Welcome to Iowa State University

Iowa State University is an exciting place! With Big 12 Conference athletics, frequent performances by some of the world's top music and theatrical headliners, lectures by international figures and 600 student clubs and organizations to get students involved, the Iowa State campus is in constant motion.

Iowa State is also a quiet and scenic place. Named one of the three most beautiful campuses in the nation, Iowa State's expansive central campus is inviting, with many places to relax and enjoy the natural beauty. Reiman Gardens, located just south of Jack Trice Stadium, provides a truly breathtaking and enjoyable nature experience with its 14 acres of award-winning gardens, butterfly wing and conservatory. The campus also is an architectural and artistic treasure, with more than 100 major buildings of many different styles and genres (including some on the National Register of Historic Places) and the largest collection of public art in the nation.

Iowa State is rich in tradition. It's where George Washington Carver received his education, John Vincent Atanasoff invented the electronic digital computer and some of the most important discoveries in modern agriculture, science and technology are made.

In addition to being a university with an outstanding academic reputation, Iowa State prides itself on overall quality of life and the learning environment it provides for students. Both the Greek and residence hall systems are strong. The CyRide bus system makes it convenient to get around on campus and throughout the Ames community.

More than 7,000 students live in university-owned housing, making Iowa State's residence system one of the nation's largest.

From traditional student residences to suite-style living and apartments, ISU students today enjoy more options and amenities than ever before. And 2,300 students are members of fraternities and sororities, many of which are national award-winning chapters. Nearly half of Iowa State's freshmen join learning communities, which have been shown to markedly improve the likelihood of students staying in school and graduating. Students are grouped either by major or special area of interest, such as multiculturalism or entrepreneurship. Iowa State also helps its students after they graduate, with nationally recognized career services and exceptional placement rates.

High-tech learning facilities can be found throughout the campus, including the Gerding Business Building and the Engineering Teaching and Research Complex. Iowa State is a leader in wireless communication and has been recognized as one of the 20 "most unwired" campuses in the nation by Intel. Support and recreational services and facilities for students at Iowa State are among the best in the nation. ISU's Thielen Student Health Center is fully accredited and provides information, treatment and medical resources (including an on-site pharmacy) for the university community.

The 220,000-square-foot Lied Recreation Center offers a wide range of recreational facilities, including 20 basketball courts, nine racquetball courts, a 300-meter ground-level track, elevated track and extensive weight-training and aerobics equipment. About 75 percent of Iowa State students participate in intramural sports, and 95 percent use the recreation facilities on campus. In fact, Muscle and Fitness magazine recently recognized Iowa State as the third-fittest campus in the nation.

The Iowa State Center is the pride of Iowa State's entertainment and conference services program. Stephens Auditorium -- awarded "Building of the Century" by the American Institute of Architects, Iowa Chapter -- plays host to some of the world's premier orchestras and performers. Hilton Coliseum, home of "Hilton Magic," roars with the excitement of Cyclone athletics and popular concerts. Fisher Theater provides a smaller, more intimate setting for student stage productions and other events. And the Scheman Continuing Education Building is the site of many conferences and continuing education programs each year.

Gregory L. Geoffroy became president of Iowa State University on July 1, 2001, after serving as provost and senior vice president at the University of Maryland, College Park, for four years, and as a faculty member and administrator at Penn State University for 23 years. He also holds the faculty rank of professor of chemistry at Iowa State.

Dr. Geoffroy is leading Iowa State in achieving its vision of becoming the best university in the nation in advancing the land-grant ideals of education, research and service, and putting science and technology to work. He wants Iowa State to be recognized around the world as a leading research university, a student-centered university that provides a very high-quality education and an invaluable resource for Iowa, the nation and the world.

Dr. Geoffroy is a people-centered president. He spends much of his time getting out and around the campus, the community and the state of Iowa, visiting with students, parents and the people of Iowa to learn more about how Iowa State can better meet their needs. He frequently spends time meeting with students in residence halls, dining centers and fraternity and sorority chapters, and participating in student events on campus.

A nationally known researcher in organometallic chemistry, Dr. Geoffroy has published more than 200 research articles in refereed journals and presented more than 200 invited lectures throughout the United States and in nine other nations. He is co-author of the book Organometallic Photochemistry, and has directed the work of 37 doctoral students and 15 post-doctoral scholars.

His teaching and research have earned him fellowships from the Alfred P. Sloan Foundation and John Simon Guggenheim Foundation, visiting professorships to major universities in Germany and France, the Dreyfus Foundation Teacher-Scholar Award, and, in 1991, election as a Fellow in the American Association for the Advancement of Science. He has served in several leadership capacities in the Association for Universities for Research in Astronomy and in the American Chemical Society's Division of Inorganic Chemistry.

Dr. Geoffroy received a bachelor's with honors degree from the University of Louisville in 1968, served as an officer in the United States Navy from 1969-70, and earned his doctorate in chemistry from the California Institute of Technology in 1974. He was named an Alumni Fellow by Louisville in 1997. He and his wife, Kathleen Carothers Geoffroy, have four children (Susan, Janet, David, Michael).

Wishing the Cyclones good luck this Football season!!

Gameday Scouting Report

Offensively: Iowa State's offense struggled in the early going last week before scoring 24 points in the second half against Illinois State. Bret Meyer set career highs in completions (30) and attempts (41) while throwing for 314 yards. Stevie Hicks led all rushers with 90 yards. Fullback Ryan Kock scored twice on two carries. Austin Flynn caught seven passes in his debut as a wide receiver.

Iowa piled up 441 yards of offense against Ball State last week. The Hawkeyes used three different quarterbacks in the 56-0 victory. Iowa also had nine different rushers and 10 different receivers, as the starting offense played less than a half of football.

Defensively: The Iowa State defense tallied 11 tackles for loss last week, including four by defensive end Shawn Moorehead. Adam Carper and Jason Berryman each intercepted a pass, the first of their careers. Illinois State did not record a first down until the midway point of the second quarter, and ran only three plays from scrimmage inside the Cyclone 30-yard line.

The Iowa defense notched three sacks and a fumble recovery while allowing only 144 yards of offense. Six other defenders had four or more stops. Ball State amassed only three drives that were more than four plays in length, all late in the second half against the Iowa reserves.

Special Teams: Iowa State punter Troy Blankenship averaged 46.0 yards on five punts, including three of 50+ yards and a career-long 55-yarder. Three of his five punts landed inside Illinois State's 20-yard line, including a punt downed at the 1-yard line by Ryan Baum, leading to a safety. Sixth-year senior Tony Yelk made his first appearance since 2003, converting three PATs and a 25-yard field goal.

Iowa defensive back Jovon Johnson sparked the special teams, returning a quick kick 90 yards for a touchdown in the first quarter. Iowa only punted twice, with Andy Fenstermaker and John Gallery each getting an attempt. Place-kicker Kyle Schlicher was 8-for-8 on PATs and did not attempt a field goal.

Series Synopsis

Iowa leads the all-time series at 35-17 and has a 9-3 advantage in Jack Trice Stadium. Iowa has won the last two meetings and Iowa State has won five of the last seven games in the series. The winner of the game will take home the Cy-Hawk Trophy.

Bergstrom Indoor Training Facility

The Steve and Debbie Bergstrom Indoor Training Facility is one of the finest of its kind nationally. The newest addition to Cyclone athletics opened in March of 2004 and was dedicated on Sept. 3, 2004. It is another example of Iowa State University's continued commitment to excellence in athletics.

The facility encompasses 92,000 square feet and provides a weather-proof environment for ISU's 18-sport athletics program.

