William Cropp to Head Mental Health Unit

Had Held Posts with Several Agencies

Climaxing a long career as a social worker with various agencies William N. Cropp, has been hired as the first director of the newly established Polk County Mental Health Center.

The center's function will be to provide comprehensive mental health services for Polk County residents by coordinating mental health agencies in the area and serving as an information center.

Mrs. Ball said the center will temporarily occupy offices in the Securities Building with the Health Planning Council until permanent headquarters can be established.

Cropp is a graduate of Drake University and earned a master's degree in social work from the University of Iowa. For six years he was a case worker and case work supervisor for Family Service-Travelers Aid of Des Moines.

He has been with the Clarinda Mental Health Clinic for eight years.

Cropp and his family live at 4512 Wakonda Pkwy. Mr. and Mrs. Cropp have three daughters, the oldest of whom is a student at Iowa University.

He has been active in civil rights affairs and is a member of several professional societies. He also is a member of the NAACP, Burns ME Church, The Roosevelt Club Inc. and Kappa Alpha Psi fraternity.

Iowans Can Expedite Income Tax Refunds

Iowa taxpayers can expedite their income tax refunds and save the state money by using the income tax forms they will receive in the mail next month. These returns will have a special label attached which will save considerable processing time and cost for the department.

The Department of Revenue has revised the Iowa income tax return and instruction booklet. This new booklet will be a self-mailer with an opening in the front cover to allow the department to affix a mailing label to the return itself. This will be a "piggy-back" (dual copy) label which will allow the taxpayer to remove one copy for affixing to their copy of the return. If the information on the label is not correct the taxpayer should make the necessary corrections on the label when preparing the return.

Use of the return bearing this label will enable the department to cut the cost of processing returns and to speed up refunds. Returns bearing the label will move through the processing steps much faster than other returns because it will eliminate coding and keypunching this information, resulting in considerable savings to the state and reduction in processing time.

Taxpayers that have others prepare their return are asked to take the booklet to the person or firm preparing their return.

In addition to providing educational assistance in colleges and universities, the VA has on-the-job training programs and high school completion training for veterans with service after January 31, 1955.

Steel, Carter, Invited to Appear Dec. 9 at Recessed Meeting of NAACP Board

New York — In accordance with a recommendation of the Legal Committee of the NAACP which met here all day November 18, Lewis M. Steel, dismissed from the NAACP legal staff October 14, and Robert L. Carter, general counsel, who resigned October 28 in protest against the Steel dismissal, have been invited to appear before a recessed meeting of the NAACP National Board, December 9.

Skueall Coreuser

Matthew Perry, an attorney of Columbia, S. C., member of the National Board and vice president for legal services, will begin at once on the committee's recommendation with the title of Special Counsel "to supervise legal matters for which the Association is responsible, with authority to secure and designate such lawyers as may be necessary for this purpose."

The committee recommended that the chairman designate a subcommittee of the legal committee to "secure the services of a General Counsel for the Association."

Carter and Steel Confer

The legal committee, whose chairman is William R. Ming, Chicago attorney and former faculty member at the University of Chicago law school, recommended to Bishop Stephen G. Spottswood, Board chairman, that "Robert L. Carter and Lewis Steel be invited to that meeting of the Board at a time to be fixed by the chairman for the purpose of making such statements to the Board as they may see fit to make."

The committee's recommendation for holding the recessed meeting of the Board, December 9, was accepted by Bishop Spottswood and notices have been sent to the 60-member Board.

Article to Cavo

Mr. Steel wrote an article on the U.S. Supreme Court for The New York Times Magazine which appeared October 13 under the title, "Nine Men in Black Who Think White." In it he maintained that most if not all the victories in the civil rights field up to now had been symbolic rather than substantive and that "ingrained" white supremacy has not been disturbed.

The NAACP Board, meeting the next day, repudiated the article and viewed the Steel interpretation as "an indefensible rejection of much of the Association's major effort over the past sixty years."

