Iowa U Students In Two Car Crash

Marca Hogan and John Johnson Injured Seriously

A trip from Iowa City to see the Drake Relays Saturday ended in tragedy for John H. Johnson, a member of the varsity basketball team and Marca Hogan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Hogan, 4302 Wakonda Parkway.

The accident occurred about one o'clock as the car driven by Johnson, and in which Miss Hogan was riding, was going south on Fleur Drive. The other car driven by Joe Mitchell Sheldon, 2201 E. Sixteenth Street was proceeding north. The Sheldon car, in an attempt to pass another car lost control of his car and struck the other car broadside.

Two men were killed in the two-car crash on the Fleur drive bridge over the Raccoon River.

Sheldon, 22, of 2201 E. Sixteenth st., the driver of one car, and Neil Edward Osborne, 24, of Mitchellville, a passenger, were dead at the scene of the accident, police said.

Johnson and Miss Hogan were taken to Methodist Hospital. She was found to have received a broken ankle and foot, head and shoulder injuries and the loss of several teeth. Following surgery Monday, she is reported to be improving but remains in intensive care.

Johnson received serious bruises and chest injuries and was shaken up. He too, is in intensive care but is reported improving.

Miss Hogan is a senior at the university and Johnson a leading rebounder and scorer on the varsity basketball team.

Evers Calls Rally In Tense Miss. Rural Community

PORT GIBSON, Miss. — Charles Evers, state field director of the NAACP, called a rally in this tense town following the fatal shooting of a young Negro by a white assistant police chief. Charged with murder, the police officer was released under $5,000 bond.

Assistant Police Chief Jesse L. Wolf, was charged with murder, April 19, in the death of Roosevelt Jackson, 24. A preliminary hearing was set for April 21. Mayor W. P. Gordon signed the arrest warrant on the basis of an affidavit accusing the 44-year-old officer of holding Jackson by the arm and shooting him in the stomach.

Violates Law
"Letting that man out of jail is a direct violation of the law," Evers said. "Anytime a man is held on a murder charge, he is supposed to remain in jail until a hearing is held and he has not had a hearing."

Mr. Evers has called for an intensified economic boycott of local merchants in support of a demand for the dismissal of two police officers and to protest the shooting. He also demanded an end to "police brutality, both physical and verbal." He threatened to "close this town down" if the demand was not met.

"It was cold-blooded murder," Evers said. "If they let him (Wolf) go, we are going to close this town down and turn it back to the Indians."

Medical School Plan to Aid Poor In Denver

Mrs. Washington
From the Rocky Mountains, Denver, Colo.

The University of Colorado Medical Center has initiated an intensive program of recruitment and assistance to bring more minority and disadvantaged students into the medical and health-related professions.

Dr. John J. Conger, vice president for medical affairs, has announced a comprehensive course of action, effectively immediately, aimed at developing expanded opportunities for minority students in health professions.

Begun last May, the program is based on a study of ways in which the CU Medical Center could create horizons for the disadvantaged.

The announcement followed unanimous endorsement of the executive faculty of the School of Medicine of a commitment to encourage enrollment of more minority and disadvantaged medical students.

10 More Places
The faculty voted to make 10 additional places available to minority students in each entering freshman class of the medical school, beginning with the class entering next September.

In addition, 250 members of the faculties and student bodies of the three Medical Center schools — Medicine, Nursing and Dentistry — have pledged themselves in writing to give extra help through tutoring and special instruction to any student whose educational and cultural background leaves him at a disadvantage in coping with professional studies.

Dr. Conger also announced the appointment of Mrs. Jean M. Washington as full-time co-ordinator of minority student affairs.

Mrs. Washington, Colorado General Hospital medical social worker and instructor in the Department of Pediatrics of the medical school, will press forward with the expanded opportunity program both at the Medical Center and in the undergraduate and preparatory studies in universities, junior and community colleges, and high schools.

Dr. Conger said financial aid will be made available to economically disadvantaged and minority students recruited for health professions.

