Senate Extends Voting Rights Act Negro Press Celebrates 143rd Year

150 Newspapers, 2 Dailies Now

By Frances E. Hawthorne

This week marks the 143rd founding anniversary of the Negro Press.

On March 6, 1827 John B. Russwurm, the first Negro college graduate in America, founded the first Negro Newspaper, calling it "Freedom's Journal." He was its editor, assisted by the Rev. Samuel B. Cornish. New York City was its base.

150 Newspapers

Today, 150 Negro newspapers are published. Many have flourishing business plants and depicts much national growth over the centuries. Of this group two are dailies.—The Atlanta Daily World (the first daily) and the Chicago Daily Defender. Both are among the oldest newspapers in the country. The oldest in existence, however, is that venerable newspaper, New York Amsterdam News, which today publishes bi-weekly. Several others also published two or three times a week.

4 Million Readers

Among the distinguished groups of Negro papers boasting long publishing lives is the Iowa Bystander, the state's oldest and only (at the present) Negro paper.

Negro newspapers are read regularly by nearly four million Negroes each week, most of them between the ages of 18 and 49.

Magazines

In addition to newspaper many other black oriented magazines have come on the scene. In addition to Ebony, there is Lady's Circle, Soul Illustrated, Negro Digest, Jet, to mention a few.

With the lowering of discriminatory bars, black journalists have now joined the staffs of many white daily newspapers around the nation.

Local

Locally, Eleanor E. Tate, history major at Drake university, is a full-time reporter with the Des Moines Register and Tribune. Photographer on the staff includes David Lewis, another Drake student. Another photographer, Jo Moore Stewart, works for the Mason City Gazette.

Notre Dame Students Elect Black as V-P

Notre Dame, Ind., — A black and a Protestant have been elected president and vice president of the University of Notre Dame student body.

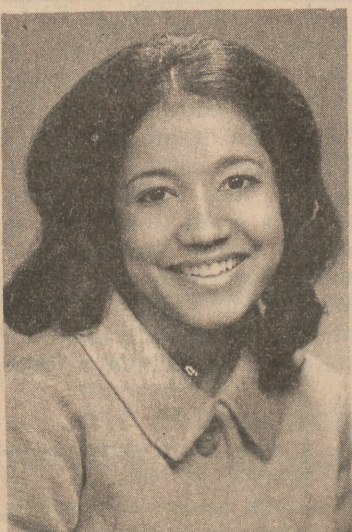

David M. Krashna, a 21-year-old English major from Pittsburg, Pa., (3694 North Court) and the first black student ever to run for the presidency of Notre Dame's student government, was elected with a record 64 per cent of the vote. His running mate, Mark E. Winings, is a 20-year-old political science major from Elwood, Ind. (914 S. Anderson St.) Winings is a Methodist.

There are 81 black students in Notre Dame's undergraduate student body of 6,200, and more than 95 per cent of the University's undergraduates are Catholic.

On Publicity Staff At Meredith

Debrah Hill of Kansas City, Mo., and journalism graduate of the University of Missouri, is associate Imprint editor on the public relations staff of Meredith Publishing Corporation, 1716 Locust street.

Miss Hill was interviewed on the University campus by Meredith representatives and made several trips to Des Moines to tour the corporation facilities before joining the staff last August.

She attended Missouri U on a Curators award and was a semifinalist in the National Achievement Scholarship Program before graduating from Central High School in Kansas City. At Missouri U she was a semi-finalist in the Homecoming Queen, and in the "Miss Missouri" contest conducted for the "Miss U.S.A. Pageant." She was also crowned "Sweetheart" of Alpha Phi Alpha fraternity on the campus.

In Des Moines she lives at 1359 24th street and is a member of Beta Gamma chapter of Alpha Kappa Alpha sorority, Theta Sigma Phi journalism society, Women's Ad club, and attends St. Paul's Episcopal church. She formerly was a member of the Kansas City chapter of Jack and Jill of America, Inc.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hill of Kansas City.

Public Meeting By Rights Group

The Iowa Civil Rights Commission is holding a Public Hearing in Waterloo, Iowa at the City Council Chambers, City Hall today, March 19, beginning at 9:00 a.m.

Lawrence S. Slotky, Commission Chairman, said only that the case involves a Negro female who was denied employment. According to statute, no details of the case can be given prior to the hearing.

A & T Dean Moves To Michigan U

Greensboro, N. C. — Dr. Darwin T. Turner, dean of the Graduate School at A&T State University, has accepted a new position as professor of English at the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor.

Turner, also a professor of English at A&T, will join the University of Michigan staff Aug. 1.

of Iowa Memorial Union at The University of Iowa. Her speech is a feature of the 1969-70 University Lecture Series.

Free tickets for her lecture will be available in the University Box Office in the Union beginning Mar. 19.

Before Mrs. Chisholm defeated Republican nominee James Farmer for one of New York's seats in the U.S. House of Representatives, she was a member of New York's State Legislature.

Born in the Bedford-Stuyvesant section of Brooklyn, a ghetto similar to Harlem, she earned a B.A. degree, cum laude, from Brooklyn College. She later obtained an M.A. degree in education and a diploma in administration and supervision in education from Columbia University.

Mrs. Chisholm is a strong advocate of civil rights and solutions to the problems of poverty and the cities.

will be dismissed at 2:30 p.m. Friday, Mar. 20 for spring vacation and will resume on Monday, Mar. 30.

Iowan, G. Frederick Stanton Named VP at Howard U.

Washington, D. C. — A native of Des Moines, Iowa, G. Frederick Stanton, 63, was one of two vice presidents appointed last week by Howard University President James E. Cheek.

Stanton will assume the newly established position of Vice President for Special Programs and Secretary of the University. He currently is secretary of the University and Director of University Administration, Alumni Relationships, and Development. He has served with the University for 37 years.

The other vice president named was James V. Clarke, 64, former treasurer and chief business and financial officer. He has been employed with the school since 1946.

Abolishes Literacy Tests; Supports U.S. Marshalls, Vote at 18

Washington, D.C. — A voting rights bill containing the 1965 act which provides federal voting registrars and abolishes all literacy tests for voting, was overwhelmingly approved by the Senate last Friday. The measure, previously opposed by the Nixon administration, also extend the right to vote to 18-year-olds.

By a vote of 51-42 the law-making body approved extension of the 1965 act for another five years.

Senators Harold E. Hughes, (Dem., Ia.) and Jack Miller, (Rep., Ia.), both voted in favor of the substitute favored by civil rights leaders.

