Co-eds Receive IRS Awds For Performance in Work

Two young women were commended recently by the Internal Revenue Service for their performance in training opportunities.

Kathryn Williams, daughter of Mrs. Geraldine Williams of 1334 Fremont, and Sandra Baker, daughter of Mrs. Gertrude Baker of 1626 Lyon, received performance awards and $75.00 checks from the Assistant District Director of Internal Revenue Service, James C. Stigamire and from District Director of IRS, John F. Hanlon, on Sept. 6.

Miss Williams, a senior at North High School, worked for IRS this summer under the President's Youth Opportunity Program, as did Miss Baker. This program is designed to provide valuable work and training opportunities for young people from ages 16-21. A total of 318 youths were employed this summer by Federal agencies in Iowa.

Miss Williams received her award for efficient and accurate work over and above that which is normally expected. She worked in the microfilm room to locate and record tax information from microfilm.

Miss Baker is a 1966 graduate of to formulate the plans for a Credit Union will make its report, and the Bond Issue will also be discussed.

Stokes Speaks at Iowa University Thursday

Iowa City, Ia.—"Thirty million American now are feeling the . . . hunger and privation as the whole country did during the early depression," said Cleveland, Ohio Mayor Carl B. Stokes when he spoke to the University of Iowa audience last Thursday night. Stokes spoke as part of the university's lecture series.

"Yet," he went on, "this is at a time when the Dow Jones average, Gross National Product and other economic indicators are at their highest."

In the area of civil rights, the Mayor said that Negroes will continue to resort to the ballot box to climb the "ladder of traditional politics."

Wallace Compared With Adolf Hitler

Cedar Rapids—Thirty party presidential candidate George Wallace, still smarting from the adverse publicity received when his name was linked with a former blond campaign worker, was compared to Germany's Hitler by a group of Iowa United Methodist leaders.

A statement from the executive committee of the Board of Christian Social Concerns of the North Iowa Conference, said that "(Wallace) seems to encourage a police state where breaking heads would be excused in the name of law and order." It also said that "we are reminded of another period in history when Christians in Germany did not realize until it was too late that their way of life could be changed by extremists who gain control of the political process."

Special NAACP Award To Black Am. Series

New York — "Of Black America," a series of seven programs produced by CBS News and recently broadcast on the CBS Television Network, has won a special award from the NAACP.

The series traced the history of the Negro and related it to his place in modern American society.

The Image Awards recognize the efforts of various elements of the entertainment and communication media to present an accurate and positive image of the Negro. Perry Wolff was executive producer of "Of Black America" for CBS News.

Negro History Committee Members Named

With the introduction of Negro American History as part of the elementary curriculum this year, the Des Moines Public School System has taken a significant step forward.

Two curriculum guides, a resource book and a text entitled "The History of the Negro in America" and "The History of the Negro American," representing the efforts of Des Moines teachers, school administrators, and other community leaders, were published this year and are currently in use throughout the system.

Members

Members of the committee on the Implementation of Teaching About the Negro-American in Secondary Schools include Lacey Spriggs, principal, Irving junior high, co-chairman; Richard Thomas, East high; Nevin Bruce, Hiatt junior high; J. Walter Thompson, Irving junior high; John Phillips, North high; Mrs. Betty Hyde, Callanan junior high; Kenneth Whitney, North high; Charles Newton, Franklin junior high; Philip Parks, Roosevelt high; Consultants include James Bowman, co-ordinator of special projects; Community Resource Members: Everett Mays, Northwestern Bell Telephone Company; Perry Hooks, Commission on Human Rights; Dr. Eddie Easley, professor of marketing, Drake University; Cecil Reed, commissioner, State Employment Security Commission; Mrs. A. June Franklin, state representative.

The inclusion of Afro-American literature as part of the language and literature programs in the Des Moines School System, is presently under study by a committee of educational and lay leaders.

NEWS In A Nutshell

Washington, D. C. — Deletion of $9 million to enforce the new Federal fair housing law was termed a "shocking act" by Roy Wilkins, chairman of the Leadership Conference on Civil Rights.

Atlanta, Ga. — Uncle Remus, a Negro character who recited stories of Brother Rabbit and the Briar Patch, was in the news recently. The author of Remus whose home had been closed to Negro touring groups, was opened by federal court last Friday under the Public Accommodations Section of the 1964 Civil Rights Act.

Berberac, France — Singer Josephine Baker and her twelve adopted children continue their struggle to keep a fifteenth century chateau. The chateau was sold in May, but Miss Baker said she would wait for police to "evict her."

Los Angeles — Small Business Administrator Howard J. Samuel, today warned against "trying to turn our social problems into private enterprise as if it had some magic formula for success."

Klan Burning in Chicago Neighborhood

Chicago, Ill. — Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Tyler of Roseland, a community in Chicago, say that two Ku Klux Klan crosses were burned on their lawn on successive nights last week. Before the Tylers occupied the house in the white neighborhood, vandals smashed five windows in the building.

International Array Of Negro Music at Dillard University

New Orleans, La. — A national depository of the works of Negro musicians and composers in the United States and some parts of Europe is being established at Dillard University in New Orleans.

