CBS Black Heritage Distorts History

U. S. Voting Act Proves Value in Getting Out The Vote

Wilkins Charges No Improvement

NEW YORK -- An extended viewing of the Columbia Broadcasting System's television series, "Black Heritage," which ends May 10, confirms the earlier expressed fear that the program "was not to be a history of the Negro, but a series to impress one view-point," NAACP Executive Director Roy Wilkins asserts in a letter to Ralph Daniels, general manager of WGBS-TV, the network's New York City station.

The seven-page letter, dispatched April 30, and made public this week recalls Mr. Wilkins' complaint of January 8 in a communication to Dr. Frank Stanton, CBS president. On the basis of the first two programs and the syllabus of the 108-part series, the NAACP leader then charged that "the presentation is hopelessly flawed. It is quite clear," he said, that the program "will not be a history of Afro-Americans, but an interpretation of history from a single point of view: the contemporary left-of-center black militant minority view, liberally garnished with the thrust for a new apartheid."

In response to the January letter, CBS asked Mr. Wilkins to withhold final judgment until the 18-week series had been more fully developed. In his letter of April 30, Mr. Wilkins said: "I regret to state, on the basis of the transcriptions of the episodes we have made to date, plus the personal observation of 90 percent of the screenings by a member of my staff, that our view has been more than substantiated."

Emphasize Back-to-Africa

He cited the excessive attention given to "back-to-Africa" and other separatist movements despite the historic and consistent rejection of these movements by the overwhelming majority of Negro Americans over a period of 350 years. He points out the distortions and misrepresentations, the omissions and misstatements including "smelly hogwash" peddled by some of the program's lecturers.

"The mishandling and misinterpretation of the role of the NAACP, while inexcusable and important, ranks below the crime of promulgating a distinct minority viewpoint as the history of a whole people," the NAACP leader said.

Appalling for Schools

The prospect that the "Black Heritage" series would be used in schools and colleges as instructional material "is appalling," he said. "It was disservice enough for CBS to have opened its facilities to this series, as a history, in the first instance. If CBS participates further in what is more of a sinister masquerade than has been indicated by this letter, it cannot escape culpability -- regardless of the smoothness of its rationalization -- for a share in the inevitable and highly destructive confusions and conflicts in our future national life."

Plan for Iowa Management Group

A special dinner and meeting to kick off the formation of the first Iowa chapter of the Society for the Advancement of Management is scheduled for May 19, 1969 in Des Moines, Iowa.

Dinner is planned for 6:30 p.m. at the National Motor Inn, 921 Sixth Avenue, Des Moines. The meeting will follow dinner.

The guest speaker is Mr. James Centner, author, lecturer, college professor and Chairman of the Board of the International Society for the Advancement of Management. NEWS In A Nutshell

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. -- "Guns have no place on a university campus," NAACP Executive Director Roy Wilkins told a University of Minnesota audience here, May 6. "A university," he said, "is a place where you settle differences with a clash of ideas. If you are going to settle them with guns, you don't need a campus."

NEW YORK, N.Y. -- James Meredith got a summons Monday after he was accused of harassing tenants in his Brox apartment building in an effort to force rents up.

In 1962 Meredith's enrollment at the previously all-white University of Mississippi led to riots which were put down by federal troops.

NEW YORK, N.Y., May 9 -- The National Committee of Black Churchmen today released the text of a statement calling James Forman "A modern-day prophet" and backing the demands of the "Black Manifesto" which Forman presented to Riverside Church last Sunday and to the Roman Catholic Archdiocese of New York today.

Des Moines -- Twelve award winning works by Iowa artists were announced Sunday at the preview of the Des Moines Art Center's 21st Annual Iowa Artist exhibition. Awards were chosen by the exhibition jury: Jan van der Marek, director of the Museum of Contemporary Art, Chicago; and Gerald Nordland, director of the San Francisco Museum of Art, San Francisco.

Washington, D.C. -- The President's Commission for the Observance of Human Rights Year 1968 completed its activities on January 30, 1969, one year after its establishment by Executive Order. The secretariat, which remained on duty in order to complete the documentation, closed the office on March 28.

