THE LIGHT-RUNNING PLANO.

NO other machine can show such a happy record of rapid growth in public favor. Although the Plano is "the Infant" of the Harvester family, it has won a constant series of victories over its older brothers and now it is celebrated everywhere for the quality of its material, skillful construction, correct adjustments, and for its easy, honest work in the field.

IT OUGHT TO BE GOOD.

It has these superior merits because it is the perfect product of managers and workmen who are practical men of long experience. They do not boast of the immense number of Plano machines they have made, but they take pride in making every one of these machines so carefully and so well that harvest time always brings to the Plano

GOOD NEWS AND CONSTANT REJOICING.
