"Goals Have Been Met," Pruitt

Letter to Chief Different From Resignation Story

Washington, D. C. -- The Small Business Administration announced today that Philip Pruitt has resigned as Assistant Administrator for Minority Enterprise.

In a letter to SBA Administrator Hilary Sandoval, Jr., dated today, Pruitt said, "As you know, my chief concern in coming to Washington was to help chart a course for a program that would be meaningful and helpful to the minorities of this country, and to bring cohesion to SBA's efforts in promoting minority enterprise. I believe we have now succeeded on both counts and so I respectfully submit my resignation effective July 12."

In accepting Pruitt's resignation, Sandoval in a letter to Pruitt said, "I accept your resignation with sincere regret. The fact that in the last quarter of this fiscal year, the first quarter of your stewardship, SBA has reached all-time highs in helping minorities is due in large measure to your personal efforts. I am grateful for the significant contribution you have made to the program. You may be assured that we shall continue our minority enterprise efforts with the same vigor and resolve with which they began."

At the same time, Sandoval announced that Arthur McZier, who has served as special assistant to Pruitt, will become Acting Assistant Administrator for minority enterprise.

McZier, 34, has had extensive experience in private business and was an analyst with the Office of Foreign Direct Investments at the U. S. Department of Commerce prior to joining SBA.

A graduate of Loyola University where he earned a B.S. degree in Business Management, McZier did social work for a year before joining the Seeburg Corporation as a member of its sales and marketing division.

National Bar Association to Meet in Durham

Durham, N.C., July 8, 1969--More than 350 Negro lawyers and their wives are expected to attend the National Bar Association convention at the Hotel Durham, July 29-August 2.

Charles M. Waugh of Muskegon Heights, Michigan, president of the association, will welcome the lawyers.

Topics to be discussed at the convention include: "Law and Urban Problems", "The Black Advocate", "Campus Unrest", "The Lawyer's Duty to Our Military Personnel", "The Negro Lawyer as a Member of the Judiciary", "Tax Planning for Black Business", and "Estate Planning."

Wide Participation

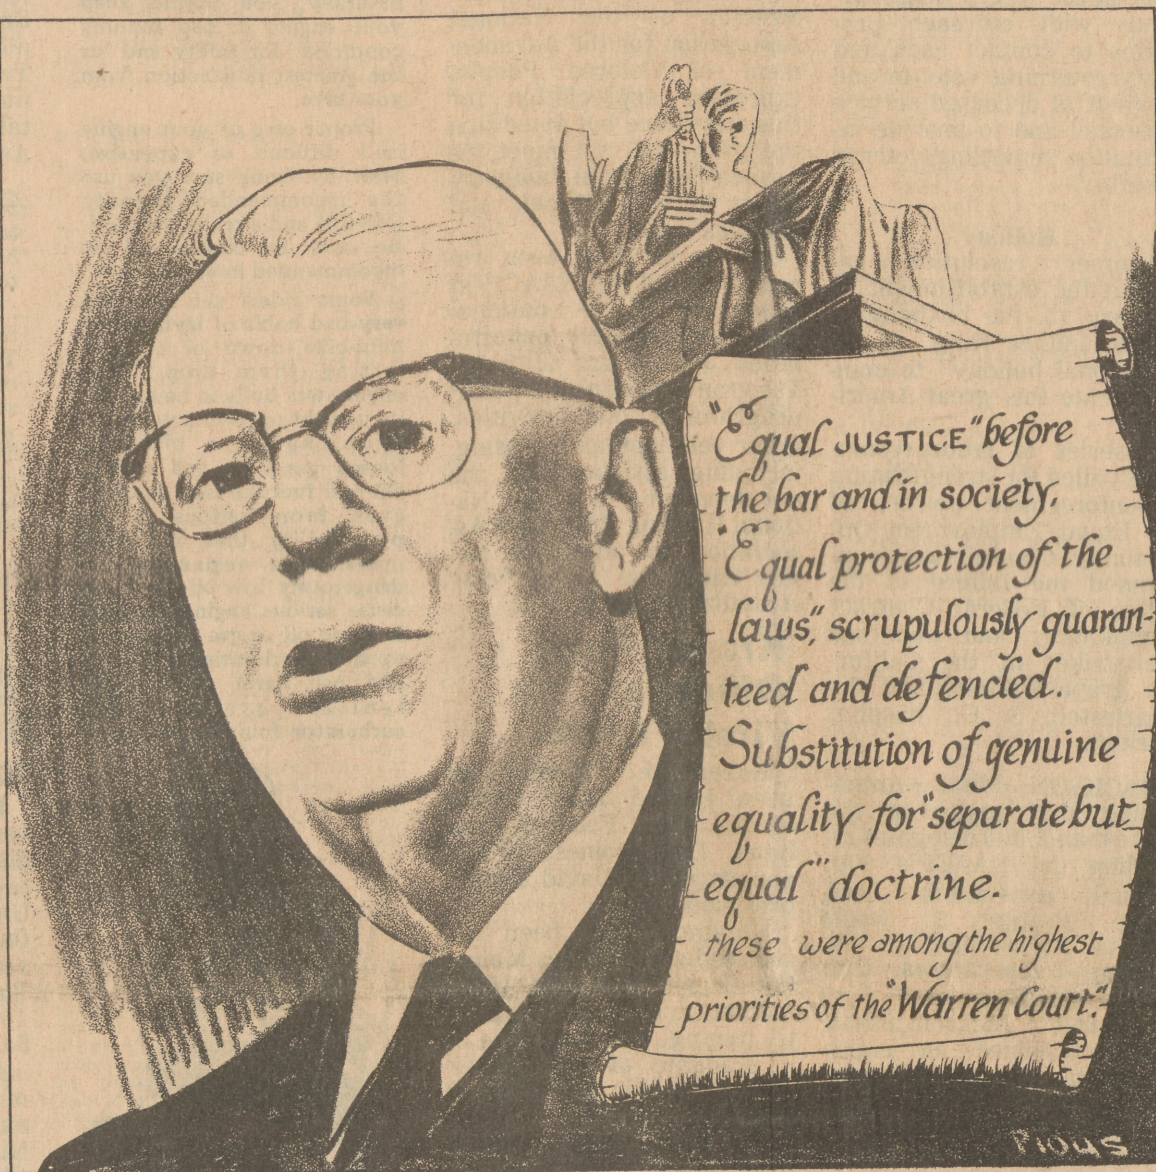

Leading lawyers and business, education and government leaders are expected to participate including Howard Lee, newly elected Negro mayor of Chapel Hill; Henry Fife of Greensboro, a member of the North Carolina General Assembly; Robert Morgan, North Carolina Attorney General; Kenneth Pye, Dean of Duke University Law School; C.C. Spaulding, Jr., presiding vice president of North Carolina Mutual Insurance Company; D.G. Sampson, Dean of the North Carolina Central University Law School; Howard Fuller, director of Community Improvement in Durham; and A. A. Lenior, Dean of the Southern University Law School.

