Teacher Gets Second Chance in Iowa Appeals for National Support to Develop Fayette, Mississippi

After Serving Prison Term

Cedar Rapids—Because they felt he had paid his price, a 28-year-old teacher who was convicted of armed robbery, will get granted another chance to teach in Iowa by the eight-member board of the Cedar Rapids Board of education here last Thursday.

The board voted unanimously to accept Kenneth L. Freeman's application for an Iowa teaching certificate after he made a personal appearance with his wife.

$600 Robbery
On Feb. 6, 1967, Freeman, then 26, drove a state-owned driver education car from Cedar Rapids to Moline, Ill. and participated in a $600 robbery of a food store.

Freeman was arrested later and pleaded guilty of armed robbery.

On May 11, 1967, he was sentenced to a term of one to seven years in the Illinois State Prison.

Revoked
Freeman's Iowa teaching certificate was revoked June 9, 1967. Last Aug. 9, he asked the State Board of Public Instruction for permission to apply for a new certificate.

State Supt. Paul Johnston told board members Freeman had served a year in prison at Pontiac, Ill., and had been placed on probation until next May.

Worked in Illinois
After his release from prison, Freeman worked for the State of Illinois for 18 months

In addition to his teaching duties, Harris serves as a member of the Iowa State Education Association (ISEA) Executive Board and is one of two Iowa educators elected to serve on the National Education Association (NEA) Board of Directors.

Public Hearing for Negro Denied Union Card

The Iowa Civil Rights Commission will hold a Public Hearing in Des Moines, at the YMCA, 101 Locust Street, Leon Smith Room (2nd Floor) on Monday, Nov. 24, at 9:30 a.m.

Lawrence S. Slotsky, Commission Chairman, said only that the case involves a Negro who was denied membership in a union because of his race, and that all attempts at conciliation have proved fruitless. According to statute, no details of the case can be given prior to the hearing.

Investigate Welfare Disturbance

The Rights commission is also investigating the altercation which took place between the Police Department and members or friends of the Welfare Rights Organization.

In a news release the commission noted it had received... a number of inquiries from local citizens, the state Department of Social Services and the president of the social Service Employees in New York City."

Haynsworth Senate Vote Expected

Washington, D.C.—Despite rumors that proponents in favor of Judge Clement F. Haynsworth were seeking a delay, the showdown vote on his confirmation to the U. S. Supreme Court, was expected sometime this weekend.

Senator Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield has said he would like to hold the vote today. But Senator Roman L. Hruska (Rep., Neb.) floor manager of the nomination, suggested Monday the show down be put off because many senators plan to be away today.

The vote is expected to be close, maybe ending in a tie, because of opposition expressed by many groups expressed against Judge Haynsworth civil rights record.

New York City—Seventeen prominent Americans—including former Attorney General Ramsey Clark and ex-White House aide Theodore C. Sorensen -- have joined with Mayor Charles Evers to form a new national fund to develop Fayette, Miss., and its surrounding county. Mayor Evers announced today.

Named for Brother
The new organization—The Medgar Evers Fund, Inc.—is named after Mayor Evers' late brother, who was slain on June 12, 1963, in Mississippi while leading a campaign to register Negro voters.

He was immediately succeeded as NAACP State Field Secretary for Mississippi by Charles Evers, who continued the campaign which ultimately witnessed the registration of almost 250,000 black Mississippi voters.

80 to Office
One consequence of their civil rights efforts has been the election of more than 80 Negroes to public office in Mississippi in the past four years, including Charles Evers' election on May 13th as Mayor of Fayette. Evers is the first black man to be elected mayor of a multi-racial town in Mississippi since Reconstruction.

Statement of Mayor Evers

"We know the eyes of the nation are on us and we know that in six months or a year, the skeptics will be back to Fayette to see what 'miracles' we have performed.

But it is clear from our own preliminary surveys that the folk of Fayette and Jefferson County—white and black—are just too poor to expect us to be able to reverse almost four centuries of deprivation. So, unless we can get substantial help from our friends across the nation, there are not going to be any 'miracles' in Fayette.

10 Soldirs Transferred After Attending Meeting

Heidelberg, German—Ten American Negro soldiers who attended an all-black meeting where complaints were voiced about discriminatory practices of the army, were summarily transferred last month from posts in Germany.

Officials at the Army's Heidelberg headquarters said the 10 men were all stationed in the Augsburg area of southern Germany. They refused to make public the names of the men.

At 3 a.m.
One man was routed out at 3 a.m., driven to Frankfurt's Rhine-Main Airport, and put aboard a military transport. Asked why the transfer was made at such an hour, an Army spokesman said it was so the man would be on time for the plane's departure.

Three others were given notice of transfer at 6 a.m. reveille and flown out later that day.

