Adam Powell Seated by House 248 to 176

Fined $25,000 and Stripped of Seniority

Washington, D.C.—By vote of 248 to 176 taken after five hours of debate, the U.S. House of Representatives seated A. Clayton Powell upon condition that he be fined $25,000 and stripped of his seniority rights. He had been elected from the New York Harlem district and held 22 years seniority.

The fine is to be paid at the rate of $1,125 per month out of his salary of $30,000 per year.

House Deadlocked

The vote came after the House was deadlocked for four hours on whether Powell should be excluded completely or seated without penalty.

Powell said he permitted himself to be sworn in because he already has raised the key issues before the Supreme Court as to whether the House illegally barred him in 1967.

REP. POWELL

The court has accepted the Powell case for review in what could produce a classic confrontation between the legislative and judicial branches of government.

Iowa's Votes

In the series of votes, Iowa Republican representatives H. R. Gross and William Scherle consistently voted with those favoring total exclusion. Representatives Wiley Mayne and John Kyl either took the total exclusion position or favored a new study. Representative Fred Schwenkel favored seating Powell with a penalty. Representatives Neal Smith and John Culver, the two Iowa Democrats, favored seating Powell without penalty.

Still Cockey

Throughout the debate, Powell stood behind the rail in the House chamber, greeting friends as in the old days when he ruled as chairman of the House Education and Labor Committee.

After the proceedings, a TV reporter approached Powell and asked clumsily, didn't he feel the least bit chastened?

Rites Held

For Daniels Boy

Services were held at 10 a.m. Saturday at Estes & Son Funeral Home for George Wayne (Jenkins) Daniels, 4, of 673 Twenty-eighth st., who died at Mercy Hospital Wednesday after a short illness. Burial was at Glendale Cemetery.

Born in Des Moines, he had lived here all his life.

Eight to Be Honored D.M. Rights Commission

The Des Moines Human Rights Commission announced Monday the names of eight persons to be honored at the city's first annual Human Rights Recognition Banquet.

The program was initiated by the commission to pay tribute to persons who have made outstanding contributions to the cause of human understanding in 1968. The honorees will be presented awards at a banquet January 27 at the Hotel Fort Des Moines.

Their Contribution

They are: Glenn E. Buhr, president of the Presbyterian Interracial Council, is a recipient for P.I.C. This organization has actively aided minorities in securing equal housing opportunities in the community.

John M. Estes, Jr., president of the Des Moines NAACP. Selection was based upon his untiring efforts to remove different forms of discrimination and bigotry in the areas of housing, education, employment and other social aspects.

Mrs. A. June Franklin, a member of the Iowa House of Representatives, was one of the primary sponsors for the State Fair Housing Law. She has assisted the Human Rights Commission in its endeavors to remove prejudice and discrimination from the community.

Mrs. Kate Goldman, president of Community Improvement, Inc., has given much of her time, talent, and abilities toward securing opportunities for minorities in all areas of community life, particularly the young people.

The Rev. L. Robert Keck, a member of the Des Moines School Board, president of Homes, Inc. He has shown outstanding leadership on unpopular issues in the community, and has given assistance in providing homes for low income families.

James E. Olson, vice-president and general manager of the Northwestern Bell Telephone Company, has encouraged the business community to take an active role in the field of human relations and has been a strong force in the establishment of skilled training centers. He has encouraged other employers in this regard.

Watson Powell, Jr., president of the American Republic Insurance Company, has been an outstanding leader in the employment of minorities.

Jimmy Brown Draws Fine

Former football star and now actor Jimmy Brown, 32, former Cleveland Browns fullback, paid a $300 fine in Santa Monica, Calif., after pleading no contest to a charge of striking a deputy sheriff when the officer tried to enter Brown's West Hollywood apartment. Brown was arrested last June 9 after a model, Eva Maria de Bahn Chin, 22, was found injured outside the apartment. Brown was accused of assaulting the model, but she said she fell and he had nothing to do with her injuries.

and provided additional educational support which is necessary to assure success in continued employment.

Edward Smith, president of the Black Student Union, has provided leadership in a non-violent approach toward having confrontation with School Board officials.

Will Receive Certificates

The honorees will be presented certificates of appreciation by Silas S. Ewing, chairman of the city's human rights commission.

The speaker at the banquet will be John L. McKnight, director of the Midwest field office of the U. S. Commission on Civil Rights.

The honorees were selected by the Recognition Banquet Committee composed of Harry L. Graham, the Rev. Edward Kelly and Mrs. Jack P. Cleveland. All are former members of the city's human rights commission who have long been active in civil rights causes.

Solicited Nominees

The award winners were chosen from nominees solicited from business, social, fraternal and religious organizations throughout the Des Moines area.

Father Kelly, a Catholic priest and teacher at Dowling High School, will give the invocation. Graham, director of health insurance development at Bankers Life Insurance Company, will be master of ceremonies. The benediction will be given by the Rev. James Shopshire, pastor of the Burns United Methodist Church.

Banquet Tickets

Recognition Banquet tickets cost $5.00 and are available to the general public. Persons wanting tickets may contact the commission office, East First and Des Moines Streets. Phone: 283-4284. Members of the commission, besides Ewing, are Nathaniel R. Craddock, William N. Cropp, Mareo Dielaca, Rabbi J. B. Goldberg, Robert B. Huston, Mrs. Brenda LaBlanc, Msgr. Edward B. Pfeffer, Richard L. Sirfus and Lynn K. Vorbrich. Perry W. Hooks is executive director of the commission.