The convention will elect officers, hold a reception and tour of the North Carolina Mutual Insurance Company and a visit to the Village Barn Theater.

The National Bar Association's auxiliary organization will meet during the convention.

The spring meeting of the executive committee of the National Bar Association was held in Des Moines in April.

MOLDED AMERICA TO A BETTER IMAGE!

Transportation General Counsel

Secretary of Transportation John A. Volpe administers the oath of office to new General Counsel James A. Washington, former Dean of the Howard University School of Law.

James A. Washington, former Dean of Howard University, was installed as General Counsel of the Department of Transportation today by Secretary of Transportation John A. Volpe.

In repeating the vows of the office, Washington became the first Negro to serve as General Counsel of a Federal agency with cabinet status.

As chief legal officer for the agency that has about 100,000 employees, he directs a staff of 20 lawyers on his immediate staff and supervises 260 lawyers on the legal staffs of the six operating administrations in the Department.

In this capacity, he will be the chief legal officer of the Department of Transportation, the legal advisor of the Secretary of Transportation and the Office of the Secretary, and the final authority within the Department of Transportation on questions of law.

By law, he will also exercise the responsibilities of a Judge Advocate under the Uniform Code of Military Justice with respect to the United States Coast Guard.

Rep. Franklin in Community Relations Job

State Representative A. June Franklin (Dem., Des Moines) has been named administrative assistant for community relations to Watson Powell, Jr., chairman and president of the American Republic Insurance Co.

Powell, announcing the appointment Thursday, said the new position was "a unique one, at least for Des Moines" and that Mrs. Franklin had written her own "description of the job."

Conviction

"Mrs. Franklin will be assigned fulltime to working in all areas of community relations, but most specifically those problems that exist for unemployable and underemployed citizens, both black and white," Powell said.

Creation of the position, he said, stemmed from a conviction that the business community has a deep obligation to solve problems of the cities today and must make "a total commitment" in order to get the job done.

Mrs. Franklin will have offices on the first floor of the American Republic building and will enjoy executive status, he said. She will be working "more outside than inside, helping people as individuals," he said.

NEW YORK, July 10 -- Although a record 392,000 U.S. women obtained family planning help from Planned Parenthood in 1968--more than three times the number served annually at the start of the 60's--this represents only a small fraction of the women needing subsidized family planning help.

NEWS In A Nutshell

WASHINGTON, D.C. -- How technically trained black Americans can meaningfully participate in the development of black countries in Africa, South America, and the Caribbean will be the focus of the forty-first annual convention of the National Technical Association, 27-30 August 1969, in Washington, D.C., according to George Worthy, Washington chapter president. The NTA, with active chapters throughout the United States, is a professional organization of black architects, engineers, scientists, builders, and technicians. Guyana, Trinidad and Tobago, Camerouns, Ghana, Ivory Coast, Nigeria, Senegal, Lesotho, Swaziland, Tanzania, and Uganda will send delegates. Embassies of other invited black nations have tentatively expressed positive intentions while awaiting final instruction from their home governments.

HOUSTON, TEX -- Cassius Clay's plea that his conviction on a charge of refusing to enter the armed forces be set aside was rejected Monday by Federal Judge Joe Ingraham.

An anticipated appeal could offset the order, but the former heavyweight champion was instructed to appear July 24 for resentencing.

WASHINGTON D.C. -- At least 609 human beings died on our highways the Fourth of July weekend. At least 26,000 more sustained personal injuries. Many in the latter category will bear marks of serious injuries for the rest of their days.

On a normal, non-holiday weekend in July, the Safety Council expects 500 deaths resulting from accidents involving vehicles. We are approaching a record of 60,000 deaths a calendar year.

ALGIERS, ALGERIA -- Fugitive Black Panther leader Eldridge Cleaver arrived in Algeria Tuesday as an official government guest.

Cleaver, minister of information for the Panthers, fled the U.S. last year while awaiting a parole revocation hearing in Calif.

NEW YORK, N.Y. -- Gospel singer Mahalia Jackson was named Monday co-chairman of a fund to raise money for a black militant writer accused of murder.

Miss Jackson became co-chairman of the Edwin Ellis Defense Fund along with Julian Bond, a Georgia state legislator. The chairman is Alfred Duckett, director of the Association Negro Press.

Chicago, Ill. -- More than 400 delegates representing 46 black owned and operated life insurance companies doing business in 28 states will gather at Miami Beach's Hilton Plaza Hotel between July 21-24 for the 49th annual convention of the National Insurance Assn., according to NIA president Wardell C. Croft, president of Wright Mutual Insurance Co. of Detroit.

East High Graduate; Held Numerous Federal and State Jobs

Hew Haven, Conn., July 14:--JAMES A. THOMAS, of the Senate Judiciary Committee's Administrative Practice and Procedure Subcommittee, has been named Assistant Dean of the Yale Law School, Louis H. Pollak, Dean of the School, has announced.

The new assistant Dean's work will be in Law School admissions, financial assistance to students, and in student affairs generally, Dean Pollak said.