"It's a benefit to the entire athletic department," said Bruce Van De Velde, ISU's Director of Athletics. "With an 120-yard indoor practice field, it can be used for football practice, soccer and other sports programs for practice, training and conditioning. It certainly continues to assist Dan McCarney and our other head coaches while recruiting student-athletes nationally."

"It's one of the real final pieces we had been missing at this program and university," said McCarney. "It has had an unbelievable impact on our ability to prepare in regards to the weather. It has been worth the wait, and it is as good a facility that anyone has in the country, college or pro."

Funding for the project was done through private gifts and donations to the ISU Foundation. Lead donors for the project were Steve (BS '79) and Debbie Bergstrom of Montgomery, Texas. In all, over $10 million was raised, yet another example of the loyal support ISU alumni, donors and friends have for its intercollegiate athletics program.

All-American Grove

Since 1892, over 360 Iowa State University student-athletes have earned All-American honors. In 1992, an All-American Grove of trees and Walk of Honor was created to recognize their achievement. 310 trees were planted around Jack Trice Stadium and a brass plaque at the base of the tree notes the name, sport and year(s) these student-athletes earned national honors.

The All-American Grove and Walk of Honor affirm the level of excellence these student-athletes achieved at ISU. Each tree planted commemorates the signature of greatness left by one Cyclone's outstanding performance. We encourage you to take the Walk of Honor around Jack Trice Stadium. There you will view over 300 trees currently representing the past Cyclone All-Americans.

For over 100 years, Iowa State University has taken great pride in its beautiful campus setting at an institution where academic and athletic excellence is a priority. The All-American Grove underscores the rich heritage of college athletics and its role within the University mission.

The All-American Grove enhances the beauty of the Iowa State campus. You can play a role in this project by planting a tree for an individual All-American, helping to enhance the All-American Grove.

For further information, or if you would like to provide support to the All-American Grove, please contact the ISU Athletic Development Office, Craig Rueschhoff, at 515-294-5022 or go to www.cyclones.com.

Board of Regents

State of Iowa

The Board of Regents, State of Iowa, enhances the quality of life for Iowans statewide by governing five public educational institutions: Iowa's three state universities – the University of Iowa, Iowa State University, and the University of Northern Iowa – and two special K-12th grade schools – the Iowa School for the Deaf and the Iowa Braille and Sight Saving School. With a strong commitment to public accountability, the nine-member citizen board and its institutions ensure high-quality educational opportunities, foster the discovery of new knowledge, and provide needed services to benefit Iowans and the world.

For more information about the Board of Regents and its members, institutions, priorities, meetings, responsibilities, policies, and more, visit the Board's website: www.state.ia.us/educate/regents

The Hy-Vee Cy-Hawk Series

To most native Iowans, the annual Iowa State-Iowa football game is the state's marquee event. The fanfare, excitement and anticipation surrounding the event gives Cyclone and Hawkeye fans watercooler talk for months prior to and after the big game. What is hard to believe is that before 1977, Iowans were deprived of this grand event. Bad blood and constant feuding kept the schools from agreeing to a football contract from 1935-76. For 42 years the spirited rivalry was dormant.

The series began in 1894 with ISU winning 16-8. The first case of civil war was in 1897, when ISU's Foster Parker ran 40 yards for a touchdown in the second half. The Iowa coaching staff protested, claiming that the Cyclones committed a flagrant foul on the play, but no flag was thrown. Upset, the Iowa squad forfeited the game. The two teams did not play the next year, but resumed the series in 1899. It was contested annually except for three seasons until 1920. A key person in keeping the series together was Clyde Williams, ISU's football coach from 1907-12 and athletics director from 1907-19. A former All-American at Iowa, his voice of reason subsided many of the harsh ill feelings that existed between the two schools.

Tensions were not entirely absent from 1897-1920. Both teams reported illegal players had played in games against each other. The Hawkeyes uncovered that the Cyclones' Thomas Willett, who played four years with ISU, had competed two years at Grinnell. ISU then found out that a W.P. Knowlton had played four years for Upper Iowa before competing for Iowa. In 1907, Iowa head coach Mark Catlin said he received an anonymous phone call describing how Iowa star halfback Chick Kirk would be taken out of the game. In the Iowa State 20-14 victory, Kirk was tackled and injured while signaling for a fair catch.

After Williams left his athletics director post in 1919, Charles Mayser took over running the ISU athletics department. Mayser, who started the Iowa State wrestling program, was a tough-nosed Yale alumnus. Mayser and Iowa athletics director Howard Jones, another stubborn Yale alum, quickly got into an argument over whether Iowa State could use pitcher Ed Plagge in the baseball game between the two schools. Plagge used the spitball, which was a legal pitch in the Missouri Valley Conference, the league ISU was affiliated with. However, the spitball was prohibited in the Big Ten, the Hawkeyes' conference. Longtime Iowa State administrator Merl Ross told The Des Moines Register in 1977 about a phone conversation with Mayser and Jones.

"I've never heard such shouting and arguing over the phone," Ross said. "They were completely at odds over whether Iowa State could use Plagge. That's the first time I heard athletic officials of the schools talk to one another about breaking off athletic relations. I know that conversation did not help."

A survey was commissioned in 1916 under the direction of the U.S. Commissioner of Education and was presented to the State Board of Education. It reported: "The annual football game between the college and the university is the occasion for the revival of feuds, charges and countercharges, the reassertion of differences and criticisms, which, at best, have had only poor reasons for existence." This played an important role in halting the series for 13 years (1921-33).

When the series resumed in 1933, the highly favored Hawkeyes easily handled the Cyclones 27-7 in Iowa City. The same was expected the next season. The Cyclones were once again enormous underdogs. But ISU reversed the fortune, coming up with one of the greatest upsets in the series with a 31-6 domination of the Hawkeyes. The Cyclones held Iowa All-American Ozzie Simmons in check and were led by unlikely hero Tommy Neal. Neal, a sophomore from Sioux City, ran for 52 yards and dashed for three touchdowns to help clinch the Cyclone victory. Neal later recalled the events of that day to The Des Moines Register in 1977.

"George Veenker, our coach, was a master psychologist and really got us fired up for the Iowa game by bringing up some of the things Ozzie Solem (Iowa's coach) had said," Neal said. "It had been in the newspapers that Solem couldn't find a place on Iowa's schedule for Iowa State. He implied that we were some kind of cow college, and he said he wanted to play some schools from the east instead of us."

Solem wasn't the only one who shortchanged the Cyclones. The Des Moines Register had already designed its Sunday sports section with a photo of Simmons on the front page in anticipation of the Hawkeye rout. When information of a possible Iowa State upset began to arrive by Western Union, the staff scrambled to change the Simmons photo with a Neal picture. The Register staff found an archive photo of Neal in his high school playing days and changed the design in the nick of time.

After the 1934 game, Iowa showed no interest in continuing the series. Veenker sent letters to Solem requesting another contract. They went unanswered. Veenker personally asked Solem for a series contract when he saw him at the 1935 Drake Relays. Solem said he would get back with him in a couple of weeks. He never did.

In 1949, formal renegotiations actually began, but Iowa continued its stance of non-renewal and halted all inquiries from Iowa State and the State Legislature. Iowa used the 1920 resolution, upgrading it periodically to justify keeping it dormant. In 1965, the resolution read like this:

"The (University of Iowa) Board in Control of Athletics wishes to state again its belief that any activity, athletic or otherwise, which places the universities, their students, alumni, faculties or other friends in opposition to one another should be discouraged as not in the best academic interests of the institutions or the State of Iowa. The policy was originally adopted by the Board in Control of Athletics in 1920, and it was reaffirmed in 1935 after being abandoned in 1933-34. It was adopted again in 1960, and reaffirmed in May of 1964."

