Arrest Triggers Waterloo Disturbance

Held in Jail; in Lieu of $2,500 Bond

WATERLOO, IA. A second suspect in the attempted break-in that triggered a brief racial outbreak here Friday night was arrested by police yesterday afternoon.

Charged and held in the city jail on in lieu of $2,500 bond was Willie James Wilder, 15. He was arrested at his residence at 56 Cascade Ave., in connection with the thwarted break-in at the B & W Market at the corner of E. 4th and Adams streets.

It was the thwarting of the apparent break-in attempt by an off-duty policeman that had resulted in the minor disturbance Friday night.

Two full shifts of policemen were dispatched to the Sullivan Park area after a crowd of black youths began gathering following the arrest of a Negro teenager inside of the grocery store.

Police said that officer James Cook, himself a Negro, who was off duty, was riding in a friend's car about 10:45 when he noticed some black youths entering the B & W Market, at the corner of East Fourth and Adams streets, through a broken window in the store's door.

Arrests Hodges
When Cook entered the store police said, he apprehended Dennis Hodges, 16, of 302 Mobile St. The rest of the five youths ran.

More police were called to the scene when groups of black youths started gathering in Sullivan Park and in the parking lot of Whitey's Drive-In, across East Fourth Street from the food market.

When police arrived, the crowd of some 50 to 75 persons threw cherry bombs, firecrackers, bottles, and bricks at the police and their cars. The police, who had been dispatched in two groups to 4th and Adams streets and to 4th and Almond streets, withdrew.

Squad Car Damaged

One police car, which had stalled, had its windows and its red top signals broken and was also dented. There was no estimate on the total damage.

After the approximately 50 police who were dispatched to the scene withdrew, the area quieted down in about two hours. The damaged police car was towed from the area.

Hodges on Probation

Hodges, who was on probation from juvenile authorities, was charged with delinquency and breaking and entering.

Racial disturbances followed Hodges' arrest last August on charges of breaking into the Paramount Theater.

Hodges suffered minor wounds on Aug. 17, 1968, when he was shot by a stake-out detective in the vicinity of the theater.

Detectives had staked out the theater area after they discovered loot from the burglary stashed nearby.

Hodges was wounded when he and two friends came to the cache of stolen property, allegedly to collect the goods.

Hodges fled when the detectives told him to stop, and one detective fired a charge of birdshot, wounding the youth.

No report was available on what was taken from the store, formerly called The North Waterloo Meat

Picketing of Del Farm Store Ends

WATERLOO, IA. -- An agreement has been reached between Del Farm officials from Davenport and the group of young blacks who picketed the Del Farm store at 715 E. 4th St. Thursday, Terry Hollins, speaking for the pickets, said yesterday.

Specific details of the agreement have not been released yet, but a written statement was given to the group by the store officials. The pickets had been withdrawn yesterday.

The picketing group had, among other things, objected to hiring practices.

The manager of the store here had no comment to make about the agreement or the picketing.

Some Demands

1. More full time Negro employees.

2. Prices in accord with those at their other stores—more reasonable prices.

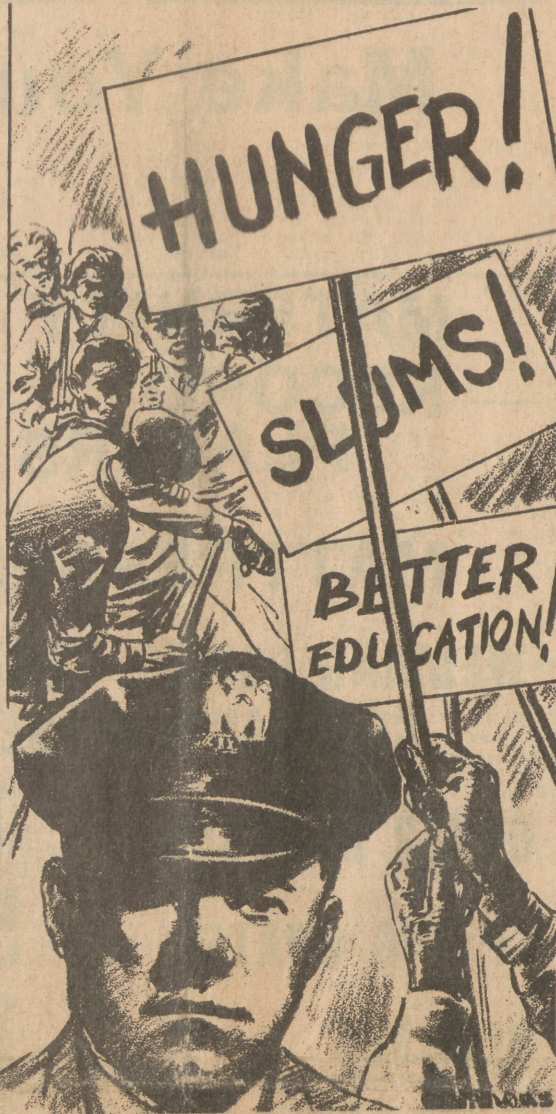

3. More courteous service from clerks.

A spokesman announced at church that all demands, and more, were agreed upon.

There is a plan to picket other stores.

NIXON MAINTAINED THAT THE "GREAT MAJORITY OF THE PEOPLE IN OUR CITIES" ARE NOT ANTI-NEGRO, ANTIWELFARE, ANTIPOOR, OR REACTIONARY HATERS. RATHER, NIXON SAID, THEIR "LOUD AND CLEAR" CALL IS FOR DOMESTIC PEACE. "THAT'S THE MESSAGE FOR THE CANDIDATES IN THE FUTURE," HE DECLARED.

Elementary Schools Named for Shimek, Helen Lemme

BOHUMIL SHIMEK

HELEN LEMME

The two new elementary schools planned for Iowa City will be named for the late Bohumil Shimek and the late Helen Lemme.

