March 3

Dear Tom,

I promised Gladys Black I would include this duck in my report, and then I completely forgot it. This past winter was so boring, I couldn't get up much enthusiasm for doing the report at all. And, as you can see, it wasn't really a "winter" report. Most of the sightings were late fall and early spring migrants.

And, thank goodness, we appear to be having an early spring. Just about every duck(except Blue-wing Teal) has already been seen; thousands of geese at Forneys.

✓ Yesterday March 2, Sandy and I saw 2 Franklin's Gulls at Manawa. That is a very early date for this area.

Heres hoping for a exciting spring---

American Black Duck x Mallard

January 15, 1983

Red Rocks Res. tailwaters

This unusual-looking duck had a green crown extending down to the eye, the rest of the cheeks and neck being tan. The body was very dark. Did not see the speculum. The bird was identified by B.J. Rose
