Campers Confront Welfare Officials

Protest Welfare Payments

Pinched by the high cost of living, a group of women recipients of welfare grants have been maintaining a tent headquarters on the state house grounds to emphasize their plight.

Located on the west end of the grounds, the two tents serve as a business and consultation headquarters around which children play and women discuss their problems.

Marched On Officials

Earlier this week the group, led by Mrs. Katherine Bryson, head of the Mothers for Dignity and Justice Group, marched 22 blocks to the Polk County Welfare Department where they confronted Leland Ahern, the director, demanding more liberal ADC and other grants. He explained that funds for these grants are appropriated by the legislature and his office had no power to raise or lower them.

Hear State Officials

Wednesday night Marucie Harmon Iowa Social Service and three assistants appeared at the camp on invitation by the group. He explained how grants are arrived at, education under the program and that no changes are available in the amount of funds on hand for the present fiscal year.

While no additional money has been gained by the effort, the women at least have found out how the program operates. They also have secured some grocery orders to supplement their grants.

Seek Store Credit

The women accused Sears Roebuck stores of refusing credit to ADC mothers. This manager denied, adding that credit is granted on an individual basis. He also stated that there were ADC accounts in force now.

The women remarked that law suits are pending in some states, notably Missouri, seeking additional funds under the ADC program. Asked if such action was contemplated in Iowa, Mrs. Bryson only said that this is the trend.

The camp has been quiet and the whole affair has been handled in a peaceful manner.

Slayer of Muldrew To Grand Jury

NEVADA, IA.—Elizabeth Anne (Beth) Aronoff, 20, of Ames has been indicted by the Story County grand jury on a charge of murder in the fatal shooting of Willie Muldrew, 21, former Iowa State University football player.

Muldrew died May 23 about an hour after being wounded in the heart by a bullet from a .32 caliber revolver in an apartment at an I.S.U. married student housing area.

Miss Aronoff has been held without bond in the Story County Jail here. Arraignment was Tuesday.

Beauticians Meet In Philadelphia

Washington, D. C. — According to Dr. Katie E. Whickam, president of the National Beauty Culturists' League, the annual convention of that organization—this year to be held in the Ben Franklin Hotel in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania—the meeting is more than a convention. In addition to being the longest meeting of any organization—it extends from July 21st to August 7th—it is a meeting of the officers, leaders and presidents from nearly all the states in the union. It is really a university post graduate course in latest beauty culture methods, latest beauty culture apparatus, business methods in a beauty shop and school operation, social contacts with other beauticians and citizens of other areas and a meeting of their own sorority.

The biggest feature of the organization, now in its fiftieth year and celebrating such, is the school of cosmetology where graduate and experienced beauticians meet and under guidance of nationally and internationally famous artists, see and learn newest methods in all areas of beauty culture.

The convention will see over one thousand beauticians converge on the Ben Franklin Hotel eager to learn more about their trade and profession, the second largest Negro owned business in the U.S.A., and to prepare themselves for a much better performance and service.

Dr. Whickam will report on the progress of construction of their million-dollar building project which will house the national offices, the museum and the laboratories of beauty culture research.

ENTERTAINMENT

GIANT — Frederick (Shorty) Long, the Motown recording star who stood only five feet and one inch, is dead at the age of 29. The dynamically talented recording artist who penned such tunes as "Devil With The Blue Dress On," "Function At The Junction," and "Here Comes The Judge," drowned last Sunday in the Detroit River when his small boat capsized off Sandwich Island, Ontario. Shorty sang with the vibrancy of his true Baptist "upbringing," and played piano, organ, drums, trumpet and harmonica. (Motown Photo)

Drunken Drivers, Look Out

Iowa law enforcement officers will begin to draw tight rein on the drinking driver tomorrow, July 1st. That's the effective date of a new law which provides for increased loss of driving privileges for those convicted of driving while under the influence of alcoholic beverages. It will also provide specific guidelines for the courts to follow in determining the level of intoxication as far as evidence is concerned.

New Equipment

The new law simplifies the gathering of evidence, allowing a peace officer to take a specimen of a person's breath at the scene of the arrest using breath testing equipment which has been approved by the State Safety Department. In the past, it was necessary to have a doctor or registered nurse extract blood at a hospital or doctor's office and because of the lapse of time the test result did not truly reflect the condition of the subject while he was driving.

Should a person refuse to allow a withdrawal of a body substance for testing purposes, he will lose his license for a minimum of 120 days under Iowa's "implied consent" law. Fulton said: "Operating a vehicle on our roads carries with it the presumption that the operator will consent to a test if an arresting officer has reason to believe the person has driven while drunk."

Iron comprises about .004 per cent of the average adult body weight, as compared with a considerably larger quantity of lead concentrated in a different part of the anatomy of some people.

West Des Moines Kiwanis Show

The 5th annual West Des Moines Kiwanis Arts & Jazz Festival will be held at Holiday Park in West Des Moines on July 11th and 12th with show times at 7:30 & 9:30 p.m. each night. Every year the event attracts increasing thousands of jazz music lovers from all parts of the U.S., as well as Iowa and the mid-west. The 1969 festival promises to be greater than ever, according to Ron Hallock, general chairman.

In addition to the internationally famous West Des Moines Kiwanis Dixieland Band, this year's "Jazz Bash" will feature from New York, the legendary drummer Zutty Singleton playing with Dick Kaufman's "Dixieland All Stars" including: Kaufman, cornet; Bill Hanck, trombone & vocal; Floyd Bean, piano; Frank Chase, clarinet; and from New Orleans, steller banjoist Narvin Kimball.