Shimek, who died in the early 1930s, was a world-famous University of Iowa botanist and a native of this area born near Shueville in 1861.

A school for kindergarten through sixth grade which will be located in north Iowa City, will be named for him.

Helen Lemme, for whom a school planned for the east side of Iowa City will be named, was a local civil rights and community leader who also was prominent in local and state political affairs.

She died in a fire in her home last December.

The Iowa City School Board at a meeting Tuesday decided to honor the Market. The disturbance came just as shifts were changing at the police department. Among those at the scene was Police Chief Robert Wright.

Police said three other juveniles presently held in connection with another case, are also being investigated for possible participation in the burglary.

two persons from a list of about eight suggested by the public.

School board member Arthur L. Campbell noted that at one time Iowa City had a school named after Shimek.

It now is a residence on North Dodge Street, near Governor Street.

He also noted that about 15 years ago, when the School Board was discussing the naming of schools it agreed informally that Shimek should be reserved for a new school on the northside area where the botanist had lived.

Henry W. Piro, board president, said Mrs. Lemme's efforts to aid and encourage UI students were well known though she made no effort to publicize them.

Member Dr. Raymond F. Sheets said she surely had as much or more "influence for good in this community" than any other one individual.

Both elementary schools will open in the fall of 1970. The Shimek School will be located at Grissel Place south of Interstate 80 and east of North Dubuque Street. Lemme School will be off Washington and Dartmouth Streets. —Iowa Press-Citizen -- Wednesday, June 25, 1969

Iowa Included in Ford Graduate Study Grant

NEW YORK, July 11 -- The names of 104 Negro faculty members who will receive awards for advanced graduate study during the 1969-70 academic year were announced today by the Ford Foundation. The grants, totaling $937,713, were made to seventy universities and colleges, both black and white.

Individual awards range from $6,400 to $14,015. They include an allowance for tuition, fees, books, and travel, and a stipend equivalent to three-quarters of the faculty member's salary.

Included in the list of recipients by state and college is Henry H. Parker, University of Northern Iowa, Cedar Falls, Iowa. His grant is $9,751.

Floor Care Idea

Protect the rug under baby's high chair by placing it on a piece of Masonite Tempered Preswood. Your lumber dealer can supply you with a cut-to-size piece in quarter-inch thickness. Dad can round the edges and corners and the rug-saver will be ready. Keep it looking nice by applying several coats of penetrating sealer, varnish or shellac. It washes easily with a damp cloth.

Test Truth in Lending Law

NEW YORK CITY -- The nation's first suit under the federal Truth in Lending Law was filed this week in the United States District Court against a Harlem merchant who failed to advise a customer that 18 per cent of the cost of his new TV set, purchased on time, was interest.

The NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund, Inc. (LDF) teamed up with the Harlem Consumer Protection Union to bring the suit only hours after the law -- passed by Congress in 1968 -- went into effect.

The action was against the Future Furniture Company, 2 East 125th Street, which sold an Admiral Console TV set to Henry A. White for $338.33.

GRENADA, MISSISSIPPI--

"The fact that a girl has one child out of wed-lock does not forever brand her as a scarlet woman underserving of any chance for rehabilitation or the opportunity for future education."

That was part of a federal court ruling won last week by the NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund, Inc.

Because of the ruling, two Negro girls in Mississippi -- Clydie Marie Perry, 19 and Emma Jean Wilson, 16 -- have the opportunity to return to school next September.

WASHINGTON, D.C.--The

July 1, 1969, increase in the base pay of members of the Armed Forces will mean an automatic increase in dependency and indemnity compensation (DIC) payments to approximately 160,000 recipients of monthly DIC checks, the Veterans Administration announced today.

Des Moines, Iowa--Silas Ewing, president of the Des Moines Commission on Human Rights and Job Discrimination, has written Mayor Urban that a lack of interest of its members is threatening the life of the organization.

Fayette, Mississippi--Charles Evers was sworn in Monday as Mayor of Fayette, Mississippi, the first Negro to be so honored in an interracial southern town since reconstruction days.

Des Moines, Iowa--Russell Pounds has resigned as director of the Model Cities program and will return to Iowa State University to continue his studies.

Washington, D.C.--Emperor Haile Selassie of Ethiopia is in Washington for conferences with President Nixon and members of the administration to discuss problems of mutual interest to the two countries.

WASHINGTON, D.C. -- Today more than 30 parents and children from four southern states are visiting offices on Capitol Hill to make a witness to their concern for the future of quality integrated education in America. The group came to Washington by a bus provided by the Southeastern Public Education Program of the American Friends Service Committee.

ogy. She is one of approximately 40 students selected from more than 600 applicants to receive Ford Foundation support for advanced study.

Miss Ward was the top student in the 1969 graduation class at Alabama A & M College in Normal where she received the B.S. degree in zoology. As a sophomore, she received the President's Cup for outstanding academic achievement.

JACKSON, MISS. -- The

six month period of grace during which the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People adopted a "wait-and-see" attitude towards President Richard M. Nixon's Administration ended with a bang at the Association's 60th anniversary convention which closed here Saturday, July 5. The bang resounded throughout the nation.

The opening salvo was restrained comment by Executive Director Roy Wilkins during a pre-convention news conference. Responding to a reporter's question, the NAACP leader expressed the Association's concern and unhappiness over portending developments within the Administration. Later he was to return with a vigorous attack upon the Administration's abandonment of the September 1 deadline for school desegregation.

Dismayed

Meanwhile dismay spread and tension mounted in the 100 degree Jackson heat as indications seeped through from Washington of Administration back-downs on civil rights issues. At no time in recent years has the White House come in for such sharp criticism as emanated from this year's NAACP convention. This despite a cordial and well received letter of felicitation from President Nixon in which he hailed the NAACP "as the largest and most respected of our civil rights organization with a very special part to play." And the message continued, "I look to you for guidance and inspiration, as well as for support and strength."

