NAACP Resolutions Cover Civil Rights

No Comfort for Segregationists Black or White

CINCINNATI, Ohio, July 11 — The 2,344 delegates attending the 61st annual convention of the National Association of Colored People here, June 29 through July 3, adopted a series of resolutions covering all aspects of the Association's many-faceted attack upon racial discrimination and ranging from foreign affairs to internal organizational matters.

FOREIGN AFFAIRS

The delegates re-affirmed the role of the NAACP as "primarily a civil rights organization." They called for "the speediest measures to withdraw American troops from Vietnam" and achievement of "a just and honorable peace", and "to launch an economic aid program for Nigeria" and called for an "immediate (U.S.) embargo on all further aid — military, technical and financial — to Portugal."

DRUG ADDICTION

Proposed the establishment by the government of "a comprehensive and centrally co-ordinated anti-narcotics program providing for free treatment and rehabilitation of all addicts" and the launching of "a vigorous drug prevention program... with massive efforts directed at the source of the drug traffic and in educational programs designed to deter youth from experimentation."

POLITICAL ACTION

Recommended "that a permanent voter registration and voter education committee be established with a three-pronged program — voter registration, voter education, voter participation."

LABOR

Called upon each NAACP branch to "make a maximum effort to increase the number of black and other minority group workers employed in the skilled craft occupations of the building construction industry" and that, they seek admission to the building trades unions.

INFLATION

"Deplored the efforts of the Nixon Administration to curb inflation by ruinously high interest rates. The program is a failure."

EDUCATION

Re-affirmed its "deep belief that all forms of segregated schools, regardless of cause, North or South, violate the basic objectives of a democratic education for all children."

HOUSING

The Section 237 program of the 1968 Housing and Urban Development Act "is critically needed to meet the needs of the poor and minority group families who much have Federal assistance to secure housing within their means to pay," the delegates said.

ARMED SERVICES

Called upon "the Commander-in-Chief to take any and all action necessary to insure that all traces of racism, in any form, be eliminated from the armed services."

BLACK PANTHERS

Citing the NAACP's long record of opposition to the racial separatism "philosophy of the Black Panthers," a resolution asserted the Association's intention, nevertheless, to "defend their constitutional rights whenever they have been abridged and

First Harlem Brokerage House

NEW YORK (UPI) — Before the end of the summer, the New York Stock Exchange probably will have the first black owned member brokerage house in its history. It will be headed by a former professional football player, Russell Goings Jr.

Goings, who ended his playing career with the Los Angeles Rams in 1959, has had about 11 years experience with various Wall Street firms. Since last July, he has managed the Harlem Branch of Shearson, Hammill and Co., which is to be converted into the new firm, Crispus Attucks Securities Corp.

Southern Teachers Balk NEA Integration

Pressures to merge separate black and white affiliates of the National Education Association have cost the professional teacher organization support in most areas of the South.

While the merger efforts do not account for all the losses (general school desegregation suits have also taken a toll), they nevertheless constitute a significant factor.

Since 1969, there has been a loss of 10,571 from NEA ranks in Alabama, Arkansas, Georgia, Louisiana, North Carolina, and Texas. Three other Southern states—Mississippi, South Carolina, and Tennessee—posted only a moderate increase of 1,045. Thus, excluding the 10,393 gain in Florida (where questions of teaching standards, pay, and "Yankee immigrants" complicate the strictly racial issue), the NEA chalked up a net loss in the South of 9,526.

The NEA is not as strong in the South as in most other sections of the country. But it is about the closest thing to a teacher union in the region.

The organization has grown in prestige and importance in the Deep South in recent years. It has taken a strong position in favor of desegregation and in defense of the rights of individual teachers. Most teacher-rights cases are related to the desegregation crisis.

Wright Suspension Upheld by Iowa Supreme Court

By a unanimous decision, the Iowa Supreme Court upheld the recommendation of the Court's Grievance Committee that Robert A. Wright be suspended from practicing law for two years.

However, it did soften the blow by offering him an opportunity to be reinstated after a year provided the $17,500 judgment in favor of Mrs. Gertrude Hall be paid. The case has been pending in the courts for some time. It grew out of, as the committee said, Wright's deception of Mrs. Gertrude Hall, while acting as her attorney, in which she was induced to deed away her house without receiving pay

National Bar Association to Hold Acquit Ky. 45th Convention in N. Y.

New York — That National Bar Association will hold its 45th Convention in New York City, July 21 to 25, 1970, at the Roosevelt Hotel.

The theme for this year's Convention is: "The National Bar Association Takes A Giant Leap Into The 70's."

The chairman of the program committee is Revis O. Ortigue, of New Orleans, Louisiana. Mr. Ortigue and his committee in selecting the broad theme of a Leap Into The 70's, has changed the format of the program to fit the present day subjects.

Outstanding Lawyers, Judges, and many other prominent persons will appear on our program.

