Iowa State University

Iowa State is the perfect place for adventurous minds.

It is a large, national university with nearly 27,000 students from all over the world. Yet, when you walk on campus you're struck by its beauty and warmth. It is packed with unlimited opportunity and a support network that helps visitors and students enjoy their adventures on the Iowa State University campus.

The student experience is the focus of Iowa State.

Whether it is the thrill of conducting cutting-edge research into renewable energy with one of the country's greatest experts in bioscience, participating in one of the 600 student clubs and organizations on campus, experiencing Hilton Magic at a Big 12 Conference basketball game, or relaxing at Reiman Gardens, an Iowa State University student will experience an amazing transformation in unlocking his or her potential.

Students walk on campus and feel at home. As one of the 25 most beautiful campuses in the nation, art permeates the campus distinguished by architecture that is at once compelling and inspiring. In fact, Iowa State has the largest collection of public campus art in the nation. It is a wonderful environment for a rich and challenging academic adventure.

Academically, Iowa State University is renowned.

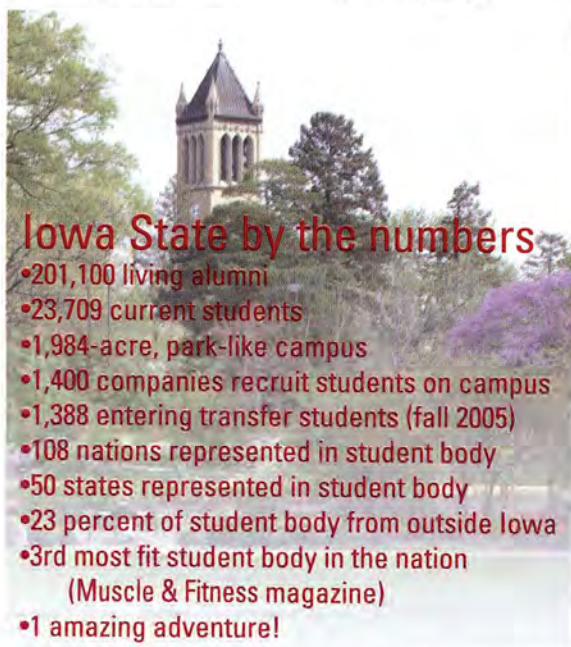

The College of Engineering draws students from across the country and is regarded as a leader in its field. More students are enrolled in the College of Business than in those at any other college or university in Iowa. Its College of Human Sciences is at the forefront of educating future teachers, especially in math and science. In fact, all of Iowa State's colleges are on the move, stretching the boundaries of their respective disciplines. From architecture to sociology to liberal studies, students can choose from 100 majors.

It doesn't take long for new students to customize their adventures. They see the world through different eyes at Iowa State. They explore more of what Iowa State has to offer, learning more about themselves every step of the way. Iowa State has one of the strongest learning communities programs in the nation. New students collaborate with others who have the same major or area of interest. It is a wonderful base of support and a way to meet new friends quickly. Perhaps a friend encourages a new student to attend a performance at Fisher Theatre or a lecture in LeBaron Auditorium that he might never experience otherwise. Suddenly, they both are inspired to broaden their horizons and go to the symphony at Stephens Auditorium. One day the hardest class they have ever taken becomes their favorite class they've ever taken. The subject comes to life and their passion for it becomes an obsession. Their professor becomes a lifelong mentor.

It's a world-class, high-tech environment. During their academic careers at Iowa State, students discover how progressive the university's learning facilities really are. They may work with a professor who is using CYBLUE, one of the fastest supercomputers in the country, to better understand plant genetics or to solve a question too complex for normal methods. They may use C6, one of the world's highest resolution virtual reality environments to create new products of the future.

It's an adventure for life. Before students know it, graduation is on the horizon. For many, they move, find a great job, and begin a new adventure. Others decide that their next adventure is graduate school. In either event, the memories of their years here are laced with challenge, fun, friends and adventure. The transformation from high school to college graduate is apparent to all. And as any alum knows, they will forever be Cyclones because Iowa State is what an adventure should be.

Dr. Gregory L. Geoffroy became president of Iowa State University on July 1, 2001, after serving as provost and senior vice president at the University of Maryland, College Park, for four years, and as a faculty member and administrator at Penn State University for 23 years. He also holds the faculty rank of professor of chemistry at Iowa State.

Dr. Geoffroy is leading Iowa State in achieving its vision of becoming the best in advancing the land-grant ideals of education, research and service, and in putting science and technology to work. He continues Iowa State's path of being recognized around the world as a leading research university, a student-centered university that provides a top quality education to its students, and an invaluable resource for Iowa, the nation and the world.

He is a people-centered president. He spends much of his time getting out and around the campus, the community and the state of Iowa, visiting with students, parents and the people of Iowa to learn more about how Iowa State can better meet their needs. He frequently spends time meeting with students in residence halls, dining centers and fraternity and sorority chapters, and participating in student events on campus.

Dr. Geoffroy is an avid supporter of Cyclone athletics, and he serves as the Big 12 Conference's representative on the NCAA Division I Board of Directors.

A nationally known researcher in organometallic chemistry, Dr. Geoffroy has published more than 200 research articles in refereed journals and presented more than 200 invited lectures throughout the United States and in nine other nations. He is co-author of the book Organometallic Photochemistry, and has directed the work of 37 doctoral students and 15 post-doctoral scholars.

His teaching and research have earned him fellowships from the Alfred P. Sloan Foundation and John Simon Guggenheim Foundation, visiting professorships to major universities in Germany and France, the Dreyfus Foundation Teacher-Scholar Award, and, in 1991, election as a Fellow in the American Association for the Advancement of Science. He has served in several leadership capacities in the Association for Universities for Research in Astronomy and in the American Chemical Society's Division of Inorganic Chemistry.

Dr. Geoffroy received a bachelor's with honors degree from the University of Louisville in 1968, served as an officer in the United States Navy from 1969-70, and earned his doctorate in chemistry from the California Institute of Technology in 1974. He was named an Alumni Fellow by Louisville in 1997. He and his wife, Kathleen Carothers Geoffroy, have four children (Susan, Janet, David, Michael).

Athlete Feature Brent "Big Play" Curvey

Senior defensive lineman Brent Curvey embarks on his final season as a Cyclone three-year starter. Curvey, a Texas-native, came in as a true freshman making 11 appearances and now leads the team as a captain.

At first, Curvey needed some time to adjust to the difference of Iowa from Texas, including living in a smaller town. He soon found his niche as a Cyclone and has now made himself known to his team, coaches and fans as "Big Play" Curvey. It wasn't until his teammates told him about his nickname that he was even aware of his popularity with the fans.

"I didn't know anything about it," Curvey said. "It was just all of a sudden, 'Yeah, they call you "Big Play"' and I was just like, 'Ok'. Now people are expecting the big plays and I've got to make some and do something to keep my name. It's growing on me now."

When Curvey looks on his career, he calls to mind what he believes to be his biggest play at ISU; his one handed interception he rumbled back for 66 yards to clinch the Cyclone win over Colorado on November 12, 2005.

"It was the senior game," Curvey said. "I wanted to make sure we sent the seniors out with a win. That has been my biggest play so far."

Now with his own senior season in full swing, Curvey is able to look back on his years at Iowa State and take much from it.

While reflecting his time in Ames, he recalls his favorite memory as a Cyclone.

