IOWA STATE ATHLETICS

- IOWA FARM BUREAU'S - HOMEGROWN GRILL

"A healthy herd makes a healthy you. By giving my cattle regular oversight from a nutritionist and local veterinarian, I can give you the best in quality and nutritious beef products."

Blake White, Iowa Livestock Farmer-Farm Bureau member since 2008.

It's game day and chances are good you're celebrating it with food carefully grown or compassionately raised by Iowa's farmers. Today's farmers take great care in providing wholesome, safe food so all you have to worry about is what kind of barbeque sauce for your tailgate.

Tackle your hunger and get a taste of Iowa farming by visiting Iowa Farm Bureau's Home Grown Grill located on the Jacobsen Plaza in Jack Trice Stadium or try out the Home Grown Grill Express at the south entrance. Both feature unique foods not available anywhere else in the stadium.

IOWA STATE FOOTBALL

THE JACK TRICE LEGACY

THE STORY OF JACK TRICE

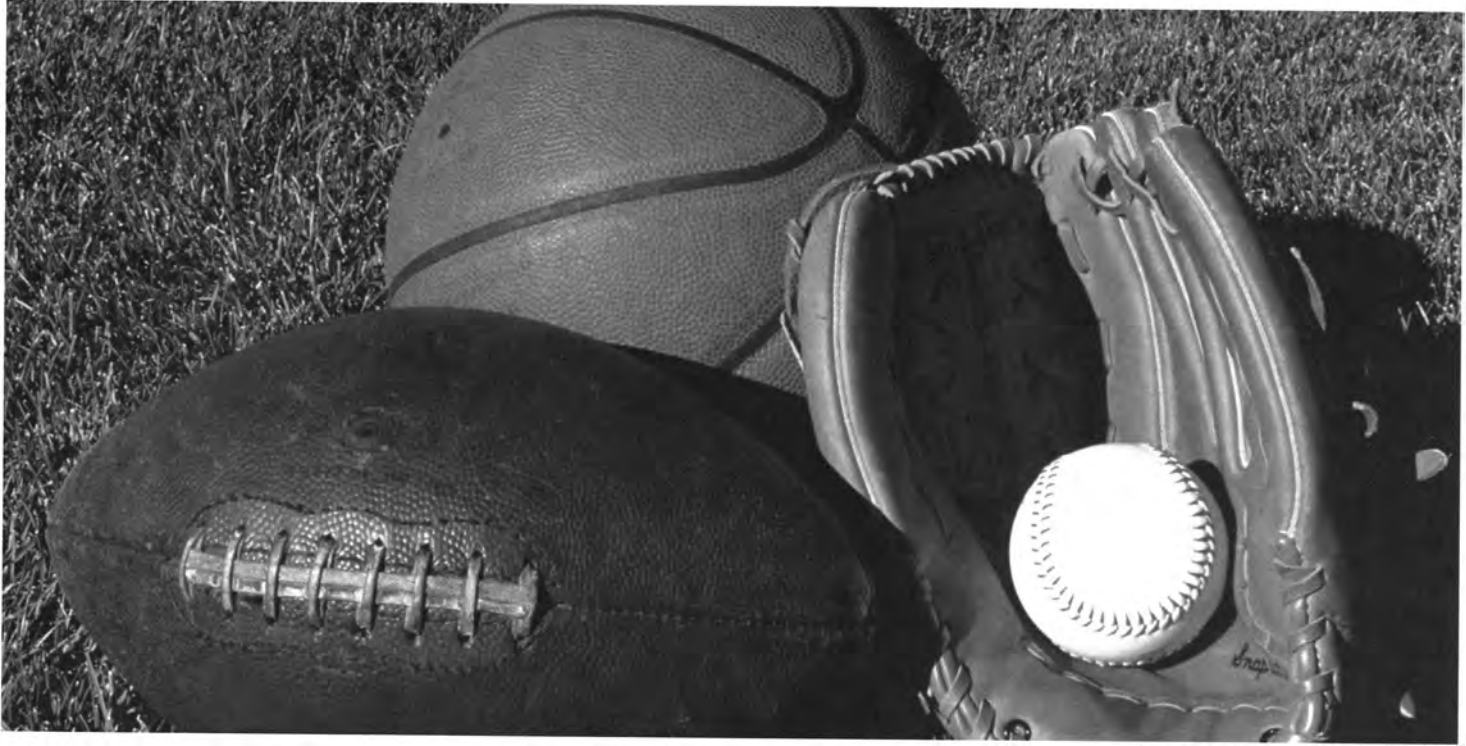

Jack Trice Stadium is named in honor of Jack Trice, Iowa State's first African-American student-athlete. Trice died from injuries he sustained in a varsity football game vs. Minnesota in October 1923.

