Brown Forfeits $10,000 Bail; On F.B.I. Wanted List

Ellicott City, Md. — Circuit Court Judge James Macgill ordered $10,000 bond forfeited and said he will issue a bench warrant for the arrest of H. Rap Brown

H. Rap Brown who failed to appear Monday for his trial on riot and arson charges.

The trial was recessed for the 11th time in the three-year old case against the black militant in connection with the burning of two blocks of buildings in Cambridge after Brown addressed a crowd of Negroes. Site of the trial has been snarled twice.

Brown's lawyers say he has been out of touch with them since early March.

His chief counsel, William M. Kunstler, also was absent Monday morning when the prosecutor, William Yates, moved for the trial to start.

Judge Macgill asked if Brown was present. E. Carl Broege, associate defense counsel, said "To my knowledge, he is not, your honor." The judge then instructed the bailiff to call out for Brown and the Eastern Shore Bonding Co., which had posted the $10,000 bond. Neither responded.

It was disclosed Tuesday that Brown has been placed on the F.B.I. "Most Wanted" list, becoming the second person to be No. 11. The first was the alleged slayer of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr.

Carmichael Speaking New Tune; Unify Africa Instead of Riot, Killing

Greensboro, N.C. — The primary concern of blacks around the world should be the political unification of Africa, according to black militant Stokely Carmichael. Carmichael, who recently returned to the United States after spending 11 months in Ghana, articulated his views to more than 2,000 persons at A&T State University last Sunday.

Highest Expression

"I say that the highest expression of black power is Pan Africanism," said Carmichael. "The political unification of Mother Africa and the unity of Africans (blacks) around the world should be our primary concern."

It was almost like a new Stokely Carmichael, more sophisticated and very unlike the young man whose militant slogans had filled this same gymnasium two years ago.

Higher Level

"We must move on to a higher level of black power," added Carmichael, "and that is Pan Africanism." "Our priority must become our homeland, Africa."

The former prime minister of the Black Panthers told his integrated audience of students and Greensboro citizens that any worldwide revolution must begin in the black communities of this nation.

"We must unite," said Carmichael, "as the repression forces are building against us. We must also seek to take over all of the political systems in our communities."

Economic Bases

Carmichael also said that blacks must also seek to develop independent economic bases wherever possible.

He also urged that confrontation in the black community cease. "We are not prepared for confrontation," he said. "Guns without political ideology is like playing cowboys and Indians."

Accounts to Nation's Minority Owned Banks

Washington, D. C. — The Post Office Department in cooperation with the Office of Minority Enterprises today announced that action has been initiated to establish postal bank accounts with approximately 25 minority-owned banks in various parts of the United States.

"By increasing the banks' available cash," Postmaster General Winton M. Blount said, "we hope to significantly increase their ability to provide more loans to enterprises owned by blacks, Mexican Americans, Puerto Ricans, and other minority groups."

The program will help implement what President

Nixon called "one of the priority aims of this Administration—encouraging increased minority-group activity."

Important Step

Edward E. Tillmon, President of the National Banking Association, a group of banks which are predominantly black-owned, called the Post Office Department's program "an important step toward enlarging our banks' lending base and increasing their ability to help minority group businessmen provide more jobs."

Specific Areas

Blount said that post offices in nearly every city in the United States deposit

Arrest 2 Escapees From Polk Jail In Minneapolis

GEORGE WOODS, JR. JAMES EDWARD WIMBUSCH

Two Polk County Jail prisoners who had been at large since their escape Mar. 31, were apprehended in Minneapolis, Minn. last Thursday night, April 30.

The two, George Woods, Jr., 23, of 1441 Buchanan street, and James Edward Wimbusch, 28, of Burlington escaped with two other prisoners, by prying apart two cell bars with a board and climbing onto the roof of the jail after crawling through an air vent.

Polk County Deputy Sheriff Robert Slycard said Woods and Wimbusch apparently have been in Minneapolis for some time since the escape. Slycard said extradition proceedings have been started for the return here of the two men.

funds on a daily basis. The minority banks will serve specific postal areas. In many cities the deposits will come from stations and branches located near minority-owned financial institutions.

The Post Office Department, along with other agencies, has actively participated in President Nixon's program of supporting minority-owned enterprises.

Huey is now in his second year of a 15-year term for manslaughter in the shooting of an Oakland policeman who had shot him in the stomach.