The bill, which was then given final approval, 64-12, now goes to a conference committee with the House.

The Nixon administration proposed softening the voting rights provisions by requiring either the federal government or civil rights groups to go to court to gain the use of federal registrars or to block changes in southern voting laws and regulations.

Civil rights advocates contended that these changes would again permit southern officials to keep one step ahead of federal efforts to enfranchise the Negro voter. By the time litigation was completed, they contended, elections would have passed without Negroes being permitted to vote.

Says 30 Per Cent of VA Employees Are Negroes; High Level Jobs Also Increase by nearly 400

Nearly 30 per cent of the Veterans Administration's employees are Negroes, and many have advanced into upper grade levels at an accelerated pace during the past two years, it was reported today.

Administrator of Veterans Affairs Donald E. Johnson said the most recent employee census reveals that 38,205 of the VA's 146,523 full-time employees.

Johnson added that negro employees holding grades GS-9 (or equivalent) and above increased by 400— from 2,047 to 2,447 during the past two years. He said 113 of these employees are in grades GS-14 and above.

The government salary schedule lists the beginning annual pay of a GS-9 at $9,320, and the starting salary of GS-14 at $18,531. Six of VA's highest paid Negro employees earn more than $30,000.

The VA Administrator emphasized that "equal employment is a matter of highest priority, and Negroes are represented in most occupations and career levels."

"For example, five are hospital or center directors and five others are assistant hospital directors. At least 21 are in top level positions for which appointing authority is reserved to the Administrator."

Scouting Colleges
Johnson also said that for several years the VA has been sending representatives from its central office to recruit graduates of 30 to 40 predominantly Negro colleges in the Southeast.

"In competition with private and public employees," he added, "we have been successful in recruiting promising graduates."

Mitchell, Houston Head Neighborhood Projects

LeRoy Mitchell, a crafts teacher at North High school and Marsh S. Houston, a mathematics teacher at Goodrell Junior High School, both veteran teachers, were named by the Des Moines Public School board last week to head two separate projects that will seek to establish closer ties between inner-city schools and residents in the neighborhoods they serve.

Houston was named as co-ordinator of the Des Moines Model City educational program implemented by the Des Moines School District. Mitchell will be co-ordinator of the Amos Hiatt Junior High School Community school.

Expenditures for the Model City program are expected to total $882,000 the first year of the five-year Model City experiment.

been called.

Among those attending the sessions will be Allen J. Correll, executive director of the Des Moines Commission on Human Rights. He will also serve as a resource person.

Cecil Reed, First Negro elected to Iowa House of Representatives, and now Equal Employment Opportunity Officer with offices in Kansas City, Kansas, will be keynote speaker of the conference.

The Mayor's Task Force on Education has solicited $20,000 in private funds for development of the adult education, recreation and community activities program for the geographical area served by Hiatt.

The Model City area is immediately north and west of the downtown business district. Hiatt is at 1214 E. 15th street.

