Stokes Wins Again in Cleveland

Vote in $11.5 Million School Bond

Passes By 61.2 Per Cent Margin

In a day when it's fashionable to defeat school bond issues and just a year later when a $10 million bond issue lost the Des Moines voters okayed a proposed $11.5 million school bond Tuesday.

Supporters which included many inner-city residents of the bond issue were jubilant. It means that many of the over-crowded schools will now get new additions and not just the huts outside. Most significant, is the replacement of Bird and Grant elementary schools, two of the city's oldest, by a completely new Bird-Grant complex.

The victorious school bond almost was defeated before it reached the voters when a group of residents, mainly Negroes, met to block the proposal if the Bird-Grant complex was not included. As a result, the school board added $500,000 to the total to take care of the new project.

ACCEPTABLE TO WHOM?

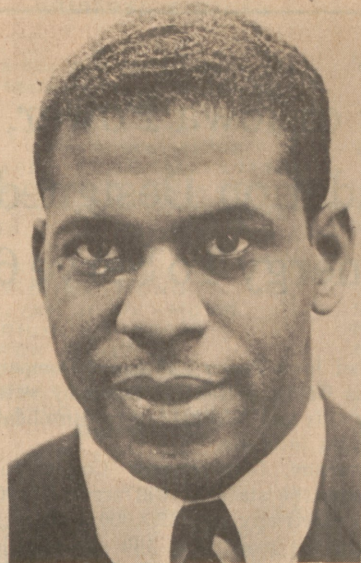

Jas. Jackson, Waterloo Native, Promoted V.P. by Pepsi-Cola

New York, N.Y. — James H. Jackson has been named Vice President and Plant Manager of the Bronx, N. Y. Pepsi-Cola Company, it was announced today by John W. Donlevy, President of Pepsi-Cola Metropolitan Bottling Company, Inc., a wholly owned subsidiary of Pepsi-Cola.

Before assuming his present post, Jackson was District Manager for Pepsi-Cola in the state of Michigan. He has had a meteoric rise in Pepsi-Cola Company, joining it only four years ago, 1965 as Special Markets Representative for the Company's Cincinnati region. After one year, he joined the Special Markets Department at New York headquarters.

Jackson has had a varied and illustrious career. When he joined Pepsi-Cola, he was serving as a State Representative in the Iowa House of Representatives, as the youngest man to ever serve in that legislative position. Prior to that, he was a science teacher in Waterloo, Iowa, where he also coached the football and basketball teams. As a high school student, Jackson was named to the high school All-American basketball team in 1956.

Jackson was born in Waterloo. He graduated in 1961 from the State College of Iowa, now known as the University of Northern Iowa, with a B.A. in Education. He is a member of the National Education Association and the National Association of Market Developers.

He is married to the former Janet Norman of Waterloo. They have four daughters: Denise, Jacqueline, Stephanie and Christine.

30 Co-eds End Sit-in Poughkeepsie, N.Y. — Thirty Negro co-eds who had occupied part of a Vassar College building since last Thursday ended their sit-in Saturday.

A girl who refused to give her name said college officials had agreed to all the demands of the demonstrators. She said the college president one of the trustees signed the agreement.

College officials would make no statement. There are 59 Negroes among the 1600 students at the fashionable school.

The students' basic demands included an increase in the number of black teachers and the granting of letter grades and a degree for courses in the black studies program offered for the first time this fall.

Holt Mitchell Innocent of Charge

A jury in Judge James Denato's court found Holt Mitchell, 38, of 1311 11th street, innocent of a charge of being a bootlegger by selling alcoholic drink at his home to Police Officer Angel Cordona May 10.

The verdict was another in the 35 cases involving the 35 persons indicted by the Polk County Grand Jury Aug. 26 for alleged illegal sales of beer, alcohol and drugs.

Dixie Negro Gets High State Post

Raleigh, N.C.—James T. Burch has been named as an assistant state superintendent of public instruction for North Carolina, making him the highest-ranking Negro in the state's public school system.

The state superintendent of public instruction said Burch would be in charge of administrative services for the state's public schools. Burch had been an assistant superintendent of Charlotte schools.

Youths Set Fire To Avenge Boy

JACKSONVILLE, FLA. — Angered by the shooting of a black youth, bands of Negroes allegedly started fires in buildings and homes Friday night Oct. 31, in about a three block area of east Jacksonville. There was sporadic gunfire before the riot was quelled.

The youth was wounded by a white cigarette salesman who allegedly caught the boy pilfering his truck.

U League To Honor Earl Warren

New York — The National Urban League will honor former Chief Justice Earl Warren for "great and historic" contributions to the cause of human rights at the League's annual Equal Opportunity Day dinner.

The retired Chief Justice will receive the organization's 1969 Equal Opportunity Day Award for advancing the civil rights movement through the Supreme Court's landmark decisions on school desegregation, voting, reapportionment, the rights of defendants, and other historic rulings.

16 Years

Warren, who stepped down from the bench this past summer after 16 eventful years as Chief Justice, will receive the award from James A. Linen, National Urban League President, at the dinner on Nov. 19. The dinner will be held in the Grand Ballroom of the New York Hilton Hotel.

Businessman

At the same time, the League will present a special achievement award to Maurice W. Lee, Sr., of Boley, Oklahoma. Lee is a black businessman who almost singlehandedly salvaged the economy of the all-Negro town of Boley.

NEWS In A Nutshell

Milwaukee, Wis. — Black students of Wisconsin are sponsoring a Wisconsin black student convention in Madison on Dec. 11-13.

Los Angeles, Calif. — Thirty people gathered at the Los Angeles Airport recently to protest the firing of Deborah Renquick, a black stewardess for United Airlines. An employee for six years she was dismissed because she did not change her natural hairdo.

Omaha, Nebr. — Five Omaha black youth were among 14 youth named last week by Gov. Norbett T. Tiemann to his minority to youth advisory council.

Washington, D. C. — Arthur McZier, 34-year-old expert in domestic and international marketing, was appointed Assistant Administrator today for the Small Business Administration's Minority Enterprise Program.

Kansas City, Mo. — Mrs. Geraldine Rayford was recently appointed a 4-H assistant with the University of Missouri Extension Center, becoming the first Negro to that capacity from this area.

New York — "It had to be something as important as 'Sesame Street,'" says Lutrelle Horne, a former associate director of CBS Television who left work in the medium to teach television technique at a Negro college.

Hollywood — A month ago, black publicist Robert J. Sye was handling such star-clients as Jim Brown, Lincoln Kilpatrick and Ena Hartman from an office in the living room of his four-room apartment in midtown Los Angeles. Now Sye is headquartered in the prestigious 9000 Sunset Building in the center of the film-entertainment capital.

A. & T. Grad School Dean To National Board

PRINCETON, N.J.—Dr. Darwin T. Turner, dean of the Graduate School at North Carolina A&T State University, has been appointed to the Graduate Record Examinations Board, the board which directs a nationwide testing program for 220,000 students seeking admissions to graduate schools.