Veterans Affairs

In a year-end report on the programs operated by the Veterans Administration, the principal events of 1968 were summarized as follows:

The growth of America's living veteran population from 26,067,000 to 26,644,000 during the year, including an increase from 1,848,000 to 2,749,000 in the number of Viet-Nam era veterans (those in service after Aug. 4, 1964) returned to civilian life.

Guaranteeing the seven millionth G.I. home loan, bringing to nearly $72 billion the total value of these guaranteed VA loans since 1944. During this period, VA has also made more than 293,000 direct loans with a face value of about $2.8 billion. Retention in force of more than four million VA-administered government life insurance policies by World

Release Mrs. Cheatom From Polk Jail on $15,000 Bail

Mrs. Joanna Cheatom, one of the five persons indicted for arson in connection with fires at Jewett Lumber Co. and the A & P Store at 19th and University, was released from the county jail on a $15,000 bond furnished by Hans H. Glissman, a supervisor at the Veterans Hospital.

She had been held in jail since her appearance for arraignment before Judge Gibson Holliday who fixed the bond at $20,000. It was subsequently reduced to $15,000 by Judge Denato. She was denied pre-trial release which would have released her without posting bond.

Mrs. Cheatom, 43, of 1018 Twenty-fifth st., was among five persons indicted Dec. 27 on arson charges. The others are her son, Marvin Cheatom, jr., 16; Charles Knox, 24, of 1207 Eleventh st., and two Waterloo youths, Terry McDonald and Calvin Jones, jr., both 19.

Want No Part Of Senator McClellan

Pikeville, Ky.—Alan and Margaret McSurely will try to bar Sen. John McClellan of Arkansas from questioning them in Washington on January 14.

They also plan to ask the U.S. District Court in Washington to stop McClellan from forcing them to produce papers seized from them in 1967.

McClellan has ordered the McSurelys to appear before his committee in connection with his investigation of ghetto uprisings in American cities. They are organizers for the Southern Conference Educational Fund (SCEF), a Louisville-based civil-rights and anti-poverty organization.

War I, World War II and Korean Conflict veterans. In addition, approximately 3.7 million G.I.'s

Legislation

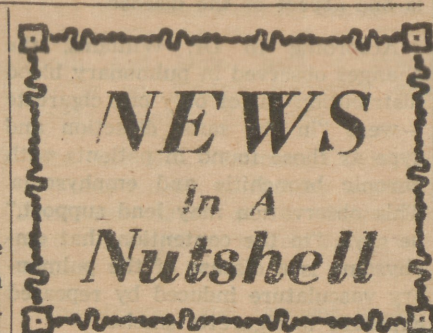

1968 was also marked by major new and expanded veteran benefit laws passed in the Second Session of the 90th Congress. Among these laws were measures:

Raising income limitations for all pensioners and monthly payments for 1.2 million beneficiaries beginning Jan. 1.

Increasing disability compensation payments effective the first of the year for nearly 2 million service-connected disabled veterans, with those rated 100 per cent disabled receiving an increase from $300 to $400 in monthly compensation, and those rated 10 to 90 per cent receiving an eight per cent increase.

Hiking the VA home loan guaranty maximum from $7,500 to $12,500.

Liberalizing Post-Korean G.I. Bill education and training benefits and, for the first time in history, granting the widows of those who died and the wives of veterans who are totally and permanently disabled as the result of military service up to 36 months of VA educational assistance. Regardless of the number of dependents, the maximum allowance payable to an eligible widow or wife is $130 a month for full-time institutional training.

New York—Mirian Makeba is not happy with the lack of engagements she is having since her marriage to Stokely Carmichael.

Washington, D.C.—Seven organizations in Louisville have appealed to the U.S. Supreme Court to stop operations of the Kentucky Un-American Activities Committee (KUAC). The high court was told that KUAC is "being used for the purpose of intimidating and harassing the plaintiffs and inhibiting them from the exercise of their First Amendment rights."

Nashville, Tenn.—Under a recently signed agreement Meharry Medical College and the Aerostructures Division of Avco Corporation are collaborating on a modular health services facility that would cost substantially less to operate than conventional health centers.

Berkeley G. Burrell, President of the National Business League, announced today that his organization has received $550,000 in technical funds from the Economic Development Administration. The money will be used to continue the funding of Project Outreach, a highly successful program which provides training, counselling and technical services to distressed minority businessmen in designated target areas. Outreach, now in its second year, will operate in ten major cities. It has added thousands of minority businessmen in problems ranging from basic management and accountancy to corporation development and financing.

Police Blotter

A man armed with a chrome-plated derringer robbed the Don Johnson Pharmacy, 844 Hull ave., of an undetermined amount of cash and prescription drugs Monday night after binding the proprietor and an employee with a telephone cord.

The bandit was described as a Negro about 25 years old, about 5 feet 7 inches tall and weighing 140 pounds, with "bushy" hair, a mustache and wearing a black overcoat.

Two young women pleaded innocent in Municipal Court here Friday to charges of illegal possession of drugs.

They are Melody Sue Emery, 19, and Judith Ann Davis, 24, both of whom gave their address as 1507 Forest ave.