Following the reading of the President's message at the convention's opening mass meeting, Bishop Stephen G. Spottswood, chairman of the Board of Directors, assailed the Administration in his keynote address. The Administration, he charged, "is still not satisfied that the hocus-pocus with the Voting Rights Act will choke Negro voter registration. So the new tax bill, soon to come up in the House, seeks to bar foundations from giving funds to some organizations to conduct voter registration campaigns. They have included some cute language which means one thing and says another, but the effect will be to cut the Negro voters' throats. In its wild desire to get at the foundations, Congress is stomping Negro voters, not just breaking their fingers, but beating out their brains. These are samples of how a law and order government works."

Resolution

An emergency resolution unanimously adopted at a plenary session the next morning, July 1, "strongly urged the President of the United States to exercise every authority of his office to strengthen, not weaken, HEW desegregation requirements and to exercise the full authority of his office to ensure swift and firm compliance with the law of the land. Anything less would be an invitation to disaster." The full text of the resolution was sent to President Nixon and the HEW Secretary Robert H. Finch.

LIBERATION OF NEGRO STILL NAACP PURPOSE

BISHOP TELLS CONFAB
JACKSON, MISS. -- The objective of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People remains what it was in 1909 -- "to liberate the black American from second-class citizenship," Bishop Stephen G. Spottswood, chairman of the NAACP Board of Directors, declared in his keynote address opening the Association's six-day 60th Anniversary convention which closed here, Saturday, July 5.

"Despite the temptation, we do not join the rioters and the preachers of hate and violence. But we do join all those forces which are challenging, in a persistent and even irreverent manner, the present dangerous drift of our country."

SPINGARN MEDALIST SEES VOTE AS VITAL FACTOR

Presentation of the coveted gold medal, awarded annually to a Negro American for distinguished achievement, was made at the July 1 mass meeting by Mrs. Bruce B. Benson, president of the League of Women Voters of the United States, an organization which, as an affiliate of the Leadership Conference on Civil Rights, has collaborated with the NAACP in lobbying for civil rights legislation.

Mr. Mitchell was cited for "his uncompromising rejection of racism, white or black...for his abiding faith in the democratic process as a means of achieving freedom and equality for all; and for the pivotal role he has played in enactment of civil rights legislation, particularly the Civil Rights Act of 1968 with its Fair Housing title" -- achievements which have won him the honorary title, "The 101st United States Senator."

SCHOOLS IN CRISIS WORKSHOP

A hard-driving workshop on "Schools in Crisis" sparked the first afternoon plenary session of the 60th anniversary convention of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People which closed here Saturday, July 5.

The consensus of opinion among the four speakers was that community control of both the operation and funding of local schools is the surest method to improve the education levels of poor black children.

GOVERNMENT PROCEDURES EXPLAINED

Both Samuel Simmons, assistant secretary for Equal Opportunity, Department of Housing and Urban Development, and Samuel H. Johnson, representing the public information office of the Bureau of Census, explained methods and procedures to make government programs work for all the people.

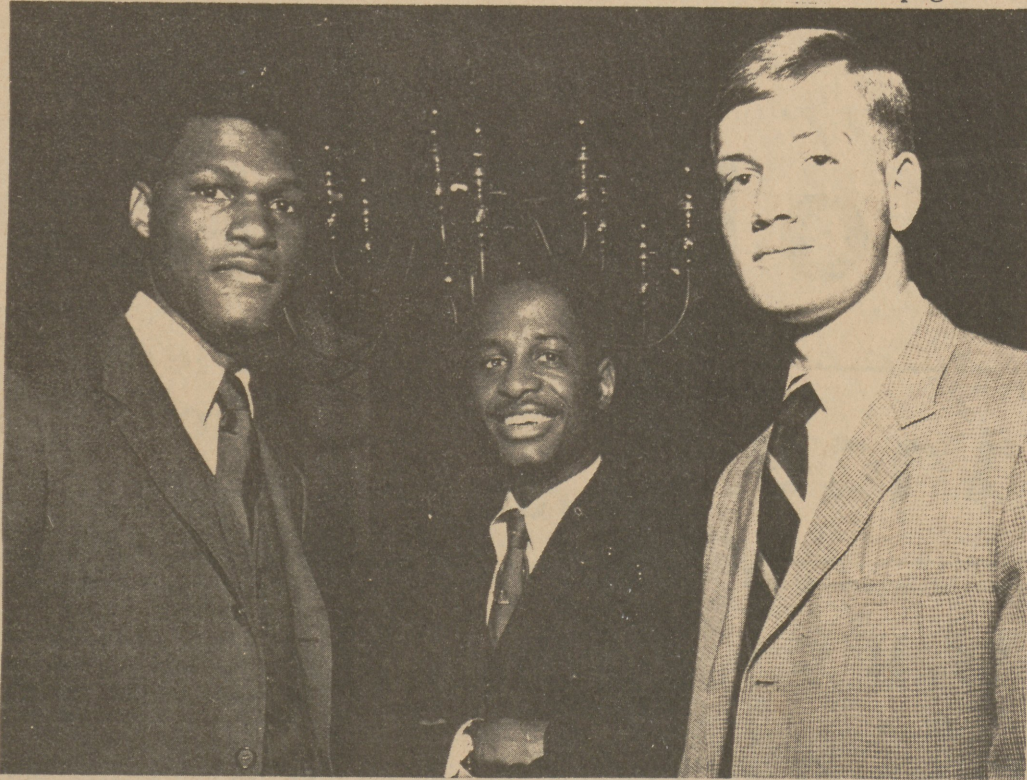

Mr. Simmons explained that "The true sleeping giant in Title VIII is a little known provision that states that the Secretary of HUD 'shall administer the programs and activities relating to housing and urban development in a manner affirmatively to further the policies of this title.'" He pledged "every ounce of energy that I and my staff have to carry out this job."

