Protest "Armed Guard" at Indiana Schools

Question Police Use At South Bend School

South Bend, Ind. — Leaders of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People were scheduled to meet here this weekend, May 4-5, to map plans to continue the protest against the use of armed guards to patrol three predominantly Negro elementary and secondary schools.

The conference was called after the arrest of 131 sit-in demonstrators, Apr. 30, at the South Bend school administration building in a protest organized and directed by the NAACP Youth Council with the backing of the adult NAACP branch.

From New York City, NAACP Executive Director Roy Wilkins sent a telegram to Charles Holt, superintendent of schools, expressing the Association's "shock and outrage" that armed off-duty policemen had been employed by the school board to patrol the interior of the school buildings. He called for withdrawal of the guards and dropping of the charges against the youths and adults arrested in the demonstration.

Invasion

"This show of armed force," he said, "will enhance the image of neither the police nor the school system in the minds of pupils and community. Instead, it can only increase their hostility and distrust. We firmly support the protest of our branch and youth council against this police invasion."

Joining the Rev. Lawrence E. Crockett, branch president; Miss Barbara Harges, president of the youth council; Mrs. George C. Neagu, youth council adviser; and other local NAACP leaders for the weekend conference is Carl Roseman, the Association's national youth director.

In addition to ridding the schools of armed guards, the NAACP seeks the right to represent with counsel pupils brought up on charges and the introduction of racially integrated textbooks.

Against Board

Grievances of the Negro community against the school board are longstanding. The board is under order of the United States District Court to develop a desegregation plan. The board has failed to implement this order handed down on Sept. 13, 1967. The NAACP, on March 25, filed a motion in the court to punish the school corporation and its officers for contempt of court for failure to carry out the order. The suit is still pending.

Coffey was among five fraternity brothers from Des Moines at the meeting.

Denies Bulletin Board Was Racial Slur at Linc.

The Director of Secondary Education has termed a racial bulletin board at Lincoln High School as "an exaggerated sense of assumed prejudice."

Richard P. Klahn, Director, said that complaints came from Negro students about a bulletin board in the room of Jerald Hickey, Lincoln High School Teacher of American Problems. The board, one of two prepared for an award showed pictures of Negroes "in a derogatory fashion," according to Udell Cason, member of the United Negro Federation's Scholarship Committee. The Committee is continuing investigation of Lincoln's racial policy.

Downtrodden

However, Hickey in a letter to Lincoln High principal, Melvin J. Bowen, stated that students preparing the board were showing "what was happening to a group of people and how terrible it was that these downtrodden people should be so harshly treated." It's theme was "Why Can't We Get Along?" On Apr. 19 Miss Vickie Anderson viewed the board along with Hickey and the principal, and the three decided that the board should be taken down to "show good faith."

Blame Omaha Eruption On Wallace, Police

Omaha, Neb. — Reports filtering back from this city contend that Gov. George Wallace's appearance in March may have been one of the factors which touched off violence.

Wallace's speech, the arrest of two men and an incident at the Orpheum Theater were among the incidents leading to the violence. Most of the blame has been centered upon the "panicky attitude" by police officers, many of them young.

NAACP Defends Sit-in Students at O.S.U.

Columbus, Ohio—William J. Davis, president of the Columbus Branch of the NAACP has promised that the full resources of the Association will be brought to bear to prevent dismissal of students who "had the courage to protest Ohio State University's traditional bigotry."

According to Mr. Davis, threats by the Ohio State University trustees to dismiss Negro students who sat in the University's Administration building April 26 were in keeping with the historic pattern of discrimination pursued by the trustees and administration of the University.

Citing instances of alleged discrimination, Mr. Davis recalled that University construction projects still had few or no Negroes, in violation of Federal and state law; that the University has deliberately avoided the issue of discrimination in off-campus housing by ending its listing services; and that Negroes still have no representation in the important councils of the University.

MEMORIAL EDITION

Visit a Nursing Home On This Mother's Day

For various reasons, many elderly ladies find themselves in nursing homes throughout the city, state and country.