The two were arrested about 3 p.m. Thursday after police received a report that they had been seen leaving an apartment building at 1904 College ave. with a quantity of capsules and pills.

Selected for Promotion In Upgrading Program Of Commissioned Officers

Washington — the Army has made what may be the service's biggest contribution to Negro officer opportunity.

Approximately 30 Negro officers have been selected for promotion to colonel.

The action will double the number of Negro full colonels on active duty.

In 1962 there were only six Negro colonels in the Army. By 1965 the Army had 11 colonels. In 1940 there were only five Regular Army Negro officers. Three of them were chaplains.

Great Opportunity

One official—A Negro officer who has been deeply involved in top Pentagon racial assignments, likens the colonels' selection "to General Electric or another major U. S. corporation picking 15 Negro vice presidents at one time."

The official (who may have tipped off Army officials that the Nov. 6 selections board results contained the good news for Negro officers) said the move "will do a lot to keep young Negro officers in the Army."

"The possibility of making colonel—the normal pinnacle of an Army officer's career—is now open to them."

He said the selection of 30 or more new Negro colonels—a number he estimates will more than double the existing total Army-wide—is much more meaningful than the recent promotion of a Negro officer to general officer rank.

That officer, Brig. Gen. Frederic E. Davison, now in Washington on leave from Vietnam said that "equal opportunity for the Negro is a fact of life in the Army... There are isolated cases (of discrimination), of course, but Army-wide, hell no, there are no bars."

Are Incentive

Until recently, the Negro Army officer who made lieutenant colonel was a good bet to retire in two years, figuring he had come to the end of the military road. More of the approximately 300 lieutenant colonels are likely to stay on now. Selection of the 30 colonels is also bound to have a ripple effect clear down to company grade officers.

Several other Negro officers on duty at the Pentagon also see the selection of the lieutenant colonels for promotion as "a most significant step."

Last summer on the 20th anniversary of President Truman's armed forces integration order, Defense Secretary Clark Clifford said the desegregation effort has made "extraordinary progress" in the past two decades.

"Twenty years ago the Army had 1306 Negro officers, with only one colonel. Now there are 7637 of whom 27 are colonels..."

An analysis sent to major commanders of the colonel selections shows that of the 819 officers from the APL primary zone (less JAG and below the zone), 145 had no college degree, 228 no command, 58 less than Command and General Staff College background, and 66 had been considered for promotion (previously) two or more times.

At first glance the number of officers with no command experience seems startling but that deficit may be explained by the lack of such opportunities for technical service officers.

The analysis does not mention the selection of Negro officers.

social security checks during 1968 and I worked part time during the year. I just got my withholding slip and I find I earned a little over $1680 during 1968. Won't the Federal income tax return that I will be filing soon take care of any reporting I will have to do for social security?

ANSWER: No. The fact that you file your 1968 income tax return with Internal Revenue merely means you are making a report to that agency of your income for income tax purposes. If you earned over $1680 in 1968 you must still file an annual report of earnings for 1968 with your social security office by April 15, 1969.

QUESTION: I signed up for Medicare last year but I have kept on working full time. I got hurt in an accident a few weeks ago and the doctor says I may be off work for most of the year. Can I draw disability benefits until I do get so I can return to work?

ANSWER: You can start your social security benefits right away. Your benefit will not be a disability payment because that is payable only to persons under age 65 who must stop working because of a disability. Since you are past 65 you will be able to receive full retirement benefits each month and perhaps for the entire year of 1969 if you do not

QUESTION: I received all of my earn over $1680 this year.

Lack of Bank Skill Curbs Back Only Hiring Program

The first Negro to serve on the Federal Reserve Board says there is too small a pool of Negroes with banking skills to permit Negro-owned banks to follow black-only hiring policies.

"Obviously, I am not suggesting that Negroes cannot manage banks successfully," Andrew F. Brimmer said.

"Rather, I am simply recognizing that—partly because of the legacy of racial discrimination and segregation in this country—very few Negroes have had an opportunity to acquire the experience called for in bank operations."

Keokuk News

Robert Pearl Named Lee County Health Administrator

Keokuk, Ia.—Dr. Frank Harper, chairman of the Lee County Board of Health, announced that Robert L. Pearl has been appointed to the position of Lee County Public Health Administrator and will assume his duties January 15. He will carry out the policies established by the Lee County Board of Health and will coordinate and develop new programs in the interest of better health for the citizens of Lee County.

Mr. Pearl is a graduate of Keokuk high school and the University of Iowa. For the past two years, he has been associated with the Mental Health Institute at Mt. Pleasant and served as director of special therapies.

Mr. and Mrs. Pearl live at 6 Mohawk Terrace, Keokuk.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Weldon of Wichita, Kan. were recent visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Bush and Mr. and Mrs. Mallory.

Funeral services for Henry Shanhinghouse were held Thursday, Jan. 2, in the Graves Mortuary with the Rev. Norman Wilkins officiating.

A former resident here, Mr. Shanhinghouse passed away in Minneapolis, Minn., December 28 after a short illness.

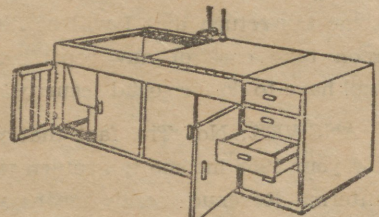

Survivors are his wife, four daughters and a sister, Mrs. Leanna Stewart of this city, two nephews and two nieces.

