Explosion Rips Police Station

1,000 National Guardsmen Bring Racial Violence Under Control Tuesday

Blows Hole in Wall, All Windows Out, Damage $300,000

An explosion of undetermined origin, rocked the Des Moines Police Station early Wednesday morning, ripping a two-foot square hole in the south wall of the building, blowing out all windows, and causing untold damage to police squad cars parked in the vicinity.

In addition, the main switchboard and communications were knocked out, closing down the entire building and offices. Miraculously, no one was injured, excepting a janitor, Willie Wells, 3016 Amerhest street, who was injured by flying glass where he was working on the third floor. He was treated at Des Moines hospital and released. About 30 prisoners were unhurt and transferred later Wednesday morning to Polk County Jail.

At press time Wednesday there were no indications to the identity of the suspects who may have planted the explosive, believed to be dynamite, in a parked car on the parking lot, south of the building.

Municipal Judge Luther T. Glanton, who was working in his office was reportedly knocked from his chair by the force of the 4:30 a.m. blast. The Bystander was unsuccessful in attempting to contact him.

Cuts Funds To Texas School

Washington, D.C. -- The first cutoff of federal funds to a segregated southern school district since last summer was announced Monday by Health Education and Welfare (HEW) Secretary Robert H. Finch.

Finch's decision involves the Hewitt Independent School District, a largely rural district in east Texas with about 1,000 students. The ruling takes effect June 11 unless the district complies with the 1964 Civil Rights Act within 30 days. Classes end May 27.

Sen. Hughes Will Headline Demo. State Convention

United States Senator Harold Hughes will be the keynote speaker at the 1970 Iowa State Democratic Convention this coming week-end at Veteran's Auditorium here, it was announced today by State Democratic Chairman Cliff Larson.

Hughes' address will follow the official call to order at 9:00 a.m. Saturday, Larson said. Convention business will follow the address, and just after the noon recess, U.S. Senator Thomas Eagleton of Missouri, will deliver a special address to 3,000 delegates, expected to attend.

Hughes, who was Governor of Iowa from 1962 until 1968, has attracted national attention recently as an anti-war spokesman.

Senator Hughes will also appear Friday at a Democratic barbecue party for the delegates and alternates at the Iowa State Fairgrounds. Larson announced. Democratic gubernatorial candidate Robert Fulton, William Gannon and Robert Nereim and candidates for state offices will also be present at the Fairgrounds.

Cedar Rapids, Ia. -- Mrs. Viola Gibson, outstanding Cedar Rapids citizen and one of the founders of the Cedar Rapids branch of the NAACP, was showered with honors Sunday, May 3 at a "This is Your Life" testimonial dinner and program at First Presbyterian church.

For this contribution and numerous others, she received praise from fellow citizens, former Cedar Rapidsians and (via tape) from Roy Wilkins, national NAACP director.

Park Named

As a lasting tribute to Mrs. Gibson and her contribution to the community, Mayor Donald Canney and the city council announced that the new park now being developed adjacent to Tyler school and Elizabeth Bender pool has been named "Viola A. Gibson park."

Speakers

Those contributing to the surprise program included Municipal Court Judges William Parker of Waterloo and Luther Glanton of Des Moines; Keith Moreland, Tyler school principal; Mrs. Emmett Collins, co-worker of Mrs. Gibson in NAACP and church activities; John Ely Jr., former chairman of the Cedar Rapids-Marion Council on Human Relations.

Addicts Not Getting Treatment at Reality House; Dispute Rages

Although it has been opened for a month, Reality House, 1127 13th street, has not accepted its first resident because of a dispute over the use of the synthetic drug-methadone.

"When they come here they always ask for methadone," said Mrs. Glennie Pope, a social worker at the center. But no drugs of any kind are being administered at the home as yet.

She said approximately 70 addicts already have come to the center seeking help. Ten were so ill when they arrived that they agreed to go to Broadlawn Polk County hospital for outpatient treatment.

"But none of them has come back for follow-up treatment," Mrs. Pope said. Methadone is sought by addicts because it prevents the painful physical withdrawal symptoms they experience with other methods of treatment.

NEWS In A Nutshell

New York City--Donald Simmons, a former U.S. Senate aide has organized a black-controlled company here whose unique purpose is ghetto economic development-at a profit. He heads the company called Plan Resources Corp.