This Sunday, May 12, is Mother's Day, a salute to motherhood, but perhaps all women should be honored upon this one day, and especially those who may not have loved ones to commemorate them. A greeting card, a bouquet of flowers, even a short visit to any one of the many nursing homes in Des Moines will bring gratitude and happiness to those who have been forgotten.

In today's frustrated, mechanized way of life, it is easy to sweep aside persons with whom we do not ordinarily communicate, but they are there.

It only takes a moment to express a simple gesture of appreciation. Try it this Sunday.

New York—Adam Clayton Powell, expelled as a member of the U.S. House of Representatives last year, says that despite his 7-to-1 margin victory in a special election, he is prevented from taking his seat in Congress by a resolution barring him to the remainder of the Ninetieth Congress. He said that if the resolution is rescinded, he'll serve, even as the "low man on the totem pole." He explained: "I'd rather be the low man on the totem pole in Congress, because the nation needs me."

Milford Fonza Victorious; But Assn.'s Exclusion Is Called "Ridiculous"

Rhetoric played an important role in the successful appeal of Milford Fonza's case in District Court Tuesday.

Fonza, who was appealing a ten-day sentence for disturbing the peace at an apartment in which lived his wife, had been charged last summer after he supposedly threatened to beat the landlady's anatomy with his fists, Milford told the Bystander Wednesday. He said he had gone to the apartment house at 207 4th street where his wife, 23, was living, and had been there all day without the knowledge of Mrs. Ann Lodes, landlady. He said she would not have known at all if she had not seen "three Negroes enter the apartment house". It was at this time, he said, that the ex-barmaid said he threatened her.

The role of words came into being when Mrs. Lodes, according to Robert A. Wright, counsel for Fonza, 24, called Fonza a "nigger", but got upset when Fonza mentioned "damn whites".

Mr. and Mrs. Fonza now live at 1515 13th street.

Milford, Des Moines first black fireman in decades, was refused membership in the Des Moines Firefighters Association, and it is reported that the disturbing the peace conviction had been the main reason prohibiting his entry.

"It is quite unusual and precedent setting to exclude any firefighter once he has passed the probationary period," said Wright. "It certainly is without justification, it is ridiculous. No other firefighter (to my knowledge) has been excluded once he passed the probationary period." He stated that usually a fireman is generously invited to join.

Gov. Nelson Rockefeller On Iowa Tour Thursday

Governor Nelson Rockefeller completed a whirlwind trip around Iowa Thursday, the first state to greet him officially as a presidential contender.

Rockefeller arrived in Des Moines late Thursday morning, accompanied by his wife Happy and a bevy of newsmen. In his first press conference at Hotel Ft. Des Moines, he told reporters he was confident to make the next few years the greatest era the country had ever known. After dinner with Republican delegates and alternates to the national Republican convention, he met newsmen in a press dinner before departing.

In Iowa City he was welcomed by at least 10,000 cheering persons on the University of Iowa campus. Third city to see the New York governor was Cedar Rapids, where he delivered a major speech, in honor of Thomas Riley.

The Rockefeller party included Harold Brown, transportation director for all of the governor's travels. Gov. Rockefeller said that Jackie Robinson was hospitalized temporarily and was unable to make the trip. It was only last Tuesday that Rockefeller announced his candidacy for president of the United States, becoming the most recent Republican to contend for the highest government office in the nation. Running on the Republican side is former vice president Richard Nixon. Opposing them are Democrats Sen.

LFD HITS SO. PAPERS

New York — The NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund, Inc. (LDF) announced Apr. 30 that it has sent telegrams to 14 publishers of southern newspapers that running racial designations in their housing advertisements is in violation of the 1968 Civil Rights Act, which subjects these publishers to suit for such advertising.

Hails Passage of Strong Milwaukee Housing Bill

Milwaukee, Wis. — The Milwaukee Youth Council of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People and its adviser, Father James E. Groppi, are hailing the passage of a strong open housing ordinance as a "significant victory."

The ordinance passed by the Common Council, Apr. 29, exempts only rentals in owner-occupied duplexes and single-family houses, which is much stronger than the one recently enacted by Federal law.