Howard Faculty Get Ford Grants

WASHINGTON, D.C.—The Ford Foundation has made grants totaling $35,126 to four Howard University teachers for advanced study, it was announced today by Otto McClarrin, director of public relations at the University.

Retain Vanderlinden, Bring Back Buss For Local Council Seats

Cleveland, Ohio—As it was predicted winning an easy primary in the general election was not as easy as winning in the primary last month, but Carl B. Stokes, was voted a second term by a narrow margin here Tuesday.

With all but 12 of 973 polling places in Stokes, held 117,952 votes to 116,315 over his white opponent, Republican Ralph

In a suprising strong balloting turnout, Charles W. Vanderlinden won an at-large city council seat and Wallace Buss was brought back as the winner in the First Ward. Vanderlinden, 41, present First Ward councilman, defeated Russell LaVine, 58, by a narrow margin of 41,216 votes to 20,041. Buss who had served on the city council before the Ward system days, captured 6,956 votes against Jack Nicodemus, a city fire fighter. It was the first time a city employee had sought a council seat.

Carl B. Stokes

VANDERLINDEN

J. Perk. Most remaining polling places were expected to give Stokes solid support.

The election night was a see-saw event with Stokes going ahead, then being overcome by Perk, before the votes poured in from the city's largely black East Side and turned the tide. That area carried Stokes to victory two years ago and in this year's primary election.

DETROIT LOSER

Detroit, Mich. — Despite a newspaper poll which indicated that he was favored to win, Richard Austin, 56, was defeated in the race for mayor of Wayne County Sheriff Roman Gribbs. Both candidates made appeals for unity behind the victorious mayor.

BUSS

Third Ward Councilman Richard Olson, who was unopposed for re-election was given 7,424 votes.

Both Russ and Vanderlinden had campaigned on a platform which supported the Model Cities program.

Black Trucking Firm Rebuffed by ICC Again

Washington, D. C. — Allstates - American Van Lines, Inc., a black trucking firm in St. Louis, Mo., was rebuffed by the Interstate Commerce Commission, for the second time, when its application for a nationwide franchise was rejected. The federal agency said that there was no justification shown for the expansion.

Second Time

In his second application, the firm's president, Timothy E. Person, suggested ghetto residents sometimes have been unable to move because the trucking industry refused to transport their goods.

Moreover, he said, black customers and black truckers generally are unfairly treated and Negro workers are the "last hired and first fired" by the major carriers.

Those that do gain employment in the industry, he said, are usually assigned to the lowest paid and most menial jobs, even though they may have the training and skill for more meaningful assignments.

Training Plan

Person's plan called for providing training for unemployed Negroes so that they can get jobs throughout the industry and in its own firm.

"Within the next five years," he said, "we hope to be able to hire about 7,500 workers for our company."

Person told the ICC his company would serve the needs of black shippers as well as go into ghetto areas which, he contended, "have been quarantined by the white trucking companies."

Person estimated Allstates-American, which now has authority to operate in parts of 35 states, would have increased its gross earnings to $10 million a year if the ICC had granted its request.

Presently, the company has about $120,000 in equipment and has links with about 225 moving agents. Expanded authority would have allowed Allstates-American to make direct hauls to any area of the country.

ONE-FAMILY HOMES

A total of 490,000 new one-family homes were sold in the United States during 1968, report the Department of Commerce and the Department of Housing and Urban Development. This sales figure for new one-family homes is about the same as the 1967 total, but is 6 percent above 1966.

U. S. Sues 5 Trade Unions In Seattle Bias

Seattle, Wash. — U.S. District Atty. Stan Pitkin charged five Seattle construction trade unions Friday, Oct. 31 with discrimination against Negroes.

In a complaint endorsed by the U.S. Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell, Pitkin asked the U.S. District Court in Seattle to enjoin the five unions "from failing and refusal to recruit, refer for employment and accept Negroes for membership on the same basis as white persons."

Work Stoppages

The complaint also asked an injunction to forbid the unions from engaging in any work stoppages designed to interfere with contractors' obligations on federally assisted construction projects.

Named as defendants were the ironworkers, electrical workers, plumbers and pipefitters, sheet metal workers, and operating engineers union locals.

Dispute

The legal action, taken at the request of the U.S. Labor Department, were the latest developments in a weeks-old dispute in which black demonstrators sought more minority employment, and in which white union workers walked off jobs and marched on the state capitol.

Pitkin said the complaint charged the unions and three of their apprenticeship training committees with violations of Title 7 of the 1964 Civil Rights Act. That section covers equal employment opportunity.

Iowa Real Estate Bd Adopts Stronger Code On Ethics Against Code

A strong new stand on discrimination in housing sales was taken last week by the Iowa Real Estate Board when it adopted an eight-point civil rights supplement to its Real Estate Code of Ethics.

The supplement states that it shall be unethical for real estate brokers and salesmen to discriminate in their handling of properties for sale.

Key Section

One key section of the new code states that real estate men should not try to discourage the purchase of property by blacks in white areas or by whites in black areas.

It also states that salesmen and brokers should

Iowa Governor
Tackles Problems

Last January one of the youngest men in the history of Iowa to be elected Governor held his listening audience spell bound as he delivered a most eloquent and thought provoking Inaugural Address. It was simply stated but in a manner and style that left many of us with the comforting feeling that at last Iowans had elected a Governor who, while a product of the party processes, was not a creature of a party, but would serve as Chief Executive to all the people; and that neither race, religion, or creed, nor area or status would interfere with this role. His purposes were stated constructively and he indicated every intention to build a more spacious and vibrant Iowa.

Ten Months

Ten months is a relatively short period of time, yet we have already witnessed demonstrations of his unusual ability to achieve far-sighted legislative goals and activate necessary administrative programs for the State - without increasing taxes.

Better Government

From the time of Jefferson the issue of states' rights has been a key factor in American politics. The Governor believes that if our American system of government were to fail, it would be because we have allowed too much decision-making power to become centered in one place, and have failed to make adequate use of the 50 other centers of political power and action contemplated in the federal constitution.

To him, good government must be responsive to its citizens; he looks forward to a balanced federal relationship, but recognizes that Iowa must provide itself with appropriate tools to do an effective job. He believes this can probably best be achieved through the election of state officials such as Governor, Lt. Governor, Secretary of State, Attorney General, Treasurer, Auditor, Secretary of Agriculture - for four year terms, elected during non-presidential years.

Legislative Among his legislative achievements, which have been benefited both urban and rural Iowa, were such programs as more than $5 million in additional road use funds for cities and towns, new tuition grants for needy students attending private colleges, the establishment of a Crime Commission for an all-out war on crime in Iowa, youth forest camp for the rehabilitation of juvenile delinquents, an Urban Affairs Department, incentives for private business to train disadvantaged persons for employment, a work incentive program to help ADC mothers to become productive citizens, income tax exemptions for low income families and the authorization for state universities to build facilities with long-term financing and beefed up our area community colleges and vocational training programs.