Dallas, Tex.--Secretary of Commerce Maurice H. Stans has designated the local Negro Chamber of Commerce as the department's first Associate Office. It is the first in a new program--the Associate Office Program which initiates a drive by the Department of Commerce to provide a broader use of its services on the local level.

Kansas City, Mo.--James I. Threath, director of Model Cities, presented a check for $396,200 to Dr. John W. Williams as the first installment of a contribution toward the construction of the Martin Luther King, Jr., Memorial hospital. Dr. Williams is president of the Greater Kansas City Baptist and Community Hospital Associations.

New York--Deputy Inspector James Christy, 40, of St. Albans, Queens was sworn in last week as the highest black member of the New York City Transit Authority Police Department.

Chicago, Ill.--The number two man in the National Black Muslim structure--John Ali--has been ousted from the religion, the Daily Defender learned exclusively.

STORRS, Conn.--David L. Holmes, head of one of the State's largest community action agencies, has been appointed executive director of the University of Connecticut Council on Human Rights and Opportunities.

Minneapolis, Minn.--The Prudential Insurance company has promoted Bernard Glover, an agent, in the company's University district office, to staff manager.

She said methadone isn't administered by the outpatient department of Broadlawn, and an addict can obtain it by entering the hospital's psychiatric unit.

Brent Green, attorney for the Mid-Iowa Drug Abuse Council, which is supervising Reality House, said some legal snarls also are responsible for the delay in treating addicts at Reality House.

Green said he is working with both the city legal officials and those of the Harrison Treatment Center to make certain, both centers comply with federal and state laws when Reality House begins admitting clients.

Mrs. Pope's husband, the Rev. John Pope is director of Reality House. Also on the staff are five "therapists" who are either ex-users or have been close Augusta, Ga., -- The death of a teen-aged Negro prisoner triggered racial violence that left six blacks dead and more than 60 injured. In addition there was widespread property damage, looting, and sniper fire before the disturbance was brought under control by some 1,000 Georgia National Guard here Tuesday.

Rumor

The violence erupted after the death of a teenaged prisoner who police said was beaten by other Negro inmates. The rumor flared around the community that the prisoner had been beaten by police.

Gov. Lester Maddox, who ordered guardsmen and state troopers into the city, prepared to fly to Augusta for a personal check on conditions in the riot-torn area. Maddox said that additional troops were sent in "just to make sure the situation is under control."

About 16 million acres of private, taxpaying lands in 12 western states are producing continuous forest crops on certified tree farms, reports Western Wood Products Assn. The acreage is five times the land area of Connecticut.

The troopers and guardsmen sealed off a mainly Negro area covering about 130 square blocks on the fringe of the downtown business section. They set up barricades on major thoroughfares into the area and stopped autos to search for firearms, arresting anyone who possessed a weapon.

Authorities declined to speculate on whether the six persons killed, all Negro males, were hit by police or by sniper fire.

However, the state adjutant general, Maj. Gen. George J. Hearn, said that four of the deaths were attributable to Augusta police.

"We didn't do any shooting," Hearn said. "So far, we have not fired a shot."

Identify

The dead were identified as Sammy McCullough, 20, William Wright, 18, Charles MacMurphy, 39, John Stokes, 19, John Bennett, 28, and Mack Wilson, age unknown, all of Augusta.

Russell Davis Named V.P.-Sec'y. American Republic Corporation

Robert G. Harper, president of American Republic Management Corp., announced the recent election of Russell C. Davis as vice president and secretary of the company.

American Republic Management was in August, 1969, by American Republic Insurance Co.

as a subsidiary to establish and manage mutual fund companies. The formation activities are in the preliminary stages.

Davis joined the American

Republic family of companies as an attorney in August, 1969, after graduation from Drake University law school.

Prior to his enrollment in Drake, Davis was a pilot in the U.S. Air Force for six years, and he is still active as a pilot in the Iowa Air National Guard.

In addition to Harper and Davis, the other officers of American Republic Management Corp. are James L. Woods, vice president and treasurer, and Edwin F. Jackson, vice president and general counsel. All have similar positions in the parent company, American Republic Insurance or one of its subsidiaries.