Singleton

Zutty Singleton is in fact a living legend, the dean of New Orleans drummers. His singular style is the result of playing on riverboats of the Mississippi and in St. Louis, Chicago, Los Angeles, and New York for many years; it is the source rather than the derivation of the beats used by most every "dixie" jazz drummer of today.

Narvin Kimball, a lifelong resident of New Orleans plays both bass and banjo and is considered one of New Orleans' greats. He appears regularly with the Preservation Hall bands of Billie & De De Pierce and Sweet Emma Barret. He is coauthor of "My Memphis Baby" which was the song of the day written in honor of the dedication of Beal Street, Memphis as a Federal Historic Landmark.

Arts and Crafts

An outstanding attraction of the festival will be the Arts Show where Arts and Crafts galore will be exhibited and sold by artists from all over Iowa during both nights for the affair. A special free arts show will be held on Saturday, July 12th only from 1:00 to 5:00 p.m.

Proceeds from the Arts and Jazz Festival will underwrite some of the youth activities of the West Des Moines Kiwanis Club. Tickets are available now from any West Des Moines Kiwanian at $2.00 for adults or can be purchased at the festival. Children accompanied by adults will be admitted for 75 cents at the gate.

Former Willkie House Head to New Post

John F. Mapp, jr., of 7509 Palm drive, former Executive Director of Willkie House Inc., and later employed at Woodward, has been selected as the new Des Moines branch director of Hillcrest Services to Children and Youth. Mapp replaces Earl Downing, who is now executive director of Creche Children's Home in Omaha, Neb.

NEWS In A Nutshell

The AFL-CIO today made public a letter from its president, George Meany, to the 60th annual convention of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, at Jackson, Mississippi.

The AFL-CIO is most happy to have this opportunity to extend greetings to the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People at this its 60th Annual Convention.

NEW YORK, June 27—Increased black anti-Semitism and a "less tenable" position for Jewish teachers in ghetto schools are predicted by a prominent educator-sociologist unless Jewish organizations and Jewish-dominated labor unions such as the United Federation of Teachers' end their resistance to the black community's demands for decentralization and local control.

Des Moines, Ia., The parcel post weight limit will be raised to 40 pounds for shipments between first-class post offices after July 1, Postmaster John P. McNeerney announced today.

The maximum parcel post weight limit will be increased from 30 pounds on shipments between the larger post offices in the third through eighth parcel post zones. (More than 150 miles.) On packages sent locally and to offices in parcel post zones one and two, the ceiling has been 40 pounds. The maximum size of packages sent between all first class offices remains 72 inches in combined length and girth.

Tulsa, Okla. — The subject of "Black America" was keynoted several times during the Annual Meeting of The United States Jaycees held last week in Louisville, Kentucky.

Andre E. LeTendre, newly-elected president of the organization noted that one possible goal during his term of office will be to encourage more Negro participation.

Award Terrill to Duke Ellington

"Edward 'Duke' Ellington has been named as the recipient of the improved benevolent protective order of Elks of the World's most coveted award the Lovejoy Award, for 1969. It was announced in a special interview with the Grand Exalted Ruler, Hobson R. Reynolds, titular head of the 450,000 dues paying predominantly black Americans, the largest of its kind in the world.

The Lovejoy Award is going to Ellington in his 70th year. It is being made to him by an organization that has long been noted for its civic effort of supporting the cause of those organizations and individuals who have been a part of the American scene, striving to make themselves heard above the din of prejudice and discrimination, so that the lot of Black brothers and daughters might be improved across the nation.

Jackson, Miss. — The Nixon Administration's proposed new voting rights legislation has been condemned by Clarence Mitchell, director of the NAACP Washington Bureau, as "sophisticated, calculated, incredible effort on the part of the chief lawyer of the United States Government to make it impossible to continue on the constructive efforts we have followed."

Mr. Mitchell's blast followed presentation of the Administration's proposal by Attorney General John N. Mitchell in testimony before the House Judiciary Committee here, June 26. The NAACP's Mr. Mitchell also testified at that hearing in strong support of extending the provisions of the Voting Rights Act of 1965 another five years beyond its expiration date Aug. 6, 1970.

Weaken Present Law

The new Administration plan would weaken enforcement of the present law's ban on literacy tests in states and counties in which less than 50 per cent of the voting-age population was registered or voted in the 1964 national election. These are primarily Deep South states. The Nixon proposal would impose a nationwide ban on literacy requirements and on length of residency in a state for voting in presidential elections. Under the new plan, protection of the right to vote would be tried in a court in the state of origin. Under the 1965 Act, changes in state or local voting requirements must be cleared either by the Attorney General or a Federal court in Washington.

JACKSON, Miss. — In the area of civil rights the outstanding achievement of 1968 was enactment of Federal legislation banning discrimination in the sale, rental and occupancy of housing, the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People asserts in its annual report released here today by Executive Director Roy Wilkins, on the eve of the Association's 60th anniversary convention, June 30 - July 5.

"Triumph and tragedy marked the course of the civil rights movement in 1968, reminiscent, particularly in its tragic aspects, of 1963," the 154-page report states. "For the NAACP it was a year of programmatic achievement highlighted by the passage of the Civil Rights Act of 1968 with its fair housing title, and a year of growth" in membership and income.

Enrollment 450,673

Total enrollment in the Association reached 450,673, the highest since 1964. Income from all sources reached an all-time peak—$3,260,762—in the history of the 59-year-old organization.

The report cited the assassinations of the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., and Senator Robert F. Kennedy who "had been friends and collaborators...in pursuit of justice for the disinherited."

