Cycle Hits Brick Wall Kills One

Lloyd Brooks
Killed in Ottumwa
Crash

A 30 year-old man was killed and a youth seriously injured, when the motorcycle they were riding crashed into a stone retaining wall Sunday afternoon.

Ottumwa police report Lloyd G. Brooks Jr. of 513 Center was killed instantly as he was thrown head-first against the wall in the 700 block of North Jefferson near Kruger about 2 p.m.

Robert Stone 15, of 701 E. Main, a passenger is listed in poor condition in the intensive care unit of Ottumwa Hospital today. Officers report he was thrown over the wall and onto the ground.

Officers said Brooks was driving the machine north on Jefferson when it hit the curb. The cycle then catapulted into the air, throwing Brooks and Stone.

Brooks was thrown 89 feet to the wall, Stone 113 feet, and the cycle smashed into the wall some 115 feet from the curb. Massive head injuries were ruled in the cause of Brooks' death.

Police stated the two were thrown instantly when the motorcycle hit the curb. They report Stone was thrown over Brooks in the air.

Stone suffered head abrasions, also back, arm, forearm, and wrist injuries.

Police said Brooks borrowed the cycle from Pamela A. Oliver of 705 S. Madison earlier in the afternoon. The woman told officers he was only going to ride around the block.

Officers said Brooks' driver's license was not valid for a motorcycle. Pamela Oliver was later charged with permitting an unauthorized person to drive. She pleaded guilty to the charge in Municipal Court and was fined $10.

Brooks was born Oct. 1, 1940 in Ottumwa, the son of Lloyd and Kathleen Clark Brooks and resided in Ottumwa all his life.

He married Lena Mae Smith on Dec. 14, 1965 at Lancaster Mo. She survives.

Also surviving are one daughter, Loni Marie Jones of Ottumwa; ten step-children; three foster children; his mother, Mrs. Kathleen Payne of Maryland; one brother, Albert L. Brooks; one sister, Mrs. Sylvia Beauchamp; and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Clark of Ottumwa.

He was preceded in death by his father, Lloyd Brooks Sr.

Funeral services were held Wednesday at 1:30 p.m. at Jay Funeral Home with the Rev. Marshall Smith of Mt. Zion Methodist Church officiating. Burial was in Ottumwa cemetery.

Court Upholds Picketing By Consumers

Organizations have a legal right to picket Iowa Businesses as long as it is done in an orderly manner, Judge James P. Denato has ruled.

Denato ruled against a Des Moines used car dealer who had asked the Court to prevent members of the Consumer Education and Protection Association (CEPO).

Began in August Last August, CEPO members demonstrated against the Rosenfeld Used Car Co., 1311 Grand Ave., in behalf of the Rev. Harvey L. Turner, 1441 Nineteenth St. CEPO contended Rosenfeld's had reneged on a used car deal with the Rev. Mr. Turner.

The car firm, contending it was being publicly defamed by the consumer group's action, sought and obtained a temporary injunction against the picketing. The injunction was granted pending a trial of the issues.

Can Resume Denato said CEPO could resume picketing at Rosenfeld's as long as no more than four persons picketed at one time and they did not impede traffic. He also said it was unnecessary for the pickets to use a public address system.

CEPO is a non-incorporated consumer affairs organization located at 1016 University Ave.

Ask Data on Veterans Income

The Veterans Administration today alerted two million veterans and dependents who get monthly VA pension checks that they will receive annual income questionnaire cards with their November 1 checks. The VA asks these pensioners to fill out the questionnaire card accurately and completely. After signing it, the recipients should return the form promptly to VA in the envelope furnished with the questionnaire—no later than January 15, 1971. John J. Young, Adjutant General in the VA Regional office in Des Moines, said VA pension is paid to veterans totally and permanently disabled from nonservice connected disabilities. Widows and children of deceased veterans may also be eligible for VA pension if they meet certain income limitations.

Parents of deceased veterans who receive dependency and indemnity compensation are also required to fill out and return the questionnaire.

City Not Liable for Riot Damages

Cities No Liability for Injuries in Civil Disorders Judge Waldo Wheeler of the Polk County District Court, has ruled that Iowa Cities are not legally liable for damages for injuries residents suffer during civil disturbances.

Judge Wheeler dismissed a suit filed against the City of Des Moines in behalf of 12 year old Ronald Jahnke, who allegedly was hit by a piece of concrete hurled at his family's car on University Avenue last June 18.

Urban Scene the Focus At D.U. Coalition Meet

Campus-community relations, youth and drug problems, and research and social action were the main concerns of the "Urban Scene" conference on Community problems at the University of Dubuque Saturday, October 24th.

The conference featured local panels of experts from the law enforcement, human rights, religious, educational and social service sectors of Dubuque, and was sponsored by the Iowa Human Rights Coalition, the Dubuque Area Citizens Council on Community Relations and the U. of D. Sociology Department.

Second District Congressman, John C. Culver gave the principal address after the conference luncheon in Peters Commons.

Members of the Iowa Human Rights Coalition Board from outside Dubuque who attended the 'Urban Scene' conference were Mrs. E. T. Hicks of Burlington; Miss Virginia Harper of Fort Madison, and Mr. Elmer Robinson of Marshalltown. College students and local candidates for political office were guests of the conference at a reception in

The boy's father, Frank Jahnke, 1640 S.E. Diehl Ave., asked $23,000 in damages and charged that police and other city employees "carelessly and negligently" failed to warn drivers to stay out of the area.

The disturbance erupted north of downtown when law officers shot and killed an escaped convict. Police were withdrawn from the area when a large group of neighborhood residents gathered and some began hurling rocks at passing cars.

Black Newspaper Publishers Appoint Executive Director

CHICAGO (NNPA) Oct. 28, John H. Sengstacke, president of the 76-member National Newspaper Publishers Association, announced this week the appointment of Sherman Briscoe, veteran journalist, as executive director of the association.