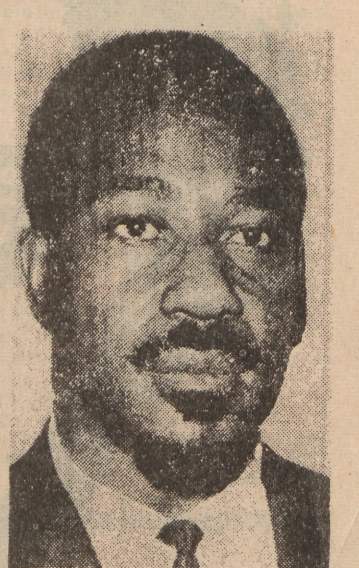

Suspend Alfred Brown, Director of GO

Alfred Brown, 38, director of Greater Opportunities, Inc., (GO), was relieved of all duties and responsibilities without pay at a meeting of the executive committee of the GO board of directors.

Brown has been in the $16,000 a-year job which supervises the local federal anti-poverty agency since Jan. 2. He said one reason for his dismissal was his association with the Black Caucus, a group of black organizations.

Frank Bailey, chairman of the committee, termed the suspension "temporary until whatever board action is taken." He acknowledged that committee cited Brown's association with that group and said it was "damaging to the image of GO. But this was only one reason."

Committee action will be presented to the full board at a meeting at 7:30 p.m. this evening (Thurs.) at Delaware Opportunity Center, 2666 N.E. Broadway.

Judge Parker Attends Meeting

Waterloo--Municipal Judge William Parker, juvenile court judge, was among representatives from seven states attending a May 7-8 meeting in which directors of state agencies administering federal delinquent funds, held in Kansas City, Mo.

States represented were Missouri, Kansas, Iowa, Nebraska, Minnesota and North and South Dakota.

African Public Relations Officer Observes Newspaper, Radio, TV

The public relations officer for the Ministry of Agriculture of Malawi, Africa, was in Des Moines recently to observe farming newspaper operations as part of a Midwestern tour of the news media.

Elija Glory "Simplex" Mkandawire, who arrived in the United States in January, has been touring the Midwest and observing the workings of radio, television and newspapers to watch various techniques of the news media's agricultural services to its people. After spending about three weeks in Washington, D. C. conferring with Department of Agricultural personnel, he traveled to the University of Missouri at Columbia to undergo further seminars in agricultural public relations work. He is a veteran newspaper and television man both in this country and in Malawi.

Mr. Mkandawire's travel in the Midwest took him to Moline, Ill., where he sat in on information operations at the John Deere Co.; the University of Wisconsin's International Agricultural programs at Madison, to Racine, Wis., to the Wisconsin Agricultural publication, and to Des Moines, where he observed the workings of the Farm Department at The Des Moines Register.

Mr. Mkandawire said The Register's farm section was "unique," for he knew a few, if any, newspapers in the Midwest that had a separate section for agricultural news.

Basic problems in farming in the United States and in Malawi are identical, he said. The difference, he adds, comes in the techniques. "The newspaper can only supplement the farmer's stock of information," says Mkandawire. "It can act only as an informant."

The country of Malawi is located in southeastern Africa. Its chief agricultural production is in tea and tobacco.

Mr. Mkandawire returns to his country in June.

Editor's Note: Mkandawire was robbed of $230 at gun point Monday night about 8:15 p.m. He canceled the remainder of his tour and flew to Washington, D. C. Tuesday morning. He had been scheduled to leave for Omaha, Nebr.

Firm Leases Office Space to Gov. Branch

WASHINGTON, D.C.—Atlanta City Councilman Q.V. Williamson today hailed the formal commitment made by the General Services Administration to Citizens Trust Company, a wholly Black-owned Atlanta firm, to lease 30,350 square feet of office space.

Williamson said that the five-year lease with option to renew for an additional five years now being formalized with GSA Administrator Robert Kunzig, is "the most significant action, from the standpoint of business, that any Administration has ever taken to assist growth and economic development in the Black community."

The space, located in a 12-story bank building, one of the most modern to be developed by Blacks in this country, will be occupied by the Southeast Regional Training Center of the Internal Revenue Service. Previously, GSA had leased 12,000 feet of space in the building, owned by the Citizens Building Corporation, a subsidiary of Citizens Trust Company. The Equal Employment Opportunity Commission has been assigned 9,000 square feet of this space; the remaining 3,000 square feet are occupied by units of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, the Civil Rights Commission and the National Park Service.