Meanwhile, the NAACP "daily carried out its task of leveling racial barriers in a thousand communities throughout this land...housing, schools, employment; direct action, legal action, political action; race relations, cultural achievements, poverty problems — you name it; if the rights of Negro citizens were involved, the NAACP was there, in impoverished rural areas as well as in the urban ghettos."

JACKSON, Miss. — The six-day 60th anniversary convention of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People opens here Monday, June 30, with Bishop Stephen G. Spottswood, chairman of the NAACP Board of Directors, delivering the keynote address at a mass meeting in the Jackson City Auditorium. A registration of some 2,000 delegates and alternates is anticipated.

In addition to such NAACP leaders as Bishop Spottswood, President Kivie Kaplan, Executive Director Roy Wilkins and Clarence Mitchell, director of the Washington Bureau, the program will feature outstanding representatives from government and from the academic world. Foremost among the former will be George W. Romney, Secretary, Department of Housing and Urban Development, scheduled to address the plenary session, Thursday afternoon, July 3, on "Meeting the Need for Shelter."

Highlights

Other highlights include presentation of the 54th Spingarn Medal to Mr. Mitchell by Mrs. Bruce Benson, national president of the League of Women Voters, Tuesday evening, July 1; an address to the youth of the Association by Mr. Wilkins at the Youth Freedom Awards dinner, Thursday evening; an address by William H. Brown, III, chairman, Equal Employment Opportunity Commission, Wednesday night, July 2; and an address at the adult Freedom Awards dinner, Friday night, by Mrs. Myrle Evers, widow of the martyred NAACP Mississippi leader, Medgar Evers, for whom a special memorial service will be held Friday afternoon. President Kaplan and Executive Director Wilkins will also speak at the Friday night dinner.

Workshop

The plenary workshop sessions will hear such experts as Samuel Simmons, assistant secretary for equal opportunity, Department of Housing and Urban Development, on "The Role of the Federal Government in Civil Rights"; Samuel H. Johnson of the Bureau of the Census, on the 1970 census; Miss June Shagaloff, NAACP education director, Dr. Doxey A. Wilkerson, Yeshiva University professor, Kenneth W. Haskins, Washington, D.C., school principal, and Mrs. Irene Smith, president, New Jersey State NAACP, on "Schools in Crisis."

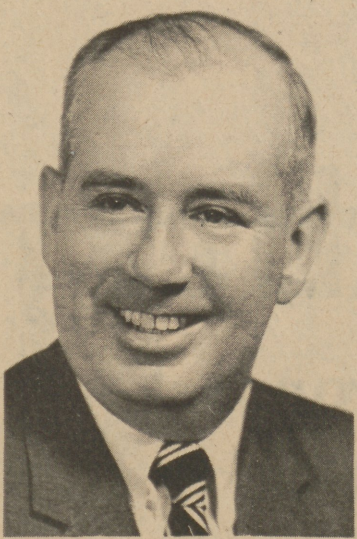

Also the Rev. Gladstone Mxolisi Ntlati, of the Chief Albert Luthuli Memorial Fund, and Dr. Martin Kilson, Harvard University professor, on continued to page 3

Men With A Social Concern

JAMES E. OLSON
Chief Executive Officer
Northwest Bell Telephone Company.

WATSON POWELL, JR.
President and Chairman of the Board American Republic Insurance Company.

Pronouns do not come readily when I attempt to write about these two men. Competent, intellectually acute, with an expertise in their own field—each was confident that Des Moines needed bold and persistent experimentation if it was to avoid a "culture of poverty" in the midst of plenty with all of its social and political implications.

Men of vision, highly perceptive, and sensitive to the needs of both our country and our city, they recognized that in spite of the many fine things that have come out of previous social reform movements, many problems have not yet been resolved; and the new problems that have been created are far more complex and perplexing than many of the old. For example, past reforms have not demonstrated how prosperity could be achieved during peacetime; nor has the army of jobless and undereducated been drastically reduced in spite of our affluence. Looking at the country's statistics, they became alarmed when they learned that between 40-50,000,000 people are poor and live in poverty. That such a group consisting of the aged, members of minority groups, migrant farmers, unskilled workers

JIM OLSON

NWBT's Chief Executive Officer in Iowa is an innovator. He decided to break with "foolish" tradition. A Steering Committee was formed (a voluntary group) consisting of the heads of 15 of D. M.'s leading business men: La D.M. National Bank; Armstrong Rubber; Younkers, Central National Bank, Register & Tribune, Bankers Trust, Massey Ferguson, Iowa Power Light, Merediths Publishers, Firestone Rubbers, Equitable of Iowa, John Deere and NWBT—better known as the MERIT EMPLOYER'S COUNCIL.

Later, a working committee consisting of the personnel officers from these firms was added.

The Objective - (1) to bring about equal employment opportunity for all; (2) to further the opportunity for promotions according to one's ability; (3) to improve the dialogue between businesses, local government and groups within the community - exchange ideas.

Several major projects evolved from these beginnings: I. Job Opportunities Exposition (1967-68) Approximately 10 expositions have been held where employers went into the Black community, conducted interviews, disseminated information about job opportunities, training programs. Dialogue was fostered and communication took place between the business sector and the community. Over 1000 people were interviewed.

II. Work Skill Training Center, In March 1968, the NWBT designed a Work Skill Training Center at 1701 University Avenue, Des Moines. Relying on the expertise of the school system, the first 11 week training

WATSON POWELL, JR.