Trice was an excellent student and a stellar performer in the interior line. He played on the freshman team in 1922, and the following year was considered to be all-conference caliber by many contemporaries.

After his untimely death, classes were postponed and a funeral service was held before 4,000 students and faculty on central campus. In 1984, Iowa State officials changed the name to the football stadium complex to Cyclone Stadium/Jack Trice Field. It was permanently dedicated as Jack Trice Stadium during a ceremony honoring the former Cyclone in August of 1997.

A statue in his likeness was moved to the east side of the Jacobson Building in 1997, greeting visitors as they enter the stadium.

A CYTENNIAL HOMECOMING CELEBRATION

In 1912, ISU was an agricultural college with 1,830 students. The campus roads were still unpaved, Lake LaVerne was just a marsh, and Curtiss Hall was brand new. In 1912, ISU also celebrated its first Homecoming, an event that would become an integral part of the university during the next century.

The first Homecoming was celebrated during the weekend of the annual football game against rival University of Iowa. A reported 152 alumni returned to campus, where they enjoyed tours of campus buildings, a play presented by the sophomores, and a scrimmage football game between the freshmen and reserves. Classes were cancelled on Friday afternoon and Saturday, and a "pep meeting" was held in Curtiss Auditorium. On Saturday morning, alumni were invited to a reception and luncheon at Margaret Hall to "get together and talk about old times."

But the main event of the weekend was the football game. Although the Cyclones lost 21-7, students and alumni celebrated that night in festivities that were destined to "light up the sky for miles around."

Homecoming 1912 was deemed a success, and plans for the next year's festivities began almost immediately. As ISU evolved during the next 100 years, so did Homecoming. The celebration's history is filled with pep rallies, parades, contests, and even riots as the ISU community has come together each year to celebrate alumni, the university, and, of course, football.

HOMECOMING TIMELINE

1912 – ISU's first Homecoming is held.

1917 – Iowa State wins its first Homecoming game, defeating Kansas State 10-7.

1918 – Homecoming is cancelled due to World War I and the Spanish influenza.

1946 – The 630 Club, a predecessor to today's Cyclone Club, is formed after Iowa State loses the Homecoming game to Oklahoma 63-0.

1953 – Meredith Willson, author and composer of "The Music Man," writes a new Iowa State pep song, "For I For S Forever," and performs it on Homecoming.

1953 – Students riot for three days after Iowa State upsets Missouri, blockading Lincoln Way and setting fire to lawn displays. The events are covered by national media, including Life magazine.

1954 – Cy the Cardinal makes his debut as ISU's mascot.

1977 – ISU holds its first mass campaniling event during Homecoming.

1980 – The first Alumni Band is formed and performs at Homecoming.

1984 – ISU plays its first night Homecoming football game.

1989 – Homecoming becomes a part of the Student Alumni Association (now Student Alumni Leadership Council).

1996 – Running back Troy Davis rushes for 378 yards against Missouri.

1997 – When ISU defeats Baylor, fans rush the field and tear down a goal post, carrying it to Lake LaVerne and throwing it in the water.

2002 – Quarterback Seneca Wallace zig-zags a total of 135 yards on a 12-yard touchdown run in the Homecoming game against Texas Tech in what would become known as "The Run."

Jack Trice Stadium has proven to be one of the most outstanding football venues in the country in its nearly-40-year existence. With its remarkable sight lines and numerous renovations throughout the years to enhance the gameday atmosphere, Jack Trice Stadium ranks as one of the nation's best football venues.

Jack Trice Stadium set all-time attendance marks in 2011. The 55,000-seat stadium produced the highest attendance in its history, with an average of 53,647 fans per contest. The historic 2011 home season was capped off by a 37-31 double-overtime win over No. 2 Oklahoma State, the biggest win in school history.

Construction on Jack Trice Stadium started on Oct. 26, 1973. The first game in the facility was played on Sept. 20, 1975, an Iowa State victory over Air Force.

