Polk County Officers Jittery Over Jail Break

Foils Attempts to Saw Way Out

According to the Polk County Sheriff's office, a planned jail break was foiled last week after the discovery of saws that had been passed to members of the alleged involved plot. Involved were Laurence T. Holmes, Anthony E. Williams, 24, charged with the Christmas Eve murder of 10-year-old Pamela Powers, and Michael Charles Niccum, 23, accused of slaying 17-year-old Linda Boothe Nov. 20.

Holmes Convicted

Tuesday, Holmes was convicted in Judge Harry T. Perkin's Court of a previous jail break. Date of sentence has been set for Thursday at 4:00 p.m.

The case involved his escape from Deputy Sheriff Copley last November. Later he was apprehended in Chicago and returned to Des Moines.

Wanted in Minnesota

Holmes was brought here, at his own demand, from the Minnesota State Prison for prosecution for an armed robbery in Des Moines. He was convicted and sentenced to a 25-year term to be served at the State Penitentiary at Fort Madison after completion of his Minnesota sentence.

End Electoral College, NAACP

WASHINGTON, D.C. - In testimony before the Judiciary Committee of the House of Representatives here, Feb. 20, Clarence Mitchell gave conditional NAACP support to a move to abolish the Electoral College. Mr. Mitchell is director of the Washington Bureau of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

Pending Bills

Mr. Mitchell's testimony was given in reference to H.J. Res. 179, H.J. Res. 181 and related bills which are presently under consideration in the House. Mr. Mitchell made it clear that the NAACP would be opposed to any action which might tend to re-establish voting restrictions which would make it difficult for Negroes to have unrestricted use of the ballot. In doing so, he cited gains which have been made since the 1965 Voting Rights Act.

"Thousands of new voters are now on the books in many areas of former acute resistance. There are nearly 400 Negro officeholders in the southern states," he said.

57 Percent Voted

"The Negro voting age population of 11 southern states (Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas and Virginia) is approximately 5 million," Mr. Mitchell said. "There were 1,530,634 registered before the 1965 Voting Rights Act was passed. After the Act was put into effect, registration increased. There are now approximately 2,810,763 Negro voters in these states. However, this is still only 57.2 per cent of the potential. The percentage of white registered voters in these states is 76.5 per cent."

"So far, we do not have foolproof methods of preventing voting discrimination because of race," he said. "Under the circumstances, it appears that the only improvement that the NAACP can support at this time is the elimination of the Electoral College. This would mean that when a candidate carried a state he would automatically receive the electoral votes of that state. We would then put an end to both the risk and farce associated with the present system of allowing electors to meet and cast the state's vote for the candidate of their choice."

"THERE, DR. CYRIL WALWYN, THE DIRECTOR, CONTENDED THAT HUNGER IN THE DELTA WAS NOT DECREASING, AS MOST WHITES INSISTED; HE HAD SEEN TOO MANY POT-BELLIED, WORM-INFESTED YOUNGSTERS. 'I FEEL THEY ARE SLOWLY STARVING,' HE SAID."

Aims of United Black Federation

The United Black Federation held its regular business meeting Sunday night at the residence of Mrs. Thelma Clark, Secretary.

The United Black Federation, a non-profit organization of individuals and groups was incorporated in May 1968 under the laws of the State of Iowa. The Federation was formed in response to recognition by members of the Black community of the need to foster a sense of identity, advance their cultural interests and carry on programs relevant to the social, educational, and economic needs of the community.

Formation of the United Black Federation was inspired by the success of the Jewish Welfare Federation of Des Moines in maintaining a sense of community among the Jewish people and serving their interests. The aim of the United Black Federation is to create institutions and programs that are peculiar to the needs of the Des Moines' Black community.

The Federation will study and take action on problems; to initiate and coordinate programs, to raise, allocate and distribute funds within the Black community and other activities; for the economic and cultural advancement of Black people in the greater Des Moines area.

TUNICA STUDENTS IN MASS WALKOUT

TUNICA, MISS. - More than 2,500 students, with the backing of the NAACP branch and others, have begun an effective school boycott at the Rosa Fort School here protesting beatings by J. D. Walker, principal of the school. Mr. Walker is accused of using a ginning machine strap to enforce discipline.

Demonstrations, the school boycott, sit-ins, at the superintendent's office and marches are being conducted under the leadership of Calvin Norwood, president of the branch, who is receiving the support of the branch's 200 members and of the community as a whole.

Miss Carolyn Quillion, youth field director, reports that other grievances being protested in the all-black school are bugs crawling in contaminated food served for school lunches, over-crowded school buses, and a powerless all-black school board which is superseded entirely by the decisions of the all-white school board.

Arrest Adults

When the protest officially began, Feb. 26, five adults were arrested as they attempted to stop one of the overcrowded school buses as a gesture of protest. The charges brought against them included vagrancy and resisting arrest.

Both students and parents agree that the 90 per cent walkout from classes will be continued until some agreements are reached.

NAACP COLLEGE CHAPTER HITS CAMPUS

JIM CROW

CHAPEL HILL, N.C. - In what may be Negro students' first organized repudiation of demands of some students for separate facilities on campus, the NAACP Chapter at the University of North Carolina had denounced the Black Student Movement and has openly voiced its opposition to any attempt by Negro students to separate themselves from the university community.