The support of the stronger ordinance is believed to reflect a changing attitude in the community, and also the feeling that passage of the bill would help prevent violence this summer.

The Milwaukee NAACP Youth

Council had staged demonstrations for open housing since last Aug. 28, enduring stones, slurs and the rigors of Wisconsin's winter during the 200 nights of marches.

Sore

Father Groppi and his young followers were in the city's Common Council chambers when the council voted 15-4 in favor of a code outlawing discrimination in the sale or rental of all but two categories of Milwaukee housing.

Father Groppi said, "We're not forgetting we had to pay for the victory at a great price. A lot of people went to jail. A lot of people got sore feet."

Here's An Oatmeal Cookie With A New Flavor

Here's the kind of cookie that will keep all hands—big and little—reaching for more. It's an entirely new oatmeal cookie made with rolled oats and pecans, plus the tangy accent of lemon.

You'll have the cookies in the oven in very little time, for they're quickly mixed in just one bowl. The flavor is perked up with the addition of grated lemon rind and lemon juice and they're extra-crisp and crunchy 'cause they contain both rolled oats and pecans.

You can use either the regular or quick-cooking rolled oats—both add extra whole grain goodness, flavor and crispness.

Fill up your cookie jar today with this new recipe—perfect cookies for an after-school or evening snack with tall glasses of milk.

Lemon Pecan Oatmeal Cookie

1 cup sifted all-purpose flour
1/2 teaspoon soda
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup fat
1/2 cup brown sugar
1/2 cup granulated sugar
1 egg
1 tablespoon grated lemon rind
8 tablespoons lemon juice
1/2 cup chopped pecans
1 1/2 cups rolled oats, uncooked

Sift together flour, soda, and salt into bowl. Add fat, sugars, egg, lemon rind, and lemon juice. Beat until smooth, about 2 minutes. Fold in pecans and rolled oats. Drop by teaspoonfuls onto greased cookie sheet and bake in moderate oven (375°F.) 8 to 10 minutes.

Yield: 3 1/2 dozen cookies.

HEALTH FOR ALL

"Like water pollution and air pollution, we don't want it but our technology keeps turning it out."

So declares the TV newscaster; the "it" in his sentence refers, of course, to "sound pollution" or excessive noise. And as though to underscore the point, his appearance on the screen is followed by the sudden surprise bellow of a pitchman plugging the station's "coming events," aided by screaming sound effects, crashing music, yelping voices, and psychedelic visual patterns.

SCHOOL'S OPEN

Gadetry

Maybe it's an old story by now—the story of man's struggle for health and sanity undercut by his passion for gadgetry. Raucous electronic sounds make exciting sales pitches, which generate higher turnover, which produce more prosperity, which requires still more violent sounds to produce still more prosperity.

Similarly, whether in manufacturing, construction or transportation, maximum achievement often seems to mean maximum noise. Or, as one psychologist ironically summed it up, "Happiness is self-inflicted migraine."

Merchandising

Meanwhile ear specialists psychologists and efficiency experts keep noticing the side effects. Steady supersound, they ward, can cause hearing damage, high blood pressure, indigestion, fatigue, and increased accidents due to distraction. Everybody agrees, while things get noisier. Looming in the near distance are the sonic boom and a further crescendo of electronic merchandising.

But the picture isn't altogether bleak. Noise control programs exist in a number of cities, and some have made a little headway. What we can all do is to tell our Congressmen (while they can still hear us) to get behind one of the many federal noise control bills now languishing for lack of active support.

It's a Shelf on Shelf!

SOME deep closets have a shelf in back that's hard to reach. To make it more accessible, just install a thin shelf on top and slide it out when storing or removing items.

Because of its smooth, snag-free, long-wearing qualities, a panel of Masonite Tempered Preswood is excellent for this purpose. Its width should be one-half inch narrower than that of the closet shelf, and its smooth side should face down to facilitate the sliding.