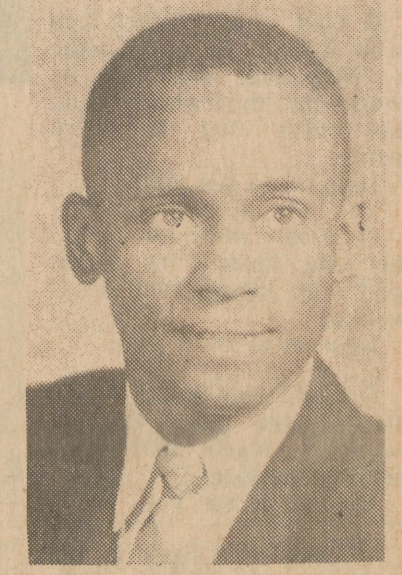

Yale Graduate

Mr. Thomas, who is a 1964 graduate of the Yale Law School, immediately entered active public service as an attorney for the Civil Rights Division of the Justice Department. In January, 1966, he became Executive Director of the Iowa Civil Rights Commission, and two years later was named liaison officer with the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission. In January, 1969, he joined the staff of the Administrative Practice and Procedure Subcommittee of the Senate Judiciary Committee, chaired by Senator Edward M. Kennedy.

Born in 1939 in Des Moines, Iowa, he is a graduate of East High School. He participated in school events; was an excellent athlete and worked in boys activities in the YMCA.

Thomas was an Olin Scholar at Wesleyan University, from which he graduated in 1961. There, he was active in student government, the student-faculty Relations mittee, and sports.

He is married to the former Effie Reed of Marianna, Arkansas, and they have one child. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas will live in Yale's Calhoun College, where Mr. Thomas will be a Fellow. He and his wife will assist as counselors for undergraduate men and women living in Calhoun.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Thomas, 1704 Walker Street

NAACP Highlights

JACKSON, Miss.--Resolutions adopted by the more than 2,000 delegates attending the 60th anniversary convention of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People here charted a course of action to eliminate racial bias in such vital areas as employment, economic development, housing, education, law enforcement and selective service. Other resolutions dealt with the Vietnam war, voting rights, and internal affairs of the Association.

Noting the "60 years of struggle," in which the NAACP has been engaged, the preamble said that the Jackson convention "has a significance above and beyond the simple tally" of the six decades. "We must have been more keenly aware than ever before that, for us, past achievements must not serve to relax."

The convention called upon "the government of the United States of America to institute the speediest measures to withdraw American troops from Vietnam.

Nigeria-Biafra Conflict
Grief was expressed for "the tragedy of the Nigeria-Biafra conflict" and the U. S. Government was implored.

A law enforcement resolution opposed "any action by Federal, state, county, municipality or department authorizing uniformed policemen to remove their badge, nameplates, frontpiece or any other mark of identification normally used in the regular performance of their duty."

Since there is a "complete absence of black trucking firms authorized to engage in national interstate transportation of household goods and or general commodities" be it resolved that branches of the NAACP support applications filed by black carriers...urging positive action by local and national ICC officers."

Draft Boards
It was stated that "This Continued to page 2

Disturbances on University Avenue Become a Habit

One policeman escaped serious injury Tuesday morning as a bullet pierced his trouser leg during a disturbance on University Avenue.

About 50 to 100 people gathered in the 1200 block on University Avenue. They were asked to leave and disperse by the police officers.

Police said the disturbance erupted shortly after midnight "when a bottle was thrown at a passing motorist."

Police said University avenue from Ninth to Thirtieth street was then blocked off to traffic and the area was declared unsafe.

Three of the four persons arrested and charged with failure to disperse from a disorderly assembly were Edward Frazier, 19, of 2715 Center st., Robert Hurt, 19, of 1522 E. Fifteenth st., and Luther Fulbright 19, of 1826 Allison ave.

Frazier, Fulbright and Hurt pleaded innocent to the charges later Tuesday before Municipal Judge Harry B. Grund. Grund scheduled hearings for the three for 1:30 p.m.

Juvenile

Juvenile Bureau detectives said the fourth person arrested, a 16-year-old youth taken into custody in the front yard of his home, was released to his parents.

Refuge

Police reported rock throwing and other depredations. The participants hid in homes on and around University Avenue. Chief of Police Nichols has threatened to file charges against the owners of homes to which these people escaped on the ground of harboring criminals.

NEW YORK, July 15 -- The Ford Foundation, which just a year ago made grants to several predominantly white colleges and universities to increase the enrollment of Negroes, today announced grants to help several urban institutions coordinate their efforts to overcome the problem of minority students' academic survival beyond the first years of college.

Some of Poverty's Children
Who Believe That God is Everywhere

O God who lives in tenements, who goes to segregated schools, who is beaten in precincts, who is unemployed

Help us to know you.

O God, who hangs on street corners, who tastes the grace of cheap wine and the sting of the needle.

Help us to touch you.

O God, who is pregnant without husband, who is child without parent, who has no place to play.

Help us to know you.

O God, who can't read nor write, who is on welfare and who is treated like garbage

Help us to know you.

O God who is black and who wishes he were white — NO! Not that he be white but that white would not wish that he were white.

Help us to see you.

O God, who lives and no one knows his name and who knows that he is nobody

Help us to know you.

O God, who is white and lives with Mr. Charlie, who is black and lives with Uncle Tom

Help us to see you.

O God, who lives in the projects of federal, state and city indifference

Help us to see you.

O God, whose toys are broken bottles, tin cans, whose play yard is garbage and debris, and whose play house is the floors of the condemned buildings

Help us to touch you.

O God, who is uneducated, unskilled, unwanted and unemployed

Help us to know you.

O God, who is dressed by the suburbs from the church clothing store

Help us to touch you.

O God, who moves every four to six months to another address in the city

Help us to know you.

O God, who hustles fifty cents for lousy wine, who sells copper and lead to clean his clothes.

Help us to touch you.

O God, who works all day, who feeds and cares for her children at night and dreams of better days, and is alone

Help us to know you.

O God who is without power, voiceless, who has no share in his destiny.

Help us to join you.

O God, who is unorganized, and without strength to change his world, his metropolis, his city, his neighborhood

Help us to join you.

O God, who is overwhelmed by the indifference, and apathy and status quo of so many who are good, Christian, and in church on Sunday

Help us to join you.

O God, who is full of guts to be human

Help us to join you.

convention has been appalled at being informed that there are no black members of draft boards in Mississippi where a disproportionate number of black young men are regularly drafted and sent to fight....Accordingly, we call upon the President of the United States and the Director of Selective Service to take immediate action to assure full and equal participation for black people in the operation of the Selective Service System."

