Best Christmas! Paralyzed Son Is Home For Good-Things Look Bright

(This is the first in a series of three articles on the Porter Dimery family whose son, Ronnell, was stricken with that rarest of diseases, transverse myelitis.)

By Frances E. Hawthorne
"It was the happiest Christmas ever. Having Ron home was like having a piece of our house fall back in place."

This was the joyful opinion of Mr. and Mrs. Porter Dimery, 2572 S.E. Harriett street, who for nearly two years have survived emotional agony and exhaustion, mountainous debt and the indifference of welfare establishments.

Darkness Fell
For the Dimerys the recent holidays were like emerging finally into the warm sunlight after stumbling through an inconceivable dark and treacherous tunnel.

The darkness fell on a normal Monday in April 1968 when Ronnell, then 13, collapsed at school in pain and with paralyzed feet, with what medical specialists diagnosed weeks later as transverse myelitis.

When this interview was first suggested prior to the Thanksgiving holidays there was more than a touch of controlled desperation in the father's quiet eyes.

Looked Bleak
Looking back last week his wife confirmed the situation. "Before Christmas things looked so bleak. Ronnell used to be able to do so many things, and he knew this. One day he said, 'He wished there wasn't any such thing as Christmas.'"

"I was at a loss for words. What can you say. But, as the days went by, his brothers and sisters tried to cheer him up; friends and members of the congregation dropped by, brought him games, and played with him.

First Holiday Home
"His spirits brightened and so did ours. Our prayers were answered everyday," she stated at a cost in a whisper.

For the Dimerys Christmas 1969 marked the first holiday at home for Ronnell since he was stricken. Their happiness soared when they were reasonably assured that Ronnell, who came home last April, will be home for good now.

With the exception of his six months at Younkers Rehabilitation the other Dimery children had been unable to visit him.

"You should see them now," the mother said. "They play together - as if there's nothing at all wrong with him."

For a long time Ron would let only his father or me in the room," she continued, "to give him the personal attention he needs. Now he lets his brothers and sisters help him."

And they and he take it in stride. This in itself is a measure of how far the Dimery youth, his parents and sisters and brothers have come along the long road back to a plateau of normalcy.

Currently Ronnell is repeating 8th grade (which he missed entirely at Wood-

Wharton Begins Presidency at Michigan State

EAST LANSING, Mich. — Clifton R. Wharton Jr., Friday, Jan. 2, became the first Negro to serve as president of a major American university when he officially assumed command at Michigan State university.

Wharton, 43, was elected president by the board of trustees last fall and his appointment was effective Jan. 2.

The agricultural economist has been living in East Lansing for more than a month preparing to assume the reins of office. However, university officials said he was out of town for the holidays.

Wharton is the 14th president of the 115-year-old land grant college, which has a student enrollment of 41,000, approximately 1,000 of whom are Negroes.

He was vice president of the Agricultural Development Council of New York when he was elected for the post.

Also honored were Judge Luther T. Glanton, Jr., for two years and Mrs. R. D. Rhone, for one year.

White Students Rally, Demand Easing Off of Disciplinary Actions

Forest City, Ia. — Following an after-midnight fist-swinging fight involving black and white students here at Waldorf College last Friday night, six black students were arrested and charged with assault and battery. One of them was also charged with carrying a concealed weapon.

Suspensions

In addition seven black students were suspended indefinitely from the student body by a faculty-student disciplinary committee. Since then one of the seven suspended was exonerated of all charges. None of the names of the students suspended has been released publicly.

Student Rally

Following a rally Monday, a major portion of the nearly all white student body called for easing disciplinary action against the seven black students. Robert Evenson, Waldorf director of development said the motion was adopted by a margin of at least 3-to-1, perhaps 4-to-1.

It recommended that penalties against the seven blacks as a result of a campus "fist-swinging" racial disturbance last Friday night be no more than a two-week suspension and probation for one semester.

Participants in the after-midnight gathering also decided to boycott classes pending a review of the Waldorf disciplinary committee's action against the seven Negro students, who were among 16 blacks enrolled.

Bar Association Asks Suspension of Wright

Seven years after the original case began, the Grievance Commission of the Iowa Supreme Court recommended that Des Moines Attorney Robert A. Wright, 4517 Wakonda Parkway, be suspended from the practice of law for years, because of his handling of a 1961 case in which his client lost her home.