Peaceful
The transfers were first reported by the Overseas Weekly, which said the black meetings began last summer with a meeting of four Negroes in a service club. These sessions later grew to Sunday afternoon meetings of Negro troops and their families in a gymnasium. The paper said Negroes who had attended reported they were peaceful and not intended as any kind of demonstration.

Complaints
The Overseas Weekly said some of the Negro soldiers in the Augsburg area had long claimed there were racial inequalities in the Army. But the paper reported that participants in the meetings said general dis-

LET'S MEET

Editor's Note:

This is the first of a two-part series on the Model Cities Program. This week's column general covers the national goals and intent as expressed by George Romney, secretary of the U. S. Department of Housing and Urban Development. Next week will deal specifically with the Des Moines Neighborhood program.

WHY DO WE NEED MODEL CITIES PROGRAMS

According to Mr. Romney, the Model Cities program is an ambitious effort. It seeks to coordinate a vast array of Federal programs, to concentrate their impact on specific depressed urban neighborhoods, and to make local governments stronger and more flexible.

My Committee on Model Cities of the Council for Urban Affairs has been intensively examining the program. Its study has shown that the program's goals are sound, but that there have been critical deficiencies in its administration which call for immediate correction. Among them:

(1) Federal agencies have not been sufficiently responsive to local proposals reflecting specific local conditions.

(2) In developing their proposals, local authorities have been hindered by uncertainty as to the amounts of funds that would be available from the Federal departments.

(3) Few effective attempts have been made to secure the involvement of State governments.

(4) Federal guidelines have forced cities to set "model neighborhood" boundaries that often have been arbitrary, and that have created unnecessary divisions among Model Cities residents.

(5) Model Cities is intended to be and will remain a local government program centered upon the Mayor's office with continued requirement for adequate citizen involvement.

(6) Priority consideration will be given to those cities that successfully enlist the participation of private and voluntary organizations in their Model Cities plans. The increased flexibility in establishing program boundaries will make it easier for these organizations to contribute.

(7) Local governments will be asked to establish clear priorities in developing their Model Cities proposals and to strive for "comprehensiveness" only in the programs' five-year planning cycle.

Many cities have interpreted Model Cities legislation and administrative guidelines requiring a local "comprehensive" plan of attack on blight and poverty in their target neighborhoods as requiring proposals to immediately attack every conceivable problem within these neighborhoods.

Unworkable

This obviously would be unworkable; what is important is that city governments set clear priorities

1 of 13 Black Fathers To be Viet Cripple
One black father out of every 13 will be a cripple because of the Vietnam War! Medical science is keeping up with military science; at least doctors are able to keep wounded G.I.'s alive better than ever before. The result will be a generation severely wounded.

The SEPIA story points out that 250,000 young Americans already have been wounded in Vietnam. An estimated 100,000 young black men have been taken out of schools, out of factories, out of fields, off the streets, only to be later discharged as cripples. As the 20 to 30-year-old generation of returning soldiers matures, marries and bears children, imagine what kind of report Mr. Moynihan then will be able to write about chaos within the black family.

Do Black Actors Make Good Fathers?

Better than most Hollywood matches SEPIA concludes in its December issue. "The new crop of black actors do not have typical made-in-Hollywood marriages. Most of them married childhood sweethearts, or young women they met in the years before fame and fortune arrived. Perhaps this is a clue to their domestic happiness."

Greg Morris, co-star on "Mission: Impossible" series, told SEPIA "...because of increasing employment opportunities the black family is staying together much better."

Glynn Turman, Don Mitchell, Lou Rawls, John Copage are all included in the SEPIA spread on black fathers. DELLA REESE, in the same SEPIA issue, is given an entire story, complete with pictures. The Isley Brothers are featured on the cover.

The December SEPIA poster included inside the magazine is the famous black cowboy BILL PICKETT, in color. The poster was painted specially for SEPIA.

Ask Alabama Ban Banners

Birmingham, Ala. -- W. C. Patton, associate director of voter education for the NAACP, has called upon Alabama education officials "to cease immediately the display of Confederate flags and the singing or playing of the song 'Dixie' as part of school activities."

Patton said he made the demand because of an incident at the Anniston High School where Negro students protested use of the flag and song at homecoming ceremonies. Fights broke out and there were several arrests.

Manpower Training O.K. for 504 at D.M. Skill Center

Training in various skills will be offered 504 Iowa workers under the Manpower Development and Training Act (MDTA) in a project announced today by the U.S. Departments of Labor and Health, Education and Welfare.

Training will be provided at the Des Moines Skill Center, 2403 Bell, which is operated by the Des Moines Community College. The trainees will be given training in skills for which they show aptitude and interest, and for which there is need in the community. Training duration will vary, with the maximum at 52 weeks.

Referral
The Iowa State Employment Security Commission will test, counsel and refer the trainees, pay them allowances for which they are eligible, and assist in the job placement of graduates.