Briscoe, who retired as a press officer from the U.S. Department of Agriculture nearly two years ago, will assume his duties on Nov. 1. His headquarters will be in Washington, D.C. Sengstacke, president and publisher of Sengstacke Newspapers, including the Chicago Daily Defender and the

Youth Killed In Freeway Mishap

A ninth-grade student at Callanan Junior High School was killed Sunday afternoon after running into the side of a moving car as he chased a ball on the MacVicar Freeway.

The victim, identified as Jasper Wilson, Jr., son of Jasper Wilson, Jr., Darlene Woods, was playing ball with about 10 other youths when the ball sailed over the fence which separates the freeway from the surrounding property.

Jasper's brother, Robert, who witnessed the accident, said Jasper climbed the fence to retrieve the ball and was struck.

Police said the car was driven by Kenneth F. Jensen, 58, of 7317 Monroe Ct. No charges were filed.

In addition to his father, his mother and his brother Robert, the youth is survived by two sisters, Desi and Terry Woods; a brother, Gilbert Woods, Jr.; his step-father, Gilbert Woods, Sr.; his paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Jasper Wilson, Sr.; and his maternal grandmother, Mrs. Helen Clay.

NEWS

In A Nutshell

Wilmington, Delaware — A bomb exploded in Wilmington yesterday noon (Monday).

A HAPPINESS bomb, spreading joy in every direction.

Strangely enough this H-bomb came into existence as a result of the opposite kind of bomb — capable of wreaking death and desolation — being discovered behind the newsstand in Wilmington's Main Post office last Thursday morning.

EARLE, Art. — As local elections approach, white retaliation is increasing against the black community of this small, rural town. Black people make up 80 per cent of the population.

Chicago, Ill. — Racial disturbances quelled by police this week at Fenger High School, 11220 S. Wallace, have resulted in the injury of over 100 students, and the arrest of six others.

Chicago, Ill. — The Annual Black and Minority Business and Cultural Expo, sponsored by Operation Breadbasket, is getting it together in 1970. The Rev. Jesse Jackson, National Director of Operation Breadbasket, has announced that the exposition will be held at the International Amphitheatre, November 11-15, 1970.

Chicago, Ill. — Two 13-year-old boys were shot in the neck at week's end while playing in a lot at 1216 S. Laflin, by a group of older youths, who a witness said identified themselves as members of the "4-Trey Disciples" gang.

Pittsburgh Courier, said in making the announcement that NNPA had been planning for some time to name an executive director to share the administrative responsibilities of the association; and decided at the June annual convention to make the move. The board selected Mr. Briscoe at the fall meeting, he added.

WILLKIE HOUSE

Thirty children enjoyed the movie "Misty" last Friday at the Plaza Theater. The Women's America Organization for Rehabilitation and Training sponsored the film and local businesses donated the tickets for the children.

Preschool at Willkie will begin November 3. Three year olds will meet in the morning session, Tuesdays and Thursdays, 9:30-11:30. An afternoon session, 1:00-3:00 on the same days is planned for four year olds. Miss Margaret Swank, a graduate from Iowa State, has extensive training and background in child development programs. She will be directing the entire Preschool program.

Five to eight year old children, under the direction of Miss Lonna Anderson, had an exciting pumpkin picking experience at a local farm, Monday afternoon. Miss Anderson works at Willkie House under a special program of study at Iowa State.

FFF Banquet and Life Membership Luncheon Are Main Features

Roy Wilkins, Executive Director of the NAACP, will be the principal speaker at the Annual Meeting of the Iowa State Conference of NAACP Branches.

The meeting will be held in Des Moines, from Oct. 31-Nov. 1, at the Savery Hotel.

Workshop Speakers Workshops on education, employment, and civil rights organizations will be offered on Friday and Saturday.

Some of the workshop discussion leaders and panelists are: Allen Correll, executive director of the Des Moines Human Rights Commission, Alvin Hayes, Jr., director of the Iowa Civil Rights Commission, Pete Townsend, director of the United Black Federation, James Payne, director of Housing for Model Cities, Preston Love, marketing representative, IBM Corporation, Jesse High, director of Urban Affairs, Robert White, director of Community Relations, Planned Parenthood, Silas S. Ewing, president of Spence Ewing and Associates, Inc., and Wesley Chapman, Minority Representative, Blue Cross and Blue Shield Insurance Company.

Conference Highlight The highlight of the convention is The Freedom Fund Banquet, scheduled for 7:00 P.M. Saturday, Oct. 31 at the Savery Hotel.

Roy Wilkins will be the featured speaker at the banquet.

Awards will be given at the banquet to the branch with the largest increase in membership, percentage wise, during the past year.

Membership Drive Wilkins is one of the top NAACP personnel who is touring the country in this year-end campaign to assure a total of at least 450,000 members for the year ending Dec. 31, 1970.

The NAACP's drive for membership is being given top priority at a series of NAACP state conferences being held this fall in all sections of the country. Registration for the conference starts at 8:00 A.M. Friday and lasts all day.

Special Rates Anyone under 21 may take advantage of the special youth rate and attend the entire conference for only ten dollars, this includes luncheon, workshop, and dinners.

The cost for adults is fifteen dollars for the banquet and five dollars for the luncheon and workshops.

Life Membership Luncheon Included in the conference program is a Life Membership Luncheon at the Savery Hotel, Friday Oct. 30 at 12 noon, honoring Mrs. Georgine C. Morris, founder of the State Conference. Mrs. Morris has been active in the NAACP for more than fifty years.

Gentry Sworn In

Nolden Gentry was sworn in as a member of the Des Moines School Board Monday, the first of his race to be elected to the post.

Gentry won in the special election against 4 other candidates receiving more than half the total vote.