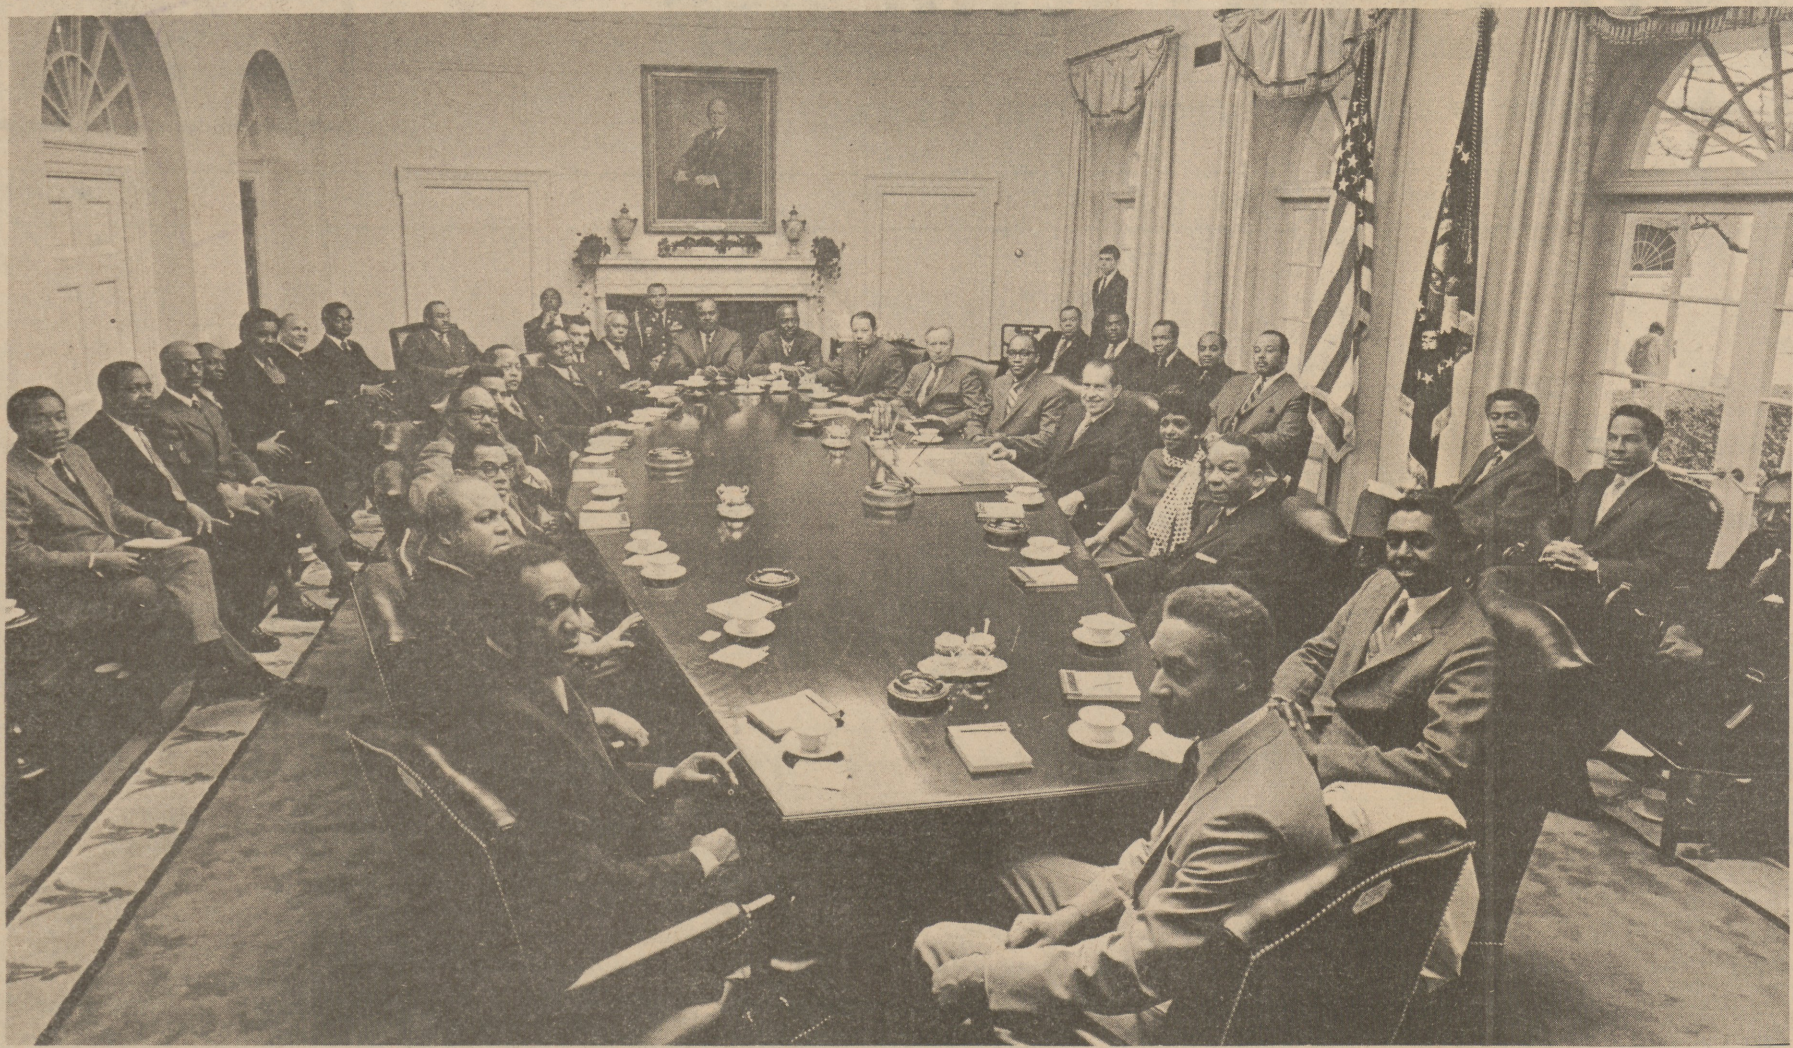

Salaries
Houston's salary will be $13,500. Mitchell's will be $14,000. Both positions are for 12 months, rather than the regular nine-month school year.

Houston, a teacher in the Des Moines district since September of 1961, received his bachelor's degree from Tennessee State University at Nashville, and has done graduate work at Drake University here.

Art Director

GOP Officials Meet with President Nixon

"Free, Frank and Productive." That's how Presidential Assistant Robert Brown described the 90 minute meeting of 35 black officials of the Nixon Administration with the President on Mar. 5. The discussion ranged from school integration to other major issues of the day.

Attending the meeting were government officials of all ranks in all areas touching the black citizens and residents. Posing above are some of the members who attended.

The Nixon administration has been coming under stronger criticism for its stand and lock of outspoken plans on the civil rights issues especially education, in the United States. The latest criticism came from a high ranking black Republican, Senator Edward Brooke, of Mass. The White House has announced that a major speech on civil rights will be made by President Nixon on later this week or early next week.

Senate Debate Begins on Carswell Nomination

Washington, D.C.—The majority of the Senators expressed the opinion that a senate debate on the nomination of Judge Carswell would be a waste of time. The Carswell nomination was being reviewed by the U.S. Supreme Court. The Carswell nomination was being reviewed by the U.S. Supreme Court. The Carswell nomination was being reviewed by the U.S. Supreme Court.

Meanwhile, after two days of intensive lobbying by some 500 civil rights activists from 29 states, enactment of a voting rights was passed. In addition, Clarence Mitchell, director of the NAACP Washington bureau and chairman of the legislative committee of the Leadership Conference on Civil Rights expressed the opinion that a senate debate on the nomination of Judge Carswell would be a waste of time. The Carswell nomination was being reviewed by the U.S. Supreme Court. Criticizes Realtor for Lobbying Anti-Bias Bill

"The lobbying has been almost unbelievable during the last week."

"This was a statement made by Representative John Tapscoff, (Dem., Ia.) last Friday when he cited the campaign that is going on to defeat the measure outlawing discrimination by real estate associations.

Tapscoff said legislators have been contacted at home as well as at the Statehouse as the Iowa Realtors Association has attempted to delay the measure so that it cannot be passed before the legislature adjourns.

The measure passed the House last week. It would outlaw discrimination in membership in local real estate associations. Non-members cannot use the multiple listing service on property for sale.

Tapscoff also accused the association of using a former legislator, Max Reno, a Bonaparte Democrat, to lobby on the House floor while it was in session.

Hit at College Racial Imbalance

WASHINGTON, D.C.—The government has increased to 10 the number of states accused of racial discrimination in their college and university systems with new notices to Georgia and Florida.

In letters dated Feb. 26 and disclosed Thursday, the Department of Health, Education and Welfare requested plans within 60 days from Georgia and 120 days from Florida for complete desegregation of their public higher education institutions.

The notices potentially jeopardize approximately $25 million a year in federal support to seven Florida universities and approximately $26 million to 26 Georgia colleges and universities.

1955. He received his bachelor's degree from Drake and a master's degree from the University of Iowa, Iowa City. He has taught in the division of adult education and has served as art director at Willkie House.

Houston said among the first educational programs that will receive his attention are a vocational training and housing rehabilitation course and a school-community workshop.

Housing
He said the housing rehabilitation course, already in progress at North High School, is designed to give pre-apprentice training to youth interested in entering construction trades and simultaneously improve the physical condition of homes in the Model Neighborhood.

Workshop
The project is to receive $40,000 in Model City funds for expansion. The school district has contributed $9,000 to the project. The Model City funds will permit purchase of three homes which are to be rehabilitated and sold on a non-profit basis.

The school-community workshops are designed to involve 140 parents and 300 teachers and students in activities that will create better understanding. They will cost $143,000, with $100,000 in Model City funds and $43,000 in school district funds.

Hiatt Program
Mitchell's program at Hiatt will operate after regular school hours, probably from 4 p.m. to 10 p.m. daily.