Everything changed in 1968, when Iowa athletics director and former grid coach Forrest Evashevski and Iowa State athletics director and former football coach Clay Stapleton agreed to a two-year contract starting in 1977. Iowa's athletic board agreed to the two-year deal, but was unaware that Evashevski committed the Hawkeyes for four more games. When Evashevski resigned in 1970, new Iowa athletics director Bump Elliott had an unsigned contract for the six-game series renewal on his desk. Since the Iowa athletic board never approved the final four games of the Evashevski deal, Iowa stated the series contract would only include two games. Iowa State officials were upset with this decision, addressing the situation with the Iowa State Board of Regents. An arbitrator was hired, and he ruled that Iowa was obligated to play the six-game series. The contract to renew the series was officially signed on Sept. 9, 1971, by Elliott and ISU athletics director Lou McCullough.

In 1977, the hype and excitement regarding the game was astronomical. The game was shown live on national television, and Sports Illustrated wrote a feature story about the series revival. Fans were primed and ready to show their respective school pride after hibernating for 42 years. As it turned out, the buildup of the game was more exciting than the contest itself. Defense was the key, as the heavily favored Cyclones could not generate any offense, falling to Iowa 12-10 in Iowa City. There were just 14 first downs in the entire game. Iowa State had eight and Iowa had six, including only one in the second half. But Iowa made the big plays and took advantage of three Cyclone turnovers.

Both sides saw the great exposure the game gave the State of Iowa and how well-received it was among Cyclone and Hawkeye fans. It is now an annual tradition and will likely remain the top sporting event in the state of Iowa for years to come.

Good Luck Cyclones!

Assistant Coaches

Terry Allen
Associate Head Coach/
Tight Ends

Terry Allen, an Iowa City, Iowa, native who was head coach at Northern Iowa and Kansas for 13 seasons before coming to Ames, is in his fourth year as the Cyclones' associate head coach and tight ends coach. With Allen coaching several special teams, ISU went through the entire 2004 season without having a kick blocked. In addition, freshman place-kicker Bret Culbertson made 26 of 28 field goal and PAT tries under Allen's guidance last season.

Allen owned a 95-59 record as head coach at Northern Iowa and Kansas. His UNI teams won seven straight conference titles and made the NCAA Division I-AA semifinals in 1992 and 1996.

Allen was named head coach at Northern Iowa in 1989 and guided his first team to an 8-3 record and a national ranking of 20th in the final I-AA poll. He started his string of seven consecutive conference first-place finishes in his second season and qualified for seven-straight appearances at the I-AA national playoffs. The 1992 Panthers were 12-2 and received the school's first-ever No. 1 national ranking, a position they held for five consecutive weeks. Allen was named conference coach of the year five times and Region IV Coach of the Year twice. He was also recognized throughout the country when he was selected as a finalist for national coach of the year in 1996. Allen and his wife Lynn have three children (Angela, Chase, Alex).

Tony Alford
Assistant Head Coach/
Running Backs

Tony Alford has played a major role in solidifying ISU's reputation as one of the most successful programs rushing the football. Iowa State was one of only three NCAA Division I schools to have produced a 1,000-yard rusher annually between 1995 and 2001.

Under Alford, tailback Stevie Hicks became the third Iowa State rusher to eclipse the 1,000-yard barrier since 1997 with 1,062 yards last fall. On special teams, Alford turned the ISU kickoff return unit into the Big 12's best. ISU led the league and ranked 20th nationally, averaging 23.2 yards per return last fall. Alford's backs take care of the football. Iowa State running backs have lost only eight fumbles in Alford's seven years at ISU.

Alford was on the Cyclones' 2000 Insight.com Bowl championship staff that claimed the first bowl victory in ISU history en route to a 9-3 record. First-team all-Big 12 tailback Ennis Haywood ranked 10th nationally in rushing and led the league with 1,237 yards. Cyclone tailback Darren Davis passed the 1,000-yard rushing barrier in Alford's first three seasons in Ames and finished his career as the No. 2 rusher in school history. During Alford's initial four years in Ames, Iowa State improved from 103rd to 17th nationally in rushing, averaging more than 200 yards per game on the ground in 1999, 2000 and 2002.

Alford and his wife Trina have three sons (Rylan, Kyler, Braydon).

CYCLONES

Assistant Coaches

Barney Cotton
Offensive Coordinator/
Offensive Line

The steady improvement of a young Cyclone offensive unit with a freshman quarterback in Barney Cotton's first season with Iowa State proved his incredible football expertise as an offensive coordinator. Employing a balanced offense that has so well-served Cotton during his career, the Cyclones came on late, averaging 404.8 yards per game in the last four contests of the regular season.

Fueling Iowa State's 2004 late-season surge were two freshmen who made huge strides in their first collegiate seasons: quarterback Bret Meyer and wide receiver Todd Blythe. Meyer was a third-team Sporting News freshman All-American who passed for 1,926 yards, ranking 10th on the all-time ISU list. Blythe was a second-team Sporting News freshman All-American, making a school-record nine touchdown receptions.

Prior to arriving at ISU, Cotton was the offensive coordinator of a Nebraska offense that ranked seventh nationally in rushing en route to a 10-3 record and a win over Michigan State in the 2003 Alamo Bowl.

An Omaha native, Cotton was offensive coordinator at New Mexico State prior to his stint at Nebraska, helping the NMSU offense ranked among the top 25 teams nationally in rushing offense in each of Cotton's six seasons as offensive coordinator.

Cotton and his wife Christine have three sons (Ben, Jake and Sam).

John Skladany
Defensive Coordinator/
Linebackers

John Skladany has engineered major defensive reversals of fortune at Iowa State, a significant factor in the ISU football program's four bowl appearances in the last five years. ISU's performance against the rush improved in each of Skladany's initial six seasons in Ames. The season before Skladany's arrival in Ames (1996), the Cyclones allowed 262 rushing yards per game. The figure stood at a post-World War II best 139.2 yards last season. In 1997, Iowa State allowed 44.8 points per game. That total dropped to 21 points per game in 2001, the best ISU scoring defense mark in 20 years. It held at 21.6 points per game in 2004. His makeover of ISU's defensive schemes improved Iowa State's total defense numbers from 484.0 ypg in 1996 to 329.4 ypg last season.

The stats say it all. It was no surprise that ISU middle linebacker Tim Dobbins was tabbed the Big 12 Defensive Newcomer of the Year in 2004. Defensive back Ellis Hobbs earned first-team all-conference honors and was the defensive MVP in Iowa State's win over Miami University in the 2004 Independence Bowl.

ISU ranked fourth in Big 12 total defense last season, the third time in four years in which ISU ranked in the first division among the Big 12's stingiest defenses. Skladany and his wife Sharon have two daughters (Laura, Stephanie).

Assistant Coaches

Chris Ash Secondary

Chris Ash joined the Iowa State coaching staff in February 2000 and works with the ISU secondary. His efforts helped Iowa State's defenders post their best total defensive numbers since World War II. Ash's secondary was a major factor in Iowa State's fourth bowl appearance in five years, making 17 interceptions, the second-best mark in the Big 12 Conference. ISU ranked third in the Big 12 in pass efficiency defense, and the Cyclones were third in the league and 20th nationally in pass defense.

ISU cornerback Ellis Hobbs was a first-team all-Big 12 selection by the conference's writers and coaches. He played all four of his seasons under Ash's tutelage. Hobbs finished his career with 209 tackles and tied for sixth in career interceptions on the all-time ISU chart with nine. Strong safety Nik Moser, who led the team with 85 tackles, made three interceptions and was the defensive MVP of the Independence Bowl. JaMaine Billups, who earned all-conference honors after switching from tailback to safety during fall two-a-day football practices in 2002, also played for Ash.