Inquiries about substantive aspects of human rights should be addressed in the future to the Federal Department or Agency concerned with the subject matter.

Washington, D.C. -- A breakthrough in housing will do more to stimulate economic growth in the U.S. and equal opportunity for all its people than anything else, George Romney, secretary of Housing and Urban Development said Friday in addressing the conference of the National Housing Producers Association, sponsored by the NAACP.

Some 300 Negroes involved in the housing and related fields heard Romney hail their efforts as "social as well as economic importance."

Charles Evers, brother of the slain NAACP leader, Medgar Evers, and himself head of the same organization, was elected Mayor of Fayette, Miss. Monday. He is the first Negro to achieve such a position since the days of Mound Byou, an all Negro town in Mississippi which was founded by I. T. Montgomery.

Evers became the first Negro mayor in southwest Mississippi since 1875. He received 386 votes to 225 for the incumbent, R. G. Allen, in the town of 1,600.

Mayor's Statement

Mayor Allen, in his statement of defeat, declared that he would support the new mayor; that he was not interested in the race issue but felt that the races could work together for the good of Fayette. He said he felt that the results were inevitable in view of the large population of Negroes in the city.

However, 13 other Negroes, including five on Evers' ticket at Fayette, won places on two boards of aldermen. Another 11 captured enough votes to force runoff elections with white opponents for alderman, and a twelfth aldermanic race was disputed.

Evers Statement

"The main objective of my administration will be to show that black and white can work together," Evers said. "That includes the black extremists and the white bigots. I want to show that we can have a safe town. I will not tolerate lawlessness."

Negro candidates for Mayor in other Mississippi towns were defeated.

Evers has been in Iowa on several occasions. He was scheduled to appear at the NAACP conference in Waterloo last month but was unable to fill the engagement due to the campaign he was conducting.

Summer Operative Youth Opportunity

Operation Youth Opportunity, the C.I.I. summer youth employment project will provide 500 jobs for disadvantaged youth, for the 1969 summer. Mayor Tom Urban said recently, "Without this project funded by business and industry, these youth would be idle on our streets. Operation Youth Opportunity continues to provide many young people with the chance to gain some spending money as new vistas of interest and opportunities are opened for them in the variety of jobs developed by C.I.I."

No Displacement

Kate Goldman, President of C.I.I., said, "Youth employed through C.I.I. do not displace any other youth or adult employees. The jobs developed by C.I.I. are created as training station opportunities for youth so that summer jobs may become a stepping-stone into the regular channels of employment as youth move into adulthood." Mrs. Goldman added, "The 500 jobs for youth aged 14 to 21 are over and above the normal openings that might be available for summer employment in this community. Prior to this program, opportunities for youth employment, especially for disadvantaged youth, were critically limited. 'Our program,' she said, 'does not meet the total need that exists, but it helps to relieve a portion of the problem.'"

Other job opportunities for youth under special Federal programs are 225 in Neighborhood Youth Corps and approximately 30 jobs in Federal agencies for youth over 16.

Summer Staff

The summer staff for C.I.I. is being hired under the supervision of Wayne Fieldhouse, Youth Program Director for the YMCA. Udell Cason has been hired as Director of Operation Youth Opportunity and Miles Browne as Coordinator of the supportive, educational services, Dr. Charles Palmer, from the staff of Child Guidance Center will be in charge of staff and group development. Dr. Paul Devin, Director of New Horizons, the year-around youth project developed cooperatively with C.I.I. and the Des Moines School System, will serve as Consultant for program evaluation. Walter Thompson on the staff of Washington Irving will serve as one of four unit directors. College students are being hired as group counselors and field supervisors.

Placement for Operation Youth Opportunity is going on at present through the Des Moines Schools and at the Central Youth Placement Office in the old Davidson Building at 7th & Walnut. The Des Moines Savings & Loan Association has made the building available to the community as the center for coordinating youth employment services. The Youth Employment Services staff of the Iowa State Employment Service is in charge of the center with C.I.I. and N.Y.C. staff representation. Robert White and Robert Lewis are the C.I.I. staff members in the facility.