BLUE LEMONS.....

by e. e. tate

The performance of the African Dance Company of Ghana Saturday at C. Y. Stephens Auditorium, Ames, was an enjoyable glimpse into one of the most exciting folkways of Africa.

The spectacle sported traditional dances from Ghana and other neighboring countries, accompanied by odorugya flutes, an assortment of drums and singing. In at least two of the dances presented, as the Bambara and the Kpanlogo (the Highlife), there are very obvious similarities between them and Black American social dances.

"Suite for Donno and Brexete," Dagbani and Hausa dances, enhanced by flowing robes of the male dancers in various vibrant shades of pastel colors, were basically meant for princes, although the solo butchers' dance in "Suite" is normally performed as a celebration dance by butchers at parties and as entertainment for male dancers.

Two of the most dramatic dances presented were "Nandom Dances" (Dagarti Bawa Dances), the Harvest Festival dance. This is a seasonal dance preceded by pouring of libation to the gods and ancestors for providing a rich harvest.

The other was "Akomo," a series of dances performed by "fetish priests," and is used mainly as a means of releasing priests from trances into which they must fall in order to act as "mediums."

The dances were performed with such agility, gracefulness and delicacy

Sees "New Kind Violence" in U.S.

Chicago, Ill. -- "A different kind of violence" will replace large urban riots "if and when we get out of Vietnam."

This is the opinion expressed by Whitney M. Young, Jr., executive director of the National Urban League, at a press conference before he addressed the annual convention of the American Speech and Hearing Association.

Young reasoned that the black community recognize they are hurt most by large scale riots and white revolutionists are joining black revolutionists.

that they afforded the observer a chance to experience the spiritual as well as visual cultural aspects of Africa.

We invented the term "family pharmacist" to describe a professional whose patrons benefit more by giving him all their family's prescriptions. He is a friend you know and trust; and, he provides all the services you might reasonably expect.

At McQueen's Pharmacy 6th & Forest (288-3323) we do not price prescriptions on a "per-pill" basis because, no matter how much the other ingredients of your prescription cost us, our service, that priceless ingredient, remains the same. We therefore charge for only the wholesale cost of the drug, plus our professional fee. By having all your family's prescriptions filled at McQueen's, you can actually pay less overall for better service.

Says G.O.P. Aided By Black Voters

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Clarence L. Townes, Jr., Assistant to Republican National Committee Chairman Rogers C.B. Morton, described the Black vote in the U.S. as having had a tremendous impact on the outcome of last week's elections.

Virginia

In the Virginia gubernatorial election, Governor-elect Linwood Holton polled approximately 55% of the total Black vote cast, with the percentage running as high as 71% for Holton in the predominantly Black precincts in Richmond, according to the Richmond News Leader.

Turning Point

"Both Republicans and Democrats have agreed that the major turning point in the Holton campaign," Townes said, "came in early October when he received the endorsement of the Virginia Crusade for Voters, an influential statewide Black independent political organization."

"In the New Jersey election, Governor-elect William Cahill got 26% of the Black vote in Newark."

Penna. Wards

"Republican Arlen Specter won re-election as District Attorney in Philadelphia, Pa., by polling 31% of the vote cast in the predominantly Black wards where registered Democrats outnumber registered Republicans 4 to

1. "Republican Mayor Ann Ucello of Hartford, Conn., won re-election with 17% of the Black vote cast, more than twice the percentage of the black vote cast in her first election," Townes said.

Those Elected

More Black Republicans were elected to office across the country than ever before. Among them are:

Lusk J. Twyman, re-elected Mayor of Glasgow, Ky.; Collin Bennett, re-elected City Councilman, Hartford, Conn.; (Second highest vote-getter in field of 12 candidates); Harold Garner, elected City Councilman, Toledo, Ohio; Paul T. Haggard, elected City Councilman, Cleveland, Ohio; John Kellogg, re-elected City Councilman, Cleveland; Stanley Lawson, elected City Councilman, Harrisburg, Pa.; Ray Pleasant, elected City Councilman, Bloomington, Minn.; Lillian Burke, elected Municipal Judge, Cleveland; (First Black woman elected to a judgeship in Cleveland); Marquette Floyd, elected Judge, Eastern Suffolk County, Long Island, N.Y.; William Woods, elected Magistrate, Harrisburg, Pa.; Howard Woods, elected Constable, New Haven, Conn.; Elijah Wheeler, elected Commissioner in East Cleveland; and Glen Williams, elected City Comptroller, Harrisburg, Pa.

Burial Plot Denied Viet Vet

Birmingham, Ala. — The refusal of a burial plot for a black Vietnam War veteran here precipitated a vigil by a white priest who declared: "I will ask every black soldier to refuse to go into combat, refusing to risk his life for his country, until the President can promise that any American can be buried in the cemetery he chooses."

The priest, Rev. Eugene Farrell, spoke at an hour-long prayer vigil at the gates of Elmwood cemetery.