It was officially dedicated as Jack Trice Stadium in 1997 in honor of Jack Trice, Iowa State's first African-American student-athlete.

When first constructed, the stadium had a maximum capacity of 42,500. Over the years, a number of additions have helped expand the fan capacity and maintain Jack Trice Stadium's tradition of excellence.

A natural grass playing field was installed in 1996 and a $6.2 million three-level press tower was introduced in 1997. In 2002, a video/scoreboard, permanent lighting and additional seating in the south endzone improved its gameday experience.

The stadium went through a $19.5 million first-phase remodeling project in 2008. The overhaul included the renovation/construction of suites and the addition of restrooms and concession buildings on the west concourse. The club section on the east side of the stadium was also entirely renovated.

In 2009, the second phase of the Jack Trice Stadium renovation began. The $11.5 million project included the addition of restrooms, concession stands and merchandise posts as well as widening the concourse to double its previous width on the east side of the stadium. The phase included the creation of the Jacobson Plaza, a large patio/entertainment space at mid-field on the stadium's east side exterior, and the replacement of the exterior fencing with a decorative iron fence.

The most recent major facelift occurred in 2011 when the massive, state-of-the-art video scoreboard on the north side of the stadium was introduced. The high-definition video screen, which measures approximately 36 feet high and 79.5 feet wide, features unparalleled picture clarity and acoustics.

IOWA STATE ADMINISTRATION

DR. STEVEN LEATH

President, Iowa State University

Dr. Steven Leath became the 15th president of Iowa State University in January 2012. He came to Iowa State from North Carolina where he spent many years as a faculty member, research program leader, and high-level administrator with the University of North Carolina system and North Carolina State University.

Dr. Leath serves on the Iowa STEM (science, technology, engineering, mathematics) Advisory Council, Big 12 Conference Board of Directors, World Food Prize Advisory Committee, Iowa Business Council and the executive committee of the Greater Des Moines Committee's Capital Crossroads Implementation Committee. He is a member of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, Crop Science Society of America and American Phytopathological Society.

From 2007 to 2012, Dr. Leath was Vice President for Research for the University of North Carolina General Administration. In that position, he promoted research and sponsored programs across the full spectrum of academic disciplines and interdisciplinary activities carried out by the University of North Carolina's (UNC) 16 university campuses. He worked to increase levels of external support from federal, state and private sources, and worked closely with campus research administrators to develop research and sponsored program activity in support of each campus.

He joined the faculty of North Carolina State University's College of Agriculture and Life Sciences in 1985 as a plant pathologist with the US Department of Agriculture's Agricultural Research Service unit based on the NC State campus. He was named professor and research leader of the unit in 1998, then spent time as acting national grain crops program leader for the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Agricultural Research Service (ARS) in Washington, DC. He returned to NC State in 2001 as a professor and assistant director of the North Carolina Agricultural Research Service (NCARS), was promoted to associate director in 2003, and was named NCARS director and associate dean of the College of Agriculture and Life Sciences in 2005.

Dr. Leath holds a BS in plant science from Pennsylvania State University, a master's degree in plant science from the University of Delaware, and a Ph.D. in plant pathology from the University of Illinois.

He and his wife Janet have two adult sons, Eric and Scott.

JAMIE POLLARD

Athletics Director, Iowa State University

Jamie Pollard is in his seventh year as the Director of Athletics at Iowa State University.

Hired in the fall of 2005, Pollard and his staff have transformed the department's financial operations, significantly improved its facilities, re-energized the fan base and set the Cyclones up for success on the field and in the classroom.

The Cyclones have steadily improved their performance in the classroom and in competition. Iowa State has registered its all-time best athletics' graduation rate and national all-sports ranking during Pollard's tenure.

Cyclone student-athletes have registered a higher grade-point average than undergrads in six of the last seven years and Iowa State has placed in the Top 50 in the Learfield Sports Directors' Cup in two of the last three years.

Here are several additional highlights:

- With completion of the Cyclone Sports Complex and a Football Training Facility, the department has invested over $100 million in new construction and renovations;
- Established season attendance records in its five major sports;
- Created an annual operating budget of more than $50 million for the first time (2012) and eliminating dependence on state funding at the same time;
- Assembled, arguably, the strongest coaching staff in ISU history.