A man of conviction, capable of decisive action, fully knowledgeable of today's problems, and willing to stand up and be counted regarding his belief that our country faces one of the most severe domestic crisis that we have encountered for many years.

Born into wealth, a busy man who has every right to be full-time occupied with his own administrative responsibilities. However, he took time out to travel throughout the country, to meet personally and visit with many Black leaders including our young militants, and those that are active in religious and political circles. He saw first hand that over 100 of our cities erupted into racial violence which left hundreds dead and thousands injured—plus the millions of dollars in estimated property damage. His first impressions that the urban crisis was exaggerated was soon discredited—and he came to terms with the magnitude of a problem that could be met only with a daring and imaginative program based upon a deep understanding of the multiplicity of variables that are at work in sustaining a deep-seated social malignancy.

There was no presumptuousness, no panacea—"I am a business man," he said, "and have become convinced that the Federal Government could never solve this problem alone." Out of Egypt, but a long way from the Promised 75 per cent have been retained and are considered good, productive employees. III. Vocational Guidance Institute 25 high school counselors participated in a 5 week program—2 weeks of which were convened at Drake University, 3 weeks were within the company firms.

The objective—to give school counselors a better understanding of the counseling job and the kinds of job opportunities these firms were offering with special emphasis on the disadvantaged.

IV. According to Mr. Olson, the main thrust of the MEC is to improve opportunities for better jobs, housing and education. He believes that much progress has been made but much more has to be done. As chairman of the D.M. Chamber of Commerce he was largely responsible for the development of the first Urban Affairs Department of the C.C., which has been chaired by Nolan Gentry. That these firms were forthright and foresighted in their thinking is attested to by the merger of MEC and the NAB program. When D.M. was selected by the Nixon administration to become a NAB city, MEC was already structured and underway - many of the guidelines were set and established; thus they will prove a real asset as the program gets under way nationally.

Land "We have come a long way," he continued, "but we have overlooked many vital and important variables. The crisis is real...it is here...and it is not going to go away unaided. The business world can neither ignore it nor solve it alone...it requires cooperative effort. To be part of the solution, however, requires the cooperation of top executives who fully understand the problem and who accept part of the responsibility for its solution."

He is concerned about the impersonal aspects of our growing society—which he feels is part of the fabric which made America great; as well as the fact that many of our brightest youth are not oriented toward careers in entrepreneurship. He is proud of the fact that his own company was farsighted enough to form the Americare Scholarship Program which includes an internship program designed to discover able and financially needy young people in the greater Des Moines Community and aid them in obtaining a college education in liberal arts or business administration. This program includes the scholarship as well as a work-internship at America Republic's Headquarters in Des Moines.

National Alliance Of Business Men

When President Nixon wrote asking him to head the National Alliance of Business in Des Moines, he believed this would offer an opportunity to assist the chronically unemployed who lack job skills, work experience, education or social acceptance. This program will be known as JOBS—Job Opportunities in the Business Sector. The work previously done under the Merit Employers Counsel referred to above laid the ground work for a smooth transition from MEC to NAB. Des Moines is to be complimented in being chosen as one of the NAB cities—but without the work of the MEC it is doubtful it would have met this criteria.

The national task is to find 500,000 men and women by July 1, 1971 and to find productive summer jobs for needy youth.

To place at least 100,000 unemployed in jobs (productive employment) by July, 1969; and 500,000 by July, 1971.

Businesses are to provide these jobs. In cooperation with the National Alliance of Business men (NAB)—the U. S. Department of Labor has made its full resources available to provide the financial help and guidance to offset the extraordinary costs to business in making job holders out of job seekers.

The U. S. Department of Labor will contract with firms seeking to employ; the contract partnership provides many opportunities for the businessmen—large and small—to address themselves to the solution of a crucial national problem.

CHARACTERISTICS OF PEOPLE WHO NABS WILL HELP

1. School drop-outs (less than high school education); 2. Persons who have special employment problems—including being a member of a minority group; 3. Under 22 years of age; 4. Over 44 years of age; 5. Handicapped; 6. Persons who have been unemployed for 18 months or longer; 7. Persons who have never received intensive skill training; 8. Children or youth whose parents were unskilled; 9. Persons that live with one and one-half families; 10. Need glasses or dental work; 11. Is married with at least 3 children; 12. Has no transportation; 13. Has had problems with the law and has spent at least 30 days in jail.

SELECTION PROCESS

Contact the Iowa State Employment Service, 150 Des Moines Street, 243-7661 and or Concentrated Employment Program (CEP) 205 12th Street, 288-8971 either agency will screen the applicant and certify him as a JOB trainee.

EDUCATIONAL PROGRAM A job-related educational program often is essential to a trainee's success. Such an educational effort is occasionally needed to augment, but not replace, the on-the-job training.

Mississippi Supreme Court Upholds Murder Conviction

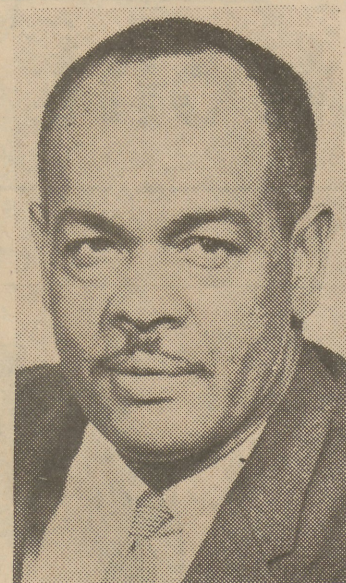

JACKSON, Miss.—The life sentence given William Thomas Smith, convicted slayer of Vernon Dahmer, an NAACP leader in Hattiesburg, has been upheld by the Mississippi Supreme Court.