The Bar Foundation The NBA Foundation founded in 1969, is an arm of the NBA, and is the recipient of funds from the Ford Foundation. We are presently enjoying a grant of $282,000.00 from the Ford Foundation, and are expecting funds from other sources. The Foundation maintains two offices at Kansas City, Kansas, and Washington, D.C. Our main office is located at Kansas City, Kansas and is under the direction of Elmer C. Jackson, Jr., the Executive Director of the Foundation, who is also Membership Secretary of the Association. The Washington office is under the direction of Donald Stocks, who is Program Director of the Foundation. The President of the NBA Foundation is Honorable George W. Lawrence, of Chicago, Illinois, who has attended forty of the forty-five conventions held by the Association.

The association was founded in Des Moines by the late George H. Woodson who served as its first president.

CEPO Saves Consumer Over $300 Contract

The Consumers Education & Protection Organization (affiliated with the Accounting Aid Society) representing LeRoy Lindsay of 2509 School Street, secured the cancellation of a contract of a vacuum cleaner from Kirby Vacuum Cleaner Company on July 9, 1970.

Kirby Company, located at 500 Army Post Road, came to Mr. Lindsay's home on May 29, 1970, to sell him a new vacuum cleaner. Their salesman demonstrated their latest model and its attachments, and offered Mr. Lindsay $90 cash if he would buy it.

The court held that Wright was guilty of "substantial unprofessional and unethical conduct in that he failed to perform his duty as a lawyer in representing his client."

The suspension starts August 1, 1970.

The salesman stated he would win a new motor boat if he made one more sale this month. Mr. Lindsay, thinking he was going to receive $90 from the salesman and a new vacuum cleaner with all demonstrated attachments, signed a contract agreeing to purchase the machine for a cash price of $289 which was sold to Thrift Plan.

They charged that on the original signed contract two items were left blank: the total price (which included finance charges) and the serial number of the vacuum cleaner.

The Bystander interviewed the Kirby manager who stated that the facts generally were true except that the price of the cleaner including finance charges was on the contract but the serial number was left blank until the delivery of the machine. The contract has been cancelled.

The Des Moines Building & Construction Trades Council, AFL-CIO, in co-operation with the Des Moines Area Construction Training Program, has announced the formation of a twofold construction training program designed to encourage more minority group persons to enter the Building Trades.

Phase 1 of this cooperative effort is designed to recruit and employ a minimum of 30 minority group persons in the Building Trades Apprenticeship Program in the Des Moines, Iowa, area within the next 12 months.

Phase 2 of the Program is designed to recruit, expose, hire, train, qualify, and upgrade minority group persons for employment in the Construction Industry. Phase 2 will be an on-going program.

The program is in line with efforts being made in numerous cities over the country to offer an opportunity for minorities to participate in all types of jobs involved in building construction.

Many of these opportunities offered have not been available for minority groups and which will help alleviate the high rate of unemployment.

Seek Black Owned Center And Grocery

An effort to build a Negro-owned shopping center in the Oakridge area which has been under consideration for a number of months has been pushed further this week when sponsors presented a proposal to the Urban Renewal Board.

The proposal, by Paris Williams of 820 Sixteenth St., is for a two-level store north of Oakridge Drive, west of Keosauqua Way.

Williams offered $56,800 for the three-fourth acre tract near the Homes of Oakridge housing development and said he would build a $157,000 building on the property if his bid were accepted.

Black Federation Involved

The United Black Federation is cooperating in the movement, having deposited $43,000 to secure the land upon which the center is to be located.

Williams, 50, formerly operated a small grocery store at Thirteenth Street and Jefferson Avenue.

In his proposed building in Oakridge, food operations would be on the upper level and retail shops below. The site slopes and the building was designed so both floors would have ground-level entrances.

Price - Wright Wedding Outstanding Social Event

The Wedding Party

It was Half after Four O'clock, Sunday, June 20 when Charmayne Wright, the lovely and comely daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Wright of Wakarusa Village, carrying a cascade of ivory tea roses and blue daisies, and clinging tenderly to her father's arm, ascended the floral embankment at the First Baptist Church, Eighth and High Streets in Des Moines, to be given into Holy matrimony by her father to one Kenneth James Price, I, of Houston, Texas.

Bride's Dress

Miss Wright was breathing-taking in an elegant silk organza and bridal satin, venetian lace-trimmed gown. The princess silhouette bodice was fashioned with a lace-edged scoop neckline and full Elizabethan type sleeves. It featured a satin cuff which was lace-trimmed and the Empire A-line skirt swept gracefully out into a chapel length train. The touch of blue, which adorned the petit waistline, was met with a blue velvet ribbon set in appliques of lace.

Her cathedral length veil of imported silk illusion, edged also in lace, fell daintily from a camelot cap to a bow center. She carried a bouquet of white tearoses, blue daisies and baby's breath.

Attendants

Her attendants, Denise Johnson, who was maid of honor and a student classmate at the University of Iowa; Carolyn Green, of Waterloo, also a classmate; Anita Wright, of Houston, Texas, and a classmate; Sue Price of Houston, sister of the groom; and Susie Hogan, of Des Moines, a neighbor and student at the American Institute of Business, were lovely in floor length gowns of aqua chiffon over peau de soie in matching color. The Empire bodices had scoop necklines at the front dipping to a low rounded V at the back. The short puffed sleeves were of accordin pleated chiffon and the waistlines were encircled with Venise lace daisy banding in matching color. The skirts fell softly in A-line with gathers at the center back adding fullness.

