Powell Wins House Exclusion

Nixon Names McGovern Food Stamp Head

But Once Seated He May Be Removed By Two-Thirds Vote

Former Nebraska Budget Supt.

Agriculture Secretary Clifford M. Hardin has named Arthur B. McCaw, a former Omahan and former Nebraska budget supervisor, to head the new war-on-hunger agency.

It was announced in Washington Monday that McCaw, 63, will be in charge of the federal food stamp program, the food commodity distribution program and the school lunch program. The White House announced earlier that these programs would be brought under a single agency.

McCaw lived in Omaha from 1918 to 1952. He attended the University of Omaha and the Omaha Law School.

He worked 15 years in the Douglas County assessor's office and five years for the Douglas County Tax Appraisal Board before being named state budget supervisor by Gov. Robert Crosby in 1952.

McCaw was president of the Omaha branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

After leaving his job as state budget supervisor in 1955, McCaw joined the Agency for International Development and spent a number of years in Korea and the Sudan. In 1966, he was the budget director for the White House Conference on Civil Rights.

Mr. McCaw is well known in Des Moines. His sister, Mrs. Edith Johnson, lives at 1603 Lynn Street; several nieces, Patricia Shepherd of Denver; Mrs. Eugene T. Griffith, Mayme White, Mrs. Michelle Groves of Des Moines, and nephews Norman M. Johnson, Elvin Key and Bryson David Key, all of Des Moines, and other relatives.

Atlantic City Negroes Claim Discrimination

NEW YORK, NEW YORK - The NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund, Inc. with its successful record attacks on southern jury discrimination, filed suit today against jury officials in New Jersey.

On behalf of Negro residents of Atlantic City, the legal defense fund brought suit against jury commissioners, the sheriff and board of election officials of Atlantic County, charging them with deliberate and systematic exclusion of qualified Negroes from petit and grand juries.

Attorneys for the plaintiffs, James N. Finney of LDF and Patrick McGhan of Atlantic City, point out that ten per cent of Atlantic County's population is black and qualified for jury duty. Despite this fact, the names of only a very small number of them have been placed on the county's jury rolls, the attorneys say.

Knockout Barriers

LDF attorney Finney said that "In this day of 'law and order' Negroes, now more than ever, must exercise their Constitutional right to be judged by their peers. This means, necessarily, that blacks in the community must be able to serve on juries; that the barriers which prevent them from serving must be struck down."

He said this case is part of LDF's overall program to cut away every remaining barrier which stands in the way of black people, preventing them from fully exercising every right guaranteed them by the Constitution.

Donald Johnson New V. A. Head

Washington D.C. - Donald E. Johnson, long-time leader in veterans affairs who became a successful farm supply executive in Iowa following combat service in World War II, was named head of the U.S. Veterans Administration by President Nixon on June 5, 1969.

As Administrator of Veterans Affairs, he will direct the far-flung activities of the nation's largest independent Federal agency. The VA, with more than 170,000 employees and annual expenditures of some $7-billion, serves America's nearly 27,000,000 war veterans who, together with their families, comprise nearly one-half of the national population.

Born In Cedar Falls
Born in Cedar Falls, Iowa June 5, 1924, Johnson moved to West Branch, Iowa, the birthplace of former President Herbert Hoover, in early childhood. He was a student at Iowa State University immediately before and after his World War II service, and also attended the Eastern Oregon College of Education in La Grande.

He enlisted in the Army in 1942, and served in combat with the 89th Infantry Division in the European Theater of Operations. He was discharged from service in 1946. His decorations include the Bronze Star, and the Croix de Guerre awarded by the Belgium government.

Long active in The American Legion, he was elected Department Commander for the state of Iowa in 1952, and on September 24, 1964, was named head of the national American Legion.

The new VA chief has been president since 1961 of West Branch Farm Supply, Inc., and also of D. J. Services, Inc. He is secretary-treasurer of S. & J. Poultry Co., Inc., in West Branch and Waterloo, Iowa. He was formerly chairman of the board for Protein Blenders, Inc., of Iowa City, vice-president of ME-JON Fertilizer, Inc., of Oxford, Iowa, and secretary-treasurer of Johnson Hatcheries, Inc., in West Branch.

He was voted "Iowan of the Year" by radio and television broadcasters in 1965. From 1954 to 1955, he was chairman of the Governor's Commission on Merit in Employment. He chaired the Iowa Civil Rights Commission in 1958, and from 1958 to 1960, he was an advisory member of the U.S. Commission of Civil Rights. In 1954, and again in 1957, he headed the Iowa fund drive for Crusade for Freedom.

In his hometown he has served two terms on the city council, and was twice president of the West Branch Chamber of Commerce. He headed the West Branch Heritage Foundation from 1965 to 1966, and has been active in P.T.A. and Scout work.