Kansas City, Mo. — The CALL had a gala birthday celebration April 24 with 1,200 persons gathering in the Imperial ballroom of the Hotel Muehleback in observance of its 50th anniversary. As a part of its observance a scholarship fund, with an initial amount of $10,055 was established last week at the University of Kansas in Lawrence in the name of Lucile H. Bluford, editor of the Call.

Kansas City, Kans. — The Douglass State bank announced that it is offering a reward of $1,000 for the apprehension and conviction of the three men who held up the bank last week taking more than $11,000.

Ia. Employment Tribunal Refuses Jobless Benefits For Balking at Orders

Two separate cases involving black foremen on the job have been settled in Iowa recently.

A man who refused to work under a black foreman was denied unemployment benefits Monday by the appeals tribunal of the Iowa Employment Security Commission.

Reversed

The action reversed a deputy's earlier decision, ruling against the unemployment benefits claim of Stephen J. Wilson of rural La Harpe, Ill.

Wilson was fired last September by Mason & Hanger-Silas Mason Co., Inc., the main government contractor at the Iowa Army Ammunition Plant near Burlington.

No Reason

"The uncontradicted testimony of the employer shows that he (Wilson) had no reason to refuse to work for this party except that the foreman was of a minority group," the tribunal said.

It added: "This is clearly an unsatisfactory reason for refusing to do the job and is a flagrant violation of public policy contrary to both the federal and state laws and decisions of the Supreme Court of the United States."

Deliberate

"His refusal was an act of insubordination and was deliberate misconduct in connection with his employment for which he was discharged."

After notifying the company of his refusal to work for the foreman Wilson was advised the following day that he was fired.

Creston Case

In a separate case within the past four weeks a white male charged that he was the victim of reverse discrimination when he was fired from his job as an assemblyman with a manufacturing company in Creston after he refused on order from his foreman who was black.

The foreman told him to move to a new station on the production line as a routine matter to facilitate the plant operation. The new spot would involve the same classification, same pay, and same shift. The foreman was the only black employee in the plant, but nobody else there voiced any complaints against him.

No Cause

The complaint, which had been filed with the Iowa Civil Rights Commission, was dismissed for "no probable cause." According to Alvin Hays, Jr., executive director of the Commission, the state rights group also sat in on the Ammunition company complaint, also.

The Creston complaint was contained in the annual Profile of Settled Complaints newsletter issued by

Central National Hosts Luncheon for NAACP

By Frances E. Hawthorne
Central National bank was host Monday to a pre-launching membership campaign luncheon for the Des Moines branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

Guest speaker for the luncheon held in the bank's dining room was Watson Powell, Jr., president of American Republic Insurance company. In his brief talk he touched on the current black movement, his experiences with it and with national black civil rights leaders he has met personally, and expressed "it is a real pleasure for me to be here."

"I like a lot of the movement," Powell said. "I like a lot that is happening. I am colored-white. I use the word black because it is beautiful."

Big Burden

"Hatred is a big burden for any man to carry," he continued "we must be committed if the black man is to have the opportunities of all men. Business must be come involved. I think it is happening. I hope it is happening."

He ended by saying, "I hope I believe in my heart what I say with my mouth." Also making brief remarks was B. C. Grangaard, chairman of the board and president of Central National Bank who said of the NAACP, "It's a great outfit and worthy of support."

Powell was introduced by James B. Morris, Sr., Iowa Bystander publisher and local attorney, who was hailed as "a pillar of the NAACP" by Maude E. White, state planner, coordinator of Model Cities Effort, and chairman of the committee who assisted the bank in arranging the luncheon.

Also speaking briefly were Jessie High, director of Urban Affairs, State Department of Public Instruction and Malcolm Hogan, local branch chairman.

According to Miss White the local NAACP will focus on "achieving quality education in Des Moines public schools, especially in the inner city areas."

Woman Leaves $250,000 to UNCF

DETROIT, MICH. — An 84-year-old white woman — described by a former roommate as too miserly to pay $125 for needed glasses — has left almost $250,000 to the United Negro College Fund. The donor, Mrs. Regina M. Peffly, died Jan. 4 in her small rented flat. Her will was admitted to probate Monday.

Mrs. Cressey Wilson, 60, who used to live with Mrs. Peffly, said the woman had planned to give her money to the fund because "she said the Negroes had always been mistreated."