Their headdresses of three layers of aqua illusion were held by clusters of aqua daisies fashioned of silk petals with velvet centers. The daisies were accented with loops of aqua organza over net with rolled edges.

Following closely behind the bride were her ring bearer: Tyree Davis, and Pam Davis, her flower girl.

The Groom

The Groom: Kenneth James Price I, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Johnson of Houston, Texas. He is a senior at the University of Iowa where he is majoring in Business Administration. He plans to complete his training and fulfill the requirements for a Certified Public Accountant. His best man, Robert Wright, Jr., brother of the bride, was accompanied by Wayne Holloway, Thomas Wallace and Steven Johnson, as ushers. They were smartly attired in blue dinner jackets, and black tuxedo trousers.

The Mothers

The mothers of both the bride and groom chose pink for the occasion. Mrs. Wright, mother of the bride, wore a two piece pink linen ensemble. The sheath dress was covered with appliques of lace and chrysal beads; the full length coat was smartly trimmed at the collar in lace matching the bridal gown. A dainty pink hat completed the ensemble.

At the organ throughout the ceremony was the well-known musicologist, Barbara Williams; With These Hands was beautifully rendered by Thomas Wallace, a classmate of the bride and groom.

Some twelve (12) organizations working with and in the Black community will be represented. Samuel Jackson Guest Speaker

Samuel C. Jackson, Assistant Secretary for Metropolitan Planning and Development and General Assistant Secretary in the United States Department of Housing and Urban Development, along with Abraham S. Venable, Director of the Office of Minority Business Enterprise of the Department of Commerce, will be featured at the Symposium scheduled for Tuesday, August 4 centered around the subject "The Government and The Ghetto."

Bishop Edgar A. Love and Oscar J. Cooper, the two living founders, will be featured at the annual Founders Banquet. Ellis F. Corbett, of A & T State University, is the Grand Basileus of the Fraternity.

Immediately preceding the ceremony candles were lighted in the nuptial setting accompanied by quiet and gentle strains from the organ.

Simple Ceremony

The simple, double ring ceremony was done in a Patrician style, however, and was lovely, impressive and effective.

Immediately following the nuptials, over 200 guests gathered in Fellowship Hall of the church for the reception. A receiving line was formed of the immediate attendants to the wedding headed by Barbara Mann.

Hostesses at the Reception were: Joyce Daniels, Marsha Lent, Peggy Spates, Cathy Wallace, Valerie Clayton, Marsha Hogan and Mrs. Laura Miller. Mrs. Margaret Harper registered the guests as they entered.

Honeymoon

The couple spent their honeymoon in the Bahama Islands, after which they returned to Houston where Mr. Price is presently serving as an Analyst to Shell Oil Company during the remainder of the summer. Both Mr. and Mrs. Price will return to the University this fall where she will continue her training in secondary education and he in business administration.

DETROIT BRANCH LEADS IN NAACP CONTRIBUTIONS

NEW YORK — July 11, Local and state units of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People and three labor unions made presentations totaling $116,848 in Freedom Fund gifts, life membership payments and special contributions during the Association's 61st annual convention in Cincinnati, June 29 through July 3.

Topping all others was the Detroit Branch which presented $66,484 in life membership payments. Previously the branch had reported an additional $15,000 in life membership payments.

With a contribution of $10,600 the Cleveland Branch led all other units in Freedom Fund payments. The North Carolina State Conference was close second with $10,326.49, followed by Chicago, $8,500 and the Mississippi State Conference, $5,600. Other branches reporting $1,000 or more in Freedom Fund contributions included Anchorage, Alaska; Bayonne, N. J.; Louisville, Ky.; Far Rockaway-Inwood, N.Y.; Department of Social Services, New York City; Northwest Philadelphia; Kansas City, Mo.; Minneapolis; Coahoma and Wilkinson counties, Miss.

Unions Contribute

Special contributions of $1,000 each to the NAACP general fund were made by the Hotel and Restaurant Employees and Bartenders International Union; Brotherhood of Maintenance of Way Employees; and Brotherhood of Railway, Airlines and Steamship Clerks.

NAACP DEMANDS BISHOP TUCKER RETRACT

NEW YORK — The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People has demanded that Bishop C. Ewbank Tucker of the AME Zion Church, Louisville, Ky., retract his false charge that NAACP officials "have been on the payroll of the national Democratic party for years."

Bishop Tucker made his charge in a telegram, July 2, to Bishop Stephen G. Spottswood, NAACP Board Chairman, defending President Nixon whose civil rights record was attacked by Bishop Spottswood, Executive Director Roy Wilkins, and other NAACP speakers at the Association's 61st annual convention in Cincinnati, June 29 through July 3. The Louisville bishop called these attacks upon the Nixon Administration "unjustified and unwarranted" and added "one cannot expect any different statements from officials of the (NAACP) national office who have been on the payroll of the national Democratic party for years."