Enclose Laundry Tubs

STORAGE is a "must" in the laundry, but oftentimes it is makeshift and unsatisfactory. Wise homemakers can readily make a combination linen chest and laundry supply cabinet which will serve also to hide unsightly stationary tubs.

As shown in the illustration, the handyman can enclose the tubs, construct a chest of drawers next to them, and create a handy clothes sorting table on top. To do the best job from the standpoint of cost, appearance and long life, he should build a framework of 2 by 2-inch lumber and cover it with smooth Masonite Tempered Presdwood, one-quarter inch thick.

Drawer construction can be simple. Just form the framework of lumber and attach a bottom of Presdwood. Wooden slides attached to the cabinet and sides of the drawers complete that part of the project.

The lumber framework for the enclosures should be no farther than 16" apart. Swinging doors to enclose the tubs may be made, too, as illustrated, or sliding doors of Tempered Presdwood unframed, may be made. They will slide in grooves cut into the cabinet floor and upper framework.

Prime and paint the installation for the best appearance.

HEALTH FOR ALL

SMOKE GETS IN YOUR EYES—AND AIR SACS

Emphysema is a mystifier. Its cause is uncertain. Its cure is unknown—as yet.

New evidence, however, supports the growing suspicion that damage to the blood vessels of the lungs—caused by cigarette smoking—plays a major role in the development of emphysema. Even one cigarette causes measurable changes in pulmonary blood distribution.

At the University of Louisville (Kentucky) School of Medicine, Dr. J. Bruce Williams measured several changes in patients, some with lung disease and some with normal lungs, after one cigarette. One of these changes was a decrease in ventilation of the air sacs, where exchange of gases with the blood takes place.

A decreased ability of the air sacs to exchange blood and gases is a characteristic of emphysema. Destruction of the walls of the air sacs is one aspect of the disease.

According to Dr. Williams, the changes observed in pulmonary blood distribution—after only one cigarette—were "in the same direction and type as those found in patients with chronic bronchitis and emphysema. This observation may lend support," he says, "to the contention that emphysema is a disease of the pulmonary vasculature induced by repeated exposure to cigarette smoke."

THE WHITE PLAGUE AND RED MEN

A famous cartoon shows two Indians watching a handful of Pilgrims unload at Plymouth Harbor. "So what difference to the neighborhood can a few of them make?" one Indian asks.

The cartoon is funny. The plight of the American Indian today, however, is no laughing matter.

Indians have almost been wiped off the landscape in the course of a few hundred years. Only about 550,000 have survived. Of this number, nearly 400,000 are crammed into 200 reservations in 26 states.

Life for segregated Indians—like other ghetto groups—is difficult. They have a high rate of poverty and disease. Tuberculosis, once called the White Plague, flourishes in poverty areas. Although TB eradication programs have had an effect—the incidence of TB among Indians is still five times that of the population as a whole.

The struggle against poverty, crowded housing, and poor diets is far from over in this country. And the fight against TB, which usually accompanies these conditions, is not finished either.

Your local TB-RD association is working to combat TB—among all groups. And to combat emphysema, smoking and air pollution.

Christmas Seals support this effort. Use Christmas Seals. It's a matter of life and breath for all Americans. "Your Christmas Seal Organization" Polk County Tuberculosis & Health Assn., 208 Flynn Building, Phone: 283-3349, Des Moines, Iowa 50309.

Cherries Are Red for Winter Holidays

FEBRUARY'S A MONTH FOR PARTIES... and this easy-to-make cherry coconut pie may be decorated with hearts for Valentines... with cherries or hatchets for a Washington's Birthday party... or with cut-out pastry flags for Lincoln... which make this pie as versatile as it is delicious!

In addition, this excellent cherry pie lives up to the familiar rhyme "She can bake a cherry pie, quick as a cat can wink her eye"—and with tender-thin coconut flakes to enhance both flavor and color, it's sure to be a holiday favorite.

CHERRY GLAZED COCONUT PIE

- 1 cup Baker's Angel Flake Coconut
- 2 tablespoons butter
- 1 package vanilla pudding and pie filling mix
- 2 cups milk
- 1 baked 9-inch pie shell
- 2 teaspoons gelatin
- 1 cup cherry juice and water
- 1/4 cup sugar
- 1 1/4 cups drained canned red sour pitted cherries, packed in heavy syrup
- 2 teaspoons lemon juice

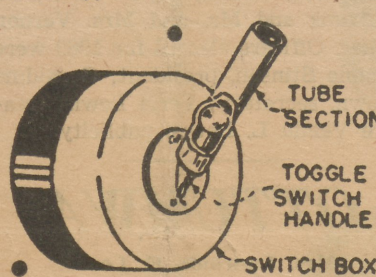

Saute 1/4 cup of the coconut in butter in saucepan until golden brown, stirring constantly. Add pie filling mix and milk; blend well. Cook and stir over medium heat until mixture comes to a full boil. Cool only about 5 minutes, stirring once or twice. Pour into pie shell. Chill.

Combine gelatin and 1/4 cup of the cherry juice. Heat remaining juice and dissolve gelatin and sugar in hot juice. Add cherries and lemon juice. Chill until thick, but not firm. Turn onto chilled pie filling. Sprinkle with remaining 1/4 cup coconut. Chill until firm.