Health Group to Honor Dr. Connors

Dr. Julius S. Conner, Des Moines-Polk County Health Director, was the recipient of the Iowa Public Health Association's Individual Accomplishment Award at their state association's annual banquet, held in Des Moines on May 1st.

The nomination stated: "Dr. Conner, the youngest director in the history of the Des Moines-Polk County Health Department, has from August 2, 1965 as director, and from 1961 to 1965 as assistant director of health, provided outstanding leadership and contribution to public health in Iowa and Des Moines-Polk County, Iowa."

Dr. Connors

Outstanding Leadership
Dr. Conner for the past eight years has provided outstanding leadership both in the state and community in all facets of health—an outstanding health director, physician and public servant—a man truly concerned about the health and welfare of everyone.

Under his able leadership and administration, the Des Moines-Polk County Health Department has become one of the best departments in the nation — a model for others.

Three Major Divisions
This local health department now consists of three major divisions: A Division of Staff Services; a Division of Personal Health Services, and a Division of Environmental Health Services. These divisions are headed up by two physicians and a public health engineer.

In these three divisions, there are 17 special sections, each with a program director; a specialist in his or her field.

The services of the department now run the entire gamut of services from A to Z — Accident Prevention to Zoonosis (diseases transmitted from animal to man, such as rabies.)

Scheduled Housing Confab in Washington

NEW YORK — Formation of the National Housing Producers Association to stimulate Negro enterprise in the housing field was announced here this week by Roy Wilkins, executive director of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, which has sponsored the new organization.

William R. Morris, NAACP director of housing programs, will coordinate the structuring of the new group at a two-day conference in Washington, May 9-10. Some 400 builders and contractors, planners, architects, engineers, realty brokers, property managers, insurance agents, lending institutions and others working in the field of minority shelter are expected to attend the conference.

Object
"NHPA was established," Mr. Morris said, "to help meet today's critical need for large-scale housing development, especially for low and moderate income families."

"The nation's production goals in these categories cannot be met without the help of Negro entrepreneurs. Opportunities for minority-group firms and individuals to help produce the necessary housing have never been greater."

Mr. Morris said the conference will begin May 9 at 8 a.m. and continue with business meetings, panels, forums, briefings and workshops until 5 p.m. the following day. Sessions will be held in Washington's Hotel America and the new HUD Building.

Suppliers Fair for Minority Business

NEW YORK — In an effort to develop new markets for minority businessmen, the New York Urban Coalition and the New York Urban League in cooperation with the Western Electric Company are sponsoring a Suppliers' Fair to be held June 26 for the purpose of introducing non-white suppliers to the purchasing agents of major corporations.

The all day event, to be held at the Brooklyn Navy Yard in Building 280, will start at 9 A.M., Thursday, June 26.

Awakening
"Increasingly, large corporations are becoming interested in businesses that are minority-owned and operated for two reasons. First, such firms represent a large, untapped source of quality products and services. Secondly, a broadened economic base in the minority community can contribute significantly to the creation of a healthier nation," Livingston L. Wingate, Executive Director of the New York Urban League, said in commenting on the Fair.

Des Moines to Host Model Cities Meet

Mort's Barber Shop Hit; Sporadic Incidents In Other Parts of City

Residents in a three block area were jarred awake Saturday midnight by a thunderous explosion which literally demolished the Black Panther headquarters, at 1207 11th street.

Shock waves flashed from the tremendous blast shattered window panes in 48 homes and nearby businesses in a two block radiating circle. The James Ary home at 1209 11th street, just north of the Black Panther Headquarters, suffered extensive damage. Its porch and living room were demolished and debris and glass flew like missiles into the other quarters. Mr. Ary was treated for shock at a local hospital and released.

No Other Injuries
No other serious injuries were reported. At least six members of the Black Panthers were in the two-story building when the blast occurred. Several persons including two policemen sustained minor injuries in the confusion following the explosion. Others reported cuts from flying glass.

Questions
Immediately after the blast residents, many in various night attire, poured into their yards and sidewalks, bombarded police officers and neighbors with questions. "What's happened? Where?" Adding to the near-panic confusion were conflicting stories of what and where the explosion had occurred.

