Damage can come from using brushes with artificial bristles. But damage to every woman's hair comes from so many other causes that all human hair (including wigs) needs to be revitalized periodically. Visit your professional beautician and ask this expert to check the condition of your hair.

Only your professional beautician knows the answer for sure.

Do's And Don'ts

Negro's Future Lies in Battles in The Court

Speaking before the Willkie House Mothers Coffee Group Tuesday, Atty. Nolden Gentry said that the struggle of the Negro to be accepted is an all over American issue, with the backbone of his struggle in the courts.

NOLDEN GENTRY

"Future court battles will probably fall in housing, employment and de facto segregation in the public schools."

Gentry cited various segments in Negro history which are regarded as landmarks in the black man's struggle to gain civil rights, although prior to the Dred Scott decision, "there was no clear definition of the Negro's legal rights."

He cited amendments which came into being during and after the Civil War, which constitutionally helped to bring about the Negro's freedom, although not all were observed by the states.

Court

The twentieth century brought about more court-waged war between freedom and segregation: in 1935 Negroes launched an all-out attack, the first of which began in a Missouri law school, another in 1950 at Oklahoma University where a black student was forced to sit at a designated table or on the floor, and at the University of Texas Law School. It was finally ruled that Negro law schools could not be compared to the Texas law school which make for greatness.

Goal

"We are moving toward the goal of integration," said Gentry. "We are certain that all of the schools across the country will be desegregated in the future, excepting certain schools in metropolitan areas."

Willie's Pit BarBQ A Delight in Ottumwa

Ottumwa, Iowa—Willie's Pit BarBQ is well-known to Ottumwa residents and those surrounding the city, for Willie Nesbit, owner, has been in operation a little over five years.

However, it was not until last July that he was able to move from 608 North Hancock to his present location of 714 E. Vine street. It was during this time that he received a Small Business Administration loan in the amount of $25,000.

The father of two sons and daughter, Mr. Nesbit features ham, pork, beef and chicken dinners as well as steak, spare rib and back rib delicacies; pan fried catfish (which includes cole slaw, macaroni and muffins) is a favorite, and his fried chicken is a welcome delight.

SBA

Willie, Jr. is in Viet Nam, and son Martin is currently working for Edgely Wholesale House, a druggist. Daughter Evelyn is in Junior High school.

The Small Business Administration, located in the Federal Building, 2nd and Walnut, Des Moines, provides businessmen opportunities to expand and/or maintain their business in a variety of ways. For more information contact Mrs. W. S. Glanton, assistant regional counsel.

James Brown Revue on Saturday eve channel 5, 8:30 p.m. the Hollywood Palace . . . See the Fifth Dimension on Ed Sullivan? And Dionne Warwick on Carol Burnett? Brown has one out which is almost sexual, such a beat . . . "Guess Who's Coming to Dinner" is filled with amusement, stereotypes and misty-eye moments. Starring Sidney Poitier as Dr. John Prentice, the Who's Who of the Medical World, Katharine Houghton as his mis-intended, Katherine Hepburn as her mother, the late Spencer Tracey as the liberal father caught up in his own mental web, and Isabell Sanford as Tillie the Negro Maid who loves her white folks and hates "silly ass Niggers", the movie provides us with a well-woven look at contemporary life in mixed race matrimonial entanglements.

Tillie

Tillie, a modern inside straight from the pages of Gone with the Wind, is excellently portrayed by Miss Sanford, although I feel that the character was exaggerated in her attempts to prove to Preston that his kind is not wanted. Miss Hepburn can be commended in her role of the understanding mother who can see beyond the color bar to universal love. Her husband, however, is at a loss when confronted face-to-face to the values which he instilled in his daughter. And a blue-lemon goes to Cecil Kellaway, the liquor-sipping Monsignor Ryan who begins the evening with a glass and smiling and leaves it the same way. Coming soon to Des Moines. See it.