Pfc. Bill Terry of Birmingham was killed last summer. His mother and widow filed a federal court suit July 25 in an effort to force cemetery officials to cease "maintaining a policy of discrimination against Negroes." The suit has not been heard.

Black Elected to National Educators

CHICAGO, ILL. — Dr. Lewis C. Dowdy, President of North Carolina A&T State University, has been elected president of the Council of Presidents of the National Association of State Universities and Land-Grant Colleges. He is the first black man to hold the Council's highest office.

Dowdy was elected to his office Monday during the 83rd annual convention of the National Association of State Universities and Land-Grant Colleges in Chicago.

Perfect for Tea Time—Marbled Peanut Butter Coffee Cake

Conjure up thoughts of a delicate, moist coffee cake. Imagine a streusel topping flavored with chocolate and peanut butter and marbled throughout the cake. This is how the home economists in the test kitchens of Peter Pan came up with the recipe for Marbled Peter Pan Coffee Cake. Peanut butter is extra-tasty addition to a recipe and especially in this coffee cake. But peanut butter's taste isn't its only asset—peanut butter is a rich source of protein too.

MARBLED PETER PAN COFFEE CAKE

(Makes 9-inch tube cake)

1 cup sugar
1/2 cup butter
1 cup dairy sour cream
2 eggs
1 teaspoon vanilla

1 teaspoon baking soda
1 teaspoon baking powder
2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
Peter Pan Streusel Topping*

Cream together sugar and butter; blend in sour cream, eggs and vanilla. Sift together baking soda, baking powder and flour. Stir dry ingredients into creamed mixture. Mix well and pour half of the batter into greased and floured 9-inch tube pan. Sprinkle half the Peter Pan Streusel Topping* over batter. Pour in rest of batter. Top with remaining Streusel topping. Run knife through cake batter for marbled effect. Bake in 350° (moderate) oven one hour or until cake tests done. Cool partially in pan; turn out and serve warm.

*Peter Pan Streusel Topping: Combine 1/2 cup firmly packed light brown sugar, 1/8 teaspoon cinnamon, 3 tablespoons flour and 1 square (1 ounce) semi-sweet chocolate, grated. Using a pastry blender, cut in 1/2 cup Peter Pan Crunchy Peanut Butter and 1 tablespoon butter until mixture is crumbly.

Rights Director Checking Job Practice

Allen J. Correll, Executive Director of the Des Moines Human Rights Commission, announced today that he will be contacting various businesses who are in direct violation of the Fair Employment Practices Ordinance of the City of Des Moines.

Requests Photos
Correll stated that through some initial inquiries he has found various firms in the City of Des Moines requesting photographs of potential employees as a part of their pre-employment application. Correll further stated that he has no disagreement with the use of photographs for identification but that they should be requested only after the individual is hired.

There is no relationship with the job to be performed in regards to the request for a photograph, and this practice has often been used as a discriminatory device to exclude minorities.

Plead Innocent to Charges Stemming From Conv.

Charles Knox, 25, of 1210 University ave., is charged with assault and battery and disrupting a public assembly.

Municipal Judge Harry B. Grund scheduled preliminary hearings on Nov. 24 at 1:30 p.m. for Mrs. Bryson and Mrs. Auch on the charges of resisting arrest. A hearing for Knox on the same charge was scheduled Dec. 9.

Files Suit to Unfreeze Miss. Funds

ABERDEEN, Miss. — The United States District Court for the Northern District of Mississippi was scheduled to hear argument here Monday, Nov. 17, on an NAACP motion for a preliminary injunction restraining Mississippi banks "from detaining in any way funds belonging to" NAACP units in the state.

Merchants

The motion, filed on behalf of the NAACP units by Lawrence D. Ross of the Lawyers' Committee for Civil Rights Under Law, Jackson, seeks to pry loose NAACP funds frozen as the result of action of a group of Port Gibson merchants who have filed a suit for $3.5 million damages against the Association, its state and local units, and various other organizations and individuals because of a boycott against the merchants. The withholding of patronage campaign was instituted 30 months ago in an effort to halt the discriminatory practices of the merchants.

Defendants

The complaint was filed on behalf of Aaron Henry, president of the Mississippi State Conference of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People and of the Coahoma County NAACP Branch, both of which are plaintiffs in the action which was filed also on behalf of all others similarly situated. Defendants in the suit are the Bank of Clarksdale, Coahoma National Bank and the First National Bank of Clarksdale.

Find 3 Guilty Of Charges

Juries in Polk County District Court have found three persons guilty of criminal charges. The defendants, addresses they gave, charges and dates set for sentencing:

Wesley Willis, 23, of 1186 12th street; selling a shot of bourbon in his home to Des Moines policeman Angel Cardona last May 17; to be sentenced by Judge Harry Perkins at 9 a.m., Dec. 1.