A LIFE OR DEATH MATTER

This is National Poison Prevention Week. Your family pharmacist thinks everyone, whether they have small children of their own or not, should know what to do in case of accidental poisoning.

McQueen's Pharmacy, 6th & Forest (288-3323) is giving — absolutely free — prescription drug guidebooks and poison antidote charts. For most cases of poisoning, doctors recommend ipecac syrup to cause vomiting. When every minute counts, having a bottle of ipecac on hand may mean the difference between life and death. Get yours now at McQueen's, the Family Pharmacy. Of course, in a few situations, vomiting would only make matters worse. To make sure about the proper antidote, call the Poison Control Center (phone number inside cover of phone directory) or your doctor.

IN MEMORY OF OUR BROTHER, RUSSELL BELL

Who Passed
March 16, 1969

"Man that is born of a woman is of few days, and full of trouble. He cometh forth like a flower and is cut down". A year ago today my brother Russell was cut down. He continues no more on earth; but just like all the other deceased members of my family, he will always live in my memories. I am taking this occasion to let everyone know why Russell is missed so much by me. No one knows what it's like to lose the oldest of brothers, anymore than the youngest of the brothers. Our parents taught the older children to take care of the younger children. Being the younger for nine years my brother and sisters really took good care of me when I wasn't able to take care of myself. This wasn't for long because I learned early the many art of self defense.

Russell let me know all through life that he was the oldest. I always gave him that respect. Although sometimes I did not agree with his philosophy I always listened. He was always ready to help his family. If I needed a thousand dollars he would give it to me no questions asked. In 1965, November 25th on my birthday I decided I would retire from the restaurant I had next to his Drug store at 12th and Center. One day I said to him, "Russell, I think I'm retiring on my birthday. We'll never live to retirement age; I'm going to rest some before I die." He said that is up to you. Don't worry about anything, I have enough for both of us. Although I didn't need any help, imagine how it felt to know that you had a brother to see to it that as long as you live you would never have to be in want. Of course my sister and brother-in-law in Waterloo would do the same. Upon my retirement I bought fishing equipment, etc. and showed them to Russell. He said, "I don't know, sometimes people fall in the water while fishing." Never concern for himself, always for his people. I never did go fishing. In 1966 I told him I was going to Waterloo and stay around Betty. He said, "No, I want you down here with me. There is only us two here, but Betty has a husband and a house full of children." He needed not to say anymore.

I have written all of the above things just to say this to all families. To the children; honor your mothers and fathers. Brothers and sisters, love one another. Make things as pleasant for one another as you possibly can. Peace and harmony is the strength of all families. Where there is peace and harmony there is love.

It's a good feeling to know that you have honored your mother and father and have caused them not to worry, etc. It's a good feeling to know you have loved your brothers and sisters, helped one another in times of need. That is what families are for. Give help while they are living - don't let it be said too late.

I have heard people say that when they get to heaven they will make it up to the people they mistreated while on earth. This cannot be true. In heaven, you won't be known as mother, father, husband or wife. You will be known as brother and sisters, spiritually only. What would complicate things more is God has several places for the dead in Christ to receive their blessings. "Blessed are the poor in spirit for theirs is the kingdom of heaven." "Blessed are the meek for they shall inherit the earth." "Blessed are the pure in heart for they shall see God." (The Virgins, etc.) "Blessed are they which are persecuted for righteousness sake for theirs are the kingdom of heaven." Jesus is also away preparing a Paradise for his flock.

God has made things very pleasant for us. Wouldn't you be disappointed if you went to heaven expecting to be with your mother again and learned she was not there? There will be no disappointments in heaven. "May the grace of God be sufficient."

Denies Injunction Against 'Phil' Plan

Philadelphia, Penna. — A federal judge who denied an injunction request against the "Philadelphia Plan" says civil rights without economic rights are merely shadows.

"These two rights are not equal but a must and when fully realized will bring into full play the protection to which our Constitution and statutes are dedicated," U.S. District Court Judge Charles R. Weiner said Friday in upholding the constitutionality of the hiring plan.

80 Firms
The Contractors Association of Eastern Pennsylvania, representing 80 firms in highway and utility construction, sought the injunction to block implementation of the plan, which they contend violates the 1964 Civil Rights Act.

The plan sets goals and time-tables for hiring minority group workers in higher pay construction jobs on federally funded projects exceeding $500,000.

Society's Strength

The contractors contend the goals are, in reality, hiring quotas, which are banned by the Civil Rights Act.

In a 22-page opinion, Judge Weiner wrote: "It is our conclusion that the Philadelphia Plan is not inconsistent with the requirement of Title 7 of the Civil Rights Act of 1964. 'The strength of any society is determined by its ability to open doors and make its economic opportunities available to all who can qualify."

Sets $1500 Golden Jubilee Scholarships

The Drake-Des Moines Alumnae Association will award a $1,500 Golden Jubilee Scholarship to a freshman girl planning to enroll at Drake University in the 1970 fall semester. The scholarship, which commemorates the association's 50th anniversary, will be offered on a one-time basis to an Iowa high school graduate who is the daughter or granddaughter of a Drake alumna. The alumna must have attended Drake but need not have graduated.

Eligibility
Eligible applicants will be judged for the award on the basis of leadership potential, grade average and financial need. Half of the scholarship will be paid first semester and the remainder will be paid at the beginning of the spring semester, 1971, provided the girl maintains her grades.

Applications
Scholarship applications are available from Iowa high school counselors, and the deadline for all applications is April 30, 1970. Finalists will be asked to come to Des Moines for personal interviews.

Further information is available from Mrs. Robert Young, 5610 Waterbury Circle, Des Moines, and Mrs. L. Clarke Priebe, 2929 Guthrie Ave., Des Moines.

nomination for United States Representative in Congress from the 5th District of Iowa. This District includes Boone, Polk, Story and Webster Counties. Mahon was the 1968 Republican Candidate and polled in excess of 60,000 votes. This was the most votes received by a Republican Congressional Candidate in the 5th District since it was reapportioned.

Mahon stated his desire to help solve our country's problems of the 1970's. "Most of them caused or carried over from the 60's Mahon said. "Support for the Administration programs that are stalled in the House of Representatives, now controlled by a Democrat majority is a necessary first step", Mahon stated.

U.N.I. Sit In

Cedar Falls, Ia. — A group of University of Northern Iowa black students along with a few whites ended their 17-hour sit-in at the home of the University's president, Dr. J. W. Maucker.

Nine members of the U.N.I. Afro-American Society arrived at the on-campus home of Dr. Maucker about 10 p.m. Monday. Before they ended the sit-in at 3:30 p.m. Tuesday, their ranks had swelled to 50.

