Secretary Weaver Kicks Off Housing Project

WEAVER WITH FIRST SHOVELFUL AT OAKRIDGE

Oakridge Project
Of Special Interest

ELEANORA E. TATE

Ground-breaking ceremonies for the Des Moines Area Council of Churches Oakridge housing project were completed Sunday, with guest speaker Dr. Robert C. Weaver of the Department of Housing and Urban Development.

Dr. Weaver told the Bystander that he held special interest for the 221 (d) (3) 300 unit project because he had pushed for its legislative passage sometime ago. He stated that Des Moines was among the first cities to initiate this particular project as sponsored by a church group.

"Oak Ridge had an important initial sponsor—the city of Des Moines, with the Mayor giving the project the full weight of his support. This procedure is somewhat unusual in that most projects of this kind are typically sponsored from the beginning by private groups.

"In addition," Weaver said, "Lloyd Clarke, who is not only a builder but is also President of the National Association of Home Builders, was involved here not only in his capacity as a builder, but also as a strong advocate of the effort, and by advancing money to it without charging interest.

"For many reasons, therefore, the Oak Ridge projects reflect credit on to the city, this state and this Nation. I think they also represent a credit to our humanity. For people can live in these attractive apartments in decency and pride.

"One of the most important actions was taken by Congress last month with the passage of the Civil Rights Act of 1968," the Secretary stated.

"As you know, the most significant provision of the new Civil Rights Act is the open housing section. This provision went into effect in a limited way when the President signed it on April 11. On January 1 of next year, a good deal more housing will come under it. And on January 1 of 1970 much more housing will be included."

First Shovel

Following his speech, Dr. Weaver ceremoniously pitched the first shovel of dirt on the seventeen and one-half acre project at 15th and

NEW BOOK BY KING

New York — A book by Martin Luther King, Jr., setting forth his creed as he had come to understand and formulate it a few months before his death, will be published on June 26 by Harper and Row, titled "The Trumpets of Conscience."

Will Not Leave America; 'We Will Stay Right Here'

Philadelphia — Negroes are not going back to Africa or establish any separate nation because "this is our country and we'll stay right here where we belong and fight for what's ours," Roy Wilkins, executive director of the NAACP told 3,000 cheering delegates at a session of the 38th quadrennial conference of the African Methodist Episcopal Church here, Monday, May 6.

Turning to the report of the National Advisory Commission on Civil Disorders, of which he was a member, Mr. Wilkins said the church is well qualified to help implement the Commission's recommendation for "the creation of new attitudes, new understanding, and a new will" to rid the nation of racism.

"The church," he said, "has the dedication, belief and history to undertake that task. But this is no new message to you. All that that report did was to vindicate what you started out to do in 1878 when Richard Allen and Absalom Jones founded the AME Church."

The same week, on May 10, Mr. Wilkins was the human relations night speaker at the quadrennial conference of the AME Zion Church in Detroit.

Mrs. King, Children Lead Welfare March

Washington — Mrs. Martin Luther King and her four children led the Welfare Mothers March Washington march Sunday to support the National Welfare Rights Organization and the demands of poor people for reform of the welfare system.

Prominent women, welfare mothers and women of all walks of life marched for welfare rights Sunday in the nation's capitol and in simultaneous demonstrations across the country.

Crocker streets. Approximately 200-300 persons witnessed the event. Representatives of government, business and private citizenry participated in the ceremonies, including Judge and Mrs. Luther T. Glanton, Mr. and Mrs. C. Frank Franklin and Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Reed, all sharing the platform with the Secretary. Others represented Sunday were Calvin W. Aurand, Robert A. Wright, John M. Estes, Jr., Rev.

Oscar Peavy, Mrs. Evelyn Davis, John Mapp and Dorothy Eubanks; Dr. Henderson S. Davis, Mrs. Gladys Hurt.

