James Farmer Tells National Bar Committee Meeting

"...Just the right man, at just the right time, and in just the right place..." was the prefacing statement by W. Lawrence Oliver, D.M. lawyer, as he introduced the guest speaker for the Executive Board of Des Moines NBA, James Farmer, former Core president and now an administrator in the Health, Education and Welfare Department of our Federal government.

Mr. Farmer's reputation as one of America's most militant and liberal leaders of Black Americans as well as being an eloquent and dynamic speaker had preceded his coming. However, none of us were quite prepared for the adroit handling of a social problem of its kind and magnitude, before an audience that was predominately upper-middle class white, as was done by Mr. Farmer last Saturday afternoon at Holiday Inn.

Verbal pivoting between humor and drama, the speaker skillfully enabled his listening audience to vicariously experience the learning process as it is engaged in by the average black American. It was a brilliant and new approach and I am sure few of us left without some understanding of how attitudes and behavior are shaped and sorely affected as standards set by the dominant group. The social experiences of the blacks are so sorely conditioned or programmed — as he called it — that they come to perceive themselves as being different — at an early age — through the use of negative variables which are imbedded into the very language of the culture itself. Such learning experiences illustrate to the child that he is non-acceptable. This tends to permeate his entire world, thus inhibiting him from ever being able to accept himself as an individual or to maintain an identity which would allow for a positive self-image formation.

It is Mr. Farmer's belief that people live on three levels: as individuals, as members of groups, and as members of the human race. That there is an interdependence in the acceptance of an individual by others, in the acceptance of the individual of himself, and in the acceptance of others by the individual. While all

James Farmer are important, the first is crucial.

Black Power
Unlike many of his constituents, Mr. Farmer believes the use of such concepts as black power and black is beautiful are both good and necessary if the damage that has been done to American Blacks through the centuries is to be effaced. "If the black man is not acceptable to himself, he will not be able to accept others..." And Quoting from the Bible, he reminded us that Christ said, "...love thy neighbor as thyself," thus implying self-appreciation or self-love.

Through the use of such concepts as "up the down escalator" and "things are changed yet everything is the same" he discussed many of the current problems facing Americans, including the educational system, attitudes and hiring policies in industry, and the misuse of the term black capitalism. He quickly reviewed for us some of the basic principles involved in black movements in America including those of his own organization, Core. But he sees a new awareness among the young militant which he believes should be honored and respected. A desire to know more about their own heritage and tradition, along with a demand for economic involvement seems to be what the young militants are asking for, he said. In attempting to understand how they feel, Mr. Farmer recognizes that prior work through black movements have enabled black Americans to "enter and spend" but earning power still lags sorely behind that of whites, particularly between male adults. That those who "have" — that is, the middle class black with college education, have continued to im-

Sepia Magazine Throws Light On Ray

Has a deal been made to silence the lips of James Earl Ray? Is he protecting the party or parties who paid him to assassinate Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.? If so, who are these persons? These questions are raised and explored in the May issue of Sepia magazine, on sale at your newsstands. The entire Ray case is put under a microscope and all the ugly possibilities are checked out. Facts are cited from those closest to the case, William Bradford Huie, the author; Percy Foreman, the lawyer; Dr. King's widow; the judge who allowed Ray to plead guilty, thus avoiding a court trial which might have exposed some facts in the case; the Tennessee prosecutor who made the "deal" with Foreman to allow Ray to plead guilty, and others.

This story was written only after exhaustive research into the case and was not a "shoot - from - the - hip" proposition. Heretofore undisclosed facts are presented that will help the reader decide whether justice has been done or another murder of a black man covered up. In the same issue, "Hunger in a Land of Plenty" shows another shocking side of America. With billions being spent on missiles, and with most of the nation wallowing in luxury, thousands of our people actually are going hungry. Sepia takes a candid look at the situation and points out what could and must be done to end this deplorable situation.

These two stories head a long list of material of interest to black America in the May issue of Sepia.

Authorized Epitaph

Henry (Light Horse Harry) Lee was the author of the famous epitaph of George Washington: "First in war, first in peace, first in the hearts of his countrymen." He used this phrase in an oration which he delivered to Congress after Washington's death.

Dr. King, Sr. Asks More Understanding

Speaking at a benefit banquet for the Union Baptist Church Saturday evening, Dr. Martin Luther King, Sr. told his audience, "I'm against colors - black and white - I mean it. You're all my brothers, the church is God's church. This isn't my word or your word - it's God's word."

"I don't believe in white power or black power. If America doesn't repent, God may cut America at the trough the way we used to cut unruly mules at the trough."

Dr. King stressed the importance of living closer to the principles of God's word rather than the trigger. He made no attempt to ride on the popularity of his deceased son but told the audience what he thought America needed.

Region IV NAACP Conference in Waterloo

On Friday, Saturday and Sunday, April 18 - 20, representatives of 10 states met at Holiday Inn - Waterloo, Iowa to discuss "The NAACP STRATEGY FOR THE 20th CENTURY". Iowa Branches which had representation were Cedar Rapids, Mason City, Davenport, Fort Madison and Burlington. Delegate of region coming farthest was from Great Falls, Montana, a relatively new branch. Two visitors from Region III were here from Edwardsville, Ill.

Waterloo and Cedar Falls attendance and participation far exceeded all expectations of committee. They were present in numbers at luncheons, sessions and Freedom Fund Banquet.

Speaker for ministers' luncheon meeting on Friday was The Rev. Henderson Davis, pastor St. Paul AME Church, Des Moines. Director of branches and field administration was Saturday luncheon speaker.

