Seeks NMA Endorsement For Better Health Prog.

New York—Black medical leaders from major U.S. cities, returning from a conference in the Virgin Islands, announced here Monday that they would seek National Medical Association endorsement of recommendations for greatly expanded governmental and private maternal and child health programs, including family planning service, for people in poverty. Most of the Negro physicians who met at the Virgin Islands Hilton on St. Thomas were en route to Houston, as delegates to NMA Annual Conference there beginning Monday (Aug. 12). The National Medical Association is the principal organization of Negro physicians in the United States.

The doctors were especially concerned with ways to curb the death rates of newborn black babies and their mothers—among whom there are more than twice as many obstetrical deaths as among white maternal cases. The U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare has found that medical family planning assistance, as one of a number of medical services, helps more than any other single health measure in reducing infant deaths among the poor.

The Negro physicians' Conference on St. Thomas was co-chaired by Dr. Robert C. Stewart of Birmingham, Alabama, Secretary of the NMA's Obstetrical and Gynecological Section, and by Dr. Joseph P. Martin of Cleveland, faculty member of the Case-Western Reserve University Medical School and Office of Economic Opportunity Family Planning Consultant. Twenty-six doctors from 16 metropolitan areas attended.

Urges End to Biafra War

New York—A plea for an end to "the tragic problem of hunger and impending starvation on both sides of the battle lines" in the Nigerian civil war, has been dispatched to Emperor Haile Selassie of Ethiopia and to the heads of the Nigerian and Biafran delegations meeting in Addis Ababa.

Roy Wilkins, executive director of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, joined 14 other leaders of national religious, civil rights, labor and minority group organizations in signing a cable dispatched to Ethiopia, Aug. 2. Taking no side on the political merits of the war, the signers of the cable noted that "continuation of the conflict, with its attendant streams of refugees and the already devastating rate of starvation among the civilian population, is intolerable to concerned world opinion. The first human right is the right to life, yet the war and hunger are annihilating the lives of tens of thousands of civilians and potentially of millions."

Moreover, the signers pledged their "strongest efforts to secure massive relief supplies and full cooperation in the supervision and all technical details of delivering food and medicine."

Iowa Rights Commission Given $16,150 for State-Federal Empl. Program

The Iowa Civil Rights Commission formally announced Tuesday that it has entered into a one-year contract with the federal Equal Employment Opportunity Commission for the purpose of identifying and eliminating discrimination in employment "on systematic affirmative basis by utilizing the compliance provisions of the state statutes." The federal agency has agreed to provide $16,150 for salaries and some supportive costs. In addition, it will provide technical assistance and pertinent data. The Iowa Commission will provide most of the necessary support and maintenance from available space and funds.

The project will become effective on Sept. 1, 1968, and will expire one year later. A project director and secretary will be added to the Commission's staff to conduct the project. The Commission expects to select the project director at its next meeting on Aug. 28. Several candidates have been interviewed for the job to date.

The Iowa Civil Rights Commission is one of 41 state and local agencies that is participating in the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission's grant program. In these projects, the federal commission places emphasis upon "using the law to change discriminatory practices and institute new procedures which will endure after the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission funds are expended."

He will serve as counselor for the other 49 Martin Luther King Scholarship winners, advising them on both personal and academic problems and charting their progress at the University.

Hughes, who is married and the father of a two-year-old son, enrolled at Area Ten Community College last September at the age of thirty "after I learned you can't compete without a college education." A 1955 graduate of Des Moines East High School, he had previously worked for I. B. M. in Rochester, Minnesota and as an expeditor for the C 85 computer section of Collins Radio in Cedar Rapids.

NEWS In A Nutshell

New York — High school guidance counselors who attend the Annual Meeting of the Association of College Admissions Counselors (ACAC) will be welcomed to a hospitality suite hosted by the National Scholarship Service and Fund for Negro Students (NSFNS). The meeting will be in New York City at the Americana Hotel from Sept. 25-Sept. 28. The hospitality suite will be available for the duration of the meeting.

Greensboro, N. C. — "Integration, especially school integration, is in the worst interest of black people," according to Dr. Donald Hugh Smith, who will join the administrative staff of the University of Pittsburgh in September. "If we had been dispersed, we would have lost forever our chance to gain our freedom."