Dr. Frederick D. Hall, formerly professor of music and coordinator of Dillard's music program, will collect and assemble both published works and manuscripts as well as phonograph records, microfilms, biographical and history books and any other material available on the subject of Negroes in music. The musical range covered will run from classical to popular, and including church music, jazz and swing.

Julian Bond Guest Speaker; Wright Re-Elected Pres.

Davenport, Ia. — National NAACP workers converged upon Davenport last weekend to attend the Golden anniversary of that city's branch and also to conduct workshops for the Iowa State Conference of Branches.

Workshops

They were Miss Althea Simmons, secretary for training of the NAACP national office; June Shagaloff, director for Educational headquarters, who conducted a workshop on Education; William R. Morris, Director for Housing programs for the NAACP national headquarters, leading a workshop on Housing; and Ray

WRIGHT

Shepard of Davenport, who, as a teacher of minority history at the Clinton Job Corps Center, led a workshop entitled "Black Action and the Man"; Mrs. James B. Morris, Sr., of Des Moines, President Emeritus, was luncheon speaker. At this time

Mrs. Morris presented Father Francis Duncan of Davenport a life membership plaque to the NAACP.

The workshop of Miss Shagaloff was considered probably the most outstanding of the conference. Conducting the Black Action workshop along with Shepard was Mrs. A. June Franklin, Democratic state representative.

Some sixty young women from the Clinton Job Corps Center attended the conference.

Bond

Over 750 persons were guests and more than 100 were turned away from lack of accommodations, to hear speaker Julian Bond address the conference banquet Saturday evening. Bond, who became the first Negro to be nominated at a Democratic National Convention as vice president, and who bowed out of the race because of his age, said that the civil rights movement "is turning into a human rights movement."

He further said, on the matter of politics, that George Wallace support by whites may, as a result, turn many Negroes toward the road to militancy, although "Negroes should try to stick together and be independently politically."

Officers

Officers for the state conference are: Robert A. Wright retained the presidency; Father Duncan of Davenport, first vice president; Dr. Percy Harris of Cedar Rapids, second vice president; Mrs. Paula Schwartz of Waterloo, recording secretary; Karen Murrey of Ft. Madison, corresponding secretary; William L. Bell of Des Moines, treasurer; and Mrs. James B. Morris, president emeritus.

After School Course in Afro American History

Des Moines students are concerned about racial problems in Iowa. As a result of this concern, both students and teachers have indicated a desire to take part in a series of special study programs dealing with ethnic and inter-racial group relationships.

In response to this request, students at Roosevelt, North and Lincoln high schools are planning to take part in a unique pilot series of six seminars on "Black Culture."

After School

The programs will be conducted after school, beginning at 3:30 p.m. on Monday, Tuesday and Thursday afternoons. Each session will last about 90 minutes. Attendance and participation is voluntary. All Roosevelt, North and Lincoln students are invited to take part in the seminars.

Similar programs are scheduled to take place at East, Hoover and Tech high schools, next month.

According to James E. Bowman, coordinator of special projects, Des Moines School System resource people from the community will be utilized in the presentation of these seminars.

Understanding

"It is our hope that these seminars

Iowa High in Fighting Discrimination

Iowa City — Iowa is making a much more substantial effort to support financially the enforcement of its anti-discrimination laws than most other American states, according to a professor in The University of Iowa College of Law.

will serve as a vehicle for bridging the communications gap between certain dimensions of our school population and the community. It is important that we do not view this effort as a stop-gap measure, but rather as the initiation of a new concept in approaching racial understanding," Bowman said.

The pilot series is tentatively scheduled to begin this week.

Arthur E. Bonfield has calculated that the Iowa State Civil Rights Commission's 1967-68 budget of $85,000 adds up to $2.94 for each of the 28,828 non-white persons counted in the state's 1960 population. The $2.94 figure is $1.71 over the average amount of $1.23 spent per non-white by the 32 states (plus the District of Columbia) which have such commissions.

On the Campaign Trail

Washington, D. C. — Outspoken Hall of Fame baseball star-turned-political leader Jackie Robinson this week blasted white liberals, black militants and ex-Republican colleagues who by "sitting back" will turn the nation over to a "backward moving" Nixon-Thurmond team.

In a hard-hitting statement, Robinson began a speaking tour for the Democratic ticket before a Cleveland NAACP group; he urged black people not to support liberals who are withholding support of Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey for President and Sen. Edmund S. Muskie for Vice President.

The former Brooklyn Dodger star is now a Harlem banker and was an advisor to Republican Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York until he resigned recently to join the Humphrey-Muskie campaign organizations on speaking engagements in the Midwest.

Lindsay

The Mayor of New York City, Honorable John Lindsay, will be the main speaker at the Republican $100.00 a plate dinner to be held on Monday, Oct. 21 at 7 p.m. Tickets may be purchased at Polk County Republican Headquarters, 211 Masonic Temple Building or Republican State Central Committee 933 Insurance Exchange Building, Des Moines.

Supports Nixon

New York — J. Earl Dearing, the elected prosecuting attorney for the City of Louisville and a leading authority on crime and law enforcement, Thursday endorsed the Nixon-

Agnew ticket.