The NAACP Chapter has also rejected the demand of the Black Student Movement to be recognized as the official and exclusive spokesman for all Negro students. Kelly Alexander, Jr., president of the college chapter, said that "any attempt to re-establish institutionalized segregation on the UNC campus will be opposed categorically by the NAACP regardless of the origin of the demand."

NAACP SUPPORTS SCHOOLBOY REFUSING TO PLAY "DIXIE"

NEW YORK - Roy Wilkins, executive director of the NAACP, has called for a full investigation of the circumstances surrounding the dismissal of Charles Caldwell, a Lebanon, Tenn., youth from the school band for refusing to play "Dixie," and of the firing of Mrs. Marcus Caldwell, the youth's mother, from her post as a teacher's aide in the same high school.

In the meantime, the Tennessee State Conference of the NAACP has notified all its branches "to be on the alert for mobilization" to demonstrate on a massive scale. Also the state office has called upon the FBI to investigate threats made against Charles and other members of the family.

Mother Dismissed

The 14-year-old trumpeter walked away from the Lebanon High School band when it began to play "Dixie," the Confederate war song, at a school rally. He was promptly dismissed from the band and, four weeks later, his mother was discharged. Mrs. Caldwell wrote to Ralph McGill, late editor of the Atlanta Constitution, about the incident. Prior to his death, Mr. McGill contacted the local school authority and wrote a letter of encouragement to the youth.

School authorities state that this is the second racial incident in which Charles has been involved. They claim also that his mother's firing was not in retaliation. The youth continues as a student in the school with full privileges except for participation in the band.

Urge Veterans To Check 1955 Status

WASHINGTON, D.C. - Veterans discharged after Jan. 31, 1955, today were urged by the Veterans Administration to check with their nearest VA office to see if they are eligible to join the growing number of veterans going back to school under the G.I. bill.

Individuals who received benefits from the VA to attend college fell off to less than 44,000 in FY 1966, when the Korean War G.I. bill was dying out, but VA officials are now looking ahead to having between 650,000 and 700,000 enrollees.

College level trainees jumped from the FY '66 low of 43,468 to 377,171 in 1967 and 456,247 in 1968 largely because of the Post Korean G.I. bill. It is expected that enrollment for the current fiscal year will top 600,000 - the highest total since FY 1951 - and approach 700,000 in FY 1970.

To be eligible under the G.I. bill veterans must have at least 181 consecutive days of active military service with part of that time after January 1955.

WASHINGTON, D.C. - The White House is studying the role of the U.S. Commission on Civil Rights and the possibility of abolishing it.

The six-member commission, created 11 years ago with the passage of the 1957 Civil Rights Act - the first of a series in the decade to follow - has often been the target of southern, and frequently some northern, legislators' wrath.

RALEIGH, N. C. - Calvin McSwain, a student at North Carolina A. & T. University in Greensboro, has been elected president of the State Student Legislature. He is the first Negro to head the unofficial organization of representatives of colleges and universities in the state.

New York, N.Y. - The public schools of the city are faced with the need for vigorous and stimulating leadership, including the need for a greater number of Negro and Puerto Rican supervisors and administrators. This creates an urgency for increasing the number of qualified persons available for selection and appointment as principals.

New York, N.Y. - The National Urban League called today for the abolition of capital punishment throughout the United States.

The League, in a statement issued from its New York headquarters, declared that the death penalty failed to deter crime, was discriminatory as applied to black persons and the poor, and might even be a violation of the United States Constitution.

Washington, D.C. - NBL PREXY DEMANDS RELOCATION PROGRAM TO TURN BUSINESSMAN'S NIGHT MARE INTO A REAL BUSINESS EXPANSION OPPORTUNITY

The National Business League's President, Berkeley G. Burrell testifying today before the Senate Subcommittee on Intergovernmental Relations Concerning relocation of small businesses forced to vacate established locations in the wake of urban renewal, construction of expressways or interstate highways, called for sweeping safeguards and wide scale protection of displaced businessmen caught under such circumstances.

Polk Democrats Meet March 8

Michael H. Doyle, Jr., Polk County Democratic Chairman today announced plans for a day-long Workshop to be sponsored by the Polk County Democratic Central Committee, and to be held March 8, Saturday beginning at 9:00 A. M. at the Hotel Savery, Parlors A, B, C and D.

Topics to be discussed at the Workshop will be: County Convention Organization and Method of Selection of Delegates to convention, Activity in off years, Election day organization, Candidate Recruitment and Party Finances.

Doyle emphasized that all interested Democrats are invited to attend this meeting for the purpose of shaping the future policy of the Democratic Party in Polk County.

Attempt to Erode Laws Likened to Tactics Used Vs. Reconstruction Measures

WASHINGTON, D.C. - The United States Supreme Court by vote of 7-2, on Monday, March 3rd, ruled that southern state laws that affect Negroes' voting rights in even a "Minor way" must be approved by the U.S. attorney general or by federal judges in Washington.

Chief Justice Earl Warren spoke for the court as it blocked enforcement of a series of changes in Mississippi election laws and a Virginia law as well.

Mississippi Case

At issue in Monday's case were several changes in Mississippi election laws made by the State Legislature in 1966 and attempts by groups of Negroes to have Mississippi prove the laws were not racially discriminatory.

Also under attack was a Virginia rule that prohibited the use of paste-in strikers by illiterate voters.

The decision said all of these needed the approval of the attorney general or of the district court for the district of Columbia.

Chief Justice Warren, speaking for the Majority, swept aside Mississippi's suggestion that the 1965 law requires submission only of state laws which prescribe who may register to vote.