As a combination pull and railing, fasten a piece of 1 by 2-inch lumber at the front, by inserting countersunk screws through drilled holes in the Tempered Preswood. Add 1 by 2-inch reinforcing at each side of the shelf, one-half inch from each edge. So that the shelf won't tip when moved forward, fasten to the wall at each side a narrow strip of lumber, or a quarter-round, 3/4 of an inch above the shelf.

The sliding shelf makes this out-of-the-way storage area readily useful.

Thompson

Des Moines Detective James Thompson, 48, has been suspended 120 days, accused of "conduct unbecoming an officer," according to state narcotics agents.

According to reports, Thompson was found in a motel room with a woman at the time she was arrested on two narcotics charges.

Narcotics agents reportedly raided a room at Holiday Inn North and arrested the woman.

Thompson has been on the force since 1948. Married, he resides at 1610 McKinley. So far there is no evidence that Thompson is involved with the narcotics charge, according to Police Captain Wendell Nichols.

Mayor Richard Hoffman said the group will work closely with the Office of Economic Opportunity and other related offices and raise money from the private sector. The corporation is to keep in close touch with the governor's office on forthcoming programs.

Bolden

Notes from Jerry Bolden: "In the last few weeks black people have been expressing their thoughts in one form or another, some with fire and some with words. All to no avail because one has yet to mention the fact that the National Advisory Commission on Civil Disorders that this society is going to be split into two societies of Black and White. Some of the Toms who feel that they can figure how Blacks can get along with the white are nosing the crackers to stay on the good side of them to keep their position solid. The most the fire bombs and talks have brought are more second rate pacifiers in the form of run down buildings . . . Do you continue to believe in his justice when he can't find one man in the U.S. and everyone is looking for him or is he standing in back of them?" Jerry Bolden, 831 16th street, Des Moines. He said it, I didn't.

Clean Up Time

Wherever there is a pile of trash, rotting boards, a pile of lumber on the ground, forgotten grass clippings or improperly stored garbage, there is much activity going on underneath and within. Flies are feeding and breeding by the millions, and rats and snakes are finding harborage, says the Des Moines Polk County Health Department.

Genevieve Answers Beauty Questions

by Genevieve Young

Q. Is there any way to avoid skin blemishes on my face?

A. Blemishes are usually caused by faulty diet, skin not cleansed well or an emotional condition. For minor blemish problems, reduce the starches, fats and carbohydrates in your diet; and always cleanse your face of all make-up before sleeping. To assure thorough cleansing, first splash your face with very warm water to open the pores. Use your fingertips, working in a circular motion, to apply a facial soap containing cleansing cream. After rinsing away soap, use cold water to splash your face, which closes the pores. Pat it dry with a soft towel. For a cool, soothing finish apply an astringent lotion.

Q. What determines the tightness of curl in my hair?

A. A loose, casual curl can be achieved with large wire type rollers. Clips, bobby pins and tiny rollers will give a tighter curl. After deciding on a hair style, select the type of curlers for each area that will give the desired effect. I recommend the use of a permanent-type hair straightener to control hair that is unruly or too tightly curled.

Miss Mease Booker, 1959 winner of the national Golden Girl contest, displays her "Goldie", the golden symbolic statuette awarded to the girl selected to personify the finest qualities in charm, beauty, and graciousness by Royal Crown Hair Dressing and Beauty Products.

Q. How does a girl get to be a model?

A. Many have asked for information on becoming a model. It takes hard work and rigid self-control to be successful in this exacting field. Watch for my next column for more specific details.

Miss Young will answer your letters on "Beauty problems." Be sure to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope and send to Miss Genevieve Young, R. C. Beauty Institute, P. O. Box 2841, Memphis 2, Tenn.

(MRS. DAVE) departure for Europe this week was the start of an exciting adventure! Imaginative and creative, this lady will have much to relate upon her return. Giving herself only last Thursday and the weekend to purchase and acquaint herself with a special movie camera, she accomplished exactly that and by Sunday was filming! So we'll await her recorded experiences.