In a statement released at Nixon-Agnew National Headquarters in New York Dearing said "I am convinced Mr. Nixon and Mr. Agnew will do more to solve the human and economic problems facing our cities than Mr. Humphrey and Mr. Muskie."

Voter Registration

New York — Reports being received in the National Office of the NAACP reveal widespread response to Executive Director Roy Wilkins' call for an intensified voter registration campaign designed to attain the maximum Negro vote in this crucial election.

Throughout the country NAACP units are engaged in an accelerated drive to close the 12 per cent gap between white and non-white voter registration.

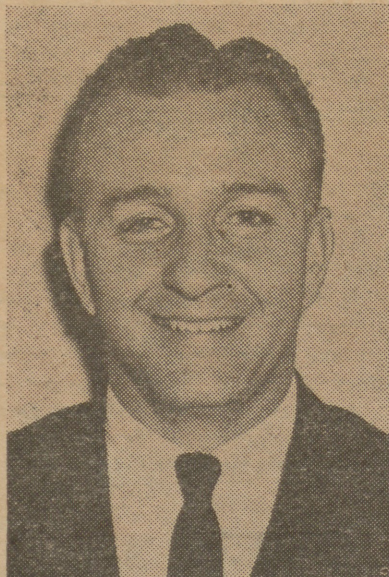

In Natick, Mass., the South Middlesex Branch seeks additional registrations, but is more concerned because some registered voters fail to use their ballots. It is using the slogan, "A vote not cast is a vote against you."

Griffin

Senator Robert P. Griffin (Rep.-Mich.) will address the Mahon for Congress Dinner to be held Oct. 11, at the Hotel Savary in Des Moines. Senator Griffin leads the GOP Senators who oppose the nomination of Abe Fortas for Chief Justice of the Supreme Court. The $25.00 per plate dinner will be a major fund-raising affair for Don Mahon, the GOP candidate for Congress from Iowa's 5th District.

Fenton is a member of Indianapolis Christian Church, Polk County and Iowa State Bar associations, secretary of the Iowa County Attorneys Association, Kiwanis Club and Masons, an executive in the Little League baseball.

He is a strong believer in law and justice for all citizens.

Says Captain Has Admitted Pueblo Ship Was in the Wrong

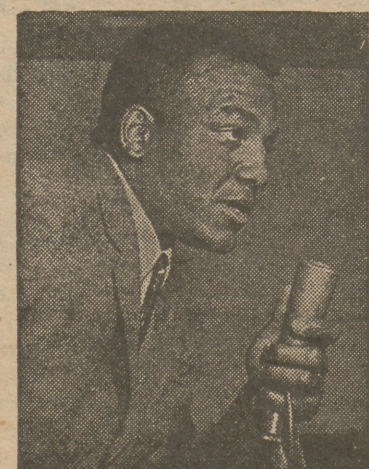

Captain Lloyd Bucher, commanding officer of the U.S. Pueblo, said in an interview with the Guardian last week that his ship "was definitely intruding into territorial waters of the Democratic People's Republic of Korea (DPRK) on Jan. 23."

Bucher was interviewed in his quarters near Pyongyang, North Korea by Guardian staff correspondent Lionel Martin, one of the only two U.S. newsmen to visit North Korea in 15 years, and the only newsmen of any western country to hold a private conversation with the commander of the Pueblo.

Jim Brown-Doing Something "Heroic" On the Movie Screen

Granada, Spain — "Negroes crave to see a black man do something heroic on the screen," Jim Brown said, doing just that.

"you saw a black man up there he was either singing, dancing, sweeping or scratching his head. No more, baby."

The big handsome star has four major unreleased films and is currently starring here in 20th Century Fox's "100 Rifles" with Raquel Welch and Burt Reynolds. Jim plays a policeman who goes south of the border in 1912 to bring back a bank robber and gets involved in a revolution.

Screen Love

In the story, he ends up leading the Yaqui Indians in their just fight against the Mexican government almost against his will. Jim's character, Lydecker, explains he doesn't like Indians much and that he's just trying to do a job, but he gets involved, he gets committed. Along the way, he also makes savage screen love with Raquel.

1969 Achievement Scholarship winners will be announced next March.

Calls For Ouster of Olympic President Avery Brundage

South Lake Tahoe, Calif.—Avery Brundage, president of the International Olympic Committee, has come under fire concerning statements he made on a national television program.

Those protesting Brundage's statements were black members of the United States Olympic track team, who said Brundage, on the program, dared the blacks to participate in a protest, after which he would give them a "quick trip home" threat.

Brundage said he made a general statement that "demonstrations" would not be permitted at the Games, and that demonstrators "of any nationality" would be sent home. He also said his remarks were "not directed against any specific group."

Some 21 athletes and Assistant Coach Stan Wright signed the petition calling for Brundage's removal. Brundage is 81.

New Album By Booker T—"Over Easy"

Check out Stax's Booker T. and the MG's new album, "Over Easy", featuring Eleanor Rigby, Foxy Lady, Hang Em High, and a host of other soul beats that can't be put down. "Over Easy" with Booker T. overtones and Eleanor Rigby are my two favorites, though "Since You Been Gone" is running a close second. Rigby could well do pretty good on its own as a single, as it has in past cases (the Beatles hit was number one on the charts for a long while, and brother Ray Charles's rendition of the song is one you'll remember).