He will attend his first board meeting as a member Wednesday when the School Board meets at 1 p.m. in the board conference room to plan the Des Moines School District's 1971-72 budget.

Gentry, 33, is an attorney and lives at 4303 Wakonda Parkway. He will serve the remaining 11 months of the term of the Rev. L. Robert Keck who resigned from the board last month to move out of the city.

Honors Planned for State Chaplain

"The American Legion is one organization that knows no color bar."

Talking is Mrs. Harriet Gorden, a petite Davenport woman who is the Legion's Iowa Dept. chaplain.

She was elected state chaplain at the auxiliary department convention in Des Moines. "It was quite a wonderful thing, I thought, being from a minority group," she said.

"When they first told me I was elected, I simply closed my eyes and prayed. I was so thankful," said Mrs. Gorden.

Mrs. Gorden is also 2nd district auxiliary chaplain, a post she has held for the past six years.

The Scott county auxiliary will honor its successful member this Sunday, Nov. 1, from 2 to 5 p.m. at the American Legion Post 26 Snug Harbor, Davenport.

"I have been a Legion Auxiliary member since 1945. I joined when my brother entered the service, and he just retired May 30," she said.

Mrs. Gorden said that it was not at all "uncommon for a black woman to be elected to an American Legion auxiliary office."

"If you are capable you are in. If you are not capable, you don't get the job," she said a bit embarrassed by the implications of calling herself "capable."

"It is this way all over the state. The girls here in Scott County are just wonderful," she said.

As legion auxiliary department chaplain, Mrs. Gorden opens and closes state meetings with a prayer. She is also chairman of the Gold Star Membership, a group who have lost husbands, sons or brothers in the service.

Mrs. Gorden's membership and service to the Bethel AME Church, Davenport, covers an even longer span than does her auxiliary membership. She has been church secretary for 33 years.

Mrs. Gorden will conduct vesper services on Nov. 22 in Des Moines and memorial services in July at the end of her service as state auxiliary chaplain.

130 persons attended open house honoring Mrs. Gorden. Some of those present were: past Department Presidents, District Presidents, District Department Commanders, past 2nd District Vice commander, past County Presidents, (several were in the receiving line) Unit Presidents, who served as hostesses and at the tea table, and the Department President of Illinois.

She presided at the U.N. dinner at Hotel Blackhawk. Also attending the Iowa State Conference is the Director of the Human Relations Commission of Davenport, W. C. Cribbs and Robert Smith, president of the Catholic Interracial Council. Mr. Smith is a graduate of Central High and employed at the telephone company. This is the first time the C.I.C. has sent their representative to the Iowa State Conference.

To Attend NAACP Conference

Those planning to attend the Iowa State Conference of NAACP from Davenport are the state and local president, Thomas Kelley, Father Francis Duncan, St. Ambrose College, Mrs. Archie Silvan, local secretary and Miss Cecile Cooper.

Reliable Batteries

In 1901, the New York Electric Vehicle Transportation Company had 100 nickel-iron batteries in service, each averaging 1,000 miles of travel per month. Today, the same type of battery is used in a variety of actual and experimental electric car applications.

Peacekeeping Forces

A symposium on "U.N. Peacekeeping Forces, Destruction or Preservation of World Peace?" will be conducted Oct. 31 at Augustana College by the Council on International Relations and United Nations Affairs (CIRUNA). Jane Williamson will be symposium coordinator.

A New York tour and United Nations seminar have been scheduled by St. John's United Methodist Church, Davenport, on November 1-5, 1970.

In Davenport, Mayor John Jebens asked for U.N. observance, stating "the crucial importance of effective international cooperation must be stressed" in "building the kind of peace with freedom and justice on which all our futures depend." Inez Pfannkuchen is president of Scott County.

BRAZZAVILLE, Congo — The Congolese weekly newspaper ETUMBA called the United States the most "hypocritical" government in the world in a recent article.

ETUMBA expressed support for Black Americans and strongly condemned the U.S. for its oppression and increasing slaughter of its Black citizens.

...CALLING ATTENTION to the economic entrapment of Blacks the article said "several hundreds of thousands of youth (mainly Afro-Americans) throughout the United States are unemployed. It can be said, "the article continued "that this is a new blow to the Black people in the United States. There is twice as much unemployment among the Blacks as among the whites. Increase in unemployment, a usual phenomenon in a society characterized by exploitations, is hitting the Black population in particular."

"The Black population continues to endure all kinds of suffering. They are the victims of social inequality and social injustice unbelievable in the modern world."

"In major centers in the north, segregation has become more stringent," the article said. "In Philadelphia, 60 per cent of the Black pupils are segregated from their white schoolmates; in Detroit, the figure is 59 per cent; and in Chicago, 85 per cent. Racial discrimination de jure and de facto is not restricted to the educational field; it affects many phases of life in the United States," ETUMBA added.

"All these facts prove that the U.S. government is really one of the most hypocritical in the world. The U.S. regime is completely racist and fascist. The American society has become a rotten and loathsome society which will be short-lived," the article warned.

Ali Takes Quarry 3 Round TKO

After 3½ years of idleness, Muhammad Ali scored, what he considered a "social victory" over the young Jerry Quarry, Monday night in Atlanta's Municipal Auditorium.

Before 5,000 screaming fans, referee, Tony Perez stopped the fight into the third round on a technical knockout due to the gash over Quarry's eye.

"The doctor never came in," explained Perez. "I made the decision myself."

A Social Victory
"It was more than a win for a fighter — it was a social victory," said Ali. He was stripped of his crown in 1967 for refusing to serve in the military.

Ali was sentenced to five years in jail and fined $10,000 by a federal judge; he appealed the case and never went to jail.

He now sets his sights on Joe Frazier, who captured the championship during Ali's absence.

Quarry Was Overmatched

In the first round, Quarry was rocked by two stiff rights to the head which sent him staggering to his corner.