A former national champion long-distance runner at UW-Oshkosh (where he is in the school's athletics Hall of Fame), Pollard channeled his competitive drive into an athletics administration career. Prior to arrival at ISU he served in various athletic administrative capacities at the University of Wisconsin, University of Maryland and Saint Louis University.

He received a 2003 Street & Smith's Sports Business Journal "Top Forty Under 40" award. Pollard served as chair of the Big 12 Athletics Directors Committee and first Vice-President of the Division 1A Athletics Directors Association.

Jamie and his wife, Ellen, have four children. The family's local philanthropic efforts have benefitted Blank Children's Hospital, Variety Children's Charity and United Way of Central Iowa.

HEAD COACH PAUL RHOADS

On Nov. 18, 2011, Iowa State stepped on to the biggest stage it had ever played. The Cyclones hosted No. 2 Oklahoma State in prime time. Before the world, the biggest game in school history became the biggest win in school history. Iowa State rallied from a 24-7 deficit to beat Oklahoma State. The incredible comeback affirmed Rhoads' transformation of a Cyclone football program that unmistakably bears his personal brand.

The Cyclone nation is "All In." For the first time in school history, more than 50,000 fans flocked to Jack Trice Stadium for every home game in 2011. The final average home attendance figure of 53,647 was an all-time record. The extraordinary scene of thousands of Cardinal and Gold clad fans on the field after Iowa State's thrilling 44-41 triple overtime victory over Iowa in September could only have been trumped by the multitude of joyous Cyclones of all ages who walked the Jack Trice Stadium field in November, savoring what they had never seen before.

Iowa State's 2011 season earned the program a new national respect. Linebacker A.J. Klein was named Big 12 Conference Co-Defensive Player of the Year. Wide receiver and kick returner Aaron Horne was the Big 12 Conference Offensive Newcomer of the Year. Offensive lineman Kelechi Osemele was named a first-team All-American by Sports Illustrated. Jake Knott earned first-team All-Big 12 honors in 2011 after making 115 tackles.

At the Dec. 2008 press conference introducing him as Iowa State's new head football coach, Rhoads compared his return to Iowa State and his native state, to a Hollywood script. Iowa State's 2009 season ended with a Cyclone bowl game victory. The reward for keeping that faith was a seven-win season and a victory over Minnesota in the Insight Bowl played in sunny Tempe, Ariz., on New Year's Eve.

By then the Cyclone bandwagon had already left the station. Two months before the Insight Bowl, Rhoads helped the Cyclones to a 9-7 win at defending Big 12 North Division champion Nebraska on Oct. 24, Iowa State's first win in Lincoln since 1977.

The historical significance of Rhoads' success in his first Iowa State season was underscored by his place as the first Cyclone football coach to win seven games in his initial campaign since 1907. He was the first coach in Iowa State's history to post a winning record in his initial Cyclone season since 1931.

Born in Nevada, Iowa, just 10 minutes from Jack Trice Stadium, Rhoads came back to Iowa State after a year as defensive coordinator at Auburn. His stellar track record complements his Iowa roots. The man who was valedictorian at Ankeny High School, one of the largest schools in the state (located just 20 minutes south of Ames), Rhoads was the ideal individual to take control of the Iowa State football program. Rhoads coordinated the Pitt defense for eight seasons (2000-07) before moving to Auburn in the same role in 2008.

His resume includes a 2004 Big East Conference championship with the Panthers. Five of the defenses he coordinated ranked in the nation's Top 30 for scoring and three in the NCAA's Top 12 for fewest yards allowed. His aggressive philosophy allowed Pitt to score 10 defensive touchdowns from 2004-06.

Rhoads coordinated defenses for both Walt Harris and Dave Wannstedt at Pitt. He was approached by Auburn's Tommy Tuberville to move to Auburn in 2002 after two spectacular seasons at Pitt but turned down the offer. Tuberville again offered Rhoads his top defensive coaching position prior to the 2008 season and he accepted.

Rhoads' familiarity with Iowa State goes back to his youth growing up in central Iowa but also includes a five-year stint as inside linebackers (1995) and secondary (1996-99) coach with the Cyclones. He was a member of Dan McCarney's first staff at Iowa State.

Six of Rhoads' former defensive backs have been drafted by the National Football League, including Pitt's Darrelle Revis (the 14th overall pick by the Jets) in 2007. He has coached in seven bowl games. Fourteen of his Panther defenders earned first-team All-Big East honors.