Fire Destroys New Housing and Apartment

Fire of an unknown origin has destroyed one of the 35 units in the homes of Oakridge project near 15th and Oakridge Drive. It is one of the uncompleted buildings designed to accommodate low income families by the Des Moines Council of Churches.

District Fire Chief Joe Loffredo said he suspected arson because "There's no other way the fire could have started." The building had no electrical equipment or wiring in it, Loffredo said.

Damage to the apartment building which would have included 6 units when completed, was estimated at $20,000.

Other buildings close by were damaged from heat from the fire. The building was demolished.

ANOTHER CLOSE BY

Close by and a day afterwards fire in the basement of an apartment building at 936 18th Street suffered damages of approximately $5,000.

The cause of the blaze has not been determined but officials suspected arson.

The fire was confined to the basement of the frame structure but the six apartments in the building all received smoke damage. The building is owned by Mrs. Alberta Y. Bradford of 2901 Fifth ave., Palmer said.

Williams Given Life Sentence

Anthony Williams who was convicted by a jury in Judge J. P. Denato's court of first degree murder for the abduction and slaying of Pamela Powers on Christmas Eve has been sentenced to life imprisonment. The term is to be served at Ft. Madison.

He made a statement in court denying his guilt and saying, "I hope that this animalistic person, whoever it is, and I dare say it's not me, is brought to justice." He also assailed assistant county attorney Hanrahan for his conduct of the case.

Williams, 25, was accused of abducting the Powers girl at the Y.M.C.A. last Dec. 24, "violating her body" sexually and smothering her to death. Williams had a sleeping room on the seventh floor of the Y.M.C.A.

He had been employed in several parking lots and was active in Maple St. Baptist Church.

Natural Wood Upkeep Easy

Painting cabinets and woodwork is still a good way to introduce color in a room, but most women today would rather put color accents elsewhere and enjoy the easy upkeep of natural-finished wood. Why fuss with the maintenance of a painted surface, they say, when natural wood disguises both smudges and wear?

Low upkeep combined with top appearance is possible outdoors, too, when the house has lumber siding finished with a semi-transparent stain. Because stain penetrates the wood, it won't chip off, bubble or crack.

Colors may fade in time, but the weathering process is so subtle that years pass before change is noticeable. Meanwhile, stained lumber siding needs virtually no attention and almost never will appear soiled looking or untidy.

A decade ago, stained resawn siding was considered strictly modern. Today, architects use it for the handsome "transitional" which, like the newest furniture, blends the beauty and detailing of the past with today's living patterns.

Gentlemen prefer blondes, but when it comes to woods, they'll often choose a swinging redhead like Douglas fir or a svelte brunette like western red cedar.

Chemist's Dream:

TO MAKE AN UNBREAKABLE WORLD

Pittsfield, Mass. — A world in which all man-made objects are unbreakable — that's the dream taking shape in chemical materials laboratories here today.

Unbreakable windows, street lamps, air conditioners, coffee table tops, baby bottles, furniture, goldfish bowls — even meteorite-proof nuclear observatories — are now well within the grasp of modern technology.

Some of the amazing products are already on the market, including windows made of Lexan polycarbonate sheet, a material as clear as glass and tough as metal. Rocks, baseball bats and even sledge hammers just bounce off the rugged glazing material.

First installed in schools and housing projects in high vandalism areas, the new product developed by General Electric may one day completely replace the use of glass in factory and store windows as well.

A study on vandalism in schools in 36 major cities showed window replacement to be approximately 50% of the total vandalism expense figure, which includes fire and theft. The figure went as high as 70% in some troubled areas. Last year, in New York City alone, an estimated 205,218 windows were shattered leaving taxpayers with a phenomenal replacement bill of $1,026,090.

An average of $5.00 is spent to replace a broken window with glass. If Lexan was to be substituted for a glass window the cost would be $20 plus installation. The figure might seem high but with Lexan there is no such

Seventeenth st., who died Sunday at Iowa Methodist Hospital after a two-week illness will be at 1:30 p.m. Thursday at Union Baptist Church with burial in Glendale Cemetery. Wood in Perspective

Lumber and plywood account for about 20 per cent of the construction cost of a typical house. Since construction cost may be only half the final selling price, a ten per cent change in lumber-plywood prices leads to a change in home price of as little as one per cent.