Quarry was showing signs of discouragement as he plopped on his stool after round one.

In round two, Ali delivered a vicious hook and landed a heavy right to the head.

As Quarry retreated to his corner, a lump formed over his left eye and he was bleeding at the mouth.

The Decisive Third
Then came the decisive third round. Each time Quarry lunged forward he was met by a barrage on Ali punches.

It was after two left jabs, a left hook and a right cross that referee Perez stepped in to stop the fight.

The victory may be worth as much as $1 million to Ali and Quarry's purse could be near $500,000.

Black Canon Endorses Marijuana

we replace the traditional coffee hour after church with a turned-on smoke in, but I am saying that if an adult comes to the coffee hour and decides to smoke marijuana instead of cigarettes, he should not be subject to criminal liability," Canon Walter D. Dennis, Jr., told a congregation of about 600 at the cathedral's Sunday morning worship service.

"Maybe 20 million youngsters smoke marijuana regularly," the 38 year old Canon told the audience. "The pressing question for us is: How should the church in the 1970's respond?"

"Perhaps," he said, "the task of Christians and churchmen is not to condemn marijuana use, but rather to find out what, if any, is the good use of marijuana. Then we might know the meaning of the text, 'And God saw everything that he had made and behold it was very good.'"

Following his sermon, many of the listeners surrounded the clergyman to congratulate him for his stand. He was also supported by the Right Rev. Paul Moore, the Episcopal Bishop of New York. Moore, who was in Houston, Tex., attending the general convention of the Episcopal Church of America, praised Canon Dennis for raising "important questions."

"I am totally sympathetic to the tenor of his remarks," he said in an interview. "I think the church has been dragging its feet on this issue and it's time we faced it."

Dennis urged the church to take the lead in "pressing for more equitable and realistic laws" to replace

INDOOR BASEBALL SCORES A HIT

In at least one public school district, baseball and rain have become fair foul-weather friends. To the children who benefit, cloudy skies have a singular meaning: "Play Ball!"

It all started when Robert G. Ross, an innovative coordinator of health and physical education, decided to do something about the weather for his elementary and junior high school "Sultans of Swat." By installing 10 sets of a newly developed baseball pitching machine, one for each school in his district, he was able to substitute an excitement-generating team sport for the monotonous indoor athletic activity that often accompanies the drizzles.

Begun as a pilot program for teaching the full range of softball skills—when inclement weather makes it impossible to hold classes out of doors—the equipment proved so successful that it will be made a part of the physical education program throughout Long Island's Uniondale, N.Y. school district next year.

Called Pow-R-Pitch, the machine operates on standard AC current and, with extension cords, can also be used out of doors... the plastic baseballs having been specially designed to be wind resistant. But, when thunder and lightning threaten the sandlot, students can have rapid fire batting practice and, in game situations held right in the gymnasium, polish their running, throwing and catching skills as well.

Though Pow-R-Pitch can be set up for automatic ball tossing (8 pitches in less than a minute), the gym instructor (or one of the players) can, with a single ball, regulate real game activity. When this is done, the basic rules governing softball apply, except there is no need for the pitcher, and instead of the catcher, a Pitchback net is rigged to trap the Pow-R-Pitched balls, not allowing them to rebound.

Manufactured and distributed by the Linen Thread Division, a part of Indian Head, a complete set of this rain-and-shine equipment includes one Gold Medal Pow-R-Pitch plastic baseball pitching machine, two hollow (and safe) plastic baseball bats, a supply of plastic baseballs (also safe) and one Gold Medal Pitchback rebound net. Costs range between $35 and $50, depending on which size Pitchback net is specified.

So, if the raindrops keep falling on your head, give a thought to Uniondale's Sultans of Swat. And, while you're at it, give a listen too. You just might be able to hear a youthful and exuberant, "Play Ball!" reverberating somewhere behind the clouds.

Apollo Launch

Nickel stainless steel played an important role in the ground support equipment used for the Apollo 10 launch. The mobile launcher contains about one and a quarter million pounds of austenitic stainless steel and tubing in propellant and hydraulic lines. Cryogenic storage and transfer equipment in the two Apollo pads contain an additional 3,500,000 pounds of nickel stainless steel.

The next time you face 10,000 indians...

and your water supply's low — and you know your message didn't get through to the fort — stop and relax a minute and ponder the miracle of television. It's just one of many different electric appliances you use every day. Never before have you had so many working for you at such a low cost.

When you stop and think about it, energy is really quite a bargain.

Policyholder Questions Answered by The Institute of Life Insurance, 277 Park Ave., N. Y., N. Y., 10017

Q. My husband wants to buy an expensive new car, although we can't really afford one this year. With the interest rates at the banks and finance companies so high, my husband says he's going to pay for the car by borrowing from the cash value of his $10,000 life insurance policy. I've heard that you should only borrow against it in case of a real emergency. We have four youngsters and I don't work. What can I say to give up this idea?

A. You'd be wise to point out several pitfalls to your husband before he borrows against the cash values of his life insurance to purchase a new car.

First, if something should happen to him before he's repaid the loan, the amount still owed would be deducted from the proceeds that are paid to you and the children. Any interest due would be taken out, too. So at a time when your family would probably need the money most, you'd get less.

The cash value in addition to being a "real emergency" fund is also a safety margin in your policy that can keep your life insurance in force if you aren't able to pay the premiums, but if you've already borrowed heavily on the policy, a little or none of the safety margin will be left if you do need it.

Failure to pay the yearly interest on a policy loan adds to the amount owed, too. If the balance due on the loan plus the accumulated interest is more than the cash value of the policy, the whole policy may lapse - and you and your family would no longer have that protection. Of course, this won't happen as long as the premiums and interest are paid up. But there's always the chance that a real financial emergency might prevent you from making the payments.