The Fifth Dimension seem to have fallen in love with Laura Nyro's album—two of their most recent releases have been previously done by Miss Nyro. I wouldn't be surprised if the Fifth Dimension came out with "Eli's Coming", also on Miss Nyro's album. (Stone Soul Picnic and their current song was aired by Miss Nyro early this spring, and I must admit, on those songs, I'll go along with Laura.)

And did you dig Diana Ross on Ed Sullivan? Two would that have been a neutral wig she be wearing? Out of sight. Next week Sullivan promises to have Dionne Warwick and Flip Wilson.

Disappointing TV

This season's crop of television in the way of black women is disappointing. To have the talented veteran actress Ruby Dee playing in a nighttime soap opera Peyton Place is beyond my comprehension, and I'm still waiting to see Nichelle Nichols (Star Trek) play around with something other than spaceship mechanical gadgets.

Diahann Carroll is doing her best, (Julia) I suppose, but I doubt whether she will be having major roles as a dating partner with a handsome white doctor or hugging him in happiness, or even the elderly doctor she has to put up with.

Jim Brown, according to the press releases, "makes savage screen love" to Raquel Welch. Come on, motion pictures, why is you are so afraid to show a black woman in a starring role with a white respectable partner in other than a grade c movie? Or are you afraid she will turn into a snake and bite him, as the song goes?

Take it slow, and watch them flicks.

HEALTH FOR ALL

Just over a year ago an unusual episode in a midwest nursery school suddenly placed 20 children on the sick list. A tuberculosis epidemic had broken out. In addition to the 20 with active disease, many others had acquired TB infection but were not actually ill.

The incident is worth recalling for a couple of strange reasons. For one thing, such epidemics have become comparatively rare; evidently they still happen. Another thing: it all began with a case of arthritis.

The arthritis sufferer, a member of the school's adult staff, was being treated with steroid drugs. Some years before she had had tuberculosis, but it had long since retreated to an inactive stage. Now it was found active again.

Coincidence? Not a bit. It has

FRIDAY'S MARY BRUBAKER SHOW OVER KRNT TELEVISION STATION will present Model Mary Hobbs and an Afro American Style Show. Television sets are all over Des Moines wherever you are—shopping or whatever! Okay?

HOW TO SUCCEED IN BUSINESS WITHOUT REALLY TRYING is now playing at The Des Moines Community Playhouse. About the play: Freda Nahas, an established play director and drama coach, describes the play as a clever satire on some of the skuldugery that goes on in the business world—or any other world—to advance one's own interests. She states the show is well cast and the costumes are marvelous! She liked very much the musical's "The Brotherhood of Man". Elaine Estes, always a first nighter at the Playhouse found the play highly entertaining and recommends it on this score. She was generous in her praise of its costuming as well.

THE DES MOINES COMMUNITY PLAYHOUSE'S GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATION held at Hotel Savory on Thursday night, September 26, was a memorable occasion. Theatre people present believeable make-believe, but not so on this night. Instead they were as sincere and believable as it is humbly possible to be! It was a group reliving lifetimes dedicated to the pursuit of theatre art. Described were years of toil, physical, mental and emotional investments as total and severe as those experienced in any other field. It was a privilege to relive the years which make up the lives of persons of long ago, of our elders, and to recall the times shared with contemporaries. "It was a night to be remembered."

FREDA NAHAS, HAS BROKEN RIGHT FOOT newly encased in a cast, phoned and invited me to use her ticket to the Playhouse's 50th Anniversary. I had arrived home almost too late, but accepted her gracious offer. Because I was alone someone found for me a last remaining seat. Those making space for me were, I was sure, some of the Playhouse's most devoted friends. I learned those nearest were J. B. and Marian F. Corcoran; Wright and Peggy Percival; Randall and Peg Klein. As the names of various for-

The Laymen's Organization of St. Paul A.M.E. Church sponsored a bus trip to Springfield, Ill., to the Illinois Conference. They also visited Lincoln's Home in which he was married and his tomb in Oak Ridge Cemetery. Those making the trip were Mr. and Mrs. Leo Jones, Rev. Felix Dickerson, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Wimberly, Mesdames Frances Brent, Al-berta Grace, Ellen Burrell, Sarah Ward, Haley D. Johnson, Ruth McQuerry, Felice Rhodes, Ruth White, Lela Parker, Katherine Stewart, Evelyn Greene, Lonnie Ganaway, Dora McKay, Mabel Newton, Minnie Ezell, Effie Jones, Evelyn Williams, Oceola Sims, Verline Propes; and Miss Mary Holmes.

Pot Luck Dinner By Tawasi Fed. Club

The Tawasi Federated Club held a pot luck dinner on Thursday, Sept. 26 at the home of Mrs. Minnie Jones, 1318 Ascension.

mer presidents and board members were called, I blinked and blinked again! But then I'm not accustomed to substituting (one might say) for Freda Nahas! You guessed it—this is who they were, theatre royalty!