Purpose of the meeting will be "hearing the report of this Legal Committee with respect to the Steel matter, the resignation of the General Counsel (Carter) and his associates and other matters concerning the Association's legal program."

Ured Official tie

It noted, also, that Mr. Steel had used his official title of associate general counsel and had not differentiated the views of the NAACP from those he expressed. By unanimous vote in an executive session it dismissed Mr. Steel from his post, effective immediately.

The committee further recommended that the Board "state in the strongest possible terms publicly its affirmation of the proposition that

Future Alcoholism Meeting December 2

A public meeting to explore the future of alcoholism programs has been announced by Jack Bohe vice-Chairman of the Iowa Comprehensive Alcoholism Project area Committee on Alcoholism.

The meeting will be at 7:30 o'clock Monday, December 2, 1968 at Hawley Welfare Building 700 6th. The public is urged to attend.

"Great strides have been made in the past two years," Mr. Bohe stated. "We must now plan realistically for the future."

This meeting, one of 15 throughout the state, is sponsored jointly by the Iowa Alcoholism Foundation and the ICAP Committee on Alcoholism. Both are non-profit groups concerned with the treatment and rehabilitation of alcohol abusers.

"Alcoholism is a disease" Mr. Bohe stated. "It has been successfully treated as such." "It is unthinkable that we should stand aside and lose the advantages we have gained during the past years while the state-wide program flounders and dies."

"We know there are 50,000 number of people in this area who suffer from this illness," Mr. Bohe said. "The economic and human impact is staggering."

"Proposed legislation is now being prepared for presentation when the legislature convenes," Mr. Bohe continued.

"The public should help us to direct these efforts and encourage passage of a workable and practical law."

Mondays program includes a short outline of the economic impact and an outline of program needs, followed by statements of witnesses. The third part of the meeting will take up proposed legislation and a question and answer session.

Michigan City Ordered to Build Low-Rent Houses

Lansing, Mich. — This city has been ordered to build a low-income housing development in a white single-family residential section.

Judge Noel Fox of the U.S. District Court acted in response to an action brought by Negroes and Mexican-Americans through attorneys of the NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund, Inc. (LDF) this week.

LDF attorney Michael Davidson of New York City handled the case with Paul Rosen and William Goodman of Detroit.

The Court also enjoined a referendum, which had been initiated by white residents of the area of the proposed low-income project, to repeal zoning variances required by the developer of the project.

Judge Fox ruled that "since the displacement of these low-income citizens is not being delayed (by highways and industrial expansion), neither should these plans for substitute housing be delayed."

"This decision," said LDF Director-Counsel Jack Greenberg, "provides a practical opportunity for Negroes and Mexican-Americans to find housing outside their ghettos. It is the first ruling of its kind."

"The Court's order strikes at sophisticated devices of housing discrimination found across the country, particularly in northern suburbs and city fringe areas."

Former KKK Leader Arrested For Murder Of Vernon Dahmer

Hattiesburg, Miss. — In the midst of a U. S. District Court trial for conspiracy in the 1966 firebombing death of Vernon H. Dahmer, an NAACP voter registration leader, Sam H. Bowers, Jr., former Ku Klux Klan leader, was arrested here on a charge of murder, Nov. 18.

Bowers was arrested during a lunch break in the Federal Court hearing for 16 men accused of conspiracy in the civil rights leader's death. He was taken to the Forrest County jail.

He was one of 13 men indicted on arson charges in the Dahmer murder and stood trial earlier this year, but a mistrial was declared when the jury could not reach a verdict.

Glen Cove, N. Y. — Argument in the suit to eliminate racial discrimination in Great Neck's volunteer fire department will be heard in the State Supreme Court sitting in Mineola, Long Island, on Dec. 19. The possibility that this action would be unnecessary was thwarted this week when the present fire department voted unanimously against a proposal to abolish discrimination voluntarily. The plan which was rejected had been proposed by the State Division for Human Rights.

Kansas City, Mo.—Lena Rivers Smith, WDAF-TV newscaster and the first Negro television personality in this area, died suddenly Monday, Nov. 18 of a heart attack at her home, 4247 Bellefontaine. She was 46 years old.