During the remainder of Saturday night and most of Sunday police remained on duty at the scene of the bombing. Eleventh street from University avenue to Mary street was barricaded until about 3 p.m. Sunday.

Sightseers
All day Sunday, University avenue was choked with a continuous procession of sightseeing motorists; surrounding side streets were just as densely populated with sightseeing walkers. Stunned residents in the three-block blast area, still shell-shocked from what had happened, busied themselves with cleaning up the glass debris and occasionally wondering "what the world was coming to." All around them, especially on 11th street, resembled a bombed city. In the afternoon residents began to cover the gaping windows with inadequate sheets of plastic, provided by a Red Cross disaster car, as the weather bureau predicted an unseasonable cold spell.

Mrs. Glanton to Receive Award at Iowa Wesleyan

Mrs. Glanton

Iowa Wesleyan College, Mount Pleasant, Iowa, will celebrate the 1969 Commencement jointly on June for Sunday and Monday night.

Fire Bombings
In the wake of the bombing of the Black Panther headquarters several fire bombings were reported Sunday night. The most serious damage occurred at Mort's Barbershop, 1016 University avenue, owned by Nathaniel Morton, 4510 Wakonda parkway. Windows blown out by Saturday night's blast had been replaced Sunday only to be broken again by bricks thrown by unknown assailants, who then threw molotov cocktails, setting the place afire. Police discovered the fire at 3 a.m.

Another
In another incident, Cecil Thompson of 1168 11th street, said that about 1 a.m. he discovered a group of teenagers pouring something around the back of his home. With the help of neighbors he chased them away. Police said they could smell gasoline at the rear of Thompson's residence.

No Connections
Local police said there was no apparent connection between Saturday night's bombing and the fire bombs of the following nights. At press time no arrests of persons believed responsible for the bombings had been made.

Assisting in the investigation were Fifth Army demolition experts from Sterling, Ill., who were able to determine only that a "high grade explosive," perhaps a plastic type, probably was used in the Black Panther bombing. Authorities said it was equal to the force engendered by "30 to 50 sticks of dynamite."

Four Arrested
Four persons were arrested on charges of resisting arrest or interfering with police officers after the blast at the Black Panther building. Arrested was Johnson Hughes, 18, of 1707 13th street, who was found guilty Sunday by Municipal Judge Ray Harrison of disturbing the peace and quiet and sentenced to 10 days in the Polk County Jail. Also arrested was Edward Ronald King, 25, of Minneapolis, Minn., who was released on $300 bond after pleading innocent before Judge Harrison to a charge of interfering with the duties of an officer. Two others, both juveniles were released.

Mrs. Luther T. Glanton, Jr. will receive the James A. Harlan Award for outstanding public leadership in the legal profession and in the affairs of the State. The exercises will be at 10:30 on Sunday morning with an informal luncheon for the guests of the college afterward.

Brotherhood Group Honors Reed

Cecil Reed, commissioner of the Northern Brotherhood of Police Officers, was honored last Sunday night at a banquet sponsored by members of the Northern Brotherhood Leadership Conference. The affair had a two-fold purpose: Not only to portray the life of a man loved and respected throughout the State, but also to illustrate that the organization NBLCO founded by him, has indeed become a reality.

Some 200 guests including Roger Jepsen, Lt. Governor, were in attendance. The crowd was well integrated, an indication that the philosophy of the organization "brotherhood of man" is at work.

Love Presided
Preston Love, member of the Board of the NBLCO, IBM specialist, and an entrepreneur, served as the moderator. Mr. Reed's "up the down escalator" experiences (As James Farmer of HEW calls it) were revealed in a This is Your Life portrayal.

Welcomes Guests
Father Wilderwing of All Saints Catholic Church, and also a member of the Board of NBLCO moved in and among the guests assuring that all were comfortable and enjoying the food prepared by members of the Visitation Diocese.