The Iowa State head coach lettered three seasons (1986-88) as a defensive back at Missouri Western.

Rhoads earned a bachelor's degree in economics in 1989 at Missouri Western and was the recipient of the Chris Faros Scholarship, which honors the football team's top senior student-athlete. Rhoads added a master's degree from Utah State in 1991. Rhoads' father, Cecil, was a high school coach for more than three decades and has been inducted into the Iowa High School Football Coaches Hall of Fame. His mother, Mary, was a teacher and homemaker. Rhoads is the youngest of five children. Paul and his wife, Vickie, a former basketball player at Missouri Western, have two boys, Jake and Wyatt.

COURTNEY MESSINGHAM

Offensive Coordinator/Quarterbacks | Northern Iowa, 1990

Courtney Messingham takes over as Iowa State's offensive coordinator after spending 2011 as the Cyclone wide receivers coach, and the previous two seasons as tight ends coach. The Iowa State receiving corps flourished under Messingham's coaching, hauling in 195 catches for 2,343 yards and 15 touchdowns last season, the unit's highest output since 2008. Darius Reynolds had a breakout season under Messingham's tutelage, catching 43 passes for 695 yards and seven touchdowns during his senior campaign. He coached 2011 Big 12 Offensive Newcomer of the Year Aaron Horne, who caught 38 passes for 431 yards. Messingham was also instrumental in the development of ex-Cyclone tight end Collin Franklin, who ranked second in the nation at his position in catches in 2010 with 54 grabs for 530 yards and three touchdowns. Franklin is now playing in the NFL for the Tampa Bay Buccaneers.

WALLY BURNHAM

Defensive Coordinator/Linebackers | Samford, 1963

Wally Burnham, entering his fourth season as Iowa State's defensive coordinator and linebackers coach, has a resume that includes more than 40 years of collegiate coaching experience. In his first season at Iowa State (2009), the Cyclones ranked second in the nation in red zone defense. Burnham has coached the prolific linebacker duo of Jake Knott and A.J. Klein since their freshman seasons and has seen them both earn All-Big 12 honors in 2010 and 2011. Additionally, Klein was named the Big 12 Co-Defensive Player of the Year last season. Klein averaged 8.9 tackles a game in 2011, while Knott averaged 8.8 tackles. In 2009, Burnham mentored Big 12 tackle-leader Jesse Smith to first-team All-Big 12 honors. Burnham, a member of Florida State's 1993 National Championship staff, has coached NFL stars Mike Jenkins, Kawika Mitchell and Derrick Brooks during his career. During his time at FSU, Burnham coached two Butkus Award winners in Paul McGowan and Marvin Jones.

IOWA STATE FOOTBALL ASSISTANT COACHES

BILL BLEIL

Assistant Head Coach/Offensive Line | Northwestern (Iowa), 1981

Assistant head coach and offensive line coach Bill Bleil has produced and developed NFL-level talent in each of his first three seasons at Iowa State. In 2009, he helped Reggie Stephens and Kelechi Osemele earn All-Big 12 recognition. Stephens plays for the Cincinnati Bengals. In 2010, Ben Lamaak joined Osemele as Cyclone offensive linemen earning All-Big 12 honors. With Bleil's assistance, Osemele and Hayworth Hicks, a second team All-Big 12 honoree, both developed into elite offensive line prospects during their time at Iowa State. Osemele was selected in the second round of the 2012 NFL Draft by the Baltimore Ravens after earning All-America honors from Sports Illustrated. Bleil and Iowa State head coach Paul Rhoads were members of Pittsburgh's staff in 2004 when the Panthers won the Big East title and went to the Fiesta Bowl.

CURTIS BRAY

Defensive Ends | Pittsburgh, 1992

Curtis Bray, now entering his fourth season as defensive ends coach with the Cyclones, has produced quality players and results during his tenure at Iowa State. Bray's latest success story is Jake Lattimer. With Bray's coaching, Lattimer was able to make a very successful transition from linebacker to defensive end, earning a spot in the starting lineup halfway through the 2010 season. Bray's tutelage was an integral part of Lattimer's success in earning Big 12 Defensive Player of the Week honors, as well as honorable mention All-Big 12 recognition in both 2010 and 2011. Head coach Paul Rhoads and Bray worked together at Pittsburgh for seven seasons as Bray served as defensive ends and linebackers coach for the Panthers. Bray coached former NFL linebacker H.B. Blades and current Jacksonville Jaguar Clint Session during his time at Pitt. Blades was named Big East Defensive Player of the Year and was a first-team All-America selection in 2006.