Freedom Fund Banquet was attended by more than 450 persons and reservations were rejected because of lack of facilities and space to seat more. Speaker for this event was Dr. K. O. Mbadiwe, elder statesman from Biafra, Nigeria. Scheduled speaker Charles Evers, Jackson, Miss., was unable to come because of turn of events in his own state. Dr. Warren Nash, past president, presided at this gathering. Robert Wright, president of Iowa State Conference of Branches and Mayor Lloyd Turner, Mayor of Waterloo gave greetings.

Dr. K. O. Mbadiwe, in native costume spoke on conditions in Biafra and the fight for independence there.

1970 Meeting
Remarkable coverage before and during convention was given by local press and radio. Meeting in April 1970 will be at Rochester, Minn., April 17-19.

General Chairman for conference was Mrs. Ada Tredwell; President of Black Hawk County Branch, host branch, and Rev. Percy Burt. Usual assist was given by national officers. Julius

NEWS In A Nutshell

NEW YORK. — Roy Wilkins, executive director of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, has joined with Mrs. Coretta King and the Rev. Ralph D. Abernathy of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, National Urban League Executive Director Whitney M. Young, Jr., and nine other Negro leaders in calling upon South Carolina Governor Robert E. McNair and officials of two Charleston, S.C., hospitals to recognize the newly-organized union of 500 non-professional hospital employees, predominantly Negro.

PORT GIBSON, MISS. — The assistant police chief of this small town was ordered bound over to the Claiborne County Grand Jury Monday on a manslaughter charge in the killing of a Negro riverboat worker.

Negro leader Charles Evers, a few minutes later, called on blacks to defy the 8 p.m. to 5 a.m. curfew imposed after Roosevelt (Dusty) Jackson, 24, was slain last Friday night.

NEWARK, N.J. — Black poet - playwright Leroi Jones was convicted Monday on one of two contempt of court charges and fined $200 by an Essex County Court judge.

Judge Leon S. Milmed delivered the verdict in a retrial ordered by the Appellate Division of Superior Court. The contempt charges stemmed from Jones' trial on charges of illegal possession of weapons during the 1967 Newark riots.

WASHINGTON. — The Nixon Administration can "soft-pedal" enforcement of anti-bias job legislation "only at our peril," Roy Wilkins, executive director of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, told some 400 of the nation's leading newspapermen at a conference of the American Society of Newspaper Editors, here, Wednesday, April 16.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (April 17, 1969) — Dr. James M. Whitico Jr., of St. Louis, president of the National Medical Association, is featured in the cover story of the April 21 issue of MODERN MEDICINE.

AKRON, Ohio, April 18. — Thirty six outstanding high school students throughout the nation have won college scholarships in The Firestone Tire & Rubber Company's 1969 Scholarship Awards Program, it was announced today by Raymond C. Firestone, company chairman.

The 36 winners are all sons and daughters of Firestone employees. The grants they receive are worth up to $1,750 per year toward tuition, fees, required textbooks and up to two-thirds of the room and board expense during the four years of college.

Scholarship winners may attend any accredited college or university in the United States and pursue any desired course leading to a Citing a lack of evidence to support the confession of Calvin Jones in the arson case against Charles Knox, 24, of 1207 Eleventh St., Mrs. Joeanna Cheatom, 43, and her son, Marvin, Jr., 16, both of 1018 Twenty-first Street, involving the $750,000 Jewett Lumber Yard fire on October 20th, Judge J. P. Denato dismissed the charges against Mrs. Cheatom, her son and Charles Knox.

The state had presented its case and lawyers for the defense moved for a directed verdict on the ground of insufficient evidence without putting on a witness for the defense. Judge Denato sustained the motion.

Another arson charge is pending against the three in connection with attempted arson at an A & P supermarket at Nineteenth street and University avenue the same night. Polk County Attorney Ray Fenton said Monday that the A & P charges probably will be dropped by the state.

Nothing to Refute
Judge Denato's ruling was made on a motion by defense lawyers for a directed verdict of acquittal. Defense lawyers presented no testimony in the case, arguing that the prosecution's evidence was insufficient for a conviction so there was no evidence to be refuted.

Denato said that evidence in the arson case, which started Thursday, showed that fire department and insurance investigators think the lumberyard fire was set.

The trial was conducted while a number of people passed out leaflets charging racial bias was the moving influence behind the whole affair. Judge Denato then admonished them and ordered it stopped.

Julian Bond Speaks At Ottumwa College

Ottumwa, Iowa. Julian Bond, nationally known Negro leader and a Georgia Legislator, heard himself described as a poet, writer, outstanding leader in many areas, a representative of present generation politicians, as he was introduced by a student, Dick Hagglund, and strode onto the stage at the Ottumwa Heights College auditorium which was packed to its capacity. With local students and many nearby students who had been bussed in as well as many visitors filled this auditorium they overflowed into the halls and entry to hear what he had to say and he said a lot!

Quoted From Old Times
He admonished that we must all be seekers of truth, knowledge and beauty. He quoted material given nearly one hundred years ago from three speeches: One, Frederick Douglass when he addressed The Rochester New York Women's Historical Society and another given by Representative Turner of the House of Representatives of Georgia in an address to his Georgia House and a Mr. Rock, a Negro leader, who gave a Fourth of July Speech to a group of politicians.

degree. In addition to the 36 scholarship recipients, 141 applicants were selected to receive Certificates of Merit and United States Savings Bonds in recognition of their outstanding high school records.