Large Family
Johnson and his wife, the former Mary Jean Suchomel were married October 13, 1947. They are the parents of nine children, three girls - Julie Jean, Joan Marie and Beth Ann - and six boys - Alan Donald (now with the "Green Berets" in Viet-Nam) David James, Brian Edward, Kevin Laird, Kurt Arthur and Robert Conway.

Large Administration
As Administrator of Veterans Affairs, Johnson's executive responsibilities will include administration of:

The largest medical program in the nation, including a vast network of 166 hospitals and more than 200 clinics served by some 5,000 physicians and 15,000 nurses.

One of the largest life insurance operations in the world, servicing nearly 6,000,000 G.I. Insurance policies with a face value of $39-billion. The VA also supervises the Servicemen's Group Life Insurance program for Armed Forces personnel covering 3,000,000 servicemen and providing protection amounting to $38-billion.

G.I. loan programs which so far have provided home, farm and business loans totaling $74-billion for 7,400,000 veterans. Education and training programs under which more than 11,000,000 veterans have trained, including 1,200,000 veterans who have so far trained under the new G.I. Bill.

A compensation and pension program providing payments totaling over $4.4-billion-per-year to 4,700,000 disabled veterans and dependents of deceased veterans.

NEWS In A Nutshell

WASHINGTON, D.C. (June 10, 1969) - Fourteen Howard University students and a psychology professor were initiated into Phi Beta Kappa, the national honor society in arts and sciences, May 27. They include 11 seniors and three juniors. The inductees also include two foreign students, Adepeju Ademilade, a junior chemistry major from Lagos, Nigeria, and Nigel Jackman, a senior chemistry major from Campbellville, Guyana.

SAN DIEGO, Calif., June 12 - Sammy Davis Jr., June Christy and Cal Tjader head a list of more than 25 top professional musicians who will salute San Diego's 20th anniversary celebration with a weeklong jazz festival, June 14-22.

BATON ROUGE, LA. - Gov. John McKeithen Tuesday appointed Louisiana's first Negro judge in modern times, naming Israel M. Augustine, Jr., to a District Court judgeship in Orleans Parish.

Augustine, a graduate of Lincoln University law school, is now serving on the faculty of Southern University law school, is now serving on the faculty of Southern University in New Orleans. He is a member of Louisiana and New Orleans human relations commissions.

New York, N.Y. - Specifications of the Schenley marketing structure were graphically described at a three-day sales conference in New York when the big distiller's "new look" was viewed in national perspective. Unrelenting imaginative sales promotion was called its cornerstone.

WASHINGTON - Representative Rogers C.B. Morton, Chairman of the Republican National Committee, today announced the appointment of Jack Frederick Crawford, special assistant to Secretary Romney of the Department of Housing and Urban Development, as special assistant to the Chairman's office.

Mr. Crawford, a 35-year-old California native, worked for Lockheed Aircraft as a labor relations specialist before coming to Washington. He was active in California Republican politics and was assistant director of the Field Operations for the United Citizens for Nixon-Agnew in the Nation's Capitol.

Washington D.C. - Monday the U. S. Supreme Court ruled that the U. S. House of Representatives was without power to exclude Representative Adam Clayton Powell (Dem. N. Y.) in March, 1967.

The majority opinion was written by Chief Justice Earl Warren and joined in by six other justices. Justice Potter Stewart wrote the dissenting opinion.

Not Barred By Others
Justice Warren in his opinion said that in other instances other elected representatives have been excluded under similar circumstances which were unconstitutional and no reason why this situation should prevail in this case.

These qualifications, as set forth in the Constitution, are that "a representative must be at least 25 years old, have been a U. S. citizen seven years and a resident of the state from which he was elected. Powell argued, and the court agreed, that a congressman who met these qualifications could not be kept from taking his seat."

Lawyers for the house cited the provision in the Constitution, "each house shall be the judge of the election returns and qualifications of its members." However, the court said that the house could deal with Powell under this provision of the rule after being seated but not excluded from being sworn in as a member of that body.

Bad Conduct Charged
Powell was kept from taking his seat after a select committee of the House had found him guilty of "gross misconduct" as a congressman and recommended that he be censured, fined and stripped of all seniority. He had represented predominantly Negro Harlem for 22 years and was chairman of the House Education and Labor Committee.

A specific charge was

that he had misused public funds.

Reelected in 1968
Powell was re-elected and took his seat in the Ninety-first Congress last January. When two federal courts here rejected his claim that he had been unconstitutionally excluded from the Ninetieth Congress, he appealed to the Supreme Court.

The opinion did not deal with Powell's fine of $25,000 levied by the House, nor any back pay to which he might be entitled if and when he is seated.