CRAIG HAINES AND RICK BOWLSBY were the two young men manning the Des Moines Public Library's Music Department at the time of my visit Monday night. I have never been served with greater courtesy and efficiency. They are very much young, young executives! Now for statistics: Craig is a North High School junior planning to major in music education at Wichita State University, if this proves possible. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Garland Haines, 1430 Second Place. Rick, a North High junior hopes to major in voice of instrument at Simpson College. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Bowlsby, 4021 Seventh Street.

MET PRETTY JOYCE JACKSON at Sears and Roebuck Catalog Department. As is so popular among today's young people, she is employed by night as well as by day. Joyce is an Armstrong Tire and Rubber Company teletype-secretary and key punch operator. She works for this firm during the day and has been in its employ for five years. Joyce is a 1963 graduate of Des Moines Technical High School and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Jackson.

THELMA AND FREDERICK BERNARD, of Los Angeles, received via mail a tiny gold booklet entitled "God's Gold Book Plan—"for financial blessing." The inner page reads "Put this payment book with your bills. Remember God first when you pay bills. Save your $1.00 a week and mail it in once a month, etc. The next page, to be detached, is entitled "Faith Payment Number One" and one's name and address; on the back is entered the donor's prayer. The booklet ends with "Faith Payment Number Twelve."

P.S. A certain lady with the initials D.E.McC. promised me some notes! Hope you read this, Madam!

Third Car for Cards' Bob Gibson?

New York — Pitchers Bob Gibson of the St. Louis Cardinals and Denny McLain of the Detroit Tigers, the leading candidates for the Most Valuable Player Awards in their respective leagues and probable starters in the first game of the 1968 World Series, could have the inside track on Sport Magazine's 14th annual World Series Sports Car Award, if precedent rules and hurlers dominate in the Fall Classic.

If Gibson manages to win the Dodge Charger, it will be an unprecedented third sports car and the second in two years that he will have won as the Series MVP.

John Spencers Take Trip To Portugal, To Spain and to Morocco in July, August

Mr. and Mrs. John Spencer of 1152 17th Street have culminated a trip to Portugal, Spain and Morocco.

They were two of thirty-four persons on the Maupin Tour which left the United States in mid-July for first, Lisbon, Portugal, where one of the highlights of their stay there was an aerial view of Lisbon's striking white and red buildings and mosaics. At Lisbon they enjoyed cocktail parties, sightseeing and a night on the town. From there they traveled to Algarve, Lisbon's beginning of the Riveria, where they stayed at the Peniana Hotel.

In Seville, Spain, the Spencers viewed Seville's cathedral of the tomb of Columbus, and at Alcazar, that evening, they enjoyed a horse drawn carriage drive through the city on their way to dinner and flamenco dancing and other entertainment.

In Gerez, the world renowned Sherry winery capital, they sampled the wines and were given a bottle as souvenir.

Tangiers

Later they boarded a ship for Tangiers, Morocco, across the Strait of Gibraltar. Mrs. Spencer said Tangiers was the highlight of the tour for her, and here she shopped and also bought a "kaftan" native woman's dress, and toured a "kasbar," one of many, including one fifty miles from the city in the Sierra Nevada Mountains. She also participated in a camel ride.

That evening they were entertained at a Moroccan feast and dancers. Later they again crossed the Strait where they received a more adequate view of the Rock of Gibraltar on their way to the Coast of Del Souel—the Spanish Riveria, on whose border sits the city of Malaga. While in Malaga they stayed at the Malaga Palace (Hotel).

Mr. and Mrs. Spencer celebrated their wedding anniversary on July 30, and in appreciation of this the Maupin Tour sent to their room three dozen red, white and pink carnations and a basket of fruit.

On July 31 the group then traveled to Grenada to see the El Hombro, a Moorish castle, which, said Mrs. Spencer, reminded her of a "storybook castle", and then to the Cave of the Gypsies. That evening the Spencers were honored at various nightclubs and more flamenco dancing. Grenada is noted for its Mantilla lace.

At Cordoba, the Des Moines toured the inn of Don Quixote, and had their first experience of going into a mosque, the largest built by the Moors in the world. The group then visited Val De Panas.

Although Mrs. Spencer had qualms about attending her first bullfight, she said she grew accustomed to it and even lauded the bullfighters in Spain's second largest bullfighting arena in the city of Madrid. While in this city Mrs. Spencer had the honor of being introduced to actor Caesar Romero.

Tourist attractions are never at a loss in Madrid, and one of the most widely enjoyed is the "flea market", where every type of merchandise imaginable is sold. This area, Mrs. Spencer said, is larger than downtown Des Moines. They also toured the Prado Museum, the Royal Palace, the Old Quarter, Madrid's best night spots, and the next day, the Valley of the Fallen, a monument honoring the fallen soldiers of the Franco wars, termed one of the wonders of the world.

In Santa Monica they visited the second oldest university in the world, before moving on to Bussaco, Portugal; Sigobia, which displays a fine example of the Roman style aqueduct; and to Nazara, Portugal, a city whose residents claim to be the descendants of the Phenicians.

After returning to the States, the Spencers traveled to New York City to see the Broadway shows "Cabaret" and "Hello, Dolly", and enroute to Des Moines, stopped in Indianapolis, Ind., to visit her mother, Mrs. Minnie Potter; daughter-in-law, Mrs. Diane Spencer; and grandchildren.