A group enjoyed after dinner cocktails at the home of Bob Ibsen, of the legal department at Meredith's at his residence South of Grand Avenue.

Medical School Plan to Aid Poor

sions study.
In addition to already available federal and private resources, new scholarship funds will be established through contributions from the faculty of the Medical School.

"For more than a decade we have always had a few minority students enrolled in the medical school," Conger said. "We have wanted more, but there were few applicants."

"It became apparent that the situation demanded more positive action from us, and I am delighted that our faculties have accepted the challenge with a full commitment."

Conger said the Medical School plans an active part "in abolishing any belief among young minority children that the health professions are beyond their reach, educationally, socially or financially."

"Hopefully, by working with the schools and their counselors, we will be able to carry the preparatory and motivational aspects of the program on down to the junior high and elementary schools."

Conger said an elective course would be established, initially at Manual High School, to provide students with detailed background information and introductory experience in the health professions.

The course will be taught by members of the CU faculty and students on a volunteer basis and also will involve instruction by practicing health professionals from the community. The high school students will spend time at the CU Medical Center for on-the-job exposure to the health professions in action.

Mrs. Washington said it is planned that the elective courses at Manual will be opened to minority students from other high schools.

The widow of a veteran who died of a service-connected condition may receive dependency and indemnity compensation regardless of her income, the Veterans Administration reminded today.

Complete information on these and other benefits for widows and dependents of veterans is available from any VA office.

Cedarizing Old Closet Good Step

Closed space is all that's needed to have a moth-repelling cedar closet. Many families simply convert an existing closet by nailing aromatic red cedar closet lining to the walls.

Available at leading lumber dealers everywhere, each package contains installation instructions. The cedar boards are tongue and grooved for fast, easy construction.

Cedar covering all space and door that can be closed tight to keep in the aroma are the only prerequisites to creating a fine cedar closet in an existing space.

Build Two-Purpose Cedar Closet

Every family has storage problems.

In a growing family, one solution is to build a two-purpose closet in the basement, attic or garage. By lining it with aromatic red cedar, you'll keep moths out. By using it for out-of-season clothing, you'll relieve the pressure on the other closets.

Cedar lining is available at lumber yards. Prepackaged bundles or cartons contain pieces with tongue-and-grooved edges

This handsome cedar closet solves a familiar problem. It has ample room for protective storage of off-season woollens, and it serves as a room divider to screen the basement laundry area. Fully lined with aromatic red cedar wood, including floors, doors and ceiling, the spacious closet offers protection against moths and larvae for both shelf and hanging storage items. It is built of 3/4" exterior plywood. Storage on the side shown is duplicated from the other side, which also has three doors. For basements with less room, half this size would still give adequate storage for most families and still serve as a space divider.

For easy installation. The wood, which is soft and easy to cut, is nailed up horizontally.

Moths Stay Away

For maximum moth-repelling, cover the entire inside of your off-season storage closet with the aromatic red cedar. The more cedar, the greater the odor, which is pleasant to people but abhorrent

Engineers are very resourceful people. They couldn't open a Pullman window, so they air-conditioned the train.

Then there was the hippie wife who told a surprise guest, "Next time phone before you come, so I can have a chance to mess up the house."

LINES

by
Guest Columnist

My two children, Tanya and Charles and I just returned from 4 wonderful days in the beautiful city of Washington, D.C. Upon our return late Sunday evening, my husband informed me that my good friend, Marri, had called from New Jersey asking that I pinch-hit for her this week. We were fortunate on our trip, my cousin, Sherri Buckner, formerly of Burlington and now a career gal in Washington, spent two days showing the children our beautiful Capitol City while I attended the National Board meeting of A.D.A., and called upon several of the Black members of Congress, as well as, our great senator from Iowa, Harold Hughes.

A distressing matter has come to my attention. As a member of the State Commission on the Aging, I have become interested in the forgotten Americans, the elderly poor. Most of the elderly are people who are forced to live on social security and old age assistance and are now caught in an economic squeeze because of inflation and the higher cost of living. Initial research has shown that there are numerous persons living in so-called nursing and custodial homes which are operated in such dire conditions that they are virtually snake pits. There are certain conditions, rules and regulations to guide operation of such homes, however, there are violations which are allowed to go unheeded and only through public pressure will such conditions be eliminated. The general public must come forth and help to alleviate the conditions which our elderly and disadvantaged are forced to live under.

