Damages in Millions As Negroes Battle With Law Officers

Ashbury Park, N.J.—For the third consecutive night violence broke out Tuesday in this Negro area leaving 14 persons hospitalized with gunshot wounds, one in critical condition, after police fired shotguns and Negro youths hurled firebombs in a battle.

In all 62 persons were hurt, including five state troopers. During the night newsmen heard more shotgun blasts but were unable to account for the firing.

Damage in the Negro area is estimated at $1 million with at least 10 buildings destroyed. On Monday night police sealed off a 21-block area as up to 1,000 young Negroes roamed the streets.

Police Chief Thomas S. Smith, a Negro, who grew up in this area, was at a loss to explain what triggered the outbreak.

"There are so many things that could have caused this," he said. "Kids are hollerin' that they can't get jobs and there's no recreation."

Tuesday night's battle began when a crowd of Negroes, estimated by state police at nearly 1,000 invaded the main downtown business district breaking windows in shuttered stores. There were reports also that molotov cocktails were hurled at the buildings.

State Police listed 125 arrests since 5 p.m. Monday, 15 of them during Tuesday's battle.

Organize National Black Silent Majority Committee in Capital

WASHINGTON — A group of leading blacks across the nation have banded together to create the National Black Silent Majority Committee.

The group has embarked on a membership drive aimed at proving that the vast majority of America's twenty-two million blacks are not represented by the violent black minority who advocate militant action against American institutions.

"We believe that black revolutionaries and militants, upon whom some segments of the news media seem to date, are not dedicated to progress for our people," said Clay J. Claiborne, one of the organizers and spokesman for the black national committee. Claiborne is serving as national director of the new group.

"Blacks don't want to burn America down," he said. "We want to build America — and, like all patriotic Americans, earn enough money to own part of this great nation."

The National Black Silent Majority Committee's executive committee consist of prominent blacks from twenty-two states.

Order Cut-off Funds to 3 Schools

The orders will take automatic effect in 30 days unless the districts submit acceptable desegregation plans in the interim.

Fred Hampton's Mother Sues For $3,755,000 Damages

CHICAGO—The mother of murdered Black Panther leader Fred Hampton has filed a $3,755,000 damage suit charging that police violated Hampton's civil rights when they shot him to death while allegedly searching for weapons.

The suit, filed June 30 in federal court, named as defendants the city of Chicago, State's Attorney Edward Hanrahan, Assistant State's Attorney Richard Jalovec and 14 policemen involved in the predawn raid.

Hampton and another Panther, Mark Clark, were shot to death when police entered a West Side apartment Dec. 4, allegedly to serve a warrant to search for illegal weapons.

New Leader Of Auto Workers

CINCINNATI — The vacancy on the Board of Directors of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People created by the death of Walter Reuther has been filled by the naming of Leonard Woodcock who succeeded Mr. Reuther also as president of the United Auto Workers of America. Mr. Woodcock was named at the quarterly meeting of the Board here July 2, during the 61st annual NAACP convention.

Add-a-Room Leads

Adding a room is the biggest type of home improvement in America, in dollar volume, avers one research bureau. Upwards of 1,250,000 homeowners invest over $2000 each in add-on space in a year's time.

In 1968, the Iowa Civil Rights Commission first turned its attention to Fort Dodge in response to complaints of discrimination in the Public Schools.

In 1969, a concerted effort was made by the Iowa Civil Rights Commission to identify areas of discrimination and focus attention upon any problem areas.

The major area of problems came to light with the filing of four charges of discrimination in the area of housing. It should be noted at this time that the majority of minority persons live in a general area along the river in Fort Dodge. This is an area of low income and generally encompassed a large portion of the City covered by an Urban Renewal Project. This area is separated generally by the railroad tracks from the rest of the city.

Housing available to minority persons outside the ghetto area in Fort Dodge seems to be non-existent within the limitations of their income.

At the beginning of our investigation, we found a lack of communication between the Urban Renewal planners and those in the affected areas. There was no community group consisting of minorities from the affected area participating in the overall planning at this writing, we have no such group. The Advisory Committee consists entirely of business and clergy representatives, with only one minority representative.

The City's Report in its request for housing points up the discrepancy in housing available. In that it shows a wide range of houses available for sale to whites and a limited number to blacks. 119-14. This report also shows that 69 places available for rent to whites and only 43 available to blacks.

We have established through our investigation and visits with city officials that the City employs only one full time minority. This is a meter maid. The City has no recruitment program to get minorities.

The City uses criminal records to deny employment even though the criminal record reflects only misdemeanors. A pardon also wipes out a criminal record and this is not considered.

EMPLOYMENT

We find that the City has no minorities in its police or fire department except as we have previously indicated one meter maid.

A statement attributed to one fireman was that a minority person would create a housing problem in the fire department because he would have to live with white firemen; therefore, he said no blacks would be acceptable on the fire department.

We not no active recruitment program by the city or affirmative action program to enable the city to fully utilize its available resources in employment.

Disturbance on Univ Triggers Debate Over Aid

BY STAFF WRITER

What to do or what NOT to do about the disturbances along 13th and University—that is the question plaguing both law enforcement officers, residents in the area and both state and local human rights officials.

Last Thursday, July 2 the Iowa Civil Rights Commission, after hearing a report from its executive director, Alvin Hayes, that police were holding a gun on residents while questioning them late at night, in the inner-city area, passed a resolution condemning the recent dynamite bombings but also criticized the Des Moines police on its manner of the street interrogations.