The action, was taken the commission said, because Wright failed to protect his client's rights. He was accused by the commission of violating professional legal ethics and being "guilty of unprofessional conduct."

The complaint, brought by the Committee on Professional Conduct of the Iowa State Bar Association, arises from a 1961 case involving property owned by Mrs. Gertrude I. Hall at 1308 Keosauqua way.

Traded Home
Wright represented Mrs. Hall in a transaction in which she traded a home at 1308 Keosauqua to John Haskins for a house at 1223 Fifteenth place. Mrs. Hall, while represented by Wright, deeded her home in the trade but Haskins could not produce clear title to the Fifteenth place property.

Commission Stated
The Grievance Commission stated: "The simple, undisputed fact in the entire record is that Mrs. Hall has been completely divested of all her property rights in the Keosauqua way property and the 15th street place property which she was to acquire from Haskins, all of which (Wright) had ample time and opportunity to prevent."

The commission further said "it appears without contradiction" that Wright's attitude toward his client and the business conducted for her was "one of indifference, carelessness and a complete lack of care which cannot be condoned or excused."

Out-of-town
Wright's office said he

Apartment Search

A warrant for Kelley's arrest had been issued Jan. 7 after a spent shell casing found at the scene of the shooting led police to a search of Kelley's apartment. The shell was of a type sold only by Montgomery Ward stores, and police were told Kelley had bought a box of such shells Monday.

Surrendered
Kelley had been the object of a police search until he turned himself in shortly after midnight Friday. Kelley, his mother and Leo Owens, director of the Jane Boyd Community Center, appeared at the Linn County Jail.

Police were called and Kelley was taken to the city jail where he was held until the arraignment.

Col. Daniels James Is Newest Negro Brigadier General in U.S.

WASHINGTON, C.C. — President Nixon has approved the selection of Col. Daniel James Jr. to the rank of Brigadier General in the USAF, making the veteran fighter pilot the newest Negro general in the armed forces.

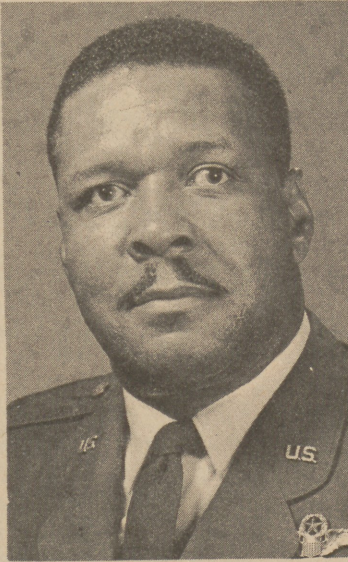

Col. James, 47, is presently commander of the 7272nd Flight Training Wing at Wheelus Air Force Base in Libya. He flew 58 combat missions over North Vietnam while assigned in Southeast Asia during 1967 as deputy commander of the 8th Tactical Fighter Wing. He flew 101 missions over Korea during 1950.

4th Negro Col. James will be the fourth Negro to attain the rank of general.

Col. James was born in Pensacola, Fla., and graduated from Washington High School in Pensacola in 1937. He attended Tuskegee Institute from September 1937 to March 1942, where he studied physical education and received pilot training.

He became a civilian instructor pilot and taught Army Air Corps Cadets until January 1943 when he entered the Aviation Cadet program himself. He was commissioned in July 1943.

Assignments He has held numerous command assignments in the ensuing years. His combat career was especially distinguished in Vietnam, where he was wingman to Brig. Gen. Robin Olds, who shot down more enemy aircraft than any other U.S. pilot in the Vietnam war.

In 1955, while assigned to Otis Air Force Base, Massachusetts, Col. James was named by the Massachusetts Junior Chamber of Commerce as their Most Outstanding Man of the Year. He has a long record of civic activities and honors.

Decorations The colonel is married to the former Dorothy Watkins of Tuskegee. They have three children: Danice; Daniel III, who is a first lieutenant in the U.S. Air Force; and Claude who attends school in Tucson, Ariz.

Colonel James' decorations include the Legion of Merit, the Distinguished Flying Cross with one Oak Leaf Cluster and the Air Medal with 10 Oak Leaf Clusters.