Valentine Pie. Use recipe for Cherry Glazed Coconut Pie. Cut small hearts from leftover pastry. Bake hearts in hot oven (450° F.) about 10 minutes, or until done. Arrange mounds of coconut on cherry topping to resemble lace and place hearts on coconut. (ANS)

To Extend Toggle Switch
If the toggle switch on a power tool is difficult to reach, American Builder, "bible" of the building industry, has a solution. Take a short section of stiff tubing and slip it tightly over the toggle switch handle. This lengthens the handle and brings it within reach. Use either plastic or stiff rubber tubing

It's a Shelf on Shelf!

SOME deep closets have a shelf in back that's hard to reach. To make it more accessible, just install a thin shelf on top and slide it out when storing or removing items.

Because of its smooth, snag-free, long-wearing qualities, a panel of Masonite Tempered Presdwood is excellent for this purpose. Its width should be one-half inch narrower than that of the closet shelf, and its smooth side should face down to facilitate the sliding.

As a combination pull and railing, fasten a piece of 1 by 2-inch lumber at the front, by inserting countersunk screws through drilled holes in the Tempered Presdwood. Add 1 by 2-inch reinforcing at each side of the shelf, one-half inch from each edge. So that the shelf won't tip when moved forward, fasten to the wall at each side a narrow strip of lumber, or a quarter-round, 1/2 of an inch above the shelf.

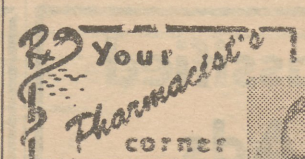

The sliding shelf makes this out-of-the-way storage area readily useful.

UNIVERSITY AND COLLEGE STUDENTS have so increased in number that their interviews more than overflowed this column and so, this week, appear elsewhere in today's paper. Those we may have missed will be the object of our search come Spring Vacation. We wish each of these young people the best in their school careers!

JIM AND ALAZLIA MITCHELL'S CHRISTMAS COFFEE over the years has been an event that was "a must" or shall we say "the most" to the many Des Moines oldtimers attending it over the years. Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell's lives have been a contribution to Des Moines and to see them once yearly was an important event of the Holiday Season. This is to say that Christmas did not seem the same this year without the gala affair!

ROBERT (BOBBY) WRIGHT, JR. thoughtfully added a comment about the thinking of our University of Iowa campus youths. This answers a question that is in the minds of most adults—"What are these young people thinking about?" Bobby says: The attitude of black students on campus is that we don't think that our rights are considered. We don't think that we are a part of the University system. As for the curriculum, it is not suited for our needs and social activities are mainly suited for white students on campus. This is why the Afro American Student Society was formed—to change this situation. This strikes most of us as a fair assessment and if our youths proceed with the dignity and forthright exemplified by young Wright's quiet appraisal and approach, we have to respect and encourage their efforts.

SPEAKING OF STUDENT UPRISEINGS: I'm told that amid street fights and other demonstrations, young blacks fought Yeshiva University's failure to have any black students enrolled. Yeshiva responded that they were welcome to attend. It seems no one wished to attend classes held 8:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. and in the Hebrew language only. Nor did anyone wish to invade the 4:00 p.m. to 10:00 p.m. liberal arts courses immediately following those in Hebrew—a 14 to 15 hour class day.

JOHN HICKEY, ROBINSON WHOLESALE STORE'S camera department manager, ended the Old Year and began the New Year this way: He had the flu and was only slightly recovered by New Years. Like most of us he was concerned about his car in the drive, in freezing weather, with never a turn of the wheel. Venturing forth this weekend, he had a new battery installed, got a hair cut, and drove his faltering car to the job site. Finding the car so difficult, he had removed the ignition key from his keychain. As he was about to enter Robinson's, he slipped, fell, and the key (his only key) flew from his hand into the out yonder! At this Sunday night's writing, the snow, the rain and promise of colder temperatures, add to Hickey's New Year problems.

LUTHER T. GLANTON, III, thoroughly enjoyed his parents' entertainment of a small group of close friends at Christmas dinner. He was the center of interest when he revealed having secretly recorded the afternoon's conversation on his tape recorder, a Christmas gift!

Ruth Ann Gaines, a Clarke College, Dubuque, Iowa, coed has "just one semester left" she says with joy. Ruth Ann is a drama major with a minor in secondary education and hopes to begin work on her master's degree probably at the University of California, Santa Barbara, California. She found that the past summer spent in the National Defense Education Association's summer dramatics course an invaluable resource for this semester's drama course. She selected one of the plays done during the summer and, together with another student, revised it for showing November 16 as her senior drama project. Ruth Ann feels that "perhaps because the summer work was in a black group, it made her feel more responsible as a black student." Because of this she recently attended the National Students' Association Conference on Institutional Racism held at the University of Notre Dame over Thanksgiving Vacation. She will attend a Black Power affair, "Confrontation '69, the week of February 7 and 8 at Augustana College, Rock Island, Illinois, and return to Notre Dame in Mid-February for a weekend of Black Arts, Ruth Ann is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willis Gaines.

