Mr. John W. Macy, Jr., Chairman
U. S. Civil Service Commission
Washington, D. C.

Dear John:

As you know, we have completed our work for the White House in helping Frank Keppel organize to meet the new responsibilities of the Office of Education.

I want to tell you how much I appreciate the tremendous support we received from you and the Civil Service Commission. The recruitment and retention of competent and imaginative people is the real key to moving forward with the President's program. Continued help from the Commission for the next several months will be necessary to meet the rather ambitious goals we worked out with Frank Keppel.

Thanks again for your help.

Sincerely yours,

/s/ Dwight