SHANE BURNHAM

Defensive Tackles/Special Teams | South Carolina, 1998

Shane Burnham is entering his fourth season as defensive tackles and special teams coach at Iowa State and the improvement of both units has followed. Burnham's kickoff coverage squad was ranked seventh in the nation in 2009, allowing just 18.1 yards per return. Over the last three years, Burnham has helped improve the Iowa State punt team from ranking 99th in the nation in 2009 to 42nd in 2011. In 2010, Burnham helped Stephen Ruempolhamer go from a back-up to the anchor of Iowa State's defensive front in 2010 and 2011. Ruempolhamer posted 30 tackles, 2.5 sacks and forced two fumbles during his senior campaign in 2011. The son of Iowa State defensive coordinator Wally Burnham, the younger Burnham came to Ames from Elon where he served as defensive line and special teams coach. Elon's special teams units consistently ranked among the best in the Southern Conference.

TROY DOUGLAS

Secondary | Appalachian State, 1988

Troy Douglas' resume includes 24 years as a collegiate coach, 22 of which have been spent coaching defensive backs. Now entering his first season as Iowa State's secondary coach, Douglas brings a wealth of experience and success to the staff. In 2009 and 2010, Douglas coached one of the most vaunted defensive backfields in the country at North Carolina, as the unit posted 19 interceptions in both of those seasons. At Iowa State, Douglas is reunited with defensive coordinator Wally Burnham, who he worked with at South Florida from 2006-08. Douglas has built a reputation for having many of his former pupils play in the NFL. Douglas coached 2008 first-round NFL Draft pick Mike Jenkins of the Dallas Cowboys while at USF, and also mentored current NFL players Nate Allen (Philadelphia Eagles) and Jerome Murphy (St. Louis Rams). Douglas also coached at Indiana, helping develop current Denver Bronco Tracy Porter.

TODD STURDY

Wide Receivers/Passing Game Coordinator | St. Ambrose, 1990

Todd Sturdy is in his first year as receivers coach and passing game coordinator at Iowa State after spending four years as offensive coordinator at Washington State. In 2011, Sturdy's WSU offense ranked ninth nationally in passing, averaging 322.25 passing yards a game while throwing for 30 touchdowns. Before his tenure at WSU, Sturdy was the offensive coordinator at Eastern Washington for the 2007 season. During his lone season at EWU the Eagles went 9-4 and reached the 2008 FCS quarterfinals, setting school records in pass completions (287) and passing touchdowns (36). Before EWU, Sturdy accrued an 85-40 record in 12 seasons as the head coach at St. Ambrose. During his tenure at St. Ambrose, Sturdy coached 28 All-Americans and 64 first-team all-conference players while winning five Mid-States Football Association Midwest League titles.

KENITH POPE

Running Backs | Oklahoma, 1976

The Iowa State run game has consistently been a strong point for the Cyclone offense during the last three years under running backs coach Kenith Pope. Former Iowa Stater Alexander Robinson became the 12th back in Iowa State history to gain over 1,000 yards in a season (2009) and gained over 2,600 all-purpose yards under Pope. Robinson ended his career fourth in Iowa State history in career rushing yards (3,309). In 2011, despite a season-ending injury to starting running back Shontrelle Johnson, Pope's stable of running backs still carried the ball for 1,700 yards and 16 touchdowns. Pope came to Iowa State after one season at UNLV where he tutored Frank Summers, who was drafted by the Pittsburgh Steelers in 2009. Pope coached another 2009 NFL draft pick in Texas A&M's Mike Goodson, who is currently a member of the Oakland Raiders. Pope began his collegiate coaching career in 1979 and has been a part of 17 bowl games.