Fences Vary

A low decorative fence needn't always be a picket pattern. Other good choices include vertical louvers, slat styles, the board-on-board, and patterns of spaced 1x2s and 2x2s.

To make a pleasant transition between patio paving and the lawn, build a low garden bench around one corner. Use it for seating and to display bonsai or pots of succulents.

Cap Protects Posts

A fence's cap board both decorates and protects. When nailed across fence post tops, it prevents rain from soaking into the post's end grain. Choose a cap board wide enough to shield the ends of vertical fence boards, too.

Pressing Closet Big Time Saver

For the working wife with a house to look after too, clothing upkeep for hubby and herself can be a problem. If most garments in both wardrobes require steam ironing, not sprinkling, a pressing closet built into the bedroom can save considerable time.

Only an eight-inch depth is needed for the closet, which can be framed on either side with 1x8s toe-nailed to ceiling and floor. A drop-down ironing board can then be installed inside, plus a shelf for the iron and pressing cloth.

Add an electric outlet for the iron and install a light fixture on an extension arm that pulls out over the board. A louvered door completes the closet.

Most zoning ordinances will permit construction of a storage fence on the property line, an ideal location since it's completely accessible but away from main outdoor living areas. And, on the property line, a storage unit also becomes a privacy screen, windbreak and traffic cop.

One storage fence, appropriately named the Stow-It-All, is designed on a three-foot module that adapts to virtually any situation. Construction is geared to the do-it-yourselfer and styling is classic.

Plans for the Stow-It-All are available for ten cents from Dept. 538-P, Western Wood Products Assn., Yeon Bldg., Portland, Ore. 97204.

Social Whirl + Club Calendar

LINE S by Orzealyea M. Roberson Guest Columnist

IMPACT!! might be a good word to describe what I felt and observed from the sponsorship of the Greater Des Moines Support Your Local Police Committee (S.Y.L.P.C.) as they presented Lola Belle Holmes, ex-Communist high ranking leader, of May 6th before a packed auditorium at the Municipal Armory. Mrs. Holmes spoke from the general theme "Police Brutality," revealing startling revelations to alert the public of the communistic infiltration, which she indicated is so subtly interwoven into governmental, civic, social, church and Negro organizations across the nation.

Inasmuch as the entire slant of the message was predominantly geared to be heard by Negro citizens in that the basic information delivered affected them primarily, naturally it interested me more than just greatly that only two Negro citizens were present to sit through this emphatic discourse. I was one of the only two who sat through this meeting. Since I am in a learning situation, it was my pleasure to acquaint myself as a follow-up by availing myself of the entirety of the extensive literature table display of materials. Usually when the word COMMUNISM is mentioned it brings a hush-hush or raised eyebrows, a stir of emotion or some kind of unpredictable emotional response. But dear friends, please bear me out patiently as I briefly get down to the "nitty gritty" and run down to you just a couple of things for you to kick around a minute.

1. Quoting from Manning Johnson's book "COLOR COMMUNISM and COMMON SENSE": He says communism is "created doubt, lack of confidence, suspicion; setting up situations that bring about racial bitterness, violence and conflict; putting forth demands so unrealistic that race relations are worsened; attacking everybody in disagreement as reactionaries, fascists, Ku Kluxers among whites and Uncle Toms among Negroes, constitute the red's pattern of operation."

2. May I say this for the benefit of the phrase "Police Brutality. To inadvertently disrespect, harm or molest in any way our law enforcement agents or officials, when they are in the right, carrying out their official duties" is one way to define "police brutality."