Miami Beach, Fla. — Hollie I. West, a Negro reporter for the Washington Post, was arrested in Miami, Fla., shortly before midnight Thursday and charged with violating the curfew.

Three Negro girls from Virginia are among the youths selected for summer employment at the United States Merchant Marine Academy at Kings Point.

New York — The part of Alan Miles, wife of a neurosurgeon in ABC-TV's "Peyton Place," is played by talented Ruby Dee, who brings to her role a wide variety of experience.

Negroes Cool Toward Nixon-Agnew Ticket

New York — Roy Wilkins, executive director of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, Aug. 9, commented on Richard M. Nixon's Miami Beach address accepting the Presidential nomination of the Republican National Convention:

"In his acceptance address, Mr. Nixon sought to appeal to all segments of the population without indicating how he proposes to deal equitably with those who are basically satisfied with the status quo and those who are seething with discontent.

"He sounds as if he is asking fair treatment for Negroes but at the same time he is advocating cause the information against him "is insufficient and incomplete to hold him on a manslaughter charge, and that essential allegations are totally missing from the information, thus the defendant is unable to enter an intelligent plea." Judge Ayres requested that the attorney submit his motion in writing and the attorney said he would do so today.

The prosecuting attorney contested the motion, thus the judge set a hearing on the motion for Friday morning.

After a lengthy discussion of Bittle's physical health and need for medical supervision, Judge Ayres decided to investigate further Bittle's need for medical attention. Meanwhile, the youth is being held in the

Hooks Calls on Citizens To Urge Council to Pass D. M. Rights Ordinance

The Des Moines City Council tentatively approved an ordinance giving the Des Moines Human Rights Commission power to enforce its anti-discrimination orders.

Under the proposed new law as set down in the ordinance, the Commission, after receiving a complaint, could order an investigation, attempt to solve the problem through negotiation, hold a public hearing if negotiations fail, order the party to institute non-discriminatory practices, should the hearing conclude that the party was discriminating.

Then, if the discrimination has not stopped, the commission may ask the city's legal department to seek a court injunction against such practices.

If the person charged with refusing to accommodate Negroes in housing, apprenticeship, or employment who tries to hire someone other than the complaining party, the commission may seek a court injunction to stop him.

The ordinance must be passed twice more before it becomes law.

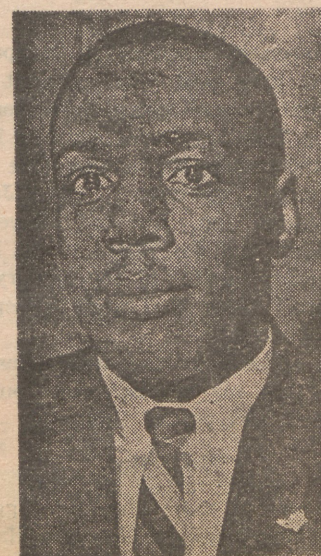

Y.W.C.A. Camp

The Y.W.C.A. has announced an added session to their regular camp period. The new session will be from Aug. 18-23. The Y.W.C.A. Camp is located eight miles northwest of Boone.

The program for the special session will include gymnastics, sports, swimming, handcraft, and other regular camp activities. This session is open to all girls third through twelfth grades. Fee for the week is $36.

For information or registration, contact the Des Moines Y.W.C.A.

Perry Hooks, executive director of the Des Moines Human Rights Commission told the Bystander Tuesday that "I am quite optimistic that the citizens will give more support to the proposed ordinance. This is not intended to demean the fact there was no opposition to the first reading or that work is completed at this point.

"It seems to me it is incumbent upon all the citizens of good will to make known their views to the Councilmen and encourage them to pass the best ordinance possible under the limitations placed upon cities operating under the limited home rule of the state code.

"I think that the fact that we are acting at this time in a constructive way to relieve disadvantaged groups can prove to be a most significant step in Des Moines at this time."

Negroes Cool Toward Nixon-Agnew Ticket

New York — Roy Wilkins, executive director of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, Aug. 9, commented on Richard M. Nixon's Miami Beach address accepting the Presidential nomination of the Republican National Convention:

"In his acceptance address, Mr. Nixon sought to appeal to all segments of the population without indicating how he proposes to deal equitably with those who are basically satisfied with the status quo and those who are seething with discontent.