A forthright resolution on education asserted: "We strongly support the concept of community control, of the public schools, particularly in big city school systems in the North and the West as a means of achieving fundamental changes in the schools and ensuring accountability of the public schools for pupil achievement."

In the area of housing, the assembled delegates agreed that "Vastly increased production of housing, especially for low and moderate income families, is essential if a freedom of choice in the type and price of housing is to be made available to Negro Americans."

The resolution on armed services and veterans affairs stressed the urgency of "the establishment of information centers, particularly in the Negro neighborhoods with outreach programs to contact each and every returning veteran and survivor of deceased service personnel and to provide information regarding veteran benefits."

Holiday

Another resolution endorsed the establishment of January 15, the birthday of Martin Luther King, Jr. as a national holiday "to commemorate this great American."

A series of labor resolutions called for strengthening of enforcement powers of the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission, condemned the failure of the Office of Federal Contract Compliance, and endorsed the strikes of the California grape workers and the Charleston, S. C., hospital workers.

JACKSON, Miss. — Anticipating that many of the more than 2,000 delegates attending the NAACP's 60th annual convention here, June 30-July 5, would not be accustomed to the soaring temperatures, Drs. James Anderson and Aaron Shirley, Jackson physicians, provided an eight-hour-a-day manned emergency health unit throughout the convention.

WASHINGTON — guests at President and Mrs. Richard M. Nixon's dinner honoring His Imperial Majesty Haile Selassie I, Emperor of Ethiopia, at the White House, July 8, were NAACP Executive Director and Mrs. Roy Wilkins. Other noted guests included Supreme Court Justice and Mrs. Thurgood Marshall; Rep. and Mrs. Charles C. Diggs, Jr.; Dr. Helen R. Edmonds of North Carolina College; and the Rev. and Mrs. Leon Sullivan of Philadelphia.

During the coffee hour, the President had a long chat with Mr. Wilkins who, only a few days earlier in Jackson, Miss., had sharply criticized the Nixon Administration for backing down on civil rights. Mr. Wilkins later said that he and the President had "just exchanged pleasantries." The NAACP leader also talked with HEW Secretary Robert Finch who described the interchange as a "nice chat."

NAACP MINIMUM

MEMBERSHIP FEE

JACKSON, Miss. — On authorization of the delegates attending the 60th annual convention of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, the minimum annual membership of $2.00 may be raised. In the 60-year history of the Association this will be the second time that the minimum annual membership fee was raised to $2.00.

FORD FOUNDATION

NEW YORK — Acknowledging the extension for a third year of a grant of $300,000 from the Ford Foundation, Roy Wilkins, executive director of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, expressed appreciation for this assistance but noted that the grant will not meet the Association's total budgetary needs in this difficult and complex time.

The grant has been renewed to aid the NAACP in expansion of its national staff with special opportunities for Negro citizens. The grant will also aid NAACP programs in youth activities, labor relations and housing, including assistance in the development of the National Housing Producers Association to stimulate Negro enterprise in the construction industry.

Kramer Trust
Officer at First Federal

Robert M. Kremer has been elected Trust Officer of the First Federal State Bank, Des Moines, it was announced by David Taylor, president.

Kremer had been associated with the Des Moines law firm of Gamble, Riepe, Martin and Webster prior to joining the bank. He is a graduate of the University of Iowa Law School and is currently serving as a State Representative from Polk County in the Iowa Legislature.

Taylor said that the election of a full time trust officer was a significant expansion of service provided for the customers of the 58-year old bank.

Kremer, who is married and has one child, lives at 4705 Beavercrest Drive in Des Moines.

Tips On Mini-Bike Care

If you are one of the many thousands of Americans enjoying the fun and appreciating the practical value of a modern mini-bike, there are a few simple things you can do to increase your enjoyment and make your fine little vehicle last longer.

First, however, let's review a few safety tips. Sure, you've heard them before. But I doubt if you can be reminded too often. Your life and your bike are at stake.

Just remember you are the operator of a motor vehicle capable of traveling at considerable speed for its size and capable of inflicting serious damage to you and others. Your mini-bike is an off-the-road vehicle, and in many states they are prohibited on highways. Check the law.

Like an airplane pilot, make a pre-flight check before you start out. And, naturally, you should keep your engine in top running condition, for safety and for the greatest satisfaction from your bike.

Proper care of your engine isn't difficult or expensive. Start by being sure you use the recommended viscosity (MS-30) and a really good oil. Be sure to change oil at recommended intervals.

Some riders get into the very bad habit of laying their mini-bike down or actually letting them drop. Your engine was built to be kept in its upright operating position.

Dropping your bike can loosen gas lines and wiring. Oil and fuel can leak out. But even more serious is the probability that you will operate the engine with a dangerously low oil level and cause serious engine damage. Leaking oil or gas also speeds up the deterioration of wiring and can harm your whole ignition system. Your carburetor fouls more easily, too. And, don't turn your bike upside down to change a tire.

Here's another important tip. Keep your engine clean. The fins on your cylinder block are designed to carry away the great heat generated when your engine is running. They do their job of keeping engine heat below dangerous levels if you keep them free of dirt, grime and grease.

For a "free" booklet on Mini-Bike Maintenance, write to Engine Division, Tecumseh Products Company, Grafton, Wisconsin 53024, builders of fine quality single-cylinder engines.

Sentence Four
for Disturbances

Four persons arrested in connection with the June 29 disturbances in the Tenth-to-Thirteenth-street area of University avenue were found guilty of unlawful assembly in Municipal Court Tuesday and sentenced to 10 days in the Polk County Jail.

Gary Linn Ashby, 18, of 1173 Seventh st.; Reginald Lee Petty, 18, of 829 Ninth st.; William Earl Clark, 18, of 1326 Tenth ave., and Earl Riley Hamilton, 26, of 1234 Twelfth st., were found guilty by Judge Harry B. Grund.

$300 Bonds

Ashby, Clark and Hamilton appealed their convictions to a higher court. Grund set appeal bonds at $300 each. Petty, unable to post $500 bonds, was given credit for time already served in jail and was released from custody.

To Sentence
Bester July 25

Eugene Anthony Bester, whose first-degree murder conviction was overturned by the Iowa Supreme Court, has pleaded guilty to an open charge of murder in the shooting of Carl Eugene Cooley here.