THE LUSH, GREEN GROUNDS OF MRS. AUDREY ALEXANDER'S (MRS. A. A.) estate were the scene of her very, very young neighbor's happy somersaulting, and playful wrestling or tumbling over and over downhill, as I drove down Prospect Road on Sunday. Surveying the beautiful area, I noted the homes of its few inhabitants I happen to know:

THE GROUNDS OF ATTY. J. B. MORRIS, JR., his wife and three sons presented an "all quiet on the front" appearance. With three sons, this could hardly be the case. Must have been the dinner hour! Even so the home and its surroundings are a lovely and interesting picture.

STOPPED BY THE SILAS EWINGS' enchanting chateau; it, too, was enveloped in absolute quiet. I parked and rang their doorbell. Maehenri answered, joyous over the homework accomplished during her enforced vacationing—due to Northwestern Bell Telephone employees' strike. I regretted having stopped by! Imagine a spring vacation; catching up on cleaning of closets; storing of winter clothes; and entertaining friends! I was slightly envious. The dame is well organized; neatly combining homemaking and a career!

HEY! MAEHENRI and I GOSIPPED ABOUT LOLA HENDRED, our mutual charming Ottumwa friend's not coming to Des Moines for a long-planned get-together. We've begged and begged. Still no Lola. Must be something new and interesting happening in Ottumwa!!

ON SUNDAY PIANIST JOHN BROWNING in Des Moines Symphony Orchestra's closing concert gave a rare and beautiful performance. As he arrived on stage and stood momentarily before the piano acknowledging the audience's welcoming applause, one noted a handsome, serious young man of both modest demeanor and great dignity. Seating himself, he sat as would the very young man that he is. Extending his feet toward the foot pedals, he rested his forearms lightly on each leg, palms down. With chin up-lifted he listened intently to the opening of Brahms' Concerto No. 1 in D Minor—completely aware, a total artist. One noted the weaving of his body and quick toss of his head to the music's tempo. Then came the moment for his solo! Lifting his shoulders high, at the same time dancer-like arching his spine and bowing his head, he raised his arms from their relaxed position at his sides; he lowered his hands to the keyboard, and began the pianissimo. His playing showed great strength as he then began the crescendo, moving on to a sharply clean fortissimo. Browning in the second and third movements sometimes soloing, other times playing against the orchestra and then with it gave his listeners an incomparably exciting concert. Unwilling to borrow others' praise of Browning, I offer my own: Rather than closing the Concert Season, I feel that he opened the 1968-69 Season. Frankly, I wept.

Early Sunday morning, Mrs. Duke entertained the club at a breakfast, then the club attended St. John A.M.E. Church, with guest speaker Dr. Benjamin F. Swartz, former president of Wesleyan University. Royal Speese was also host to the members on a sightseeing tour of the city, with special points the 110 unit low-housing project, sponsored by St. John, and the $32,000 parsonage.

Members of the Omaha Hobo club entertained the Voguettes at a supper in the home of Cornelius Bennett.

Girls Are Guests at Frank Franklin Home

Three Central College of Pella co-eds were the week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. Frank Franklin, of 1124 14th street place.

Jean Martin, freshman, of Kingston, Jamaica; Mary Green, of Brewton, Ala., a junior; and Dorothy Kemp, of Chicago, Ill., a sophomore, were entertained at Ernie's Urban Lounge, the New Sands Club and the Coronet Blue nightclubs. They also partied at the homes of Nickie Franklin and Robert Drake.

Miss Martin, who has been in the United States four years, said she was most impressed with the unequal racial system here; in Jamaica, she stated, the only differential was in a economical class system which knew no color boundaries, and although she is Jamaican, she was deeply concerned when Dr. Martin Luther King was killed, and she related that along with other black students at Central, sent a wreath of flowers in commemoration to the rights leader's memory. When King was in Pella, she said, the city had to wash the streets prior to his arrival, for they were defaced with swastikas and racial obscenities.

Sunday afternoon the girls were guests at a small get-together in the Franklin home. The three left Sunday evening for Pella before returning to their respective homes.

Why does some hair break off when combing?