Three persons were arrested and charged with assault with intent to do great bodily injury. They were Mrs. Clinton Carter, Edward Frazier and Baron Lewis. The three reportedly were involved in a shooting late Friday night.

Black People Must Have Full Party Participation

Washington, D. C. — The U. S. Commission on Civil Rights Saturday recommended that the national political parties require their State party organizations to afford Negroes full and equal participation in every aspect of party affairs as a condition to the seating of delegations at the national conventions this summer.

Processes

This was one of several recommendations the Commission made in a report of a study of participation by Negroes in the electoral and political processes in 10 Southern States since the passage of the Voting Rights Act of 1965.

Voting

William L. Taylor, Staff Director of the Commission described the Political Participation report as the first comprehensive description and analysis of the effects of the Voting Rights Act of 1965 upon Negro voting and political participation in the South.

Mrs. King, a board member of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference which she and her late husband helped found, arrived in Washington from Atlanta with her children, Yoland, 12, Martin, 10, Dexter, Bernice 5.

Hire Negro Counselor At Davenport School

Davenport, Ia. — After weeks of continued protests by the Youth Black Power Council of the NAACP, Davenport School Officials have combated the problem by hiring their first Negro counselor at Central High School.

Louis Williams began his duties Wednesday morning as Teacher's Aid in the Guidance Department at Central following alleged incidents of name-calling by white students to Negroes.

The Council also announced it was initiating a $75,000 drive to build a youth center as close to the black ghetto as possible.

Fonza Becomes Member Of Firefighters Assn.

Milford Fonza has become a member of the Des Moines Firefighters Association. The announcement came during a meeting of the Association this week. Fonza had earlier been rejected on terms not publicly given, and Fonza's lawyer, Robert A. Wright, termed his client's exclusion as "ridiculous."

Fonza's rejection reportedly came following his arrest on a disturbing the peace violation. However, Wright said that the charge was a misdemeanor rather than a felony, and that his exclusion from the Association was based erroneously.

Former Des Moines Student Had Enlisted in the Army; Services Pending in Gary

A 21-year-old father of two children was killed in Viet Nam May 3.

PFC John E. Manson, son of O'Ron Manson, of 701 Boyd and Mrs. Elizabeth Mack of Gary, Ind. was killed as a result of a gunshot wound during combat.

Mr. Manson said his last letter from his son dated Apr. 18 was received on May 3. In that letter John had written he was now in the Saigon area.

John had lived in Des Moines as a child, attending Amos Junior High, and before returning here from Gary, Ind., attended Roosevelt High School. Before enlisting in the Army, he was employed at Des Moines Steel Company, and during this time was married.

Religious

He was a quiet boy, Mr. Manson said, and it seemed through the last letter he was ever to receive from his son, that he had found his way in the world. "It seemed he had found something he had been looking for,"

Mr. Manson said Wednesday morning to the Bystander. "His letters showed more of a leaning toward a religious aspect."

Born in 1946, he would have been 22 in only nineteen days—May 28. Services are pending in Gary, Ind.

Survivors

John is survived by his wife, Carolyn and children, Celita and John-John, all of Gary; his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Mack of Gary; father, O'Ron Manson, of Des Moines; brothers, Michael, Lawrence Vern, O'Ron D., Jr., all of Gary; stepmother, Mrs. Leola Manson of Des Moines; stepbrother Larney Hendricks of Gary; and stepsister, Shirley Robinson, of Des Moines.

The Combat Infantryman Badge, mark of distinction for the fighting soldier, was awarded to Manson in Vietnam Apr. 2.

He entered the Army in September 1967, completed basic training at Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo., and was last stationed at Ft. Polk, Ia.

Isabell Sanford in Key Role in New Movie

New York — Isabell Sanford has a knack for being vividly remembered for whatever role she plays, though it may not be the biggest role. Anyone who saw Columbia Pictures' "Guess Who's Coming To Dinner" is well likely to forget her as the woman who voiced the loudest, most vehement disapproval of Sidney Poitier's impending marriage. The same is sure to happen with her new film, "Pendulum," also for Columbia, in which she plays a key figure in the spine-tingling mystery.