"The voting rights act," he said, "was aimed at the subtle as well as the obvious state regulations which have the effect of denying citizens their right to vote because of their race."

One Mississippi law allowed Adams and Forrest counties to switch to at-large elections for their boards of supervisors. Negroes are in the minority county-wide, but are in the majority in some Adams districts and presumably could have elected Negro supervisors.

Appointment

A second law provided for the appointment rather than the election of superintendents of education in 11 counties. Negroes are in the majority in nine of the counties. The superintendents can affect school integration.

A third law made it more difficult for voters to choose independent candidates. For instance, the number of signatures necessary for a petition was increased tenfold. Negro candidates who met pre-1966 qualifications, but not the new ones, complained.

Justice Hugo L. Black dissented outright from the Supreme Court's reversal of the court in Mississippi. Justice John Marshall Harlan agreed with part of the high court's action.

School Cases

The Court agreed Monday to consider imposing strict mathematical guidelines for breaking down segregated school facilities across the country.

The Justice Department and the Legal Defense and Educational Fund of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People had told the court that school districts taking "inadequate steps" to desegregate should be forced to shift teachers around so that all schools in the district would have about the same proportion of white and Negro teachers.

The court will hold a hearing next term and decide the issues then.

File Damage Suit Against Sen. McClellan

WASHINGTON, D.C. - A $300,000 damage suit was filed March 4 against Senator John McClellan, of Arkansas and members of his investigating committee.

Among those filing the suit in U.S. District Court here are Al and Margaret McCurely, of Pikeville, Ky., who were under subpoena to appear before the committee the day the suit was filed.

Other plaintiffs are four human rights and student organizations: the Southern Conference Educational Fund (SCEF), on whose staff the McCurelys work; Students for a Democratic Society (SDS); the Southern Student Organizing Committee (SSOC); and the Student Non-violent Coordinating Committee (SNCC).

The McCurelys have been ordered to turn over to the McClellan Committee material related to these and other organizations. The suit asks that the subpoenas be quashed on grounds that they violate constitutional rights. Each plaintiff also asks $50,000 damages.

The plaintiffs charge that the subpoenas are part of a conspiracy between the McClellan Committee, Thomas Ratliff, prosecutor in Pike County, Ky., and the coal operators of Eastern Kentucky to deprive the McCurelys and others of their rights to organize in pursuit of civil, human and political rights. Ratliff is founder of the National Independent Coal Operators Association.

Death Penalty Challenged By IDF Attorneys

NEW YORK - The U.S. Supreme Court was asked today to strike down the death sentences of 80 men and one woman now on death row in California.

Attorneys of the NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund, Inc. (LDF), who are defending more than half the 476 condemned persons across the country, brought the suit.

Announcement of the suit was made in New York City by Professor Anthony Amsterdam of the University of Pennsylvania, director of the LDF's capital punishment litigation.

The LDF is seeking, in this case, review of a ruling by the California Supreme Court. That Court said last November 18 that capital punishment as administered in that state is constitutional.

This new case seeks to determine whether the right to impose the death penalty should be left to the unguided, undirected and absolute discretion of a jury.

LDF attorneys point out in their brief that such unguided procedures allow the death penalty to be administered in an arbitrary manner, subject to whim and caprice, rather than the orderly rule of law.

This "standardless jury sentencing procedure" employed in California is common to the other 36 states that utilize the death penalty, LDF lawyers assert.

In fact, they add, virtually all of the 476 persons awaiting execution across the nation were condemned under the challenged procedure.

Low-Cals To Rescue Lovely Shapes

Somedays don't you feel it takes a miracle to keep a trim figure and be a "mindsticker" for that man of your dreams? Not really — just common sense.

Meals can be nourishing, tasty and still not heavy-up the avoirdupois. And they can perform that miracle of miracles — keep the budget in shape too! Low-cal beverages can be depended on as a great ally.

One serving of Tab contains only one calorie per 6-ounce serving and it's sugar free. The remainder of the meal can be in trim-slimming food. For example, a molded tomato aspic topped with another salad mold of cottage cheese in chicken broth. Add hard cooked eggs and chicken for hearty appetites. Proceed slimmingly with a green vegetable and sherbet sweetened with sugar substitute. Only 66 calories per serving in the sherbet and the entire meal less than 225 calories.

Whether it be an engagement party, a shower for the bride or just a "thanks-for-being-you" supper for the love of your life, you'll love this menu — so easy on the figure, so pretty to look at and so very pleasant to eat. Candlelight and roses add the touch of romance in combination with silver and crystal — altogether irresistible!

LOVE-LITE SALAD

Red Heart:
1 can (2½ cups) tomato juice
1 bay leaf
4 whole cloves
1½ envelopes plain gelatin
¼ cup cold water
4 drops liquid sugar substitute
½ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons lemon juice
In saucepan, combine tomato juice, bay leaf and cloves. Bring to boil, simmer 10 minutes. Remove bay leaf and cloves. Soften gelatin in cold water, add to hot tomato juice, stir until dissolved. Add liquid sweetener, salt and lemon juice. Pour into lightly oiled, heart shaped mold. Chill until set. Unmold on large plate.