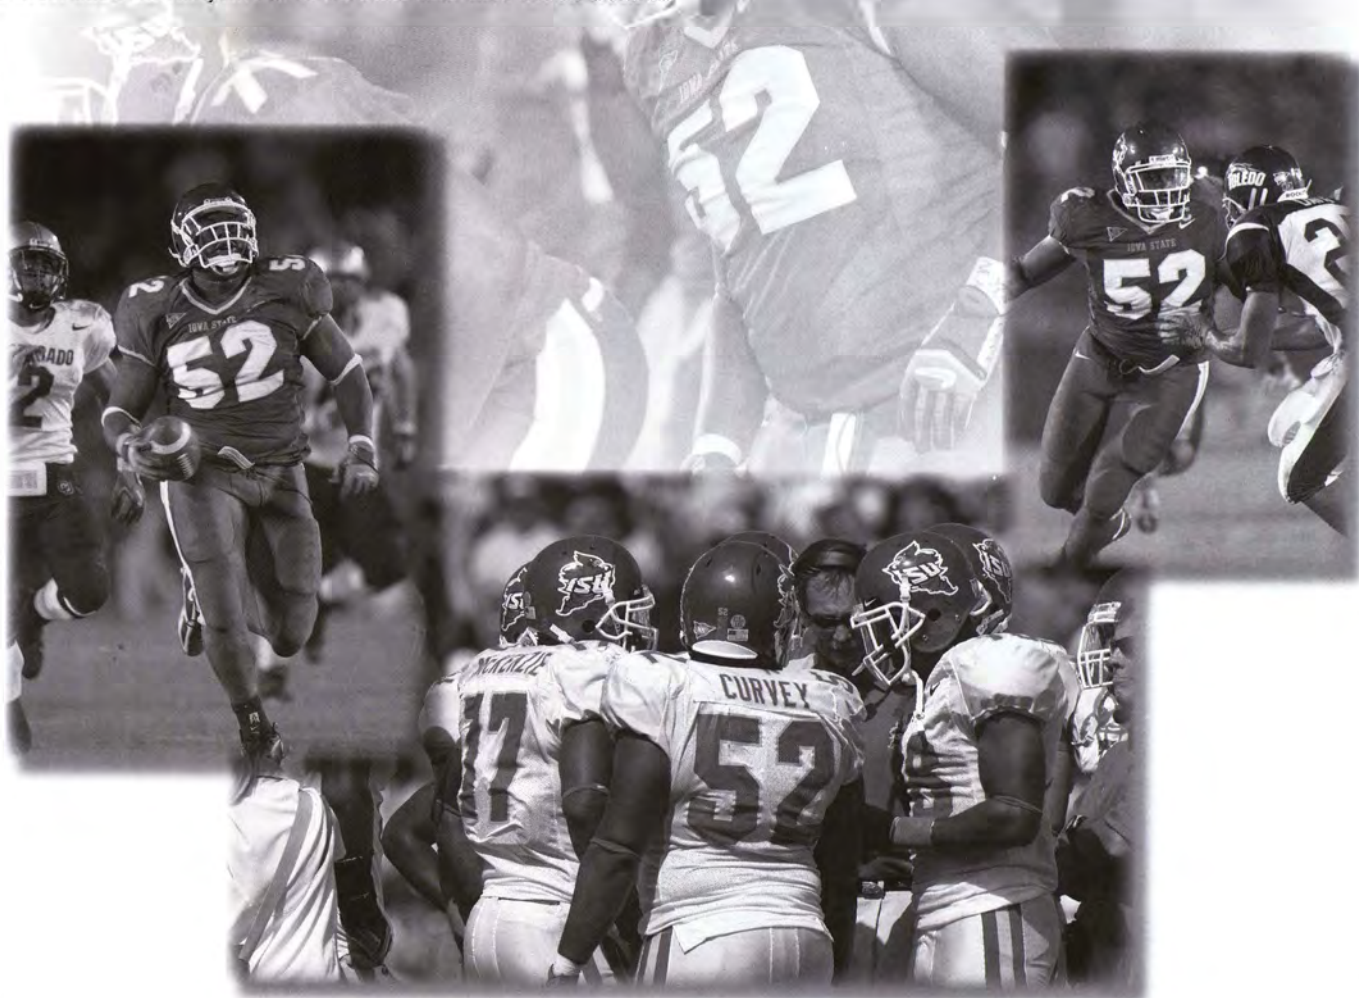

"Bringing back the Cy-Hawk trophy last year is probably my best memory," Curvey said. "The celebration after that was just crazy. The whole thing, running over to their sideline and grabbing the trophy, it was just a crazy celebration and a great memory."

Curvey will finish his career at ISU this season, but not after he takes care of some business. With eight regular season games left on the calendar, Curvey has some goals to accomplish.

"I want to go out with a bang," Curvey said. "It's my last year so I've got to finish on a high note. I want to make sure we get to a bowl game, hopefully a championship and wherever else we can go. I just want to go out with a bang from a personal standpoint."

Even when Curvey is finished on the field, he still will have a Cyclone legacy left on the field with his "big plays" and much more he will take with him for the rest of his life.

"More than anything, I won't forget the family and friends," he said. "All these guys, I'm going to still remember until I'm old and gray because of all of the time we spent out on the field, the weight room, everything. The coaches and the friends that are built here I'll take more than anything."

United for the Cure.

Wear the hat. Help Iowa State, Iowa and American Family Insurance beat breast cancer.

After the cheering ends, there's one thing we all agree on: we need a victory against breast cancer. Which is why American Family is proud to join forces with the Iowa State Cyclones and Iowa Hawkeyes to help beat this disease. Purchase a hat and proceeds will benefit cancer research in Iowa. So let's unite for the cure and win this one together.

ISU Athletics Director Jamie Pollard

Jamie Pollard, whose visionary and dynamic leadership style created an immediate buzz and tangible progress, is the Director of Athletics at Iowa State University. The 41-year-old Pollard has had an immediate impact on Cyclone Athletics.

In less than one calendar year, Pollard has energized an entire department and campus community with a relentless work ethic and the dare to dream big. The accomplishments under his watch include:

- the introduction of a $135 million facility master plan, which includes major renovations and enhancements to Hilton Coliseum and Jack Trice Stadium and visions for a Student Recreation Center (aquatic center and gymnastics practice facility) and a Gateway Athletics Complex (outdoor track, softball, baseball and indoor/outdoor tennis facilities);
- the promotion of Cael Sanderson, the greatest ambassador in college wrestling today, to head coach and the hiring of Greg McDermott, one of the nation's hottest coaching candidates to lead the men's basketball program;
- a classroom performance in 2005-06, which resulted in a higher grade-point average for student-athletes than the student body;
- Iowa State's first victory in the Cy-Hawk Series (all sports competition) for state bragging rights between the state's two largest schools;
- raising the operating budget by $4.9 million, aided by the signing of a seven-year multi-media rights deal with Learfield Communications;
- a Big 12 Championship (only the sixth for ISU in the 10-year history of the conference) and the first-ever berth in the Super Six for gymnastics;
- the creation of a comprehensive strategic vision for ISU Athletics called "Taking the Next Big Step";
- an end zone tickets sales promotion, which created 3,000 new season ticket holders in less than 30 days, and a school-record number of season football tickets sold;
- facility upgrades for Hilton Coliseum, which includes a new HD-quality scoreboard, a ring beam and new seats and sound system for 2006.

Twelve years ago, Pollard's mentor (Maryland AD Debbie Yow) told him to list universities that would be on his wish list if he were given the opportunity to be a Director of Athletics. The list included schools with Midwestern values, strong academic reputations and highly competitive athletic conferences. When the ISU job opened, Pollard knew it was time to act. He pursued the position with vigor and outlined a vision for future success. The plan impressed the committee and he was named the school's 14th Director of Athletics on Sept. 19, 2005.