What Is Going On In Model Cities

OCCUPATIONAL UPGRADING OFFICE

The Occupational Upgrading Project moved into its own office at 2212 Forest Avenue, after operating briefly at the downtown offices at the Concentrated Employment program, which continues supervision of the Model City project.

Arthur Jackson, director of the new job improvement project, said he now has seven of his nine staff members hired. Some of these staff members now are going out into the Model City area to recruit prospective workers.

Job Candidates are interviewed and screened at Jackson's headquarters then referred to agencies that have contracted with the Model City agency to execute various Model City programs. Each contracting agency selects its own employees.

With a budget of $300,000 the project is among the most costly of the 40 separate programs planned for the Model City area.

Jackson said that this weeks interviews are being conducted with persons interested with the Model City Homemaker-Health Care project and a housing rehabilitation project. Next week interviews will be for adults interested in supervising a summer youth employment project sponsored by Community Improvement, Inc. (CII).

TWO MORE CONTRACTS

The Des Moines City Council was asked Monday to enter into subcontracts with the Des Moines Model City agency for an increased street maintenance program and a police cadet program.

The two projects will bring a total of $247,008 into the Model City area north and west of the central business district.

An $80,000 Model City grant will pay for supervisory personnel and equipment for cleaning sewers and catch basins, alley grading, obtaining and planting trees and replacing sidewalks. The work will be in addition to city street maintenance normally scheduled for the area.

Labor will be supplied by job trainees in Operation Mainstream who are being prepared for future work in the construction industry.

About 24 trainees will be paid a total of $75,000 for the May-to-November construction season.

A physical environment survey made by Model City block captains recently will be used as a guide in selecting areas where street, sidewalk and sewer repairs are most needed.

The police cadet program will cost a total of $92,008, with $53,000 supplied by Model City funds and $39,008 from the city.

PROPOSE 1,100 HOUSING UNIT

Officials of the Model Cities are studying a proposal to begin construction of 1,100 housing units this fall at a cost in excess of $12.5 million. The site would cover 20 acres in the south section of the Model City area that has been designated for urban renewal.

Model City Director William Snyder said there is no money earmarked for the proposed project, but he is hoping to attract some from private sources.

Negro Digest Changes Name To Black World

NEGRO DIGEST, the monthly magazine which launched the world's largest Black-owned publishing empire (Johnson Publishing Company, Inc.) 28 years ago, and which served as a key organ of the Black intellectual and literary movements of the Sixties, has shed its old name for a new name more in tune with the times and with the magazine's regular editorial stance. Effective with the May issue, NEGRO DIGEST becomes BLACK WORLD.

Misnomer

Explaining the change of name, managing editor Hoyt W. Fuller cited two "primary facts" as reasons for the decision. "First of all, NEGRO DIGEST has not, in reality, been a 'digest' since the magazine was revived in 1961, so the name was a misnomer anyway," he said.

"NEGRO DIGEST does not condense material and very rarely reprints anything other than excerpts from books. The magazine has emphasized original material. In fact, we have considered the discovery of new talent one of the major reasons for the existence of the magazine, along with providing young thinkers and activists with a platform and a forum.

Disfavor

"The second reason for changing the magazine's name had to do with the current disfavor in which the word 'Negro' has fallen among the magazine's audience. Many Blacks, particularly the intellectual and the young, find 'Negro' offensive for a number of reasons. In any case, the word belongs to another period in the struggle of Afro-Americans, and that is not the period with which the magazine's contents or its editorial stance are identified," the cover

The May cover of BLACK WORLD is a bronze mask of Benin, one of a variety which is worn at the waist on a rope or chain. Pieces similar to it are owned by the hereditary chief of the bronze-casters of Benin, chief Inenigueromwo, and also are on exhibit in the British Museum in London. The mask possibly dates back to the sixteenth century. It is approximately six inches in height. The cover photo is by Herbert List from Nigerian Images, by William Fagg.

Wilkins Praises Work Of Chester Franklin, Founder of The Call

Kansas City, Mo. — In his first public appearance since his illness, Roy Wilkins, executive director of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, paid high tribute to the memory of Chester A. Franklin, founder of the Kansas City Call, under whom Wilkins worked as a young reporter and editor in the late 1920s.

Ceremony

Wilkins was the principal speaker at a dinner attended by more than 1,200 persons who turned out to celebrate the 50th anniversary of the founding of one of the nation's leading Negro newspapers. Among others who participated in the ceremony were Mrs. Ada C. Franklin, widow of the founder, Mayor Ius W. Davis, and Missouri's two United States Senators, Stuart Symington and Thomas F.