Ray McGee, 36, of 1186 12th street; selling a shot of bourbon to the same police officer at the same address last May 18; to be sentenced by Judge Leo Oxberger at 9 a.m., Dec. 3.

Herman Otis Shipp, 40, of 1505 University avenue, robbing a Rosemount, Minn., man of $80 last July 23 in the 500 block of Locust street; to be sentenced by Judge James P. Denato at 1:30 p.m., Nov. 26.

Activities of the Iowa Civil Rights Commission

Factory Worker Gets $3,000 Back Pay

A factory worker in Cedar Rapids got his job back and $3,000 back pay, as the result of a Conciliation Agreement reached recently by the Iowa Civil Rights Commission.

He had filed a formal complaint with this Commission, claiming that he had been fired because of his refusal to work on Saturday (which was contrary to his personal religious beliefs).

The Commission investigation of this charge showed "probable cause" that the firing amounted to discrimination against him in his employment because of his religion (in violation of the Iowa Civil Rights Act.)

Among other things, the investigation showed that he worked a standard 40-hour Monday-through-Friday workweek and that any Saturday work was overtime work. Moreover, he put in overtime during the week as long as it was not on Saturday.

Conciliation

The complaint was finally conciliated after the Commission began a public hearing on the matter. During a recess at the start of the hearing, the Commission was able to get the worker and the company together on compromising their differences and reaching an understanding under which he could return to work in a different position that would not require work on Saturdays.

Back Pay

He returned to work for one day, and was paid the $3,000 back pay which was agreed upon as a compromise sum, but chose then to quit. The important thing here is that the Commission won him his right to reclaim his job, and then it was up to him to make his own decision as to whether he wanted to continue working there. The law protected him from being arbitrarily excluded.

Quakers

Members of the Society of Friends came to be called Quakers from a speech by the founder, George Fox, in which he called upon his listeners to "tremble at the name of the Lord." A magistrate, Justice Gervase Bennett, thereupon called their group the "Quakers."

Where to File

The Iowa Civil Rights Act prohibits discrimination in employment, housing, and public accommodations — based on a person's race, creed, color, religion, national origin, or ancestry.

If you have been discriminated against or know about a discriminatory practice, write: Iowa Civil Rights Commission, State Capitol Building, Des Moines, Iowa 50319; or telephone: area code 515 - 281-5129. It costs nothing for a person to have a discrimination complaint investigated or resolved.

Applauds

The National Council of Negro Women has announced its support of a new type daily television series for preschool children as an appealing and effective means of preparing the black child to get off to an equal start in elementary learning.

Terming education as the "cutting edge of any program of social reform for black people," Miss Dorothy Height, president of NCNW, called on other black community organizations to alert mothers, teachers and children to the series, "Sesame Street," which begins Nov. 10 on more than 170 stations.

Catholic Church to the needs of the black people, training the white priests and nuns who work among them... adapting the liturgy to the religious experiences and expressions of blacks," said Clark, whose caucus has lobbied for several years for autonomy. "We also want to work with black Catholic University students."

He said establishment of the office is not aimed at creating a separatist black movement within the Catholic Church.

Retain Independence

Father Clark said the Central Office for Black Catholics would attempt to remain somewhat independent of the church, getting some money from other sources.

Auxiliary bishop Harold R. Perry of New Orleans, a caucus member, said the office could offer recommendations on the assignment of black priests and intervene in personnel disputes "on an advisory basis."

Let Negroes March In Memphis After Rock Throwing

Memphis, Tenn. -- Police moved in to halt a Negro demonstration after a flurry of window breaking and rock throwing in downtown Memphis last week then permitted the march to continue.

"The march will be allowed under controlled conditions," said Police Chief Henry Lux, but he did not spell out the conditions.

The Rev. Ralph D. Abernathy, head of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, ordered the demonstrators to get rid of any rocks and bottles they might have. He said he wanted a march he could be "proud of."

New Church Group Seek $300,00 to Help Negroes

NEW YORK -- A minimum goal of $300,000 to assist "minorities to achieve self-determination," has been set by the newly-organized Episcopalians and Others for Responsible Social Action as a grass-roots alternative to the church's previously announced support of the Black Economic Development Conference.

News Conference

Announcement of the new organization and its goal was made at a news conference here, Nov. 13, by the Rev. Alfred H. Palmer, rector of St. Thomas' Episcopal Church, Farmingdale, N.Y., and founder of EORSA. Also participating in the conference were Roy Wilkins, executive director of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, and Julius L. Johnson, representing the National Urban League.

Alternative

"We wish to offer a national alternative to those concerned people who cannot support groups employing violence and intimidation as a means of obtaining their objective," Father Palmer said in his opening remarks. "Feeling that it is not adequate simply to respond negatively to the pressing needs of these turbulent times, we have incorporated to offer another channel for immediate and positive action through groups who are assisting minorities to achieve self-determination."