The prosecuting attorney contested the motion, thus the judge set a hearing on the motion for Friday morning.

After a lengthy discussion of Bittle's physical health and need for medical supervision, Judge Ayres decided to investigate further Bittle's need for medical attention. Meanwhile, the youth is being held in the state control under which the poor and the minorities have been deprived of their fair share of Federal programs. He calls for substitution of the pay check for the relief check but his platform relies on the private employer with little mention of the responsibility of a Federal employment program.

"He rightfully condemns rioting but ignores the violence directed against the black population.

"Mr. Nixon's address is in harmony with the party platform and with the selection of Gov. Spiro T. Agnew of Maryland as the vice presidential candidate. The early Negro reaction to both has been chilly."

Wapello County jail in lieu of bond pending the results of the hearing. Bittle's attorney entered a plea of not guilty on his behalf to the suspended license charge and requested the court to accept the matter for preliminary hearing. Trial was set for Aug. 27 at 10 a.m.

Randolph to Resign According to Story

New York — A. Phillip Randolph, president of the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters, is reported to be resigning next month after being president of the organization 43 years. An article in the American Labor magazine said Randolph, 79, was quitting because of ill health.

Prof. Bell to Teach at Iowa State University

Greensboro, N.C.—Dr. William M. Bell, athletic director at A and T State University since 1946, resigned last Friday to accept a position of associate dean of students and professor of physical education at Iowa State University.

Dr. Lewis C. Dowdy, president of A and T, said Dr. Bell's resignation will be effective Sept. 15. Dr. Dowdy said he expects to announce the appointment of Bell's successor in a few days.

Pleased

"I am very pleased with this new opportunity to serve," said Bell. "I have spent much of my adult life at A and T and I love the college. I hope to spend most of my remaining time here working with my replacement so he can get off to a smooth start."

A native of Polk County, Georgia, Bell was all-time great tackle at Ohio back in the late 1920's and early 1930's. He was named to several All-American teams.

Bell came to A and T in 1946 as head football coach and director of physical education. His 1950 team won the CIAA championship. Bell stepped down as Aggie coach in 1957.

Howard

He began coaching at Howard University as an assistant in 1932. Two years later he moved to Claflin College, Orangeburg, S. C., where he won two straight conference titles.

Bell was head coach at Florida A and M from 1936-43 and his teams there won three national Negro championships. While an officer in U. S. Air Force, he coached Tuskegee Air Force Base for two seasons. His lifetime coaching record is 129-49-15.

Bell, who holds three degrees from Ohio State, was named one of America's top three physical fitness leaders in 1965 by the U. S. Jaycees.

He is currently chairman of the NCAA College Division's East Regional Basketball Tournament, a member of the President's Council on Physical Fitness and Sports and the CIAA Basketball Tournament.

On the Campaign Trail

Iowa City — Congressman Fred Schwengel Monday charged that his opponent, John Schmidhauser, "is cruelly misleading First District residents by stating that $40 billion can be realized by closing tax loopholes."

Schwengel, speaking at campaign coffees here, said, "My opponent has referred several times to a report of the Treasury Department in 1963 to substantiate his figures. But the Treasury Department, the Joint Committee on Internal Revenue Taxation, and the Taxation and Fiscal Policy Section of the Library of Congress deny that such a report ever existed."

"It appears to me," said Schwengel, "that my opponent has pulled these figures out of thin air."

McCarthy

Several of show business' biggest stars, including Paul Newman, Harry Belafonte and Barbara Streisand, will be featured entertainers in a McCarthy for President rally Thursday (Aug. 15) in Cedar Rapids.

Their appearance on closed-circuit television will be part of a nationwide rally to demonstrate popular support for Eugene McCarthy's Presidential bid. Highlight of the rally will be an address by the Minnesota Senator beamed into Cedar Rapids and 30 other cities from New York's Madison Square Garden.

Baltimore, Md. — The Ad Hoc Committee for Good Government, made up of Baltimore Negro leaders said they will oppose Spiro T. Agnew, Republican vice presidential nominee, by spreading his record of "inadequacies" throughout the nation.