So we have a definition of "communism" and we have one for "police brutality." Where do we go from here? Well, we are all pretty much in accord with the connotation "trouble in the land." It applies to Des Moines, to Iowa and to the nation and world. We must not become over-anxious concerning this world crisis though, because in Matt. the 24th chapter it predicts the time of trouble before the end of time. Let us remain cool-headed and sane-minded and THINK straight. Quoting from Billy Graham's book WORLD AFLAME: "It is my opinion that God may be using communism as a judgment upon the West. The sins of the West are now so great that judgment is inevitable, unless there is national repentance. God has done this before. The Bible says: 'And the Lord God of their fathers sent to them by his messengers, rising up betimes, and sending; because he had compassion on his people, and on his dwelling place; but they mocked the messengers of God, and despised his words, and misused his prophets, until the wrath of the Lord arose against his people till there was no remedy. Therefore He brought upon them the king of the Chaldees' - (2 Chron. 36:15-17) In this instance God allowed a wicked godless, atheistic government to bring judgment upon His own people.

Please be comforted everywhere. Dear readers: God still lives!! If you will simply permit the love of God to permeate your own heart, you automatically will contribute to world harmony. 1 John 4:8. So religion is something that comprehends ethical, economic, political and aesthetic values within its purview. I like a small front page article I saw on the Bystander May 8th which read: "One major feature which distinguishes Christianity from other religions is that it is the only one that emphasizes the importance of believing an exact creed. That exact creed happens to be in Exodus the 20th chapter. If we followed these 10 rules all troubles, misunderstandings, 'POLICE BRUTALITY', communistic infiltrations of all kinds would cease. Finally, in the words of Father Keller, founder of the Christopher movement: 'It is better to light a candle than to scream at the darkness.' So don't sit or stand there cursing, agitating, damning, kicking, stomping and criticizing those who are doing the best they can to make the world a better place. Why don't you do something yourself if you are such a Christian? Otherwise sit down some where and shut up. You see, 'The fear of the Lord is the beginning of knowledge Prov. 1:7. Also remember - 'Righteousness exalteth a nation but sin is a reproach to ANY people' Prov. 14:34.

I greatly appreciate the coverage given this column by Maude Esther White, A. June Franklin and this week's scribe Elder Orzealyea Roberson. I'm certain that the change in fare has been refreshing to our readers. My thanks to you, friends.

Former Des Moines Girl TWA Hostess

A former Des Moines girl returned this week to spend Mother's Day with her grandparents and her father. She is TWA Airline hostess Lorelei (Lori) Bailey, the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Bailey, Sr. and daughter of Chauncey Bailey, Sr.

"Lori", as she is known to her New York friends, is a 5' 6" and lovely. Her poised and gracious bearing make visiting with her a total pleasure and it is readily understandable why she is a TWA hostess. She is a 1967 graduate of Oakland, California's Haywood High School. Following graduation, she moved to Portland, Oregon. There she modeled for a time and worked for Dunn and Bradstreet. After "nine months to the date" she entered airlines hostess training in Kansas City, Missouri. This covered five weeks of training ending May 15, 1968, at which time she flew out of Kansas City, then her home base or domicile, as the girls call it.

Her career has taken her "wherever TWA flies!" Her most memorable flights have been those to San Francisco, Phoenix, Miami and Boston. Lori is now an airline hostess instructor and has completed a training session at Kansas City, Missouri, last week. When the new girls come on the lines, she takes them on their first flight, giving an assist so "that they are not nervous - just sort of shows them" she added modestly.

Omaha Visitor For Des Moines

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Elmore and George Camper of Omaha are in Des Moines this week visiting friends.

Short Flights

Miss Bailey spent Saturday through Wednesday with her Des Moines family and on Thursday will be back at her job on "short flights" to Kansas City, Pittsburgh, etc. She stated that a hostess flies at least 75 hours a month. She might fly two days, be off two days and back. Or she might fly two days and get seven off, if she is lucky, she chuckled merrily. I asked about the likelihood of one going abroad. "You have to have a language and I am working on French!" TWA gives the girls free language courses at the airport. These are usually two months in length. The girls are permitted to make personal trips on their off days. Lori has visited Paris, France, and "loved it, it is beautiful". She hopes to return for a longer visit. Being a TWA hostess is an advantage when in a foreign country, as one can count on getting acquainted with other hostesses - especially those employed by other airlines.