The sit-in was orderly and no attempts were made to evict the students forcibly. No damage to the home occurred.

Afro-American Society representatives last week appeared before the Iowa Board of Regents here and proposed a $20,000 budget for operation of a cultural house. The matter was taken under advisement.

Irene Maley Runs For Re-election

Mrs. Irene H. Maley, Polk County recorder the past 15 years, announced Monday she would seek election to a seventh term.

Mrs. Maley, 67, was first elected to the office after serving as deputy recorder for three years and after operating a private business for eight years.

During the past three years, Mrs. Maley said, she has returned a total of $32,056.46 from her office to the general fund, "thus saving the taxpayers this much of their tax dollars."

The recorder's office, she continued, now is being converted so that as many records as possible may be handled by the county's central computer center.

Mrs. Maley, who lives at 4333 Grand ave., also cited the large volume of business Polk County does and said "there should be a central purchasing department, so that our tax dollars can serve us to better advantage."

HOME List Gains 125 Members

HOME, Inc., a private, non-profit agency established in 1967 to help low-income families become homeowners, has gained about 125 new members since its fund-raising campaign kick-off last November.

The gain brings total membership to 300, according to Kenneth Henss, executive director of HOME, which stands for Home Opportunities Made Easy.

Minimum Contribution
To become a member, an individual must pledge a minimum contribution of $5 a month. The average contribution is $5.66 among present members and membership contributions total $1,700 a month.

Vice President Rev. Andrew Young, are both the only announced candidates for the Democratic nomination for Georgia's Fifth Congressional District seat.

The winner will presumably face the incumbent, white Republican Rep. Fletcher Thompson a conservative who has no opposition within his party.

Activities of the Iowa Civil Rights Commission

This week we would like to introduce to you our newest staff member, Willie Robinson field investigator for the Iowa Civil Rights Commission.

Willie was born in Armory, Miss. and graduated from Holy Name High School in Cleveland, Ohio. He is a graduate of Iowa State University at Ames, Iowa with a major in Sociology and a minor in education.

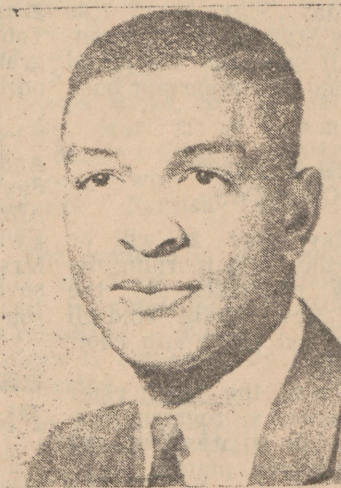

Part Time

While attending college he worked various part time jobs. One of these was with the Des Moines Human Rights Commission as an investigator where his duties included investigating claims of discrimination and giving speeches at various meetings. As a member of the staff of the Iowa Civil Rights Commission Willie will be investigating alleged acts of discrimination on a statewide basis. This work while covering a large geographical area will in turn cover a larger scope of activities and problems and present many new challenges.

Volunteer

Willie has been active as a volunteer worker for the Beloit Home for Emotionally Disturbed Children, as a YMCA counselor and also as a volunteer for youth summer camp activities.

While at Iowa State University some of Willie's extracurricular activities included photography and football. Willie was a three year starting fullback for the Cyclones of Iowa State University. A 16th round pro draft choice he subsequently played professional football with the San Diego Chargers.

His Wife

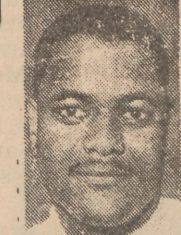

Willie's wife Kathy is also a graduate of Iowa State University and is a teacher in the Des Moines school system teaching the third grade. In addition, to her busy teaching schedule Mrs. Robinson is enrolled at Drake University working towards her masters degree in education.

We at the Iowa Civil Rights Commission are pleased to have Mr. Robinson on our staff. His background and experience make him well qualified for this position to serve you.

If you feel you have been discriminated against call Willie Robinson or any member of the recently introduced Iowa Civil Rights Commission staff at 281-5129.

Druggist Williams Takes Case to Supreme Court

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Marion Edward Williams, a Des Moines druggist convicted of failing to keep proper records of narcotic drugs, on Mar. 11, appealed to the U.S. Supreme Court for a hearing.

MARION WILLIAMS

Williams contended Iowa law exempted medicines with less than one ounce of codeine. The Iowa Medical Society has agreed with him.

Williams, convicted in 1968 in Polk County District Court, was sentenced to two years in the State Penitentiary at Fort Madison and was fined $2,000. The Iowa Supreme Court upheld the conviction.

Legal Defense

Williams' appeal was filed by the Legal Defense and Educational Fund of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (N.A.A.C.P.)

In a footnote, fund attorneys told the high court that Williams had been active in the N.A.A.C.P. for almost 20 years and had served on its state executive board.

Community Welfare

The attorneys also advised the justices he was one of two Negroes who owned and operated pharmacies in Iowa, and that in the 1½ years between the audit and the indictment had strongly criticized the Des Moines City Council "for neglecting the welfare of the black community."

Conviction

The Iowa Supreme Court,

in upholding the conviction last year, noted that Williams' records showed that between July 1, 1966, and Dec. 31, 1966, he purchased 2,328 four-ounce bottles of Robitussin, but his records showed sales of 1,961 bottles. Two state narcotics agents testified that records of two drug companies showed that Williams purchased a total of 4,266 of Robitussin during that period.

Williams operated the Williams Pharmacy at 1103 University ave.

Grammy Winners

Among the three "Grammy" award winners last week was comedian Bill Cosby who received his award for best comedy album. The show was sponsored by the Academy of Recording Arts and Sciences in Los Angeles, Calif.

The internationally-known comedian and star of the television series, "The Bill Cosby Show," presented a benefit show for Howard University's Black Studies Program last Saturday evening.

Ideas For Easter

FOR THE SHADOW BOX: Cut away and discard all of a 4-compartment frozen TV-dinner tray except the entree and fruit divisions. Bend fruit division at a 90-degree angle to form "nest" for egg rabbit. Cover the outside edges of the "nest" and the inside edges of entree divider frame with colorful plastic tape. Cut rabbit neck, face and ears in one piece from a plastic fresh-meat tray; draw facial and ear features with a fabric-tipped pen. Glue neck of rabbit into hole at small end of Paas-dyed blown eggshell on which you've outlined rabbit's jacket with fabric-tipped pen. Cut hole in top center of frame; insert bit of pipe stem cleaner and bend it into place for form hanger. Hang shadow box on wall and nestle rabbit in Easter grass in "nest."