And once you do decide to borrow against a policy, you may find it is easy not to repay it. Life insurance companies don't pressure you about it - and no definite time limit is set up for repayment - you're on your own.

It's really better to borrow against the cash value of your insurance policy only in case of a true emergency.

What's keeping you from looking good? Getting gray?

It's only natural to panic a little when you see those first gray hairs...or when you realize that chemical processing is slightly fading your natural color. Many women, just like you, hesitate to use permanent peroxide haircoloring because they don't want to change their natural color. What to do?

Hair care and beauty experts agree that slightly graying and fading can add years to a young woman's looks...but they also know what takes the years away. Loving Care®, Clairol created this semi-permanent hair color lotion without peroxide. It colors only the gray or faded hair...and doesn't change your natural shade. There's no haircoloring gentler. Your hair stays shining and healthy-looking through a month of shampoos.

If you have questions about your hair, you're wise to go to the experts. Professional hairdressers have the whole family of fine Clairol products and the training to promise each patron the loveliest, most personalized results.

So don't panic. Be comforted with a quick visit to the expert...your hairdresser. And keep on looking good!

Your professional hairdresser has all the answers...ask for a free consultation today!

Alonzo Whittaker remains a patient in St. Joseph Hospital.

Mrs. Henrietta Pearl, dietitian from St. Joseph Hospital, was one of five on the program on Thursday, Oct. 22, for diabetics held in Keokuk Senior high school cafeteria. The theme was "Personal Care of Diabetics".

Mrs. Mary Wallace recently attended the District State Baptist Convention in St. Louis, Mo. held in the Gallilee Baptist Church.

Mrs. Ilice Holmes, formerly of this city now of Chillicothe, Mo. joined Mrs. Wallace at Hannibal, Mo. and together attended the convention.

Mrs. William Busch has returned from Wichita, Kansas, after spending a few weeks with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Weldon.

The Keokuk Education Association in cooperation with the Keosippi Shopping Plaza is presenting a program in connection with American Education Week Oct. 25-31. The theme for the program is "Shape Schools for the 70's".

Each evening a different program with students participating from all schools.

It is good to report this particular week that John Parsons, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Parsons is happy with the college of his choice, Lea College, Albert Lea, Minnesota. He is a 1970 graduate.

Another young man whom Keokuk is very proud of is Melvin Bates, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ora Bates. He was recently appointed to the post of assistant to director of admissions at Mankato State College.

Mr. Bates, who lives in Minneapolis, Minn., has the responsibility for recruitment of minority group students in metropolitan Minneapolis-St. Paul area. In addition, his assignment in work in the Social Studies department working in the Minorities Studies area. Mr. Bates received his B. S. degree from Iowa Wesleyan College and his M.A. degree from Mankato State, Minn.

Rev. Leonard N. Williams, pastor, Payne Memorial AME Church conducted installation ceremony for all newly elected officers of the church, the clubs and auxiliaries. The sermon was delivered by Rev. Edward Duncan, pastor, of Church of the Brethren of Preston, Minn., on Sunday evening October 25. Grand opening of Kay's Funeral Home, 303 Independence Ave., was held Sunday October 25. Dick Kay is owner and director, Harold Culpepper, associate director.

Two bus loads of interested citizens toured some projects and programs made possible through funding of various Federal agencies. John Deere Foundry Virden Creek flood control project, Hawkeye Products rehabilitation, Park Towers and United Housing projects and others were visited and pointed out since time did not permit to see all of them. Tour was sponsored by Chamber of Commerce and directed by Urban Renewal. Having attended ground breaking of United Housing in July, it was interesting to see what progress had been made in constructing 114 apartment buildings; some three bedroom, two bedroom and one bedroom as well as twelve town houses. There will also be a community Center.

On Thursday, November 5, at Parkview Gardens Care Center, 310 Upland, at 10:30 a.m. a film will be shown on the care of the geriatric patient. All senior citizens are invited to be present and see the film. It is hoped that Midtown Senior Citizens will contact me or the Center in order that we may arrange for transportation. This will take place on our afternoon meeting on first Thursday.

Last Sunday was the quarterly meeting at St. John A.M.E. Church. Rev. Robert Clay, pastor of St. John A.M.E., presented the Rev. William H. Burnette, Jr., presiding Elder of the Des Moines - Quincy District, who delivered the very inspiring message.

Mrs. Paty Clay, wife of Rev. Clay, directed the junior choir. She was also requested to sing a solo "The Lord's Prayer" which she did beautifully.

Out of town visitors at the Sunday morning worship services were Mrs. Herbert T. Birditt, of St. James A.M.E. Church, Monmouth, Illinois.

Mrs. Camilla Eichelberger, Chicago, Ill., the mother of Mrs. Robert Clay, Mrs. Margaret Jones and Mrs. Lelia Rideau, her aunts, from Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Weldon have returned home from Browndeer, Wisc., where they visited their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Williams, and children Albert and Jeffery.

DeEdwin White has been elected delegate to Iowa State Conference of Branches of NAACP which convenes in Des Moines this coming weekend. Mrs. DeEdwin White is alternate.

Miss Sandra Cheers, cheerleader at Burlington High School, was in Galesburg last weekend to help cheer her team to victory.

The children of St. John A.M.E. Sunday School had a hayride at Hartman farms last Sunday night. After the ride they were treated to pizza, hot chocolate and cookies. Mrs. Verla Lewis was in charge of the refreshments. She was assisted by Mrs. Gladys White.

Tuesday, Nov. 3, Mrs. Helen Berry and Mrs. Yvonne Stitts will be hostesses at a linen shower for Mrs. Robert Clay at the Berry residence at 7:30 p.m. All ladies of the church are welcome.

Thursday night the 29th of Oct. the Julia Folks Missionary Society of St. John A.M.E. Church sponsored a get acquainted affair at the church. Guests were the Maggie Lee Missionary Society, of Union Baptist Church. Hostesses were Mrs. Verla Lewis and Mrs. Yvonne Stitts.