New York—A computer system that stacks the deck against credit card sharps who use stolen and lost cards to swindle consumers, retailers and industry out of millions of dollars a year is now in operation nationwide, it was announced today by Mobil Oil Corporation.

New York City has more than twice as many physicians per capita as the United States as a whole, and in sharp contrast to the rest of the nation, New Yorkers in the lowest income brackets are seen by a doctor more frequently than affluent city residents.

But less than one quarter of the city's physicians provide private care for the poor, according to a report made public yesterday by the Urban Research Center at Hunter College of The City University of New York.

Donyale Luna, an exotic American high fashion model, has been signed by director Federico Fellini to play the provocative role of Oenotrea, a sexy sorceress, in "Satyricon," now filming in Rome for United Artists release.

She joins a ninternational cast headed by Britain's Martin Potter, America's Hiram Keller and Max Born, also of England.

New York—John H. Johnson, president of the Johnson Publishing Company, Chicago, has been elected to the board of directors of Keep America Beautiful, Inc., the national litter-prevention organization.

The announcement was made by Reuben L. Perin, chairman of KAB's board of directors, following a board meeting here in connection with the group's 15th annual meeting.

Oshkosh, Wis.—Classes were suspended Friday at Oshkosh State University, and more than 100 Negro students were ordered expelled as a result of a violent demonstration during which administration offices were wrecked Thursday.

An estimated 102 students, nearly all of the 11,000-student university's Negro enrollment, were arrested after a 15-minute outburst of damage and a three-hour sit-in demonstration Thursday morning.

I. DeQuincy Newman, also urged "Negro people to boycott all public appearances of all state officials who have defaulted in their duty to extend equal protection to the victims of police violence in Orangeburg, their families and fellow students."

Firms Will Be Asked to Furnish Information As to Number and Type of Work

Seeking to determine the extent of employment by minorities in Iowa, The Iowa Civil Rights Commission has requested that companies doing business with the State of Iowa be required to report regularly the number of non-white persons in their employ.

Moving in the same direction as doing business with the federal government or with organizations using federal funds, the commission has asked that this stipulation be made a part of contracts issued by the Iowa Executive Council, the Iowa Highway Commission, the State Board of Regents and the State Department of Public Instruction.

Most of the construction, building and supply contracts are made by these departments.

Mrs. Full, a member of the Commission said contractors would be required to fill out reporting forms indicating the total number of employees, what these employees do, the number of non-whites in the work force and what these non-whites do.

The highway commission and the Board of Regents have expressed a willingness to cooperate fully with the proposal. The secretary of the Board of Regents said the presidents of three universities are already preparing regulations to implement the requirement.

The executive council took action on the proposal Monday, pending further study of the proposal.

The commission recognizes that contractors in different areas would wind up with different results and in some cases no Negro employees are available.

Iowa U Offers Course in Afro-American Culture

Iowa City—A course called "The Culture of Black America: an Interdisciplinary Approach" will be given at The University of Iowa during the spring semester as one of the principal activities of the new faculty Committee on Afro-American Studies.

Hubbard

Chairman of the committee, which has 20 members from several U of I colleges and departments, is Phillip G. Hubbard, dean of academic affairs. Secretary is Assistant Professor Robert A. Corrigan of the American Civilization Program. They will teach the new course, along with other members of the committee.

The committee has been organized to further teaching and research in the area of black culture, and to encourage increased student and faculty involvement in these fields.

Fifty Courses

It has assembled a list of almost 50 courses with primary or secondary relationship to black culture, which will appear in the U of I course catalogue under the heading "Afro-American Studies." According to the committee's statement, "The courses are intended to provide material on the socio-economic, professional and cultural development, the artistic and literary growth, and the distinctive ideals and values of the black community in America."

The committee is sponsoring the Afro-American Cultural Center at 3 East Market Street, and is making plans for an observance in 1969 of the 350th anniversary of the first permanent settlement of Africans in North America. It is also working on Afro-American curricular development with the Committee on Institutional Cooperation, an organization including the U of I, the University of Chicago and the nine other Big Ten universities.