NEA Sues Alabama Education Dept; $125,000

ATLANTA, Ga. — The National Education Association has filed a federal court suit against three Alabama government officials, including Gov. Albert P. Brewer, charging that the state's hiring practices are racially discriminatory.

In a suit filed Dec. 23 in Montgomery, Ala., the NEA contends that Mrs. Currie C. Robinson, a Negro employee of the Alabama State Department of Education since 1946, has been "denied her right to employment promotions and appropriate salary increases ... and equal treatment and consideration."

Defendants Named as defendants in the case in addition to Gov. Brewer are Ernest Stone, State Supt. of Education, and J. S. Frazer, director of the Alabama Personnel Department.

The NEA's DuShane Emergency Fund, created to protect the rights of educators, will assume Mrs. Robinson's legal fees for the duration of the case.

First of Its Kind The suit, the first of its kind brought by the million-member NEA, was filed in U.S. District Court for the Middle District of Alabama, Northern Division.

James H. Williams, director of the NEA's Southeast Regional Office here, said the case puts state departments of education across the South on warning to "end racially discriminatory personnel policies immediately."

Received Complaints Williams said he has received complaints of biased hiring procedures in several other Southern states. The NEA's Southeast region includes Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina and Tennessee.

The suit seeks for Mrs. Robinson $100,000 in compensatory damages, including back pay she would have received "had she not been discriminated against because of her race."

In addition, she is seeking $25,000 in punitive and exemplary damages caused by

Refuse to Bury Negro Dentist

Holidaysburg, Pa. — A Negro dentist who treated patients of all races for 45 years has been denied burial in a local cemetery because of his color.

Requested Walker, a lifetime resident of this central Pennsylvania community, requested before his death on Dec. 19 at age 69 that he be buried in the Alto Rest Park Cemetery.

But H. Paul Good, president of the Alto Rest Park Cemetery Association, informed funeral director John J. Haller, commissioned by the Walker family to secure a plot, that Walker could not be buried in the cemetery.

Charter "Good told me it was impossible to bury a Negro in the cemetery since it was against its 44-year-old charter," said Haller. "He said if they ignored the charter all the lot owners could sue the cemetery association."

The Walker family chose not to take legal action and the local dentist was finally buried in the community's Presbyterian cemetery Dec. 23. There is a Negro cemetery in Holidaysburg, although there are only seven black families, but it has been filled.

row Wilson Junior high) at Smouse. The school bus, which has a special place for his wheelchair, picks him up each morning and leaves him, each evening, at Youngers Rehabilitation where he takes one hour of therapy daily. His father then picks him up and brings him home.

Planning Ahead Ronnell, who stands about 6 feet tall with the aid of crutches, special designed body corset and leg braces, is acutely concerned about the drain on his parents' time and pocketbook, and is constantly thinking of ways to help.

Because of this he has already arranged to take driver education classes next summer at Des Moines Tech, in hopes that he can alleviate some of the transportation burden from his parents.

Acceptances For the rest of his life, physically he will be bound to a wheelchair, but emotionally and mentally with the sympathetic help of many Iowans, he and his parents have already conquered three fourths of his battle. They accept the unchangeables and the challenges of both the present and the future.

Next Week: The Dimerys relive the agonizing weeks when their son lay paralyzed, screaming in pain, just a hairline from death. They recall the grudgingly slow months of recovery and struggle back to a sense of normalcy.

Wright, former state president of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, has 20 days to ask the high court for a hearing. The Supreme Court will then decide whether to grant such a hearing, said Chief Justice C. Edwin Moore.

Hearing The hearing on Wright's case was held by the Grievance Commission last Oct. 2. Wright, according to the Grievance Commission report filed with the Supreme Court Monday, was represented by the late Richard Pinedar and Theodore T. Duffield, both Des Moines attorneys.

The Committee on Professional Ethics of the Iowa Bar Lee Gaudineer, an Iowa state Association was represented by senator and Des Moines attorney.

Witnesses The recommendation filed by the Grievance Commission states, "There were numerous witnesses including the governor of the State of Iowa, district court judges and practicing attorneys in Des Moines, who testified in

WATERLOO

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Lee have returned from three weeks stay in balmy California where they picked oranges, saw roses in bloom and lawns being mowed in January. Their four sons reside there; William and Donald in San Pedro, Bobbie in Los Angeles and Edward is stationed at Vandenberg Air Force Base. He saw to it that they were able to visit him, by going for them.