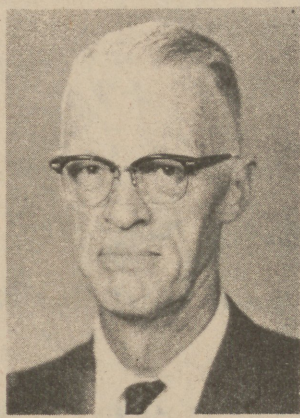

He challenged not to lay down their efforts now in any area - integration, good active politics or in any area they felt worthy of being heard especially in looking to 1970. It is work you do now and until that time that can bring about this great democratic coalition in making all peoples visible, the poor, the minorities, the causes that will improve the past situations of wars and politics and capitalism. Today! He forcefully urged organize yourselves for all that is honorable, for all that is decent in society for the world we believe in. Here he closed, quoting from a publication from Du Bois in which he listed "I believe". It was a form of poetry.

As this auditorium rang with applause the Julian Bond that I saw personally as a carbon copy of the late, young Robert Kennedy, returned to the stage for question and answer period at which time I could see the timely, farsighted young politician come into his own. "Brilliant, a man making no excuses, rather explanations". A standing ovation resounded as he left the stage.

The Iowa Employment Security Commission

THESE ARE YOUR IOWA STATE EMPLOYMENT SECURITY COMMISSIONERS

J. Wayne Janssen
(Represents Employers)

Cecil Reed
(Represents the General Public)

Henry E. Carter
(Represents Labor)

How they are appointed:
By the Governor to administer the Iowa Employment Security Commission - each is appointed for a six-year term. No more than two may be from the same political party. They select their own chairman.

Purpose of the Commission

The Wagner-Peyser Act passed by the U.S. Congress in 1933, established a national system of public employment service offices which are administered by each state according to the standards set forth by the U.S. Government. Before each state could receive funds from the government, it was necessary that legislatures pass state legislation to establish State Employment Service offices in accordance with the Federal standards. Accordingly, in 1936, the Iowa Legislature enacted the Iowa Employment Security Law. Provisions of this statute established the Iowa Employment Security Commission and designated it as the Agency to administer the Wagner-Peyser Act and the Unemployment Insurance Program.

The IESC is a cooperative effort between the State and Federal government. Funds for the agency operations are granted by the U.S. Department of Labor, through the Bureau of Employment Security in Washington, D.C., and are forwarded to the treasurer of the State of Iowa. Each state administrator works closely with the national Bureau of Employment Security. The Bureau maintains 13 regional offices. Iowa is within Region VII which includes North Dakota, South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas and Missouri. The Regional office is located in Kansas City, Missouri.

Responsibilities of the ISES

1. Operation and supervision of 34 employment offices in the larger cities and county seat towns of Iowa, according to standards established by the Wagner-Peyser Act of 1933;
2. Collection of Unemployment Insurance taxes on payrolls of liable employers; and maintenance of employer account records;
3. Payment of unemployment insurance benefits to unemployed workers including Federal civilian workers and ex-servicemen accounts;
4. Collection and publication of statistical and economic data on employment and unemployment;
5. Administration of the Manpower Development and Training Act in cooperation with the State Department of Public Instruction;
6. Administration of the Economic Opportunity Act of 1964 in cooperation with other agencies and community groups;
7. Collection of Iowa Public Employees' Retirement System contributions and maintenance of individual accounts;
8. Collection of Social Security taxes: An accounting is made of the payments and they are subsequently transmitted to the Federal government;

Organization of the Commission
There are three operating divisions:

1. The Employment Service Division: responsible for all employment service activities performed in the 34 state employment offices in Iowa. These local offices are the front lines of the Commission. They provide complete employment service, unemployment insurance and other manpower services. (SEE NEXT WEEK'S STORY ON THIS DIVISION.)
2. Unemployment Insurance Division: Collects a payroll tax from employers and makes payments of unemployment insurance benefits to eligible workers when they become unemployed. It also pays a federal unemployment insurance benefit to unemployed federal civilian workers and ex-servicemen; as well as subsistence allowances to individuals in training under the Manpower Development and Training Act. (A story will be run on this Division soon.)
3. Iowa Public Employees' Retirement System: Collects contributions to the IPERS, making payments of retirement benefits to employees when they retire and makes refunds when employees leave public employment as well as paying beneficiaries in case of death. It also pays monthly benefits under the Iowa Old Age and Survivors' Insurance. It administers collection of the Social Security Tax from Iowa Public employees and employees, and makes payment to the Social Security Administration.

Each of our Commissioners are Iowans by birth; they are married, and each have children.

J. Wayne Janssen
With a Business Administration background, he has been self-employed and has specialized in the field of Agri-business. His appointment to the Commission began in 1965 and he is presently serving as its Chairman. He is active in civic and cultural affairs, having served as president of the Hardin County Chamber of Commerce and of the county's Democratic Central Committee. He is a member of Lions Club, several Masonic bodies and the Shriners, Chairman of the Racial Justice Task Force Committee of his church; and recently was elected to the Board of the D.M. NAACP.

Cecil Reed
A former State Representative, elected from Cedar Rapids, he is the first Negro elected to the Iowa House from Linn County; and the first Negro to preside over the House. His appointment to the Commission was made in 1967 and he has the distinction of being the only Negro Commissioner of Employment Security in the United States.

Mr. Reed has become well known as an authority on Negro history, is often referred to as a consultant in the field. He, too, is a recently elected member of the Board of the D.M. NAACP; and has membership in the National Board of Freedom of Residence Foundation, in the Planning Board of the D.M. Area of Council of Churches Housing Project; Secretary to the Center of Human Growth; Member of the Policy Advisory Committee on Curricula and Educational Programming; Iowa State Educational Radio and Television Facility Board; Chairman of the Division Committee on Human Rights, in the United Nations Association of the U.S.A.; and is a representative of the State Government on the Board of Directors of the Greater D.M. Community Services.