In addition, Governor Ray has set up an Educational Advisory Committee to analyze the entire spectrum of education in Iowa and assess future financial needs.

He has revitalized the Iowa Development Commission, and has called for an all-out campaign of economic development for every segment of the Iowa economy. He advocates assistance and participation at the State level in the Model Cities program.

Governor Ray is a former trial lawyer, a lecturer on trial practices and has varied business interests.

Education He is a graduate of Drake University and Drake Law School, and is a member of the local, state and national Bar Associations as well as other professional groups.

An overseas veteran, the Governor served with the 1st Cavalry Division in the

He also suggested that the General Assembly endorse or use a bi-partisan committee outside the legislature for the problem of reapportionment. He urged the passage for the second time the constitutional amendment designed to assure election of every legislator from a separate district.

Law Enforcement

He recalled recent events which pointed up the need to interest many more people in the political decision-making process - concomitant with this is the right of dissent in a free society and its exercise by individual citizens WITHIN THE FRAMEWORK OF LAW. He believes that if every man had the right to make his own law, the law of physical force would ultimately prevail and the weak will be trampled underfoot, stark tyranny will be the victor. He recommended computerized identification, upgrading the police investigative procedures, speeding up of criminal justice, presentence investigations under judicial supervision, a State Crime Laboratory facility.

The Governor started his administration with less than $3 million in the state treasury where a $112 million surplus had existed two years before. He proposed a $513.1 million budget, yet it was balanced and involved no tax increases.

Legislative

Among his legislative achievements, which have been benefited both urban and rural Iowa, were such programs as more than $5 million in additional road use funds for cities and towns, new tuition grants for needy students attending private colleges, the establishment of a Crime Commission for an all-out war on crime in Iowa, youth forest camp for the rehabilitation of juvenile delinquents, an Urban Affairs Department, incentives for private business to train disadvantaged persons for employment, a work incentive program to help ADC mothers to become productive citizens, income tax exemptions for low income families and the authorization for state universities to build facilities with long-term financing and beefed up our area community colleges and vocational training programs.

COL. RUTH LUCAS

Washington, D. C. - The American Association of Junior Colleges has been called on to link community college programs with military education programs.

In remarks to the American Association of Junior Colleges (AAJC), Washington, D.C., Colonel Ruth Lucas, USAF, Assistant for General Education and Counseling Services, Deputy Assistant Secretary of Defense (Education) OASD M&RA, said:

"We think that involving a serviceman in a community college experience prior to his leaving the service is a powerful form of believable communication. He can attest to the credibility of your educational offerings."

Colonel Lucas noted that servicemen receive skill training in one or more than 1500 skills, of which about 86 percent are related to civilian jobs.

The WAF colonel continued, "For example, more than half of military occupational education for enlisted men is for technicians concerned with maintenance and repair of electronic, electrical, and mechanical equipment. Others are trained in supply, administration and health technology. In addition, there is extensive training in management of resources in these career areas."

We believe there are opportunities here for linkage between community colleges and military bases in their vicinity leading to establishment of tailored programs to meet career goals of service men and women, both in terms of military careers and post-service careers."

Favor Negro
As FCC Member

Washington, D.C. - A citizens committee urged the Senate Commerce Committee Monday to reject the nominations of Dean Burch and Robert Wells to the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) and to pressure the White House into naming at least one Negro member.

William B. Branch, a member of the board of trustees of the National Citizens Committee for Broadcasting, and the Rev. Robert F. Drinan, also a trustee of the group, testified at hearings into Burch's nomination to be chairman and Wells' nomination to be a member of the FCC.

BLUE LEMONS.....

by e. e. tate

Jo-Ann Kelly is young, British and female, and her voice sounds almost brawny, black and southern. Although the tradition of whites imitating blacks is as old as the minstrel shows through the centuries, something, it is said, is usually lost in the white translation. In some songs in her album, "Jo-Ann Kelly" (Epic Records) the young singer does manage to come across to the listener as a black blues singer.

With the exception of one song on the album, all of the songs are by Kelly. Side one contains "Louisiana Blues," "Finger-print Blues," "Driftin' and Driftin'," "Look Here Partner," and "Moon Going Down." Side two includes "Yellow Bee Blues," "Whiskey Head Woman," by Tommy McClennan, "Sit Down on my Knees," "Man I'm Lovin'," "Jinx Blues," and "Come on in my Kitchen."

It has been said by some musicians that Kelly's style of guitar playing and even some of the inflections in her voice is a take-off from the great blues singer Son House. Perhaps this imitation benefits her.

According to Big Bill Broonzy, "There is even a few white men who can play the blues...Some-times we blues singers would call them Negroes, too, but they wouldn't mind at all...they could play as well as a Negro, but they couldn't sing the blues. They could say the blues and words and some of the blues they could sing was the kind that we call big-city blues and dressed-up blues, but not the real Mississippi blues."

As a white blues singer, Kelly is adequate. She is not the screamer-type Janis Joplin white blues singer, however, which may be another asset to her....

TALKING IT OVER WITH DWIGHT SWANSON

Merger of Iowa Power, Iowa-Illinois Voted:
Consolidation Designed to Benefit Customers;
Iowa Energy To Serve 616,000 With Electricity, Gas

Stockholders of Iowa Power and Light Company and Iowa-Illinois Gas and Electric Company voted overwhelmingly this last Wednesday to consolidate the two companies into one.

The new company, Iowa Energy Corporation, will stretch across the state. It will serve 323,000 customers with electricity and 293,000 customers with gas. Among the more than 100 communities it will serve are Council Bluffs, Des Moines, Ft. Dodge, Ottumwa, Iowa City, Cedar Rapids and the Quad Cities.

Subject to approval of the Federal Power Commission, which will hold hearings in November, the consolidation will take place early in 1970. And the new Iowa Energy Corporation will begin serving you.

Why are these two Iowa utilities merging? What will be the advantages to the companies—and to you, the customer?

One major reason is to gain economies in operation—so that our rates can continue to be kept low.

Together, we can construct bigger, more efficient facilities that can generate and transmit electricity more economically. We will be able to purchase generating fuel, natural gas and other supplies in larger quantities at less cost. We will be able to consolidate and handle certain operations more economically together than separately—such as data processing, system operations and coordinated generation.

What does this money saving mean to you? How will it affect the prices you pay for electricity and gas?

Just like you, we've been hit hard by inflation. Just as you are paying a lot more for everything you buy these days, so are we. Everything we need to generate and transport energy to you—the supplies we use, equipment, labor, interest rates—everything has gone up and up in price. We have really had to squeeze to keep rates down—and we have succeeded so far. (You actually pay less today per kilowatt hour of electricity than you did 10 years ago.) But, it's getting tougher and our profit margin has been eroding.