BARBECUED STEAK ROMANO IS COOL ON THE BUDGET

If you can't take the heat, get out of the kitchen and try this backyard barbecue dinner of elegant marinated steaks that, despite today's beef prices, won't cost what you think. That's because the recipe takes chuck, which is less expensive, and turns it into a juicy, tender steak treat. You add the tender-

Barbecued Chuck Steak Romano

3 chuck steaks, round bone or blade bone, cut 1 to 1 1/4 thick
1 package Adolph's 15-Minute Meat Marinade
1/2 teaspoon sweet basil

Slash fat edges of steak to prevent curling. Blend contents of marinade package with one can of the tomato sauce, garlic and sweet basil. Place meat in marinade, piercing all surfaces of meat deeply with a fork so marinade will penetrate. Turn steaks several times, and after 15 minutes, remove steaks and drain. Reserve remaining marinade for Romano Sauce. Barbecue steaks. If you would like a free recipe booklet on "How to Marinate Meat the Modern Way," just drop a card to P.O. Box 828, Dept. A Marine Corps Recruit Depot Marine has been honored as one of San Diego's "Outstanding Young Men of the Year—1969" by the San Diego Junior Chamber of Commerce. Sgt. Harvey R. Wilson was one of 11 young men honored at a banquet Mar. 6 at the Atlantis Restaurant.

Born in Chicago in 1936, Sgt. Wilson was raised in Des Moines. He has served aboard MCRD, San Diego, several times—his first tour as a recruit in February 1953.

Sgt. Wilson said he became involved in community projects in San Diego years ago. "At first I was just around making a few suggestions and giving a few ideas. Gradually I became more involved, first with one thing and then with another."

40 Hours A Week
He estimates that he devotes about 40 hours a week to activities in San Diego besides his regular job as Administration Chief at the Provost Marshall's Office aboard the Depot. He is currently the South Bay District Vice-Chairman for the Boy Scouts of America and has worked as a swimming instructor for children in a "less chance" area. He is a member of the San Diego Jaycees, Masonic Lodge #79, the Mayor's Council on Youth Opportunity Camping Committee, the Model Cities Program and the Education and Economic Development Committee.

Explaining why he started "getting involved" Sgt. Wilson said, "I wanted to better prepare my kids, to make them better citizens."

Two Sons
"I have two boys," he continued, "and I wanted to involve them so they would have more than I had. Once I started getting involved I saw things that could be done for other people, especially young people."

"If certain things are made available to young people now, those things will help prevent riots like those in Watts and in Detroit later," he explained. Expanding on the subject he said, "Hopefully, if we can influence all age groups in a project to fit their needs they will not have enough time to become involved in destructive actions."

Explorer Scouts
Sgt. Wilson conceived the idea of the Professional Sports Explorer program for the city's high school-age youth. He said that this year he hoped to have programs for youth involving time with San Diego's Rockers, Padres and Chargers.

"Ninety per cent of my time," Sgt. Wilson said, "is spent with the Boy Scouts." He first started working with the Scouts in San Diego in 1967.

Manpower
His work with the Boy Scouts concerns the South Bay area of San Diego. This area is about 58 per cent Black and 22 per cent Brown. It's a less chance area where the Scouting program is way below the city average of one out of four boys.

"We're recruiting manpower right now to get the program moving. But our biggest job," he said, "is making Scouting relevant to boys in the area with programs on a level with the rest of the community."

Sgt. Wilson explained that most families in the South Bay could not afford to send a boy to a Boy Scout camp during the summer. "We're developing a program for this summer where every boy will be able to go to camp. It's not going to be the usual scout camp with barracks and hot food."

"To make Scouting relevant to these boys we're going to give them the essentials for survival in the outdoors. It's not going to be a luxurious vacation. They're going to be sleeping under the stars. There may be fresh milk and fresh fruit," he said.

Jamboree
At last year's Boy Scout Jamboree at Farragut State Park in Idaho, Sgt. Wilson was an aide to Archie Moore, one-time Heavyweight Boxing Champion, who is a Community Relations specialist for the National Council of Boy Scouts of America. For his work at the Jamboree Sgt. Wilson was commended by the National Council.

Education
Sgt. Wilson has attended Virginia State College, San Diego City College and Southwestern College. He hoped to pursue a Liberal Arts degree with a concentration in human relations and psychology when he leaves the Marine Corps.

During his 17-year enlistment in the Corps Sgt. Wilson has toured the Far East, Japan and Okinawa, served with the FMF Pacific Drum and Bugle Corps. Sgt. Wilson is the recipient of the Good Conduct Medal, National Defense Service Medal, Vietnam Service Medal, Vietnam Campaign Medal, Presidential Unit Citation, Certificate of Commendation, Pistol Expert Badge, International Shooting Fund Medal, Shooting Fund Medal, Southern Regional Marksman and Combat Action Ribbon.

Since February 1969 he has been aboard the Depot in his present position as Admin. Chief at PMO. Sgt. Wilson resides with his wife, Gloria, and their two sons, Robbie and James, at 7249 Skyline Drive in San Diego. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wilson of 1164 - 14th street.

Seek Entrance For Modeling Contest

You don't have to sing an aria or paint a can of soup—all you have to do is shine up your own natural self—send pictures and a mini-essay about your grooming habits and beauty aids—and you may find yourself a teen-age celebrity—a Cover Girl with $1000 in your "education bank account."

The classroom magazine, Co-ed, and Noxell Corporation, makers of Cover Girl cosmetics, have co-sponsored this annual nationwide contest, which is open to all girls in grades 7 through 12, for the past 8 years. They're looking for the girl who best typifies the teenage ideal of personality, charm and good grooming, and when it narrows down to five finalists, the fun is just beginning!

Finalist
And each finalist (from New England, Middle Atlantic, Midwest, Southeast, Far West/Canada) gets a $100 Savings Bond and her pictures in Co-ed Magazine, too. The national winner, named High School Cover Girl of 1970, gets in addition, a $1000 Noxell Scholarship Fund and the thrill of seeing her picture in color on the cover of Co-ed!

Uncle Tomism---Bosh!! Booker T. Washington Made Tuskegee Institute Famous

Eighth in a Series)
BY LOUISE GLASS

One can hardly think of Booker T. Washington without thinking of Tuskegee Institute, the school which has stood for several decades, as a beacon to thousands of Negro boys and girls, not only in the south, but in many areas.