Plans are well underway and yours truly is very happy to be a member of the committee for the A. Phillip Randolph 80th Birthday Dinner on May 6th at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel in New York. George Meany and Justice Thurgood Marshall are Co-Chairmen of the dinner committee. It will be a black tie affair and the committee hopes to net $140,000. for voter registration and education in the black community. Mr. Randolph is the father of the civil rights movement in labor and most of his friends are expected to attend the dinner in his honor.

On May 8 in New York City there will be a fund raising cocktail party in honor of Thomas Bradley to raise funds for his campaign for mayor of Los Angeles. Yours truly is also a member of this committee and plans to attend. The goal for the fund is $100,000. Bradley is expected to win election and become the mayor of the fourth largest city in the country. He has the support of the black community, as well as, the liberals and progressives in the white community.

Julian Bond was in Iowa last week. He spoke at University of Northern Iowa in the afternoon and at Simpson College that evening. My husband and I along with Mr. and Mrs. Glen Buhr were dinner guests of the president of Simpson

College in honor of Mr. Bond. Editor's note written for the issue of April 27, the column reached the office following the one prepared by Maud White. We felt that the public should have an opportunity to read it.

IN NEWARK, NEW JERSEY: "HARBON MCCREY? Yes, I know him -- I've known him for years, I replied to my questioner, a cool, tan lovely, who informed me "I am his daughter!" (I've searched frantically for my notes -- no luck. More later 'cause she and her hubby will be here this summer!)

IN DAYTON, OHIO, MAURICE CORBETT'S oldest daughter and her husband, Betty and Richard Stephens were my hosts for a day! Maurice, deceased, in his day was quite popular about town -- a hotel waiter, he learned his skills from E. P. (Jack) Jackson, of Hotel Fort Des Moines fame. Maurice for a time lived with Corinne and Clarence Adams in their Eastside home. The Stephens and their brood reside in a lovely Wilberforce Ranch Style home located in Dayton's Princeton.

GEORGIA TAYLOR IN NEWARK to attend the AKA 38th Convention of the North Atlantic Region is a teacher at IS 148 in the Bronx. Mrs. Taylor became an Alpha Kappa Alpha member in Omaha, Nebraska, six years ago when her husband, Rev. Charles Taylor, was pastor of St. Phillips Episcopal Church. He is now assistant pastor at New York City's St. Luke Episcopal.

CECIL REED SUBJECT OF THIS IS YOUR LIFE in a program held at Visitation Catholic Church last Sunday is revealed as one of the hardest working, completely sincere and believable leaders to be found anywhere! We certainly wish him and Mrs. Reed the very best in health and in success. (Two year old Kelly Reed, daughter of the Richard Reeds, starred, also.)

LYDIA JOANNA DAVIS, at her father's side on the occasion of Mr. Reed's program held Sunday -- he is Rev. Henderson Davis, you know -- was every bit a little storybook girl. I don't know whether she considers her hair sandy or reddish. Whichever, it is a neatly clipped natural and, though she is only 10, proves her a believer "in the concept of looking to your heritage with pride!" The quotes are from pretty Carol Young in Glamour's May Issue!

MILTON AND DARLENE FLORENCE had Better Homes and Gardens redo their home and guess what? It's featured in the May issue! Diahnn Carroll is on the cover.

KEN BLACK will direct a folk mass of junior and high school choirs on Sunday at Central Presbyterian Church. The program will fill the entire length of the service. He is one of the original Song Fellows, is Tifereth Israel Synagogue choir director and senior high choir director at Central Presbyterian Church. See you there?