1969-70 Americare Scholars

American Republic Insurance Company proudly announces the Americare Scholars for 1969-1970. The Selection Board has picked three scholars from Des Moines to participate in its scholarship-internship program. The winners are Bob Luxen from North High School, Jerome Clinton from East High School, and Sherri Cade from Tech High School who has been chosen to fill an existing vacancy. Each possesses a drive and a thirst for knowledge which sets him or her apart from other students, and which has qualified Bob, Jerome, and Sherri for the Americare Scholarships.

The Americare Scholarship-Internship Program is designed to discover able and financially needy young people in the greater Des Moines community and aid them in obtaining a college education in liberal arts or business administration at Drake University. In addition to academic enrollment at Drake, each recipient is awarded a work-internship at American Republic's National Headquarters office in Des Moines.

The work-internship provides an opportunity to apply and test the knowledge and insights gained through the university experience. Recipients work part-time during the academic year and full-time during the summer months. For their work, students receive a salary and a two week's summer vacation with pay.

A student at North High School, Bob Luxen feels one of the greatest attributes of his high school is the opportunity to learn from the large variety of people attending school there. Bob is unhappy about the recent publicity North has received, and feels it is now the responsibility of each student to disprove the notoriety to the Des Moines community. He is active in football and was named to the All City Team as center. He also participates on the basketball, baseball and track teams. Bob, a member of the North High School student council, was president of the Inter-City Student Council and is a member of his high school paper staff. He is particularly fascinated with stocks and bonds, and at Drake, he will major in Business Administration.

Jerome Clinton feels unfavorable publicity at East High School will pinpoint the curx of the problem faced by the school. The disturbances have brought to the surface questions which need to be answered and problems that must be solved. Jerome is a letterman in track, and participates in the band and the Latin Club. He has worked part-time at the State House, delivering, picking up and sorting mail. Jerome feels Drake University is an excellent school and plans to enroll in the College of Liberal Arts this fall.

Sherri Cade, a senior at Tech High School, is a girl of varied interests. She is a tennis enthusiast and is a member of the Tech tennis team. Sherri belongs to the Drama Club, working both on stage and behind the scenes. Reading is one of her favorite hobbies, and she enjoys novels and books concerning current events. Sherri and her family love to travel and frequently plan short weekend jaunts. She feels Tech High School affords its students a great opportunity to develop a trade if they do not plan to attend college. Their pro-

Activities in Model Cities Program

The Model City Neighborhood Organization met Monday evening at Forest Hill Opportunity Center with 150 residents present. Joe Alexander, chairman, presided.

He stated that we are meeting to try to solve the problems of the neighborhood through love, friendship, respect for each other's ideas and mutual understanding. Housing is the number one problem.

Ralph Guisinger, chairman of Model City Planning Board stated the first year program of action. The architects have planned a housing complex for the elderly at the 12th street, University to Carpenter area.

Property Owners Complain
Hobert DePatten read a letter from the property owners association recommending:

1. Property owners on Boards dealing with inspection and enforcement of the Health and Housing Code.

2. Reassessment and re-evaluation of equitable taxation on all properties.

3. Grant the property owners the right of redress as result of tenant's willful or malicious destruction of property.

4. Grant property owners right of immediate eviction waiving a three day notice as result of damages or unsocially acceptable people without threat of lawsuit.

Miss Bea Brock was introduced by Mrs. Georgana Alexander, a nutrition and food specialist with Iowa State Extension Service, Ames, located in the Federal Building, Room 601. She stated that Mrs. Josephine Pickett, Gloria Richardson, Georgana Alexander and Anita Sheeley are working in the area helping in providing services in family buying, budgeting, diet, and household care.

Day Care

Sister Lillian Chance, 1718 12th St., educator and former teacher at St. John's School has opened up a new day care, pre-school and tutoring service to help raise the educational level of the children in the ar-grams enable students to get a job while providing them with a good academic training, too. Sherri excels in accounting and plans to make it her major at Drake. The recipients are chosen by the combined efforts of the Screening Committee and Selection Board. The

ROMNEY ADDRESSES
60TH ANNUAL NAACP
MEET IN JACKSON

JACKSON, MISS. -- After tracing three prior eras of turbulence in our nation, those of the Revolutionary War, the concern over the Articles of Confederation of the United States, and the Civil War itself, he indicated that the present times are another interval when our society is seriously challenged for its very survival.

As he said, "Our Chief domestic ill is racism, black and white. It has intensified the urban crisis. We must work for our nation's future by giving priority to these three topics in this order of importance: stopping the war in Vietnam, curbing inflation, and solving the problems of the cities."

Getting right to the heart of the matter, Mr. Romney stated that "The plight of the inner city poor has been aggravated as industry and business have followed the movement to the suburbs, removing jobs beyond the reach of those who lack both private and mass transportation."

LIFE MEMBERSHIP
SUPPORT SWELLS

JACKSON, MISS. -- An enthusiastic crowd of more than 500 persons attending the twelfth annual NAACP

Life Membership luncheon held here pledged vigorous support of the body's ongoing Life Membership program. The luncheon was a feature of the six-day 60th anniversary NAACP convention which closed Saturday, July 5.

A high point of the event which was jointly conducted by NAACP president Kivie Kaplan and Dr. Benjamin F. Grant, Gary, Ind., Life Membership chairman, was the presentation of a $61,000 check presented by Thomas Turner, on behalf of the Detroit Branch.

MEDGAR EVERS AND OTHERS REMEMBERED

AT NAACP MEET
JACKSON, MISS. -- A moving tribute to Medgar Evers, Mississippi martyrs and other deceased freedom fighters was a highlight of the NAACP's 60th anniversary convention during services conducted Friday morning, the Fourth of July.

Speaking to the delegates, many of whom had been at Medgar's funeral services in this same building just six years ago, Aaron Henry, president of the Mississippi State Conference of Branches, recalled how he had heard of Medgar's assassination. He concluded his moving account by saying, "Although Medgar was shot in the back, he fell forward his full six foot length. There's six foot of progress we've gained in our struggle for equal rights in the nation. We won't have to go over these six feet again."