Original Purpose
Its original purpose was to provide training and guidance for young people of very limited financial means—or maybe no means at all. They were given some academic training, taught a useful trade, and also they were given some instruction in social graces.

Apparent Value
As time went on the value of this school became more and more apparent. Northern white people took note, gave sums of money and encouraged its founder to the extent that it became internationally famous.

At the same time its curriculum was extended. Some Negroes sniffed at the "trade school" "industrial school" and so on. Even today some Negroes say the secret of Washington's success was in the fact that he said "what the white folks wanted to hear." This must be true because some of his educational theories were adopted by white educators to be used for white children. Some are still in use.

Perspective
It is impossible to look at 1895 (and several years later) through the lens of 1970 and get the true perspective. Just as it would have been impossible to have looked through the lens of 1895 and to have gained the perspective of 1970.

Connection
We must keep in mind that everything happening today is in some way connected with days gone by—centuries gone by. No event just flares up all by itself. We shall build tomorrow with the blocks we make today. That being the case we can't afford to snap judgement. Let's investigate first.

OBSERVING THE
NEGRO PRESS WEEK

The week of March 15-21 is observed as Negro Press Week, celebrating its 143rd year. Anniversaries are pretty important for the press, and this year emphasizes a milestone that has been reached and provides a chance to see what, if any, progress has been made.

Like the beginning of most Negro undertakings, the Negro Press was made necessary because the white press printed only crime news about Negroes and offered them no employment in their companies.

And this beginning was during the existence of slavery. This meant practically no advertisers and few subscribers. But it did give the owners a platform from which their views could be made known.

Ennumerable papers have been started over the years. Some became excellent newspapers but died with the passing of current owners; many because of lack of experience, finances and advertisers.

These newspapers have survived partially because, besides what goes on away from home, local church, club and other social news can be found as in no other newspaper. However, today the daily press is printing more of this news and pictures with it.

For years hair preparations constituted the chief advertiser. The big and little advertisers plead duplication of circulation or refused to recognize that there was a profitable Negro market.

The advertising situation has changed materially, plus a willingness of big advertisers to cooperate with the Negro press as a part of the national program to support Negro business.

Today, the future of the Negro press is bright. Universities are training young Negroes in journalism, business loans are more accessible, the Negro himself has more money to buy subscriptions, more subscriptions are being sold among white individuals and business institutions.

These changes have made it possible for Negroes to produce some excellent newspapers which serve as a mouth piece for the overall cause of Negro advancement. The Negro Press has played a great part during its 143 years of progress. It must continue until conditions are so that their services as such shall not be needed as a race journal.

THERE IS A SOLUTION TO SCHOOL DISORDERS

Washington Irving Junior High School has been the source of some unpleasant, unfortunate incidents created by outsiders and some students which tend to shake the morale of the school. Several teachers have been beaten up.

Students have been comparatively quiet this year. But the present situation poses a problem which must be met.

Parents and friends have rallied to the school, volunteering their services in order that the school program can move without incidents such as have occurred.

This and similar situations must be met head on and properly. They stem from the attitude of those who have no regard for law and order and feel called upon to solve their problems with force.

Parents can help find a solution to the problem by teaching their children to conduct themselves properly and respect constituted authority, thus giving support to the schools, the teachers and the administration.

QUESTION: I was hospitalized for three weeks then moved to an extended care facility for two weeks. I have now been home for a month but I still have not received a bill from the extended care facility. What should I do?

ANSWER: The extended care facility must file a claim with Medicare for covered services. Only non-covered expenses would be billed to you. You should check with the extended care facility to find out whether there were non-covered expenses for which you are liable.

QUESTION: I am over 65 and still employed with earnings around $6,000 per year so I have to pay my Medicare premiums. Do these premium payments also provide me with hospital and extended care coverage?

ANSWER: If you are eligible for a monthly security benefit upon retirement, you are eligible for hospital and extended care facility services without paying a monthly premium. The premium payments you are making are for doctor bill coverage.

QUESTION: I do household work for several people. Do they need to make social security reports? What's the rule?

ANSWER: Any employer who pays you $50 or more in cash wages in a calendar quarter for work in his home must report your wages for social security. He would withhold your part of the tax and send the entire amount, both your share and his, to Internal Revenue during the month following the end of each calendar quarter.

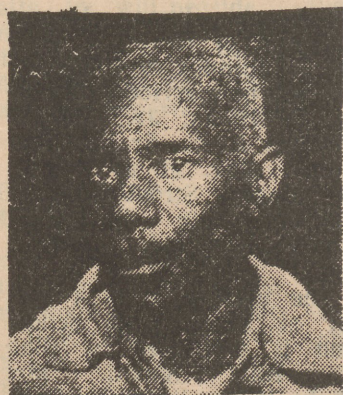

statement about Negroes he was supposed to have made several years ago. Judge Carswell has not denied that he made the speech. After all, men must be judged on their record and Judge Carswell made no effort to indicate a change of heart until it became important in helping him get confirmed.

Apparently, Rep. Stokes does not know that the judges decisions on civil rights have been reversed more than another current judges. (This is no supposition).

He criticizes Senators Miller and Hughes for voting against Judge Haynsworth's confirmation and inferred that Senator Hughes should not oppose Judge Carswell because the senator had been unfortunate in his early years. Senator Hughes has not attempted to hide or excuse his mistakes.

Judge Carswell's record is being challenged and not that of Senator Hughes.

There are many able men in the South whose record is not such as that of Judges Haynsworth and Carswell. They would not meet the opposition these two nominees have.

With Allen Ashby

Well, the basketball season is finally over for the Iowa Hawkeyes and the Drake Bulldogs. Nobody expected them to go as far as they did, but when they did, naturally everybody wanted them to go all the way. We will always think if Iowa had lost any one of their last three conference games they would have won the regional meet. When a team wins so many games in a row, they are due for a bad game. Sometimes they are lucky and play their bad game against a weak opponent, and win anyway.

But a loss would have made them tough and ready, as ready as they were Saturday. This is to take nothing away from Jacksonville. A magazine article said that Jacksonville wasn't very popular in Florida because of so many black starters in a white school, but what can they say if the team brings home the national trophy, or at least the runnerup? Just about everyone who saw the Iowa game says they were lucky, but then that is part of any game. The guy who took that long shot probably didn't really know that the ball was going to bounce straight down instead of away out. But back spin will make a ball come off the back board straight down.