Mr. Dahmer was slain, Jan. 10, 1966, by a firebomb hurled into his home and store which he had utilized as a voter registration center. Twelve white men, all alleged Ku Kluxers, were charged with the murder. Smith sought a reversal of his conviction and sentence on the ground that testimony dealing with membership in the Ku Klux Klan had prejudiced the jury. The Court, on June 9, in an opinion by Justice Robert Lee Jones, overruled Smith's contention.

He will replace J. Wayne Janssen of Hardin County as chairman of the three-man commission.

Republican Reed and Democrat Janssen will be joined by George Lundberg, a Des Moines printer appointed by Governor Robert Ray to succeed Henry Carter, Burlington Democrat, whose term expired Monday.

Cecil A. Reed, a Cedar Rapids Republican, becomes chairman of the Iowa Employment Security Commission, this month, believed to be the highest executive post ever held by a Negro in Iowa state government.

Reed, 56, a former state representative, has been a commission member two years.

New Urban Center at Northern I. U.

CEDAR FALLS, IA.—A University of Northern Iowa Center for Urban Education, aimed at providing an opportunity for teachers to become acquainted with the problems of minority group education and to work with the disadvantaged, will open here today.

The center, the first in the state and one of the first of its kind in the nation, is under the direction of Henry Johnston, formerly a school psychologist in the Waterloo public school system.

Johnston said the center is designed to identify the hidden talents of young persons, provide tutorial services for them and counsel them about continuing their education.

JOHN MAPP, FORMER WILLKIE HOUSE DIRECTOR, became Branch Director of Hillcrest Services to Children and Youth, effective July 1. This is one of the social services to Children under the Iowa Methodist Church of which Dr. James S. Thomas is bishop. On Tuesday evening a coffee, honoring Mr. Mapp, was given at Wesley Place.

BERTHA CASSELL, ELMER (NEMO) BARKER AND JAMES THOMPSON, employed June 25 by greater Opportunities and on the VISTA staff, left June 26 for six weeks—June 26 through August 10—training at Denver, Colorado's Colorado State College (located at Greeley). On June 26 the trio engaged in a one-day orientation held at Kansas City, Missouri's Vista Regional Office, and then departed for Colorado. Mrs. Cassell and Barker are in training for positions as VISTA coordinators. Thompson's position will be that of project manager. Under the greater Opportunities project proposal expansion these three will supervise 45 Vistas of whom 15 will be locals and 30 picked nationally and one Center will be located on the Eastside at the Logan Opportunity Center and the other one on the Southside at the Capital View Opportunity Center.

GEORGINE LEE ALEXANDER (MRS. JOSEPH) is enthusiastically the roles of wife, mother, homemaker and careerist. In keeping with today's leading employment trends, she works as a food aide with the Iowa State University Extension Program. Replying to my inquiries she states that currently there are four food aides working primarily in the Model Cities Area. They include Anita Sheeley, Josephine Pickett and Gloria Richardson and Georgine. An aide, Kay Westphal, is working in the Dunlap Area. Beatrice Brock, a home economist, is supervisor. Barbara James (Mrs. Lewis)

Mrs. Bayles Combines Business, Pleasure.

Mrs. Clara Bayles of 951 17th Street returned June 21, 1969, from a four week vacation. During the first week of her vacation Mrs. Bayles attended the National Conference on Social Welfare, headquartered in the New York Hilton and the Americana Hotels in New York City.

Demands

Several demands were made on the Conference for immediate social action by the following groups: the Welfare Rights Organization, the Black Caucus, the Spanish speaking group and the Indians. "Business as usual" was suspended while listening to the demands of these groups.

Week in New York City

Following the conference Mrs. Bayles spent a week in New York City as guest of her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Webb of Manhattan, and of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Grace Bayles of Jamaica. She attended the 4th annual presentation of the Rochdale Village Chorus. This year the two night program was dedicated as a Memorial to Leonard Bayles who along with his wife Grace was a member of this chorus. He died suddenly on December 2, 1968. A full page of the program carried a beautiful testimony concerning Leonard.

Visited Islands

Mrs. Bayles accompanied her brother, Elbert Webb, on a nine day Caribbean cruise. The islands visited were San Juan, Puerto Rico; St. Thomas, Virgin Islands; St. Maartins (Dutch Island) and Bermuda. These islands were beautiful and the natives interesting. Negroes and colored people make up most of these islands. There were more than 650 persons aboard the Bremen Ship (a German ocean liner).

and J. R. Phillips have been working with these young women as voluntary members of a teachers corps. The young careerist added that "Basically, as we learn about nutrition and homemaking, this knowledge is passed along in the neighborhood. Anyone in the area is welcome to the service of this staff. As the program progresses, additional aides will be employed for work on the Eastside." May I add to Mrs. Alexander's comments? I enjoyed a sewing class at Woodland Opportunity Center after deciding that the ability to type a page but at the same time lack the skill to clothe myself was ridiculous! If the girls' activities include any look-ins, listen-ins, etcetera for those of us who are working daytimes, maybe we can do just that here or there some evening?

NAOMI BRYANT (MRS. JOHN W.) owns a most beautiful crocheted bedspread! The pattern is white petal-shaped designs encircling lavender daisies nestled in green leaves. These are crocheted together with a lacework of lavender thread. The handicraft is that of Evelyn Squires (Mrs. Lloyd) The bedspread was a birthday present!