Charles Evers, Mississippi NAACP Field Director, brought tears to the eyes of more than half of the delegates when he talked directly to his murdered brother. "Medgar, as long as there is hate and prejudice, we'll have to have services like this one. Dying isn't the worst thing, it's the way we die and what we're doing that really matters. Medgar, you're still working with us and for us. Ain't nobody going to stop us."

Medgar's widow, Mrs. Myrlie Evers, told the group that he gave all his time, energies and his total life. "Medgar still lives in my heart and the heart of all the nation."

The sick should include only those in hospitals, which should be separate from the church news. Dead-line for news is Tuesday at twelve noon and dead-line for advertising is Tuesday at 5 o'clock.

Jehovah Witnesses Meet in Kansas City

Delegates to the "Peace On Earth" International Assembly of Jehovah's Witnesses set for July 18-25 at Municipal Stadium, Kansas City, were advised this week by convention officials that their Circuit Supervisors will head all delegations.

A "circuit supervisor," according to local Witnesses, is the minister who visits area congregations three times annually to stimulate Bible teaching techniques. Nearly 60 circuit overseers will spearhead the some 36,000 delegates expected for the eight-day session.

N. H. Knorr, President of the worldwide Bible educational movement of Jehovah's Witnesses, is principal speaker at the Kansas City meet.

The Witnesses intend to practice another identifying mark of theirs while attending the Kansas City program, which is their international ability to plan and conduct conventions of every size. Locally, the circuit prepares two assemblies a year, miniatures of the scheduled midwest event. Even the Kansas City program is dwarfed by the global network of 25 conventions conveniently located internationally to train more Witness ministers at one time than ever before in history. Convention officials in Kansas City indicated a mass baptism of hundreds of new ministers will be one of the convention highlights. Last year more than 87,000 were baptized throughout the earth during similar worldwide assemblies.

All seven thousand volunteer workers assigned in 20 departments at Kansas City, plus countless thousands more around the earth in the remaining two dozen conventions, will apply the same techniques of convention management and operation that they do here when renting local auditoriums for abbreviated sessions.

William Heath is host pastor. Geneva Robinson, Secy.

AME Bishop Backs Demands

Philadelphia, Penn.—The Right Reverend John Douglas Bright, Sr., presiding bishop of the First Episcopal District of the African Methodist Episcopal Church, has come out in support of the Black Manifesto. Bishop Bright read a statement favoring provisions of the controversial document at the recent First Episcopal District Planning Conference, meeting in St. James A.M.E. Church, Atlantic City, N.J., June 26-27, 1969. "The Black Manifesto," declared Bishop Bright, "rightly demands that the churches demonstrate in fact their commitment to the establishment of economic justice for blacks whose years of slavery, degradation, and continued exploitation have contributed significantly to the wealth of the churches and the society. The churches must lead the way in making restitution to black people through the allocation of massive financial resources to black communities to be used for the economic development of these communities."

The Hawkeye Institute of Technology of Waterloo, Ia. has appointed Rev. Percy W. Burt as a member of the advisory committee on minority matters. Rev. Burt feels that if all the pastors in Iowa would have some member of their church to sell the Bystander each week this would increase the distribution of this paper, that more black people would be reading the Bystander.

Glen Perkins was the guest speaker on Men's Day at Bethel A.M.E. Church. He could have chosen an easy topic. It would have been easy to speak about christian ethics or some subject that everyone had been bored to death with before, but he did not elect to do that. Rather, he decided to speak about the roll of the church in the community. The church as a living breathing and functional organization of people.

Mr. Perkins traced the history of the civil rights movement, all the way from the supreme court decision of 1954 to the present day cries of the establishment for law and order.

He cited the fact that for the first time, the black community in America is trying to get together and function as one body working toward the improvement of its resources. Going further, he mentioned the efforts of the establishment to maintain friction and disunity within the heart of the black community.

He concluded his speech by saying that the black community must get together. The black community has a job to do. It must open up its eyes and question what the white community is doing with black money. Many businesses are more than willing to take a black man's dollar, but for some reason are rather reluctant to hire any qualified black man who is holding the dollar.

He told the black community to wake up and look about them. See what is going on before it is too late to do anything about their situation. Only the black community can change the course of its future, but if it does not elect to do so, you know who will.

The fellow who can't keep a stiff upper lip should never try to trim a mustache.

FRANCES KOLE BAN-KOLA, (Mrs. S. I.) ended her Midwest stay Sunday morning as she enplaned for New York City where she planned visiting friends and making small jaunts to New Jersey and Connecticut. She expected to arrive in Lagos by July 10. After several days with her immediate family, Mr. and Mrs. James Hunter, Mr. and Mrs. Ruby Deering and son, Anthony, and other relatives, Frances still made it to the family's reunion and made whirlwind out-of-town pop-calls. Tucking away a doll, a last minute additional gift to the twins, Francine and Felecia, from her Aunt Alberta (Mrs. Hunter), Frances made her way to the waiting plane. Her visits to the States are most pleasurable for her, for her family and for her friends! The former Iowa girl worked and sacrificed to gain a university degree, met and married a young Nigerian whose ambitious goals brought him to the Midwest and a career as an architect. She wears with great pride a dual citizenship. She is thoroughly knowledgeable about her country, Nigeria, and in many small as well as larger ways acquaints one with her homeland in West Africa. Postcards, magazines, newspapers, and snapshots of family and social gatherings help satisfy our interest in her new life, friends, surroundings, and general community living. Needless to say, we long to visit Nigeria and other gloriously beautiful spots. So many careers seem to beckon! A big, big world awaits one there, it seems!