Marvin Elliston's reply to my opening question "What's happening at school?" "Well, semester examinations are the 20th!" Marvin is now an Omega Psi Phi. He managed during his short vacation stay to work Charles Boston, Jerry Burrell, Gayland Mays, of the Minneapolis Art School, in the group's setting up of an art show at Soul Village on New Year's Day. It was a very nice affair. Elliston is exhilarated that he now has a summer position with the R&T Art Department. He helped create the design for the front cover of Better Homes and Gardens December '68 issue—the picture was a Christmas bulb featuring pictures of different countries and tied with a ribbon. Always championing a busy and better life for youths, Marvin had this to say: "I was very disappointed in the way the black youths tore up Soul Village! It has not been taken care of. This is poor thanks for the interest and trust shown the youths. I blame the youth and management. I certainly hope that when I return in the Spring that the Village will show the results of better care and concern." Marvin credited Ronnie Simmons with greater interest and personal investment in the appearance of Soul Village. Young Elliston is an advanced sophomore at TSU. He is trying to decide whether to teach or to remain an artist.

Bobbette Elliston, sister of Marvin, is a sophomore at Northeast Missouri State Kirksville, Missouri. She is pursuing a career in library science. Her achievements include having become a Delta Sigma Theta Soror and is at the present "running for Mardi Gras Queen," and we wish her luck. Marvin and Bobbette are the children of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Elliston.

Carol Bethel is finding Tarkio College life very, very interesting and could scarcely wait to return. Elementary education is her major, but art a big involvement! She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James N. Bethel.

Are you planning to buy a new car on credit? Before you rush into installment buying, ask yourself, "Do I really need a new car immediately?" Then consider saving until you have enough money to pay cash.

Borrowing is an expensive business these days. For example, say you had $800 on hand and wanted to buy a $2,400 car. You'd have to borrow $1,600. If the interest rate were only 5%, the loan would cost you $120 over 18 months. The car would actually cost you $2,520, and you'd have payments of $95.55 a month.

On the other hand, if you put your $800 in a savings account, and added a deposit of $95.55 each month, at the end of 18 months, you'd have the $2,400 cash you need for the new car, plus over $220 in accumulated interest.

If you can, put off buying that car until you can pay cash. You'll be money ahead.

Season's In For Ham 'n' Yams!

"Pretty-perfect" for a party... this fine way to use up left-over mashed potatoes and bits of ham which results in gourmet eating! And, with the Louisiana yam season at its height, you'll get peak enjoyment too, in these easy-to-make, and easy-to-serve yam rings. With the delicate flavor of maple-blended syrup enhancing the yams, you can be sure of requests for second helpings. So better not depend upon having "left-overs." Better double the recipe, in fact!

HAM AND MUSHROOMS IN YAM RINGS

1 egg, slightly beaten
2 tablespoons milk
2 tablespoons butter, melted
2 cups mashed cooked Louisiana yams
¼ teaspoon salt
Dash of pepper
¼ cup Log Cabin Syrup
1-½ cups sliced fresh mushrooms
3 tablespoons butter
3 tablespoons flour
2 cups milk
1 cup diced cooked ham
Combine egg, 2 tablespoons milk, and 2 tablespoons melted butter. Add to mashed yams. Mix well. Add salt, pepper, and maple-blended syrup and mix until well blended. Shape yam mixture into rings on greased baking sheet, using a pastry bag or spoon. Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees fahrenheit) 20 minutes, or until delicately browned.

Meanwhile, saute mushrooms in 3 tablespoons of butter until browned and tender. Add flour, mixing to a smooth paste. Add milk gradually, stirring constantly. Cook and stir over medium heat until mixture is thickened. Add ham and heat thoroughly. Serve creamed mixture in center of each yam ring. Makes 6 servings.

Your professional beautician knows the answer...

Should every woman be a blonde?

Blonde hair is beautiful for those women whose natural coloring it flatters. But not everyone should be a blonde.

Expert beauticians know that complexion and hair color must complement each other to glamorize and bring out the natural beauty that was meant to be. They also know that very coarse and dark hair often is resistant to drastic color changes. However, there's no doubt about slightly lighter hair adding excitement to a woman's appearance. And hairdressers know there is no better product to add a whole new appeal to every woman's look than Miss Clairol® haircoloring—extra rich Creme Formula or new extra easy Shampoo Formula.

Both Miss Clairol products lighten and color at once, combining vibrant new color with the natural pigment of the hair. So even those shades that look blonde on white hair (as shown on most color selection charts) give a variety of flattering red-to-golden brown shades on women whose hair was black to begin with.

Beauty salons are equipped to answer questions and help with hair color selection. Depend on your hairdresser to have the professional skills and the total family of fine Clairol products to make every woman's experience with haircoloring completely personal and glamorous. Should you be a blonde? If you don't really know, ask your expert hairdresser.

ALL EYES ON THE
PRESIDENT-ELECT NIXON

As the inauguration of President-elect Nixon grows closer and the officials who will carry out his program are named, the public is gaining an insight on just what direction his administration will have.

It is generally agreed that by and large most of his appointees are successful people in their fields, lean more to the moderate side of center and will give a good account of themselves.

As yet no appointments of note have gone to Negroes and with 85 per cent voting the Democratic ticket, and most of the college young Negroes having joined up with the Democrats in recent years, it may not be easy to find a desirable party man for many spots.

President Johnson has set a high mark in this field having given Negroes more and better jobs than any other President. Negroes will not be satisfied and are entitled to no less by the future administrations.