THIS LADY WAS A TRAMP. When the Qtie (for Cutie) appeared at my house in early Spring, I had it figured that she belonged to a neighbor, but preferred my house and dog. Michael P. Johnson (a Labrador and German Shepard mixture, and a young pony in size). But no, she had come to stay. Troubled that she might be picked up as a stray, I told a friend about her. The friend asked that I place Qtie with Dr. R. A. Leeper—his Animal Hospital is at 1620 High Qtie is now quite a lady and needs a home—a good home. Her benefactor, will finance veterinarian services should you require it. As you like! Call me? (University of Iowa, stay away from my door!)

Wannawaka Club's Varied Events

On May 24, 1969, the Wannawaka Club had a social at the home of Mrs. Jean Berry. Fried fish and chicken were served. The club's traveling bag was guest also with names on the table for each member to contribute to the bag. Mrs. Berry's daughter, Torri, made the clever signs for the bag.

On June 14 Wannawakas had a successful bake sale at Hinky Dinky.

On June 28 Wannawakas had chicken dinners. Jean Pinson was cook. Jean Berry, Marney Taylor and Luberta Taylor were busy filling orders and wrapping and Sadie Taylor and Carmen Johnson delivered.

Wannawakas are losing a member, Mrs. Sadie Taylor, who is leaving this month. The traveling bag is with Mrs. Janie Miller this week. Carmen Johnson, president, Janie Miller, treasurer, Luberta Taylor, social chairman.

Mary Church Terrill Club No. 2 Members Conclude Extensive Tour

Members of the Mary Church Terrill No. 2 Jet Set Travel Club spent seven days in tour of glamorous Jamaica, a delightful combination of mountainous interior, beautiful beaches, colorful night life, and historical interest.

Arriving in Montego Bay by Air-line Jamaica we were at the airport by personnel of the United Tours who pointed out to the group a large sign at airport entrance reading "Welcome to Jamaica, Mrs. Spencer's group." From Montego Bay we traveled overland to Kingston, the capital city, where we spent our first night at the Sheraton Kingston hotel. Here we enjoyed a lovely gourmet dinner with champagne and climaxed our first day with dancing in the cocktail lounge. On our second day a three hour highlight tour of Kingston included a stop at the Victoria Crafts Market, featuring native handicrafts; shopping in commercial Kingston; a tour of INAFCA museum, which is a private collection of items collected in Africa by a Jamaican; plus other interesting highlights.

In the Mountain We departed for Ocho Rios, a sixty mile journey along the narrow, curving mountain "river road" to Rio Cobre, Spanish Town and through the valley of red ore. In Ocho Rios our lovely Tower Isle hotel was located on the Caribbean sea shore, where tour members took a daily dip, a ride in the sail boats or just bathed in the sun. A tradition of the hotel was to serve breakfast on your bedroom balcony, facing the sea. Here, as in all Ocho Rios, the "black ladies" from America were treated rather special. On our last evening there, the three tables seating six women each, were beautifully decorated with flower petals, spelling out "we love you" and "come again". A beautiful buffet dinner was served.

Guided Tour In Ocho Rios we took a guided tour of Brimmer Hall, a banana and coconut plantation, where we were acquainted with the various stages of growth and development of these tropical fruits. We also saw growing other fruits and plants as the pineapple, orange, grapefruit, breadfruit, mango, pawpaw, ackee, yam, plantain and the pimento tree from which allspice is taken. On a conducted tour of the area we saw famous Fern Gully, Shaw Park Gardens and Dunn's River Falls. One of our delightful drivers with the historical name of Davy Crockett arranged for us to partake of a luncheon of native foods in one of the local cafes. We were served turtle soup, chicken, the Jamaican way, curried goat with rice, ackee, and boiled green bananas and ackee along with some standard American dishes. But the boiled bananas and ackee we shall never forget.

Scenic Drive Leaving Ocho Rios on our fifth day we again took a scenic drive along the Caribbean to Montego Bay. On our way we passed Rose Hall, home of the "white witch" Annie Palmer, expert in the art of Voodoo. A sight seeing tour of Montego Bay acquainted us with the city and country around Montego Bay. In this area we saw many beautiful homes of well to do Jamaicans as well as the estates of American millionaires. Shopping excursions included the purchase of straw goods, jewelry, dresses and shirts made by the Jamaicans, pictures by Jamaican artist, ivory and silk from the Orient, linens, wedgewood and china from England.

Each of us also purchased that duty free bottle of Jamaican rum, which was the "expected" thing to do. None of us really like it, so, drop by sometime. Jamaica is 4,411 sq. ft. of island in the Caribbean Sea. Of the 1,742,000 population, blacks make up 76.3 per cent. Your reporter knows of eighteen American women that would rather be sent to Jamaica than to Africa.

Your professional beautician knows the answer...

Is peroxide needed to color unwanted gray hair?

Hair care and beauty experts know that the first traces of gray hair—and even slight fading of natural color after chemical relaxing—can dull a woman's appearance and make her look older than she feels. While most women hate these premature aging effects, many are hesitant about using permanent peroxide haircoloring which may change the natural hair color while coloring gray.

Professionally-trained hairdressers know the importance of their customers' preferences when unwanted gray becomes a problem. These experts also know that Clairol created semi-permanent Loving Care® hair color lotion without peroxide... to color only the gray without changing the natural shade. They also find Loving Care blends back color faded by chemical processing. Because of its mildness, Loving Care maintains healthy looking hair and lasts through a month of shampoos. Whatever a woman's reason for wanting Loving Care for her hair, she is always wise to consult a professional beautician. Hairdressers are equipped with a family of fine Clairol products and the training to promise each patron the loveliest and most personalized haircoloring effects every time she visits her salon. If you dislike gray, and want no peroxide, why not ask your beautician to glamorize it with Loving Care?