Morsell Demands Apology

The following day, Assistant Executive Director John A. Morsell sent a telegram to Bishop Tucker informing him that his request that the NAACP publicize his defense of the Nixon Administration was "being delayed pending decision of our general counsel whether damage suit is to be filed against you for your libelous and defamatory allegation" about NAACP officials.

Legal Action

NAACP General Counsel Nathaniel R. Jones, on July 9, sent the following letter to Bishop Tucker:

"I have examined the contents of your July 3 wire to Bishop Stephen G. Spottswood, Chairman of the Board of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. In that wire, you state, among other things, that the National Officers of the NAACP 'have been on the payroll of the National Democratic Party for years.'

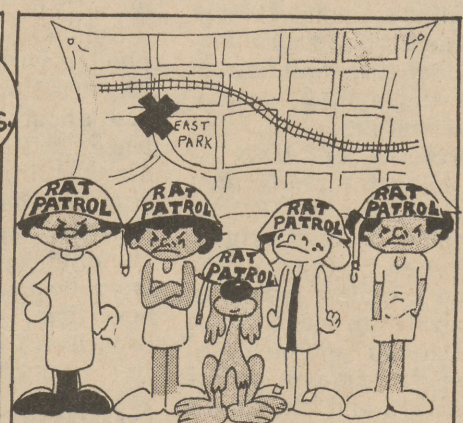

Says Allegation False "That allegation is false, malicious, defamatory, and libelous per se. Since you know better, it could have only been written and transmitted for the purpose of injuring the reputations of the National Officers of the NAACP, holding them up to ridicule and shame, and to affect them injuriously in their role as executive officers of the largest civil rights organization in the nation.

"Accordingly, be advised that unless that allegation is retracted in writing within 48 hours from receipt of this letter, I am prepared to file a damage suit against you on behalf of the National Officers of the NAACP."

CHICAGO LASS NAMED "MISS NAACP 1970"

CINCINNATI, Ohio — Winners in two national contests among members of the Youth and College Division of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People were crowned here during the 61st annual convention, June 29 - July 3.

Miss Rhonda Leonard, of Chicago's Southside became "Miss NAACP 1970." Paul Stewart, of New Orleans, was named "Mr. Freedom 1970."

standby concerned with the physical well-being of the American people. Its social consciousness, however, runs far afield of this. As a prominent member of the business community, Mutual has become deeply in today's labor market and is doing something about it.

Specifically, the program is designed to assist with career guidance, general counseling, drop-out prevention, pre-employment coaching and other matters essential to the maximum development of the potential of Omaha youth.

Just over two years ago, Mutual of Omaha became the first Nebraska firm to sign a participating contract in the JOBS program (Job Opportunities through the Business Sector) which was designed by the National Alliance of Businessmen.

Slayer Of Dr. King Asks New Hearing

MEMPHIS, TENN. (AP)—Criminal Court Judge William H. Williams Friday set Sept. 2 as the date he will hear arguments on a motion to dismiss the request for a new trial for James Earl Ray in the 1968 slaying of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr.

Ray has sought a new trial since shortly after pleading guilty on March 10, 1969, to the sniper killing of the civil rights leader.

The district attorney's office has argued that Ray's attempts to get a new trial under the state post-conviction act are nonproperly drawn and contain a fatal flaw in that they do not allege any violation of Ray's constitutional rights.

Ray is now serving a 99-year sentence and insists he did not voluntarily plead guilty to King's death, but did so only because of pressure put on him by his lawyer. His lawyer has denied this.

Framing Helps Pane Outside

Windows poorly shaped or placed sometimes look ungainly from outside. One way to give an old house a new look is to "frame" the windows outside, as you would a picture.

After deciding the dimensions of the frame, start by attaching a sill below the window. This is done by screwing support brackets to the house wall. Then nail a shelf of 1x6-inch lumber to the brackets.

To make the top, nail a 1x3-inch cleat to the wall and nail the 1x6 which forms the top shelf to the cleat. The 1x6-inch verticals are then nailed to top and bottom shelves.

Detailing adds the charm. Quarter-circle planter shelves may be nailed to the edge of the window and to the sides of the new outer frame, making a good display spot for potted geraniums or other plants. Or a simple vine may be trained on lattice strips set inside the frame.

Wood moldings applied to the edges of the frame will give it a finished look. Paint or stain to match the house trim.

INTERNAL AFFAIRS

Called for election of a committee of nine persons "to study and recommend to the national Board of Directors by September 1, 1970, a plan for tenure and term of office for national Board members."

EMERGENCY RESOLUTIONS

The delegates adopted three emergency resolutions. One commended and congratulated Mayor Kenneth A. Gibson and the people of Newark. "Both black and white voters" who selected him "to serve as their mayor." Another expressed the "strongest possible opposition to the attempt by the U. S. Department of Justice to compel Earl Caldwell, a New York Times reporter, to testify before a Federal grand jury in San Francisco investigating the Black Panther Party.

A third emergency resolution voted to "censure Judge (Harold) Cox and to urge the Department of Justice to continue its efforts to discover and prosecute those guilty of the Jackson State College killings, regardless of Judge Cox's actions."

Philadelphia Hosts To Alphas

PHILADELPHIA — Both the theme and the convention activities of Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity will reflect the concerns of the times when its members meet here July 31 - Aug. 6 in their 64th annual gathering.