Eagleton.

Scholarship

As a tribute to Miss Lucile Bluford, editor of The Call and an employee for 38 years, a scholarship with an initial base of $10,000 was presented to Dr. E. Laurence Chalmers, Jr., chancellor of the University of Kansas. The Lucile Bluford Scholarship fund will be used to assist needy students at Kansas University's William Allen White school of journalism from which Miss Bluford was graduated.

Free Voice

Of the newspaper's founder, Wilkins said: "His was a free voice, unbought and unfettered. Chester Franklin would have been in his element in these troubled times. With his dedication to hard work and knotty problems, he would have been at home in the 1960s and 1970s."

5 Negro House Members Back G.M. Challenge

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Five Negro House members have endorsed a consumer group's campaign challenging General Motors Corp. to be more responsive to the public.

The lawmakers said that out of 13,000 General Motors dealerships, only seven blacks hold franchises and, they added, in the corporation itself there are few blacks at the management level.

The five specifically urged other Negro elected officials to "examine the stance taken by the Campaign to Make General Motors Responsible" and to join in if they consider it valuable.

Led by consumer protection advocate Ralph Nader, the campaign group holds 12 shares of G.M. stock and plans to offer reform proposals at the annual G.M. stockholders meeting May 22 in Detroit.

The representatives, all Democrats, are Shirley Chisholm (N.Y.), William Clay (Mo.), Charles Diggs (Mich.), Augustus Hawkins (Calif.) and Louis Stokes (Ohio).

U. S. sawmills are producing more than 28 billion board feet of softwood lumber per year. About 70 per cent is in 12 western states.

FIX-IT TIP

That just finished floor will retain its new appearance longer if you apply a coat of wax. The wax protection will last as long as the wax finish is intact. Paste wax is best on a floor finished with wax and new floors should have at least two coats. Apply additional coats to build up an adequate film if you use a liquid wax.

Milwaukee Gets First Black Priest

Milwaukee, Wis.—On June 1 the St. Boniface Roman Catholic Church will get its first black priest, the Rev. Kenneth Stewart, and his black associates.

He will replace Rev. James Groppi and his white associates, whose civil rights actions drew nationwide attention. The transfer was suggested by Father Groppi and his group who said they felt it was more beneficial for Negroes to have black priests working with them and for them.

Arkansas Baptist College Choir Enthralled, Delight Audience Tues.

Arkansas Baptist college is a small college but they can sing, proclaimed the school president, Dr. J.C. Oliver, and master of ceremonies, minutes before the curtain call for Tuesday's night concert at North High.

And from the harmonious opening notes they proved their mentor to be a prophet of note.

Directed by Hazel Shanks Hynson, the 40-voice concert choir enthralled and enlightened an audience of several hundred with classical, popular and spirituals.

For the first half they were attired in purple robes with white banner collars embroidered with purple college's initials. They ended this portion in a darkened theater, with their superb rendition of "One Little Candle," with light coming from dozens of lighted candles held in the hands of the performers.

During the second half of the program the members came out on stage resplendent in black tuxedos and blue formal gowns and matching shoes and white gloves.

The program skillfully used various groupings of voices, several solos, "lovers duet" quartettes, all male ensembles, all ladies ensembles and the entire choir.

According to Dr. Oliver, Arkansas Baptist College is a small school with 350 students, representing seven states, but mostly from the college namesake state.

The college choir's first appearance in the Hawkeye state was sponsored by the Music department of the Corinthian Baptist church of which Rev. F.W. Stickland is pastor.

Separatism Best? Not to Jesse Owens

New York (Special) — Black militants are attacked as "professional haters" by famed Olympic runner Jesse Owens, who says "it's a lie" that black men and women don't have much chance to succeed.

"If the Negro doesn't succeed in today's America," Owens says in a May Readers Digest article, "it is because he has chosen to fail."

Minute Minority

Recalling his own youth as the son of an Oakville, Ala. sharecropper, the man who won four gold medals in the 1936 Olympic Games writes: "The black militants of today, often talking from integrated high-rises, restaurants and universities, don't know what it is to be really shut out, as we were in our Oakvilles. The soapboxing blackthinkers, the angry extremists, the nationalists WRITER MARIE ROSS, AN EDITOR ON 'THE CALL' in Kansas City, Mo. and well-known to Iowa Bystander readers, was my hostess over the weekend! I tried to keep my talking pace at its peak—striving to make up for last time! The visit was all to short. Yes, she has promised to visit here, too! And I shall keep you informed on this score! Will count you in!