The next day, Mayor Thomas Urban reacting to the complaint asserted that police will be "tougher" when necessary, in dealing with incidents in the troubled inner-city.

The mayor explained that occasional sniping at police and continued bombing incidents have resulted in police being more "willing" to step up patrolling and if necessary, use more force and make more arrests.

"Death" of Phila. Plan Laid to Nixon Admin.

CINCINNATI — The Philadelphia Plan, "potentially the most effective means" of enforcing compliance with the non-discrimination requirements of U.S. laws and executive orders, is being "destroyed" by the Nixon Administration. Herbert Hill, Labor Director of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, charged in an address before a plenary session of the 61st Annual NAACP Convention here, June 30.

Enforcement

Strong enforcement of this plan, Hill said, "would have placed thousands of black workers on Federal construction projects throughout the country and broken the 'ily-white' union monopoly in the building trades. In what is clearly a reversal of policy, the administration has now abandoned any pretense of enforcing the Federal guidelines of implement Executive Order 11246 which prohibits discriminatory employment practices by government contractors. This is a concrete example of the policy of 'benign neglect' which, in practice, means that the U.S. Government subsidizes racial discrimination in employment."

Nullifying

Hill further charged that "abandonment of the Philadelphia Plan is a pay-off to the building trades unions for their support of the war in Indochina." Having failed to kill the plan legislatively the building trades unions have succeeded in nullifying it administratively even though the plan has been sustained by the Congress and the Federal courts, the NAACP Labor Director said.

Proposes Plan for Univ Education Based on Urban Grants

CINCINNATI. — A proposal which would revolutionize higher education in the United States was adopted by the Board of Directors of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People at its quarterly meeting held here during the 61st Annual NAACP Convention which closed July 4.

The two-part plan calls for radical changes in existing institutions and proposes establishment of 500 new colleges before the end of the twentieth century to meet the needs of the expanding population. The plan was developed by a special eight-person committee of the Board with Dr. Buell G. Gallagher, former president of the College of the City of New York, as chairman. The Committee consisted of two other educators, two laymen and three youth.

Charting a bold new course for colleges of the future the plan proposed the establishment of "a series of 'Urban Grant Universities'" serving the poor of the inner cities much in the same fashion as the existing Land Grant Universities originally served the rural poor. "The plight of the cities and especially of the dwellers in the inner city today makes it imperative that" such institutions "be speedily established and nurtured," the NAACP asserts.

Open Admission

The plan calls upon all existing institutions of higher learning to provide equal opportunity through open admission policies accompanied by "necessary compensatory and supporting services" within the framework of "a greater diversity of types of higher education and of course of professional and cultural studies."

Integration

Integrated dormitories and living and eating facilities, without exception, are demanded in the proposal "together with integrated curricula and courses of study, implemented by active recruitment of students from the inner city; and made effective by concerted and continuing attention to the special needs of each student."

The plan noted that "the time has come to make the push for integrated student bodies and faculties at the campuses of so-called predominantly Negro colleges and universities, while not relenting the pressure for integration of the so-called predominantly white institutions."

Airline Pilot Leslie Morris Cites Need for Checkup

by John Henry Jones Whether it's the Big DC-8 jet he flies, his scuba diving equipment, or his health, Eastern Airlines co-pilot Leslie Morris says a regular "operational" checkup is important.

Morris, wiry 33-year-old, was in "The Winners," a film produced by the American Cancer Society urging annual health checkups.

Potential Danger

"A checkup can discover a potential danger spot before you're cruising at 30,000 feet," said Morris. "My life is really in the hands of the mechanics and the passengers' lives depend on the pilots being in top shape." A non-smoker, Morris has three physical examinations yearly — two by the Federal Aviation Administration and one by Eastern's physicians.

An air traffic controller for six years before his pilot days, Morris said, "Believe me I know how crucial to air safety being in top shape can be. If a man's nerves are tingling and his reflexes are dulled by stress and lack of rest or some illness he's not aware of, he can slip up. After all, the human body is a more delicate and sophisticated machine than a jet airplane."

30 Black Pilots

One of the nation's 25 or 30 black commercial pilots (of a total of about 25,000), First Officer Morris finished aeronautical engineering at Pratt Institute under the Air Force Aviation Cadet Program. He then served as a pilot in the New York State Air National Guard, before his controller's stint from 1959 to 1965, the year he went with Eastern.

Winners in the June 27 Olympics for Cub Scouts held at Union Park were Doug Wike, Pack 79, pitching; James Nuzum, Pack 187, obstacle course; Dennis Breitbach, 30-yard-dash and broad jump; Pack 79; LeRoy Owens, Jr., Pack 297, high jump; Paul McCollum, Pack 32, discus; John Moore, Pack 297, 50-yard-dash; and Mike Barden, Pack 32, sack race.

The Olympics was held for boys ages 8-10 years old, who attended Sabin, Moulton, Cassidy, Bird, Grant, Lucas, Nash, Dunlap, Grant, Kirkwood, Scott and St. John schools. Mrs. Clara Guisinger was Olympics chairman and Manfred Kiess, cub scout chairman.

Storage Goes Into Carport

When building or buying a home, a couple checks out the indoor storage spaces with much care. But many people overlook the need for outdoor storage for garden and sports equipment.