The convention of the first of the black college fraternities, founded in Cornell in 1906, will have as a theme "Elimination of the Ghetto: The Goal for the Seventies." In keeping with this idea several of the convention meetings, open to the public, will feature nationally known speakers.

Student Recruitment

One of the major activities of the convention will be three days of recruitment for present and recent college graduates by representatives of the major American businesses. Some 56 nationally-rated firms will send recruiting teams to

Des Moines Branch NAACP Receives Plaque

The Des Moines Branch was one of the many receiving a plaque for having contributed $1,000 or more to the organization in 1970.

Mrs. Clara Bayles, one of the delegates from Des Moines, said some high lights of the convention were the demand by youth that they have more representation in the national board; the operation of the convention was more orderly and that reports showed a substantial growth in all departments.

The convention meets in Minneapolis, Minn. in 1971. Robert Wright, region IV Director, presented the Ike Smalls Award in the absence of Mrs. Georgine Morris, who was unable to attend.

What's keeping you from looking good?

Dry, brittle, breaking hair?

It's something to get upset about. No girl likes to see her crowning glory breaking off. Scientists tell us that over-using hot combs and over-processing hair with chemicals are often the major causes of brittleness. But even curly "natural" hair tangles and frequently breaks...just in everyday combing.

Professional hairdressers, too, know curly hair tangles easily...so it must be softened before combing to avoid breaking. This way you'll avoid irritation to the scalp and damage to the hair and roots. Many, many hairdressers rely on spray-on Clairol Hair So New® the no-rinse cream rinse. It instantly softens and relaxes all human hair (even wigs) and prevents breakage during everyday combing. Your hair stays soft and tangle-free.

When you have questions about your hair, it's smart to go to a professional hairdresser...the one who's trained to use the whole family of fine Clairol products the way you need them...to keep your hair at its most beautiful.

Jehovah's Witnesses Close Session

Jehovah's Witnesses from this area returned Sunday evening from their four-day "Men of Goodwill" district assembly at Metropolitan Stadium in Bloomington, Minnesota, where they were told that the only thing to expect from man's devices is the destruction of the human race, and yet, "there is good news for mankind."

Howard W. Zenke, representing the New York world headquarters of the Witnesses, assured the 20,777 delegates drawn principally from Minnesota, Wisconsin, Michigan, Iowa and Nebraska: "We do not put ourselves in a fool's paradise when we accept from man's Creator the good news that our human race will be saved to endless life in happiness on a beautified earth."

Sessions featured a symposium of speakers from the mid-west as well as from the New York world headquarters. Information presented was for young and old, male and female, and much of it dealt with problems afflicting this generation, including delinquency, immorality, drug abuse, hatred, infidelity and rebellion.

Used Twins Stadium
The baseball field at the "Twins" stadium was transformed into a garden with a gigantic speakers platform at second base, surrounded with colorful floral arrangements, pools and fountains of water. The Witnesses referred to the transformation as from a ball park to a giant "Kingdom Hall," the term used to designate their meeting places.

The convention in Bloomington was one of ten held simultaneously in the United States last week. Throughout the summer, Jehovah's Witnesses are holding 61 assemblies, with 36 of them in the United States.

Jehovah's Witnesses, returning to their home congregations this week, will be resuming their regular meeting schedules in the local congregation. Most of the congregations cancelled their meetings last weekend in favor of the district convention at Metropolitan Stadium.

VETERANS
EDITOR'S NOTE: Veterans and their families are seeking thousands of questions concerning the benefits their Government provides for them through the Veterans Administration. Below are some representative queries. Additional information may be obtained at any VA office.

Q -- I am attending school under the G.I. Bill, and my wife has given birth to a son. How do I notify the VA of this additional dependent? A -- Forward immediately to your VA regional office a copy of the child's birth record. Be careful to write your VA file number on the document. It is advisable to attach a note advising the VA that you are training under the G.I. Bill.

Q -- My husband was killed in service, and I am thinking of taking advantage of the educational benefits available from the Veterans Administration. Will the VA assist me in working out a program? A -- Yes. You may apply to the VA for vocational counseling. Professional counselors may be able to help you decide on a productive and rewarding program.

Q -- I am thinking of selling my home which I purchased with a G.I. loan that is not yet paid in full. If the buyer defaults, will I be liable to the Veterans Administration? Can I be released from such liability? A -- Yes, to both questions. However, the VA may release you only if the buyer assumes full liability for repayment. If such a release is approved, you will not be liable for default by the buyer. Before signing the sales contract, ask the VA office which guaranteed your loan for forms and instructions for release from personal liability.

Q -- Must a veteran occupy as a home the house he purchases through a GI loan? A -- Yes. The veteran applicant, both at the time he applies for the loan, and at the time the loan is closed, must certify that he intends to occupy the property as his home.

Q -- May a veteran receiving disability compensation also receive Social Security disability payments, or will the disability compensation be reduced by the Social Security payments? A -- Disability compensation will not be reduced by the amount of any Social Security benefit.

