

Office of Education: A three-man task force is working on all phases of organization of the Office of Education. The President appointed the team to reshape the agency to enable it to manage better its new task of providing Federal aid to education.

Dwight Ink, assistant general manager of Atomic Energy; Nicholas J. Oganovic, deputy executive director of CSC, and Herbert Jasper of the Budget Bureau, are making the study. They are assisted by groups handling budget, personnel, ADP and grants-in-aid.