Disagree

A large number of Episcopalians, he said, did not agree with the decision of the church at the Special General Convention II, held in South Bend, Ind., two months ago. Responding to the demands of the Black Manifesto for reparations, the convention voted to raise a fund of $200,000 to be channeled through the BEDC for community development. "We are all indebted to him."

No Compromise

The Rev. Dr. J. V. Langmead Caserley, author and theologian of Chicago and one of four trustees of EORSA present, expressed the opinion that "many Episcopalians think of the action at South Bend as a compromise. Concerned people--and we represent the truly concerned--are those who want to do something like raise money for black social justice."

Witness in Slaying

Singer Jackie Wilson was ordered held as a material witness in the case of a former Playboy Club "bunny" -- said to be infatuated with him--who was shot and killed by her husband in Atlanta, Ga. According to the husband, his wife, the mother of two children, was infatuated with Wilson. He had a six-day engagement last week at an Atlanta night club where she had worked as a waitress since leaving the Playboy Club. Karen Lynn Calloway, 21, allegedly spent two nights in Wilson's motel room with another white woman, while the Negro singer stayed in another room.

RECENTLY FRIENDS

INVITED ME TO HAWKEYE LODGE No. 160 at 1401 Walker Street. The quarters, newly occupied only two years ago, are conveniently located, spacious and attractively decorated. The building is heated with gas and has a newly installed central air conditioning. Immediately beyond the club room is a meeting hall; beyond this is a business site which formerly housed the pharmacy of the late Russell Bell. To the back is a three-room apartment. I was informed the Lodge is purchasing this real estate. This is quite believable because it is a strong organization, has active programs of value and interest to not only its membership but to its community. Exalted Ruler Gilbert Randle heads No. 160.

I CHATTED WITH NORVILLE E. TILLMAN about Lodge No. 160. After 38 years, he should know whereof he speaks! The 38 years were not mere membership but a work-filled career which earned him the highest posts in this organization. He was president of the Middlewestern States Association for 7 years; Past Grand Exalted Ruler of the Grand Lodge for 16 years; he was elected 18 consecutive times as Exalted Ruler of Lodge No. 160; is currently Chief Antler of the State Council of Iowa No. 35; is Executive Assistant to the President of the Midwestern States Association and Past Grand Exalted Ruler. His especial interest has been education; specifically, the long-standing local, state and regional oratorical contests. And equally specific the famed drum and bugle corps, always popular with the very young.

ROSE TEMPLE No. 33, Hawkeye Lodge No. 160's auxiliary is a forceful organization. Its current head is Daughter Ruler Helen S. Williams. The united efforts of the men and women will again bring into being the Children's Annual Christmas Party, its 21st. Around 500 party guests are expected this year—the children are 12 years old and under.

ASIDE FROM THE ELKS' ACHIEVEMENTS through its various programs, is the equally important reality that the club is "home" to so many people. Norville used the term "Elks' Home" and it was minutes before I understood. Looking about at so many familiar faces—known to me for almost a lifetime, I sensed the meaning of his words. Everyone knew almost everyone else. Couples danced, not for show, but for the simple pleasure of dancing with a friend and among friends.

I saw Sam Vaughn who identified for me his three sons. This was quite typical of the setting. Many members of a single family could be spotted here and there. One had only to know the family features to identify still another member. All types of attire were quite acceptable there. There were well-dressed business men; men and women in casual attire; and then men and women from their life's endeavors there to congregate with friends for an evening "at home", as Norville would have me realize.

Best of all was the good will exchanged. For example, a handsome, thin young man did an excellent "James Brown". His partner coolly held her own as he executed the intricate steps of "The Man". Friends expressed approval! All I could learn was that the performer's name was Leslie. "And, Leslie, wherever you are, you are a fine dancer! We understood that you were just out of the hospital. The rest of us should try hospitalization and see what it can do for our dancing!"

An orchid must go to Elsie Robinson for her dancing—youth has nothing on her! Absolutely nothing! An evening at Hawkeye Lodge No. 160 brought me face to face with Nadine Abbott, Dorothy Madison, Wanda (Tootie) Henderson and Elmer Barber out of St. Paul. The Lodge is made and maintained by a strong membership. Their "home" is well-earned by their united efforts, I would say! Thanks for an enjoyable evening!

THELMA CLARK (MRS. LOYATUS) vacationing in The West Indies, and Puerto Rico, will accumulate about 6,692 air miles against her 1968 total of 5,666! She is a busy woman! She and Clark sort of honeymooned the first lap of her trip. He accompanied her to Washington, D.C.! Sure he's home now!

Your professional beautician knows the answer...

Why does some hair break off when combing?

Your hair is precious and delicate...and none of us like to see it break off for any reason. Scientists tell us that excessive use of hot combs and over-processing of hair with chemicals often are major causes of brittleness resulting in hair breakage. But hair that is naturally curly and tangles easily frequently breaks off in everyday combing. Notice how irritated your scalp becomes when you comb in contrast to the way your beautician does?