Q -- I am a veteran who served three years on active duty from 1958 to 1961. I am totally disabled because of an automobile accident. Am I entitled to a non-service connected pension? A -- No. In order to be eligible, you must have had 90 days of active duty, any part of which was during wartime. Your active duty was during peacetime.

Veterans 65 years of age or older no longer have to disclose financial details to be admitted to a Veterans Administration Hospital. Previously the information was required from all veterans who did not have a service-connected disability

Veterans 65 years of age or older no longer have to disclose financial details to be admitted to a Veterans Administration Hospital. Previously the information was required from all veterans who did not have a service-connected disability and were not drawing a pension. The change modified instructions for filling out VA applications for hospital care by exempting veterans 65 and older from completing questions which deal with financial details.

Veterans in this age group need only to certify that they are unable to pay for needed hospital or domiciliary care and for transportation for non-service related medical conditions.

To Church Reporters and Pastors
Please see that only one person reports the news as it is confusing to have material coming from more than one source.

Do not list meetings of the choirs, clubs and organizations unless some special feature is reported.

Don't run advertising as news, and additions to the church or visitors unless from out of town. The sick should include only those in hospitals, which should be separate from the church news.

Dead-line for news is Tuesday at twelve noon and dead-line for advertising is Tuesday at 5 o'clock.

THIS COULD BE CALLED "TONI BUFORD WEEK." She leaves Thursday for a career in the U.S. Air Force (WAFS). After graduating from Des Moines Technical High School last month, she has centered her attention on her next move. It turns out to be a move on the side of her "Uncle Sam."

CASTING ABOUT FOR HER CHOICE OF A CAREER. she and her mother, always so close, read various brochures, spent long hours together considering Toni's "future." Heeding her mother's persuasion, she chose the air force. In Toni's words: "A career in the service would provide a better and broader life, travel and experiences." The lovely youngster was on my mind when I left the office for lunch... and her name was to come up then! (Read on)

NOTING CECIL BREWTON II, AT LUNCH with a co-worker Tuesday, my column deadline, I called out a greeting. Wanted to say how fascinating the picture and story of Cecil Brewton, III (these numerical classifications are solely mine, friends) proved to be at breakfast at my house that very morning! Says my husband "Cecil's boy! Mmmm he's pretty sober, isn't he?" Added to our comments was what I've heard of "the boy's talents, nice things." Collaring Cecil, so to speak, gave me the pleasure of complimenting the younger Cecil to the father.

AN INTRODUCTION TO GERALD (JERRY) CONLEY Washington Irving Junior High's new principal, Cecil Brewton luncheon companion, was my reward for interrupting the two—I was completely captivated by Conley's familiarity with our young people. Young people are and have always been Cecil's business and to find his companion readily knowledgeable about individual youths, youngsters we've come to know in church and whom I considered our special property won me over on the spot. Making a fair contribution on our side, we shall have a good life with Conley.

TONI BUFORD'S TWO YEARS AT THE DES MOINES Board of Education has made her known to community figures such as Cecil Brewton and "his boss" as he referred to —. Both young men spoke highly of Toni in her role as secretary and a member of this community. They predict a successful career for the young girl.

MARGARET KIRBY (MRS. CHARLES) took all the credit for the Sunday dinner honoring their niece, Toni Buford! The truth of the matter is she had the able assistance of Hubby Charles! (What did he do? Like all of our husbands, he went to the store!) So let's give him credit, too. Margaret is not only an excellent cook, but a talented homemaker. She does a super upholstery job. Is quite skilled. From four year old March, the youngest, on up the line of cute youngsters, when Margaret begins a project, it's "keep away" until an "all clear" is given. She analyzes her task, then with needle, thread scissors, measuring tape and (razor blade, maybe?) she begins. Her color scheme of green, brown, tan, beige, and a soft yellow is most pleasing, and beautifully blended throughout.

ENFORCEMENT WILL BE IMPORTANT HERE

The Board of Regents, which has jurisdiction over Iowa's three schools of higher learning, adopted a set of rules last week aimed at campus disturbances.

Generally speaking, they authorize the schools to dismiss or suspend students or faculty members who engage in rioting and obstructing normal operations of the schools.

Some members were critical of the manner in which school authorities handled these problems in the past insisting that loose, go-easy policy had served as a go ahead for the militants to do as they please.

It has always been a mystery why a student is not prosecuted for throwing rocks or damaging property which if done by someone on University Avenue or even downtown is prosecuted for it. After all, these same students are smarter than those of previous generations and yet violate the law and expect to be supported in it.

The administration of these rules will be the responsibility of the school heads.

And in view of the miserable record hanging over from these last year's work, the board should keep close watch on what results they achieve this year.

GALLUP POLL SHOWS PRESIDENT'S POPULARITY

The Gallup Poll has completed a sampling of President Nixon's popularity in the nation.

Among white people nationwide, 59 percent approved; 29 percent disapproved, while 19 percent were undecided. These figures are somewhat surprising in view of the endless criticism of everything he does by some members of Congress and, of course, the militants.

The poll among Negroes is broken down in the southern and northern attitudes. In the North, 14 percent approved, while in the South 38 percent approved; and in the North 68 percent disapproved, 18 percent were undecided, while in the South, 42 percent disapproved while 20 percent had no opinion.