One place that's almost always handy is the carport. If it isn't big enough for built-in storage, try a built-out. It's convenient and it also provides an insulating wall.

A three-foot wide addition, the length of one wall, will house mowers, skis, bikes, even fireplace wood.

There are many good reasons today's modern family enjoys the benefits of an automatic dishwasher. If you're not convinced yet, you might be interested in a few facts:

1. Automatic dishwashers save about an hour a day of Mom's time.
2. They get dishes cleaner. Dishwashers use water around 160 degrees—hotter than your hands could stand. They use extra-strong detergents, too.
3. Save on hot water by storing dishes in them after one meal and combining with another meal's dishes.
4. Cuts down on dish breakage.
5. Eliminates the dish towel. Dishwashers use sanitized hot air—helps stop the spread of germs.

Files Appeals Suit for Release Of Black Panther, Bobby Seale

Chicago, Ill. — Attorneys for the NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund, Inc. (LDF), have filed a brief in the United States Court of Appeals for the Seventh Circuit on behalf of Black Panther Chairman Bobby Seale, who is fighting a four-year prison sentence imposed by Federal Judge Julius Hoffman in Chicago for contempt of court during the trial of the Chicago Eight.

The brief contends that Seale's conviction must be reversed and the charges dismissed for the following reasons:

First - he was wrongfully denied the fundamental right to present a defense to the "criminal conspiracy" charges either by "counsel of his choice" — Charles R. Garry — or by representing himself.

Second - the court convicted him of contempt and sentenced him to an unprecedented four-year term without providing him essential due process safeguards including:

- the right to jury trial
- the right to an impartial judge
- the right to a fair hearing on the issues of guilt and penalty.

Third - the brief contends that Seale's conduct, consist-

Brings Color To Stainless

Color, color everywhere—but not a drop on stainless steel. Until the 1970 National Housewares Show in Chicago, such was the lament of thousands of stainless steel devotees. Stainless steel cookware had not been touched by the color revolution.

The West Bend Company, however, has developed a process whereby porcelain is fused to a stainless steel surface. The development resulted in a cookware line unique to the industry and called Town House.

3-Ply Construction

Sleek and sophisticated, pans in the Town House line feature three-ply steel construction with an inner layer of carbon steel for even heat distribution.

Decorator colors are harvest gold and avocado green, accented by black raised handles of oven-safe phenolic. A unique feature is the subtly-arched lid which retains heat, promotes self-basting and allows a minimum of water for cooking.

One tool that should be in every home is a plumber's plunger — a bell-shaped rubber cup mounted on a wooden handle. In the case of a stopped-up sink drain, place the open plunger over the drain opening, with enough water to cover the edge of the plunger so it makes a seal all around. Work the plunger up and down. The alternate compression and suction of the plunger will generally dislodge any obstruction in the drain.

Race Prejudices in the North

To the Editor:

The white population of the North has a tendency occasionally to deplore the racial discrimination, drastic Negro restrictions and lynchings of the Southland. It is true that race prejudices are an inescapable tradition of that particular section of the United States.

It is also true that Mr. and Mrs. Average Northern White Citizen have an hereditary fear of Negro dominance and detest and discourage Negro progress fully as much as their Caucasian pro-ante bellum brothers and sisters of the deep South. The cotton-producing South despises the colored people as a group, but respects them as an individual. The industrial North's views are vice-versa. Race prejudice has existed in the North since colonial days at the time of the revising of the Articles of the American Confederation, May 23, 1787. Twelve of the thirteen states were advocates of African slavery.

Negro soldiers participated in practically every major battle of the American Revolution. Negro and mulatto regiments served with honor and distinction throughout the war of 1812. White reaction to their noble sacrifices was re-enslavement and degradation with their posterity ridiculed and treated as pariahs.

North Called Worse

While New England churches were segregating colored communicants, Catholicized Afro-Americans worshipped in New Orleans without such militant prejudice displayed. A Northern abolitionist stated in the early fifties that I find contempt more bitter, opposition more active, detrac-tion more relentless, apathy more frozen than among the slaveholders themselves.

Historians have dealt very harshly with the American reconstruction era. Why do they not likewise with the Jeffersonian upheaval of 1806 when the rule of the Tidewater gentry was overthrown by the rix-raff poor whites, shopkeepers, poverty stricken farmers and the offspring of indentured servants?

The middle of the 19th century found maudlin Yankee sentimentalists permitting persons of color to be attacked, persecuted, murdered and driven from their homes in the sovereign states of New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania and Illinois where statutes disfranchised all colored people. During the War of Secession approximately 200,000 Negroes bore arms in defense of the Union although the Northern generalissimo, Ulysses S. Grant was a slaveholding Illinoisian.

Situation Today

Today Northern black people are barred from industry, taxed without representation and denied the right of jury services in many instances, caricatured and burlesqued in the press and on the radio and forced to live in restricted residential districts.

The American caste system welcomes aliens, Nazis, communists, criminals and other members of the white race into establishments where we dare not tread. Such rank discrimination should indeed cause Herr Hitler to survey racial unharmoniousness in the United States with fiendish glee.—John W. Crayton, vice president, Ottumwa branch, National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, 511 Fillmore St., Ottumwa, Ia.

plained to this agency that blacks are not allowed to assemble in the town square in Fort Dodge. We have noted white youths assembled in this area unmolested by any law enforcement officers. At this writing, we have not verified this complaint.