They returned home Aug. 24.

SELF HELP THE BEST COURSE

Last week, a group of young Negro high school students in Des Moines, chafing under the bad reputation some irresponsible students were making for the school and the Negro students in particular, volunteered their services to visit other schools and plead with youngsters to maintain order and good behavior at the football games.

This is one of the finest moves we have heard about by youngsters who, dissatisfied with rowdiness and disrespect for themselves and their neighbors, wanted to do something about the situation, which all must admit, is bad.

It seems that such a beginning should have the enthusiastic backing of the teachers and school administration. It should include white students as well for it would point up that both whites and Negroes were interested in preserving order at the games because these trouble spots are among Negroes and whites as well.

Viewing students going to and from school these days, even the first and second grades, it is difficult to see how vicious some are; wondering whether parents and/or their teachers even talk to them about how to treat each other.

Again we say more power and success to these youngsters in doing something tangible to solve their own difficulties.

DANGER LURKING IN WALLACE CAMP

Political campaigns produce some strange things, the leading one now is that of former Governor Wallace of Alabama. And he has been deceptive enough to fool a lot of unsuspecting people, who supposedly agree with some one idea he espouses, but in the end follows the governor lock, stock and barrel.

An example of this deception is his plea that he will take the government back to the people. By this, he selects the things he will take back just as he has always selected the laws he enforces and/or obeys.

Speaking over the radio in Des Moines Tuesday evening, one of his personal representatives told his audience how Wallace plans to accomplish all of his promises, how he would let the people at home decide whether a labor union should exclude Negroes and at the same time serve as their bargaining agent for a plant, repeal the laws against discrimination in housing, in public accommodations and against equal education opportunities.

Sensing the dictatorial program Wallace is offering, the North Iowa Methodists warned in a resolution that the people in America must not make the same mistake the Germans made during the rise of Hitler to power. They never dreamed that the German people could be so deceived. Apathy and unintelligent going about as usual will produce an almost similar situation should Wallace gain power as the head of the executive branch of the government.

America was not too far away from a pitiful lowly position when during the 1920's it allowed the Ku Klux Klan to gain control of communities where they ruined, intimidated and misused many people in the name of good Americans when in fact a majority of its leaders were either hoodlums or seekers of power to control the destiny of the people by fascist methods. On the other hand a majority of its followers were either ignorant, unthoughtful or strived to vent their spleen on innocent people.

In this day of disregard for law and order and the prevalence of crime most everywhere, many people have a tendency to follow anything they think promises some relief. While in this fluid condition of thought, America must not allow a mad dog to run wild otherwise its foundation may easily be shaken worse than it is.

DES MOINES BLESSED WITH ART CENTER

Des Moines is blessed with an art center which is recognized as one of the most beautiful and complete of any city west of the Mississippi river.

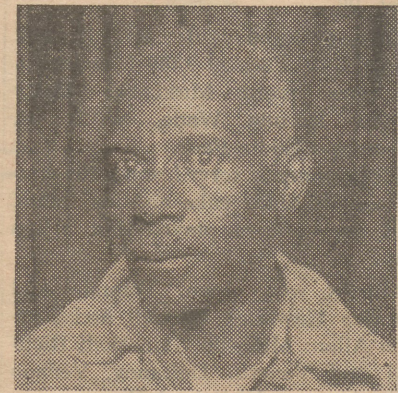

Built in 1929 from proceeds given by the J. D. Edmundson foundation on a beautiful site at Greenwood Park, the center now has completed its second stage with the addition of a sculpture room, auditorium and an additional remodeling of the building which offers citizens of Des Moines and surrounding communities facilities for seeing outstanding art, use of auditorium and art classes.

The beauty of the place is marvelous, the facilities complete with particular emphasis for young people as a part of their education.

Altruistic finances built the center, other altruistic funds have paid for the equipment, altruistic money has paid for the additions.

Effort should be made by organizations, churches and individuals to have Des Moines see what they own as an art center and are entitled to use to the fullest extent.

SPORTS

With Allen Ashby

All last week a friend of ours and we were expressing fear that the Hawks would go down to TCU and get ambushed. Well, they did just that. But it must have been a real good game to watch.

Iowa

Coach Nagel may scream that his boys were robbed and maybe they were, but that never shows on the scoreboard. We never can quite accept the plea for a tired defense. The boys' first consideration is to get in condition. We have to recall the small Iowa State squad one year. Most of the players went both ways and then played the pants off all their opponents. But they were in shape—we are not trying to argue that Iowa wasn't in shape. We just can't accept the supposed theory that a defense is tired because two big crushing backvcs finally began to pound it and gain.

This weekend comes Notre Dame, fresh from that shellacking by Purdue. You know what they did last year after the Purdue game. The game was called a sellout in August and now they say tickets are available. What gives? Maybe Notre Dame turned some back. We still have hopes for the Hawks to win a couple of conference games and maybe three. Who? We don't know.

Iowa State

Iowa State swings into its Big Eight schedule with a two-one record and a good chance to stage some upsets on the way as the season wears on. They must have looked pretty good last Saturday and might be the spoilers of the Big Eight.