White Heart:
1 cup chicken broth
¼ teaspoon rosemary
¼ teaspoon ground ginger
1 envelope plain gelatin
¾ cup cold water
1 cup dry cottage cheese
1 hard cooked egg, cut lengthwise in sixths
Shreds of cooked chicken, if desired

Heat chicken broth with rosemary and ginger. Soften gelatin in cold water; stir into hot broth until dissolved. Cool slightly, add cottage cheese. Arrange egg slices around edge of small heart shaped mold, add gelatin mixture. Chill until set. Place the white heart in center of red heart. Garnish with radish roses and parsley.

BUTTERMILK STRAWBERRY SHERBET

2 cups buttermilk
2½ to 3 teaspoons liquid sugar substitute
Dash of salt
1 cup crushed strawberries
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 egg white

Mix buttermilk, sweetener, salt, strawberries and vanilla. Freeze to mush. Whip egg white stiff and fold into well beaten fruit mixture. Freeze without stirring. 4 servings.

Storage Dress-Ups

Storage installations can add architectural accent to any room. To obtain a full-color booklet of ideas, write for a copy of "Storage," Dept. 519-P, Western Wood Products Assn., Yeon Bldg., Portland, Ore. 97204. Enclose 15 cents in coin.

Pale Spots Darken

When a picture has been hanging against a wood wall for some years, the paneling behind it may be a lighter shade than the rest of the wall. But if the picture is removed, the area will darken to match the surrounding wall surface, often within six months.

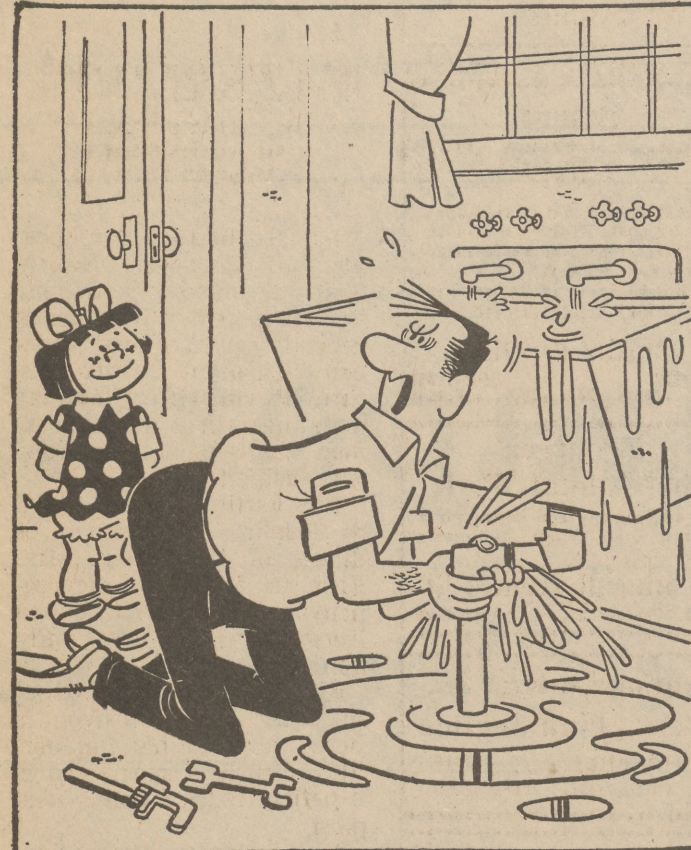

Molding Tips

The right doors, window treatments and use of woodwork lift home interiors out of the ordinary. Guidelines are contained in the full-color booklet, "Woodwork." For a copy, write Dept. 517-P, Western Wood Products Assn., Yeon Bldg., Portland, Ore. 97204. Enclose 15 cents in coin.

Closets Aplenty

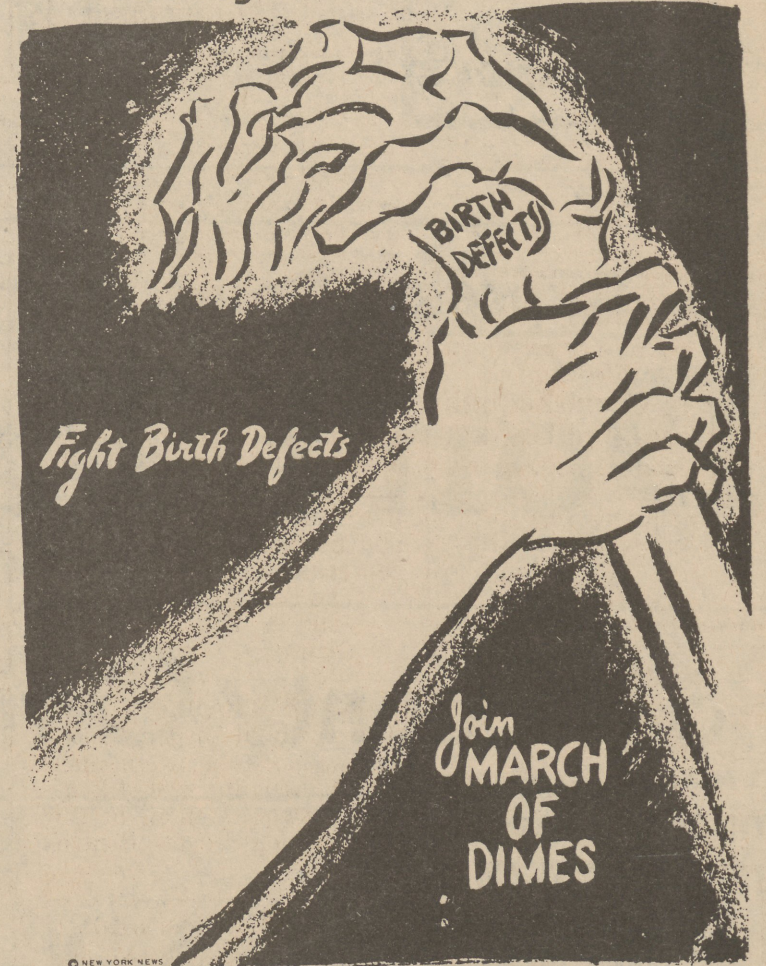

Corridors are usually waste space. But widen a hallway to five feet and you can build in a series of closets for everything from luggage to linens. Glue half-inch-thick panel boards over flush closet doors to get the look of lumber paneling.