Rev. T.S. Patton Jr. Retained as Dav. Pastor

Davenport — The three year court battle over the retention of Rev. T. Spencer Patton, Jr. as pastor of the Third Missionary Baptist Church of Davenport, Iowa, and the control of the church assets in excess of $40,000 came to a happy end for Rev. Patton and his membership on May 7, when the Supreme Court of Iowa affirmed the ruling of the Scott County District Court that "The Civil Courts have no jurisdiction over or concern with purely ecclesiastical matters, including the dismissal on retention of a pastor and ouster of members, but the Civil Courts will determine which faction of a church is entitled to the control and use of the church property."

Sought Pastor Removal

This action arose when Alfred A. Garrett, Alfred B. Newman, Rosabel Sample, Frank Camp and C. E. Randall, officers and members of the Third Missionary Baptist Church, attempted to remove Rev. Patton as pastor and to retain and control the church assets. The Scott County District Court ruled against them and by vote of the membership of the church they were removed from office and ousted as members and they appealed to the Supreme Court.

Opinion by Justice Rawlings

Justice Rawlings wrote the opinion for the Court in which he said that as pastor, Rev. Patton was moderator of all business meetings of the church, and that the meeting called by Garrett and others in an attempt to remove Rev. Patton and form other rules and regulations for the church was unauthorized and would not be recognized by the Court.

Henry T. McKnight, Des Moines attorney, successfully argued the case before the Supreme Court of Iowa, his 15th victory out of 16 church controversies that went to the Civil Courts. He said that by the ruling of the Supreme Court, the Third Missionary Baptist Church will receive its assets of over $40,000 held up by Garrett and others and retain Rev. Patton as its pastor.

Watts Rises with Its Own Factory; Hires Over 500

Watts — Slightly more than a mile from the site where fires raged and sniper fire ran rampant two years ago, more than 500 people now gather to put in a day's work at a factory that had not been thought of at the time of the riots.

The factory is a small one as factories go, but at the same time, this small factory returns more than a million dollars annually into the community.

Watts Manufacturing Company is the Brainchild of Aerojet-General Corporation's Dan Kimball and Negro Industrialist, James Woods; it was formed with a multi-faceted purpose. As wholly owned subsidiary of Aerojet-General, Watts Manufacturing Company utilizes those persons who were once classified by the erroneous term, "Hardcore unemployables". It creates jobs for the former "unemployable" and at the same time, gives each individual employee a sense of belonging.

This company is not one of those charitable organizations that offers something for nothing nor does it pretend to make jobs for the residents of the immediate community that gainfully employs more than 500 people and has the potential of employing at least twice that many more.

Argue Congress Picking At Poor People's March

New York — Strongly protesting Congressional proposals to hamper the Poor People's March upon arrival in Washington, the NAACP has called for "prompt rejection . . . of all such proposals."

WANTED BY THE FBI

JAMES EARL RAY, also known as Eric Starvo Galt, Harvey Lowmyer, John Willard, James McBride, James Walton, W. C. Herron and James O'Conner.

James Earl Ray, a Missouri prison escapee, sought under the alias Eric Starvo Galt in connection with the gunshot slaying of civil rights leader Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., is one of the FBI's "Ten Most Wanted Fugitives." FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover ordered the special addition of Ray to the "Top Ten" list to insure widespread dissemination of Ray's photograph and description to speed his location.

Ray has been intensively sought since the murder of Dr. King on April 4, 1968, as he stood on the balcony of a Memphis, Tennessee, motel. An exhaustive FBI fingerprint search, comparing latent fingerprints uncovered in the Dr. King case against fingerprints of over 53,000 persons on whom wanted notices were posted, determined that Galt and Ray are identical.