Two Leave For Methodist Confab

Mrs. Bruce Cropp and Mrs. Edward Bayles joined other delegates of the United Methodist Churches of Iowa when they left on a chartered bus tour May 5 for Houston, Tex., to attend the Women's Assembly Meeting.

They spent Tuesday night in Wichita, Kans., Wednesday night in Dallas, Tex., and arrived May 7, for the opening sessions.

Protests Denial of Visa To Widow of Dr. DuBois

NEW YORK. -- Roy Wilkins, executive director of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, has strongly protested the Justice Department's barring of Mrs. W.E.B. Du Bois from entry into this country. The protest was in the form of a telegram directed to U.S. Attorney General John N. Mitchell.

Inconceivable
"We find it inconceivable," Wilkins said, "that the presence in this country of Mrs. Shirley Graham Du Bois, widow of the late W.E.B. Du Bois, can be regarded by sane men as a menace to the national security."

The civil rights leader termed the Justice Department action a "monstrous error" which "can still be rectified," and called upon Attorney General Mitchell

"to reverse the ruling which has resulted in denying her a visa."

Associations
According to John V. Wilson, a Justice Department spokesman, Mrs. Du Bois, 71, was ruled ineligible for a visa because of her association with "numerous subversive organizations." He did not name those organizations.

The former Shirley Graham married Dr. Du Bois in 1951 and later moved with him to Ghana. Dr. Du Bois died there in 1963 at the age of 95.

Mrs. Du Bois had applied for a visa in order to fill a speaking engagement at Fisk University. In her own right, she is a biographer of famous Negroes, a composer and music teacher. She was a USO director in Arizona during World War II.

and University, said they had treated more than 63 persons for various wounds including gunshots, cuts and bruises.

Dixie Glag
Officers said the number of arrests could easily go into the hundreds. "We've got 'em stacked up all over the place," a jailer said.

The violence broke out Monday after a peaceful march through the downtown section ended at the Augusta Municipal Building and a small group ripped down a Georgia flag there and burned it.

Reality House has 10 beds, and the over all plan is to provide an addict requesting help with in-house medical treatment for about seven days, then follow up with group therapy, psychological and social services on an outpatient basis, Mrs. Pope said.

First year operation of the two centers will be about $120,000 with $80,000 coming from the federal Office of Economic Opportunity.

The Mid-Iowa Drug Abuse Council is also supervising a center for softdrug users, called Together House and located at 1148 22nd street.

six, also was honored by her children and her grandchildren.

Wilkins Tribute
In the recorded message, NAACP Director Wilkins said Mrs. Gibson's "almost singlehanded" organization of the Cedar Rapids branch of the NAACP was bound to attract ... all of those who love our race and love our country."

Wilkins said Mrs. Gibson's long service to the NAACP, especially as treasurer of the Iowa conference of branches, makes ample testimony to her interest in her fellow man.

Born in Bethel Springs, Tenn., the daughter of a sharecropper and granddaughter of a slave, Mrs. Gibson has lived in Cedar Rapids since she was 9 years old.

She is an ordained minister in the Christ Sanctified Holy church and is active in Sunday school and missionary society work.

Nurse, Instructor
She is a practical nurse and a Red Cross home nursing instructor. A member of the Chamber of Commerce, she has been a member of the Cedar Rapids-Marion Council on Human Relations since it was founded in 1961.

She helped introduce the Negro history course at Tyler school and instituted the first known adult study project on Negro history in Iowa.

Mrs. Gibson is a member of the United Church Women and one of the founders of the religious book study club.

NCCJ Award
Salutes to Mrs. Gibson at Sunday's testimonial included an award from the National Conference of Christians and Jews, and a lifetime membership to the NAACP.

Your professional beautician knows the answer...

Why does some hair break off when combing?

Your hair is precious and delicate... and none of us like to see it break off for any reason. Scientists tell us that excessive use of hot combs and over-processing of hair with chemicals often are major causes of brittleness resulting in hair breakage. But hair that is naturally curly and tangles easily frequently breaks off in everyday combing. Notice how irritated your scalp becomes when you comb in contrast to the way your beautician does? Your professional beautician knows that curly hair mats and tangles so easily that it should be softened before combing. Otherwise, unnecessary irritation to the scalp and damage to the shaft and ends of the hair occurs. To achieve this needed softening and a temporary relaxing effect that prevents breakage on all human hair (including wigs), most beauticians rely on Clairol® Hair-So-New® spray-on creme rinse. For combing ease and for beautifying your hair in many other ways, trained beauticians stock a complete family of fine Clairol products for your specific needs.