Mr. Reed's philosophy concerns the welfare of all peoples; he, like Martin Luther King, believes in the brotherhood of mankind. One is struck by the humility of this man and deeply impressed by his everyday activities which bespeak his belief in the dignity and integrity of individuals regardless of their economic status or other criteria. His philosophy is evidenced by the founding of the NBLC-APR. 1968.

Henry E. Carter
The senior member of the Commission, has a background in Trades and in business. His work history includes employment in the International Association of Machinists and he subsequently became a business representative of the association. He has been president of the Burlington Trade and Labor Assembly, President of the Iowa State Council of Machinists, and has served as a member of the executive board of the Iowa Federation of Labor. He is Commander of the Sixth District of AMVETS; a member of the VFW, American Legion, Eagles, Moose and Capitol Lodge No. 110 of Masons as well as the Shrine. He is presently serving as a representative from the VIII District of the International Association of Personnel in Employment Security; and is a representative on the board for the Employment of the Physically Handicapped.

He, like Goethe, believes that in this world it is not so much where one stands but in what direction one is moving. He sees the future as challenging - and recognizes the inadequacy of planning for tomorrow from a blueprint of today.

Iowa is to be complimented on her choice of Commissioners. Each of them exercise foresight and intelligence in planning and adjusting to meet the problems facing our State. They are fully aware of the imperativeness of change and recognize that the ISES can only survive in the framework of changing directions in response to changing demands. These men will take the necessary actions; and will aim in positive directions so that all Iowa citizens may participate in a healthy manpower economy.

prove their lot; but that the "have nots", and - or the poor are no better off than they were 10 or 15 years ago. He believes that causal factors for riots can be found in the lack of economic, social and cultural involvement by those that still are deprived.

He assailed the black Americans who no longer wish to identify with their "brothers" reminding us of the struggle of other ethnic groups such as the Irish, and suggesting that we have too much "sweat-equity" as Whitney Young puts it, in our society to separate ourselves out of the mainstream or from each other.

Jurists in Attendance
Prominent jurists attending the Executive Board meeting of the NBA included the Honorable Glenn T. Johnson, Municipal Court, Chicago; Charles J. Lunderman, Mun. Ct., Louisville, Charles A. Waugh, Muskegon, Michigan, current Pres. NBA, and Attorneys Lawrence W. Carroll, the first Black lawyer to be hired by the Chicago Title and Insurance Company; Elmer C. Jackson, Director of the Legal Aid, Kansas City, Kansas, George Lawrence, President of the National Bar Foundation; Revis Ortiue, New Orleans, past president of the NBA, Wm. E. Peterson, president-elect of the NBA whose term will begin August, 1969 and Theodore F. Crawley, past president of the NBA.

James B. Morris, Sr. gave a brief history of the organization of the NBA which was formed in D.M. by five eminent late lawyers: George T. Adams, George B. Woodson, Charles Howard, Gertrude Rush, and himself - he being the only survivor of the founders.

Governor Speaks
Climaxing and highlighting the entire affair were greetings from the Hon. Robert Ray, Governor of the State of Iowa who completely captivated his audiences by his warm, sincere and timely remarks.

Chairman of the affair was D.M.'s Judge Luther B. Glanton. Other D.M. jurists and members of the NBA in attendance were James B. Morris Jr. who introduced the Governor, Nolan Gentry of D.M. Chamber of Commerce, Leo Anthony St. John, International Writer and jurist, and Oscar Jones.

It is regrettable that more Black Des Moines citizens did not have the opportunity to hear Mr. Farmer.

DEVELOPED HAM BULKIES
4 bulkie rolls, unsliced
1 1/2-ounce can deviled ham
2 tablespoons chili sauce
2 tablespoons chopped green pepper
4 slices Mozzarella cheese
Pimento strips, well drained

To open rolls, cut along the top, petal-like divisions (not quite to bottom of roll). Gently pull petals back from center. Scoop out small amount of inside to make room for filling. Combine deviled ham, chili sauce, and green pepper. Place a cheese slice in each roll, then spread cheese with deviled ham mixture. Close petals, gently pressing into filling. In the space between petals, insert pimento strips. Makes four sandwiches.

Career Institute at Iowa Law School

IOWA CITY -- Students from minority or disadvantaged groups who are interested in a career in law have until May 1 to apply for a six-week summer institute to be held at The University of Iowa College of Law June 16 - July 25.

Forty-eight students will be chosen for the program, all of whom must have graduated from college by June. Courses will focus on constitutional law, contracts and public issues in property law, and will include attention to writing skills.

Some of the institute's activities are expected to be coordinated with those of a University of Iowa program to be given at the same time for 60 college and high school teachers from all over the country who plan to teach courses in Afro-American culture next year.

Associate Dean Paul Neuhauser, who is directing the institute, said the program's purpose is to produce more lawyers among Afro-American, Mexican-American and other minority or disadvantaged groups. Citizens of these groups need legal representation, he said, and legal training has been traditionally important for leaders in politics, public administration and business.

Complete Course
Students who successfully complete the institute will be considered for admission to one of the 10 law schools sponsoring it: University of Iowa, University of Illinois, University of Chicago, Indiana University (Indianapolis and Bloomington), University of Michigan, University of Minnesota, Northwestern University, Ohio State University and University of Wisconsin.

Costs of the institute, plus a $50 per week stipend for each student in lieu of summer earnings, are to be paid from a grant from the Council on Legal Education Opportunity (CLEO), and plans are being made to obtain scholarship aid for those starting law school in the fall, Dean Neuhauser said.