His arrival at Iowa State University was preceded by three years (2003-05) as the Deputy Athletics Director at the University of Wisconsin. Pollard handled the overall administration of the university's 23-sport, $72 million athletics department. He was the school's No. 2 athletics administrator under Barry Alvarez, who was serving in the dual role of director of athletics and head football coach.

Pollard joined the athletics department at Wisconsin in 1998 as its chief financial officer and senior associate athletics director. During his tenure, he served as sports administrator for men's and women's basketball for four seasons. The Badger men's teams won two consecutive Big Ten championships, one Big Ten Tournament championship and advanced to the 2005 NCAA Tournament Elite Eight.

Under Pollard's leadership, a $110 million renovation of the football stadium was completed, football and basketball games were sold out and records were set for donations to the athletic department and the number of athletics donors.

Before his stint at Wisconsin, Pollard served as associate athletics director for internal operations at St. Louis University (1989-94) and associate athletics director for administration at the University of Maryland (1994-98).

Pollard received a bachelor's degree in business administration in 1987 from the University of Wisconsin-Oshkosh. That same year, he was the NCAA Division III national champion in the 5,000-meter run. A two-time All-American for the Titans, Pollard was inducted into the UW-Oshkosh athletics hall of fame in 1999.

He and his wife, Ellen, have four children (Thomas, Annie, Maggie and James).

ISU Head Football Coach Dan McCarney

2004 Big 12 North co-Champion
2004 Big 12 Coach of the Year
2001 Big 12 Coach of the Year
2000 Big 12 Coach of the Year Runner-Up

Dan McCarney, the longest-serving head coach in the Big 12 Conference, has reaped a litany of success at Iowa State, of which the 2005 EVI.net Houston Bowl season is but the latest chapter. There was a sense of déjà vu last fall as Iowa State rallied to win four of its last five regular season games for the second straight year. Among the high points of the 2005 campaign were a 23-3 win over eighth-rated Iowa Sept. 10, ISU's sixth win over its in-state rival in eight years and the Cyclones' first victory over an AP top 10 team since 1992. Iowa State notched its first home wins over Kansas State and Colorado since 1989 and 1983, respectively. The Houston Bowl appearance marks ISU's fifth bowl appearance under McCarney in the last six years. Iowa State made seven television appearances last season.

To put McCarney's accomplishments in perspective, only 16 teams in the 114-year history of Iowa State football have won at least seven games. McCarney has coached five of those squads in the last six years. Yet there be no doubt, McCarney has made good on his promise to bring winning and respect back to the Iowa State football program. That achievement was fully confirmed in 2004 when McCarney was named the Big 12 Conference coach of the year by his league peers, ESPN.com and The Kansas City Star. After bowl games in 2000, 2001 and 2002, a very young 2004 ISU team, picked for last in the Big 12 Conference's North Division during the preseason, rallied to claim five wins in its last six games, a share of the Big 12 North Division title and a 17-13 Independence Bowl victory over Miami University. The Big 12 North trophy that graces the Iowa State football offices signified the first conference football title of any kind at ISU since 1912. They said it couldn't be done at Iowa State. The naysayers didn't know Dan McCarney.

When McCarney laid out his vision for the future of Iowa State football at a press conference to announce his arrival at ISU after the 1994 season, he stressed that the program's transformation would not occur overnight. McCarney possessed enthusiasm, unwavering optimism and a seemingly endless source of energy. His background in college football programs that had gone from perennial losers to consistent winners made him a perfect choice for the Cyclone helm. There were more than a few skeptics. Iowa State was coming off a winless season, hadn't had a winning campaign since 1989 and the Cyclones' last bowl trip was in 1978.

That was then. This is now. McCarney is the longest-serving (129 games) and winningest Cyclone head coach (52 victories) in school history. The 2006 season marks McCarney's 12th year as the Cyclones' head coach. Only eight head coaches among 119 NCAA Division I-A programs have been at their schools longer than McCarney.

Powered by a singular sense of purpose, McCarney steadily molded Iowa State's football program, bringing in a top-notch coaching staff and the best recruiting classes in recent memory. Backed by a university administration committed to providing state-of-the-art facilities, McCarney relentlessly exorcised the demons that had plagued Cyclone football. After his first teams laid a foundation for success, the 2000 Iowa State unit, led by 25 seniors who had bought into McCarney's vision, remained undeterred by the skeptics. Following McCarney's blueprint, coaches and players went where no Cyclone team had gone; winning nine games, including a 37-29 victory over Pittsburgh in the Insight.com Bowl. Under McCarney, the 2000 AP Big 12 Conference Coach of the Year runner-up, that success continued in 2001, despite the loss of 15 starters. A 7-5 Iowa State squad earned an Independence Bowl berth, marking the school's first back-to-back bowl appearances since the 1977-78 seasons. The list of historical superlatives is long:

- Iowa State's four-game Big 12 Conference win streaks in each of the last two seasons had been equalled only one other time (1978) since Iowa State joined a conference for the 1907 season.
- Iowa State's 2004 five-win increase from the previous season ranked second nationally.
- McCarney's 2000 Cyclones were the first Iowa State team in 94 years to win nine games. The win over Pittsburgh in the Insight.com Bowl was ISU's first-ever bowl victory and the Cyclones' first bowl appearance since 1978.
- Iowa State has won twice as many road games since the start of the 2000 season (12) than ISU football won away from home during the entire decade of the 1990s (6).
- Iowa State's 36-31 win at Iowa in 2002 was the Cyclones' fifth-straight victory against the Hawkeyes, a series first. The win marked ISU's third-straight victory in Iowa City, matching Iowa State series wins at Iowa in 1894-95-97.
- In 2002, Iowa State defeated three bowl teams in one season for the first time in school history (Iowa, Nebraska, Texas Tech).

Anyone who watched McCarney's rise in the coaching ranks would not be surprised by the effort of his national-caliber coaching staff. A native of Iowa City, Iowa, McCarney was instrumental in rebuilding efforts that produced Big Ten titles and Rose Bowl berths at both Iowa and Wisconsin, two schools that regularly finished near the bottom of the league before his arrival.

A 1975 graduate of Iowa, McCarney coached the Hawkeyes in eight consecutive bowl games, including the 1982 and 1986 Rose Bowls. The three-year letterman on the offensive line for Iowa (1972-74) was captain of the 1974 Hawkeye squad. A member of the American Football Coaches Association (AFCA) for 26 years, McCarney is one of 16 football coaches on the AFCA Board of Trustees. The Cyclone head coach is a member of the AFCA's rules committee and the Division I-A All-America team selection committee. McCarney is in his 12th season serving as a voting member of the USA Today/ESPN Coaches' Poll.

ISU Football Facilities

Jack Trice Stadium

The stadium, which debuted on Sept. 20, 1975, was named in honor of Jack Trice, Iowa State's first African-American athlete. Trice died from injuries he received in a varsity football game in October 1923. The special football atmosphere at Jack Trice Stadium has been enhanced with the installation of a video/scoreboard and permanent lighting prior to the 2002 season. A $6.2 million three-level press tower was added in 1997, providing press and radio-television levels and nine skybox suites. Jack Trice Stadium recorded a new attendance record with 54,290 fans at the Iowa State-Iowa game on Sept. 10, 2005.

Ralph A. Olsen Building

The renovated Ralph A. Olsen Building is adjacent to the north end of the Richard O. Jacobson Athletic Building. The Olsen Building houses the strength, equipment and athletic training facilities.