Judge James P. Denato accepted the plea to the open murder charge and will decide whether Bester is guilty of murder in the first or second degree. Judge Denato scheduled sentencing for 11 a.m. July 25.

EUGENE ANTHONY
BESTER

"I used to stand up and say the world was a miserable place. Then I would sit down and do nothing about it."

Let's face it.

All is not perfect in this land of ours.

America has taken some lumps and quite frankly it hurts.

But maybe we should step back and take a long hard look... take inventory of how we are and how we got here.

Maybe we should inspect our brighter side as well as some of our ills.

And maybe, just maybe, we'll come out thinking this country's good side far overshadows its bad.

Then maybe we'll start to do something to make it better.

Rather than knocking it, which ends up making it worse.

Now comes the big question.

What can you do? You're only one little individual among over 200 million people. How can you help?

For one thing, you might think about investing in your country. Showing your faith in its future.

That's exactly what you do when you sign up to buy U. S. Savings Bonds. You're simply buying a share in America.

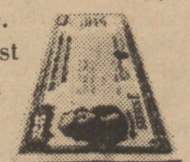

You're also socking away some money for yourself.

Of course, Savings Bonds are not going to cure all our headaches. But they'll help to provide the economic strength we'll need for the job.

And at the same time, they can cure a lot of your financial headaches in the years to come.

Any way you look at it, they make good sense.

And that's just what we need in this country right now.

If they're lost, stolen, or destroyed, we replace 'em.

Mrs. L. Lewis, reporter for the Bystander, had an accident in her home last week-another fall, this time in her bath tub. It could have been very bad for her. Mrs. Leonora Downey called to check on her as she usually did every day and found out what had happened. She had to take it easy for a few days. But she said she is O.K., but that's Laurinda.

Ground Rules For New Homemakers

June is "new bride" time. In the event you are altar bound, you're probably midway through a crash course in cookery. A few tips from the experts can go a long way toward helping you "pass the course."

Home economists of The West Bend Company, leading manufacturer of cookware, advise oven cooking can be a breeze even for the first time housewife if she keeps in mind that temperature is regulated by the oven thermostat. Set it according to recipe directions.

Also: Arrange oven racks in proper position.

Urban Minority Center at Waterloo

Waterloo, Ia. - The Urban Center for Minority Group Education in Waterloo, housed in the Grant School Annex, located on Mobile Street, Waterloo. This is a temporary location until the property at 119 Vine Street is completed some time in August.

The following four functions have been defined as the major emphasis during the next two years:

COLLEGE COUNSELING OF MINORITY GROUP STUDENTS FROM WATERLOO - counseling to be done largely by the staff of the center, co-ordinated with our admissions office and with the counseling services of the Waterloo schools.

It is assumed that the center would be working with students of junior high school and high school age and with their parents. College counseling would not be related to UNI alone; students would be counseled with regard to other colleges and other forms of post-high school education as well.

TUTORIAL SERVICES FOR MINORITY GROUP STUDENTS - It is assumed that tutoring would be done primarily by UNI staff and students, largely on a voluntary basis. This might lead to development of more formal remedial programs on an individual or small group basis. It is proposed that there be a study lounge with a small book and magazine collection for use by such students.

ORIENTATION AND SENSITIVITY TRAINING IN MINORITY GROUP PROBLEMS - This would be designed primarily for student teachers and for other UNI students in programs where understanding of the problems of the minority groups are particularly relevant.

COMMUNITY COURSES - some might be designed especially for members of the black community and perhaps be taught by staff from the center; other courses might be offered at the center just as community courses are now offered from time to time.

Preheat oven at least 10 minutes for best results for all baked foods.

Leave 1 to 1½ inches between utensils and any oven surface so air can circulate freely. Restricting free circulation of air causes uneven heat.

Stagger pan on oven racks and do not block openings provided for air circulation.

Partition Can Control Open Space

The divide and conquer rule can be applied to unmanageable open space in basement or garage.

Control is accomplished by construction of one or more wall partitions that are within the skills of any home handyman, suggests John Concord, home improvement consultant to Masonite Corporation.

The do-it-yourselfer can begin by determining the best locations for partitions. Next step would be installation of sill and ceiling plates to form a frame for the partition.

Two-by-fours anchored by both floor and ceiling will provide an adequate frame. The length of the two-by-four plates will, of course, determine the length of the partitions. When additional framing, or studs, are attached to the plates and spaced 16 inches apart, paneling can begin.

Refinished hardboard paneling goes up over the studs, and Concord recommends Ryalocote general purpose adhesive for the best results. The adhesive is easy to use, and eliminates the necessity and bother of nails that can spoil the final appearance.

Refinished panels from Masonite come in a variety of wood grains and patterns and are dent and wear resistant. They also are ideal for installation over furred concrete or block walls if it is the homeowner's intention to finish the rooms for functional living.

"Shaping up your basement by installing attractive partitions and then devoting the smaller rooms to specific purposes can be like adding a two or three-room apartment to your home," the home improvement expert believes.

Masonite Offers Building Plan For Picnic Table

A picnic table for eight can be built from a plan offered free by Masonite Corp.

The table, fastened together with carriage bolts for easy dismantling and storage, features a Masonite Weatherall top that withstands the elements and can easily be wiped with a damp cloth.

Weatherall also is used on matching bench surfaces. For a copy of the plan, write to Masonite Home Service Bureau, Box B, Chicago, Ill. 60690. Ask for plan AE-504.

Here's Dark Room Idea For Photog

For home photography, cover a panel of Masonite Presdwood with aluminum paint or foil and use it as a reflector.

William A. Mason, co-worker of Thomas A. Edison, discovered a process for making hardboard from wood chips. Masonite Corporation is named for him.