A Federal warrant, issued at Birmingham, Alabama, on April 17, 1968, charges Ray, under the alias of Galt, with conspiring to interfere with a Constitutional Right of a citizen. Ray, who escaped on April 23, 1967, from the Missouri State Penitentiary, is also sought for unlawful flight to avoid confinement for robbery. His long criminal record also includes convictions for burglary and forging U.S. Postal Money Orders.

A white American, born in Alton, Illinois, on March 10, 1928, Ray is 5'10" tall, weighs 163 to 174 pounds, has blue eyes and short brown hair. He has a nervous habit of tugging at an ear lobe and his left ear protrudes noticeably. Known as a "loner" and "drifter," Ray has worked as a baker, laborer and color matcher. He has taken dancing lessons and completed a course at a school of bartending.

Consider Ray armed and extremely dangerous. Report any information concerning him to the nearest FBI office.

HEALTH FOR ALL

Habitual throat-clearing and coughing are so common among dwellers in today's irritant-loaded environment, they're apt to pass unnoticed. That might not be so bad if it weren't for the fact that the habitual cougher frequently fails to notice it himself. Of if he is aware of it, he yields to the temptation to shrug it off.

Actually, it's a little late in the day to pretend that persistent coughing is just a harmless little idiosyncrasy. The days when a cough was just a cough and what of it are as obsolete as the mustache cup.

Respiratory

Years of research and medical history have confirmed the fact that a chronic cough may be a symptom of respiratory disease which may seriously threaten health or even life. This fact has been emphasized to the general public repeatedly by official and voluntary health agencies since the National Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association mounted its first nationwide RD educational campaign in 1963 with the slogan, "Short of breath? Cough too much? See your doctor—you may have a respiratory disease."

Smoking

A cough is considered chronic if it persists beyond three or four weeks, or if it clears up but keeps coming back. Such a cough can be symptomatic of a chronic respiratory disease such as emphysema, chronic bronchitis, asthma, TB, or lung cancer. The earlier such an ailment is diagnosed, the better the chance of its being treated effectively. If you have a cough you can't shake off, two immediate courses of action are advisable: stop smoking, and see your doctor. Your Christmas Seal organization has an informative leaflet, "Chronic Cough, The Facts." Ask for it—it's free.

"It Couldn't Happen Here" as been termed one of the most controversial records around the country and many radio stations have reportedly refused to play it. The record concerns the irony of history and probes the "insanity" of war. As sung by a group called "The Banned" (Fontana Records), the words depict atrocities in history, but such incidents could "never happen here."

The Omegas know how to have a ball, with the Soul Brothers providing the music, and the African Twist and the Tighen Up taking care of everything else.

Clean Up Time

Wherever there is a pile of trash, rotting boards, a pile of lumber on the ground, forgotten grass clippings or improperly stored garbage, there is much activity going on underneath and within. Flies are feeding and breeding by the millions, and rats and snakes are finding harborage, says the Des Moines Polk County Health Department.

CHURCHES MOVE FOR POSITIVE ACTION

Church organizations, in their meetings this year, are giving top priority to the racial crisis which faces the country today. In years gone by most religious bodies either ducked the issue, passed a few pious resolutions or donated a few dollars for home mission.

There has been a big change. Most religious meetings have planned some type of work among the poor, the disadvantaged, the uneducated, not being content to pass resolutions but also are implementing them with money and personal confrontation.

A recent example of this is when the Iowa Diocesan Convention of the Episcopal Church met in Cedar Rapids last week. Following the tone of concern set by Bishop Smith in his annual address, the report of a committee appointed by him was approved which provides:

1. The area of awareness—that our people know of the crisis situation and know of the various governmental acts that are being done in the whole state. Certainly we should be concerned to read and to discuss the commentaries of our newspapers, we should know what the President's Commission on Civil Disorder has said.

2. That we as members of the Diocese relate more closely with the various groups in our own communities by the exchange of pulpits or by visitations back and forth across the barriers that we have built.