ESTHER WADSWORTH (MRS. HERMAN) is justifiably proud of her husband in his role as Assistant Director of O.E.O. He is dedicated and thoroughly enmeshed in the workings of the program, which he must help guide. But any woman will readily appreciate the great joy she expressed when showing me Herman's labor of love—a new porch produced by unending hours of backbreaking toil! Let's take a look! The porch is L-shaped—20' both ways and 8' deep; the flooring Armstrong Excelsior is beige; walnut paneled walls; green, orange and gold flecked drapes line the North window and triple East windows. Bold orange drapes cover the patio door leading from the porch to the dining room. A walnut desk is located against the North wall; a long walnut coffee table, made by Herman, Jr. while he was at East High, is along the East wall; a handsome black leather, reclining chair stands by the South wall; in the Southwest end of the L-shape is a 7' black leather couch. Herman's planning did not end here! He employed the services of Dave Davidson to fashion a new kitchen for Esther! I understand it is Davidson who remodeled the Union Baptist Church Basement, you know! And to name a few private homes where his talents have been used we have that of the Harry Flippings, Frank Burkes and Mrs. Dorothy Reed! Back to Esther and Herman's abode: the kitchen is all cherry wood walls and cupboards. My dears, the kitchen is all electric—the appliances bronze. The snack bar is white-flecked and the stools tangerine colored. Hey, the ceiling is gold-flecked, a Davidson touch, I understand. All in all a perfect setting for lovely Esther, who has long been recognized as a talented singer. She performs for many community affairs, one of the most recent was her appearance at the Governor's Banquet held at a local church and her performance at the John F. Kennedy Club's banquet held at Hotel Fort Des Moines. The Wadsworths reside at 1410 E. 18 Street.

FROM CHICAGO TO LAKE AHQUABI AGAIN

CAME EMMA AND FORREST SMITH! Bulging picnic baskets, a couple or three loaded ice chests, swim suits, youngsters, relatives and friends filled the several cars awaiting the arrival of these two! After laughter-filled greetings, hugs and handshakes, the merry caravan roared away to Lake Ahquabi. As dark descended, the party continued at the home of the leaders of the clan, Minnie and Frank Owens, Sr. Saturday was the usual pop calls, shopping and seeing the town. Saturday night was a big party at the home of the junior leaders of the clan, Charlene and Leroy Owens, Sr. Somehow and at some hour Sunday arrived. A bit of shut-eye and all managed to get-with-it enough to appear bright-eyed and happy in sunny summer outfits—at train time—with still a bit of visiting time to spare. Among the participants in this ongoing party were the Frank Owens' sons, Frank, Jr. and Frederick; and daughter and granddaughter, Gloria Williams and Lisa; Mrs. Linda Owens; the Leroy Owens' sons, Leroy, Jr., John and Patrick; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bennett, John Shook, Dick Jones and son, Kevin; Clifton Slaughter and John Hickey.

MET CAESAR GREENE AND INCIDENTALLY HIS FAMILY? HELEN AND THOMAS C. GREENE! Caesar, a 3 year old Brindle Boxer was actually the first member of the family to be seen as we pulled into the Greene's drive, therefore, deserves first mention! He's charming and displays wrestler-like affection (you can't help loving him). And more! He has a wall-to-wall carpeted doghouse and, according to the neighborhood kids, has air-conditioning and television! (Let's view Helen and Tom's pad next week? While they relax in Canada!)

Your professional beautician knows the answer...

Is peroxide needed to color unwanted gray hair?

Hair care and beauty experts know that the first traces of gray hair—and even slight fading of natural color after chemical relaxing—can dull a woman's appearance and make her look older than she feels. While most women hate these premature aging effects, many are hesitant about using permanent peroxide haircoloring which may change the natural hair color while coloring gray.

Professionally-trained hairdressers know the importance of their customers' preferences when unwanted gray becomes a problem. These experts also know that Clairol created semi-permanent Loving Care® hair color lotion without peroxide... to color only the gray without changing the natural shade. They also find Loving Care blends back color faded by chemical processing. Because of its mildness, Loving Care maintains healthy looking hair and lasts through a month of shampoos.

Whatever a woman's reason for wanting Loving Care for her hair, she is always wise to consult a professional beautician. Hairdressers are equipped with a family of fine Clairol products and the training to promise each patron the loveliest and most personalized haircoloring effects every time she visits her salon. If you dislike gray, and want no peroxide, why not ask your beautician to glamorize it with Loving Care?

Sepia Magazine Surveys Soul Fashion

Hairstyles, Fashions, and Builds which guys dig the most is SEPIA's headlined feature for July. Using a photographic questionnaire, survey teams questioned representative men on preferences for hairstyles, body builds, legs and clothing fashions. And then some background on each man was added to the questionnaire.

Some results are not exactly surprising, like...the bosom is here to stay and apparently the bigger the better. The same goes for legs." But what is surprising is a break-down of who digs big legs and big bosoms the most. "The older a man gets and the more education he absorbs, the more fascinated he becomes with obvious breasts and fleshy legs...Republicans are completely and hopelessly hung up on pounds of flesh around the bosom and legs. Democrats come off with a considerably more moderate approach to the subject, and those ruggedly independent voters seem to be the most broad-minded of all."

Variety may very well be the spice of life. But some of the shockers pointed out the SEPIA's pencil-pushing survey team seem to be saying that not all varieties of dishes do their best with certain kinds of spice!

Double Feature

IN THE SAME ISSUE OF SEPIA is a double-feature, "Black Unions-White Unions" showing the selfless heroism of a few trade unions on racial questions but the utter bigotry of most—including the U.A.W. "Clown Power" shows a change in complexion under the big-top. Ringling Brothers, this year, has finally added a black clown and a lively 2-ring act of black unicycle riders from the Bronx. To wrap-up the soul-on-wheels act, the Charles King Troupe take over the center ring and do a Harlem Globetrotters basketball act on one-wheel! Lou Rawls is featured in the entertainment section, "From Chitlin's and Cornbread to Champagne and Caviar". "Letters to a Ghetto Mother" grabs at the heart with a story about the mother of a dead Vietnam hero, unable to find a new and decent apartment while her son was alive, is yet unable to move out of squalor and violence because of bureaucratic bigotry and indifference.