JOSEPH MAGOBA, Ugandan Students' Advisor who comes from the Embassy of Uganda, Washington, D.C., spent the weekend in Des Moines as houseguest of Mr. and Mrs. John Heidel. Mrs. Heidel is Country Chairman of the Division.

CLARA BAYLES (MRS. CLIFFORD), was again, on hand for the Foreign Students' Weekend preparations and activities. She served as co-chairman with Country Chairman Grover Hahn (Polk County Extension Division) of the Ethiopian Booth.

RUFUS SPATES AND HIS BAND played for the Ninth Foreign Students' Dance held Saturday night at the Scottish Rites Temple, Sixth and Park Avenues. A real swinging group, they are Milton Madison on piano; Alvin Roland on bass; Tone Gerdson on drums; Howard Latham on guitar; and Spates on saxophone. They brought the world-wide representations of choice of varied types of dance music.

FOREIGN STUDENTS' WEEKEND luncheons followed a new plan: the African luncheons were held in five different places. Egypt, Libya, Morocco, and Sudan were held at Highland Park Presbyterian Church, 4th and Euclid. Cameroon, Ghana, Liberia, Nigeria, Senegal and Sierra Leone were held at the Uptown Terrace Cafe. Kenya's luncheon was held at Simpson College Dining Room in Indianola, Iowa. Botswana, Burundi, Congo, Ethiopia, Malawi, Rhodesia and Seychelles, and Swaziland, Tanzania, Uganda were held at Grace United Methodist Church. That of the Republic of South Africa was held at the Brown Hotel.

THE CIVIC BREAKFAST CLUB'S SUPPORT of local businesses and organizations is a major goal. The group attended Pauline Humphrey's last week Open House of the new Crescent Beauty School. They presented Mrs. Humphrey an azalea plant. Turning their attention then to Hardy's Restaurant, the ladies gathered there for a fine dinner, a thoughtful tribute and patronage of the new eatery. Club members are Mrs. Meleida Beck, President; Mrs. Ruth Moore, Secretary; Mrs. Frances Johnson, Treasurer; other members are Mrs. Mollie Beverly, Mrs. Maybelle Jefferson, Mrs. Ada Jefferson, Mrs. Adelaide Brinker, and their guests Mrs. Mae Wyatt and Mrs. Elvira Mann.

MRS. LOUISE GLASS, widow of the late Oscar L. Glass, is a contributor to the Des Moines news media. Her article in the February 28 Iowa Bystander was concerned with an erroneous record in which Hazel Scott attributed the enjoyment of civil rights in Washington, D.C. to the late Dr. Martin Luther King. Mrs. Glass did not attempt to minimize Dr. King's great accomplishments, but credited these civil rights successes to the brilliant work of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People led by Justice Thurgood Marshall in securing from the United States Supreme Court the abolition of "the doctrine of separate but equal" in the 1954 School decision and other related cases. Mrs. Glass presented these facts in order that history might not be distorted. Her contribution was timely.

MET MRS. MARGUERITE EWING ENGLISH, a career girl and mother of five! Looking scarcely the mother of five, Marguerite credits the cooperation and support of her little brood in acquiring licensed practical nurse training and her position on the staff of Mercy Hospital. The youngsters are Eury (Orrie) 15, Denise 14, Maudine 11, Marvin 8 and Mark 7. The children express in every way excellent upbringing and are charming company. They were weekend guests of their Nanna, Mrs. Maude Esther White, and invited me to share breakfast at Holiday Inn North. Their youthful merriment and general fun-making made mere breakfast an occasion. The family resides in Perry and the children are the great grandchildren of the late Rev. and Mrs. G.W. White.

Sure 'N' It's Time for Shamrocks

PAY tribute to the Irish during the month of March, even if there's only the faintest bit of Irish in your ancestry.

Invite all your favorite leprechauns, wear a touch of green and carry the celebration into the meal you plan—something traditional like corned beef and cabbage.

The best way to prepare it is to use a heavy kettle with a tight-fitting lid. Completely cover the meat with water and simmer slowly until tender. This will require long slow cooking, so don't hurry it. Serve the corned beef with boiled potatoes, sprinkled with parsley... and fresh, hot poppy seed or sesame seed rolls. Instead of a salad, try a cranberry mold... and why not fresh fruit, cheese and nuts for dessert.

Add a touch of whimsy to the meal by complementing it with piping hot Irish coffee. Make your coffee as usual in an automatic perk. After pouring into large mugs or heavy glass goblets, add sugar and Irish whiskey to each cup. Top off with whipped cream, allowing it to float on top of the coffee. Sure 'n' it will be a happy St. Patrick's Day.