Your hair is precious and delicate... and none of us like to see it break off for any reason. Scientists tell us that excessive use of hot combs and over-processing of hair with chemicals often are major causes of brittleness resulting in hair breakage. But hair that is naturally curly and tangles easily frequently breaks off in everyday combing. Notice how irritated your scalp becomes when you comb in contrast to the way your beautician does?

Your professional beautician knows that curly hair mats and tangles so easily that it should be softened before combing. Otherwise, unnecessary irritation to the scalp and damage to the shaft and ends of the hair occurs. To achieve this needed softening and a temporary relaxing effect that prevents breakage on all human hair (including wigs), most beauticians rely on Clairol® Hair-So-New® spray-on creme rinse. For combing ease and for beautifying your hair in many other ways, trained beauticians stock a complete family of fine Clairol products for your specific needs.

Visit your expert hairdresser, who cares about your hair care and your comfort. Whatever the nature of your hair problems, only your professional beautician knows the answer for sure.

GOVERNOR ROCKEFELLER
IMPRESSES IOWANS

Gov. Nelson Rockefeller was in Des Moines last week, along with his wife, exposing himself to the voters and particularly the delegates to the Republican National Convention. He made no effort to tag delegates, but was content to discuss the issues before the country today.

The governor's record on civil rights and general uplift of the Negro masses does not begin with his announcement for the Republican nomination. His parents and grandparents were deep in the cause. He has carried on in that field by not only contributing his money, but has joined in the struggle for human rights, has given recognition to Negroes in his administration.

Mr. Rockefeller is not one who believes that the war in Vietnam should be stepped up or that we should pull up and leave unceremoniously. On the other hand, he believes that America and her allies might well gradually turn this war over to the Vietnamese for it is they who, in the final analysis, must decide how they plan to govern themselves.

New York state has had its riots. They have been handled with swiftness and success without undue scars left on either side. He got more votes from Harlem than any Republican in many years.

We believe Rockefeller has what it takes to get elected, to rebuild confidence in the populace and place America on a sound footing.

A man of his ability and experience is needed to help us get back on the track.

NOT BE MET

During the Franklin D. Roosevelt administration, organized labor gained new power, so much so that what it did was "right" and its actions went unchallenged.

It was they, the UAW, who took over the industrial plants in Detroit, with their sit down strikes, a new weapon, and refused to budge until their demands were met. Mrs. Roosevelt remarked that no court had held that such strikes were illegal.

During the course of many strikes, injunctions have been issued by courts setting guidelines as to just how pickets and officials should conduct themselves. Some strikers have ignored these orders and have been jailed for violating the orders.

Invariably, one of the conditions for settlement of the strikes is to release the pickets and officials jailed for violating court orders and dismissing the cases.

Apparently, some Negro college students are taking a cue from these labor tactics. Columbia University in New York and Northwestern University in Chicago have been targets for these youngsters.

At Northwestern, where there are less than 150 undergraduate students out of a total enrollment of six thousand, one demand was for separate dormitories for Negro students. Authorities agreed to meet this demand also.

It is ironical that civil rights workers fought for years to do away with the "separate but equal" policies in public education. They succeeded in the school decision in 1954. Now these youngsters wish to go back to the old order in private schools.

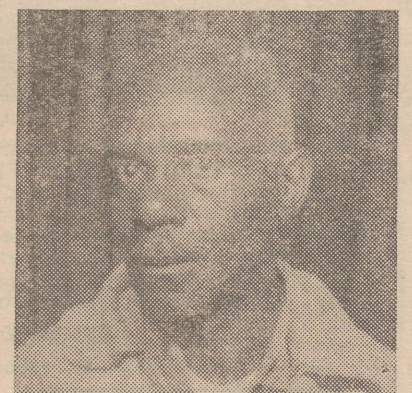

The few concessions that have been gained in these school sit down strikes are outweighed by the moral damage that has occurred in that they were gained by mob violence—a system under which the parents of these same youngsters suffered at the hands of the Ku Klux Klan and other bigots in the South and now in the North.

It is difficult to understand the thinking of these students where all around them they can see boys and girls winning honors in all fields and securing recognition unheard of in years gone by. They are not doing these things with molotov cocktails, rocks and bottles thrown at other people's property or burning and looting to the disgrace of themselves or their families, or sit down strikes.