Undoubtedly, President Nixon's two unsuccessful appointees to the U.S. Supreme court had much to do with fixing the attitudes of Negroes. Then too, the large Negro democrats support had its influence.

President Nixon finds himself somewhat in the predicament of the late President Hoover who while elected in 1928 by a landslide, did a poor job in handling public relations with Negroes in an effort to build a Republican party in the South, only to find in 1932 that in spite of all he could do, he lost the South and, to a great extent, the Negro vote.

Polls bring to light some startling things but they are not always true.

PUSH PROGRAM TO RELIEVE PROPERTY TAX

Once a tax is on the statute books, it is hard to get rid of it. Every politician talks about reducing taxes, but the job does not get done. And it will as long as taxing bodies continue to spend the taxpayer's money for projects that have little or no real value to the community.

Much of the discontent about high taxes comes from property owners from which most of the funds for school programs come. The burden has reached the point where something must be done. On the other hand, some public employees are seeking pay raises, not necessarily unfair, but against more than the tax payer, particularly the real estate owner, can pay.

Both major parties will be holding state conventions in Iowa shortly. Taxes will be on the minds of delegates and political leaders. They can do something to

Tennis
We were thinking the other day that if we could, in some manner squeeze through this year's Hilltop Open tennis meet that would be number forty for us. That is, we will have handled forty tennis meets beginning with our meet which was closed to anyone but blacks. That thing started back in 1929, and except for a couple of years, we have been mixed up in some sort of tennis tournament ever since.

And do you know, we don't think tennis in Des Moines has made much progress among us as we would have liked. Oh, there was a time when Brother Bill had a program going, and we dug up quite a few prospects, but most of them were girls, and they soon turned to other things, like boys. I had a few pupils, and they, too, got off on other things. Maybe the war, coming when it did, changed things so tennis was secondary for a few years.

When the Des Moines Tennis Association was formed, it was struggling and invited our Hilltop Club in. Then after the state meet was moved to Cedar Rapids, a deal was made with them to enlarge our meet to include everybody. We had to get the sanction of the USLTA, and the only way we could make that was to become a member. We sent our fees and dues to the Missouri Valley branch in this region, but nothing ever came of it. Then Harold Tillotson, the Des Moines president, and Sterling Lord of Burlington took up the battle, and they dealt quite a few lusty blows in our behalf. When our club was taken into the Des Moines Ass'n. that body was threatened with expulsion from the Valley Association.

Rules

Tillotson argued that each club was the sole maker of its rules concerning its membership, and if that wasn't acceptable to the powers that be, he would just as soon take his members and go home. That did it, and we were let in, the back door as it were, but we were in.

Hilltop

When we opened our Hilltop meet, we insisted on the finals being held at Good Park. Maybe this was because we were afraid we would lose control of the thing, once it became big enough to stand alone, although that was never mentioned. But the idea must have been there. But we never thought we would find the thing becoming almost all white. Not that we care. We don't. There are no problems that we are trying to solve. The only problem is who is the help ease the situation. We believe the first thing to be done is a close scrutiny of all budgets to see that unessential, illegal, excessive items are eliminated. And, second, the legislature must have the courage to raise state income taxes with most of it going for schools so that boards and districts will not be forced to place such a burden on the fellow who pays property taxes.

State income tax raises additional funds from those able to pay. And this move requires strong resistance from powerful lobbyists.

best tennis player in the various age groups during that particular week end. But our Hilltop club fluctuated as all clubs do, going up and down in its list of members. As we recall, last year we had about eight or ten blacks in our meet.

Meets

The thing that really made our open meet was the presence of Don Klotz, Iowa University tennis coach. Klotz had this bunch of kids from Cedar Falls, Iowa City, Grundy Center, and he was looking for meets in which to give them experience. So our meet was made to order for his bunch. The guy was around our meet for at least three seasons, during which time we struck up quite a friendly acquaintance with him. And do you know, the man never forgot us. We met him last year when he was presented with honors at the finals of the Hawkeye Open and his first question was about Good Park and our boys' who play in our meet.

Went on to play at Iowa University, among them being the Nadig brothers, Gene and John, Don Middlebrook, the Andrews brothers, and several others we can't recall offhand. Oh, yes, Mr. Klotz later was the featured speaker at one of our YMCA dinners. Some old timers who didn't know a thing about tennis recall the talk because, although it was about tennis, it was also applicable to life.

In recent years our meet would have gotten nowhere without the work and presence of Esther Myers. She has dedicated herself to the meet the way we had to when the thing was in its infancy. Now she makes all the advance arrangements excepting the rules which are thrashed out by a committee. We think the reason our meet has held on is that we have played no favorites and gone by the book and nothing else. So everybody knows he or she is going to get the same treatment, whether it is favorable or not. Now that that is out of the way, let's hope we can reach the magic number. Not sure if we care to go on to fifty. May not be around that long.

TIPS ON CAR CARE

Don't Lose Your Cool On A Hot Highway

It was still in the operating range, so Larry didn't worry about it. He didn't realize he was ignoring a warning that could have saved him a towing and repair bill out on the road.