LUKE WELLS

Tight Ends | Oklahoma, 2002

Luke Wells is entering his second season as tight ends coach after spending the previous two seasons as Iowa State's wide receivers coach. In both positions, Wells' impact has been evident in the Cyclones' offensive success. Wells' coaching helped former walk-on Jake Williams become one of the Iowa State's most dangerous threats in 2009 and 2010, finishing his career with 71 catches for 807 yards and nine touchdowns. Wells also tutored Marquis Hamilton, who recorded 50 catches for 606 yards during the 2009 season. Wells previously served as receivers and tight ends coach at Louisiana-Monroe, coaching a pair of All-Sun Belt performers, including first-teamer Mike Trappey. Trappey led all Sun Belt tight ends in catches (42) and receiving yards (425) in 2005. Wells was a student assistant on Oklahoma's 2000 National Championship team.

YANCY MCKNIGHT

Director of Strength and Conditioning | Missouri Southern State, 2001

The foundation of Iowa State's recent success has been made possible through the hard work of Iowa State's Director of Strength and Conditioning Yancy McKnight. Now in his fourth season at Iowa State, McKnight's work in the weight room was beneficial in helping Iowa State win its third bowl game in school history in 2009 (Insight Bowl) as well as reaching the New Era Pinstripe Bowl in 2011. Former Cyclones Kelechi Osemele, Leonard Johnson and Hayworth Hicks joined the long list of McKnight student-athletes now playing in the NFL. McKnight has worked with a number of current NFL players, including Reggie Stephens (Cincinnati Bengals), Kevin Williams (Minnesota Vikings), Antonio Smith (Houston Texans), Billy Bajema (Baltimore Ravens), Charlie Johnson (Minnesota Vikings), Scott Solomon (Tennessee Titans), Jarrett Dillard (Detroit Lions) and James Casey (Houston Texans). McKnight was the Athletics Director for Performance Enhancement at Rice prior to Iowa State.

Composed of over 300 student members, the Iowa State University Cyclone Football "Varsity" Marching Band is a vital part of the action of Big 12 football. Known for its polished and energetic style, the Cyclone Marching Band performs a wide variety of dynamic shows throughout the season. Students in the band come from all over the nation and represent over 70 academic majors. Band membership is set through a competitive audition of over 475 students auditioning for 325 spots.

Each year our athletic bands perform for over a half-million people, including the fans that regularly pack Jack Trice Stadium. Recent performances have included the EVI, net Houston Bowl, the Independence Bowl in Shreveport (twice), the Eddie Robinson Classic in Kansas City, the Insight Bowl in Tempe (twice) and the Pinstripe Bowl in New York City.

Through rehearsals, travel and the excitement of marching in front of thousands of cheering fans, the members of our Cyclone Marching Band share rich experiences that create lasting social, as well as musical bonds. Members of the marching band also comprise the pep bands that play for women's volleyball and men's and women's basketball at Hilton Coliseum.

The band performs at all home football games and at several local and regional exhibitions. The band will travel to Ankeny, Iowa to Exhibition at the Mid Iowa Band Championships on Oct. 13.

The Cyclone Marching Band will perform in the annual ISU Band Extravaganza, an event that will also feature the Wind Ensemble and Jazz Ensemble I. This year's concert will be held in C.Y. Stephens Auditorium on Saturday, Nov. 10 at 7:30 p.m.

CY'S FAVORITE ALUM: GARY AND JANET THOMPSON

Gary and Janet Thompson

Gary Thompson is one of the most famous and accomplished athletic figures in the history of Iowa State University. There is no debate. There's also no debating the incredible passion that Thompson and his wife, Janet, have for Cyclone Athletics. Throughout the years, the Thompsons have worked vigorously to give back to the school which provided Gary a platform to become one of the state's most influential sport heroes.

This year, the Iowa State Athletics Department recognizes the loyal and outstanding support from the Thompsons by naming Gary and Janet as recipients of the 2012 Cy's Favorite Alum award. Since 1955, the Iowa State University Athletics Department has recognized the loyalty and accomplishments of a graduate or friend of Cyclone Athletics.

Thompson's legacy is well-documented. Growing up in nearby Roland, Iowa, Thompson enrolled at Iowa State and helped put the basketball program on the national map during his tenure in Ames from 1954-57. The "Roland Rocket" became the first consensus first-team All-American in Iowa State men's basketball history, as the Cyclones appeared in the Associated Press' top-25 for the first time ever.