We have found no pattern of discrimination in eating establishments tested to date, although we have tested approximately six establishments. However, we have noted one peculiarity in one eating establishment we have visited on several occasions. On every occasion that our black investigator has visited the restaurant regardless of the time of day, one or more police officers always arrives shortly thereafter and remains until he leaves.

SCHOOLS

We have met in a group with school principals who recognized and stated that they felt there were very definite problems in the schools. These problems were identified as social, economic, racial, disciplinary, and a lack of community awareness of the problems.

A fact that clearly points out a racial problem in the school system is a copy of a paper that was placed in the lockers of black students at Fort Dodge Senior High and stacks of this same item were publicly displayed in the school library and lunch room areas. It read as follows:

New Thrusts

Links launched new thrusts in subscribing to national needs in Education and Health. In view of the fact that the black private colleges have produced 95 percent of today's black leadership and are struggling for survival in the educational competitive market with state-supported colleges, Links made the pledge that the United Negro College Fund would now claim their serious attention as a national project. In addition, Links headed the call of the Sickle Cell Disease Research Foundation when it was revealed that the disease affected blacks largely and no subsidies had been forthcoming in financial aid to those so afflicted. Again, Links pledged that sickle cell diseases would claim their serious attention as the twin part of their national project.

What Is Going On In Model Cities

JITNEY BUS SERVICE

The City Council study committee agreed last Wednesday night, July 1, that the city's jitney bus ordinance should be updated so that mini-bus service in the Model City area can begin soon.

Larry Bramdon, a Model City resident, has a contract with the Model City agency to operate the jitney service. He plans to have four buses that will take elderly residents of the neighborhood anywhere in town free. Other non-elderly Model City residents could also use the bus for a fare.

TO ASK JOB PLANS

The City Council also was asked Monday to approve contracts with five agencies and businesses that will provide job training for 22 residents of the Des Moines Model City area.

Training and salaries for the 22 jobs would cost $102,149 according to Arthur Jackson, director of the Model City Occupational Upgrading project. Occupational Upgrading is designed to provide more jobs and better jobs for Model City residents.

Counselors

The most expensive contract would be for $74,146 with the College of Osteopathic Medicine and Surgery here, which would train 12 individuals to be counselors in drug misuse and alcohol abuse programs.

A minimum education through the tenth grade would be required of those who enter the training program. They would spend six months in classes at the college, followed by six months of practical experience in wards of hospitals or institutions throughout the state.

Jackson said some of the trainees would receive practical experience at the Harrison Treatment and Rehabilitation Center here, others at such places as hospital wards for alcoholics in other parts of the state.

Existing Jobs

The second contract would be to upgrade personnel in seven existing jobs with Greater Opportunities, Inc. (GO) at Gateways Opportunity Center.

Individuals now are employed as "outreach workers" will be given time off from their duties to take academic work in sociology and youth organization at Drake University and the Des Moines Area Community College that would qualify them for better jobs.

Soul Village

The third contract would be with Soul Village, a youth recreation center operated by the United Black Federation. The contract would permit a building supervisor to take academic work that would qualify him to become a program director.

The fourth contract would be with William Market, 1226 University Ave. A trainee would receive on-the-job training in grocery store operations that will permit him to advance to store manager and possibly become a partner in the business, Jackson said.

The fifth contract would be with McQueen's Pharmacy, 1400 Sixth Ave. It would permit a female trainee to begin as an over-the-counter clerk and receive training at a charm school so she can manage the cosmetics department.

TASK FORCE COMMITTEES

Board Chairman Herman Lewis assigned board members to "task force committees" who will be responsible for preliminary planning in the various areas.

Committees and the chairman of each are:

Income Maintenance and Social Services — Ralph Guisinger; Publicity — Mary Moore; Health — Thelma Clark; Housing — David Pickett; Relocation — Mel Boyd; Physical Environment and Urban Design — Floyd Loggins; Education — Sister Darlyne; Crime and Delinquency — G. Lawrance Davies; Employment and Economic Development — Rodney Ryan; Recreation — Jacqueline Taylor; Personnel — Jacqueline Taylor; Evaluation — Joseph Miller.

Mrs. Rhem Pleads Innocent In Explosive Charge; Free on Bond

Mrs. Mary Ann Rhem, one of four persons apprehended May 14 when police found 40 blasting caps in their car, has pleaded innocent in Polk County District Court to a grand jury indictment charging her with illegal possession of explosive devices. She is free on $2,000 bond.

Mrs. Rhem, 21, of 1441 Center street; Michael Benjamin Smith, 15, of 1316 10th street; Archie Simmons, 18, of 1240 12th street and David Kelly Colton, 19, of 1412 Maple street, were taken into custody after police stopped the car in which they were riding for a routine check and found the blasting caps.

Colton has been indicted on charges of illegal possession of explosive devices and receiving and concealing stolen property. He is free on $2,000 bond pending arraignment.

Simmons who is being held in the Polk County Jail in lieu of $7,000 bond, pleaded innocent when arraigned earlier last week on indictments also charging him with possession of explosive devices and receiving and concealing stolen property. The latter charge was filed after dynamite was found at his home after his arrest in connection with the blasting caps.

Smith was transferred last week from Juvenile Court by Judge Don L. Tidrick for prosecution as an adult in District Court. He was released to his mother while grand jury action is pending.