Afro-American Literature

The primary courses in Afro-American studies listed by the U of

I committee are Afro-American literature; black action theatre; race relations, poverty and the law; human rights and world order; race, community and the American political system; individual rights in an industrial society; and readings in Afro-American history. Some are new this year, and others have been offered before.

QUESTION: My husband will be 65 in April of 1969 but does not plan to retire. Can he apply for Medicare even if he doesn't retire?

ANSWER: Yes, he can be entitled to Medicare benefits even if he does not retire. He should file an application in one of the three months prior to his 65th birthday. His entitlement to monthly benefits will also be established so that he can start receiving social security checks when he retires.

QUESTION: I have been discussing Social Security with several relatives and friends who are receiving social security benefits. It seems that they each have a different idea as to what the requirements are and the benefit amounts. How can I find out who is right?

ANSWER: You should contact your social security office and inquire about your own case. Undoubtedly, each person you talk to is referring to his own case and the facts will probably be somewhat different in each situation.

QUESTION: I recently applied for a social security number. I was surprised that I had to furnish so much information just to be given a social security number. Why is all of this information needed?

ANSWER: There may be many people whose name is the same as yours. However, it is not likely that others with the same name would have the same date and place of birth or fathers and mothers names identical to yours. This identifying infor-

According to the Model City Neighborhood Organization, "The purpose of this program is to reduce the financial hardship burden of baby sitting and/or transportation and/or related expenses that some low-income residents might have and that are a barrier to their participation in Model City planning."

Urges Reappraisal Of U.S. Views

The greatest danger confronting the world today is the threat of conflict between the poor and mostly colored peoples against the white, rich community, says leading economist Peter Drucker.

Technology has created a gap in income and opportunity, a gap which is primarily racial, he states. All the wealthy nations of the world—with the exception of the Japanese—are white, and the poor nations—excluding a part of Latin America—are colored.

A. June Franklin Is Democratic Whip

At a Democratic Caucus held at the Hotel Savary last Wednesday afternoon, the party chose its leaders of the Iowa Senate and House for the session of the 63rd General Assembly. Senator Andrew Frommelt of Dubuque, was re-elected Senate leader; Senator Lee Gaudineer of Des Moines was elected assistant minority leader of the Iowa Senate. William Bannon of Mingo was re-elected leader in the house; State Representative A. June Franklin of Des Moines was elected minority whip.

Mrs. Franklin is the first Negro to be elected to serve a second term in the Iowa Legislature. As the result of her election as minority whip, she becomes the first Negro in a leadership role in either party in American politics and will be the only Negro member of the 63rd General Assembly.

Local and National

Mrs. Franklin has been active both locally and nationally in problems dealing with minorities. She serves as a national board member of the Americans for Democratic Action, and as secretary of the National Conference of Negro Elected Officials, which deals with urban problems of minorities and officials.

During the recent campaign she served as county co-chairman of the McCarthy for President Committee and worked as a coordinator of minorities for McCarthy at the National Democratic Convention.

Mrs. Franklin has been described as the outstanding legislator of the 62nd. General assembly.

In an article in the December issue of Harper's Magazine—"A Warning to the Rich White World"—Mr. Drucker urges a reappraisal of the U. S. views on economic development both here and abroad.

ROSE JOHNSON (MRS. WILMER), who with A. June Franklin were the exciting 1968 candidates for the Republican and Democratic State Representatives. The only Negroes to so compete — the first Negro women in Des Moines to do so — the pair waged a never-to-be-forgotten campaign! Mrs. Johnson, now a neighborhood assistant in the Model Cities Program, misses the political arena where she spent some twenty years. This interest brought her to Des Moines. (As we all know, government workers are under the Hatch Act—such is her case). Observing that "we have tried unsuccessfully to get our men to run," she said of June "her fine leadership qualities were recognized in her selection last week as the Democratic 'whip' in the House of Representatives. We are all going to support her. We know that, as a lover of people, she will be working for the interests of all. This role in the house will show her as one working for good government of the people, for the people by the people." Mrs. Johnson is a former school teacher now in a governmental career.