MARIE ROSS

MARIE SUCCEED ED HER SISTER, SYLVIA ROSS, who was then a Drake University student—1938-1939—and part time Iowa Bystander secretary. Sylvia, now Mrs. Caldwell McMillan, is completing her first year as Executive Director of the Community Action Agency, Anne Arundel County, Maryland. (See story).

RENEWED THE ACQUAINTANCE OF ASHTON ROSS, brother of Marie and Sylvia, and a handsome bachelor. Talented and creative, Ross has been involved in "doing his own thing" long before such a pursuit was advocated and popular! Too soon to divulge his current undertaking!

MET DIRECTOR (PETE) AND IDA COLLINS, brother and sister-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Charles (Bud) Collins! They are "Across the street" neighbors of the Rosses. Ida was one of the trio who accompanied me to the station!

MET MRS. SOLON FOX, treasurer of The Martin Luther King Memorial Hospital, a four million dollar structure, being built in Kansas City, Missouri.

THE HEART OF AMERICA SISTERHOOD, INC. held its Seventh Annual Banquet on last Saturday night. I was Marie Ross's guest. Speaker of the affair was Elder M. A. Burgess, Official of the Central States Conference and a Seventh Day Adventist Church there. The program was informative and the event well attended. I understand the organization to be one of volunteer service. It is rapidly growing and mention was made that the women would like to interest their Des Moines sisters. Nationally, there are 10 clubs—9 in Kansas and 1 in New York. Mrs. Margaret M. Hale is President.

MET MRS. FANNIE WRIGHT, FRIEND OF ELDER AND MRS. D. J. DIXON. She was one of the beautifully gowned members of the Kansas City chapter of The Heart of America Sisterhood, Inc. Elder Dixon is pastor of Philadelphia Seventh Day Adventist Church, Thirteenth Street.

SUCA, THE MOST HEARD FROM MOVEMENT ALL OF LAST WEEK—Students for 'United Community Action'—was a real good thing, as the commercial goes. Ann Page half listening to her TV remembered the phone number given advertising the students' program. Viewing her large backyard and "its mountain of woods", she decided to call. Three different crews of girls worked, a total of 48 hours in six hours. Girls, yet Digging a garden, weeding a flower bed, cutting down trees and trimming bushes—all this labor for community action!

And Ann was the most pleasant employer in town. Though she knocks about and does these things each Spring, Ann was delighted with the girls' enthusiasm and beautiful work!

THE THUNDERING HERD is the only title which comes to mind that fits this scene! Keith Morris on a 250 Yamaha Enduro; Morris Wright on a 750 Honda and Claude Heard on a Honda 300! Sure—ROARING DOWN THE STREET!

Mrs. Sylvia McMillan Directs Md. Community Action Agency

Annapolis, Md. — It has now been a little over a year since Mrs. Sylvia R. McMillan

C.A.A.'s Executive Director Mrs. Sylvia R. McMillan

lan (the former Sylvia Ross Kansas City, Kans.) became executive director of the Community Action Agency.

Since becoming Director in October of 1968 Mrs. McMillan has seen the agency grow from a modest staff of 25 to its present, still growing of 48.

But this growth in staff is only a reflection of an even greater growth in the effectiveness of C.A.A. under the energetic guidance of Mrs. McMillan. New programs and services that have and will effect the lives of hundreds of poor people in Ann Arundel County have been begun in the past year.

Mrs. McMillan is a native of Kansas but she has lived in the Annapolis area for the past 23 years. She is married to Caldwell McMillan, a Vocational Rehabilitation Counselor in Prince Georges County. They have two children, Caldwell, Jr., 20, and Elizabeth, 16. The family lives on a farm stocked with pets outside of Annapolis.

Before becoming executive director, Mrs. McMillan served as Assistant Director of C.A.A. She has been connected with the agency in some way ever since it was born in 1966.

Your professional beautician knows the answer...

Why does some hair break off when combing?

Your hair is precious and delicate...and none of us like to see it break off for any reason. Scientists tell us that excessive use of hot combs and over-processing of hair with chemicals often are major causes of brittleness resulting in hair breakage. But hair that is naturally curly and tangles easily frequently breaks off in everyday combing. Notice how irritated your scalp becomes when you comb in contrast to the way your beautician does?