On Nixon

Miami Beach, Fla. — Acknowledging that the Republican Party platform of 1968 is an improvement over that of four years ago, NAACP Executive Director Roy Wilkins cited two areas in which he indicated that the new platform is not satisfactory. Questioned by reporters here, Aug. 5, Mr. Wilkins said that the unemployment plank "fails to recognize that the Federal Government will have to provide some jobs for the unemployed because private industry has been unable to expand the job market adequately to meet the full need."

The NAACP leader also objected to the G.O.P. proposal to re-establish bloc grants to the states. "Such grants," he said, "give no assurance that the states will distribute the Federal funds equitably to assist Negro and white persons alike. There have been instances of grossly unfair distribution of these public funds as between the races."

Mr. Wilkins said he did not want to "deal solely in negatives" and that he would give the platform further study and analysis before making any other comment.

Chamberlain

New York — "I chose Mr. Nixon because I have known him personally for nine or ten years. We have built a meaningful friendship over the years outside of politics. As a result of this I know what he stands for and I personally believe he is the man to be our next president." This statement came from basketball great Wilt Chamberlain.

"I don't consider myself any kind of political genius, but flying across the country as often as I do playing basketball, I have a lot of time to read and keep abreast of what's going on in the world."

"The paramount reason why I'm backing Mr. Nixon is because of this simple fact."

"He served two terms as Vice-President, and I think he is the most qualified of all the candidates. He has had more experience than any other presidential candidate who has ever run for the office."

Looting the food stuffs which they

HEALTH FOR ALL

They seem to have done it again, those indefatigable snoopers into the miniworld of medical research. And they've done it in an area where it really needed doing.

Years of intensive work in laboratories about the country have finally yielded the discovery of "what has all the appearance of being the viral cause of infectious mononucleosis." That's how the event was described by a group of doctors at Yale Medical School, who graciously bestowed the chief credit upon another group working at the University of Pennsylvania. More important is the fact that a crucial piece of a long-standing puzzle surrounding the origin of this rather baffling disease has now been fitted in.

The all-important word, of course, is viral. Mononucleosis, the so-called "kissing disease," was known for some time to be contagious, but the exact nature of the guilty organism was a mystery. Now that it is tagged

Your friends and neighbors would like to know about it and we would like to tell them in our columns. Call 288-1904.

French toast fried to a golden brown and served with sirup has become an American breakfast custom. As summertime accompaniment, garnish glazed pear halves with strawberries.

At an average cost of a penny a slice, bakers' enriched white bread is one of the best food buys.

It combines low cost with high nutrition, since it is an excellent source of three essential B-vitamins needed for vitality and health, and food iron for blood-building.

Toast is a "must" on the breakfast menu, but it can be varied in countless ways. French toast is delicious and quick to prepare, and has the added advantage of making use of bread which has become a little dry. Dip slices in an egg-and-milk mixture, then fry to a golden brown on both sides. Some homemakers like to sprinkle it with powdered sugar and serve it with jelly. Others prefer a topping of sirup or honey. Either way, your family will like French toast. Sausage and bacon are excellent accompaniments, as are glazed pineapple, peaches, apricots and pears.

French toast may be served for luncheon or supper dish, too, especially in sandwich form. Use such fillings as peanut butter, jelly or cream cheese. Cut sandwiches in half, then dip in egg-milk mixture and fry slowly on both sides. Serve with tossed salad and coffee.

It will strive for a new direction—work for the total Negro population—and will include business, professional, ministerial, political—everyone. The body hopes to charter a course for Negroes to follow for the next ten years. All Iowa Negroes in the above categories will be contacted and urged to join and help lay out plans dealing with education—a course for the proper education of our young people in both academic training and skills." Mr. Reed has been asked to serve on the Board and hopes to get the cooperation of Iowans. "At last Negroes are reaching back to help their brothers. I think this is really exciting. We have been talking about it for some time and are finally on our way," he concluded. Mr. Reed promises to publish the names of those thus far in the organization and other data.

TAMA'S POW WOW held by the Sac and Fox Indians was a really great one this year! These Indians are also known as the Mesquakie Indians! The Master of Ceremonies in describing their progress declared that their numbers on this occasion included lawyers, doctors, businessmen, social workers, artists—and those of many other professions and fields. In addition to the beautiful costumes, dances, displays of hand crafts, jewelry and art, the huge throng included Indians from many other states and visitors from Egypt, India, Korea, Japan, England, New Zealand, Peru, Columbia and Bolivia!