FRANK FRANKLIN, reflecting over the political events of recent years, expressed this conclusion: "Negroes have at long last learned that there is a right way to accomplish his aims and goals. Take for example, the selection and elections of Judge Luther T. Glanton, James Jackson, former Representative Cecil Reed and my wife. Taken from the pages of history we have here proof positive that change is going to be accomplished. Black people have come to know and elect politicians who can function and can do a job for them. They now know to give the financial support necessary and, having elected their leaders, to contact them regarding problems — by any and all means of communication. For the first time in the history of Des Moines Negroes have gotten out and voted. They gained for themselves representation at the State House." This is putting the facts briefly but is an excellent summation of the position of the blacks. Franklin, who is a well-

These two reside in Des Moines from where Nikkie commutes to Ames.

NIKKIE AND A LARGE GROUP OF IOWA STATE students attended the Julian Bond Rally held for Representative Franklin. Many Drake University students worked the election, too. Tanya and Charles worked in their classes. Their young friends, among them a group of Girl Scouts, shared in pre-election work, too.

TANYA FRANKLIN replying to my question "What was your reaction to your mother's victory?" responded: "That she was very glad, but worked harder the last time! Turning to 10 year old Charles I asked the same question. His mother hadn't won by his bedtime so first thing the next morning when given the news, he celebrated by tumbling down the full length of the stairs! (At 10 one can do that with gusto which is exactly the enthusiasm with which he did!) Incidentally Charles' idea of integration is his collection of four pets: curled up in the corner of the couch were Zorro, Chloe and Clem, three month old Seal Point Siamese kittens and Pierre, a seven week old half Poodle and half dog lovable armful.

THE TALENTED YOUNG ARTISTS appearing recently at Willie House were Yolaine Archer, Cynthia and Robert Parker, Margaret and Patricia Thomas. Interchanging roles, the young musicians each played the flute and the piano. Handy Incinerator
FOR burning household rubbish, an incinerator built of concrete blocks on a concrete foundation is excellent. The base is 4 by 5 feet, and the concrete should be reinforced with chicken wire, according to Family Handyman.

Use standard size building blocks, setting the first course on a thin layer of mortar and leaving two 8"x8" spaces at the front to provide ample draft for complete incineration. The cover is turkey wire, 1"x1" mesh, with welded joints so the wires won't separate due to the heat. Eye-bolts may be inserted in the joints between two of the top building blocks, if you want to hinge the mesh cover by looping down two pieces of the wire into the metal eyes.

Safety Official Praises Iowa School Patrolers

"The 22,000 boys and girls who daily donate their time and effort to keeping their Iowa classmates safe greatly deserve recognition for the public service they perform," says Dan McCarthy, safety department manager, Motor Club of Iowa. "As a portion of the 900,000 patrolers nationally helping to protect 19 million elementary school children from traffic hazards, they also set a tremendous example in good citizenship, dependability and service."

Organized nationally in 1922, the School Safety Patrol has been instrumental in reducing the traffic fatality rate of school-age children by over one-half, while the death rate for all other age groups has practically doubled.

Your professional beautician knows the answer...

Is peroxide needed to color unwanted gray hair?

Hair care and beauty experts know that the first traces of gray hair—even slight fading of natural color after chemical relaxing—can dull a woman's appearance and make her look older than she feels. While most women hate these premature aging effects, many are hesitant about using permanent peroxide haircoloring which may change the natural hair color while coloring gray.