How to Apply
To qualify for the summer institute, applicants should submit a completed application form, two letters of recommendation, and a transcript of grades from the college the student has graduated from. These should be sent to Neuhauser by May 1 at CLEO Summer Institute, College of Law University of Iowa, Iowa City, Iowa. Sponsors of the institute are CLEO and the 10 law schools.

Too much cannot be said of team work of members of various committees. Some sacrificed work hours to be on the scene and "where the action was" and where they might be of service.

Highlights
Highlights of State Conference activity revealed some progress, some plans, some needs of branches and communities. Much political action showed legislators elected, members of city council after 50 years of effort in some instances. Negro life and culture to be included in school curriculum, more youth participation in branches with NAACP Day where youth and adults could participate. One city had developed a police-community relations program with ten black deputy sheriffs.

State conference of Colorado - Wyoming had raised $10,000 at Freedom Fund Banquet. These were some of achievements of Branches and state conferences.

Negro Americans Urge Halt to Nigerian War

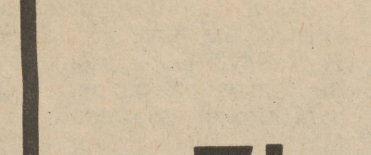

NEW YORK. -- Twenty-two Negro American religious and civic leaders have called for an end of the bloodshed in the Nigerian Civil War and have pledged to do everything possible "to help restore confidence and to help find ways of healing the breach."

The pledge was embodied in a cablegram, dispatched on April 18, to Emperor Haile Selassie, head of the Organization of African Unity, during the OAU's peace-making sessions in Monrovia, Liberia. After two days the conference was adjourned because of inability to reach agreement between the Federal Government of Nigeria and secessionist Biafra. The Federal Government insisted upon one Nigeria; Biafra insisted upon independence.

Origin of the diamond industry is lost in the mists of time, but you can bet it was some prehistoric gal who first used the word "mine" in connection with precious stones.

The office Lothario says he gets about three gals to the mile with his new sports car.

State conference of Colorado - Wyoming had raised $10,000 at Freedom Fund Banquet. These were some of achievements of Branches and state conferences.

UNITARIAN

This Unitarian Church binds no one by a rigid dogma or creed. Members associate together for the study and practice of religion as interpreted by the growing thought and noblest lives of humanity, hoping thereby to prove helpful one to another and to promote righteousness and love in the world.

You can get acquainted with this liberal religion by attending the service at 11 o'clock any Sunday morning. You are invited to come Sunday when the sermon by Mr. Isom, the minister, will be:

Benjamin Toppins Overcome by Fumes; Dies Broadlawn

Funeral services for Benjamin Toppins will be held Friday, April 25, at Maple Street Baptist Church at 1:30 P.M. Burial will be in Glendale Cemetery.

Toppins, 46, of 1245 Twelfth St. was dead on arrival at Broadlawn Polk County Hospital about 6 a.m. Monday after apparently being overcome by carbon monoxide fumes, police said.

Officers said Toppins was found slumped over the steering wheel of his car parked in the garage of his home with the engine running.

A son, Stanley Williams of the Twelfth street address, told police that he found his father and carried him from the car to the driveway.

Police, summoned by young Williams, administered oxygen but Toppins failed to respond. Dr. Leo Luka, Polk County medical examiner, was investigating the death later Monday.

The body is at L. Fowler & Son Funeral Home. He is survived by a brother who lives in Louisiana.

THE NATIONAL BAR ASSOCIATION's Executive Board played host to many prominent jurists and their wives last week end; and it was my pleasure to visit with several of them during the noon luncheon held at Holiday Inn, North. While distinguishing men of jurisprudence, several of the wives are equally prominent. Of particular interest was Mrs. Lawrence Carroll.

Her husband holds the honor of being the first Black lawyer to be hired and work for the Chicago Title and Insurance Company (a lawyers lawyer who checks abstracts and titles); she is a Children's Librarian and is employed by the City Library.

Mrs. George Lawrence, a nurse and active in the National Nursing Foundation, her husband is a past president of the NBA.

There were so many things going on this weekend I am sure it was difficult to choose between events. But to those of us who attended the open meeting of the NBA and heard the very dynamic and eloquent speech of JAMES FARMER - former CORE President and now an administrator in the Health Education and Welfare Department, realize that we made a wise choice. While the entire speech can be found on page 1, of this paper, let me reiterate by saying that his understanding and analysis of the problems faced by Black people in America represent the kind of thinking that can bring about healthy relationships between Blacks and between members of the two races. GOVERNOR RAY in his Greetings to the NBA stated definitively that he wished that at least 300,000 persons could have heard Mr. Farmer - all of which is to say that he believed all of the citizens in D.M. should have heard him.

Visited briefly with MRS. CECIL REED, ALENETTA MILLER, KATHERYN WILLIAMS, BABS JAMES, INEZ MORROW, ELAINE ESTES, MARJORIE SMITH AND CLARA BAYLES who was busy snapping pictures and making out of town visitors feel very much at home and comfortable; in other words being her usual, charming and friendly self; and many others. Throughout the crowd we observed members of the D.M. School Board, U.S. District Court Local Jurists, Legal Aid Society, Social Service Agencies, and other D.M. and Iowa institutions. Both KRNT and WHO were on hand and a press conference was held immediately after the affair at which the very personable VELMA TURNER, of KIOA was very much in there with appropriate questions to which Mr. Farmer seemed happy to answer.

GREEK letter organizations joined hands over the week-end and held one Ball (rather than several individual Balls) - which, in my opinion, is a step in the right direction. I understand it was held at Val Air Ballroom in West Des Moines and that a good time was had by their guests.