As a result of the economies stemming from consolidation, we will be in a much better position to keep our rates low—considering the rising cost of everything else.

Another major advantage of the merger, we believe, will be in reliability of service.

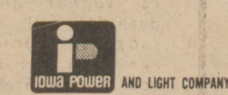

Sure, we have a record of better than 99.7% continuity of electric service—despite storms and mechanical failures. But we are shooting for a higher percentage.

The merged company, Iowa Energy, will be spending close to $50-million a year on new construction, maintenance and rebuilding to improve the electric and gas systems. A more diversified service load will permit more efficient use of energy sources. The consolidated experience of our management men, our engineers, our research teams, our linemen, servicemen, all of our combined 2500 people, will strengthen our system and our operations—for the benefit of the customer.

The consolidation of Iowa Power and Iowa-Illinois into Iowa Energy will result in improved service at lower costs than are possibly attainable by either company continuing separate operations.

That is why we believe that Iowa Energy will be in your interest.

Sincerely,

Dwight H. Swanson
President, Iowa Power

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to thank everyone for their kindness and thoughtfulness at my appreciation program this past Sunday at Mt. Zion Baptist Church, Oralabor, and Isaac Jones for the beautiful roses. Also thanks to John Estes and the Corinthian Deaconess Board and all members of each church in the city which showed their appreciation. Special thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Jones and Mrs. Stella Moore and my co-worker, Mrs. Dorothy Warren, who made this program possible. May God bless you all.

Mrs. Luvenia Jones

THIRD BAPTIST CHURCH NEWS

Rev. T.S. Patton, Jr., preached the morning service. All choirs sang.

At 3 p.m. the Junior Laymen and Y.W.A. Girls sponsored a talent and family living program. Deacon James Simmons was guest speaker. Rev. Lacy Davis is director of the Layman.

Mrs. Dorothy Chatman is director over the Y.W.A. Rev. Patton is pastor. Mrs. A. Williams is home and doing fine.

Mrs. E. Rose is in St. Anthony hospital in Rock Island.

said sum includes delinquent interest and advancements to and including September 1, 1969, and represents the total sum due after allowing defendant's right of set-off and credit for judgment for any further or future advancements plaintiff may be required to make for continuing abstract of title for any other purpose authorized by the terms of said note and mortgage and by Iowa law.

(2) Also asking judgment for costs including statutory attorney's fees.

(3) Also asking as against the defendants above named charge of foreclosure of the mortgage made and given by the defendants, Ray D. Raymond and Lillian M. Raymond, which mortgage is dated October 5, 1961, recorded in Book 3364, Page 49 of the records of the office of the Recorder of Polk County, Iowa, said mortgage being given to secure the above named note and other sums claimed, which mortgage covers the following described real estate, to-wit:

The South 20 feet of Lot 7 and all of Lot 8 in Block 7 in York's Choice, now included in and forming a part of the City of Des Moines, Iowa.

Plaintiff also asks for the appointment of a receiver to take charge of the above named premises and to collect the rents, issues and profits arising or which may be had therefrom and to apply them as by court directed. No money judgment is asked except against such persons who executed said note and mortgage.

Four Promoted by Gulf Oil Company

Pittsburgh, Penna. -- Advancement of four black men to Sales Representative positions has been announced by the Gulf Oil Co. - U.S.

Two of the men were promoted from Sales Trainee positions in the Company's Southern Marketing Region, one moved from Senior Creditman in the Western Marketing Region and the fourth, in Gulf's Midwest Marketing Region, had been a service station dealer since 1964.

In the Southern Region, Ignatius E. Carroll has been named a Sales Representative in the Miami District and Grady F. Terrell, Jr., to Sales Representative, Tampa District.

Carroll, a former insurance agent, teacher and airline ticket agent, holds a bachelor of arts degree in music education from Dillard University in New Orleans and is a native of Mobile, Ala. He was employed by Gulf in Atlanta last February.

Terrell, who studied business and industrial management at Tennessee A&I University and the University of Tennessee's Memphis Division, joined Gulf in Atlanta in October, 1968, following service as a construction inspector for the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers and a warehouse job with another oil company.

Another former Tennessee State student, Percy L. Abram joined Gulf in Los Angeles as an accountant in 1965 and moved rapidly through positions of Credit Trainee and Senior Credit Man before entering Gulf's sales training program earlier this year.

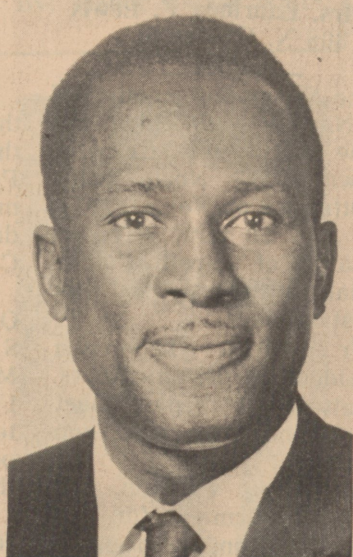

Clarence J. Anderson, like Mr. Terrell a native Memphian, had been operating a Bulko service station in Chicago from 1964 until Gulf purchased that company last year. His continuing excellent operation under the Gulf subsidiary, Bulk Petroleum, impressed Gulf officials who offered him the sales position he now holds.

Tells "Terror" at San Frisco State

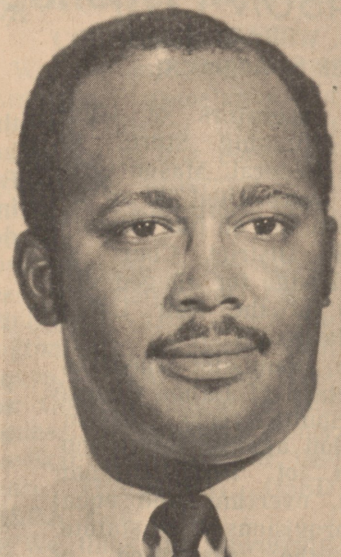

San Francisco, Calif. -- According to President S. I. Hayakawa, student revolutionaries have imposed a "reign of terror" in the Black Studies Department at San Francisco State college.

Hayakawa told a news conference that "both teachers and students are being threatened with violence if they do not permit the revolutionaries complete control over the program."

He said he may disband the program.

Bobby Seale, Gagged, Shackled, Stands Trial For Rioting Conspiracy

Chicago, Ill. -- It was like a three ring circus here at the trial of Bobby Seale, chairman of the national Black Panther party, continued here in U.S. District Court.

Because of his vituperative outbursts last Wednesday Seale had a gag placed in his mouth and tied behind his head and was handcuffed to a chair on orders of Federal Judge Julius F. Hoffman, who had voiced the warning the previous day. The following day Seale worked loose from his gag shouted obscenities at the judge before his mouth was covered again. The trial is the government's first attempt to use the provisions of the 1968 civil rights act which make it a federal crime to cross state lines to incite a riot.