Mrs. Sam Kersch is a medical patient in Eastman Unit of Memorial Hospital.

Mrs. Adah Gipson returned to work after being ill at home for a week. Mr. Loyatus Clark of Des Moines was a visitor in the home of his cousin, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Clark this past weekend.

DON'T BE SO HARD ON YOURSELF!

- Pick a quiet time when the kids are out from underfoot.
- Set yourself a realistic time limit—and stick to it.
- Figure out a method of attack and begin!

Here's a plan for shaping up the entire kitchen in 2 hours. Of course the time you'll have to spend depends upon the size of your kitchen. You'll need the proper cleaning equipment:

1. Window spray
2. Oven Cleaner
3. Floor Wax
4. And a bottle of all-purpose cleaner like Tomorrow's Lestoil that's made for cutting through the kind of grease and grime that accumulates in kitchens.

THE MODEL CITIES AREA LITTLE ALL AMERICAN FOOTBALL LEAGUES have closed their games for the season. Which leaves them up front, the leaders for Model Cities' sports participation. The coaches have introduced something new to be strengthened and developed in the area. They have accomplished this with the least possible delays and the least support of any undertaking known to this writer! They and their boys have achieved so much without us, it goes without saying what they shall accomplish next year with us!

LAST SATURDAY NIGHT'S POTLUCK DINNER AND PROGRAM was an exciting occasion. It was the lightweight team's first celebration of its kind. The players, their coaches and their wives, parents and other family members, totaling approximately 75 persons, enjoyed a bountiful potluck dinner at Willkie House. Their festive table, beautiful in colorful fall decorations, was piled high with foods and goodies ready for second, thirds — whatever the youthful guests desired.

THE LEAGUE'S DINNER COMMITTEE MEMBERS WERE Mrs. Sandra Johnson, Mrs. Vera Morrow, Mrs. Pat Day, Mrs. Ethel May and Mrs. Elaine May. Each family supplied fried chicken for its household. A joint effort rounded out the remainder of the menu with such items as baked beans, potato salad and the like! A cash donation from members of surrounding communities helped this tiny Model Cities group honor its fine sportsmen and their coaches. So it can be said that the players and their coaches worked and trained hard and their efforts were now matched by their backers who are always the mothers, the wives, family members and well-wishing community members!

SANDRA JOHNSON, SONNY'S MISSUS, moderated the program at which her husband passed out certificates to the three outstanding players selected by the team members! These players were Henry Davis, Most Valuable Player; Carl Bruce, Most Improved Player; and Clyde McGregor, the Player Most Likely to Succeed in Football!

THE PLAYERS SURPRISED THEIR COACHES by presenting them trophies acquired by a little fundraising of their own! So honored were Head Coach Sonny Johnson, and Coaches Art McCune and Larry Fowler.

CARL MAYS, SO VERY, VERY ILL EARLIER THIS YEAR, shared a get-well note from Elder Don McLeod who wrote from the Republic of Portuguese Angola, West Africa. The "card" a 6 1/2" x 9 1/2" page, when opened, pictured two roomfuls of children seated at desks. They were a beautiful, healthy lot busy at work in a most attractive school room. I appreciated reading Mays' note. It found me unprepared for prayers from so far away — in this day and time! Excerpts of the events of McLeod's ministry follow:

MCLEOD, A MISSIONARY FROM ENGLAND APPEARS to have been in Angola on three months at the time of this writing: "...but already and seen 425 souls profess faith in Christ"; "...at least 20 ministers granted government permits to preach"; "...and now 130 preachers, 130 new assemblies with over 17,000 believers." He added "people are believing so fast I am burdened about their spiritual progress as only about 3% of those who believe can read and write. Pray for the African preachers, especially those near to terrorist infested areas, who are in much danger!" He spoke of his "loneliness without his wife, Mirell, and the children, Donnie, Dwight and Merry back in England!"

Mrs. Wilberforce Minter was happily surprised Sunday afternoon, Oct. 25, on her birthday when some of her friends gave her a house warming at her new apartment, 1551 12th St. Useful gifts and money were given to her and a hot luncheon was served.

Mrs. Beatrice Cooper and Mrs. Minter have birthdays Oct. 25. Mrs. S. McCraven has a birthday Oct. 31. A prayer was given to bless Mrs. Minter in her apartment. Mrs. Rosetta Saunders of Des Moines and Mrs. Madeline Aldridge of Missouri were other guests. All expressed an enjoyable afternoon.

The Community on The Go Sponsors Halloween Party

The Community on The Go Committee is sponsoring a Halloween Party Thursday evening, Oct. 29 from 6:30 to 8:30 P.M. The entire family is invited to come and join the fun. Mrs. Clara Eaves is party chairman. Members of her committee are Mesdames Veva Kamp, Muriel Boggs, Johnnie Mae Humbard, Betty Phillips, Sandy Bell. Associate members are Carol Hasselbrink, Penny Bergman, Laura Carson, Mary Michaels and Donald Carter. Prizes and refreshments for all.

Mrs. Ibbie White Leaves City

A whirl wind of parties were given for Mrs. Ibbie R. White who is leaving the city for a new home in Mexico.

Mrs. White has had dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Jessie Daniels, Mr. and Mrs. Hale Snyder, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bailey and Mr. and Mrs. David Cropp.

Two surprise handkerchief showers were held by the Mother's, Deaconess and Stewardess Council and also the Usher Board of Bethel A.M.E. Church.

Mrs. White was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. James Stubberfield at the Union Baptist Church and attended a brunch given by Mr. and Mrs. Travis Bailey.

Mrs. White left Sunday for her new home taking with her best wishes from a host of friends.