Elected In 1966
Warren, distinguishing between expulsion and exclusion of a House member, said the vote to exclude Powell was 307 to 116, a vote in excess of two-thirds of the 434 members of Congress on March 1, 1967.

Rep. Powell was elected in 1966 to the Ninetieth Congress from which he was excluded and lived out of the country most of the time prior to the election of 1968. He was a candidate from the Harlem district and reelected in 1968 and seated in the Ninety-first Congress in 1969.

And, the chief justice said, Article I Section V of the Constitution grants the House authority to expel a member "with the concurrence of two-thirds."

look. He is vitally concerned with the emergence of new occupations and the effect of such emergence upon the content and durability of one ones. He recognizes that the outlook for both the old and the new may be markedly affected by such factors as budget expenditures, automation and technological development - and concerns himself with what he calls the "human equation" in the fields of manpower and education. He is aware of the complexity of problems facing the Employment Service in their attempts to serve the working population, but hopes that he will never lose sight of the importance

GEORGE LUNDBERG

"An humble man, sincerely interested in the people," might appropriately sum up our impression of Mr. Lundberg during a recent interview. Both he and his wife were gracious and charming, without ostentation, equally equipped with many of the fine attributes so necessary and important to positions of this kind.

Looking at the factors which are relevant to his role as a commissioner, Mr. Lundberg is knowledgeable concerning the growth and development of the nation's economy and the concomitant changes in the employment out-

Wilkins Warns Graduates of Dangers of Separation

BROOKVILLE, N.Y. -- Citing the findings of the National Advisory Commission on Civil Disorders that racial inequities threaten the unity of the nation, Roy Wilkins, executive director of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, warned against the danger of ignoring the movement "toward two societies, one black, one white -- separate and unequal."

The NAACP leader voiced his warning in the commencement address at C.W. Post College of Long Island University here, June 8. The college conferred the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws upon Mr. Wilkins. In attendance were 1,900 graduates and some 3,000 relatives and friends.

"No graduate this year and no student who remains on our campuses, whatever his color or race, can ignore this danger to our people," he said. "The infection will yield and the cure for our sickness advance only in proportion to the respect, understanding and, yes, love, in the hearts and minds of Americans."

Laws will help. economics will help.

But the change will be brought about, the trend to separatism and hatred reversed, only by the spirit in the hearts of white and black Americans. The call to create and expand that spirit is the call to today's college generation."

Some of the demands being made today are fully justified and long overdue, Mr. Wilkins said. The colleges and universities should meet these demands without further delay. However, he rejected as "incongruous" and "racist" the demand of some Negro students for separate, exclusively black courses and facilities.

of helping each individual to achieve vocational maturity. That it requires the interplay of many roles in such development and emphasized that key roles should be played by trained personnel who understand the necessity for flexibility in assisting applicants.

We believe also that Mr. Lundberg is an understanding man, for he sees the need of a "community of manpower services." That the interdependence of jobseekers, employers, schools, civic groups, public and private organizations call for specific roles in finding jobs for workers

He brings to the Commission a broad background in human relations having served as Mayor of Clive, Board of Directors of the Iowa League of Municipalities, Past president of the Clive Board of Education, Board of Directors of the YMCA in West Des Moines, a former Justice of the Peace of Walnut Township, and subsequently serving as the Business Manager to the Justice of the Peace and Constable Associations. Most important to him is the fact that he was for 27 years a member and past president of Local 118 D. M. International Typographical Union FW while employed by the D.M. Register and Tribune as a printer.

They have two sons, John and Jim, and spend a great deal of their time in family activities.

Mr. Lundberg will succeed Henry E. Carter as the Commissioner representing Labor since Mr. Carter's term of office has expired. There will be a general reshuffling in positions of the Commissioners: Cecil Reed will become Chairman for the next two years but will continue to represent the General Public; Wayne C. Janssen's term as Chairman will have expired but he will continue representing Employers and serve as Vice Chairman. These men, each appointed by the Governor, are administratively responsible for Iowa's 34 Employment Service offices, the Unemployment Insurance and the Iowa Public Employees Retirement System programs.

We predict that Iowa will continue to move ahead with the combined and concerted effort of such high calibre men and the personnel with whom they will be working.

Everyone went to the home of Rev. and Mrs. Joseph Gaines. They were served dinner and arrangements made in the 13-room household for the group to spend the night. In the evening they attended Noble Street Baptist Church where Rev. Gaines is pastor. They were on program and their performance was again enjoyed by an overflowing house. On Wednesday they left for Washington, D. C. and went sightseeing in the nation's beautiful capitol. From there the group made the return trip home.

CONTACT LENSES AND YOU

WHO WEARS CONTACT LENSES?

New York (NAPS) - Each year one-half million men, women and children join the growing population of contact lens users. Who are they and what persuades them to put away their specs?