Your professional beautician knows that curly hair mats and tangles so easily that it should be softened before combing. Otherwise, unnecessary irritation to the scalp and damage to the shaft and ends of the hair occurs. To achieve this needed softening and a temporary relaxing effect that prevents breakage on all human hair (including wigs), most beauticians rely on Clairol® Hair-Soo-New® spray-on creme rinse. For combing ease and for beautifying your hair in many other ways, trained beauticians stock a complete family of fine Clairol products for your specific needs.

Visit your expert hairdresser, who cares about your hair care and your comfort. Whatever the nature of your hair problems, only your professional beautician knows the answer for sure.

MISGUIDED HELP TO
BLACK STUDENTS

Saturday, the black students who seized a school building illegal at Loras College in Dubuque, were suspended because, as the committee said, "the blacks had violated a section of the Loras student handbook which prohibits 'disruption of the orderly operation of the college, or interference with a duly authorized college program.'"

Sunday, officials revoked the suspension and placed them on probation. They had support from a lot of their sympathizers who will not take the same stand to get them a good job after they graduate.

Asked what he thought of the change in penalty the leader of the black student movement said: We knew we were right in the first place.

These young people have been dealt a disservice by Loras College which will make them more cocky and troublesome as years go by and enemies of some white people.

PRESIDENT NIXON IS ON RIGHT COURSE

The peace rallies attracted many people during the three days. A rather interesting sign on a San Francisco rally read "Not one more dead."

No sane person should disagree with the idea expressed on this float. Certainly President Nixon does not; not only because he says so but he is withdrawing our forces from Vietnam as fast as is practical.

So far, no practical plan has been suggested to end the war by protesters other than laying down our arms and walking out. As a practical matter, this just can't be done. And if we expect the south Vietnamese people to carry on in the future, they must be trained and equipped and supplies left to sustain them. (With Russia providing the north Vietnamese modern weapons, we doubt if the south Vietnamese people can defend their own country.)

Of course, this country has long been interested in blocking Communists from taking over southeast Asia. And while we propose that every nation select its own form of government, this has not been applied where the threat of Communism has been imminent. And the fact that some radicals in the Washington parade carried Viet Cong flags, chanted "Ho, Ho, Ho Chi Mien" and "that the NLF is going to win indicated that we have in our midst people who support the foreigner as against their own country.

In spite of the marchers and protesters, we believe President Nixon is trying to conclude the war as fast as possible, but it cannot be done today, or even tomorrow as a lot of the protesters or so-called intelligent think it can.

It is like the old story that we have our hand in the lion's mouth and are forced to remove it pretty carefully lest it be chopped off. How we got it there is not important today only to the extent that we should not make that mistake again.

FOOLISH BICKERING
IN MODEL CITIES

Des Moines is one among several cities selected by the government for a Model Cities program. The area stretches from Keo Way roughly and Center Street north to Euclid excluding Chataqua Parkway and from Second Avenue east to Harding Road west. Citizens living in or owning property in the area are eligible to participate.

On its face, the project sounds good. It should become a real asset to the city. Some people have worked hard to get it started.

On the other hand bickering, jealousy, ignorance seem to have developed from the beginning tending to make some people wonder whether the effort spent in an attempt to get the program off the ground is worthwhile.

The federal government, in its attempt to place responsibility for developing some of its programs in the communities, has overlooked the necessity of providing sound business management to some of them which in some instances has been a real drawback in getting the job done.

All-City Football
Presents Four

This week, the Bystander presents for its "Youth on Parade" series, members of the football team who captured mythical berths on the all-city football teams. The Bystander extends heart congratulations to each of them.)

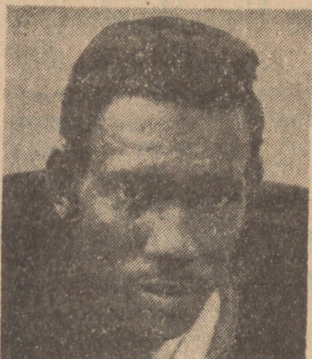

Phil Hayman of Lincoln high, who set a city scoring record with 112 points, was the lone black on the offensive platoon named by the Des Moines Tribune.

North high, which boasted one of the city's best defensive units, placed two on the defense unit. Bill Rollison, senior back and Marty Smith, senior tackle. The third was Don Levell back and lone selection for East high.

Honorable mention went to Chuck Freeman, Bob Florence, Jack Welch of North; Darrell Duncan and Walt Knox of Tech and Bill Fristo of Roosevelt.

Named All-State
Football Player

For the second straight year, Jerry Moses, of East Waterloo, was named to the first team of All-State honors. He is 180-pounder scored 242 points during the season and ran for more than 1,500 yards as the Trojans increased their unbeaten string to 38 games. He's the first team selection and another East Waterloo standout, Tom Smith, did it in 1966-67. Moses drew nearly twice as many votes as any other player in the balloting among coaches.