The annual Founders Day Banquet at Younkers Tea Room, February 28, sponsored by the Laymen's Organization of St. Paul A.M.E. Church was an important event. The affair was highlighted by a splendid program presented in an atmosphere of fellowship and beauty.

Many of the churches of the city were represented among the guests including Rev. John Donovan, executive minister of the Des Moines Council of Churches, and Mrs. Donovan; Rev. Harold Butz, associate secretary of the Iowa Council of Churches and Rev. and Mrs. L. B. Johnson, pastor of Bethel A.M.E. Church.

The special guest was Mrs. Maude Wyatt, oldest active member of St. Paul. Mrs. Wyatt will be 92 on June 10. Born in 1877, her father, Henry McCraven, was one of the three signers in 1876 for the construction of St. Paul A.M.E. Church at 2nd and Center Streets.

Should every woman be a blonde?

Blonde hair is beautiful for those women whose natural coloring it flatters. But not everyone should be a blonde.

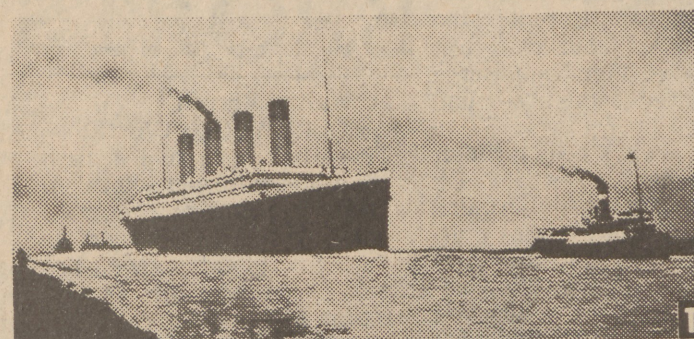

Expert beauticians know that complexion and hair color must complement each other to glamorize and bring out all the natural beauty that was meant to be. They also know that very coarse and dark hair often is resistant to drastic color changes. However, there's no doubt about slightly lighter hair adding excitement to a woman's appearance. And hairdressers know there is no better product to add a whole new appeal to every woman's look than Miss Clairol® haircoloring—extra rich Creme Formula or new extra easy Shampoo Formula.

Both Miss Clairol products lighten and color at once, combining vibrant new color with the natural pigment of the hair. So even those shades that look blonde on white hair (as shown on most color selection charts) give a variety of flattering red-to-golden brown shades on women whose hair was black to begin with.

Beauty salons are equipped to answer questions and help with hair color selection. Depend on your hairdresser to have the professional skills and the total family of fine Clairol products to make every woman's experience with haircoloring completely personal and glamorous. Should you be a blonde? If you don't really know, ask your expert hairdresser.

WHAT A 175 YEARS IT HAS BEEN!

THE ILL-FATED TITANIC—The luxury liner TITANIC departs Southampton, England prior to her maiden Atlantic voyage and disastrous meeting with an iceberg on the Grand Banks off Newfoundland.

A new book makes clear that while much is written about new gadgets and gimmicks, few people are aware of how much we have gotten rid of; piracy is just one example!

When America's oldest stock, fire and marine insurance company in America recently celebrated its 175th anniversary, it was noted that the first life insurance policy written by the firm was on a ship captain for $5,000 in 1794, protecting him against "Algerines and other Barbary corsairs." Since then it has insured the 30 scientists who built the atomic bomb, officials of the United Nations, and the beauties of the Miss America Pageant.

When Insurance Company of North America was founded in 1792 in Philadelphia's Independence Hall, the U.S. had been independent from Great Britain for only nine years.

That same year the cornerstone of the Capital was laid in Washington, D.C., a group of merchants met in a New York City coffeehouse to organize the New York Stock Exchange, and Virginia was the last state to ratify the Bill of Rights.

In many ways the history of INA and that of the nation are parallel, and the fascinating story is now told by distinguished historian and prize-winning author William H. A. Carr in his book, Perils: Named and Unnamed, published by McGraw-Hill. The title of the book, taken from a phrase in some ancient insurance policies, is apt—for INA has faced every peril known to man.

Most of the company's early policies were on ships and cargoes, many insured against piracy. The "unsinkable" Titanic was partly insured by INA. In 1967, the company paid about $600,000 when the oil tanker Torrey Canyon broke up on rocks off the Cornish coast of Britain, spilling over 90,000 tons of crude oil into the sea.

Perils: Named and Unnamed reports these and dozens of other fascinating anecdotes about an insurance company that has paid claims ranging from $4 million for the San Francisco earthquake in 1906 to $300,000 for a cancelled Boy Scout Jamboree and 90 cents for a home-made pie ruined when a golf ball smashed through a kitchen window.

Dining Dress-Up

Deadpan plaster is no asset to a formal dining room. For an inexpensive dress-up, cover the lower third of walls with hemlock board paneling to make a dado. Then mount individual panels of wallpaper on the upper walls, framing each with wood molding. Leave about eight inches between each framed panel for the best effect.

CONTACT LENSES AND YOU

MYOPES ON THE FIELDS

New York (NAPS) — More and more athletes, from young sandlot hopefuls to top pros, have learned that poor eyesight doesn't mean retirement or limited activities. Neither do they have to wear eyeglasses or cumbersome safety goggles on the field. What's their secret? Contact lenses, say officials of Barnes-Hind Optical Products, makers of contact lens solutions and accessories.