Wannawaka Club Holds Meeting

The Wannawaka's had their second pig in the poke at Mrs. Dorothy Baughns home Oct. 2. There were many gifts auctioned and the most unusual was a beautifully wrapped box with eight apples. Carmen Johnson was the auctioneer, Jean Berry was the bearer of gifts, and Marney Taylor was recorder. Refreshments were served.

On Oct. 9 the winning side of the contest we had during our first two months were taken to Babes Restaurant for steak and cocktails. The winning side was Marnie Taylor, Lurba Taylor, Dorothy Baughns and Carmen Johnson. Wannawakes are planning a bazaar for the 13th of Nov. at the home of Mrs. Jean Pinson.

Wannawaka's will meet this Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Marney Taylor, and the members will exchange their goofy halloween gifts. Carmen Johnson President and Marcel May Secretary.

Three Purpose Club Meets

The Three Purpose Club met at the home of Mrs. Edith Webb. After the various committee reports, the program committee presented a travelogue which was an extemporaneous story told by each girl of her summer vacation. The girls have traveled from the East coast to the West coast, family reunions, graduations, fishing trips, first airplane ride and many new experiences were

Model Cities Residents Form a Community Theatre

The development of a black drama program in the Model Cities Area is being made possible through the combined efforts of the Des Moines Community Playhouse, the Drake University Drama Department and the Expanded Use of School Facilities Project at Washington Irving Junior High.

This program will include provision for expression in the art of activity through participation in stage productions for children, teenagers, young adults, and adults. The development of the individual as he functions in a group will be stressed, and emphasis will be placed on building or improving self-concept and personal enjoyment in dramatic productions.

Enrollment in the program, as well as tryouts for the first play, will be held Sun. Nov. 1, from 3-5 P.M. in the Washington Irving auditorium.

417 - A One-Act Play

The one-act play, 417, by actor Playwright Julien Mayfield, reflects the problems of a Harlem family. It was first presented during the summer of 1953 at Camp Unity in the Berkshire Mountains. It was most recently presented at the University of California at Santa Barbara last February. It will be presented at Washington Irving Dec. 4-5, at Drake University Dec. 10-13, and at The Des Moines Community Playhouse.

Julia B. Mayer Center

Part I PRE-SCHOOL

The Julia B. Mayer Center is offering a Pre-School program for three, four, and five year olds. A planned educational experience for the Pre-School child can help him develop to his fullest — physically, emotionally, socially, and intellectually. Such an experience is most helpful to a child's future learning and making the most of his abilities in later life. You are urged to register your Pre-School child at the Center office immediately. Classes will meet Thursday and Friday mornings each week from 9:30-11:30 A.M.

PRIMARY

The Primary Program for 5-11 year old children is after school and on Saturdays with Saturday Fun Day from 9:30 to 3:00 P.M. After-school programs are from 3:45-5:15 P.M. Health for All

COAL BLACK LUNGS

The lungs of coal miners take a terrible beating.

"Black lung" — a crippling, sometimes fatal respiratory disease caused by inhaling coal dust — is common among coal miners. And last summer the federal government's Environmental Health Service began giving chest X-rays to 90,000 underground coal miners. The program will last a full year.

"The primary purpose of this program will be to warn miners who show X-ray evidence of significant pneumoconiosis (black lung)," says Charles G. Johnson, administrator of the program. "In such cases, the law provides that affected miners can be transferred from underground work to a less dusty environment to prevent the disease from becoming worse."

A recent study of autopsies of coal miners found a very high incidence of emphysema, another crippling lung disease. The tiny air sacs in the lungs of a person with emphysema lost their elasticity and rupture, and used air cannot be breathed out. This destructive process, the study found, can develop with less than 20 years of underground exposure. The prevalence of both chronic bronchitis and emphysema increases with age in coal miners.

The kind of air we breathe affects our lungs, as the study of the coal miners shows so graphically. Most of us breathe polluted air, and smokers pollute their own atmosphere.

Find out more about air pollution and the facts about bronchitis and emphysema. Contact your local tuberculosis and respiratory disease association. They know it's a matter of life and breath.

A FAIR RULE
WORKS BOTH WAYS

Over the years Negroes have been able to force exclusion from public facilities to take a back seat particularly where tax funds were involved. However, since the advent of more desegregation in the South, more private schools have sprung up from which Negroes were excluded.

The Internal Revenue Service is denying tax exemption for many of these schools. The department of Health, Education and Welfare is also denying aid to some. It is insisting that public schools desegregate or lose funds from the federal government.

Only recently in Cedar Rapids, Iowa, a parking lot owned by the Elks Lodge was disallowed tax exemption because the lodge did not admit Negroes to membership.

But the pendulum was bound to swing the other way and will be more so as misguided people organize groups that exclude white people.

The heads of predominantly Negro colleges have been prodding the federal government for more funds insisting that what they are now receiving is only a drop in the bucket to what the big predominately white schools receive.

For many years no white students attended most of these schools even though most of them had some white teachers.

The department of Health, Education and Welfare which dispenses school funds took note of this situation and informed those without white students to change this policy of forfeit their allocation of funds.

Of course, this is only a fair application of the law that the federal government cannot contribute funds for anything from which a person is excluded because of his race.

EACH FELLOW SPEAKS FOR HIMSELF

At a meeting of a rather prominent interracial women's organization, a Negro member was asked why Negroes did not make known, in more definite terms, that they disapproved of the continuous law violators and those people who are constantly causing trouble in the city.

That is a big question and yet it can be answered by asking why those people don't shout from the housetops against the white people who do these same things also.

The reason, of course, is simple. Des Moines does have many law abiding, substantial Negro citizens with character and responsibility just as white people. But like the white citizens, the Negro is not going down the street singing that he has good character, is a substantial dependable person enjoying most of the things all citizens should. His jobs is to live the life of a responsible citizen and need not go out on missions to prove it.