INTERVIEWING DR. MARION RICHARDS MYLES at the home of Gwendolyn Fowler, Broadlawn Polk County Hospital pharmacist, was one of the most pleasant experiences newswriting has given me. Though Dr. Myles has won fame and success in her exclusive field, she remains as gracious a lady as I shall ever meet. Answering my inquiries concerning black personnel at the University of Mississippi, Dr. Myles observed that she is the only person of color on the Medical Center's faculty. Its students are all white; however, she understands there will be a black graduate student in pharmacology, their first, this year. She is uncertain as to the degree on which he will be working. She expressed pleasure when I mentioned the Veterans Administration Center's Director, A. L. Pruitt, and its Chief of Psychology Service, Dr. S. J. Williamson, Jr. She was aware of Tuskegee's VA director and upon learning of Mr. Pruitt's position of center director added "I am glad to hear that."

ARE YOU FROM NEW ORLEANS? THANKS TO CAROLE HEDGES AND "FATHER BOB" HEDGES, her spouse, I was again invited to West Des Moines' Kiwanis Jazz and Art Show. Now thanks to George Fletcher, whose responsibility to the Kiwanis affair, caused him to invite and present Narvin Kimball, banjoist, and Zutty Singleton, drummer. Both men are from New Orleans. Kimball still resides there and plays at Preservation Hall, 726 St. Peters Street in N.O. The hall has been in operation eight years. It is federally sponsored for the preservation of jazz. "This undertaking rejuvenates the spirit in old musicians, who haven't played in many years. They are back playing music again because the music they are playing is happy music," Kimball informed me. "We are making expressions of our own innermost selves. The audience feels like we feel and it takes us on!" he added. Kimball, a left handed banjoist found his appearance in the West Des Moines show and his stay with its sponsors equalled one other most pleasurable event in his life—in his second year in college, he left school to play with his father, Henry Kimball, a bass violinist and Sousaphone with John Robichaux Orchestra and Fate Marable. That occasion, until now, the nicest thing ever to happen to him. But the Kiwanis brought him and his wife, "Lil", a warm, friendly woman—a real pleasure to meet, and so added a replica of the thrill experienced at the start of his career. It was announced that Narvin Kimball co-authored "My Memphis Baby" in 1967—was commissioned to do so when conserving of Preservation Hall began.

ZUTTY SINGLETON "DRUM BEATER", as he says jokingly, is now from New York City and as of this past Monday opened at Jimmy Ryan's, 54th and Near Seventh Avenue. Zutty says "Say I'm from New Orleans' Maxi Krinsky, leader of the bands—that should fit. He added that he is from New Orleans by way of Bunkie, Louisiana! As you can see, he is a master entertainer in every sense of the word! Zutty and Kimball were great! I met Zutty's "Margie"; she was a real pleasure. Both men were delighted with George Fletcher and with the Kiwanis group! Since it was George Fletcher who handled their appearance here, the men expressed genuine regard for him, his wife and others with whom they had had the pleasure to get to know. Their stay was a really nice one. (And where were you soulsters?)

BEN SORENSON, OWNER-OPERATOR OF SORENSON'S HEALTH STUDIO, SANS SMOKY, THE BEAR, celebrated his 20th year in the business of making people healthy as well as beautiful. An outdoor surprise party held Sunday at the residence of the Melvin Lands was attended by a merry throng which included Ben's beautiful wife, Perdetta Sorenson, staff and studio members but alas missing was Smoky. Ben is most readily identifiable alongside the red convertible in which stands Smoky viewing eye-to-eye all on-lookers. Sure, you've seen the pair! Their partnership began when Smoky was a year old, weighed about 200 lbs.; he is now 13 years old, has reduced from 900 to 600 lbs., a weight loss made necessary when the convertible began to "s a g"! The big brown pet is a dancer and a wrestler—the latter easily noted by his constant weaving from side to side. He crunches jelly beans contentedly, and neatly clasping a bottle of Pepsi between large paws, tips it and downs it precisely as do you or I! Well, so much for Ben and his Black Power.

Mississippi NAACP Given Multi-Racial Textbooks

JACKSON, Miss.—To enlarge the knowledge of Mississippi branches of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People on the variety of educational materials available, the NAACP education department gave its entire annual convention display of more than 200 multi-racial books on Negro history and multi-racial school books to the Association's state organization. The display also included posters, films and records on Negro history.

Accepting the gift, Aaron Henry, state president said: "you can't realize what a boost this material can give our 51 branches. Right here in our hands is actual proof that these materials are available. Now it's up to us to push for it in our own school systems."

For three days following the stimulating "Schools in Crisis" workshop during the 60th NAACP annual confab here, June 30-July 5, Miss June Shagalloff, director for education and the NAACP education field staff, Mrs. Mercedes Wright, Preston Ewing and W. Burghardt Turner, held individual consultations with representatives of more than 35 branches in relation to action programs especially appropriate in each community. Miss Sylvia Drew, an NAACP Legal Defense attorney, was also available for consultation with southern branches.

Your professional beautician knows the answer...

Is peroxide needed to color unwanted gray hair?

Hair care and beauty experts know that the first traces of gray hair—and even slight fading of natural color after chemical relaxing—can dull a woman's appearance and make her look older than she feels. While most women hate these premature aging effects, many are hesitant about using permanent peroxide haircoloring which may change the natural hair color while coloring gray.

Professionally-trained hairdressers know the importance of their customers' preferences when unwanted gray becomes a problem. These experts also know that Clairol created semi-permanent Loving Care® hair color lotion without peroxide... to color only the gray without changing the natural shade. They also find Loving Care blends back color faded by chemical processing. Because of its mildness, Loving Care maintains healthy looking hair and lasts through a month of shampoos. Whatever a woman's reason for wanting Loving Care for her hair, she is always wise to consult a professional beautician. Hairdressers are equipped with a family of fine Clairol products and the training to promise each patron the loveliest and most personalized haircoloring effects every time she visits her salon. If you dislike gray, and want no peroxide, why not ask your beautician to glamorize it with Loving Care?

Lolita Fonza Going Places

Miss Lolita Fonza, former Des Moines girl and the daughter of Mrs. Blossom Fonza of this city and the late Mr. Hallie Fonza, has been traveling with her group, The Soul Patrol. The group has been with the Platters, currently appearing at the Casino Theatre in the Flamingo Hotel, Las Vegas. After a few one night's stand in North Carolina, they went on to New York and played Madison Square Garden.

While in the Flamingo Lolita met Tom Jones who also was singing there and had pictures taken with Redd Fox and Elvis Presley. Aretha Franklin, who was appearing at Caesar's Palace across the street came over to hear her and came back stage and told her she had a good voice and would go far and she really liked the way Lolita was singing her songs.