Ash was formerly defensive coordinator at Drake when the Bulldogs won the 1998 Pioneer Conference title. Drake ranked eighth nationally in 1999 NCAA Division I-AA total defense in his second Bulldog season, as four Drake defenders earned all-conference honors.

A native of Ottumwa, Iowa, Ash lettered twice as a safety at Drake. Ash and his wife Jessica have two children (Tanner, Jacey).

DeMontie Cross Outside Linebackers

DeMontie Cross, who left Missouri as the school's all-time leading tackler, has made an immediate impact on Iowa State's defense after joining the Cyclone coaching staff in March 2001.

Cross' unit made major contributions to Iowa State's record-setting defense last fall. Outside linebacker Brandon Brown earned honorable mention all-Big 12 honors despite a late-season injury that ended his career with 63 tackles in nine games. Cross' field goal defensive unit set the single-season block record in 2004. The group successfully blocked eight kicks, many of them key in Cyclone victories.

Cross developed Jeremy Loyd from a junior college player into an all-conference performer who now plays for the St. Louis Rams of the NFL. Cross' linebackers contributed to Iowa State's best total defensive effort since 1992, as the Cyclones ranked 34th nationally in 2001. Loyd was a stalwart for the ISU defense in 2002, making 103 tackles with 13 tackles for loss, notching 5.5 sacks, breaking up seven passes and forcing two fumbles.

Cross spent the 2000 season coaching a defensive backfield at Sam Houston State that ranked second nationally. He coached outside linebackers at Missouri the previous two seasons.

Cross' Sam Houston State pass defense ranked second among 122 NCAA Division I-AA teams in 2000, allowing just 121 passing yards per game. He and his wife Erika have two daughters (Jadyn, Sheridan).

There are many ways to teach a child responsibility.
A goal line stand is a good place to start.

A goal line stand. It's the moment a player learns about team. It's giving your all for the sake of all. It's executing your role from start to finish. For a child, sports aren't about being a better athlete. But rather, a better person. As a company dedicated to teamwork, we're proud to support athletes of all ages. Assistant Coaches

Todd Fitch Quarterbacks

Todd Fitch, who has worked under legendary head coaches Don Nehlen, Earle Bruce and Lou Holtz, joined the Iowa State coaching staff as quarterbacks coach in January of 2004. Fitch's extensive experience paid big dividends, as quarterback Bret Meyer developed into a third-team freshman All-American by The Sporting News.

Meyer's development was steady. The rookie totaled 236 total yards in ISU's Independence Bowl victory, finishing the season with 2,257 yards, which ranks seventh on the all-time ISU list. The total was an ISU freshman record. His 1,926 passing yards ranked 10th on the all-time ISU single-season list and is the best freshman mark in school history.

Fitch was the South Carolina quarterbacks coach in 2003 after a year as running backs coach and three seasons as the Gamecocks' wide receivers coach. During Fitch's tenure at USC, the Gamecocks appeared in the 2001 and 2002 Outback Bowls.

Fitch came to the Gamecock program from Connecticut, where he worked under Skip Holtz. Fitch was on the staff at UConn for five seasons and coordinated the offense for the Huskies in his final three years. In 1998, UConn won a school-record 10 games and featured a high-powered and prolific offensive attack.

He and his wife Julie have two children (Curtis, Peyton).

Mike Grant Wide Receivers

Mike Grant has coached wide receivers at Iowa State the past two seasons, and his crew of pass catchers has broken a slew of Cyclone school records. Grant oversaw the emergence of second-team freshman All-American (The Sporting News) Todd Blythe and junior Jon Davis. Blythe earned first-team all-Big 12 honors (Dallas Morning News) and had 39 catches for 833 yards and a school-record nine touchdowns. The 833 receiving yards rank fifth on ISU's single-season list. Davis led the Cyclones with 48 catches for 614 yards.

Under Grant, wide receivers Lane Danielsen, Jack Whitver, Lance Young and Jamaul Montgomery finished their careers in 2003 as the most prolific receiving corps in Iowa State history. That quartet tallied career totals of 433 receptions for 6,373 yards and 37 touchdowns.

Danielsen became the all-time Cyclone career leader with 163 receptions for 2,690 yards. Whitver, like Danielsen a former walk-on, ranks eighth on the ISU career receptions chart (96) and 10th in receiving yards (1,320). Young ranks 10th all-time in receiving yards (1,273).

Grant oversaw the Cyclone backfield in 2001. That fall, first-team all-Big 12 tailback Ennis Haywood became the seventh Iowa Stater to post at least two 1,000-yard rushing seasons, finishing the 2001 campaign with 1,169 yards on the ground. Grant and his wife Nina have a daughter (Mireia). Nina is the director of multicultural programs in ISU's College of Agriculture.

Matt McGettigan Strength & Conditioning

The work of strength and conditioning coach Matt McGettigan, who is in his 11th season with the Cyclones, received the ultimate affirmation of excellence when he earned recognition as the 2001 National Collegiate Strength and Conditioning Coach of the Year by the Professional Football Strength and Conditioning Coaches Society. The award underscored the respect McGettigan has from his peers, the Iowa State coaching staff and Cyclone football student-athletes.

The stature of Iowa State's football program has literally grown by leaps and bounds since Dan McCarney came to Ames. Much of the credit for those improvements must go to McGettigan. McGettigan came to Iowa State with head coach Dan McCarney after serving as assistant strength and conditioning coach at Notre Dame since 1990.

Prior to his work with the Fighting Irish, McGettigan served as the strength and conditioning coordinator for Wisconsin-Platteville from 1987-90. McGettigan earned his master's degree in 1989.

McGettigan completed his undergraduate work in physical education at Luther College in Decorah, Iowa, in 1987, where he was a member of the football team. He is a member of the NSCA and in January of 1989, he received his certification as a Strength and Conditioning Specialist.

A native of Darlington, Wis., McGettigan is married to the former Darla Hook of Charles City, Iowa. They have two children (Mariah, Colin).

Mike Nelson Defensive Line

Mike Nelson's impact on the Iowa State defense was immediate and has remained constant. The steady drop in Iowa State's total defense numbers and a record-setting effort against the run last season underscore Nelson's contributions to four Cyclone bowl seasons in the last five years. Iowa State allowed just 139.2 rushing yards per game last season, the best Cyclone performance against the run since World War II. Nose guard Nick Leaders earned all-Big 12 honors (AP) and defensive tackle Brent Curvey and defensive end Tyson Smith were honorable mention choices.

A season-ending injury to Smith in the first game of the 2003 season thrust true freshman Jason Berryman into a starting role. Berryman finished the season as the Big 12 Conference Defensive Newcomer of the Year with 110 tackles. That figure led all freshmen defensive tackles in NCAA Division I-A.

In 1997, Nelson's first season at ISU, the Cyclone defensive line figured prominently by racking up 21 sacks, the highest Cyclone single-season total in 10 years. In 1998, ISU sacked opposing quarterbacks a school-record 32 times. Defensive tackle James Reed earned all-Big 12 honors and defensive end Reggie Hayward earned all-league recognition in 1999 and 2000. Both are now in the NFL.

Nelson is married to the former Betsy Nilson. The couple has three sons (Kurt, Eric, Mark).