Steve and Debbie Bergstrom Indoor Training Facility

The new $9.6 million Steve and Debbie Bergstrom Indoor Training Facility opened for football practice in March 2004. The 92,000-square-foot building was constructed over the existing turf practice field as a part of the Johnny Majors Practice Complex west of Jack Trice Stadium. Funding for this project was from private gifts to the athletic department and ISU Foundation.

Jacobson Athletic Building

The stadium complex was transformed in 1995-96 with the construction of the state-of-the-art Jacobson Athletic Building. The home of Iowa State's football program includes football offices, team meeting rooms, locker rooms, an auditorium and a natural grass field that debuted with the 1996 season opener.

Facilities Master Plan

JACK TRICE STADIUM
SOUTH ENDZONE EXPANSION

Iowa State athletics director Jamie Pollard set out his vision for the future of Cyclone athletics in June. Pollard announced a four-phased multi-million dollar facility master plan, which includes extensive renovations for Jack Trice Stadium and James H. Hilton Coliseum, along with proposals for a new Student Recreation Center and the concept of a Gateway Athletics Complex.

The multi-faceted master plan includes a major remodeling of Hilton Coliseum (basketball and volleyball practice facility, office complex and a Hall of Fame / gathering venue for fans on game day), significant upgrades at Jack Trice Stadium (bowled-in south end zone, additional suites, club seats, restrooms, concessions and classic perimeter fencing), Student Recreation Center (aquatics center and gymnastics practice facility) and the concept of a Gateway Athletics Complex (located east of Jack Trice, which would house tennis, outdoor track, softball and baseball).

ISU Football Assistant Coaches

Tony Alford Assistant Head Coach/ Running Backs

Tony Alford has played a major role in solidifying ISU's reputation as one of the most successful programs rushing the football. Iowa State was one of only three NCAA Division I schools to have produced a 1,000-yard rusher annually between 1995 and 2001.

Under Alford, tailback Stevie Hicks became the third Iowa State rusher to eclipse the 1,000-yard barrier since 1997 with 1,062 yards in 2004. On special teams, Alford turned the ISU kickoff return unit into the Big 12's best. ISU led the league and ranked 20th nationally, averaging 23.2 yards per return in 2004. Alford's backs take care of the football. Iowa State running backs have lost only 13 fumbles in Alford's eight years at ISU.

Alford was on the Cyclones' 2000 Insight.com Bowl championship staff that claimed the first bowl victory in ISU history en route to a 9-3 record. First-team all-Big 12 tailback Ennis Haywood ranked 10th nationally in rushing and led the league with 1,237 yards. Cyclone tailback Darren Davis passed the 1,000-yard rushing barrier in Alford's first three seasons in Ames and finished his career as the No. 2 rusher in school history. During Alford's initial four years in Ames, Iowa State improved from 103rd to 17th nationally in rushing, averaging more than 200 yards per game on the ground in 1999, 2000 and 2002.

Barney Cotton Offensive Coordinator/ Offensive Line

The steady improvement of a young Cyclone offensive unit that averaged 29 points per conference game last season has sold Iowa State on Barney Cotton. The Cyclones' 339 points last season rank third in school history. For the first time in the 114-year history of Iowa State football, the Cyclones scored 37 or more points against three straight conference foes.

Two of Iowa State's marquee players enjoyed strong sophomore seasons after earning freshman All-America honors in Cotton's first year at ISU. Iowa State quarterback Bret Meyer threw for 2,876 yards last season. Having racked up his impressive career numbers in just 24 games, Meyer is the third-highest rated quarterback in ISU history.

Wide receiver Todd Blythe has already caught a school-record 18 career TD passes. The two-time first-team all-Big 12 choice already ranks fourth all-time with 1,833 career reception yards. His 19.6 yards per catch last season ranked second nationally.

Cotton's offensive linemen have made major contributions to Iowa State's 2005 scoring success. Center Scott Stephenson, playing his first season under Cotton, was named first-team all-Big 12 and is a member of the 2006 Rimington Trophy watch list.

Employing a balanced offense that has so well-served Cotton during his career, the Cyclones came on late in 2004, averaging 404.8 yards per game in the final four contests of the regular season.

ISU Football Assistant Coaches

John Skladany Defensive Coordinator/ Linebackers

John Skladany has engineered major defensive reversals of fortune at Iowa State, a significant factor in the ISU football program's five bowl appearances in the last six years. The facts speak for themselves. Most notably, Iowa State's performance against the rush improved in each of Skladany's initial six seasons in Ames. The season before Skladany's arrival in Ames (1996), the Cyclones allowed 262 rushing yards per game. The figure stood at a post-World War II best 139.2 yards in 2004. The record was short-lived. Iowa State allowed only 102.7 rushing yards per game last season. Skladany's charges allowed just 10 rushing touchdowns last season, a school-record low.

The stats say it all. It was no surprise that the Big 12 coaches voted nose guard Nick Leaders and cornerback LaMarcus Hicks first-team all-Big 12. Middle linebacker Tim Dobbins, the 2004 Big 12 Defensive Newcomer of the Year, earned second-team honors along with defensive tackle Brent Survey and safety Steve Paris. Dobbins was a fifth-round draft pick of the San Diego Chargers. Leaders and Paris signed contracts with the Baltimore Ravens and Hicks signed with the Detroit Lions. Defensive back Ellis Hobbs, who started for the New England Patriots in 2005, earned first-team all-conference honors and was the defensive MVP in Iowa State's win over Miami University in the 2004 Independence Bowl.

Chris Ash Recruiting Coordinator/ Secondary

Chris Ash joined the Iowa State coaching staff in February 2000 and has developed a record-setting ISU secondary. ISU intercepted a Big 12-best 22 passes last season, the highest number of picks by a Cyclone team since 1976. ISU ranked 20th nationally in pass efficiency defense in 2005.

The rewards for outstanding efforts are still coming in, as Ash's secondary dominated the conference statistics charts. Cornerback DeAndre Jackson has been a team leader. His five interceptions tied him for the 2005 Big 12 lead.

All four of Ash's starters put up big numbers in 2005. LaMarcus Hicks started every game and made 55 tackles while breaking up seven passes en route to first-team all-Big 12 honors. Nik Moser made 196 career tackles and seven interceptions. Steve Paris made 188 career tackles and had a key 66-yard fumble return for a touchdown in Iowa State's 2005 win over Colorado. Paris was named the Big 12 Defensive Player of the Week after making two interceptions and six tackles at Army last season.

In 2004, the secondary was a major factor in Iowa State's success, making 17 interceptions. Cornerback Ellis Hobbs was a first-team all-Big 12 selection, finishing his career tied for sixth in career interceptions on the all-time ISU chart with nine. He now starts for the New England Patriots of the National Football League.

Todd Fitch Passing Game Coordinator/ Quarterbacks

Todd Fitch joined the Iowa State coaching staff as quarterbacks coach in January of 2004. Fitch's extensive experience has paid big dividends for junior quarterback Bret Meyer, who is the 2006 preseason first-team all-Big 12 quarterback after throwing for 2,876 yards last fall, the second-best single-season total in school history.

Meyer's sophomore season trumped an outstanding freshman All-America campaign. The Atlantic, Iowa, native was second in the Big 12, averaging 239.7 yards passing per game last season. Meyer's 2005 pass efficiency stats rank him as the No. 2 rated quarterback in school single-season history. He threw 19 touchdown passes with just 10 interceptions. At one point last season, Meyer ran off a streak of 155 pass attempts without an interception, a school record.