Concern for one's personal appearance is the big reason, say officials of Barnes-Hind Ophthalmic Products, makers of contact lens solutions and accessories.

Better vision, freedom to participate in sports and freedom from eyeglasses are other reasons for using the modern vision aids.

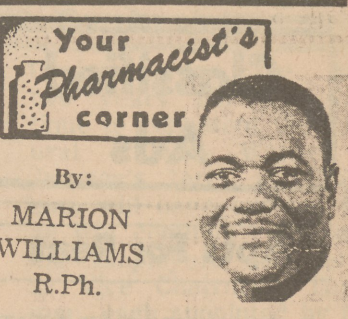

Today's lenses are 8 to 10 millimeters wide (about the size of an aspirin) and made of plastic. Covering the cornea, the part of the eye out of which we see, they float on the natural tear layer.

It won't come as a surprise that women head the list of contact lens users, although men are gaining ground. This may be due to newer trends in which male vanity is, unblushingly, here to stay. At least 25 percent of last year's new adult lens users were male. Other things men notice when they put on contact lenses: they can see the faces they're shaving, engage in more sports activities, and even look down gun-sights for the first time.

While women may be able to bowl or golf better, more important, they see their make-up work better. Also, hair-styling is uncluttered by eyeglass frames. Women's instinctive patience and willingness to follow instructions, ventured one contact lens specialist, is another reason they outnumber male lens users.

Teenagers and pre-teens make up about one-quarter of the new lens population. Their reasons rank close to their elders, except the term "social acceptance" appears.

What kinds of eye problems do these people have? Myopia (nearsightedness) is the number one prescription. Astigmatism (wavy, irregular vision) is another frequently corrected problem, followed by hyperopia (farsightedness) and other eye problems.

Raised Flower Bed Nice Around Patio

Because flowers have different cultural requirements than shrubs, it's usually best to grow them in flowers-only beds.

A wonderful idea is to build a raised bed around one or two sides of the patio where, at eye-level to a seated person, the flowers can be thoroughly enjoyed—and easily tended with almost no bending or stretching.

Build the bed's retaining walls of heavy timbers, 4x4s, 4x6s or 2x6s laid up flat, notching ends for corner joints. Or, if concrete is used, it can be covered attractively with spaced cedar 1x1s nailed vertically to 1x2-inch furring strips.

Stain the cedar dark for good contrast against the pale concrete and bright flower blooms.

IN TOWN IS MRS. S. I. KOLA-BANKOLA, the former Frances Lowry. She is the houseguest of Mr. and Mrs. Ruby Deering, 1533 Walker Street. Blossom Deering and Frances are cousins. S. I. Kola-Bankola holds a University of Minnesota Bachelor Architectural Degree. Their home is No. 54 Raymond Njoku Road, S. W. Ikoyi, Lagos, Nigeria—or if you prefer, it is P. O. Box 3462, Lagos, Nigeria. Frances says friends from home are always welcome! And I think she even added "folks" from home are always welcome! Nigeria is that far away, you see! Nice to have some place to go. And I'm ready! The couple has two little daughters, ten year old twins! They are Felicia and Francine. Their Nigerian names are Taiwo and Kehinde. Among the Yoruba, twins, whether male or female are given these names. The firstborn is always Taiwo!

MANY FACTS IN FRANCES' NIGERIAN HOME-LIFE I find fascinating. (Clara Bayles should be writing this—wish I'd thought of asking her and or Maude Esther White!) Frances receives four daily papers: The New Nigerian, which comes daily except Sunday; Morning Post; The Daily Times, termed "The Independent Newspaper" by its publishers, I noted; and The Daily Sketch. I forgot to check the ads. Wouldn't you go insane racing to the sales! She thoughtfully brought along several issues of a quarterly magazine, Nigeria. They were much too lovely to discard! To my thinking, they were to be treasured like the Geographic Magazine. Frances enjoys The Bystander, a yearly gift from home! (So there, you folks!) She added that considering the distance Lagos is from Des Moines, the news is old, but she loves reading about people's trips. (Hey! so there again, you folks, who wriggle out of telling me things!) Oh, say she has seen Larry Welch a few times. He's a member of the Embassy, you remember. He meant to send word back to Des Moines, but being handsome, single, and in a beautiful setting such as Lagos, Nigeria—he'll just have to make it up later. Oh back to the books for a second! There was this cookbook published by Federal Home Science Association of Lagos, Nigerian Cookery Course Series I. Frances commented that a great deal of red pepper is used in Nigeria. It is my hope that every word of this is true—red pepper adds to any dish, as far as I am concerned!