On New Years day the Lees witnessed Tournament of Roses parade at Pasadena which was a spectacle they will never forget. They question whether color television in any way does justice to the beauty or is equal to actually seeing it. Such crowds they had not seen, people with lawn furniture, sleeping bags, having come many hours in advance to be sure of a spot.

Mrs. Hortense Childers, formerly of Waterloo, visited them and they also saw Ida Bell and Cecil Brown who formerly resided in Fort Dodge.

Religious Emphasis Committee of YWCA is planning series of Lenten Thoughts, with times to be announced.

Brown

Brown said intensive planning for GO's next fiscal year will begin Jan. 15, and continue through May 15. He said he won't know precisely what programs will be developed until that planning is completed.

But he indicated recreational programs for young people will get high priority if other community agencies will participate.

Brown said he feels GO needs a "youth service component" with youth workers assigned to the 9-through-12 and junior and senior high school age groups.

He would like to see a full range of activities including touch football, basketball leagues, hiking and assorted quiet activities.

$16,000 a Year
Brown has rented an apartment in Homes of Oakridge, 1425 Center St., the mixed-income apartment development in the Oakridge Urban Renewal Area. His wife and two children will join him here on Jan. 20.

Brown's salary in his new post will be $16,000 a year. He replaces Donald McKenzie, who resigned last fall to assume a new post in Boston, Mass.

Letter

The letter came after an announcement last year by President Kenneth S. Pitzer of nearby Stanford University that because of the priesthood policy his school was severing athletic relations with Mormon-owned Brigham Young University.

GACHEL METHODIST CHURCH

sponsors Cub Scout #297, the only black pack in the Model Cities area, Charline Owens, (Mrs. LeRoy) tells me. She and two other den mothers, Mrs. Jacquelyn Wade and Mrs. Patricia Kemsey are very proud of their young fellows. Their Christmas gift-making included candles made with wax, colored crayons, fashioned with crushed ice and molded with the use of milk cartons. They made peanut brittle which was packed in their painted coffee cans. Their table decorations were of IBM cards, gilt-edged and flower-trimmed. The wreaths were created with aluminum pie tins, clothes pins and poinsettias forming the center. These three mothers are a busy trio. Charline, for example, has three sons, LeRoy, Jr., John and Patrick; add to this her large home and employment as a night-time aide at Mercy Hospital.

MET MRS. AMANDA HARRIS, mother of Rev. James Harris, at dinner at the home of Mrs. John W. Bryant during the holidays. Meeting Mrs. Harris, a thoroughly delightful person, sort of explains the why of West Des Moines' Mount Hebron Baptist Church's successful pastor! With a mother like Mrs. Harris, how could he miss! That fact plus Mrs. James Harris, of course, gives us a complete picture!

MAUDINE EWING ENJOYED A PERFECT EVENING the other Saturday night. Beginning with the showing of the African Heritage Fashion Show presented in behalf of St. Paul A.M.E. Church at Willie House, Maudine was the guest of her grandmother, Maude Esther White and me at Vic's Tally Ho, one of the town's leading restaurants and clubs. Here she had an enjoyable dinner and the pleasure of hearing Speck Redd, the renowned pianist. When Speck and Maude Esther chatted about the artist's parents who had been her neighbors during her residency in San Francisco, Maudine met the great musician. The charming, young girl is the daughter of Mrs. Marguerite English.

DENISE EWING AND HER FRIEND? SANDY DANIELS on a recent class visit to the Iowa State Capitol Building, could not resist visiting her grandmother, Maude Esther White, in her office there! Maude, was pleased as are all grandmothers at the sight of their very young offspring, treated the two to refreshments. But wouldn't you know Denise's perfectly natural urge to find grandmother netted her grade "5" for the day!

But it was worth it! How many children could resist the pleasure!