Don Knock
Director of Operations

Don Knock, a member of the Iowa Football Coaches Hall of Fame, returned to Iowa State after a year as offensive coordinator and offensive line coach at Nebraska-Omaha, joining the ISU staff in July 2002 as director of football operations. Knock coached Cedar Rapids Kennedy to six state playoff berths in his final 10 prep seasons at the Cougar helm and coached Grundy Center to the 1984 Iowa Class 2A state high school title. Knock, who owned a career prep coaching record of 128-85, helped coach the Cyclone offensive line as a graduate assistant in 2000.

The 51-year-old Knock played on Central's 1974 NCAA Division III national title squad. He was a captain of the 1975 Central football team and earned a bachelor's degree there in 1976. The Parkersburg, Iowa, native signed a free agent contract with the Oakland Raiders after graduation and joined the Central College coaching staff under Ron Schipper later that fall.

Knock moved to Grundy Center in 1981, where his teams compiled a 48-11 record and twice qualified for the state playoffs under Iowa's former eight-team bracket formula. He moved on to Cedar Rapids Kennedy in 1987, where his teams were 66-61.

A past president of the Iowa Football Coaches Association, he served on the IFCA's board of directors for 15 years. Knock and his wife Cindy have four sons (Kyle, Scot, Beau, Jordan).

Mike Motl
Video Coordinator

Motl joined the Cyclone staff in July of 1995. He creates highlight and instructional videos for Iowa State athletics and oversees operation of a digital network used for scouting opponents, making highlight videos, teaching and training tapes and Iowa State football self-study video. He was named 2001 and 2002 Big 12 Conference Video Director of the Year.

Motl has coordinated Iowa State's transition to SAT (Smart Acquisition Technology), the digital video recording of Cyclone practice and games, making ISU one of the few NCAA Division I-A programs employing this technology. He and his wife Jill have a son (Joshua).

HAVE DINNER WITH COACH MAC!

Join us Monday nights from 7 to 8pm at the Ames Applebee's for the Dan McCarney Show. It's the coach's weekly state-wide radio show, and you can BE A PART OF THE STUDIO AUDIENCE! There will be plenty of Applebee's great food and drink, and weekly prizes. If you can't join us in person, remember to listen to the coach Monday nights on the Cyclone radio network.

THE DAN MCCARNEY SHOW
NOW AT THE AMES APPLEBEE'S

Iowa State Football Facilities

Without a doubt, the 45,814-seat Jack Trice Stadium is one of the most beautiful nationally. Located on a 30-acre tract, the stadium is part of the ISU Center on the southeast corner of the Ames campus. The special football atmosphere at Jack Trice Stadium has been enhanced with the installation of a video/scoreboard and permanent lighting prior to the 2002 season. Corporate sponsors have underwritten the project with additional revenue to be used to support the Cyclone athletic program. Stadium parking lots were also renovated for the start of the 2004 season.

The stadium is named in honor of Jack Trice, Iowa State's first African-American athlete. Trice died from injuries he received in a varsity football game in October 1923.

Jack Trice Stadium offers an unobstructed view of the playing field as well as remarkably easy access and parking. The stadium is part of the Iowa State Center, which includes James H. Hilton Coliseum, C.Y. Stephens Auditorium, J.W. Fisher Theater and the Carl Scheman Continuing Education Building, with lighted parking for 4,000 vehicles.

The stadium was completed in less than two years, from the ground breaking on Oct. 26, 1973, to the first game, a victory over Air Force, on Sept. 20, 1975. In late 1973 and spring of 1974, heavy earth-moving equipment shaped the embankments. A huge, movable form shaped the lower decks with thousands of cubic yards of concrete.

Originally, the stadium had a capacity of 42,500, all on the sidelines. In 1976, endzone bleachers were constructed to increase capacity to more than 48,000. Standing room tickets, sold for each game, brought the capacity to more than 50,000. An all-time record crowd of 54,475 watched the ISU vs. Nebraska game on Oct. 27, 1990. Completion of the Jacobson Athletic Facility and the addition of permanent bleachers in the south endzone changed the capacity to 45,814. A record 53,488 watched the Iowa State-Iowa game on Sept. 13, 2003.

A $6.2 million three-level press tower located on the west side was added to Jack Trice Stadium in 1997. The facility includes press and radio-television levels, and nine skybox suites. Fourteen boxes are located on the concourse level in the old pressbox. In all, Jack Trice Stadium has 23 skybox suites. Opposite the press box on the east side is a modern club section, seating 480 in theater-style seats. Included in the club area are a lounge and restrooms.

The renovated Ralph A. Olsen Building is adjacent to the north end of the Richard O. Jacobson Athletic Building. The Olsen Building houses the strength, equipment and athletic training facilities.

The stadium complex was transformed in 1995-96 with the construction of the state-of-the-art Jacobson Athletic Building. The home of Iowa State's football program includes football offices, team meeting rooms, locker rooms, an auditorium and a natural grass field that debuted with the 1996 season opener.

ISU Football Gameday Information

Tailgating Policies

Limit your tailgating to one parking space. We want to encourage you to tailgate in front of or behind your vehicle. Please do not block the path for other vehicles to park. The use of more than one parking spot prohibits other patrons from parking. Please remember to clean up your area before you leave. No glass bottles or kegs are allowed in parking lots.

Re-Entry Policy

Patrons leaving the stadium during the game will be given a handstamp for re-admission. Patrons must have a ticket stub and their hand stamped for re-admission into the stadium. Re-entry will only be allowed at gates 2 and 4. No pass outs will be allowed before kickoff.

Field Access

The athletic department asks that all patrons without proper credentials refrain from going on the playing field at any time. Any person(s) entering the playing field will be subject to arrest and prosecution.

Stadium Sign Policy

Iowa State promotes and encourages the display of signs. All signs must be in good taste and supportive of Iowa State University. In no case may the sign obstruct vision or endanger fans. Signs must be stationary. All signs must be approved by the Director of Event Management, Nick Britton (Jacobson Building) before noon on the day prior to the game. The athletic department reserves the right to move or remove any signs not meeting these specifications.

Restrooms

Restrooms are located throughout the stadium behind each concession stand.

Smoking Policy

In accordance with Iowa State's smoking policy, there will be no smoking in areas where the general public congregates at Jack Trice Stadium. There is no smoking allowed in the seating areas or by the concession stands. The designated smoking areas are behind the restrooms along the grass area. Please do not stand on the Courtesy Cart paths.

Distractions

We want to make football a totally enjoyable experience and want to encourage fans to be respectful of those around them in the stadium. In the event there is an unreasonable distraction, please take the following steps to help control the undesirable behavior:

- Note the seating section, row and seat numbers and inform the usher in the section of the disturbance. The usher will observe the conduct and take appropriate action.
- If the conduct continues, the usher will get assistance from an uniformed police officer to request improvements of behavior or to remove the fan(s) from the stadium.

- An additional occurrence is cause for removal from the stadium and could be grounds for relocation in the next season's ticket assignments.

Courtesy Carts

Iowa State offers courtesy cart service from Gates 1, 3 and 5 beginning 90 minutes before kick-off until 10 minutes into the first quarter and resuming midway through the fourth quarter. Anyone needing transportation during the game should go to the Guest Services table located beneath Section O (east side) or the Guest Services table beneath Section E (west side) for assistance. Courtesy cart service is not available outside the stadium.

Wheelchairs

Please notify the athletic ticket office prior to game day to obtain tickets. Sections 2-4, 12-16 and 18-19 are available for spectators in wheelchairs. In addition, wheelchair seating is also available in the south end zone bleachers.

Ambulance Service & First Aid

An ambulance is parked in the first aid quarters on the west side of the stadium. If you are in need of first aid, please see the nearest usher for assistance.

Parking Lot Facilities

The ISU Athletic Department provides portable toilets for its patrons in the parking lots. These are located throughout the stadium parking areas.