Cambridge

Heard "The Godfrey Cambridge

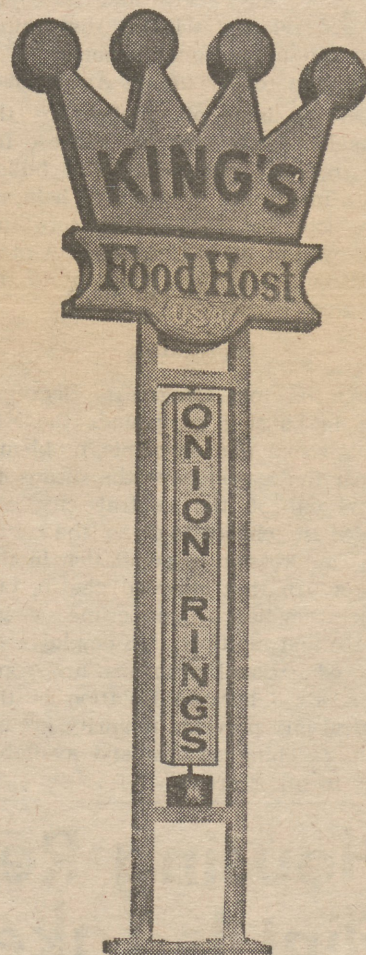

Show," recorded live at Las Vegas? Cambridge, the bitter-sweet but loved comedian of the blue-black blood set, will keep you laughing as he goes his rounds: Las Vegas, Sodom and Gomorrah West; Topless and the New Sexual Object—Elbows; Negro History—black power; and Cambridge Italian Style, part one and two. Cambridge: "My race, Norwegian, placed last in embezzlement and tax evasion." From Columbia Records.

It is unfortunate that Ronnie Simmons has decreed that all female members of YAC must wear naturals, another unrealistic command from the male race, and Mr. Simmons knows how I feel about this. I only hope next time he will take my word on the matter and begin to heartily campaign for Eartha Kitt, the soft spoken lady of the century. Otherwise we may call out the Amazon Commandoes and overpower him.

There is a new Peaches of the Peaches and Herb duo . . . the Milwaukee Courier says that Tammi Terrell of the Marvin Gaye-Tammi Terrell team has been hospitalized following recent brain surgery. "Officials at Motown in Detroit," says are article, "will neither confirm or deny rumors that Miss Terrell is suffering from an 'inoperable' brain tumor . . . Her former singing partner, Marvin Gaye, has been soling with occasional feminine help from Maxine Brown . . ." the article goes on to say that Lou Rawls' wife claims Rawls inflicted a "merciless beating" upon the Texas blonde.

Heard that Sonya Davis, who caused a commotion with her version of "Ode to Billy Joe" to sign with Tel Fi Recordings, starting with "I'm Gonna Leave You," written in 5/4 time. Gotta hear this . . . Mable John of STAX will open a charm and finishing school to teach entertainers how to move on and off the stage. Newest hit by Miss John is "Catch that Man."

HEALTH FOR ALL

Drugs, like a lot of other things in modern life, have their special mythology. Much of this mystic lore attaches to the "mind-expanding" drugs currently favored by members of the "now" set.

"About this 'now' business, incidentally: according to the experts, it's all that really counts. A toothache that happened yesterday is a 'drag,' but a toothache that's 'now' is great because see, man, it's what's happening!"

But getting back to drug mythology, let's take LSD for example. Or rather, let's now take it—unless we want to risk going off our chump for 24 hours or six months or maybe a year. It's what's happening, man!

LSD is supposed to make people more "creative." But according to psychiatrists who've made careful tests, it does nothing of the sort. The usual reaction of writers, artists and composers to whatever they "created" during a "trip" has been, "Holy cow, was that me?"

The drug is also said to "expand one's consciousness," but that hasn't worked out too well, either. Except maybe with a consciousness so empty that even technicolor nightmares seem an improvement.