Meyer's development has been steady under Fitch's guidance. Meyer was named offensive MVP at the 2004 Independence Bowl in ISU's 17-13 victory over Miami University. Though he has only played in 24 games, Meyer's 4,802 career passing yards rank fourth on the all-time ISU list, just ahead of Sage Rosenfels of the Houston Texans and former Atlanta Falcons quarterback David Archer. Meyer's 29 career TD passes rank third in ISU history just ahead of current Seattle Seahawk Seneca Wallace.

Mike Grant Wide Receivers

Mike Grant has coached wide receivers at Iowa State the past three seasons and his crew of pass catchers has broken a slew of ISU school records.

Figuring most prominently is junior Todd Blythe, a preseason All-America choice. The Indianola, Iowa native has caught a school-record 18 career touchdown passes in just 24 games. A first-team all-Big 12 Conference selection last season by the league's coaches, Blythe's 90 career catches already ranks 10th in school history. His 1,833 career receiving yards in two years rank fourth in the ISU record books. Senior wide receiver Jon Davis is tied with Blythe at 10th in school history with 90 career receptions.

Blythe and Davis aside, the best story is Deer Park, Texas, native Austin Flynn, who was Iowa State's starting quarterback in 2003. Flynn switched to wide receiver during 2005 spring practice. With Grant's guidance, Flynn's transition to his new position has been spectacular. The senior led Iowa State with 56 catches for 624 yards and three touchdowns last season.

ISU began the 2004 season with a bevy of question marks surrounding its young group of receivers. Blythe and Davis had strong 2004 seasons as Grant retooled his receiving corps with new blood. Blythe was a second-team freshman All-America (The Sporting News) selection. Davis led the Cyclones with 48 catches for 614 yards and a pair of TDs. Senior Todd Miller had 31 catches for 341 yards and freshman Milan Moses had 14 receptions for 155 yards.

Mike Nelson Defensive Line

Mike Nelson's impact on the Iowa State defense was immediate and has remained constant. The steady drop in Iowa State's total defense numbers and a record-setting effort against the rush the last two seasons underscores Nelson's contributions to five Cyclone bowl seasons in the last six years. Iowa State allowed just 139.2 rushing yards per game in 2004, the best Cyclone performance against the run since World War II. The 2005 Houston Bowl defense destroyed that record, allowing just 102.7 rushing yards per game. Nelson's men in the trenches allowed opponents just 2.98 yards per carry last season, bettering the post-World War II school record of 3.15 set by the "Dirty Thirty" Cyclones of 1959.

Several key performers who have tutored under Nelson have received national recognition for their stubbornness up front. Nose guard Nick Leaders was named a first-team all-Big 12 selection, finishing his career with 262 career tackles, 15 sacks and 33 1/2 tackles for loss. Defensive tackle Brent "Big Play" Curvey, who has thrived under Nelson's guidance, made 61 tackles last season with eight sacks and a blocked kick.

Nelson has also overseen the development of former walk-on defensive end Shawn Moorehead. The senior became a starter and made 34 tackles last season. Defensive end Jason Berryman, who started as a true freshman in 2003 and earned the Big 12 Conference Defensive Newcomer of the Year award, led all freshmen defensive tackles in NCAA Division I-A with 110 stops that fall.

Brian Schneider Tight Ends/Special Teams

Former UCLA assistant coach Brian Schneider, whose Bruin punt return team averaged 25 yards per return in 2005, joined the Iowa State coaching staff in February as tight ends coach and special teams coordinator.

In 2005, several of Schneider's special teams units ranked among the best in the nation. Maurice Drew led the nation in punt returns with an NCAA-record 28.5 average, including three touchdowns. The Bruin team punt return average of 25 yards per return led the nation and narrowly missed the NCAA record (25.2). UCLA ranked fifth in the Pac-10, with a net punting average of 35.7 yards. Schneider also coached the safeties in 2005.

UCLA's special teams success under Schneider was no fluke. In 2004, Schneider took charge of all Bruin special teams units in addition to coaching the outside linebackers and nickel backs. His schemes helped the Bruins lead the Pac-10 and rank fourth nationally with a net punting average of 40.6 yards. UCLA's kickoff return unit ranked fourth in the Pac-10, averaging 22.08 yards per return. UCLA also led the Pac-10 and ranked ninth nationally in punt returns (15.03 average). The Bruins also blocked six kicks. UCLA punter Chris Kluwe was a finalist for the 2004 Ray Guy Award, presented annually to the nation's top punter, and place-kicker Justin Medlock was named first-team all-Pac-10.

Kluwe ranked 26th in the nation in punting in 2003 and set a school record for punts and punt yardage. Return man Craig Bragg set a school mark with 38 punt returns for that season.

Shawn Simms Linebackers

Shawn Simms joins the ISU staff as outside linebackers coach after coaching running backs for three seasons at Colorado. His experience includes stops at Illinois, Ohio State and Pittsburgh. At Colorado, he tutored Bobby Purify in 2004, the 12th player in school history to run for 1,000 yards in a single season.

Simms joined the CU staff after coaching the running backs for two seasons at the University of Pittsburgh.

Prior to joining the Pittsburgh staff in 2001, he coached the running backs at Rutgers for the 2000 season. At Pitt, he coached junior Brandon Miree, who gained 943 yards in 2002 to help lead Pittsburgh to a 9-4 record and near upset of No. 1 Miami.

Simms coached at Ohio State for the 1997 through 1999 seasons, switching sides of the ball to coach defensive ends, including standout performers James Cotton and Rodney Bailey, future NFL draft picks. He also recruited four players who saw extensive action for the Buckeyes on their 2002 national championship team, including starting defensive end Will Smith.

His first full-time position was as running backs coach with Oberlin, where he worked one year (1988) before accepting his first full-time Division I-A job with Miami University (Ohio).

After two seasons as outside linebackers coach with Miami (1989-90), he moved on to Toledo, where he again coached the running backs for four seasons (1991-94).

Matt McGettigan Strength & Conditioning

The work of strength and conditioning coach Matt McGettigan, who is in his 11th season with the Cyclones, received the ultimate affirmation of excellence when he earned recognition as the 2001 National Collegiate Strength and Conditioning Coach of the Year by the Professional Football Strength and Conditioning Coaches Society. The award underscored the respect McGettigan has from his peers, the Iowa State coaching staff and Cyclone football student-athletes.

The stature of Iowa State's football program has literally grown by leaps and bounds since Dan McCarney came to Ames. Much of the credit for those improvements must go to McGettigan. McGettigan came to Iowa State with head coach Dan McCarney after serving as assistant strength and conditioning coach at Notre Dame since 1990.

Prior to his work with the Fighting Irish, McGettigan served as the strength and conditioning coordinator for Wisconsin-Platteville from 1987-90. McGettigan earned his master's degree in 1989.

McGettigan completed his undergraduate work in physical education at Luther College in Decorah, Iowa, in 1987, where he was a member of the football team. He is a member of the NSCA and in January of 1989, he received his certification as a Strength and Conditioning Specialist.

A native of Darlington, Wis., McGettigan is married to the former Darla Hook of Charles City, Iowa. They have two children (Mariah, Colin).

Don Knock

Director of Operations

Don Knock, a member of the Iowa Football Coaches Hall of Fame, returned to Iowa State after a year as offensive coordinator and offensive line coach at Nebraska-Omaha, joining the ISU staff in July 2002 as director of football operations. Knock coached Cedar Rapids Kennedy to six state playoff berths in his final 10 prep seasons at the Cougar helm and coached Grundy Center to the 1984 Iowa Class 2A state high school title. Knock, who owned a career prep coaching record of 128-85, helped coach the Cyclone offensive line as a graduate assistant in 2000.