Black History

BLACK HISTORY gets double-feature coverage in July SEPIA. Chapter VI of an ongoing series covers "1954": End of the White Man's Burden" recalls that the Supreme Court's Brown vs. Board of Education only unlocked the door. It remained for Daisy Bates and nine brave youngsters to start shoving it open. "Daisy Bates," the article says, "has carved a place for herself alongside Harriet Tubman and Sojourner Truth in black history." And a 2-page color poster recalls the battles of the all-black 54th Massachusetts Union Army Regiment in a battle near Charleston, S. C.

FLAMING PASSION IGNITES IMAGINATION

"Burn, baby, burn," is what many an enthusiastic barbecuer thinks to himself as he waits for his black charcoal to turn cooking white.

But the wait is worth it say those whose imaginations are fired up at the prospect of a cookout, and one of the hottest of the new ideas provides cold comfort.

The idea: gazpacho, a Latin-American soup served cold. For an international flavor, make it with American vegetables, an English beef concentrate, Italian cheese, and even Chinese noodles. (Chinese noodles in a Latin-American soup? Yes. In pre-Castro days, some of the world's finest Chinese restaurants were in Cuba.)

To make your gazpacho a group soup, arrange the ingredients on a table, then let each guest add ingredients to the soup in any amount (within reason) he sees fit. But keep control of the beef broth yourself; make that from Bovril, the nutritious English beef extract.

GAZPACHO

English beef broth	diced green peppers
Chinese noodles	parsley flakes
Italian cheese, grated	onion flakes
carrot strips	chick peas
green peas	rice

Prepare the beef broth by adding 3 teaspoons of Bovril for each quart of boiling water, cool, then serve, letting each guest add ingredients, amigó.

PRESIDENT'S DEMAND
FOR LAW AND ORDER
FAILS THE TEST

The Bystander supported President Nixon in his campaign last fall. And while he was not our choice at the Republican convention, he got the nomination and thus was entitled to the support in the general election. Governor Wallace polled quite a vote campaigning for, among other things, law and order. It had an appeal as campus fights and city disturbances were occurring over the nation. Therefore, some people supported him in spite of his unbearable position on many other issues.

Mr. Nixon also was committed to law and order. We felt that he would hew to the line in the conduct of the administration.

The constitution of the United States, particularly as amended during the 1960's guaranteed Negroes their full rights as citizens but subsequent courts misapplied its human rights principles which encouraged southern states to pass all kinds of laws denying the Negro what the constitution said he is entitled to.

Now, that there are laws which close up some of the loopholes that were in vogue prior to 1954, it is pretty clear that an administration must enforce them or it amounts to not for law and order for all people but for law and order when it is convenient.

Mr. Nixon's further extension of compliance with segregation guidelines by school districts places the administration in the position of calling for law and order out of one side of its mouth and disobedience to law and order on the other. The President certainly makes a mistake in deferring the enforcement of law which has been declared 15 years ago. Such tactics are not good examples of bold leadership in these times of turbulent living.

ADDING TO LAW ENFORCEMENT
DIFFICULTY

It is a common habit for American people to follow the ambulance, the police car and the fire engine as it proceeds to a trouble spot. There is little harm done except often somebody gets in the way or otherwise hampers the process of doing a job.

Recently police arrested a man in Waterloo for breaking into a building. A crowd gathered -- some onlookers, as is often the case -- took offense that the law was arresting a Negro and proceeded to raise a rucus.

It is unfortunate that many people have come to the thinking that policemen should not make arrest of law violators, reasoning that all arrests involve police brutality. This, of course, is wrong and simply stirs trouble where there is none. After all, an officer's job is to make arrests and if any damage is done it should not attempt to be settled on the spot.

The public must realize that all cops are not bad just as is the case with any other segment of the population. If we keep in mind that officers and not individuals are charged with law enforcement, the job of law and order can be made easier.

JOURNALISM SEMINAR
AT IOWA CITY

Last month, the Journalism department of Iowa University conducted a two-week seminar for recently graduated Negro high school students directed particularly toward those who are interested in journalism. They came from Waterloo, Davenport, Cedar Rapids, Des Moines and other Iowa communities.

The journalism staff planned and directed the program on which appeared representatives from the daily and weekly newspapers in Iowa, also television and radio stations. Lecturers, demonstrators, and counsellors came from daily and weekly newspapers which included the Iowa Bystander, the Jet Magazine of Chicago, and individuals working in the field of human rights.

These students were shown how news is gathered, how it is transmitted to the public, and what it takes businesswise, particularly advertising, to conduct a newspaper or a radio or television station.

Examples of other Negroes who have succeeded in the news media helped to advise these young people of the value of professional training in journalism and what it takes these days, in a highly competitive field in which there are too few of the Negro group, to succeed.

The program provided two weeks of concentrated counselling which, it is hoped, will help these youngsters to decide on their future course in life.

The experiment, we believe, is worthy of further development in the future.

BAPTIST LEADER
STRESSES ROLE OF CLERGY

In an arousing address delivered to more than 100 ministerial delegates attending the ministers' breakfast during the 60th Annual Convention of the National Association of Colored People, Rev. Thomas Kilgore, Jr., stressed the importance of an overall re-direction of the goals of priests, ministers and rabbis to stress priorities that will be both constructive and relevant.

Mr. Kilgore, the first minister of color to be elected president of the American Baptist Convention, told the clergymen that "our values are inverted...we cannot go on killing in Vietnam; we cannot continue to miseducate our children; we must move the nation from confirmation to reconciliation, and the prime movers are the preachers!!"

RACE BIAS BLOCKS
EQUAL OPPORTUNITY

JACKSON, MISS. -- William H. Brown, III, chairman of the U.S. Equal Employment Opportunity Commission, addressing the youth night mass meeting here, July 2, reminded the delegates that a college-educated black man earns, at the median, less than a white high school dropout -- barely two thirds what a white man earns with a comparable level of education. What is less widely known, but perhaps even more significant, is that the disparity of income between black and white in America actually increases with the level of education attained.