Louis Armstrong Honored on 70th Birthday

Louis Armstrong, noted jazz trumpeter, was paid a tribute on his 70th birthday at the All-Star Jazz Festival last week in London, England. Two trumpeters from the Royal Philharmonic Orchestra played a piece written for the occasion by British composer-conductor Malcolm Arnold.

The gravel-voiced Armstrong also was feted on his 70th birthday in Los Angeles, Calif., over the weekend.

The 1960s produced six percent fewer housing starts than the '50s, figures from HUD indicate. The count for the '60s: 9.1 million single-family houses, 5.1 million apartments.

Bandit Robs Acme Cleaners

A man armed with a knife took $110 in bills from Acme Cleaners, 1219 Forest Avenue about 4 p.m. last Friday.

Police said Joan Williams, 1515 13th street, an employee, was counting the day's receipts when a man walked in. He threatened her with the knife and demanded money from the cash register, she told police.

After getting the money the man pointed toward a cash register hidden by a partition and demanded money from it. When he discovered it contained coins he said, "No, that's it," and fled from the store.

Southeast Bottoms Ask $4.4 Million Renewal Aid

The Southeast Area Planning Council, Inc., made up of 22 residents and owners of businesses and industries in the Southeast Bottoms has asked the City Council to approve an application for a $4.4-million federal urban renewal grant to finance the first phase of a nine-year, $50-million program.

Preliminary survey work was done by the planning council under a $16,000 grant from the city.

Year's Planning

The proposed new program has been named "Bottoms-Up."

The first phase calls for a $331,147 grant to plan redevelopment of the entire area, which is bounded by the Des Moines River on the south and west, S.E. 30th Street on the east, and Elm Street and the Rock Island Railroad tracks on the north.

The planning phase would last a year, and redevelopment of the area, under the plan, would be spread over nine years.

Sites Considered

Charles Hanson, paid director of the planning council, said the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development will be asked to select either a small area in the Roadside, or west, portion of the "bottoms" area, or in the Chesterfield, or east, portion, for the first actual urban renewal work.

Disturbance

head here Monday night when Councilman Jack Woods (Fourth Ward) and Robert Scott (Second Ward) presented a list of seven proposals for the council to consider at its July 20 meeting.

The proposals call for mandatory 30-day jail terms for convicted rioters, use of siren to warn people to stay out of the area when there is a disturbance, dispersing people with billy clubs and guns, shooting looters, withholding funds from the Model City program and supporting field interrogation by police.

Police Chief Wendell Nichols said catching the persons who are causing the disturbances is the major problem confronting police.

Onlookers

"Everybody thinks that in a riot people are running down the street destroying everything," Nichols said. "But what we have is a lot of people standing around and few persons who throw rocks."

"But the person who throws the rock ducks down and when we look he looks just like everybody else," the chief said. "The people around say they are afraid to tell us who committed the act."

Allen Correll, director of the Human Rights Commission, said Tuesday, that repressive measures could lead to more, not less, violence in this area.

No Solution

Correll said the Rights Commission has been "telling the militants that violence will not solve social problems - that there has to be a better way."

"Now the people in power are saying we have to use violence to solve social problems," he said. "It indicates to me that the system (of government) seems to have given up on itself."

"Innocent" Hurt

Correll said he was particularly concerned with the proposal to shoot looters, saying, "If a little girl is running off with a lamp, I can't see shooting her. That girl's life is more important than a lamp."

"When you have repressive and violent measures used, it is the innocent people that are hurt, not the troublemakers."

SOCIAL SECURITY

QUESTION: When I started on my new job last month my employer wanted to see my social security card. I found it was still in my maiden name. What should I do?

ANSWER: Visit your social security office and complete a request for change on your social security records. Mail or bring your social security card. You will be issued a corrected card showing your present name, and you will retain the same number.

QUESTION: I will not finish my college work until I'm 23. Can an exception be made to permit me to receive student benefits until then?

ANSWER: Sorry, but no exceptions can be made to the age 22 cutoff for student benefits. Your benefits are intended to replace some of the support you lost because of your parent's death, retirement, or disability. The benefits are intended to be paid as long as it is reasonable to assume that you would be supported by your family. The law sets age 22 as the upper limit. However, there are a number of other public programs and some private ones that offer financial assistance to college students. You may want to write to the Office of Education, U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare, 400 Maryland Avenue S.W., Washington D.C. 20202, about this.

QUESTION: I work part-time and during school vacations as a waiter. Do my tips count for social security?

ANSWER: Yes, if they amount to $20 or more in a month from one employer. If your tips on a job amount to $20 or more in a month, you must give your employer a written report of your tips within 10 days after the end of that month. Your employer will collect the contributions due on your tips from other wages he owes you or from funds you turn over to him for that purpose. Your employer will report the amount of your tips along with your other wages in his social security wage reports and on your W-2 form, but he does not have to match your contributions on the tips. If you do not report the tips to your employer, you must report them and pay the social security contributions directly to the Internal Revenue Service.

Set Hearing on Reverse Bias

Newark, N.J. — The State Division on Civil Rights held a public hearing last Friday to air unusual charges that the owner of an apartment house in Jersey City only rented to Negroes and refused to rent to a white woman.

Mrs. Rose, a housewife who lives with her husband and child at another apartment house in Jersey City, said she was looking for a bigger apartment house.