Drake

Drake put on an exciting show but

Iowa State Wins; Iowa, Drake Universities Lose

Provo, Utah — Ben King's running and receiving helped the Iowa State Cyclones capture a win from Brigham Young Saturday in a 28-20 upset.

King's first touchdown came on a pass from quarterback Johnnie Warder in opening action of the second quarter. King caught the football on the twelve yard line for a 17 yard play. His second and the most crucial touchdown came in the last 13 seconds of the game when he plowed two yards for the winning score.

Hawks

Ft. Worth, Tex. — Though the Hawkeyes, who won their last game with Oregon 21-20, were defeated Saturday by Texas Christian, 28-17, it was a big day for sophomore Dennis Green, who got both Hawk-eye touchdowns. His first was a 63-yard run and his second a 25 yard run.

The Harrisburg, Pa. tailback is continuing his streak of winning football, as he did in high school. He once scored three touchdowns in only three carries during the final quarter of a prep game, and some feel that Green may be this year's answer to top ground gainer Silas McKinnie who graduated last year.

This Saturday Iowa plays host to Notre Dame at Iowa City, starting at 1:30 p.m. CDT, as Iowa State plays the University of Colorado at Iowa State. On Oct. 12 Hawks play Indiana at Iowa City.

Drake

Drake lost to the Quantico Marines Saturday, 33-31. This was their second loss. Their only win came in the Drake-N. Arizona game when the Bulldogs won, 30-14. Next game is at Wichita State Saturday night.

New Football Team
For Des Moines

The Des Moines Vikings, a newly formed semi-professional football team under the direction of Tom Renda, opened their gridiron season Saturday night, playing at Burlington, Ia., against the River Chiefs.

A squad of 45 men, ex college and high school players greeted head coach Tom Renda for drills held last Sunday at Sec Taylor Stadium.

Two Viking home games have been scheduled so far. Coach Renda, a 30 yr. old Des Moines attorney will act as a player coach and do the kicking for the new Des Moines Vikings. Ex Des Moines Warrior standout, Ron Washington, has been appointed as defensive and offensive coach and will start at defensive halfback for the Vikings.

Members

The Vikings colors will be purple and white, designed after the Minnesota Vikings. At this time the Des Moines Vikings have no affiliation with any league or pro team.

Among the members on the Vikings team are Ron Washington and Vern Johnson, both ex Des Moines Warriors, Les Moore, Lowell Cooper and Mel Butts, both East High grads; Hank Bagby, Ron Strand and Willie Robinson, both of Iowa State; and Jim Wilder, of Simpson.

They will be on the road again this week playing at Fort Madison.

couldn't quite pull it out. You never see any dull games when the Bulldogs play, win or lose.

Here in our high schools, North won everything but the ballgame against East. North led in every statistic but the main one. This Jim Jewett of East must be pretty good. We will tell him or about him after we take time to see him in action.

Hoover High made all kinds of ground between the twenty yard lines, but Dowling got the points in that one. Hapless Tech had another bad time. Don't know when they will get going.

And East Waterloo just mowed them down, school troubles or not. If they have to play all their games away from home, do you suppose it would really make a difference? Might make them tougher because they would develop a "we'll show 'em complex."

The contest will be played this Sunday at 1 p.m. The Vikings lost their season opener last Saturday night to Burlington 13-12. The Vikings scored on an 80 yard pass play from quarterback Dic Youngs to flankerback Jimmie Wilder and on a 1 yard plunge by Phil Watters.

To the Editor:

The Sept. 10, 1968 edition you stated in your editorial that vice president Humphrey leaned heavily on delegations from the South. I disagree with you.

. . . the true facts about Mr. Nixon — he was the one who made deals with southern delegations and Sen. Strom Thurman of South Carolina all the way, if the readers just remember Mr. Nixon's acceptance speech in Miami when he stated that if elected president he would take government away from the Federal government and give it back to the states where it belongs. As an American Negro I don't think any Negro in his or her right mind should vote for any one who advocates States Rights for president of the United States.

. . . The Republican Administration under president Eisenhower and vice president Nixon took price controls off wages, food and housing, and that started inflation in this country . . . and in the war in Viet Nam, Mr. Nixon was the one who advised president Eisenhower to send soldiers to Viet Nam . . . while Nixon was vice president of the United States, he purchased a home with a protective covenant. This is not hearsay because I have a copy of his deed . . .

Mr. Nixon promised to attack the root causes of poverty but ninety percent of the Republicans in Congress voted to kill war on poverty. The Republicans voted 93 percent against Social Security and 65 percent against Medicare . . . During the Republican administration of President Eisenhower and Nixon unemployment rate went up 7.5 percent and now under the Democrats the unemployment rate is down to 3.2 percent . . .

As a Democratic Precinct captain who has worked in politics fifteen and one-half years, and being very successful in politics, in 1964 my precinct gave Johnson the largest Democratic vote.

Editor's Note: The writer cannot prove what Humphrey did by telling what Nixon did. We would never accuse Humphrey of being a bigot but he, like most other contender, garnered many of the southern delegates at the convention.