3. That all parishes and missions should know and understand and be involved in the needs of the local community and to cooperate with civil as well as church agencies working for the relief of the poverty in their area. Under this comes the matter of fair housing.

4. That our parishes and missions make their church buildings available for any crisis program.

5. To encourage church people to make jobs available, especially for the summer months.

6. That the various parishes and missions mobilize their people and each area for personal involvement in helps to education, recreation, or for other social service where needed.

7. Specifically we ask each parish or mission to supply a scholarship for a child at camp this summer.

8. That each parish or mission make every effort to supply a scholarship of at least $250 for a person to be able to go to one of our area vocational schools who cannot attend because of indigence.

9. That the priorities of the Diocese of Iowa be reordered and that parishes and missions be assessed an additional amount of 2% of the 1966 operating expenses to assist the Diocese in meeting specific calls for the Crisis, such funds to be in addition to any already committed in this area.

10. The communicants of this Diocese are duty-bound to see that order is kept, but that it be kept fairly and that there be responsibility in the handling of disorder. Alarm is not the order of the day. Firmness is. Our attitude must be one of concern—concern that we live together in respect and in fair treatment of each other. As Christians this is our duty.

This is certainly an excellent program. Its success will depend upon the zeal and determination the people put into it. They, like most people, recognize that America faces a problem which threatens its very foundation and that positive, prompt and effective action must be taken if we are not to be troubled with these problems which it can ill afford if we are to be a world leader among nations.

DON'T LET TOO MANY ORGANIZATIONS 13 AMP

Americans are living in anxious times and of course its people feel called upon to do unusual things.

We are a nation of organizations. And every unusual situation brings on a few more. Often, Negroes are criticized for having too many and thus the power structure complains that they don't know who speaks with authority for the group.

This, of course, contains some truth and yet it is more of an excuse to do nothing. On the other hand, a large number of organizations often bring confusion among themselves thus destroy their effectiveness.

Here in Des Moines, we are having the same situation developing. Over the years, the NAACP has been the basic group which has shepherded, with the cooperation of other groups, most of the yeoman work that has been done with no little degree of success.

Today, the economic opportunity group has been working in the civil rights field. Recently at least three new organizations have been formed, all working in the same course but taking a different approach. The NAACP carries on with strength and helpfulness.

The Bystander makes no criticism of the formation of any of these groups. But it does caution that they direct their efforts at the problems and not individuals.

The field is fairly fertile in Des Moines today to solve our problems. Late, of course, but not too late to fulfill our obligation to provide every man a man's chance.

AT LAST DES MOINES

HAS LOW RENT PROJECT

Des Moines may be justly proud of the housing project launched by the Council of Churches for which the ground breaking was held Sunday.

Long has Des Moines tried to secure a low cost housing project only to be defeated at the polls by citizens who, in many instances, would have profited by its construction.

Robert Weaver, secretary of housing and urban affairs, in his ground breaking address praised the combination of the church, of business and industry for their constructive effort as exemplified in initiating and financing the project.

The project should be a success and a credit to Des Moines.

SPORTS

With Allen Ashby

As if there aren't troubles enough on college campuses, now comes the boycott of the various athletic teams by Negroes. Some of the demands as they are called make sense. Hiring of Negro coaches in some capacity. There are qualified Negro men around who would make good coaches, and if a university or college had an opening, then certainly the school should give the guy consideration. Then there was the demand at Michigan State that Negro athletes be steered into courses that would do them some good after school years. Too often athletes, Negro and white have been guided into courses that they are sure to pass so they can remain eligible without one thought being given to their future. If the athlete in question doesn't make it with the pros, he is in trouble. We can think of a couple of those boys who have played out their three years and now are looking for any sort of job they can get.