A RAISIN IN THE SUN presented this week at Des Moines Community Playhouse and directed by Ted Kehoe was a gem! It was perfectly cast. In order of appearance the players were Muriel Boggs, Ruth Younger, Mark Williams, Travis Younger, Everett Mays, J. Walter Lee Younger (Brother); Petty Spates, Beneatha Younger; Ann Downey, Lena Younger (Mama); Ted Richardson, Joseph Asagi; Stanley Griffin, Jr.; George Murchison; Paul H. Truss, Bobo; and George R. Ludwig, Karl Lindner. This small cast quickly won our hearts and to me wove a very real, life situation.

AL DOWNEY HAS THIS TO SAY OF ANN, MAMA YOUNGER: "At last she has gotten a chance to show her true merits as an actress. She played a role some 30 years her senior and carried it off well! Her first serious role! And possibly her last -- how many plays do you get like this for black women?" Agreed? But once is still a great big thrill! You saw her photo in the program -- modeling Townie's "Any-Weather" coat of red cut velvet! She's in love with that coat! I can't blame her!

ALL ARE CRIMES WE ABHOR

Lawlessness seems to be the rule in Des Moines during the past few days divided into bombings of other peoples' property, illegal strikes by firemen and work stoppages by disgruntled iron workers who "stayed home sick" rather than work with Negro employees. There are those who deplore violent crimes and at the same time commit crimes themselves by denying a citizen the right to employment of his choice or subjecting the public to the hazards of no fire protection which might cause the loss of life and property.

Somewhat, too many people in this country have come to the place where they have no regard for law and order; no regard for the rights of others.

Obviously, they organize to improve themselves. But in doing so, all too often they disregard their pledges, disregard the rights of others, and others subject the public to inconvenience, fear and disappointment.

This is exactly what we have here in the bombings, the sick lay offs and the strikes by firemen.

Thanks to the prompt positive action of the post office construction contractor, Weitz and Co., the blunt warning by Mayor Urban and the courts, two of the crimes are being handled. The bombings are in the dark and more difficult to handle. This has always been the case with such things.

All these things keep the public in a turmoil, pits class against class to the detriment of the country. We are having enough grief with students on campuses, with the older people leading the way in crime and disruption.

SUPREME COURT AIDS DEPENDENTS

The United States Supreme court has ruled that the one year state residence requirement as a condition for receiving ADC was unconstitutional. This is as it should be based on the theory that such is a restriction on free travel and residences.

Had Congress provided uniform payments for all states in setting up the law, the question would not have arisen. The old rule enabled states to vary payments on basis other than need. Of course some made a big difference in what whites and minorities received.

Officials in some states dislike the ruling. This is to be expected for efforts are made to see that states care for their own residents so that the more liberal states not be subjected to a flood of applicants from people who heretofore did not qualify.

The ruling is just another milestone in the administration of the justice found in the constitution which guarantees all citizens equality before the law.

Locked Case For Poisons

Insecticides and garden weed killers should be kept in locked cupboards, preferably inside a garage or tool house which also is kept locked.

But even when such space seems nonexistent, it's always possible to build a cupboard on the end wall of the garage, hanging it high enough to clear the car's hood.

The insecticide cupboard can stretch the wall's full length to provide space for other garden equipment and small auto tools as well. It should be deep enough to take gallon jugs.

Framing can be attached to wall studs and to overhead roof joists. Build up boards with double doors of low-cost rough boards nailed to Z-bracing.

IOWA OAKS BASEBALL By Larry Scarpino

The opening home series is now history for our Iowa Oaks and it's back to the road this week before returning to Sec Taylor Stadium on Monday night, May 5.

Impressions of the new Iowa triple A team are forthcoming from fans throughout the state: One letter offered some helpful suggestions concerning game times. The Oaks start their night games at 7:35 and Sunday afternoon games are 2:15 affairs.

It is felt that during the week the 7:35 starting time is a good one. Under normal playing conditions fans would be out of the park and on their way home before 10 o'clock. With Daylight Saving time now in force many night games will be played under half daylight and half nighttime conditions.

Indianapolis visits Sec Taylor Stadium next Monday night for a four game stand. Denver comes to town on May 9-10 and 11.