Turner, Bailey Bowl
High for Forty-One

This week's winner of the high game and high series for the Forty and One Men's Bowling League was Dave Turner, rolling 265-642 series. Second was Chauncey Bailey, hitting 225.

The League bowls each Monday night at Grand Lanes. President is Elmer Tolson.

Wyoming's Negro
Captain—Gene Huey

Laramie, Wyo. — Wyoming University's first Negro football captain, Gene Huey is entering his senior year, and has regrets about leaving after this.

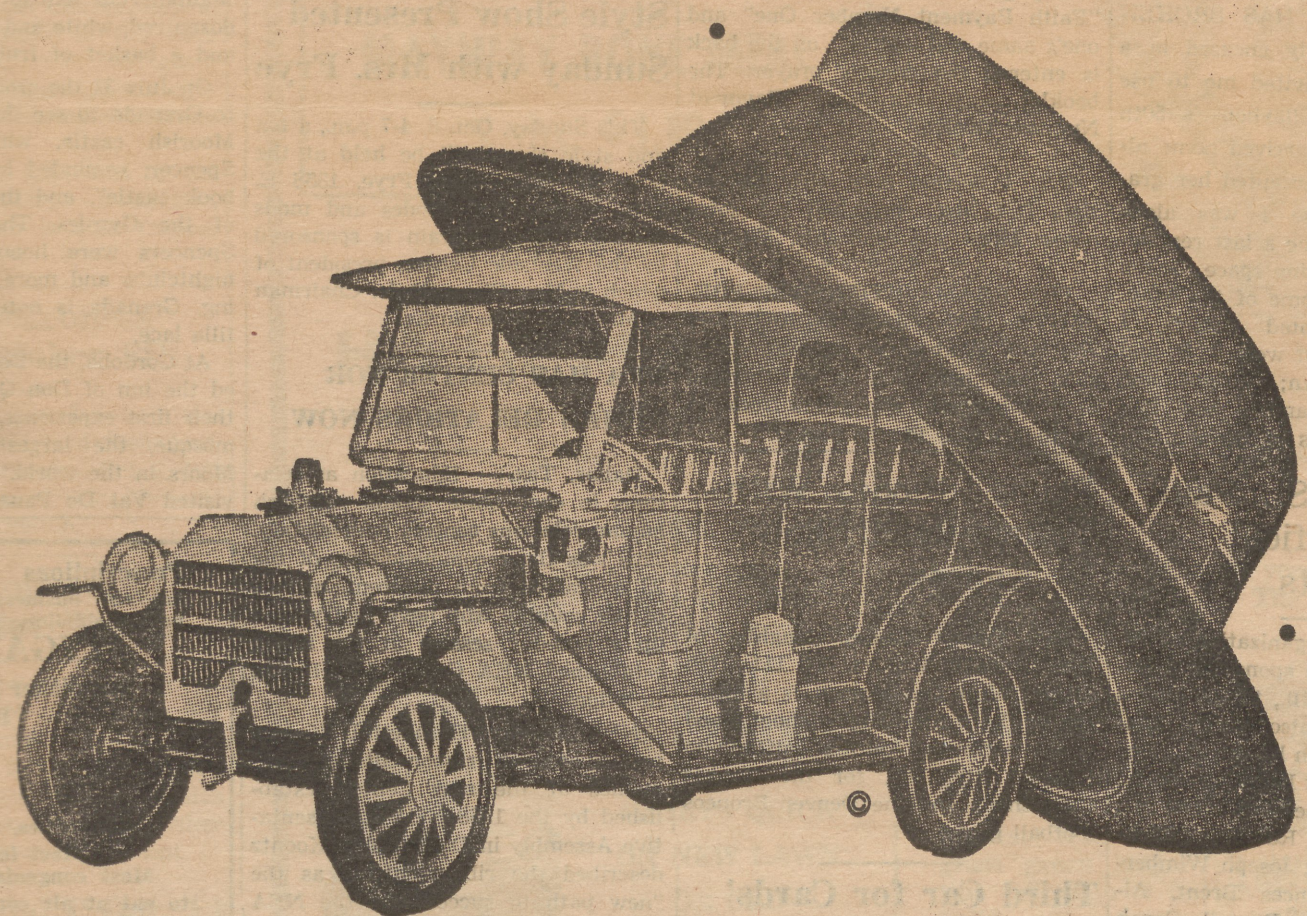

Huey's contribution to Wyoming's 1967 Western Athletic Conference football champion was 53 pass receptions for 868 yards, including 12 catches for 184 yards in Wyoming's 21-19 win over the University of Texas at El Paso to cap an undefeated regular season. He was split end.

Huey would like to do more of the same this season, but he has been tabbed for extra duty at defensive halfback, which may slow down his pass-catching. But he still is almost a cinch to break the Wyoming career mark of 74 receptions.

Huey's stardom comes despite the feeling early in his college career that he wanted to do was "make the team."

Muhammed Ali May

Phoenix, Ariz. — Muhammed Ali, ousted heavyweight champion of the world has indicated he will sign a contract to fight Zora Folley of Chandler, Ariz. In March, 1967 Muhammed defeated Folley. The fight was stopped in the seventh round.