School authorities are loath to use strong methods on these youngsters fearing a reaction which invariably comes up about police brutality. The wait policy always turns out to be a mistake. If the pressure is put on promptly less damage is done.

Mob violence in any form is bad. Disregard for law and order is bad. The Negro cannot make progress over the long haul by either of these principles.

SPORTS

With Allen Ashby

We don't usually have two weeks of news about the Drake Relays, but this is an exceptional year. We didn't realize our column last week was as bad as it was until we read the thing. We did a double take and thought the public should have an explanation. We were trying to write that column and locate a possible fire. Never did get the blamed fire located and the building could have jolly well burned down.

Help the Celebrities

And another thing came to our attention was an item in another part of the paper to the effect that visiting celebrities like to have something to do when they come here. We recall that one time there was an attempt made to do something for the visiting athletes. There weren't very many then. The evening consisted of speech making by some of our social leaders and requests for talks from the athletes. Willis Ward of Michigan asked us if this was it. We had to say yes and the fellow went to the Penn Relays the next two years.

We think the athletes who could stay over really had their best times of some of the informal parties that were given. Leading in these were our friend Tommy Avant and his famous Club Eleven.

So when you plan anything next year, don't make it too stiff and formal and the people being honored will bless you.

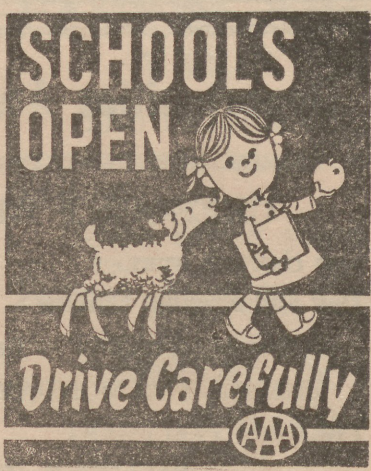

Boxing

While we were talking about Relays there was an alleged prize fight for the WBA heavyweight championship of the world. Of those two guys Jimmy Ellis won, but if one could turn the clock back a few years either of them would have a heluva time whipping Morton Graves. They better stay out of the ring with the first good heavy who shows up. That might be Joe Frazier.

Step by step the law is pushing Cassius Clay or Mohammed Ali closer to prison. Our pool hall lawyers say if he had gone to jail at first he would be ready to come out now and challenge some of these heavyweights around who claim to be champions.

Little League

Did we ever pick the pennant winners for you? It's a little late now since things are underway, so maybe we better not go out now. This year we wish some of these fellows who have young little league teams would tell us about them when the season is on. Give us a little run-down on the players and stars and don't wait until the season is over and then ask us why we didn't give the boys a writeup.

"TO BIND UP THE NATION'S WOUNDS..."
— LINCOLN

Liston Maintains
He Was Still Ready
To Fight Mohammed

New York — Sonny Liston says he was never counted out at Lewiston, Maine. He was caught cold by Clay and the count was messed up by Walcott, he claims. The exclusive story, his first forthright explanation of the bout in which he lost in the first round, is in the current issue of Sports Illustrated. He told writer Jack Olsen:

"Clay knocked me down with a good punch. Anybody can get caught cold in the first round, before you even work up a sweat. And when I was down, Clay stood over me. No, I never blacked out, not for a second. But I wasn't gonna get up, either, not with him standin' right over me. See, you can't get up without puttin' one hand on the floor, and so I couldn't protect myself, and he can hit me on the way up.

"So there was Walcott (Referee Jersey Joe Walcott) and Clay wrasslin' over me and Walcott finally got him to a corner or somethin', and then I got up and Clay come back and we started back to fightin' again.

Fleischer

"And Nat Fleischer (Nat Fleischer, editor of The Ring Magazine) began wavin' his arms at ringside and Walcott stopped the fight. Nowadays Nat Fleischer says he was just callin' (Walcott over to tell him that the timekeeper wanted to see him or somethin', but other people says it was Nat Fleischer stopped the fight."