There are other grievances that we think are based on purely personal situations at various schools, and we can't say much about them. The argument that such a coach is biased may or may not be true. A lot of fellows don't make the team and honestly believe they are discriminated against. Then some use that as an excuse. Others want to set up their own training program, and when the coach doesn't go for it, they holler bias. Now, if the protesting athletes are going to accuse a coach of prejudice, they ought to have some concrete facts and instances as evidence. A coach's tenure in a job is usually determined by his won and lost record, and there are very few coaches who are willing to risk their job because they don't like us.

There was a coach at a midwestern university a few years ago who was accused of bias. Actually the fellow really wanted Negroes on his teams, but he wanted to regulate their social life. Well, that really put the fat into the fire, and today, the guy is branded as no good by Negroes wherever his name is mentioned. We certainly would not like to see one coach fired to make room for a Negro just on G.P. That could be a two way street that could result in firings later on for just any reason. We see where one coach thinks this is a conspiracy on a national scale, but we doubt it. It is just the trend of the times making the rounds like other fads in colleges. We suppose one Negro athlete asks another when they meet if his school has had their boycott yet.

Smith

Meanwhile back here at home, we looked at a couple of sophomores who may make athletic history at Iowa State. We heard of the first fellow, Jason Smith when he was a junior in Ankeny High. The fellow who told us about him swore he was the best wrestler in the city, bar nobody. Then the guy said he was a gentleman along with that fact. The booster was a white man who just could turn out to be right on all counts. Jason has a rough road to make the Olympic team, but don't bet he won't make it.

The other fellow, Obert Tisdale will likely become the first Negro quarterback in Iowa State history. The guy can wing that apple on the dead run and is a good scrambler. This coming fall he may not see too much action, but if he can stay in school he should be tough as a junior. The Cyclones have had some fine Negro athletes, and for one thing, they aren't dummies when they go there. No sir, you don't have to worry too much about their grades. A few flunk out, but so do a few white boys.

Named Tops At Their Positions in NL Poll

New York — The World's champion St. Louis Cardinals and the pennant-contending Pittsburgh Pirates have the top individual talent in the National League, according to a poll of N.L. managers appearing in the current issue of SPORT Magazine.

The poll, which rates every player in the league at every position, lists four Cardinals and three Pirates as best at their respective posts.

Brock

First baseman Orlando Cepeda, leftfielder Lou Brock, catcher Tim McCarver and starting pitcher Bob Gibson are the Cardinals who are the consensus choices, and second baseman Bill Mazeroski, shortstop Gene Alley and rightfielder Roberto Clemente are the Pirates who won the nod for the top spots.

Willie Mays of the San Francisco Giants is the number one choice in centerfield in the magazine's managers' poll, as are the Chicago Cubs' Ron Santo at third base and the Cincinnati Reds' Ted Abernathy in a relief pitching role.

The closest races were between Mazeroski and the Cardinals' Julian Javier at second base, Mays and the Cardinals' Curt Flood in centerfield, and Gibson and Juan Marichal of the Giants for designation as the league's top starting pitcher.

Brock Belts Cubs

St. Louis Cardinal star Lou Brock really must have it in for his former club, the Chicago Cubs, suggests an article in the current issue of SPORT Magazine.

Brock's lifetime average against the Cubs since the trade is .396, with yearly marks of .418, .446, .273 and .440.

Tri-Hard League

Bowling Awd. Banquet

The Tri-Hard all women's Bowling League finished its season with a bowling award banquet at Holiday Inn North.

The awards, presented by the League's president, Mrs. Rose Tolson, were given to Whitehead Barber Shop, first, who took the lead early in the season. Team standing at the end of the season was Whitehead Barber Shop with a 603 game series.

Barbara's Wigs, second place, had a high team game series of 2,329, three game high series 834.

They had the high team three game series of 2383, and an 852 three game. Barbara Nichols was the team captain.

The League bowled each Tuesday night at Capitol Lanes.

Oklahoma Varsity "O" Club banquet last Tuesday night, and athletic officials are puzzled.

They said Negro athletes stood outside the banquet door, then handed officials a petition which said they were boycotting the dinner.