Surrounded by four marshals, Seale was warned by Judge Hoffman, "I must warn you that the court has the right to gag and chain you to your chair."

"Gagged," said Seale. "I'm already being railroaded."

On Thursday, Oct. 30 Seale's wife with her 3-year-old son, Malik, discussed the trial at a news conference.

Navy ROTC Exam Deadline

Nov. 14 is the deadline for high school seniors and graduates to apply for the regular Navy Reserve Officers Training Corps examination to qualify for college scholarships, according to Navy recruiting officers here.

High school seniors and graduates who will enter college next September and who will be 17 to 20 years old next July 1 are eligible for the exam, to be given nationwide Dec. 13.

The program furnishes all college tuition, fees and books plus a $50 monthly allowance, and includes summer training at sea.

Applications are available at high schools and the Navy Recruiting Station, Second avenue and Walnut street.

Marvin Gilliam To Economic Post With Offices at Soul Village

Officials of three local savings and loan associations have announced the appointment of Marvin L. Gilliam to the position of Economic Advisor in the Model Cities area. His headquarters will be in the United Black Federation's "Soul Village", located at 1409 Forest Avenue.

The three sponsors are Des Moines Savings and Loan Association, Home Federal Savings and Loan Association, and United Federal Savings and Loan Association.

As economic advisor to the three firms, Gilliam will concentrate on many of the socio-economic problems affecting the more than 16,000 inhabitants of the Model Cities area.

According to the announcement, the selection of Soul Village as Gilliam's headquarters was arranged due to the fact that many inhabitants of that area have experienced difficulty traveling to and from the downtown area.

Gulf Oil Gives $5,000 Grant to Morris Brown

Milton G. Farris, Vice President of the Southern Marketing Region of the Gulf Oil Co.-U.S., presented Dr. John A. Middleton, President of Morris Brown College, Atlanta, a Gulf Oil Corporation Aid to Education grant of $5,000. The Capital Grant has been applied to the school's Building and Expansion Program, and is the third gift to the school from the oil company in three years. In 1966 Morris Brown received a $2,000 Unrestricted Grant, and in 1967 a $1,000 Departmental Assistance Grant went to the school's Division of Education. In recent years Gulf's Aid to Education program has aided more than 40 predominantly black colleges and universities.

HUD Grant to Grambling, La., to Aid Attack on Water Pollution

Washington, D.C. -- A grant of $194,800 announced today by the U. S. Department of Housing and Urban Development should help the all-Negro community of Grambling, La., solve problems stemming from its "hopelessly inadequate" water system.

The home of sports-famous Grambling College, the community has been exposed to a high rate of water-borne communicable diseases. Authorities report that existing individual disposal systems constitute an ever-present threat to the general health and welfare of the town.

1942, Elijah Muhammed was indicted for pro-Japanese sympathies and Harvard medical student, Bernard W. Robinson, became the first Negro to win a commission in the U. S. Navy.

Quilted cotton pads will protect your mattress and insure its long life. Choose an all-cotton mattress pad with quilting stitches that are closely spaced. Cotton pads are highly absorbent, a must for keeping a mattress fresh. And the closer the quilting pattern in a pad, the more durable it will be.

SEPIA--Bill Cosby Fires Mgrs

BILL COSBY FIRED THE MANAGERS OF HIS SEGREGATED APARTMENT BUILDINGS, according to his attorney quoted in the November issue of SEPIA now on newsstands. The one-page wrap-up or reactions to its shocking August article starts off by referring to the cliché about the pen being mightier than the sword. "Although not particularly handy with a sword, SEPIA's mighty pen fell gently upon Bill Cosby in the August issue for owning apartment buildings in Brooklyn which managers refused to rent to soul brothers and sisters."

Headlines

Headlines flashed across newspapers from one end of this country to the other about the disclosure. Cosby's Los Angeles attorney spoke to the author of the SEPIA story immediately after the August issue hit newsstands. "Within 15 minutes...Cosby retained a New York attorney to investigate the management policies. He has an absolute open policy. As a matter of fact, he would prefer black tenants."

SEPIA's story continues: "Cosby's attorney, who himself had once written a police brutality story for SEPIA, wrapped up his remarks by saying, 'I have great respect for your having called Mr. Cosby and I'm grateful for it...'

Because of Grambling's unfavorable financial rating, conventional financing was unavailable and the Government approach became the only avenue open to the hard-pressed community.

Early this past summer the Federal Water Pollution Control Administration awarded the town $37,300 for sewage treatment facilities. The HUD funds will be used to increase the water supply and storage facilities, and for extensions to presently unserved areas.

Athletic
Nationally known for its athletic teams, Grambling College has given the sports world such outstanding stars as Tommie Agee of the N.Y. Mets; Willis Reed of the N.Y. Knicks; Roosevelt Taylor of the Chicago Bears; Buck Buchanan of the Kansas City Chiefs; Willie Brown of the Oakland Raiders, and a host of others.

St. Louis, Mo. -- A black-owned and operated super-market, inspired by a group of black ministers, has declared a profit five months after its opening and four to seven months ahead of schedule.

Central City Foods, located in the heart of downtown St. Louis, is serving over 10,000 customers per week and is averaging $50,000 a week in gross sales. In the first five months of operations, the store has done well over $1,000,000 in gross sales.

not indicate that the presence or anticipated presence of persons of any particular race, color, religion or national origin in a neighborhood will or may result in: (1) the lowering of property values; (2) a change in the racial, religious or ethnic composition of the block, neighborhood or area in which the property is located; (3) an increase in criminal or anti-social behavior in the area; (4) a decline in the quality of schools serving the area.

Contended
Iowa Civil Rights Commission officials have contended that some real estate brokers and salesmen take an active part in efforts to keep blacks out of some predominantly white neighborhoods.

Secretary of State Melvin Snyhorst, chairman of the Real Estate Board, said that while the new code does not have the force of law, the unit will turn reported violations over to the Iowa Civil Rights Commission for investigation.

Snyhorst said if the Civil Rights Commission determines that a broker or salesman did violate the code by discriminating, then there aspect of the adoption of the code, according to officials of both the Real Estate Board and the Civil Rights Commission, is that its enforcement will be a "joint effort" of the two state units.

Not Actively
In the past, these two agencies sometimes have been at odds, with civil rights officials contending the real estate unit was not actively trying to end discrimination by the salesmen and brokers it licenses.

Alvin Hayes, Jr., director of the Civil Rights Commission, said Wednesday, "We are very pleased over the action of the Real Estate Board."

Snyhorst said the hard line both agencies expect to take on any violators of the new civil rights section of the real estate code "inevitably will lead to a court test case." "Then, we'll find out if we can proceed the way we plan or if we need to put more teeth in the state real estate law," he added.