I am sure sorry I didn't know about the Sensitivity Programs sponsored by the Delta Sigma Thetas during February, March and April. These were led by Drake professors including Dr. Audry Forrests and Dr. Edward Easley - they dealt primarily with the role of the Black Woman in American society (see story by Katheryn Williams in this paper).

The Deltas are more of a service oriented sorority than a social one - although they are well known for their Red and White Ball, much of their work deals with the social problems of the day. There are some 350 chapters throughout the U.S. and it is my understanding that their projects include 1) Mental Health (2) Community Services which include a Teen - Life that is they literally lift teenagers out of the backwoods of southern communities and enable them to engage in social, cultural and educational experiences other than those taught in a classroom. This includes travel, visiting industrial centers, taking part in recreation and exposure to the arts and sciences; (3) Their Book Mobile brings books to children and adults who reside in rural areas (4) They provide scholarships to worthy students (5) Their International Relations project includes establishing a maternity clinic in Kenya Africa - the clinic being part of the well known Riruta Clinic in Kenya. In addition they have been the recipient of the National Silver Bowl Award (that is the D.M. Phi Chapter) due to their work with the Job Clinic. Teenagers have been brought together at Wilkie House at the Jr. H.S. level and special sessions with them and individual Deltas which helped them improve their academic, & social status.

Membership in the Delta sorority seem to include women who have made distinctive contributions in their own right.

CECIL REED is presently being considered for a position in the Nixon administration. This will be a real loss to D.M. if he accepts for not only is he a ranking member of the Iowa Employment Security Commission, but he is doing tremendous work in our state which is helping to stem the tide toward black nationalism. Iowa can't afford to lose men like him too. THIS IS YOUR LIFE program is being held this Sunday night, April 27 at Visitation Catholic Church the tickets are a minimum of $2 each which includes dinner. Here we will have a chance to have portrayed for us some of the "Up the down staircase - escalator" type of experiences that were overcome by Mr. Reed and who through sheer determination and perseverance has battled his way to the top. To the Blacks who seem to think he does not identify with the problems they are facing - here is an opportunity to hear for yourselves that perhaps you are a victim of propaganda and are not availing yourselves of the opportunity to know a man who is labor oriented having owned a maintenance business himself shortly before his election to the House of Representatives while residing in Cedar Rapids.

Daughters of Des Moines Social Club Party

The Daughters of Des Moines Social and Civic Club were hostesses to 150 guests at a semi-formal party held in the Capitol Room at the Hotel Kirkwood on Saturday, April 19.

The Club's colors were displayed with table centerpieces of black vases and yellow roses and the club's banner of gold background with black lettering, and, of course, all of the members in black after-five cocktail dresses and yellow corsages.

Out of town guests were Mrs. Priscilla Thomas of Davenport, Iowa, and Mrs. Geraldine Williams and Mrs. Helen Wilson of Omaha, Nebraska.

The club will hold a business meeting on May 4 at the home of the club's president, Ella Shade.

TOB Club Plans Steak Fry

The T.O.B. Club met April 18 at the home of Bessie Campbell. The club planned a steak fry for June 1, and a day at the races in Omaha. The club adjourned to be served an enjoyable meal. The next meeting will be held May 1 with Thelma Claybrook.

Pancake Day By the Kiwanis

Before you visit the Relays on Saturday, April 26th, make a refreshment stop at the MERLE HAY KIWANIS Pancake Day feed at Merle Hay Plaza.

If you don't have a chance to stop before the Relays... make it later in the day. Enjoy those fluffy, melt-in-your-mouth pancakes, swimming with real butter and maple flavored syrup. Taste the smokey goodness of link sausages on the side. Eat to your heart's content.

Merle Hay Kiwanians will be serving Pancakes and Sausage all day Saturday, April 26th, at Merle Hay Plaza. When you're shopping, on the way home, on the way to or from the Relays, stop for pancakes and sausages at Merle Hay Plaza. The Kiwanis Pancake Day raises money for scholarships and underprivileged youth funds.

Active Program by Mary Church Club No. 2

The Mary Church Terrell Club No.2 Flight No.12 landed at the home of Mrs. Lawrence Graves on April 4. Highlights of the evening were beauty demonstrations, facial and hair. Guest artists were Mrs. Frances Banks demonstrator for Fashion Two Twenty products, Mrs. Denna Mae Collins and Mrs. Mildred Weeks from Mort's Beauty Salon.

April 18 was "craft night" with Mrs. Henry Hammit as hostess. Under the direction of Mrs. Hammit the evening was spent making bread dough roses.

World-Traveler, in Des Moines This Week

Though his legs are partially paralyzed and his arms don't seem to respond to his directions too well, Conrad Dube has travelled 192,000 miles - on a bicycle.

He's visited Africa, Asia, Europe, you name it, camping out when he has to or hustling up lodgings through the use of his infectious grin.

Dube, 40, says he began traveling in 1953 after Canadian employers refused to hire him because he was so severely crippled.

Stricken at the age of two, he was 10 before he could walk; 13 before he could talk. But by 1953, Dube realized he wasn't going to be able to get a decent job and so he decided instead to realize a lifelong dream for travel.

That was 12 bikes and 37 sets of tires ago. On his English made bicycle, Dube strapped a sleeping bag and personal gear, plus a sign in two languages introducing himself and his trip.

Whether the subject is ships, shoes, sealing wax, tax diminution or air pollution, it's nice to know what you're talking about when you talk about it. Except with regard to the technically trained, time was when you could say with a good deal of accuracy: "Everybody talks about air pollution, but nobody knows anything about it." Just what is it that pollutes the air? Where does it come from? How does it get there?