Mr. Nixon had a good civil rights record in Congress and served as chairman of the first contract compliance committee set up to force contractors doing business with the government to observe equal opportunity requirements in hiring.

Admittedly his association with certain conservatives has made some skeptical of what Mr. Nixon's program will be. On the other hand presidents heading other administrations have had this hurdle to make and we believe he will.

UNCALLED FOR STUDENT
ORDER BY SCHOOLS

San Francisco State College has reopened after a 3 week holiday vacation. Not in the history of education has such a disgraceful period of disruption for a school's orderly process by teachers and students been seen anywhere before or since even though some have been pretty bad.

It is difficult to imagine the administration of a school that has gone so far wrong as to make students and teachers take the law in their hands and prevent others from getting an education.

Just why teachers and students, who are dissatisfied, can't go some place else? Why are they demanding changes that have no rhyme or reason including the removal of police officers called to keep order on this campus.

The founder of the American Civil Liberties Union, a group which has supported most revolutionary movements, concludes that this type of conduct in schools should not be tolerated.

Gov. Reagan has vowed to give the administration whatever backing is necessary to keep the school open. This is as it should be for if schools cannot be operated with law and order, what can be expected of the just ordinary people.

CLAYTON POWELL
BACK IN BUSINESS

The lower house of Congress has seated A. Clayton Powell as a representative from New York's Harlem district. The vote was 248 for and 176 against thus picking up many votes that had opposed him on previous occasions.

He was seated on condition that he pay a fine of $25,000 and as a new member stripped of all the seniority he had built up during his 22 years in Congress.

Some members felt that he had been punished enough; some felt that the fine and demotion were sufficient punishment for wrong doings; some felt that he had been so dealt with because of his race; some were convinced that Powell was unworthy of his seat but were tired of the slipping and sliding by public officials and wanted the matter disposed of.

We have never been convinced that Powell's troubles were racially inspired. In fact, he has been in a lot of trouble only to escape by devious methods. We have never subscribed to the proportion that since others were Mrs. Beatrice Rhodes, 916 Boyd. Corrine Jackson is President.

It is no defense to a crime that someone else committed one. His district sent Powell to Congress to represent and not let them down. But the great preacher from Harlem is back in business. We hope he has learned his lesson—that you can't step on people's feet continuously and not be called to account.

SPORTS

With Allen Ashby

Just hold on, Basketball may yet overtake football. Only a few more weeks to go. Football is the only sport that crowds in on two other major sports. Baseball runs from the middle of April and you can be assured that there are about ten more days in October, but no more. This year, we aren't sure basketball starts in mid-December and is usually over by mid-March.

Football

But football exhibition games grab headlines by being billed as exhibition games between the pros. The college all star game in which a bunch of loosely knit college stars try to beat a closely knit professional team which has stars at every position and has been together for a number of years. Well, it just doesn't happen but sometimes the college boys catch the poor fat headed and squeeze out a win just often enough to keep the series going.

August Affair

This thing takes place in the first week of August just at the baseball pennant races are heating up. It is always a major decision whether to watch football or baseball in September. For a while things were much worse by a Sunday than of soccer, a game of what might be called basketball played with the feet. A fine game for fans who know it, but about as exciting as a chess game to us who don't know it.

But football has to be the dominant television sport within a span of just about six months. And we recall when our final game was a Thanksgiving day, one followed by a big dinner afterward. Now we would starve to death waiting for that final dinner. And now with indoor tennis courts, tennis may become a year 'round sport. Maybe we can build a few more places like that dome in Houston and maybe we can have our choice of the three major sports all year. Better bring a couple of extra TV sets so you can get bug eyed watching all three at once. We got ours already.

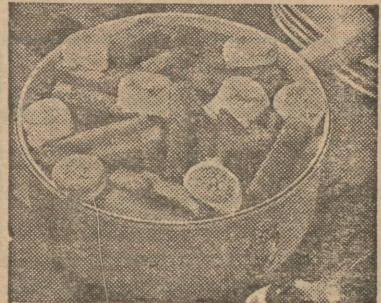

High School Basketball

Here at home, nobody seems likely to stop the Roosevelt basketball team unless someone beats them in the state meet. There are quite a few fellows playing on all of the teams. Houston of the Riders and Florence of North along with Hughes of Tech could take along Turner of East and have a pretty fair ball club.

Wrestling

And it looks as if Tech doesn't top all the city's wrestler's. For the first time in years, there is no Shade wrestling for Tech.

SWEET POTATO TREAT

Your friends will talk for weeks about this toothsome dish once you give them a taste. A delicacy we owe to the Southland, Sweet Potato Treat is so easy to make you'll want to use it as a standard companion piece for your favorite ham recipes.