New Supreme Court Ruling Welcomed by R. Wilkins

NEW YORK — When the Supreme Court ordered the immediate desegregation of Mississippi public schools, Oct. 29, NAACP Executive Director Roy Wilkins promptly described the unanimous decision as "welcome and urgently needed."

Urgently Needed
Wilkins said: "The Supreme Court's unanimous decision terminating 'all deliberate speed' in school desegregation is a welcome and urgently needed assurance that the Court is presently not about to abandon its commitment to democratizing the nation's public school system in accordance with the historic ruling of May 17, 1954."

Stunning Setback
The Court's decision was a stunning setback for the Nixon Administration which had counseled delay. It also reversed a decision by the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in New Orleans postponing until Dec. 1 the filing of desegregation plans.

When the Department of Health, Education and Welfare announced relaxation of desegregation guidelines, the NAACP whose 60th annual convention was in progress in Jackson, Miss., was the first organization to "condemn any action, politically motivated or otherwise, that would weaken movement toward integration."

Powell Appeals To High Court For Back Pay

Washington, D.C. — For the second time Representative Adam Clayton Powell has asked the highest court in the land for help.

Saturday his attorneys asked the U.S. Supreme Court for a ruling on whether Powell is entitled to the $55,000 congressional pay he lost when he was excluded from the 90th Congress.

In addition attorneys for the New York Democrat asked the court to establish Powell's right to seek recovery of the $25,000 fine that was imposed on him last January as a condition to taking his seat in the current 91st Congress.

Legal Move
The legal move was designed to circumvent a ruling by federal Judge George L. Hart, Jr., of the District of Columbia that Powell would have to prove he has "clean hands" before he may recover the last pay.

That would give lawyers for the House a chance to argue that at least part of the $55,000 should be withheld on grounds Powell misappropriated at least $46,000 in government funds.

Hart has refused even to consider the fine question.

Without Power
Last June, in Earl Warren's last decision as chief justice, the Supreme Court held 7-1 that Congress was

Rules Mistrial In Bootleg Case

A mistrial has been declared by Polk County District Judge A. B. Crouch in the case of Robert Edmonds, charged with being a bootlegger, because a jury was unable to without power to exclude Powell in March, 1967, since he had met the Constitution's age, citizenship and residence tests.

However, the court was not explicit about the Negro congressman's claims that he was entitled to recovery of $55,000 lost pay, the $25,000 fine and the 22 years seniority he was required to yield to come back to Congress.

agree on a verdict.

Edmonds, 34, who gave his address at 1160 9th street was accused of selling Police Officer Angel Cardona a double shot of bourbon for $1.20 Feb. 23 at 1230 Tenth street.

Edmonds was one of 35 persons indicted by the grand jury on Aug. 26 for alleged illegal sales of beer, alcohol and drugs.

New Vice Mayor

Maynard Jackson, who ran against U.S. Senator Herman Talmadge last year has won the vice mayor of Atlanta, Ga., without a run-off election in the race. He beat his leading candidate last month by 54,455 to 36,299 votes.

Activities of the Iowa Civil Rights Commission

Equal opportunity in housing took a big step forward in the past week in a move that should make the real estate industry more responsive to the needs of minorities seeking adequate housing of their choice.

After several meetings with the staff of the Iowa Civil Rights Commission, the Iowa Real Estate Commission has adopted a "suggested supplement to the real estate code of ethics," which spells out in detail specific practices that real estate brokers and salesmen should not engage in.

No Legal Force

While this code might not have the force of law, the Real Estate Commission would turn reported violations of the code over to the Iowa Civil Rights Commission for investigation under the terms of the Iowa Civil Rights Act (which provides for enforcement powers in the area of discrimination in housing matters as well as in employment and public accommodations.)

The Real Estate Commission licenses real estate brokers and salesmen, and will include this new code this week in its annual mailing of license renewals. The Real Estate Commission can revoke the license of a real estate broker or salesman who violates the laws on real estate or civil rights.

Brokers

The code provides that real estate brokers and salesmen should extend all of their services in good faith without discrimination to all persons, and should deny their services to a buyer or seller who insists on discriminating. Further, they should not use "Choose Your Neighbor" cards and other types of referral devices that can operate to keep a neighborhood closed to certain groups, nor can they ethically attempt to discourage the purchase of property by blacks in white areas or by whites in black areas.

The code also calls on real estate agencies to include a non-discrimination clause in all property listing agencies to include a non-discrimination agreement, to cooperate with public and private agencies in informing the public about equal housing opportunities, as well as to employ office and sales personnel without discrimination and to ensure that all employees comply with this Code on equal opportunity in housing.

All of this means that minorities have more protection in their search for housing of their choice.

The Action Magazine! — November issue on Newsstands Now

This family has a dollar a year income!

You'd think a big strong, talented fellow like Ken Hawthorne would be worth more than a dollar to somebody... and he is. He's worth plenty to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, which pays him the dollar, and to Gulf Oil, which loaned him to the State for a year as a Special Assistant to Governor Raymond P. Shafer.

First he got Pennsylvania's TEAM on the field—Training and Employment Assistance for Manpower, a program to recruit industry's aid in solving the employment problems of the disadvantaged.

Now he's been promoted to Executive Director of Governor Shafer's newly formed Urban Affairs Council, a group of top state officials who will formulate strategy on solving the state's urban problems.

Ken, before going to work for the State, was Supervisor of Gulf's 11 Pennsylvania Turnpike service stations and their 150 employees, and before that, a Sales Representative in Pittsburgh.

To make sure he comes back after his year with the State, and to help him stretch that dollar for his family, Gulf is paying Ken his regular salary and company benefits during his absence.

That's good business. When Ken helps the State and industry build productive citizens, it makes our potential employment force larger and better, and increases the number of potential new customers Ken can aim his sales programs at when he returns.

Dollar a year? He's worth it. At least.

Miss Mikel Cooper is our guest columnist this week; She was an University of Iowa senior, but after spending the summer in our community, remained in Des Moines and is now enrolled at Drake university. She is a delightful person, well informed, and an advocate of woman's liberation. She gives of her views in supporting references.—M.J.

W.I.T.C.H., more commonly known as the Women's International Terrorist Conspiracy from Hell, has just celebrated its first anniversary. The WITCH organization was founded a year ago this Halloween. The group is an all women group dedicated to the new trend which is making itself known on the American political scene as the Women's Liberation Movement.

The WITCH group began its inaugural day with a guerrilla theatre production entitled "Up Against the Wall Street," in which they performed an all day march on Wall Street protesting the general oppression of women in all phases of life, especially the business world. The WITCH also marched and leafleted the Miss America pageant for the past two seasons demonstrating against the portrayed object of the woman as merely something to look at and nothing else.