CURRENCY LIMITATIONS ARE QUITE CUSTOMARY, of course, but Frances gave us a rare opportunity to laugh about this. As would any wife, she left her Nigerian monies with her husband as they parted at flight time. Finding herself thinking of refreshments at Kano, her first stop, alas no nickels, dimes or whatever! And she wasn't about to break the 100 lbs. ($280.00) allowed each individual going out of the country. Tickets are prepaid in Nigeria—this arrangement is for travel fare only. Hotels, meals, etc. must come out of the $280.00.

BLOSSOM DEERING AND I dreamily chatted around what we will do if and when we have the pleasure of visiting in Nigeria. She laughingly told of a similar visit she shared with her son, Anthony. He is definitely going to visit Nigeria! He's for all foreign travel for that matter—that is when a bridge connecting the continents has been constructed! No air travel for him!

FRANCES FLIGHT VIA NIGERIAN AIRWAYS which is affiliated with "BOAC" was most pleasant. To my "What? What? she explained "British Overseas Air Corporation" (So now we both know) To my inquiry about the stewardesses, she said they were mixed as was the remainder of the crew. Frances spent one night at London's Ariel Hotel—in this way made the trip less strenuous.

FRANCES CAN'T QUITE SATISFY all the visits expected of her on all sides. Her time here though generous, is all too short for all of us. She brought lovely snapshots of her family, her home and interesting Lagos scenes. She brought samples of some of the most beautiful Christmas cards I shall ever see! They were of people and of outdoor settings—I'd frame each and every one! She will visit Muscatine, Iowa, Minneapolis Minnesota and Tulsa, Oklahoma, where her uncle, Sylvester Cunningham is now appearing. He is a performer well-known throughout the continent!

Piggee Success in Modeling --Operates Own Studio

James A. Piggee sat outlining his J. P. Modeling and Charm Studio's summer schedule. Having duly noted the details for his advertisement, my thoughts began formulating a story of the events garnered as I pursued his preparations of the Twasi Club's April Fashion Show.

Mr. Piggee credits Maxheim's Studio with launching his modeling career. To accomplish this training, wardrobe, accessories, stage appearances, all that goes to make up a career were provided by Maxheim's. Piggee stresses the importance of the name Maxheim in his personal success. Maxheim's has sponsored a joint appearance by James and Karen Piggee.

Young Man

Mr. Piggee is young in years and therefore career-wise as well but he had been modeling only three years when he placed first in national competition against 25,000 males, thereby capturing the title "Mr. Photo Model of 1965." After this and other award winning successes, he presented his first show, "James Piggee's First Annual Fashion Fair", held September 18, 1966.

As producer he originates and designs a show in terms of its theme and cast; if desired, he can acquire financial backing. All in all he is the final authority on everything. In the role of director he establishes movement, coaches and teaches the participants. J. P. Models are trained three to four months prior to a showing. In general he determines and creates the style of the show, makes a careful selection of the music, set and lighting. In summation, he is his own technical director in that it is he, too, who must bring into being his own creation. You see, there is no one to whom he can finally pass responsibility. It is his alone. If the show fails, he stands to face this. When the show is a success, his is the glory.

Women Lead

According to my research, of the few local models who have attained national recognition, all were women. I was given names like Jan McBride, our Mrs. Iowa; Margaret Priebe, our Mrs. America; and Jolene Wolfe, who also competed on a national level. Listed in the August 18, 1968 Des Moines Register were models who had been offered opportunities to model in New York City at a fee of $40.00 an hour. I was informed that Marcia McKern, of the three, had come to Des Moines to pursue beauty culture and apparently remained in training; Connie

V.F.W. Units Hold Joint Installation

On Wednesday evening, May 22, Roy Leonard Rolan V.F.W. Aux. 5487 and Post 5487 held a Joint Installation of officers at the Willkie House. Preceding the installation their Gold Star Mother, Mrs. Lillian Rolan, whose son the organization was named for, was presented a framed Proclamation signed by Gov. Robert Ray and Secretary of State Melvin Synhorst. It told of all the wonderful things Mrs. Rolan has done for the organization and also for the community. She is a member of St. Paul A. M.E. Church and several other clubs and organizations. She was also presented a bouquet of red roses and pictures were taken.

Officers

The following Auxiliary officers were installed for the ensuing year; President, Vivian Pruitt; Senior Vice Pres., Henrietta McKee; Junior Vice Pres., Clara-belle Caswell; Conductress, Margaret Harper; Chaplain, Martha Taylor; Treasurer, Emma Williamson; Guard, Vallon Clyce; Patriotic Instructor, Rose Tolson; Secretary, Lessie Garrett; 1 year Trustee, Lu-Verdia Martin; 2 year Trustee, Louise Carr; 3 year Trustee, LaDonia Lewis; Color Bearer 1, Myrtle Taylor; Color Bearer 2, Dorothy Bullock; Color Bearer 3, Louise Carr; Color Bearer 4, Katherine Mitchell.