Brain Damage

One solid fact has recently been discovered about LSD. It causes damage to the chromosomes—the tiny particles in our body cells that control heredity. Mice fed LSD bring forth brain-damaged offspring.

Well, mice can't heed written warnings, but you can. Mice can't "expand their minds" by listening to great music, reading fine literature, viewing marvelous paintings. But you can. Dig, man?

Doctors are against nonmedical use of LSD—or, for that matter, any other drug.

To Start a Hot Day Right—

Eat a Cool Refreshing Breakfast

A cool, refreshing breakfast can do so much to lift the spirits of your family at the start of another hot, summer day. Serve them fresh fruit atop crisp shredded wheat with chilled milk and just see if they do not feel better and work better, especially in the late morning hours.

Is it really worth while to take ten minutes of your time each day to ensure that your family has an adequate morning meal? Research at a leading Midwestern university on the importance of breakfast has demonstrated that the physical and mental well-being of the subjects improved if they ate an adequate morning meal. In just ten minutes you can prepare a basic breakfast of fruit, cereal, milk, bread and butter. This is a basic breakfast pattern recommended by leading doctors and dietitians to provide an adequate morning meal.

In hot weather, it is especially important to think up ways to make the morning meal as cool and attractive as possible. The many fresh fruits, varieties of ready-to-eat breakfast cereals and breadstuffs available on today's market make variety easy. Have you given any thought to your table setting? Are you using cool-looking place mats, such as straw, bamboo, or pastel plastic? Do you always serve breakfast in the kitchen or dining room? What about serving breakfast on the porch or patio? Sometimes setting breakfast on a tray adds interest and variety. Then each one in the family can carry his tray to the coolest spot possible.

A little extra care and planning to make the morning meal as cool, attractive, and refreshing as possible will pay large dividends if it encourages the family to start the day right—by eating breakfast. A cereal and milk breakfast is a light, modern, nutritious breakfast that can be served with a minimum of effort yet provides the family with an adequate morning meal.

African Student Is Welcomed in Keokuk Family's Home

Keokuk, Ia. — Jossiah Bavu, a sophomore at Grandview College in Des Moines where he is a pre-medical student under the auspices of Lutheran Church of America, was a house guest of Mr. and Mrs. Gentry Koch of Keokuk during the Christmas holidays.

Mr. Bavu comes from Tanzania, Africa, from the village of Kumbi, about 18 miles from Dar E Salaam on the East Coast of Tanzania. His grandfather was one of the first native-born Christian ministers of that area, having been ordained thirty years ago. The family is a closely knit one (Jossiah has 13 brothers and sisters), even though some of the members are of the Islam faith and others of the Christian.

Home

The father is no longer living but the mother remains in the village where she maintains "home"—a place for all to come. By tribal custom, she maintains her maiden name. Jossiah explained that she will always be well and lovingly cared for in that home for there will always be children and grandchildren to come to her as her needs require.

Mr. and Mrs. Koch report Jossiah to be a wonderful guest—intelligent, happy and a real joy to have in their home. They look forward to have him return for future visits.

NAACP

Mr. and Mrs. Koch are active in the NAACP in Keokuk and though not of the Negro race, they believe wholeheartedly that learning to know one another as friends and individuals will go far toward breaking the barriers which have troubled the nation. They are co-chairman of the NAACP committee which is establishing inter-race, inter-faith fire-side chats this winter and are pleased with the results and the good fellowship which is developing.

Family Finances

Are you planning to buy a new car on credit? Before you rush into installment buying, ask yourself, "Do I really need a new car immediately?" Then consider saving until you have enough money to pay cash.

Borrowing is an expensive business these days. For example, say you had $800 on hand and wanted to buy a $2,400 car. You'd have to borrow $1,600. If the interest rate were only 5%, the loan would cost you $120 over 18 months. The car would actually cost you $2,520, and you'd have payments of $95.55 a month.

On the other hand, if you put your $800 in a savings account, and added a deposit of $95.55 each month, at the end of 18 months, you'd have the $2,400 cash you need for the new car, plus over $220 in accumulated interest.