The premise of the WITCH organization is its awareness that witches and gypsies were the original resistance fighters against oppression—particularly the oppression of women—down through history. Witches have always been women who dared to be: courageous, aggressive, intelligent, non-conformist, explorative, independent and sexually liberated. This might explain why nine million women have been burned as witches.

Witches were the first friendly heads and dealers, the first birth control practitioners and the first alchemists. They bowed to no man, being the living remnants of the oldest culture of all—one in which men and women operated as equals.

What this organization and the other organizations of this rapidly mushrooming political movement are protesting is the oppression and explorative behavior which women face in every phase of society. American women are used for profits, and are programmed to make our capitalist system run most effectively. Although two world wars have changed the situation for a few short period, women have remained in the same occupations they held before World War I.

Women have always done clerical and factory work and their only expansion has been in the fields of social work, nursing, and teaching. Twenty-eight million women now work in America with 31% of all women workers being secretaries, bookkeepers, stenographers, and clerks; 15 per cent being service workers, waitresses etc; 14 per cent doing factory work and slightly over 13 per cent of the woman workers are recognized as professionals.

Even with a college degree the chances are not much better, as the usual routine a company employs when hiring a woman is to give her a typing test and thus completes her on-the-job training.

And there has been a decline in the number of professional women since 1930. There has also been a decline in prospects for the female worker as the earning gap between men and women has continued to widen even though some women support others besides themselves. In 1964, the median income of male workers was $6,283; the female worker it was $3,710.

As the myth goes, "the women's place is in the home," where she is preyed upon by television, magazines, and salesmen who find her only bright enough to buy and buy and buy. The female is supposed to buy. She is the ceremonial consumer of the goods which her husband produces.

The role that women's Liberation groups hope to play in society is in changing the image of the woman of today from an object to an individual. It is their hope that some day the phrase "you've come a long way baby," will mean just that.

Your professional beautician knows the answer...

Why does some hair break off when combing?

Your hair is precious and delicate... and none of us like to see it break off for any reason. Scientists tell us that excessive use of hot combs and over-processing of hair with chemicals often are major causes of brittleness resulting in hair breakage. But hair that is naturally curly and tangles easily frequently breaks off in everyday combing. Notice how irritated your scalp becomes when you comb in contrast to the way your beautician does?

Your professional beautician knows that curly hair mats and tangles so easily that it should be softened before combing. Otherwise, unnecessary irritation to the scalp and damage to the shaft and ends of the hair occurs. To achieve this needed softening and a temporary relaxing effect that prevents breakage on all human hair (including wigs), most beauticians rely on Clairol® Hair-So-New® spray-on creme rinse. For combing ease and for beautifying your hair in many other ways, trained beauticians stock a complete family of fine Clairol products for your specific needs.

Visit your expert hairdresser, who cares about your hair care and your comfort. Whatever the nature of your hair problems, only your professional beautician knows the answer for sure.

SEPARATISM HURTS
IN THE LONG RUN

Vice President Agnew was a favorite among Negroes in Baltimore until he criticized Negro leaders for their failure to criticize extremists. There has been criticism leveled at Negroes in other places for similar reasons.

Sounding out a number of Iowa University graduates at Iowa City last week, the Bystander asked their views on the demands for separate facilities and courses for Negro students at the University. Some of these men were among those who had spent time and money in order that Negroes might enjoy equal housing facilities at Iowa, Drake and Ames.

They expressed disappointment at the university authorities for knuckling to bullying demands which, while passifying the militant students, actually did them a disservice and ill prepared them to meet competition in the fields of science, industry, education and government which are not operated on a segregated basis.

We believe those students and professors who want separate facilities should go where they can get them without attempting to force them upon others; that they should be bound by the rules of the university which apply to all students alike.

Bayard Rustin remarked recently, "there is simply not much room in the American economy for black experts in soul music, and literature, and soul history."

Writing in the Crisis, Martin Kilson, a professor at Harvard University, said, "Any Afro-American studies program organized along all-black lines is of dubious value. Efforts to do this at some institutions, like Antioch College, are short-sighted, a disservice to American education, and morally at bay. Finally, the way to the top and middle jobs in American society is through professional education, and especially in the sciences and technical fields. Efforts by many advocates of the black studies movement to portray Afro-American studies as the educational salvation of black men display a deficiency of thought and common sense."

The NAACP has for years challenged separate facilities - which generally have been unequal - in the courts and in legislative halls. Last week, it received from the U.S. Supreme Court another landmark decision on school segregation. The Iowa Civil Rights Commission is making great headway in unsegregated housing facilities in the state. The demands for segregated facilities in our colleges tend to undermine what these organizations are doing to do away with the very thing which a lot of young people suffered and which has made it more difficult to them to meet the scholastic level which these universities require.

Glorifying Criminals
Helps Increase Crime

Every periodic report on the crime rate shows an increase. There are all kinds of suggested reasons and yet few are willing to come up with practical answers.

In our effort to protect the rights of our citizens, we have glorified the criminal which makes him feel that he can commit crimes, have sympathizers come to his rescue, abuse authority, throw up a lot of dust to confuse the issue and court.

They are released on bail, some may deserve it, only to go out and do the same thing over again. We let students take possession of school property, and dare no one to enter until their demands are met - the labor unions taught this in the auto strikes in Detroit. We permit defendants to abuse the judge and the courts just as being done in Chicago, inciting mob action which prevents either side from receiving a fair trial.

Much of this train of events stems from disrespect for law and order and the knowledge that punishment metered out to some simply encourages them to do the same thing over and over again.

Every person is entitled to his day in court, to be admitted to bail in most cases, to be represented by counsel and a fair and impartial trial. This does not mean that law violators should run the courts and expect to be rewarded. And this applies to students on the campuses as well as anybody else who thinks and acts like he is above the law.

NO JIM CROW
HOMES ARE NEEDED

Last week, a cry went out for a solution to the problem of Negro girls who have run a foul of the law but whose record is such that they should not be sent to Mitchellville - the state penal institution for girls.

Judge Leo Oxberger, the juvenile court judge, is looking for an answer. He has had some - one "a Negro girls home" which is not the answer. He wants to help. The Iowa Civil Rights Commission asked Negro leaders what they are going to do about the problem?

The problem is squarely on the shoulders of juvenile authorities. But to date they have not applied the same rule in dealing with Negro girls as white girls - place them in private homes.

We understand that several families have volunteered to take some of these girls. The county pays for their keep. Apparently this matter has not been made known to the public.

Negro families will respond to this need without the necessity of establishing a Jim Crow boarding house which has been tried here once but fell of its own weight. They are entirely contrary to thinking and practice in social work today.

Iowa Welfare
Convention At Hotel Savery

The Iowa Welfare Association opened its three-day convention here Wednesday at the Hotel Savery with James N. Gilliam, Iowa's new commissioner of social services, as keynote speaker. He will close the convention with another speech on Friday afternoon.