In the last ten years, contacts have caught on rapidly with athletes. Today, at least one player on nearly every national pro team, baseball, football, basketball and hockey—wear them during the roughest physical contact. College and high school teams also have long lists of users of the tiny vision aids.

Pioneer in the use of unseen lenses for sports was famed Bill McColl, tough end for the Chicago Bears. As an All-American, he developed near-sightedness just as he was making headlines. Bears' owner, George Halas, noted for unique action, signed Bill on with the proviso he wear contact lenses. The young medical student did and went on to phenomenal stardom in the sports world.

Others followed: Earl Torgerson of the Chicago White Sox, Bill Viron, Pittsburgh Pirates, and Bob Nevin of the Toronto Maple Leafs.

Noted for caution, team physicians now prescribe them often for low-vision players. Among the hundreds in the new crop of lens-wearing athletes are Ray Berry of the Baltimore Colts and Ben Wilson, of the famous Green Bay Packers.

Active teenagers as well as the Bill McColls claim that contacts don't steam up in cold — as glasses do — or streak in rain. They also offer better depth perception and wider peripheral (side) vision, important to winning and safety.

How do they stay on? Capillary attraction — that's what makes a nickel stick to wet glass. The lenses, about the size of an aspirin in diameter "float" on the eye's natural tear layer.

FIGHTING SEGREGATION IN REVERSE

Considerable criticism has been leveled at white persons in high places who belong to organizations from which Negroes are excluded. And this same line of thinking has been pointed at fraternities and other school campus activities from which Negroes are excluded.

Many white people have resigned from racial discriminating organizations including President Nixon. Many schools have even withdrawn recognition from fraternities and sororities practicing racial discrimination declaring it to be in opposition to their policy of equality of citizenship.

We applauded this action and supported those who dared recognize that membership in such organizations placed them in the position of supporting racist views.

Now, we have Negro students in our universities demanding separate dormitories, separate clubs and recreational centers, that some universities provide facilities from which white students are to be excluded.

And panicked for fear of reprisals, some school officials have acceded to their demands. Recently, a group of white students at the University of Minnesota has demanded that facility on the campus excluding them from membership and expressly for Negro students was a violation of their civil rights.

And it is fair to say that separate facilities provided with tax funds would violate the civil rights law, a trap in which the Iowa Board of Regents has allowed Northern Iowa University to fall.

The NAACP threatened Columbia University with a law suit based on these same grounds. It seems unreal that parents and other citizens who fought for years to integrate Negroes in school facilities now find their youngsters fighting in reverse, oblivious that separate schools were unequal and with inadequate knowledge of the disadvantages inequality has produced.

America cannot and will not afford a nation within a nation even though some are advocating such a thing.

TOO EARLY TO ASSESS PRESIDENT'S VISIT

President Nixon has concluded a good public relations trip to Europe designed primarily to assure our allies that we have not forgotten them and that our commitments to them stand.

Some people expected President Nixon to solve all the difficulties and allay the suspicions that have grown up between European nations or them and the United States. Certainly, the attitude President De Gaulle in recent months has strained our relations even with France. And yet if President Nixon and President De Gaulle were able to confer for six hours over the problems of Europe, the Middle East and, to a lesser degree, Viet Nam, some good consequences are bound to be felt.

It has always been difficult to see how President De Gaulle could dislike America or England for that matter, in view of the fact that twice during this century, France has survived greatly because of their assistance and sacrifice.

And while President Nixon visited and assured the people of West Berlin, the settlement of this foolish division of German territory must come from the German people - east and west - themselves.

While President Nixon has had wide experience with other nations and has had occasion to study them on the spot as well as at home, his policies have not evolved clearly. It will require cautious painstaking effort that presents the best possible solution and pursuing it with determination and reason.

GOOD FOR GOVERNOR RAY !!!

The Bystander congratulates Governor Ray for signing the measure allowing the Board of Regents to furnish armed guards at the state universities.

It is time somebody displayed some backbone in dealing with unruly people.

who suggested that we clarify our answer to an earlier question about how kangaroo offspring get to the mother's pouch.

The complete answer is that the undeveloped kangaroo embryo, about one to one and a-half inches long, instinctively climbs into the pouch after birth for warmth, protection and nursing. It remains there for about four months until it is strong enough to emerge as a baby kangaroo.

Mrs. Alice Williams who writes: "If no presidential candidate receives a majority of electoral votes, the choice of the president will revert to the House of Representatives where each state has one vote. Has a president ever been elected in this way?"

Yes. In 1800, Thomas Jefferson, with 73 electoral votes, tied for first place with Aaron Burr. The House of Representatives decided on Jefferson, and Burr became Vice-President. This led Jefferson to propose the 12th amendment to the Constitution to separate Presidential and Vice Presidential voting in the electoral college. In 1824, Andrew Jack-

HOLLYWOOD, CALIF. - There has been such a rash of athletes-turned-actors in recent months that a common joke around Hollywood is that the talent agents are now scouting the shower rooms for new actors.

One of the many responses to this vogue is voiced by actor Sid McCoy, himself an immigrant from another job field.

But McCoy did happen to be present at a preview screening of the first "Julia" segment, which was shown to a select group of actors and press weeks before it made its debut. He could tell then that the show was going to be a hit.

"There were several members of the Television Academy present," McCoy recalls, "and, believe me, no one really cared that Diahann Carroll was a singer trying to do an actress' job. I remember thinking after the screening that the unanimously favorable reaction to 'Julia' was the result of being threatened by a sort of situation which they anticipated to be charged with conflict, but which wasn't."