Visit your expert hairdresser, who cares about your hair care and your comfort. Whatever the nature of your hair problems, only your professional beautician knows the answer for sure.

THE HELENA MARIE, THE THOMAS GREENE'S 21 FOOT RYNEL CABIN CRUISER was launched Sunday! It was properly christened, meaning with the traditional breaking of a beautiful bottle of champagne! Friends of Tommy and Helen scrambled happily in and out enjoying their minute bit of ownership for the moment! Actually, the Greens accompanied by the third member, the reknown Caesar Greene, had spent all day Saturday cruising. That first day afloat was strictly a private affair, you know! One likes their first day at the wheel—a chance to develop a bit of know-how! By Sunday each was in fine form! And they took turns about guiding the tan, beige and brown craft. (See Pix below).

NEVIN BRUCE, JR., YOUNGEST GUEST on the Helena Marie, and son of the Senior Bruces, Nevin and Harriet, is the youngest, too, of all the businessmen I know! Why? Check this out! His parents have taken him traveling somewhat extensively. A cruise, though thoroughly pleasing, was not new—BUT! A cruise on the Helena Marie, small, personal, with just friends, planted a small seed that reached its complete growth (I think) in just a couple of hours or so. I overheard the beginning of a chat between son and mother.

I distinctly heard "But money doesn't grow on trees," and the son's reply, as he eyed her dainty earrings and matching necklace, "But you have diamonds! What can you do with them! Just wear them!" "Your father gave them to me," mother, managed to breathe, and without hesitation, young Nevin pursued, "But a boat!...and masterfully stated his case.

DISGRACEFUL
TO LAWLESSNESS

Whoever, thought Iowa school officials would cower to a group of hoodlums, allow them to violate the law and practically dictate whether schools should go on - close it?

Whoever thought the day would come when a group of militants could halt the operation of a school of 20,000 students? Whoever thought the radicals would so bludgeon the minds of intelligent leaders that would make them follow a course of action contrary to the things they have taught over the years. And this is just what is happening on many campuses today.

Frankly, we have lost the principles of respect, decency, fairplay and responsibility to our neighbors, partly because we excuse lawlessness rather than enforce the law and fail to protect the rights of those who don't participate in the riots.

For years, we have boasted the greatest country on earth; that we have more, make more, are better educated. And succeeding generations have believed it.

Today, the militants say everything is wrong and a revolution is necessary to correct the evils that exist. Of course, they are not clear just what they want or how to get it.

This dilemma must stop. But it will not until school and civil officials make up their minds that students too must obey the law, are subject to the same restrictions as other citizens are, and respect the rights of others.

REUTHER, MORE THAN A LABOR LEADER

The untimely death of Walter Reuther removes from America not only a great and powerful labor leader but also one who exercised his prestige to advance the cause of civil rights.

For many years, Reuther was on the board of the NAACP, made possible some finances and took his place among those who fought openly and hard for the cause.

Then, too, when he began this activity, it was not as easy as today to support civil rights. Nor was it easy to interest men of his stature in the unpopular cause. What he did will live, we hope, in the hearts of those whose cause he worked for and that of the American people as a whole who have been benefitted by his contributions to the cause of human rights.

PROTESTORS ARE UNINFORMED

The opponents of President Nixon's conduct of the war, with particular reference to the campaign in Cambodia, find it easy to make charges heard because most people want the war stopped.

These same people never tell the public that tactical decisions of the war are made by the commanding generals. Apparently, they are the ones to know that a move is advantageous and will produce results.

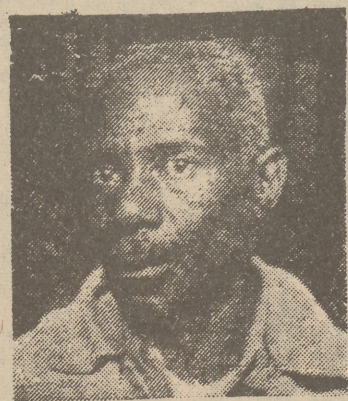

D Day was a big gamble in World War II and a lot of men and material were destroyed. But General Eisenhower and his associates decided that the gamble was worth the effort and it paid off.

There is no point in continuing to argue the justice or injustice of the war for we are in it and must find a means of getting out. These same people say stop the war but have no practical solution different from what is being done now.