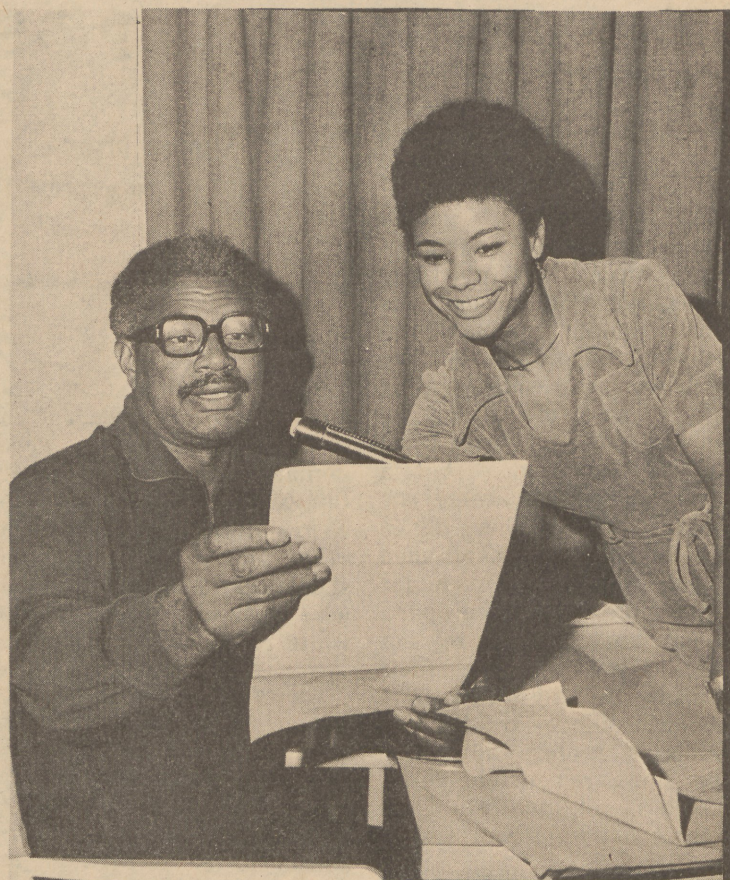

NEXT WEEK THIS COLUMN WILL ANNOUNCE THE ELKS 1970 ORATORICAL CONTEST. We are doing so at the urging of Elsie Robinson. She states that Bernice Carter is chairman of the event and so can give us the particulars. Bernice shall have returned from Los Angeles by the paper's next issue. Elsie insists that we adults should select some young people early in the year and encourage them to prepare for this well-known event. This would be invaluable to some youngster and a splendid way for clubs to unite forces and so incite city-wide participation. Churches could also help. We would gladly print the names of the organizations and their candidates. How about this procedure, everybody?

"SY" STROTHER'S POSAL SET FORTH A MONTH AGO sought the community's interest and backing of those engaged in the art of music. He sought, too, greater availability of musical training for the young. The federal government has for many years now emphasized support of all the arts. A uniting of community persons with musicians for the purpose of promoting activities involving musicians and the instruction of children is needed. The suggestion is an exciting one and one undiscovered until now. Churches and clubs should find it appealing and a useful program for this New Year. Take a long look at the suggestion! Where else does one need to turn for a new project, program, you name it! Let's make this a continued story. Then there is more to come! If your church or club initiates a music project, drop a note to "Lines".

SAW MANELA HENDRED, DAUGHTER OF THE SY EWINGS! She and her escort, Iowa State College students, were attending that school's annual presentation of the Madrigal Dinner. The occasion depicts the Christmas customs of Elizabethan, England. I was with a delightful party of six women. One of them, Norma Casserly, wore a ring designed and made by the sister-in-law of Catherine Williams! (I keep hearing about this artist!) More next week about the Madrigal Dinner!

LeRoy Bird of Denver says he plans to attend Masonic Grand Lodge in Des Moines come June. He likes Denver, but he enjoys seeing old friends in Iowa.

The Leon Joneses Are Lone Black Couple Living at Spencer, Ia.

LEON S. JONES, JR.

ROSIE JONES

Lady Luck or whatever smiles on deserving young couples, must have been doing just that when Mr. and Mrs. Leon S. Jones Jr. came along. They not only are the only Negro couple in the small town of Spencer, Ia., but also found jobs in the same profession at the same hospital.

Spencer Hospital In Spencer where they moved last October, Leon, a graduate of Roosevelt High School, heads the Inhalation Therapy Department at Spencer Municipal Hospital. His wife, Rosie, a graduate of East High, works with the Anesthesia Department of the same hospital. Her job also takes her to surrounding counties in a radius of 50 miles.