Your professional beautician knows that curly hair mats and tangles so easily that it should be softened before combing. Otherwise, unnecessary irritation to the scalp and damage to the shaft and ends of the hair occurs. To achieve this needed softening and a temporary relaxing effect that prevents breakage on all human hair (including wigs), most beauticians rely on Clairol® Hair-So-New® spray-on creme rinse. For combing ease and for beautifying your hair in many other ways, trained beauticians stock a complete family of fine Clairol products for your specific needs.

Visit your expert hairdresser, who cares about your hair care and your comfort. Whatever the nature of your hair problems, only your professional beautician knows the answer for sure.

PROTEST BEYOND
COMMON SENSE

The death of four students at the hands of national guardsmen at Kent University, Ohio, is an unfortunate matter. Surely, nobody dreamed that students would carry their protests to the extreme that it would require such drastic action as happened in this instance.

We all deplore the Vietnam War and want to get out as soon as possible. Most people object to sending American troops to Cambodia insisting that it is an escalation of the war.

President Nixon made the decision to take this step upon the advice of military commanders in the field.

They felt that American soldiers were being killed by the North Vietnamese soldiers whose bases were a few miles away and situated in a neutral country close to them. Military leaders should know what tactics should be followed to win the war. Certainly the protesters don't.

Time will tell whether the move is the correct one. Many student protests are against this action. This was true at Kent University. Like those on many other campuses, Kent students did not confine their objections to peaceful methods, but created a situation which called for the national guard to keep the peace.

People who place themselves in the line of fire are liable to get shot either intentionally or by accident. This is exactly what these unfortunate students did. We don't believe their protests should have led them into the line of fire where rocks and bottles were thrown at peace officers.

Protests in America have clearly gone out of reason by destroying property and making life miserable for peaceful neighbors.

We are paying the price for lawlessness that has gone on all too long.

AN INSTANCE OF
EQUAL EMPLOYMENT

The Iowa Unemployment Security Commission has overturned a ruling by one of its deputies that unemployment compensation should not be paid an employee who quit his job because he refused to work under a Negro foreman.

The case arose at the Arms plant in Burlington. Two things happened here which emphasize how management must uphold the rights of Negroes in the face of prejudiced employees.

And that a deputy should be so far out of line with what is being done to provide equal opportunities for minorities. Both were despicable; the deputy should have known better.

It takes such stands for fair play to convince the Negro that constituted authority is interested in protecting his rights.

ATTEMPTING TO NULLIFY
HARD EARNED GAINS

Dr. S. I. Hayakawa, president of San Francisco State College has been writing a series of articles based upon his experience as a college professor. Dr. Hayakawa took over the college when rioting was the rule and continued operation seemed impossible. He has made great headway in bringing peace to the campus.

Writing in the Des Moines Tribune Monday, he said "It's the same on campus. The non-militant black students mix easily with other students in classroom debates, in song groups, in games and study. The militant black, however, huddle by themselves, insist on being taught solely by black teachers, exclude whites from the black studies classes, demand separate eating and dormitory arrangements. In some cities they are even insisting on enforced segregation in the schools, a practice outlawed by the Supreme Court in 1954, but still yearned for by the Ku Klux Klan.

"So pay no attention to the screaming and dramatic black militants who are the

With Allen Ashby

We are glad that last week either nobody read our story of the Drake Relays or else they were kind enough to overlook one of the biggest goofs of all times. As we wrote about East Waterloo's Jerry Moses, we were thinking about the 100 yard dash, because a fellow ran a nine six, and didn't even qualify.

Now we know the guy ran the hurdles, because we had Moses running the 100 when he actually ran the hurdles. He was under the old record and still finished third.

Usually, when we make an error like that, we get phone calls, letters, and are stopped on the street to let us know about it. We don't know how come we didn't this time, but we are glad. Of course we are sorry we got our races mixed up. So much for that.

Drake Football
Got a look at Drake's prospective football team for next fall. Can't tell much from what took place out there Sunday, but judging from the number of returning veterans, the Bulldogs should have a pretty tough ball club. This weekend Iowa State has their final practice game.

Just wonder if things will work out as the Cyclone coach wants them. We would guess that a lot of the pressure on Obert Tislale didn't always come from the other ball club. Some folks just don't believe a black fellow can play quarterback, and no doubt that bothered the guy some.