The installing officer was Dorothy Hart, Past District President. Charles Taylor, Past County Council Commander, installed Laney Woods, Jr. as Commander of the Post and also other newly elected officers.

Distinguished Guests

Distinguished guests present were Hazel Miller, national secretary, treasurer, Marge Harris, national historian, Mary Good, fifth district president, Roberta Walker, department foreign students chairman, Frances Hill, department senior vice president, Lelah Albaugh and Bonnie Dennison, department color bearers, Mary Ellen Starkey, department patriotic instructor, Ruth Burkhalter, department historian.

Gifts

Gifts and corsages were presented to the Mesdames Vivian Pruitt, Dorothy Hart and Mary Good. A gift and boutonniere were presented to Commander Laney Woods, Jr.

Members were present from six other auxiliaries and posts.

A beautiful table laden with refreshments was enjoyed.

Rothchild elected to complete her remaining year of college work, it appears; only Dana Swallow accepted the challenging offer. As you will note, none of the names gathered were those of males. Which allows me, if I may, to hazard the guess that James A. Piggee is the first local male to win national prominence in the modeling profession. He is a nationally known photographic model holding the titles, "Detroit's Mr. Photo-1965," "Detroit's Best Dressed Model-1965," Chicago's "Model of the Year-1966." He was trained by the Foxes and the Hares, a Los Angeles, California, national fashion and photographic modeling organization.

Detroit Success

Mr. Piggee's Detroit successes brought him to the attention of Zoe Mitchell, former Des Moines resident and now a famed Chicago fashion designer. Roles in her shows led to his winning the Chicago title of "Dapper Dan". During this period he met and joined Carlton Hamilton's Vogue-Esquire Modeling Troupe, a group comparable to Ebony Fashion Fair which toured twenty states. The ties with Zoe Mitchell have become those of a mutually strong friendship as well as rewarding business venture. He is more or less a fixture in her productions and these lead to fashion stages wherever the magic name "Zoe Mitchell" appears. Among subsequent shows were the Chicago Chapter of the National Association of Fashion and Accessory Designers, Inc. in 1965, in a presentation of Fall Fashion Designers' Masterpieces entitled "The Ten Best Dressed Women of Chicago Clubs"; he escorted these lovelies and at the high point of the program crowned "Miss Chicago, Miss NAFAD". At this time, also, he modeled with the world's most beautiful Negro model of 1965. In September of 1966 he modeled with The Chicago September 1966 Sepia Fashion Fair featuring the Hamilton Vogue-Esquire Models and toured with this group through New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Michigan, Wisconsin, Colorado and California, to name a few. He has done work for Ebony. He has done commercial, advertising, television and photographic modeling. Piggee is constantly in demand for shows. Further, he has been interviewed to go to Rome, Italy; to Europe and other fashion show spots. His career at this point is on a par with Carlton Hamilton's shows known throughout the continent.

He is publisher of Piggee's "Guide to Beauty-Charm-Poise", an attractive, informative easy to follow and completely helpful book.

Locally, he is associated with Maxheim's Studio and Aladdin's Court of Charm and offers topflight training and career opportunities to those in search of a modeling career, guidance to those who seek to update their physical selves and so enhance their careers or positions in the community. His studio's curriculum contains the specialties, any combination of specialties for men and women of all ages; for individuals from any pursuit of interests. A detailed advertisement appears in this issue.

Charm Study

James and Karen Piggee are the owners and operators of the J. P. Modeling and Charm Studio. Karen Piggee is a model and instructor. Mary Hobbs, well-known television model and narrator is an instructor.

Mr. Piggee's oft repeated phrase is "One is never too young, and never too old to become a J. P. Model!" Even as he manages the day to day studio routines, he is planning his 1970 presentation of his J. P. Models. The show must go on!

POWELL WINS
THIS ONE

The United States Supreme Court has held that the House of Representatives acted illegally when it voted to seat Rep. A. Clayton Powell following his election to the 90th Congress.

The Court agreed with Powell's attorney that, in spite of the provision in the Constitution that each house is the judge of the qualifications of its members, the only question before being sworn is: was that a representative at least 25 years old, must have been a citizen for 7 years and a resident from the district where he was elected. The decision noted that once seated, the house could expel a member by 2/3 vote. In view of the fact that the original exclusion was by 3/4 vote, Powell may still be in trouble.

Powell has not been a good example by far of voters of his district. In spite of his tremendous influence in Harlem over the years, there is little improvement that can be attributed to him.

After all, the case presented a legal question, a constitutional question, and the court was bound to follow the law. The fact that other exclusions have been made in the past was no reason to violate the law in this instance.

Representative Powell does the Negro a disservice by his misconduct and provides our enemies ammunition to criticize Negroes in high places of trust and responsibility.