Education Following his high school graduation Leon attended Parsons College, in Fairfield, for three years, spent two years in the School of Inhalation Therapy. (Inhalation Therapy is a fairly new para-medical profession that deals mainly with respiratory and heart problems).

When Leon left high school he had a strong interest in dramatics, but it was hard to get a financial supporting foothold in the profession. His wife-to-be then had taken some courses at Drake University prior to entering Broadlawn Hospital School of Nursing where she graduated.

Medical Center After marriage the couple moved to Wichita, Kans., so they could pursue studies at Wesley Medical Center. Following graduation Rosie served on the staff of the Medical Center and was interim-director of the School of Nurse Anesthetists prior to moving to Spencer. Leon graduate from the Center last June.

Rosie is the daughter of John E. Davis, Jr., 4603 Wakonda parkway, and Mrs. Robert Alice Craddock, 1545 DeWolf street. Leon is the son of the late Dr. Leon S. Jones, Sr., and Mrs. Girtha Jones of Los Angeles, Calif. — by F.E.H.

Your professional beautician knows the answer...

Can your hair be damaged from brushing, alone?

All hair becomes damaged from exposure to sun and natural elements. Certain greasy compounds and many chemicals, improperly used, also take their toll...not to mention simple attempts at beautifying the hair with any brush not made of natural bristles. The results are brittleness, breakage, dry and dull looking hair.

Your professional beautician knows how artificial bristles actually brush away a great deal of the "lubricants" of the hair that give it body, lustre and protection. And trained beauticians claim that nothing beats Clairol® condition® Beauty Pack Treatment for overcoming brittleness, dryness and breakage... leaving hair lively and easy to manage. condition® is an easy-to-work-with creme which can even be applied during a chemical straightening retouch to prevent drying of hair that has been previously relaxed. condition® is the ultimate in repairing deep-down damage. And, when time is a factor for their customers, hairdressers turn to new Clairol® Hair Dew®—the lotion conditioner that penetrates so fast many think of it as an instant conditioner. When applied regularly by your beautician, Clairol Hair Dew adds body, softens and gives a glowing new look to your hair that many friends will notice and admire.

Damage can come from using brushes with artificial bristles. But damage to every woman's hair comes from so many other causes that all human hair (including wigs) needs to be revitalized periodically. Visit your professional beautician and ask this expert to check the condition of your hair.

Only your professional beautician knows the answer for sure.

CHURCHES MOVE ON SOCIAL PROBLEMS

A group of Iowa churches have joined forces with a group from Nebraska and formed an organization designed to seek more and better employment for minorities. They will welcome the cooperation of other churches.

The organization is designed to work with business in their hiring policies, with financial institutions in their dealing with minorities and all other areas where discrimination exists. In fact, withholding support from and boycott as a last resort to get a job done is in the picture.

Generally speaking, this is in line with what some individual church organizations are doing and is designed to make church people aware that they must be involved in solving our social problems.

Many groups are working in this field one way or another. Some have little conception of what the problem is all about but they do help to create a better sentiment that the general public may learn to be a part of the great movement.

UNPREPARED PEOPLE CAN'T MAKE POLICIES

It is unusual that the Des Moines Tribune (January 7) carried two stories about Negroes: (1) that school disruption was put further on the defense in Mississippi when federal orders to desegregate were being carried out (2) a group of youngsters at Simpson College got their wishes for separate Afro-Culture house for 22 Negro students.

And for what? Just to help prove that these youngsters at Simpson do not wish to compete in an integrated school while the Negroes were trying to throw off segregated school, because most of them had been students in them providing second class education which has deterred many from entering and/or keeping up their grades in schools of higher learning.

Just what would 22 Negro students want separate facilities for and how can they get money for support when most schools are crying for money and supposedly use every method to cut costs?

And the article says that white sorority and fraternity students helped the Negro fix up the place. Which is a silent reminder that some Negroes representing "my church" have and continue to collect money from business places down. It's easy. They know that if the Negro is provided a church for himself, he won't be bothered with him at his church on Sunday. (This is no slap at the Negro church by any means. It is a matter of choice). And yet if a Negro business man went to some of these people to finance a business proposition, a hundred reasons are forthcoming why it can't be done.