Have You Paid Your Bill

The Bystander had hoped that all of its delinquent subscribers would have paid their past-due subscription during the month of our 75th Anniversary in June. But not so. Even some of the most able people are dragging their feet as if nothing is happening and yet it is just as bad to be a delinquent subscriber as being delinquent on the grocery or light bill. Once incurred, an obligation is a moral responsibility.

CAMPERS PITCH FOR MORE WELFARE

Des Moines is experiencing a protest by A. D.C. women against what they call inadequate welfare grants and the use of food stamps. The women and some of their families are camping on the statehouse grounds following permission granted by the executive council with the urging of Governor Ray.

Today, our country seems to be made up of professional protesters using any form available to call attention to the problems of the desired individuals, patterned after the sit-down, sit-in and picketer of union labor against whatever organization they may have a grievance against. Just how effective the protest will be, only time can tell. However, the power to change grants is a matter for the legislature and not administrative officers. The cause of these women's problem is the same as other people with low income. The cost of living, which takes the first money, continues to raise far out of proportion to any increases granted to welfare recipients recently.

These people are not to be condemned. On the other hand, some change is needed to meet reasonable demands. Unfortunately, protest is coupled with the demand for guaranteed annual income which is bound to complicate the matter.

Changes in Our Advertising and Subscription List

Readers of the Bystander over the years may see a difference in the class and degree of advertising appearing in its columns. 40 years ago, few commercial concerns used its columns so much of the advertising was for hair straighteners, bleaches and the like. The classified columns were confined to a few real estate sales and an occasional menial job inquiry.

An example of the change is well illustrated in this week's columns. There is Younkers, one of Iowa's largest home-owned stores and an advertiser of many years; Hinky Dinky, a national grocery chain; Chicago Public Schools seeking teachers; professional and skilled jobs for American Can Company, Montgomery Wards and Pinkerton Security Officers. And in other issues, clerical and professional help with Dial Finance Company and with particular reference to the Anniversary Edition which included advertising space from most large corporations in the city.

The subscription list presents even more changes. While 40 years ago Negroes comprised practically all of the list, today most large corporations take the paper for their personnel officers, federal, state and city government agencies, charitable institutions, and a large number of businessmen and housewives subscribe for their office or home use. The Bystander is in the library of every junior and senior high school in the city of Des Moines.

These changes indicate a desire in many people for more information about what goes on in the Negro community and to further with more cooperation between them. These changes help Negro business and prove to the advertiser that such publications have an advertising value.

Valuable Quotes From Bud Wilkinson

Last week the Bystander quoted Bud Wilkinson, the famous football coach, in response to a question about the Negro athletes at Iowa who refused to show up for football practice. Another query was whether he thought athletes of yesterday were superior to those of today. He replied in the negative, explaining that the modern athlete is generally younger, stronger and more intelligent. Then too, there are so many outstanding athletes that the fact that one or more is outstanding does not excite the attention as was true years ago.

We agree with this view. Thus it appears that the human race is getting stronger and more intelligent, at least, in the field of athletics.

Taxpayers Ask IRS

Q - It's been 3 months since I filed and my refund still hasn't come. What should I do?

A - Write your regional IRS service center or telephone your local IRS office. Be sure to give your Social Security number, name, address, and when your return was filed. This information is needed to trace your return.

Most refund claims have already been processed and the checks mailed out.

Q - The agent examining my return wouldn't allow all the contributions I'd claimed. Is there anybody else at IRS I can talk to about this?

A - You may request a district conference to discuss the disallowed deductions. Procedures for doing this are explained on the notice you receive explaining the adjustment.

This conference will provide you with an independent review of the items questioned. Legal counsel is not needed but you may bring someone to represent you if you wish. In a district conference the taxpayer meets with an experienced conferee, who is not associated with the audit group that examined his return.

Q - Is any tax deduction allowed for expenses connected with duty in the military reserve?

A - The cost of your uniforms in excess of clothing allowance and their care and maintenance are deductible. Travel costs to evening reserve meetings are not deductible unless you worked at your regular job the day of the meeting.

Then you can deduct cost of a direct one-way trip from your job to the meeting, even though you may go home for dinner first.

Q - We are having a teenager stay with us this summer. Can we claim him as a dependent?

A - If he will be with you for just the summer no dependency exemption may be taken. To qualify as a dependent, a person not related to you must be a member of your household and live with you the entire year, in addition to meeting the other tests.

Q - When is a student taxed on what he makes working summers?

A - When earnings for the year reach $600, a return must be filed. However, with the taxpayer's personal exemption and the minimum standard deduction, there will be no tax to pay until income reaches $900.

Don't forget that if tax is withheld from your earnings, a return must be filed to obtain any refund that may be due.

Q - Do summer employees have to be included in a self-employed retirement plan?

Scarcity of Boxers

A few old timers were lamenting the fact that there just wasn't the number of boxers that there used to be and, of course, everyone had a simple reason. We thought one fellow hit on it when he said guys could make as much money working at trades as fellows who weren't top notch boxers made. And then we got to talking about the boxing price scales of say the thirties. Those two minute rounds brought you five dollars, and for two and 1/2 minute rounds meant seven fifty. For three minute rounds ran from seven fifty to ten dollars. Six two minute or as it was called six two's ran from twelve fifty to fifteen dollars. Six three's ran from fifteen to twenty five dollars, depending on who you fought and the place on the show for the bout. The closer to the main event, of course, the more money the bout paid.