If you can, put off buying that car until you can pay cash. You'll be money ahead.

Hamburger Coming Up by Betty Crocker

Trying to stash away cash for the Easter bonnet fund? O.K., then, let's glorify hamburger — the best friend a pennypincher ever had. For a starter, here's a cheeseburger surprise: A chunk of blue cheese bedded inside a quarter pound of ground beef. You'll rival the local drive-in with that one. Or, how's this for entertaining on a shoestring? Meatballs with Italian spaghetti. Or marvelous lasagne, very "in" this season. And of course you'll serve the family economical meat loaf — but yours will look extravagant. Little individual loaves basted with barbecue sauce. Or try one of my recipes below. They both help you save but never ever let it show.

HAMBURGER LATTICE LOAF

1 pound ground beef
¼ cup chili sauce
1 envelope (1½ ounces) dry onion soup mix or 2 tablespoons instant minced onion
¼ cup milk
¼ teaspoon pepper
¼ teaspoon allspice
1 egg, slightly beaten
Short Pie dough (below)

Heat oven to 375°. Mix all ingredients except Short Pie dough. Spread in 9-inch pie pan. Pat Short Pie dough into a 9-inch square on waxed paper. With scissors, cut through waxed paper into 10 strips. Remove paper from half of strips; place about 1 inch apart on meat mixture. Remove paper from remaining strips; weave across other strips for lattice effect. Flute edge on inside rim. Bake 25 to 30 minutes. 6 servings.

Short Pie dough: Place 1 cup Bisquick and ¼ cup butter or margarine in a bowl. Add 3 tablespoons boiling water and stir vigorously with a fork until dough forms a ball and cleans the bowl. Dough will be puffy and soft.

Another day, another way to do a little painless penny-pinching — — — Meat Loaf a la Mode: Prepare your favorite meat loaf recipe and shape into round layer pan, 9½ inches. Press a hole in center to hold excess fat. Pat top of loaf smooth. To serve, cut meat loaf into 6 wedges; top each wedge with a scoop of mashed potatoes. Pretty as pie!

Something green for salad — something good for dessert, like hot gingerbread. Get the picture? You stretch your imagination and you bolster the budget. And, Easter Parade, here we come.

WEST DES MOINES

HONORS A COMMONER

The citizens of West Des Moines have chosen Deedie King as their citizen of the year (1967). The committee based its decision on about the same things as are used in Des Moines for its annual Tribune award.

King has been a resident of West Des Moines for forty years, coming from Arkansas where he was employed by the Rock Island Railway, coming here during the period of labor shortage and strike. He reared a family and still has a daughter in school. He has been a valuable citizen in the church and in the community.

West Des Moines, in this situation, departed from the pattern in most communities. They chose just an average citizen whose work, they thought, is just as important as that of the big fellows of the power structure who pass the plate around among themselves. Then, too, the selection encourages "Mr. Ordinary Citizen" that he too can have his outstanding work recognized.

And it's another way for the power structure to show "Mr. Average Citizen" that what he does counts.

PRACTICAL MEANS OF HELPING TROUBLE SPOTS

Citizens working in the field of civil rights have found that one big stumbling block in the path of Negro advancement has been their almost total exclusion from highly skilled jobs—particularly those with strong unions such as the building trades and machinists. Apprenticeship training has not been available and thus none could become journeymen.

Today, the Des Moines Allied Construction Council has set about to remedy the situation. Last week's Bystander carried an advertisement inviting youngsters to enter apprenticeship training in these fields. Another ad called attention to the opportunities being offered and urged that they be taken advantage of.

As another gesture, the Northwestern Bell Telephone Company has opened a special recruiting office at 1701 University Avenue where they hope to recruit men and women for all branches of their service and help others who might be able to go over to different companies.

These are practical steps which put those youngsters, who have been crying that they have nothing to do, to either accept or quit crying.