This is no slam at Afro-History or Negro culture, but does call attention to the stark fact that one Negro out of ten, like these 22 Negro students, will be competing with white students for jobs and position (unsegregated) once they are out of school, that as they rise in business, economic and government affairs, their social status raises, little of which will be learned and separate a Afro house on a college campus where they went "to get an education."

DON'T SHORT CUT CONSTITUTED AUTHORITY

As a general rule, no stone should be left unturned to help bring the Vietnam war to a close. And for this reason, there are those who feel that they have some personal magic that will work.

Our foreign affairs are in the hands of the state department; the military affairs in the hand of the department of defense. And it simply weakens our strength when Senator M

John Named 1970 Easter Seal Head

Drake University Head Basketball Coach, Maury John, has been named 1970 State Easter Seal Chairman of Iowa. Coach John will conduct the 1970 campaign which will begin Feb. 23 and run through Mar. 29.

One of the most personable and respected men in collegiate basketball, John was named Missouri Valley Conference Coach-of-the-Year for the second straight year and also 1969 national Coach-of-the-Year by the U.S. Basketball Writers Association, in a post season poll.

Since joining the Drake staff in 1958, he has coached 11 All-Missouri Valley players, one second team All-American (Red Murrell, 1958) and one first team All-American (Willie McCarter 1969). Taxpayers Ask IRS

Q - My husband is in Vietnam. Are we required to file a return?

A - No, you may wait until 180 days after he leaves Vietnam before sending in your joint 1969 income tax return.

If you do want to file a joint return earlier because you are expecting a refund, indicate in the space where your husband would sign that he is serving in Vietnam.

Census Bureau Interviewers to Conduct Job Survey

The monthly survey of employment and unemployment conducted by the Bureau of the Census will be made in this area during the week of Jan. 18, according to Guy A. Lutz, Director of the Bureau's regional office in St. Paul.

Households to be interviewed here are part of a scientifically designed sample of the U.S. population. The survey statistics are collected for the Bureau of Labor Statistics of the U.S. Department of Labor to furnish a basic measure of the Nation's economic health.

At least the Senator learned that Hanoi is not interested in negotiating peace. Too many cooks spoil the broth is another way of saying let authority work out our problems.

SPORTS

With Allen Ashby

Just one more week and football will be over for about six months. Then we can really get into basketball and other sports. Speaking of basketball it would seem that both Drake and Iowa U have a fair shot at their respective conference titles. In spite of what our talkative friend says we have to think that maybe Coach Maury John of Drake knows at least a little of what he is doing. He has been trying to install his defensive system with his present team and in spite of the loss of five players seems to be making it work. Their junior college transfers don't hurt a bit.

Chief Rivals

Iowa has a couple of real good teams to worry about. We would guess Illinois and Michigan State along with Ohio State and Purdue as the chief rivals of the Hawks.

There has been some arguments about the transferring of junior college players right into college teams. Some people want to make this transition tougher. Now, a college can get a boy and more or less farm him out to a junior college where he can gain valuable playing experience and then bring him up to the varsity. And everyone does it.

North-Hoover

Here, at home North High didn't seem to want that Hoover game last week. We don't know how true it is but a fellow told us that Bob Florence wasn't really himself that night. He only got 22 points but the team won even with him on the bench. The other guys proved that they have a team by coming through in the clutch.

Pro-Football

And now a few words about pro-football. If you are a football fan or not you must know what happened in the Super Bowl last Sunday. We seldom pick favorites, but we got just a little tired of hearing about Vikings quarterback Jack Kapp. The guy may be a real nice fellow but we never thought he could generate a win by simply throwing his suit out on the field. Then after a column or two about Kapp the writers would say, oh, yes, Kansas City has a quarterback, what's his name? Oh, Dawson.

Well, we thought the Kansas City guys all had a hand in this one and they proved that it really still takes 11 men to play the game of football.

Activities of the Iowa Civil Rights Commission

Examples of how the Iowa Civil Rights Commission has acted recently to eliminate discrimination in employment and housing situations follow. The Commission has jurisdiction also in the area of public accommodations. (Which will be reviewed in next week's column).

EMPLOYMENT

A black female, who had quit, returned to her job at a public recreation facility after the Commission acted as a conciliatory agency to resolve a breakdown in communications. She had assumed incorrectly over the years that she was a departmental head, and then quit when a departmental head was hired during general re-organization and expansion of the agency. She since has received her salary increment without penalty for the time lost, but she did not get back pay for the time lost, since she had quit.