SPORTS Denied Job

With Allen Ashby

Well, sir, the Michigan boys think they can beat Ohio State and after watching them clobber the Hawkeyes, they have almost made a believer out of me. Oh, I wouldn't bet any of my hard earned cash on the results but wouldn't be greatly surprised if the Wolverines did the trick.

Defense

Those guys were everywhere Saturday. They defended against Iowa's strong passing game by knocking down the passer more than putting the rush on the thrower. But, at times, they did put on a real pass rush that was effective. Levi Mitchell, probably wouldn't have helped the cause any if he had played; the other guys were that tough. Unlike the Minnesota game in which Iowa's mistakes cost them, the team didn't make too many mistakes. The Michigan offense is about as tricky as a clout over the head, but they had the runners and one especially in a guy named Taylor.

Predictions?

There went our six game season down the drain. But a five and five isn't really bad. Maybe, if those fellows hadn't quit last spring or hadn't got canned; anyhow, they didn't help the team no matter what anybody might say. And do you know Illinois just might be ready for an upset.

Iowa State found out about Missouri if they aren't one of the top 10 teams they should be. Those guys seem to have everything. And as good as Michigan looked last week you will that the Tigers walked the tar out of them.

Cyclones Defense

Probably, couldn't do it now but it would be a tough game no matter who won. Iowa States offense just hasn't seemed to get going. The passers can't always find time to throw and when they do, the receivers sometimes drop the ball. Well, maybe, next year the defense and offense will both get ready.

Drake to Bowl?

Drake had high hopes for a bowl bid if they beat Southern Illinois well, they did that and now must wait and see. When we think of Southern Illinois we always remember them as the school with two athletics setups. One black and one white. Two football and basketball teams.

But, somewhere along the road they wised up; combined the two and have been tough ever since.

All-City Teams

Here at home we looked over the all-city football teams. One black player on the whole squad. That was true of both teams. Maybe, that's all there were. We didn't keep track of all the high schools games but we thought there were some pretty good black players in Eastern Iowa. Maybe, there weren't.

Racial Prejudice
At UCLA Dashed
Alcindor's Hope

New York, -- Lew Alcindor's hope for dignity and integration was bitterly frustrated at UCLA and his experiences there resulted in his finding a new attitude toward life with Islam, according to his autobiography in Sports Illustrated this week. It is the second of a three-part series written with Jack Olsen.

Alcindor says he arrived at UCLA hoping that he had left racial prejudice behind him in New York but ugly incident after ugly incident quickly convinced him that he had failed "to outflank the racial wall." One of his small group of black brothers, a brilliant student, introduced him to books such as Alex Haley's "The Autobiography of Malcolm X" and he developed his first interest in Islam.

Alcindor writes that he had always been able to withdraw within himself because he had always been a "minority of one; very tall, black, Catholic." He became, he writes, "consumed and obsessed by my interest in the black man, in black power, black pride, black courage. That, for me, would suffice."

QUESTION: I receive social security checks each month and I have just moved to a new address. Is it OK if I just tell the mail carrier?

"He's doing something for his race, instead of inciting them to riot," said J. C. Washington, Chamber of Commerce manager.

Co-hosting the luncheon was the National Association of Market Developers, which named Terry "Black Businessman of the Year."

THE STEP AT THE GATE

The shadows of evening darken
Along the garden wall;
The summer wind comes fluttering by;
And showers of rose leaves fall
Where I sit at the parlor window
And dream, and listen, and wait
For the sound of a cheery whistle
And a well-known step at the gate.

Baby's asleep in her cradle,
Snoozing with all her might
And over both her blue-blossom eyes
Are drawn the curtains white;
But her nap is nearly over,
She seldom sleeps so late,
She'll awake in a glow of gladness
When she hears the step at the gate.

This is our little kingdom—
This cottage with vines o'ergrown,
Papa's the king, and mamma's the queen,
And baby's the heir to the throne.
Where IS the king, I wonder?
Supper will be so late.
THERE he comes! Now, baby, wake up!
For I hear his step at the gate.

Black King
Of England???

The possibility of a BLACK KING OF ENGLAND is gone over in the same issue of SEPIA. George III, in merry olde England, married a black woman and sired a son whose descendants -- if any -- could lay claim to the royal throne of England.

"History books tell us that King George III officially married the German Princess Charlotte in 1761," the SEPIA article says. "BUT ... the secret marriage of George III took place in 1759, two years earlier, to a pretty London shoemaker's daughter called Hannah Lightfoot."

That means that merry olde Queen Victoria right on down to present-day Queen Elizabeth II maybe were not the rightful sitters on the throne. Somewhere in black South Africa today, the rightful heir to that British throne may be living and unaware of his royal ancestry.