As he said, "this new knowledge can silence the great white voice that for generations has been telling black people, 'When you're ready, things will change.' At best it can form the basis for a more accurate appraisal of our situation...where we are now, where we must go from here. Why has education failed to bring about equality in income, or, to put it, another way, equality in employment? In a word, the answer is discrimination."

SPORTS

With Allen Ashby

What a weekend. We hope all the rain for the month came in last week at the Hawkeye Open tennis meet. That was probably the biggest meet held around these parts and the rain really knocked out what was to have been a big day at Good's Park where most of the adult finals were to have been played. But they had to go out to the Racket Club and spend the whole day. We got out there in time to see some of our old friends and were glad to greet the guy who really helped get our Hilltop Meet on the map.

Meet Old Friend

He was Don Klotz, former University of Iowa tennis coach. Back in the late fifties and early sixties when we were trying to get our meet established, Mr. Klotz brought his whole gang of players to our meet. At that time the tennis crowd just naturally followed the guy wherever he went so they came to our meet. Then when his busy schedule forced him to pass up our meet, a lot of the people he brought kept on playing until our Hilltop meet was really on the map. So we were glad to see the fellow be given an award for his work in tennis because he really helped a lot of youngsters learn the game and taught them real sportsmanship.

Morrow Boys

And yet in all of those nearly three hundred entries we counted only two Negroes, the Morrow boys. A fellow asked why this was so and we had to guess up an answer. We told him that most black youngsters who might become tennis players were pretty good at something else too, so it was just another game and they never really worked at it. Now if we could find some kid who liked the game and who would pass up other sports for it, we might have something. The Morrow boys work at the game and maybe one of them will come out of the pack.

Hilltop Meet

Our own Hilltop meet starts in a couple of weeks and we shall be interested to see how many people from the park get in that. The entry deadline has been moved up a week to avoid any flood of last minute entries, so better get in early.

The first thing to discount in some discount stores is the alleged savings on some of the merchandise.

Health for All

THE UNHOOKED
GENERATION

One million people a year quit smoking. But thousands start. Many of them are teenagers.

According to a recent nationwide survey, only about one percent of 12-year-olds smoke. But by age 17, 35 percent of the boys and 21 percent of the girls are regular smokers. Smoking is most common among teenagers whose parents and older siblings have the habit, according to the study which was conducted by Chilton Research Services of Philadelphia.

"Kick the habit and join the unhooked generation" is the slogan of the anti-smoking campaign of the National Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association. But a big slice of the "now" generation gets hooked every year.

Anti-smoking campaigns are having an impact, though. Teenage smoking and adult smoking -- is now declining. In the nationwide survey, 91 percent of the teenagers interviewed thought smoking was harmful. The same survey -- in comparison with another study done ten years ago -- showed a ten percent drop in teenage smoking.

In some areas of the country, teenagers themselves have organized their own anti-smoking campaigns. A group in California consulted the top advertising men in town, radio and TV programmers, and newspaper editors for tips on how to set up effective campaigns. Then they went ahead and produced a real smasher.

Styles are shifting fast, and smoking is losing some of its cool. It may be on the way out. But it's a slow exit.

One-fourth of all men and one-fifth of all women who have ever smoked have now quit. But it's a lot easier never to start. And some-but not enough-teens have gotten the message.

Bailliff Rideout Won't Run Again

BURLINGTON, IA. -- Burlington's municipal court Bailliff Cecil E. Rideout, who has held his present position since the court's inception 21 years ago, will turn in his badge Dec. 31.

In a brief statement Monday the courthouse veteran said he will retire to devote "More dedicated service to my religious and civic activities in the community" and that "I will not be a candidate for reelection this fall."

Municipal court judge, clerk and bailliff will be elected on a separate ballot at the same time two city councilmen are elected.

Sept. 23 is the last day for filing for court and city offices. The primary election is scheduled Oct. 21 with the general election on Nov. 4.

Appointed after a city referendum created the local court in 1948, the 65-year-old Rideout has since been elected four times to four-year terms as the court's official custodian of prisoners and evidence.

BIAS IN MODEL CITIES
PROGRAM

JACKSON, MISS. -- In an all-out effort to make certain that Negro craftsmen are employed in all phases of the Model Cities program, Herbert Hill, NAACP director of labor programs, announced that suits would be filed in Federal courts to prevent discrimination in these projects.

HUD Secretary George Romney denied, in a news conference the next day, that his agency had not entered into any contract for Model Cities projects and said Mr. Hill's charges were "unfair."

VETERANS

EDITOR'S NOTE: Veterans and their families are asking thousands of questions concerning the benefits their Government provides for them through the Veterans Administration. Below are some representative queries. Additional information may be obtained at any VA office.

Q -- I understand that a law was recently passed which increases the amount of a direct loan which the Veterans Administration can make to a veteran. If so, what is the new amount?

A -- Under a law signed by President Nixon on June 6, 1969, the VA may now make direct loans up to a maximum of $21,000. The old limit was $17,500.

Q -- My father is permanently and totally disabled due to a service-connected disability incurred in World War II. I am 19 years old and married. Am I eligible for educational assistance from the Veterans Administration?

A -- Yes. Marriage does not affect your eligibility to VA educational assistance if you are otherwise entitled under the War Orphans and Widows Educational Assistance Law.

Q -- I have a 10 per cent service-connected disability incurred in 1963. I am receiving $18 a month. Why don't I receive $23.

A -- Your disability was incurred during a peacetime period, so you are paid the authorized peacetime rate, which is 80 per cent (to the nearest dollar) of the wartime rate. The period from Feb. 1, 1955, through Aug. 4, 1964, is considered peacetime. The Viet-Nam era, from Aug. 5, 1964, to some future date, is considered wartime.