Engine cooling systems, which include the radiator, water pump and fan, are designed with more capacity than is needed in normal operation. As long as there is an excess of capacity, the thermostat is able to keep the engine at the right temperature by letting cooler water flow to the engine block when it is needed and turning it off when it is not needed.

As the automobile ages, several things happen which rob the system of its extra capacity: 1. The small radiator pipes become corroded from rust, grease, minerals in the water, and exhaust gasses that find their way into the coolant; 2. the outside of the radiator core becomes clogged with insects, weeds, and other debris pulled in by the fan; 3. fan belts become loose and slip, further reducing air flow through the radiator; 4. radiator caps become dirty or rusted and fail to keep the system under the proper pressure.

Cars without temperature gauges are equipped with a red light on the dashboard with the letters "TEMP."

This light comes on only when the engine temperature rises above the safe range. If your car is equipped with this warning light, stop immediately when the light comes on, and have the system checked thoroughly and repaired before going on. B.F. Goodrich auto service men say most overheating on the highway could be prevented by timely preventive maintenance.

Putting your cooling system back in first class condition is usually easy and inexpensive. Radiator corrosion can be quickly removed

Activities of the Iowa Civil Rights Commission

Unemployment Compensation Denied to White Refusing to Work Under Black; In April of 1970, the Iowa Civil Rights Commission found "no probable cause" for a charge by a white male that he was the victim of reverse discrimination when he was fired from his job in Creston because of his refusal to follow an order by his foreman who was black. The complainant subsequently was denied state unemployment benefits, and this denial was upheld in a hearing upon his appeal to the Iowa Employment Security Commission.

Employment Discrimination "Spin-Off": While conducting an investigation on a charge that a black male was laid off and subsequently fired because of his race, the Iowa Civil Rights Commission discovered that the employer was using the non-job-related, culturally-biased Wonderlic test which is aimed at middle class applicants. The Commission found "no probable cause" on complainant's charge, but the employer nevertheless signed a conciliation agreement stating he would no longer use the Wonderlic Test.

Color Discrimination Corrected in Job Order: A wholesale sea-food distributor placed a discriminatory job order with the Iowa State Employment Service, noting that a "Negro is O.K., but only if light complected." The owner refused to remove the "light" qualification when Employment Service personnel visited him at the plant. The Employment Service then refused him referral service and contacted the Iowa Civil Rights Commission (which filed a Commission charge against him). He signed a conciliation agreement stating that he would no longer make personnel assignments on basis of skin-color variations (dark Negroes had been placed in the basement and light-complected Negroes upstairs where customers came in), as well as pursue an affirmative action "equal opportunity" program of recruitment, placement, and job advertisement.

Black Students Re-instated: Two black males have been re-instated as students at a public university after filing complaints with the Iowa Civil Rights Commission. They had been arrested following a fight with white students at a local tavern. The two blacks (who were already on social probation) were suspended for the rest of the school year, following a hearing before the Student Conduct Committee. During the Commission's investigation, an ad hoc committee of the university administration examined the charges and determined that they were not grave enough to warrant suspension.

CONTAMINATED HUMAN HALOS

All of us human beings have real halos.

No shining circles crowning our heads. But a layer of air around our entire body outline that shows up on film as a halo. The halo is 1 to 2 centimeters thick. It is loaded with contamination.

Just detected by researchers using special film techniques, the halo is warmer and denser than the surrounding air. It contains 30 percent to 400 percent more microscopic organisms. Taking a shower increases the number of organisms in the bathroom air for as long as an hour.

Upward Motion

The air layer is in constant upward motion, starting at the feet and floating toward the head. Scales from the outer skin get caught up in the flow. And organisms such as staphylococci are known to be carried on these fragments.

Some of this boundary layer, filled with bacteria, is inhaled each time breathe. In fact, British scientists at the National Institute for Medical Research and the City University of London say, "Since some of this thin layer is inhaled, it may be one of the missing links in the natural history of airborne infection."

Phenomenon

The halo phenomenon, the researchers say, might prove to be the connecting link between skin diseases such as childhood eczema and the asthmatic attacks that often follow the eruptions.

The full implications of our human halos are not yet apparent. They may be one piece in the puzzle of disease. To find out more clues to the puzzle of respiratory infection, contact your local tuberculosis and respiratory disease association. It's a matter of life and breath.

GOOD MANNERS IN CHURCH

I obey the guidance of the Usher when entering the church.
I enter the Sanctuary quietly.
I walk as close to the altar as possible and choose a seat toward the center, so that others coming later will not have to push past me.

I refrain from conversation in deference to those who are in silent prayer.

I do not leave the sanctuary until after the Benediction, except in an emergency.

After service, I greet others who are strangers to me as well as those I know.

I never pass up the aisle during prayer or scripture reading.

If the sermon has begun, I take a seat near the door.

I never put on my coat, overshoes or wraps during the closing hymn, I do not make a rush for the door immediately after the benediction.

I do no loud talking after the service is concluded. Reverence is the keyword. The church must demand this often neglected quality if she is to do her best for the community.

When I am a visitor in a strange church I conform to its custom of worship.