Loss in Forest Outdoos Usage

Up to 15 billion board feet of timber is lost annually to over-maturity, insects, disease and fire in the United States—more than enough for all housing currently being built, estimates Knox Marshall, forestry vice president of Western Wood Products Assn., Portland, Or.

Two-thirds of this huge loss of usable wood occurs in the West and most of it on federal forest lands, Marshall noted. Inaccessibility, a woeful lack of roads, is the key problem, he said.

LOOKING BACK CAN BE SUCH FUN! Linger by the doorway of the then Blue Triangle Branch YMCA where she made her home. Soon, as were our other young men, he, too, was away in service.

MARIE ROSS WAS ON HAND WHEELING in and out of the Blue Triangle Dormitory, as she made her way about town, an Iowa Bystander reporter.

IRV AND RUTH WHITE HAD JUST TWO LITTLE GIRLS then. Their glamorous television model, Jill, had not yet arrived. Irv, too, had entered the service and was stationed at Staten Island and at Camp Kilmer, New Jersey, about 40 minutes from NYC.

BACK TO MARIE! KNOWING THE COMMUNITY INTEREST in the boys in service, she began a column about them and encouraged people to write! Vernon wrote her a letter about a sick, lonesome and homesick young fellow from Barbados who didn't have anyone to write him. Not finding the cooperation she sought, Marie took on the writing herself! Her young friend remained hospitalized for some time and was so appreciative of his "sister" as he came to call Marie. She shared his infectious, sometimes mischievous notes with me. I came to ask "when have you heard from Casper?" He was a reliable pen pal so there was always word from Germany and from wherever he served!

CASPER WAS AN EXCITING PERSONALITY! Naturally so. Add to this fine trait the fact that he is a native of the British West Indies and as such had so much that is new to offer. Notes from his visits home would find us reading avidly, heads together and laughing so!

IRV WHITE IN THE MEANTIME REMAINED STATIONED in the New York area. When Casper left for Germany he designated his good friend, Sgt. Gurney M. Woodley to pick up the writing to his "sister," so she wouldn't get lonesome. Gurney was stationed at the Port of Embarkation, Staten Island. Around this time Gurney and Irv ran into each other and became fast friends. So many times Marie would hear of their experiences as servicemen.

CAME MAY 12, 1970, WHEN ABOUT 11 o'clock my phone rang and chuckling at the other end of the line was Marie Ross! Guess who's here, she demanded. After a stunned silence, I admitted I couldn't! "My brother," she laughingly informed me. In a thrilled but awed whisper, I begged, "Can I come down?" "Sure, and I'll pay half your fare," she responded. I was aboard the next express out of Des Moines. At Marie's two-story, rambling home, the three of us and still another precious friend, Louise Pope, made up a merry family of four. We spent the hours cutting grass, trimming hedges, cooking, dining out, all family activities. It was a real homecoming!

CASPER INNIS HAS PROMISED TO VISIT DES MOINES, making the Iowa Bystander Office his first stop! He is a very real personality there! Next he hopes to meet his wartime buddies. In 1971 Casper completes a career in civil service. Gurney Woodley is believed to still reside in Mount Vernon, New York and to be an employee of New York's Macy Store. Irv, a long-time postal employee and wide-acclaimed actor, is easily accounted for. Vernon, who started the whole chain of events, is now Station Superintendent of our Highland Park Post Office.

A LAST MINUTE NOTE: Frances E. Hawthorne, who has been news editor of the Bystander, resigned this week to enter the Teachers Corps program at Drake University to work on her masters degree. She promises to keep in touch with us.

What's keeping you from looking good? Dry, brittle, breaking hair?

It's something to get upset about. No girl likes to see her crowning glory breaking off. Scientists tell us that over-using hot combs and over-processing hair with chemicals are often the major causes of brittleness. But even curly "natural" hair tangles and frequently breaks...just in everyday combing.

Professional hairdressers, too, know curly hair tangles easily...so it must be softened before combing to avoid breaking. This way you'll avoid irritation to the scalp and damage to the hair and roots. Many hairdressers rely on spray-on Clairol Hair So New® the no-rinse cream rinse. It instantly softens and relaxes all human hair (even wigs) and prevents breakage during everyday combing. Your hair stays soft and tangle-free.

When you have questions about your hair, it's smart to go to a professional hairdresser...the one who's trained to use the whole family of fine Clairol products the way you need them...to keep your hair at its most beautiful.

So don't get upset. Get a lift from a quick visit to the expert...your hairdresser. And keep on looking good!

A REASSURING RALLY
ON JULY 4

There are a lot of people in our country who still believe in it, and that in spite of imperfections here and there it is the best country in the world.

This was the sentiment which prevailed in Washington D.C. on July 4 among those who have faith in America and in its interests.

Dr. Billy Graham delivered the principal address in which he told his audience to use the Bible as a guide to help cure most ills we suffer; that our government is making an effort to assure every American an equal chance to live, work, worship and enjoy the privileges and immunities which the Constitution guarantees.

We were impressed further with the program in that it was a welcome relief from those radicals who try to downgrade America.

It was a welcome relief from those so called smart people who charge every patriotic rally of American citizens as a movement against them. It was a welcome relief from the draft dodgers, flag destroyers, deserters and those who coddle them; those who believe in disorder rather than order, those who have no respect for anyone and thrive on their disrespect as evidence of being smart people.

But in spite of this disadvantage, America is going to solve its difficulties not by class distinction, but by the inclusion of all of its people in the movement of a better United States.