One of the most personable Oaks is reserve infielder and first base coach, Ernie Fazio. Fazio, a native Californian, might have some distant relatives here in Des Moines. The Italian community is making Ernie and his wife feel right at home. For that matter, the Des Moines and Iowa welcome for the entire team has been great. The players sense friendliness in our city -- a tradition for Iowans.

I'll start some player profiles next week with background material and data on some of the Iowa Oaks. Ticket information for all Iowa Oaks games can be obtained by calling 243-6111, or write: Iowa Oaks, Box 398, Des Moines, Iowa 50302.

Health for All

THE HEALTH FRONT

SPANKING OFFENSE -- Even LSD has its defenders, but Dr. James Goddard isn't among them. The former U.S. Food and Drug Commissioner recently dubbed that psychedelic drug the "most dangerous" he knows of, and said those who use it for nonmedical purposes deserve "whatever spanking society has ordained."

DENTITIONAL GAP -- The fact is plain and ruthless that America's going "toothless," according to Dr. Paul A. Miller, a San Antonio, Tex., dentist. He points to surveys of the American Dental Association and the U.S. Public Health Service, which indicate that about 50 million of us are now wearing fabricated teeth.

TENDER LOVING CARE? -- Women doctors in the U.S. totaled 18,537 in 1966 -- the latest verified figure -- according to the American Medical Women's Association. This amounts to 6.5 per cent of all physicians in the country -- third lowest ratio in the world. Britain has 25 per cent, Russia about 65 per cent.

WHEN DOCTORS AGREE -- About 100,000 American physicians who formerly smoked cigarettes have quit. For some reasons why doctors and others give up smoking, ask your local Christmas Seal association for its free leaflet, "Cigarette Smoking, The Facts."

GOOD BABY NEWS -- Infant mortality continues to decline at a slow but steady pace, the U.S. Public Health Service notes. Rate for the first 11 months of 1968 was 21.5 per thousand live births, compared to 22.1 for the same period of 1967. November shows a healthy gain of 7.6 per cent against the previous year. However, the U.S. performance remains poorer than those of 12 other lands.

Backless Benches Simple to Build

Backless garden benches add convenience and good looks to patios. And they're easy to build using nothing but 2x4 lumber.

For legs, use two pieces of 2x4 setting the edge of one centered against the side of the other. Crosswise to the bench seat, connect pairs of legs top and bottom with a flat 2x4. Then nail 2x4s flat over that to form the bench seat, spacing them apart about one-eighth inch.

Use scraps left from fence and deck projects for the benches.

Kitchen Office Center Petite

Take the bottom shelf of a dish cupboard, one emptied utensil drawer, a two-foot-wide breadboard, a telephone, and you've got the components for a kitchen planning center -- in "nonexistent" space.

The only thing you'll actually need to add is the breadboard -- a pull-out writing counter. It should be a piece of edge-glued, vertical grain fir, hemlock or pine lumber finished with urethane varnish. Install that in a base cabinet at a 28 or 30-inch height on side-mounted, heavy-duty file drawer guides.

A utensil drawer, preferably alongside rather than directly above the writing counter, will store pencils and paper. The dish cupboard shelf holds cookbooks, recipe box. Part of its length also could be devoted to pigeonholes for bills and correspondence.

Now move the telephone to the planning center, and you're done.

Hues for Fences

Most fences should serve as a background for garden plants, regardless of their other functions. That's why they should be finished with earth-tone stains of brown, gold and green.

Dear Mr. Neuhauser:

I am a minority or disadvantaged student. I have a college degree, or I will by June. I understand you're running a 6-week summer institute to prepare students like me for law school in the fall.

The institute will run from June 16 to July 25, and 48 minority or disadvantaged students will participate. Free tuition, room and board, and $50 a week in lieu of summer earnings will be provided.

Those who successfully finish the program will have shown their ability to handle law school work and, with the help of the Director of the Institute, should be able to be admitted to an accredited law school.

Please rush me the proper forms, since applications close May 1st. Thank you.