NAACP MEMBERSHIP
A GOOD INVESTMENT

The Des Moines Branch N.A.A.C.P. is conducting its annual membership drive during the month of June.

It should not be necessary to explain to any adult what the N.A.A.C.P. stands for and what it has accomplished during the 60 years of its existence.

Suffice it to say that the N.A.A.C.P. has breathed life into the Constitution of the United States with respect to civil rights, placing its status on an equal basis with any other operation of the government.

For instance: It was the N.A.A.C.P. which prosecuted the now famous school segregation case before the Supreme Court in 1954.

The N.A.A.C.P. prosecuted the case before the Supreme Court whose decision held that a Negro teacher with equal education and experience should be paid the same wages by the public schools.

It knocked out numerous exclusions by southern states of Negro's right to vote, including education and property tests, grandfather clauses and other devices advanced by southern politicians and other persons.

It eliminated by court action Jim Crow in public transportation.

It established in criminal cases that Negroes must not be excluded from jury service.

It brought to the front, through Court action, that persons charged in criminal cases must be furnished with legal counsel at the expense of the state. (this has been true in Iowa since before the turn of the century).

It has established that Negroes receive the education of their choice in their home state.

These advantages have placed the Negro in a position today where he can protect his rights and secure for himself the full exercise of all rights and privileges guaranteed by the Constitution.

While there is room for improvement, this is far more than any other group has accomplished or is actually working for. And these accomplishments have been made in an orderly fashion, keeping clear of the pitfalls that might come as a result of jealousies of other groups.

Des Moines has had an excellent branch over the years, keeping watch over what goes on here. It has championed an aggressive program that has pretty well eliminated a great many injustices to which citizens of this city and state have heretofore suffered. These gains have benefited everybody in the community and their action should command the support of the citizens of Des Moines.

Membership in the Des Moines Branch N.A.A.C.P. starts at $2.00 and it has other higher classes which one may choose. But the main thing is, - JOIN.

AID THOSE WHO ARE TRYING

The Bystander is vitally interested in the employment of youngsters out of school for the summer. They are the ones who are taking advantage of the opportunities offered today and deserve every consideration.

We further believe that Des Moines should be proud of those businessmen in the city who have felt the responsibility that the job should be done and are doing something about it both with their money and with their time and energy. This type of aid to young people actually does a lot of good.

SHOW

Remember Eddie (Rochester) Anderson, the guttural voiced valet of Jack Benny? Good! Rochester, who hasn't been in a film in several years, has been signed by producer William D'Angelo for Paramount's "Hustler," an ABC-TV segment of "Love, American Style."

And Rochester will be teamed with such talented artists as Flip Wilson and Gail Fisher. Talked to Gail yesterday (Monday) and she didn't mention it. Another stalwart has been set to do two TV stints. Louis (Satchmo) Armstrong will make his first TV appearance since his illness (phlebitis) on the Andy Williams Show Dec. 5 or Dec. 12.

Blues singer James Brown is the best kind of friend, and when a friend needs he comes to his aid. Mike Douglas and JB have been friends for years. In fact, it was Mike who boosted JB's singing career by giving him national exposure on the "Mike Douglas Show."

JB hasn't forgot, and when asked to host the "Mike Douglas Show" for a week, JB gave up $100,000 in bookings to do the show for scale, about $245-a-week. That's tight, tight.

Councilman Thomas Bradley lost the mayoralty election, but not his rapport with the stars. He was given a standing ovation at the opening of the Checkmates at the Grove. By the way, the Checkmates offer a fantastic show—all the members are extraordinarily talented. However, it was Sonny Charles who blew the minds of the audience when he sang "Black Girl." In the audience were Joey Bishop, Ronnie Townsen of the Fifth Dimension, Chelsa

Brown, Valerie Redd and Kenny Dennis and Nancy Wilson's ex-hubby.

Tripped to Colorado Springs last week with "Outcasts" star Otis Young, who by the way is now all set to star in his hit-written play "Tell It Like It Is" July 18. This city, 80 miles north of Denver, is strictly Army-Air Force, which all the ladies are business—but not one pretty one in the bunch.

Thursday will catch the opening of the girl whom I love more than anyone else in the business—next to Nancy Wilson, Janet MacLachlan, Mira Waters, Lola Falana and Gail Fisher. Aretha Franklin, of whom I'm a link in her "Chain of Fools," opens at the fabulous Caesar's Palace in Las Vegas. . . Sammy Davis, Jr. is being sought by Stanley Kramer to star in an all-black production of "Cyrano de Bergerac" for Columbia. . . Speaking of the "Mighty Moe" he donated his Beverly Hills mansion—for a day—to the Los Angeles Guidance Clinic for its annual Candelight Tea fund-raiser. The "Mighty Moe" put a "For Sale" sign up the next day, preparing to move to the Bahamas (next to his pal Sidney Poitier).