Headboard Idea For Hollywood Bed

A hollywood bed, for best appearance, requires a headboard. You can make your own or have it built to your specifications. You could start with unfinished cabinets, but the headboard itself, directly behind the bed, can be a cabinet-to-ceiling accent panel of prefabricated hardboard such as Masonite Royalcote in a rich woodgrained or textured surface.

Visit your lumber yard for the unfinished cabinets and the Masonite paneling.

Dr. Myles is Guest of Mrs. Fowler

Dr. Marion Richard Myles was a guest this week of Mrs. Gwendolyn Fowler. Dr. Myles, Assistant Professor of Pharmacology, University of Mississippi Medical Center, is enroute to San Francisco, California, where she will spend about six weeks at the Medical Center of the University of California. Following this she will be going to the Annual Meeting of the American Society of Pharmacology to be held at Oregon State, Corvallis, Oregon. She then hopes to attend the Eleventh International Congress of Botany Meeting which will be held in Seattle, Washington. The Eighth Congress of Botany, held in Paris, France, was the last such session which Dr. Myles had attended. The ensuing years were spent at home so as to enable her to be near her husband, Frank James Myles, during his extended illness. Mr. Myles was in the city schools of Nashville, Tennessee. He passed away in November of last year.

Dr. Myles, an educator, is a native of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, earned her bachelor of science degree at the University of Pennsylvania. Her masters was obtained at Atlanta University, and her doctorate at Iowa State University. Her post doctoral fellow was at Vanderbilt University. Her graduate work was in the area of pharmacology, research and teaching. Dr. Myles has done research on growth correlation, morphine.

It was during Dr. Myles' graduate work at Iowa State that her friendship with Mrs. Fowler and her mother, Mrs. Olin Cooper, began and it has continued through the years. She is a Phi Kappa Phi and a Sigma Delta Epsilon member.

FINE DES MOINES
PRODUCT

Today, we read so much about the Negroes in the ghettos, the hard-core unemployed, the militant, the campus and street rioters; and they are in the minority. That which energetic young people do is often dimmed out.

A striking example of this is the fine recognition Yale University exhibited by naming James Thomas, one of its graduates, as assistant dean of the law school. A young man, born in Des Moines, he made a fine record in the schools here, went on to college, then law school and has held some outstanding positions. (see news story on page one.)

Thomas, along with many other youngsters we know who grew up in Des Moines, is one among many other products of our schools who have not stood around and complained about the lack of opportunity but have plowed their way meeting competition and of course some obstacles. They have met the test.

In his newly assigned post, Thomas will be in a position to help other boys and serve as a living example of what Negroes can do. He is to be congratulated on the steady climb in his career.

START ON THE HARD
CORE EARLY

Here in Des Moines, like many other cities, projects have been at work to find jobs for the hard-core unemployed. To date, the program has had little success. Some new jobs have been found and chances of elevation to higher positions made available, but finding people to fill them is something else.

The average hard-core unemployed person today is so, to a great extent, of his own choosing. It is almost impossible to find two stenographers available today and yet they are in demand. Machinists and skilled building trade employees are unavailable and yet it is difficult to get the hard core to attend the apprenticeship classes or take examination for state merit jobs, city civil service or federal jobs being offered today.

On the other hand, the young men and women who have made an effort to prepare themselves, and it must be admitted that some are underemployed, have found jobs and are on their way to be our substantial citizens of the near future.

More and more, we are convinced that if the Negro is to compete in this modern age, we must give more attention to the third to seventh grader who has ideas, some taught by misguided people, that don't lead toward the making of a good citizen as they grow older.

And this teaching should be geared toward how they can live better, act better, how they get along with their neighbor, how they carry responsibility all of which is directed to and will be used in whatever course in life they pursue.

To begin such instruction in high school is almost too late, and as we see and listen to youngsters in public it is easy to understand why.

Unfortunately, too much of our help has been tied to giving something for nothing. It tends to make people dependent and unconcerned, carrying over from one generation after another.

There are disadvantaged people who are making their contribution as citizens as well as the more fortunate. They are finding, as many have done over the years, that a fellow who tries will find those who are willing to help.

There are Negroes with good jobs, who have good homes, are educating their children and generally making a contribution to their community, state and nation. They are the ones who have not allowed themselves to become the hard-core unemployed.

Introduce Computer
Results to Speed Integration

Suits in Memphis, Dallas and Atlanta may be affected. HOUSTON—A plan to completely integrate this city's 250,000 school children by September—devised by research scientists via a computer will be introduced in U. S. District Court here today.

Attorneys of the NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund, Inc. (LDF), who have been pursuing this case since 1956, said that the computer was given one set of comprehensive and pertinent data about the Houston School System.

This data—number and location of schools plus racial composition and location of students—was generated by the computer in a short period of time into "several alternate student assignment schemes."

These plans, the LDF attorneys point out, were then evaluated for their individual merits, and the best one selected.

The alternate plans were rechecked.

One section of the city, representing 1/5 of the total populace and area, was run through the computer three times to be certain none of the alternates was superior to the plan selected.

Findings Extended

All plans were judged on two crucial criteria: busing costs and the level of desegregation achieved.

The plan "with the most satisfactory balance between the two factors" was selected. It was then used as a model for devising the integration pattern for the other four sections of the city.

The data was programmed for the LDF by ABT Associates, Inc. of Cambridge, Mass. It was then put into the computer by AVCO Computer Services of Wilmington, Mass., under the direction of Robert Norbed, systems analyst.

Pioneer Case

LDF attorneys consider Houston as the "lead case" for bringing complete integration to school systems of large southern cities.

Results of this argument may affect pending LDF litigation in Dallas, Atlanta, and Memphis.

The LDF maintains that the "freedom-of-choice" method of school integration, which has been practiced in Houston for the past several years, has brought only token results.

(Under "freedom-of-choice" the students select the school they attend. However, experience shows that the weight of progress has been placed on Negro parents and children.)

During the Houston trial, which is expected to last two weeks, LDF attorneys will also ask for integration of faculty and staff by September.

They will stress that during the last school year 79.8 per cent of the white students attended schools which had more than 95 per cent white student bodies.