And if a guy shoots the ball off his fingertips, that will most of the time give the ball a back spin. Perhaps that is what the fellow did without even realizing it. By the same token, if the ball is shot from more back in the hand, it will either have no spin or any kind but backwards. Some fellow said of that game that the team getting off the last shot would probably win it. And do you know the guy was dead right.

And Drake. Nobody figured them to have even a shot at the Valley crown. As they romped through various opponents, people kept waiting for them to fold. So when they got whopped by Cincinnati, everyone thought that was the end of the line. But when they got into the regional playoffs, it was "Come on, you Bulldogs!"

And we were all disappointed when they didn't come on. They looked pretty sharp against Houston, but against New Mexico State, they didn't look so sharp. That was likely because they got one shot so often. Then they had to shoot from way out and off balance, and the blamed ball just wouldn't fall.

One thing State did have was that great big guy under the defensive backboard. When that fellow got his hands on a rebound, forget it. Nobody was going to get that ball away from him. Then there was that little guard who made some fine passes, some of which landed among the spectators, but he was tough. Drake didn't have a thing to be ashamed of. They finished with a fine record, and went a lot further than anybody thought they would. When the teams square off in the finals there will be from seven to eight black players out there on the floor. A fellow ought to be a little afraid to bet against this Jacksonville team taking all the marbles. Every so often a team like that comes along, and they are called the team of destiny.

Such was West Texas the team that just about ran Kentucky out of the gym in their final game. Then, you guessed it, the New York Mets. They get a couple of lucky breaks when they need them most and then they become unbeatable. They just don't believe they can lose, and so often they don't. UCLA has never seen the likes of Gilmore and company. But then we actually believe a good fast passing game could beat those big guys.

Girl's Teams
And while we were discussing basketball a couple of youngsters we know wanted to know why there wasn't a girl's varsity sports program in the local high schools. We told them we didn't know. Maybe someone who has the answer will enlighten us. We have heard of girls who have said they were mad all through high school, and never did get over it. They couldn't understand why no girl's basketball or track in our larger high schools. Come to think of it, we can't think of a single big city where there is such a program. Maybe there is, and we have missed it. But we would sure like to know. Maybe somebody who likes to pick out our things we don't write about can help us.

Health for All

BLASTING THE
SMOKING HABIT

Trying to quit the nicotine bit? Here's an offbeat idea.

The idea really worked for Dr. Roger O. Egeberg, HEW's Assistant Secretary for Health and Scientific Affairs. He decided to quit smoking and substitute another harmless habit instead. He still wanted to chew or finger something.

Black Bullet

Dr. Egeberg, he says, remembered that some Middle Easterners carry amber beads which they finger from time to time. "But I couldn't afford amber, and cheap beads didn't feel right," he says. "I cast about and finally found just the thing—a .45 caliber bullet. I carried it in my jacket and when the urge to smoke a cigarette came, I'd finger the bullet. Of course, I wound up the day with black fingers."

Offbeat

So far, not too offbeat. But hang on. "If the urge to smoke got really strong," he says, "I'd put the bullet in my mouth. Then I'd realize that the damn thing might explode and blow my skull off." Not a very cool way to blow your mind.

"That was usually enough to keep down the urge for two or three hours. And in about three weeks I was cured."

Hazardous

Dr. Egeberg picked a hazardous way to quit. A way not recommended by anyone.

But sticking with cigarettes can be even more hazardous. Putting a cigarette instead of a bullet—in your mouth can mean disability and slow death for millions of people.

To find out just how high the hazards of smoking really are, check with your local respiratory disease association.

They have the facts.

Claims Alabama
Kempt 4 Blacks
From Scholarships

BIRMINGHAM, ALA. — Racial discrimination kept four black athletes from being recruited for University of Alabama athletic scholarships, the Afro-American Association at the school contends.

An amendment filed Monday to a complaint entered last summer in U.S. District Court said the four are Lindsey Harris of Druid High in Tuscaloosa, Isaiah Lockett of Ozark, Andrew Pernel of Brighton High in Jefferson County, and Lawrence Poelnitz of St. Jude High in Montgomery.

Unfair Recruiting
The suit claims the athletic department's recruiting practices are unfair to blacks and that coaches refuse to "allow black students to try out for or play on varsity teams" unless they are not on grants-in-aid.

Defendants are Coach Paul (Bear) Bryant, President David Mathews and the trustees.

Complaints

The complaint asks that the court order three things:

1. The awarding of scholarships to black athletes on the ratio of black-to-white athletes in Alabama.
2. The awarding of grants-in-aid to blacks even if they already hold community assistance scholarships.
3. Recruitment at black high schools.

WHEN I AM DEAD

When I am dead, forget me dear,
For I shall never know,
Through o'er my cold and lifeless hands
Your burning tears should flow;
I'll cancel with my living voice
The debt you'll owe the dead—
Give me the love you'd show me then,
But give it now instead.

And bring no wreath to deck my grave,
For I shall never care,
Though all the flowers I loved the most
Should glow and wither there,
I'll sell my chance of all the withered flowers,
You'll lavish when I'm dead

For one small bunch of violets now—
Give that to me instead.
What saints we are when we are gone,
But what's the use to me.
Of praises written on my tomb

For other eyes to see?
One little simple word of praise

By lips we worship said,
Is worth a hundred epitaphs—
Dear—say it now instead.
And faults that now are hard to bear

Oblivion then shall win;
Our sins are soon forgiven us
When we no more can sin.

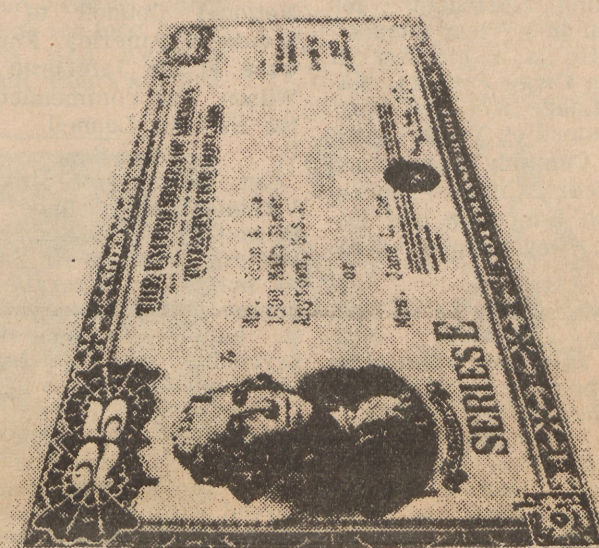

But any bitter thought of me—
Keep it for me when I am dead—
I shall not know I shall not care,
Forgive me now instead.