The 51-year-old Knock played on Central's 1974 NCAA Division III national title squad. He was a captain of the 1975 Central football team and earned a bachelor's degree there in 1976. The Parkersburg, Iowa, native signed a free agent contract with the Oakland Raiders after graduation and joined the Central College coaching staff under Ron Schipper later that fall.

Knock moved to Grundy Center in 1981, where his teams compiled a 48-11 record and twice qualified for the state playoffs under Iowa's former eight-team bracket formula. He moved on to Cedar Rapids Kennedy in 1987, where his teams were 66-61.

A past president of the Iowa Football Coaches Association, he served on the IFCA's board of directors for 15 years. Knock and his wife Cindy have four sons (Kyle, Scot, Beau, Jordan).

Through rehearsals, travel and the excitement of marching in front of thousands of cheering fans, the members of our Cyclone Marching Band share rich experiences that create social as well as musical bonds.

The band performs at all home football games and at several local and regional exhibitions. The band also performs in the annual ISU Band Extravaganza concert, which also features the Wind Ensemble, Symphonic Band and Jazz Ensemble I. This year's Band Extravaganza will take place at C.Y. Stephens Auditorium on Saturday, Nov. 11, at 7:30 p.m.

Adopt the Band!

They show their Iowa State pride all season long by working hard to bring high-spirited, top-rated performances to football games, pep rallies, and a multitude of Iowa State alumni.

You've applauded their non-stop showmanship and marveled at their abundance of energy. And you know that the Cyclone Marching Band is one of the finest collegiate ensembles in the country.

Now you can help support these outstanding young men and women by signing up for the Cyclones' "Adopt-the-Band" Campaign. You can choose to "adopt" your very own position or instrument in the marching band. By investing in the band, you will have a share in the sounds and spirit of Iowa State music for years to come.

So select a tuba, a clarinet, a student director or an entire rank of big bass drums. When you "adopt" a band member, you provide these dedicated young people with the equipment, uniforms, and support they need to remain one of the best bands in the land.

If you would like more information on how you can support the Cyclone Marching Band by becoming a member of "Adopt-the-Band," please call (515) 296-7766 or go the ISU Foundation website (www.foundation.iastate.edu).

Cyclone Offense

7 • Bret Meyer
Jr. • QB • 6-3 • 208
Atlantic, Iowa

Junior QB Bret Meyer continues to assault the Iowa State passing record book with his performances this season. Meyer threw for a season-high 274 yards and two touchdowns last week vs. No. 7 Texas. Meyer, who is already ISU's all-time leading passer with 5,665 yards, has thrown for 34 touchdowns in his career, ranking second all-time in school history. The Atlantic, Iowa native has completed 446 career passes, eight completions behind the school's all-time leader Alex Espinoza (454). Meyer has hooked up with his favorite target Todd Blythe four times this season and has rushed for four TDs.

Panther Offense

12 • Eric Sanders
Oelwein, Iowa

Junior QB Eric Sanders, who like his counterpart in tonight's game, is in his third-year as a starter. Sanders was a second-team Division I-AA All-America last year after throwing for a conference-high 23 touchdowns. Sanders' play under center was a key part of UNI's appearance in the Division I-AA title game last season. Sanders has thrown for 485 yards and four touchdowns this season. He has hooked up for three touchdowns with senior James Lindgren, who has nine catches for 100 yards this year.

Cyclone Defense

11 • Chris Singleton
So. • CB • 5-10 • 190
Ft. Myers, Fla.

Sophomore Chris Singleton is one of seven first-year starters on the defensive side of the ball. The Ft. Myers, Fla., native, who played in all 11 games a year ago as a true freshman, has 12 solo tackles and one pass break-up so far this year. Singleton leads the Cyclones in interceptions, picking off a pair of passes. He tallied his first interception against UNLV, intercepting the final pass of the first half. He recorded his second interception last week vs. No. 7 Texas, stopping a Longhorn drive which resulted in ISU's second scoring drive of the game.

Panther Defense

99 • Jordan Lacy
Jr. • DE • 6-3 • 244
Jefferson City, Mo.

Junior DE Jordan Lacy has been outstanding in his first year as a full-time starter. A native of Jefferson City, Mo., Lacy is second on the team in tackles with 17. All-American Grove

Iowa State All-American Grove

Since 1892, over 365 Iowa State University student-athletes have earned All-American honors. In 1992, an All-American Grove of trees and Walk of Honor was created to recognize their achievement. 310 trees were planted around Jack Trice Stadium and a brass plaque at the base of the tree notes the name, sport and year(s) these student-athletes earned national honors.

The All-American Grove and Walk of Honor affirm the level of excellence these student-athletes achieved at ISU. Each tree planted commemorates the signature of greatness left by one Cyclone's outstanding performance. We encourage you to take the Walk of Honor around Jack Trice Stadium. There you will view over 300 trees currently representing the past Cyclone All-Americans.

For over 100 years, Iowa State University has taken great pride in its beautiful campus setting at an institution where academic and athletic excellence is a priority. The All-American Grove underscores the rich heritage of college athletics and its role within the University mission.

The All-American Grove enhances the beauty of the Iowa State campus. You can play a role in this project by planting a tree for an individual All-American, helping to enhance the All-American Grove.

For further information, or if you would like to provide support to the All-American Grove, please contact the National Cyclone Club at 515-294-5022.

Big 12 Conference

The Big 12 Conference Enters its Second Decade of Competition

Fresh off its 10th anniversary season, the Big 12 Conference begins its second decade of competition in 2006-07. While there have been many proud accomplishments through the first 10 years, the conference and its members anticipate continued success.

Through its first 10 years, the Big 12 claimed 28 team and 310 individual NCAA titles. During this past season, conference programs captured national championships in football (Texas), women's indoor track & field (Texas), wrestling (Oklahoma State) and men's golf (Oklahoma State). In addition, 12 individual event titles were also won by student-athletes that compete in the Big 12.

The 2004-05 campaign marked the most successful in conference history with six NCAA championships. Baylor won the crown for women's basketball, becoming the first Big 12 squad to win in that sport. Colorado won both the men's and women's cross country trophies, just the fourth school in NCAA annals to win both in the same year. Oklahoma State regained the top spot in wrestling, winning the national title for the 33rd time. Texas captured its fourth women's outdoor track & field crown, along with its sixth national championship in baseball.

The Big 12 leads all conferences with five appearances in the BCS National Championship game. A Big 12 team has played for the football national championship five of the last six years, and each of the last three. In basketball, an unprecedented eight men's and women's basketball teams have advanced to their respective Final Fours in the past five seasons as the Big 12 continues its place among the elite intercollegiate athletic conferences.

The Big 12 and its member institutions are committed to a competitive environment where sportsmanship and fair play take center stage. Whether on the field, in the classroom, or within the community the student-athletes, administrators, coaches and game officials of the Big 12 support the highest ideals in sportsmanship.

Competitive excellence, scholarships and sportsmanship are all equal components of the Big 12's philosophy. All-Big 12 teams and All-Big 12 Academic squads are recognized for each sport at the end of their respective seasons.

At the end of each academic year, the Conference honors its top male and female student-athletes with the Big 12 Athlete of the Year and Big 12 Sportsperson of the Year awards.

Institutions can also nominate student-athletes for the prestigious Dr. Prentice Gautt Postgraduate Scholarships at the end of each academic year. A total of 153 scholars have received more than $845,000 in postgraduate financial aid through the first nine years of the program.