As we sat in the stands at a couple of the Iowa State darling of the networks. Jim Crow they want, and Jim Crow they will get. The brave ones are the untelevised majority who are learning mathematics and chemistry and English grammar."

The University of Northern Iowa is asking the Board of Regents to establishment of a minorities cultural center for Negroes, Mexicans and Indians.

It is to be housed in a residence occupied now by a professor. The cost of maintaining the center will be $10,000. To be funded by a drive for donations from Waterloo and Cedar Falls citizens.

More than once we have stated our opposition to any separate facilities for minorities on school campuses on the grounds that such make-shifts tend to emphasize differences, build hatred and distrust. Experience shows that white students don't attend them.

If these centers have such great value, way not make them a part of the regular university curriculum? And with education costing more all the time, why burden the public further to "donate to a minority center." Are we to start begging as a life time project asking others to pay our bills?

After all, if these students expect to get in big industry, in big education, in big entertainment, they must find most of it among white people, consequently they must learn to live and work with them.

Material is available in magazines, books and newspapers about Negro, Mexican and Indian culture if the students will use some of their VALUABLE time to read them.

Iowa U.
Don't know what is happening at Iowa U. This is the first year we can recall when news of the Hawkeyes spring practice didn't get on the sports page somewhere.

Why is it kept so secret? This has to be the year the Hawks better their 500 mark, or some heads will roll. So we would think the team would be getting some coverage to let the public know how the team is progressing. Haven't even heard when the spring game is. We hope to see if we can find out the date. The club has potential for a pretty good year if they can get together, and if they have a little luck. It is an almost all veteran club, and the return of those four guys certainly won't hurt any. So now if they can find a quarterback, they could have a good mark.

This Saturday
This coming Saturday will be a sportswatcher's dream or nightmare. There will be football, baseball, basketball, and anything else you can name in the way of TV sports. If you don't like one sport, just flip the knob, and get one you do like.

Oh yes, the bowling season ended with Hinkey Brewer's team winning first place in their league. Hinkey says, "Don't tell me old men can't play anything." He had an old team, and when the pressure got rough, those vets just got rougher. He named the guys for us, but we couldn't remember all of them; Murray Wolders, Hall Ration, and Bonnie Herndon. The other fellow, we either never heard his name, or else Hinkey didn't tell us. And do you know, those guys in that league had scores that would stood up in any league in town.

On Friday afternoon, May 1 the J-Hawks romped to two victories 19-5 in a six-inning contest and an 8-5 count in the nightcap over Iowa Lakes of Esterville.

Tywater had a grand day driving home two runs with a double, stole second and later scored on an error on a ball hit by Jim Fleming.

Tywater is a 1969 graduate of East High School where he played football and baseball. He is the first and only black in the town and at the Emmetsburg Junior College.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Tywater of 2570 Maury st. and the grandson of Mrs. Rosetta Frazier of 602 S.E. 26th street court in Des Moines.

Activities of the Iowa
Civil Rights Commission

The Iowa Civil Rights Commission has recently been confronted with the problem of dealing with social unrest. The incidents at Ames and at the University of Northern Iowa clearly point out the need for more involvement and more powers for the Iowa Commission.

Much criticism has been directed at this Commission because we have been effectively involved. I, as director of this agency, am the first to acknowledge the many shortcomings and failures we experience.

Falling Short
But when we examine the law, we must admit its remedies are falling far short. The Iowa Civil Rights Commission had four Bills introduced in the last legislative session designed to give more enforcement powers to this organization. None of those Bills became law.

To those who would criticize our lack of accomplishment, we would ask your help in applying sufficient pressure to get the needed powers. We welcome criticism even though that criticism may be uncomplimentary. Many times the public assumes, that because we are a state agency, we are a large organization.

REMEMBER YOUR MOTHER

Remember your Mother
Every single day
Whether you're close
Or far away

You recall that night
With a fever, near death
And she was crying
By the side of your bed

Your temperature was 103
Your eyes were closed
You couldn't see

The doctor gave you
A 50-50 chance to live
And the only sound in the room
Was the sound of raindrops on the eaves.

She paced the floor
Or sat in the chair
On her face was written
Agony and despair.

The salty tears that
Streamed down her face
And the light was dim
In that little space

But now she has grown old
And quiet from despair
Her pace is slow, or Resting in a chair

She gazed through the window
Every single day
There is not letter
I guess, you're too far away

Yes, you have forgotten
Those sleepless nights
Yes, you have disappeared
Clear out of sight.