It is highly complimentary that she uses this approach, and makes listening pleasurable! She is Mrs. West Des Moines, you recall? Very dynamic!

When temperatures soar, rather than eat sensibly we tend to turn our noses up at the things we should be eating and feast instead on cool, refreshing desserts. Here is a solution to the problem in dessert form—Peter Pancream. Instant vanilla pudding mix is blended with milk and scrumptious crunchy peanut butter, and then whipped cream is folded in. Spoon it into your prettiest glasses and top off with more cream. Why does this dessert solve summer eating problems? Because of the economical nutrition packed in peanut butter as well as the milk and cream. For a change of flavor you might like to try chocolate or butterscotch flavored pudding mixes. Whatever you do, don't forget the best ingredient of all—everyone's favorite, peanut butter!

PETER PANCREAM

(Makes 6 servings)

1/2 cup Peter Pan Crunchy Peanut Butter
2 cups milk
1 package (3/4 ounces) instant vanilla pudding mix
1 cup (1/2 pint) heavy cream

Combine peanut butter, milk and pudding mix in bowl. Beat as directed on package. Whip cream until soft peaks form; fold half into the pudding. Turn into 6 individual dessert dishes and chill thoroughly. Garnish with remaining whipped cream.

Variations: Use chocolate or butterscotch instant pudding and amount of milk indicated on package. Or swirl all the whipped cream through the pudding.

Your professional beautician knows the answer...

Should every woman be a blonde?

Blonde hair is beautiful for those women whose natural coloring it flatters. But not everyone should be a blonde.

Expert beauticians know that complexion and hair color must complement each other to glamorize and bring out all the natural beauty that was meant to be. They also know that very coarse and dark hair often is resistant to drastic color changes. However, there's no doubt about slightly lighter hair adding excitement to a woman's appearance. And hairdressers know there is no better product to add a whole new appeal to every woman's look than Miss Clairol® haircoloring—extra rich Creme Formula or new extra easy Shampoo Formula.

Both Miss Clairol products lighten and color at once, combining vibrant new color with the natural pigment of the hair. So even those shades that look blonde on white hair (as shown on most color selection charts) give a variety of flattering red-to-golden brown shades on women whose hair was black to begin with.

Beauty salons are equipped to answer questions and help with hair color selection. Depend on your hairdresser to have the professional skills and the total family of fine Clairol products to make every woman's experience with haircoloring completely personal and glamorous. Should you be a blonde? If you don't really know, ask your expert hairdresser.

Forest Hills Opportunity Center will be moving to a new building Monday, Aug. 19.

Howard McVay, director for Forest Hills told the Bystander Tuesday that its new home will be located at the Lincoln Hall, 1625 8th Street, from its former quarters at the Julia B. Mayer Center.

McVay said in the new building added programs would be available for Forest Hills, such as a possible day care and Senior Citizen programs.

The reason cited for the opportunity center's move was due to Julia B. Mayer's need for the rooms then occupied by the opportunity center.

McVay has been director for Forest Hills a little over two years.

WE MUST NOT GET OFF ON THE WRONG FOOT

The nomination of former Vice President Nixon at the Republican convention last week was the result of a long campaign among party regulars AND A LATE START by Gov. Rockefeller which did not afford sufficient time to catch up and to woo many delegates who had been committed previously.

Gov. Rockefeller was our choice from the beginning but we now find it necessary to make further adjustments.

Mr. Nixon, like all Democratic Presidents since Woodrow Wilson, has a southerner for a running mate. And while he could have chosen a southerner less objectionable, let us hope that Gov. Agnew will prove a better man than we thought as has been President Johnson or Justice Black on the Supreme Court whom we fought bitterly at the time of his appointment.

Jackie Robinson and some other prominent Negroes have announced their opposition to the Republican ticket and have vowed to support the Democratic ticket without knowing who the Democrats will nominate. This is risky business and yet this is their right and privilege.

Little is known about Gov. Agnew except that he has criticized Negro leaders for their failure to do more to stop riots, burning and looting in the streets. He has spoken out vigorously against lawlessness in the streets advocating stern measures against those who take the law into their own hands.