Miss Bailey's mother, Mrs. Brigitte Cooley, is a Haywood, California, beautician. She has two brothers, Steven Craig, 18, and Chauncey, Jr., 19. Steven is employed in Medical Records at Kaiser Hospital, Oakland. Chauncey is a San Francisco reporter and hopes to take up journalism at San Jose.

Lorelei's career is most fascinating and is not only a credit to her but big publicity for TWA - the girl is fabulous!

POOR PUBLIC RELATIONS FOR POLICE

Last week the Greater Des Moines Support Your Police Committee had as a speaker Lola Belle Holmes of St. Louis. The group is set up to help create more respect for and better relations between the community and the police department. The effort has merit, provided the program is geared to help among ALL groups.

At a press conference she said that "civil rights movement had been taken over by Communists." She based this all inclusive statement on her investigations while an undercover agent of the FBI.

Nobody doubts that there may be Communists in any organization; also most people wonder how some extremists operate their far flung activities apparently without any income. But this does not mean that all civil rights organizations are Communist controlled.

The Bystander claims no corner on how all civil rights groups operate, but it does know by years of membership and association, the NAACP is not Communist controlled. It should be of interest that J. Edgar Hoover, head of the FBI, has found that the NAACP is not Communist controlled. So just why an undercover agent has not given Hoover the information she has is hard to understand.

The Bystander has never subscribed to the charge that all policemen or police departments are bad. In fact, individually, there are many pretty good ones here among us. They should be supported. But it does seem that an organization which obviously is looking for support will bring in a "specialist" who insults many of the very people they hope to gain and/or keep as friendly.

HARD TO GUESS HOW IT WORKS

It seems almost fantastic that James Foreman and his followers, operating on the theory that white people long denied Negroes a fair share of the economy over the years demanding that churches make up some of the $500,000,000 he claims are due them.

It is fantastic and certainly brazen that they walk into a Sunday service and demand that a portion of the budget of the church be allotted to help pay the demands.

How times have changed. How we have always thought church services were sacred and solemn and anyone who disrupted them was rushed hurriedly from the building.

It is true that Negro slaves were given nothing for their services at the time of the emancipation; it is also true that for years his pay for the same job as a white man was less, his jobs were menial with little chance to move up.

Others have demanded some type of reparation in the form of total states turned over to the Negro race.

The whole idea sounds fantastic and impractical of administration. And even though some churches have agreed to turn over a percentage of their budget to the poor, this sounds like a hand out or at least forced donations which never amounts to much.

Today, the United States has a program for people from Cuba whereby each one is given a sum of money to sustain him while seeking a job. This, of course, is foolish in that it is unfair and also takes out of Cuba people who might some day overthrow Castro.

The dilemma for the Negro is that the tactics used by some and the whole idea in general will continue to antagonize white people and further divide the races which, of course, hurts.

After all, we need friends in this struggle for equality for the ratio of 10 whites to 1 Negro.

SPORTS

With Allen Ashby

At last things are back to normal. We got the basketball and hockey seasons out of the way and now for a long session of baseball. Since everybody is having something to say about the Celtics basketball team we may as well say they can thank the coach of the Los Angeles Lakers for that last win in the deciding game.

Baseball

And now to other sports. It looks as if our Iowa Oaks have a pretty fair ball club. As we have said, they don't have to win the pennant. Just stay in contention and they will draw enough people to pay their way.

Emmett Ashford - Umpire. And then somewhere we read an article blasting black umpire Emmett Ashford for being a show off. We recall that other officials used to go to great lengths to give their decisions and they were called colorful. Who was the umpire who used to make up rhymes during an argument with players and would quote from Shakespeare as he tossed a fellow out of the game. We think it was Bill Klem. If we are wrong maybe somebody remembers the guy and will tell us. The argument that people don't come to see the umpire may or may not be true. We can remember as a kid way back in Boone when a fellow named Joe Wyatt used to umpire ball games between towns. Joe was a black man and he had a manner of umpiring that people liked to watch. They used to come out to see him. Probably one third of the crowd was there to see Joe Wyatt. Do you suppose Ashford has his share of favor and the players don't like it?