The Big 12 sponsors 21 sports. Men's squads include baseball, basketball, cross country, football, golf, indoor track & field, outdoor track & field, swimming & diving, tennis and wrestling. Women's teams are fielded in basketball, cross country, golf, gymnastics, indoor track & field, outdoor track & field, soccer, softball, swimming, tennis and volleyball.

The conference is made up of 12 institutions that have shared many traditional rivalries throughout their histories. Member schools include - Baylor University, University of Colorado, Iowa State University, University of Kansas, Kansas State University, University of Missouri, University of Nebraska, University of Oklahoma, Oklahoma State University, University of Texas, Texas A&M University and Texas Tech University.

The institutions created a league that encompasses seven states, over 42 million people and more than 18 million television households within its geographic footprint.

The conference conducts championships for 20 of its 21 sports. Each championship helps to determine teams and/or individuals that will represent the Conference in national post-season competition. The winner of the Big 12 football championship game earns the league's berth into the prestigious Bowl Championship Series.

The Big 12 is under the direction of its third commissioner, Kevin L. Weiberg, who took over the reins in December 1998. Weiberg has led the Big 12 into additional football bowl agreements and expanded television opportunities for all sports through contracts with ABC/ESPN, FSN, TBS and CSTV.

In its 10-year history, the conference has distributed $807.2 million to its 12 member institutions.

The Big 12 staff administers to over 4,600 student-athletes in 21 sports. The conference headquarters moved to Irving, Texas, from Dallas in August 2006.

For the fourth time in 11 years, Arrowhead Stadium in Kansas City, Mo., will host the 2006 Dr. Pepper Big 12 Championship Game.

Academic Services

Tutorial Services

Academic Services works with the ISU Academic Success Center to provide tutorial services to all student-athletes. The ASC tutorial staff is introduced to NCAA rules and regulations, and closely monitored to insure that student-athletes are receiving quality services. The intent of the tutoring program is to supplement and support all of the sound education practices that are imperative for academic success for all student-athletes. The tutors and students work together to develop the independent thinking and learning skills necessary to achieve positive results without compromising the integrity of the education process.

Referral Services

Academic Services will assist student-athletes in connecting with campus support services to accommodate their special needs. Staff members work closely with the ISU Student Counseling Service, the Dean of Students Office and other academic, student, and personal support programs to help diagnose and assist in the resolution processes.

Hixson-Lied Student Success Center

The Hixson-Lied Student Success Center will open in March 2007. The $10 million facility will include the Rod and Connie French Athletic Academic Center, demonstrating the unequivocal commitment to providing the best possible academic environment for Cyclone student-athletes.

Learning Center

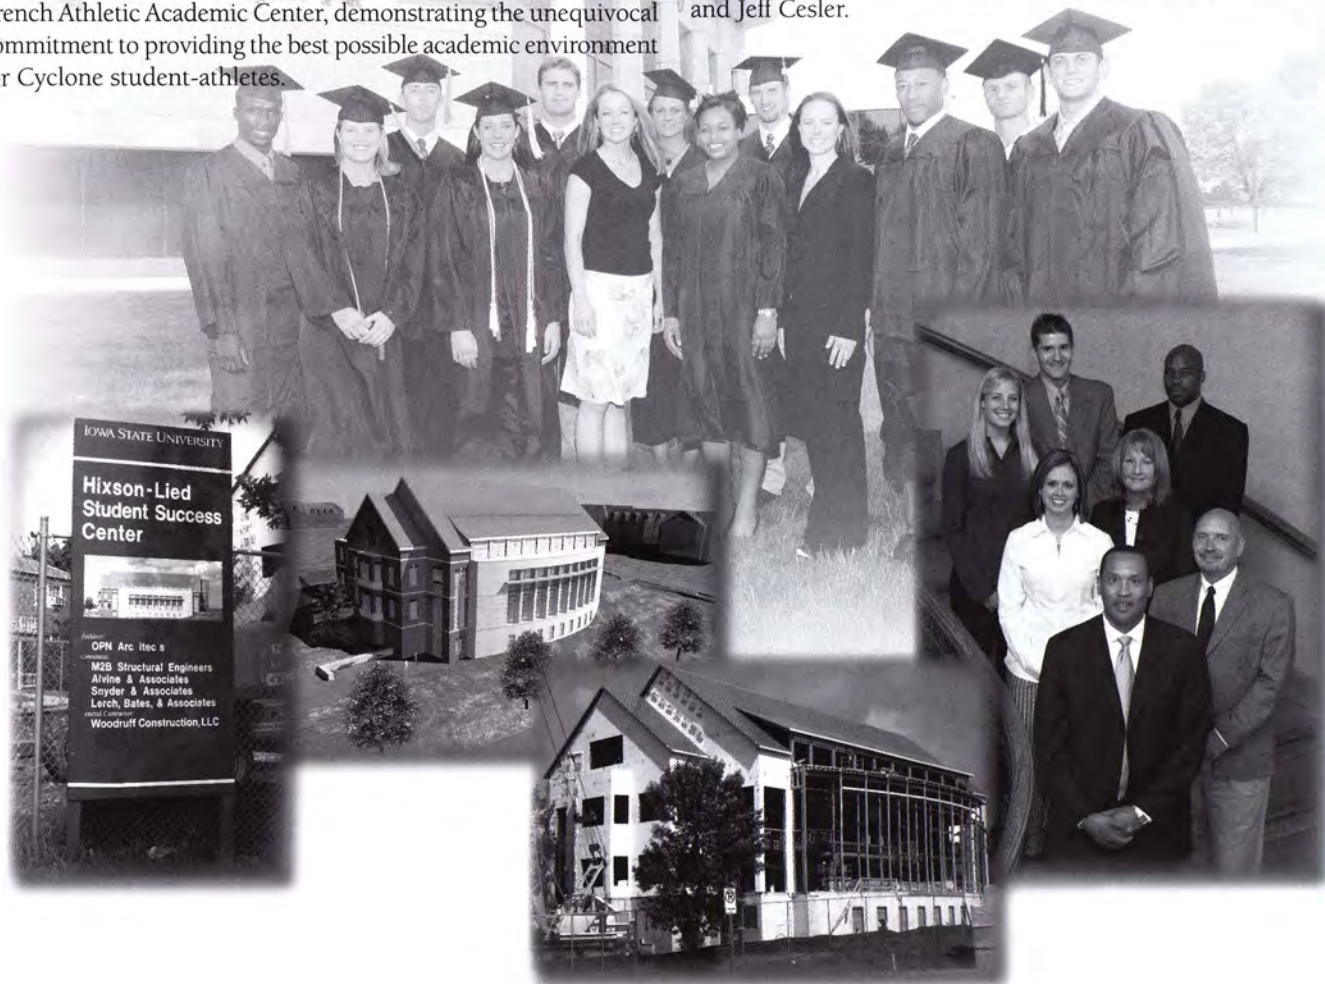

Academic Services provides educational and study environments for its student-athletes in the form of "learning centers." Student-athletes are strongly encouraged to utilize the learning centers as often as necessary to develop the appropriate study and learning skills to become better students. Study groups and learning strategists are also available at these learning centers. Learning strategists help students to develop their study and learning techniques. Most study groups consist of three or more student-athletes working with a group facilitator on a regular basis.

Scholar-Athlete Recognition Banquet

ISU Athletics and Academic Services recognizes student-athletes with exceptional academic records at a scholar-athlete banquet. University administrators, faculty members and athletic department personnel attend the dinner in celebration of the academic accomplishments of the ISU scholar-athletes who have achieved a 3.0 GPA or better at particular times during their academic careers.