HOUSING

An interracial couple moved into their apartment right after their marriage when the Commission was able to conciliate a Commission charge quickly. The girl, who was white, was in the process of renting an apartment to be ready when she got married - but a hitch developed when she mentioned that her fiancé was black. The owner signed a conciliation agreement for the couple to rent the apartment and agreed to not intimidate them or their friends in any way. The couple would be treated like all other renters subject to the same reasonable rules, which is all the Iowa Civil Rights Act requires.

Health for All

HEALTH POLLUTION BY PESTICIDES

Pesticides are showing up in the most unexpected places.

More than a million pounds of imported cheeses were impounded during the last year. Because of contamination by pesticides.

Some of the most delectable cheeses from France, Italy, Rumania, and Argentina were barred from this country by the Food and Drug Administration. Minute amounts of the pesticide-benzene hexachloride, similar to DDT-were spotted in the cheese.

But no residue of pesticides is legally permissible in cheese. So the stuff was banned.

No Restrictions

In sharp contrast, there are no restrictions whatever on the amount of pesticide residue legally permissible in tobacco. And, according to Senator Gaylor Nelson of Wisconsin, high levels of DDT and other long-lasting pesticides are now being found in cigarettes.

"Tobacco is the only consumable agricultural crop that does not have a tolerance level specifying when the pesticide is hazardous," says Senator Nelson. North Carolina State University researchers and other laboratories have found plenty of pesticide residue in tobacco and cigarette smoke. The Senator urged government restrictions to limit the pesticide residues allowable in cigarettes.

49 Million

Right now Americans are protected against contamination in cigarettes. But 49 million smokers are facing the full risk of lung pollution.

Pesticides are only one part of the danger of smoking. To find out more about the damage to the lungs caused by cigarette smoke, see your local respiratory disease association.

It's a matter of life and breath.

Adam Powell O.K. Ready to Run

NEW YORK, N. Y. — To the apparent surprise of New York politicians, Representative Adam Clayton Powell has indicated he is in "perfect health" and is ready to seek re-election this year. The Harlem Democrat earlier had told party leaders that he would not run if hospital tests for "proliferating lymph glands" proved he was ill.

But Powell told the New York Times that he had received word last week from his doctor that his health wouldn't prevent him from seeking re-election.

OPPORTUNITY

Dear Editor:

The Negro students at Vassar who occupied one of the buildings there were demanding among other things the right to an all-Negro dormitory. This is a very foolish demand, and should be resisted by all who want to improve black-white relations.

The reason for a Negro student to go to a predominantly white college, and the reason why such colleges accept and often actively seek Negro students, is because it is important to integrate the students. People who get to know each other well are seldom antagonistic for racial, as distinct from personal reasons. For most racial antagonism is founded on ignorance about the members of the other racial group.

A Negro student in Cornell a year ago who had a white roommate asked the dean to change his roommate on the ground that "he was tired of being sociological study for his white roommate." The dean of course should have asked: — "Why don't you make the white fellow a sociological study for yourself? You should want to know more about him and his ideas and how he got them just as he wants to know more about you."

Since we cannot help but live in a racially mixed society it is vital that we get to know each other better. That is the necessary and sufficient reason for a truly integrated education.

"They do me wrong, who say I come no more
When once I knock and fail to find you in;
For every day I stand outside your door,
And bid you wake, and rise and fight and win.

"Wall not for precious chances passed away,
Weep not for golden ages on the wane!
Each night I burn the records of the day—
At sunrise every soul is born again!

"Laugh like a boy at splendors that have sped,
To vanished joys be blind and deaf and dumb;
My judgment seals the dead past its dead,
But never binds a moment yet to come.

"Though deep in mire, wring not your hands and weep;
I lend my arm to all who say: 'I can.'
No shamefaced outcast sank so deep,
But yet might rise and be a man!

"Dost thou behold thy lost youth all aghast?
Dost reel from righteous retribution's blow?
Then turn from blotted archives of the past
And find the future pages white as snow.

"Art thou a mourner? Rouse thee from thy spell,
Art thou a sinner? Sins may be forgiven;
Each morning gives thee wings to flee from hell,
Each night a star to guide thy feet to heaven."

—Walter Malone