Public Parking

Lots open six hours before kickoff. Parking prices are as follows: automobiles ($8-$10), RVs ($20-$30), buses ($20-$30).

National Cyclone Club

Cyclone Club members who contribute at the Varsity level ($50) and above receive a season parking pass for football in the lots north of the Jacobson Building. Club members wanting to park in the general lots will be required to pay the public rate. Donor parking for RVs and buses are in lot D-3 and S-8.

Handicap Parking

Lot S-3, south of Jack Trice Stadium by Gate 3, is available for people who have a handicap parking permit issued by the Iowa Department of Transportation. This lot is open on a first-come, first-served basis.

Lost and Found

Lost and Found is in the Ticket

Office, outside Gate 5 on the west side of the Olsen Building. Items that are lost or found should be reported to ushers.

Public Will-Call

Will-call for the general public is located at the athletic ticket office, north of Gate 5 on the west side of the Olsen Building.

Lost Tickets

Tickets lost, destroyed or left at home will be duplicated only for the original purchaser, who will be charged the full price of the tickets. These duplicate passes must be picked up at the athletic ticket office, as none will be mailed. If the original tickets are returned to the athletic ticket office unused within two weeks after the game, the charge will be refunded.

Student-Athlete Services

Tutorial Services

Student-Athlete Services works with the ISU Academic Success Center to provide tutorial services to all student-athletes. The ASC tutorial staff is introduced to NCAA rules and regulations, and closely monitored to insure that student-athletes are receiving quality services. The intent of the tutoring program is to supplement and support all of the sound education practices that are imperative for academic success for all student-athletes. The tutors and students work together to develop the independent thinking and learning skills necessary to achieve positive results without compromising the integrity of the education process.

Referral Services

SAS will assist student-athletes in connecting with campus support services to accommodate their special needs. Staff members work closely with the ISU Student Counseling Service, the Dean of Students Office, and other academic, student, and personal support programs to help diagnose and assist in the resolution processes.

Learning Center

SAS provides educational and study environments for its student-athletes in the form of "learning centers." Student-athletes are strongly encouraged to utilize the learning centers as often as necessary to develop the appropriate study and learning skills to become better students. Study groups and learning strategists are also available at these learning centers. Learning strategists help students to develop their study and learning techniques. Most study groups consist of three or more student-athletes working with a group facilitator on a regular basis.

Scholar-Athlete Recognition Banquet

ISU Athletics and Student-Athlete Services recognizes student-athletes with exceptional academic records at a scholar-athlete banquet. University administrators, faculty members and athletic department personnel attend the dinner in celebration of the academic accomplishments of the ISU scholar-athletes who have achieved a 3.0 GPA or better at particular times during their academic careers.

The Hixson-Lied Student Success Center will open in March 2007. The $10 million facility will include the Rod and Connie French Athletic Academic Center, demonstrating the unequivocal commitment to providing the best possible academic environment for Cyclone student-athletes.

wins in its last six games, a share of the Big 12 North Division title and a 17-13 Independence Bowl victory over Miami University.

The Big 12 North trophy that graces the Iowa State football offices signified the first conference football title of any kind at ISU since 1912. ISU's fourth bowl game appearance in five years and second-ever postseason victory ratified McCarney's selection by his coaching peers, espn.com and The Kansas City Star as the Big 12 Conference Coach of the Year. They said it couldn't be done at Iowa State. The naysayers didn't know Dan McCarney.

When McCarney laid out his vision for the future of Iowa State football at a press conference to announce his arrival at ISU after the 1994 season, he stressed that the program's transformation would not occur overnight. McCarney possessed enthusiasm, unwavering optimism and a seemingly endless source of energy. His background in college football programs that had gone from perennial losers to consistent winners made him a perfect choice for the Cyclone helm. There were more than a few skeptics. Iowa State was coming off a winless season, hadn't had a winning campaign since 1989 and the Cyclones' last bowl trip was in 1978.

That was then. This is now. McCarney is the longest-serving (117 games) and winningest Cyclone head coach (45 victories) in school history, taking ISU to four bowl games in five seasons. Only Kansas State head coach Bill Snyder has a longer tenure in the Big 12 Conference as the 2005 season marks McCarney's 11th year as the Cyclones' head coach. Only 11 head coaches among 119 NCAA Division I-A programs have been at their schools longer than McCarney.

Even before the 2004 season began, Dan McCarney had made good on his promise to bring winning and respect back to the Iowa State football program. But nothing that had happened in the ensuing decade since McCarney came to Ames — four bowl games, five-straight wins over rival Iowa, 23 wins in three seasons — could have prepared Cyclone fans for the 2004 campaign. After bowl games in 2000, 2001 and 2002, ISU was in the midst of a 13-game Big 12 losing streak last season with a team picked for last in the Big 12 Conference's North Division during the preseason. When nearly everyone outside of his program had written off Iowa State's season, the ceaselessly upbeat McCarney led a rapidly improving, youthful team to five

In 2002, McCarney took Iowa State where it had never been before: a third-straight bowl game despite playing the toughest schedule in school history. Iowa State's 23 victories between 2000 and 2002 was the second-best three-season mark in school history. Underscoring their new national status, the Cyclones opened the season in the Eddie Robinson Football Classic against Florida State. The 2002 campaign was one to remember. The Cyclones beat intrastate rival Iowa for the fifth straight season and third straight time in Iowa City. Iowa State's 36-14 win over Nebraska was the Cyclones' biggest margin of victory in the series since 1899. ISU's No. 9 position in The Associated Press poll in October was the highest in school history. Iowa State's eight-week tenure in the AP top 25 equaled ISU's longest such stay in program history.

Powered by a singular sense of purpose, McCarney steadily molded Iowa State's football program, bringing in a top-notch coaching staff and the best recruiting classes in recent memory. Backed by a university administration committed to providing state-of-the-art facilities, McCarney relentlessly exorcised the demons that had plagued Cyclone football. After his first teams laid a foundation for success, the 2000 Iowa State unit, led by 25 seniors who had bought into McCarney's vision, remained undeterred by the skeptics. Following McCarney's blueprint, coaches and players went where no Cyclone team had gone; winning nine games, including a 37-29 victory over Pittsburgh in the Insight.com Bowl. Under McCarney, the 2000 AP Big 12 Conference Coach of the Year runner-up, that success continued in 2001, despite the loss of 15 starters. A 7-5 Iowa State squad earned an Independence Bowl berth, marking the school's first back-to-back bowl appearances since the 1977-78 seasons.

Anyone who watched McCarney's rise in the coaching ranks would not be surprised by the effort of his national-caliber coaching staff. A native of Iowa City, Iowa, McCarney was instrumental in rebuilding efforts that produced Big Ten titles and Rose Bowl berths at both Iowa and Wisconsin, two schools that regularly finished near the bottom of the league before his arrival.

McCarney, 51, coached at Iowa for 13 seasons (1977-89), including 11 years under Hayden Fry, before becoming the defensive coordinator at Wisconsin under Barry Alvarez in 1990.

In 1993, Wisconsin went 10-1-1, claimed its first Big Ten title in 31 years and scored a 21-16 win over UCLA in the Rose Bowl. Attendance at Wisconsin's Camp Randall Stadium climbed more than 30,000 a game, and sellouts of more than 77,000 were the norm.

During Wisconsin's Rose Bowl season, the Badgers ranked 19th nationally against the rush, allowing just 130.3 yards per game, the sixth best mark in school history. The team allowed an average of 16.3 points per game, its best effort in 30 years. The Badger defense also intercepted an NCAA-best 23 passes and created 34 turnovers, including six against UCLA in the Rose Bowl.