They go about their business caring for their families, working for an honest living, educating their children, observing the law and supporting their state and nation just as all good citizens do.

During a recent disturbance, a statement was read over the televisions by a young man condemning "the establishment" as enemies of the Negro and claiming to speak for the Negro community. This, of course, is ridiculous no more than some misguided white person would claim that he spoke for the white people in opposition to Negro rights.

Human nature works about the same in all groups. It is not up to any Negro to apologize for the conduct of another Negro; the

SPORTS

With Allen Ashby

Well, we feel like we did the day we were trying to lead a team in a semi-pro game back in our football days. We have lost about an acre of ground in two plays, and our brother, Lucius who was our coach, sent in a messenger. Our team promptly called time out to get the words of wisdom from our head coach. "What did coach say?" "He said, what in hell are you gonna do now?" We feel like that about our prediction on the Hawkeyes to win five games. Of course, they have a shot at it. All they have to do is beat Michigan and Minnesota on the road, and win both of their home games. With the Illinois team as mad as they are, we aren't sure about them losing to Iowa or anybody else except maybe Michigan.

We were sure the Michigan State game would be a close one. But the boys from Iowa just could not do anything right. Whatever Coach Nagel said after the game should be taken as the remarks of a man who had just been same is true of any citizen. A majority of the Negro community is law abiding. They, like all other citizens, will continue to do so.

VOTE AT THE ELECTION
NOV. 3

Americans go to the polls Tuesday to vote for candidates for U. S. Senator, governor and lesser officers. Many issues, requiring a vote of the people, will be in the ballot which calls for serious thought.

In Des Moines, in addition to the election of a U.S. representative governor and other state and county officers, two issues appear on the ballot.

One involves the annexation of an area north of the city, one a housing project in Southeast Des Moines.

The improvement in Southeast Des Moines is long past due. Most of the area is a disgrace providing few conveniences city people enjoy. It should be improved.

About the annexation, we have grave doubts. Today there are areas of unimproved property, some almost down town. The city does not have the funds to develop them.

As part of the improvement in the Model City area, in some instances, alleys have been paved while some bad streets have not been improved. We don't need more land. We can't or won't maintain.

President Nixon is making a strong bid for the election of more Republicans to Congress in order to pass some vital legislation which has been bottled up in committees for months. It is unfortunate that the opposition party can stymie his program when the public looks to him rather than Congress to move ahead.

But in any instance, get out and vote.

Activities of the Iowa
Civil Rights Commission

In the past year, the Iowa Civil Rights Commission has worked to help establish local human rights commissions in four cities, bringing the total human rights agencies to twenty-four.

It has worked to help agencies establish leadership in their communities by hiring directors and implementing programs to establish better relationships with minority communities.

The Commission itself had had four public hearings this year and has three more scheduled for November.

The work load of the Commission continues to increase. The charges before the Commission are primarily employment cases. We have also hit over the head with a baseball bat. No doubt there will be the usual game of who is the next coach, for we don't see how Nagel can keep his job, barring a sweep of the rest of his games, and even that may not be enough. Just a thought: we wonder if the rift of last year has ever completely healed.

Lawrence and Smith
Make Difference

The difference in Iowa's offense of last year and this year is the running and passing of Larry Lawrence and the blocking and line smashing of Tom Smith. So far there hasn't been any acceptable substitute for either man. But most of us thought that the Hawks did have a pretty good defense, and maybe they have if they get a chance to play a normal game. They could beat the Gophers at Minneapolis, but it will take a mighty effort and a ton of luck.

One of the Iowa players said it looked as if the Michigan State players knew what they were going to do in advance. Well, having seen Iowa play three games, we could nearly call the plays for them in advance, there was that little variation in the pattern. Maybe things will change come this weekend.

The guy at Iowa State must have died by inches as he watched his team give their game away. The Cyclones really had a fine shot at winning this one, but mistakes simply proved too much of a handicap. We watched the films of the game, and we didn't know who was playing for whom. Those guys are capable of upsetting somebody who cannot afford to be upset, and may just do it before the season is over.

had a large number of cases involving housing complaints in the city of Des Moines.

The Iowa Civil Rights Commission is also conducting a study of sex discrimination in the use of Want Ads and cultural bias in testing systems.

Since discrimination on the basis of sex has been added to the law, a large number of complaints have been received by the commission for women.

In many areas, the Civil Rights Commission has failed to make successful inroads. One such area has been the lack of communication with minority groups, such as the Mexican American and the American Indian.

Special attention has been given to minority students on the various college campuses. We have held meetings on four college campuses since the current term began. Our purpose and goal at these meetings is to inform students of their rights under the law and how to contact the Civil Rights Commission for help.

The Civil Rights Commission has also undertaken a study of the prison system and its shortcomings. We have been appalled at the lack of rehabilitation facilities in our penitentiaries. How can there be an end to violations of the law when the system itself breeds crime and violence.

We are happy that Nolden Gentry has been elected to the School Board, but do not consider this a solution to the many problems existing in the system. We also regret the departure of Perry Hooks, who has made a big contribution to the citizens of Des Moines, but we wish him well in his future job and look forward to working even closer with him.

Little can be said about great accomplishments by the Civil Rights Commission. The Commission has merely scratched the surface in its efforts to reach the problem. More must be done in the future to educate against discrimination.

The Commission is learning and as part of its self-education is moving into minority areas for contact with the man on the street.

The next meeting of the Civil Rights Commission will be at the Willkie House, beginning at 10 a.m. on November 5th. We invite our readers to attend this meeting and express themselves.

If you have a complaint or feel that you have been discriminated against, contact the Iowa Civil Rights Commission by telephoning (515) 281-5129 or writing to the Iowa Civil Rights Commission, State Capitol Building, Des Moines, Iowa 50319. We invite you to stop at the Commission offices located at 1209 East Court (Suite 405) and visit.