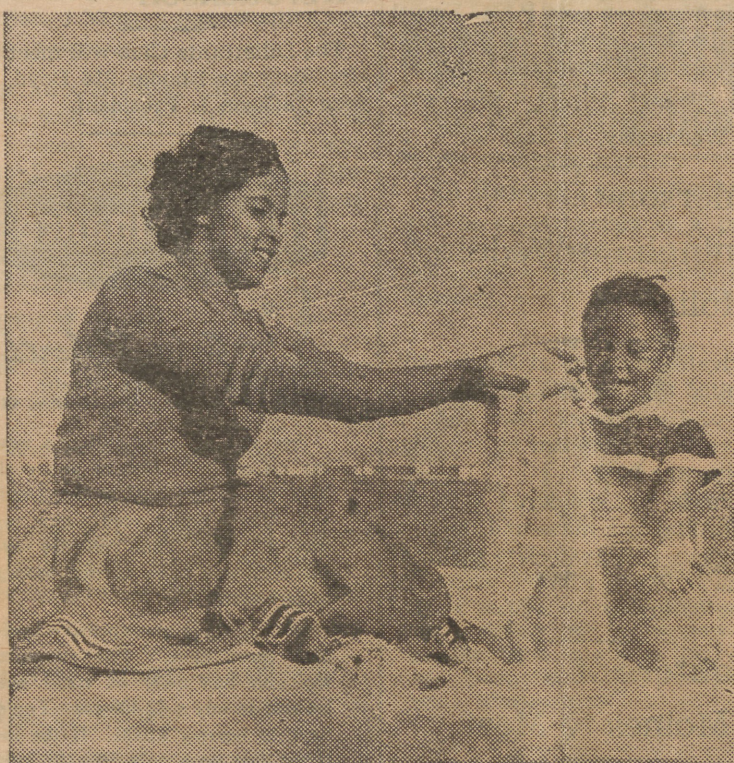

6 medium sweet potatoes
2 bottles Dr. Pepper
2 tablespoons butter
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1 box marshmallows
Pare and slice sweet potatoes lengthwise into half-inch strips, filling casserole which has been well buttered. Pour Dr. Pepper over sweet potatoes and dot with butter. Dust with marshmallows, and bake one hour in 300 degree oven.

Things You Should Know

— THEN SHE RAN OUT OF COSMETICS...
AND SHOWED HER TRUE COLORS.

the Camera Guild

The sky is one of the best, most flattering natural backgrounds against which to picture your favorite people.

Good Backgrounds Are Natural or Neutral

Of course, your subject is the most important part of a picture—but you can easily ruin the best of subjects by failing to look "behind" them in your viewfinder. The eye can easily skip over a couple of garbage cans and a patterned fence to concentrate on a cute child, but the camera isn't so selective. It will record anything within its field of vision. So, a good background is important.

To give you a quick idea of what we mean by "good" backgrounds, let's just roughly divide them into two broad classifications: neutral and natural. A neutral background is one that makes the subject stand out merely because it itself is completely inconspicuous, adding nothing to the story the picture tells. Plain walls, the sky, a grassy lawn, the sweep of wide open spaces—these are the most common neutral backgrounds.

If you want to take a snapshot that will tell more of a story, try placing the subject against what we call a natural background—one that serves as a stage setting for the action being performed by the person in your picture. A proud fisherman would probably look best against the wooded bank of his favorite stream, the professor at his desk in his book-lined study. The garden would be a natural setting for the attractive young girl carrying a basket of flowers, the home workshop for the "do-it-yourself" weekend carpenter.

Whichever type of background you choose, however, remember that color contrast is important for the best results. Be sure to pose light subjects against rather dark backgrounds, and vice versa. You can readily see that a dark green hedge would be a poor background choice for a dark-haired girl in a black dress—but she would certainly be a stand-out against a white garden-gate or a cream-colored convertible!

Seeks Amendment to Civil Rights Law

To the Editor:

Among State civil rights laws, Iowa's are some of the best. Nevertheless, their enforcement could be improved.

Therefore, the legislature that starts meeting in January should revise the State civil rights laws now on the books.

The $500 bond requirement for making an official complaint of discrimination in the housing market, should be removed.

Moreover, our statutes should give the Iowa Civil Rights Commission the subpoena power to facilitate the investigation of charges of discrimination in housing, employment or public accommodations.

The State Civil Rights Commission should also have the injunctive power. If a District Court could be shown by the Commission that a complaining party would otherwise suffer grievous harm and have no other means of relief, the Court should be able to give the Commission an injunction against a respondent.

Those who wish to buy or rent housing, and others who seek to use our Iowa fair housing law, may encounter reprisal from landlords. Such individuals and families should have specific rights and remedies available to them.

Today many pronouncements can be heard as to how our nation's ghettos can be improved. Definite action is needed, meanwhile, to help the people who want to leave the ghetto to succeed in this endeavor.

Fortunately, both the Republican and the Democratic 1968 campaign

A Paragraph

By Adele Welgel

It is not too long since Christmas to tell this true story. Only a name has been changed—Mayme, a highly paid secretary bought herself a Christmas present, an expensive fur hat. As she walked toward her car carrying the hat in its gold box she felt very gay, thinking only of her purchase and the pleasure it would bring her. In the parking lot she met a former neighbor whom she had not seen in a long time. With the woman were two little girls. Their hands were blue with cold, their shoes badly worn and they shivered in thin coats. Mayme noticed all this as they chatted. The neighbor said her husband was finally recovering from a long illness, it had been a hard year, she hoped for a better 1969. The visit over, Mayme stopped not a moment. She hurried back to the Store, talked a willing saleswoman into letting her return the hat in exchange for other goods. In the Children's Department she found warm mittens, winter boots and wool sweaters. The exchange cleared, she ordered the things delivered to the home of the woman once her neighbor. The card enclosed said only Merry Christmas. As she told us this story, Mayme said her old hat sat comfortably on her head during the Christmas Services and this had been the happiest Christmas in many years.