CONFUSION ADDS TO OUR CONFUSION

Confusion seems to be the object of a lot of people who claim they have the answer to all our ills. It seems a propitious time for some smart people, crackpots, agitators to spray their venom at every opportunity. They are those who find great fault with our country, but offer neither a program nor an answer with any rhyme or reason.

As a result of this confusion new organizations are springing up every day. Newspapers, some periodicals with objects of dubious value, and some with dubious methods of accomplishing their end are appearing. All of them seem concerned with legal rights, business profession, religion, and political advancement. None appear to teach people to live and carry responsibility as well as how to play.

Many of these organizations are formed to gather money either by solicitation of funds or fooling government that they are helping the poor by teaching them to dance and play. These are all signs of the times. But they make it difficult for those who are truly interested to know exactly which way to go in order to help people who need it.

NAACP "NO COMPROMISE ON SEGREGATION"

Speaking at the National Convention for the Advancement of Colored People, Roy Wilkins said, there can be no compromise with the evil of segregation, and called upon all elements of the Negro race to reject "the siren song of separatism," and to join the struggle for the establishment of "the single society... with common opportunities for all."

The NAACP has retained this position over the years knowing from experience and history that segregation has always placed the Negro on the wrong side of the game.

There is also the additional danger which some Negroes feel that they can go it alone and throw all other people aside.

Nothing could be further from the truth, as evidenced by progress that has been made in improving of opportunities with the cooperation of all businesses, education, and government.

SPORTS

With Allen Ashby

We were looking through the pages of a book on black baseball players, and we learned that blacks really did play in the major leagues at one time. Their exit was due to one fellow, the famous Cap Anson of Marshalltown.

When Anson refused to take the field against a black player, the floodgates opened, and they were barred from then, in the 1890's until Jackie Robinson came along. For the white players it was an easy way to cut down competition, and thus make sure of their jobs. This was carried out for various other reasons, also. When a white team had a black player, that player had to be good, or else he wouldn't be there. So teams would refuse to play against the black, and if he were held out, that would weaken the team. Then some of the teams would offer to hold out one of their players to even things up. But they would put in a sub in place of the regular player, and then hold out the sub.

We saw several examples of his when we lived in Boone because our older brother was one of the town's star players, and a lot of opponents would refuse to play against him. To the credit of the Boone players, we never saw Lucious sitting on the bench while the team played without him. The game was nearly always cancelled or played with him.

Later, this spread to college football games, and some Southern school had scheduled the game, knowing that there were black players on the team. The first team to really battle this thing was UCLA. There may have been others, but we never heard of them. The Uclans had Jackie Robinson, Kenny Washington, Woody Strode, and a guy at end named Ray Bartlett. They played Texas Christian, and they weren't about to play without those guys. So the game was played down in Texas and those four fellows were very much in the game. We recall the writeup of the game as it appeared in the Los Angeles paper. The paper was quoting the Texas paper, and the crowd gave Kenny Washington a standing ovation as he left the game late in the fourth quarter. The writer said he never thought he would see the day when white Texans would be cheering for a black player, but there they were. From then on, it wasn't quite so tough for black players from UCLA. But, then it wasn't any bed of roses either. Then other schools began to take a stand and for a number of years, Big Ten schools didn't schedule too many Southern teams.

And that kept blacks out of a number of other sports, too. We remember when our late Brother Bill and I were entered in the state tennis meet. Our opponents were two guys from Texas, and they refused to play against us. So we were defaulted. Well, we happened to have a good friend writing for the Evening Tribune, and there was so much hell raised about that that it never happened again. No matter who any of us blacks drew, they had to play us or git to gittin'. From then on the door was open to anybody who wanted to get into any tennis meet held in this city, including the then lilly white Missouri Valley meet. Bill played in that. Of course, he

Art Comes to the Post Office Dept

Ronald B. Lee, Assistant Postmaster General for Marketing and Planning, admires the striking work of a black artist at the 14th Annual New York Post Office Employees' Art Exhibit. The week-long show, heavily influenced with black expressions, opened Monday, June 22 in the Postmaster General's Reception Room in Washington, D.C.

Entitled "Mother and Child," the portrait catching Mr. Lee's eye was painted by David McIver, a 26-year-old Negro substitute clerk at the New York Post Office. The entry won honorable mention in the oils division. More than 70 per cent of the 89 entries on exhibit were submitted by black postal employees.

Florida School
Plan Upheld

New Orleans, La. — The U.S. 5th Circuit Court of Appeals upheld a district court's desegregation plan for Manatee County, Fla., schools last Friday but left the way open for the lower court to revise the plan during summer recess.

Gov. Claude Kirk of Florida flew to New Orleans this spring to file a motion seeking modification of the Manatee County plan, which required some busing across district lines.

The appeals court decision said the issue was not whether the district court "selected the best possible plan," but whether that court abused its discretion by adopting an unworkable plan or one based on an incorrect legal standard. The answer clearly is: No.

To Dress Bare Wall
Affix Wood Strips

A barren concrete retaining wall becomes a visual asset when faced with wood siding or lattice strips.

Simply drill holes and apply furring strips on which to nail the lumber, using galvanized nails. Siding may be end-butted or installed in an openwork fencing design. Western pine or red cedar makes an attractive, care-free camouflage.