A 1975 graduate of Iowa, McCarney coached the Hawkeyes in eight consecutive bowl games, including the 1982 and 1986 Rose Bowls. The three-year letterman on the offensive line for Iowa (1972-74) was captain of the 1974 Hawkeye squad. A member of the American Football Coaches Association (AFCA) for 25 years, McCarney is a past member of the AFCA's rules committee. McCarney is in his 11th season serving as a voting member of the USA Today/ESPN Coaches' Poll.

McCarney will again be serving on the AFCA rules committee in 2005, as well as the AFCA Division I-A All-American selection committee.

2005-06 Iowa State Women's Basketball

The Iowa State women's basketball team earned its seventh NCAA appearance in nine years in 2005 and is eager to make it a repeat performance in 2006.

ISU head women's basketball coach Bill Fennelly returns two starters from last year's squad and brings in a highly ranked recruiting class. Juniors Megan Ronhovde and Lyndsey Medders are ready to improve on their strong sophomore seasons. Ronhovde averaged 9.2 ppg and drained 62 treys last year. Medders averaged 9.7 ppg and was one of the top playmakers in the Big 12 last season, averaging 6.0 apg.

Don't miss out on the exciting action this season! Call 1-888-ISU-CYCLONE or visit www.cyclones.com for ticket information.

"Investing Today To Ensure Tomorrow"

The Iowa State Athletic Department's new fund-raising initiative, "Investing Today to Ensure Tomorrow," is a program designed to develop scholarship endowments for all 18 sports at ISU. Endowments to underwrite the costs of tuition, room, board, books, academic support and other student services for every sports program are a key source of funding for the athletic department. These expenses are not options and they continue to rise on an annual basis. Listed below are endowments established to benefit the Cyclone Football program.

Endowments can be named in honor or memory of an individual with an initial gift or pledge of $25,000. Gifts of any amount are welcome for new or currently established endowments. For more information regarding endowments, deferred gifts, trusts or bequests, please contact the Athletic Development Office (515-294-5022) or David Crum (515-294-7137).

Proud Sponsor of the Bowl Championship Series

Bruce Van De Velde's progressive leadership has spanned five years of athletic and academic achievement at Iowa State University. His vision for the future of Cyclone athletics is affirmed by the success of Iowa State student-athletes in collegiate competition, the classroom and by the continued improvement of Iowa State's athletic facilities.

"Iowa State University's Athletic Department is making great strides under Bruce's leadership," ISU President Gregory L. Geoffroy said. "We're very proud of the accomplishments of our Cyclone student-athletes, coaches and staff, and Bruce and his staff work very hard to create an environment that supports and encourages high achievement in athletics and academic work."

Van De Velde's tenure at Iowa State already includes an unprecedented four bowl appearances in five years and the highest national AP football poll ranking (ninth) in school history. Total attendance in 2002 and 2003 home football games exceeded 300,000, the highest ISU watermark since 1985. The emergence of the Cyclone football program on a national stage with Van De Velde at the department helm was affirmed in 2002, when Iowa State was chosen to play Florida State in the Eddie Robinson Classic. The game marked the Cyclones' first-ever preseason classic appearance in school history. Football season tickets sales for the 2005 campaign are on course to reach the highest mark in more than 15 years, eclipsing the 25,000 sold barrier.

The 2004-05 school year was one of the most successful in Cyclone athletics history. Iowa State was one of eight universities nationally to have its football team win a bowl game and have its men's and women's basketball teams participate in the NCAA Tournament. In 2004 the Cyclone football team was co-champion of the Big 12 Conference's North Division and the Independence Bowl champion. The football program claimed only its second bowl victory in school history and the Cyclones' first conference football title since 1912. Dan McCarney was honored as Big 12 Coach of the Year.

The women's gymnastics program qualified for the NCAA Championships for only the second time in school history, placing eighth overall. Head coach K.J. Kindler was named National Gymnastics Coach of the Year, and Lou Ball was recognized as National Assistant Coach of the Year.

The Cyclone wrestling program finished its dual season with a 16-2 record and defeated Iowa in Iowa City for the first time since 1977. ISU head coach Bobby Douglas was named USA National Coach of the Year, and assistant coach Cael Sanderson won a gold medal at the Athens Olympic Games and was honored with the John Smith Award as the most outstanding wrestler in the nation.

The men's basketball program qualified for the NCAA Tournament and advanced to the second round, winning 19 games. The women's basketball team won 23 games and advanced to the NCAA tournament for the seventh time under head coach Bill Fennelly, who was named District V Coach of the Year. The men's track and field team placed 19th at the NCAA outdoor meet.

The Cyclones' 285.75 points in the Sears Cup rankings for 2004-05 was one of the best scores in the history of the athletics department.

The Sporting News in 2001 rated Iowa State as the seventh-best athletics program among more than 115 NCAA Division I-A programs nationally. The ranking considered competitive success, graduation rates, fan support and NCAA compliance to determine national rank. Iowa State joined Wisconsin, Florida, Oklahoma and Notre Dame as the only schools nationally to have its football and men's and women's basketball teams ranked in their respective final 2000-01 polls by The Associated Press.

Recent success under Van De Velde's leadership has positioned ISU for future achievement. During Van De Velde's tenure at Iowa State, the men's and women's basketball teams won Big 12 Conference championships and participated in the 2001, 2002 and 2005 NCAA Tournaments. The ISU football, gymnastics, wrestling, women's track and women's and men's basketball teams have received national recognition.

Iowa State received full NCAA certification in 2003, affirming Van De Velde's commitment to managing the Cyclone athletic program with the highest of standards and integrity.

Van De Velde has focused on generating new revenue for the department and has balanced Iowa State's annual operating budget in each of the last five fiscal years. Iowa State's actual operating revenue increased 43 percent, from $19.6 million in fiscal year 2000 to $28 million in fiscal year 2005. Revenue generated from television and radio, ticket sales, fund raising, licensing, concessions, marketing and sponsorships reached an all-time high in 2005.

2005-06 Iowa State Men's Basketball

Excitement is at an all-time high for Iowa State men's basketball, as the Cyclones return three of five starters from last year's second round NCAA Tournament team. Iowa State was one of the biggest stories in all of college basketball last season, winning 11 of its final 15 games to earn its 13th NCAA berth in school history.

The Cyclones and head coach Wayne Morgan return one of the best backcourts in all of college basketball in juniors Curtis Stinson and Will Blalock. Stinson, a two-time all-Big 12 pick and preseason All-American, has already eclipsed the 1,000-point barrier and was second in the Big 12 in steals last season with 72. Blalock ranked fourth in the Big 12 in assists (4.9 apg) and steals (2.0 spg) last year.

Don't miss out on the exciting action this season! Call 1-888-ISU-CYCLONE or visit www.cyclones.com for ticket information.

Big 12 Conference

When planning began for the Big 12's 10th anniversary year, a major objective was to celebrate the tradition and equity that the conference has established since 1996 while building an innovative, yet timeless, family of branding marks for the future.

The new set of anniversary logos has enhanced the family of marks of the Big 12 member institutions, its corporate partners, and licensees. The new primary logo (featured below) is the key logo, which all others compliment. The "XII" is the central focus. It is the primary identifying characteristic of the conference.

Two collective marks have been created that speak to the Conference as a whole with all 12 member institutions included. One of these marks includes the logos while the other features word marks. In this same plan are sport specific and championship marks for the 10-year anniversary, and some of these include presenting or title sponsors (i.e., Dr Pepper, 7 Up, Phillips 66, SBC, Chick-Fil-A, Cooper Tire, Gatorade).