The Bystander hopes that both projects are well supported and offers its services to help where the opportunity presents itself.

The seizure by North Korea of the American intelligence ship Pueblo further complicates the Asian situation and keeps our foreign policy on the defensive.

The Koreans charge the ship was inside their shore limits while America insists that its location was in international waters. This should not be too hard to establish and yet it is the crux of the dispute.

North Korea has taken a hard position on the matter. On the other hand, America wants to negotiate the matter but only after the ship and the men, who were on board, are released.

Settlement of the question will not be easy. There are those impulsive Americans who want to use whatever means are necessary to take the ship. It is not that easy and the administration knows it.

North Korea did not come out so well in its war with us so they are willing to risk another believing their chances will be better with America fighting a war in Vietnam.

This matter is not so serious so to chance another war thousands of miles from our shores.

COME IN THE OPEN WITH COMPLAINTS

People who hide their actions by operating in the dark, by wearing pillow cases over their heads or issue unsigned documents are looked upon with suspicion and deserve little respect from the public.

Recently someone has been circulating material in what they call citing injustices to black people. They seem designed to whip up dissension among young Negroes and hinting at action against injustices.

CONTINENTAL FEATURES

We have no quarrel with anyone who wishes to make a legitimate protest against any injustice he suffers and need to be dealt with. We have a state and city civil rights commission designed to handle complaints and the NAACP which has stood ready and has championed the cause of the oppressed—with action—for over fifty years. If the publishers of these letters wish their wrong redressed, these are the places to find relief.

If these people would take advantage of some of the job offers available every day they would find a solution to many problems they complain about in the dark.

SPORTS

With Allen Ashby

There have been a lot of goings on lately that we must admit have us puzzled. One is the proposed boycott of the Olympic games by Negro athletes, and another is the more recent fuss at California U. in which the Negro players made demands that some coaches be fired.

Now we are way behind of the rest of the writers and opinion formers on the Olympic deal. But it still makes one ask some questions. What definite goal would the athletes have in mind? How would a boycott help achieve those goals? Just how segregated are the Negro athletes at the Olympic games? Are they kept to themselves, quartered alone or mixed up? When one thinks about the Negroes who made it big in later life because of their participation in the Olympic games, we guess that there really would have to be some big goals for a boycott to be successful. If we were an athlete who could quickly qualify for the big show, we would like to go and it would take a lot of persuasive talk to keep us from going. Next, who is the organizer behind the move? Is the guy a former athlete or anyone who had anything to do with Negroes in athletics before?

Think!

We would certainly give the proposed boycott a lot of thought if we were an athlete.

Now about this thing in California. We don't know too much about the details of that argument, but we have read that the Negro basketball players have demanded the firing of certain coaches. Those grievances may be real, but we don't think it is a good thing to demand the head of a coach. You see, if just any Negro, one who couldn't make the team got sore, he could holler discrimination and demand the firing of the coach or coaches. There must be a better way to settle things like that besides rushing into print and publically demanding that the coaches be fired.

Both deals look like publicity to us.

Local

We are amiss at the mention of the daily summer basketball games at Good Park. The guy who wrote the story about Roosevelt High's Toby Huston ought to come up there just one day. The game usually starts around noon and lasts until dark. When one player drops out another falls in. The fellows have to be in condition and they show it by playing all day. If a coach were to keep his team battling each other that long, the players would probably quit. But at the park it is fine.

And now as we write this, Drake and Iowa State are leading their respective league with Iowa U not far behind. Wouldn't it make history if they all won their league titles?

Globetrotters Here February 22nd

Those whirling dervishes of the basketball court known as the Harlem Globetrotters, as dashing, fancy and irrepressible as ever, will take over the Des Moines Veterans Memorial Aud. on Thursday, Feb. 22 for their big fun and thrills package starting at 8 p.m.

The magicians of the court will take on the Washington Generals, but that's only half the story. The game will be backed up by the special array of entertainment personalities the Globetrotters bring along for pre-game and half-time presentations, an assemblage of performers signed in various parts of the world touched by the celebrated cage team on its global jaunts.