Secretary Bird

The secretary bird received its name from the long plumes which project from the back of its head as quill pens once did from behind the ear of a secretary. The bird is best known for its snake-killing abilities.

SPORTS

With Allen Ashby

If the University of Iowa campus isn't blown up by Saturday, or if our way there isn't lined with demonstrators who want to stop our car, we shall make our annual trip to Iowa City to try to guess what kind of a team the Hawkeyes will have come next fall. We haven't guessed too well yet, but this may be our year.

We recall one year when we argued that it would take more than one touchdown to beat them and then on their very first game the guys lost 7 to 0. But the Hawks could have a good year if they can find a quarterback. They have almost an all veteran ball club; And got some help from some fellows who weren't there last year. So we don't know just yet, but circumstances being favorable, we shall see what can be seen.

Iowa State

We watched Iowa State last weekend. The kindest thing that could be said about that game is that the Cyclones haven't yet found their quarterback. They are sure it won't be Obert Tisdale. We still think that the fellows ought to be given a trial at the spot if he wants it. Maybe, he doesn't want it. Some writer said that the spring game helped to sell season tickets. If that is so, there won't be very many season tickets sold at Iowa State. With all this fuss on college campuses now, the recent differences of opinion between the head coach and the athletic director seems like nothing.

Major League Baseball

And so comes the balloting for the major league all star baseball game. This year the fans will choose the starting lineups for the first time in a number of years. In fact, since the Cincinnati fans stuffed the ballot box and had the starting lineup of the Reds as the all-star lineup. But then we recall when there were printed post cards with the names of all black players who were then in the majors circulated around, and all you had to do was sign one of them and someone would see that it got into a mailbox. The fellows, started, too.

Frank Robinson

We are interested in Frank Robinson's campaign to become a major league manager. The fellow has done all he can to prepare himself, and has proven that he can manage by doing it in the winter league. He argues that some of the other managers never had to prove themselves.

Ah, Frank, but they were not black. That was the meat of the big hassle between Jackie Robinson and Bob Feller. Robinson thought some blacks should be given positions in baseball after their playing days were over. Not because they are black, but because they could cut the mustard.

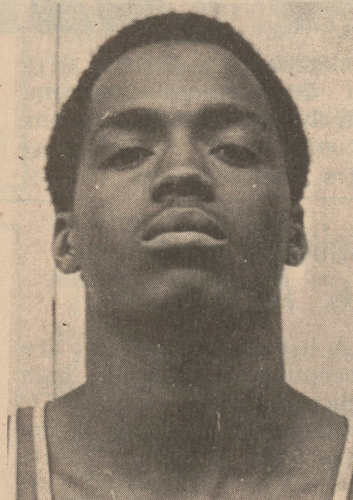

Feller seems to think there are no black men with the ability to become front office men. He says that some day there will come one who does have that ability. Now, most of the fellows in baseball's front offices and jobs as managers are fellows who got their experience on the playing field. That is exactly where the present crop of black players is getting their experience. So what does it take for a player to move up in the ranks?

Football has several blacks as coaches. Baseball doesn't have too many coaches. Of course, they are already dusting off spots for guys like Ernie Banks and Willie Mays when they are through. But, what about the other fellows, some of whom have some college in their education?

Activities of the Iowa
Civil Rights Commission

The Iowa Civil Rights Commission cannot help but reflect upon the many areas of disturbance on the campuses of Iowa Universities and colleges.

We urge and emphasize the need for reason, communication and understanding. Underlying all of the disturbances is, of course, the emphasis by our young people on needed changes. Since we live in a world of constant change we cannot successfully object to change. We do, however, hope and seek to achieve changes that offer an improvement.

Demonstrations appear to be becoming more and more a part of the American scene. The right to protest injustice is without question. We support a peaceful protest designed to bring about change in an orderly way. The most important question is whether or not the change brought about is a worsening of conditions or an improvement. Violent protest often brings about violent change and even greater injustice and repression.

We cannot sanction violence, nevertheless the right of citizens to make their dissatisfaction known and to press peaceably for a redress of grievances is inalienable.