Dear Mr. Neuhauser:

I am a minority or disadvantaged student. I have a college degree, or I will by June. I understand you're running a 6-week summer institute to prepare students like me for law school in the fall.

The institute will run from June 16 to July 25, and 48 minority or disadvantaged students will participate. Free tuition, room and board, and $50 a week in lieu of summer earnings will be provided.

Those who successfully finish the program will have shown their ability to handle law school work and, with the help of the Director of the Institute, should be able to be admitted to an accredited law school.

Please rush me the proper forms, since applications close May 1st. Thank you.

What does it do to you? Why?

While it's generally true that public gripes about air pollution have preceded exact knowledge (and why not, when even a doctor feels the sorrows of a bellyache before he learns what caused it), that time is now past.

It's past, that is, for anybody who is ready to treat himself to the excitement of an unfolding drama as it happens step by step in a little book called, "Air Pollution Primer." With words and pictures that require no special preparation to absorb, the book tells its story fact by fact, event by event, in a way that turns murky mystery into perceived knowledge. The "Air Pollution Primer" informs you, in terms already familiar or lucidly explained, about such things as the physical processes of pollution, the role of wind and weather, the way it affects the world around you, what it's apt to do to your health, and a hundred other facts of air-polluted life you've probably wondered about.

The "Air Pollution Primer" was produced by the National Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association for the enlightenment and use of people, whether they just want to talk about the subject or get up on their hind legs and do something about it. You'll be better equipped for either function after you've read it. The 104 - page paperback volume is available from your Christmas Seal Association. Polk County Tuberculosis & Health Ass'n., 208 Flynn Build., Ph: 288-3349. Des Moines, Iowa 50309.

Striking Students
Presenting Problem

Striking college students remain in the forefront of the news today gathering strength and audacity from day to day.

Possibly the most unfortunate one other than the first one, was that at Cornell College in Ithaca, New York.

And it was unfortunate because the Negro students who took over the large building armed themselves with guns both initially and had weapons brought in.

The school authorities acceded to all of their demands including immunity from criminal punishment, a guarantee of legal aid if they were arrested and a 24 hour guard at the Afro-American Center.

The trouble with such a capitulation is that it encourages others to try the stunt; it demonstrated how impotent authority can become in an effort to prevent further trouble.

Had these people been really wanted out, the authorities could have gassed the place and forced them out. By acceding to such Hitler tactics as Cornell did, the cause of law and order has been dealt a staggering blow.

At the University of Iowa, 16 Negro members of the football squad failed to show up for practice. Coach Nagle announced that they had dismissed themselves from the squad.

While the demands have not been given to the public, the charge that conditions at the school were intolerable was a surprise to those who have been acquainted with student life on the campus. And if conditions are intolerable, they could not have happened over night and thus should have been the subject of discussion and acceptance long ago.

Another known complaint is that Negro athletes bring glory to the school but have not been graduating. This, of course, is true of some white athletes too. Of course, the trouble with the charge is that academic standards have often been dropped to a low level to get an athlete admitted.

Negro students at some universities are demanding that Negro students be admitted regardless of their qualifications.

These strikes would do far more good helping to tutor some of these boys who are slow or back in their studies.

These boys should look back over the list of Iowa athletes who have made a name for themselves even though their chances were far below what is offered today. To mention a few at random are Nolden Gentry, captain of the basketball team, now a successful lawyer and administrator, Carl Cain, a member of the fabulous five basketball team, a successful juvenile official in California; Earl Banks, a member of the famous eleven iron man football team now a coach at Morgan State College in Baltimore; or "Deacon" Davis, the first Negro to play a full schedule in basketball, now a social worker. And on back to Duke Slater Archie Alexander and others too numerous to mention.

Boys, you can be of greater service to the Negro athlete and your school by helping these delinquent students conquer their studies as well as compete in athletics.

Farmer Chooses
A Sound Approach

James Farmer, assistant secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, speaking in Des Moines Saturday, let it be made plain that he was a part and parcel inside the Nixon administration and that the President was not letting Negroes down in his appointment to high positions even though none had been named to a cabinet post, so far.

A man who had spent much of his time protesting and at times in jail for standing by his views, Farmer has joined up with an administration which is pursuing a middle of the road position; which is more interested in making what we have work than by creating a series of new and untried formulas

With Allen Ashby

What would you write about this week? The opening of our triple A baseball season here, the Drake Relays with all its memories of other years, or this thing at Iowa City involving the black athletes? There has been and will be yards of copy written about the relays. Time was when a black athlete made news for the Negro press by just being here, but now there are so many stars and near stars that one just can't devote much space to the fellows if they don't win or place well up.

Record

There are our black schools that came up here and set records. Then there are the black runners from schools where a few years ago a black runner had better be running from them instead of for the school. Then, of course, there is the usual bunch from the Big Ten, the Big Eight and Missouri Valley Conferences.

which have only for their possible success the use of a lot of money.

Farmer has not abandoned his militancy championing the cause of the poor, the depressed, the unfortunate. But he is engaged in a different method of accomplishing that end.

He pleased his audience because his approach to the cause of racial advancement was reasonable and had some chance of getting the job done.

In spite of his past record, President Nixon saw in him a man who is fundamentally sound and is the type of individual who can carry to the Negro and those working in the cause of racial equality a program that has a chance to work.