Workshops

Jack Kirkland, assistant professor at the St. Louis University School of Social Work, will be guest speaker for the banquet on tonight. The conference ball will follow.

Included among workshops was a client workshop this afternoon with Mrs. Joanna Cheatom of the Des Moines Black Mobile Workers presiding.

Officers

I.W.A. is an organization of social workers and lay persons interested in welfare matters. James W. Haritage, Cherokee, was installed as president and new officers were elected at the annual business meeting at 4 p.m. Wednesday in the Grand Ballroom.

Woman Convicted
On Vice Charges

Elizabeth Ann Norfleet, 26, who gave her address as 1605 Center street, has been convicted by a Polk County District Court jury of a charge of soliciting for prostitution July 17.

She was sentenced this morning at (9:30 a.m.) by Judge James P. Denato.

SPORTS

With Allen Ashby

Just about all of us who sat there at the Iowa-Minnesota game last week were thinking the same thing. "How come these guys lost all those other games by such lopsided scores?" There is no doubt Iowa wasn't up. It is hard to keep a team high for week after week. That is unless your bench is so strong that a starter knows if he is replaced he might not get to start again. Iowa doesn't have that kind of bench and this is where those nine guys who "didn't" pass the squad vote" would really help now.

Give Credit

But have to give the other fellows credit for playing a little football too. Minnesota was really ready to play and refused to let their many mistakes discourage or panic them. Levi Mitchell might have made a difference in the speed to the outside but that right side linebacker of the Gophers never let a play get outside of him all afternoon.

Booing

We never did appreciate the booing of the quarterback. We don't ever like it at pro-games. In our estimation there is only one time to boo and that is for unsportsmanlike conduct. But then the present system describing games over the air and in news stories blows the quarterback up as if he were the only guy on the field.

They used to say "Team B comes out of the huddle. They line up with Jones wide and Smith on the tight side and Baker in the slot." Now it goes like this.

"Quarterback Johnson leads his team out of the huddle. He sends Jones wide, puts Smith in tight and sends Baker in the slot."

A guy goes up and takes a pass away from three defenders or dives 15 feet and catches a ball on his fingers, just off the ground. You know it; the quarterback completes two passes. And pass blockers are never mentioned unless they don't do their job.

Now we know how important a quarterback is to a team. For as far back as we can recall and that goes back a heluva ways, no team was ever better than its quarterback. No matter what system of play they used. So we would guess if a player is going to be built up to such importance as today's quarterback he should get the bricks along with the bouquets. Now what brought all that on?

Iowa State

Iowa State caught Oklahoma on the rebound and that just about tells the story of that one. Drake pulled one out that we thought they had lost. This could be the year Drake decides to try Valley football again.

Dowling

Here at home Dowling proved they were the class of the teams around here. The team we figured should have finished no worse than second North, just didn't seem

Health for All

HEALTH BREATHING
FREE AND EASY

Jogging is just catching on in America. But it is kid stuff for the Tarahumara Indians in Mexico.

From childhood, the Tarahumaras, both male and female, are conditioned to run continuously for 100 miles. At a speed of 6 or 7 miles an hour! At an altitude of 8,000 feet!

Cardiac Reserve

"These marathon demonstrations of really phenomenal endurance," says Dale Groom, M.D., "are convincing evidence that most of us, brought up in our comfortable and sedentary civilizations, actually develop and use only a fraction of our potential cardiac reserve." Dr. Groom teaches at the University of Oklahoma Medical Center.

There is another extraordinary fact about the Tarahumaras. Not one of the Indians could remember an instance when a runner ever dropped out of the to get together. We saw them play Lincoln and thought they had some fine players. But, they never jelled as a team. East never did get right. It was a long dismal year for the Scarlet and from what we hear there is no telling when they will see daylight.

Next Year

Tech should be heard from next year. Their team will be a veteran one, hungry for wins. All they will need to do is win an early game. If the new idea of playing football at 8th and 9th grade level gets started locally high school football could suddenly become very tough.

Sweet Tooth

Our national sweet tooth isn't much sweeter than it was two decades ago. Extension service specialists at the University of Nebraska say per capita consumption of sugar in all food products has remained essentially stable in those 20 years.

Two Plead Guilty
To Buglaries

Two Des Moines teenagers were arraigned in Municipal Court Saturday on separate charges and will be tried as adults.

Lewis Henderson Branch, 17, of 1059 9th street, and Kirby James Ashby, 16, of 1173 7th street, were being held in the Polk County Jail in lieu of $10,000 bond each.

Branch is charged with raping an 18-year-old married woman early Saturday morning. He was also charged with larceny of a motor vehicle.

Ashby is charged with robbery with aggravation and larceny of a motor vehicle. Both are scheduled to appear in Municipal Court at 1:30 p.m. Friday, Nov. 14.

Minneapolis Leader
To Speak for Republican Confab

Harold Payne, Deputy Director of the Minneapolis Urban Coalition, will be the featured speaker at the National Republican Workshop convention to be held Saturday, Nov. 8th in Des Moines. The Iowa Republican Workshop is hosting the "mini-convention" at the National Motor Inn, 921 6th Avenue.

Payne, who is a former Commissioner of the Minneapolis Human Relations Commission, will be featured at the noon luncheon Saturday. Payne is also a former Vice-Chairman for the Midwest Concerned Afro-American Republicans.

The Republican Workshop Convention will feature two Saturday morning panel discussions and a national business meeting in the afternoon.

race because of chest pains or shortness of breath.

Labored Breathing

Most sedentary Americans cannot run around the block without gasping for breath. Many people, in fact, feel shortness of breath with no exertion at all. For them, labored breathing-even if it lasts only a few minutes at a time-may mean trouble.

Shortness of breath can be a symptom of such respiratory diseases as asthma, emphysema, bronchitis, and pneumonia. It can mean heart disease with lung congestion. And smoking complicates-and sometimes causes-these problems.

For more information about shortness of breath, respiratory diseases, and smoking, contact your local tuberculosis and respiratory disease association. For hints about jogging, check with the Tarahumaras.

FORGIVE AND FORGET

"Forgive and forget, it is better
To fling an ill feeling aside,
Than allow the deep, cankered fester
Of revenge in your heart to abide:
For your step o'er life's path will be brighter
When the load from your bosom is cast,
And the glorious sky will seem brighter
And the clouds of displeasure have past.

Thou your spirits swell high with emotion,
To give back in justice again,
Sink the thought in oblivion's ocean,
For remembrance increases the pain;
Oh, why should we linger in sorrow,
When the shadows are passing away,
Or seek to encounter tomorrow,
The blasts that o'erswept us today.

Our life's stream is a varying river
And tho it may placidly glide
When the sunbeams of joy o'er it quiver,
It must foam when the storm meets the tide;
Then stir not its current to madness
For its wrath thou wilt ever regret,
The morning breaks on your sadness,
E'er the sun sets, forgive and forget."