In his senior campaign, Thompson was the first Cyclone to top the 1,000-point mark in a career and his team literally slayed a giant. Thompson and the Cyclones recorded the biggest win in school history, defeating No. 1-ranked Kansas (39-37) led by Wilt Chamberlain. To this day, it is the only time a Cyclone team knocked off the nation's top-rated team in men's hoops. The 1957 Big Seven Player of the Year had his No. 20 jersey officially retired where it hangs today in the rafters of Hilton Coliseum.

Thompson was also an All-American in baseball, leading the Cyclones to their first College World Series appearance (1957). He represented the U.S. on the 1959 Pan American Games Basketball team, playing alongside NBA legends Oscar Robertson and Jerry West. He played and coached with the Phillips 66 AAU basketball program for a number of years before forging a successful business career with Phillips in Ames.

Thompson was introduced to a future generation of Cyclone fans as a nationally-respected basketball television analyst in the 1970s. The Hall-of-Fame broadcaster worked with NBC, ABC, ESPN, Big Eight/12 and the Cyclone Television Network in a brilliant career spanning three decades. He was inducted into the inaugural ISU Letterwinners Athletics Hall of Fame class in 1997.

Gary and Janet are ever-present at Cyclone sporting events and are loyal supporters of Iowa State Athletics fund-raising efforts. Their gifts over the years have benefited numerous athletics projects, including the construction of the Jacobson Athletic Building where the "Gary Thompson Hall of Honor" bears his name. The Thompsons are members of the Cyclone Club, ISU Letterwinners Club, Clyde Williams Society and Order of the Knoll.

Gary's vast expertise has aided Iowa State while serving on the ISU Athletics Council, ISU Letterwinners Board/Hall of Fame selection committee and ISU Foundation Board of Governors. He's also been a valuable resource for the Iowa State Athletics Administration in coaching searches.

Thank You, Gary and Janet!

BERGSTROM FOOTBALL COMPLEX

BERGSTROM FOOTBALL COMPLEX

The Iowa State football program will soon have one of the finest football facilities in the nation when the $20.6 million Bergstrom Football Complex is completed this fall.

The Board of Regents, State of Iowa approved the project to build a 60,000 square foot, two-story complex to house the Cyclone football team and its operational functions in 2011.

"From both a daily operational standpoint as well as a recruiting perspective, the new facility is a major upgrade for our football team," Iowa State Director of Athletics Jamie Pollard said. "It will be a great addition to our facilities portfolio."

The new complex will run the full length of the Steve and Debbie Bergstrom Indoor Training Facility on its east side and include player and coach locker rooms, a team auditorium, position meeting rooms, coaches' offices, a reception area, strength and conditioning facilities, sports medicine center, video operations and an equipment room. A tunnel connects the new complex to the playing field in Jack Trice Stadium.

STEVE AND DEBBIE BERGSTROM INDOOR FACILITY

The $9.6 million Steve and Debbie Bergstrom Indoor Training Facility opened for football practice in March 2004. The 92,000-square-foot building went through renovations in 2012 and is now connected to the Bergstrom Football Complex, providing the Cyclone football team with one of the most impressive practice facilities in the nation.

Proud Sponsor of the Iowa State University Cyclones

We believe everyone deserves a secure financial future. Which is why, last year, we paid our customers 10.8 billion dollars in insurance and annuity benefits.* The way we see it, we don't just crunch numbers and manage investments. We make things. 14.5 million customers* count on us to help them make the things that matter. Things like peace of mind, a college education, a second career or a successful retirement. Because, even in trying times, we stand by a simple idea. We do what we say we're going to do. We've done it for over 100 years, and we'll keep delivering on our promises—so we can keep making the things that make Tomorrow better. What can we make with you?

TOTAL PERFORMANCE

Superior Yield
Powered by AYT™
SYSTEM

PIONEER®

Yield potential isn't something you can take for granted. In fact, it's always a top priority. Powered by our exclusive Accelerated Yield Technology (AYT™) system, DuPont Pioneer incorporates key defensive and agronomic traits into its elite genetics, helping accelerate top-end yield consistency across your acres. Top it off with Pioneer Premium Seed Treatment, plus the services you get from your local Pioneer sales professional, and it all adds up to total soybean performance you can count on. pioneer.com/soybeans

Pioneer Premium Seed Treatment for soybeans is applied at a Pioneer production facility or by an independent sales representative of Pioneer. Not all sales representatives offer treatment services, and costs and other charges may vary. See your Pioneer sales representative for details.