We never did pick a pennant winner this year because the leagues are so garbled up that we just don't think any expert, let alone us, can choose four winners. We really like in the games at league park here; one that gives the batter a walk when they want to do it intentionally. Instead of going through the motions and throwing four balls nearly into the grandstand they just motion the batter to first base and the next man steps up. We haven't made up our minds about the fellow who bats for the pitcher. Some pitchers are pretty fair batters.

Track or Football

This week end we have to decide between the Big Eight track meet at Ames and the Iowa U. spring football game. Our companion,

Frank Massey, has already put in his word for the Hawks game. So we may wind up there. Sort of like to see how they look with a small squad that could be dangerous if they can stay healthy.

SPIRIT HELPS CARRY OAKS

By Larry Scarpino

The success of any baseball team is not necessarily measured on the field. Many great teams could only play average ball, but had a second wind of enthusiasm that made them great teams.

So it is with the Iowa Oaks. This team carries on to the diamond a tremendous amount of spirit and desire. This mental quality manifests itself in batting averages, RBI's and in extra base hits.

Credit for the Oaks' spirit it should be credited to manager Jim Williams. He has installed a winning habit and the Oaks have caught the flame in their play.

Second baseman Tony LaRussa is a native of Tampa, Florida. He has handled over 100 chances at second base this year without a bobble. Tony has also contributed to the team's overall hitting. Tony LaRussa is one reason why the Oaks are fighting for the lead in the triple A American Association.

LaRussa was telling about Jim Williams and spirit, etc. LaRussa says Williams has only one goal - to win games. He has united the team under his tutelage and the results can be read in the standings.

The Omaha Royals visit Sec Taylor stadium next Monday through Thursday. This four game series pits the two top teams in the loop in a showdown battle. It will also be Omaha's first stop of the season in Des Moines. Game times are 7:35 for the Omaha series. Iowa Oaks ticket office is as handy as your telephone - 243-6111.

Health for All

Medical science right now is running a race with German measles—a race which, fortunately, it stands a good chance of winning. There are strong indications that a dependable vaccine against the disease will be ready for use before the next epidemic, expected sometime in the early 1970's.

While the disease isn't particularly severe German measles (or rubella) can have tragic effects in the form of birth damage when it attacks a pregnant woman. For a long time such effects were considered a hazard only if the disease struck during the first three months of pregnancy. But recent research has disclosed a rate of birth damage as high as ten per cent in offspring of a group of women who contracted the disease in the fourth to sixth month. This gives even greater urgency to the task of perfecting a safe and effective vaccine.

With prospects now bright for a licensed vaccine by the end of 1969, plans are being discussed for mass inoculations in various parts of the country. If the immunity conferred by the vaccine turns out to be limited in duration (this is so far unknown), booster shots will be recommended at appropriate intervals.

The most recent rubella epidemic, which occurred in 1964, was the most severe in many years. Some experts believe that the next one (they occur in cycles roughly six to nine years apart) will be considerably milder. The medical profession, hoping for the best, plans to keep its vaccines moist and handy. Your Christmas Seal association, interested in promoting general health as well as in fighting emphysema, TB and air pollution, suggests that your doctor is the man to consult about the who, how and when of German measles vaccination.

A - Application for a social security number should be made on Form SS-5. This form is available at local Social Security and IRS offices. Return the completed application to your Social Security office and they will assign you a number.

QUESTION: I am to go in next month for surgery for cataracts. Will Medicare pay for the new eyeglasses I will probably have to have?

ANSWER: The medical insurance part of Medicare will pay for the temporary glasses with cataract lenses that are usually prescribed shortly after surgery. However, Medicare will not pay for the permanent eyeglasses you may have to wear after recovery.

QUESTION: I will be 62 in 3 months. I do not have a birth certificate, but I have secured some documents showing my age and am attempting to get more. Should I wait until I have all my records before I apply for benefits?

ANSWER: No. You should apply now. The people at your social security office will tell you if you have enough evidence of your age. If more is needed, they will help you get the additional evidence.