Yet, she'll go on striving
Broken and alone

Then you'll be looking for her
But she'll be gone.

Joe Louis Enters
Psych. Hospital

DENVER -- A Psychiatric hospital official spokesman said Friday night

former world's heavyweight boxing champion Joe Louis has been admitted on a "hold for treatment" order. The spokesman, Bob Perkin, said Louis was admitted to the Colorado Psychiatric Hospital at the University of Colorado Medical Center Friday.

"All we ever say is that a psychiatric patient is admitted," Perkin said. "Period. That's all."

PROBATE court liaison officer Mose Trujillo said he took the order to the Louis home.

"He asked immediately for time to call his attorney," Trujillo said. "He looked annoyed, but he didn't offer to resist. His attorney, Irving Andrews, arrived about 20 minutes later."

Trujillo said the former champion did not appear ill, or disturbed, and "looked in great shape."

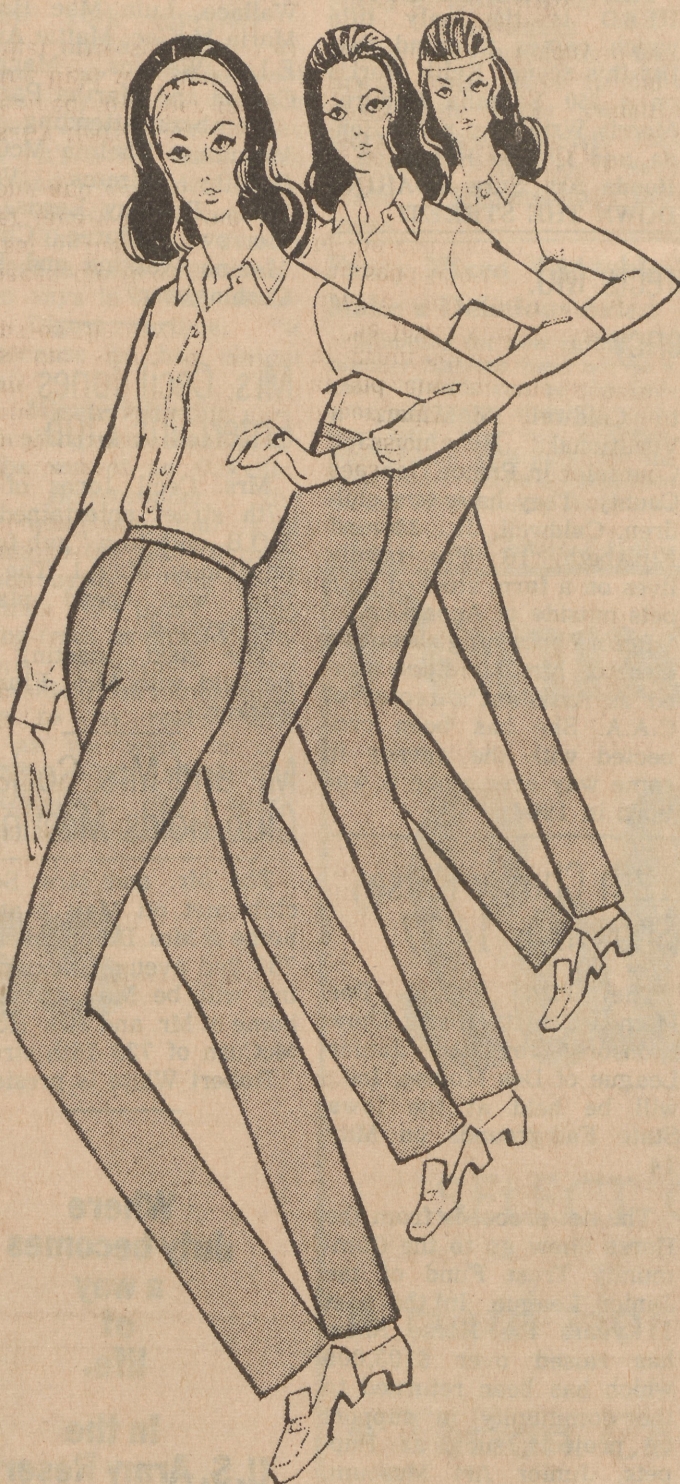

"I didn't crowd him," the officer said. Louis' attorney, Andrews was not immediately available for comment, nor was Louis' son, Joseph Louis Barrow Jr.