These riots and other disregard for law and order in the cities have done more to gain support for former Governor Wallace of Alabama than anything else he preaches. It had a lot to do with the nomination of Gov. Agnew for it is apparent that the strategy of Nixon was to offset this Wallace appeal with one who has opposed such conduct most.

For years Negroes were the victims of mob violence in the south and which, while somewhat better today, still prevents them from exercising their rights as a citizen freely. Law abiding Negroes, like any other group, know that crime has reached the point now that citizens are afraid to be on the streets at night. And for these reasons, we cannot afford to oppose a man because he demands law and order and the punishment of criminals only.

Mr. Nixon nor the Democratic candidate, if elected, is not going to scrap the new programs which have added to the welfare of the country. However, a lot of them need to be put on a sensible basis which will justify the expenditures they require.

This will be an interesting campaign in that there are serious issues before the American people which will require level heads, brains, a determination to see that everybody has a chance and that the country again becomes a place where honor and honesty be the guidelines for whatever route we plan to take.

This senseless violence and crime must be stopped.

STRENGTHEN RATHER THAN ABOLISH THE RIGHTS COMMISSION

The Des Moines city council is in the process of adopting its 1969 budget which includes the operation of the Commission on Human Rights and Job Discrimination.

During the consideration of the budget, Councilmen suggested that it be abolished and the duties turned over to one executive secretary. This move was voted down, because a majority of the council feel that it has justified its existence; that the proposer has little knowledge of what is involved or disregards the value of this substantial arm of the city government.

Admittedly, the commission has not done a lot of spectacular work which people think is required for success. There is some merit to this view produced by conditions over which the commission has no control.

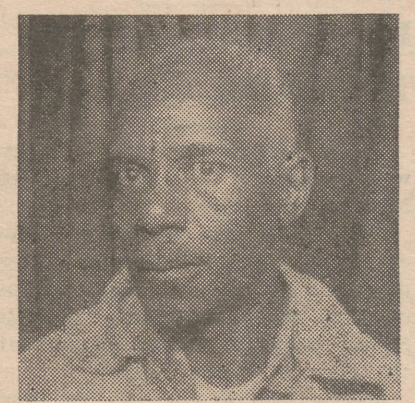

What little enforcement power it has is so weak and requires so much time to process a complaint that some good cases have slipped through their fingers.

Then too, at times, the council has not backed the commission leaving it almost helpless in the face of even city departments that have violated the law.

The very fact that the commission finally succeeded in paving the way to get our first fireman in forty years justifies its existence. And while other organizations had worked at the problem during all these years, the commission made the final push.

There are still those who say we can't stop prejudice by legislation. This, of course, is true but we have legislated against many wrongs which prejudice hatched as a result of which we are a long way ahead and have eliminated many wrongs that prevailed 25 years ago.

With Allen Ashby

You will recall that we told you to keep the name Lee Elder in mind, that you would hear about him later. Well, the people who watched the end of the Akron Golf meet Sunday, certainly heard about the guy. Don't know if that five extra holes in a sudden death playoff was a record or not. Nobody said it was. But it was sure something to see the fellow battling probably the biggest name in golf right up to the wire and a few miles beyond that. With a little luck the fellow might have picked up all the marbles before the play-off but then narrowly missed puts are part of the game.

And while we were watching golf and tennis, football sneaked in the back door. The college-all star game drew about its usual quota around sixty five or seventy thousand. That leaves a lot of empty spaces in the Soldiers Field Stadium. After seeing crowds of one hundred plus thousand there, we remember sitting in a crowd of sixty eight thousand and the place really looked half empty.

But no matter how much you pay for a seat in that place, don't go without binoculars. The players are that far away.

We thought we might get to see a major league ball game last week, but the fellows heard we were coming and left town.

Probably didn't want to face our critical stare.

And we never did find out who won the rest of the Hilltop tennis meet matches.

Levias

Sure would have liked a chance to talk to Jerry Levias of Southern Methodist. But then, the fellow could not have added anything to what we have heard from other athletes in his spot. But it would have been good to hear him say it.

Somebody asked us how many fish we caught and was surprised to learn that we didn't fish. Oh yes, we were on a vacation for a while. Don't miss us, eh? Well, just well.