There also has been development of co-branded university and Big 12 logos by using the primary mark and developing a set of primary marks specific to each of the 12 members. One version has just the logos present while another set mentions the word marks (example: Baylor Bears).

There were three primary schools of thought as the Big 12 10-Year Anniversary Committee made the decisions about new logos and other amenities to promote the league.

(1) The conference decided to create a new visual design for the member institutions that projected a good public image for both the Big 12 and the individual campus' overall missions. This has helped create a better awareness for the Big 12 regionally and nationally. All the new logos also are in prime positions on the official Big 12 Web site (www.Big12sports.com) and the official Web sites of the members.

(2) The current Big 12 mark was introduced to the public in 1996. Over the several years it has become apparent that there was a need for a new look to continue to enhance the overall conference image. The new family of marks has helped the conference keep current in the collegiate marketplace. These logos also offered the member universities a more direct association to the Conference. It has provided a way to structure the Conference corporate partners' associate with the member institutions without compromising existing university relationships. Finally, it provided Big 12 licensees a more production friendly set of marks that allow both the licensees and retailers to be more creative and has given fans having more product options in the marketplace.

(3) The introduction of new family of logos has elevated the conference's identity program. The logos have been a symbolic way to display enthusiasm for the Big 12 Conference and for its member institutions while maintaining the look of the traditional logos that reflect upon the proud history and tradition of the Conference and its member institutions.

BIG 12 CONFERENCE

Cyclone Marching Band

Composed of over 300 student members, the Iowa State University Cyclone Football "Varsity" Marching Band is a vital part of the action of Big 12 Conference football. Known for its polished and energetic approach to halftime entertainment, the Cyclone Marching Band performs a variety of different shows over the course of the season.

Each year, the athletic bands perform before over a half-million people, including the fans who regularly pack Jack Trice Stadium.

Recent performances have also included the 2001 and 2004 Independence Bowls, the 2002 Humanitarian Bowl, the 2002 Eddie Robinson Classic and the 2000 Insight.com Bowl. Through rehearsals, travel and the excitement of marching in front of thousands of cheering fans, the members of the Cyclone Marching Band share rich experiences that create social, as well as musical, bonds.

The band plays at all home football games (six in 2005) and at local and regional exhibitions. The band also performs in the annual ISU Band Extravaganza concert, which also features the Wind Ensemble, Symphonic Band and Jazz Ensemble. This year's Band Extravaganza will take place at C.Y. Stephens Auditorium at 3 p.m., Nov. 13.

In addition to game day performances, the band will also have exhibition performances at Boone High School (Sept. 23), the Mid-Iowa Band Championship in Ankeny (Oct. 15) and the Indoor Marching Band Classic in Cedar Rapids (Oct. 24).

Today's Repertoire:

PREGAME

"X" Cadence; The Star-Spangled Banner; Iowa State Fanfare

ISU Fights; Go, Cyclones, Go; For I, For S
God Bless America; The Bells of Iowa State

ISU Fights; "Swing" Cadence

HALFTIME

"At the Movies"

Music from "Robin Hood: Prince of Thieves"
Music from "The Incredibles"

Adopt the Band!

They show their Iowa State pride all season long by working hard to bring high-spirited, top-rated performances to football games, pep rallies, and a multitude of Iowa State Alumni.

You've applauded their non-stop showmanship and marveled at their abundance of energy. And you know that the Cyclone Marching Band is one of the finest collegiate ensembles in the country.

Now you can help support these outstanding young men and women by signing up for the Cyclones' "Adopt-the-Band" Campaign. You can choose to "adopt" your very own position or instrument in the marching band. By investing in the band, you will have a share in the sounds and spirit of Iowa State music for years to come.

So select a tuba, a clarinet, a student director or an entire rank of big bass drums. When you "adopt" a band member, you provide these dedicated young people with the equipment, uniforms, and support they need to remain one of the best bands in the land.

If you would like more information on how you can support the Cyclone Marching Band by becoming a member of "Adopt-the-Band," please call (515) 296-7766 or go the ISU Foundation website (www.foundation.iastate.edu).

For 25 years, Health Alliance has offered nearly a quarter million people throughout the Midwest the health coverage they need, the doctors they know and the service they expect. Now that's real value.

For more information call 1-800-851-3379 or ask your employer about joining the Health Alliance community.

ISU Bands

ISU Bands

ISU Bands

Since its beginning in 1881 the Cyclone Marching Band has enhanced the atmosphere of Iowa State by providing spirit, excitement and entertainment at games and events. The 300-member band performs for more than 650,000 people each year and is considered one of Iowa State's most visible ambassadors.

The members of the Cyclone Marching Band represent nearly every undergraduate degree program offered at Iowa State. Band members rehearse every weekday throughout the fall semester and receive one semester hour of credit for their participation. Recent performances have included the Independence Bowl in Shreveport, Louisiana (twice), the Eddie Robinson Classic in Kansas City, and the Insight.com Bowl in Tempe, Arizona.

In addition to performing at all home Cyclone Football games, the band performs at pep rallies, selected away games, regional marching band exhibitions, and the annual ISU "Band Extravaganza." This year's Band Extravaganza will take place on Sunday, November 13 in Stephens Auditorium at 3:00 p.m. and will also feature the ISU Wind Ensemble, Symphonic Band, and Jazz Ensemble. Tickets are available through the Iowa State Center Box Office and at all Ticketmaster outlets.

Keeping the Cyclone Marching Band in top form is costly. The support of loyal fans, alumni, and parents makes it possible to cover expenses including instrument repair and replacement, uniforms, equipment, and the increased cost of travel to cheer on the Cyclones.

If you would like more information on how you can support the Cyclone Marching band, please call 515-296-7766 or go to the ISU Foundation's website (www.foundation.iastate.edu).

Players To Watch

Cyclone Offense

13 • Austin Flynn Jr. • WR • 6-1, 200
Deer Park, Texas

Austin Flynn's career at Iowa State has had more twists and turns than a mystery novel. Flynn started at quarterback as a redshirt freshman in 2003, then moved to a back-up role in 2004 with the emergence of Bret Meyer. Flynn returns to the field in 2005 as a wide receiver, and is quickly making his presence known. He led all receivers against Illinois State with seven catches for 64 yards in his first appearance at wideout.

Hawkeye Offense

5 • Drew Tate Jr. • QB • 6-0, 185
Baytown, Texas

Iowa junior quarterback Drew Tate, considered by some as the best signal-caller in the Big Ten, returns to lead the Hawkeye attack for the second year. Tate only played the first half last week as Iowa built a 49-0 lead at the intermission en route to a 56-0 win over Ball State. Tate finished the day completing 9-of-10 passes for 99 yards and one touchdown.

Cyclone Defense

40 • Shawn Moorehead Jr. • DE • 6-3, 250
Mason City, Iowa

Shawn Moorehead, a former walk-on who was awarded a scholarship at the end of the 2004 season, showed last week that he earned the honor. Despite splitting playing time in a three-man rotation with Jason Berryman and Cephus Johnson, Moorehead spent a considerable amount of time disrupting the Illinois State offense, making five solo tackles. Four of his stops were behind the line of scrimmage, including a sack.

Hawkeye Defense

52 • Abdul Hodge Sr. • LB • 6-2, 234
Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

Abdul Hodge returns for his senior season as one of the best linebackers in the nation. A first-team all-Big Ten pick in 2004 and preseason All-American, Hodge has led Iowa in tackles the last two seasons. The Fort Lauderdale, Fla., native had 116 tackles, three sacks and two fumble recoveries in 2004 and he led the Big Ten in tackles per game (10.8) in 2003. Hodge recorded two tackles, a sack and a fumble recovery against Ball State last week.