"Once the show got underway, it was revealed to be more in a humorous vein and the white Academy members were obviously relieved at this. Their reaction of laughter was like a release or relief from the situation and this has obviously been the reaction of the public at large."

"Now that reaction could have been obtained from someone who'd been a football player, a baseball star or a former janitor. It just doesn't make any difference. And you've got to remember that a famous athlete or performer can only coast so far on his name. After that he's either got to have talent as an actor or he'll fall flat on his face."

"We really shouldn't worry about the guy's professional background so long as the image he's projecting on the screen is a constructive one."

son failed to win enough votes in the electoral college. Although he polled 99 to John Quincy Adams's 84 votes, the vote in the House gave the presidency to Adams. Four years later Jackson defeated Adams in the electoral college and won the presidency.

SPOT COMMUNIQUE FROM THE HEALTH FRONT

THAT OLD ENVIRONMENT-The number of physical stresses besetting people in their daily lives and occupations is increasing at a "geometrical" rate, a team of researchers recently warned at the annual Western Industrial Health Conference. To detect and combat the increasing hazards, they declared, we will need not only physicians, engineers, nurses, toxicologists and chemists, but such additional specialists as "health physicists, human factors engineers, psychologists and psychiatrists."

GLOBAL WAR NOTE-World Health Organization officials report that smallpox in West Africa is down to the lowest level in history, due largely to a vigorous mass vaccination campaign. More than 55 million persons have been inoculated in 19 African countries. Eleven of the countries have eradicated smallpox except for cases entering from outside.

golden gloves this thursday-friday

A record number of entries, a regular three ring operation, that's the 1969 All Iowa Golden Gloves at Veterans Memorial Auditorium this Thursday and Friday nights.

Close to 200 entries were on hand by deadline date of March 1 and there will be scores of Junior Olympic hopefuls between the ages of 10 and 15 years old.

It all looms as two nights of the finest boxing ever held in the state and the Des Moines Association of Professional Firefighters are to be congratulated.

The bouquets should also be tossed to director Dave Fidler and his crew for a splendid job of preparing the entire program.

Fidler announced that three rings would be used to make the Thursday night preliminaries end by at least midnight. Also, on hand will be the United States Olympic coach, Pappy Gault of Piney Point, Maryland. He will serve as one of the honorary officials for both nights.

Technology's Progress

Although it did not advance rapidly, technology made substantial progress in the Middle Ages. The windmill, wheelbarrow, window glass, candle and paved road were invented in the 12th century; spectacles and the ship's rudder appeared in the 13th; the grandfather clock was devised in the 14th.

Is there a best glass for beer?

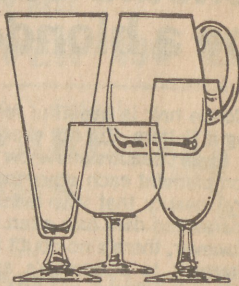

With some beers maybe the glass doesn't matter. But when the beer is Budweiser, our brewmaster holds strong views.

"I like a glass with plenty of room," he says. "Size is more important than shape. A big glass, say one that'll hold a full bottle, is best."

A big glass gives Budweiser a chance to show off...lets you pour it straight down the middle to get a full collar of foam. (Those tiny bubbles are the only beer bubbles in America that come from the natural carbonation of Beechwood Ageing.) Another thing about a big glass: it lets you quaff the beer. And who wants to sip, when the beer tastes as hearty as Budweiser?

That's about the size of it! Choose any kind of glass you want...as long as it's big enough. (Of course, we have our own opinion on the best beer for the glass.)

Letters from Our Readers

A bit of prose... a line or two of poetry... a letter now and then to express thoughts in the minds of our many readers.

Send Yours Today

Q-My brother has been in a VA hospital for some three months. His last pension check was reduced to $30. Why was it reduced? Can it be increased to the amount he received before going into the hospital?

A-Your brother's pension check from the Veterans Administration was reduced to $30 a month because of a law limiting pensions to this amount for veterans without dependents after two full calendar months of hospitalization.

Your brother's full pension will be restored after he is released from the VA hospital.

Q-My son received his college degree under the War Orphans Educational Assistance Act. He used his full 36 months entitlement. I am now eligible for up to 36 months of Veterans Administration educational assistance as the widow of a veteran killed during the Korean War. If I don't use my entitlement, may my son use part of it to obtain a graduate degree when he gets out of the Army after two years of service?

A-No, your entitlement is not transferrable. The purpose of this education and assistance program for widows of veterans who died as the result of military vice and the wives of permanently and totally service disabled veterans is to enable them to advance their own skills and improve their own education so that they can re-enter or remain in the mainstream of American academic, social and economic life.

However, as a veteran himself, your son will be entitled to an additional 12 months of VA educational assistance as the result of a recent law permitting an aggregate of 48 months of educational assistance under two or more VA programs.

FIX-IT TIP

There is an unusual marble-type finish you can achieve with antiquing kits. The secret is in the way you handle the surface after you have applied the toner. First, apply a relatively heavy coat of toner and lay a large piece of wrinkled clear plastic lightly on the top of the area. Pat the plastic lightly with a cloth to make sure that wrinkles and air bubbles appear. Next, pick up the plastic quickly and carefully—don't drag it. You also can achieve this same effect by using a sponge, burlap, a feather or any combination of these.