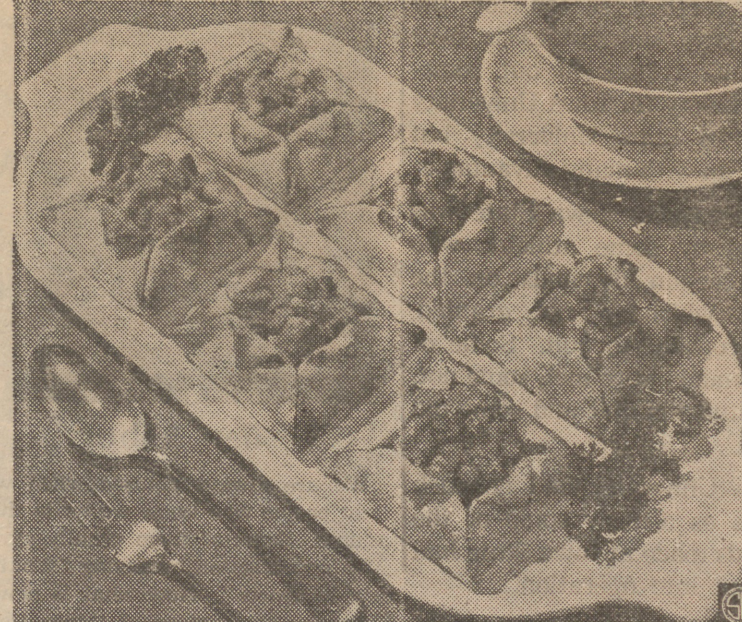

Professionally-trained hairdressers know the importance of their customers' preferences when unwanted gray becomes a problem. These experts also know that Clairol created semi-permanent Loving Care® hair color lotion without peroxide... to color only the gray without changing the natural shade. They also find Loving Care blends back color faded by chemical processing. Because of its mildness, Loving Care maintains healthy looking hair and lasts through a month of shampoos.

Whatever a woman's reason for wanting Loving Care for her hair, she is always wise to consult a professional beautician. Hairdressers are equipped with a family of fine Clairol products and the training to promise each patron the loveliest and most personalized haircoloring effects every time she visits her salon. If you dislike gray, and want no peroxide, why not ask your beautician to glamorize it with Loving Care?

One 10-ounce package makes ample pie crust for an 8", 9" or even a "king size" 10" double-crust meat pie. Or, one package will make 6 individual pies, 9 turnovers, or 6 large dumplings. With crisp salad, dessert and beverage, pretty "picture window" dinner dumplings like these from the Flako Kitchens, make a special—and economical—"hurry up" dinner.

To receive a FREE "Main Dish Pastries" recipe leaflet, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to the woman's editor of this paper.

IOWA UNIVERSITIES HAVE GOOD FOOTBALL SEASONS

The football season for the three Iowa universities is over for 1968. It started out somewhat shaky for Iowa University and Iowa State University but wound up with many advantages.

Last summer Iowa State was plagued by some athletes who made certain demands on the school, which, if not granted, they proposed to quit. Some of the demands were met, some not, some students quit and some did not.

Iowa University had no such rumpus as already some of the demands made at Iowa State had been put into operation.

We wish to commend those boys at both schools who played the whole season, did an excellent job and won the admiration of the players, the coaches and the public.

These young men went on the theory that they came to Iowa to get an education, that football was secondary (they were required to maintain their grades) and since they had the talent and that it was so recognized, their responsibility was to do a good job and they did.

Both Iowa and Iowa State teams included a Negro player from Iowa—Jack Johnson of Des Moines, at Ames and William Powell of Cedar Rapids at Iowa City. High schools in Iowa have produced some excellent athletes over the years but most of them have found schools outside the state. Both boys carried their assignments well. They will be an inspiration for others in years to come.

PRESIDENT-ELECT NIXON ON WRONG TRACK

President-elect Nixon seems prone to make boners that he later must meet or eat.

Prior to his nomination, he felt that the Republican party had a chance of making great inroads in the South and thus he campaigned with the blessings of some who felt they had his ear.

It is safe to say that neither Democrats or Republicans spurned votes from the South. The question to answer is how much was promised by each side to secure that support. Nixon lost the election in 1960 because he failed to convince Negro voters that his ties with their rival enemies foreclosed a chance to do otherwise.