Nonviolent protest, as practiced by Ghandi and Martin Luther King, is a demonstrated technique used to manifest a philosophy of true care and concern for human dignity and justice. While violent means were at times used to attempt suppression of the nonviolent approach, they failed and only strengthened the gains of the peaceful ones. Since violence merely breeds violence and in actuality plays into the enemies hands resulting in more inhumanity it is a technique doomed to failure. We have seen the positive effects of nonviolent protest, how it has changed things to better the human condition, and we urge the adoption of this approach.

It is indeed unfortunate that more planning is not undertaken by colleges and universities to help students, deal with their frustrations, and feelings of oppression.

We who are older feel we have never had it so good. We have experienced the bad of our time: the depression, wars, fifty cents and $1.00 per hour wages, poor working and living conditions, and we have overcome them. Yet the students, we must admit, are of another time when what is good to us is bad to them. We do not offer enough answers to the questions they ask.

Administrators of colleges and universities should join with Government administrators and human resources groups to invite students to participate in planning methods of helping students deal with the problems with which they are constantly confronted.

The philosophy we have suggested by this article is a good one. If only the theory can be made to work in practice.

Their next competition will be in the Regionals Contest in Des Moines on June 7. If club members place in this match, they will then be qualified to compete in the National Judo Championships to be held later in the summer.

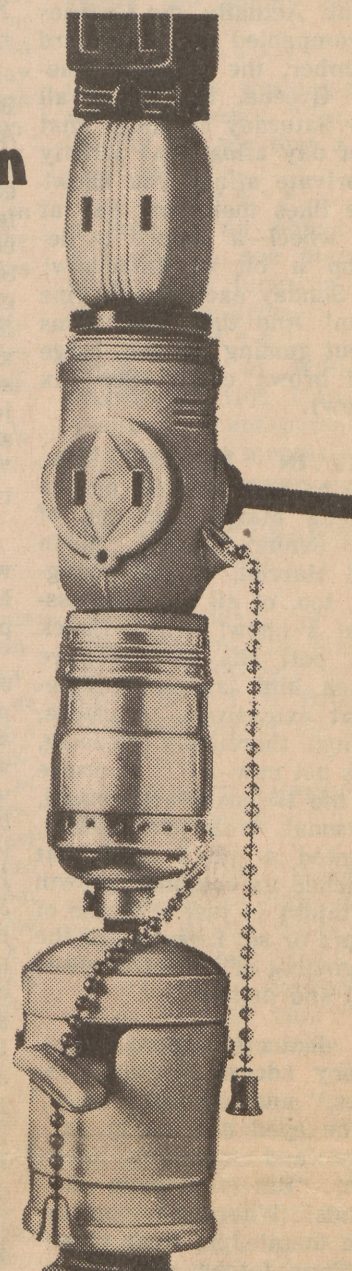

leave the campus where some 26,000 students attend. Many of the students who at first elected to remain and attend classes were being heckled by those opposing their decision.

There was no violence on the campus over the weekend, and a scheduled meeting Saturday fizzled out after Governor's Day ROTC ceremonies target of student protests were canceled. About 400 guardsmen remained at the Johnson County Fairgrounds where they have been since they arrived last Friday.

Why is it that ladies are usually so impressed with other people, other clothes and other husbands?

Not pretty. Not efficient. Inadequate wiring can put you back in the "dark ages." Better see if you're wired for Full Housepower, now. Call your electrical contractor . . . before he sees your smoke signals.

When you get right down to it, money is the great equalizer. And what makes the difference in earning power is education. At R. J. Reynolds, we see education as one of the solutions to the problems of Black Americans. Trouble is, most Black families can't afford to send their children to college. And we look on that as a waste of this country's most valuable resource.

That's why we made a grant of $390,000 to Winston-Salem State University. The R. J. Reynolds grant provides scholarships for Black students each year. It also supplies funds to attract highly qualified faculty members to Winston-Salem State University and broaden the school's curriculum. During the past decade, R. J. Reynolds has also supported The United Negro College Fund with grants of more than one quarter of a million dollars.

These educational grants are just an example of what the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company is doing to aid in the struggle for equal opportunities for all Americans. But we think it's an especially important one. Because the next generation of Black people, armed with a college education, will have the "green power" that only education can give. People have helped R. J. Reynolds by buying My-T-Fine Desserts, Chun King Oriental Foods, Vermont Maid Syrups, College Inn Chicken and Tomato Products, Davis Baking Powder, Winston, Salem, Camel and Doral cigarettes and our many other fine products. We're just returning the favor.
