Rev. Ellis Butler Forsook Business Role for Ministry

By SAM JENSEN
Sunday Staff Writer

After serving with Eastman Kodak for two years in Rochester, N.Y., the Rev. Ellis Butler, pastor of Second Presbyterian Church, decided to return to the Midwest and prepare for the ministry.

"God wanted me to work with people rather than things," the Presbyterian minister said. The Rev. Mr. Butler is an industrial engineering graduate of Iowa State College at Ames which is his hometown.

Inspired by the clergyman's example, a member of the Rev. Mr. Butler's former congregation also has taken steps to make the transition from businessman to pastor.

A year ago Wendell C. Wright,

The Rev. Mr. Butler ... people rather than things.

Lincoln Clergymen

39, who belonged to the Rev. Mr. Butler's Westminster Presbyterian Church in Council Bluffs, Ia., decided to begin a six-year study course that would obtain for him a liberal arts and a theological degree.

Second Pastorate

Wright is now attending classes at Omaha University and working part time to support his family which includes a son who will enter college this fall.

The Rev. Mr. Butler came to Lincoln in August from Council Bluffs. Second Church is his second pastorate. He is a graduate of McCormick Theological Seminary and served in the Navy during World War II.

The Presbyterian minister believes that the pastor's main job is the total spiritual care of his congregation. And since a pastor is only one, the best way to achieve this end, according to the Rev. Mr. Butler, is the proper training of lay leaders.

Counseling Big Job

A major aspect of the church's job today, the Rev. Mr. Butler said, is pastoral counseling. The new emphasis on this aspect of churchmanship is due to added pressures on today's citizens which results in bigger and more intricate problems.

"The church member looks to his pastor for help and guidance," the Rev. Mr. Butler said.

The Rev. and Mrs. Butler have two children, Diane, 7, and Davey, 5. Second Presbyterian Church has a communicant membership of more than 800 and a church school enrollment of 350.

Greatest Gift

Our modern Christmas celebrations almost force us to concern ourselves with cards and gifts, tree and tinsel. We seldom have time to remember that we are celebrating the greatest gift of all time—a baby, even Jesus, the Christ.

God's love is so strong for us that He came Himself to express His concern for our welfare. He did not stay in Heaven in comfort and beauty, but came to earth to be born in a stable. But the birth itself is not the climatic highlight of Christmas. The real meaning of Christmas is that God so loves us that He came to be with us.

We need to strip away our clouded glasses of fear, guilt, anger, hatred, and pride and really accept this love which the Eternal God gives us daily in Christ Jesus. "For God so loved the world that He gave His only Son, that whoever believes in Him should not perish but have eternal life." John 3:16.

ELLIS H. BUTLER.