But we had fun. And it won't be long until we will be among the football fans at Iowa City hoping the Hawks can better their last year's mark a whole lot.

Pete Brown's Bout
With Polio Has Not Stopped His Golfing

St. Paul, Minn. — Just twelve years ago, most people didn't think that golfer Pete Brown, second place winner of the Waterloo, Ia. open Golf Tourney, would ever walk again, much less play golf.

In 1965 Brown was stricken with polio and was in a hospital for almost a year. He was completely paralyzed and doctors feared he might never walk, but he came back to start playing golf again two years later.

"It doesn't bother me any more," Brown is quoted as saying. "But I have had some trouble with my back. The doctors say it's muscle spasms."

What Ever Happened to "Old" Baseball Teams?

The baseball fight between the American and National League in this year's World Series is not too far away, and it brings to mind many of the now extinct local hardball baseball teams in the Des Moines area.

Clark Yeager, one of Des Moines local baseball greats, informed the Bystander of many of the baseball teams during the 1910's and 20's: such as the Scotch Giants, Capital City Giants, Des Moines Independents, Kansas City Black Sox, Greer Cubs, Little Giants; and the Omaha Goblins and Scotch Giants, semi-pro traveling clubs.

The Little Giants, formed during 1915-16, under Roy Kemp, according to Yeager, were considered one of the best teams, not only in the city but also in the state. The Capital City Giants also had a good record, and both were considered the best before the 1920's. After the twenties, the Scotch Giants, managed by Harry Krump and Owen Watkins were best, winning two city championships, defeating Bell Telephone Company's team in 1926 for the city championship. In 1926-27 they were the state champions.

Greats

Greats on the Capital City Giants, said Yeager, were Johnnie Cross,

Rams Over Packers,
Raiders Top for AFL,
According to Poll

New York—The tough Los Angeles Rams will replace the world champion Green Bay Packers as the top team in the National Football League in 1968. According to the surprising results of an exclusive poll of more than 1000 pro football players appearing in the current issue of SPORT magazine.

The poll, SPORT's first annual census of the players, also makes the Oakland Raiders the choice over the New York Jets for the American Football League crown. The poll, in which the players are asked to predict their own league's standings and to name the top individual performers in their league in various categories, is similar to SPORT's annual polling of the major league baseball players.

Champs

The NFL's divisional champions in the Eastern Conference, according to the SPORT poll, should be the Cleveland Browns in the Century Division and the Dallas Cowboys in the Capitol Division, with the Cowboys picked to defeat the Browns for the Conference title. In the West, the players expect the Rams to capture the Coastal Division title and go on to defeat the Packers, likely Central Division champs, and then the Cowboys for the NFL title.

In the AFL, the Jets' strongest competition for the Eastern title should come from the Houston Oilers, who earned the division championship last season, while the Raiders are expected to be pressed by the Kansas City Chiefs in the West.

In SPORT Magazine's listings for the top individual performers in 1968, quarterback Johnny Unitas of the Baltimore Colts is expected to earn "Most Valuable Player" honors in the NFL and the Jets' Joe Namath is the AFL pick.

pitcher; Emery Jackson, second base; Eddie Barber, shortstop; Tommie Saunders, center field. Those renowned on the Scotch Giants were Foster Blake, pitcher; Harry Krump, centerfield; Lincoln Jackson, first base; Buzz Bolderidge, third base. He said among those having the highest batting averages were California Dial, Lump Williams, Krump, himself, Lincoln Jackson, Emery Jackson, Dewey Saunders and Colonel Hill. Most of the games were played at the Old Western League Ball Park, owned by Sec Taylor.

The only Negro to play in the big leagues during the twenties was Chet Brewer, who played with the Kansas City Monarchs and the Glickerson Union Giants in Springfield, Ill. before he joined the Monarchs.

Robinson

The clubs died out by the late thirties, Yeager said, with the only remaining teams being the Scotch Giants and the Capital City Giants. Interest declined, he said, because of the introduction of softball and Jackie Robinson's triumph in the Major League, and young Negroes moved into the Minor League for more experience as doors opened.

Smallmouth bass the biting on the Wapsipinicon in the Anamosa area and on the streams of Howard and Winneshiek counties.