In 1968, in spite of a chance to reverse the trend of a large majority of Negro voters against an overwhelming Democrat vote, he failed to convince them of his sincerity. And even though he was elected, it must be conceded that the Gov. Wallace strength helped him immeasurably.

The U.S. Supreme Court school decision of 1954 and the interpretation of the right of choice by children and parents decision in 1968 stick deeply into the soul of most of the South. And like all laws passed to enhance the civil rights of Negroes, they have gotten away with one sabotage after another to nullify them. And the "other side" has stood by and allowed this to happen without making much effort to enforce the law.

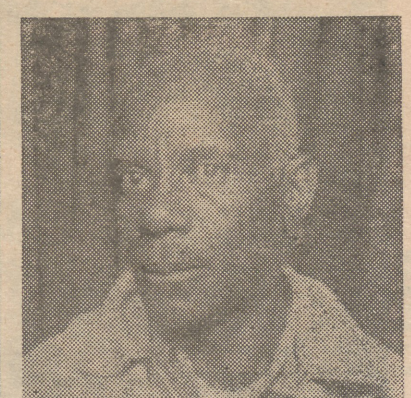

Seeking the surest and quickest methods to enforce the law, the department of Health and Welfare has withheld funds from school districts that have disobeyed the law. And it appears that Mr. Nixon is opposed to this.

During the campaign we heard a lot of oratory about crime in the streets—and rightly so, for it has become a disgrace. But it is equally disgraceful to refuse to obey other laws and have these rights people advocating their course.

It is the kind of thing which makes Negroes mad when they see their shortcomings challenged boldly while the fellow who violates the civil rights laws goes unchallenged even by some charged with upholding the law.

If Mr. Nixon thinks he can build the Republican party by nullifying the law then he is doomed and sets up a perfect target to be kicked out in 1972.

With Allen Ashby

We are always amused when we meet people who know we write this column. Some of them usually start off a conversation by saying "What's new in sports?" Now what is new? They ask us opinions of things that we don't know too much about and then promptly disagree with us. But it is still a lot of fun or we would not have stuck around this long.

Now on another subject. The fellows who write for a living are getting worried about Sonny Liston's come back. The downgrade and belittle his opponents but if the big fellow can get back into the title picture fine. Sure he had a bad time against Clay, but as we recall, so did a lot of others. Now the fellow who called Clay a loud mothed clown are saying well maybe he could fight. So if the big bear can get back up there we are hoping him "the best of luck."

Iowa

The Hawkeyes ended the season better than we thought. We figured them for three, maybe four games but they not only broke even but broke a flock of records on the way. In 1969 they will have Green, Powell and Wallace as receiving backs and Tighl as end. Then there is that fine freshman receiving back, Mitchell, so the few graduating receivers won't be missed too much. But every game was exciting and in all but one. The Hawks were in it all the way.

Drake

Drake pulled a rabbit out of the hat and saved one at the last minute. They will likely be rough next year also.

Simpson or Keyes

Now the boys are arguing who is the better player, Simpson or Keyes. We were asked an opinion and were promptly accused of fence straddling when we said they were equally good. Simpson, with his speed, size and hands could probably play as much defense as Keyes does if he had the chance. Because of the two bad days Keyes had at Minnesota and against Ohio State we would have to go with Simpson for the big trophy. So that competition, you can't have any bad days, no matter how good you are. But there are a couple of other guys in the receiving for that thing and one of them is the Ohio State fullback, The Buskeyes with their fast defense just might beat Southern Cal in the Rose Bowl.

Drake Wins From Louisville

Louisville, Ky.—A last minute touchdown and kick after against Louisville enabled Drake University to wind up with a 5-5 record.

Starting late in the game with a 13 point defeat, Drake put in a blitz which enabled them to defeat Louisville.

The VA is no longer waiting for young veterans to come and ask about veterans' benefits but is contacting them shortly after they are discharged.

FOUR NEGRO STARS NAMED TO LOOK ALL AMERICA FOOTBALL TEAM

New York, November 24—Three fleet Negro running backs and an elusive end have been named to the Look Magazine All America team.