Greater Event

*A fellow once asked us what was the greatest event we ever saw out there. Well, that takes in just about fifty of the relays. And we would have to do a lot of head scratching to really say. We might say the biggest thrill we had was when our late brother Bill got a picture of a guy who wasn't even supposed to place in the hundred and who won it. The fellow was Ellerbee of Tuskegee, and Bill had what turned out to be one of the rare, best shots of the day. There have been so many great races and field performances that a fellow could spend a whole day naming them or telling about them. Our funniest event of the years was the sight of a guy running a race with one hand trying to hold up his slipping running trunks. He finally had to let them fall, stepped out of them and finished in front of the pack by an eyelash.

Looking For Girls

We used to name most of the fellows who would be here but try that now. It would take a whole column of nothing but names. Oh yes, we are still looking forward to seeing some black girls in the girls events out there. But come what will, we shall be out there.

Then there is this thing at Iowa City. We don't know much about it and have heard all sorts of rumors and guesses. We hope that the thing hasn't got so far along that something can't be worked out. The statement that the black athletes gave to the press was full of things that should be corrected. We don't know how true it is but we have heard that after a boy finishes his athletic career he is through as far as student aid is concerned. If that is true, it is wrong. But the whole thing probably involves a little face loss and giving in by both sides.

QUESTION: I returned home from the hospital about two weeks ago after treatment for a broken hip. My doctor says I may have to return to the hospital 3 days a week as an outpatient for therapy treatments to speed my recovery. Would this type of treatment be covered by Medicare?

ANSWER: Yes. Physical therapy services are covered when they are furnished by a qualified hospital, extended care facility, home health agency, clinic, rehabilitation agency or public health agency, and the services are furnished under a plan established and periodically reviewed by a doctor. Medicare would pay for this care similar to the way payments are made for doctor bills. Medicare will pay 80 per cent of the amount above any $50 deductible not already met for this year.

QUESTION: I purchased an oxygen tank upon recommendation of my doctor and Medicare has been making the monthly payments on it. My doctor has now certified that I do not need it anymore and the Medicare payments have stopped. Who is responsible for paying off the rest of the price of the oxygen tank?

ANSWER: Medicare will pay the rental charges or payments towards the purchase of durable medical equipment only as long as it is medically necessary. The patient is responsible for either paying the balance of these payments or returning the equipment to the provider after the doctor has said the equipment is no longer necessary.

QUESTION: I'm 70 years old. I've heard I can make $1,680 a year and still receive all my social security benefits. Does this mean that if I earn $2,000 all my benefits will be withheld?

ANSWER: No, you will get some benefits. If you earn $2,000, $160 in benefits will be withheld for the entire year. You can earn up to $1,680 and still get benefits for all months of the year. If you earn between $1,680 and $2,880, $1 in benefits is withheld for every $2 earned over $1,680. If you earn more than $1,880, then $1 in benefits is withheld for every $1 earned over $2,880. No benefits are withheld no matter how much you earn after you reach 72.

VETERANS Wins Knights of Columbus Prize

Q - My son will soon be discharged from the Army after two years of service. He received his college education under the War Orphans Education Assistance program. Will he be entitled to any additional education assistance under the G.I. Bill?

A - Yes. A recent law increased the aggregate amount of Veterans Administration educational assistance which a veteran may receive under two or more programs from 36 to 48 months.

Assuming your son received 36 months of VA benefits under the War Orphans program, he will be entitled to 12 months of additional aid under the G.I. Bill.

He should make application for a Certificate of Eligibility from the VA regional office where his veteran records will be on file.

Q - I am a World War II veteran who financed my home with a G.I. loan. I am being transferred to another city by my employer. May I have my G.I. loan entitlement restored?

A - Yes, the sale of your G.I. home due to such transfer entitles you to restoration of entitlement provided the loan is paid off.

However, as a World War II veteran, you have only until July 25, 1970, to use your restored entitlement.

Check with your VA regional office where your records are now on file for further information and assistance in this matter.

Q - I pay premiums on my G.I. insurance quarterly and am concerned because I have not received my premium due notice. Should I wait until I receive this notice before paying my premium? I certainly don't want to take a chance on my policy lapsing.

A - By all means pay your premium when it becomes due even though you may not have received a premium due notice. Be certain to include your policy number with your payment.

Msgr. Lalley, Council 5640 of the Knights of Columbus recently awarded $1200.00 to Mr. Virgil Winters of 5105 S.W. 18th Street.

Mr. Winters purchased a ticket to the Council's Hawaiian Carnival Dance which was held March 22. The $1200.00 was a door prize.

Winters is a currency teller at the First Federal State Bank. Mrs. Winters teaches at Park Ave. school. They have two children.

Winters said he would put the money to very good use. His wife was confined to a hospital this year for an asthmatic attack. His daughter had polio and has had two muscle transplants and has undergone bone surgery. His son has a hearing defect and recently his hearing aid was stolen. Winters thinks the doctors will be as happy as he is about the $1200.00.

We asked Winters if he planned on buying a ticket next year? A bright smile accompanied, "You know I will!"

Meerschmum

Meerschmum, used chiefly in pipes and cigar and cigarette holders, is a white mineral soft enough to be scratched with the fingernail. Sometimes it is found floating in the Black Sea, and is often mistaken for sea foam.

Announcing the
New Portrait Check
Identification Card

It Proves You're You!

Anyone can forge your name.
No one can forge your face.
That's why we're putting faces on check identification cards.

Our New First Family, Full Color
Identification Card has your picture on it.

So if it's lost or stolen, no one else can use it to write checks on your account.

Even when it's not lost it's better than an ordinary identification card.

One glance at the photo proves you and the card belong to each other. No delays. No embarrassment.

And if you have a lot of other cards, this one can prove the rest are really yours.

So drop by and pose for our Polaroid camera. 60 seconds later you can admire yourself in full color. It's another first-in-town service from . . .