Do Convenience
Foods Compare
To 'Real Thing'?

Are you shortchanging your family, food-wise, by using convenience foods in recipes instead of starting from scratch?

Though researchers report many busy housewives believe just that, in fact, convenience foods do not contribute to "kitchen delinquency."

Home economists of The West Bend Company, major cookware manufacturer, advise that you carefully compare both methods of food preparation. Compare prices to see if it pays to prepare a product yourself from basic ingredients.

Also consider your time and the quality of the finished product in deciding between convenience and self-prepared foods.

Your choice will, of course, be influenced by how much you enjoy cooking and how much time you can spend in the kitchen.

Many authorities, aware of the quality of prepared foods, have encouraged their use. They have contributed to cook books which draw heavily on convenience foods for recipe material. Following these recipes, the housewife still contributes skill and a watchful eye, but there is a great saving in time of preparation.

SPORTS

With Allen Ashby

Those of you who read the sports pages of the daily papers had to read the story of Hank Thompson, former star third baseman of the old New York Giants. And his story is that of a lot of older athletes of his day and earlier. A few who were real top stars made enough money to keep some, but too many of them lived up their money in their playing days and later wound up doing whatever jobs they could find.

True of Both Races

This was true and probably so to a lesser extent today of athletes of all races, but you can see where it really hit the black athletes who were the trail blazers for the crop of today's black youngsters. Some of our greatest baseball players were later found pushing brooms or mops. We have nothing against work of that sort, having done and still doing our share of it. But it would seem that the star black athlete should find a place in the games he retired from baseball, football or basketball as a lot of the white ones do. Coaches, scouts, minor league managers, front office even in some capacity. Maybe they are but the pace is damned slow.

Typical in 1945

That story of fine, high living and back to the streets again is typical of so many old athletes of before say 1945. But now most of the fellows are smart enough to insist in some sort of business or something that will let them live out their days after their careers are ended. Oh yes, we would like to see a black baseball announcer. We expect to see at least one in the pro football and basketball games this coming season.

Health for All

Today it is no fun to have TB. But it need not be tragic.

Drugs can cure—even prevent TB. But first the disease must be diagnosed. Unless it is discovered and treated, TB takes a terrible toll.

There are no symptoms in the earliest stage of active TB. You can be sick with the disease—and spreading your germs to others—without knowing it.

As the disease secretly progresses, you develop symptoms. Weakness, fatigue, irritability. Your pulse rate may become rapid. You may have a low-grade fever, and eventually, night sweats.

Weight loss and shortness of breath are signs of well-developed disease.

Taking a tuberculin skin test is the first step to avoid the terrible toll. The results of the test tell you if there TB germs in your body. And your physician can give you the results in two or three days.

If your reaction to the test is positive, you must take other tests to determine if you have been only infected or have active disease. If the tuberculin and other tests show that you have only a tuberculous infection, taking pills will prevent active disease from developing. If the tests show you have active disease already, your doctor will prescribe pills to cure it.

Having TB need not be tragic today. But it sometimes is. Last year, nearly 6500 people died from TB.

Having a tuberculin skin test with your yearly medical checkup makes a lot of sense.

QUESTION: I obtained my social security number when I was 16 years old. I was married 3 years ago and now I plan on taking a part-time job. However, I notice my name on my social security card is in my maiden name. Do I have to get a new social security number?

ANSWER: You do not need a new social security number, but you do need a new card which will show your married name. You should contact the nearest social security office or your local post office and obtain a card which you will complete to change your name on your social security account. Your number will remain the same.

QUESTION: I receive widows benefits now and will be 65 next year. Will I be covered automatically by medicare at that time?

ANSWER: You will receive a notice about medicare from the Social Security Administration several months before your 65th birthday. Hospital insurance coverage will be automatic for you at the time but you will need to complete and return the enrollment form to start your medical insurance coverage. In order for the medical insurance to start with the month you reach 65, social security must receive the enrollment card before the beginning of the month in which your 65th birthday falls.

QUESTION: My mother is under Medicare and is in a home for the aged and she needs a wheel chair. The home does not provide wheel chairs for their patients. My mother and I plan to either buy or rent one for her. She will pay for it herself but she is wondering if Medicare will reimburse her for any part of the cost.

ANSWER: If your mother is in an institution which can be considered her "home," then the rental cost of the wheel chair will be covered if her doctor has certified that it is medically necessary. If she is in an extended care facility or in a nursing home which meets certain skilled nursing home requirements the rental of equipment is not covered. Your social security office can tell you whether or not a particular institution can be considered the beneficiary's home for this type of coverage. We suggest that you contact your social security office before going further with your plans.

VETERANS

EDITOR'S NOTE: Veterans and their families are asking thousands of questions concerning the benefits their Government provides for them through the Veterans Administration. Below are some representative queries. Additional information may be obtained at any VA office.

High school dropouts who enter the service may return to get their diploma under the G.I. Bill, according to the Veterans Administration.

The VA will pay veterans up to $130 a month (if single and they are full-time students - more if they have dependents). Those attending adult evening school will be enrolled at half-time rate.

A number of colleges and universities have embarked on new programs for returning veterans who do not possess a diploma but do desire a higher education. However, such veterans must meet certain qualifications established by the institutions and the VA.

Upon discharge, veterans should file at the nearest VA office for certificates of eligibility even though they may not use them immediately. This will save time when they later apply for schooling or on-the-job training.

The VA also reminds veterans who wish to become policemen or firemen that there are benefits under the G.I. Bill for these approved courses.

Information on all G.I. Bill benefits may be obtained from any VA office, the location of which will be found in the white pages of telephone directories.

Be 'Food-Wise'
And Fashionable

Calorie count-downs are likely to strike terror in the hearts of overweight men, women and teens. Keeping tabs of daily caloric intake can be an almost impossible task for the busy individual whose time is precious.

Home economists of The West Bend Company, leading manufacturer of cookware, suggest that you be guided in your calorie selection by your needs. If overweight is a problem, eat sparingly of high calorie, starch foods, but take full advantage of high benefit foods like milk and lean meat products, green and yellow vegetables, citrus fruits and whole grain cereals and breads.

Making wise food choices is a much simpler dietary check than calorie counting.