The 22-man team, selected by the Football Writers Association of America, was announced today in the current issue of Look.

The players chosen were: Leroy Keyes of Purdue, O. J. Simpson of Southern California, Ron Johnson of Michigan and Jerry Levias of Southern Methodist.

Keyes, a back of all trades, has scored more touchdowns and registered more points than anyone before him at Purdue, but he concedes that until he was 14, he couldn't beat his older sister in a race. "She was more athletic than I was," he says with a flick of a smile.

The Newport News, Va., native credits his mother's interest in sports for much of his success. "My mother coached a girls' softball team for three years. She was great—she didn't baby me—she said that if I was interested in football, it was up to me, whatever the consequences," Keys recalls in the article.

election to the All America team by acclamation. The Trojan workhorse, in addition to his eye-catching runs and timely touchdowns, lugged the ball for an average of more than 35 times a game and in one contest racked up 47 charges into the line.

Simpson's ability to take punishment is even more amazing, says Look, because as a San Francisco boy he seemed more like a candidate for a wheelchair than a football star. A dietary deficiency had left him with bowed, thin legs and he wore braces for a time.

Wolverine Ron Johnson, both of major-league outfielder Alex Johnson, helped dim the memory of Michigan idol Tom Harmon. He paced Harmon's long-standing school yards gained and rushing attempts records in the seventh game of the season.

Lvias

Split end Jerry Levias broke the color line in the Southwest Conference and the hearts of SMU opponents with pass receptions, punt returns, runs and passes, the magazine said.

In discussing how to defend the 5'10", 170-lb. Mustang, Arkansas coach Frank Broyles said: "If Levias sees you, you won't tackle him. You have to have a lot of people around him, so someone can blind-side him."

Each of the members of the All America team will receive a Linde "Star-for-the-Stars" ring in honor of his achievement.

Iowa University Winds Up Record-Breaking Football Season

Iowa football team wound up its 1968 season in a halo of glory by beating Illinois 37 to 13.

Following a stuttering start in the first quarter where Iowa suffered two fumbles and one interception, the Hawks settled down in the second quarter and went on to win the first game against Illinois since 1941.

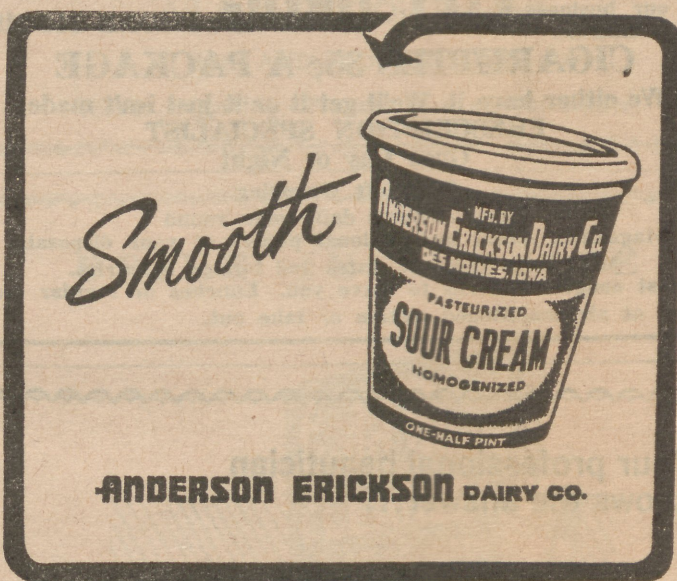

Powell Top Rusher

But it was left to a reserve, William Powell, to lead the rushing charge. The slippery sophomore reeled off 101 yards in eight carries, 55 of the total coming on a scoring dash late in the game.

With four backs rushing for at least 72 yards apiece, Iowa tied Indiana for fifth place at 4-3. The Hawks haven't finished that high since Jerry Burns' 1962 squad tied for fifth.

The VA reports that Spanish-American War veterans (about 9,000) average 89 years of age. One Indian Wars veteran is more than 100; the other is over 90.