2006-07 Cyclone Women's Basketball

Fast-paced, high-scoring basketball. Raucous crowds that rank in the top-10 nationally. Successful teams that earn postseason berths consistently. This is what Iowa State women's basketball represents under the leadership of head coach Bill Fennelly.

The 2006-07 season is right around the corner, and you don't want to miss out on the exciting action in Hilton Coliseum! Fennelly's Cyclones return all but one starter from a team that earned a WNIT invitation and compiled an 18-13 record last season.

Seniors Lyndsey Medders and Megan Ronhovde will be counted on to lead the squad. Medders ranked first nationally in assists a year ago, averaging 7.7 apg en route to third-team All-American honors. The point guard, who averaged 16.5 ppg last season, became the 17th player in school history to join the 1,000-point club.

Ronhovde is just 172 points shy of joining the 1,000-point club while entering her fourth season as a starter. Ronhovde's 186 career treys already ranks fifth in school history.

2006-07 Cyclone Men's Basketball

The Greg McDermott era is here! The foundation of Iowa State men's basketball is in solid hands with the hiring of McDermott, who was introduced as ISU's 18th men's basketball coach on March 21, 2006. McDermott's proven track record of success has earned him the distinction as one of the nation's best young coaches. He comes to Ames after leading Northern Iowa to three consecutive NCAA Tournament appearances.

McDermott inherits a young team with tremendous potential. One of his top returnees is junior Rahshon Clark, who averaged 13.1 ppg while starting 27 games last year. The high-flying Clark will be one of the most dynamic players to watch in the Big 12 Conference.

Post players Ross Marsden and Jiri Hubalek return in the middle after combining for 38 starts in their first season as Cyclones a year ago.

Don't miss out on the exciting future of Iowa State men's basketball in McDermott's inaugural season! To order season tickets, call 1-888-ISU-CYCLONE or visit www.cyclones.com.

30 Years Of Jack Trice Stadium

30 Years Of Jack Trice Stadium

The Iowa State football team celebrated its 30th year in Jack Trice Stadium last year, adding more memorable moments to the football stadium that opened in 1975.

Jack Trice Stadium was completed in less than two years, from the ground breaking on Oct. 26, 1973, to the first game, a victory over Air Force, on Sept. 20, 1975. Originally, the stadium had a capacity of 42,500, all on the sidelines. In 1976, endzone bleachers were constructed to increase capacity to more than 48,000. Standing room tickets, sold for each game, brought the capacity to more than 50,000. An all-time record crowd of 54,475 watched the ISU vs. Nebraska game on Oct. 27, 1990. Completion of the Jacobson Athletic Facility and the addition of permanent bleachers in the south endzone changed the capacity to 45,814. A record 54,290 watched Iowa State defeat No. 8 Iowa, 23-3 earlier this season.

The structure was originally named Cyclone Stadium in its first nine years until it was renamed Cyclone Stadium/Jack Trice Field in 1984. Trice, who was ISU's first African-American athlete, died from injuries he received in a varsity football game in October 1923. In 1997, the stadium was officially renamed Jack Trice Stadium in honor of the former Cyclone.

In commemoration of Jack Trice Stadium's 30th year, the Iowa State athletic department allowed fans to vote online to choose the most memorable games played in Jack Trice Stadium. A list of 20 games was narrowed down to six and highlighted at each home game. Here is what the voters picked:

Top six memorable games in Jack Trice Stadium

6. Iowa State 17, Iowa 10- Sept. 11, 1999

Iowa State defeated its in-state rival at home for just the second time in school history, racking up 444 yards of total offense to Iowa's 230 en route to a 17-10 victory. Senior Darren Davis set the tone on the ground while Damien Groce was outrunning the Hawkeye secondary. Davis rushed for 235 yards, the 13th-best total in school history, and scored the opening touchdown with 10:36 remaining in the first quarter. Groce caught just three passes in the game, but made the most out of his limited touches. The wideout gave Iowa State a 14-0 lead with an 80-yard touchdown reception late in the first quarter. Groce finished the day with 113 yards receiving.

5. Iowa State 37, Nebraska 28- Nov. 13, 1976

In one of the biggest wins in Cyclone history, Iowa State downed No. 9 Nebraska, 37-28 in front of 50,781 fans. It was the first win vs. Nebraska since 1960 and the Cyclones did it in exciting fashion. In a game marked with a number of outstanding plays, none was bigger than Luther Blue's 95-yard kickoff return that gave the Cyclones a 17-7 lead. Sophomore running back Dexter Green rushed for 109 yards and two TDs and the ISU defense minimized the vaunted Husker rushing attack to just 77 yards on the ground.

4. Iowa State 17, Iowa 14- Nov. 24, 2001

Iowa State made it four in a row against Iowa with a hard hitting game that went to down to the wire. The Cyclones jumped out early to take a 14-0 lead after a Seneca Wallace touchdown pass to Lane Daniels. Wallace ended the game with 228 yards passing on 20-of-27 attempts. After Iowa fought back to tie the game at 14-14, the Cyclones made two memorable plays to seal the victory. Clinging to a 17-14 lead, Wallace threw an interception on 3rd and 15 to Iowa's Grant Steen deep in ISU territory. Steen returned the ball 16 yards before ISU receiver Craig Campbell popped it loose where it was recovered by Haywood to give ISU new life and a new set of downs. The game ended when Cyclone strong safety Adam Runk picked off a pass to let ISU run out the final clock.

3. Iowa State 31, Texas Tech 17- Oct. 12, 2002

Two of the highest powered offenses squared off in a game remembered for one of the most dynamic plays in ISU history. The Cyclone defense came to play as well, holding the high-octane Red Raider offensive attack to 17 points, 31 points below their average. But for anyone in the stands that day, they will always remember, "The Play." With the game still tied at 3-3 in the third quarter, ISU quarterback Seneca Wallace took the snap at the 12-yard line. As he was pressured when he dropped back to pass, Wallace retreated to the 32, ran toward the right sideline, stayed inbounds as he continued looking for a receiver, then started back to his left at the 10. Cutting behind a crunching block from running back Mike Wagner, Wallace strolled into the end zone untouched. In all, the 12-yard run covered 135 yards and it was featured as the "play of the week" by Sports Illustrated.

2. Iowa State 36, Nebraska 14- Sept. 28, 2001

Iowa State quarterback Seneca Wallace completed 19-of-32 passes for 220 yards and a touchdown and ran for two more scores as the Cyclone defense held No. 20 Nebraska to 81 yards rushing for ISU's biggest win over the Huskers since 1899. Wallace received help from running back Michael Wagner and receiver Lane Daniels. Wagner gained 107 yards on just 19 carries and Daniels tallied 111 yards through the air on nine catches. The win marked ISU's first against a ranked opponent since 1993.

1. Iowa State 19, Nebraska 10- Nov. 14, 1992

On a crisp November afternoon in 1992, Iowa State stunned the football nation by posting one of the biggest upsets in college football that season with a 19-10 win over No. 7 Nebraska. The story of the game was defense and third-string quarterback Marv Seiler. The Cyclones held the Huskers to 246 yards of total offense, 225 yards less than their season average. While the Cyclone defense was stopping the Husker offense, Seiler was instantly becoming a legend among the Cyclone faithful. The seldom-used fifth-year senior carved the Husker defense with 144 yards on 24 carries. His 78-yard run set up Iowa State's fourth-quarter touchdown drive, which gave ISU the 19-10 advantage that the Cyclones never would relinquish.

Marv Seiler's 78-yard run helped ISU upset No. 7 Nebraska, 19-10, on Nov. 14, 1992 in Jack Trice Stadium. Fans voted this game as the most memorable in the 30-year history of Jack Trice Stadium.