Eight two minutes was from twenty five to maybe fifty dollars again depending on the opposition and the place on the card. Eight three's was from fifty to seventy five bucks and a ten round main event or semi windup was maybe a hundred or one hundred and fifty. Of course, if the local boy fought some really good outsider, he might get as much as two hundred and fifty for getting a real good pasting.

Dividing Purse Then there was always dollars. If you fought out of town, your manager usually manipulated things so he wound up with at least as much of your money as you did. There were always meals, hotel rooms, etc. to be deducted. A few of the local fighters we knew tried to get by without managers but they didn't get many fights. At least they got to keep what dough they did make.

Excuse Then because boxing at least in Iowa was never legalized, a promoter could and sometimes did come up short on your promised dough with the excuse of a poor crowd. There wasn't much you could do about it. But four of us fellows including yours truly did something at least once. We had gone to Panama for a show and the promoter skipped with all the money. Well, about a month later we spotted the fellow with a girl at a boxing show at the old Coliseum. We promptly ushered the guy out the door, took him around in the alley and didn't ask for our money, we just held him and took our dough from what he had on him. He had one helluva roll and a couple of the guys wanted to take it all, but we decided that would be robbery. So we gave the victim a receipt for the money we got and let him go back into the boxing show. And do you know we fellows never got invited to Panama again.

Health for All

NO "MIRACLES" HERE? Antibiotics don't really aid the healing of gums after a tooth extraction and in fact may hinder it, according to a statement by the U.S. Food and Drug Administration. FDA was reported taking steps to remove three antibiotics used for that purpose from its list of certified drugs.

DOING SOMETHING WRONG--Auto traffic deaths for the first two months of 1969 were four percent higher across the nation than in 1968--7,470 compared to 7,160. January, 1969 deaths, numbering 3,860 were the highest for any January in history.

NEW VACCINE--Government funds may fuel a nationwide drive to inoculate all children between the ages of two and 12 with the new German measles vaccine. The National Communicable Disease Center hopes to invest nearly 10 million dollars in the project for 1969-70, and about 16 million the following year.

GENUINE TEARS--Contrary to general belief, tear gas can cause serious eye injuries, according to Today's Health, monthly magazine of the American Medical Association. The Institute of Pathology of the armed forces reported that "14 eyes were removed from 13 patients because of tear gas," the magazine's April, 1969, issue relates. The gas may cause acute chemical damage "even in minute concentrations."

THE PRICE ISN'T RIGHT--Cigarette smoking by women during pregnancy can have a tragic effect, judging from the researches of Prof. C. Scott Russell, head of obstetrics at a hospital in Sheffield, England. After a 10-year study of factors that might have been associated with stillbirths, he concluded that "two of every 10 unsuccessful pregnancies in women who smoked regularly would have been successful if the mother had not been a regular smoker."

VETERANS

EDITOR'S NOTE: Veterans and their families are asking thousands of questions concerning the benefits their Government provides for them through the Veterans Administration. Below are some representative queries. Additional information may be obtained at any VA office.

WORLD WAR II VETERANS

The average World War II veteran, now 49.3 years of age, is fast approaching the higher premium hurdle of 50 if he still retains his G.I. term insurance, the Veterans Administration said today.

The VA says that in most cases the higher insurance cash outlay at age 50 can be eased in a number of ways.

One way is a modified life plan. If purchased at age 50, it will have a constant monthly premium of $15.90 for a $10,000 policy. However, when the insured reaches the age of 65, the face value of the policy is automatically reduced in half, but the premium remains unchanged.

The VA explains that many people find their insurance needs decline at or near the age of 65. However, the insured who wishes to continue the full $10,000 of his policy may do so without medical examination by paying an additional $5.15 per $1,000 at the age of 65. Thus, for the added $5,000 protection total monthly premiums would be $41.65.

Some 211,000 eligible veterans have taken advantage of this plan since it was made available in 1965. Another popular plan is the ordinary life (663,000 policies) where at the age of 50 the monthly premium would be $31.20 for $10,000 worth of protection. But with the annual dividend paid by NSLI the cost of the premium would be reduced to about $24 a month, the VA points out.

And, to make it even more convenient to convert from term insurance, the VA reminds veterans that if it is not possible to change now and the remainder continued as term insurance, with the privilege of full conversion later on.

Also available to NSLI term policy holders are 20- and 30- payment life, 20-year endowment, and endowments that mature when the insured reaches the age of 60 or 65.

Information on policy conversion may be obtained at the VA insurance office where the veteran mails his premiums. The insurance policy conversion may be obtained at the VA insurance office where the veteran mails his premiums. The insurance policy number and the veteran's full name and address should be included in all correspondence, VA said.

Social Security

QUESTION: I am drawing monthly social security benefits, and plan to move within the city. Is it necessary to notify anyone except the Post Office?

ANSWER: The Social Security Administration desires that each person promptly receive the amount due him; therefore you should contact the nearest social security office either in person, by letter or telephone to change your mailing address.

QUESTION: I lost my social security card some years ago. Can I get a new one?

ANSWER: Yes, phone or write to your nearest social security office and they will send you the proper form to complete so that you can receive a new card with the same number you had previously.

QUESTION: If I live in a locality that does not have a full-time social security office will it be necessary for me to travel to the district office city?

ANSWER: No. Field Representatives from the district offices travel to the outlying areas and set up shop to help people, like yourself, with applications for benefits, to give information about social security, and to render the same assistance given at a district office. For information when and where you may contact the representative in your community, call at your local post office.