Sidney Quits Films The circulating rumor that Sidney Poitier is contemplating forsaking his movie career so that he may marry one of his costars is a houseful of air-conditioning. . . Admittedly, Poitier, is concerned about the recent leaks about his romance in the Bahamas with Joanna Shimkus, but too he's intelligent. Intelligent enough to be cognizant of the fact that times are changing, and his "falling in love" with any woman—whether white, black, yellow or brown will not affect his being appreciated as a fine talent. Take a look at Harry Belafonte, Quincy Jones, Sammy Davis, Herb Jeffers, Lou Rawls and Roger Brown of the Rams, to name a few.

Harry Belafonte and Lena Horne are a scheduled duo for Caesar's Palace Aug. 28. . . Lena, by the way, is doing her own thing for NBC-TV, "Lena Horne Special" which began taping this week. O. C. Smith is slated to appear. . . Nancy Wilson will do four segments of "Carol Burnett Show" next season. . . Talented Cicely Tyson is beautiful and definitely missed on film. She is signed to do a seg of the "FBI" with Robert Hooks, her first since "The Man". . . The seg's "Silent Partner". . . Brock Peters has been penned to an exclusive past with producer Monroe Sachon for the next five years.

Coretta King Presenter Mrs. Coretta King, widow of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., made one of the Emmy Presentations Sunday night, and she was beautiful. . . However, two black aspirants, Greg Morris and Diannah Carol, must've been disappointed. . . They were strong contenders to cop an Emmy. . . Bill Cosby and Paul Scofield won an Emmy each. . . Ernie Freeman, the composer who was instrumental in advancing the careers of Frank Sinatra, Petula Clark and Johnny Mathis, will open for the "Smothers Bros." replacement, the "Leslie Uggams Show". . . Scoey Mitchell inked a contract to appear at the Riviera Hotel, Las Vegas for two years. . . A happening in Sacramento. . . A three-day Afro-American Festival with such stars scheduled as the 10th Cavalry, Otis Young, Don Mitchell and the Friends of Distinction, to name a few. . . The affair will be held at the Old State Fair Grounds, July 4, 5 and 6th. . . Jim Brown slipped into L. A. Saturday to throw a party for his friends, The Friends of Distinction, who recently did a stint of the "Della Reese Show". . . That's it! Life must end in the beginning.

Why does some hair break off when combing? Your hair is precious and delicate. . . and none of us like to see it break off for any reason. Scientists tell us that excessive use of hot combs and over-processing of hair with chemicals often are major causes of brittleness resulting in hair breakage. But hair that is naturally curly and tangles easily frequently breaks off in everyday combing. Notice how irritated your scalp becomes when you comb in contrast to the way your beautician does? Your professional beautician knows that curly hair mats and tangles so easily that it should be softened before combing. Otherwise, unnecessary irritation to the scalp and damage to the shaft and ends of the hair occurs. To achieve this needed softening and a temporary relaxing effect that prevents breakage on all human hair (including wigs), most beauticians rely on Clairol® Hair-So-Now® spray-on creme rinse. For combing ease and for beautifying your hair in many other ways, trained beauticians stock a complete family of fine Clairol products for your specific needs. Health for All

Pneumoconiosis means, literally, "dusty lung." It's a medical term applied to occupational dust diseases such as silicosis, asbestosis, and others. For their special kind of dusty lungs, coal miners have a special name—"black lung."

Call it what you will, it adds up to a crippled breathing; and in all too many cases it means eventual death. Estimates of the number of miners and ex-miners afflicted by "black lung" range high as 125,000.

Early this year "black lung" started breaking into news, partly through the activities of three crusading physicians. They toured the coal regions, stumping for legislation to improve mine safety standards. Their crusade touched off a lively debate, with state and national legislative hearings, corrective bills put forth, and a statement by the Surgeon General of the U.S. Public Health Service. He emphasized the connection between pneumoconiosis and coal dust, and criticized both existing and proposed safety laws as inadequate to the need.

Important light was thrown on the "black lung" controversy by one of the three specialists, Dr. Donald L. Rasmussen, in the American Review of Respiratory Disease. The scientific journal, published by the American Thoracic Society (medical arm of the National Tuberculosis Association), presented his investigation of lung disease found in over 100 coal miners. He expressed the view that their disease, contrary to the claims of mine operators, was caused by excessive coal dust in the mines.

Comparing conditions here and abroad, Dr. Rasmussen told a reporter: "They are doing so much more there, preventatively—it's embarrassing to compare notes. If we really wanted to do something about 'black lung' we could."

Their personal life doesn't affect them "doing their thing" for their brothers and sisters. . .