The saga of the Harlem Globetrotters and the late Abe Saperstein thus goes on in fine style. This is the forty-second consecutive season for the fabulous aggregation but the first not under the aegis of the grand little impresario, who died in March of 1966, nor his estate which operated the club last season.

Owners

New owners George Gilles, Potter Palmer and John O'Neil decreed that the show go on in the tradition of Saperstein. They're still Abe Saperstein's Fabulous Harlem Globetrotters in fact as in name.

In The Service

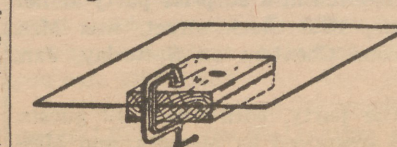

USS Ranger — Storekeeper First Class Robert L. Butler, USKN, son of Mrs. Lula M. Butler of 1735 Walker Street, has returned to "Yankee Station" of the coast of North Vietnam following a one-week rest and relaxation period in Subic Bay, Republic of the Philippines.

He is a crewmember aboard the 75,000-ton attack aircraft carrier USS Ranger on its third cruise with the U. S. Seventh Fleet and seventh deployment to Southeast Asia.

The Ranger arrived in Subic Bay in time for the New Years holiday. Many crewmen took the opportunity to visit Manila and other areas of the island during the in-port stay.

Boring Thin Material
AMERICAN BUILDER, leading magazine for builders, recently disclosed a fool-proof method of boring holes in thin material. Simply place a block of wood on each side, holding the blocks together with a "C" clamp and then boring through the blocks. This method provides a clean, smooth cut with no ravel or splinters.

Your Tax Questions

Q—I was just billed $20 for not paying an estimated tax. Is this something new? It never happened to me before.

A—The requirements for filing estimated tax declarations and paying quarterly installments are not new. However, with the automatic data processing system IRS can now check all returns to see whether taxpayers have made estimated tax payments when required to do so.

Penalties are imposed when a taxpayer does not make the quarterly payments of estimated tax required. To avoid these penalties in the future, check the requirements on the estimated tax when you file your return.

Q—Where can I get tax forms?

A—Most banks and post offices have copies of the tax forms and schedules most frequently used. Local offices of IRS also have these in stock or you can send a post card to your district director asking for the forms you need.

Q—My leg is in a cast and I have to take a cab to work. Is this deductible as a medical expense?

A—No. Transportation expenses to and from work are considered personal expenses and are not deductible. Transportation costs to the hospital or to a doctor for treatment of your leg are deductible as medical expenses, however. Check your Form 1040 instructions on how to handle these expenses.

Q—How can I be sure the person I pick to prepare my tax return is reliable?

A—Here are a few things to look for:

1. avoid the man who "guarantees" you a refund
2. be on guard if he suggests that the refund be sent to his address

3. never sign a blank tax form

4. don't sign a form that has been prepared in pencil; the figures could be easily changed

5. ask the advisor to sign the return he has prepared. Remember that when someone helps you prepare your return you are still legally responsible for every item on it.

Q—I made several payments on my son's mortgage last year. Can I deduct the part which went for interest and taxes?

A—Even if your son qualifies as your dependent, the law does not allow you any deduction for taxes and interest paid for someone else. Only if the mortgage was in your name, will any deduction be allowed. Then you may deduct the portion of the payment representing real estate taxes and interest when you itemize your deductions.

Q—I was out of a job for a month or so last year and collected state unemployment benefits. Do I declare them as income?

A—No, state unemployment benefits are not taxable and do not have to be reported as income.

Q—I send my ex-wife $150 a month to support our two children. Can I deduct these payments on my return?

A—If the $150 a month is clearly designated as child support, it is not deductible. But, alimony would be deductible by you.

Q—I lost the W-2 form I received from my summer job. What should I do?

A—Contact your employer and ask him for another copy.