Potted geraniums, begonias or trailing vines complete the beauty treatment.

drew the number one player, but he was in the thing for a while. But now we can sit here and say that our Hilltop club and meet have done more to put tennis on a free for all scale than anything that happened in Des Moines.

But this practice kept a lot of good players out of a number of sports, and now we have a whole lot of catching up to do. There is at least one black hockey player, a few soccer players, and various other guys scattered around in other sports.

The main reason that Blacks don't take to a lot of other sports is that there aren't any old timers in that sport to teach them. We have always had old baseball or football and basketball players, but how many hockey or soccer, lacrosse, or other such sports have we had veterans in?

Sure, the games can be learned in school, but suppose you want to learn a game on the playground the way a lot of our better basketball players learned their game. A fellow told us that he saw players on the big city playgrounds who could make any team in the country, but they were not interested in going to school. We could go on forever, but now we are thinking how in hell do you end this thing?

Activities of the Iowa
Civil Rights Commission

The recent experiment in the Omaha School System of using behavior drugs certainly must be considered a fascinating experiment and just that.

How far has our educational system deteriorated that it is necessary to apply drugs? What has happened to the educational obligations and system that permits experimentation on a child who is a bundle of energy, and reduce them to a passive blob?

All children have excessive energy and we recognize this more and more as we get older and try to keep up with them.

Computers But now, the sophisticated scientific approach we take has to be the answer to all things. We must adapt everything to computers, push buttons, needles and snaps.

We have lost a part of education that is so valuable to the learning process. That is the human element. To show a child that we care. To motivate his learning process so that he questions and explores. To entice his interest so that he seeks solutions to his problems and the problems of others.

Even if children are over active at a tender age, what effect will the use of drugs have on such tender years? Are we so advanced that we can clearly state none of these children will have their health impaired.

Experimental We hear continuous complaints even today about excessive use of drugs. lifts.

depressants and stimulants. Yet, we say give our children drugs to slow them down.

It is being said that the Des Moines School System is considering the use of these experimental drugs, or at least the use of students for this type of experiment.

Must Refuse We must urge all parents to refuse to be a party to this program and to forbid your children to take drugs to go to school.

We raise some questions of law as well as what right does a school system have if any to require participation in this program? Another big question, what liability will extend to a school system if a child becomes addicted as a result of the requirement that he receive behavioral drugs?

Look Into Pastor Again, how many of these children classified as behavioral problems will be low income or minority family groups? And, then let us answer one other question: What school term, year, or day can we look at in the past that did not have its Huck Finn or Tom Sawyer? And, too, What advanced education does a teacher have that qualifies her to determine that a child has a behavioral problem? What medical training does she have to determine his psychological state of mind?

We stress the importance of the answers to these questions in helping to determine the validity of making drug users out of those so young.

The Black Woman

Were it mine, to select a woman, as queen of the hall of fame. One who has fought the gamest fight, and claimed from the depth of shame.

I would have to give the sceptre, to the lowest of them all. She who has struggled through the years, with her back against the wall. Wronged by men of an alien race, deserted by those of her own.

With a prayer in her heart, a song on her lips, she has carried the fight along.

In spite of the knaves all around her, her marvelous pluck has prevailed.

What of her sweet simple nature? What of her natural grace, her richness and fullness of color?

What adds to the charm of her face?

Is there a woman, more shapely, more vigorous, loving and true?

Yes wonderful black woman, the honor, I've gave you. By Fred L. Weatherston, Jr.

Outspoken Actor
Cites Blatant Bias

Raymond St. Jacques, who with co-stars Godfrey Cambridge and Ossie Davis, threatened to walk off set of the movie, "Cotton Comes to Harlem" unless blacks were hired, is shown in scene from Universal Television's popular series, "The Name of the Game," which he filmed after "Cotton."

St. Jacques, recently recalled the situation vividly. "In front of the camera one can definitely see a certain amount of progress. I personally feel there's still a degree of tokenism, but at least one sees progression instead of regression."

"However, what I'm really concerned about is the blatant discrimination which, until recent efforts, existed and still exists behind the cameras. Naturally, all of us on "Cotton" were anxious to bet get blacks onto our show, especially since we were filming a movie about black people in a black community (Harlem) —with what started out as being a white crew."

KICK THE HABIT

June is busting out all over. With KICK THE HABIT campaigns against cigarette smoking.

Christmas Seal associations across the country are waging an intensive, month-long campaign to urge smokers to chuck their cigarettes. For a day, a week, a month. Forever, hopefully.

Takes Practice Becoming a nonsmoker takes practice. Most smokers try to quit once. And fail. And try again—and again. It's all practice; and eventually they kick the habit or cut down drastically. But some heavy smokers simply have to quit "cold turkey." They are so hung up on smoking that they have to make a dramatic and complete break.

Smokers who quit successfully adopt certain attitudes. They see quitting as a big plus and smoking as a major minus. Smokers who don't manage to quit still see cigarettes as a kind of friend, always there when needed. In contrast, these smokers resent being deprived of cigarettes.

Positive Act

Thinking of quitting as a positive act instead of personal deprivation makes the difference. And one in every three persons who tries to quit succeeds. More than 21 million Americans have now kicked the habit.

Two leaflets are available free from your Christmas Seal association. ME QUIT SMOKING, WHY? and ME QUIT SMOKING, HOW? provide the special assist lots of smokers want. Your Association also has information about withdrawal programs and other antismoking activities.
